dayes and .iii. nyghtes in the herte of the erthe. Which was a watch word as we saye, and a sharpe threatenyng vnto the Jewes and as muche to saye as thus / ye harde herted Jewes seke a signe: loo, thys shalbe youre sygne, as Jonas was reysed out of the sepulchre of his fishe and then sent vnto the Niniuites to preache ꝑ they shoulde perysh / euen so shal I ryse agayne out of my sepulchre, and come ād preache repentaunce vnto you. Se therfore when ye se that signe that ye repent or els ye shal surely perysh & not escape. For though the infirmiteys which ye now se in my flesh be a let vnto youre faythes, ye shal yet then be without excuse, when ye se so greate a myracle and so greate power of god shed out vpon you. And so Christe came agayne after the resurrection in hys spyrite ād preched repētaūce vnto them, by the mouth of his apostles and disciples, and with miracles of ꝑ holy goost. And al that repented not perysshed shortly after & were for the most part slain w̄ swerd and the rest caryed away captiue into al quarters of the worlde for an ensā ple, as ye se vnto this daye.

¶ And in lyke maner, sens the worlde begaune, whersoeuer repentaunce was offered and not receaued, there god toke cruel vengaunce immediatly: as ye se in the floud of Noe in the ouerthrowynge of Sodom and Gomor & al the contre aboute and as ye se of Egypt, of the Amorytes, Cananites, and afterwarde of the very Israelites and then at the last of the Jewes to, and of the Assyrians and Babylonias and so throughout al the impercs of the worlde.

¶ Gyldas preached repentaunce vnto the olde Brittaynes, that inhabited eglād, they repented not, and therfore God sent in theyr enmyes vpon them on euery side and destroyed them vp and gaue the lande vnto other nacios. And greate vēgaūce hath bene taken in ꝑ lande for sinne syns that tyme.

¶ Wicleffe preached repentaunce vnto oure fathers not longe sens: they repented not: for their hartes were indurate and their eyes blinded with their own pope holye ryghtuousnesse, wherewythe they hadde made their soules gaye agaynste the receauing agayne of thē wycked spirite that bryngeth .vii. worse then hymselfe wyth hym, and maketh the latter ende worse then the begynnynge, for in opē sines, there is hope of repentaūce, but in holy ypocrysy none at al. But what folowed: they slewe theyr tru and ryght kynge and set vp .iii. wronge kynges arowe, vnder whych all the noble bloude was slayne vp and halfe the commōs therto, what in Fraunce, and what wyth theyr owne swerde, in fyghtinge amonge them selues for the crowne, and the cityes and townes decayed, and the lande brought halfe in to a wylderneſſe in respecte of that it was before.

☞ And now Chryst to preache repentaunce is rysen yet ones agayne oute of hys sepulchre in whych the pope had buryed hym and kepte hym downe wyth hys pyllers and pollares and al disguisynges of ypocrysy, wyth gyle, wyles and falshede and wyth the swerd of al pryuces, whych he had blynded wyth hys false marchaūdyse. And as I doubte not of the Ensamples that are paste soo am I sure that greate wrath wyll followe, excepte repentaunce turne it backe agayne, and ceasse it.

☞ When Jonas had ben in the fyshes bely a space, and the rage of hys conscience was somewhat quieted and swaged, and he come to hym selfe agayne, and had receaued a lytle hope: the qualmes and panges of desperacyon whyche wente ouer hys hert, halfe ouercome, he prayed, as he maketh mencion in the text, saiyng: Jonas prayed vnto the Lorde hys God oute of the belly of the fysh. But the wordes of that prayer, are not here set. The prayer that here stādeth in ꝑ text is the prayer of prayse & thanckesgeuyng / whych he prayed and wrote, when he was escaped ād past all ieopardy.

☞ In the ende of whyche prayer he sayethe, I wyll sacrifyce wyth the voyce of thanckesgeuynge and paye that I haue vowed, that sauyng commeth of the lord. For verely to confesse out of the herte, that all benefytes come of God, euen oute of the goodnesse of hys mercye, and not deseruinge of our dedes, is the onely sacry-

fyce

fyce that pleaseth God, and to beleue that God onlye is the sauiour, is the thynge that all the Iewes vowed in theyr circumcysion, as we in our baptysme. Which vowe Jonas now taught wyth experyence, promyseth to paye. For those outward sacrifyces of beastes vnto whych Jonas had happelye ascribed to muche before, were but feble and childish thynges and not ordeyned, that the woorckes of themselues shoulde be a seruyce vnto God, but vnto the people, to put them in remembraunce of thys inwarde sacrifyce of thankes and of fayth, to truste and beleue in God the onelye sauiour. Which syguification whē it was awaye, they were abhominable and deuelysh ydolatrie and ymage seruice: as oure ceremonies and sacramentes, are become now to all that truste and beleue in the woorke of them and are not taughte the syguifycacyons, to edifye theyr soules wyth knoweledge and the doctryne of God.

¶ When Jonas was cast vpon the lande agayne, then hys wyll was fre, and had power to goo whether God sent hym, and to do what God badde, hys owne ymaginacyons layd apart. For he had bene at a new schole, yea and in a fornace where he was purged of muche refuse and drosse of fleshlye wysdomme, whych resisted the wysdome of God, and led Jonas his wyl contrarye to the wyl of God. For as farre as we be blynde in Adam, we cannot but seke and wyll oure owne profytte pleasure and glory. And as farre as we be taught in the spyrit, we can not but seke and wyll the pleasure and glory of God onely.

¶ And as for thre dayes iourneye of Niniue, whether it were in lenght or to goo rounde aboute it, or thorowe all the streates, I comit vnto the discretion of other men: But I thyncke that it was then the greatest citie of all the worlde.

¶ And that Jonas went a dayes iourney in the cytye, I suppose he dyd it not in one daye: but wente fayre and easely preachyng here a sermon and there another and rebuked the synne of the people, for whych they must perysshe

¶ And whē thou art com vnto the repentaunce of the Niniuites, there haste thou sure earnest, ỹ how so euer angry god be, yet he remembreth mercy vnto al ỹ truly repent and beleue in mercy. Which ensample oure sauioure Christe also casteth in the teeth of the indurate Jewes saynge: the Niniuites shall rise in iudgement wt this nacion and condempne them, for they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde a greater then Jonas here, meaninge of him selfe. At whose preachig yea, though it were neuer so mightye to perse the herte, and for al his miracles ther to, the harde herted Jewes coulde not repent: when the heathen Niniuites repented at the bare preachinge of Jonas, rebukinge theyr synnes without any miracle at all.

¶ Lo by: For the Jewes had leuended the spirituall lawe of God, and with their glosses had made it al together earthly and fleshly, and so had set a vayle or couerynge on Moses face to shadow and darken the glorious brightnesse of his countenaunce. It was synne to stele: but to robbe wedowes howses vnder a coloure of longe prayynge, and to polle in the name of offerynges, and to snare the people wt intollerable constitucions against al loue, to catche their money out of their purses, was no synne at all.

¶ To smite father and mother was synne. But to withdraw helpe from them at theyr nede for blynd zeale of offeryng, vnto the profyt of the holye pharises, was then as meritorious as it is now to let al thy kinne choose whether they wyl sincke or swime, whyle thou buyldest ād makest goodly foundaciōs for holy people which thou haste chosen to be thy Christe, for to sowple thy soule with the oyle of theyr swete blessinges, and to be thy Jesus for to saue thy soule from the purgatory of ỹ bloud that only purgeth synne, with their watchinge, fasting, wolwarde goyng & tysynge at mydnighte. etc. wherwith yet they purge not them selues from their couetousnesse, pryde, lechery, or any vyce that thou seyest amonge the laye people.

¶ It was greate synne for Chryste to heale the people on the Sabbothe daye

vnto

fyce that pleaseth God, and to beleue that God onlye is the sauiour, is the thynge that all the Iewes vowed in theyr circumcysion, as we in our baptysme. Which vowe Jonas now taught wyth experyence, promyseth to paye. For those outward sacrifyces of beastes vnto whych Jonas had happelye ascribed to muche before, were but feble and childish thynges and not ordeyned, that the woorckes of themselues shoulde be a seruyce vnto God, but vnto the people, to put them in remembraunce of thys inwarde sacrifyce of thankes and of fayth, to truste and beleue in God the onelye sauiour. Which syguification whē it was awaye, they were abhominable and deuelysh ydolatrie and ymage seruice: as oure ceremonies and sacramentes, are become now to all that truste and beleue in the woorke of them and are not taughte the syguifycacyons, to edifye theyr soules wyth knoweledge and the doctryne of God.

¶ When Jonas was cast vpon the lande agayne, then hys wyll was fre, and had power to goo whether God sent hym, and to do what God badde, hys owne ymaginacyons layd apart. For he had bene at a new schole, yea and in a fornace where he was purged of muche refuse and drosse of fleshlye wysdomme, whych resisted the wysdome of God, and led Jonas his wyl contrarye to the wyl of God. For as farre as we be blynde in Adam, we cannot but seke and wyll oure owne profytte pleasure and glory. And as farre as we be taught in the spyrit, we can not but seke and wyll the pleasure and glory of God onely.

¶ And as for thre dayes iourneye of Niniue, whether it were in lenght or to goo rounde aboute it, or thorowe all the streates, I comit vnto the discretion of other men: But I thyncke that it was then the greatest citie of all the worlde.

¶ And that Jonas went a dayes iourney in the cytye, I suppose he dyd it not in one daye: but wente fayre and easely preachyng here a sermon and there another and rebuked the synne of the people, for whych they must perysshe

¶ And whē thou art com vnto the repentaunce of the Niniuites, there haste thou sure earnest, ỹ how so euer angry god be, yet he remembreth mercy vnto al ỹ truly repent and beleue in mercy. Which ensample oure sauioure Christe also casteth in the teeth of the indurate Jewes saynge: the Niniuites shall rise in iudgement wt this nacion and condempne them, for they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde a greater then Jonas here, meaninge of him selfe. At whose preachig yea, though it were neuer so mightye to perse the herte, and for al his miracles ther to, the harde herted Jewes coulde not repent: when the heathen Niniuites repented at the bare preachinge of Jonas, rebukinge theyr synnes without any miracle at all.

¶ Lo by: For the Jewes had leuended the spirituall lawe of God, and with their glosses had made it al together earthly and fleshly, and so had set a vayle or couerynge on Moses face to shadow and darken the glorious brightnesse of his countenaunce. It was synne to stele: but to robbe wedowes howses vnder a coloure of longe prayynge, and to polle in the name of offerynges, and to snare the people wt intollerable constitucions against al loue, to catche their money out of their purses, was no synne at all.

¶ To smite father and mother was synne. But to withdraw helpe from them at theyr nede for blynd zeale of offeryng, vnto the profyt of the holye pharises, was then as meritorious as it is now to let al thy kinne choose whether they wyl sincke or swime, whyle thou buyldest ād makest goodly foundaciōs for holy people which thou haste chosen to be thy Christe, for to sowple thy soule with the oyle of theyr swete blessinges, and to be thy Jesus for to saue thy soule from the purgatory of ỹ bloud that only purgeth synne, with their watchinge, fasting, wolwarde goyng & tysynge at mydnighte. etc. wherwith yet they purge not them selues from their couetousnesse, pryde, lechery, or any vyce that thou seyest amonge the laye people.

¶ It was greate synne for Chryste to heale the people on the Sabbothe daye

vnto

vnto the glorye of God hys father, but none at all for them, to helpe theyr catel vn to theyr owne profyte.

☞ It was synne to eate with vnwasshen handes, or on an vnwasshen table, or out of an vnwasshen dysh: but to eate out of that puryfyed dish, that which came of bribery, theft and extortion, was no synne at all.

☞ It was exceadynge meritorious to make manye disciples: But to teache them to feare God in hys ordinaunces had they no care at all.

✠ The hyghe Prelates so defended the ryghte of holy Churche, and so feared the people wyth the curse of God and terryble paynes of hell, that no man durste leaue the vylest herbe in hys garden vntithed. And the offerynge and thynges dedicate vnto God, for the profyte of hys holye Vicars were in suche estimacion and reuerence, that it was muche greater synne to sweare trulye by them, then to forsweare thy selfe by God: what vengeaunce then of God, and how terryble and cruel damnacion thynke ye, preached they, to fal on them that had stolen suche holy thynges? And yet sayth Christ, that ryghteousnes and fayth in keppynge promyse, mercye and indifferent iudgemencke, were vtterlye tro den vnder fote and cleane dyspysed of those blessed fathers, whych so mightely mayntened Aarons patrimony, & had made it so prospetous, and enuyronned it ād walled it aboute on euery syde wyth the feare of God that no man durst touche it.

¶ It was greate holynesse to garnysh the sepulchres of the Prophetes and to cōdempne theyr owne fathers for sleing of them: and yet were they them selues for blynde zeale of theyr owne constitucions, as ready as theyr fathers to slea who so euer testifyed vnto them, the same truth, which the prophetes testified vnto theyr fathers. So that Christ compareth al the ryghteousnes of those holy pattiarkes vnto the outwarde bewrye of a paynted Sepulchre, full of stynche and all vncleannesse wythin.

✠ And finally to begyle a mans neyboure in subtyl bargayning and to wrappe & compasse him in with cauteles of the lawe, was then (as it is nowe) in the kyngedome of the Pope. By the reason whereof they excluded ỹ lawe of loue out of ther hertes, and consequently all true repentaunce: for how coulde they repente of that they coulde not se to be synne?

¶ And on the other syde, they had set vp a ryghtwesnesse of holy workes, to clese their soules withal: as the Pope sanctifieth vs with holy oyle, holy bred, holy salte holy candels, holy dome ceremonies and holy dome blessynges, and with what so euer holynes thou wilt, saue with the holynes of Gods word which onlye speaketh vnto the herte, and sheweth the soule her fylthynes and vncleanesse of synne, ād leadeth her by the waye of repentaunce vnto the foūtayne of Christes bloud to wash it awaye thorow fayth. By the reason of which false rightwysenes they were dysobedient vnto the righteousnesse of god, which is the forgeuenes of synne in Christes bloude and coulde not beleue it. And so thorow fleshly interpretynge the lawe and false imagined righteousnesse, their hertes were hardened & made as stony as claye in an hote furnace of fyre, that they coulde receaue neyther repentaunce nor faith or any moyster of grace at all.

✠ But the heathen Niniuites, though they wert blynded with lustes a good, yet were in those .ii. poyntes vncorrupt and vnhardened and therfore with the onelye preachyng of Jonas came vnto the knowledge of their synnes, ād confessed them and repented truly and turned euery man from his euel dedes, and declared theyr sorow of hert and true repentaunce, with their dedes, which they dyd out of faith & hope of forgeuenes, chastisyng their bodies with prayer ād fastyng, and with takynge all pleasures from the flesh: trustynge as God was angry for their wyckednesse euen so shoulde he forgeue them of his mercie, yf they repented and forsoke their mysse lyuynge.

☞ And in the last ende of all, thou hast yet a goodly ensample of learnynge, to se how earthly Jonas is styll for all hys tryynge in the whales bellye. He was so sore

vnto the glorye of God hys father, but none at all for them, to helpe theyr catel vn to theyr owne profyte.

☞ It was synne to eate with vnwasshen handes, or on an vnwasshen table, or out of an vnwasshen dysh: but to eate out of that puryfyed dish, that which came of bribery, theft and extortion, was no synne at all.

☞ It was exceadynge meritorious to make manye disciples: But to teache them to feare God in hys ordinaunces had they no care at all.

✠ The hyghe Prelates so defended the ryghte of holy Churche, and so feared the people wyth the curse of God and terryble paynes of hell, that no man durste leaue the vylest herbe in hys garden vntithed. And the offerynge and thynges dedicate vnto God, for the profyte of hys holye Vicars were in suche estimacion and reuerence, that it was muche greater synne to sweare trulye by them, then to forsweare thy selfe by God: what vengeaunce then of God, and how terryble and cruel damnacion thynke ye, preached they, to fal on them that had stolen suche holy thynges? And yet sayth Christ, that ryghteousnes and fayth in keppynge promyse, mercye and indifferent iudgemencke, were vtterlye tro den vnder fote and cleane dyspysed of those blessed fathers, whych so mightely mayntened Aarons patrimony, & had made it so prospetous, and enuyronned it ād walled it aboute on euery syde wyth the feare of God that no man durst touche it.

¶ It was greate holynesse to garnysh the sepulchres of the Prophetes and to cōdempne theyr owne fathers for sleing of them: and yet were they them selues for blynde zeale of theyr owne constitucions, as ready as theyr fathers to slea who so euer testifyed vnto them, the same truth, which the prophetes testified vnto theyr fathers. So that Christ compareth al the ryghteousnes of those holy pattiarkes vnto the outwarde bewrye of a paynted Sepulchre, full of stynche and all vncleannesse wythin.

✠ And finally to begyle a mans neyboure in subtyl bargayning and to wrappe & compasse him in with cauteles of the lawe, was then (as it is nowe) in the kyngedome of the Pope. By the reason whereof they excluded ỹ lawe of loue out of ther hertes, and consequently all true repentaunce: for how coulde they repente of that they coulde not se to be synne?

¶ And on the other syde, they had set vp a ryghtwesnesse of holy workes, to clese their soules withal: as the Pope sanctifieth vs with holy oyle, holy bred, holy salte holy candels, holy dome ceremonies and holy dome blessynges, and with what so euer holynes thou wilt, saue with the holynes of Gods word which onlye speaketh vnto the herte, and sheweth the soule her fylthynes and vncleanesse of synne, ād leadeth her by the waye of repentaunce vnto the foūtayne of Christes bloud to wash it awaye thorow fayth. By the reason of which false rightwysenes they were dysobedient vnto the righteousnesse of god, which is the forgeuenes of synne in Christes bloude and coulde not beleue it. And so thorow fleshly interpretynge the lawe and false imagined righteousnesse, their hertes were hardened & made as stony as claye in an hote furnace of fyre, that they coulde receaue neyther repentaunce nor faith or any moyster of grace at all.

✠ But the heathen Niniuites, though they wert blynded with lustes a good, yet were in those .ii. poyntes vncorrupt and vnhardened and therfore with the onelye preachyng of Jonas came vnto the knowledge of their synnes, ād confessed them and repented truly and turned euery man from his euel dedes, and declared theyr sorow of hert and true repentaunce, with their dedes, which they dyd out of faith & hope of forgeuenes, chastisyng their bodies with prayer ād fastyng, and with takynge all pleasures from the flesh: trustynge as God was angry for their wyckednesse euen so shoulde he forgeue them of his mercie, yf they repented and forsoke their mysse lyuynge.

☞ And in the last ende of all, thou hast yet a goodly ensample of learnynge, to se how earthly Jonas is styll for all hys tryynge in the whales bellye. He was so sore

displeased because the Niniuites perysshed not, that he was werye of hys lyfe, and wysshed after the death for very sorow and payne, that he had lost the glory of hys prophesynge, in that hys prophecye came not to passe. But God rebuked hym wt a lykenes, saynge: it greueth thyne herte for the losse of a byle shrobbe or spraye, wheron thou bestowedst no labor or cost, neyther was it thyne handworke: How muche more then shoulde greue myne hert the losse of so greate a Multitude of innocentes as are in Nimtue, whych are all myne handes worcke. Naye Jonas, I am God ouer all, and father, as well vnto the Heathen, as vnto the Jewes, and mercyfull to all, and warne, yer I smyte: neyther threate I so cruelly by any Prophete, but that I wyl forgeue if they repent and aske mercye: neyther on the other syde, what soeuer I promyse wyll I fulfylle it, saue for theyre sakes onely, which truste in me and submyte themselues, to kepe my lawes of very loue, as natural chylderen.

ON thys maner to reade the Scrypture, is the ryght vse therof, and why the holyghoost caused it to be wrytten. That is that thou fyrst seke out the law what God wyll haue thee to do, interpretinge it spiritually wythout glose or coueringe the bryghtnesse of Moyses face, so that thou fele in thyne herte, how that it is dampnable synne before God, not to loue thy neyghboure that is thyne enemye as purely as Chryst loued thee: and that not to loue thy neygbour in thyne herte is to haue committed already all synne agaynst hym. And therfore vntyll that loue be come, thou muste knowledge vnfaynedlye, that there is synne in the best dede thou doest. And it muste earnestlye greue thyne herte and thou must wash all thy good dedes in Chrystes bloude, yer they can be pure, and an acceptable sacrifice vnto God, and must desyre God the father for hys sake, to take thy dedes a worth, and to pardonne the imperfectnesse of them, and to geue thee power to do them better and wyth more feruent loue.

☞ And on the other syde, thou must search dylygently for the promyses of mercye whyche God hath promysed thee agayne, xx hyche. ii. poyntes, that is to wete, the lawe spiritually interpreted, how that al is dampnable synne that is not vnfayned loue out of the grounde and bottome of the herte after the ensample of Chrystes loue to vs, because we be all equally created and formed of one God oure Father and indifferentlye boughte and redemed wyth one bloude, of our sauioure Jesus Chryst: and that the promyses be geuen vnto a repentinge soule that thyrsteth & longeth after them, of the pure and fatherly mercye of god thorow oure fayth only wythout all deseruyng of oure dedes, or merytes of oure worckes, but for chrystes sake alone/ and for the merytes and deseruinges of hys worckes/ deethe and passyons that he suffered altogether for vs and not for him self: whych. ii. poyntes I saye if they be written in thyne hert, are the keies whych so open al the scrypture vnto thee, that no creature can locke thee out, and wyth whych thou shalt go in & oute and fynde pasture and fode euery where.

And yf these lessons be not written in thyne herte, then is al the scrypture shutt vp, as a cornel in the shale, so that thou maiest rede it & cõmon of it & reherse al the stories of it and dispute subtilly and be a profound sophyster, and yet vnderstand not one iote therof.

☞ And thyrdelye that thou take the storyes and lyues whyche are contayned in ỹ byble, for sure and vndoubted ensamples that God so wyl deale wythvs vnto ỹ worldes ende.

☞ Here with Reader fare well and be commended vnto God & vnto the grace of his spirite. And fyrst se that thou stoppe not thyne eares vnto the callynge of god, and that thou harden not thyne herte, begyled with fleshly interpreatinge of the lawe & false imagined and ypocrityshy rightuousnes, and so the Niniuites ryse vp thee at the day of iudgement and condempne thee.

And

displeased because the Niniuites perysshed not, that he was werye of hys lyfe, and wysshed after the death for very sorow and payne, that he had lost the glory of hys prophesynge, in that hys prophecye came not to passe. But God rebuked hym wt a lykenes, saynge: it greueth thyne herte for the losse of a byle shrobbe or spraye, wheron thou bestowedst no labor or cost, neyther was it thyne handworke: How muche more then shoulde greue myne hert the losse of so greate a Multitude of innocentes as are in Nimtue, whych are all myne handes worcke. Naye Jonas, I am God ouer all, and father, as well vnto the Heathen, as vnto the Jewes, and mercyfull to all, and warne, yer I smyte: neyther threate I so cruelly by any Prophete, but that I wyl forgeue if they repent and aske mercye: neyther on the other syde, what soeuer I promyse wyll I fulfylle it, saue for theyre sakes onely, which truste in me and submyte themselues, to kepe my lawes of very loue, as natural chylderen.

ON thys maner to reade the Scrypture, is the ryght vse therof, and why the holyghoost caused it to be wrytten. That is that thou fyrst seke out the law what God wyll haue thee to do, interpretinge it spiritually wythout glose or coueringe the bryghtnesse of Moyses face, so that thou fele in thyne herte, how that it is dampnable synne before God, not to loue thy neyghboure that is thyne enemye as purely as Chryst loued thee: and that not to loue thy neygbour in thyne herte is to haue committed already all synne agaynst hym. And therfore vntyll that loue be come, thou muste knowledge vnfaynedlye, that there is synne in the best dede thou doest. And it muste earnestlye greue thyne herte and thou must wash all thy good dedes in Chrystes bloude, yer they can be pure, and an acceptable sacrifice vnto God, and must desyre God the father for hys sake, to take thy dedes a worth, and to pardonne the imperfectnesse of them, and to geue thee power to do them better and wyth more feruent loue.

☞ And on the other syde, thou must search dylygently for the promyses of mercye whyche God hath promysed thee agayne, xx hyche. ii. poyntes, that is to wete, the lawe spiritually interpreted, how that al is dampnable synne that is not vnfayned loue out of the grounde and bottome of the herte after the ensample of Chrystes loue to vs, because we be all equally created and formed of one God oure Father and indifferentlye boughte and redemed wyth one bloude, of our sauioure Jesus Chryst: and that the promyses be geuen vnto a repentinge soule that thyrsteth & longeth after them, of the pure and fatherly mercye of god thorow oure fayth only wythout all deseruyng of oure dedes, or merytes of oure worckes, but for chrystes sake alone/ and for the merytes and deseruinges of hys worckes/ deethe and passyons that he suffered altogether for vs and not for him self: whych. ii. poyntes I saye if they be written in thyne hert, are the keies whych so open al the scrypture vnto thee, that no creature can locke thee out, and wyth whych thou shalt go in & oute and fynde pasture and fode euery where.

And yf these lessons be not written in thyne herte, then is al the scrypture shutt vp, as a cornel in the shale, so that thou maiest rede it & cõmon of it & reherse al the stories of it and dispute subtilly and be a profound sophyster, and yet vnderstand not one iote therof.

☞ And thyrdelye that thou take the storyes and lyues whyche are contayned in ỹ byble, for sure and vndoubted ensamples that God so wyl deale wythvs vnto ỹ worldes ende.

☞ Here with Reader fare well and be commended vnto God & vnto the grace of his spirite. And fyrst se that thou stoppe not thyne eares vnto the callynge of god, and that thou harden not thyne herte, begyled with fleshly interpreatinge of the lawe & false imagined and ypocrityshy rightuousnes, and so the Niniuites ryse vp thee at the day of iudgement and condempne thee.

And

¶ And secondarily, if thou find ought amisse, when thou seist thy selfe in the glasse of Gods worde, thynke it cōpendious wisdome, to amende the same betymes, monished and warned by the ensample of other men, rather then to tary vntil thou be beaten also.

¶ And thirdly, if it shal so chaūce, that the wilde lustes of the flesh shal blinde thee and cary thee cleane awaye with theym for a tyme: yet at the later ende, when the god of al mercy shal haue compassed thee on euery side with temptacions, tribulacions, aduersities and combraunce, to bryng thee home agayne vnto thine owne herte, and to set thy sinnes which thou woldest so faine couer and put out of minde with delectacion of voluptuous pastimes, before the eyes of thy conscyence: then call the faithful ensample of Jonas and al lyke stories vnto thy remembraunce, & withe Jonas turne vnto thy Father that smote thee: not to caste thee a waie but to laie a corosife and a freatyng plaister vnto the pocke that laye hid and fret inwarde to drawe the disease oute and to make it appeare, that thou myghteste feale thy sycknes and the daunger therof and come and receaue the healyng plaister of mercy.

¶ And forget not that what soeuer ensample of mercye god hath shewed sens the begynnynge of the world, the same is promysed thee, yf thou wylte in lyke manet turne agayne, and receaue it as they dyd. And wyth Jonas be acknowen of thy synne and confesse it and knoweledge it vnto thy father.

¶ And as the lawe which freteth thy conscience, is thyne hert, and is none outward thynge, euen so seke wythin thyne hert, the playster of mercye, the promises of forgeuenes in our sauiour Jesus Chryste according vnto al the ensamples of mercy that are gone before.

¶ And wyth Jonas let them that wayte on vanities and seke god here and there and in euerye temple, saue in theyr hertes, go: and seke thou the testament of god in thyne harte. For in thyne harte is the word of the law, and in thyne hart is ꝑ word of fayth in the promyses of mercye in Jesus chryst. So that yf thou confesse with a repentinge herte and knoweledge and surely beleue that Jesus is Lorde ouer al synne, thou art safe.

nota

¶ And fynally when the rage of thy conscience is ceased and quieted wythe faste fayth in the promyses of mercye, then offre wyth Jonas the offerynge of prayse & thankesgeuinge: and paye the vowe of thy baptisme, that God only saueth, of his only mercy, and goodnesse: that is, beleue stedfastlye and preache constauntlye that it is god onely that smyteth, and God onely that healeth: ascribynge the cause of thy tribulacion vnto thyne owne synne, and the cause of thy delyuerannce vnto the mercye of God.

¶ And beware of the leuen that sayth, we haue powet in our free wyll before the preachynge of the Gospell to deserue grace, to kepe the lawe, of congruitee, or god to be vnryghtuous. And saye wyth John in the fyrst: that as the lawe was geue by Moyses, euen so grace to fulfyll it, is geuen by Chryste. And when they saye oure dedes wyth grace deserue heauen, saye thou wyth Paule Ro. vi. that euerlastyng lyfe is the gyfte of God thorow Jesus Chryst our Lord and that we be made sonnes by fayth Jhon. i. and therfore heyres of God wyth Chryst. Rom. viii. And saye that we receaue all of God thorow fayth that foloweth repentaunce, and that we do not oure woorckes vnto God but either vnto our selues to slaye the synne that remaynyeth in the flesh and to ware perfect, ether vnto our neyghbours which do as muche for vs agayne in some other thynges. And when a man excedeth in gyftes of grace let hym vnderstande that they be geuen hym as wel for hys weke bretheren as for hym selfe: as though all the breade be committed vnto the panter yet for hys fellowes wyth hym, whych geue the thanckes vnto theyr lorde and recompense the panter agayne wyth other kynde seruice in theyr offices. And when they saye that Chryste hath made no satisfaction for the synne we do after our baptysme, saye thou wyth the doctryne of Paule, that in oure baptisme we receaue the

¶ And secondarily, if thou find ought amisse, when thou seist thy selfe in the glasse of Gods worde, thynke it cōpendious wisdome, to amende the same betymes, monished and warned by the ensample of other men, rather then to tary vntil thou be beaten also.

¶ And thirdly, if it shal so chaūce, that the wilde lustes of the flesh shal blinde thee and cary thee cleane awaye with theym for a tyme: yet at the later ende, when the god of al mercy shal haue compassed thee on euery side with temptacions, tribulacions, aduersities and combraunce, to bryng thee home agayne vnto thine owne herte, and to set thy sinnes which thou woldest so faine couer and put out of minde with delectacion of voluptuous pastimes, before the eyes of thy conscyence: then call the faithful ensample of Jonas and al lyke stories vnto thy remembraunce, & withe Jonas turne vnto thy Father that smote thee: not to caste thee a waie but to laie a corosife and a freatyng plaister vnto the pocke that laye hid and fret inwarde to drawe the disease oute and to make it appeare, that thou myghteste feale thy sycknes and the daunger therof and come and receaue the healyng plaister of mercy.

¶ And forget not that what soeuer ensample of mercye god hath shewed sens the begynnynge of the world, the same is promysed thee, yf thou wylte in lyke manet turne agayne, and receaue it as they dyd. And wyth Jonas be acknowen of thy synne and confesse it and knoweledge it vnto thy father.

¶ And as the lawe which freteth thy conscience, is thyne hert, and is none outward thynge, euen so seke wythin thyne hert, the playster of mercye, the promises of forgeuenes in our sauiour Jesus Chryste according vnto al the ensamples of mercy that are gone before.

¶ And wyth Jonas let them that wayte on vanities and seke god here and there and in euerye temple, saue in theyr hertes, go: and seke thou the testament of god in thyne harte. For in thyne harte is the word of the law, and in thyne hart is ꝑ word of fayth in the promyses of mercye in Jesus chryst. So that yf thou confesse with a repentinge herte and knoweledge and surely beleue that Jesus is Lorde ouer al synne, thou art safe.

nota

¶ And fynally when the rage of thy conscience is ceased and quieted wythe faste fayth in the promyses of mercye, then offre wyth Jonas the offerynge of prayse & thankesgeuinge: and paye the vowe of thy baptisme, that God only saueth, of his only mercy, and goodnesse: that is, beleue stedfastlye and preache constauntlye that it is god onely that smyteth, and God onely that healeth: ascribynge the cause of thy tribulacion vnto thyne owne synne, and the cause of thy delyuerannce vnto the mercye of God.

¶ And beware of the leuen that sayth, we haue powet in our free wyll before the preachynge of the Gospell to deserue grace, to kepe the lawe, of congruitee, or god to be vnryghtuous. And saye wyth John in the fyrst: that as the lawe was geue by Moyses, euen so grace to fulfyll it, is geuen by Chryste. And when they saye oure dedes wyth grace deserue heauen, saye thou wyth Paule Ro. vi. that euerlastyng lyfe is the gyfte of God thorow Jesus Chryst our Lord and that we be made sonnes by fayth Jhon. i. and therfore heyres of God wyth Chryst. Rom. viii. And saye that we receaue all of God thorow fayth that foloweth repentaunce, and that we do not oure woorckes vnto God but either vnto our selues to slaye the synne that remaynyeth in the flesh and to ware perfect, ether vnto our neyghbours which do as muche for vs agayne in some other thynges. And when a man excedeth in gyftes of grace let hym vnderstande that they be geuen hym as wel for hys weke bretheren as for hym selfe: as though all the breade be committed vnto the panter yet for hys fellowes wyth hym, whych geue the thanckes vnto theyr lorde and recompense the panter agayne wyth other kynde seruice in theyr offices. And when they saye that Chryste hath made no satisfaction for the synne we do after our baptysme, saye thou wyth the doctryne of Paule, that in oure baptisme we receaue the

merites of Chrystes death, through repentaunce and faith, of whych two, baptisme is the sygne. And though when we synne of frailtie after our baptisme we receaue the sygne no more, yet we be renewed agayne, through repentaunce and fayth in Chrystes bloude, whyche twayne/the sygne of Baptisme euer contynued amonge vs in baptysinge our younge chylderen, doth euer kepe in mynd and call vs backe agayne vnto oure profession if we be gone astraye, and promiseth vs forgeuenes. Neyther can actuall Synne be washed awaye wyth oure workes, but wyth Chrystes bloude: neyther can there be anye other sacrifyce or satisfaction to Godwarde for them, saue Chrystes bloude. For as muche, as we can do no workes vnto God, but receaue onelye of hys mercye wyth oure repentinge, fayth, through Jesus Chryste oure Lorde, and onely Sauiour: vnto whome, and vnto hys holye spirite, that onely purgeth, sanctifyeth and washeth vs in the innocent bloude of oure redemption, be prayse for euer.

AMEN.

¶ The Ende of the Prologe vpon the Prophete Jonas.

merites of Chrystes death, through repentaunce and faith, of whych two, baptisme is the sygne. And though when we synne of frailtie after our baptisme we receaue the sygne no more, yet we be renewed agayne, through repentaunce and fayth in Chrystes bloude, whyche twayne/the sygne of Baptisme euer contynued amonge vs in baptysinge our younge chylderen, doth euer kepe in mynd and call vs backe agayne vnto oure profession if we be gone astraye, and promiseth vs forgeuenes. Neyther can actuall Synne be washed awaye wyth oure workes, but wyth Chrystes bloude: neyther can there be anye other sacrifyce or satisfaction to Godwarde for them, saue Chrystes bloude. For as muche, as we can do no workes vnto God, but receaue onelye of hys mercye wyth oure repentinge, fayth, through Jesus Chryste oure Lorde, and onely Sauiour: vnto whome, and vnto hys holye spirite, that onely purgeth, sanctifyeth and washeth vs in the innocent bloude of oure redemption, be prayse for euer.

AMEN.

¶ The Ende of the Prologe vpon the Prophete Jonas.

¶ The Boke of

The Prophete Jonas.

Of the flyght of Jonas when he was sent to preach. A tempest aryseth and calleth him in the sea for his disobedience.

The fyrst Chapter.

A THe word of the lord came vnto Jonas, the sõne of Amithai saiynge: Aryse and get thee to Niniue that greate cytye: & preache vnto them how that their wickednesse is come vp before me. And Jonas made hym ready to fle vnto* That is, from the Presence of the Lorde, and gat hym downe to Joppa: wher he foũd a shyppe ready for to go vnto Tharsis. So he payed his fare, and went aborde that he myght go with them vnto Tharsis, from the presence of the Lorde. But the Lorde hurled a great wynde into the sea, and there was a myghtye tempeste in the sea: so that the shyppe was in ieopardy of going in peces. Then the mari-
B ners were afrayde, and cryed euery man vnto his God: ād the gooddes that were in the shyp, they cast into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonas gat hym vnder the hatches / where he layd hī downe and slombred.

So the Master of the shyppe came to hym, and sayde vnto hym: why slomberest thou? Up, call vppon thy God: Yf God (happely) wyll thyncke vpon vs, ꝑ we perysh not. And they sayde one to another: come, let vs caste lottes: ꝑ we may know, for whose cause we are thus troubled. And so they cast lottes, and the lott fell vpon Jonas.

Then sayde they vnto hym: tell vs for whose cause are we thus troubled? what is thyne occupacion? whence commest ꝑ? what contreman art thou? and of what nacyon? He answered them: I am an Hebrewe, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen whych made both sea and drye land
C Then were the men exceedyngly afrayed and sayde vnto hym: why dyddest thou so? (for they knewe that he was fled frō the presence of the Lorde because he had tolde them) and sayd moreouer vnto hi:
what shal we do vnto thee, that the sea maye ceasse from troublynge vs? (for ꝑ sea wrought and was troublous): he answered them: take me and caste me into the sea, so shall it let you be in rest: for I wote it is for my sake, that thys greate tempest is come vpon you.

Neuertheles the mē assayed with rowynge, to brynge the shyppe to lande, but D it wold not be, because ꝑ sea wrought so and was so troublous agaynst them. Wherfore they cryed vnto the Lorde, & sayde: O Lord let vs not perish for this mans death, neyther laye thou innocent Bloude vnto oure charge, for thou / O Lorde, haste done, euen as thy pleasure was.

So they toke Jonas, and cast hym into the sea, and the sea left ragyng. And the men feared the Lorde exceadynglye, doing sacrifyces & making vowes vnto the Lorde.

nota midnight

The Notes.

*Under the name of Tharsis (as somethinck) is signifyed some sea that was farre of, and whose voiage was verye longe: so that the saylers therin, coulde se no thynge but the sea and the ayre.

Joppa is an hauen of Jewry, where was sometime a goodly cytie of whych there remayneth nowe but a porcion.

¶ Jonas is swalowed of a whale, The prayer of Jonas.

The .ii. Chapter.

A BVt the Lorde prepared a greate fysche, to swalow vp Jonas. So was Jonas in the bely of ꝑ fysh, three dayes and three nyghtes. And Jonas prayed vnto the lorde his god out of the fisches bely, and sayd: In my trouble I called vnto the lorde, and he herde me out of the bely of *hel, I cryed / and thou herdest my voyce. Thou haddest cast me downe depe in the middest of the sea / and the floude compassed me aboute: yea all thy waues and roules of water wente ouer me, I thought that I had ben cast awaie out of thy sight: but I wil yet againe loke towarde thy holy temple. B

The waters compassed me, euen to the very soule: the depe laye about me and the wedes were wrapte about mine head. I went downe to the botome of ꝑ hylles, and was barred in wyth earthe for euer. But thou, O lord my god, hast brought vp my lyfe agayne out of corruption. When my soule faynted within

¶ The Boke of

The Prophete Jonas.

Of the flyght of Jonas when he was sent to preach. A tempest aryseth and calleth him in the sea for his disobedience.

The fyrst Chapter.

A THe word of the lord came vnto Jonas, the sõne of Amithai saiynge: Aryse and get thee to Niniue that greate cytye: & preache vnto them how that their wickednesse is come vp before me. And Jonas made hym ready to fle vnto* That is, from the Presence of the Lorde, and gat hym downe to Joppa: wher he foũd a shyppe ready for to go vnto Tharsis. So he payed his fare, and went aborde that he myght go with them vnto Tharsis, from the presence of the Lorde. But the Lorde hurled a great wynde into the sea, and there was a myghtye tempeste in the sea: so that the shyppe was in ieopardy of going in peces. Then the mari-
B ners were afrayde, and cryed euery man vnto his God: ād the gooddes that were in the shyp, they cast into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonas gat hym vnder the hatches / where he layd hī downe and slombred.

So the Master of the shyppe came to hym, and sayde vnto hym: why slomberest thou? Up, call vppon thy God: Yf God (happely) wyll thyncke vpon vs, ꝑ we perysh not. And they sayde one to another: come, let vs caste lottes: ꝑ we may know, for whose cause we are thus troubled. And so they cast lottes, and the lott fell vpon Jonas.

Then sayde they vnto hym: tell vs for whose cause are we thus troubled? what is thyne occupacion? whence commest ꝑ? what contreman art thou? and of what nacyon? He answered them: I am an Hebrewe, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen whych made both sea and drye land
C Then were the men exceedyngly afrayed and sayde vnto hym: why dyddest thou so? (for they knewe that he was fled frō the presence of the Lorde because he had tolde them) and sayd moreouer vnto hi:
what shal we do vnto thee, that the sea maye ceasse from troublynge vs? (for ꝑ sea wrought and was troublous): he answered them: take me and caste me into the sea, so shall it let you be in rest: for I wote it is for my sake, that thys greate tempest is come vpon you.

Neuertheles the mē assayed with rowynge, to brynge the shyppe to lande, but D it wold not be, because ꝑ sea wrought so and was so troublous agaynst them. Wherfore they cryed vnto the Lorde, & sayde: O Lord let vs not perish for this mans death, neyther laye thou innocent Bloude vnto oure charge, for thou / O Lorde, haste done, euen as thy pleasure was.

So they toke Jonas, and cast hym into the sea, and the sea left ragyng. And the men feared the Lorde exceadynglye, doing sacrifyces & making vowes vnto the Lorde.

nota midnight

The Notes.

*Under the name of Tharsis (as somethinck) is signifyed some sea that was farre of, and whose voiage was verye longe: so that the saylers therin, coulde se no thynge but the sea and the ayre.

Joppa is an hauen of Jewry, where was sometime a goodly cytie of whych there remayneth nowe but a porcion.

¶ Jonas is swalowed of a whale, The prayer of Jonas.

The .ii. Chapter.

A BVt the Lorde prepared a greate fysche, to swalow vp Jonas. So was Jonas in the bely of ꝑ fysh, three dayes and three nyghtes. And Jonas prayed vnto the lorde his god out of the fisches bely, and sayd: In my trouble I called vnto the lorde, and he herde me out of the bely of *hel, I cryed / and thou herdest my voyce. Thou haddest cast me downe depe in the middest of the sea / and the floude compassed me aboute: yea all thy waues and roules of water wente ouer me, I thought that I had ben cast awaie out of thy sight: but I wil yet againe loke towarde thy holy temple. B

The waters compassed me, euen to the very soule: the depe laye about me and the wedes were wrapte about mine head. I went downe to the botome of ꝑ hylles, and was barred in wyth earthe for euer. But thou, O lord my god, hast brought vp my lyfe agayne out of corruption. When my soule faynted within me, I thought vpon the Lorde: ād my prayer came into thee, euen in to thy holy temple. They that hold of vayne vanyties, will forsake his mercy. But I wyl do the sacrifyce with the voyce of thankesgeuinge/and wyl paye that I haue vowed: for why? saluacīo cometh of the Lord. And the Lorde spake vnto the fysh, and it cast out Jonas agayne vpon the dryе lande.

The notes.

*The Scripture speaketh of hel commenly as of a place comen for all theym that goo downe into the earth, as into a graue, or to the depe of the see. &c. as ye haue in Geneli and in the Psalmes.

¶ Jonas is sent againe to Ninive. The repētaūce of the kinge of Ninive.

The. iii. Chapter.

A THen came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jonas againe, saynge: vp, and get thee to Ninive that greate cytie, & preache vnto them the preachinge which I bad thee. So Jonas arose, and went to Ninive at the lordes commaundement. Ninive was a grete cytte vnto God, namelye, of thre dayes iourney.

B And Jonas went to, and entered into the cytie: euen a dayes iourney, and cryed, saynge: There are yet .xl. dayes and then shal Ninive be ouerthrowen And the people of Ninive beleued god and proclamed fasting, and arayed them selues in *sacke cloth, as wel the greate as the smal of them. And the tidinges came vnto the kinge of Ninive, which arose out of his seate, and dyd his apparel of, & put on sackcloth, and sat hi
C downe in asshes.

And it was cryed and commaunded in Ninive, by the auctorite of the king & hys lordes, saynge: se that nether mā or beast/ore or shepe taste ought at all: and that they neyther fede nor drynke water: but put on sack cloth both man and beest/and cry mightely vnto god: yea se that euery mā turn from hys euel waye, and from the wickednes, that he hath in hande.

D Who can tel? God maye turne, ād repent, and cease from his fierce wrath, that we perish not. And whē god sawe ther workes, how they turned frō theyr wycked wayes: he repented on the euel, which he sayde he wolde do vnto them and dyd it not.

The notes.

*The arayinge them in sackcloth was an outward signe of greate repentaunce, as in ii. Reg. iii. k ¶ Jonas is reproued of God.

The. iiii. Chapter.

THerfore Jonas was sore dyscōtēt & angry. And he prayed vnto the Lorde, and sayde: O Lord, was not thys my sayinge (I praye thee) when I was yet in myne owne countree? Therfore I hasted rather to flee vnto Tharsis, for I know well ynough that thou arte a mercyfull God, full of compassion, longe sufferyng, and of greate kindnes, and repentest when thou shouldest take punishement. And nowe, O Lord take my life fro me (I beseech thee) for I had rather dye thē lyue. Then sayd the Lorde: arte thou so angrie? And Jonas gate hym oute of the cytye, and sate downe on the east syde therof: and there made hym a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadow/tyl he myght se, what should chaunce vnto the cytye.

And the Lorde God prepared a wylde vine, which sprang vp ouer Jonas. B that he myght haue shadowe aboue hys heade, to delyuer hym out of hys payne. And Jonas was exceadinge glad of the wylde vyne.

But vpon the next morowe agaynste the spryng of the daye. The Lorde ordened a worme, which smote ꝑ wylde vine, so that it wethered awaye. And when the sunne was vp, God prepared a feruente east wynde: and the Sūne bett ouer the heade of Jonas that he fainted agayne ād wyshed vnto hys soule, that he might dye, and sayde: it is better for me to dye then to lyue. And god sayd vnto Jonas: C Art thou so angry for the wylde vyne? And he sayde: yea very angry am I euē vnto the death. And the Lord sayd: thou hast cōpassion vpō a wylde vyne / wher on thou bestowedst no labour, nor madest it growe: whyche sprange vp in one night and perysshed in an other: ād should not I then haue compassion vpō Ninive that great cytee, wherin there are aboue an. C. & .xx. thousand persōs, that knowe not theyr ryghte hand from the left: besides muche catel?

¶ The ende of the prophecy of Jonas.

me, I thought vpon the Lorde: ād my prayer came into thee, euen in to thy holy temple. They that hold of vayne vanyties, will forsake his mercy. But I wyl do the sacrifyce with the voyce of thankesgeuinge/and wyl paye that I haue vowed: for why? saluacīo cometh of the Lord. And the Lorde spake vnto the fysh, and it cast out Jonas agayne vpon the dryе lande.

The notes.

*The Scripture speaketh of hel commenly as of a place comen for all theym that goo downe into the earth, as into a graue, or to the depe of the see. &c. as ye haue in Geneli and in the Psalmes.

¶ Jonas is sent againe to Ninive. The repētaūce of the kinge of Ninive.

The. iii. Chapter.

A THen came the worde of the Lorde vnto Jonas againe, saynge: vp, and get thee to Ninive that greate cytie, & preache vnto them the preachinge which I bad thee. So Jonas arose, and went to Ninive at the lordes commaundement. Ninive was a grete cytte vnto God, namelye, of thre dayes iourney.

B And Jonas went to, and entered into the cytie: euen a dayes iourney, and cryed, saynge: There are yet .xl. dayes and then shal Ninive be ouerthrowen And the people of Ninive beleued god and proclamed fasting, and arayed them selues in *sacke cloth, as wel the greate as the smal of them. And the tidinges came vnto the kinge of Ninive, which arose out of his seate, and dyd his apparel of, & put on sackcloth, and sat hi
C downe in asshes.

And it was cryed and commaunded in Ninive, by the auctorite of the king & hys lordes, saynge: se that nether mā or beast/ore or shepe taste ought at all: and that they neyther fede nor drynke water: but put on sack cloth both man and beest/and cry mightely vnto god: yea se that euery mā turn from hys euel waye, and from the wickednes, that he hath in hande.

D Who can tel? God maye turne, ād repent, and cease from his fierce wrath, that we perish not. And whē god sawe ther workes, how they turned frō theyr wycked wayes: he repented on the euel, which he sayde he wolde do vnto them and dyd it not.

The notes.

*The arayinge them in sackcloth was an outward signe of greate repentaunce, as in ii. Reg. iii. k ¶ Jonas is reproued of God.

The. iiii. Chapter.

THerfore Jonas was sore dyscōtēt & angry. And he prayed vnto the Lorde, and sayde: O Lord, was not thys my sayinge (I praye thee) when I was yet in myne owne countree? Therfore I hasted rather to flee vnto Tharsis, for I know well ynough that thou arte a mercyfull God, full of compassion, longe sufferyng, and of greate kindnes, and repentest when thou shouldest take punishement. And nowe, O Lord take my life fro me (I beseech thee) for I had rather dye thē lyue. Then sayd the Lorde: arte thou so angrie? And Jonas gate hym oute of the cytye, and sate downe on the east syde therof: and there made hym a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadow/tyl he myght se, what should chaunce vnto the cytye.

And the Lorde God prepared a wylde vine, which sprang vp ouer Jonas. B that he myght haue shadowe aboue hys heade, to delyuer hym out of hys payne. And Jonas was exceadinge glad of the wylde vyne.

But vpon the next morowe agaynste the spryng of the daye. The Lorde ordened a worme, which smote ꝑ wylde vine, so that it wethered awaye. And when the sunne was vp, God prepared a feruente east wynde: and the Sūne bett ouer the heade of Jonas that he fainted agayne ād wyshed vnto hys soule, that he might dye, and sayde: it is better for me to dye then to lyue. And god sayd vnto Jonas: C Art thou so angry for the wylde vyne? And he sayde: yea very angry am I euē vnto the death. And the Lord sayd: thou hast cōpassion vpō a wylde vyne / wher on thou bestowedst no labour, nor madest it growe: whyche sprange vp in one night and perysshed in an other: ād should not I then haue compassion vpō Ninive that great cytee, wherin there are aboue an. C. & .xx. thousand persōs, that knowe not theyr ryghte hand from the left: besides muche catel?

¶ The ende of the prophecy of Jonas.

¶ The Boke of

The Prophete Micheas

¶ Of the destruction of Samaria because of their Idolatrye.

The fyrst Chapter.

A iiii. Re. xv. a ii. Paxxviii b iiii. Re. xviii & xix

THys is the woorde of the Lorde, that came vnto micheas the morastite/in the dayes of Jothan, Ahas and Jehezekiah kinges of Juda: whych was shewed hym vpō Samarya and Jerusalē. Heare all ye people, marcke thys well O earth, and all that therin is: Yea the Lorde God hym selfe be wytnes amōge you, euen the Lorde from hys holy temple. For why: beholde the Lorde shal goo oute of hys place, and come downe, and trede vpon the hygh thynges of the erth. The mountaynes shall consume vnder him, and the valleys shal cleue asunder: lyke as waxe consumeth at the fyre, and as the waters runne downward. And all thys shalbe for the wickednes of Jacob
B and the synnes of the house of Israell.

But what is the wyckednes of Jacob: Is not Samaria: which are the hye places of Juda: is not Jerusalem: Therfore I shall make Samaria an heape of stones in the feld, to lay about the vinyarde: her stones shal I caste in to the valeye, and dyscouer her foundacyons.

All her Images shalbe broken downe and all her wynninges shalbe brente i the fyre: ye al her Idoles wyl I destroy for why: they are gathered oute of the hyre of an whore / and into an whores hyre shall they be turned agayne.

Wherfore I wyl mourne and make lamentacion, bare and naked wyl I go: I must mourne lyke ỹ dragōs / & take sorow as the Estriches: for their woūd is past remedy: And why: it is come in
C to Juda, and hath touched the porte of my people at Jerusalem already.

Weepe not, leste they at Geth perceaue it.

Thou at Betaphra, welter thy selfe i ỹ dust and asches. Thou that dwellest at Saphir, get thee hence with shame. The proude shall boost nomore for very sorowe: and why: her neyghboure shall take from her what she hath. The rebellyous cyty hopeth, that it shal not be so D euel: but for al that, the plage shal come from the Lorde, euen in to the porte of Jerusalem. The greate noyse of ỹ chariettes shal feare them, that dwell at Lachis, whych he is an occasyon of ỹ synne of ỹ daughter of Sion for in thee came vp the wyckednesses of Israel. Yea she sent her cursers in to the lande of Geth. The houses of lyes wyll dysce aue the kings of Israel. And as for thee (O ỹ ỹ dwellest at Morasta) I shal bryng a possessioner vpon thee, and the plage of Israel shal reach vnto Odolla. Make the balde, & shaue the, because of thy tender chyldren: Make thee cleane bald an an Aegle, for they shalbe caryed awaye captyue from thee.

Thretenynges agaynst the sinful people.

The .ii. Chapter.

WOo vnto them, that Imagyn to do harme, & deuyse vngracyous nesse vpon their beddes, to performe it in ỹ clere date: for their power is agaynst God. When they couet to haue land, they take it by vyolence, they robbe men of their houses.

Thus they oppresse a mā for his house, and euery man for his heritage. Therfore thus sayeth ỹ Lorde: Beholde agaist this housshold haue I deuysed a plage, wherout ye shal not plucke your neckes: Ye shal nomore go so proudly, for it wyl be a perlous tyme. In that daye shal thys terme be vsed & a mournynge shalbe made ouer you on this maner: Woe be vtterly desolate, the porcion of my people is translated. Who han wyl he parte vnto vs the lande that he hathe taken from vs?

Neuertheles there shalbe no man to B diuide thee thy porcion in the congregacion of the Lorde. Tush, hold youre tong (saye they.) It shal not fal vpon thys people, we shal not come so to confusion, sayeth the house of Jacob. Is the spirite of the Lorde so cleane awaye: or is he so mynded?

Trueth

¶ The Boke of

The Prophete Micheas

¶ Of the destruction of Samaria because of their Idolatrye.

The fyrst Chapter.

A iiii. Re. xv. a ii. Paxxviii b iiii. Re. xviii & xix

THys is the woorde of the Lorde, that came vnto micheas the morastite/in the dayes of Jothan, Ahas and Jehezekiah kinges of Juda: whych was shewed hym vpō Samarya and Jerusalē. Heare all ye people, marcke thys well O earth, and all that therin is: Yea the Lorde God hym selfe be wytnes amōge you, euen the Lorde from hys holy temple. Forwhy: beholde the Lorde shal goo oute of hys place, and come downe, and trede vpon the hygh thynges of the erth. The mountaynes shall consume vnder him, and the valleys shal cleue asunder: lyke as waxe consumeth at the fyre, and as the waters runne downward. And all thys shalbe for the wickednes of Jacob
B and the synnes of the house of Israell.

But what is the wyckednes of Jacob: Is not Samaria: Which are the hye places of Juda: is not Jerusalem: Therfore I shall make Samaria an heape of stones in the feld, to lay about the vinyarde: her stones shal I caste in to the valeye, and dyscouer her foundacyons.

All her Images shalbe broken downe and all her wynninges shalbe brente i the fyre: ye al her Idoles wyl I destroy for why: they are gathered oute of the hyre of an whore / and into an whores hyre shall they be turned agayne.

Wherfore I wyl mourne and make lamentacion, bare and naked wyl I go: I must mourne lyke ỹ dragōs / & take sorow as the Estriches: for their woūd is past remedy: And why: it is come in
C to Juda, and hath touched the porte of my people at Jerusalem alreadye.

Weepe not, leste they at Geth perceaue it.

Thou at Betaphra, welter thy selfe i ỹ dust and asches. Thou that dwellest at Saphir, get thee hence with shame. The proude shall boost nomore for very sorowe: and why: her neyghboure shall take from her what she hath. The rebellyous cyty hopeth, that it shal not be so D euel: but for al that, the plage shal come from the Lorde, euen in to the porte of Jerusalem. The greate noyse of ỹ chariettes shal feare them, that dwell at Lachis, whyche is an occasyon of ỹ synne of ỹ daughter of Sion for in thee came vp the wyckednesses of Israel. Yea she sent her cursers in to the lande of Geth. The houses of lyes wyll dysce aue the kings of Israel. And as for thee (O ỹ ỹ dwellest at Morasta) I shal bryng a possessioner vpon thee, and the plage of Israel shal reach vnto Odolla. Make the balde, & shaue the, because of thy tender chyldren: Make thee cleane bald an an Aegle, for they shalbe caryed awaye captyue from thee.

¶ The tenynges agaynst the sinful people.

The .ii. Chapter.

WOo vnto them, that Imagyn to do harme, & deuyse vngracyous nesse vpon their beddes, to performe it in ỹ clere daie: for their power is agaynst God. When they couet to haue land, they take it by violence, they robbe men of their houses. Thus they oppresse a mā for his house, and euery man for his heritage. Therfore thus sayeth ỹ Lorde: Beholde agaist this housshold haue I deuysed a plage, wherout ye shal not plucke your neckes: Ye shal nomore go so proudly, for it wyl be a perlous tyme. In that daye shal thys terme be vsed & a mournynge shalbe made ouer you on this maner: Woe be vtterly desolate, the porcion of my people is translated. Who han wyl he parte vnto vs the lande that he hathe taken from vs?

Neuertheles there shalbe no man to B diuide thee thy portion in the congregacion of the Lorde. Tush, hold youre tong (saye they.) It shal not fal vpon thys people, we shal not come so to confusion, sayeth the house of Jacob. Is the spirite of the Lorde so cleane awaye? or is he so mynded?

Trueth

¶ Truthe it is, my wordes ar frendly vn to them ꝑ liue right: but my people doth the contrary, therfore must I take parte agaynst them: for they take awaye both cote and cloke from the symple.

Ye haue turned your selues to fyght, ꝑ women of my people haue ye shut out from their good houses, ād take ẽ awaie my excellent gyftes from their children Up get you hence, for here shal ye haue no rest.

Because of their Idolatry they are corrupte, and shal miserably perishe. If I were a felishly felow and a preachar of lies, and tolde them that they myght syt bybbyng and bollyng and be droncken: O, that were a Prophete for this people

D But I wil gather thee in dede, O Jacob and dryue the remnaunt of Israel all together. I shal cary them one vnto another as a floke in the folde, and as ꝑ catell in their stalles, ꝑ they maye be dysquyeted of other men. Who so breaketh the gap he shall go before. They shal breke vp the porte, & go in and out at it. Their kynge shal go before them, ād the Lord shalbe vpon the heade of them.

Agaynst the tyranny of Prynces and falsepropheres

The.iii. Chapter

A HEer O ye ꝑ heades of ꝑ house of Jacob & ye leders of ꝑ house of Israell: Shulde not ye know what wer lawfull and ryght: but ye hate the good, and loue the euel: ye plucke of mennes skynnes, ād the flesh from their bones: ye eate the flesh of my people/ & flay of their skyn: ye breake their bones ye choppe them in peces as it were in to a cauldron, & as fleash into a pot. Now the tyme shal come, that when they call vnto the Lorde, he shall not heare them e* but hyde his face frō/ thē because that throwe their owne immagynacyons they haue dealte so wyckedly

And as concernynge the prophetes that dysceatie my people, thus the Lorde sayeth agaynst them: When they haue

B anye thinge to byte vppon: then they preach that all shalbe wel: but yf a man put not some thinge in to their mouthes they preach of warre agaynst hym

Therfore youre vysyon shalbe turned to nyght, and your prophecyeng to darkenes. The Sunne shall go doune ouer those prophetes, and the date shal be darcke vnto them. Then shall the bysyon seers be a shamed, and the sothsayers confounded: yea they shalbe fayne all the pack of them, to stoppe their mouthes, for they haue not gods worde. As for me, I am ful of strength C and of the spirite of the Lorde, full of iudgement and boldnesse: to shew the house of Jacob their wickednes, and ꝑ house of Israel their synne.

O heare this ye rulers of the house of Jacob, and ye iudges of the house of Israel: ye that abhorre the thynge that is lawful, and wraist a syde the thyng ꝑ is streight: Ye that build vp Sion w̄ bloud, ād Jerusalem with dooyng wrōg O ye iudges/ ye geue sentence for gyftes: O ye preastes, ye teache for lucre. O ye prophetes, ye propecy for money. Yet wyll they be taken as those ꝑ hold vpon god, and saye: Is not the Lorde amonge vs? Tush there cā no mischefortune happē vs. Therfore shal Sion (for youre sakes) be plowed lyke a felde: Jerusalem shal be com an heape of stones and the hil of the temple shalbe turned to an hye wodde.

C Of the callyng of the Gentiles, and conuersyon of the Jewes.

C The.iiii. Chapter.

A BVt in the latter dayes it wyl come to passe, that the hyll of ꝑ lordes house shal be set vp hier thē any mountaines or hylles: Yea the people shal preasse vnto it, and the multitude of the Gentiles shall haste them thither/ saynge: Come, let vs go vp to the hyl of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob: that he maye teache vs his waye, and that we maye walke in his pathes. For the lawe shall come out of Sion, and the worde of god frō Jerusalem, and shall geue sentence amonge the multitude of the Heathen & rebourne the people of farre countrees so that of their swerdes they shall make plowshares, and sythes of their speares.

One people shal not lyfte vp a sweord B. agaynst another, yea they shal nomore learne to fyghte: but euery man shall sy.

¶ Truthe it is, my wordes ar frendly vn to them ꝑ liue right: but my people doth the contrary, therfore must I take parte agaynst them: for they take awaye both cote and cloke from the symple.

Ye haue turned your selues to fyght, ꝑ women of my people haue ye shut out from their good houses, ād take ẽ awaie my excellent gyftes from their children Up get you hence, for here shal ye haue no rest.

Because of their Idolatry they are corrupte, and shal miserably perishe. If I were a felishly felow and a preachar of lies, and tolde them that they myght syt bybbyng and bollyng and be droncken: O, that were a Prophete for this people

D But I wil gather thee in dede, O Jacob and dryue the remnaunt of Israel all together. I shal cary them one vnto another as a floke in the folde, and as ꝑ catell in their stalles, ꝑ they maye be dysquyeted of other men. Who so breaketh the gap he shall go before. They shal breke vp the porte, & go in and out at it. Their kynge shal go before them, ād the Lord shalbe vpon the heade of them.

Agaynst the tyranny of Prynces and falsepropheres

The.iii. Chapter

A HEer O ye ꝑ heades of ꝑ house of Jacob & ye leders of ꝑ house of Israell: Shulde not ye know what wer lawfull and ryght: but ye hate the good, and loue the euel: ye plucke of mennes skynnes, ād the flesh from their bones: ye eate the flesh of my people/ & flay of their skyn: ye breake their bones ye choppe them in peces as it were in to a cauldron, & as fleash into a pot. Now the tyme shal come, that when they call vnto the Lorde, he shall not heare them e* but hyde his face frō/ thē because that throwe their owne immagynacyons they haue dealte so wyckedly

And as concernynge the prophetes that dysceatie my people, thus the Lorde sayeth agaynst them: When they haue

B anye thinge to byte vppon: then they preach that all shalbe wel: but yf a man put not some thinge in to their mouthes they preach of warre agaynst hym

Therfore youre vysyon shalbe turned to nyght, and your prophecyeng to darkenes. The Sunne shall go doune ouer those prophetes, and the date shal be darcke vnto them. Then shall the bysyon seers be a shamed, and the sothsayers confounded: yea they shalbe fayne all the pack of them, to stoppe their mouthes, for they haue not gods worde. As for me, I am ful of strength C and of the spirite of the Lorde, full of iudgement and boldnesse: to shew the house of Jacob their wickednes, and ꝑ house of Israel their synne.

O heare this ye rulers of the house of Jacob, and ye iudges of the house of Israel: ye that abhorre the thynge that is lawful, and wraist a syde the thyng ꝑ is streight: Ye that build vp Sion w̄ bloud, ād Jerusalem with dooyng wrōg O ye iudges/ ye geue sentence for gyftes: O ye preastes, ye teache for lucre. O ye prophetes, ye propecy for money. Yet wyll they be taken as those ꝑ hold vpon god, and saye: Is not the Lorde amonge vs? Tush there cā no mischefortune happē vs. Therfore shal Sion (for youre sakes) be plowed lyke a felde: Jerusalem shal be com an heape of stones and the hil of the temple shalbe turned to an hye wodde.

C Of the callyng of the Gentiles, and conuersyon of the Jewes.

C The.iiii. Chapter.

A BVt in the latter dayes it wyl come to passe, that the hyll of ꝑ lordes house shal be set vp hier thē any mountaines or hylles: Yea the people shal preasse vnto it, and the multitude of the Gentiles shall haste them thither/ saynge: Come, let vs go vp to the hyl of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob: that he maye teache vs his waye, and that we maye walke in his pathes. For the lawe shall come out of Sion, and the worde of god frō Jerusalem, and shall geue sentence amonge the multitude of the Heathen & rebourne the people of farre countrees so that of their swerdes they shall make plowshares, and sythes of their speares.

One people shal not lyfte vp a sweord B. agaynst another, yea they shal nomore learne to fyghte: but euery man shall sy.

syt vnder hys vyneyarde and vnder his figge tre and no man to fraye him away: for the mouth of the Lorde of hostes hath spoken it. Therfor, wher as al the people haue walked euery man in the name of his owne God, we wyll walcke in the name of oure God for euer and euer. At ỹ same tyme, sayeth the Lorde, wyl I gather vp the lame & the outcastes, & suche as I haue chastened: and wyl geue issue vnto the lame, and make of ỹ out castes a great people: and the Lorde him selfe shalbe their kyng vpon the mount Sion from this time forth for euermore. And vnto thee (O thou tower of Eder, thou F stronge holde of the daughter Syon) vnto thee shal com, euen the lordshippe and kyngdome of the daughter Jerusalem. Why then art thou now so heuy? is ther no kyng in thee? are thy coũsailers away that thou art so payned, as a woman in her trauayle? And nowe (O ỹ doughter Syon) be sory, let it greue ỹ as a wife laboryng vp chyld: for now must thou get thee out of ỹ cytie, and dwel vpon that playne feld. Yea vnto Babylon shalt thou go, ther shalt thou be delyuered, and there the Lorde shal lowse thee from the hande of thyne enemyes.

Now also are ther many people gathered together agaīst ỹ, saying: what G Sion is cursed, we shal se oure lust vpō her. But they know not the thoughtes of the Lorde, they vnderstande not hys councel, that shal gather them together as the sheues in the barne. Therfore get the vp, O ỹ daughter Sion, and throsse oute the corne: For I wyll make thy horne yron and thy clawes brasse that thou mayest grynde many people: their goodes shalt thou appropriate vnto the Lorde and their substaunce vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

Of the destruction of Jerusalem.

The. v. Chapter

A After that shalt thou be robbed thi selfe, O thou robbers doughter: they shal lay sege agaynste vs and smytte the iudge of Israell wyth a rod vpon the cheke.

And thou Bethleem Ephrata, art litle amonge the thousandes of Juda. Out of thee shall come vnto me, which shal be the gouernour in Israel: whose outgoynge hathe bene from the begynnyng, and from euerlasting. In the meane while he plageth them for a season, vntyl the time that she which shal beare (haue borne) thē shal the rēnaūt of his brethern be conuerted vnto the children of Israel. He shall stande fast and geue rode in the strength of ỹ lord and in the victory of the name of ỹ lord his god: and whē they be conuerted, he shalbe magnifyed vnto ỹ farthest partes of the worlde.

Then shall there be peace / so that the B Assirian maye come in to oure lande, & treade in our houses. We shall bryng vp *seuen shepherdes and, viii. pryces vpon them: these shal subdue the lande of Assur with the swearde, and the lāde of Nymrod with their naked weapēs. Thus shal he deliuer vs from the Assirian / when he commeth within oure lande, and setteth hys fote within oure borders.

And the remnaunt of Jacob shalbe amonge the multitude of people, as ỹ dewe of the Lorde, and as the droppes vpon the grasse, that tarryeth for no mā and watteth of no body. Yea ỹ residue of Jacob shalbe amonge the Gentiles and the multitude of people, as ỹ lion C amonge the beestes of the wodde / and as the Lions whelpe amonge a flocke of shepe: which (when he goeth thorow) treadeth downe / teareth in peces / and there is noman that can helpe. Thyne hand shalbe lift vp vpō thyne enemyes, and thyne aduersaries shall perish al.

The tyme shal come also, sayeth the Lord / that I wyl take thyne horses frō thee / and destroye thy charettes. I will breake downe the cyties of thy land, & ouerthrow all thy stronge holdes. All witchcraftes will I rote oute of thyne hand, there shal no mo sothsayynges be within thee. Thyne Idoles & thyne Images will I destroye out of thee: so that thou shalte nomore bowe thy selfe vnto the worckes of thyne owne handes. Thy groues will I pluck vp by the rotes, and breake downe ỹ cities.

nota witchcraft

Thus

syt vnder hys vyneyarde and vnder his figge tre and no man to fraye him away: for the mouth of the Lorde of hostes hath spoken it. Therfor, wher as al the people haue walked euery man in the name of his owne God, we wyll walcke in the name of oure God for euer and euer. At ỹ same tyme, sayeth the Lorde, wyl I gather vp the lame & the outcastes, & suche as I haue chastened: and wyl geue issue vnto the lame, and make of ỹ out castes a great people: and the Lorde him selfe shalbe their kyng vpon the mount Sion from this time forth for euermore. And vnto thee (O thou tower of Eder, thou F stronge holde of the daughter Syon) vnto thee shal com, euen the lordshippe and kyngdome of the daughter Jerusalem. Why then art thou now so heuy? is ther no kyng in thee? are thy coũsailers away that thou art so payned, as a woman in her trauayle? And nowe (O ỹ doughter Syon) be sory, let it greue ỹ as a wife laboryng vp chyld: for now must thou get thee out of ỹ cytie, and dwel vpon that playne feld. Yea vnto Babylon shalt thou go, ther shalt thou be delyuered, and there the Lorde shal lowse thee from the hande of thyne enemyes.

Now also are ther many people gathered together agaīst ỹ, saying: what G Sion is cursed, we shal se oure lust vpō her. But they know not the thoughtes of the Lorde, they vnderstande not hys councel, that shal gather them together as the sheues in the barne. Therfore get the vp, O ỹ daughter Sion, and throsse oute the corne: For I wyll make thy horne yron and thy clawes brasse that thou mayest grynde many people: their goodes shalt thou appropriate vnto the Lorde and their substaunce vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

Of the destruction of Jerusalem.

The. v. Chapter

A After that shalt thou be robbed thi selfe, O thou robbers doughter: they shal lay sege agaynste vs and smytte the iudge of Israell wyth a rod vpon the cheke.

And thou Bethleem Ephrata, art litle amonge the thousandes of Juda. Out of thee shall come vnto me, which shal be the gouernour in Israel: whose outgoynge hathe bene from the begynnyng, and from euerlasting. In the meane while he plageth them for a season, vntyl the time that she which shal beare (haue borne) thē shal the rēnaūt of his brethern be conuerted vnto the children of Israel. He shall stande fast and geue rode in the strength of ỹ lord and in the victory of the name of ỹ lord his god: and whē they be conuerted, he shalbe magnifyed vnto ỹ farthest partes of the worlde.

Then shall there be peace / so that the B Assirian maye come in to oure lande, & treade in our houses. We shall bryng vp *seuen shepherdes and, viii. pryces vpon them: these shal subdue the lande of Assur with the swearde, and the lāde of Nymrod with their naked weapēs. Thus shal he deliuer vs from the Assirian / when he commeth within oure lande, and setteth hys fote within oure borders.

And the remnaunt of Jacob shalbe amonge the multitude of people, as ỹ dewe of the Lorde, and as the droppes vpon the grasse, that tarryeth for no mā and watteth of no body. Yea ỹ residue of Jacob shalbe amonge the Gentiles and the multitude of people, as ỹ lion C amonge the beestes of the wodde / and as the Lions whelpe amonge a flocke of shepe: which (when he goeth thorow) treadeth downe / teareth in peces / and there is noman that can helpe. Thyne hand shalbe lift vp vpō thyne enemyes, and thyne aduersaries shall perish al.

The tyme shal come also, sayeth the Lord / that I wyl take thyne horses frō thee / and destroye thy charettes. I will breake downe the cyties of thy land, & ouerthrow all thy stronge holdes. All witchcraftes will I rote oute of thyne hand, there shal no mo sothsayynges be within thee. Thyne Idoles & thyne Images will I destroye out of thee: so that thou shalte nomore bowe thy selfe vnto the worckes of thyne owne handes. Thy groues will I pluck vp by the rotes, and breake downe ỹ cities.

nota witchcraft

Thus

Thus wyl I be auenged also, vpon all the Heathen that wyll not heare.

¶ An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel beyng vnkinde. What maner of Sacrifices do please God

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

A HErken now what the Lord sayeth: Vp, reproue ỹ moũtaynes/ & let ỹ hilles heare thy voyce. O heare the punishment of the Lorde/ ye mountaynes, and ye mightye foundacions of the earth: for the lorde wyll reproue his people, and reason with Israel. O my people what haue I done vnto thee: or wherin haue I hurt thee: geue me answere. Because I brought thee from the lande of Egipt and delyuered thee out of ỹ house of bõdage: Because I made Moyses Aarõ and Myriam to leade thee: Remembre (O my people) what Balach the kinge of Moab had immagened against thee and what answere that Balaã the sonne of Beor gaue hym from Sethim vnto Galgal that ye maye know the louyng kindnesses of the Lorde.

B What acceptable thynge shall I offer vnto the Lorde: shal I bowe my knee vnto the hye gode: Shall I come before him withe Brente Offerynges and with calues of a yeare olde: Hathe the lorde a pleasure in many thousand tãmes, or inumerable streames of oyle: Or shal I geue my fyrst borne for myne offences, and the frute of my body for the synne of my soule: I wyl shew thee, O man/ what is good, and what ỹ lord requyreth of thee: Namely, to do, right to haue pleasur in louing kindnes, to be lowly, and to walke with thy god: that thou mayest be called a cytie of the lord and that thy name maye be ryghteousnesse.

¶ Heare (O yee tribes) who woulde els geue you suche warnynge: Shoulde I not be displeased for the vnryghteous Good in the houses of the wycked, and because the measure hys mynyshed: Or shoulde I iustyfye the Faulse Balaunces and the bagge of disceatful weyghtes amon g those that be full of ryches vnryghtuously gotten, where the cytezyns deale with falshead/ speake lyes, & haue disceatfull tunges in ther mouthes:

Therfor I wyll take in hande to punysh thee, and to make thee desolat, because of thy sinnes Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynough: yea thou shalt bring thy selfe downe. Thou shalt flie, but not escape: and those that thou woldest saue wyl I delyuer to the swerd. Thou shalt sowe, but not reape: thou shalte presse out olyues but oyl shalt thou not haue to anoynte thy selfe withall: thou shalt treade out swete must/ but shalt drynke no wyne. Ye kepe the ordinaunces of Amri, & al the customes of the house of Ahab: ye folow their pleasures, therfore wyll I make thee wast, ãd cause thy inhabyters to be abhorred, O my people: & thus shalte thou beare thyne owne shame.

¶ A complaynt of the lytle numbre of the ryghtuous. Against the trueth ought we not to hold with oure greatest frendes.

The. vii. Chapter

A WO is me: I am become as one, that goeth a gleanyng in the harueste. Ther are no mo grapes to eat, yet wold I tayne (w all my harte) haue of the best frute. There is not a godly mã vp on earthe, there is not ove rightuous amonge men They * labourer al to shede blode & euery man hunteth his brother to death: yet they saye they do wel whẽ they do euel. As the price wyl, so sayth the iudge: ỹ he maye do him a pleasure agayn. The great man speaketh what his hart desireth & the hearers allow hym. The best of them is but as a thistle & the most rightuous of them is but as a brear in the hedge. B But when the daye of thy preachers cõmyth ỹ thou shalt be visyted: than shal they be wasted awaye. Let no man beleue his frend/ nor put his confidence i a prince. Kepe the porte of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome: for the sonne shal put his father to dishonoure, the daughter shal ryse agaynst her mother/ the daughter in lawe agaynst her mother in lawe: & a mans foes shalbe eue they of his owne house

Thus wyl I be auenged also, vpon all the Heathen that wyll not heare.

¶ An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel beyng vnkinde. What maner of Sacrifices do please God

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

A HErken now what the Lord sayeth: Vp, reproue ỹ moũtaynes/ & let ỹ hilles heare thy voyce. O heare the punishment of the Lorde/ ye mountaynes, and ye mightye foundacions of the earth: for the lorde wyll reproue his people, and reason with Israel. O my people what haue I done vnto thee: or wherin haue I hurt thee: geue me answere. Because I brought thee from the lande of Egipt and delyuered thee out of ỹ house of bõdage: Because I made Moyses Aarõ and Myriam to leade thee: Remembre (O my people) what Balach the kinge of Moab had immagened against thee and what answere that Balaã the sonne of Beor gaue hym from Sethim vnto Galgal that ye maye know the louyng kindnesses of the Lorde.

B What acceptable thynge shall I offer vnto the Lorde: shal I bowe my knee vnto the hye gode: Shall I come before him withe Brente Offerynges and with calues of a yeare olde: Hathe the lorde a pleasure in many thousand tãmes, or inumerable streames of oyle: Or shal I geue my fyrst borne for myne offences, and the frute of my body for the synne of my soule: I wyl shew thee, O man/ what is good, and what ỹ lord requyreth of thee: Namely, to do, right to haue pleasur in louing kindnes, to be lowly, and to walke with thy god: that thou mayest be called a cytie of the lord and that thy name maye be ryghteousnesse.

¶ Heare (O yee tribes) who woulde els geue you suche warnynge: Shoulde I not be displeased for the vnryghteous Good in the houses of the wycked, and because the measure hys mynyshed: Or shoulde I iustyfye the Faulse Balaunces and the bagge of disceatful weyghtes amon g those that be full of ryches vnryghtuously gotten, where the cytezyns deale with falshead/ speake lyes, & haue disceatfull tunges in ther mouthes:

Therfor I wyll take in hande to punysh thee, and to make thee desolat, because of thy sinnes Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynough: yea thou shalt bring thy selfe downe. Thou shalt flie, but not escape: and those that thou woldest saue wyl I delyuer to the swerd. Thou shalt sowe, but not reape: thou shalte presse out olyues but oyl shalt thou not haue to anoynte thy selfe withall: thou shalt treade out swete must/ but shalt drynke no wyne. Ye kepe the ordinaunces of Amri, & al the customes of the house of Ahab: ye folow their pleasures, therfore wyll I make thee wast, ãd cause thy inhabyters to be abhorred, O my people: & thus shalte thou beare thyne owne shame.

¶ A complaynt of the lytle numbre of the ryghtuous. Against the trueth ought we not to hold with oure greatest frendes.

The. vii. Chapter

A WO is me: I am become as one, that goeth a gleanyng in the harueste. Ther are no mo grapes to eat, yet wold I tayne (w all my harte) haue of the best frute. There is not a godly mã vp on earthe, there is not ove rightuous amonge men They * labourer al to shede blode & euery man hunteth his brother to death: yet they saye they do wel whẽ they do euel. As the price wyl, so sayth the iudge: ỹ he maye do him a pleasure agayn. The great man speaketh what his hart desireth & the hearers allow hym. The best of them is but as a thistle & the most rightuous of them is but as a brear in the hedge. B But when the daye of thy preachers cõmyth ỹ thou shalt be visyted: than shal they be wasted awaye. Let no man beleue his frend/ nor put his confidence i a prince. Kepe the porte of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome: for the sonne shal put his father to dishonoure, the daughter shal ryse agaynst her mother/ the daughter in lawe agaynst her mother in lawe: & a mans foes shalbe eue they of his owne house

Nevertheleſſe I wyl loke vp vnto the Lorde, I wyll pacientlȳ abyde god my Sauyoure: my God ſhall heare me. O thou enemye of myne/ reioyce not at my fall, for I ſhal get vp agayne and and though I ſyt in[b]*darcknelſe, yet the Lorde is my lyght. I wyl beare the puniſhmente of the Lorde (for why I haue offended hym) tyl he ſytt in iudgement vpon my cauſe & ſe that I haue right. He wyl bring me forth to ỹ light & I ſhall ſe his righteouſnelſe.

D Sbe that is myne enemy ſhal loke vpon it & be confounded, whiche now ſaieth: Wher is thy Lord God? Myne Eyes ſhal beholde her, whan ſhe ſhall be troden downe as ỹ claye in ỹ ſtretes The tyme wyll come/ that thy gappes ſhalbe made vp, & ỹ law ſhal go abrode and at ỹ tyme ſhal they come vnto thee frō Aſſur vnto the ſtrōg cytyes, & frō ỹ ſtrong cytyes vnto ỹ ryuer: from ỹ one ſea to ỹ other, from the one mountayn to the other

Not wythſtandyng ỹ land muſt be waſted/ becauſe of them that dwel therin and for the frutes of their owne Imaginacyons. Therfore fede thy people wᵗ thy[c]* rodde, the flocke of thyne heretage whiche dwel deſolate in ỹ wodde that they maye be fedd vpon the moūt of Charmell / Baſan and Galaad as afore tyme. Maruelous thynges wyl I ſhewe them, lyke as when they came oute of Egypt. Thys ſhall the Heathenſe, and be aſhamed for all ther power, ſo that they ſhall[d]* laye their hande vpō their mouth, and ſtop their eares. They[e]* ſhal lycke the duſt lyke a ſerpent, & as the wormes of the earth ỹ tremble in their holes. They ſhalbe afrayde of the Lorde our God, & they ſhal feare thee.

F Wher is there ſuche a God, as ỹ that pardoneſt wyckednes, & forgeueſt ỹ offences of the rēnaūt of thyne heretage: He kepeth not his wrath for euer. And why? his delite is to haue compaſſion: he ſhal turne agayne, and bemercyful to vs: he ſhal put downe oure wyckednelſes, & caſt all our ſynnes in to the bottome of the ſee.

Thou ſhalt kepe thy truſt with Jacob and thy mercye for Abraham, lyke as thou haſte ſworne vnto oure Fathers longe agoo.

The Notes.

a* To labour to ſhede bloud, or to lye in waite for bloud, is, to make menne ſelues labourous and myſerable, by threatnynges murtherers, and violence. Prouer. i b

b* By darkenes vnderſtande the ſadnes & miſeries of this worlde, and by lyght the comforth & reioyſyng of the conſcience. Job. xv. c

c* Rodde here ſignifieth dominion & gouernaūce

d* Of this ye haue in Job. xxxix. d

e* That is, ſhalbe humbled and brought as lowe as ſerpentes that crepe on the ground. So obedient (ſaith the prophet) ſhal the heathen be vnto Iſrael although they before had Iſrael ingreuous ſubiect vpon.

¶ The ende of the prophecy of Micheas.

¶ The Boke of the Prophet Nahum.

¶ Of the deſtruction of Niniue and of the deliuerraunce of Iſrael.

The fyrſte Chapter.

THis is ỹ heuy burthen of Nynyue, whiche Nahum of Elchos dyd wryte as he ſawe it.

The Lorde is a gelous God, and a taker of vēgeaūce yea, a taker of vengeaunce is the lord, and wrothful. The Lorde taketh vengeaunce of hys enemies, and reſerueth dyſpleaſure for his aduerſaries. The Lorde ſuffereth longe, he is of great power and ſo innocent, that he leaueth no man kautles before him. The lorde goeth forth in tempeſte and ſtormy wether, the cloudes are ỹ duſt of his fete. When he repreueth the ſea, he driethit vp, and turneth al the floudes to drye lande. Baſon is deſolate/ Charmel & the pleaſure of Lybanus waſteth awaie The mountaynes tremble for him, the hylles conſume. At the ſyght of him, the earth quaketh: yea the whole world, & al that dwel therin. Who maye endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abyd his grimme diſpleaſure? His anger taketh on like fyre, and the hard rockes burſt in ſunder before him.

Ful gracious is the lord, & a ſtrong holde in the tyme of trouble, he knoweth them that put their truſt in hi: whē the cloud runneth ouer, and deſtroyeth

the

Nevertheleſſe I wyl loke vp vnto the Lorde, I wyll pacientlȳ abyde god my Sauyoure: my God ſhall heare me. O thou enemye of myne/ reioyce not at my fall, for I ſhal get vp agayne and and though I ſyt in[b]*darcknelſe, yet the Lorde is my lyght. I wyl beare the puniſhmente of the Lorde (for why I haue offended hym) tyl he ſytt in iudgement vpon my cauſe & ſe that I haue right. He wyl bring me forth to ỹ light & I ſhall ſe his righteouſnelſe.

D Sbe that is myne enemy ſhal loke vpon it & be confounded, whiche now ſaieth: Wher is thy Lord God? Myne Eyes ſhal beholde her, whan ſhe ſhall be troden downe as ỹ claye in ỹ ſtretes The tyme wyll come/ that thy gappes ſhalbe made vp, & ỹ law ſhal go abrode and at ỹ tyme ſhal they come vnto thee frō Aſſur vnto the ſtrōg cytyes, & frō ỹ ſtrong cytyes vnto ỹ ryuer: from ỹ one ſea to ỹ other, from the one mountayn to the other

Not wythſtandyng ỹ land muſt be waſted/ becauſe of them that dwel therin and for the frutes of their owne Imaginacyons. Therfore fede thy people wᵗ thy[c]* rodde, the flocke of thyne heretage whiche dwel deſolate in ỹ wodde that they maye be fedd vpon the moūt of Charmell / Baſan and Galaad as afore tyme. Maruelous thynges wyl I ſhewe them, lyke as when they came oute of Egypt. Thys ſhall the Heathenſe, and be aſhamed for all ther power, ſo that they ſhall[d]* laye their hande vpō their mouth, and ſtop their eares. They[e]* ſhal lycke the duſt lyke a ſerpent, & as the wormes of the earth ỹ tremble in their holes. They ſhalbe afrayde of the Lorde our God, & they ſhal feare thee.

F Wher is there ſuche a God, as ỹ that pardoneſt wyckednes, & forgeueſt ỹ offences of the rēnaūt of thyne heretage: He kepeth not his wrath for euer. And why? his delite is to haue compaſſion: he ſhal turne agayne, and bemercyful to vs: he ſhal put downe oure wyckednelſes, & caſt all our ſynnes in to the bottome of the ſee.

Thou ſhalt kepe thy truſt with Jacob and thy mercye for Abraham, lyke as thou haſte ſworne vnto oure Fathers longe agoo.

The Notes.

a* To labour to ſhede bloud, or to lye in waite for bloud, is, to make menne ſelues labourous and myſerable, by threatnynges murtherers, and violence. Prouer. i b

b* By darkenes vnderſtande the ſadnes & miſeries of this worlde, and by lyght the comforth & reioyſyng of the conſcience. Job. xv. c

c* Rodde here ſignifieth dominion & gouernaūce

d* Of this ye haue in Job. xxxix. d

e* That is, ſhalbe humbled and brought as lowe as ſerpentes that crepe on the ground. So obedient (ſaith the prophet) ſhal the heathen be vnto Iſrael although they before had Iſrael ingreuous ſubiect vpon.

¶ The ende of the prophecy of Micheas.

¶ The Boke of the Prophet Nahum.

¶ Of the deſtruction of Niniue and of the deliuerraunce of Iſrael.

The fyrſte Chapter.

THis is ỹ heuy burthen of Nynyue, whiche Nahum of Elchos dyd wryte as he ſawe it.

The Lorde is a gelous God, and a taker of vēgeaūce yea, a taker of vengeaunce is the lord, and wrothful. The Lorde taketh vengeaunce of hys enemies, and reſerueth dyſpleaſure for his aduerſaries. The Lorde ſuffereth longe, he is of great power and ſo innocent, that he leaueth no man kautles before him. The lorde goeth forth in tempeſte and ſtormy wether, the cloudes are ỹ duſt of his fete. When he repreueth the ſea, he driethit vp, and turneth al the floudes to drye lande. Baſon is deſolate/ Charmel & the pleaſure of Lybanus waſteth awaie The mountaynes tremble for him, the hylles conſume. At the ſyght of him, the earth quaketh: yea the whole world, & al that dwel therin. Who maye endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abyd his grimme diſpleaſure? His anger taketh on like fyre, and the hard rockes burſt in ſunder before him.

Ful gracious is the lord, & a ſtrong holde in the tyme of trouble, he knoweth them that put their truſt in hi: whē the cloud runneth ouer, and deſtroyeth

the

Nevertheleſſe I wyl loke vp vnto the Lorde, I wyll pacientlȳ abyde god my Sauyoure: my God ſhall heare me. O thou enemye of myne/ reioyce not at my fall, for I ſhal get vp agayne and and though I ſyt in[b]*darcknelſe, yet the Lorde is my lyght. I wyl beare the puniſhmente of the Lorde (for why I haue offended hym) tyl he ſytt in iudgement vpon my cauſe & ſe that I haue right. He wyl bring me forth to ỹ light & I ſhall ſe his righteouſnelſe.

D Sbe that is myne enemy ſhal loke vpon it & be confounded, whiche now ſaieth: Wher is thy Lord God? Myne Eyes ſhal beholde her, whan ſhe ſhall be troden downe as ỹ claye in ỹ ſtretes The tyme wyll come/ that thy gappes ſhalbe made vp, & ỹ law ſhal go abrode and at ỹ tyme ſhal they come vnto thee frō Aſſur vnto the ſtrōg cytyes, & frō ỹ ſtrong cytyes vnto ỹ ryuer: from ỹ one ſea to ỹ other, from the one mountayn to the other

Not wythſtandyng ỹ land muſt be waſted/ becauſe of them that dwel therin and for the frutes of their owne Imaginacyons. Therfore fede thy people wᵗ thy[c]* rodde, the flocke of thyne heretage whiche dwel deſolate in ỹ wodde that they maye be fedd vpon the moūt of Charmell / Baſan and Galaad as afore tyme. Maruelous thynges wyl I ſhewe them, lyke as when they came oute of Egypt. Thys ſhall the Heathenſe, and be aſhamed for all ther power, ſo that they ſhall[d]* laye their hande vpō their mouth, and ſtop their eares. They[e]* ſhal lycke the duſt lyke a ſerpent, & as the wormes of the earth ỹ tremble in their holes. They ſhalbe afrayde of the Lorde our God, & they ſhal feare thee.

F Wher is there ſuche a God, as ỹ that pardoneſt wyckednes, & forgeueſt ỹ offences of the rēnaūt of thyne heretage: He kepeth not his wrath for euer. And why? his delite is to haue compaſſion: he ſhal turne agayne, and bemercyful to vs: he ſhal put downe oure wyckednelſes, & caſt all our ſynnes in to the bottome of the ſee.

Thou ſhalt kepe thy truſt with Jacob and thy mercye for Abraham, lyke as thou haſte ſworne vnto oure Fathers longe agoo.

The Notes.

a* To labour to ſhede bloud, or to lye in waite for bloud, is, to make menne ſelues labourous and myſerable, by threatnynges murtherers, and violence. Prouer. i b

b* By darkenes vnderſtande the ſadnes & miſeries of this worlde, and by lyght the comforth & reioyſyng of the conſcience. Job. xv. c

c* Rodde here ſignifieth dominion & gouernaūce

d* Of this ye haue in Job. xxxix. d

e* That is, ſhalbe humbled and brought as lowe as ſerpentes that crepe on the ground. So obedient (ſaith the prophet) ſhal the heathen be vnto Iſrael although they before had Iſrael ingreuous ſubiect vpon.

¶ The ende of the prophecy of Micheas.

¶ The Boke of the Prophet Nahum.

¶ Of the deſtruction of Niniue and of the deliuerraunce of Iſrael.

The fyrſte Chapter.

THis is ỹ heuy burthen of Nynyue, whiche Nahum of Elchos dyd wryte as he ſawe it.

The Lorde is a gelous God, and a taker of vēgeaūce yea, a taker of vengeaunce is the lord, and wrothful. The Lorde taketh vengeaunce of hys enemies, and reſerueth dyſpleaſure for his aduerſaries. The Lorde ſuffereth longe, he is of great power and ſo innocent, that he leaueth no man kautles before him. The lorde goeth forth in tempeſte and ſtormy wether, the cloudes are ỹ duſt of his fete. When he repreueth the ſea, he driethit vp, and turneth al the floudes to drye lande. Baſon is deſolate/ Charmel & the pleaſure of Lybanus waſteth awaie The mountaynes tremble for him, the hylles conſume. At the ſyght of him, the earth quaketh: yea the whole world, & al that dwel therin. Who maye endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abyd his grimme diſpleaſure? His anger taketh on like fyre, and the hard rockes burſt in ſunder before him.

Ful gracious is the lord, & a ſtrong holde in the tyme of trouble, he knoweth them that put their truſt in hi: whē the cloud runneth ouer, and deſtroyeth

the

the place, ād whē the darckenesse folo-weth styll vpon hys enemyes. What do ye Imagyne then agaynst ỹ Lorde on this maner? Tusche, when he hath ones made an ende, there shal come no more trouble. For lyke as the thornes that sticke together/& as the dry strawe so shall the Drounckardes be consu-med together, euen when they be full. There come out of thee suche as Ima gyn mischefe, and geue vngracious counsail agaynst the Lord.

nota drounckardes

Therfore thus sayeth the Lorde: Lett them be as well prepared, yea and as many as they can, yet shall they be hewen downe, and passe away. And as for thee I wil vexe thee, but not vtterly destroye thee. And now wyl I breake his rodde from thy back, and burst thy bandes in sonder. But the Lorde hath geuen a commaūdement concernyng ỹ that ther shall come nomore sede of thy name. The carued and casten Images wyl I rote out of the house of thy God. Thy graue shal I prepare for thee, and thou shalt be confounde

The describeth the victory of the Chaldees agaist the Niniuites.

The.ii. Chapter.

A BEholde, vpō the mountai-nes come the fete of hym ỹ bringeth good tidinges/& preacheth peace. O Juda, kepe thy holye dayes, per-forme thy promises: for Belial shal com nomore in thee/he is vtterly roted out.

The scatterer shall come vp agaynst thee and lay siege to the castell: Loke ỹ wel to ỹ stretes, make thy loyns strong Arme thy selfe wythe all thy Myghte: for the Lorde shal restoore agayne the glory of Jacob, lyke as the glory of Israel. The destroyers haue broken them downe, and marred ỹ vyne braunches The childe of his gyauntes glistereth: hys men of warre are clothed in purple His charettes are as fyre, when he ma-keth hym forwarde, his archers are wel decked and trimmed The charettes rol-le vpon the stretes, ād welter in the hye wayes.

B They are to loke vpon like creffettes of fyre, and go swyftely, as the lyghtninge When he doth but warne his gyauntes they fall in theyr araie and hastely they clymme vp ỹ walles: yea, the engins of the warre are prepared al redy. The wa ter portes shalbe opened, and the kinges palace shal fal. The quene her selfe shal be led awaye captiue, and her gentelwe-men shall mourne as the doues, & grone within their hertes. Niniue is lyke a pole full of water/but then shall they be fayne to fle. Stand stande, (shall they cry) and there shal not one turne back.

Awaye with the siluer awaye with the gold: for here is no ende of treasure. There shall be a multitude of al maner costly ornamentes. Thus must she be spoyled, emptyed and cleane stripped oute: that their hertes maye be melted awaie, theyr knees tremble, all theyr loynes be weake, and theyr Faces blacke as a pot.

Where is nowe the dwellyng of ỹ lyons, and ỹ pasture of the lyons whel-pes: where the lyon & the lyones wēt wt the whelpes, ād no man frayed thē away but the lyon spoyled ynough for his yōg ones, and deuoured for hys Lyoness: he fylled hys dennes wythe hys preye, and hys dwellynge place wythe that he had rauished. Behold, I wil vpon thee saith the Lorde of hostes, ād wyl set fyre vpon thy charettes that they shal smoke wyth all, and the Swearde shall deuoure the yonge lyons. I wyl make an ende of thy spoylynge from out of the earthe and ỹ voyce of thy messaunger shal nomore be hearde.

C The fall of Nineue.

The. iii. Chapter.

A WO to the bloudthursty cyty whych is all ful of lyes and robbery, & wyll not leaue of from rauishyng. Ther a mā maye heare scourgyng/rus-shynge the noyse of the wheles, the cry-enge of the horses, and the rollynge of ỹ charettes. There the horsmen get vp wt naked sweardes, and glysterynge spea-res: There lyeth a multitude slayne, and a great heape of dead bodyes. There is the place, ād whē the darckenesse folo-weth styll vpon hys enemyes. What do ye Imagyne then agaynst ỹ Lorde on this maner? Tusche, when he hath ones made an ende, there shal come no more trouble. For lyke as the thornes that sticke together/& as the dry strawe so shall the Drounckardes be consu-med together, euen when they be full. There come out of thee suche as Ima gyn mischefe, and geue vngracious counsail agaynst the Lord.

no

nota drounckardes

Therfore thus sayeth the Lorde: Lett them be as well prepared, yea and as many as they can, yet shall they be hewen downe, and passe away. And as for thee I wil vexe thee, but not vtterly destroye thee. And now wyl I breake his rodde from thy back, and burst thy bandes in sonder. But the Lorde hath geuen a commaūdement concernyng ỹ that ther shall come nomore sede of thy name. The carued and casten Images wyl I rote out of the house of thy God. Thy graue shal I prepare for thee, and thou shalt be confounde

The describeth the victory of the Chaldees agaist the Niniuites.

The.ii. Chapter.

A BEholde, vpō the mountai-nes come the fete of hym ỹ bringeth good tidinges/& preacheth peace. O Juda, kepe thy holye dayes, per-forme thy promises: for Belial shal com nomore in thee/he is vtterly roted out.

The scatterer shall come vp agaynst thee and lay siege to the castell: Loke ỹ wel to ỹ stretes, make thy loyns strong Arme thy selfe wythe all thy Myghte: for the Lorde shal restoore agayne the glory of Jacob, lyke as the glory of Israel. The destroyers haue broken them downe, and marred ỹ vyne braunches The childe of his gyauntes glistereth: hys men of warre are clothed in purple His charettes are as fyre, when he ma-keth hym forwarde, his archers are wel decked and trimmed The charettes rol-le vpon the stretes, ād welter in the hye wayes.

B They are to loke vpon like creffettes of fyre, and go swyftely, as the lyghtninge When he doth but warne his gyauntes they fall in theyr araie and hastely they clymme vp ỹ walles: yea, the engins of the warre are prepared al redy. The wa ter portes shalbe opened, and the kinges palace shal fal. The quene her selfe shal be led awaye captiue, and her gentelwe-men shall mourne as the doues, & grone within their hertes. Niniue is lyke a pole full of water/but then shall they be fayne to fle. Stand stande, (shall they cry) and there shal not one turne back.

Awaye with the siluer awaye with the gold: for here is no ende of treasure. There shall be a multitude of al maner costly ornamentes. Thus must she be spoyled, emptyed and cleane stripped oute: that their hertes maye be melted awaie, theyr knees tremble, all theyr loynes be weake, and theyr Faces blacke as a pot.

Where is nowe the dwellyng of ỹ lyons, and ỹ pasture of the lyons whel-pes: where the lyon & the lyones wēt wt the whelpes, ād no man frayed thē away but the lyon spoyled ynough for his yōg ones, and deuoured for hys Lyoness: he fylled hys dennes wythe hys preye, and hys dwellynge place wythe that he had rauished. Behold, I wil vpon thee saith the Lorde of hostes, ād wyl set fyre vpon thy charettes that they shal smoke wyth all, and the Swearde shall deuoure the yonge lyons. I wyl make an ende of thy spoylynge from out of the earthe and ỹ voyce of thy messaunger shal nomore be hearde.

C The fall of Nineue.

The. iii. Chapter.

A WO to the bloudthursty cyty whych is all ful of lyes and robbery, & wyll not leaue of from rauishyng. Ther a mā maye heare scourgyng/rus-shynge the noyse of the wheles, the cry-enge of the horses, and the rollynge of ỹ charettes. There the horsmen get vp wt naked sweardes, and glysterynge spea-res: There lyeth a multitude slayne, and a great heape of dead bodyes. There is no

no ende of dead corpses yea men fal vpō their bodyes: And that for the geeate ād manyfolde whordome of the fayer and bewtiful harlot: which, is a mastresse of witchcraft, yea & selleth the people thorow her whordome, and the nacyons thorow her witchcraft

Beholde, I wyl vpon thee (sayeth the Lord of hostes) and wil pul thy clothes ouer thy heade: that I maye shewe thy nakednes amonge the Heathen, and thy shame amonge the kyngdomes

I wyl cast dyrte vpon thee, to make thee be abhorred and a gasing stocke. Yea al they that loke vpō thee, shal starte back
F and saye: Ninue is destroyed.

Who wyll haue pytye vpon thee: where shal I seke one to comfort thee: Art thou better then the great cite of Alexandria: that laye in the waters and had the waters rounde about it: which was strōgly fenced & walled with the sea: Ethiopia & Egypt were her strength, & ỹ exceading great aboue measure. Aphrica & Lybia were her helpers, yet was she dryuen away, ād brought in captyuitee: her yōg chyldren were smittē downe at the head of euery streate, the lottes were cast for the most auncyent men in her, ād al her myghtye men were bounde in chaynes. Euen so shalt thou also be droncken, & hyde thy self, & seke some helpe against
G thyne enemy. All thy stronge cyrtyes shal be lyke fyg tres with ripe figges: which whan a man shaketh, they shal fal into the mouth of the eater.

Beholde thy people within thee, are but women: the portes of thy lande shalbe opened vnto thyne enemyes and ỹ fyer shal deuoure thy barres. Drawe water now against ỹ be beseged, make vp thy stronge holdes, go in to the clay/ temper the morter, make strong bricke: yet the fyer shal consume thee/ the swerde shall destroy thee, yea as ỹ locust doth so shal it eate thee vp. It sh al fal heuely vpō ỹ as the locustes, yea right heuely shal it fal vpon thee, euen as the greshoppers. Thy marchaūtes haue bene nūbred w ỹ starres of heue: but now shal they spred abrode as the locustes, and fle their waie Thy Lordes are as the greshoppers, & thy captaynes as the multitud of greshoppers: whych, when they be colde, remayne in the hedges: but when the sunne is vp they fle awaye and no man can tell wher they are become. Thy shepherdes are a slepe (O kynge of Assur) thy worthyes are layde downe: thy people is scattered abroade vpon the mountaynes, and noo man gathereth them together agayne. Thy wounde can not be hyd, thy plage is so sore. Al they that heare thys of thee, shall clappe theyr handes ouer thee. For what is he to whom ỹ haste not alwaye bene doyng hurt?

The ende of the Prophecye of Nahum.

The Boke of

The Prophete Abacuc.

A complainte against Israel.

The fyrst Chapter.

THis is the heuy burthen, whiche ỹ prophet Abacuc did se. A
O lord, how long shal I crye, & thou wylt not heare? How long shall I cōplaine vnto thee sufferynge wronge, and thou wylt not helpe? why lettest thou me se wearines and laboure? Tyranny and violence ar before me, power ouer goeth right: for the lawe is toorne in peces, and there can no right iudgement go forth. And why? the vngodlye is more set by then the righteous: this is the cause, ỹ wrōg iudgement proceadeth. Beholde amōg the Heathen, and loke well: wonder at it, and be abashed for I wyl do a thig in your tyme, which though it be told you, ye shall not beleue.

For lo, I wyl rayse vp the Caldees, ỹ bytter and swyfte people: whych shall go as wide as ỹ land is, to take posses- B spō of dwellig places/ that be not their owne. A grymme & boysteours people is it/ these shal sit i tudgemēt & punish.

no ende of dead corpses yea men fal vpō their bodyes: And that for the geeate ād manyfolde whordome of the fayer and bewtiful harlot: which, is a mastresse of witchcraft, yea & selleth the people thorow her whordome, and the nacyons thorow her witchcraft

Beholde, I wyl vpon thee (sayeth the Lord of hostes) and wil pul thy clothes ouer thy heade: that I maye shewe thy nakednes amonge the Heathen, and thy shame amonge the kyngdomes

I wyl cast dyrte vpon thee, to make thee be abhorred and a gasing stocke. Yea al they that loke vpō thee, shal starte back
F and saye: Ninue is destroyed.

Who wyll haue pytye vpon thee: where shal I seke one to comfort thee: Art thou better then the great cite of Alexandria: that laye in the waters and had the waters rounde about it: which was strōgly fenced & walled with the sea: Ethiopia & Egypt were her strength, & ỹ exceading great aboue measure. Aphrica & Lybia were her helpers, yet was she dryuen away, ād brought in captyuitee: her yōg chyldren were smittē downe at the head of euery streate, the lottes were cast for the most auncyent men in her, ād al her myghtye men were bounde in chaynes. Euen so shalt thou also be droncken, & hyde thy self, & seke some helpe against
G thyne enemy. All thy stronge cyrtyes shal be lyke fyg tres with ripe figges: which whan a man shaketh, they shal fal into the mouth of the eater.

Beholde thy people within thee, are but women: the portes of thy lande shalbe opened vnto thyne enemyes and ỹ fyer shal deuoure thy barres. Drawe water now against ỹ be beseged, make vp thy stronge holdes, go in to the clay/ temper the morter, make strong bricke: yet the fyer shal consume thee/ the swerde shall destroy thee, yea as ỹ locust doth so shal it eate thee vp. It sh al fal heuely vpō ỹ as the locustes, yea right heuely shal it fal vpon thee, euen as the greshoppers. Thy marchaūtes haue bene nūbred w ỹ starres of heue: but now shal they spred abrode as the locustes, and fle their waie Thy Lordes are as the greshoppers, & thy captaynes as the multitud of greshoppers: whych, when they be colde, remayne in the hedges: but when the sunne is vp they fle awaye and no man can tell wher they are become. Thy shepherdes are a slepe (O kynge of Assur) thy worthyes are layde downe: thy people is scattered abroade vpon the mountaynes, and noo man gathereth them together agayne. Thy wounde can not be hyd, thy plage is so sore. Al they that heare thys of thee, shall clappe theyr handes ouer thee. For what is he to whom ỹ haste not alwaye bene doyng hurt?

The ende of the Prophecye of Nahum.

The Boke of

The Prophete Abacuc.

A complainte against Israel.

The fyrst Chapter.

THis is the heuy burthen, whiche ỹ prophet Abacuc did se. A
O lord, how long shal I crye, & thou wylt not heare? How long shall I cōplaine vnto thee sufferynge wronge, and thou wylt not helpe? why lettest thou me se wearines and laboure? Tyranny and violence ar before me, power ouer goeth right: for the lawe is toorne in peces, and there can no right iudgement go forth. And why? the vngodlye is more set by then the righteous: this is the cause, ỹ wrōg iudgement proceadeth. Beholde amōg the Heathen, and loke well: wonder at it, and be abashed for I wyl do a thig in your tyme, which though it be told you, ye shall not beleue.

For lo, I wyl rayse vp the Caldees, ỹ bytter and swyfte people: whych shall go as wide as ỹ land is, to take posses- B
spō of dwellig places/ that be not their owne. A grymme & boysteours people is it/ these shal sit i tudgemēt & punish.

no ende of dead corpses yea men fal vpō their bodyes: And that for the geeate ād manyfolde whordome of the fayer and bewtiful harlot: which, is a mastresse of witchcraft, yea & selleth the people thorow her whordome, and the nacyons thorow her witchcraft

Beholde, I wyl vpon thee (sayeth the Lord of hostes) and wil pul thy clothes ouer thy heade: that I maye shewe thy nakednes amonge the Heathen, and thy shame amonge the kyngdomes

I wyl cast dyrte vpon thee, to make thee be abhorred and a gasing stocke. Yea al they that loke vpō thee, shal starte back
F and saye: Ninue is destroyed.

Who wyll haue pytye vpon thee: where shal I seke one to comfort thee: Art thou better then the great cite of Alexandria: that laye in the waters and had the waters rounde about it: which was strōgly fenced & walled with the sea: Ethiopia & Egypt were her strength, & ỹ exceading great aboue measure. Aphrica & Lybia were her helpers, yet was she dryuen away, ād brought in captyuitee: her yōg chyldren were smittē downe at the head of euery streate, the lottes were cast for the most auncyent men in her, ād al her myghtye men were bounde in chaynes. Euen so shalt thou also be droncken, & hyde thy self, & seke some helpe against
G thyne enemy. All thy stronge cyrtyes shal be lyke fyg tres with ripe figges: which whan a man shaketh, they shal fal into the mouth of the eater.

Beholde thy people within thee, are but women: the portes of thy lande shalbe opened vnto thyne enemyes and ỹ fyer shal deuoure thy barres. Drawe water now against ỹ be beseged, make vp thy stronge holdes, go in to the clay/ temper the morter, make strong bricke: yet the fyer shal consume thee/ the swerde shall destroy thee, yea as ỹ locust doth so shal it eate thee vp. It sh al fal heuely vpō ỹ as the locustes, yea right heuely shal it fal vpon thee, euen as the greshoppers. Thy marchaūtes haue bene nūbred w ỹ starres of heue: but now shal they spred abrode as the locustes, and fle their waie Thy Lordes are as the greshoppers, & thy captaynes as the multitud of greshoppers: whych, when they be colde, remayne in the hedges: but when the sunne is vp they fle awaye and no man can tell wher they are become. Thy shepherdes are a slepe (O kynge of Assur) thy worthyes are layde downe: thy people is scattered abroade vpon the mountaynes, and noo man gathereth them together agayne. Thy wounde can not be hyd, thy plage is so sore. Al they that heare thys of thee, shall clappe theyr handes ouer thee. For what is he to whom ỹ haste not alwaye bene doyng hurt?

The ende of the Prophecye of Nahum.

The Boke of

The Prophete Abacuc.

A complainte against Israel.

The fyrst Chapter.

THis is the heuy burthen, whiche ỹ prophet Abacuc did se. A
O lord, how long shal I crye, & thou wylt not heare? How long shall I cōplaine vnto thee sufferynge wronge, and thou wylt not helpe? why lettest thou me se wearines and laboure? Tyranny and violence ar before me, power ouer goeth right: for the lawe is toorne in peces, and there can no right iudgement go forth. And why? the vngodlye is more set by then the righteous: this is the cause, ỹ wrōg iudgement proceadeth. Beholde amōg the Heathen, and loke well: wonder at it, and be abashed for I wyl do a thig in your tyme, which though it be told you, ye shall not beleue.

For lo, I wyl rayse vp the Caldees, ỹ bytter and swyfte people: whych shall go as wide as ỹ land is, to take posses- B
spō of dwellig places/ that be not their owne. A grymme & boysteours people is it/ these shal sit i tudgemēt & punish.

C Their herles are swyfter then the cattes of the mountayne, and byte sorer then the wolues in the euenig. Ther horsmen come by greate heapes from farre, they fle hastely to deuour as the Aegle. Th ei come all to spole: out of them commeth an east wynd, which blowe th & gathereth their captyues lyke as the sandde. They shall mocke the kynges, and laughe the princes to scorne. They shal not set by any stronge holde, for they shal laye ordinaunce agaynst it, and take it. The shal they tak a fresh corage vnto them, to go forth and to do more euel, and so ascribe that power vnto their God.

But thou O Lord my God, my holy
D one thou art from the begynnyg, therfor shall we not dye. O Lorde, thou hast ordened them for a punisment, and set the to reproue the myghtye. Thyne eyes are clene, thou mayst not se euell, thou canst not behold the thing ỹ is wycked. Wherfore the doest thou loke vpon the vngodly, and holdest thy tunge, when the wycked deuoureth the man that is better the hi selfe? Thou makest mēas the fyshe in sea/and lyke as the creppyng beestes that haue no gyde. They take vp al wyth ther angle, they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yatne: wher of they reioise & are glad. Therfor offre they vnto their net, & do sacrifyce vnto their yatne: because that therowe it their porcyon is become so fat, and their meate so plenteous. Wherfore they cast out their net agayne, and neuer cease to slaye the people.

C Of the vision of the prophet. Agaynste pollynge, couetousnes, and Idolatry.

The.ii. Chapter.

A I Stode vpon my watch, ād set me vpon my bulwarcke, to loke ād se what he wolde say vnto me, ād what answere I shoulde geue hym that reproueth me. But the Lord answered me, ād said: Write the vysyon planely vpon thy tables, that who so commeth by, may, rede it: for the vision is yet farre of for a tyme, but at ỹ last it shall come to passe, and not fayle.

And though he tary/yet wayte thou for hym for in very dede he wyll come, and not be slacke. Behold, who so wyll not beleue, his soule shall not prospere: but ỹ iuste shal lyue by his faith. Lyke as the wyne disceaueth the dronckard, euen so the proude shal fayle and not endure. He openeth his desyre wyde vp as the hell, and is as vnsaciable as death. Al heathen gathereth he to hym, and heapeth vnto him al people.

B But shal not all these take vp a prouerbe agaynst him, and mocke him with a bywarde, and saye: wo vnto hym that heapeth vp other mens goodes: Howe longe wil he lade him selfe with thycke claie: O how sodenly wil they stand vp, that shal byte, and awake, that shal tere thee in peces: yea ỹ shalt be their praie. Seing thou hast spoiled many heathē, therfore shall the remnaunt of the people spoile thee: because of mens bloud, & for the wronge done in the lande, in the cytie and vnto all them that dwell ther in.

G Wo vnto hym, that couetously gathereth euel gottē goodes into his house: that he may set his nest on hie, to escape from the power of misfortune. nota not gotten goods

Thou hast deuised the sham of thyne owne house, for thou hast slayne too muche people, and hast wylfully offended: so ỹ the very stones of the wall shal crye out of it, and the tymber that lyeth betwixt the ioyntes of the buylding shal answer. Wo vnto hym, that buyldeth the towne wyth bloude, and maynteyneth the Cytye wyth vnrighteousnes. Shall not the Lorde of hoostes bringe thys to passe/ that the labors of the people shalbe brēt wyth a greate fyre, and that the thynge wherupon the people haue weryed thē selues, shall be lost: For the erth shalbe ful of knoweledg of the Lordes honor, lyke as the waters that couer the sea. D

Wo vnto hym that geueth hys neyghbour dricke, to get hym wrothfull displeasure for hys dronckennes: that he maye se hys pryuities. Therfor wo shame shalte thou be fylled, in steade of honour. Drincke thou also, tyl thowe slōber vp al: for the Cuppe of ỹ lordes right hande shall compasse thee aboute, and shamfull spewyng in steade of thy worshipp

C Their herles are swyfter then the cattes of the mountayne, and byte sorer then the wolues in the euenig. Ther horsmen come by greate heapes from farre, they fle hastely to deuour as the Aegle. Th ei come all to spole: out of them commeth an east wynd, which blowe th & gathereth their captyues lyke as the sandde. They shall mocke the kynges, and laughe the princes to scorne. They shal not set by any stronge holde, for they shal laye ordinaunce agaynst it, and take it. The shal they tak a fresh corage vnto them, to go forth and to do more euel, and so ascribe that power vnto their God.

But thou O Lord my God, my holy
D one thou art from the begynnyg, therfor shall we not dye. O Lorde, thou hast ordened them for a punisment, and set the to reproue the myghtye. Thyne eyes are clene, thou mayst not se euell, thou canst not behold the thing ỹ is wycked. Wherfore the doest thou loke vpon the vngodly, and holdest thy tunge, when the wycked deuoureth the man that is better the hi selfe? Thou makest mēas the fyshe in sea/and lyke as the creppyng beestes that haue no gyde. They take vp al wyth ther angle, they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yatne: wher of they reioise & are glad. Therfor offre they vnto their net, & do sacrifyce vnto their yatne: because that therowe it their porcyon is become so fat, and their meate so plenteous. Wherfore they cast out their net agayne, and neuer cease to slaye the people.

C Of the vision of the prophet. Agaynste pollynge, couetousnes, and Idolatry.

The.ii. Chapter.

A I Stode vpon my watch, ād set me vpon my bulwarcke, to loke ād se what he wolde say vnto me, ād what answere I shoulde geue hym that reproueth me. But the Lord answered me, ād said: Write the vysyon planely vpon thy tables, that who so commeth by, may, rede it: for the vision is yet farre of for a tyme, but at ỹ last it shall come to passe, and not fayle.

And though he tary/yet wayte thou for hym for in very dede he wyll come, and not be slacke. Behold, who so wyll not beleue, his soule shall not prospere: but ỹ iuste shal lyue by his faith. Lyke as the wyne disceaueth the dronckard, euen so the proude shal fayle and not endure. He openeth his desyre wyde vp as the hell, and is as vnsaciable as death. Al heathen gathereth he to hym, and heapeth vnto him al people.

B But shal not all these take vp a prouerbe agaynst him, and mocke him with a bywarde, and saye: wo vnto hym that heapeth vp other mens goodes: Howe longe wil he lade him selfe with thycke claie: O how sodenly wil they stand vp, that shal byte, and awake, that shal tere thee in peces: yea ỹ shalt be their praie. Seing thou hast spoiled many heathē, therfore shall the remnaunt of the people spoile thee: because of mens bloud, & for the wronge done in the lande, in the cytie and vnto all them that dwell ther in.

G Wo vnto hym, that couetously gathereth euel gottē goodes into his house: that he may set his nest on hie, to escape from the power of misfortune. nota not gotten goods

Thou hast deuised the sham of thyne owne house, for thou hast slayne too muche people, and hast wylfully offended: so ỹ the very stones of the wall shal crye out of it, and the tymber that lyeth betwixt the ioyntes of the buylding shal answer. Wo vnto hym, that buyldeth the towne wyth bloude, and maynteyneth the Cytye wyth vnrighteousnes. Shall not the Lorde of hoostes bringe thys to passe/ that the labors of the people shalbe brēt wyth a greate fyre, and that the thynge wherupon the people haue weryed thē selues, shall be lost: For the erth shalbe ful of knoweledg of the Lordes honor, lyke as the waters that couer the sea. D

Wo vnto hym that geueth hys neyghbour dricke, to get hym wrothfull displeasure for hys dronckennes: that he maye se hys pryuities. Therfor wo shame shalte thou be fylled, in steade of honour. Drincke thou also, tyl thowe slōber vp al: for the Cuppe of ỹ lordes right hande shall compasse thee aboute, and shamfull spewyng in steade of thy worshipp

Jerem,1.C Ibdie,1,e

worshyp. For ỹ wrõg ỹ ỹ hast done in Lybanus, shal ouerwheline the, & the wyld beastes shal make thee afrayed: because of menes bloude, and for ỹ wrong done in the lande, in ỹ cytie/ and vnto al suche as dwell therin.

What help then wyl the Image do, whõ the worckeman hath fashioned? Or the vayne cast Image, wherin because the craftesman putteth his trust, therfor maketh he domme Idols? Woo vnto hym, ỹ sayeth to a pece of wod: arise, and to a domme stone: stand vp. For what instruccyon maye suche one geue? Behold it is layed ouer with gold and syluer, & ther is no breth in it. But ỹ Lord in hys holy temple is he, whom al the worlde should feare.

A prayer of the prophet Abacuc for the ignorãunte.

The.iii. Chapter

A O Lorde, when I hard speke of ỹ, I was afrayed. The worck that thou hast taken in hand, shalt ỹ perfourme in his tyme, O Lorde: & whẽ thy tyme commeth, thou shalt declare it In thy very wrath thou thinckest vpõ mercy. God commeth from Theman ãd the holy one from the moũt of Pharan. Selah. His glory coureth the heauens and ỹ earth is ful of his prayse. His shin is as the sonne/ and beames of lyght go out of his handes, ther is his power hyd. Destruccion goethe before him, and burnyng cressettes go from his fete. He standeth, & measureth the earth. He loketh, ãd the people consume awaie, the mountaynes of ỹ world fall downe to pouder, & B the hilles are fayne to bowe them selues/ for his goinges are euerlastyng ãd sure.

I sawe that the pauilyons of the Morians and thè tentes of the lande of Madian were vexed for werynes. Was ast thou not angry, O Lord, in thy waters: was not thy wrath in that floudes, and thy displeasure in the seeyes/ when thou ratest vpõ thyne horse, and whẽ thy charetes had ỹ victory. Thou shewedst thy bowe openly, like as thou haddest promised Genes.,xlix,e with an othe vnto the trybes. Selah.

Thou dydest deuyde ỹ waters of the earth. When the mountaynes sawe thee, they were afrayed, the Water Streame wente awaye: the depe made a noyse at the lyftyng vp of thyne hande. The Sũne and Moone remayned styl in their habytacion. Thyne arowes went out glysteryng, and thy speares as the shyne of ỹ lyghtnyng. Thou trodest downe ỹ lande in thine anger and diddeste throsshe the Heathen in thy displeasur. Thou camest forth to helpe thy people, to helpe thyne anoynted. Thou smottest downe ỹ head thee houle of ỹ vngodly, & dyscouueredest his foũdacions, euẽ vnto ỹ necke of him. Selah. Thou curssest his septers, the captayne of his men of warre: whiche come as a stormy wynd to scatze me abrode, & are glad when they may eat vp the poore secretly. Thou makest awaye for thyne horses in the see, euen in the mould of greate waters. When I heare this, my body is vexed, my lippes tremble at the voyse ther of, my bones corruppte, I am afrayed wher I stand. O/ that I myght rest in the daye of trouble that I might go vp vnto our people, which at alredy prepared.

C Josue,x,C

For the fygge trees shall not be grene, and the vynes shall beare no frute. The Labour of the olyue shal be butlost and the lande shal bringe no corne: the shepe shalbe taken out of the folde, and there shalbe no catel in the stalles. But as for me, I wyl be glad in the lord, and wyll reioyce in God my Sauioure. The Lord God is my stẽgthe, he shal make my fete as the fete of hertes: and he which geuethe the victorye/ shall bringe me to my hye places/ syngynge vpon my Psalmes.

Psa,xviii,b

C The ende of the prophecy of Abacuc.

Jerem,1.C Ibdie,1,e

worshyp. For ỹ wrõg ỹ ỹ hast done in Lybanus, shal ouerwheline the, & the wyld beastes shal make thee afrayed: because of menes bloude, and for ỹ wrong done in the lande, in ỹ cytie/ and vnto al suche as dwell therin.

What help then wyl the Image do, whõ the worckeman hath fashioned? Or the vayne cast Image, wherin because the craftesman putteth his trust, therfor maketh he domme Idols? Woo vnto hym, ỹ sayeth to a pece of wod: arise, and to a domme stone: stand vp. For what instruccyon maye suche one geue? Behold it is layed ouer with gold and syluer, & ther is no breth in it. But ỹ Lord in hys holy temple is he, whom al the worlde should feare.

A prayer of the prophet Abacuc for the ignorãunte.

The.iii. Chapter

A O Lorde, when I hard speke of ỹ, I was afrayed. The worck that thou hast taken in hand, shalt ỹ perfourme in his tyme, O Lorde: & whẽ thy tyme commeth, thou shalt declare it In thy very wrath thou thinckest vpõ mercy. God commeth from Theman ãd the holy one from the moũt of Pharan. Selah. His glory coureth the heauens and ỹ earth is ful of his prayse. His shin is as the sonne/ and beames of lyght go out of his handes, ther is his power hyd. Destruccion goethe before him, and burnyng cressettes go from his fete. He standeth, & measureth the earth. He loketh, ãd the people consume awaie, the mountaynes of ỹ world fall downe to pouder, & B the hilles are fayne to bowe them selues/ for his goinges are euerlastyng ãd sure.

I sawe that the pauilyons of the Morians and thè tentes of the lande of Madian were vexed for werynes. Was ast thou not angry, O Lord, in thy waters: was not thy wrath in that floudes, and thy displeasure in the seeyes/ when thou ratest vpõ thyne horse, and whẽ thy charetes had ỹ victory. Thou shewedst thy bowe openly, like as thou haddest promised Genes.,xlix,e with an othe vnto the trybes. Selah.

Thou dydest deuyde ỹ waters of the earth. When the mountaynes sawe thee, they were afrayed, the Water Streame wente awaye: the depe made a noyse at the lyftyng vp of thyne hande. The Sũne and Moone remayned styl in their habytacion. Thyne arowes went out glysteryng, and thy speares as the shyne of ỹ lyghtnyng. Thou trodest downe ỹ lande in thine anger and diddeste throsshe the Heathen in thy displeasur. Thou camest forth to helpe thy people, to helpe thyne anoynted. Thou smottest downe ỹ head thee houle of ỹ vngodly, & dyscouueredest his foũdacions, euẽ vnto ỹ necke of him. Selah. Thou curssest his septers, the captayne of his men of warre: whiche come as a stormy wynd to scatze me abrode, & are glad when they may eat vp the poore secretly. Thou makest awaye for thyne horses in the see, euen in the mould of greate waters. When I heare this, my body is vexed, my lippes tremble at the voyse ther of, my bones corruppte, I am afrayed wher I stand. O/ that I myght rest in the daye of trouble that I might go vp vnto our people, which at alredy prepared.

C Josue,x,C

For the fygge trees shall not be grene, and the vynes shall beare no frute. The Labour of the olyue shal be butlost and the lande shal bringe no corne: the shepe shalbe taken out of the folde, and there shalbe no catel in the stalles. But as for me, I wyl be glad in the lord, and wyll reioyce in God my Sauioure. The Lord God is my stẽgthe, he shal make my fete as the fete of hertes: and he which geuethe the victorye/ shall bringe me to my hye places/ syngynge vpon my Psalmes.

Psa,xviii,b

C The ende of the prophecy of Abacuc.

Jerem,1.C Ibdie,1,e

worshyp. For ỹ wrõg ỹ ỹ hast done in Lybanus, shal ouerwheline the, & the wyld beastes shal make thee afrayed: because of menes bloude, and for ỹ wrong done in the lande, in ỹ cytie/ and vnto al suche as dwell therin.

What help then wyl the Image do, whõ the worckeman hath fashioned? Or the vayne cast Image, wherin because the craftesman putteth his trust, therfor maketh he domme Idols? Woo vnto hym, ỹ sayeth to a pece of wod: arise, and to a domme stone: stand vp. For what instruccyon maye suche one geue? Behold it is layed ouer with gold and syluer, & ther is no breth in it. But ỹ Lord in hys holy temple is he, whom al the worlde should feare.

A prayer of the prophet Abacuc for the ignorãunte.

The.iii. Chapter

A O Lorde, when I hard speke of ỹ, I was afrayed. The worck that thou hast taken in hand, shalt ỹ perfourme in his tyme, O Lorde: & whẽ thy tyme commeth, thou shalt declare it In thy very wrath thou thinckest vpõ mercy. God commeth from Theman ãd the holy one from the moũt of Pharan. Selah. His glory coureth the heauens and ỹ earth is ful of his prayse. His shin is as the sonne/ and beames of lyght go out of his handes, ther is his power hyd. Destruccion goethe before him, and burnyng cressettes go from his fete. He standeth, & measureth the earth. He loketh, ãd the people consume awaie, the mountaynes of ỹ world fall downe to pouder, & B the hilles are fayne to bowe them selues/ for his goinges are euerlastyng ãd sure.

I sawe that the pauilyons of the Morians and thè tentes of the lande of Madian were vexed for werynes. Was ast thou not angry, O Lord, in thy waters: was not thy wrath in that floudes, and thy displeasure in the seeyes/ when thou ratest vpõ thyne horse, and whẽ thy charetes had ỹ victory. Thou shewedst thy bowe openly, like as thou haddest promised Genes.,xlix,e with an othe vnto the trybes. Selah.

Thou dydest deuyde ỹ waters of the earth. When the mountaynes sawe thee, they were afrayed, the Water Streame wente awaye: the depe made a noyse at the lyftyng vp of thyne hande. The Sũne and Moone remayned styl in their habytacion. Thyne arowes went out glysteryng, and thy speares as the shyne of ỹ lyghtnyng. Thou trodest downe ỹ lande in thine anger and diddeste throsshe the Heathen in thy displeasur. Thou camest forth to helpe thy people, to helpe thyne anoynted. Thou smottest downe ỹ head thee houle of ỹ vngodly, & dyscouueredest his foũdacions, euẽ vnto ỹ necke of him. Selah. Thou curssest his septers, the captayne of his men of warre: whiche come as a stormy wynd to scatze me abrode, & are glad when they may eat vp the poore secretly. Thou makest awaye for thyne horses in the see, euen in the mould of greate waters. When I heare this, my body is vexed, my lippes tremble at the voyse ther of, my bones corruppte, I am afrayed wher I stand. O/ that I myght rest in the daye of trouble that I might go vp vnto our people, which at alredy prepared.

C Josue,x,C

For the fygge trees shall not be grene, and the vynes shall beare no frute. The Labour of the olyue shal be butlost and the lande shal bringe no corne: the shepe shalbe taken out of the folde, and there shalbe no catel in the stalles. But as for me, I wyl be glad in the lord, and wyll reioyce in God my Sauioure. The Lord God is my stẽgthe, he shal make my fete as the fete of hertes: and he which geuethe the victorye/ shall bringe me to my hye places/ syngynge vpon my Psalmes.

Psa,xviii,b

C The ende of the prophecy of Abacuc.

Israel The Prophecy

¶ The Boke of

the prophete Sophony.

Threatening s against Juda & Jerusalem be cause of theyr Idolatry:

¶ The.fyrst.Chapter.

THis is ỹ word of the Lord which came vnto Sophony ỹ sõne of Chusi, ỹ sõne of Gedoliah, the sõne of Amariah ỹ sõne of Hesekiah in ỹ time of Iosiah ỹ sũne of Ammõ king of Juda I wil gather vp all thinges in the lande (saith ỹ lord) I wil gather vp mã & best I wyl gather vp ỹ foules in ỹ ayre & the fish in the sea (to ỹ great decay of the wicked) & wil vtterly destroy ỹ mẽ out of the land, saith the lord. I wyl stretch out mine hand vpõ Juda, & vpon al suche as dwel at Jerusalẽ. Thus wyl I rote out ỹ remnaũt of Baal frõ this place, & the names of the Remurins & prestes: yea & such as vpõ their house toppes worship & bowe thẽ selues vnto ỹ hoste of heauẽ: whiche sweare by the lord, & by their Malehom also: whych starte a back frõ ỹ lord, and neyther seke after ỹ lord, nor regard him Be stil at ỹ presence of the Lord god, for the day of ỹ lord is at hande: yea ỹ Lorde hath prepared a slain offrig, & called his gestes therto. And thus shall it happẽ in ỹ day of the Lordes slayn offring: I wil viset ỹ princes, the kynges chyldrẽ, & all suche as weare straung clothig. In the same day also wil I visit al thosẽ, ỹ trede ouer the threshold so proudly, which fyll theyr lordes house wt robbery & falshed. At ỹ same time (saith the lord) there shal be herd a great crye frõ ỹ fish port, & an houlig frõ ỹ other port, & a great murther frõ the hylles. Howle ye ỹ dwel in ỹ myl, for all the marchaũt people ar gone & all they ỹ were ladẽ wt syluer, are roted out.

¶ At the same tyme wyl I seke through Jerusalem wyth lanternes, & viset thẽ that continue in theire dregges, and say in theye hertes: Tush, the Lord wyl do nether good nor euel. Their goddes shal be spoyled, and their houses layed wast they shal builde houses, and not dwel in them: they shal plant vynyardes, but not drynke the wyne therof. For the greate daye of the Lorde is at hande, it is hard by, & commeth on a pace. Horrible is the tydynges of the Lordes daye: then shall the gyaunt es cry out: for that daye is a daye of wrath, a daye of trouble, ãd heuinesse, a daye of vtter destructyon & myserye/a darke and glomyng daye, a cloudy & stormy daye, a daye of the noyse of trõpettes and shawmes, against the strong cities & hie towres. I wil bring ỹ people into soch veracion, that they shall go about like blynd men, because they haue synned against the Lorde. Their bloud shalbe shed as the dust/ãd their bodies as the myre. Neither their siluer nor their gold shalbe able to deliuer them in ỹ wrothful daie of ỹ lorde, but ỹ whole lãd shalbe cõsumed thorow ỹ fire of his gelousy: for he shal sone make clene rydaũce of all them that dwel in the land.

¶ He moueth to returne to god, prophesying vnto the one destruction, & to the other, delyueraunce.

The.ii.Chapter.

COm together & gather you, O froward people: or the thing go forth ỹ is cõcluded, & or ỹ time be passed awaie as ỹ dust: or ỹ fearefull wrath of ỹ lord com vpõ you, yea or the date of the lordes sore displeasure cõ vpon you. Seke the lord al ye meke herted vpõ erth, ye ỹ worke after his iudgmẽt seke rightuousnes, seke lowlynes: ỹ ye maie be defẽded i ỹ wrothful daie of the lord. For Gaza shalbe destroied, & Ascalon shalbe laied wast. They shal cast out Asdod at ỹ none daye & Accaron shalbe pluckte vp by ỹ rotes. Woo vnto you ỹ dwel vpõ ỹ sea coost, ye murtherous people: ỹ word of ỹ lord shal com vpõ you. O canaã ỹ lãd of the Philistines, I wil destroy the, so ỹ ther shal no mã dwel i ỹ any more: & as for ỹ sea coast, it shalbe hirdmens cotages & shepe foldes: yea it shalbe a porciõ for such as remaine of ỹ house of Juda to fede therupõ: in ỹ houses of Ascalõ shal they rest toward night for ỹ lord their god shal visetthẽ, & turne awai ther captiuitie. I haue herde ỹ despit of Moab, & ỹ blasphemies of the childrẽ of ãmõ how they haue shãfully intreated my people, & magnifyed thẽ selues wt in ỹ borders of their lãde. Therfore as truly as I liue (saieth ỹ lorde of hostes ỹ god of Israel) Moab shalbe as Sodom, & Ammõ as Gomorra: euẽ drithorn hedges * saw pittes & a perpetual wildernes. The residue of my folk shal spoyle them: ỹ remnaunte of my people shal haue them in possession.

Israel The Prophecy

¶ The Boke of

the prophete Sophony.

Threatening s against Juda & Jerusalem be cause of theyr Idolatry:

¶ The.fyrst.Chapter.

THis is ỹ word of the Lord which came vnto Sophony ỹ sõne of Chusi, ỹ sõne of Gedoliah, the sõne of Amariah ỹ sõne of Hesekiah in ỹ time of Iosiah ỹ sũne of Ammõ king of Juda I wil gather vp all thinges in the lande (saith ỹ lord) I wil gather vp mã & best I wyl gather vp ỹ foules in ỹ ayre & the fish in the sea (to ỹ great decay of the wicked) & wil vtterly destroy ỹ mẽ out of the land, saith the lord. I wyl stretch out mine hand vpõ Juda, & vpon al suche as dwel at Jerusalẽ. Thus wyl I rote out ỹ remnaũt of Baal frõ this place, & the names of the Remurins & prestes: yea & such as vpõ their house toppes worship & bowe thẽ selues vnto ỹ hoste of heauẽ: whiche sweare by the lord, & by their Malehom also: whych starte a back frõ ỹ lord, and neyther seke after ỹ lord, nor regard him Be stil at ỹ presence of the Lord god, for the day of ỹ lord is at hande: yea ỹ Lorde hath prepared a slain offrig, & called his gestes therto. And thus shall it happẽ in ỹ day of the Lordes slayn offring: I wil viset ỹ princes, the kynges chyldrẽ, & all suche as weare straung clothig. In the same day also wil I visit al thosẽ, ỹ trede ouer the threshold so proudly, which fyll theyr lordes house wt robbery & falshed. At ỹ same time (saith the lord) there shal be herd a great crye frõ ỹ fish port, & an houlig frõ ỹ other port, & a great murther frõ the hylles. Howle ye ỹ dwel in ỹ myl, for all the marchaũt people ar gone & all they ỹ were ladẽ wt syluer, are roted out.

¶ At the same tyme wyl I seke through Jerusalem wyth lanternes, & viset thẽ that continue in theire dregges, and say in theye hertes: Tush, the Lord wyl do nether good nor euel. Their goddes shal be spoyled, and their houses layed wast they shal builde houses, and not dwel in them: they shal plant vynyardes, but not drynke the wyne therof. For the greate daye of the Lorde is at hande, it is hard by, & commeth on a pace. Horrible is the tydynges of the Lordes daye: then shall the gyaunt es cry out: for that daye is a daye of wrath, a daye of trouble, ãd heuinesse, a daye of vtter destructyon & myserye/a darke and glomyng daye, a cloudy & stormy daye, a daye of the noyse of trõpettes and shawmes, against the strong cities & hie towres. I wil bring ỹ people into soch veracion, that they shall go about like blynd men, because they haue synned against the Lorde. Their bloud shalbe shed as the dust/ãd their bodies as the myre. Neither their siluer nor their gold shalbe able to deliuer them in ỹ wrothful daie of ỹ lorde, but ỹ whole lãd shalbe cõsumed thorow ỹ fire of his gelousy: for he shal sone make clene rydaũce of all them that dwel in the land.

¶ He moueth to returne to god, prophesying vnto the one destruction, & to the other, delyueraunce.

The.ii.Chapter.

COm together & gather you, O froward people: or the thing go forth ỹ is cõcluded, & or ỹ time be passed awaie as ỹ dust: or ỹ fearefull wrath of ỹ lord com vpõ you, yea or the date of the lordes sore displeasure cõ vpon you. Seke the lord al ye meke herted vpõ erth, ye ỹ worke after his iudgmẽt seke rightuousnes, seke lowlynes: ỹ ye maie be defẽded i ỹ wrothful daie of the lord. For Gaza shalbe destroied, & Ascalon shalbe laied wast. They shal cast out Asdod at ỹ none daye & Accaron shalbe pluckte vp by ỹ rotes. Woo vnto you ỹ dwel vpõ ỹ sea coost, ye murtherous people: ỹ word of ỹ lord shal com vpõ you. O canaã ỹ lãd of the Philistines, I wil destroy the, so ỹ ther shal no mã dwel i ỹ any more: & as for ỹ sea coast, it shalbe hirdmens cotages & shepe foldes: yea it shalbe a porciõ for such as remaine of ỹ house of Juda to fede therupõ: in ỹ houses of Ascalõ shal they rest toward night for ỹ lord their god shal visetthẽ, & turne awai ther captiuitie. I haue herde ỹ despit of Moab, & ỹ blasphemies of the childrẽ of ãmõ how they haue shãfully intreated my people, & magnifyed thẽ selues wt in ỹ borders of their lãde. Therfore as truly as I liue (saieth ỹ lorde of hostes ỹ god of Israel) Moab shalbe as Sodom, & Ammõ as Gomorra: euẽ drithorn hedges * saw pittes & a perpetual wildernes. The residue of my folk shal spoyle them: ỹ remnaunte of my people shal haue them in possession.

Thys shall happen vnto them for their pryde, because they haue dealt so shame fully with the Lord of hoostes people, & magnyfied them selues aboue them.
The lord shalbe grime vpon them, and destroy al the goddes in ỹ land. And all the Iles of ỹheathen shal worshyp him euery man in his place.

Ye Morians also shal perish with my swerde: yea he shal stretch oute hys hand ouer the north, and destroy Assur. As for Nynive, he shalmake it desolate. dryc and wast. The flockes and all the beastes of the people shal lye in the myddest of it pellycanes and storckes shall abyde in the vpper postes of yt, foules shal synge in the windowes, and rauens shal sit vpō the balckes/for the borders of Cedre shalbe ryuen downe. Thys is the proude and carcles cityc, that saide in her herte: I am, and ther is els none. O how is she made so waste, that ỹ beastes lie therin: Who so goeth by, mocketh her, & poynteth at her with hys fynger.

iiii. Reg. xix
Esay. xlii. b.
xxx. iiii. c

Nota
mocketh her

The notes

*That is, as barren as the places wherin salt is cast. ¶ Agaynst the gouernoures of Ierusalem. Of the callyng of al the gentiles. A comforte to the residue of Israel.

The .iii. Chapter.

A Wo to the abhominable, fylthy and cruel cytie: whych wil not heare, nor be reformed. Her trust is not in̄ lord nether wyl she holde her to her god. Her rulers within her are as roryng lions: her iudges are as wolues a* in the euenyng, which leaue nothing behinde them tyl the morow. Her Prophetes are lyght persones and vnfayth full men: her prestes vnhalow the Sanctuary, and do wronge vnder the pretence of the lawe. But the iust Lorde ỹ doth no vnright, was amonge the euery morning shewing them his lawe clearly, and ceassed not. But the vngodlye wyll not learne to be ashamed. Therfore wyl I rote out this people, & destroy their towers, yea and make their stretes so voyde that noman shall goo therin. Their cyties shalbe broken downe, so that no body shalbe left, nor dwell there any more.

I sayde vnto them: O, feare me, and
B be content to be reformed: That their dwellyng should not be destroyed, and that there shoulde happen vnto theym none of these thynges, Where wyth I shall viset thē. But neuertheles they stande vp early, to folowe the fylthynes of theyr owne Imaginacions. Therfore ye shal wayte vpon me (sayth the Lord vntyll the tyme that I stande vp: for I am determined, to gather the people and to bryng the kyngdomes together, that I maye poure oute myne anger, yea all my wrothfull displeasure vpon them.
For all the world shalbe consumed with the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I clense the lyppes of the people, that they maye euerychone call vpon the name of the Lorde, & serue hym with one shoulder. Suche as I haue subdued, and my chylderen also whome I haue scattered abroade, shall bryng me presentes, beyonde the waters of Ethyopia.

Nauum ii

In that tyme shalte thou nomore be confounded, because of al thy ymaginacyons, wherewithowe thou haddest offended me: for I wyll take awaye the proude boasters of thyne honoure from thee, so that thou shalte nomore tryumphe because of my holy hyll. In thee also wyll I leaue a smal poore symple people, which shall truste in the name of the Lorde. The remnaunt of Israell shall do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neyther shall there any disceytfull tonge be founde in theyr mouthes. For they shall be fed and take theyre rest, and no man shal make them afrayed. Geue thankes O daughter Syon, be ioyfull O Israel: reioice and be glad from thy whole hert, O doughter Ierusalem, for the Lorde hath taken awaye thy punishement, and turned backe thyne enemyes. The king of Israell euē the Lorde hym selfe is with thee: so thy at̄ neadest no more to feare any myschefe.

Ieremy. i. b.
C

In that tyme it shalbe sayde to Ierusalem: feare not, and to Syon: let not thyne handes be slack. For the Lorde thy God is with thee, it is he that hathe power to saue: he hath a special pleasure in thee, & a maruelous loue toward thee, yea, he reioiseth ouer thee with gladnes. Suche as haue bene in heuynesse, wyll I gather together, & take out of thy cōgregation: as for the shame and reproch that hath bene laied vpon thee, it shalbe farre from thee. And lo, in that tyme wyl

D

Thys shall happen vnto them for their pryde, because they haue dealt so shame fully with the Lord of hoostes people, & magnyfied them selues aboue them.
The lord shalbe grime vpon them, and destroy al the goddes in ỹ land. And all the Iles of ỹheathen shal worshyp him euery man in his place.

Ye Morians also shal perish with my swerde: yea he shal stretch oute hys hand ouer the north, and destroy Assur. As for Nynive, he shalmake it desolate. dryc and wast. The flockes and all the beastes of the people shal lye in the myddest of it pellycanes and storckes shall abyde in the vpper postes of yt, foules shal synge in the windowes, and rauens shal sit vpō the balckes/for the borders of Cedre shalbe ryuen downe. Thys is the proude and carcles cityc, that saide in her herte: I am, and ther is els none. O how is she made so waste, that ỹ beastes lie therin: Who so goeth by, mocketh her, & poynteth at her with hys fynger.

iiii. Reg. xix
Esay. xlii. b.
xxx. iiii. c

Nota
mocketh her

The notes

*That is, as barren as the places wherin salt is cast. ¶ Agaynst the gouernoures of Ierusalem. Of the callyng of al the gentiles. A comforte to the residue of Israel.

The .iii. Chapter.

A Wo to the abhominable, fylthy and cruel cytie: whych wil not heare, nor be reformed. Her trust is not in̄ lord nether wyl she holde her to her god. Her rulers within her are as roryng lions: her iudges are as wolues a* in the euenyng, which leaue nothing behinde them tyl the morow. Her Prophetes are lyght persones and vnfayth full men: her prestes vnhalow the Sanctuary, and do wronge vnder the pretence of the lawe. But the iust Lorde ỹ doth no vnright, was amonge the euery morning shewing them his lawe clearly, and ceassed not. But the vngodlye wyll not learne to be ashamed. Therfore wyl I rote out this people, & destroy their towers, yea and make their stretes so voyde that noman shall goo therin. Their cyties shalbe broken downe, so that no body shalbe left, nor dwell there any more.

I sayde vnto them: O, feare me, and
B be content to be reformed: That their dwellyng should not be destroyed, and that there shoulde happen vnto theym none of these thynges, Where wyth I shall viset thē. But neuertheles they stande vp early, to folowe the fylthynes of theyr owne Imaginacions. Therfore ye shal wayte vpon me (sayth the Lord vntyll the tyme that I stande vp: for I am determined, to gather the people and to bryng the kyngdomes together, that I maye poure oute myne anger, yea all my wrothfull displeasure vpon them.
For all the world shalbe consumed with the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I clense the lyppes of the people, that they maye euerychone call vpon the name of the Lorde, & serue hym with one shoulder. Suche as I haue subdued, and my chylderen also whome I haue scattered abroade, shall bryng me presentes, beyonde the waters of Ethyopia.

Nauum ii

In that tyme shalte thou nomore be confounded, because of al thy ymaginacyons, wherewithowe thou haddest offended me: for I wyll take awaye the proude boasters of thyne honoure from thee, so that thou shalte nomore tryumphe because of my holy hyll. In thee also wyll I leaue a smal poore symple people, which shall truste in the name of the Lorde. The remnaunt of Israell shall do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neyther shall there any disceytfull tonge be founde in theyr mouthes. For they shall be fed and take theyre rest, and no man shal make them afrayed. Geue thankes O daughter Syon, be ioyfull O Israel: reioice and be glad from thy whole hert, O doughter Ierusalem, for the Lorde hath taken awaye thy punishement, and turned backe thyne enemyes. The king of Israell euē the Lorde hym selfe is with thee: so thy at̄ neadest no more to feare any myschefe.

Ieremy. i. b.
C

In that tyme it shalbe sayde to Ierusalem: feare not, and to Syon: let not thyne handes be slack. For the Lorde thy God is with thee, it is he that hathe power to saue: he hath a special pleasure in thee, & a maruelous loue toward thee, yea, he reioiseth ouer thee with gladnes. Suche as haue bene in heuynesse, wyll I gather together, & take out of thy cōgregation: as for the shame and reproch that hath bene laied vpon thee, it shalbe farre from thee. And lo, in that tyme wyl

D

Thys shall happen vnto them for their pryde, because they haue dealt so shame fully with the Lord of hoostes people, & magnyfied them selues aboue them.
The lord shalbe grime vpon them, and destroy al the goddes in ỹ land. And all the Iles of ỹheathen shal worshyp him euery man in his place.

Ye Morians also shal perish with my swerde: yea he shal stretch oute hys hand ouer the north, and destroy Assur. As for Nynive, he shalmake it desolate. dryc and wast. The flockes and all the beastes of the people shal lye in the myddest of it pellycanes and storckes shall abyde in the vpper postes of yt, foules shal synge in the windowes, and rauens shal sit vpō the balckes/for the borders of Cedre shalbe ryuen downe. Thys is the proude and carcles cityc, that saide in her herte: I am, and ther is els none. O how is she made so waste, that ỹ beastes lie therin: Who so goeth by, mocketh her, & poynteth at her with hys fynger.

iiii. Reg. xix
Esay. xlii. b.
xxx. iiii. c

Nota
mocketh her

The notes

*That is, as barren as the places wherin salt is cast. ¶ Agaynst the gouernoures of Ierusalem. Of the callyng of al the gentiles. A comforte to the residue of Israel.

The .iii. Chapter.

A Wo to the abhominable, fylthy and cruel cytie: whych wil not heare, nor be reformed. Her trust is not in̄ lord nether wyl she holde her to her god. Her rulers within her are as roryng lions: her iudges are as wolues a* in the euenyng, which leaue nothing behinde them tyl the morow. Her Prophetes are lyght persones and vnfayth full men: her prestes vnhalow the Sanctuary, and do wronge vnder the pretence of the lawe. But the iust Lorde ỹ doth no vnright, was amonge the euery morning shewing them his lawe clearly, and ceassed not. But the vngodlye wyll not learne to be ashamed. Therfore wyl I rote out this people, & destroy their towers, yea and make their stretes so voyde that noman shall goo therin. Their cyties shalbe broken downe, so that no body shalbe left, nor dwell there any more.

I sayde vnto them: O, feare me, and
B be content to be reformed: That their dwellyng should not be destroyed, and that there shoulde happen vnto theym none of these thynges, Where wyth I shall viset thē. But neuertheles they stande vp early, to folowe the fylthynes of theyr owne Imaginacions. Therfore ye shal wayte vpon me (sayth the Lord vntyll the tyme that I stande vp: for I am determined, to gather the people and to bryng the kyngdomes together, that I maye poure oute myne anger, yea all my wrothfull displeasure vpon them.
For all the world shalbe consumed with the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I clense the lyppes of the people, that they maye euerychone call vpon the name of the Lorde, & serue hym with one shoulder. Suche as I haue subdued, and my chylderen also whome I haue scattered abroade, shall bryng me presentes, beyonde the waters of Ethyopia.

Nauum ii

In that tyme shalte thou nomore be confounded, because of al thy ymaginacyons, wherewithowe thou haddest offended me: for I wyll take awaye the proude boasters of thyne honoure from thee, so that thou shalte nomore tryumphe because of my holy hyll. In thee also wyll I leaue a smal poore symple people, which shall truste in the name of the Lorde. The remnaunt of Israell shall do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neyther shall there any disceytfull tonge be founde in theyr mouthes. For they shall be fed and take theyre rest, and no man shal make them afrayed. Geue thankes O daughter Syon, be ioyfull O Israel: reioice and be glad from thy whole hert, O doughter Ierusalem, for the Lorde hath taken awaye thy punishement, and turned backe thyne enemyes. The king of Israell euē the Lorde hym selfe is with thee: so thy at̄ neadest no more to feare any myschefe.

Ieremy. i. b.
C

In that tyme it shalbe sayde to Ierusalem: feare not, and to Syon: let not thyne handes be slack. For the Lorde thy God is with thee, it is he that hathe power to saue: he hath a special pleasure in thee, & a maruelous loue toward thee, yea, he reioiseth ouer thee with gladnes. Suche as haue bene in heuynesse, wyll I gather together, & take out of thy cōgregation: as for the shame and reproch that hath bene laied vpon thee, it shalbe farre from thee. And lo, in that tyme wyl

D

I destroye all those that vexe thee: I wyll helpe the lame, and gather vp the cast awaye: yea I wyll get them prayse & honour in all landes, where they haue bene put to shame. At the same time wil I bryng you in, and at the same time wil I gather you. I wyll get you a name & a good reporte among all people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes sayth the Lorde.

☞ The ende of the prophecy of Sophony.

¶ The Boke of the Prophete Aggeus.

¶ The time of the Prophecye of Aggeus. An exhortation to buylde the temple agayne

The fyrst Chapter.

A | In the seconde yeare of kynge Darius, in the .vi. moneth, the fyrst daye of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde (by the Prophet Aggeus) vnto Zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel the prince of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hygh preast saynge: ¶ Thus speaketh the Lorde of hoostes, and sayth ¶ Thys people doth saye: The time is not yet come to buyld vp the Lordes house. ¶ Then spake the Lorde by the Prophete Aggeus, and sayde: ye youre selues can fynde tyme to dwell in syled houses, and shall thys house lye waste? Consyder nowe your owne wayes in youre hartes (sayeth the Lorde of hoostes) ye sowe much, but yet bryng lytle in: ye eate but ye haue not ynough: ye drynke but ye are not fylled: ye decke youre selues, but ye are not warme: and he that eatmeth any wage, putteth it in a broken purse.

Thus sayth the Lorde of hoostes Consyder youre owne wayes in youre hertes, and get you vp to the mountaines fetche wodde, and buylde vp the house that it maye be acceptable vnto me, and that I maye shewe myne honoure, sayth the Lorde. Ye loked for muche, and lo, it is come to lytle: and though ye bryng it home yet do I blowe it awaye. And why so, sayth the Lorde of hoostes? euen because that my House lyethe so waste, and ye runne euery man vnto hys owne house. Wherfor the heauen is forbydde to geue you dewe, and the earth is forbydden To geue you increase, I haue called for a drouthe, both vpon the lande and vpon the mountaynes, vpon corne, vpon wyne and vpon oyle, vpon euery thynge, that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men and vpon cattel, yea and vpon all handy laboure.

Nowe, when Zorobabell the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hygh preast with the remnaunt of the people, herde the voyce of the lord their god, and the wordes of the prophet Aggeus (lyke as the Lorde theyr God had sente hym) the people dyd feare the Lorde. Then Aggeus the Lordes aungell sayde in the lordes message vnto the people, I am wyth you, sayeth the lord So the Lorde * waked vp the spyryte of Zorobabell the Prince of Juda, and the spyryt of Jesua the Sonne of Josedech the hygh preste and the spryte of the remnaunt of al the people: that they came and laboured, in the house of the lord of hostes their god.

The Notes

* To wake vp the spryte of mā is, whē god by his spryte comforteth & boldeneth the hert to take vpō hī without fere any act or dede of grete importaunce. ¶ He sheweth þ the goodlynes of þ second tēple shal excede þ fyrst beraule of þ comming of Christ.

The .ii. Chapter.

A | Vpon the .xxiiii. daye of the .vi. moneth, in the seconde yeare of kynge Darius, the .xxi. daye of the seuenth moneth, came the worde of the Lorde by the prophet Aggeus, saynge: speake to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prynce of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hye preest and to the residue of the people, and saye: Who is left among you, that sawe this house in her fyrst beawtye?

Bus

I destroye all those that vexe thee: I wyll helpe the lame, and gather vp the cast awaye: yea I wyll get them prayse & honour in all landes, where they haue bene put to shame. At the same time wil I bryng you in, and at the same time wil I gather you. I wyll get you a name & a good reporte among all people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes sayth the Lorde.

☞ The ende of the prophecy of Sophony.

¶ The Boke of the Prophete Aggeus.

¶ The time of the Prophecye of Aggeus. An exhortation to buylde the temple agayne

The fyrst Chapter.

A | In the seconde yeare of kynge Darius, in the .vi. moneth, the fyrst daye of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde (by the Prophet Aggeus) vnto Zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel the prince of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hygh preast saynge: ¶ Thus speaketh the Lorde of hoostes, and sayth ¶ Thys people doth saye: The time is not yet come to buyld vp the Lordes house. ¶ Then spake the Lorde by the Prophete Aggeus, and sayde: ye youre selues can fynde tyme to dwell in syled houses, and shall thys house lye waste? Consyder nowe your owne wayes in youre hartes (sayeth the Lorde of hoostes) ye sowe much, but yet bryng lytle in: ye eate but ye haue not ynough: ye drynke but ye are not fylled: ye decke youre selues, but ye are not warme: and he that eatmeth any wage, putteth it in a broken purse.

Thus sayth the Lorde of hoostes Consyder youre owne wayes in youre hertes, and get you vp to the mountaines fetche wodde, and buylde vp the house that it maye be acceptable vnto me, and that I maye shewe myne honoure, sayth the Lorde. Ye loked for muche, and lo, it is come to lytle: and though ye bryng it home yet do I blowe it awaye. And why so, sayth the Lorde of hoostes? euen because that my House lyethe so waste, and ye runne euery man vnto hys owne house. Wherfor the heauen is forbydde to geue you dewe, and the earth is forbydden To geue you increase, I haue called for a drouthe, both vpon the lande and vpon the mountaynes, vpon corne, vpon wyne and vpon oyle, vpon euery thynge, that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men and vpon cattel, yea and vpon all handy laboure.

Nowe, when Zorobabell the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hygh preast with the remnaunt of the people, herde the voyce of the lord their god, and the wordes of the prophet Aggeus (lyke as the Lorde theyr God had sente hym) the people dyd feare the Lorde. Then Aggeus the Lordes aungell sayde in the lordes message vnto the people, I am wyth you, sayeth the lord So the Lorde * waked vp the spyryte of Zorobabell the Prince of Juda, and the spyryt of Jesua the Sonne of Josedech the hygh preste and the spryte of the remnaunt of al the people: that they came and laboured, in the house of the lord of hostes their god.

The Notes

* To wake vp the spryte of mā is, whē god by his spryte comforteth & boldeneth the hert to take vpō hī without fere any act or dede of grete importaunce. ¶ He sheweth þ the goodlynes of þ second tēple shal excede þ fyrst beraule of þ comming of Christ.

The .ii. Chapter.

A | Vpon the .xxiiii. daye of the .vi. moneth, in the seconde yeare of kynge Darius, the .xxi. daye of the seuenth moneth, came the worde of the Lorde by the prophet Aggeus, saynge: speake to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prynce of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hye preest and to the residue of the people, and saye: Who is left among you, that sawe this house in her fyrst beawtye?

Bus

I destroye all those that vexe thee: I wyll helpe the lame, and gather vp the cast awaye: yea I wyll get them prayse & honour in all landes, where they haue bene put to shame. At the same time wil I bryng you in, and at the same time wil I gather you. I wyll get you a name & a good reporte among all people of the earth, when I turne backe your captiuitie before your eyes sayth the Lorde.

☞ The ende of the prophecy of Sophony.

¶ The Boke of the Prophete Aggeus.

¶ The time of the Prophecye of Aggeus. An exhortation to buylde the temple agayne

The fyrst Chapter.

A | In the seconde yeare of kynge Darius, in the .vi. moneth, the fyrst daye of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde (by the Prophet Aggeus) vnto Zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel the prince of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hygh preast saynge: ¶ Thus speaketh the Lorde of hoostes, and sayth ¶ Thys people doth saye: The time is not yet come to buyld vp the Lordes house. ¶ Then spake the Lorde by the Prophete Aggeus, and sayde: ye youre selues can fynde tyme to dwell in syled houses, and shall thys house lye waste? Consyder nowe your owne wayes in youre hartes (sayeth the Lorde of hoostes) ye sowe much, but yet bryng lytle in: ye eate but ye haue not ynough: ye drynke but ye are not fylled: ye decke youre selues, but ye are not warme: and he that eatmeth any wage, putteth it in a broken purse.

Thus sayth the Lorde of hoostes Consyder youre owne wayes in youre hertes, and get you vp to the mountaines fetche wodde, and buylde vp the house that it maye be acceptable vnto me, and that I maye shewe myne honoure, sayth the Lorde. Ye loked for muche, and lo, it is come to lytle: and though ye bryng it home yet do I blowe it awaye. And why so, sayth the Lorde of hoostes? euen because that my House lyethe so waste, and ye runne euery man vnto hys owne house. Wherfor the heauen is forbydde to geue you dewe, and the earth is forbydden To geue you increase, I haue called for a drouthe, both vpon the lande and vpon the mountaynes, vpon corne, vpon wyne and vpon oyle, vpon euery thynge, that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men and vpon cattel, yea and vpon all handy laboure.

Nowe, when Zorobabell the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hygh preast with the remnaunt of the people, herde the voyce of the lord their god, and the wordes of the prophet Aggeus (lyke as the Lorde theyr God had sente hym) the people dyd feare the Lorde. Then Aggeus the Lordes aungell sayde in the lordes message vnto the people, I am wyth you, sayeth the lord So the Lorde * waked vp the spyryte of Zorobabell the Prince of Juda, and the spyryt of Jesua the Sonne of Josedech the hygh preste and the spryte of the remnaunt of al the people: that they came and laboured, in the house of the lord of hostes their god.

The Notes

* To wake vp the spryte of mā is, whē god by his spryte comforteth & boldeneth the hert to take vpō hī without fere any act or dede of grete importaunce. ¶ He sheweth þ the goodlynes of þ second tēple shal excede þ fyrst beraule of þ comming of Christ.

The .ii. Chapter.

A | Vpon the .xxiiii. daye of the .vi. moneth, in the seconde yeare of kynge Darius, the .xxi. daye of the seuenth moneth, came the worde of the Lorde by the prophet Aggeus, saynge: speake to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prynce of Juda, and to Jesua the sonne of Josedech the hye preest and to the residue of the people, and saye: Who is left among you, that sawe this house in her fyrst beawtye?

Bus

But what thinck ye now by it? Is it not
i your eyes, cuē as though it were nothig
Neuerthelesse be of good chere O zoro
babel (saieth the Lord) be of good com-forte, O Jesua ỹ sonne of Josedech ỹ hie
preest: take good hattes vnto you also, al
ye people of the land, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and do accordyng to the worde (
for I am wyth you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes) lyke as I agreed w̄ you, when ye came out of ỹ land of Egypte: ād my spyrete shalbe amōge you, feare ye not.

For thus sayth the Lord of hostes.
B yet once more wyl I shake heauen and Heb, xii, b earth, the sea and the dry land yea I wil
moue all Heathen, and the comforthe of all Heathen shall come, and so wyll I,
fyll this house wyth honoure, sayeth the Lorde of hooستes. The siluer is myne
ād the gold is myne, sayeth the Lord of Deut, viii, b hostes. Thus the glory of the last house shalbe greater then the fyrst, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: ād in this place wyl I
geue peace sayeth the Lord of hostes.

The .xxiiii. daye of the .ix. moneth i ỹ
seconde yeare of kyng Darius, came ỹ
C worde of the Lorde vnto the Prophete
Aggeus, saiyng: Thus sayeth thLord
God of hooستes. Aske the preestes concer ning the law, & say: if one bere holy flesh
in his cote lappe & w̄ hys lap touch the bred, potag, wyne, oyl or ēny other meat
shal he be holy also? The preestes answe red and sayde: No. Then sayd Aggeus
Now yf one beyng defyled with a dead
carcase, touch eny of these: shal it also be vnclene? The Preestes gaue answer and say: yea, it shalbe vnclene. Thē Aggeus answered ād sayd: euē so is this people
and this nacion before me/ sayeth the Lorde: and so are al ỹ worckes of their
handes, yea & all ỹ they offre, is vnclen.

And now (I praye you) consyder frō
this daye forth, and how it hath gōe w̄
you afore: or euer ther was laid one stōe
vpon another in the temple of ỹ Lorde:
ỹ whē ye came to a corne heape of xx. bus hels, ther were scarse ten: & ỹ whē ye cāe
to ỹ wyne presse for to pore out .L. pot
tes of wyne, thet were scarce .xx. For I smote you with heate/ blasting ād hayl
stones in all the laboures of your han-des: yet was there none of you, ỹ would turne vnto me, sayeth the lord. Considre
then from this daye forth and afore, na mely, from the .xxiiii. daye of the .ix. mo-neth, vnto the daye that the foundacion D
of the lordes temple was layed: marcke
it well, is not the sede yet in the barne:
haue not the vines, ỹ figetrees, ỹ pome granates and olyue trees bene yet vn-frutful: but from this day forth, I shal
make them to prospere.

Moreouer the .xxiiii. daye of the mo
neth came the worde of the Lorde vnto Aggeus againe, saiyng: Speke to zoro
babel the prince of Juda, and saye: I wil
shake both heauen and earth, and ouerthrowe the seate of the kyngdomes, yea
and destroie the mightie kingdome of ỹ
Heathen. I wil ouerthrow the charettes
and those that syt vpon them, so ỹ both
horse and man shal fal downe, euery mā thorow his neighoures sweard. And as for thee, O zorobabel (sayeth the Lord of hooستes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruaunt: I wyl take thee, saieth ỹ Lord
at the same tyme/ & make thee as a seale
for I haue chosen thee, saieth the Lord
of hooستes.

The ende of the prophecy
of Aggeus.

The Boke of
the Prophete zachary.

The moueth the people to returne to the Lord, and to eschue the wikednesses of their fathers. He prefy-gureth Christ and the Apostles.

The .first. Chapter.

IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yeare of kyng Dari- A us, came the word of ỹ lord vnto zachary ỹ sōne of Barachias, the sonne of Iddo,
the Prophete, saiyng: the lord hath ben Mat, xxiii, c
sore dyspleased at your forefathers.
And saye thou vnto them: thus sayeth ỹ
Lorde of hooستes. Turne you vnto me (sayeth the Lord of hooستes) and I wyl turne me vnto you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

But what thinck ye now by it? Is it not
i your eyes, cuē as though it were nothig
Neuerthelesse be of good chere O zoro
babel (saieth the Lord) be of good com-
forte, O Jesua ỹ sonne of Josedeth ỹ hie
preest: take good hattes vnto you also, al
ye people of the land, sayeth the Lord of
hostes, and do accordyng to the worde(
for I am wyth you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes) lyke as I agreed w̄ you, when ye came out of ỹ land of Egypte: ād my spyrete shalbe amōge you, feare ye not.

For thus sayth the Lord of hostes.
B yet once more wyl I shake heauen and Heb, xii, b earth, the sea and the dry land yea I wil
moue all Heathen, and the comforthe of
all Heathen shall come, and so wyll I,
fyll this house wyth honoure, sayeth the Lorde of hooستes. The siluer is myne
ād the gold is myne, sayeth the Lord of Deut, viii, b hostes. Thus the glory of the last house
shalbe greater then the fyrst, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: ād in this place wyl I
geue peace sayeth the Lord of hostes.

The .xxiiii. daye of the .ix. moneth i ỹ
seconde yeare of kyng Darius, came ỹ
C worde of the Lorde vnto the Prophete
Aggeus, saiyng: Thus sayeth thLord
God of hooستes. Aske the preestes concer ning the law, & say: if one bere holy flesh
in his cote lappe & w̄ hys lap touch the
bred, potag, wyne, oyl or ēny other meat
shal he be holy also? The preestes answe
red and sayde: No. Then sayd Aggeus
Now yf one beyng defyled with a dead
carcase, touch eny of these: shal it also be vnclene? The Preestes gaue answer and say: yea, it shalbe vnclene. Thē Aggeus
answered ād sayd: euē so is this people
and this nacion before me/ sayeth the Lorde: and so are al ỹ worckes of their
handes, yea & all ỹ they offre, is vnclen.

And now (I praye you) consyder frō
this daye forth, and how it hath gōe w̄
you afore: or euer ther was laid one stōe
vpon another in the temple of ỹ Lorde:
ỹ whē ye came to a corne heape of xx. bus
hels, ther were scarse ten: & ỹ whē ye cāe
to ỹ wyne presse for to pore out .L. pot
tes of wyne, thet were scarce .xx. For I smote you with heate/ blasting ād hayl
stones in all the laboures of your han-
des: yet was there none of you, ỹ would
turne vnto me, sayeth the lord. Considre
then from this daye forth and afore, na mely, from the .xxiiii. daye of the .ix. mo-
neth, vnto the daye that the foundacion D
of the lordes temple was layed: marcke
it well, is not the sede yet in the barne:
haue not the vines, ỹ figetrees, ỹ pome granates and olyue trees bene yet vn-
frutful: but from this day forth, I shal
make them to prospere.

Moreouer the .xxiiii. daye of the mo
neth came the worde of the Lorde vnto
Aggeus againe, saiyng: Speke to zoro
babel the prince of Juda, and saye: I wil
shake both heauen and earth, and ouer-
throwe the seate of the kyngdomes, yea
and destroie the mightie kingdome of ỹ
Heathen. I wil ouerthrow the charettes
and those that syt vpon them, so ỹ both
horse and man shal fal downe, euery mā
thorow his neighoures sweard. And as for thee, O zorobabel (sayeth the Lord
of hooستes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruaunt: I wyl take thee, saieth ỹ Lord
at the same tyme/ & make thee as a seale
for I haue chosen thee, saieth the Lord
of hooستes.

The ende of the prophecy
of Aggeus.

The Boke of
the Prophete zachary.

The moueth the people to returne to the Lord, and to eschue the wikednesses of their fathers. He prefy-gureth Christ and the Apostles.

The .first. Chapter.

IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yeare of kyng Dari- A
us, came the word of ỹ lord
vnto zachary ỹ sōne of Ba-
rachias, the sonne of Iddo,
the Prophete, saiyng: the lord hath ben Mat, xxiii, c
sore dyspleased at your forefathers.
And saye thou vnto them: thus sayeth ỹ
Lorde of hooستes. Turne you vnto me
(sayeth the Lord of hooستes) and I wyl
turne me vnto you, sayeth the Lorde of
hostes.

But what thinck ye now by it? Is it not
i your eyes, cuē as though it were nothig
Neuerthelesse be of good chere O zoro
babel (saieth the Lord) be of good com-
forte, O Jesua ỹ sonne of Josedeth ỹ hie
preest: take good hattes vnto you also, al
ye people of the land, sayeth the Lord of
hostes, and do accordyng to the worde(
for I am wyth you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes) lyke as I agreed w̄ you, when ye came out of ỹ land of Egypte: ād my spyrete shalbe amōge you, feare ye not.

For thus sayth the Lord of hostes.
B yet once more wyl I shake heauen and Heb, xii, b earth, the sea and the dry land yea I wil
moue all Heathen, and the comforthe of
all Heathen shall come, and so wyll I,
fyll this house wyth honoure, sayeth the Lorde of hooستes. The siluer is myne
ād the gold is myne, sayeth the Lord of Deut, viii, b hostes. Thus the glory of the last house
shalbe greater then the fyrst, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: ād in this place wyl I
geue peace sayeth the Lord of hostes.

The .xxiiii. daye of the .ix. moneth i ỹ
seconde yeare of kyng Darius, came ỹ
C worde of the Lorde vnto the Prophete
Aggeus, saiyng: Thus sayeth thLord
God of hooستes. Aske the preestes concer ning the law, & say: if one bere holy flesh
in his cote lappe & w̄ hys lap touch the
bred, potag, wyne, oyl or ēny other meat
shal he be holy also? The preestes answe
red and sayde: No. Then sayd Aggeus
Now yf one beyng defyled with a dead
carcase, touch eny of these: shal it also be vnclene? The Preestes gaue answer and say: yea, it shalbe vnclene. Thē Aggeus
answered ād sayd: euē so is this people
and this nacion before me/ sayeth the Lorde: and so are al ỹ worckes of their
handes, yea & all ỹ they offre, is vnclen.

And now (I praye you) consyder frō
this daye forth, and how it hath gōe w̄
you afore: or euer ther was laid one stōe
vpon another in the temple of ỹ Lorde:
ỹ whē ye came to a corne heape of xx. bus
hels, ther were scarse ten: & ỹ whē ye cāe
to ỹ wyne presse for to pore out .L. pot
tes of wyne, thet were scarce .xx. For I smote you with heate/ blasting ād hayl
stones in all the laboures of your han-
des: yet was there none of you, ỹ would
turne vnto me, sayeth the lord. Considre
then from this daye forth and afore, na mely, from the .xxiiii. daye of the .ix. mo-
neth, vnto the daye that the foundacion D
of the lordes temple was layed: marcke
it well, is not the sede yet in the barne:
haue not the vines, ỹ figetrees, ỹ pome granates and olyue trees bene yet vn-
frutful: but from this day forth, I shal
make them to prospere.

Moreouer the .xxiiii. daye of the mo
neth came the worde of the Lorde vnto
Aggeus againe, saiyng: Speke to zoro
babel the prince of Juda, and saye: I wil
shake both heauen and earth, and ouer-
throwe the seate of the kyngdomes, yea
and destroie the mightie kingdome of ỹ
Heathen. I wil ouerthrow the charettes
and those that syt vpon them, so ỹ both
horse and man shal fal downe, euery mā
thorow his neighoures sweard. And as for thee, O zorobabel (sayeth the Lord
of hooستes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruaunt: I wyl take thee, saieth ỹ Lord
at the same tyme/ & make thee as a seale
for I haue chosen thee, saieth the Lord
of hooستes.

The ende of the prophecy
of Aggeus.

The Boke of
the Prophete zachary.

The moueth the people to returne to the Lord, and to eschue the wikednesses of their fathers. He prefy-gureth Christ and the Apostles.

The .first. Chapter.

IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yeare of kyng Dari- A
us, came the word of ỹ lord
vnto zachary ỹ sōne of Ba-
rachias, the sonne of Iddo,
the Prophete, saiyng: the lord hath ben Mat, xxiii, c
sore dyspleased at your forefathers.
And saye thou vnto them: thus sayeth ỹ
Lorde of hooستes. Turne you vnto me
(sayeth the Lord of hooستes) and I wyl
turne me vnto you, sayeth the Lorde of
hostes.

Of Jerusalém ȝ many visions.

The Prophecy

Jere, xliiii, c
Psal, lxxviii

Be not ye lyke youre forefathers, vnto whome the prophetes cried afore tyme, saiyng: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of hostes: Turne you from your euel waies and from youre wicked ymagynacyons, But they wolde not hear, nor regard me sayeth the Lord. What is nowe become of youre forefathers and the prophetes? are they yet styll aliue? But dyd not my wordes & statutes (whiche I commaunded by my Seruauntes the Prophetes) touche your forefathers? Upō this, they gaue answere and sayde: lyke as ȳ Lord of hostes deuised to do vnto vs, according to oure owne wayes and ymagynacions, euen so hath he dealte with vs.

Ose. xiiii. a
Eze. xxx. iii. b

Jere xliii. a
xxv, c

B

Upon the. xxiiii. daye of the. xi. moneth which is the moneth Sebat in the secōd yeare of Darius, came the Woorde of the Lord vnto Zachary the sonne of Barachias, the sonne of Addo the Prophet saiyng: I sawe by night, and lo, ther sat one vpon a read horse, & stode stil amōg the Myrte tres that were beneth vpō ȳ groūde: & behynd him were ther red speckled/and whyte horses. Then sayde I: O my Lord, what are these? And the aūgel ȳ talcked with me, sayed vnto me, I wyl shew thee what these be. And the mā ȳ stod among the Myrte tres, answered & sayde: These are they, whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the worlde. And they answered the aungell of the Lorde, that stod amonst the Myrte tres, & sayd. We haue gone thorow the worlde: and behold al the worlde dwel at ease ād are careless

C

Then the Lordes angel gaue answer and sayde: O Lorde of hostes, how lōge wylt thou be vnmerciful to Ierusalem and to the cyties of Juda with whom ȳ hast bene Dysplcased nowe these. lxx. yeres? So the Lord gaue a louing ād a confortable answere vnto the aungell ȳ talked with me. And the angell that cōmoned with me, sayde vnto me: Crye ȳ, and speake: Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes: I am exceadyng gelous ouer Ierusalem and Syon and sore dysplcased at the careless Heathen: for where as I was but a lytle angry, they did their best that I might destroy them.

Jerem, xxv b
xxix. b, i, Esdr, i a

D

Therfore thus sayeth the Lord, I wyl turne me agayne in mercy towarde Jerusalem, so that my house shalbe bulded in it, sayeth the lord of hoostes: yea and the plommet shalbe layde abroade in Jerusalem, sayeth the lord of hostes.

Zach. viii. B

Crye also and speake: thus sayeth ȳ Lorde of hostes: My cyties shalbe in good prosperitie agayne, the Lord shal yet comfort Sion, and chose Jerusalem Then lifte I vp myne eyes and sawe, & beholde * foure hornes. And I sayd vnto ȳ angel, that talked with me: what be these? he answered me: These ar the hornes which haue scatered Juda, Israel and Jerusalem abrode. And the Lorde shewed me. iiii carpenters. Then sayd I, what wyll these do? He answered and sayde: These are ȳ hornes, which haue so strowed Juda abroade, that no man durst lyfte vp his head: But these are come to fraye them awaye/and to caste out the hornes of the gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the lande of Juda, to scatre it abrode.

The Notes

* These, iiii, hornes sygnifye, iiii, kyngdomes.

The renewynge of Jerusalem and Juda.

The ii. Capter,

A

Eze, xl iii b
Apo, xx, c

I Lyft vp myne eyes agayn, and looked, and beholde, a mā wyth a measure lyne in hys hande. Then sayde I: whether goest thou? ād he sayde vnto me: To measure Jerusalem, that I maye see how longe & howe broade it is. And beholde, the Aungell that talked with me, wēt hys way forth. Then went there oute another Aungell to mete him, and sayd vnto him: Rume, speake to thys yong manne, and saye: Jerusalem shalbe inhabyted wythoute any wall, for the very multitude of peoȳ ple and catell/that shall be therin. Yea, I my selfe (sayth the Lorde) wyll be vnto her a wall of fyre rounde aboute, and wyll be honoured in her.

B

O, get you forth: O, flie from the lād of the north, sayeth the lorde, ye whome I haue scattered īto ȳ foure wyndes a* vnder heauen sayth the lord. Saue thy selfe, O Sion: thou that dwellest w̄ the doughter

Of Jerusalém ȝ many visions.

The Prophecy

Jere, xliiii, c
Psal, lxxviii

Be not ye lyke youre forefathers, vnto whome the prophetes cried afore tyme, saiyng: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of hostes: Turne you from your euel waies and from youre wicked ymagynacyons, But they wolde not hear, nor regard me sayeth the Lord. What is nowe become of youre forefathers and the prophetes? are they yet styll aliue? But dyd not my wordes & statutes (whiche I commaunded by my Seruauntes the Prophetes) touche your forefathers? Upō this, they gaue answere and sayde: lyke as ȳ Lord of hostes deuised to do vnto vs, according to oure owne wayes and ymagynacions, euen so hath he dealte with vs.

Ose. xiiii. a
Eze. xxx. iii. b

Jere xliii. a
xxv, c

B

Upon the. xxiiii. daye of the. xi. moneth which is the moneth Sebat in the secōd yeare of Darius, came the Woorde of the Lord vnto Zachary the sonne of Barachias, the sonne of Addo the Prophet saiyng: I sawe by night, and lo, ther sat one vpon a read horse, & stode stil amōg the Myrte tres that were beneth vpō ȳ groūde: & behynd him were ther red speckled/and whyte horses. Then sayde I: O my Lord, what are these? And the aūgel ȳ talcked with me, sayed vnto me, I wyl shew thee what these be. And the mā ȳ stod among the Myrte tres, answered & sayde: These are they, whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the worlde. And they answered the aungell of the Lorde, that stod amonst the Myrte tres, & sayd. We haue gone thorow the worlde: and behold al the worlde dwel at ease ād are careless

C

Then the Lordes angel gaue answer and sayde: O Lorde of hostes, how lōge wylt thou be vnmerciful to Ierusalem and to the cyties of Juda with whom ȳ hast bene Dysplcased nowe these. lxx. yeres? So the Lord gaue a louing ād a confortable answere vnto the aungell ȳ talked with me. And the angell that cōmoned with me, sayde vnto me: Crye ȳ, and speake: Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes: I am exceadyng gelous ouer Ierusalem and Syon and sore dysplcased at the careless Heathen: for where as I was but a lytle angry, they did their best that I might destroy them.

Jerem, xxv b
xxix. b, i, Esdr, i a

D

Therfore thus sayeth the Lord, I wyl turne me agayne in mercy towarde Jerusalem, so that my house shalbe bulded in it, sayeth the lord of hoostes: yea and the plommet shalbe layde abroade in Jerusalem, sayeth the lord of hostes.

Zach. viii. B

Crye also and speake: thus sayeth ȳ Lorde of hostes: My cyties shalbe in good prosperitie agayne, the Lord shal yet comfort Sion, and chose Jerusalem Then lifte I vp myne eyes and sawe, & beholde * foure hornes. And I sayd vnto ȳ angel, that talked with me: what be these? he answered me: These ar the hornes which haue scatered Juda, Israel and Jerusalem abrode. And the Lorde shewed me. iiii carpenters. Then sayd I, what wyll these do? He answered and sayde: These are ȳ hornes, which haue so strowed Juda abroade, that no man durst lyfte vp his head: But these are come to fraye them awaye/and to caste out the hornes of the gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the lande of Juda, to scatre it abrode.

The Notes

* These, iiii, hornes sygnifye, iiii, kyngdomes.

The renewynge of Jerusalem and Juda.

The ii. Capter,

A

Eze, xl iii b
Apo, xx, c

I Lyft vp myne eyes agayn, and looked, and beholde, a mā wyth a measure lyne in hys hande. Then sayde I: whether goest thou? ād he sayde vnto me: To measure Jerusalem, that I maye see how longe & howe broade it is. And beholde, the Aungell that talked with me, wēt hys way forth. Then went there oute another Aungell to mete him, and sayd vnto him: Rume, speake to thys yong manne, and saye: Jerusalem shalbe inhabyted wythoute any wall, for the very multitude of peoȳ ple and catell/that shall be therin. Yea, I my selfe (sayth the Lorde) wyll be vnto her a wall of fyre rounde aboute, and wyll be honoured in her.

B

O, get you forth: O, flie from the lād of the north, sayeth the lorde, ye whome I haue scattered īto ȳ foure wyndes a* vnder heauen sayth the lord. Saue thy selfe, O Sion: thou that dwellest w̄ the doughter

doughterof Babilon. For thus saith the lord of hosts: w a gloryous power hath he sent me out to the heathē, which spoiled you: for who so toucheth you, shall touch the aple of his owne eye. Behold I wyl lyfte vp myne hande ouer theim so that they shalbe spoyled of those, which ahore serued them: and ye shal know that the lord of hooستes hath sent me.

Be glad and reioyce, O daughter* of Sion for lo, I am com to dwel in the middest of thee, sayeth the Lord. At the same tyme there shal many heathē cleue to the lord, and shalbe my people. Thus wyll I dwel in the middest of thee, and thou shalte knowe, that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto thee. The lord shal haue Juda i possessiō for his parte in the holy ground, and shal chose Jerusalem yet agayne. Let al flesh be still before the Lorde, for he is rysen out of his holy place.

The notes.

a* By the, iiii wyndes is vnderstand the whole worlde, as in Wath. xxiii. c

Daughter of Sion for all the people, as in ỹ Psal xxix. a

C Of the lawe and hye estate of Chryste vnder the figure of Jesua the preest: A prophecy of Chryst.

The. iii. Chapter.

AND he shewed me Jesua ỹ hye preest standyng before ỹ angell of the Lorde, and Satan stod at his right hād to resist him. And ỹ Lorde said vnto Satā, The Lord reproue thee (ỹ Satan) yea the Lorde that hath chosen Jerusalem reproue thee. Is not this A brande taken out of ỹ fyer? Now Jesua was clothed in vncleane rayment ād stod before the angell: whiche answered and sayde vnto those, that stode before him: take away the foule clothes from hym. And vnto him he sayde: Behold, I haue taken awaye thy sinne frome thee, ād wyll deck thee w chaunge of rayment. B He said moreouer: set a fayer myter vpō his heade. So they set a fyre miter vpō his hade ād put on clothes vpon him/ād ỹ angel of the lord stode there. Then the aungel of the lord testified vnto Jesua ād spake, thus sayeth the lord of hostes If thou wylte walcke in my wayes, and kepe my watch: thou shalt rule my house and kepe my courtes, and I wyll geue thee place among these that stande here. Here O Jesua thou hyhe preest, thou ād thy fryendes that dwell before thee, for they are wounderous people. Behold, I wyll bringe forthe the braunche of my seruaunt: for lo ỹ stone that I haue layd before Jesua: vpō one stone shalbe vii. eyes. Behold I will hewe hym out (sayth the Lorde of hooستes) and take away the synne of that lande in one daye Then shal euery man cal for hys neighbour, vnder the vyne and vnder the fig tree/ sayeth the lord of hostes.

The vision of the golden candelstick, and the exposition ther of.

The. iiii. Chapter.

AND the Aungell that talked w me, came agayne, and wakedde me vp, as a man that is rayled out of his sleape, and sayde vnto me: what seest thou? And I sayde: I haue loked and beholde: a candelstycke al of golde, wyth a boll vpon it and hys seue Lampes therin, and vpon euery lampe vii. stalckes. And two olyue trees therby one vpon the tyghte syde of the boll, and the other vpon the left syde. So I answered/ and spake to the aungel that talked wyth me, saying: O my lorde, what are these? The aungel that talked wyth me, answered and saide vn to me: knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde: No my lorde. Ye answerd and sayde vnto me: thys is the word of the lord vnto Zorobabell saiynge: Neyther thorowe an hooste of men, nor thorow strenght, but thorow my Spirite, sayth the lorde of hooستes. What arte ỹ thou greate mountayne before Zorobabell? thou muste be made euen: And he shall bringe vp the fyrste stone, so that men shall crye vnto hym: Good lucke, good lucke.

C Moreouer the worde of the Lorde cam vnto me, saiyng: The hādes of Zorobabel haue layde the foundacion of this house, his handes shall also fynysche it that ye mate knowe how that the Lorde of hooستes hath sent me vnto you. For he that hathe beine despreed a lytle season, shal reioice, whē he seth the tinne weight in Zorobabels hand. The vii. eies are the lordes which go through ỹ whole world Then answered I, and sayde vnto him: What are these. ¶ Olyue trees vpon the doughterof Babilon. For thus saith the lord of hosts: w a gloryous power hath he sent me out to the heathē, which spoiled you: for who so toucheth you, shall touch the aple of his owne eye. Behold I wyl lyfte vp myne hande ouer theim so that they shalbe spoyled of those, which ahore serued them: and ye shal know that the lord of hooستes hath sent me.

Be glad and reioyce, O daughter* of Sion for lo, I am com to dwel in the middest of thee, sayeth the Lord. At the same tyme there shal many heathē cleue to the lord, and shalbe my people. Thus wyll I dwel in the middest of thee, and thou shalte knowe, that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto thee. The lord shal haue Juda i possessiō for his parte in the holy ground, and shal chose Jerusalem yet agayne. Let al flesh be still before the Lorde, for he is rysen out of his holy place.

The notes.

a* By the, iiii wyndes is vnderstand the whole worlde, as in Wath. xxiii. c

Daughter of Sion for all the people, as in ỹ Psal xxix. a

C Of the lawe and hye estate of Chryste vnder the figure of Jesua the preest: A prophecy of Chryst.

The. iii. Chapter.

AND he shewed me Jesua ỹ hye preest standyng before ỹ angell of the Lorde, and Satan stod at his right hād to resist him. And ỹ Lorde said vnto Satā, The Lord reproue thee (ỹ Satan) yea the Lorde that hath chosen Jerusalem reproue thee. Is not this A brande taken out of ỹ fyer? Now Jesua was clothed in vncleane rayment ād stod before the angell: whiche answered and sayde vnto those, that stode before him: take away the foule clothes from hym. And vnto him he sayde: Behold, I haue taken awaye thy sinne frome thee, ād wyll deck thee w chaunge of rayment. B He said moreouer: set a fayer myter vpō his heade. So they set a fyre miter vpō his hade ād put on clothes vpon him/ād ỹ angel of the lord stode there. Then the aungel of the lord testified vnto Jesua ād spake, thus sayeth the lord of hostes If thou wylte walcke in my wayes, and kepe my watch: thou shalt rule my house and kepe my courtes, and I wyll geue thee place among these that stande here. Here O Jesua thou hyhe preest, thou ād thy fryendes that dwell before thee, for they are wounderous people. Behold, I wyll bringe forthe the braunche of my seruaunt: for lo ỹ stone that I haue layd before Jesua: vpō one stone shalbe vii. eyes. Behold I will hewe hym out (sayth the Lorde of hooستes) and take away the synne of that lande in one daye Then shal euery man cal for hys neighbour, vnder the vyne and vnder the fig tree/ sayeth the lord of hostes.

The vision of the golden candelstick, and the exposition ther of.

The. iiii. Chapter.

AND the Aungell that talked w me, came agayne, and wakedde me vp, as a man that is rayled out of his sleape, and sayde vnto me: what seest thou? And I sayde: I haue loked and beholde: a candelstycke al of golde, wyth a boll vpon it and hys seue Lampes therin, and vpon euery lampe vii. stalckes. And two olyue trees therby one vpon the tyghte syde of the boll, and the other vpon the left syde. So I answered/ and spake to the aungel that talked wyth me, saying: O my lorde, what are these? The aungel that talked wyth me, answered and saide vn to me: knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde: No my lorde. Ye answerd and sayde vnto me: thys is the word of the lord vnto Zorobabell saiynge: Neyther thorowe an hooste of men, nor thorow strenght, but thorow my Spirite, sayth the lorde of hooستes. What arte ỹ thou greate mountayne before Zorobabell? thou muste be made euen: And he shall bringe vp the fyrste stone, so that men shall crye vnto hym: Good lucke, good lucke.

C Moreouer the worde of the Lorde cam vnto me, saiyng: The hādes of Zorobabel haue layde the foundacion of this house, his handes shall also fynysche it that ye mate knowe how that the Lorde of hooستes hath sent me vnto you. For he that hathe beine despreed a lytle season, shal reioice, whē he seth the tinne weight in Zorobabels hand. The vii. eies are the lordes which go through ỹ whole world Then answered I, and sayde vnto him: What are these. ¶ Olyue trees vpon the

The Prophecy

the ryght and left syde of the cãdelstick?
I spake moreouer, and said vnto him:
what be these .ii. olyue braũches (which thorow the two golden pypes) emptye
them selues into the gold? he answered
me, and sayde: knowest thou not, what these be? and I sayde no, my LORD.
Apo,xi,a then sayde he: These are the two olyue
braunches, that stande before the ruler
of the whole earth.

¶ The vision of the flyynge boke; signifiynge the curse of theues and suche as abuse the name of god. By the vision of the measure, is sygnifyed the bryngynge of Juda to babylon.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

A SO I turned me, liftyng vp myn eyes, & loked, & behold a a* fliyng boke, & he saide vnto me: what seest thou? I ãswered: I se a fliyg boke of .xx. cubites long, & .x. cubites broade. Then sayd he vnto me: Thys is the curse, that goeth forth ouer the wholeearth: forall theues shalbe iudged after this boke, & al swerers shalbe iudged accordyng to the same, I wyl bryng it forthe (saith B the Lord of hostes) so that it shall come to the house of the chefe, and to ỹ house of him ỹ falsely sweareth by my name: & shall remayne in hys house, and consume it, wyth the tymbre and stones therof. Then the Aungell that talked wyth me, went forth, and sayde vnto me: lyft vp thyne eyes and see, what thys is ỹ goeth forth. And I sayde: what is it? ¶ He answered: thys is a measure going out. He sayed moreouer: Euen thus are they (that dwell vpon the whole earth) to loke vppon. And beholde there was lyft vp a talent of leade: and lo, a womã sate in the Myddeste of the Measure And he sayd: thys is vngolynes. So he caste her in to the middest of the measure, and threwe the lompe of led vp into an whole.

Then lyft I vp myne eyes, and loked: and beholde, there came out .ii. women and the wynde was in theyr wynges (for they had wynges lyke the winges of a storcke) & they lyft vp the measure betwyxt the earth and the heauen Then spake I to the Aungell that talked wyth me: whether wyll these beare the measure? & he sayd, vnto me: into ỹ lãd of Synear, to buyld them an house:

D which when it is prepared, the measure shal be set ther in his place Gene,xb

The notes.

a* This fliyng bocke was a rolle turned rounde about a staffe, which the inhabiters of the est parte of the woryld do yet cal a boke, & do also vse theym. ¶ By the iiii. charetes, he declareth the prosperyte of .iiii. kyngdomes.

The .vi. Chapter.

MOreouer I turned me, liftynge vp mine eyes, and loked: and beholde there came .iiii. charettes A out from betwyxte two hylles, which hylles were of brasse: In the fyrst charet were reade horse, in the seconde Zach,i,b. charett were blacke horse, in the thyrde Apo,vi,a charet were whyte horse, in the fourthe Charette were horses of diuers colours and stronge. Then spake I & saide vnto the aungel that talked with me: O Lord, what are these. The angel answered, and sayde vnto me. These are the. B iiii. windes of the Heauen, which become Jerem,xiii,b forth to stand before the ruler of all thee earth. That with the blacke horse wẽte in to the lande of the north, and the whit followed them, and the speackled horses went forth toward the south. These horses were very strong, and went out: and soughte to goo and take their iourneye ouer the whole earth. And he sayde: get you hence, and go thorow the worlde. So they went thorowe out the worlde. Then etied he vpon me, and spake vnto me, sayenge: beholde, these that go towarde the north, shal styll my wrath in ỹ north countre.

And the word of the lorde came vnto me, saying: ¶ Take of the presones that are come from Babilõ: namely, Heldai. C Tobiah and Idaia: and come thou the same daye, and go into the house of Josiah the sonne of Sophony. Then take gold and siluer, and make crownes therof, and set them vpon the head of Jesua the sonne of Josedeh, the hye prest, and speake vnto him: Thus saith the lord of hoostes: Beholde the man whose name Zach,iii,b is the braunche: & he that shall sprynge Psal,cxxviii vp after him, shall buylde vp the temple Ap,iiii b,v,b of the Lord. Yea euen he shal buyld vp the temple of the lord. He shal beare the prayse, he shal sit vpon the lordes trone, and haue the domination.

A prest shal he be also vpõ his trone, & a peacable councell shall be betwyxte them

The Prophecy

the ryght and left syde of the cãdelstick?
I spake moreouer, and said vnto him:
what be these .ii. olyue braũches (which thorow the two golden pypes) emptye
them selues into the gold? he answered
me, and sayde: knowest thou not, what
these be? and I sayde no, my LORD.
Apo,xi,a then sayde he: These are the two olyue
braunches, that stande before the ruler
of the whole earth.

¶ The vision of the flyynge boke; signifiynge the curse of theues and suche as abuse the name of god. By the vision of the measure, is sygnifyed the bryngynge of Juda to babylon.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

A SO I turned me, liftyng vp myn eyes, & loked, & behold a a* fliyng boke, & he saide vnto me: what seest thou? I ãswered: I se a fliyg boke of .xx. cubites long, & .x. cubites broade. Then sayd he vnto me: Thys is the curse, that goeth forth ouer the wholeearth: forall theues shalbe iudged after this boke, & al swerers shalbe iudged accordyng to the same, I wyl bryng it forthe (saith B the Lord of hostes) so that it shall come to the house of the chefe, and to ỹ house of him ỹ falsely sweareth by my name: & shall remayne in hys house, and consume it, wyth the tymbre and stones therof. Then the Aungell that talked wyth me, went forth, and sayde vnto me: lyft vp thyne eyes and see, what thys is ỹ goeth forth. And I sayde: what is it? ¶ He answered: thys is a measure going out. He sayed moreouer: Euen thus are they (that dwell vpon the whole earth) to loke vppon. And beholde there was lyft vp a talent of leade: and lo, a womã sate in the Myddeste of the Measure And he sayd: thys is vngolynes. So he caste her in to the middest of the measure, and threwe the lompe of led vp into an whole.

Then lyft I vp myne eyes, and loked: and beholde, there came out .ii. women and the wynde was in theyr wynges (for they had wynges lyke the winges of a storcke) & they lyft vp the measure betwyxt the earth and the heauen Then spake I to the Aungell that talked wyth me: whether wyll these beare the measure? & he sayd, vnto me: into ỹ lãd of Synear, to buyld them an house:

D which when it is prepared, the measure shal be set ther in his place Gene,xb

The notes.

a* This fliyng bocke was a rolle turned rounde about a staffe, which the inhabiters of the est parte of the woryld do yet cal a boke, & do also vse theym. ¶ By the iiii. charetes, he declareth the prosperyte of .iiii. kyngdomes.

The .vi. Chapter.

MOreouer I turned me, liftynge vp mine eyes, and loked: and beholde there came .iiii. charettes A out from betwyxte two hylles, which hylles were of brasse: In the fyrst charet were reade horse, in the seconde Zach,i,b. charett were blacke horse, in the thyrde Apo,vi,a charet were whyte horse, in the fourthe Charette were horses of diuers colours and stronge. Then spake I & saide vnto the aungel that talked with me: O Lord, what are these. The angel answered, and sayde vnto me. These are the. B iiii. windes of the Heauen, which become Jerem,xiii,b forth to stand before the ruler of all thee earth. That with the blacke horse wẽte in to the lande of the north, and the whit followed them, and the speackled horses went forth toward the south. These horses were very strong, and went out: and soughte to goo and take their iourneye ouer the whole earth. And he sayde: get you hence, and go thorow the worlde. So they went thorowe out the worlde. Then etied he vpon me, and spake vnto me, sayenge: beholde, these that go towarde the north, shal styll my wrath in ỹ north countre.

And the word of the lorde came vnto me, saying: ¶ Take of the presones that are come from Babilõ: namely, Heldai. C Tobiah and Idaia: and come thou the same daye, and go into the house of Josiah the sonne of Sophony. Then take gold and siluer, and make crownes therof, and set them vpon the head of Jesua the sonne of Josedeh, the hye prest, and speake vnto him: Thus saith the lord of hoostes: Beholde the man whose name Zach,iii,b is the braunche: & he that shall sprynge Psal,cxxviii vp after him, shall buylde vp the temple Ap,iiii b,v,b of the Lord. Yea euen he shal buyld vp the temple of the lord. He shal beare the prayse, he shal sit vpon the lordes trone, and haue the domination.

A prest shal he be also vpõ his trone, & a peacable councell shall be betwyxte them

them both. And the crownes shalbe in the temple of the lord/for a remembraūce vnto Helem, Tobiah, Idaia and Hen the sonne of Sophony. And such as be farre of, shall come and buylde the temple of the lorde, that ye may know/ how that the Lorde of Hooste hath sent me vnto you. And this shall come to passe, yf ye wil herkē diligētly vnto the voyce of the lord your god.

¶ The estimation of fasting whout mercye. The dyspytynge of charyte, and the obstynacye of the people.

The.vii.Chapter.

IT happened also in the fourth yeare of kinge darius, that the word of the Lorde came vnto zachary in the fourthe daye of the.ix.moneth, which is called *Casteu: what tyme as Sarasar and Rogomelech and the men that were withe them sent vnto Bethel for to praye before the Lord: and that they shoulde saye vnto ỹ preastes, whiche were in the house of the Lord of hooste, and to the Prophetes: Shoulde I wepe in the fyfte moneth, & abstayne, as I haue done now certaine yeares? Then came the word of ỹ Lorde of hooste vnto me, saying Speake vnto al the people of the lande, and to the preastes, and saye: when ye fasted & moorned in the v and vii. moneth (now we this. lxx. yeares) did ye fast vnto me? When ye ate also and dronke, did ye not eate & drinke for your owne selues? Are not these the wordes, which ỹ lord spake by his prophtes afore tyme, when Jerusalem was yet inhabited and welthy, she & the cyties rounde about her: when there dwelt men, both toward the south and in the playne countrees?

* That is no membre.

iiii. Re. xxv b

B Jere. xli a

C And the word of the Lord came vnto zachary, sayeng: Thus sayeth ỹ lord of hooste: Execut true iudgemente: shewe mercy and louinge kindnes, euery man to hys brother. Do the wyddowe, the fatherles, the straunger, and poore no wronge: And let no man ymmagyn euell agaynste hys brother in hys herte. Neuertheles they wolde not take hede, but turned their backes,

zach. viii. c
Exod. xxii, e

and stopped theyr eares that they shold not heare: ye they made theyr hertes as an Adamant Stone, least they shoulde heare the lawe and woordes, whyche the Lorde of hooste, sent in hys holy spryte by the prophetes afore tyme.

ii. Pet. i. d.

D Wherfore the Lorde of Hoste was very wroth at them. And thus is it come to passe, that lyke as he spake, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I woulde not heare (sayth the Lorde of Hooste) but scattered them amonge all Gentyles, whom they knewe not. Thus the land was made so desolate, that ther trauayled no man in it, neyther to, nor fro, for that pleasaunt land was vtterly layed waste.

Jere. xl. b

Of the returne of the people vnto Jerusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them, Of good workes. The Callyng of the gentyls.

The viii. Capter,

A SO the worde of the lorde came vnto me, sayeng: Thus sayth the Lorde of hooste: I was in a great gelousy ouer Syon, yea I haue bene very gelous ouer her in a great displeasure, thus sayth the Lorde of hooste: I wyll turne me agayne vnto Syon, and wyll dwell in the myddest of Jerusalem: so that Jerusalem shalbe called a faythefull and true cytye, the hyll of the Lorde of hooste, yea an holy hyll.

Thus sayth the Lorde of hooste: There shal yet olde men & women dwell agayne in the stretes of Jerusalem: yea, and such as go wyth staues in theyr hādes for very age. The stretes of the cyty also shalbe ful of young boyes, and dāsels, playynge vpon the stretes.

B Thus sayth the Lord of hooste: if the residue of thys people, thynk it to be impossible in these days, should it therfor be vnpossible in my sight, saith the lorde of hooste? thus sayth ỹ Lord of hooste: Beholde, I wyll delyuer my people frō the lande of the east & weste, & wyl bring them agayne: ỹ they maye dwel at Jerusalem. They shalbe my people, & I wyl be their God in trueth ād rghtuousnes.

Thus sayth the Lord of hooste: let youre handes be strounge, ye that now heare these wordes by the mouthe of the prophetes

them both. And the crownes shalbe in the temple of the lord/for a remembraūce vnto Helem, Tobiah, Idaia and Hen the sonne of Sophony. And such as be farre of, shall come and buylde the temple of the lorde, that ye may know/ how that the Lorde of Hooste hath sent me vnto you. And this shall come to passe, yf ye wil herkē diligētly vnto the voyce of the lord your god.

¶ The estimation of fasting whout mercye. The dyspytynge of charyte, and the obstynacye of the people.

The.vii.Chapter.

IT happened also in the fourth yeare of kinge darius, that the word of the Lorde came vnto zachary in the fourthe daye of the.ix.moneth, which is called *Casteu: what tyme as Sarasar and Rogomelech and the men that were withe them sent vnto Bethel for to praye before the Lord: and that they shoulde saye vnto ỹ preastes, whiche were in the house of the Lord of hooste, and to the Prophetes: Shoulde I wepe in the fyfte moneth, & abstayne, as I haue done now certaine yeares? Then came the word of ỹ Lorde of hooste vnto me, saying Speake vnto al the people of the lande, and to the preastes, and saye: when ye fasted & moorned in the v and vii. moneth (now we this. lxx. yeares) did ye fast vnto me? When ye ate also and dronke, did ye not eate & drinke for your owne selues? Are not these the wordes, which ỹ lord spake by his prophtes afore tyme, when Jerusalem was yet inhabited and welthy, she & the cyties rounde about her: when there dwelt men, both toward the south and in the playne countrees?

* That is no membre.

iiii. Re. xxv b

B Jere. xli a

C And the word of the Lord came vnto zachary, sayeng: Thus sayeth ỹ lord of hooste: Execut true iudgemente: shewe mercy and louinge kindnes, euery man to hys brother. Do the wyddowe, the fatherles, the straunger, and poore no wronge: And let no man ymmagyn euell agaynste hys brother in hys herte. Neuertheles they wolde not take hede, but turned their backes,

zach. viii. c
Exod. xxii, e

and stopped theyr eares that they shold not heare: ye they made theyr hertes as an Adamant Stone, least they shoulde heare the lawe and woordes, whyche the Lorde of hooste, sent in hys holy spryte by the prophetes afore tyme.

ii. Pet. i. d.

D Wherfore the Lorde of Hoste was very wroth at them. And thus is it come to passe, that lyke as he spake, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I woulde not heare (sayth the Lorde of Hooste) but scattered them amonge all Gentyles, whom they knewe not. Thus the land was made so desolate, that ther trauayled no man in it, neyther to, nor fro, for that pleasaunt land was vtterly layed waste.

Jere. xl. b

Of the returne of the people vnto Jerusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them, Of good workes. The Callyng of the gentyls.

The viii. Capter,

A SO the worde of the lorde came vnto me, sayeng: Thus sayth the Lorde of hooste: I was in a great gelousy ouer Syon, yea I haue bene very gelous ouer her in a great displeasure, thus sayth the Lorde of hooste: I wyll turne me agayne vnto Syon, and wyll dwell in the myddest of Jerusalem: so that Jerusalem shalbe called a faythefull and true cytye, the hyll of the Lorde of hooste, yea an holy hyll.

Thus sayth the Lorde of hooste: There shal yet olde men & women dwell agayne in the stretes of Jerusalem: yea, and such as go wyth staues in theyr hādes for very age. The stretes of the cyty also shalbe ful of young boyes, and dāsels, playynge vpon the stretes.

B Thus sayth the Lord of hooste: if the residue of thys people, thynk it to be impossible in these days, should it therfor be vnpossible in my sight, saith the lorde of hooste? thus sayth ỹ Lord of hooste: Beholde, I wyll delyuer my people frō the lande of the east & weste, & wyl bring them agayne: ỹ they maye dwel at Jerusalem. They shalbe my people, & I wyl be their God in trueth ād rghtuousnes.

Thus sayth the Lord of hooste: let youre handes be strounge, ye that now heare these wordes by the mouthe of the prophetes

The prophecy

prophetes which be in these dayes that the foundacion is layed vpon the lord of hooستes house, that the temple maye be builded. For why: before these dates nether men nor catel could wynne any thynge, neither myght any man come in and out in rest, for trouble: but I let
E euery mā go agaynst his neyghboure:

Neuertheles I wyl now intreate the residue of this people nomore as a fore tyme, sayeth the Lorde of hooستes, but they shalbe a sede of peace. The vi-
niarde shal geue her frute/the ground shal geue her increase, and the heauēs shal geue their dewe: and I shall cause the remnaūte of this people, to haue al these in possession. And it shall come to passe/that lyke as ye were a curse a mouge the Heathen (O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel) Euen so wil I delyuer you, that yey shall be a blessyng: feare not/but let your handes be stronge.

For thus sayeth the lord of hostes:
F lyke as I deuysed to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath/sayeth the Lorde of hooستes/ and spared not: euen so am I determed nowe in these dayes/ for to do wel vnto the house of Juda and Jerusalem/ therfore feare ye not. Now the thinges that ye shal do, are these: Speke euery mā the treuth vnto his neighboure, exe cute iudgement truly, & peaceably wtin youre portes, none of you ymagin, euel in his hert agaynst his neyghboure/ & loue no false othes: for all these are the thinges that I hate, sayeth the Lorde. And the worde of the Lorde of hooستes came vnto me, saynge: thus sayeth the Lorde of hooستes: The faste of the fourth moneth/the fast of the fyfth the fast of the seuenth / and the faste of the tenth, shalbe ioye and gladnes, ād pros perous hye feastes vnto the house of Juda: Only, loue the truth and peace.
G Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes: There shall yet come people, and the i-habiters of many cyties; and they that dwel in one cyte, shal go to a nother sayn ge: Up, let vs go, and praye before ỹ Lorde, let vs seke the lorde of Hooستes: I wyll go with you: yea suche people & mighte heathen shall come & seke the Lorde of Hooستes at Jerusalem and to praye before the Lorde. Thus sayth the Lorde of hooستes: In that tyme shall ten men (oute of all maner of languages of the Gentyles) take one Jewe by the hem of hys garmente, and saye: We wyll go wyth you, for we haue heade, that god is among you.

The conuersion of the gentyles. The comming of Christ sytting on man Alle

☞ The.ix. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lorde shall A
be receaued at Adrach, & Damascus shalbe hys offering for the Eyes of all men and of the trybes of Israel, shal loke vp vnto the Lorde, The borders of Hemath shalbe hard therby Tyrus also and Sydon, for they are verye wyse. Tyrus shall make her selfe stronge, heape vp syluer as the sande and golde as ỹ claye of the streates. Beholde the Lorde shall take her in, and haue her in possessi on: he shal smyte downe her power into ỹ sea, and she shall be consumed wyth fyre. Thys shal Ascalon see, and be afrayde. Gaza shalbe very sorye, so shall Accarō also because her hope is come to confusyon. For the kynge of Gaza shal perysh B
and at Ascalon, shal no man dwell.

Straungers shall dwel in Asdod, ād as for the Pryde of the Phylistines I shall rote it oute.

a* Theyr bloude wyll I take awaye frō theyr mouth and theyr abhominacyons from among theyr teeth. Thus they shal be left for oure God: yea they shalbe as a prynce in Juda and Accaron lyke as Jebusi and so wyl I compasse my house rounde about with my men of warre going to and fro: that no oppressoure come vpon them anye more. For that haue I sene nowe wyth myne eyes.

Reioyce thou greatlye/ O doughter Sion: be glad, O doughter Jerusalem For lo thy kyng cummeth vnto thee, eue the ryghtuous and sauyour: Lowly and symple is he, he rydeth vppon an asse: I wyl rote out the Charettes from Ephraim and the horse from Jerusalem the ba tayle bowes shalbe destroyed. He shal

geue

The prophecy

prophetes which be in these dayes that the foundacion is layed vpon the lord of hooستes house, that the temple maye be builded. For why: before these dates nether men nor catel could wynne any thynge, neither myght any man come in and out in rest, for trouble: but I let
E euery mā go agaynst his neyghboure:

Neuertheles I wyl now intreate the residue of this people nomore as a fore tyme, sayeth the Lorde of hooستes, but they shalbe a sede of peace. The vi-
niarde shal geue her frute/the ground shal geue her increase, and the heauēs shal geue their dewe: and I shall cause the remnaūte of this people, to haue al these in possession. And it shall come to passe/that lyke as ye were a curse a mouge the Heathen (O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel) Euen so wil I delyuer you, that yey shall be a blessyng: feare not/but let your handes be stronge.

For thus sayeth the lord of hostes:
F lyke as I deuysed to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath/sayeth the Lorde of hooستes/ and spared not: euen so am I determed nowe in these dayes/ for to do wel vnto the house of Juda and Jerusalem/ therfore feare ye not. Now the thinges that ye shal do, are these: Speke euery mā the treuth vnto his neighboure, exe cute iudgement truly, & peaceably wtin youre portes, none of you ymagin, euel in his hert agaynst his neyghboure/ & loue no false othes: for all these are the thinges that I hate, sayeth the Lorde. And the worde of the Lorde of hooستes came vnto me, saynge: thus sayeth the Lorde of hooستes: The faste of the fourth moneth/the fast of the fyfth the fast of the seuenth / and the faste of the tenth, shalbe ioye and gladnes, ād pros perous hye feastes vnto the house of Juda: Only, loue the truth and peace.
G Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes: There shall yet come people, and the i-habiters of many cyties; and they that dwel in one cyte, shal go to a nother sayn ge: Up, let vs go, and praye before ỹ Lorde, let vs seke the lorde of Hooستes: I wyll go with you: yea suche people & mighte heathen shall come & seke the Lorde of Hooستes at Jerusalem and to praye before the Lorde. Thus sayth the Lorde of hooستes: In that tyme shall ten men (oute of all maner of languages of the Gentyles) take one Jewe by the hem of hys garmente, and saye: We wyll go wyth you, for we haue heade, that god is among you.

The conuersion of the gentyles. The comming of Christ sytting on man Alle

☞ The.ix. Chapter.

THe worde of the Lorde shall A
be receaued at Adrach, & Damascus shalbe hys offering for the Eyes of all men and of the trybes of Israel, shal loke vp vnto the Lorde, The borders of Hemath shalbe hard therby Tyrus also and Sydon, for they are verye wyse. Tyrus shall make her selfe stronge, heape vp syluer as the sande and golde as ỹ claye of the streates. Beholde the Lorde shall take her in, and haue her in possessi on: he shal smyte downe her power into ỹ sea, and she shall be consumed wyth fyre. Thys shal Ascalon see, and be afrayde. Gaza shalbe very sorye, so shall Accarō also because her hope is come to confu-
syon. For the kynge of Gaza shal perysh B
and at Ascalon, shal no man dwell.

Straungers shall dwel in Asdod, ād as for the Pryde of the Phylistines I shall rote it oute.

a* Theyr bloude wyll I take awaye frō theyr mouth and theyr abhominacyons from among theyr teeth. Thus they shal be left for oure God: yea they shalbe as a prynce in Juda and Accaron lyke as Jebusi and so wyl I compasse my house rounde about with my men of warre going to and fro: that no oppressoure come vpon them anye more. For that haue I sene nowe wyth myne eyes.

Reioyce thou greatlye/ O doughter Sion: be glad, O doughter Jerusalem For lo thy kyng cummeth vnto thee, eue the ryghtuous and sauyour: Lowly and symple is he, he rydeth vppon an asse: I wyl rote out the Charettes from Ephraim and the horse from Jerusalem the ba tayle bowes shalbe destroyed. He shal

geue

doctrine of peace vnto the Heathen, and his dominion shalbe from the one see to the other, and from the floudes to the endes of the worlde.

Thou also thorow the bloud of thy couenaunt: shalt lette thy prisoners out of ỹ pitte wherin is no water. Turne you now to the strong holde, ye that be in prison, and longe sore to be deliuered: And this daye I bringe thee worde, that I wyll reward thee double agayne. For Iuda haue I bente out as a bowe for me and Ephraim haue I filled. Thy sonnes (O Sion) wil I raise vp against ỹ Grekes and make thee as a giauntes swearde, ỹ Lorde God shalbe seene aboue them, & his dartes shal go forthe as the lyghtening. The Lord God shall blow ỹ trompet, and shal come forth as a storme out of the south.

D Zach. ii, a Ecc. xlvii a

The Lord of hostes shal defend them, they shal consume and deuoure, and subdue them with slinge stones. They shal drincke ād rage, as it were thorow wyne. they shalbe fylled lyke ỹ basēs/ & as the hornes of the aulter. The Lorde theyr God shal deliuer them in the daye, as ỹ flock of his people: for the stones of his Sanctuary shalbe set vp in his lande. O how prosperous ād goodly a thinge shal ỹ be. The corne shal make the yonge men chearefull, ād new wyn ỹ maydens.

The people is moued to requyre ỹ doctrine of truth of ỹ Lord. The lord promiseth to vyset & cōforth the house of Israel,

The.x. Chapter.

A PRay the Lord then bytimes to geue you ỹ *latter rayne, so shal ỹ lorde mak cloudes and geue you rayneynough for all the increace of ỹ felde: For vayne is the answere of Idols. The sothsayers se lies, ād tel but vayne dreames: the comforth that they geue, is nothing worth. Therfore go they astray lyke a flocke of shepe, and are troubled, because they haue no shepherd: My wroth ful displeasure is moued at ỹ shepherdes, and I will vyset the goates. For the Lord of hostes will graciously vyse this flocke the house of Iuda, and holde thē as a goodly fayre horse in the batel.

Out of Iuda shal come the helmet the nale: the batelbowe, and all the prynces together. They shalbe as the giaūtes which in the battel treade downe ỹ mire vpon the stretes. They shal fyght, for ỹ Lord shalbe with them, so that the horsemen shalbe confounded. Esai. xxii, b. Genes xix, b

I wyll comfort the house of Iuda and preserue the house of Ioseph. I wil turne them also, for I pitie them: & they C shalbe lyke as they were, when I had not cast them of. For I the Lord am their god and wyl heare them. Ephraim shal be as a giaunt, & their herte shalbe chere ful as thorow wyne: yea, their children shal se it, and be glad, and their hert shal reioice in the Lord. I wyl blowe for thē, and gather them together/ for I wil redeme them. They shall increase, as they increased afore. I wyl sowe them amōg the people, that they may thyncke vpon me in farre countrees: they shal lyue w̄ their children, and turne agayne. I wyl bringe them agayne also from the land D of Egipt, and gather them out of Assiria. I wyl cary them into the lād of Galaad, and to Libanus and they shal want no thynge. Esay. x, a Eze. xxix

The sea shal goo vpon the sea of trouble, and smite the sea waues: so that al the depe floudes shalbe dried vp. The proude boostig of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egipt shalbe taken awaye. I wyll comfort them in the lord, that they maie walke in his name, saieth the lord.

The destructiō of the tēple. The care of the fayth ful is cōmytted to Christ, by the father. A greuous vysion agaynst Ierusalem & Iudā,

The.xi. Chapter.

A OPen thy doores, O Libanus, that the fyre maye consume thy Cedre trees. A

Howle ye Fyrre trees, for the Cedre is fallen, yea all the proude are wasted awaye. Howle (O ye oke trees of Baasan) for ỹ mighty stronge wode is cutt downe. Men may heare the Shepherdes mourne for their glory is destroyed. Men maye heare the lyons whelpes roare for ỹ pryde of Iordane is wasted awaye.

Zach. xi, a

B

doctrine of peace vnto the Heathen, and his dominion shalbe from the one see to the other, and from the floudes to the endes of the worlde.

Thou also thorow the bloud of thy couenaunt: shalt lette thy prisoners out of ỹ pitte wherin is no water. Turne you now to the strong holde, ye that be in prison, and longe sore to be deliuered: And this daye I bringe thee worde, that I wyll reward thee double agayne. For Iuda haue I bente out as a bowe for me and Ephraim haue I filled. Thy sonnes (O Sion) wil I raise vp against ỹ Grekes and make thee as a giauntes swearde, ỹ Lorde God shalbe seene aboue them, & his dartes shal go forthe as the lyghtening. The Lord God shall blow ỹ trompet, and shal come forth as a storme out of the south.

D Zach. ii, a Ecc. xlvii a

The Lord of hostes shal defend them, they shal consume and deuoure, and subdue them with slinge stones. They shal drincke ād rage, as it were thorow wyne. they shalbe fylled lyke ỹ basēs/ & as the hornes of the aulter. The Lorde theyr God shal deliuer them in the daye, as ỹ flock of his people: for the stones of his Sanctuary shalbe set vp in his lande. O how prosperous ād goodly a thinge shal ỹ be. The corne shal make the yonge men chearefull, ād new wyn ỹ maydens.

The people is moued to requyre ỹ doctrine of truth of ỹ Lord. The lord promiseth to vyset & cōforth the house of Israel,

The.x. Chapter.

A PRay the Lord then bytimes to geue you ỹ *latter rayne, so shal ỹ lorde mak cloudes and geue you rayneynough for all the increace of ỹ felde: For vayne is the answere of Idols. The sothsayers se lies, ād tel but vayne dreames: the comforth that they geue, is nothing worth. Therfore go they astray lyke a flocke of shepe, and are troubled, because they haue no shepherd: My wroth ful displeasure is moued at ỹ shepherdes, and I will vyset the goates. For the Lord of hostes will graciously vyse this flocke the house of Iuda, and holde thē as a goodly fayre horse in the batel.

Out of Iuda shal come the helmet the nale: the batelbowe, and all the prynces together. They shalbe as the giaūtes which in the battel treade downe ỹ mire vpon the stretes. They shal fyght, for ỹ Lord shalbe with them, so that the horsemen shalbe confounded. Esai. xxii, b. Genes xix, b

I wyll comfort the house of Iuda and preserue the house of Ioseph. I wil turne them also, for I pitie them: & they C shalbe lyke as they were, when I had not cast them of. For I the Lord am their god and wyl heare them. Ephraim shal be as a giaunt, & their herte shalbe chere ful as thorow wyne: yea, their children shal se it, and be glad, and their hert shal reioice in the Lord. I wyl blowe for thē, and gather them together/ for I wil redeme them. They shall increase, as they increased afore. I wyl sowe them amōg the people, that they may thyncke vpon me in farre countrees: they shal lyue w̄ their children, and turne agayne. I wyl bringe them agayne also from the land D of Egipt, and gather them out of Assiria. I wyl cary them into the lād of Galaad, and to Libanus and they shal want no thynge. Esay. x, a Eze. xxix

The sea shal goo vpon the sea of trouble, and smite the sea waues: so that al the depe floudes shalbe dried vp. The proude boostig of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egipt shalbe taken awaye. I wyll comfort them in the lord, that they maie walke in his name, saieth the lord.

The destructiō of the tēple. The care of the fayth ful is cōmytted to Christ, by the father. A greuous vysion agaynst Ierusalem & Iudā,

The.xi. Chapter.

A OPen thy doores, O Libanus, that the fyre maye consume thy Cedre trees. A

Howle ye Fyrre trees, for the Cedre is fallen, yea all the proude are wasted awaye. Howle (O ye oke trees of Baasan) for ỹ mighty stronge wode is cutt downe. Men may heare the Shepherdes mourne for their glory is destroyed. Men maye heare the lyons whelpes roare for ỹ pryde of Iordane is wasted awaye.

Zach. xi, a

B

Thus sayeth the Lord my God: fede the shepe of the slaughter, whiche shalbe slayne of those ꝑ possesse them: yet they take it for no synne, but they that sel thē saye: The lord be thanked I am rich: yea their owne shepherdes spar thē not. Ther fore wyll I nomor spare those that dwel in the laude (sayeth the Lord) but lo, I wyll deliuer the people, euery man in to his neyghbours handes and in to ꝑ hād of his king: ꝑ they maye smyte the land, and out of their handes wil not I deliuer them.

C I my selfe fedde the slaughter shepe (a poore flock verely) and toke vnto me two staues: ꝑ one I called louyng mekenesse, the other I called wo, and so I kept the shepe. Thre shepherdes destroyed I in one moneth, for I myght not awaye with thē, nether had they eny delyt in me Then sayde I: I wyll fede you nomore, the thing that dyeth, let it dye: ād ꝑ wyll perishe let it perish/ and let the remnaūt eate/ euery one ꝑ flesh of his neyghbour. I toke also my louing meke staf, & brake it that I myght disanul the couenante, which I made w al peple. And so it was broken in that daye.

Then the poore symple shepe that had a respecte vnto me, knewe therby, that it was the worde of the Lorde. And I said vnto them: yf ye thinked it good, bringe hyther my prince: if no, then leaue. So they waped downe .xxx. Syluer pens, ꝑ valu that I was prysed at. And ꝑ Lord sayde vnto me: cast it vnto the potter (a goodly price for me to be valud at of thē and I toke ꝑ. xxx. siluers pens/ād cast them to the poter in the house of ꝑ Lord Then brake I my other staf also (namely wo) that I myght lowse the brother head betwyxte Juda and Israel. And the Lorde sayd vnto me: Take to the also ꝑ of a foolish shpherde: for lo, I wyll raise vp a shepherde in the lande, which shall not seke after ꝑ thinges that be lost, nor care for suche as go astraye: he shal not heale the wounded, he shall not norishe the thing that is whole: but he shal eate the flesh of suche as be fat, and teat their clawes in peces.

D Idle shepherde / that leaueth the flocke. The sweard shall come vpon his arme, and vpon his ryghte eye. Hys arme shal be cleane dried vp, ād his right eye shalbe sore blynded.

C Of the destruction and buylding agayne of Jerusalem.

The .xii. Chapter.

A The heuy burthen, whych the Lorde hath deuised for Israel. Thus sayth the Lord/ whych spred the heauens a broade, layde the fount acion of the earth, ād geueth man the breth of lyfe: beholde, I wyll make Jerusale a cuppe of surfet vnto al the people that are round aboute her: yea Juda hym self e also shalbe in the seage against Jerusalem. At the same tyme, wyll I make Jerusalem an heuy stone for al people, so that all suche as lyft it vp, shalbe tore ne & rente/ & all the people of the earthe shalbe gatheredtogether against it.

In ꝑ daye, sayeth the Lorde, I wyll make al horses abashed, and those that ryde vpon them, to be out of their wittes. I wyll open myne eyes vpon the house of Juda, and smyte al the horses of the B people, with blyndnes. And the prynces of Juda, shal saye in their hertes: The inhabiters of Jerusalem, shal geue me consolacion in the Lord of hostes their God. In that tyme wyl I make ꝑ prynces of Juda, lyke an hote burnyng ouen w wodd, and lyke a cresset of fyre amōg the straw: so that they shal consume al the people rounde about them, both vp on the ryghte hande and the lefte. Jerusalem also shalbe inhabited again: namely in the same place, wher Jerusalē standeth.

The lord shal preserue the tentes of Juda, lyke as a fore tyme: so that ꝑ glory of the house of Dauid, and the glory of the cytie sins of Jerusalem, shalbe but lytle regarded, in comparyson of ꝑ glory of Juda. In that daye shal the lorde C defend the cytyns of Jerusalem: so that the weakest then among them shalbe as Dauyd: and the house of Dauid shalbe lyke as gods house, and as the Aungell of the lord before them.

At the same tyme wyl I go about to destroy

Thus sayeth the Lord my God: fede the shepe of the slaughter, whiche shalbe slayne of those ꝑ possesse them: yet they take it for no synne, but they that sel thē saye: The lord be thanked I am rich: yea their owne shepherdes spar thē not. Ther fore wyll I nomor spare those that dwel in the laude (sayeth the Lord) but lo, I wyll deliuer the people, euery man in to his neyghbours handes and in to ꝑ hād of his king: ꝑ they maye smyte the land, and out of their handes wil not I deliuer them.

C I my selfe fedde the slaughter shepe (a poore flock verely) and toke vnto me two staues: ꝑ one I called louyng mekenesse, the other I called wo, and so I kept the shepe. Thre shepherdes destroyed I in one moneth, for I myght not awaye with thē, nether had they eny delyt in me Then sayde I: I wyll fede you nomore, the thing that dyeth, let it dye: ād ꝑ wyll perishe let it perish/ and let the remnaūt eate/ euery one ꝑ flesh of his neyghbour. I toke also my louing meke staf, & brake it that I myght disanul the couenante, which I made w al peple. And so it was broken in that daye.

Then the poore symple shepe that had a respecte vnto me, knewe therby, that it was the worde of the Lorde. And I said vnto them: yf ye thinked it good, bringe hyther my prince: if no, then leaue. So they waped downe .xxx. Syluer pens, ꝑ valu that I was prysed at. And ꝑ Lord sayde vnto me: cast it vnto the potter (a goodly price for me to be valud at of thē and I toke ꝑ. xxx. siluers pens/ād cast them to the poter in the house of ꝑ Lord Then brake I my other staf also (namely wo) that I myght lowse the brother head betwyxte Juda and Israel. And the Lorde sayd vnto me: Take to the also ꝑ of a foolish shpherde: for lo, I wyll raise vp a shepherde in the lande, which shall not seke after ꝑ thinges that be lost, nor care for suche as go astraye: he shal not heale the wounded, he shall not norishe the thing that is whole: but he shal eate the flesh of suche as be fat, and teat their clawes in peces.

D Idle shepherde / that leaueth the flocke. The sweard shall come vpon his arme, and vpon his ryghte eye. Hys arme shal be cleane dried vp, ād his right eye shalbe sore blynded.

C Of the destruction and buylding agayne of Jerusalem.

The .xii. Chapter.

A The heuy burthen, whych the Lorde hath deuised for Israel. Thus sayth the Lord/ whych spred the heauens a broade, layde the fount acion of the earth, ād geueth man the breth of lyfe: beholde, I wyll make Jerusale a cuppe of surfet vnto al the people that are round aboute her: yea Juda hym self e also shalbe in the seage against Jerusalem. At the same tyme, wyll I make Jerusalem an heuy stone for al people, so that all suche as lyft it vp, shalbe tore ne & rente/ & all the people of the earthe shalbe gatheredtogether against it.

In ꝑ daye, sayeth the Lorde, I wyll make al horses abashed, and those that ryde vpon them, to be out of their wittes. I wyll open myne eyes vpon the house of Juda, and smyte al the horses of the B people, with blyndnes. And the prynces of Juda, shal saye in their hertes: The inhabiters of Jerusalem, shal geue me consolacion in the Lord of hostes their God. In that tyme wyl I make ꝑ prynces of Juda, lyke an hote burnyng ouen w wodd, and lyke a cresset of fyre amōg the straw: so that they shal consume al the people rounde about them, both vp on the ryghte hande and the lefte. Jerusalem also shalbe inhabited again: namely in the same place, wher Jerusalē standeth.

The lord shal preserue the tentes of Juda, lyke as a fore tyme: so that ꝑ glory of the house of Dauid, and the glory of the cytie sins of Jerusalem, shalbe but lytle regarded, in comparyson of ꝑ glory of Juda. In that daye shal the lorde C defend the cytyns of Jerusalem: so that the weakest then among them shalbe as Dauyd: and the house of Dauid shalbe lyke as gods house, and as the Aungell of the lord before them.

At the same tyme wyl I go about to destroy

destroy all such people as come against Jerusalem. Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the cittisens of Jerusalem, wyl I powre oute the spyrete of grace and prayer, so that they shal loke vpon me, whome they haue pearsed: and they shall bewepe hym, as men mourne for theyr onely begotten sonne: yea and be sory for hym, as mē are sory for their fyrst chylde.

D Then shal there be a greate mournynge, at Jerusalem, lyke as the lamentacion at Adremmon, in the felde of Magadon. And the lande shal bewayle euery kinred by them selues: the kinred of ỹ house of Dauid, them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: The kynced of the house of Nathan them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: The kindred of the house of Leuy, thē selues alone, & theyr wiues by them selues: The kired of ỹ house of Semei thē selues alone, & theyr wyues by them selues: In lyke maner, al the othergeneracions, eucrchone by them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues.

¶ Of the wel of grace & truth Christ. Of ỹ clene rid daunce of Idolatry, & of false prophetes.

The.xiii. Chapter.

A IN that tyme shal the house of Dauid and the cytysens of Jerusalem haue an opē wel, to wash of sinne ād vnclenes. And then (sayeth the Lorde of hoostes) I wyl destroye the names of Idoles oute of the lande: so that they shal nomore be put i remembrauce.

Ezech. xlvii. zach. xiiii. b Iohn. xix d

As for the false prophetes also and the vncleane spyrete, I shall take them out of the lande: So that yf any of thē B prophecy any more, his owne father ād mother that begat hym, shal saye vnto hym: Thou shalt dye, for thou spakest e lyes vnder the name of the lorde: yea, his owne father and mother that begat hi, shal woūd hi, whē he prophecyeth. And then shal those prophetes be cōfoūded e ucry one of his visiō whē he prophecyeth neither shal they weare sackclothes any more to disceane mā wal. But he shalbe faie to say: I am no prophete: I am an husbondman, for so am I taught by Adā fro my youth vp.

And yf it be sayde vnto hym: how came these woundes thene i thyn handes? He shal aneswere: Thus am I wounded in the house of myne owne frendes. C

Aryse/O thou swearde, vpon my shepherde, and vpon the Prynce of my people, sayeth the Lord of hostes: Smite the shepherde/ & the shepe shalbe scatred abrode, ād so wyl I turne myne hande to the lytle ones. And it shall come to passe (sayth the Lorde) ỹ in all the lande two partes shalbe roted out, but the thyrde parte shal remayne therin. And the same thyrd parte wyll I bringe thorowe the fyer, and wyl clense them, as the syluer is clensed: yea and tryc them lyke as golde is tryed. Thē shal they cal vpō my name. and I wyl heare them: I wyl saye: it is mi people. And they shall saie: Lord, my God. D

¶ The walking of the church vnder the figure of Jerusalem. Of the kyngdome of the lorde.

The.xiiii. Chapter

BEholde, the daye of ỹ Lorde commeth, that thou shalt be spoyled and robbed: for I A wyl gather together all the Heathen, to fight agaynste Jerusalem: so that ỹ citie shalbe wonne, the houses spoyled, & the wemen defiled. The halfe of the citte shal go awaye in to captyuite, ād the residue of ỹ people shal not be caried out of the citie. After ỹ shal the Lord go forth to fight against those Heathen, as men vse to fight in the daye of battel. Then shal his fete stande vpon the mount oliuet, that lieth vpō the east side of Jerusalē. And the mounte oliuete shal cleue in two, eastward & westward, so that ther shalbe a greate valley: ād the halfe moūt shal remoue toward ỹ north, and the other towarde the south. And ye shal fle vnto the valley of myne hylles, for thy valley of the hilles shal reach vnto Asal. Ye fle shal ye, lyke as ye fled for ỹ earth quake in the dayes of Osiah kinge of Juda. And the Lord my God shal cō, ād al sayntes wt him. In that daye shal it not be light, but colde and frost. This shalbe that specyal daye, which is knowē vnto the Lorde: neither daye nor nyght, but about ỹ euenig time it shalbe lyght. B

nota

I ād no prophete
I and an husbondma

destroy all such people as come against Jerusalem. Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the cittisens of Jerusalem, wyl I powre oute the spyrete of grace and prayer, so that they shal loke vpon me, whome they haue pearsed: and they shall bewepe hym, as men mourne for theyr onely begotten sonne: yea and be sory for hym, as mē are sory for their fyrst chylde.

D Then shal there be a greate mournynge, at Jerusalem, lyke as the lamentacion at Adremmon, in the felde of Magadon. And the lande shal bewayle euery kinred by them selues: the kinred of ỹ house of Dauid, them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: The kynced of the house of Nathan them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: The kindred of the house of Leuy, thē selues alone, & theyr wiues by them selues: The kired of ỹ house of Semei thē selues alone, & theyr wyues by them selues: In lyke maner, al the othergeneracions, eucrchone by them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues.

¶ Of the wel of grace & truth Christ. Of ỹ clene riddaunce of Idolatry, & of false prophetes.

The. xiii. Chapter.

A IN that tyme shal the house of Dauid and the cytysens of Jerusalem haue an opē wel, to wash of sinne ād vnclenes. And then (sayeth the Lorde of hoostes) I wyl destroye the names of Idoles oute of the lande: so that they shal nomore be put i remembraūce.

Ezech. xlvii. zach. xiiii. b Iohn. xix d

As for the false prophetes also and the vncleane spyrete, I shall take them out of the lande: So that yf any of thē B prophecy any more, his owne father ād mother that begat hym, shal saye vnto hym: Thou shalt dye, for thou spakest e lyes vnder the name of the lorde: yea, his owne father and mother that begat hi, shal woūd hi, whē he prophecyeth. And then shal those prophetes be cōfoūded e ucry one of his visiō whē he prophecyeth neither shal they weare sackclothes any more to disceane mā wal. But he shalbe faie to say: I am no Prophete: I am an husbondman, for so am I taught by Adā fro my youth vp.

And yf it be sayde vnto hym: how came these woundes thene i thyn handes? He shal aneswere: Thus am I wounded in the house of myne owne frendes.

Aryse/O thou swearde, vpon my shepherde, and vpon the Prynce of my people, sayeth the Lord of hostes: Smite the shepherde/ & the shepe shalbe scatred abrode, ād so wyl I turne myne hande to the lytle ones. And it shall come to passe (sayth the Lorde) ỹ in all the lande two partes shalbe roted out, but the thyrde parte shal remayne therin. And the same thyrd parte wyll I bringe thorowe the fyer, and wyl clense them, as the syluer is clensed: yea and tryc them lyke as golde is tryed. Thē shal they cal vpō my name. and I wyl heare them: I wyl saye: it is mi people. And they shall saie: Lord, my God.

D

¶ The walking of the church vnder the figure of Jerusalem. Of the kyngdome of the lorde.

The. xiiii. Chapter

BEholde, the daye of ỹ Lorde commeth, that thou shalt be spoyled and robbed: for I A wyl gather together all the Heathen, to fight agaynste Jerusalem: so that ỹ citie shalbe wonne, the houses spoyled, & the wemen defiled. The halfe of the citte shal go awaye in to captyuite, ād the residue of ỹ people shal not be caried out of the citie. After ỹ shal the Lord go forth to fight against those Heathen, as men vse to fight in the daye of battel. Then shal his fete stande vpon the mount oliuet, that lieth vpō the east side of Jerusalē. And the mounte oliuete shal cleue in two, eastward & westward, so that ther shalbe a greate valley: ād the halfe mount shal remoue toward ỹ north, and the other towarde the south. And ye shal fle vnto the valley of my hylles, for thy valley of the hilles shal reach vnto Asal. Ye fle shal ye, lyke as ye fled for ỹ earth quake in the dayes of Osiah kinge of Juda. And the Lord my God shal cō, ād al sayntes wt him. In that daye shal it not be light, but colde and frost. This shalbe that specyal daye, which is knowē vnto the Lorde: neither daye nor nyght, but about ỹ euenig time it shalbe lyght.

B

destroy all such people as come against Jerusalem. Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the cittisens of Jerusalem, wyl I powre oute the spyrete of grace and prayer, so that they shal loke vpon me, whome they haue pearsed: and they shall bewepe hym, as men mourne for theyr onely begotten sonne: yea and be sory for hym, as mē are sory for their fyrst chylde.

D Then shal there be a greate mournynge, at Jerusalem, lyke as the lamentacion at Adremmon, in the felde of Magadon. And the lande shal bewayle euery kinred by them selues: the kinred of ỹ house of Dauid, them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: The kynced of the house of Nathan them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: The kindred of the house of Leuy, thē selues alone, & theyr wiues by them selues: The kired of ỹ house of Semei thē selues alone, & theyr wyues by them selues: In lyke maner, al the othergeneracions, eucrchone by them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues.

¶ Of the wel of grace & truth Christ. Of ỹ clene rid daunce of Idolatry, & of false prophetes.

The.xiii. Chapter.

A IN that tyme shal the house of Dauid and the cytysens of Jerusalem haue an opē wel, to wash of sinne ād vnclenes. And then (sayeth the Lorde of hoostes) I wyl destroye the names of Idoles oute of the lande: so that they shal nomore be put̄ remembraūce.

Ezech. xlvii. zach. xiiii. b Iohn. xix d

As for the false prophetes also and the vncleane spyrete, I shall take them out of the lande: So that yf any of thē B prophecy any more, his owne father ād mother that begat hym, shal saye vnto hym: Thou shalt dye, for thou spakest e lyes vnder the name of the lorde: yea, his owne father and mother that begat hi, shal woūd hi, whē he prophecyeth. And then shal those prophetes be cōfoūded e uery one of his visiō whē he prophecyeth neither shal they weare sackclothes any more to disceane mā wal. But he shalbe faie to say: I am no Prophete: I am an husbondman, for so am I taught by Adā fro my youth vp.

And yf it be sayde vnto hym: how came C these woundes thene i thyn handes? He shal aneswere: Thus am I wounded in the house of myne owne frendes.

Aryse/O thou swearde, vpon my shepherde, and vpon the Prynce of my people, sayeth the Lord of hostes: Smite the shepherde/& the shepe shalbe scatred abrode, ād so wyl I turne myne hande to the lytle ones. And it shall come to passe (sayth the Lorde) ỹ in all the lande two partes shalbe roted out, but the thyrde D parte shal remayne therin. And the same thyrd parte wyll I bringe thorowe the fyer, and wyl clense them, as the syluer is clensed: yea and tryc them lyke as golde is tryed. Thē shal they cal vpō my name. and I wyl heare them: I wyl saye: it is mi people. And they shall saie: Lord, my God.

¶ The walking of the church vnder the figure of Jerusalem. Of the kyngdome of the lorde.

The.xiiii. Chapter

BEholde, the daye of ỹ Lorde commeth, that thou shalt be spoyled and robbed: for I A wyl gather together all the Heathen, to fight agaynste Jerusalem: so that ỹ citie shalbe wonne, the houses spoyled, & the wemen defiled. The halfe of the citte shal go awaye in to captyuite, ād the residue of ỹ people shal not be caried out of the citie. After ỹ shal the Lord go forth to fight against those Heathen, as men vse to fight in the daye of battel. Then shal his fete stande vpon the mount oliuet, that lieth vpō the east side of Jerusalē. And the mounte oliuete shal cleue in two, eastward & westward, so that ther shalbe a greate valley: ād the halfe moūt shal remoue toward ỹ north, and the other towarde the south. And ye shal fle vnto the valley of myne hylles, for B thy valley of the hilles shal reach vnto Asal. Ye fle shal ye, lyke as ye fled for ỹ earth quake in the dayes of Osiah kinge of Juda. And the Lord my God shal cō, ād al sayntes wt̄ him. In that daye shal it not be light, but colde and frost. This shalbe that specyal daye, which is knowē vnto the Lorde: neither daye nor nyght, but about ỹ euenig time it shalbe lyght.

nota

I ād no prophete
I and an husbondma

In that tyme shal there a* waters of lyfe runne out from Jerusalem: the halfe parte of them b* towarde the east see, & the other halfe towarde the vttermoste see, ād shal contynue both somer & witer. And ỳ Lord hym self shal be kinge ouer all the earth.

At that tyme shal there be one Lorde only, and hys name shalbe but one. Ye shall go aboute the whole earth, as vpō a felde: from Gybea to Remmon, ād frō the south to Jerusalem. She shalbe set vp, and inhabyted in her place: frome Ben Jamyns porte, vnto the place of ỳ Fyrste Porte, and vnto thee Corner porte: and from the towet of Hananeel, vnto ỳ kynges wyne presses. Ther shal men dwel/ and there shalbe no more cursinge, but Jerusalem shalbe safely inhabyted. This shalbe the plage, wherwith the Lorde wyl smyt al people, that haue fought agaynste Jerusalem: Namelye, there flesh shall consume away/ though they stand vpō there feet: ther eyes shal be corrupt in ther holes, and their tunge shal consume in ther mouth.

In that daye shall the Lorde make a great sedycion among them, so that one man shal take a nother by the hande, ād laye his handes vpon the handes of his neyghbour. Juda shal fyght also agaist Jerusalē, and the goodes of al ỳ Heathē shalbe gathered together round about: golde and syluer and a very great multitude of clothes. And so shal this plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, & al the beastes that shalbe in the host, lyke as ponder plage was. Euerye one that remayneth then of all the people, which came agaynst Jerusalem, shal go vp ye arly, to worshep the king (euen ỳ Lord of hostes) & to kepe ỳ fest of tabarnacles And loke what generacyon vpon earth goth not vp to Jerusalem, for to worshippe the king (euen the lord ak hostes) vpon the same shal come no rayne. Yf the kynred of Egypte go not vp, and come not it shal not rayn vpō thē nether.

This shalbe ỳ plage wherwith ỳ Lord wyl smyte al Heathen, that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles:

yea thys shalbe the synne plage of Egipte and the synne plage of all people, that goo not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that time shall the riding geer of the horses be holy vnto the Lorde, and thy kettels in the Lordes house shall be lyke the basens before the aultar: yea all the kettels in Jerusalem and Juda, shal be holy vnto the lorde of hooستes: and al they that slaye offeringes, shal come take of them, and dight them therin. And at that tyme there shalbe no mo Cananites in ỳ house of the Lorde.

The ende of the prophecy of zachary.

The Boke of the prophet Malachy.

A complaynte against Israel and her prestes.

The fyrst Chapter.

THe heuye burthen, which ỳ Lord sheweth agaynst Israel by Malachy. I haue loued you, sayeth the Lord: ād yet ye saye: wherin hast thou loued vs: Was not Esau Jacobs brother, sayeth the Lorde: yet haue I loued Jacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made hys hylles waste, and his herytage a wildernes for dragons. And though Edom sayde, wel, we are destroyed, we wyll go buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted: yet (saieth the lord of hostes) what they build ded, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people/ whome the Lorde hath euer bene angry wal.

Youre eyes haue sene it, ād ye your selues confesse, that the Lorde hathe brought the land of Israel to greate honor. Should not a sonne honour his father, and a seruaunt hys master? Yf I be

In that tyme shal there a* waters of lyfe runne out from Jerusalem: the halfe parte of them b* towarde the east see, & the other halfe towarde the vttermoste see, ād shal contynue both somer & witer. And ỳ Lord hym self shal be kinge ouer all the earth.

At that tyme shal there be one Lorde only, and hys name shalbe but one. Ye shall go aboute the whole earth, as vpō a felde: from Gybea to Remmon, ād frō the south to Jerusalem. She shalbe set vp, and inhabyted in her place: frome Ben Jamyns porte, vnto the place of ỳ Fyrste Porte, and vnto thee Corner porte: and from the towet of Hananeel, vnto ỳ kynges wyne presses. Ther shal men dwel/ and there shalbe no more cursinge, but Jerusalem shalbe safely inhabyted. This shalbe the plage, wherwith the Lorde wyl smyt al people, that haue fought agaynste Jerusalem: Namelye, there flesh shall consume away/ though they stand vpō there feet: ther eyes shal be corrupt in ther holes, and their tunge shal consume in ther mouth.

In that daye shall the Lorde make a great sedycion among them, so that one man shal take a nother by the hande, ād laye his handes vpon the handes of his neyghbour. Juda shal fyght also agaist Jerusalē, and the goodes of al ỳ Heathē shalbe gathered together round about: golde and syluer and a very great multitude of clothes. And so shal this plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, & al the beastes that shalbe in the host, lyke as ponder plage was. Euerye one that remayneth then of all the people, which came agaynst Jerusalem, shal go vp ye arly, to worshep the king (euen ỳ Lord of hostes) & to kepe ỳ fest of tabarnacles And loke what generacyon vpon earth goth not vp to Jerusalem, for to worshippe the king (euen the lord ak hostes) vpon the same shal come no rayne. Yf the kynred of Egypte go not vp, and come not it shal not rayn vpō thē nether.

This shalbe ỳ plage wherwith ỳ Lord wyl smyte al Heathen, that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles:

yea thys shalbe the synne plage of Egipte and the synne plage of all people, that goo not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that time shall the riding geer of the horses be holy vnto the Lorde, and thy kettels in the Lordes house shall be lyke the basens before the aultar: yea all the kettels in Jerusalem and Juda, shal be holy vnto the lorde of hooستes: and al they that slaye offeringes, shal come take of them, and dight them therin. And at that tyme there shalbe no mo Cananites in ỳ house of the Lorde.

The ende of the prophecy of zachary.

The Boke of the prophet Malachy.

A complaynte against Israel and her prestes.

The fyrst Chapter.

THe heuye burthen, which ỳ Lord sheweth agaynst Israel by Malachy. I haue loued you, sayeth the Lord: ād yet ye saye: wherin hast thou loued vs: Was not Esau Jacobs brother, sayeth the Lorde: yet haue I loued Jacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made hys hylles waste, and his herytage a wildernes for dragons. And though Edom sayde, wel, we are destroyed, we wyll go buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted: yet (saieth the lord of hostes) what they build ded, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people/ whome the Lorde hath euer bene angry wal.

Youre eyes haue sene it, ād ye your selues confesse, that the Lorde hathe brought the land of Israel to greate honor. Should not a sonne honour his father, and a seruaunt hys master? Yf I be

In that tyme shal there a* waters of lyfe runne out from Jerusalem: the halfe parte of them b* towarde the east see, & the other halfe towarde the vttermoste see, ād shal contynue both somer & witer. And ỳ Lord hym self shal be kinge ouer all the earth.

At that tyme shal there be one Lorde only, and hys name shalbe but one. Ye shall go aboute the whole earth, as vpō a felde: from Gybea to Remmon, ād frō the south to Jerusalem. She shalbe set vp, and inhabyted in her place: frome Ben Jamyns porte, vnto the place of ỳ Fyrste Porte, and vnto thee Corner porte: and from the towet of Hananeel, vnto ỳ kynges wyne presses. Ther shal men dwel/ and there shalbe no more cursinge, but Jerusalem shalbe safely inhabyted. This shalbe the plage, wherwith the Lorde wyl smyt al people, that haue fought agaynste Jerusalem: Namelye, there flesh shall consume away/ though they stand vpō there feet: ther eyes shal be corrupt in ther holes, and their tunge shal consume in ther mouth.

In that daye shall the Lorde make a great sedycion among them, so that one man shal take a nother by the hande, ād laye his handes vpon the handes of his neyghbour. Juda shal fyght also agaist Jerusalē, and the goodes of al ỳ Heathē shalbe gathered together round about: golde and syluer and a very great multitude of clothes. And so shal this plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, & al the beastes that shalbe in the host, lyke as ponder plage was. Euerye one that remayneth then of all the people, which came agaynst Jerusalem, shal go vp ye arly, to worshep the king (euen ỳ Lord of hostes) & to kepe ỳ fest of tabarnacles And loke what generacyon vpon earth goth not vp to Jerusalem, for to worshippe the king (euen the lord ak hostes) vpon the same shal come no rayne. Yf the kynred of Egypte go not vp, and come not it shal not rayn vpō thē nether.

This shalbe ỳ plage wherwith ỳ Lord wyl smyte al Heathen, that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles:

yea thys shalbe the synne plage of Egipte and the synne plage of all people, that goo not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that time shall the riding geer of the horses be holy vnto the Lorde, and thy kettels in the Lordes house shall be lyke the basens before the aultar: yea all the kettels in Jerusalem and Juda, shal be holy vnto the lorde of hooستes: and al they that slaye offeringes, shal come take of them, and dight them therin. And at that tyme there shalbe no mo Cananites in ỳ house of the Lorde.

The ende of the prophecy of zachary.

The Boke of the prophet Malachy.

A complaynte against Israel and her prestes.

The fyrst Chapter.

THe heuye burthen, which ỳ Lord sheweth agaynst Israel by Malachy. I haue loued you, sayeth the Lord: ād yet ye saye: wherin hast thou loued vs: Was not Esau Jacobs brother, sayeth the Lorde: yet haue I loued Jacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made hys hylles waste, and his herytage a wildernes for dragons. And though Edom sayde, wel, we are destroyed, we wyll go buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted: yet (saieth the lord of hostes) what they build ded, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people/ whome the Lorde hath euer bene angry wal.

Youre eyes haue sene it, ād ye your selues confesse, that the Lorde hathe brought the land of Israel to greate honor. Should not a sonne honour his father, and a seruaunt hys master? Yf I be

be now a father/wher is mine honoure? If I be the lord, where am I feared? saieth the lorde of hostes.

Now to you prestes, that despyse my name. And yf ye say: wherin haue we dispised thy name? In this, that ye a*offer vncleane bred vpon myne aultar. And if ye wyl saye: wherein haue we offered any vncleane thyng vnto thee? In this that ye saye: the aulter of the Lorde is not to be regarded. If ye offer the blynde, is not that euell? And yf ye offre the lame & sicke, is not that euell? Yea offer it vnto thy prince, shal he be content with the, or accepte thy person, sayeth the Lorde of hoostes?

And nowe make your prayer before god, that he maye haue mercy vpon vs: for suche thinges haue ye done. Shal he
D regarde your personnes, thincke ye, sayeth the Lorde of hoostes? Yea what is he among you, that wyl do so much/as to shutt the dores, or to kyndle the fyre vpon myne aultar for naught? I haue no pleasure in you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: and as for the meate offering, I wyl not except it at your hande. For frō the rysyng vp of the sonne to the goyng downe of the same, my name is greate amōg the Gentyles: yea, in euerye place shall there sacrifice be done/and a clene meat offeryng offered vp vnto my name: for my name is greate among ỹ heathen, sayth the Lorde of hoostes. But ye haue vnhalowed it, in ỹ ye saye, ỹ aultar of ỹ Lorde is not to be regarded, and b*ỹ thing that is set therevpon, not worthye to be eaten.

Now saye ye: It is but labour and
E trauayle, & thus haue ye thought scorne at it (sayeth the Lord of hostes) offering robbery, yea the lame and the sycke. Ye haue brought me in a meate offeryng, shulde I accepte it of your hand, sayeth the Lorde? Cursed be the dissembler/ which hath in his flock one that is male and when he maketh a vowe, offereth a spoted one vnto the Lord. For I am a greate kyng (sayeth the lorde of hostes) and my name is fearefull amonge the heathen.

The notes.

a* To offer defyled bred is to do any thyng by hypocrisy, & not to glorifye god, as he hath cōmaūded in his woorde, but accordinge to the inuencyons and dreames of men.

b* Of hys worde and his meat are dispysed.

¶ Threateninges against the Prestes being seducers of the peple.

The.ii. Chapter

And now (O ye prestes) this A commaundement toucheth you: if ye wyl not here it, nor regarde it, to geue the glorie vnto my name, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I wyl sent a curse vpō you, and wyl curse youre blessynges: ye curse them wyl I, yf ye do not take heded. Behold, I shal corrupte youre sede, and cast donge in your faces: euen the dong of your solempne feastes and it shal cleue fast vpon you. And ye shal knowe, ỹ I haue sent this commaundement vnto you: that my couenaunt whyche I made vō Leui, myght stand, sayeth the Lorde of hoostes.

I made a couenaunt of life āD peace
B vō him: this I gaue hym, that he myght stand in awe of me: and so he dyd feare me, and had my name in reuerēce.
¶ The lawe of treuth was in his mouth, and there was no wickednesse found in his lippes. He walked with me in peace & equite, and dyd turne many one away from ther sinnes. For the prestes lippes shoulde be sure knowledge, ỹ men may seke the lawe at his mouthe, for he is a messaunger of the Lord of hostes. But as for you/ye are gone clene out of the waye, and haue caused the multytud to be offended at the lawe: ye haue broken the couenaunt of Leui, sayeth the Lord of hostes. Therfor wyl I also make you to be despised, āD to be of no reputacīō
C among al ỹ people: because ye haue not kept my wayes, but bē parcial i ỹ lawe. Haue we not al one father? hath not on God made vs? why doth euery on of vs then despise his owne brother, & so breke ỹ couenaunt of oure fathers? Now hath Juda offended: ye the abhominacyō is don in Israel & in Jerusalem, for Juda hath defiled the Sanctuary of the Lord, whiche he loued, and hath kept ỹ daughter of a strong God. But the Lorde shall be now a father/wher is mine honoure? If I be the lord, where am I feared? saieth the lorde of hostes.

Now to you prestes, that despyse my name. And yf ye say: wherin haue we dispised thy name? In this, that ye a*offer vncleane bred vpon myne aultar. And if ye wyl saye: wherein haue we offered any vncleane thyng vnto thee? In this that ye saye: the aulter of the Lorde is not to be regarded. If ye offer the blynde, is not that euell? And yf ye offre the lame & sicke, is not that euell? Yea offer it vnto thy prince, shal he be content with the, or accepte thy person, sayeth the Lorde of hoostes?

And nowe make your prayer before god, that he maye haue mercy vpon vs: for suche thinges haue ye done. Shal he
D regarde your personnes, thincke ye, sayeth the Lorde of hoostes? Yea what is he among you, that wyl do so much/as to shutt the dores, or to kyndle the fyre vpon myne aultar for naught? I haue no pleasure in you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: and as for the meate offering, I wyl not except it at your hande. For frō the rysyng vp of the sonne to the goyng downe of the same, my name is greate amōg the Gentyles: yea, in euerye place shall there sacrifice be done/and a clene meat offeryng offered vp vnto my name: for my name is greate among ỹ heathen, sayth the Lorde of hoostes. But ye haue vnhalowed it, in ỹ ye saye, ỹ aultar of ỹ Lorde is not to be regarded, and b*ỹ thing that is set therevpon, not worthye to be eaten.

Now saye ye: It is but labour and
E trauayle, & thus haue ye thought scorne at it (sayeth the Lord of hostes) offering robbery, yea the lame and the sycke. Ye haue brought me in a meate offeryng, shulde I accepte it of your hand, sayeth the Lorde? Cursed be the dissembler/ which hath in his flock one that is male and when he maketh a vowe, offereth a spoted one vnto the Lord. For I am a greate kyng (sayeth the lorde of hostes) and my name is fearefull amonge the heathen.

The notes.

a* To offer defyled bred is to do any thyng by hypocrisy, & not to glorifye god, as he hath cōmaūded in his woorde, but accordinge to the inuencyons and dreames of men.

b* Of hys worde and his meat are dispysed.

¶ Threateninges against the Prestes being seducers of the peple.

The.ii. Chapter

And now (O ye prestes) this A commaundement toucheth you: if ye wyl not here it, nor regarde it, to geue the glorie vnto my name, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I wyl sent a curse vpō you, and wyl curse youre blessynges: ye curse them wyl I, yf ye do not take heded. Behold, I shal corrupte youre sede, and cast donge in your faces: euen the dong of your solempne feastes and it shal cleue fast vpon you. And ye shal knowe, ỹ I haue sent this commaundement vnto you: that my couenaunt whyche I made vō Leui, myght stand, sayeth the Lorde of hoostes.

I made a couenaunt of life āD peace
B vō him: this I gaue hym, that he myght stand in awe of me: and so he dyd feare me, and had my name in reuerēce.
¶ The lawe of treuth was in his mouth, and there was no wickednesse found in his lippes. He walked with me in peace & equite, and dyd turne many one away from ther sinnes. For the prestes lippes shoulde be sure knowledge, ỹ men may seke the lawe at his mouthe, for he is a messaunger of the Lord of hostes. But as for you/ye are gone clene out of the waye, and haue caused the multytud to be offended at the lawe: ye haue broken the couenaunt of Leui, sayeth the Lord of hostes. Therfor wyl I also make you to be despised, āD to be of no reputacīō
C among al ỹ people: because ye haue not kept my wayes, but bē parcial i ỹ lawe. Haue we not al one father? hath not on God made vs? why doth euery on of vs then despise his owne brother, & so breke ỹ couenaunt of oure fathers? Now hath Juda offended: ye the abhominacyō is don in Israel & in Jerusalem, for Juda hath defiled the Sanctuary of the Lord, whiche he loued, and hath kept ỹ daughter of a strong God. But the Lorde shall destroye the mã that doth this (yea both ỹ master & ỹ scoler) oute of ỹ tabernacle of Jacob, with hi that offereth vp meat offeringe vnto the lord of hostes. Now haue ye brought it to this point agaime, that the aulter of the Lorde, is couered with teares, wepyng, and mournyng: so that I wyl nomore regarde the meate-offeryng, nether wil I receaue or accept any thinge at your handes. And yet ye saie: wherfore? Euen because that where as the lord made a couenaunt betwyxt thee & thy wyfe of thy youth, thou hast depised her: Yet is she thine owne companion and maried wyfe.

The prophecí

D So dyd not *the one, and yet had he an excelent spryte. What dyd then ỹ one? He sought the sede promysed of god. Therfor loke wel to your spryte, and let no man dyspyse the wyfe of his youth. If thou hatest her put her away, sayeth the Lord god of Israell & geue her a clothing for the scorne, sayeth the lorde of hostes. Loke well then to youre spryte, and dispise her not. Ye greue the Lorde with your wordes, and yet ye saye: wherwith al haue we greued hym? In this, that ye saye: All that do euell are good in the syght of god, and such e please him. Or els where is the god ỹ punisheth?

The notes.

*The one: this ỹ interpreters reken to be spoken of Abraham.
¶ Of the messãger of the Lorde Johu Baptiste.
Of the day of the Lord and of Elias.

The.iii. Chapter.

A BEholde, I wyll sende my messaunger, whych shal prepare the waye before me: & the Lord whom ye woulde haue, shal soone com to his temple, yea euen the messaunger of the couenaunt whom ye longe for.

Beholde, he commeth, sayeth ỹ lord of hostes. But who maye abyde the day of his commyng? Who shall be able to endure, whē he appeareth? For he is like a goldsmythes fyre / and lyke washers sope. He shall syt hym downe to trye ād so clense the syluer, he shal purge ỹ chyldren of Leuy, and purify theym lyke as goulde and syluer: that they maye bring meate offeringes vnto the lord in righteousnes. Then shall the offeringe of Juda and Jerusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord, lyke as from the beginnynge, and in the yeares afore tyme.

I wyl come and punish you, and I my selfe wyll be a swyfte wytnes agaynst the witches, agaynst the aduouterers, agaynst false swearers: ye ād agaynst those that wrongeously kepe backe the hyre lynges dewty: which vex the wyddowes and the fatherlesse, and oppresse ỹ straūger, and feare not me, sayeth the Lord of Hostes. For I am the Lorde ỹ chaūge not / ād ye (O children of Jacob) wyll not leaue of: ye are gone away, fro myne ordinaunces, and sens the tyme of your forfathers haue ye not kepte them.

B Turne you now vnto me, & I wyl turne me vnto you, sayeth the Lord of hostes ye saye: Wherin shal we turne? Should a man vse falshed and disceat wt God as ye vse falshed and disceate with me? yet ye saye, wherin vse we disceate with the? In Tithes & heaue offerenges. Therfor are ye cursed with penury / because yee dyssemble with me / all the sorte of you.

Bringe euery Tithe in to my barne, that ther maye be meate in my house: ād proue me wt al (sayth the lord of hostes) yf I wil not open the wyndowes of heaue vnto you, and poure you out a blessing with plenteousnesse. Yee I shal reproue thee consumer for youre sakes, so that he shall not eate vp ỹ frute of your grounde, nether shall the vynyarde be baren in the felde, sayeth the Lord of hostes: In so moch that al people shal saie, that ye be blessed, for ye shall be a pleasaunt lande, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

Ye speake hard wordes agaynst me, sayeth the Lord. And yet ye say: What haue we spoken agaynst the? Ye haue sayde.

C It is but lost labour to serue God: What profit haue we for keppynge hys commaundementes, and for walkynge humble before the Lorde of hooste? Therfor may we say, that the proud are happie, and that they which dele wt vngodlynesse, are set vpe: for they tempte God / and yet escape.

But they that feare God, saye thus one to an other, the Lorde consydereth and heareth it. Yea it is before hym a

me

The prophecí

destroye the mã that doth this (yea both ỹ master & ỹ scoler) oute of ỹ tabernacle of Jacob, with hi that offereth vp meat offeringe vnto the lord of hostes. Now haue ye brought it to this point agaime, that the aulter of the Lorde, is couered with teares, wepyng, and mournyng: so that I wyl nomore regarde the meate-offeryng, nether wil I receaue or accept any thinge at your handes. And yet ye saie: wherfore? Euen because that where as the lord made a couenaunt betwyxt thee & thy wyfe of thy youth, thou hast depised her: Yet is she thine owne companion and maried wyfe.

D So dyd not *the one, and yet had he an excelent spryte. What dyd then ỹ one? He sought the sede promysed of god. Therfor loke wel to your spryte, and let no man dyspyse the wyfe of his youth. If thou hatest her put her away, sayeth the Lord god of Israell & geue her a clothing for the scorne, sayeth the lorde of hostes. Loke well then to youre spryte, and dispise her not. Ye greue the Lorde with your wordes, and yet ye saye: wherwith al haue we greued hym? In this, that ye saye: All that do euell are good in the syght of god, and such e please him. Or els where is the god ỹ punisheth?

The notes.

*The one: this ỹ interpreters reken to be spoken of Abraham.
¶ Of the messãger of the Lorde Johu Baptiste.
Of the day of the Lord and of Elias.

The.iii. Chapter.

A BEholde, I wyll sende my messaunger, whych shal prepare the waye before me: & the Lord whom ye woulde haue, shal soone com to his temple, yea euen the messaunger of the couenaunt whom ye longe for.

Beholde, he commeth, sayeth ỹ lord of hostes. But who maye abyde the day of his commyng? Who shall be able to endure, whē he appeareth? For he is like a goldsmythes fyre / and lyke washers sope. He shall syt hym downe to trye ād so clense the syluer, he shal purge ỹ chyldren of Leuy, and purify theym lyke as goulde and syluer: that they maye bring meate offeringes vnto the lord in righteousnes. Then shall the offeringe of Juda and Jerusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord, lyke as from the beginnynge, and in the yeares afore tyme.

I wyl come and punish you, and I my selfe wyll be a swyfte wytnes agaynst the witches, agaynst the aduouterers, agaynst false swearers: ye ād agaynst those that wrongeously kepe backe the hyre lynges dewty: which vex the wyddowes and the fatherlesse, and oppresse ỹ straūger, and feare not me, sayeth the Lord of Hostes. For I am the Lorde ỹ chaūge not / ād ye (O children of Jacob) wyll not leaue of: ye are gone away, fro myne ordinaunces, and sens the tyme of your forfathers haue ye not kepte them.

B Turne you now vnto me, & I wyl turne me vnto you, sayeth the Lord of hostes ye saye: Wherin shal we turne? Should a man vse falshed and disceat wt God as ye vse falshed and disceate with me? yet ye saye, wherin vse we disceate with the? In Tithes & heaue offerenges. Therfor are ye cursed with penury / because yee dyssemble with me / all the sorte of you.

Bringe euery Tithe in to my barne, that ther maye be meate in my house: ād proue me wt al (sayth the lord of hostes) yf I wil not open the wyndowes of heaue vnto you, and poure you out a blessing with plenteousnesse. Yee I shal reproue thee consumer for youre sakes, so that he shall not eate vp ỹ frute of your grounde, nether shall the vynyarde be baren in the felde, sayeth the Lord of hostes: In so moch that al people shal saie, that ye be blessed, for ye shall be a pleasaunt lande, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

Ye speake hard wordes agaynst me, sayeth the Lord. And yet ye say: What haue we spoken agaynst the? Ye haue sayde.

C It is but lost labour to serue God: What profit haue we for keppynge hys commaundementes, and for walkynge humble before the Lorde of hooste? Therfor may we say, that the proud are happie, and that they which dele wt vngodlynesse, are set vpe: for they tempte God / and yet escape.

But they that feare God, saye thus one to an other, the Lorde consydereth and heareth it. Yea it is before hym a

me

memoriall boke, written for such as feare the Lord, and remembre his name. And in the day that I wyl make (saith ỹ Lorde of hooſtes) they ſhalbe myne owne poſſeſſion: and I wyll fauoure thē, lyke as a man fauoureth hys owne ſōne, that doth hym ſeruice,. Turne you therfore and conſydre what dyfference is betwixte the righteous and vngodlye: betwyxte hym that ſerueth god, And hi that ſerueth hym not.

For marke the daye commeth that ſhall burne as an ouen: and all the prōude/yea and al ſuche as do wickednes, ſhalbe ſtrawe: and the daye that is for to come, ſhall burne them vp (ſayeth the Lorde of hooſtes) ſo that it ſhall leaue them neyther rote nor braunche.

But vnto you that feare my name ſhal the Sonne of ryghteouſnes aryſe, and healthe ſhalbe vnder hys wynges: ye ſhall go forth, and multiplye as the fatte calues. Ye ſhall treade downe the vngodly for they ſhalbe like the aſhes vnder the ſoles of youre fete, in the daye ỹ I ſhall make, ſayeth the Lorde of hooſtes.

Remembre the lawe of Moyſes my ſeruaunte, whyche I committed vnto hym in Oreb for all Iſraell, wyth the ſtatutes and ordinaunces. Behold I wyl ſend you Elyas the Prophete: before the commynge of the daye of the great and fearefull Lord.

He ſhall turne the hartes of the fa- thers to theyr chylderen. and the hartes of the chyldren to their fathers, that I come not and ſmyte the earth with cur- ſynge.

¶ The ende of the Prophecy of Malachy/ and conſequently of al the Pro- phetes.

memoriall boke, written for such as feare the Lord, and remembre his name. And in the day that I wyl make (saith ỹ Lorde of hooſtes) they ſhalbe myne owne poſſeſſion: and I wyll fauoure thē, lyke as a man fauoureth hys owne ſōne, that doth hym ſeruice,. Turne you therfore and conſydre what dyfference is betwixte the righteous and vngodlye: betwyxte hym that ſerueth god, And hi that ſerueth hym not.

For marke the daye commeth that ſhall burne as an ouen: and all the prōude/yea and al ſuche as do wickednes, ſhalbe ſtrawe: and the daye that is for to come, ſhall burne them vp (ſayeth the Lorde of hooſtes) ſo that it ſhall leaue them neyther rote nor braunche.

But vnto you that feare my name ſhal the Sonne of ryghteouſnes aryſe, and healthe ſhalbe vnder hys wynges: ye ſhall go forth, and multiplye as the fatte calues. Ye ſhall treade downe the vngodly for they ſhalbe like the aſhes vnder the ſoles of youre fete, in the daye ỹ I ſhall make, ſayeth the Lorde of hooſtes.

Remembre the lawe of Moyſes my ſeruaunte, whyche I committed vnto hym in Oreb for all Iſraell, wyth the ſtatutes and ordinaunces. Behold I wyl ſend you Elyas the Prophete: before the commynge of the daye of the great and fearefull Lord.

He ſhall turne the hartes of the fa- thers to theyr chylderen. and the hartes of the chyldren to their fathers, that I come not and ſmyte the earth with cur- ſynge.

¶ The ende of the Prophecy of Malachy/ and conſequently of al the Pro- phetes.

memoriall boke, written for such as feare the Lord, and remembre his name. And in the day that I wyl make (saith ỹ Lorde of hooſtes) they ſhalbe myne owne poſſeſſion: and I wyll fauoure thē, lyke as a man fauoureth hys owne ſōne, that doth hym ſeruice,. Turne you therfore and conſydre what dyfference is betwixte the righteous and vngodlye: betwyxte hym that ſerueth god, And hi that ſerueth hym not.

For marke the daye commeth that ſhall burne as an ouen: and all the prōude/yea and al ſuche as do wickednes, ſhalbe ſtrawe: and the daye that is for to come, ſhall burne them vp (ſayeth the Lorde of hooſtes) ſo that it ſhall leaue them neyther rote nor braunche.

But vnto you that feare my name ſhal the Sonne of ryghteouſnes aryſe, and healthe ſhalbe vnder hys wynges: ye ſhall go forth, and multiplye as the fatte calues. Ye ſhall treade downe the vngodly for they ſhalbe like the aſhes vnder the ſoles of youre fete, in the daye ỹ I ſhall make, ſayeth the Lorde of hooſtes.

Remembre the lawe of Moyſes my ſeruaunte, whyche I committed vnto hym in Oreb for all Iſraell, wyth the ſtatutes and ordinaunces. Behold I wyl ſend you Elyas the Prophete: before the commynge of the daye of the great and fearefull Lord.

He ſhall turne the hartes of the fa- thers to theyr chylderen. and the hartes of the chyldren to their fathers, that I come not and ſmyte the earth with cur- ſynge.

¶ The ende of the Prophecy of Malachy/ and conſequently of al the Pro- phetes.

¶ The volume of

The Bokes Called Apocriphal Cõtayned in the Commen Translation in Latyne, whych are not founde in the hebrue, nor in the Chalde.

¶ The registre therof.

The thyrd boke of Esdras.
The fourth boke of Esdras.
The boke of Tobias.
The boke of Judith.
The rest of the boke of Hester.
The boke of Wysdome.
Ecclesiasticus.
Baruch the Prophete.
The songe of the three Childeren in the ouē.
The story of Susanna.
The story of Bell and of the Dragon.
The prayer of Manasses.
The fyrst boke of the Machabees.
The seconde boke of the Machabees.

IN consideracion that the bokes before, ar found in the hebrew tonge, receued of al mē: & that the other followyng, whych are called Apocri pha (because they were wont to be redde, not openly and in comen, but as it were in secret and aparte) are nether found in the hebrew nor in the Calde: in whyche tonges, they haue not of longe bene wrytten (in lesse then it were haply the boke of sapiēce) wherupon it were now very hard to re payre and amende them: And that also they are not receaued nor taken, as legity= mate and leafull, as well of the Hebrues, as of the whole Church, as S. Hierome sheweth: we haue separate them, and set them alyde, that they may ỹ better be kuo= wen: to thintent that men maye know of which bokes, witnes ought to be receued and of which not. For the sayde saynt Hierome, speakinge of the boke of Judyth (which is apocriphe) sayth, that the auctorite therof is not estimed worthye and sufficient, to confyrme and stablish the thynges that lyght in disputacion. And generally of al the bokes called Apocrypha, he sayeth, that men maye reade them to the edyfyyng of the people, but not to confyrme and strengthen the doctrine of the Churche. I leaue out here the lawe (as they cal it) of Canon. c. Sancta Roma na. xv. distinct, where he shewed his iudgement. Lyke wyse the glose of. c. Canons xvi, distinct. whych sayth, that men reade them, but not in generall: asthoughe he should saye, that generally and thorouly they are not alowed. And not wythout a cause: For that they haue bene corrupted and falsifyed in many places, it appeareth sufficiently by Eusebius in hys boke called hystoria Ecclesiastica: whych thyng is easy to be knowen, euen now a dayes in certen pointes, namely in the bokes of ỹ Machabees, whose second boke saynt Hierome confesseth that he founde not in the hebrewe, by the meanes wherof it is become vnto vs the more suspecte, and the lesse receaued.

In the Pro= log to ỹ Pro uer.

In the .xiii. boke the xxii Chap.

In lyke maner is it of the thyrd and fourth boke of Esdras, which S. Hierom pro testeth that he wold not haue translated/esteming them for dreames: where as Jo sephus yet in his boke of his Antiquities declareth ỹ sūme of the matter after ỹ ma ner of a story, as wel of ỹ boke of Machabees as of the .iii. of Esdras although he esteame the bokes compyled from the raigne of kyng Artaxerses vnto hys tyme, to be Apochriphas.

In the Pro loge of Es dras

In, the. xi. xii. xiii. of the Antiquites.

In the Pro loge before Judith.

In the Pro loge to the Prouerbe.

In ỹ prolog vpō ỹ bokes of the kiges.

In, ỹ iiii boke agaynst Appiō

Now therfore then, when thou wylt mayntayne any thing for certen, rendring a reason of thy fayth, take hede to procede therin by the lyuyng and pythy Scrip tures, folowyng. S Peter/which sayth: He that speake, let him speke as thoughe he spake the word of god. He sayeth the word of god, as a thing most true & cer= ten, opened by the prophetes and Apostles, inspired with the holy gost: of whome we haue wytnes moare cleare then the daye. Lawers hauing greate desyre to con= fyrme and stabish their opinyons by the lawe of man, saye, ỹ they shame to speake without lawe: How muche more feare and dreade then ought he to haue, that say eth he is a Christian, the which holdeth not hym selfe, or resteth not in the lawes of the lyuyng god: But in mennes inuencyons, iudgyng of al thynges accor dyng to thē, and leauyng to an vncertē immaginacyon, and phantasy: Let vs ther fore that are buylded on the foundacyon of the holy prophetes and Apostles/and one the head cerner stone (one which they them selues were foūded, on which they preached/that is Jesus Christ, the sure stone) leaue the thynges that are vncerten to folow the certen: holding vs and resting vs in thē, and fastenig our ancre there, as in a sure place. For our christen faith consisteth not in douteful thynges, but in playn and most certen assuraūce, and in most tru preseruacio, taken and cōfyrmed by infallyble verite. In which god graunte vs to walcke perpetually, to the intent that accordig to it (fulfyllyng hys holy wyll in vs, and settyng alyde al inuensiōs contrary vnto hym) we maye lyue to his honoure, and to the edyfiēg of his church.

1. Petr. iiii c
1. Petr. i. b
ii. Pete i. d

Erubescimus sine lege loqui.

1. Corin: xii c
Epheſ. ii. d.

So be it.

¶ The thyrde boke of Esdras.

¶ Josias holdeth passeouer. After his deth, is Jechonias his sonne made kyng in his stede whō ꝑ kinge of Egipt putteth out, & setteth in his brother Joachim. Jerusalem is destroyed, & Sedechyah taken.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A

AND Josias helde the feaste of Easter in Jerusalem vnto the Lorde, and slewe the Passe ouer, the .xiiii. daie of the fyrst moneth. He set the prestes also in ordre (according to their dayly courses) being araied in long garmentes in the temple of the Lord. And he spake vntoo the Leuites the holye ministers of Israell/ that they shoulde halow them selues vnto the lorde, to set the holy arcke of the lorde, in the house that kynge Salomon the sonne of Dauid had buylded, and sayde: Ye shal no moare beare the Arke vpon youre shulders. Now serue your lord, and take the charge of hys people of Israell, after your villages ād your trybes: accordig as kyng Dauid, the king of Israel hath ordened, and accordig as Salomon his sonne hath honorably prepared: ye loke that ye al do seruyce in the temple, accordinge to his ordynge and destribucion of the principyall men, which are appoynted out of the trybes, to do seruyce for ꝑ children of Israel. Kyl the Passeouer & prepare offerynges for your brethren & do accordinge to ꝑ cōmaundement of ꝑ Lord, which he gaue vnto moses. And vnto the people that was founde. Josyas gaue .xxx. thousande of sheepe lambes, kyddes, and goates, and thre thousande oxen. These the kynge (of his kynglye lyberalytye) gaue vnto the peo-
B ple, according as he had promysed: and to the prestes of the Passeouer, he gaue two thuosand shepe, and an hundreth oxen. Moreouer, Jechonias & Semeias, and Nathanael brethren and Hasabias Jehiel, and Josabad gaue theym to the Passeouer. v. M. shepe, and v. hundreth bullockes:

And when these thinges were brought to passe, the Prestes and the Leuites stode goodly in theyr ordre, and had the vnleuened bread throughout the tribes. And after the ordering of the principal men in the tribes, they offered vnto the the lorde, in the syghte of the people, accordyng as it is wrytten in the booke of Moyses, and so they rosted the Easter lambe as accordinge was. As for the thanckoffrynges, & the other they dight them in kettels and pottes, and set them before the People, with good wyll, and afterwarde before them selues, and the Preastes. For the prestes offered the fat vntyll the tyme was expyred: but the leuites prepared for them selues, and for theyr bretheren the chylderen of Aaron. The syngers also the chyldren of Asaph stode in theyr ordre, accordynge as Dauid had deuised. So dyd Asaph, Zachary and Jduthun, whych were apoynted by the kynge. Moreouer the porters ād dore kepers, stod by the dores and that dylygentlye, so that none wente out of hys standing and seruice/ for theyr brethren (the Leuites) prepared for them. ¶
Thus wer al thynges performed, ꝑ belōged to the offering of the Lord. In that day they held the passeouer, and offred thanckoffrynges, besyde the sacryfice of the Lorde, accordynge to the cōmaūdement of kyng Josias.

So the chylderen of Israell, whyche were then presente helde an honourable Passeouer, and the feaste of swete bread vii. dayes longe. Yea such a Passeouer was not kepte in Israell, from the tyme of the Prophete Samuell. And all the kynges of Israell, helde not such an easter, as thys which kyng Josias helde/ and the preastes, the Leuites, the Jewes, and all Israell, of all them that were at Jerusalem. And in the .xviii. yeare of the raygne of Josias was thys passe ouer kepte. And wythe a perfecte harte, dyd kyng Josias ordre all hys worcks, before the Lorde, and the thynges that were wrytten of hym in Tymes paste concerning those that synned, and were vngodly agaynste the Lorde before all people, and that sought not the word of the Lorde vpon Israel. * After all these actes of King Josias, Pharao the king of Egipte, wente vp/ and came towarde Carcamis by Euphrates, and Josias went

went to mete him. Then sent the kynge of Egypte vnto Josyas / saiyng: what haue I to do w̄ thee / O king of Juda? I am not sent of the lord to fight against thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, go thou thy waye home agayne in all ỹ haste. And Josias wolde not turne agayn vpon hys charet, but vndertoke to fyght agaynst him, and harkened not vnto the worde of the prophet, which he tolde him out of the mouth of God, but pytched a battell agaynst him in ỹ feld of Mageddo. And the princes preassed to kynge Josias. Then sayde the kynge vnto his Seruauntes: Carye me awaye oute of the battell, for I am sore wounded. And immediatly his seruauntes toke him awaie, out of the front of ỹ bat
P tell. Then sate he vp vppon the second charet, came to Jerusalem, dyed, & was buryed in his fathers sepulcre. And in al Jewry they mourned for Josias / ye the rulers also with their wyues, made lamentacion for him vnto this daye: And this was done euer still in Israel.

These thynges are written in the boke of the stories of the kynges of Juda, namely, al the actes & worckes of king Josias, his kingly power and maiesty, hys vnderstanding in the lawe of god, and what he dyd, yea thynges which are not wrytten in the boke of the kynges of Israel and Juda. And the people toke Iechonias the sonne of Josias, and made him kynge in stede of Josias his father when he was .xxiii. yeares olde. And he raigned ouer Israel iii. monethes. And the kynge of Egipte put hym downe, ỹ he shoulde not raygne in Jerusalē, and E rayſed vp a taxe of the people: namelye, an. C. talentes of syuer and one talente of golde. The king of Egypt also, made Johakim hys brother kyng of Juda & Jerusalem. As for them of the kynges Councel, with the kynge him selfe, and Zaracles hys brother, he toke them, & caried them awaye preſoners into Egipt. Fyue and twentye yeare olde was Ieoachim, when he was made kynge in the lande of Juda and Jerusalem, and he dyd euel before the Lord. After this, Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babilon cāe vp, bounde hym wyth bandes of yron, & caryed hym vnto Babilon.

Nabuchodonosor also toke all ỹ vessels that were halowed in the temple of the Lorde, and all the Jewels, and caryed them vnto Babylon, and brought them into hys owne temple at Babylon. Of hys vncleannes and vngodlynes it ys writtē in the booke of the Actes of the kynges. And Joachim hys sonne raygned in his steade: He was made kynge beinge .xviii. yeare olde, and raygned
F but thre monethes and x. dayes in Jerusalem, and dyd euel before the Lorde.

So after a yeare, Nabuchodonosor sent and caused hym be brought vntoo Babylon, w̄ the holy vessels of the lord and made Zedekiah his brother kyng of Juda and Jerusalem, when he was xxi. yeare olde: and he reygned .xi. yeare. And he did euell also in the syght of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto hi by the prophet Jeremy at the mouthe of the Lorde. And wheare as he had made an oothe vnto kynge Nabuchodonosor, he manswore hym selfe, and fell from hym, hauinge a stifnecke and a harte, and transgressed all the statutes and ordinaunces of the Lorde god of Israell. The rulers also and heades of the people of the Lorde, dyd muche euell, and became vngodly more then the Heathen, beinge defyled in all manet of abhominacions: Yea, & defyled the holy temple of the Lorde at Jerusalē. And the God of theyr fathers sent hys messangers vntoo them, to turne them backe, and to call them agayne from theyr synnes: for he wold fayne haue spared them for hys holy tabernacles sake: Neuertheles, they had hys Messlaungers in derysyon: And looke, what god spake vnto them by his prophetes, they made but a sport of it. Thys drew on so longe, tyl the Lorde was wrothe with hys people for theyr vngodlynesse:
G & tyl he caused the kynges of the caldees to come vp, whych slewe theyr yong mē w̄ the swerde, yea euen in the compasse of theyr holy temple, ād spared nobody, neyther ponge nor olde / neyther maide nor pong man: but they were al deliured into the power, of the kinges of the caldees, and all the holy vessels of the Lorde and the kynges treasures toke they, and caryed them vnto Babilon. As for fyre vpon her towres, destroyed all her noble buildinges, and brought them to naught: and the People that were not slayne wyth the sweatde, they caryed vn to Babylon.

Thus became they prisoners and bondmen of the king of Babilon, tyll they were delyuered and Raygned for them selues, * when the woordes of the Lorde were fulfylled, whyche he promised them by the mouth of the prophete Jeremy, and tyll the lande had her rest: namelye, all the time that it laye waste had it rest and quietnes. lxx. vii. yeares.

¶ Cirus geueth lycence to the Jewes, to returne to Jerusalem, & restoreth them the vessels of the temple. After that are ther letters sent to Artaxerses, which accuse the Jewes for buylding of the Citie: and so is the buylding dyuē of, vntyll the. ii. yeare of Dazius.

The. ii. Chapter.

A * Now when kynge Cirus raigned ouer the Persians, and when the Lord wculd perfourme the worde ỹ he had promysed by ỹ mouthe of the prophete Jeremy: the lord raysed vp the spyrete of Cirus, the kyng of Persians, so that he cauled this writinge to be proclaymed thorow oute his whoole realme, saiynge: ¶ Thus saythe the kynge of Persians: The lorde of Israell that hygh lorde hathe made me kynge of the Lande, and commaunded me to buylde hym an house at Jerusalem in Jewry. If there be any now of youre people, ỹ the lorde be wyth hym, and go vp wyth hym to Jerusalem. And all they that dwell roūde aboute that place, shall helpe them, whether it be wyth golde, & siluer & giftes, & horses & necessary catel and all other thynges that are brought wyth a fre wyll to the house of the lord at Jerusalem.

Then the principall men oute of the B tribes and vyllages of Juda and Ben-Jamin stode vp: so dyd the prestes also ād ỹ leuites (whome the Lorde had moued, to go vp, and to buyld the house of the Lorde at Jerusalem, And they that were aboute them helped them wyth all maner of gold, and syluer, and catell also and wyth many lyberall gyftes, and thys dyd many one, whose mynde was styrred vp thertoo. * Kynge Cirus also brought forth the vessels & ornamentes, that wer halowed vnto the Lord (which Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylon had caried awaye from Jerusalem, and consecrated them to hys idoll and ymage) and delyuered them to Mithridatus hys Treasurer, and by hym they were delyuered to Salmanasar, the debytie in Jewry. And thys was the numbre of them: Two thousand and. iiii. C. syluer boules. xxx. syluer basens. xxx. basens of golde. ii. M. and. iiii. C. vessels of syluer, and a thousande beside. All the vessels of golde and syluer were. v. M. viii. C. and. lx. These were numbred vnto Salmanasar, and them that were come agayne wythe hym to Jerusalem oute of the captyuitye of Babylon. * C Now in the tyme of kynge Artaxerses the king of Persia, these men: Balemus & Mithridatus, Sabellius, Rathimus, Balthemus, Semellius the scrybe and other that dwelt in Samarya and in other places vnder the dominion thereof, wrote a letter vnto kynge Artaxerses, wherin they complayned vnto the king of them in Jewry and Jerusalem. The letter was made after thys maner:

Syr, thy seruaunts Rathimus, the story wryter, Sabellius the Scribe and other iudges of the courte in Celosyria and Phenyces. Be it knowen and manifest to our Lord the kyng, that the Jewes which are com vp from you vn to vs into the rebellyous and wycked cytie, begynne to buylde it agayne, and ỹ walles about it, and to set vp the tẽple D of the new. Now yf thys cytye and ỹ walles therof be set vp againe, they shal not only refuse to geue trybutes & taxes, but also rebell vtterly against the king.

And forsomuch as they take this in hand now about the tempe, we thought it reason, to thinke no scorne of it, but to shew it vnto our Lord the kyng, and to certyfy him therof: to the intent that if it please the kynge, he maye cause it to be sought in the bokes of olde: and ỹ shalt fynde suche warning written, and shalt vnderstande, that the cytie hathe all waye bene rebellyous and disobediente, that it hath subdued kinges and cyties, and that the Jewes which dwel therin,

haue

haue euer ben a rebellious, obstinat, vn faythfull, & fighting peple, for the which cause this cite is wasted. Wherfor now we certifye our Lorde the kynge, that if thys cite be builded, ād occupied again, and the walles therof set vp anewe, ỹ canst haue no passage into Celosyria ād Phenices.

Then wrote the kyng to Rathimus
the storye writer, to Balthemus, to Sa D bellius the scrybe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Siria & Phenices
after this maner: I haue red the Epistle, whych thou sentest vnto me, and haue commaunded to make diligent searche/and haue founde, that the cytie hath e-uer resisted kynges, that the same people are disobediente, and haue caused muche warre, and that myghty kinges haue raigned in Jerusalem, which also haue raysed vppe Tares of Siria and Phenices. Wherfore I haue commaū ded those people, that they shal not buil de the citie, that they make no more in it, and that they proceade no further wyth
the buyldinge: for so muche as it myght be the cause of warre, and displesure vn to kynges.

Now when Rathymus and Sabel-lyus, the Scrybe, and the Rulers in the lande, had red the wrytinge of kyng Artaxerses, they gat them together/ and ca me in all the hast to Jerusalem, with an hooste of horsmen, and with much people of fote, & forbad them to build. And so they lefte of from buyldīng of the tēple, vnto the seconde yeare of kynge Da tius.

¶ Darius maketh a feaste. The iii. sentences of the
iii. young men, of which the fyrst is declared.

¶ The iii. Chapter.

A KYng Darius made a great feast vnto his Seruaūtes, vnto all hys courte, ād to al
the Officers of Medea and Persia, yea to al the debites and rulers that were vnder hym / from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and xxvii. countrees. So when they had eaten and dronken being satisfyed, and we re gone home agayne. Darius the king wente into hys chamber, layed hym dou
ne to slepe, and so awaked.

Then the thre younge men, that kepte
the kynges person and watched hys body, commoned amonge them selues, and spake one to another: let euery one of vs B saye sumthing, and loke whose sentence is wyser and more excellent than the other/ vnto hym shal king Darius geue greate giftes, and clothe him with purple. He shall geue hym vessels of goulde to drinke in, clothes of gold and coue-rynges: he shal make him a costly charet and a bridle of golde, he shal geue hym
a bonet of whit lylke, & a chayne of gold about his necke: yea he shalbe the lecōd and principal nexte vnto kynge Da-tius, & that because of his wysdome, and shalbe called, the kinges kynsman.

So euery one wrote his meanynge, sealed it, and layde it vnder the kynges pelowe, and sayde: when the kynge ary-seth, we wyl geue him our wrytinges: & loke whose wordes the kyng & his chefe lordes iudge to be the moste wysely spo ken, the same shal haue the victory. One wrote: Wyne is a strong thinge.
The seconde wrote: The kynge is stron ger. The thyrde wrote: Women haue yet more strength, but aboue al thinges
the treuth beareth awaye the victory.
Now when the king was rysen vp, they toke theyr wrytynges and delyuered thē vnto him, and so he red them. Then set he forth to cal al his chefe lordes, all ỹ debytes and chefe rulers of the contrees of Medea and Persia. And when they were set downe in the councell, the wrytinges were red before them. And he cō maunded, to cal for the ponge men, that they myght declare their meanynges thē selues by mouth. So whē they were set for, and came in: the kynge sayde vnto them: shewe vs and make vs to vnder-staude, what the thinges are that ye haue written.

Thē began the fyrst (which had spoken of the strength of wyne) & sayde:
O ye men, wyne is maruelous stronge,
and ouercommeth them that drynke it:
it dysceaueth the mynde, and bryngeth bothe the poore manne and the kynge to dotage and vanite.
Thus dothe yt also with the bonde man and wyth the free, wyth the poore and D ryche: It taketh awaye their vnderstandynge, and maketh theym careless and merye/so that none of them remembreth any heuynesse, dett or dewtye: It causeth a man to thyncke also that the thinge which he doth, is honest & good: and remembreth not that he is a kyng, nor that he is in auctoryte, and that he ought not to do suche thynges. Moreouer, when men are drynckyng, they forget al frendshyppe, all brotherly faythfulnes and loue: but as soone as theye are dronken, they drawe out the swerde and wyl fyghte: and when they are laid downe from the wyne, and so rysen vp agayne, they can not tel, what they dyd: iudge ye now, is not wyne the strongeste? For who wolde elsetake in hande to do suche thynges? And when he had spoken this, he helde his tonge.

¶ The declaracion of .iii. last sentences of .iii. yonge men, propoũded in the Chapter before, of which the last, that is, that veryte beareth the victory in al thinges, is most commẽded & alowed. Darius writeth letters to al the rulers vnder him, that they should ayde zorobabel to the building of Jerusalem.

❧ The .iiii. Chapter.

THen the seconde (which had sayde, that the kynge was stronger) began to speake, sayinge: O ye men/are not they the strongest / and most excellent, that conquere the land and the sea, and al that is in the sea & in the earth? Now is the kyng lorde of all these thinges/and hath dominiõ of thẽ al: and loke what he commaundeth, it is done. If he sende hys men forth awarfare, they go, and breake downe hylles, walles and towres. They ar slayne, and slaye (other men) thẽ selues, & ouerpasse not the kynges word. If they get the victory, they bringe the kyng al the spoyle. Like wise the other that medle not with warres and fyghting, but tyl the groũd: when they reape, they bringe tribute vnto the kyng. And yf the kyng alone do but commaunde to kyll, they kyll: yf he commaunde to forgeue, they forgeue: yf he cõmaũd to smyte, they smyte: if he bid dryue awaye, they dryue awaye: if he cõmaunde to buylde, they buylde: yf he cõmaunde to breake downe, theye breake downe: yf he commaunde to plant, they plant. The comen people and the rulers are obedient vnto hym. And the kynge in the meane season sytteth hym down, eateth, and drinketh, and taketh his rest then kepe they watch roũde aboute the kyng, and not one of them darre get hi out of the way, to do his owne busynes, but must be obedient vnto the kyng at a worde. Judge ye now, O ye men, howe should not he go farre aboue, vnto whõ men are thus obedient? And when he had spoken this, he helde hys tonge.

The third whose name was zorobabel/ which had spoken of wemẽ and of truth, beganne to saye after this maner: O ye men, it is not the greate kyng, it is not ỹ multitude of men, nether is it wyne that excelleth: Who is it then that hath the lordshippe ouer them? Haue not wemen borne the kynge, and all the people that rule those thynges? Haue not wemen borne theym, and brought theym vp, that plaute the vynes, whereout the wine commeth? They make garmentes for al men, they geue honoure vnto al men, and wythoute wemen can not men lyue. If they gather golde and syluer and all precyous thynges, and se a fayre wel fauoured womã, they leaue all to gether, and turne their eyes only vnto the woman, and gape vpon her, and haue more desyre vnto her, then vnto ỹ syluer and golde, or any maner of precyous thynge. A man leaueth hys Father that brought hym vp, he leaueth his owne naturall countree, and cleaueth vnto the woman: yeahe ieopardeth hys lyfe wyth the woman, and remembreth nether father, nor mother, nor countree. By thys then ye must nedes know, that women haue the dominion ouer you.

¶ Doth it greue you? A man taketh hys swearde/and goethe hys waye too steale, to kyll, to murther, to saile vppon the sea, and seith a lyon, and goth in the darckenes: and when he hath stollen, dyscerned and robbed, he bringeth it vnto hys loue. Agayne, man loueth hys wyfe better, then father and mother: ye many one there be, that runne oute of theyre wyttes, and become bondmen for theyre wyues sakes: many one also haue perysshed, and haue bene slayne, and haue sined because of women.

And now beleue me, I know a kyng/ which is great in hys power, and all landes stand in awe of hym, and no man dare laye hande vpon hym: yet dyd I see, that that Apame (the daughter of the great kyng Bartacus) ỹ kynges concubine sat besyd the kyng, vpon the ryght hãde, and toke of his crowne frõ his head and set it vpon her owne head, & smote the kynge with her lefte hande. Moze ouer, the king loked vpõ her with open mouth: yf she laughed vpõ him, he laughed also: but yf she toke any displeasure wh hi, ỹ king was faine to flatter her, and to geue her good wozdes tyl he had gotten her fauoure agayne.

O ye men, ar not wemen then stronger? Greate is the earth/ãd hye is the heauẽ that do these thinges. Then the kyng & the Pzinces loked one vpõ another. So he began to speake of the trueth: O ye men/ are not wemen strongar? Greate is the earth, hye is the heauen, swyft is the course of the sounde, he compasseth the heauen rounde aboute, and fetcheth his course agayn to his own place in õe daye. Is he not excellent that doth this? Ye great is the trueth and stronger thẽ all thinges. All the earth calleth vpon the trueth, ỹ heauen pzayseth it, al wozkes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing. Wyne is vnrighteous: the kyng is vnrighteous women are vnrighteous: al the childzẽ of men are vnrighteous, ye al their wozkes are vnrighteous, & ther is no trueth in them, in there vnrighteousnes also shal they be destroied and perish. As for truth, it endureth and is al waye strõg: it lyueth and conquereth for euermoze

E wozlde without ende.

The trueth acceptethe no parsonnes, it putteth no difference betwixte riche oz poore betwexte the myghtye oz simple but doth right vntoeuery man whether they be euel oz good and all men are louyngly dealt w al in the wozkes of it. In the iudgement of it ther is no vnrighteous thing, but strength kyngdõ and power & maiesty for euermoz Blessed be the God of trueth.

And w that he helde his tonge and all the people cried and sayde: Great is the trueth, & aboue al. Then sayde the king vnto him: Aske what thou wylt moze then is appoynted in the wryting and I shall geue it thee, for thou arte found wyser then thy companyons:

ỹ shalt sit next me and be my kinseman. Then sayde he vnto the kynge: Remembre thy pzomyse and vowe, whyche thou haste vowed and pzompsed (in the daye when thou camest to the kyngdoime) to builde vp Jerusalem, and to sende again F ne al the vessels and Jewels, that were taken awaye out of Jerusalem: whyche Cyrus separated, when he offered in Babylon, and would send thẽ agayne. And thy mynde was to buyld vp the temple/ whych the Edomites brent, when Jerusalem was destroyed by the Caldees. Thys onely, O kyng/ is the thynge that I require, thys is the maiestie, which I desyre and aske of thee: that thou perfozme the vowe, which thou wyth thyne owne mouth hast made vnto the kyng of heauen.

Then Darius the kinge stode vp, ãd kyssed hym, and wzote a letter vntoo all the debytes and shzeues, to all the lozds and Nobles, that they shoulde conueye hym fozth, and all them that would go vp wyth hym. He wzote a letter also vnto al the shzeues that were in Celosiria and Phenices, and vnto Lybanus, that they shoulde dzawe Cedze trees from Lybanus vnto Jerusalem, to buylde the citye wyth all. Moze ouer he wzote vntoo all the Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Jewzy, because of the fredom ỹ no officer, noz ruler, noz shzeue, shulde come to theyz dozes: and that all their lãde which they had conquered, should be free and not tributary: And that the Edomytes shoulde geue ouer the cityes and byllages of the Jewes, whyche they had taken in: yea and that they shoulde yearely geue .xx. talentes to the buylding of the temple, vntill the tyme that it were fyntished: and to the dayly halowinge G of the brent offerynges (as it is cõmãded) ten talẽts yearely also: And that all they whych come from Babylon to build the Cytie, shoulde haue free Lybertye, they and theyze Chylderen, and all the Pzeasties:

He wzote the greateneſſe also and commaunded that the holye Garmente shouldebe geuen them, wherin they mynistred: and wzote that commaundementes shoulde be geuen to the Leuites, vn-

tyl the daye, that ꝯ house were fynisshed and ℨ Jerusalem buylded vp: and cõmaũded that al they ꝯ watched ꝯ cyte, shold haue their porcyons and wages.

He gaue ouer also all the vessels that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: & all ꝯ Cyrus had geuen in cõmaũdemẽt, the same charged he also, that it shulde be done and sent vnto Jerusalem. Now when this ponge man was gone forth he turned his face toward Jerusalem, and praysed the kyng of heauen, & sayd Of thee commethe the victorye, Of the commet, wysdom and clearnesse and I am thy seruant. Blessed art thou which hast geuen me wysdome: the wyll I prayse, O Lorde, thou God of oure fathers.

And so he toke the letters/and wente vnto Babylon: And when he came ther he tolde this vnto hys bretheren that were at Babylon, and they praysed the god of ther fathers, that he had geuẽ thẽ refreshing & lyberti to go vp, & to build Jerusalem and the temple (whiche ys there called after the name of ꝯ Lord) and they reioysed with instrumẽtes ãd gladnesse seuen dayes longe.

¶ They ꝯ returne to Jerusalẽ are nombred. They begyn to lay ꝯ foundacion of ꝯ tẽple, but are let by ꝯ meanes of enemyes & so is ꝯ buylding dryue of by ꝯ space of two yeare.

The.v.Chapter.

a After this were the principal men of al the vyllages chosen in the trybes and, kynredes, that they shuld go vp with their wyues & childrẽ with their seruauntes & maydens, with al their catel and substaunce. And Darius the kyng sent w̃ them a thousãde horsmen, to conueye them safely vnto Jerusalem: and their brethẽ were glad, playeng vpon instrumentes/& singing

And these are the names of the men, whiche wente vp out of the villages, accordyng to the trybes. Of the Prestes ꝯ sonne of Phinees, ꝯ sõne of Aaron: Jesus the sonne of Josedec Joachim the sonne of zorobabel ꝯ sonne of Salathiel (of the kynred of Dauid, out of ꝯ kired of Phares, of the trybe of Juda) whiche spake wonderful thinges vnder Darius the kyng of Parsia/in ꝯ secõd yeare of his rayne in ꝯ fyrst moneth of Nisan.

These also are they of Jewry, which came vp/and turned agayne vnto Jerusalem, oute of the captyuyte that Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babylõ had brought vnto Babylon. And euery man sought hys porcion agayne in Jewry, his cite, they that came wyth zorobabell, and with Jesus, Nehemias, Saraias, Raelaias, Elenius, Emmanius, Mardocheus, Beelserus, Mechpsa, Rochor, Oliorus, Emonias/one of their princes.

And the nombre of them accordinge to their kynredes and rulers were. B
The chyldren of Phares, two thousãd an. C. and .lxxii. The chylderen of Ares iii. M an. C. and .lvii. The chylderen of Femo, an. C. ãd .xlii. In the sonnes of Jesus and Joabes, a. M. iii. C. and two. The sonnes of Beniu. ii M. iiii. C. and lxx The sonnes of Corobal. ii. C. and. v. The sonnes of Banica, an. C. and lxviii. The sonnes of Rebech. iiii C. and three. The sonnes of Archod. iiii. C. and xxvii The sonnes of Adonikam. xxxvii. The sonnes of zorobabel. ii M. and lxvii: The sonnes of Adonu. iiii C. and lxi. The sonnes of Adarectis an C. ãd viii. The sonnes of Ciaso & Selasan. C. & vii. The sõnes of Azecec. iiii. C and. xxix. The sonnes of Jedarbone, an · C. and. xxxii. The sonnes of Hananias an. C. and xxx. The sonnes of Azoni. xc. The sonnes of Marsat. iiii. C. and xxii. The sonnes of Habarus. xcv. The sonnes of Sepholemon an C. and xxiii. The sonnes of Nepopas. lv The sonnes of Bechanates an. C. lviii. The sonnes of Sebethanus an. C. & xxxii The sonnes of Crearpat or (whyche is called also Enohadies and Modias) iiii. C. and xxiii Of them of Grainos and Gabea, an. C. and xxi. Of them, of Bessetlon and Ceage, lxv. Of them of Bastarus an. C. and xxii. Of them of Becheno bes. lv. Of the sonnes of Liptis: ther were an. C. and. lv. Of the sonnes of Labonnus: iii C. and lvii. Of the soimes of Sichem. iii C, and lxx. Of the sonnes of Suadon and Elimon. iii. C. and. lxxviii Of the soimes of Ericus two thousande an C. and xlv, The sonnes of Juaas iii. C. and. lxx:

the

The Prestes: The sonnes of Jeddus The sonnes of Euther: the sonnes of El Jasib. iii. C. and. lxxi. The sonnes of Emerus. ii. C. and. lii. The sonnes of Fasurius. iii. C. and. lvii. The sonnes of Carea. ii. C. and. xxvii. The Leuites: The sonnes of Jesus in Caduhell and Banus, and Serebias, an Edeas, seuentie and foure.

The whole numbre of these from. xii yeares was. iii. M. iiii. C. lxii. Of the sonnes, doughters and wyues, The whole summe was. iiiii. M. ii. C. and xlii. The sonnes of the preestes that prayed God in the temple: The sonnes of Asaph, of whome there were an. C. and. xxviii. But the dore kepers wer: The chyldren of Esmenus: the chylderen of Aser: the chylderen of Amon: the chylderen of Acuba, Topa: the chylderen of Tobi: an. C, and. xxxix. in all.

¶ The preestes that serued in the Temple: The sonnes of Sel, the sonnes of Gaspha, the sonnes of Tobloch, the sonnes of Caria, the sonnes of Sub, the sõnes of Heliu, the sonnes of Labana, the sonnes of Armacha, the sonnes of Acub, the sonnes of Utha, the sõnes of Cetha, the sonnes of Agab, the sõnes of Obay, the sonnes of Anani, the sonnes of Canna, the sonnes of Geddu, the sonnes of Au, the sonnes of Radin, the sonnes of Desanon, the sonnes of Nechoba, the sõnes of Caseba, the Sonnes of Goza, the sonnes of Ozul, the sonnes of Sinona, the sonnes of Atra, the sonnes of Hastein, the sonnes of Asiana, the sonnes of Maneí, the sonnes of Nasisin, the Sonnes of Accuka, the sonnes of Agitta, the sonnes of Azuí, the sonnes of Fauon, the sonnes of Phasalon, the sonnes of Meeda, the sonnes of Susa, the sonnes of Cared, the sonnes of Barcus, the sonnes of Sarea, the sonnes of Coesi, the sõnes of Nasit, the sonnes of Agista, the sonnes of Pedon: Salomon hys sonnes the sonnes, of Asophot, the Sonnes of Phazida, the sonnes of Celi, the Sonnes of Dedon, the Sonnes of Gaddahel, the Sonnes of Sapheus, the Sonnes of Aggia the SONNES of Sacharet, the sonnes of Sabathã, the sonnes of Saroueth, ỹ sonnes of Nasit, the sonnes of Ania, the sonnes of Salus, the sonnes of Addus, the sonnes of Suba, the sonnes of Enra, the sonnes of Rabotis, the sonnes of Phalphat, the sonnes of Nalmon. All these ministred in the Sanctuarye, and were seruauntes of Salomon: euen. iiii. C, x. lxxxii. D

These folowyng are they, that wẽt vp from Thelmellat Thelarsa (whose Prynces were Carmelan and Careth) and might not shew forth their cities ãd kynredes, how they were of Israel: The sonnes of Dalarus, the sonnes of Tuben, the sonnes of Nechodaicus. Of the prestes that executed the offyce of the Presthode, and were not founde: The sonnes of Obia, the sõnes of Achos, the sonnes of Addin, which maried one of the daughters of Phargelen, ãd were named after him. The wryting of the same kynred was sought in the register of theyr generacion, but it was not founde: and therfore were they forbydden to execute the office of the Presthode. Unto the sayd Nehemias, and Athsharas, ỹ they should haue no porcyon in the Sanctuary, tyl there rose vp an hye prest, that were well instructe in the playne clearnes and trueth. Of all Israel (besyde seruaunts ãd maydens) ther were. xlii. M. iii. C. & xl. Now were there of seruauntes and maydens. vii. M. iii. c. and xxxvi. Of syngyng men ãd syngyng women there were ii. c. and lxv Four hundreth and. xxxv. Camels. Seuen thousande, and xxxvi horses. Two hundreth thousande and xlv Mules ¶ Fyue M and xxxv asses.

Their heades also and the rulers in the trybes, when they came to Jerusalem, and wolde buylde and set vp the tẽple of God agayne in his place, they gaue (after their abilitye, vnto the temple, to the treasure and to the seruyce of the Sanctuary. xii M pounndes of golde, v M of syluer, and an. C. Prestes garmentes. And so dwelt the Prestes and ỹ Leuites/and the peple that went out to Jerusalem, ãd in the countre ther about the syngers also and the porters, euerye one of Israel in his owne lande.

nota Syngers

*i.Esdr.iii.a So when the seuenth moneth came, and when the chyldren of Israel were euery man at his busynes, theye came all w̄ one consent in to the court, which was befor the East doze. And ther stod Jesua the sonne of Josedeck and his brethren the Prestes, and zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethrē, setting vp an aulter, to offre brent sacrifices vpon it, as it is writen in the law of moyses.

There came people also of other countrees, and the Heathen oute of all landes to set vp the aulter in his place, ād offred sacrifices and brentoffringes vnto the Lorde in the mornynge. And so they helde the feaste of tabernacles, as it is commaunded in the lawe. And dayely offred they as accordyng was, and made the sacrifyces appoynted the offrynges also of the Sabbothes and of the new Mones, and all holy feastes. And all they that vowed offringes vnto the Lord, beganne at the new Mone of the .vii. moneth to offre vnto God, for the temple of the Lord was not yet buylded. And thei gaue vnto ỹ masons and Carpenters, moneye, meate, and drynke withe chearfulnesse. Unto them of Sidon also and Tyre, they gaue cartes that they shulde carry Cedre trees from lybanus to beiattes and beames, and that they shoulde make Shyppes in the hauen of Joppe, accordyng as it was appointed and ordeyned by Cirus kynge of the persians.

And in the seconde yeare they came into the temple of God at Jerusalem. In the seconde moneth beganne zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, ād Jesua the sonne of Josedec & their brethren the prestes & Leuites, ād al they that were come vnto Jerusalem out of the captyuite of Babilon, and layed the foūdacyon of the temple, in the newe moone of the second moneth in the seconde yeare that they were come into Jewry and Jerusalem. And they appoynted the Leuites (ỹ were about .xx. yere old) vnto the seruyce of the Lorde: so Jesua and his sonnes and his brethren & alỹ Leuites stode to gether and performed the law & ordinaunce in the house of the Lorde.

And the Prestes stode, and had their Garmentes and Trompettes and the Leuytes/the sonnes of Asaph had Cimbales, gevyng thankes and prayses vnto the Lord, accordynge as Dauid the kynge of Israel had ordeyned. And the songe that they dyd synge vnto the Lorde/was after this maner: O synge vnto the Lord for he is gracyous, and hys goodnes vpon Israel endureth for euer. And al the people blowe out wyth trompettes, and songe with loud voice, prayseyng the lorde together in the rearyng vp of the house of the lorde. *Ps.cxvii.a

G *i.Esdr.viii.a There came also from amonge the prestes and leuytes the rulers and elders, accordyng to the trybes and kynredes (suche as had sene the house afore) to ỹ buylding of the temple with greate crie and greate mournyng, many also wyth trompettes and greate ioye: Inso much, that the trōpetes might not wel be herd for the wepyng and mournyng. For the commen people blow goodly vpon the trompettes.

*Then came the enemyes of the trybes of Juda and Ben Jamyn, to know what that trompetyng & noyse of shawmes myghte be. And they preached, that it was they whych were come agayn oute of captiuitee/ and woulde buylde the temple vp anew vnto the Lorde god of Israell. So they wente to zorobabell and Jesua, and to the rulers of the vyllages, and sayde vnto them: Shall we buylde wyth you also? For we lykewyse haue heatde youre Lorde, and we walke after the same maner, from the dayes of Asbazareth the kynge of Assiria whiche brought vs hether. Then zorobabell & Jesua & ỹ rulers of the vylages of Israell sayde vnto them: It is not mete/that ye shoulde buylde the temple of our god wyth vs: we oure selues alone wyll buylde vnto the LORD/lyke as Cirus the kynge of the Persians hath commaunded vs. *i.Esdr.v.a

But the heathen in the land layed themselues agaynste those that were in Jewry/helde vp the Buyldinge from theym, laied wayte vppon them preuylye, stopped suche as broughte anye thynge to them, forbadde them to buylde, and hindred those that made them passage, ỹ the buyldyng

buyldyng shoulde not be fynyshed: and thys contynued so longe as king Cirus lyued: and so they put of the buyldinge for the space of .ii. yeares, vntyl the raygne of kyng Darius.

Aggeus and zachery propheey. They build the temple without let or hidzaunce, by the commaundement of Dauid.

The .vi. Chapter

IN the seconde yeare of the raigne of Darius, Aggeus and zacharye the sonne of Addo prophecyed vpon the Iewry and Jerusalem, in the name of the god of Israell. Then zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and Jesua the sonne of Josedec, stode vp/and begamne to buylde the house of the Lorde at Jerusalem, whe the Prophets of the Lord helped them. At the same tyme came Sysennes the vnder Shreaue in Syria and Phenyces, wyth the land lordes and hys companyons, and sayde vnto them: Who hathe bydden and commaunded you to buylde the house, to make the rofe, and al other thynges agayne? And who are the workemen, that buylde them? Neuertheles the elders of the Jewes had suche grace of the lorde, that they wold not be let (though they were prouoked therto) but buylded on styll, vntyll the tyme that kyng Darius were certyfied thereof, and an answere receaued from hym. The letter that these men sente vnto kynge Daryus, was after thys maner.

Sysennes the vnder Shreaue in Syria and Phenyces/and the landlordes wyth their companyons, whych are head rulers in Syrya and Phenyces, sende their saluacyon vnto Darius the kynge. We certyfye oure Lorde the kynge, that we came into the lande of Jewry, and wente to Jerusalem: where we founde them buyldyng the great house of God and the temple, w greate costly free stone and wyth goodly tymbre for the walles: yea they make greate haste wyth the worke, and helpe one another, and it goeth forth prosperously in their handes, ad with greate dylygēce and worshipis it made.

Then asked we the elders/who had commaunded them to make vp the House and the buylding, and thys we dyd to the intent that we myghte certifye thee perfectlye, and wryte vnto thee/the names of those that were the rulers of the worke. So they gaue vs thys answere: we are the seruauntes of the Lorde, whyche made heauen and earth: and as for thys house, it hath bene buylded and set vp a fore tyme by the greate and Myghtye kyng of Israel. But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrathe, and sinned agaynste the God of Israel, he gaue thē ouer into the power of Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon, the kynge of the Chaldees, whyche brake downe the house, and brent it, and caryed away the people prisoners vnto Babylon.

*Neuertheles, in the fyrste yeare that kyng Cyrus raygned at Babylon, Cyrus the kynge wrote and commaunded to buyld vp thys house agayne: and all the ornamentes that Nabuchodonosor caryed awaye from Jerusalem vnto Babylon, and appropriated vntoo hys owne temple: these brought Cirus forth agayne/and delyuered them to zorobabel, and to Salmanasar the vnder shreaue, commaundinge them that they shulde bryng those same ornamentes agayn, to Jerusalem into the tēple, and to begynne from the tyme forth, to buylde the temple agayne in hys owne place. Then Salmanasar layed the foundacion of ỹ Lordes house at Jerusalem, and euersence haue they buylded, and yet it is not ended. And therfore/O kyng, if thou thinkest it good, let it be soughte in the lybraryes and rolles of kynge Cyrus: yf it be founde then, that it is don wyth the counsell and consente of kyng Cyrus, and yf our Lorde the kynge be so mynded, lette hym wryte vnto vs therof.

*Then commaunded kyng Darius, to seke in the Lybraries: and so at Egbathanis, in a lytle cytie in Medea there was founde suche a writing: In the fyrst yeare of the raygne of Cirus the same kinge Cyrus commaunded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem shold be buylded agayn (and odoures to be made there

*.i Esd.v.c

*.i Esd.vi.a
*.ii Esd.iiiie

there continually vnto the Lord) whose heygth shalbe .x. cubites, ād the bredthe xl. cubites and iiii. square with thre hewen stones, wyth a lofte of tymber of the same cuntre, yea with a new loft, and ỹ expences therof to be geuē of the house of kyng Cyrus. And the ornamentes of gold and syluer, that Nabuchodonosor toke out of the house of the lorde at Jerusalem, shalbe sett agayne in the temple at Jerusalem, wher they were afore. Sysennes also the vnderthreaue i Syrya and Phenyces, the Phenyces and their companions, and the other that be hed rulers in Sirria and Phenices, shal not medle nor haue any thing to do w that place.

G I Cyrus haue commaunded also/ that they shall buylde the house of the LORDE whoole vppe, and haue ordeyned them, to helpe those that be com oute of captiuytee: till the House of the Lorde be finished: and out of the tribut and taxing that is yearly raysed vp in Syrya and Phenyces/ dylygentlye to geue them a certayne summe to the offeryng of the Lorde: and the same to be delyuered vnto zorobabell the offycer: that he therwythal maye ordeyne oxen, rammes, lambes and corne, salt, wyne & oyle/ and that continually euery yeare: after the expences which the prests that be at Jerusalem, shewe to be made dayly, thys shalbe geuen vnto them wythout delaye that they may offre sacrifices dayly to the hyest God, for the kyng and for hys Seruauntes/ and to Praye for their lyues.

Lett it be proclaymed also on euery syde, that whosoeuer breketh or dispiseth this commaundemente of the kynge, shallbe hanged vpon a galow (made of hys owne good) and all hys gooddes shalbe seysoned vnto the kyng. The Lorde therfore (whose name is therecalled vppon) rote out and destroy all the kynges and people that vndertake, by violence too hynder the same, or to deale vncurteously wyth the house of the Lorde at Jerusalem. I Darius the kynge haue ordeyned, that these thynges shalbe don with all dilygence.

¶ The temple is finished, and dedicat: and the feast of vnleuenyd bread is holden.

❧ The .vii. Chapter.

Then Sysennes the vnderA
chreue Celosiria, Phenices/ and the other Land lordes w ther compāyons, obeied the thinges that kyng Darius had ordened, were dilygent in the holy worckes, ād were felowhelpers w the olde rulers of the Jewes. And so ỹ worcke of the Sanctuary went forth & prospered/ whe Aggeus & zachary prophecyed. And they perfourmed al thinges thorow the commaundement of the Lorde God of Israel, ād after ỹ deuise of Cyrus, Darius, ād Artaxerses kynges of Persia.

And thus was oure house fynyshed vnto the .xxiii. daye of ỹ moneth Adder in the .vi. yeare of kynge Darius. And the chyldren of Israel the Prestes and ỹ Leuites, and the other that were come out of captiuite, and soch as were ioyned vnto them/ dyd accordyng as it is written in the boke of Moses. And in ỹ dedycacyon of the temple they offred, an hundred oxen, an hundred rammes. iiii. hundred lambes, and .xii. gotes for the synnes of al the people of Israel, after ỹ nomber of ỹ trybes of Israel. The Prestes also and the Leuites stod arayed in ỹ presthy garmentes/ after ỹ trybes, ouer al the worckes of ỹ Lord God of Israel accordyng to the boke of Moses, and ỹ porters by all the dores.

And the chyldren of Israel (w those ỹ were come out of captyuyte) helde thee passeouer the .xiiii. day of the fyrst mōth when the prestes and the Leuites were sanctified. They that cam out of captyuite, were not al sanctified together: but the Leuites were al santyfied together. And so al they that came out of captiuite, kylled the easter lambe, for their brethren, for the prestes and for thē selues. And the chyldren of Israel that came out of captiuit, & escaped from al ỹ abhominacions of the Heathen, sought the Lord, & kept the feast of vnleuened bred vii. dayes longe, eatyng & drinckyng ād were mery before the Lorde that ỹ Lord had turned the deuyce of the kynge of Assyria, ād comforted their handes to ỹ worckes of the Lorde God of Israel.

Esdras

Esdras exhorteth the people to assemble & come together, & the redeth them the lawe. They kepe ye feast of Tabernacles.

The.viii.Chapter.

AND after him, when Artaxerses the kynge of the Persians raigned, there went vp to him Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helchiah, the sonne Sallum/the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Bocsus, the sonne of Abisu, the sonne of Phineas, the sonne of Eleasar, the sonne of Aron the fyrst preest. This Esdras went vp from Babylon (for he had good vnderstanding in the lawe of Moses, that was geuen of the lord god of Israel, to be taught and done in dede.) And the kynge fauoured hym, & dyd hym great worship and honoure, after al hys desyres. There went vp with him also certayne of the chyldren of Israell, of ye Preestes, of the Leuites, of the syngers, porters and mynysters of the temple at Jerusalem.

In the.vii.yeare of the raygne of kynge Artaxerses, in the.v.moneth, that is in the.vii. yeare of the raigne/they wente from Babylon in the new moone of the.v.moneth, and came the hye way to Jerusalem after this commaundemēt lyke as the Lord had prospered their iourney. For in these Esdras gat greate instructyon, that he shoulde leaue none of the thinges behynde, whyche are i the Lawe and commaundementes of God. And taught whole Israel al rightuousnes and iudgment.

Then came the Secretaries of kīg Artaxerses, and delyuered the wrytynges (that were come from Artaxerses the kyng) to Esdras the preest and reder of the lawe of the lorde: And thys is the copy of the letter. Kyng Artaxerses sendeth his gretynge vnto Esdras the preest and reder of the lawe of the Lord: Of frendshyp and good wyl I haue ordeyned and charged/ yf there be any of the Jewes/ of the preestes and Leuytes in my realme, whiche desyreth ais content to go wyth thee vnto Jerusalem, ye he maye do it. Therfore if any be mided to beare thee company, let them come together, and goo with the (lyke as I am contene and my.vii.frendes my coūcellers:) to se what they do at Jerusalem and in Jewrye, and kepe the thinges according as thou hast in the lawe of the lorde: and to bryng the gyftes vnto the lord of Israel, that I and my frendes haue promysed to Jerusalem/ and all ye syluer and golde that is in the countre of Babylon, vnto the Lord at Jerusalem, with the thinge that is geuen for ye People in the Lordes temple at Jerusalem: Yea that the same syluer & golde maye be gathered, and oxen, rammes, shepe and goates and other, that belōg to these thynges: and that they maye offer sacrifyces vnto the lorde, vpon the aulter of the lorde/ whych is at Jerusalem.

C And what soeuer thou and thy Bretheren, wyll doo wythe the Syluer and Golde, that doo after thy Wynde, and after the Commaundemente of the Lorde thy GOD: and lykewyse withe all the holye vessels, that are geuen thee for the Seruice of the House of the Lorde/ thy GOD and other thynges, what soeuer is necessary for thee to the worke of the temple, that shalbe geuen thee of the kynges treasure: and looke what thou with thy Bretheren wylte doo wyth the Golde, and syluer, that do after the wyll of the Lorde.

And I kynge Artaxerses haue commaunded, the kepers of the Treasures in Syria and Phenices, that whatsoeuer Esdras the preast and reader of the lawe, of the Lorde doth wryte, it shalbe geuen hym, tyll an hundreth, Talentes of Syluer and of golde in lyke maner: Of corne also an hundreth measures, and tyl an hundred vessels of wyne and other plenteous thinges without nomber.

Let al thinges be done after thee lawe of the hyghest GOD, that the wrath of God aryse not in the realme of the kyng and of his sonnes

I cõmaunded you also, that ye require no take nor trybute of the prestes, Leuytes, singers, and mynsters of the temple, nor of the writers: and that no mã haue auctorite to medle any thinge agaynste them. As for thee (O Eldras) set thou iudges and arbytrers in the whole land of Siria and Phenyces, after the wysdome of god: and learne al suche as are ignorant in the lawe of God thy Lord, and let al them that offende against the lawe, be punished: whether it be wt deth, wt paine, to be condempned in mony, or to be banished.

1. Eldr vii, d

Then sayde Eldras the wryter.* Blessed be the God of our fathers, that hath geuen so good a mynde and wyll, in to the herte of the kyng, to magnyfye his house that is at Ierusalem, & hath made me to be accepted in the syght of ỹ kynge/of his councel, of hys frendes & of his nobles. And so I was stedfast in my minde, according as the Lord my god helped me, and I chose out men of Israel to go vp with me. * And these are the heades (after their kynredes ād houses of their fathers) that went vp wt me from Babylon, out of the kyngdom of Artaxerses: Of the sonnes of Phares, Gerson ius. Of the sonnes of Siemarith, Amenus. Of the sonnes of Dauid, Accus/the sonne of Cecilia.

*1. Eldr ix a

Of the sonnes of Phares, Zachary: and with hym there turned agayne an. C. and fyfte men. Of the sonnes of the captayne of Moabilon, Zaraei, & with him. ii C and. l. men. Of the sonnes of Zachnes, Iechonias Zecholy/and wt hym. ii. C. and l. men. Of the sonnes of Salamaasias, Gotholle, and. lxx. wyth hym Of the sonnes of Zaphacia, Zarias, Mychell, and with hym. lxx. Of the sonnes of Iob/ Abdias, Iehely, and wyth hym. ii. C. and. xii. men. Of the sonnes of Bania, Salimoth the sonne of Iosaphia, and with him an C. and lx men. Of the sonnes of Beer. Zachary Bebi, and with hym. ii. C and viii men. Of the sonnes of Esead, Iohannes Ezechan, and wyth hym. C. and x. men. Of the sonnes of Adonicam, those ỹ were the last, and these are their names: Eliphalam the sonne of Gebel, and Semeias, and wyth hym. lxx. men.

All these called I together by the water Thya, where we pytched oure tentes thre dayes and there I mustered them.

As for the sonnes of the prestes and Leuites, I founde none there. Then sēt I vnto Eleazar, and Eccelom, & Mesman, and Malobam/and Enaathan, & Samea, and Ioribimachan, Eunagā, Zachary, & Osollamum (these were the leaders and men of experyence) and I sent them word that they shoulde come vnto Loddeus, which was by the place of the treasury, and commaunded them that they shoulde speake vnto Loddeus and to hys brethrē, and to those that were in the treasurye/to sende vs suche men/as might execute the prestes office in the house of the Lord our God. And with the myghty hand of our lord god, they brought vnto vs men of good experience, from among the sōnes of Mooly us/the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, Sebebiam and ỹ sonnes & his brethrē Asbin and anin, of whom ther were xviii. From among ỹ chyldren of the sonnes of Cananus, and theyr sonnes, were xx. men.

And of them that serued in the Temple, whome Dauid had ordened, and the principall men that minnistred for the work vnto the Leuites in the temple. ii. C. and xx. men, whose names are all tokned vp in wrytinge.

nota

nota a fastynge

Then commaunded I a fastinge vnto the young men before the Lorde, that I myght desyre of hi a prosperous iourneye and a good way for vs/yea for vs/ for our children & for the catel, because of the laynges awayt, & I durst not require of ỹ king men of horse & of fote, to conuey vs safely agaynst our ennemyes, for we had sayd vnto the kyng, that the power of the Lorde oure god shoulde be wyth them that seke hym wyth theyr whoole hertte.

And therfore we besought oure lorde earnestly because of these thynges, and he was mercyful vnto vs, and hearde our prayer. And I separated from amonge the rulers of the People and from the Prestes of the Temple twelue in nne/and Sebeia, and Asania

and

and ten men of their brethren with them.
And I weied them the gold and the syl uer, and al the Prestly ornamentes of ỹ house of oure God, whyche the kyng &
hys councel, and hys Prynces, and whole Israel had geuen.
And when I had weyed it, I gaue them an. C. & l. talentes in syluer, & .C. talētes of syluer vessel, an. C. talentes of golde, & of golden vessell seuen tymes twenty,
E and vessels of other metall (yee of good metal) rit. glysteringe as the golde, and sayde vnto them: ye also are holy vntoỹ Lorde, and the vessels are holy, and the golde and the syluer is promised vnto ỹ Lord the god of our fathers. Be diligēt now, and kepe it, vntill the tyme that ye delyuer it to the rulers of the people, to the Prestes to the Leuites, to the principal men of the cyties of Israel in Jerusalem, ād in the chamber of the house of oure God.
So the Prestes and the Leuites which receaued of me the golde, the siluer and the vessel, brought it to Jerusalē into ỹ temple of the Lord. And from Thia we brake vp the .xii. daie of ỹ first moneth, till we came to Jerusalem. And when ỹ thyrday was past, the weyed golde and syluer was delyuered in the house of ỹ lorde the fourth daye, vnto Marimoth the sonne of Jor the Prest, ād whi was Elezar ỹ sōne of Phineas, & wt thē were Josabdus the sonne Jesned, Medias & the sonne Banus, and certayne of the leuites to the nombera nd to the wayght ād the wayght of them was written vp ỹ same tyme. As for those that were com out of captyuitee, they offered sacrifyce vnto the lord ỹ God of Israel: euen. xii. oxen for al Israel lxxxvi. rammes. lxxii shepe. xii. goates for synne. xii. kyne for a thankoffryng, al to the sacrifyce of the lorde. And the kynges commissyon delyuered they vnto the stewardes and debytes of the kyng, and the vnderchreues in Celosyria and Phenices.
Now when these thinges were done, the rulers came vnto me, ād said: The generacyon of Israel, the prynces ỹ Prestes and Leuites, thee Straunge people and in dwellers of the land, haue not put awaye their vnclennesse, from ỹ Cananites, Hethites, Pherezittes, frō the moabites, Egyptyans, and Edomytes. For bothe they & their sonnes haue myngled thē selues wt ỹ daughters of them, & the holy sede is myxte wyth the outlandish heathen, and sens the beginnynge of theyr raygne, haue the Rulers and heades bene partakers of theyr wickednesse.
*As soone as I hadd heardc these thynges, immediatlye I rent my holye garmentes, and pulled out the heare of my head & my beard, & sate me downe sorowful & heuy. So al they ỹ wer moued thorow the worde of the God of Israel, came vnto me: and I satte styll full of heauynesse vntyll the euenynge Sacrifice. Then stode I vp from fastinge, hauing rēt clothes and the holi garment kneled downe vpon me knees, held out my handes vnto the Lorde, and sayde: O Lorde, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face, for oure synnes are become many vpon our heades, and our wickednesses are exalted vntoo the heauen: for sens the tyme of our fathers we are in greate synne vnto thys day. And for the synnes of vs and our fathers, we with oure brethren and with oure prestes, haue bene delyuered vnto the kynges of the earth, into the swearde, and to captiuitie, and became a spoyle wyth confusion and shame vnto thys daye.
And nowe, O Lorde God, howe greate is the mercy that we haue gotten of thee in that thou hast left vs a rote and a name in the place of thy sanctuari, to discouer oure lyght in the house of the Lorde oure God, and geuen vs meate at all tymes of oure ministracion. And when we were in Captiuitee, we were not forsaken of the Lorde oure god: But he made the kynges of Persya gracious and fauorable vnto vs, soo that they gaue vs vitayles and meat, yea and leaue to bulde vp the temple of oure Lorde GOD agayne, to repayre the wasted places of Sion, and to dwel in Jewry and Jerusalem. And now, O lord, what shall we G saye/hauing all these thynges in possession? For we haue broken thy commaū dementes, whyche thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruauntes the prophetes, saiynge.

The

The land that ye go vnto, ād ȳ is geuen you for anheritage to haue in possessyō, is defyled with the vnclennes and filthines of the Heathen, and with their abhominaciō haue thei poluted it al together, Therfor shall yee not ione your daughters vnto theire sonnes, ner mary youre sonnes vnto ther daughters: Moreouer, ye shal neuer seke to make peace w̄ thē, that ye maye increase and eate the beste in the landes, and that ye maye deuyde the inheritaunce of the land vnto your chyldren for euermore. As for the thinge that now happeneth vnto vs, it cōmeth all for oure wicked worckes and greate synnes, yet haste thou geuen vs suche a rote, ȳ we are com agayn into our owne lande, and we ar so wicked that we haue broken thy statutes and cōmaundementes agayne, ād mengled oure selues w̄ the vnclennes of the outlandish hethen. O Lord, art ȳ angry w̄ vs: wylt ȳ rote vs cleane out: that oure rote and name remayne nomore: O Lord God of Israel thou art true, for our rote endureth yet vnto this present daye. And behold, now are we before ȳ in our synnes, now can we not stand before the in them.

*i: Esd. ix. *And when Esdras w̄ this prayer had knowledged the sinne, weping, & lyēge flat vpon the ground before the temple, ther gathered vnto hym from Jerusalē a great multitud of men, and wemen, of ponge men and maydens, for ther was a very great weping and mourning in ȳ congregacyon. So when Jechonias ȳ sonne of Jehely on of the children of Israel cryed, he sayd vnto Esdras: we haue synned agaynst the Lord, because we haue maried outlandish wemen of ȳ Heathen. Now art ȳ ouer al Israel. We will sweare an othe therfore vnto the Lord, ȳ we shal put away al oure wyues, whiche we haue taken of the Heathen, with ther childen: lyke as it is appointed ȳ by oure fore elders. Stande vp then, open thou it, and declare it playnely vnto vs(according to the lawe of the lorde: for ȳ mater belongeth vnto the. & we wyl helpe the, quyet thi selfe manly. So Esdras arose, and toke an oth of the rulers of ȳ Prestes/and of the Leuytes, and of Israell, to do after these thynges: and thei swore.

¶ After Esdras had read the lawe, ȳ people put away theyr straung wyues: & thē returneth euery man merely vnto his owne dwellyng.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

*i. Esd. x. A Then Esdras stod vp from ȳ courte of the temple wout, and wente into the chambre of Jonathas the Sonne of Nasabus, & remained there & ate no meate nor dranke no drinke, for the multitud of the wyckednes of ȳ people. And there was made a proclamacyon in al Jewry and at Jerusalem, for all suche as were gathered at Jerusalem oute of captiuite, that whosoeuer came not to Jerusalem wythin two or iii. dayes accordyng to the iudgement of the olde Lordes of councell) his goodes shoulde be taken from him, and be excluded from the congregatyon of the captyuyte. And in thre dades were all they of the trybe of Juda and Ben Jamin gathered together at Jerulalem, ȳ xx. daye of the. ix monēth. And the whole multitude sat trymblynge in the courte of the temple, for it was wynter.

So Esdras arose vp, and sayde vnto them: ye haue don vnrighteosly in, that ye haue taken outlandish wyues to maryage, and so to increace the synnes of Israell. And now knowledge the same, & geue prayse vnto the Lorde God of our fathers, and perfourme hys wyll, departyng from the Heathen of the lande, and from the outlandish wyues. Then cried B the whole multitude with Loude Voyce and sayde: lyke as thou hast spoken, soo wyll we do: but for so muche as the people are manye, and the Wynter here, we maye not stande without the house: agayne, this worcke is not a thyng, that can be fynished in a day or two, for we be many that haue synned in these thinges: Ordeyne therfore, ȳ ȳ rulers of the multitude, and all they that dwell wyth vs, ād as many as haue outlandish wyues, the Prestes also and iudges of euery place may stande in the tyme appointed, tyl they lowse vp ȳ wrath of ȳ lord in hys busines.

Then Jonathas the sonne of Ezeli, and Ozias and Thecan receaued the charge

chargof this mater Bozozamus, Leius, & Sabatheus helpe thẽtherto. After this al they stod vp that were com out of capty vnto. And Esdras the Prest chose vnto him the principall men from amõge the fathers accordyng to their names, & in ỹ newe mone of the tenthe moneth they satt together, to examen this matter. And so the matter was a determyng (concernyng the menne that had outlandisch wyues) vntil the new mone of the fyrst moneth. And of the Prestes that had inyrte them selues w̃out landysh wyues, there were founde: Of ỹ sõnes of Jesu the sonne of Josede ãd his brethren Mazeas, Eleazar, Jozibus and Joadeus, which offred them selues to put awaye theire wyues, and to offre a ramme for ther ignoraunce. And of the sõnes of Semmeri Masseas, & Esses & Jeelech Azarias. Of the sonnes of Fosera, Limosias, Hismaen/ Nathanea, Jussio, Jeddus, & Talsas. And of ỹ Levites Josabdus, Semeis, & Colnis/ Caletas, Facteas, Colnas & Elionas. Of the singers of the Sanctuary, Elyasib/zackerus. Of ỹ porters Sallumus and Talbanus. And of Israel of the children of Foros Osi, & Remias, & Geldias, & Melchias, Michelus, Eleazarus, Jemmebias, & Bannas. And of ỹ children of Solamã, Chanias, zacharias Jezrelus, Joddius/ Erimoth & Elias And of the sonnes of Jathoi, Eliadas Liasamus, ãd zochias, Larimoth Sabdis and Tebedias. And of the sõnes of zebes Johannes Amanias zabdias & Emmeus. And of ỹ sonnes of Bãnus Olãmus Maluchus Jeddus Jasub Asabus & Jerimoth. And of the sonnes of Addin Naatus & Mooslas & Caleus & Raanas Maasuas Mathathias Besel Bannus ãd Manasses. And of ỹ sõnes of Naue Nouas Afeas melchias Sameas Simon Ben Jami Malchus. & Marras. And of the sonnes of Asom Carianeus Mathathias Bãnus Eliphalach Mãasses Semei. Of the sonnes of Bannus Jeremy Mooadias Abzaias Jobel Baneas Peleas Jona Marimoth Eliasib Mathaneus Eliasis Ozias Bielus Semedius zambzis ãd Joseph. of the sonnes of Nobeus/ Idelus, Mathathias Sabadus zecheda Sedmi Jesseus and Baneas.

All these hadd taken oute landysshe women to mariage, and they put them awaye with theyr chylderen. The prestes and leuites, and al they that were of Israell dwelt at Jerusalem & thorowout all the lande, in the new moone of the seuenth moneth/ and the chylderen of Israel were in their dwellyngs. And the whole multitude came together vpon the flower at the easte syde of the holy porte of the temple. And they spake vnto Esdras the hye preast and reader, that he wolde bryng the lawe of Moyses. whych was geuen of the Lorde God of Israell. So Esdras the hye prest brought the lawe vnto the whole multitud, to man and woman, and to all Prestes, that they myght heare the lawe, *in the new mone of the vii monethe. And he red in the floze that is before the holy porte of the temple, frõ the morning early vnto the euenynge, before men and women. And they applyed their mynd all vnto the lawe.

*ii. Esdr. viii.a
*Esdr. viii.a

And Esdras the Pryeste and reader of the lawe stoode vp vpon a scaffolde of wodde, whych was made therfore: and vpon hys right hande there stode by him Mathathias, Samus, Anamias, Asarias, Urias, Ozechyas, and Balsamus: Upon hys left hande stode Faldeus Misael, Malachias/ Abuschas, Sabus Nabadias and zacharay. Then toke Esdras the boke before the whole multitude for he was the principal and had moste honour of them all. And when he had red out the lawe, they stode all streyght vpon theyr feate. So Esdras praysed the Lorde the moost hye God, the almyghty God of hoostes. And al the people answered: Amen: and helde vp theyr handes, fell downe flat vpon the earth/ and praysed the Lorde. And Jesus, Beneas, Sarebias, Jaddimus/ Accubus, Sabbatheus, Catythes, Azarias, Jozadus, Ananias, and Philias the Leuites lyft their handes vpward, and bowed theyr faces to the grounde and praysed the Lorde: Those were they whych taught the law of the Lord, ãd red the lawe of the lord in the congregacion: and euery man set those before that vndestode the lawe. Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the hie prest & reader, and to the Leuites

nota
nota
nota

chargof this mater Bozozamus, Leius, & Sabatheus helpe thẽtherto. After this al they stod vp that were com out of capty vnto. And Esdras the Prest chose vnto him the principall men from amõge the fathers accordyng to their names, & in ỹ newe mone of the tenthe moneth they satt together, to examen this matter. And so the matter was a determyng (concernyng the menne that had outlandisch wyues) vntil the new mone of the fyrst moneth. And of the Prestes that had inyrte them selues w̃out landysh wyues, there were founde: Of ỹ sõnes of Jesu the sonne of Josede ãd his brethren Mazeas, Eleazar, Jozibus and Joadeus, which offred them selues to put awaye theire wyues, and to offre a ramme for ther ignoraunce. And of the sõnes of Semmeri Masseas, & Esses & Jeelech Azarias. Of the sonnes of Fosera, Limosias, Hismaen/ Nathanea, Jussio, Jeddus, & Talsas. And of ỹ Levites Josabdus, Semeis, & Colnis/ Caletas, Facteas, Colnas & Elionas. Of the singers of the Sanctuary, Elyasib/zackerus. Of ỹ porters Sallumus and Talbanus. And of Israel of the children of Foros Osi, & Remias, & Geldias, & Melchias, Michelus, Eleazarus, Jemmebias, & Bannas. And of ỹ children of Solamã, Chanias, zacharias Jezrelus, Joddius/ Erimoth & Elias And of the sonnes of Jathoi, Eliadas Liasamus, ãd zochias, Larimoth Sabdis and Tebedias. And of the sõnes of zebes Johannes Amanias zabdias & Emmeus. And of ỹ sonnes of Bãnus Olãmus Maluchus Jeddus Jasub Asabus & Jerimoth. And of the sonnes of Addin Naatus & Mooslas & Caleus & Raanas Maasuas Mathathias Besel Bannus ãd Manasses. And of ỹ sõnes of Naue Nouas Afeas melchias Sameas Simon Ben Jami Malchus. & Marras. And of the sonnes of Asom Carianeus Mathathias Bãnus Eliphalach Mãasses Semei. Of the sonnes of Bannus Jeremy Mooadias Abzaias Jobel Baneas Peleas Jona Marimoth Eliasib Mathaneus Eliasis Ozias Bielus Semedius zambzis ãd Joseph. of the sonnes of Nobeus/ Idelus, Mathathias Sabadus zecheda Sedmi Jesseus and Baneas.

All these hadd taken oute landysshe women to mariage, and they put them awaye with theyr chylderen. The prestes and leuites, and al they that were of Israell dwelt at Jerusalem & thorowout all the lande, in the new moone of the seuenth moneth/ and the chylderen of Israel were in their dwellyngs. And the whole multitude came together vpon the flower at the easte syde of the holy porte of the temple. And they spake vnto Esdras the hye preast and reader, that he wolde bryng the lawe of Moyses. whych was geuen of the Lorde God of Israell. So Esdras the hye prest brought the lawe vnto the whole multitud, to man and woman, and to all Prestes, that they myght heare the lawe, *in the new mone of the vii monethe. And he red in the floze that is before the holy porte of the temple, frõ the morning early vnto the euenynge, before men and women. And they applyed their mynd all vnto the lawe.

*ii. Esdr. viii.a
*Esdr. viii.a

And Esdras the Pryeste and reader of the lawe stoode vp vpon a scaffolde of wodde, whych was made therfore: and vpon hys right hande there stode by him Mathathias, Samus, Anamias, Asarias, Urias, Ozechyas, and Balsamus: Upon hys left hande stode Faldeus Misael, Malachias/ Abuschas, Sabus Nabadias and zacharay. Then toke Esdras the boke before the whole multitude for he was the principal and had moste honour of them all. And when he had red out the lawe, they stode all streyght vpon theyr feate. So Esdras praysed the Lorde the moost hye God, the almyghty God of hoostes. And al the people answered: Amen: and helde vp theyr handes, fell downe flat vpon the earth/ and praysed the Lorde. And Jesus, Beneas, Sarebias, Jaddimus/ Accubus, Sabbatheus, Catythes, Azarias, Jozadus, Ananias, and Philias the Leuites lyft their handes vpward, and bowed theyr faces to the grounde and praysed the Lorde: Those were they whych taught the law of the Lord, ãd red the lawe of the lord in the congregacion: and euery man set those before that vndestode the lawe. Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the hie prest & reader, and to the Leuites

nota
nota
nota

that taught the multitud, saying: This daye is holy vnto the Lord: and all they that had heard the lawe, kept. So Esdras sayde: Departe youre waye then, and eate the best/ and dryncke the swetest/ and sende gyftes vnto them that haue nothing: for thys day is holy vnto the Lorde, and be not ye sorye: The went they theyr waye euerychone, eate and droncke, and were merye, and sente rewardes vnto them that had nothinge that they also myght eate wyth gladnesse: for they were exceedingly reioysed thorow the woordes that were red vnto them in the lawe: And so they were all gathered together at Jerusalem to holde the feaste, accordyng to the couenaunt of the Lorde God of Israell.

The ende of the thyrde boke of Esdras.

¶ The.iiii. boke of Esdras.

¶ The people is reproued for theyr vnthankfulnes, God wyll fynde another people if these wyll not be reformed.

The.fyrst. Chapter.

THe second boke of the Prophete Esdras (the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helchya, the sonne of Sallum, the sone of Sadoc, the sone of Achitob the sonne of Amerias, the sone of Azarias, the sunne of Maraioth, the sonne of Saahias, the sunne of Ulai the sonne of Boccus, the sonne of Abisu, the sonne of Phinees, the sunne of Eleasar the sonne of Aaron, of the trybe of Leuy) which was prysoner in the lande of Medes, in the raygne of Artaxerxes kinge of Persia.

And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me saynge: go thy way, and shewe my people theyr synnefull dedes, and their wyckednesses, which they haue done agaynst me, that they maye tell their childrens childzen the same: for the sinnes of their fathers are increased in them. And why they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto straunge goddes. Am not I euen he that brought them out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath and despysed my counceles. Pull thou out then the heare of thyne heade, and cast al euel ouer them/ for they haue not bene obedient vnto my lawe.

It is a people without lernyng and nourtour. How long shal I forbere the vnto whom I haue don so moch good?

* Many kinges haue I destroyed for their sakes: * Pharao with his seruauntes and al his power haue I smyten downe & slayne: al the nacions haue I destroyed and roted out before them: in the east haue I brought two landes & people to naught, euen Tyre and Sidon and haue slayne al their enemyes. Speake therfore vnto them, saying: Thus sayth the Lord: * I led you thorowe the sea and haue geuen you suer tiretes lece the begynnyng. * I gaue you Moses to be youre captaine, and Aaron to be the preest: I gaue you lyght in a pyler of fyer and great wonders haue I done amog you: yet haue ye forgotten me/ sayth the Lorde.

Thus sayth the almighty Lorde: * I gaue you quayles to eate and tentes for youre succoure: Neuertheles ye murmured/ and ascribed not the victori of youre enemies vnto my name: yee this same daye do ye yet murmure.

Where are the benefittes, that I haue done for you? Where ye were hongrye in the wyldernes, dyd ye not cry vnto me? Why hast the brought vs into this wyldernes to kyl vs? It had ben better for vs, to haue serued the Egipcians, then to dye in this wildernes. Then had I pytye vpon youre mournynges, and gaue you Manna to eate. * ye ate angels foode. When ye were thyrstye, did not I hew the hard ston/ and caused water to flowe ther out? For the heate I couered you with the leaues of the trees: A good pleasaunt fat land gaue I you: I cast out the Cananites, the Pherezites and Philistines before you.

that taught the multitud, saying: This daye is holy vnto the Lord: and all they that had heard the lawe, kept. So Esdras sayde: Departe youre waye then, and eate the best/ and dryncke the swetest/ and sende gyftes vnto them that haue nothing: for thys day is holy vnto the Lorde, and be not ye sorye: The went they theyr waye euerychone, eate and droncke, and were merye, and sente rewardes vnto them that had nothinge that they also myght eate wyth gladnesse: for they were exceedingly reioysed thorow the woordes that were red vnto them in the lawe: And so they were all gathered together at Jerusalem to holde the feaste, accordyng to the couenaunt of the Lorde God of Israell.

The ende of the thyrde boke of Esdras.

¶ The.iiii. boke of Esdras.

¶ The people is reproued for theyr vnthankfulnes, God wyll fynde another people if these wyll not be reformed.

The.fyrst. Chapter.

THe second boke of the Prophete Esdras (the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helchya, the sonne of Sallum, the sone of Sadoc, the sone of Achitob the sonne of Amerias, the sone of Azarias, the sunne of Maraioth, the sonne of Saahias, the sunne of Ulai the sonne of Boccus, the sonne of Abisu, the sonne of Phinees, the sunne of Eleasar the sonne of Aaron, of the trybe of Leuy) which was prysoner in the lande of Medes, in the raygne of Artaxerxes kinge of Persia.

And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me saynge: go thy way, and shewe my people theyr synnefull dedes, and their wyckednesses, which they haue done agaynst me, that they maye tell their childrens childzen the same: for the sinnes of their fathers are increased in them. And why they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto straunge goddes. Am not I euen he that brought them out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath and despysed my counceles. Pull thou out then the heare of thyne heade, and cast al euel ouer them/ for they haue not bene obedient vnto my lawe.

It is a people without lernyng and nourtour. How long shal I forbere the vnto whom I haue don so moch good?

* Many kinges haue I destroyed for their sakes: * Pharao with his seruauntes and al his power haue I smyten downe & slayne: al the nacions haue I destroyed and roted out before them: in the east haue I brought two landes & people to naught, euen Tyre and Sidon and haue slayne al their enemyes. Speake therfore vnto them, saying: Thus sayth the Lord: * I led you thorowe the sea and haue geuen you suer tiretes lece the begynnyng. * I gaue you Moses to be youre captaine, and Aaron to be the preest: I gaue you lyght in a pyler of fyer and great wonders haue I done amog you: yet haue ye forgotten me/ sayth the Lorde.

Thus sayth the almighty Lorde: * I gaue you quayles to eate and tentes for youre succoure: Neuertheles ye murmured/ and ascribed not the victori of youre enemies vnto my name: yee this same daye do ye yet murmure.

Where are the benefittes, that I haue done for you? Where ye were hongrye in the wyldernes, dyd ye not cry vnto me? Why hast the brought vs into this wyldernes to kyl vs? It had ben better for vs, to haue serued the Egipcians, then to dye in this wildernes. Then had I pytye vpon youre mournynges, and gaue you Manna to eate. * ye ate angels foode. When ye were thyrstye, did not I hew the hard ston/ and caused water to flowe ther out? For the heate I couered you with the leaues of the trees: A good pleasaunt fat land gaue I you: I cast out the Cananites, the Pherezites and Philistines before you.

Ezech.xxiii

what shal I do moare for you, sayeth the Lorde:

Thus sayth the Almyghty Lorde: when ye were in the wylderness, in the water of the Amorites, beyng a thyrsty, and blasphemyng my name, I gaue you not fyre for your blaspemyes, but cast a tree into the water, and made the ryuer swete. What shal I do vnto thee O Jacob: Thou Juda woldest not obey me. I wyl turne me to another people/ and vnto those wyl I geue my name, ỳ they may kepe my statutes. Seyng ye haue forsaken me, I wyl forsake you also.

Ezech.i.d When ye desyre me to be gracious vnto you, I shal haue no mercy vpon you. when ye call vpon me, I wyl not here you. For ye haue defyled youre handes w̄ bloud/and yourfete are swift to coin myt manslaughter. Ye haue not forsakē me (in a maner) but your own selues, saieth the lorde.

Thus sayeth the almyghty Lord: haue I not prayed you, as a father hys sōnes, as a mother her daughters, & as a nurse her yong babes, that ye wolde be my peple, and I shuld be your god: ỳ ye wold be my childrē, & I shuld be your owne father: * I gathered you together as an heme gathereth her chekens vnder her wynges. But now what shall I do vnto you: I shal cast you out fro my face: * when ye offer vnto me I shal turne my face from you: for your solempne feast dayes, youre new mooues, ād your circumsisions haue I forsaken. I sent vnto you my seruauntes the Prophetes/ whome ye haue taken and slai, and torcn their bodyes in peces, whose bloude I wyl require of youre handes sayeth the lord.

Math.xxiii.d

D *Ezech.xxiii.a

Thus sayeth the Almighty Lord: your house must be desolate. I wyl cast you out as the wynde doth the strawe: your childrē shal not be frutful, for they haue despysed my commaundement, ād done the thing that is euel before me. Youre houses wyll I geue vnto a people that shal come, and they that neuer heard me shal beleue in me: And they vnto whome I neuer shewed token, shal do the thynge that I commaund them. They haue seue no Prophetes, yet shal they cal their sinns to remembraunce, and knowlidge them.

I repose me vnto the grace, that I wil do for the people which is to come/ whose chylderen reioyce in gladnes: and though they haue not sene me with bodyly eyes, yet in spryte they beleue the thyng that I saye. And now brother, beholde what greate worshyppe, and se the people that commethe from the Easte vnto whome I wyll geue the dukedome of Abraham Isaac and Jacob, of Oseas Amos and Micheas, of Joel, Abdi, Jonas Naum and Abacuc, of Sophony, Aggeus, Zachary and Malachy (which is called also an angell or messenger of the Lorde.)

¶ The synagoge sy ndeth saute with her owne chyldren, The gentyles are called

The.ii. Chapter.

THus sayethe the Lorde: I brought thys people oute of bondage, I gaue them my commmaundementes by my seruauntes the Prophetes, whome thou woldest not heare, but despysed my councels. The mother that bare them, sayth vnto them: Go your waie ye chylderen, for I am a wyddow and forsaken: I brought you vp with gladnes, but with sorow and heuynes haue I lost you: for ye haue synned before the Lorde youre God, and done the thynge that is euel before hym. But what shall I nowe do vnto you: I am a wyddow and forsaken: goo youre waye, O my chylderen, and aske mercye of the Lord. As for me, O Father, I call vpon thee for a wytnesse ouer the Mother of these chylderen, which wolde not kepe my couenaunte: that thou bryngest them to cōfusion, and theyr mother to a spoyle, ỳ she beare no moore. Let theyr names be scattered abroade amonge the Heathen, lett them be putt oute of the Earthe, for they haue thoughte scorne of my Conenaunt.

Woo be vnto thee Assur, thou that hydest the vnrighteous by thee. Thou wycked people, remēbre what I dyd vnto Sodome and Gomorre/ whose land is turned to pytch and ashes: Even soo also wyll I do vnto all them, that hate me not, sayth the almyghtye Lorde. Thus sayth the lorde vnto Esdras: tell my people, that I wyll geue theym the kingdome of Jerusalem, which I wolde haue geuen vnto Israel. Their glorye also wyl I take vnto me and geue thē the euerlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.

The tree of lyfe shall be vnto them
B a swete smellyng oyntment: they shall nether labour nor be wery. Go ye your waye/and ye shal receaue it. Praye for youreselues a fewe Dayes, that they maye dwel therin. Now is the kingdō prepared for you, therfore watch. Take heauen and earthe to wytnesse, for I haue broken the euell in peaces and created the good, for I lyue sayth the Lorde. Mother embrace thy chylderen and bryng them vp wyth gladnesse: make theyr fete as fast as a pyller, for I haue chosen thee sayth the Lorde.

And those that be dead, wyll I rayse vp agayne from theyre places, and bryng theym out of the graues, for I haue knowen my name in Israell. Feare not thou mother of the chyldren for I haue chosen thee/sayth the Lorde. And for thy helpe, I shall sende thee, my seruauntes Esay and Jeremy/after whose councell, I haue sanctifyed and prepared for the xii. trees wyth dyuerse frutes, and as many welles, flowyng wyth mylke and hony, and seuē mountaynes, where vpon there growe roses and lylyes, wherin I wyl fyll thy chylderen wyth ioye. Execute iustice for thy wydow, be iudge for the father lesse: geue to the poore defende the comfortlesse: cloth the naked: heale the wouded & sick: laugh not a laime man to scorne: defend the crepel, & let the blynd come into the syght/ of my clearenes. Kepe the olde and young wythin thy walles: where soeuer thou fyndest the ded, take theym, and bury them, and I shal geue thee, the fyrst place in my resurrection. Holde styll (O my people) and take thy rest, for thy quietnes is come. Feade thy chylderen O thou good nurse, stablysh theyr fete: As for the seruaū
C tes whoome I haue geuen thee, there shall not one of them perysh/for I wil seke theym from thy numbre, vexe not thy selfe. For when the day of troble ād heuinesse commeth, other shall weape and be sorowful, but thou shalt be mery and plentuous.

The heathē shalbe gelos but they shal beable to do nothing against the sayth the Lorde. My handes shal couer thee so that thy chyldren shal not se the fyre euerlasting. Be ioyfull O thou mother wyth thy chylderen, for I wyll delyuer thee, sayth the Lorde. Remembre thy dead chyldren, for I shall bryng them out of the earth, and shew mercy vnto them, for I am mercyfull, sayth ye Lorde almyghty.

Embrace thy chylderen, vntyl I come, and shewe mercy vnto them, for my welles runne ouer, and my grace shall not fayle.

I Esdras receaued a charge of the Lorde vpon the mount Oreb, that I shoulde go vnto Israel. But whē I camme vnto Israell, they set me at naught, and despysed the commaundement of the Lorde. And therfore I saye vnto you, O ye heathen that here and vnderstande: Loke for your shepherd, he shal geue you euerlasting rest, for he is nye at hand, that shal come in the ende of the worlde. Be ready to the rewarde of thy kingdome/for the euerlasting light shall shyne vpon you for D euermore. Fle the shadow of this worlde, receaue the ioyfulnes of youre glorye. Confesse my sauioure openly: Receiue the gyfte that is geuē you, and be glad, geuynge thanckes vnto hym, that hath called you to the heuenly kīdome.

Aryse vp, and stande fast: beholde the nombre of those that be sealed in the feaste of the Lorde, which are departed from the shadow of the worlde, & haue receaued the glorious garmentes of the Lord. Take thy nombre, O Sion, & shut vp thy purifyed, which haue fulfylled the lawe of the Lorde. The nomber of thy children whom thou longedest for is fulfylled: beseech the power of the Lorde, that thy people which haue bene called frō the beginning, may be halowed

I Esdras sawe vpon the mont Syon a great people, whom I could not

numbre

nombze and they al prayſed the lozde w̄ ſonges of thankeſgeuinge. And in the middeſt of them there was a yong man of an Hyghe ſtature, moare excellente then al they, and vpō euery one of their heades he ſett a Crowne, and was euer hygher and hygher, which I marueled at greately. So I asked the angel, and sayde: Syz what are theſe? He answered and saide vnto me: These be they that haue put of the moztall clothynge/ and putte on the Immoztall, and haue teſtified & knowledged the name of god. Nowe are they crowned, and receaue ỹ rewardes.

Then sayd I vnto the angel: what ponge perſonne is it, that crowneth thē, and geueth them the palmes in their hādes? So he answered and sayde vnto me: It is the ſonne of god, whome they haue knowleged in the wozld. Then began I greately to commende them, that ſtode ſo thyſtye foz the name of the Lozde. And ſo the aungel sayde vnto me: Goo thy waye, and tell my People/ what maner of thynges, and howe greate wonders of the Lozd thy god, thou haſt ſene.

¶ The wonderous wozches which god did foz the people are recyted. Eſdras marueleth ỹ god ſuffereth the Babilonians to haue rule ouez his people, which yet are ſinners alſo.

The.iii. Chapter

IN the thyzde yeare of the fall of the cytie, I was at Babylō, & lay troubled vpon my bed, & my thoughtes cam vp ouer my herte: foz I ſawe the deſolacīō of Sion, and the plenteouſnes wealthe of thē that dwelte at Babilon: and my ſpzete was ſoze moued, ſo that I began to ſpeake feareful wozdes to the mooſte hieſt, and ſaid: O Lozd Lozd, ỹ ſpakeſt at the beginning, when thou plantedſte the earth (and that thy ſelfe alone) and gaueſt commaundement vnto thy peo= ple, and a body vnto Adam, which was a creature of thy handes, and haſt bzeth ed in hym the bzeth of lyfe: and ſo he lyued befoze the/ and thou leddeſt him in= to paradice/ which gardē of pleſure thy ryght hand had planted, oz euer ỹ earth was made. And vnto him thou gaueſte commaundement to loue thy waie, why che he tranſgreſſed and immedyatlye ỹ appoyntedeſt deathe in him, and in hys generacions. Of him came nacions trybes, people and kyndredes oute of nūbze. And euerye people walcked after theiz owne wyll, and dyd nyce thynges befoze thee: And as foz thy Commaundementes, theye dyſpyſed them.

But in pzoceſſe of tyme thou bzoughteſt the water floud, vpon thoſe that dwelt in the wozld/ and deſtroieſt them. And lyke as the death was in Adam ſo was the water floud alſo in theſe. Neuertheles one of them thou lefteſt: namely Noe, wyth his houſholde, of whome came al ryghtuos men. And it happened that when they that dwelte vpon the earth, began to multiply/ & had gotten many childzen, and were greate people, they began to be moze vngodlye then the fyrſte.

Now when they al liued ſo wickedly B befoze thee, thou dyddeſt choſe the a mā ne from amonge them, whoſe name was Abzaham. Hym thou louedſt, and vnto hym onely thou ſhewdſte thy wyll, and madeſt an euerlaſtinge couenaunt with hym, pzomyſinge hym, that thou wouldeſt neuer foꝛſake hys ſede. And vnto hī thou gaueſt Iſaac, vnto Iſaac alſo thou gaueſt Jacob & Eſau. As foz Jacob thou dyddeſt choſe hym, and putte backe Eſau, and ſo Jacob becam a greate multitude.

And it happened, that when thou ledeſt his ſede out of Egypt, thou bzoughteſt them vp to the mount Syon, bowynge down the heauens, ſetting fait the earth Mouinge the Grounde, Makynge the depthes to ſhake/ and troublinge the wozlde: And thy glozye went thozowe foure pooztes of fyze and earthquakes, and wyndes, and colde, that thou mighteſt geue the law vnto ỹ ſede of Jacob, and Dylygence vnto the Generacion of Iſrael.

And yet tokeſt thou not awaye from them that Wicked Herte, that the lawe myght bzinge foꝛth frute in them. Foz the fyrſt Adam bare a wycked hert, tran glessed and was ouercome/and so be al they that are borne of him. Thus remayned weaknes with the law in ye hert of the people, with the wyckednesse of ye rote: so that the good departed away, and the euel abode styll. So the times passed awaye, and the yeares were brought to an ende. Then didest thou rayse the vp a seruant called Dauid /whom thou commaundedst to builde a cite vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifyce vnto thee therin. Thys was done now many yeares. Then the inhabyters of the cyte forsoke the, and in al thinges dyd euen as Adam and al his generacions hadde done: for they also had a wycked harte.

D And so thou gauest thy cyte ouer into the hands of thyne enemyes. Are they of Babilon then better & more righteous then thy peple, that they shal therfor haue the dominyon of Sion? For when I came there, and sawe their vngodlynes and so greate wyckednesse, that it coulde not be nombred: ye when my soule sawe so many euell doers (in the .xx. yeare) my harte fayled me, for I sawe, howe thow sufferest them in suche vngodlinesse, and spared the wicked doers: but thyne owne people hast ye rooted out and preserued thyne enemies, and this hast thou not shewed me.

I can not perceaue howe this happeneth. Do they of Babylon their better, then they of Sion? Or is there any other people, that knowethe the, sauynge the people of Israel? Or what generacio hath so beleued thy couenaunces, as Jacob? And yet their rewarde appeareth not, and their labour hath no feute.

For I haue gon here and ther thorow the Heathen, and se that they be rich and wealthy/and thinke not vpon thy commandementes.

Woe ye thou therfore ouze wyckednes now in ye balace, & theirs also that dwell in the woorlde, and soo shall thy name be no where founde but in Israel.

Or where is there a people vpon earth, that hath not synned before thee? Or what people hath so kept thy commaundementes? Thou shalte fynde, that Israel by name hath kept thy preceptes, but not the other people and heathen.

The Aungell reproueth Esdras, because he semed to enter into the profound iudgmentes of god.

The .iiij. Chapter

AND the aungell that was sente vnto me (whose name was Uriel) gaue me an answer, & sayd: The hert hath taken to muche vpon yt in this worlde, and thou thynkest to comprehende the waye of the hiest. Then sayde I: Yea my lord. And he answered me, and sayde: I am sente to shewe thee three wayes, and to set forth three similytudes, before thee: wherof if thou canste declare me one, I wyl shew thee also the waye/that thou desyreste to se: And I shal shewe the from whence the wycked herte commeth.

And I sayde: Tell on my Lorde. Then sayde he vnto me: Go thy waye, weye me the weyghte of the fyre, or measure me the blast of the winde, or cal me agayne the daye that is past.

Then answered I and sayde: Who that mane borne is able to do that? Why requirest thou suche of me? And he sayd vnto me: If I shoulde aske thee, howe depe dwellynges are in the Sea: Or howe greate watersprynges aze vppon the Firmamente? Or howe great water Springes are in the beggynninge of the depe? Or whych are the outegoinges of Paradice? Parauentute thou woldeste saye vnto me: I neuer wente downe yet intoo the deape nor hell/neyther dyd I euer clymme vp into heauen. Neuerthelesse now haue I asked thee but onely of fyre and wynde and of the daye, whereof thorow ye hast trauayled, and from the whyche thou canst not be separated: and yet canst thou geue me no answere of them.

He sayd moreouer vnto me: Thine owne thynges, and suche as are growne vp with the cast thou not know howe shoulde thy vessel then be able to comprehende the way of the Hiest, and now out

warldly

wardly in the corrupte worlde / to vnderstande the corrupcion that is euldēt in my sight? Then sayde I vnto hym: It were better that we were nōt at all, then that we should lyue in wyckednes, and to suffer, ād not to knōw wherfore. B He answered me, and sayde: I went in a wod, and the trees toke such a deuyce and sayde: Come let vs go, and fyghte agaynst the sea, that it maye departe awaye before vs, and that we may make vs yet moze woddes.

The floudes of the sea also in like maner toke this deuyce, and sayde: coth let vs go vp / and fyght agaynst the trees of the wod, that we maye make oure lande the wider. The thought and deuice of the wodd was but vayne and nothyng worth, for the fyre came and consumed the wodd: The thought of the floudes of the sea came lyke wyse to naught also, for the sande stod vp and stopped them.

If thou were iudge now betwyxte these two / whom woldest thou iustifie, or whom woldest thou condemne? I answered and sayde: Verely it is a folyshe thought that they both haue deuysed. For the groundis geuen vnto the wod, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floudes.

Then answered he me, and sayd: Thou hast geuē a ryght iudgmēt, why iudgest thou not thy selfe also? For like as the grounde is geuen vnto the wod, and the sea to his floudes: euen so they that dwell vppon Earth: maye vnderstande noothynge, but that whyche is vppon Earthe: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, maye onelye vnderstande the thynges, that are aboue the heauens. Then answered I, and sayde: I beseche thee, O Lord, let me haue vnderstanding: For it was not my mynde to bee curyous of thy hye thynges, but of suche as we daylye Medle wyth all / namely wherfore that Israell is blaspheined of the Heath, & for what cause the peple whom ꝯ euer hast loued is geuen ouer to bee Punisshed of Vngoddlye nacions: And whye the lawe of our fathers is brought to naught, and the writen couenaunces come to none effecte, and we passe awaye oute of ꝯ worlde as the grasshoppers / and our lyfe is a very feate, and we ar not worthy to optayne mercye. What wyll he do thē vnto his name, which is called vppon ouer vs? Of these thynges haue I asked question.

Then answered he me, and sayde: The more thou serchest, the more thou shalt meruell, for the worlde hasteth fast to passe awaye and cānot Comprehende the thinges / that ar promissed for the rightuous in time to comme, for this worlde is full of vnrightuousnesse and weakenes. the more ꝯ more & more shall

But as concernynge the thynges, wherof thou askest me, I wyll tell thee. The euell is sowne, but the destruction therof is not yet come. Yf the euell now that is sowne, be not turned vpside downe, and if the place wher the euel is sowne / passe not awaye, then can not the thige come that is sowne wyth good. For the corne of euell sede hathe bene sowne in the hert of manne from the beginnig / and how muche vngodlynesse hathe he brought vp vnto this tyme? and howe muche shall he yet bringe forthe, vntyll he came into the barne?

Ponder nowe thy selfe, when the corne of euell sede is cut downe, how greate a barne shal it fyll? I answered and sayde: Howe and when shall these thynges comme to passe? Wherfore are oure yeares few and euel? And he answered me, sayenge: Haste not thou to muche vpon the hygheit, for thy hastines to be aboue him is but vayne, thou makest to muche ado.

Dyd not the Sowles also of the ryghtuous aske a questyon of these thynges in their Holynesse, sayinge: * How longe shall I hope of thys fall hyon? When commeth the frute of my barne, and my rewarde? *Apocal. 6

And vpon thys Jeremyel the Archaungell gaue them answere / and sayde: Euen when the nombre of the seedes is fylled in you: For he hath weyed the worlde in the balaunce: In measure and nombre hath he measured the tyme and moueth it not, vntyll the same measure be fulfylled.

Then

Then answered I and sayde: O Lord Lorde, now are we all of synne, and for oure sake peraduenture it is not, that ỹ barne of the tightous shal not be fylled, be cause of the sinnes of them that dwel vpon the earth.

So he answered me, and sayd: Go thy waye to a woman wyth chylde, and aske of her, when she hath fulfylled her .ix. monethes, yf her chyld bed maye kepe the byth any longer wythin her. Then sayde I: No Lord, that can she not. And he sayd vnto me: In hell the secret places of soules are lyke as the pray chambre of a woman. For lyke as a woman that trauleth, maketh haste, whē the tyme & necessitie of the byrth is at hand: Euen so doth she haste to delyuer it that is cō= mitted vnto her. Loke what thou desy= rest to se, it shalbe shewed the from the beginninge. Then answered, I and sayde: If I haue found fauour in thy sight, and yf it be possible & if I be mete ther= fore, shewe me then, whether there be more to come then is paste, or moare past then is to come. What is past I knowe: but what is for to come, I knowe not.

And he sayde vnto me: Stande vp vpon the ryght syde, and I shall expoū de the symilitude vnto thee. So I stode, and beholde, an whote burnitg ouē went ouer before me: and it happenyd that when the flamme was gone by, the smoke had the vpperhande. After thys there went ouer before me a watery cloude and sent downe much more rayne wt a storme: & when the stormy rayne was past the droppes remayned styl: then sayde he vnto me: lyke as the rayne is more then the Droppes, and as the Fyre exceadeth the smoke, euen so the measure, of the thynges that are past, hath the vpperhand. Then went the dropes and the smoke about: and I prayed and sayde: Maye I lyue (thynckest thou) vntil that tyme? Or what shall happen in those dayes? He answered me & sayd: as for the tokens whereof thou askeste me, I maye tell thee of them in a parte: but as touchynge * thy lyfe, I maye not shewe thee, for I am not sent therfore.

Some reade my lyfe

Esdras and the Aungel commen together.

The .v. Chapter.

Neuertheless, as cōcernyng the tokens, marke thys: Beholde, the dayes shal come, that they which dwel vpon earth, shalbe taken in agre ate nomber, and the waye of the truthe shallbe hyd, and the land shallbe baren from fayth: but iniquite shall haue the vpperhand, lyke as thou hast sene now and as thou hast heard longe ago. And ỹ lād that ỹ seist now to haue rule, shalt thou shortlye le wast. But yf God grāte the to lyue, ỹ shalt se after the thyrd trompete, that the sonede shall sodenly shyne agayne in the night, and the moō thre tymes in the daye, and bloude shal droppe out of wod, and the stone shal geue his voyse, & ỹ people shalbe vnquiet and euen ye shall rule, whom they hope not that dwel vpon earth, ād the fowles shal flye, and the Sadomityth see, shal cast out his fish, and make a noyse in ỹ nyght, which many shal not knowe, but they shal all heare the voyse thereof. There shalbe a confusyon also in manye places, and the fier shal be oft sent agayne, and the wylde bestes shal go their way, and monstruous wemen shal bear monsters, and salt waters shalbe found in the swete: one kynde shall fight agaynst another: then shall all wyt and vnderstandyng be hyd and put aside into their secrete places, and shalbe sought of many, and yet not be found: then shal vnrightuousnes and voluptuousnes haue the vpperhande vpon earth. One land also shal aske another, ād saye: Is righteousnes gone thorowe thee? And it shal saye: No. At the same tyme shal men hope, but nothing optayne: they shal labour, but their wayes shal not prosper.

To shewe the soche tokens I haue leue, and yf thou wilt praye agayne, ād wepe as nowe, and fast seuen dayes, ỹ shalt heare yet greater thinges. Then I awaked, & a fearfulnes went thorow all my body, and my mynde was feble and carefull, so that I almoost sowned wyth al. So the aungel that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me and set me vp vpon my fete.

And in the seconde night it happened

that

that Salathiel the Capteine of the people came vnto me /saying: Wherefore halt thou bene? and why is thy countenaunce so heuy? Knowest thou not/that Israel is commytted vnto thee/in the lande of their captiuite? Up then, and eate, forsake vs not, as the shepherd that leaueth his flocke in the handes of wycked wolues. Then sayde I vnto him: Go thy waye fro me, and come not nye me, & he herde it, and as I saide, so went he his waye fro me.

And so I fasted seuen dayes, mournig and wepinge, lyke as Uriel the aungell commaunded me. And after seuen dayes, it happened, that the thoughtes of my hert were very greuous vnto me againe, and my soule receaued the spyrite of vnderstandige, and I began to talk with the most hiest agayne, and said: O Lord Lord, of euery wodd of the earth and of al the trees therof, thou hast chosen thee one onely viniarde: and all the landes of the whole worlde thou haste chosen thee one pyt: and of all floures of the ground thou hast chosen thee one lylye: and of al the depthes of the sea ỹ hast fylled the one ryuer: and of al buyl ded cyties thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe, and of al the foules that ar created, thou hast named the one doue: and of al the catel that are made ỹ hast prouided thee one shepe: and among al the multitudes of folkes thou hast got ten the one people, and vnto this people whom thou louedste, thou gaueit a lawe that is proued of al.

And now, O Lorde, why hast thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one rote thou hast prepared other, and why haste thou scatered thy one only people among many? why che treade them downe, yea which haue euer withstãde thy promyses, and beleued thy couenauntes? And though thou werest enemye vnto the people, yet shouldest thou punish them with thyne owne handes. Now when I had spokẽ these wordes, the angel that cam to me the nyghte afore, was sente vnto me / and sayde vnto me: Heare me, and herken to the thynge that I sayde, and I shall tell thee more. And I sayde: Speake on my Lorde.

Then sayde he vnto me: Thou art sore vered and troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou that people better thẽ him that made them? And I sayde: No Lorde, but of very great and compassyon haue I spoken. For my reynes payne me euery houre, because I wold haue experience of the way of the most hiest, and to seke out part of his iudgement. And he saide vnto me: that thou maiest not. And I sayde, wherfore Lorde? Wherevnto was I borne then? Or why was not my mothers chylde bed then my graue? So had I not sene the myserye and trouble of Jacob, and the trauayle of my people of Israell.

And he sayde vnto me: Nombre me the thinges ỹ are not yet come: gather me togethere the droppes that are scatred abrode: make me the flouers grene agayne, that are wythered: open me the thinge that is closed: and bringe me forth ỹ wynes that are shut vp: Shewe me the ymag of a voyce, and then shal I declare thee the thing, that thou labourest to knowe. And I sayde: O Lorde Lorde, who maye knowe these thinges, but he that hathe not hys dwellynge wt men?

As for me I am vnwyse: ho we may I then speake of thes thynges wher of ỹ askest me? Then sayde he vnto me: like as thou canst do none of these thinges ỹ I haue spoken of, euẽ so canst thou not fynde out my iudgemente, or in the ende the loue that I haue promysed vntomy people. And I sayde: Beholde O Lord, yet art thou ny vnto them that haue no ende: and what shal they do that haue ben before me, or we that be now, or they that shall come after vs? And he sayde vnto me: I wyl licken my iudgement vnto a ryngẽ.

Lyke as there is no slacnesse of the last, euen so is ther no swyftnesse of ỹ fyrst. So I answered and sayd: couldeste ỹ not make those (that haue bene made, and that be now, and that ate for to come) in one, that thou myghtest shewthy iudgment the soner? Then answerd he me, and sayde: The creature maye not haste aboue the maker, nether may the worlde hold thẽ atonce, ỹ ch albe created

And I sayd: Now hast thou sayd then vnto thy seruaunte, that thou lyuing

makest

maker hast made the creature liuing at once/and the creature bare it: euen so might it now also bere them that be pre sent/at once. And he laide vnto me: Aske the childbed of a woman/and saie vnto her: If thou bringest forth childre whi dost thou it not together, but one af ter another: Pray her therfore, to bryng forth ten children at once. And I sayde: she can not, but muste do yt one after a nother.

Then sayde he vnto me: Euen so ha ue I geuen a chyldebed vnto the earth, for those that be sowen vpon it by pro cesse of tyme. For like as a yong chylde may not bring forth the thinges that be long to the aged, euen so haue I ordey ned the world which I made.

And I asked and sayde: Seing thou haste nowe geuen me awaye, I wyll spe ke before thee: for our mother, of whom thou haste tolde me, is yet younge, and nowe she draweth nye vnto age. He an swered me, and sayde: Aske a woman yt beareth children, and she shal tel the. Saye vnto her: wherfore are not they (whome thou hast now brought forthe) lyke those that were before thee, but les se in stature? and she shall answere the: They that be borne in the youthe of strength, ar of one fashion: and they that are borne in the tyme of age (when the childbed fayleth) are otherwyse. Consy dre now thy selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you, and so ar they that come after you lesse then ye, as the creatures whych no we begynne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strenght of youth. Then sayde I: Lorde I beseche thee, yf I haue fo unde fauoure in thy syght, shewe thy seruaunte/by whome doest thou visite thy creature?

¶ The Aungel instructeth Esdras, & geueth hi answer to his questiõs.

The. vi. Chapter.

AND he sayde vnto me: In the begynnynge when the ground was made: before the world stode, or euer the wyndes blew, before it thũ dred and lyghtened, or euer the foun dacyons of Paradyse were layed, be fore the fayre flowres were seene, or euer the moueable powers were stablysshede, before the innumerabell multitude of angels were gathered to gether: or euer the hyghnesses of the aier wer lifted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chim neis in Sion were hote, and or the pre sente yeares were sought out, ãd or euer the inuencyons of them that now synne were put aside, before they were sealed that now gather fayth for a treasure: then dyd I consydre & ponder all these thinges, and they al were made thorow me, and thorow none other: by me also they be ended, and by none other.

Then answered I ãd sayde: which shal be the partinge a sunder of the tymes? Or when shalbe the ende of the fyrst/ & ỹ begynnyng of it ỹ folowethe? And he sayde vnto me: From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Jacob ãd Esau were born of him, Jacobs hand held first ỹ heleof Esau: for Esau is the end of this world, ãd Jacob is ỹ begynnyng of it that folowethe. The hande of man betwyx te the hele and the hand. Other questy on (Esdras) aske thou not.

nota Jacob o was ỹ begynnyng of ỹ world & Esau ỹ endyng

I answered then, and sayde: O Lord Lord yf I haue founde fauoure in thy light, I beseche the, shewe thy seruant the ende of thy tokens, wherof ỹ shew dest me parte the last night. So he ans wered and sayde vnto me: Stande vp vpon thy fete, and here the perfect voy ce and sounde. There shall come a grea te mocion, but the place where thou stã dest shall not be moued. And therfore when thou hearest the wordes, be not a frayed: for of the ende shal the word ãd foundacion of the earth be vnderstand. And why? the worde therof trembleth ãd quaketh, for it knoweth, that it must be chaunged at the ende. And it happe ned that when I had herde it, I stod vpon my seat, and herkened: ãd behold there was a voyce that spake, ãd the so unde of it was like the sounde of many waters, and it sayde. Behold, the daies come, that I wil beginne to drawe nye, and to vysyet theym that dwell vpon earth, and wyll begynne to make in quy sicion of them, what they be that haue hurte hurte equite & vnrighteousnes, & whē the low estate of Sion shalbe fulfylled: and when the worlde, that shal vanishe away, shalbe ouercealed, then wyl I do these tokens.

The bokes shalbe opened before my firmament, and they shal se al together, and the chyldren of a yeare olde shal speake with their voyces: the wemen with childe shal bryng forth vntimely childrē of thre or foure monethes old, and they shal lyue, and be raised vp: and sodenly shal the sowne places apeare as the sowne, the ful store houses shal sodenly be founde emptye, and the trompet shall geue the sound, which when euery man heareth / they shalbe hastely afrayed.

At that tyme shall fryendes fyght one agaynste another lyke enemyes, and the earthe shall Stande in feare wythe them.

The sprynges of the welles shall stande styl, and in thre houres they shal not renne. Who so euer remaineth from all these thynges that I haue tolde the, shal escape, and se my saluacyon / and ye ende of your worlde. And the men that are receued shal se it, they that haue not tasted death from their birthe: and the hert of the indwellers shalbe chaunged, and turned into another meanynge: for euel shalbe put oute / and dyscrete shalbe quenched. As for faith, it shal florish, for cupcyō shalbe ouercome: and the trueth which hath bene so longe without frut, shalbe declared. As it happened when he talked with me, that I loked demurelye vpon hym, before whome I stode / and these wordes sayde he vnto me: I am come to shew thee, the tyme of the night for to come.

If thou wylte prayr yet more and fast seuen days agayn, I shal tel ye more thinges, a greater then before: for thy voice is herde before the hyest: for why? The Myghty hath sene the righteous deling he hath sene also thy chastyte whiche ye hast had euer sence thy youth: and therfore hathe he sente me to shewe thee all these thinges, and to saye vnto thee: Be of good comforte, and feare not, & haste not with the tymes that are past to thy nexte vayne thynges, and make not hast of the latter tymes.

And it happened after this, that I wepte agayne, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfil ye thre weekes, which he told me. In the eyghte night was my herte vexed within me again, and I begaune to speake before the Hiest: for my spirite was greately set on fyre, and my soule was in distresse, and I sayde: O Lord, thou spekest vnto thy creature from the begynnyng (euen the fyrst date) and saidest let heauen ād earth be made, and thy word was a perfect worke. And then was ther ye spirite and the darcknesses were yet on euerye side, and silence: there was no mannes voice as yet from the. Thē commaundest thou a faire light to com forth out of thy treasures, that thy work might apeare and be sene.

Upon the seconde daie thou madest the spirite of the firmament, and cōmaundest it to part a sunder, and to make a deuision betwixt the waters, that ye on part myght remayne aboue, and the other beneth. Upon the thyrd day thou broughtest to passe, that the waters weare gathered in the seuenth part of the earth:

Sire partes haste thou dryed vp / and kepte them to thintente that men might sowe and occuppe husbandry therin. As soone as thy worde wente forth / the worke was made. For immediatly there was greate innumerable frute, and many dyuerse pleasures and desyres of tempracion, floures of chaungeable colore and smel, and thys was donne the thyrde daye.

Upon the fourth daye thou cōmaundest that the sonne shoulde geue his shyne, and the moone her lyght: the starres diddest thou set in ordre, and gauest them a charge to doo seruice euen vnto man, that was for to be made. Upon the fyfte daye thou saydest vnto the seuēth parte (wher the waters were gathered) that they shoulde bring forth diuerse beastes, foules and fishes. And so it came to passe, that the domme water & wout sole, brought forth liuing beastes, at ye cōmaundement of God, that all people myght prayse thy wonderous workes. Then dydest thou preserue the soules, the one thou calledst Enoch & the other

Leuiathan,and dydest separate the one from the other:for the seuēthe parte(namely,where the water was gathered together)myght not holde them both.
Vnto Enoch thou gauest one part,whiche was dryed vp the thyrde daye, that he shoulde dwel in the same part, wherin are the thousande hylles.But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth parte, namely the moyst and hast kept him to deuoure what thou wylt,and whan.
Vpon the syxte daye thou gauest commaundemēt vnto the earth,that before thee it shoulde bryng forth beastes,cattel,and al that crepe,and(besydes this) Adam also,whom thou madest lorde of al thy creatures:Of hym come we all & the people also,whom thou hast chosen specyally vnto thy selfe.Al thys haue I sayde now and spoken before thee, that I myght shewe/how that the worlde is made for our sakes.As for the otherpeple whych also come ofAdam thou hast sayde that they are nothyng,but be like a spitle,and hast lickned the abundaūce of them vnto a droppe(that falleth)frō the rofe of the house.

And now/O lord,the Heathē whych haue euer bene reputed as nothige haue begonne to be lordes ouer vs, ād deuoured vs:but we thy people(whom ỹ hast called the fyrste borne,thy onelye begotten and thy feruent louer) are geuen into their handes and power. Yf the world now be made for oure sakes,why haue we not the inheritaunce in possession wyth the world? How long shal this endure?

¶The Angel sheweth Esdras many thinges to cō

The.vii.Chapter.

A And it happened after that I had spoken out these wordes there was sent vnto me an aungel, which had bene by me also ỹ nyghtes afore and he sayde vnto me: Vp Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tel thee.And I sayde:speake on lorde my god.Then sayd he vnto me:The sea is set in a wyde place,that it myghte be depe and greate: But the entraūce is narow ād smal lyke as a riuer.For who woulde go into the sea,to loke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thorow the narow,how myght he come into the brode?

Item another:A cyte is buylded & set vpon a brode felde/and is full of all goodnes:the entraunce is narow ād so dayne,lyke as if there were a fyre at the right hand/ and a depe water at ỹ lyfte and as it were only one strate path betwyxt them both,so smal that ther cold but one man go there.

Yf thys cytie now were geuen to an heyre,and he neuer went thorow the parelous waye,how woulde he receaue his enheritaunce? And I sayd: It is so lord. Thē sayd he:euen so is Israell also a portion.And why? for their sakes haue I made the world:ād when Adam trangressed my statutes, then was the thing iudged that was done. Then were the entraunces of the world made narow,ful of sorow and trauaile: They are but few and euel,full of parels and labour.For ỹ entraunces of the fore world were wyde and sure,and brought immortal frute. Yf they now whiche are entred into thys world,maye not comprehend these straite and dayne thynges,muche lesse maye they comprehende and vnderstande the secrete thynges:Why disquieteste thow thy selfe then,seynge thou art but a corruptible man? And what wouldest thou knowe,where as thou arte but mortall? And why hast thou not receaued into thine hert the thynge that is for to com,but that is presente?

Then sayde I: O Lord,Lorde,thou hast ordeyned in thy lawe that the righteous shoulde inherit these thynges/but ỹ ỹ vnfaythfull & vngodly shuld perysh. Neuertheles the ryghtuous shall suffre straite thynges, and hope for wyde:for they that haue lyued vngodlye and suffered straygbte thynges,shall not see the wyde.
And he sayd vnto me:there is no Judge aboue God:and none that haue vnderstanding aboue the hyghest.For there be many that perysshe, because they dispise the lawe of God that is set before them. For God hath geuen straycte commaun-

B

dements

dement to soche as cõe, that they know what they do/and how they shuld lyue: & if they kepte this they shoulde not be punyshed.

Neuertheless they were not obediẽt vnto him/but spoke agaynst him: ymagyned vayne thinges, and pourposed to synne, and sayde moreouer that ther was no God, ãd that God regarded it not. His wayes haue they not knowne, his lawe haue they despysed, and denyed his promyses: in hys statutes and ordynaunces haue they not bene faythful and stedfast, and haue not perfourmed his workes.

And therfore Esdras vnto the ful, plenty: ãd to the empty, emptynesse. Beholde, the tyme shal come, that these tokens which I haue tolde the/shal com to passe, and the bride shal appeare, ãd the earth that now passeth away, shalbe shewed: and whosoeuer is delyuered frõ the forsayde euels, shall se my wonders. For my sonne Jesus shalbe openly declared, which those that be with hym: & they that remayne, shalbe mery in foure hundred yeares.

After these same yeares shal my sonne Christ dye/and al men that haue life, & the worlde shalbe tourned into the old silence. vii. dayes, lyke as in ẏ fore iudgments, so ẏ no man shal remayn. And after seauen dayes, the worlde that yet awaketh not, shalbe raysed vp, and shall dye corupte. And the earth shal restore those that haue slepte in her, and so shal the duste those that dwell in sylence ãd the secret places shal delyuer those that be committed vnto them. And the most hyest shall be openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, and all mysery shal vanish awaye, and long suffryng shalbe gathered together. But the iudgement shal continue, the treuth shal remayne, & fayth shal waxe strounge/the woorcke shall folowe, and the rewarde shalloe shewed, the rightuousnesses shal watch, and the vnrightuousnesses shall beare no rule.

Then sayde I: Abraham prayed fyrst for the Sodomites, & Moyses for ẏ fathers ẏ sinned in ẏ wyldernes, ãd he ẏ cam after him for Israel in ẏ tyme of Achas and Samuel: and dauid for the destruction, ãd Salomon for them that came into the Sanctuary, and Helyas for those that receaued rayne/and for ẏ deade that he myght lyue, and Ezechias for the people in the tyme of Sennacherib: and diuerse other in lyke maner, which haue prayed for many.

Euen so nowe seinge the corrupte is growen vp, and wickednesse increased, & the ryghteous haue prayed for the vngodlye, wherfor shall it not be so nowe also?

He answered me, and sayde: Thys present worlde is not the ende, there remayneth much honour in it: therfore haue they prayed for the weake. But the daye of dome, shall be the ende of thys tyme, and the beginning of the immortalytie for to come, wherin all corrupcion vanisheth, al voluptuousnes is lowsed, all mysbeleefe taken awaye, ryghtuousnes growen/and the verytie sprong vp. Then shal no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorye.

I answered then, and sayd: This is my fyrst and last saying: that it had bene better/not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam/or els when it was geuen hym, to kepe him that he should not synne. For what profite is it for men now in thys present tyme to lyue in heuynes and after death to loke for punishment? O ẏ Adam, what hast thou done? For though it was thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we al that come of the. For what profite is yt vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortal tyme, wher as we medle wyth dayly worckes? and ẏ there is promysed vs an euerlastynge hope/where as we oure selues are euel and vayne? and that there are laide vp for vs dwellinges of health and fredõ, where as we haue lyued euell? and that the worshyp of thyghelt is kept to defend them, which haue led a paciẽt lyfe, wher as we haue walcked in the most wicked wayes of al?

And that there shalbe shewed a paradyce, whose frut endureth for euer, wherein is fredome and medicyne: where as we shal not go in? for we haue walked in vnpleasaunt places: And that the faces of theym whych haue abstayned, shall shyne aboue the starres, where as our faces shalbe blacke and darcke: for whyle we lyued, and dyd vnrighteously, we consydered not, that we shold suffre therfore after death:

Then answered he me, and sayde: This is the consideracion and thought of the battell, whych man hathe vppon earth: that if he be ouercomme, he shall suffre as thou hast sayde. But if he get the victory e, he shall receaue the thynge that I saye. For thys is the lyfe, wherof Moyses spake vnto the People, whyle he lyued, saiynge: Chose the lyfe, that thou mayst lyue, Neuertheles they beleued hym not, neyther the Prophetes after hym. No nor me whych haue spoken vnto them / that heuynesse shoulde not reache vnto them to theyr destruccyon lyke as ioye is for to come ouer those, y haue suffred them selues to be informed in saluacion.

I answered then and said: I know Lorde, that the hyghest is mercyfull / in that he hath mercy vppon them, whiche are not yet in the worlde, and vpon those also that walke in hys law: and that he is pacient and long suffring, toward those that haue sinned in theyr workes: and that he is lyberall to geue where as it requireth: and that he is of great mercye, for he multiplyeth hys louing kyndnesses towarde those that are presente, and that are palte and to them which are for to come. For yf he multiplye not hys mercyes, the worlde shall not be made lyuynge, wyth those that dwel therin: He geueth also, for yf he gaue not of his goodnesse / that they whyche haue done euell myght be eased, the ten thousande parte of menne shoulde not be made lyuynge. And yf the Judge forgaue not those that be healed w hys Worde, and yf he woulde destroye the Multytude that Striuethe, there shoulde be beye fewe lefte in an innumerable Multitude.

nota

Eldras prayeth God rather to loke vpon hys own mercy then on the synnes of the people,

The.viii.Chapter.

And he answerd me, saying: The most Hyest made thys worlde for many, but the worlde to cõe for few. I wil tel the a similitud, Eldras: As when thou askest the earth, it shall saye vnto the, that it geueth moch moulde, wher of earthen vessels are made, but lytle of it that golde commethe of. Euen so is it wyth the worcke of thys world. There be many created, but few shal be preserued. Then answered I & sayde: Then swalowe vp the wytte (y soule) and deuoure the vnderstanding, for thou art agreed to herken and to geue eare / and wyllynge to prophecye: for thou hast no longer space geuen y, but only to lyue. O Lord / wylt thou not geue thy seruaunt leaue, that we maye praye before the, and that thou mayst geue seede vnto oure herte, and builde oure vnderstandynge that there maye come frute of it: ād that euery one which is corrupted, and beareth the state and place of a man: maye lyue?

For thou art alone, and we alare one workmanshyppe of thy hãdes, lyke as thou hast sayde, and lyke as the body is fashioned now in the chyldesbed, and thou geuest the membres, and thy creature is preserued in fyer and water: & ir. monethes doth thy worcke suffre thy creatuer, whiche is fashionede in her: but the thing that preserueth, ād it that is preserued, shal both be kept together: and when time is y childebed deliuereth y thing that is kepte ād groune in her.

For thou hast commaunded the brestes to geue mylk vnto the frute / that the thing which is created and fashioned, maye be norished for a tyme: and then dysposes and ordrest it wyth thy mercy bringest it vp with thy rightuousnes, nurturest it in thi law, and reformest it with thy vnderstandinge, mortifyest it as thy creatuere, and makest it lyuing as thy worke. Synge then that thou destroyest him, which with so grate labours is created & fashyened throw thy commandement, thou couldest lyghtly ordeyn, also that the thing which is made, myght be preserued. B

And this I spake nowe of all men in generall

generall as thou knowest: but of the people, for whose sake I am sorye: and of thy enheritaunce: for whose cause I mourne: and of Israell, For whome I am wofull: and for Jacob/ for whose sake I am greued: therfore begynne I to praye before thee, for my selfe and for them, for I see the fal of vs/ euen of vs that dwell vpon earth. But I haue herde the swyftenes of the iudge/ whyche is to come: therfore heare my voyce, & vnderstande my woordes, and I shall speake before thee.

This is the begynninge of the wordes of Esdras, before he was receaued: O Lorde/ thou that dwellest in euerlastingnesse, whose eyes are lyfte vp in the ayre/ whose stole is exceading hy, whose glorye and maiesty maye not be comprehended, before whome the hostes of heauen stande wyth tremblynge, whose keepyng is turned in wynde and fyre/ whose worde is true, whose talkinge is stedfast, whose commaundement is strong, whose ordinaunce is fearful, whose loke drieth vp the depthes, whose wrath maketh the mountaynes to melt away, and whose trueth beareth wytnesse: O heare the prayer of thy seruaunt, and marcke wyth thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

For whyle I lyue, I wyll speake, & so lounge as I haue vnderstandinge, I wyll answere. O loke not vpon the sines of thy people, which serue in the trueth. Haue no respect vnto the wycked studies of the heathen, but to the desyre of those that kepe thy testimonies wyth sorowes. Thincke not vpon those that haue walcked fayntedly before thee, but vpon them, whych wyth wyll haue knowen thy feare.

Let it not be thy wyl to destroy thē, which haue had beastly maners, but to loke vppon them that haue clearly taught thy lawe. Take thou no indignacyon at them, which are worse then beastes: but loue them, that al way put their truste in thy righteousnes and glorye: for we and oure fathers haue all the same sycknes and dysease, but because of our sinnes thou shalte be called mercyfull.

nota
by cause of our synnes thou shalte be called mercyfull

For if thou hast mercy vpō vs, thou shalt be called merciefull, where as wee haue no workes of righteousnesse: for the righteous, whych haue layde vppe many goodworckes together, shall oute of theyr dedes receaue rewarde. For what is man, that thou shouldeste take displeasure at hym: Or what is the corruptyble Mortall Generacion that thou shouldest be so rough toward him:

For of a trueth theare is no man amonge them that be borne/ but he hath dealte wyckedly: & among the faythfull ℂ there is none, which hath not don amis. For in this (O Lord) thy righteousnes and thy Goodnesse shall be prayed and declared, yf thou be Mercyfull vntoo them, which are not ryche in good workes.

Then answered he me: and sayde: Som thinges hast thou spoken a right and acordinge vnto thy wordes it shal be. For I wyll not bereue consydre the workes of them, whych haue synned before death, before the iudgement, before destruction, but I wyl reioyce ouer the worcke and thoughte of the righteous. I wyll remembre, also the pylgrymage, the holy making and the rewarde. Like as I haue spoken now, so shal it come to passe. For as the husband man soweth muche sede vpon the grounde, and planteth many trees and yet alwaye the thinge that is sowne or planted ys not al kepte safe, nether doth it al take rote: Euen so is it of theym that are sowne in the world, they shal not all be preserued.

nota not All

I answered then and sayde: If I haue founde grace, then lett me speake. Lyke as the husbaunde mannes sede perisheth, if it receaue not rayne in due season, or if there come to much rayne vpō it: Euen so perisheth man also, which is created with thy handes, and is lykened to thyne owne ymage and to thy selfe, for whose sake ȳ hast made al thynges and lickened hī vnto the husband mās sede. Be not wroth at vs/ O Lord but spare thy people, and haue mercy vpō thine owne inheritaunce: O be merciful vnto thy creature.

Then ānswered he me and sayd: Thinges present are for ȳ present, & thinges to come for suche as be to come. For ȳ wantest yet muche, seing thou mayest loue thy creature aboue me: I haue often tymes drawen nye vnto thee but neuer to the vnrighteous. Intoys also thou arte maruelous before the hyghest, in y thou hast humbled thy selfe, as it becommeth thee, and hast not regarded thyne owne selfe, that thou art had in such honoure amonge the righteous. Therfore shall great wretchednes and mysery come vpon them, that in the latter tyme shall dwell in the worlde, for they haue walked in greate pryde.

But vnderstand thou for thy selfe, & seke out glory for suche as be lyke thee: for vnto you is paradice opened, the tre of lyfe is planted, the tyme to comme is prepared, plenteousnes made readye: a citie is buylded for you, and a rest is prepared, yea perfecte goodnes and wysdome. The rote of euell is marcked from you, the weakenes and moth is hyd frō you, and into hell flyeth Corruption in forgetfulnes. Sorowes are vanished awaye, and in the ende is shewed the tre of immortalyti. And therfore aske thou nomore questions, concerninge the multitude of them that perysh. For they haue taken lybertie, despysed the hyghest, thought scorne of hys lawe, & forsaken his wayes.

Moreouer, they haue troden downe hys righteous, and sayde in theyr herte that there is no God, yea and that wittyngly, for they dye. For lyke as the thynge that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you: Euen so is thyrste & payne prepared for them: for it was not his wyll that man shoulde come to naught but they whych be created haue defyled the name of hym that made them, & are vnthanckfull vnto hym, whych prepared lyfe for them. And therfore is my iudgemente nowe at hand. These thynges haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe: namely vnto thee, and to suche as be lyke thee.

Then answered I and sayde: Beholde, O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the tokens, whyche thou wylt beginne to do at the last, but what tyme and when thou hast not shewed me.

Esdras hath visions shewed hym.

The.ix. Chapter.

HE answered me then & sayd: Measuer thou the tyme dyligently in it selfe, when y seyste that one parte of the tokens com to passe which I haue tolde the before: so shalte thou vnderstande, that it is the very same tyme, wherin the hyest wyl begynne to vysyt the worlde, which he made. And whē there shalbe sene earthquake and vproare of the people in y worlde, then shalt y wel vnderstand/that the most hyeste spake of those thinges, from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the begynnynge.

For lyke as all that is made in the worlde, hath a begynnyng and ende, ād the ende is manyfest: Euen so the times also of y hiest haue playne begynniges in wounders and sygnes and the ende in worckynge and in tokens. And euery one that shalbe saued, ād shalbe able to escape by hys workes ād by fayth wherin ye haue beleued shalbe preserued frō the sayde parels and shal se my sauiour in my lande and within my borders, for I haue halowed me from thee worlde. Then shal they be in carefulnesse which now haue abused my wayes: and they y haue cast them out despyteully shaldwell inpaynes.

For soche as in ther lyfe haue receaued benefyte s and haue not knowen me ād they y haue abhorred my law whyle they had yet fredome and whē they had yet open rowme of amēdment and cōuersion, and vnderstode not, but despysed it the same must knowe it after deathe in payne. And therfore be thou nomore carful, how the vngodly shalbe punished, & how therighteous shalbe saued, & whose the worlde is, & for whome the Worlde and when it is. Then answered I and sayde: I haue talcked before and now I spake also hereafter, that therbe many moo of them whiche perysshe then shalbe saued like as the floud is greter then the droppes.

And he answered me, saying: lyke as the felde is, so is also the sede: as thee flouers be, so are y colours also soch as the workman is, soch is also the worck

and

and as the husbande man is him selfe, so is his husbandry also, for it was ỹ time of the world. And when I prepared for them that are nowe, or euer the worlde was made, wherin they shoulde dwell, then was ther no man that withstode me. Now when euery one was, and the maker also in the worlde which is now prepared, and the moueth that ceaseth not, and the lawe whyche is vnsearchable, there maners were corrupte. So I consydred thee worlde, and beholde, there was parell, beause of ỹ thoughtes that were come into it. And I saw, and spared them greately, and haue kepte me a wynebery of the grapes, ād a plant frō amonge many generacions. Let the multitude perish then, whyche are growne vpp in vayne, and lett my Grape and wynebery be kept: Euen my plant: for wyth greate labour haue I made it vp.

Neuertheles yf thou wilt take vpon the yet seuen dayes mo (but ỹ shalt not fast in thē) go thy way then into the feld of floures, where no house is buylded, and eate only of the floures of the feld, taste not flesh, drinke no wyne, but eate floures onely. Praye vnto the hiest continually, so wyl I com, and talke wᵗ thee.

So I went my waye and came into the felde which is called Ardath (lyke as he commaunded me) and there I sat amonge the floures and ate of the herbes of the feld, and the meate of ỹ same satysfyed me. After seuen dayes I sate vpon the grasse, and my herte was vered wᵗ melykeas afore: & I opened my mouth and begann to talke before the hiest and sayde: O Lord, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto oure fathers in the wyldernes, in a place wher no man dwelleth, in a bareu place, whē they came out of Egipt, and thou spakest/saying: here me O Israel, & marke my wordes thou sede of Jacob. Behold I sawe my lawe in you, and it shal brīg frut in you, and ye shalbe honoured in it for euer.

For our fathers whych receaued the lawe, kepte it not, and obserued not thy ordinaunces and statutes, ād ỹ frut of thy lawe was not declared: for it myght not, for why: yt was thyne. For they that receaued yt, perysshe, because they kepte not the thinge that was sowne in them.

It is a custome when the grounde receaueth sede, or the sea shipp, or a vessel meate and drynke, that when it perysheth or is broken wherein a thynge ys sowne, or wherin any thinge is put: the thynges also perysshe and are broken, which ar sowne or put theryn. But vnto vs it hath not happened so: for we that haue receaued the lawe perysshe in synne, and oure herte whyche also receaued the lawe: Not wythstandinge ỹ lawe perysheth not, but remaineth i his laboure.

And when I consydred these thinges in my hert after this maner/ I loked about me wyth myne eyes, and vpon the ryght syde I sawe a woman whych mourned sore, made greate lamentacion, & wepte wyth loud voyce: her clothes were rent in peces, and she had asshes vpō her head.

Then let I my thoughtes go, that I was in, ād turned me vnto her, & said: wherfore wepest thou: whye arte thou so sorye and discomforted: And she sayde vnto me: Sir, let me bewayle my selfe, and take yet more sorowe: for I am sore vexed in my mynde/ and brought e very lowe. And I sayd vnto her, what aileth thee: Or who hath done any thinge to thee: tell me. She sayde/ I haue bene vnfrutefull and barren and haue had an husbande thyrtie yeares. And these xxx yeares: I do nothyng els day and nyght, and al houres, but make my prayer to the hyest. After thyrtie yeares God herde me thy hāt maydeu, loked vpon my mysery, consydred my trouble, and gaue me a sonne/ and I was glad of hym/ so was my husbande also and all my neyghbours/ and we gaue great honoure vnto the myghtie. And I nourished hym wyth great trauell So when he grewe vp, and came to the tyme, that he shoulde haue a wyfe/ I made a feast.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto hym, commen together.

The. x. Chapter.

playyng & of instrumentes was layd away

A ND it happened that when my sonne went, unto his chãber, he fel downe, and dyed: then ouerthrewe we all the lyghtes/ and all my neighbours rose vp to comforte me. Then toke I my rest vnto the secoude Daye at night: and when they had al rested, that they myght comforte me, I rested also/ and rose vp by nyght, and fled, and am come hyther into thys felde, as thou seest: and am purposed not to come in the citie/ but to remayne here, and neyther to eate nor dryncke, but continuallye to mourne and to fast, vntyll I dye.

Then let I my meditacions ãd thoughtes fal that I was in, and spake to her in displeasur: Thou folysh woman, seest thou not our heuynesse and mournynge/ and what happeneth vnto vs: how Sion our mother is all woful and sorye, and howe she is cleanne brought downe and in myserye: seinge we be all nowe in heauines, and make our mone (for we be all sorouwfull.) As for the heaupnes that thou takest, it is but for one Sonne. Demaunde the earthe, and she shall tell thee, that it ys she, whych ought (by reason) to mourne, for the fall of so many, that grow vpon her.

For from the begynninge all men are borne of her/ and other shall come: and beholde, they walcked al moste all into destruccion, and manye of them shall be roted out.

Who should thé (by reason) make more mournynge, then she, that hathe loste so greate a Multitude? And not thou, which arte sory but for one. But if thou wouldest saye vnto me, my mourninge is not lyke the mournynge of the earth, for I haue loste the frute of my bodye whiche I bare wyth heaupnes: but the earth is according to the manner of the earth, and the present multitude goethe agayne, into her, as it is come to passe: Then saye I vntoo thee: lyke as thou hast borne with trauell and sorowe, euẽ so the earth also from the beginning geueth her frute vnto manne, for him that made her. And therfore wyth holde thy sorowe and heauinesse by thy selfe/ and lose what happeneth vnto thee, beare it strongly.

For if thou iudgest the marck & ende of God to be ryghtuous, and good/ ãd receaueit his councel in tyme, thou shalte be commended therin. Go thy way then into thy cytie to thy husband.

B

And she sayde vnto me: that wyll I not do, I wyl not go into the cytye, but heare wyl I dye. So I commened more wyth her, and sayd: Do not so, but be coũceled, and folow me: for how many falles hath Sion? Be of good comforte because of the sorowe of Jerusalem. For thou sayst that our Sanctuarye is layde waste, oure aulter broken, our temple destroyed, our playyng of instrumentes and synging laide downe, & thanckesgeuyng put to sylence, our mirth is vanyshed awaye, the lyght of our candelstycke is quenched, the arcke of ỹ couenaunt is taken from vs, all our holy thynges ar defyled, ãd the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is dishonoured: our children ar put to shame, our prestes are brent, our leuites are caried awai into captiuite, oure virgis are defyled, and oure wyues rauyshed, our ryghtuous men spoyled, and our chyldren dystroyed, oure yong men are brought in bondage, and oure strong worthyes ar become weake: and Sion (whych seale is the greatest of al) is lowsed vp from her worshyp: for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

nota

Ego mœrore & vbique pro Sanctuario Jerusalem

And therfore shake of thy greate heupnes, and put awaye the multytude of sorowes: that the Myghtye maye be mercyful vnto thee/ and that the hyest may geue the rest from thy laboure and trauayle. And it happened, that whé I was talkinge with her/ her face did shyne and glister, so that I was afraide of her/ and mused what it mighte be. And immediatly she cast oute a greate voyce, very fearful, so ỹ the earth shoke at the noise of the woman: and I loked, and behold/ the woman appeared vnto me nomore: but there was a citie buylded, and a place was shewed frõ ỹ ground and foundacion.

C

Then was I afrayde, and cryed wyth a londe voyce/ and sayde: Where is Uryell the aungell, whyche came to me at the fyrst?

For

For he hath caused me to come in many considcracyons and hye thoughtes, and myne ende is turned to corrupcion/and my prayer to rebuke. And as I was speakynge these wordes, he came vnto me, and loked vpon me/ and I laye as one that had bene deed and myne vnderstandyng was altered and he toke me by the right hand, and comforted me and set me vp vpon my fete/and sayd vnto me: what aileth the? and why is thine vnderstandyng vered? and the vnderstandyng of thy hart, and wherfor artȳ sory? And I sayde: Because thou hast forsakē me: and I haue done accordynge vnto thy wordes, I went in to the fylde and there hade I sene thinges that I am not able to expresse. He sayd vnto me: Stand vp and be manly, and I shal geuethe exortacyon.

Then sayde I: Speak on to me my Lorde, forsake me not, lest I dye in vayne: for I haue seane that I knowe not, and herd that I do not knowe. Or shal my vnderstanding be disceaued, and mi mynd? But now I beseech the, that thou wylt shew thy seruaunt of this wonder. He answered me thē and sayde: heare me and I shal enforme thee, & tel the wherfore thou art afrayed, for the Hyest hath opened manye secrete thinges vnto the.

He hath sene that thy waie is right/ and that thou takest sorowe contynually for thy people/& makest great lamentacyon for Sion: and therfore vnderstande the vysyon which thou sawest alytle while ago after this maner: Thou sawest a woman mournyng, and thou hast comforted her: Neuertheles now seyst thou the lykenes of the woman nomore, but thou thoughtest ther was a cytie bulded: and lyke as she told the of the fal of her sōne, so is this the answere: The woman whō thou sawest is Sion: and where as she tolde the, that she hath bene thyrtye yeares vnfrutefull and baren, those are the xxx. yeares wherin there was no offeryng made in her.

But after. xxx. yeares Salomō bulded her, and offred, and then bare thee baren a sōne. And where as she told the that she norysshed him with labour, that was the dwellyng of Jerusalem. But where as the sonne died in her chamber, that is the fal of Jerusalem. And thou sawest her lykenes, howe she mourned for her sonne: and what elles happened vnto her, I haue shewed the. And now god seeth, that thou art sory in thy mind and suffrest from thy herte for her, and so hath he shewed the her clerenesse/and the fayrnes of her bewty.

And therfore I bad the remayne in the felde, wher no house is builded. For I know ỹ the Hyest wold shew this vnto thee/therfore I commaunded thee to go into the felde, where no foundacion nor buylding is. For in the place where the Hyest wyl shew his cytie, ther shal be no mans building. And therfore feare not, & let not thyne hert be afraid, but go thy waye in, and se the glorious and faire building, and howe greate it is, & how gret ỹ thinkest it after ỹ mesure of thyne eyes, & then shalt thou heare as muche as thyne eares maye comprehende. For thou art blessed aboue manye other, and art called wyth the Hyeste, as the fewe.

But to morowe at nyght thou shalt remayne here, and so shall the hyest shewe the visions, of hygh thinges, whyche he wil do vnto them, that dwel vpon earth in the last dayes. So I slepte the same nyght lyke as he commaunded me.

¶ In this Chapter, and in the two next ensuyng he entreateth of certeine visions and of their exposicions therof.

¶ The. xi. Chapter.

THen sawe I a dreame: and I beholde, there came vp frō the sea an Aegle, which had xii. wynges and three heades: And I sawe/and beholde/he spred hys wynges ouer all the earth/and all the wyndes of the ayre blew in them, and so they were put together agayne. And I behelde, and out of hys fethers there grewe other lytle contrary fethers: the heades rested/ the heade in the myddest was greater then the other, yet rested it wyth the residue.

Moreouer I sawe/ that the Aegle flew wt hys wynges, & raygned vpō earth: & ouer all them ỹ dwelt vpon earth

and

and I sawe that all thynges vnder heauen were subiecte vnto him, and noma spake against him, no not one creature vpon earth. I sawe also that the Egle stode vp vpon hys clawes and gaue a sounde wythe his fethers, and a voyce sayinge after this maner: watch not al to gether, slepe euery man in hys owne place and watche for a tyme, but let the hades be prolonged at the last. Neuertheles I sawe, that the voyce went not out of his handes, but from the myddest of his body. And I nombred his contrye fethers, and behold, there were eight of them. And I loked, and beholde vppō the righte syde there arose one fether, & raigned ouer al the earthe. And it happened that when it raygned, the ende of it came, and the place therof appered no more. So the nexte folowing stod vp, and rayned, and had a greate tyme: ād
B it happened/that when it rayned, theende of it came also, lyke as ỹ first, so that it appered nomore.

Then came there a voyce vnto it, ād sayde: Heare thou that hast kept in the earth so long, this I say vnto the, before thou begynnest to appere nomore. There shal none after the atteyne vnto thy time. Then arose the third, ād raygned as the other afore, and appered nomore also. So went it wt al the reasydue one after another, so that euerypone rayned, and then appered nomore. Then I loked and beholde, in processe of time ỹ fethers that folowed were set vpvpō the right syde that they myght rule also: and some of them ruled, but within a whyle they appered nomore: for some of them were set vp, but ruled not. After this I loked, and behold the .xii. fethers appered nomore, and the two wynges: and ther was nomore vpon the Aegles bodye, but two heades that rest, ād syxe fethers. Then sawe I also, that the six fethers were parted in two & remained vnder the head, that was vpon ỹ right side, for the four continued i their place. So I loked / & beholde they that were
C vnder the winges, thought to set vp thē selues and to haue the rule. Then was there one set vp but shortly it appeared nomore, and the seconde was sooner awaye then the firste. And I beheldeand lo, the two thought also by them selues to rayn: and when they so thought, behold there walked one of the heades that were at rest, namely it that was in the middest, for that was the greater of the two heades.

And then I sawe, that the two heades were fylled with him, and the head was turned with them that were by him, and ate vp the two vnderwinges, that wold haue raygned.

But thys head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth wyth much laboure, and he had the Gouernaunce of the worlde, ouer all the foules that haue bene. After thys I loked, and behol de, the head that was in the myddest, so denly appeared no more, lyke as the wi ges: then came the two heads, which ru led vpon earthe, and ouer those dwelte
D therin. And I behelde, and lo, the heade vppon the righte syde, deuoured it that was vpon the lefte syde. And I hearde a voyce which sayde vnto me: loke before the, and considre the thyng that thou seyst. Then I saw/and beholde, as it were a lyon that roareth/rennynge hastely out of the wod, and he sent out a mās voyce vnto the Aegle/and sayde: Heare thou, I wyll talke wyth thee, and ỹ hyest shall say vnto thee: Is it not thou that hast the victory of the foure bestes, whome I made to rayne vpon earth & in my worlde, and that the end of their tymes myght com/ thorowe them?

And the fourth came, and ouerwan all the Beastes that were paste, and had power ouer the worlde, wyth great fearfulnes, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth wyth the most wycked laboure, and so lounge Tyme dwelte he vpon ỹ earth wt disceate, & the erth hast thou iudged not wyth trueth. For thou hast troubled the meke/ỹ hast hurt ỹ peccable & quiet, ỹ hast loued lyers, ād destroyed the dwellinges of thē ỹ brought fourth frute, and hast cast downe ỹ walles of such as dyd no harme. Therfore is thy wrongeos dealinge & blasphemy com vp vnto ỹ hyest, & thy pride vnto ỹ myghtye. The hyest also loked vpon ỹ proude times, and behold, they ar ended and theyr abhominations ar fulfylled

And

And therfore appeare no more thou Aegle/and thy horrible winges,& thy wicked fethers,and thy vngracyous heades/and thy synful clawes/and all thy vayne body:that the earth maye be refreshed and come agayne to her self wh an ſ e is delyuered frō thy violence, ād that ſhe maye hope for the iudgmente & mercy of him that made her.

The.xii.Chapter.

AND it happened when ỹ I on ſpake theſe words vnto the Aegle, I ſawe/and beholde, the heade that afore had the vpperhand, appeared nomore:nether dyd the foure wynges appeare anye more,that came to hi & were ſet vp to raygne:and their kyngdome was ſmal and ful of vproure: And I ſawe,and beholde,they appered no more,and the whole body of the Aegle was brent,and the earth was in greate feare. Then awaked I oute of the traunce of my mynde, and from greate feare,and ſayde vnto my ſprete: Lo/ this haſt thou geuen me,in that thou ſearcheſt out the waies of the hieſt:lo,yet am I wery in mynde,and verye weake in my ſprete,and lytle ſtrength ys there in me,for the greate feare that I receaued this nyght. Therfore wyll I nowe beſeche the Hyeſt/that he wyl comforte me vnto the ende: and I ſayde, Lorde Lorde/ yf I haue founde grace before thy ſyght,and yf I am iuſtifyed wyth ỹ before many other,and yf my prayer be come vp before thy face,comfort me thē and ſhewme thy ſeruaunt the interpretacion and playne difference of this horrible ſyght,that thou mayſte perfectly comforte my ſoule: For thou haſte iudged me worthy ,to ſhewe me the laſt of tymes.

And he ſaid vnto me:this is the interpretacion of thys ſight. The Aegle
B whom thou ſaweſt,com vp from the ſee is the kingdō which was ſene in the viſion of thy brother Daniell,but yt was not expoūded vnto hi,for now I declar it vnto the. Behold,ỹ daies com,ỹ ther ſhal riſe vp a kigdō vpon earthe and it ſhalbe feared aboue al kigdōes ỹ were before it. In ỹ ſame kingdō ſhal xii. Kin ges raygne,one after another. For the ſeconde ſhal begin to raigne, and ſhall haue more tyme then the other,and this do the.xii.wynges ſignifie whyche thou ſaweſt as for the voice ỹ ſpake & ỹ thou ſaweſt go out frōm the heades but not from the Bodye,it betokenethe,that after t he tyme of that kingdom ther ſhal aryſe greate ſtraungers,& it ſhal ſtand in parel of fallig:neuertheles it ſhal not yet fal,but ſhalbe ſet into his begynnig. And the eyght vnderwynges whiche ỹ ſaweſt hange vnto the wynges of hym, betoken,that in him there ſhall rayſe eyght kinges whoſe time ſhalbe but ſmal, and their yeares ſwyft,and two of thē ſhal beare. But when the myddeſt tyme commeth,there ſhalbe foure kept in the time,when the tyme begynneth to come ỹ it maye be ended,but two ſhalbe kept vnto the ende.

And where as thou ſaweſt the heades reſting,this is the interpretacyon: C In hys laſt ſhal the Hyeſt rayſe vp thre kyngdomes,and call many agayne into them,& they ſhal haue the dompnion of the earth,and of thoſe that dwel theri, withe muche labour aboue all thoſe, that were before them. Therfore are they called the heades of the Aegle: for it is they that ſhall bringe for the hys wyckednes agayne,and that ſhall perfourme and fynyſh hys laſt. And where asthou ſaweſt that the greate head appearednomore,it ſignifyeth,that one of them ſhall dye vpon hys bedde,and yet wyth payne, for the twoo that remayne ſhalbe ſlayne wyth the ſwerde. For the ſwerde of the one, ſhall devoure the other/ but at the laſte ſhall he fall thorow the ſwerde hym ſelfe.

And where as thou ſaweſt the vnderwynges,vpon the head that is on ỹ eyght ſyde, it ſignifyethe that it is they, whome the hyeſt hath kepte vnto theyr ende:thys is a ſmall kyngdom,and ful of trouble. The Lyon whome thou ſaweſt riſing vp oute of the wod,and roarynge/and ſpeaking vnto the Aegle, & rebuking hym for his vnrighteouſnes/ is the wynde,which the hyeſt hath kept for them and for theyr wickedneſſe vnto the ende:he ſhall reproue them,and rente them aſunder before them.

For

For he shal set them lyuyng before the iudgement, and shal rebuke them: for ỹ residew of my people shal he deliuer wt trouble, those ỹ be preserued ouer mine endes: ād he shal make them ioyful vntyll the commynge of the daye of iudgement, where of I haue spoken vnto the from the beggynnyng. This is the dreame that thou sawest/ and this is the interpretacyon. Thou only hast bene mete to knowe the secretes of the Hyest.

Therfor write al these thynges that thou hast sene in a boke, ād hyde them, and teache them the wise in the people, whose hertes thou knowest e maye cōprehende and kepe these secretes. But wayte thou here thy selfe yet seauen dayes mo, that it maye be shewed the, what soeuer it pleasethe the Hyest to declare vnto thee/ & with that he went his way.

And when al the people per ceaued, ỹ
D the seauen dayes were past, & I not come agayne in to the cytye, they gathered them altogether from the lest vnto the most, & came vnto me, and sayde: what haue we offended thee: and what euell haue we done agaynst thee, that ỹ forsakest vs, and sittest here in this place: For of al people thou onlye art left vs, as a grape of the vyne, and as a candel in a darcke place, and as an hauen and thy ryppe preserue from the tempeste. Haue we not els aduersite ynough, but thou must forsake vs: Were it not better for vs that we had bene brent wt Sion: for we are no better, then they that dyed ther: and they wepte wt loude voyse: Then answered I them, & sayd: Be of good comforte O Israel, and be not heuy thou house of Jacob. for the Hyest hath you in remembraunce, & ỹ myght hath not forgotte you in tētaciō. As for me, I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to praye, because of ỹ mysery of Israel, ỹ I myght seke mercy for ỹ lowe estate of your Sanctuary. And now go youre wai home euerī mā, and after these dayes wyl I come vnto you. So the people went their waye into ỹ citte, lyke as I commaunded them: but I remayned styll in the felde seuen dayes, as the Angell bad me: and I ate onely of the flourcs of the felde/ād had my meate of the herbes in those daies.

The.xiii.Chapter.

AND it happened after the seuen dayes, that I dreamed a dreame by night. And behold there arose a wind frō the sea, that it moued al the stondes therof. And I loked, and beholde, the man was stronge and increased with the cloudes of heauen: and when he turned his contenaunce to considre, al the thynges trembled that were sene vnder him: and when the voice went out of hys mouth, all they brent that harde hym, lyke as the earth when it fealeth ỹ fyre.

After these I sawe, and behold, ther was gathered together a multitude of men out of nombre from the foure wyndes of the heauen, to fyght agaynst the man ỹ came out from the sea. And I loked/ & beholde, he graued him selfe a greate mountayne, and flew vp vpon it. But I wold haue sene ỹ border or place, whereout the hyll was grauen, and I coude not.

I sawe after these/ that al they which came to fyght agaynst him, were sore afrayede, and yet durste they fighte. Neuertheles when he sawe the fearsenes and vyolnce of the people, he neither lyft his vp hand nor held swerd nor any weapen: But onely (As I sawe) he sente out of his mouth as yt had bene a blast of fyre, and out of his lyppes the wynde of the flamme: And out of hys tonge he cast out sparkes and stormes, and they were all myxte together: The blaste of fyre, the wynd of the flammes, and the greate storme, and fell wyth a ruisshe vppon the people, whych was prepared to fyght, and brent them vp euery chone: so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothynge sene, but onely dust and smoke. When I saw this I was afrayde.

Afterward saw I the same man come downe from the mountayne/ and callig vnto him another peacable people: and there came much people vnto hi: some were glad some wer sory, some of them were bounde, so that they were caried & brought forth.

Then was I sycke thorow greate feare, feare, and I awaked, and sayde: ỹ haste shewed thy seruaũt al thy wonders frõ the begynning, and hast coũted me woꝛthy, that thou mightest receaue my pꝛaier: shew me now yet the interpꝛetacyon of this dꝛeame. Foꝛ thus I consydꝛe in my vnderstanding: Wo vnto theym that shalbe lefte in those dayes: & moch moꝛe, wo vnto them that are not left behynde: foꝛ they that were not lefte, were in heuynes.

Now vnderstande I the thynges ỹ are layde vp in the latter dayes, whych shal happen vnto them, ād to those that are not left behinde. Therfoꝛe are they come in to greate perills, and many necessities, lyke as these dꝛeames declare. Yet is it easier, that he which sufferreth hurte, come in these then to passe away as a cloude out of the woꝛlde, and now to se the thynges that shall happē in the law.

Then answered he me, and sayde: The interpꝛetation of the syght that I shew thee/ and I wyll open vnto thee, ỹ thynge that thou haste requested. Foꝛ thou hast spoken of them that are lefte behynde, and thys is the interpꝛetacyō. He that taketh awaye the parel in that tyme hath kepte him selfe. They that be fallen in to harme, are such as haue woꝛkes and fayth vnto the most hiest. Know this therfoꝛe, that they which be left behinde, are moꝛe blessed, then they that be dead. This is the meanyng of ỹ vysion. Where as thou sawest a man commyng vp from the depe of the sea, the same is he whom god the Hyest hath kept a greate season, which by his owne selfe shal delyuer his creature, ād he shal oꝛdꝛe them that are left behind. And where as thou sawest, that oute of his mouth there came a blast of wynde, fyꝛe and stoꝛme, and how that he left vp neither swerde noꝛ weapon, but that the rushinge in of him destroyed the whole multitude, that came to fyghte agaynst him: it signifieth, ỹ the daies come, whā God wyl delyuer them that are vppon earth/ and in a traunce of mynd shal he come vpon thē ỹ dwel in the earth. And one shal vndertake to fyght agaynste another, one cytie agaynste another, one place agaynste another, one People against another, and one realme against another. Where this commeth to passe / then shal the tokens come, that I shewed thee beꝛoꝛe: and then shall my sonne be declared, whom thou sawest clymme vp as a man. And when al the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in theyꝛ owne lawe leaue the battayll that they haue one agaynst another, and an innumerable multitude shalbe gathered together, as they that be wyllyng to come and to ouercome him by fyghting. But he shal stande vpon the toppe of the mounte Sion. Neuertheless Sion shall come, and shalbe shewed, beyng pꝛepared and buylded foꝛ all men / lyke as ỹ sawest the hyl geuen foꝛth without any handes. But my sonne shall rebuke the people that ar come foꝛ their wickednes with the tempest, & foꝛ their cuel imaginacions: & their paines, wherwith they shalbe punished, are lykened vnto ỹ flā: & wout any labour shal he destroy thē, e tuē by ỹ law, which cōpared vnto ỹ fyre.

And where as thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto hi: those are the ten trybes which were caryed away pꝛesoners out of theyꝛ owne lande in the tyme of Oseas the King whome Salmanasar the Kynge of Assiria, toke pꝛesoner, and caryed them ouer the water, and so came they into an other lande. [nota this conceit they had, to go into farther cō & ỹ they myght kepe their statutes

But they gaue theym thys councell, that they shoulde leaue the Multitude/ of the heathen, and to go foꝛthe into a farther countre, where neuer mankind dwelte: that they myght ther kepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land. And so they entred in at the naꝛowe passages, of the Water of Euphrates, and God shewed tokens foꝛ them, and helde styll the floude tyll they were passed ouer: foꝛ throw that countre there was a greate way, namely of a yere and a halfe iourney, foꝛ the same region is called Asareth. Then dwelt they ther vnto the later tyme: and when they come foꝛth agayne, the hiest shall holde styl the spꝛinges of the streame agayn ỹ they may gothrow/ therfoꝛe sawest ỹ the multitude with peace. And they that be lefte behinde of thy people, are those that be found within my boꝛder.

Now

Now when he destroyeth the multytud that is gathered together, he shal defēd his people that remaine, and then shall he shewe them greate wonders.

Then saide I: O Lorde Lorde, shewe me this: wherfore haue I sene the men cōmyng vp frō ỳ depe of the sea? he saide vnto me: Like as thou canst ne ther seke out nor know these thinges ỳ are in the depe of the sea, euen so mayst ỳ not se my sonne, or those that be wyth him, but in the time of the daye. This is the interpretacion of the dreame why che thou sawest, therfore thou only arte here ingathered: for thou haste forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy dylygence vnto myne, and sought it. Thy lyfe hast ỳ ordred in wysdom, & hast called vnderstanding thy mother, and therfore haue I shewed thee the treasure of the ỳ yest. After three daies I wyll shewe the more, and talke with the at more large, yea heuy and wonderous thinges wil I declare vnto thee.

Then went I forth into the felde, geuyng prayse & thanckes greatelye vnto god, because of his wonders whyche he did in time because he gouerneth ỳ sāe & such as is in tyme, and there I sat thre dayes.

¶ God apeareth vnto Eldras in the bush, & sheweth him what he shal do.

¶ The. xiiii. Chapter.

Vpon the thyrd daye I sat vnder an oke tre, then cam there a voice vnto me oute of the bush/ and saide: Eldras, Eldras: And I said: here am I Lord, & stod vp vpon mi fete. Then spake he vnto me: In ỳ bush dyd I appeare vnto Moses, and talked wt him, when my people serued in Egypt, and I sent hym, and led my people oute of Egigte, and brought him vppon the mount Sion, where I hyld him by me a long season, and tolde him my wonderous werkes, and shewed him the secretes of the tymes and the ende and commaunded him, sayinge: These wordes shalt thou declare, ād not hide thē. And now I saide vnto the, that thou laie vp in thine hert the dreames that ỳ hast sene, and ỳ interpretacions whych I haue shewed thee: for thou shalt be receaued of al, thou shalt be turned, and remayne with my councell, and wyth suche as be lyke ỳ, vntil the tymes be ended. For the worlde hath lost hys youth, and the tymes begynne to ware olde. For the yme is diuided into twelue partes, & ten partes of it are gone already, and halfe of the tenth parte: yet remaynethe there that, which is after the halfe of the tenth parte.

Therfore prepare and ordre thy house 15
and reforme thy people: comforte suche of them as be in trouble: and tell nowe of the destruction: let go from thee mortall thoughtes: cast away the burthēs of man: put of the weake nature: lay vp in some places the thoughtes, that are moost heuy vnto thee/ and haste the to flye from these tymes: for such euel and wickednesse as thou haste now sene happen, shall they do yet muche worse. For the weaker that the worlde and the yme is/ the more, shal synne and wickednes increase, in them that dwell vppon earth. For the trueth is fled farre away, and lesinge is hard at hande. For nowe hasteth the vision to com, that thou hast sene.

Then answered I, and sayde: Beholde Lorde, I wyll go as thou halle commaunded me/ and reforme the people whych are present. But they that shall be borne afterwarde, who wyll reforme or rebuke them? Thus the worlde is set in darckenes, and they that dwell therin, are wythout lyght: for thy lawe is kyndled, because no man knoweth the thynges that are donne of thee, or that shalbe donne. If I haue founde grace before thee, sende the holygoest into me, & I shall write, all that hath bene donne in the worlde sence the beginninge, wych was written in thy lawe, that men may fynde the path, and that they which wyl lyue in the latter dayes, maye lyue.

And he answered me, saiynge: Goo thy waye, gather thy people to gether, C and saye vnto them, that they seke thee not for. xl. dayes, but looke thou gather the many bore trees, and take wyth the Sarea, Dabria, & elemia, Echanus & Asiel, these fyue, which are redy to write swiftly swyftly and come hicher, and I shal lyght a candle of vnderstadyng in thyne herte which shal not be put out/tyl the thinges be reformed/ which thou shalt begyn to wryte. And then shalt ÿ declare some thinges openly vnto the perfect and som thynges shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wyse. To morow this houre shalt thou begynne to wryte.

Then went I forth (as he commaũded me) ād gathered al the people together, and sayde: Heare these words O Israel: Our fathers from the begynnynge were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were delyuered, and receaued thee lawe of lyfe, whiche they kepte not, why ch ye also haue transgressed after them. Then was thys lande and the laude of Siõ parted amõg you bi lot to possesse. But your fathers and ye your selues al so haue don vntightuousnes, and haue not kepte the wayes whych the Hyest commaunded you. And for so moch as he is a ryghtuous iudge, he toke from you in tyme the thynge ÿ he had geuen you. And now are ye here, and youre brethren amonge you. Therfore, yf so be that ye wyl subdue, your owne vnderstandynge, and reformme youre herte, ye shall be kepte alyue, and after death shall ye opteyne mercy. For after death shall the iudgment come, when we shal lyue agayne: and then shall the names of the ryghtuous be manifest, and the names of the vngodly with their workes shal be declared. Lett no man therfore come now vnto me, nor aske eny question at me these .xl. dayes.

D So I toke the fyue men (as he commaunded me) and we went into the feld, and remayned there. The nexte daye, a voise called me/ saying: Esdras, opē thy mouthe, and drincke that I geue thee. Then opened I my mouth, and behold he reached me a ful cuppe, which was ful of water, but ÿ colour of it was like fier. And I toke it and dronke And when I had/ droncken it, my harte had vnderstādyng and wysdome grewe in my brest: for my spryte was kept in remembraūce, and my mouth was opened and shut nomore, The Hyest gaue vnderstāding vnto the fyue men ÿ/ they wrote ÿ hy thinges of ÿnight, which thei vnderstod not But in the nyghte they ate breed: as forme/ I spake in the daye, and helde not my tonge by night. In xl. dayes they wrote two hondreth and iiii. bokes.

And it happened when the .xl. daies were fulfilled, that the Hyest spake, saiynge: The fyrst that thou hast wrytten, speake openly, that the worthy and vnworthy maye reade it. But kepe the .lxx. last, ÿ ÿ mayest shew it only to such as be wyse among the people. For in them is the sprynge of vnderstanding/ ÿ fountayne of wysdom/ and the streame of knowledge. And I dyd so.

¶ The punishment that euel people shal haue, which god commaundeth Esdras to shew vnto them.

The .xv Chapter.

BEholde, speake thou in the eares of my people ÿ wordes of prophecy, whyche I wyl put in thy mouth, sayeth the lorde: and cause thē to be written in a letter/ for it is the true eth. Feare not the ymmagynacions agaynste thee, lett not the vnfaythfulnesse of theym trouble thee, that speake agaynste thee. A

For all the vnfaythfull shal dye in their vnfaythfulos. Beholde sayth the Lord/ I wyll bringe plages vpon the worlde, the swerde/ honger, death and destruction, for wickednes hath the vpperhand in all the earth, & theyr shamful workes are fulfylled.

Therfore sayeth the Lorde: I wyll holde my tonge nomore vnto theyr wickednes, which they do so vngodly: neyther wyll I suffre them in the thinges that they deale wyth all so wyckedly. Beholde, the Innocente Bloude of the troubled crieth vnto me, & ÿ soules of ÿ Righteous complayne Continuallye/ and therfore (sayeth the LORDE) I wyll surely aduenge and receaue vnto me all the innocente bloude from amonge them.

Beholde, my people, is led as a flocke of shepe to be slayne, I wyll not suffre theym nowe to dwel in Egipte, but wyll bringe them out with a mygti hande and a stretched out arme, and smite it wyth plages as afore, ād wyll destroy all the lande of it. Egipte shal mourne, and the foundacions of it shalbe smittē wyth the plage and punischemente, that God shal bring vpon it.

They that tyl the ground, shal mourne: for their sedes shal be destroied thorow ỹ blastyng ād hayle, and horryble starre Woo worth the world & them that dwel therin, for ỹ swerd & their destrucciō draweth nye, and one people shal stande vp to fyght agaynst another, and swerdes in their handes. For man shalbe vnsted fast, and some shall do vyolence vnto other: they shal not regarde their kynge and princes, the waies of their doinges and handelinges in their power. A man shal desier to go in to the cittie, and shal not be able. For because of ther pryde ỹ cytes shalbe brent in feare/the houses shal shake, and men shalbe afrayed. A mā shal haue no pyty vpon his neibour but one shal prouoke another vnto bat tayl to spoyle their goodes because of ỹ honger of bred, and because of ỹ great trouble.

¶ Beholde, I gather and cal together all the kynges of the earth which are from the vprysyng, from the South, from ỹ East, and Lybanus to turne vnto thē, and restore the thinges that they haue geuen them. Lyke as they do yet this daie vnto my chosen, so wyl I do also, and recompēse them in their bosom. Thus sayeth the Lorde God My ryght hand shal not spare the synners, & my swerde shal not ceasse ouer them, that shed the innocent blode vpon earth. The feare is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundacions of the earthe, & the synnes lyke the strawe that is kyndled. Woo worth them that synne/& kepe not my commaundementes/sayth the Lorde: I wyl not spare them. Goo youre waye ye children from vyolence defyled not my Sāctuary: for the Lord knoweth al them that synne agaynst hi, and therfore delyuereth he them vnto death and destruccyon: For now are the plages come vpon the worlde, and yee shal remayn in them. For God shal not delyuer you, because ye haue synned agaynst him.

Beholde, an horrible vysion commeth from the East, where generatiōs for Dragons shal come out, and the people of ỹ Arabes with many charettes/and the multitude of them shalbe as the wynde vpon earth, that all they whych heare thē raging in their wrath, may feare & be afrayede: and as the wylde bores of the wod, so shal they go out and with greate power shall they come, and stande fyghtinge wyth them, and shall waste the porcyon of the lande of the Assyrians.

And then shall the Dragons haue the vpperhande, not remembrynge their byrthe, and shal turne about swerynge together in greate power, to persecute them. But these shalbe afraied, and kepe sylence at their power, and shal flee and one out of the lande of the Assiryans shal besege them, and consume one of them, and in their host shall be feare and dreade, and stryfe amounge theyre kynges.

Beholde cloudes from the east, and from the north vnto the south, and they are very horrybe to loke vppon, full of wrath and storm. They shall smyte one vppon an other, and they shall smyte at the great starre vpon earth and their starre, and the bloude shall be from the swerde vnto the bely/ and the smoke of mā vnto the camels lytter: And ther shal be great fearfulnes and trembling vpō earth/and they that se the wrath, shalbe afrayde, and a tremblynge shall come vpon them.

And then shall there come great rayne from the south and from the north, and parte from the weste, and from the stormy wynde from the Easte, and shall shut theym vp agayne, and the cloude whych he rayseth vpp in wrath, and the starre to cause fere toward ỹ east & west wynde shalbe destroyed: and the greate cloudes shall be lyfte vp, and the myghtie cloudes ful of wrath and the starre, that they may make all the earth afrayed and them that dwel therin and that they maye poure oute ouer all places an horryble Starre fyre and hayle and flyeng swerdes, ād many waters, that all feldes maye be full, and all ryuers and they shall breke downe the cities and walles mountaynes and hylles all trees wod and the grasse of the medowes & al their frutes. And they shall

stedfast vnto Babilon, and make her a fraylde, they shal come to her and besege her: the sterre of all wrath shal they poure oute vppon her.

Then shal the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heuen, and al they that be aboute her shall bewayle her: and they that remayne vnder her, shal do seruice vnto the that haue put her in fere. And thou Asia that comfortest thy selfe also vppon the hope of Babylon, and art a worshyp of her personne: woo be vnto thee thou wrath, because thou hast made thy selfe lyke vnto her, & hast dect thy daughters in whordom, ỹ they myghte tryumphe and please thy louers, whych haue alwaye desired to commyt whordome wyth thee: thou hast folowed the abhomynable cytie in al her worckes & inuencyons.

Therfore sayeth god: I wyl sende plages vpon the, wyddowhode, pouerte, honger, warres/ & pestilence, to wast thy houses with destruccion and death: and the glory of thy power shall be dryed vp as a floure, when the heate aryseth that is sent ouer thee. Thou shalt be syck as a poore wife that is plaged and beaten of wemen: so that the myghtye and louer shall not be able to receaue thee. Wolde I so hate thee sayeth the Lorde: If thou haddest not alwaye slayne my chosen, exaltyng the stroke of thy handes, and sayd ouer their death/ when thou wast drocken: set forth the bewty of thy countenaunce.

The swarde of thy wordome shalbe recompenced the in thy bosom, therfore shalt thou receaue *rewarde.

*Or recompence.

Lyke as thou hast done vnto my chosen (sayeth the Lord) euen so shal God do vnto thee, and shal deliuer thee into the plage. Thy children shal dye of honger, and thou shalt fal thorow ỹ swerd. Thy cities shalbe broken downe/ and al thyne shal perish with the swerd in the felde. They ỹ be in the mountaines shal dye of honger and eate their owne flesh and drynke their owne bloud for very honger of bred & thirst of water. Thou vnhappye shalt com thrown the sea, and receaue plages agayne.

In the passage they shal cast downe the slaine citie/ and shal rote out the part of the lande, and consume the porcion of thy glory. They shall treade the doune lyke stubble, & they shalbe thy fire, & shal consume thee, thy cities & thy lande, thy wod, and thy frutefull trees/ shall they burne vp wyth fyre. Thy children shall they carye awaye captiue, and looke what thou halte, they shall spoyle it, & marre the bewty of thy face.

¶ The heathen shalbe punished,

The.xvi. Chapter.

A

WOo be vnto thee Babylon and Asia, wo be vnto thee Egypt and Syria: gyrde your selues wyth Clothes of sacke & hearre, & mourne for your chylderen, be sory/ for your destruction is at hande. A swerd is set among you and who wyll turne it backe? A fyre is kindled amonge you, and who wyll quenche it? Plages are sent vnto you, and what is he that wyl dryue the awaye? Waye any manne dryue awaye, an hongry lyon in the wode? Or may any man quench the fyre in ỹ stubble, whã it hath begonne to burne? Waye one turne agayne the arow that is shot of a stronge archer? The myghty Lorde sendeth the plages/ ãd what is he that wyl dryue them awaye? The fyre is kindled/ & gon forth in his wrath and what is he that wyl quench it? He shall cast lyghtninges, & who shal not feare? He shall thondre and who shall not be afrayd? The Lord shal threate, & who shal not vtterli be bete to pouder at his presence, ỹ earthquaketh & ỹ foũdacions therof: the sea ariseth vp with waues from the depe, and the floudes of it ar vnquiet, and the fyshes therof al lobe fore the Lorde, and before the glory of hys power. For stronge is his right hand that holdeth the bowe, hys arowes that he shuteth, are sharpe, & shall not mysse, when they begyn to be shott into the endes, of the worlde.

B

Beholde the plages are sent, and shal not turne agayne, tyll they come vpon earth. The fyre is kyndled, and shall not be put oute/ tyl it consume the fondacions of the earth. Like as an arow whiche is shot of a myghtye archer, returneth not backewarde: euen so the plages that shallbe sent vpon earthe/

shal not turne agayne. Woo is me, woo is me, who wyl deliuer me in those daies? The begynnyng of sorowes and great mourning: the beginnyng of dearth and great dearth: the beginning of warres, and the powers shal stande in feare: ỹ beginnynge of euels, and they shall trẽble euery one. What shall I do in these thinges, when ỹ plages come? Behold, honger/and plage/trouble and ãguish are sent/as scourges for amendement. But for al these thinges they shall not turne from their wickednesses, nether be al waye myndeful of the scourges.

Beholde, vyteyles shal be so good cheape vpon earth/that they shal thinck themselues to be in good case: & euẽ thẽ shal myschefe grow vpõ earth/warres/ derth and greate disquietnes. For mãy of them that dwel vpon earth shal perish of honger, and the other that escape the daũger, shal the swerde destroye: and ỹ deed shalbe cast out as donge, and there shalbe no man to cõfote theym. For the erth shalbe wasted, & ỹ cytyes shalbe cast downe: ther shalbe no man lefte to tyll ỹ earth, and to sowe it. The trees shal geue frute, and who shal plucke them or gather them? The grapes shalbe rype, & who shal treade them? For all places shalbe desolate of man, so that no man shal desire to se another, or to heare hys voyse. For of one hole citie there shalbe ten left, and two in the felde, which shal hyde them selues in the thycke boushes and in the clyfes of stones: lyke as whẽ there remayned thre or foure olyues vpon the olyue tre, or as when a vynyard is gathered, there are left some grapes, of them that diligently sought thorow ỹ vyniarde:

Euen so in those days there shalbe thre or foure left, for them that search their houses with the swerde. And the earthe shal be left waste, and thre feldes therof shal ware olde: ād her wayes and al her pathes shal grow ful of thornes, because no man shall trauayle there thorowe The daughters shal mourne, hauig no brydegromes: the wemen shall make lamentacyon, hauing no housbādes, ther daughters shal mourne hauyng no helpe of their bridegroome. In thee warres shal they be destroyed, and their husbandes shal perish of hunger.

Ye seruauntes of the Lorde, heare these thynges, and marck them: behold the worde of the Lorde, & receaue it: beholde, the plages drawnye and are not slacke in tarienge. Lyke as a trauaylyng womã, which after the .ix. moneth bryngeth forth a sonne, wyen the houre of the byrthe is come, an houre two or thre afore that the paynes come vpon her body, and when the chylde cõmeth to the byrth, they tary not the twynckelynge of an eye: Euen so shall not the plages be slack to come vpõ earth, and the world shal mourne, and sorowes shal com vpon it on euery side.

O my people, heare my worde, make you ready to the batayle: and in al euell be ye euen as pilgrems vpon earth. He that selleth, let him be as he that flyeth his waye: and he that bieth, as one that wyl lese. And he so occupieth marchaundies, as he that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shal not dwel therin: he that soweth as one that shal not reape: he that twysteth the vyne yeard, as he that shal not gather the grapes: they that mary, as they that shall get no children: And they that marye not, as the wyddowes: and they that labcure, labboure in vayne. For straungers shal repe their frutes, and spoyl their goodes, ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiue, and in captiuytie and honger shal they get children.

And they that occuppye theyr marchaundice/wyth robbery/howe lounge decke they theyr cities, theyr houses, theyr possessions, and persounes: the more wyll I punish them for theyr synnes, sayeth the Lorde. Lyke as an whore enuieth ā honest womā, so shal ryghtousnes hate iniquitie, & when she decketh her selfe, & shall accuse her to her face, when he commeth that defēdeth, which shal make inquisicion for all synne vpon earth. And therfore be not ye lyke therunto, nor to the workes therof: for or euer it be lōg, iniquitye shall be taken away oute of ỹ earth, and ryghtuousnes shall rayne among you.

Let not the synner saye, that he hath not synned, for coles of fyre shall burne vpon hys head, whych sayth before the Lord

Lorde god and his glorye: I haue not synned. Beholde, the Lord knoweth all the worckes of men/ their ymaginacyons, their thoughtes and their hertes. For he spake but the worde: let ỹ earth be made, and it was made: let the heauē be made and it was made. In his worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the nombre of them. He searcheth ỹ grounde of the depe, and the treasures therof: he hath measured the sea, & what it conteyneth. He hath shut the sea i the middeist of the waters, ād with his worde hath he hanged the earth vppon the waters. He spredeth out the heauē lyke a vawte, vpon the waters hath he founded it. In the desert and drye wildernes hath he made springes of water, ād poles vpon the toppe of the mountaynes, that the floudes myghte poure downe from the stony rockes to water the earth. He made man, and put hys herte in the myddest of the body, and gaue hym breth, lyfe and vnderstandinge/ yea ād the spirite of the Almightie god, whych made al thinges, and hath searched the grounde of al the secretes of the earth.

¶ He knoweth your imagynacons & inuencyons, and what ye thincke when ye synne/ and wolde hyde your synnes. Therfore hath the Lord serched and sought out al youre worckes, and he shal bewraye you all. And when youre synnes are brought forthe/ ye shalbe ashamed before men, and your owne synnes shalbe youre accusers in that daye: Whatwyl ye do? Or how wyll ye hyde your synnes before God and hys Angels? Beholde God him selfe is the Iudge, feare him, leaue of from youre Synnes and forgette youre Unrighteousnesses, and medle nomore with thē: so shal god leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble. For behold ỹ heate of a greate multitude is kyndled ouer you, & they shal take awaye certen of you/ & feade ỹ idle wt Idols: ād they that consent vnto them shalbe had in derysiō, and laughed to scorne, and trodē vnder fote.

For vnto ỹ places ther shalbe apla
P ce, and in the nexte cyties a greate isurrection vpon those that feare the lorde. They shall be lyke mad men, they shall spare no man: they shal spoyl and wast suche as feare the Lorde, theyr goodes shall they take from theym, and shutte them out of theyr houses. Then shal it be knowen who are my chosen, ād they shalbe tryed as the gold in the fyre. Heare O ye my beloued, sayeth the Lorde: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hād, but I wyl delyuer you from the same. Be not ye afrayde, dispayre not, for god is youre captayne.

Who so kepeth my commaundemētes and preceptes (sayth the Lord god) let not your synnes weye you downe/ & let not your vnrightuousnesses be lifte vp. Woo be vnto them that are subdued vnto theyr sinnes, and tangled in their wickednesses: Lyke as a feld is hedged in with bushes, and the path therof couered wyth thornes, that no man maye trauell thorow: and so is he taken, and cast in the fyre, and brent.

The ende of the .iiii. boke of Esdras.

¶ The boke of Tobiah.

¶ Tobiah being taken prysoner, forsaketh not ỹ lawe of truth. The mercy and charitie of Tobiah, and the maners of him in his youth. He taketh Hānath to wyfe, by whom he hath a sonne named Tobiah. He succoureth Gabell for mony. He and hys aze kayne to fly, but after the death of Senaherib they returne agayne.

The fyrst Chapter.

Obiah was of the Tribe and Citie of Nephtaly, which lyeth in the hye cōtres of Galile aboue Naason the waye towarde the weste, hauinge the citie of Sephet vpon the left syde.

Though he was taken prysoner in the dayes of Salmanasar kynge of the Assirians, neuertheles, being in captiuite, he forsoke not the way of truethe. In so muche, that what soeuer he myghte get, he parted it dayly wt his felow prysoners and brethren that were of his

Lorde god and his glorye: I haue not synned. Beholde, the Lord knoweth all the worckes of men/ their ymaginacyons, their thoughtes and their hertes. For he spake but the worde: let ỹ earth be made, and it was made: let the heauē be made and it was made. In his worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the nombre of them. He searcheth ỹ grounde of the depe, and the treasures therof: he hath measured the sea, & what it conteyneth. He hath shut the sea i the middeist of the waters, ād with his worde hath he hanged the earth vppon the waters. He spredeth out the heauē lyke a vawte, vpon the waters hath he founded it. In the desert and drye wildernes hath he made springes of water, ād poles vpon the toppe of the mountaynes, that the floudes myghte poure downe from the stony rockes to water the earth. He made man, and put hys herte in the myddest of the body, and gaue hym breth, lyfe and vnderstandinge/ yea ād the spirite of the Almightie god, whych made al thinges, and hath searched the grounde of al the secretes of the earth.

¶ He knoweth your imagynacons & inuencyons, and what ye thincke when ye synne/ and wolde hyde your synnes. Therfore hath the Lord serched and sought out al youre worckes, and he shal bewraye you all. And when youre synnes are brought forthe/ ye shalbe ashamed before men, and your owne synnes shalbe youre accusers in that daye: Whatwyl ye do? Or how wyll ye hyde your synnes before God and hys Angels? Beholde God him selfe is the Iudge, feare him, leaue of from youre Synnes and forgette youre Unrighteousnesses, and medle nomore with thē: so shal god leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble. For behold ỹ heate of a greate multitude is kyndled ouer you, & they shal take awaye certen of you/ & feade ỹ idle wt Idols: ād they that consent vnto them shalbe had in derysiō, and laughed to scorne, and trodē vnder fote.

For vnto ỹ places ther shalbe apla
P ce, and in the nexte cyties a greate isurrection vpon those that feare the lorde. They shall be lyke mad men, they shall spare no man: they shal spoyl and wast suche as feare the Lorde, theyr goodes shall they take from theym, and shutte them out of theyr houses. Then shal it be knowen who are my chosen, ād they shalbe tryed as the gold in the fyre. Heare O ye my beloued, sayeth the Lorde: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hād, but I wyl delyuer you from the same. Be not ye afrayde, dispayre not, for god is youre captayne.

Who so kepeth my commaundemētes and preceptes (sayth the Lord god) let not your synnes weye you downe/ & let not your vnrightuousnesses be lifte vp. Woo be vnto them that are subdued vnto theyr sinnes, and tangled in their wickednesses: Lyke as a feld is hedged in with bushes, and the path therof couered wyth thornes, that no man maye trauell thorow: and so is he taken, and cast in the fyre, and brent.

The ende of the .iiii. boke of Esdras.

¶ The boke of Tobiah.

¶ Tobiah being taken prysoner, forsaketh not ỹ lawe of truth. The mercy and charitie of Tobiah, and the maners of him in his youth. He taketh Hānath to wyfe, by whom he hath a sonne named Tobiah. He succoureth Gabell for mony. He and hys aze kayne to fly, but after the death of Senaherib they returne agayne.

The fyrst Chapter.

Obiah was of the Tribe and Citie of Nephtaly, which lyeth in the hye cōtres of Galile aboue Naason the waye towarde the weste, hauinge the citie of Sephet vpon the left syde.

Though he was taken prysoner in the dayes of Salmanasar kynge of the Assirians, neuertheles, being in captiuite, he forsoke not the way of truethe. In so muche, that what soeuer he myghte get, he parted it dayly wt his felow prysoners and brethren that were of his kinred. And though he were yonger then al in the tribe of Nephtaly, yet dyd not he behaue hym selfe chyldelhlye in hys worckes. And whē al the other wente to the golden calues, whiche Jeroboham the kynge of Jsrael had made, he hym selfe alone fled of their companies/and gat him to Jerusalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there worshipped the Lorde God of Jsrael, kaythfully offe ryng of al hys first frutes and tribes, so that in the thirde yeare he mynystred al the tythes vnto the straungers and con uertes. These and soch like thiges dyd he accordyng to the lawe of God whē he was but ponge.

¶ But when he was aman, he toke out of his owne tribe a wyfe called Anna, & of her he begat a sonne, whome he called after his owne name/& taught hym frō his youthe vp, to feare God/and to re frayne from al sinne.

Now when he with his wyfe, his sonne and w al his kynred was come in captt uite vnto Nynyue what tyme as they al ate of the meates of the Heathen, he kep his soule, and was neuer defyled in ther meates. And for so moch as he was mī deful of the lord in al his hart, God ga ue him fauor in the presence of Salma nasar the kyng which gaue him powere to go where he wolde, and so had he ly berte to do what he lyst.

So wente Tobiah vnto all thē that were in prison/and comforted them/& D gaue them wholsome exortacyons. And whē he came to rages a cytie of the Me des, hauing ten talentes of syluer (of the thinges wherwith the kynge had hono red him) and sawe amonge a greate cō pany of people of his kinred, one Gabe lus (which was of his owne trybe) beig in necessite, he gaue him the said weight of syluer vnder hand wrytyng.

After a longe season when Salma nasar the kyng was deed, and Senna herib hys sonne reygnede in his steade, whiche hated the childrē of Jsrael. To biah went dayly thorow out al hys kyn red, and comforted them ād gaue of hys goodes to euery one of them, as moche as he myght: he fed the hongrie, clothed the naked, and buried the deed & slain, and that dylygently.

And when Sennaherib the kynge ca me agayn and fled out of Jewrye (what tyme as God punyshed him for his blas phemy) and in hys wrath slewe manye of the chylderen of Jsraell, Tobiah bu ryed theyr bodies. But when it was tol de the kynge, he commaunded to slay hī and toke away all his goodes. Neuer theles Tobyah with hys Sonnes and with his wyfe, fled hys waye, and was hyd naked, for there were many that lo ued hym. But after .xlv. dayes, the kig was slayne of hys owne sunnes. Thē ca me Tobyah againe to his house, and al his goodes restored vnto hym.

¶ Tobiah biddeth such of his frendes as feare god, to a banket or feast. He is reproued of hys frendes. He feareth god more then the king. He becommeth blynde by the permission and suffezañce of God. His kinfolke mocke hym.

The .ii. Chapter.

After these thynges vpon a solempne daye, of the Lorde Tobiah made a good feast A in hys House, and sayde vnto his sonne: Go thy way and bryng hether som of our trybe such as feare god, that they maye make me rye w vs. And when he was gon, he ca me agayne, and tolde hys father that o ne of the chylderen of Jsraell laye slain vpon the strete. And immedtatly he lept from his table, left the feaste, came fas ting to the ded corse, toke him and bare hym preuely into hys house that when the sunne was downe, he myght safely bury hym. And when he had hyd the cor se, he ate his meate wyth mournynge & feare, remembring the woordes that ỹ Lord sayth by the prophet Amos: your hye feastes shalbe turned to sorowe and heuynes.

But when the sunne was downe he B wente hys waye and buried him. Then all hys neyghbours, reproued hym, say ynge, It is not longe sens it was com maunded to slay the because of thys ma ter and hast scarce escaped the daunger of death, ād buriest thou the ded agai Neuereheles Tobiah fearing god more then the kynge, toke the Bodies of the slayne, hyd them in his house and buri ed them at mydnight.

It happened vpon a daye/ỹ he had buryed the ded and was wery, came ho me/ & layde him downe bi ꝑ wala slept. And while he was a slepe, there fel down ꝑon hys eyes warme dong oute of ꝑ swalowes nest, so that he was blynde.

me

Thys temptacyon dyd God suffer to happen vnto hym, that they which came after, might haue an example of his pacience, like as of holy Job. For in so muche as he euer feared god from hys youth vp, and kepte hys commaundementes, he was not heuy agyanst god, that the plage of blindnes chanced vnto him, but remayned stedfast in the feare of God, and thanked god al the daies of his lyfe.

For like as blessed Job was had derysion of kinges, euen so was he laughed to scorne of his elders ād kinsfolkes, whych sayde vnto hym: Where is thy hope for the which thou hast don almes and buried the dead? But Tobiah rebuked them, and spake: sai not so, for we are the children of holye men/ & loke for the lyfe, which God shall geue vnto them, that neuer turne their lyfe frō hi. Anna his wyfe went daylye to the weeuynge worcke/ and loke what lyuynge she coulde get wyth the labour of her handes/ she brought it. And it happened that she toke a kyd and brought it home.

And when her husband herde it crie he sayde: Loke that it be not stolne, restore it agayne to the owners: for yt ys not lawful for vs, to eate or to touch auy thynge of theft. Then was his wife angry, and sayde: Now is thy hope become vaine opēly, and thy almes dedes are manyfest. With these and such like wordes dyd she cast him in the tethe.

D

¶ The ꝓtaier of Tobiah. Sara the daghter of Raguel is sclaundred of her fathers seruaunt. The ꝓtayer & fasting of Sara: And also the innocencye & chastite of her. The ꝓtaiers of Tobiah & Sara as herde.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

A Then Tobiah toke it heuely and with teares begann to make his ꝓtaier sayeng: O Lorde thou art rightuous, and al thy iudgmentes are treue, yea al thy wayes are mercy, faithfulnes & iudgment. And now O lord be mindful of me/ and take no vengaunce of my sinnes, nether remembre my mysdedes, nether the misdedes of my elders. For we haue not bene obedīt vnto thy commandementes/ therfore are we spoyled, brought in captiuite/ into death/ into derysion and shame vnto al nacyons, amōg whom ꝑ hast scatered vs. And now O Lord thy iudgmentes ar greate, for we haue done accordynge to thy commaundementes, nether haue we walcked innocētly before the. And now O Lorde, deale wyth me accordynge to thy wyl, & commaūd my spyrete to be receaued in peace, for more expedyente were it for me to dye/ then to lyue.

At the same tyme it happened ꝑ Sara the Daughter of Raguell at Rages a citye of the medes was sclaundred of one of her fathers maydes, namely, that she shulde haue had seuen housbādes/ which as soneas they were gone in vnto her, were slayne of the deuel called Asmodeus. Therfore when she reproued the mayden for her faute, she answered her, sayeng: God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of ꝑ more vpon erth/ thou kyller of thy husbands. Wylt thou slaye me also as thou hast slayne seuen mē? At thys voyce went Sara into an hye chamber of her house, and three dayes and three nightes she nether ate, ner drāke, but continued in prayer, & besought God wyth teares, that he wold delyuer her from thys rebuke.

B

Upon the thyrde daye it chaunced, that when she had made an ende of her prayer, she prayed the Lorde sayeng: Blessed be thy name o God of oure fathers, which when thou art wroth, shewest mercy, and in the tyme of trouble thou forgeuest the synnes of them, that call vpon the. Unto the O Lord turne I my face, vnto the lyft I vp myne eyes. I beseche the O Lord, lowse me out of the bounds of this rebuke, or els take me vtterly awaye from of the earth. Thou knowest Lord, that I neuer had delyte vnto man, and that I haue kepte my soule cleane from all vnclenly lust. I haue not kepte compayny with those that paste their tyme in sporte, nether haue I made my selfe partaker wyth them that walcke in lyghte behauoure. Neuertheles an housband haue I consented to take/ not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.

C

Now

Now peraduenture ether I haue be ne vnworthy of hem, or els were they vnmete for me, for thou happlye haste kepte me to an other housband. For why ether thy councel is not in ỹ power of man. But whosoeuer loueth the and serueth the a right, is sure, that yf his lyfe be tempted and proued, it standeth in the tryeng: and yf he endure in pacience, he shall haue a reward and be hyghly crowned: & if he be in trouble, that God (no doubte) shall delyuer hym: and if his lyfe be in chaltenig, that he shall haue leaue to comme vnto thy mercye.

For thou hast no pleasure in our dãnacion: and whyle after a storme thou makest the wether fayer and styll: after weping and heupnes thou geuest great toye. Thy name, O God of Israel/ be praysed for euer. At the same tyme were both theyr prayers hearde in the syght of the magesty of the hyest God. And raphael the holy aungel of the Lord was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers came together before God.

¶ Tobiah thincking to dye geueth a godly exhortacion & monicion to hys sonne:

¶ The.iiii.Chapter.

AND when Tobiah thought his prayer to be herde, that he might die/ he called vnto him hys sonne Tobiah, and sayde vnto him: My sonne, heare the wordes of my mouth/ and laye them in thine hert as a foundacyon. When God taketh awaie my soule, burye thou my bodye, and holde thy mother in honoure all the dayes of her lyfe. For thou oughtest to remembre/ what and how grete parels she suffred for the in her wombe. And whẽ she also hath fulfylled the time of her lyfe, bury her beside me. Haue God in thy thought all the daies of thy life, and bewarre, lest at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slippe the commaundementes of the lord oure god.

Geue almes of thy goodes, ād turne B neuer thy face from the poore: & so shall it come to passe, that the face of ỹ Lord shal not be turned a waye from the. Be mercyful after thy power. If thou hast much, geue plẽteously, if ỹ haste litel, do thi diligẽce gladly to geue of that lytle, for so gatherest thou thy selfe a goodre warde in the daye of necessytie. For all mes deliuereth * from death/ & suffreth not the soule to come in darcknes. A greate comforte is allmes before the hie God/ vnto all them that do it.

My sonne, kepe the well from all whordom, and (besyde thy wyfe) se that C no falte be knowẽ of ỹ. Let neuer pride haue rule in thy mynde ner in ỹ world, for in pride begaime al destruccyon.

Whosoeuer worcketh eny thing for the, immediatly gyue him his hyre, and loke that thy hyred seruants wages remayn not by the ouer nyght. Loke that thou nether do vnto another man, thee thinge that thou woldest not another man sholde do vnto the. Eate thy bred with the hongrye and poore, and couer the naked with thy clothes. Set thy brede and wyne vpon the buryal of ỹ righ tuous, and do not thou eate and drinke therof with the synners. Aske euer counsell at the wyse.

Be alwaye thanckful vnto God, and be D seche him/ that he wyll ordre thy wayes, & ỹ whatsoeuer thou denysest or takest in hande/ it may remayne in him. I certify the also my sonne, ỹ (when thou wast yet but a babe) I deliuered ten talentes of syluer vnto Gabelus, at Rages a cytie of the Medes, and his hand wrytyng haue I by me. And therfore seake som meannes, how thou mayest com bi him, and receaue of him the sayd weight of syluer, and geue hym hys hand wrytynge agayne.

My sonne/ be not afrayed: trueth it is, we leade here a poore lyfe: but great good shal we haue, yf we feare God, ād departe from al synne, and do well.

The Notes.

Some rede from all synne & from deth.

¶ The obedience of young Tobiah to hys father, which is sent into Rages. An Aungel accompanieth with him in his iorney.

The.v.Chapter.

THen answerd Tobiah his father, and sayde: father/ all ỹ A thou hast commanded me/ wyl I do, and that diligently. But how I shall require this mony, I can not tel. Nether doth he knowe me, ner I hym. What tokẽ shal

I

Jgeue hi: And as for the waye thether, I neuer knewe it. Then hys father answered hym, and sayde: I haue hys hād writinge by me, whych when thou shewest hym, immediatly he shall paye the. But go thy waye nowe, and get thee some faythfull mā to go wt the for an hyre, that thou mayest receaue the mony/ whyle I am yet lyuing.

Then went Tobiah out, and vpon ỹ greate he founde a fayre yonge manne standing, gyrded vp, as it were one ready to take hys iourneye. And he knewe not that it was an aungell of God, but saluted hym/ & sayd: From whence arte thou, ỹ good yonginan? He answered: Of the chylderen of Jsraell.

And Tobiah sayde vnto hym: knowest thou the waye that leadeth vnto ỹ
B countre of the Medes? He answered: I knowe it well/ and all those streates haue I gone ofte tymes, and haue lodged wyth oure brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes/ which lyeth vpon the mount Egabthanas. Tobiah sayde vnto hym: I praye thee, tary for me, tyll I haue tolde my father these thynges. Then went Tobiah in, & tolde hys father all. At the whych his father marueled/ & prayed that he wolde come in vnto hym.

Nowe when the aungel came in, he saluted hym/ and sayde: Joye be wt the for euermore. And olde Tobiah sayde: what ioye, can I haue that sytte here in C darckenes, and se not the lyght of heauen? The yongman sayde vnto hym: be of good cheare, God shal helpe the shortly. And Tobiah saide vnto hym: Canst thou bryng my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Medea? And whē ỹ comest agayn, I shal pay the thy hire. And the Aungell sayd vnto him: I shal leade thy sonne, and brynge hym thee agayn. Then Tobiah answered him: tell me I pray thee/ of what house, or of what trybe art thou?

The Aungell Raphaell sayde vnto hym: Alkest ỹ after the kyndred of an hyerelyng, or sekest thou a gyde for thy Sonne to go wyth hyme?
But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias the sonne of great Hananias. And Tobiah answered: thou arte come of a greate kynred: but I praye thee, be not displeased, that I desired to know thy kynred. The Aungel said vnto him: thy sonne shal I leade forth safely, and brynge hym whole to thee agayne.

Then answered Tobiah, and sayde: well/ goo on youre waye, and god be in D youre iourney, and his Angel bear your company. So when they had prepared al thynges, that they wolde take wt thē in their iorney: Tobiah bad his father and his mother fare wel, and they went on their way both together. Now whē they were gone, his mother begamne to wepe/ and sayde: The staff of our age hast thou taken awaye, and sent him from vs.

Wo olde God that moneye had neuer bene, for the whych thou hast sente him awaye. If we had bene contente wt oure pouerte, this had bene greate riches vnto vs, that we saw our sonne here. Then sayd Tobiah vnto her: wepe not, oure sonne shal come to vs agayne safe and sounde/ and thyne eyes shal se him. For I trust, ỹ ỹ good angel of god shal beare him company/ and ordre wel all ỹ thynges that he doth: so that he shal cō to vs agayne with ioye. At these wordes his mother lefte of from weppynge, and helde her tonge.

¶ Yong Tobiah is delyuered from the fysh, by the Angel. The Angel exhorteth Tobiah to take Sara to his wife.

❧ The. vi. Chapter.

SO Tobiah wente on hys waye, and a dogg folowed
A hym/ and the fyrst nyghte they abode by the water of Tigris. Then went he out to wash his fete/ and beholde, there came forth an horrible fysche to deuoure hym. Of whome Tobiah was a frayde and cryed with a loud voyce, saynge: Lorde he commeth vpon me. And the angell said vnto him: take him by the cheke blade, and draw him to the. And he dyd so and drewe him vpon the land. And the fysche beganne to leape at his fete.

Then

Then sayd the Aungel vnto him: Take out the bowels of this fish, ād as for the hert, the gal ād leuer, kepe them by the. For these things are necessary ād good for medicyne. Tobyah dyd so, ād rosted the fish, and they toke him ws them in their iorney: the residu they salted, as moch as was sufficyent for thē/ til they came to Rages. Thē Tobiah asked the Aungel, and sayde vnto him: I praye the brother Azariah/ tel me, wher to aze these thinges good of the fysh, ỹ thou hast bidden me kepe:

The Aungel answered him ād said: If thou layest a pece of the hert vpon the coals, the smoke ther of dryueth a waye all maner of euel spretes, whether it be from man or from woman/ so that from thence forth the same shal cō nomore vnto them. The gall is good to anoynte or to streke the eyes withal, where as there is eny blemysh in them, so shal they be whole.

And Tobyah sayde vnto him: wher wylt thou that we remayne: The Aungel answered and saide: Here is a neyr kinsmā of thine, one Raguel by name/ which hath a daughter called Sara, ād hath nether sōne ner daughter but her. Al hys good belongeth vnto the, and ỹ must mary this daughter: and ther fore desyre her of her father, and he shall geue her thee to wyfe. Then answered Tobyah and sayde: As I vnderstaude, she hath bene maried vnto seuē housbā des, and they all are ded: and I haue herde saye, that the deuel slew them. I am afrayd therfore/ lest soch thinges happened vnto me also: which yf it cam to passe (seynge I am the only sonne of my Father and my mother) I shoulde bringe them in their age wyth sorowe to their graues.

Then sayde the Aungel Raphael vnto him: Heare me, and I wyl tell what they be of whome the deuel hath power. Namely, they that receaue mariage of soch a fashion, that they shut God oute from them and from their herte/ and geue them selues to their owne luste, euen as it were an horse and Mule, which haue no vnderstādyng: vpō soch hath ỹ deuel power. But when thou takest her, ād art come in to the chamber, withold thy selfe frō her thre days, & gyue thy delygēce vnto nothig but vnto prayer wher.

And in the fyrst night rost the leuer of the fysh/ and the deuel shal be dryuen away. The seconde night shalt thou be receaued into the company of the holye patryarks. The thirde night shalt thou optayne the blessing of god/ so that whole childrē shalbe borne of you. After ỹ thirde night take the maiden in ỹ feare of god/ and more for the desyre of children then for any fleshly lust: that in the sede of Abraham thou mayst optayne the blissing in children.

The Yonge Tobiah and the Aūgel came to the house of Raguell. He requyreth Raguels daughter to wyfe, and optaineth her.

The. vii. Chapter.

Then went they in to Raguell, whyche receaued them ioyfully. And when Raguel loked vpō tobiah, he said vnto Anna his wife: how lyke is this yong mā vnto my systers sonne. And when he had spoke this, he sayde: whēce be ye good brethrē They sayde: Of the trybe of Nephtali, out of the captiuyte of Ninive. Then sayde Raguel vnto them: knowe ye my brother tobiah: They said yee we knowe hym well. And when he had spoken muche good of hym, the angel sayde vnto Raguell: Tobiah of whom thou askest, is thys yongmans father. Then Raguell bowed hym selfe downe and wepte/ toke hym aboute the necke, and kyssed hym, and sayde: Gods blessynge haue thou my sonne, for thou art the sōne of a good vertuous man. And Anna hys wyfe and Sara hys daughter wepte also.

Now when they had talked together, Raguel bad kyl a wether, and to make a feast. And when he prayed them to sit downe to dyner, Tobiah sayd: I wyl neither eate nor drink here this daie, except ỹ firste grant me my peticyon/ & promyse me to geue my thy daghter Sara: whē Raguell hearde thys, he was a tonied for he knew, what happened the other vii. men that wente in vnto her: and he beganne to feare that it shoulde chance vnto him also in lyke maner.

And whyle he stode so in dowbte, & gaue the Younge man no answere, the

aungell

aungel sayde vnto him: Feare not to gene him thy daughter, for vnto thys mā that feareth god, belongeth thi daughter to wife/therfore might none other haue her.

Then sayde Raguel: I doute not, but god hath accepted my prayers and teares in hys sight: and I trust he caused you to com vnto me for the same intent, that this daughter of myne might be maryed in her owne kinred, accordig to the lawe of Moses. And now dowte thou not, but I wyl geue her vnto thee: so he toke ye right hād of his daughter/ and gaue her into the ryght hand of Tobiah, and sayde: The god of Abraham, the god of Isac and the God of Jacob be with you ioyne you together, ād fulfyl his blessinge in you. And they toke a letter and made a wrytinge of the mariage. And then made they mery, and praysed god. And Raguel called Anna his wyfe vnto him, and badde her prepare another chambre, and thyther he brought Sara his Daughter, and she wept. Then said he vnto her: Be of good chere my daughter/the lorde of heauen geue the ioye, for the heuines that thou hast suffered.

¶ The aungel byndeth the deuel. Tobiah eroyteth his wife to prier, and they prate thre dates before they lye together:

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

AND we after that they hadd supped, they brought ye yonge man into her. Then thought Tobiah vpon the wordes of the aungel, and toke out of his bagges a pece of the leuer of the fishe, and layed it vppon the whoote coales. So the aungel Raphael toke holde of the deuel, and sent hym awaie, and bound hym in the wildernes of the hyer Egipt. Then spake Tobiah vnto the virgyn, and sayd: Up Sara, let vs make our praier vnto God to daye, tomorow, and ouermorow: for these three nightes will we reconsyle our selues vnto God: and whan the thyrd holynyght is past, we shal ioyne together in the deuty of maryage. For we are the childre of the holye men, and we maye not com together as the Heathen, that know not God.

Then stode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly, ye he wold preserue them. And Tobiah sayde: O Lord God of oure father, praysed be ye of heauen and earth, of the sea/ welles, and floudes, and of all the creatures ye be therin. Thou madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest hym Eua for an helper. And now Lord thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuosnes, that I take this sister of mine to wife, but only for the loue of children in whome thy name be blessed for euer And Sara sayde: haue mercy vpon vs (O Lorde) haue mercye vppon vs and let vs both come whole and sound to a good age.

And aboute the cocke crow, it happened/that Raguel called his seruauntes, and they wente wyth hym, to make a graue. For he sayde: yt is chaunched vnto him paraduenture, as it dyd vnto the other seuen men, that went into her Nowe when they had made the graue, Raguel came agayne to hys wyfe, and sayd vnto her: send one of thy maydēs, to loke if he be deade, that I may burye hym afore it be lyght daye. So she sente a maydē to see/ whiche when she came in to the chamber, she founde them whole and sounde, sleping together. And so she came agayne and brought good tydinges. Then Raguell and Anna hys wyfe praysed the Lorde, and sayde: praised be thou O Lorde God of Israel/ for it is not happened vnto vs, as we thought. For thou hast dealte mercyfully wyth vs, and put awaye from vs/ the enemy that persecuted vs, and hast shewed mercye vnto yonder two beloued. O Lorde cause them to magnifye thee more perfectlye and to offre thee the sacrifice of thy prayse & of theyr health: that al people may knowe, that thou only art god in all the earth.

And immediatly Raguel commanded hys seruauntes, to fyl the graue that they had made, with earthe afore it was lyght: and bad his wyfe prepare a feast and to make ready all thinges that were necessary for meate to soche as wente by the waye.

nota for meate to soche as wente by the ways.

He

He caused two fat kyne also, and four wethers to be slayne, and meates to be prepared for all his neyghours and frē des. And Raguell charged Tobiah, to remayne wyth hym two wekes. As for all the good that he had, he gaue tobiah the one halfe of it, and made thys wryttynge, that the halfe whych remayned, shoulde fall vnto Tobiah after theyre death.

¶ The aungell goeth to Gabelus, at the desyre of Tobiah: whych delyuereth the letter, and receaueth the money.

The.ix. Chapter.

A Then Tobiah called vntoo hym the Aungell, whom he thought to haue ben a man & sayde vnto hym: Brother Azarias, I praye thee, herken vnto my wordes, yf I should geue my selfe to be thy seruaunte/ I shoulde not deserue thy prouidence. Neuertheles I beseche thee, that thou wylte take the beastes, and the seruauntes and go vnto Gabelus in Rages, the Cytie of B Medes, and delyuer hym hys handwryting, and receaue the mony of hym, and praye hym to come to my mariage. For thou knoweste thy selfe, that my father telleth the dayes: and if I tary one daye to longe, he wyll be sorye in hys mynde. Now seyst thou how earnestly Raguell hath required me, so that I cannot saye hym naye.

Then toke Raphael foure of raguels seruauntes/ and two camels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: ād when he had founde Gabelus, he gaue hym hys handwryting, and receaued al the mony. He told hym also of Tobiah C the sonne of Tobi, how al thynges had happened, & caused hym to come vnto hym to the maryage. Now whē he came to ỹ house of Raguell/ he founde Tobiah sittynge at the table: and he leapt vp, and kyssed one another, and Gabelus wepte & prayed god and sayde: the blessynge of the God, of Israell haue ỹ/ for ỹ arte the sonne of a ryght vertuous & iust'mā D & of one ỹ feareth god/ & geueth greate almes. And blessinge haue thy wyfe, and your elders/ that ye maye se your chyldren & your yong childers childrē vnto ỹ third & fourth generatiō, & that youre sede mai be blessed of the god of Israel, whych reigneth world with out ende.

And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast/ but with the feare of the Lorde helde they the feast of ỹ maryage.

¶ Tobiah and his wife are sadd for the tariaunce of their sonne. Raguel sendeth agayne Tobiah vnto his wife.

The.x. Chapter.

NOw while yonge Tobyah A made longe tarieng, by reason of the maryage, his father was ful of care and heuines, and thought: what shulde be the cause, that my sonne tarryeth so longe? Or why shoulde he be kepte so longe there?

Paraduenture Gabelus is deade, & no man wyl geue hi the moneye. Thus beganne he to be very sorowful, he and Anna his wife went with hym/ and beganne to wepe bothe together, because their sonne was not come agayne vnto them at the daye appoynted. As for hys mother, she wepte with discomfortable teares, and sayde: Woo ys me, my B sonne: Oh what ayled vs to sende the awaye into a straunge countre, ỹ light of our eyes, thou staffe of our age, ỹ cōfort of our life, ỹ hope of our generatiō: Seynge all thynges that we haue are onlye in the, we shoulde not haue sente the awaie frō vs.

Then Tobiah comforted her, and sayde: holde thy tonge, and bee not discomforted, oure sonne is whole and sounde: The man that we sent hym with al/ is faithful ynough. Neuertheles, she myghte in no wyse be comforted: but daylye went out, loked about, and went about al the stretes: whereby she thought he sholde come agayn: that (if it wer possible) she myght se him commyng a- C farre of.

But raguel sayde vnto his sonne in lawe: O tary here, and I shal sende a messenger vnto thy father Tobiah to tel him that thou art in good health. Tobiah sayd vnto him: I am sure, that my that my father and my mother counte eue ry daye, and that theyr hartes are sory.

So whē Raguel prayed Tobyah with many wordes/ād wold in no wise heare him, he delyuered Sara vnto hī, and the halfe parte of all hys good: in seruantes and handmaydes, in shepe in Camels, and in kyne and moch money and so sent him away from him w̄ peace and ioye, and sayde: The holy aungel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bringe you forth safe and sounde, that ye maye finde all thinges in good case with your elders, and that myne eyes maye se youre children afore I dye. So the elders embraced their daughter kyssed her, & let her go/exortig her to honoure her father and mother in lawe to loue her husband, to rule wel her housholde, to kepe her house in good ordre, and to shewe her selfe fauteles se.

¶ Younge Tobiah leuinge his wife & housholde in the mydde waie, commeth before with the Aungell. The dreme of his mother lokige after her sonne. He is ioyfully receiued of his father & mother. Sara cometh, vii, dayes after.

The. xi. Chapter.

AS they now were going home warde agayne, vpon ỹ xi. daye they came to Charra, which lyeth in the halfe waye toward Ninive. And the Aungell sayde: Brother Tobiah, ỹ knowest how thou hast lefte thy father: therfore yf it please the, we two wil goo before/ and let thee housholde with thy wyfe and the catel come safte and fayrly after vs. And when Tobiah was cōtēt that they shoulde go before, Raphaell sayde vnto him: Take of the gale of the fysh with the, for it shalbe necessary. So Tobiah toke of the gal, and they wente their waye. But Anna mother of Tobiah sate dayly by the way syde vpon the toppe of an hill, from whence she might se farre about her. And whil she was waityng ther for his commynge/ she loked afarre of and anonne she perceaued her sonne commyng, and ranne and told her husbande, saying: Beholde, thy sōne cōmeth. And Raphael sayd vnto Tobyah: As soone as thou commest in the house, immedyatlye worshyppe the Lorde thy GOD, and geue thankes vnto hym: then go to thy father, and kisse him, and strike his eyes ouer with the gal of the fysh, that thou hast brought with thee. For be sure that his eyes shal strayght waye be opened and thy father shall se the lyght of heauen, and shal reioyse at the syghte of thee. Then the dogge that had bene with theym in their iourney, ranne before, and came as a messenger/ and wagged w̄ hys tayle for gladnesse.

So the blynde father arose, and began to renne & stombled with his fete, and gaue a seruaunt hys hand/ ranne to mete hys sonne, receaued hym, & kyssed hym, he and hys wyfe, and began to wepe for ioye.

Now when they had worshipped and thanked God, they sat downe. Then toke Tobiah of the fishes gal, and anoynted his fathers eyes: and taryed half ā houre/ and then began the blemish to go out of his eyes/ like as it had bene ỹ whyte skynne of an egge: which Tobiah toke, and drew from his eyes, and immedyatly he receaued his syght.

Then they praysed god, he and hys wyfe/ and al they that know hym. and Tobiah sayde: O Lorde God of Israell. I geue thee prayse and thankes, for thou hast chastened me, and made me whole & lo: nowe do I see my sonne Tobiah. After seauen dayes came Sara hys sōnes wyfe also whole and sounde wyth all the houshold and catel wyth camels and muche money of hys wyues, and w̄ the money that he had receiued of Gabelus: and he told hys father and hys mother the benefites which god had done for hym, by the man that led hym. Achior also and Nabath Tobyah sylier sonnes came, and wer glad, and reioyced w̄ hym, by reason of all the good that god had shewed vnto hym. And so for the space of seauen dayes they made merye and were ryght ioyefull euerichone.

¶ Yong Tobiah, reckneth vp vnto his father the plesures that the Aungel dyd hym. He offreth vnto the Aungell the halfe of the goodes that he brought with hym.

The. xii. Chapter.

A Then Tobyah called his sõne vnto him, and sayde: What may we geue this holye man/that wente wyth? Tobiah answered his father, and sayde: Father, what reward shal we geue him? Or what thing can deserue his benefites? He hath bene my gide, and brought me safe agayn: he receaued the money from Gabelus, he caused me to get my wyfe, he droue the euell spyrete from her, he hath bene ā occasion of gladnes to her father and mother: he delyuered me, that I was not deuoured of the fish, he hath made the to se the lyght of heauen, yee we haue receaued greate good of him, How shuld we worthly deserue
B these thinges vnto him? But I praye ỹ my father, that thou wylt desyer him/if happly he will voutsafe, to take wt hym the halfe of al that we haue brought.

So the father and the sonne callede him, toke him aside, and beganne to prai him, that he wolde be content to take in a good wo3the, the halfe Parte of all that he had brought. Then sayde he secretly vnto them: Prayse the God of heuen, and geue thākes: vnto him before al men lyuing, for he hath shewed his
Some rede vnto vs. mercy vnto vs. It is good to hyde the kinges secrete, but to shew & to praise ỹ workes of God it is an honorable thig. Prayer is good wt fasting, and to geue almes is better, then to hord vp treasure of golde. For almes delyuereth from death, cleanseth sinne and causeth to fynde euerlasting life. But they that do sinne & vnrighteousnes/are the enemyes of ther owne soules.

Wherfore I tell you the trueth, and wyl hyde nothinge from you. When ỹ prayest with teares/ and buryedst ỹ dead, ād lefte̅st thy dyner and hiddest the deed in thy house vpon the daye tyme, ỹ thou myghtest burye thē in the nyght I offred thy prayer before the Lord. And because thou wast accept and beloued of God/it was necessary, that temptacyon shuld trye the. And now hath the Lord sent me to heale the, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wyfe from the euel spyret. For I am Raphael an Aungel one of ỹ seuen that stande before God.

When they hearde this, they were sore afrayed, and trembled, and fell downe vpon theyr faces vnto the grounde. Then sayde the aungell: Peace be wyth you, feare not. Where as I haue ben wt you, it is the wyll of God, geue Prayse and thanckes vnto hym.

You thought that I dyd eate & drinke wyth you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drincke that can not be sene of men. D

Nowe therfore is the tyme that I must turne agayne vnto hym that sent me: but be ye thanckful vnto God, ād tell out all hys wonderous worckes.

And when he had spoken these wordes, he was taken awaye oute of theyr syght, so that they sawe hym no more. Then fell they downe flat vpon theyr faces by the space of thre houres, & praised god: and when they rose vp, they tolde all hys wonderous worckes.

Tobiah the elder geueth thankes vnto God.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Then old Tobiah opned his mouth, and praysed the lord and sayde. Great art thou o A Lorde for euermore/ & thy kyngdome worlde without ende: for thou scourgest and helest, thou leadest vnto hel/and bryngest out agayne/and ther is none that may escape thine hand. O geue thankes vnto the lord ye childrē of Israel, & praise hi in ỹ sight of the heathē. For amōg ỹ hethē wheych know hi not hath he scatered you/to the intente that ye shoulde shewe for the hys maruelous workes: and cause them for to knowe, that there is none other God almyghtie but he, He hath chastened vs for oure mysdedes, and for his owne mercie sake shall he saue vs.

Consydre then how he hath delt with you, and prayse hym wyth feare and drede, and magnifye the euerlastynge king in youre workes. I wyl praye hym eue̅ in the lande of my captiuitie, for he hath shewed hys magesti vnto a synneful people, turne you therfore/ O ye synners, and do righteousnes before God, and be ye sure, that he wyll shewe hys mercy vpon you. As for me and my soule/ we wyll reioyse in God. B

D

O prayse the lorde al ye hys chosen, hold the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankful vntoo yim. O Jerusalem thou cytie of God, the Lorde hath punysshed the for the worckes of thyne owne handes, O prayse the Lorde in thy good thinges, & geue thankes to the euerlastyng God that he maye builde vp his tabernacles agayne in the, that he maye call again vnto the, al soche as be incaptyuite, and that thou mayest haue ioye for euermore. With a fayre lyght shalt thou shyne ād al the endes of the world shal honoure the. The people shal come vnto ỹ frō farre, they shal bringe gyftes/ and worshyppe the Lorde in thee, and thy lande shal they haue for a Sāctuary/ for they shal cal vpon the greate name in the.

Cursed shal they be that dispyse the, and al that blaspheme the, shalbe condē
D ned: but blessed shal they be that build ỹ vp, As for the thou shalt reioyse in thy children, for they al shalbe blessed, ād gathered together vnto the Lorde. Blessed are they al that loue the, and beglad of thy peace: Prayse thou the Lord, O my soule, for the Lorde oure God hath delyuered his cytie Jerusalem from all her troubles. I wil count mi selfe happi, if mi sede remaie to se ỹ clernes of Jerusalem.

The grapes of Jerusalē shalbe buil ded with Saphire and Smaragde, ād al the compasse of her walles with precyous stones. All her stretes shalbe paued with white marble stone/ and in all her streates shal Alleluya be song Praised be the Lord, whiche hath exalted her/ ỹ his kyngdomme maye bee vppon her for euermore. Amen. And so Tobiah made an ende of his talkynge.

Tobiah prophecyeth the destruccyon of Ninive. Hys sonne returneth to Raguell, after the decesse of his father ād mother.

The. xiiii. Chapter

AND after that Tobiah had gotten his sight agayn, he lyued. xlii. yeares, ād sawe his childers children. Now when he was an. C. & .ii. yeare olde, he dyed: and was buried honorably in Nynine. For when he was sixe and fyfty yeares of age, he lost ỹ sight of his eyes, &

Tobiah was buried honorably

when he was three score yeare olde / he gat hys syght agayne. The residue of hys lyfe led he in ioye , and increased well in the feare of god and departed in peace.

But in the houre of hys Death, he B called vnto hym his sonne Tobiah, & seuen yonge springaldes hys sonnes children, & sayd vnto thē: The destruction of ninyue is at hand, for the word of the lorde can not fayle, and our bretheren that are scatered out of the lande of Israel, shal com thether agayn. And the whole lande of it that hath bene waste, shalbe fylled: and the house of God that was brente in it, shalbe buylded agayne, and all suche as feare GOD shall returne thether: the heathen also shall forsake their Idoles, and come to Jerusalem, & dwell there/ & all the kinges of the earth shalbe glad of her, & worshippe the lord God of Israel.

And therfore my chyldren, heare your C re father: Serue the Lorde in faythfulnes, seke after hys wyll, and do the thig that pleaseth hym. Commaunde youre chylderen that they doo ryghte: geue almes/ be myndefull of God, and euer to be thankfull vnto hym in trueth and with all tyeyre power. Heare me therfore my chylderen and abyde not here: but in what daye soeuer ye haue buryed youre Mother beside me, get you from hence For I see, that the wickednes of it shal D bringe it to destruction and ende.

note burned Beside me

After the death of hys mother, Tobiah departed away frō Ninive/ with hys wyfe & chyldren & childers childrē, & came a gayne to hys father & Mother in lawe and founde them whole and in good age, and toke the care of them. And he closed theyr eyes, and was heyre vntoo all Raguels gooddes, and sawe fyfth generacion and childers chyldren. And whē he was. xcix. yeare of age, he dyed in the feare of the Lorde, and hys kinsfolkes buryed hym. And all hys posteritee continued in a good lyfe, and holy conuersacion: so that they were loued ād accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the lande.

C The ende of the boke of Tobiah

O prayse the lorde al ye hys chosen, hold the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankful vntoo yim. O Jerusalem thou cytie of God, the Lorde hath punysshed the for the worckes of thyne owne handes, O prayse the Lorde in thy good thinges, & geue thankes to the euerlastyng God that he maye builde vp his tabernacles agayne in the, that he maye call again vnto the, al soche as be incaptyuite, and that thou mayest haue ioye for euermore. With a fayre lyght shalt thou shyne ād al the endes of the world shal honoure the. The people shal come vnto ỹ frō farre, they shal bringe gyftes/ and worshyppe the Lorde in thee, and thy lande shal they haue for a Sāctuary/ for they shal cal vpon the greate name in the.

Cursed shal they be that dispyse the, and al that blaspheme the, shalbe condē
D ned: but blessed shal they be that build ỹ vp, As for the thou shalt reioyse in thy children, for they al shalbe blessed, ād gathered together vnto the Lorde. Blessed are they al that loue the, and beglad of thy peace: Prayse thou the Lord, O my soule, for the Lorde oure God hath delyuered his cytie Jerusalem from all her troubles. I wil count mi selfe happi, if mi sede remaie to se ỹ clernes of Jerusalem.

The grapes of Jerusalē shalbe buil ded with Saphire and Smaragde, ād al the compasse of her walles with precyous stones. All her stretes shalbe paued with white marble stone/ and in all her streates shal Alleluya be song Praised be the Lord, whiche hath exalted her/ ỹ his kyngdomme maye bee vppon her for euermore. Amen. And so Tobiah made an ende of his talkynge.

Tobiah prophecyeth the destruccyon of Ninive. Hys sonne returneth to Raguell, after the decesse of his father ād mother.

The. xiiii. Chapter

AND after that Tobiah had gotten his sight agayn, he lyued. xlii. yeares, ād sawe his childers children. Now when he was an. C. & .ii. yeare olde, he dyed: and was buried honorably in Nynine. For when he was sixe and fyfty yeares of age, he lost ỹ sight of his eyes, &

Tobiah was buried honorably

when he was three score yeare olde / he gat hys syght agayne. The residue of hys lyfe led he in ioye , and increased well in the feare of god and departed in peace.

But in the houre of hys Death, he B called vnto hym his sonne Tobiah, & seuen yonge springaldes hys sonnes children, & sayd vnto thē: The destruction of ninyue is at hand, for the word of the lorde can not fayle, and our bretheren that are scatered out of the lande of Israel, shal com thether agayn. And the whole lande of it that hath bene waste, shalbe fylled: and the house of God that was brente in it, shalbe buylded agayne, and all suche as feare GOD shall returne thether: the heathen also shall forsake their Idoles, and come to Jerusalem, & dwell there/ & all the kinges of the earth shalbe glad of her, & worshippe the lord God of Israel.

And therfore my chyldren, heare your C re father: Serue the Lorde in faythfulnes, seke after hys wyll, and do the thig that pleaseth hym. Commaunde youre chylderen that they doo ryghte: geue almes/ be myndefull of God, and euer to be thankfull vnto hym in trueth and with all tyeyre power. Heare me therfore my chylderen and abyde not here: but in what daye soeuer ye haue buryed youre Mother beside me, get you from hence For I see, that the wickednes of it shal D bringe it to destruction and ende.

note burned Beside me

After the death of hys mother, Tobiah departed away frō Ninive/ with hys wyfe & chyldren & childers childrē, & came a gayne to hys father & Mother in lawe and founde them whole and in good age, and toke the care of them. And he closed theyr eyes, and was heyre vntoo all Raguels gooddes, and sawe fyfth generacion and childers chyldren. And whē he was. xcix. yeare of age, he dyed in the feare of the Lorde, and hys kinsfolkes buryed hym. And all hys posteritee continued in a good lyfe, and holy conuersacion: so that they were loued ād accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the lande.

C The ende of the boke of Tobiah

¶ The boke of

Judith.

¶ The buyldyng of Egbathanis. The victory of Nabuchodonosor agaynst Arpharath. The messengers of Nabuchodonosor are dyspysed.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A ARpharat the kynge of the Medes subdued many people vnto his dominion, and buylded a noble strong cytie, which he called Egbathanis. The walles of yt made he of free ston, foure squared, seuenty cubites hie and .xxx. cubytes brod. He made towres therupon of an hundreth cubites hye. But vpon the foure corners euery side was twentye fote brode. He made the portes in the height, like as the towres ¶ This kinge trusted in his myghty hoost and in his glorious charettes.

B So in the twelfth yeare of his raygne/it happened, that Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assiryās (which raygned in the greate cytie of Ninive) fought agaynst Arpharat/and ouercame hym in the greate felde called Ragau, beside Euphrates and Tigris and Jadason in the felde of Ertoth the king of the Elykes.

Then was the kyngdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his hert was lyft vp: and he sent vnto all theym that dwelt in Celicia/in Damascus, in Libanus, and vnto the heathen ẏ dwelte in Carmel, a Cedar ⁊ to such as dwelt in galile in the great felde of Esdrelon, to al thē ẏ were in Samarya, a beyond ẏ water of Jordan vnto Jerusalem ād the whole lande of Jesse vnto the mōtaynes of Ethiopia. Unto all these dyd Nabuchodonosor thē kynge of the Assyryans sende messangers. But they al with one consent, wolde not agre vnto him, and sent the messangers againe emptye/and put them awaye wythoute honour. Thē Nabuchodonosor ẏ king toke indignacion at all those landes, ād swore by his trone and by bys kyngdō that he woulde be auenged of all those countreys.

¶ Holofernes is sent of Nabuchodonosor, to subdue al the world. The preparacio and pursute of Holofernes.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

IN the .xiii. yeare of kynge Nabuchodonosor/vpon the .xxii. day of the fyrst moneth, it was deuysed in the courte of Nabuchodonosor the kynge of ẏ Assirians, that he wold defend hi selfe. So he called vnto hym all the elders/ al his captaynes, and men of warre, ād shewed them his secrete counsel, & told them, that hys purpose was to bryng the whole earth vnder hys dompnion. Now when they were all contente with thys saying/Nabuchodonosor the kig called holofernes the chefe captayne of hys warres, and sayde vnto hym: Goo thy waye forth agaynst all the kyngdomes of the west/and specially agaynste those that haue despysed my commaundement. Thou shalt spare no reame, al stronge cities shalt thou bryng in subiection vnto me.

Then Holofernes called together all the Captaynes and rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustred the soudyers vnto the hoste (lyke as the kige commaunded hym) namely, an hundreth and twentye thousand fightynge men vpon fote, ād twelue thousand archers vpon horsebacke. All his ordynaunce sent he before with an innumerable multitude of camels, so that the hoost was wel prouyded for, bothe ore and smalle Cattell, and that withoute nombre. He caused corn to be prepared oute of all Syria for his hoste. Moch gold and siluer also toke he out of the kynges house. So he toke his iorney he and all his hooste, with charettes, horsmen, ād archers: of whom ther were so many, that they couered the grounde of the lande, lyke the greshoppers.

And when he was gone paste the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaynes of Ange/ which lye vpon the left syde of Celicia: and so he went vp in to all their castels, and wanne euery stronge holde. As for the welthye citie of Melothus, he brake it downe, and spoyled all the chyldren of Tharsis and the Ismaelites.

¶ The boke of Judith.

¶ The buyldyng of Egbathanis. The victory of Nabuchodonosor agaynst Arpharath. The messengers of Nabuchodonosor are dyspysed.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A ARpharat the kynge of the Medes subdued many people vnto his dominion, and buylded a noble strong cytie, which he called Egbathanis. The walles of yt made he of free ston, foure squared, seuenty cubites hie and .xxx. cubytes brod. He made towres therupon of an hundreth cubites hye. But vpon the foure corners euery side was twentye fote brode. He made the portes in the height, like as the towres ¶ This kinge trusted in his myghty hoost and in his glorious charettes.

B So in the twelfth yeare of his raygne/it happened, that Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assiryās (which raygned in the greate cytie of Ninive) fought agaynst Arpharat/and ouercame hym in the greate felde called Ragau, beside Euphrates and Tigris and Jadason in the felde of Ertoth the king of the Elykes.

Then was the kyngdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his hert was lyft vp: and he sent vnto all theym that dwelt in Celicia/in Damascus, in Libanus, and vnto the heathen ẏ dwelte in Carmel, a Cedar ⁊ to such as dwelt in galile in the great felde of Esdrelon, to al thē ẏ were in Samarya, a beyond ẏ water of Jordan vnto Jerusalem ād the whole lande of Jesse vnto the mōtaynes of Ethiopia. Unto all these dyd Nabuchodonosor thē kynge of the Assyryans sende messangers. But they al with one consent, wolde not agre vnto him, and sent the messangers againe emptye/and put them awaye wythoute honour. Thē Nabuchodonosor ẏ king toke indignacion at all those landes, ād swore by his trone and by bys kyngdō that he woulde be auenged of all those countreys.

¶ Holofernes is sent of Nabuchodonosor, to subdue al the world. The preparacio and pursute of Holofernes.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

IN the .xiii. yeare of kynge Nabuchodonosor/vpon the .xxii. day of the fyrst moneth, it was deuysed in the courte of Nabuchodonosor the kynge of ẏ Assirians, that he wold defend hi selfe. So he called vnto hym all the elders/ al his captaynes, and men of warre, ād shewed them his secrete counsel, & told them, that hys purpose was to bryng the whole earth vnder hys dompnion. Now when they were all contente with thys saying/Nabuchodonosor the kig called holofernes the chefe captayne of hys warres, and sayde vnto hym: Goo thy waye forth agaynst all the kyngdomes of the west/and specially agaynste those that haue despysed my commaundement. Thou shalt spare no reame, al stronge cities shalt thou bryng in subiection vnto me.

Then Holofernes called together all the Captaynes and rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustred the soudyers vnto the hoste (lyke as the kige commaunded hym) namely, an hundreth and twentye thousand fightynge men vpon fote, ād twelue thousand archers vpon horsebacke. All his ordynaunce sent he before with an innumerable multitude of camels, so that the hoost was wel prouyded for, bothe ore and smalle Cattell, and that withoute nombre. He caused corn to be prepared oute of all Syria for his hoste. Moch gold and siluer also toke he out of the kynges house. So he toke his iorney he and all his hooste, with charettes, horsmen, ād archers: of whom ther were so many, that they couered the grounde of the lande, lyke the greshoppers.

And when he was gone paste the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaynes of Ange/ which lye vpon the left syde of Celicia: and so he went vp in to all their castels, and wanne euery stronge holde. As for the welthye citie of Melothus, he brake it downe, and spoyled all the chyldren of Tharsis and the Ismaelites.

tes, which lay toward the wyldernes, & vpon the south syde of the land of Chelon. He went ouer Euphrates also/ād came into Mesapotania, and brake downe all the hye cities that were there, from the broke of Mambre tyll a man come to the see, and he toke the borders in from Celicia vnto the coastes of Japhet toward the south. He carved away al the Madianites, and spoyled al ther goodes and whosoeuer withstode hym he slewe them wyth the swerde. After this he went downe into the felde of damascus, in the tyme of the haruest, and brente vp al the corne and all the trees, and caused the vynes to be cut downe. And the feare of hym fel vpon all them that dwelt in the earthe.

Kynges become wyllyngly subiect to Holofernes. the tyranny and cruelti of hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

A SO the kynges and princes of all the cities and landes sent theyr Embassadours: namely, they of Siria and Mesopotamia, Siria Sobal, and Libia, and Celicia, whyche came to Holofernes, and sayde: Let thy wrath cease toward vs: It is better for vs to serue the great kyng Nabuchodonosor wyth oure lyues, and to be subiecte vnto thee, then that we should dye and be slayn and receaue great hurte. Al our Cities and possessions, al mountaynes and hylles al feldes/great and small catell, shepe, goates, horses, and camels, all oure goodes and housholdes, be in thy power, vnder thy subiection be it altogether. We oure selues also and oure chyldren wyl be thyne owne, come vnto vs a peaceable Lorde, & vse oure seruice at thy pleasure.

B Then came Holofernes downe from the mountayns wyth horsmen and greate power, and conquered al stronge fenced Cities/ād al that dwelt in the lāde. And out of all cyties he toke strong men, and such as were mete for the warre, to helpe hym. There came such a feare also vpon those countreies that the indwellers of al the cities, the princes ād rulers/& the peple together, went forth to mete him as he came, and receaued hi honorably with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tabrettes and pypes.

C Neuertheless though they did this, yet mygt they not swage his rygorous stommake: but he destroyed their cytes, and hewed downe their wodes. For Nabuchodonosor the kynge had commaunded him, that he shold rote out al ỹ Godes of the lande: to the intent that he only myghte be called and taken for God of the nacions which Holofernes wyth his power brought vnder him. So wēt he thorow Syria Sobal, and thorowe al Appamia, ād al Mesopotamia, cam to the Idumeans, in the land of Gabaa and Septopolye/and toke their cities, and remayned there .xxx. dayes, wherin he caused al the whole multitude of hys hoost to be gathered together.

Israel requyreth helpe of God, agaynst Holofernes. They fast and praye.

The.iiii. Chapter.

A WHen the children of Israel that dwel in Jewrye herde this, they were sore afraied of him. There came soche tremblynge also and feare vpon them, that they sorowed he shulde do vnto the cyte of Jerusalem and thee temple of the lorde, as he had done to other cyties & their temples. So they sent into al Samaria roundabout vnto Jericho/toke in and occuppyed al the toppes of the mountaynes, made faste the tounes with wales, and prepared corne for them agaynst the battel.

A Elyachim also the Preest wrote vnto al them that dwelt toward Esdrelon (whiche lyeth ouer agaynste the greate felde by Dotha Jm) and vnto all those by whom men might haue passag vnto them, that they shulde take in the wayes of the mountaynes, whereby there myght be any waye and passag to Jerusalem, & ỹ they sholde holde dylygent watche where any strayte waye was betwixt ỹ B mountaynes. And the childrē of Israel did as Eliachim the Preest of the Lord had commaunded them. And al the people cryed ernestly, and humbled ther soules with fastyng and prayers, they and their wyues: The Prestes put on hearty

nota fastyng and prayer & hearty clothes clothes, and layed the yonge babes befo re the temple of the Lorde, and coucred the Aulter of the Lorde wythe an hear= ry clothe. And wyth one accorde they cryed vnto the Lorde God of Israell/that theyr chylderen should not be geue into a pray, and theiz wiues into a spoi le, that theyr Cities shoulde not be layd waste, and that theyr sanctuary should not be vnhalowed, and so they to bee a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

C Then Eliachim the hye Preste of the Lorde, wente rounde aboute al Israel, and spake vnto them, sayinge: Be ye su re, that the Lorde will heare your pett cyons, yf ye contynue stedfast in fasty= nges and prayers in the syghte of the Lord. Remembre Moses the seruaunt of the Lord, which ouerthrew the Ama lechites (that trusted in their myght & power, in their hoost, in their shyldes, in their charrettes and horsmenn) not with weapens, but with holy prayers.
Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, yf ye contynue in thys worke, that ye haue begonne. So vpon this exor= tacion they contynued in prayer before the Lord, In so moch that they which offred brent sacrifices vnto the Lorde offred the offringes vnto the Lorde, beynge arayed in heartie clothes and had asshes vpō their heades. And they all besoughte God from their whole herte, that he wold vyset his people of Israel.

Holofernes is discontent with the Jewes. Achior sheweth vnto Holofernes the maruels of god don vnto the Jewes, for which thig ꝑ rulers vnder Holofernes were very angry with him.

The.v. Chapter.

A AND word came vnto holo= fernes the Prynce of ꝑ war res of the Assiryans, that ꝑ children of Israel prepared them selues to make resyst aunce, and how they hadd stopped the wayes betwyxt the mountaynes. Then was he exceading wroth & called al the Princes of Moab, and the Captaynes of Ammon, and sayde vnto them: Tel me, what people is thys, that keape the in the mountaynes? Or what maner of cities are they? What is their power?
Or what māer of Hoost haue they? who ys their Captayne?

And why do they dispise vs (more then al these that dwel in the East) and come not forth to mete vs, that they might re ceaue vs with peace? Then Achior the Captaine of al the Ammonites answe= red, and saide: Syr/yf it please thee to heare me, I wyl tel the truth before the concerning this people that dwel in the mountaynes, and there shall no lye goo B out of my mouth.

Thys people is of the generacion of the Caldees, they dwelt fyrst in Me= sopotamia, for they wold not folow the goddes of their fathers that wer in the land of the Caldees, and so forsoke they the customes of their fore fathers (whi ch had many goddes) and worshipped one God, that made heauen and earth:
which also commaūded them that they shoulde go from thence, and dwel at Ha ran. Now when there came a death in= to the whole lande, they went downe to Egipt, and there they dwelt foure hun= dreth yeares/in which they multiplyed so greately, that their Hoost might not be nombred. And when the kynge of E= gipt oppressed them and subdued them in buyldynge of hys Cytyes wyth ma= kynge of claye and Bryck/ they cryed vnto GOD their Lorde, why che pu= nyshed the whole lande of Egypte with dyuers plages.

Now when the kynge of Egypt let C them go their waye, and the plage ceas sed, and then folowed after them, to ta= ke them, and to bryng them agayne in to his seruyce, while they were fleinge a waye, the God of Heauen opened the ꝑ sea, so that the waters stode fast vppon both the sydes as a wal, and these went thorow the botom of the sea drye shod.
In the which place when an innumera ble people of the Egipcians folowe vp= on them thei were so ouerwhelmed w
the waters that there remained not one to tel them that came after, how yt hap= pened. So when thys people was pas= sed thorowe the red sea, they came into the wylderuesse of the mounte Synay, where neuer man dwelte afore, & where D
the sonne of man had neuer rested.
There were the bytter Waters made swete for them, that they myght drynk ke, & .xl. yeares had they mete frō heue.

Where

whereſoeuer they wēt (whithout bowe and arowe, without buckler or ſwerde) their god fought for thē, and cauſed thē to haue the victory. Yee no man was able to hurte this people, excepte it were ſo that they departed vnfaythfully from ỹ worſhyppyng of the lord ther god. But as oft as they worſhypped any other be ſyde ther god he gaue thē ouer to be ſpoi led, to be ſlayn, & to be put to confuſyon. Neuertheles as oft as they were ſory for departyng from the worſhippe of theire god, the ſame god of heuen gaue them pouer & ſtrēgth to wſtād their enmyes.

Moreouer they ſlew the kynge of ỹ Cananites, Jebuſites, Pherezites Hethites Euites and Amorites, and all the myghtye in Heſebon and toke their landes and cytes in poſſeſſion: and ſo long as they ſinned not in the ſight of theire god, it went wel with them: for their god hatethe vnrighteouſneſſe. For in tymes paſt when they went oute of thee waye, which god had geuen thē that they ſholde walke in it, they were deſtroyed in dyuerſe batayles of many nacyons: & māy of them were caryed away preſoners vnto a ſtraunge countze. But nowe lately they haue torned them ſelues awaye vnto the lorde theire god, and are come together agayn out of the conntrees wher they were ſcatterd abrod and thus haue they conquered theſe mountaynes, ād dwel therin and as for Jeruſalē, where their Sāctuary is, they haue it agayn in poſſeſſyon.

And therfor my Lorde, make diligēt inquiſicion if this peple haue done wickedneſſe in the ſight of the god, then let vs go vp agaynſt thē for doubtles their god ſhal delyuer thē into thyhandes / & ſubdue them vnto thy pouer. But if this peple haue not diſpleaſed their god, we ſhall not be able to wtthſtand them, for their god ſhal defend them, and ſo ſhal we be a ſhame to all the worlde.

Now when Achyor had ſpoken out theſe wordes, al the Princes of Holofernes wer wroth, & thought to ſlay hym, and ſayde one to an other: what is he thys, which darre ſaye, that the Chylderen of Jſraell are able to wythſtand nabuchodonoſor the kinge and his hoſte: wher as they are an vnwepened people, without ſtrength or vnderſtandinge of the feates of warre? That Achyor ther fore maye knowe that he hath deſceaued vs, we wyll go vp into the mountaynes: and when the myghtye men of them are taken, he alſo ſhalbe ſtyckt wt the ſwearde, that all people maye knowe, that Nabuchodonoſor is the God of the earthe, and that there is none other wythout hym.

☞ Achior is committed into thehandes of ỹ Jewes by Holofernes. He is tiedt o a tree, but is louſed of the Jewes. The prayer of the people. Achior is comforted of the Jewes.

¶ The.vi.Chapter.

SO whē they had left of ſpeking, Holofernes toke ſore indignacyon, & ſayde vnto Achior. For ſo much as thou haſt prophecied vnto vs, ſayinge: that the people of Jſraell ſhall be defended of theyre God, I wyll ſhewe the / ỹ ther is none other God but Nabuchodonoſor. Yea when we ſlaye them all as one man, thou alſo ſhalt peryſh wyth them thorowe the ſwerde of the Aſſirians, and al Jſraell ſhal be deſtroyd wyth the, and then ſhalt thou fele, that Nabuchodonoſor is the lord of the whole earth. Then ſhall the ſworde of my knighthode go thorow thy ſydes and thou ſhalt fall downe ſtickte amōge the wounded of Jſraell, and ſhalte not come to thy ſelfe agayne, but be vterly deſtroyed wyth them. But if thou thynckeſt thy prophecy to be true, whye doeſt ỹ then chaunge thy colour? why arte thou afrayde? Thynckeſt thou that my wordes are not able to be perfourmed? But that thou mayeſt know / that thou ſhalte feale theſe thynges withe theim, beholde, from thys houre forthe wyll I ſende thee vnto yonder People that when the puniſhment of my ſwerd (which they haue worthly deſerued) falleth vpon them, thou mayeſt be puniſhed with them.

So Holofernes commaunded hys ſeruaunts to take Achior, & to cary him vnto Bethulia, and to delyuer hym into the handes of the chylderen of Jſrael. Then Holophernes ſeruantes toke hym, and went thorow the playne feldes. But whē they drewe nye vnto the mountaies ỹ ſlyng caſters cam out agiſt thē

Neuer

Neuertheles they gat them awaye by the syde of the mountayne, and bound Achior hand and fote to a tree, and so left him bound & withyes and turned agayne vnto their Lorde.

Notwithstandynge the chyldren of Israel wente downe from Bethulia, cāe vnto him, lowsed hym, brought him to Bethulia, set him in the myddest of the people, and asked him what the matter was, that the Assyrians had lefte hym bounde.

Ostas the sonne of Mycha of the tribe of Symeon, and Charmim (which is also called Gothoniel) were the pryncipal rulers at the same tyme. Now when Achior stode in the myddest of the Senacoures, and before theim al he told thē what answer he gaue Holofernes to ỹ thinge that he asked hym/and how Holofernes people wold haue slayne hym for so saynge, and howe Holofernes hi selfe was wroth, and commaūded hym for the same cause to be delyuered vnto the Israelites: that whē he ouercame ỹ chyldren of Israel, he myghte commaunde Achior also to be put to death with dyuers tormentes, because he sayde: the God of heauen is their defender.

And when Achior had playnely tolde out all these thigs, all the People fell downe vpon their faces, prayeng the Lorde, and poured oute their praiers together vnto the Lorde, wyth a generall complaynte and weppynge, and said: O Lorde God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pryde, and loke vpon our lowlynes, and consydre how it standeth with thy saintes/ād make it to be knowen, that thou forsakest not those, which holde them fast by thee, and how that ỹ bryngest thē lowe, ỹ presume of them selues, and make their boost in their own strengthe. So when the weppynge and prayer of the people (whiche they had made the whole daye long) was ended, they comforted Achior, sayīg: The god of oure fathers, whose power & strēght thou hast praysed, shal so rewarde the, that thou shalt rather see theyre destruction. When the lord our god then shal geue hys seruauntes thys lyberty: god be also wyth thee amonge vs: so that it please thee, thou & thyne mayest dwel with vs.

Nowe when Osias had ended the councel, he toke him into his house, and made a greate supper, called the elders to it, and so they refreshed thē selues after the fasting. And afterwarde was al the people called together/which made their prayers al the nyght longe in the congregacion, and besought the god of Israel for help.

¶ Bethulia is beseged of Holofernes. The people requireth help of god. Thei of Bethulia wold geue ouer the cyte for wāt of water. The praier of ỹ people with teares and lamētacion.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

The nexte daye, Holofernes commaūded his host, to go vp agaynst Betulia. There were an. C. & xx. M. fightīg men on fote, and two & twēty thousande horsemen, besyde the preparing of theim that were wonne: and came to them on euery side out of ỹ cōtrees and cyties which he had taken. Al these prepared them selues vnto the battel agaynst the Israelites, and cam on by the hil side, vnto the toppe that loketh ouer agaynst Dothaim, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon that lyeth toward Esdrelon.

Now when the children of Israel sawe so greate a multitude of the Assirians they fel downe flat vpon ỹ ground, strawed asshes vpon theyr heades and prayed with one accord, that ỹ god of Israel wolde shew his mery vpō hys people. And so they toke their wepōs, and sat betwixt the mountaines in the narow place, & kept ỹ waie daie & night. But while Holofernes was goig about he founde the water spring, which from the South syde was conueied into the cyte by a cōdite: this commaūded he to be dyrect another waye, and to cut ther condyte in sonder. There were welles also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretly more for pleasure then for necessyte.

Then went the Ammontes and the Moabytes vnto Holofernes/and sayd: the childrē of Israel trust nether in spere nor arow, but haue takē in and kepte ỹ mountaynes & hylles. That ỹ mayst ouercom thē therfore wythoute the stryking of any battayl/set mē to kepe the welles, that they drawe no water out of them: so shalt thou destroye them without swerde, or at the least they shal be so feable, that they muste be fayne to geue ouer the cite, which they thinke not able to be wonne/for so moche as it lyeth in the mountaynes. These wordes plesed Holofernes wel, and al his men of warre and he set an hundred men at euery wel rounde about.

welles

And when this watch had endured twentye dayes/that Cisternes and all that had water, fayled them that dwell in the cytye of Bethulia, so that in that whole cyte they had not dronken ynough for one dai/ for the people had water geuen them daylyin a measuer Thē came the men and wemen yonge persōnes and children al vnto Ozias ādsayde al with one voyce: God be iudge betwyxte vs and the, for ỹ hast dealt euell wt vs: thou wouldest not speake peceable with the kyng of the Assyrians therfore hath God solde vs in their handes and there is noman to helpe vs where as we are brought downe before there eyes in thirst and greate destruccyone/ Therfore gather yow together al thee people that be in the cyte, that we maye al yelde oure selues willingly vnto the people of Holofernes: for better it ys ỹ we be captytyue and prayse the Lord wt our lyues, then to be slayne and perishe and to be laughed to scorne & shamed of euery man when we se oure wiues and children dye before our eyes. We take heauen and erth t this daye to recoarde and the God of oure fathers (whiche punyscheth vs according to the deseruyng of oure sinnes) and geue you warnynge, that ye geue vp the cyte now in to the power of Holofernes hoost, that our ende maye be shorte wt the swerde, whych els shal endure long for wāt of water ād for thirst.

When they had spoke out these wordes, there was a greate wepyng & howlyng in the whole congregacion, ād that of euery man, and they cryed an whole houre longe vnto God with one voyce, saiēg: we haue sined with our fathers, we haue don amis, we haue dealte wickedly.

Thou that art gracious haue mercy vpon vs, punish oure vnrighteousnes wt thyne owne scourge, and geue not those ouer that knowledge thee/ vnto a people whiche knoweth thee not, least they say among the heythen: where is their God?

And when they were so wery wyth this cryeng and wepiug, that they held their tonges, Ozyas stode vp wyth watery eyes, and sayde: O take good hertes vnto you (dere bretheren) and bee of good cheare, and let vs wayte yet these fyue dayes for mercye of the Lorde: peradventure he shall cut away hys indignacion/ and geue glory vnto hys name. But if he helpe vs not when these fyue dayes are past/ we shall doo as ye haue sayde.

¶ Of ỹ vertuous womā Judith, which reproueth the auncientes because they tempted the lord. She also moueth thē to encorage herden ỹ people, and sheweth her coūcel agaynst ỹ enemies of ỹ Jewes.

The. viii. Chaper.

A And it happened when these wordes cam to the eares of Judith a wyddowe, which was the daughter of Merary, The sonne of Idor/ the sonne of Joseph/ the sonne of Oziah, the sone of Elai, the sonne of Jaimor, the sonne of Jedeon, the sonne of Raphoim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sunne of Euam, the sonne of Nathonia, the sonne of Salathyell the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben. And her husbād was called Manasses, which dyed in the dayes of the barley haruest.

B For whyle he was byndynge the sheaues together in the felde, the heate came vpon hys hed, and he dyed at Bethulya his citie, and there was he buryed beside his fathers. Now was Judith hys desolate wyddowe three yeares ād syxe monethes. And in the hyer portes of her house she made her selfe a pryuy chamber, where she dwelt beinge closed in with her maydens. She ware a sinock of heatre, and fasted all the dayes of her lyfe, excepte the Sabbathes, and newe moones, and the solempne dayes that ỹ people of Israell kept. She was a beautye fayre and bewtyfull parson. Her husbande also, had lefte her gret rychesplentyous plenteous houshold, greate vnmoueable possessions and many catel. This Judith was a woman of a very good repoꝛt wyth euery one, foꝛ she feared the Loꝛde greatly, and there was no body/that spake an euell woꝛde of her.

When this Judith herde, how Ozias had promysed the people, that after the fyfte daye he woulde geue vp the cytie vnto the Assyrians/she sentfoꝛ the elders Chambꝛi and Charmyn, & when they cam to her, she sayde: what thynge is this, wheryn Ozias hathe consented, that yf God helpe not wythyn fyue dayes, he wyl geue ouer the citie to the Assyrians: What are ye, that ye tempte the Loꝛde? This deuice obtaineth no mercy of God, but pꝛouoketh hi vnto wꝛath & displeasur. Wyl ye set the mercy of ỹ Loꝛde a time and appointe him a daye after your wil? Neuertheles, foꝛ so moch as the Loꝛde is pacyent, lett vs rather amende oure selues, pourynge out teares, and besechyng him of grace. Foꝛ God thꝛeateneth not as a mã, nether wyl he be pꝛouoked vnto wꝛathe as the childꝛen of men. And therfoꝛe let vs hertely fall downe befoꝛe hi, & serue hym wt a meke spꝛete, and wyth wepinge eyes, saye vnto the Loꝛde, that he deale with vs accoꝛding to hys owne wyll and mercy: that lyke as our herte is now vexed, and bꝛought lowe thoꝛow the pꝛyde of them/ it maye so be comforted thꝛow hys grace: in so muche as we folow not the synnes of our fathers, whych foꝛsoke their GOD, and woꝛshipped other GODDES: foꝛ the whyche synne they perished with ỹ swerd, were spoyled ād bꝛought to shame of al their enemies. As foꝛ vs, we know non other God but only him, foꝛ whose comfoꝛt let vs tary with mekenesse. He shall require and make iquisiciõ foꝛ our bloud, from the vexacions of our enemyes: he shal bꝛynge downe al the Heythen, that ryse vp agaynste vs, and put theym to dishonoure, euen the loꝛde our god.

Therfoꝛe deare bꝛethꝛen, seyng ye are the honoꝛable and elders in the people of God, vnto whome all the people haue respecte, and vpon whom the lyfe of the people standeth, lyft vp their hertes with your exoꝛtacion, that they may cal to remembꝛaunce, how oure fathers also in tymes paste were tempted, that they might be pꝛoued, if they woꝛshypped their god a ryght. They oughte to remembꝛe/howe oure father Abꝛahã beynge tempted/and tryed thoꝛow many trybulacions, was founde a louer & frende of God: So was Isaac, so was Jacob, so was Moses, and al they ỹ pleased god/beynge tryed thoꝛow many troubles/were founde stedfast in fayth: agayn they ỹ receaued not their tẽtacions with the feare of god, but put them selues foꝛth with vnpacyency ād murmuring agaynste god perishe of ỹ destroyer, and were slayne of serpentes. And therfoꝛe should not we vndertake to be auenged, foꝛ the thing that is don vnto vs: but to cõsydꝛe, that al these punishmentes are farre lesse then our synnes and mysdedes. Beleuing also/ that this coꝛrecciyon commeth vnto vs (as to the seruaunts of God) foꝛ a meddiment, and not foꝛ our destruccion.

Then sayde Ozeas and the elders vnto Judith: All that thou speakest/is true, and no man can repꝛoue thy woꝛdes. Pꝛay thou foꝛ vs now therfoꝛe vnto god, foꝛ ỹ art an holy woman, & feaꝛest god. And Judyth sayde vnto them, Seynge ye knowe, that my woꝛdes are of God, then pꝛoue my counsel and deuyce, if it be of God: & beseche God, that he wil bꝛinge my councell to good ende.

Thus haue I deuysed: Ye shall stande this night befoꝛe the poꝛte, and I wyl go foꝛth with Abꝛa my mayden: Pꝛay ye therfoꝛe vnto god, that he wil graciously remembꝛe the people of Israel within fiue dayes, as ye haue said. As foꝛ the thynge that I goo yn hande wyth all, aske ye questions of yt, tyll I open it vnto you my selfe: doo ye nothinge els but pꝛaie vnto the loꝛd your GOD foꝛ me. Then Ozias the pꝛince of the People of Juda sayde vnto her: Go thy waie in peace and the Loꝛde be with thee, that we maye be auenged of our enemyes. And so they went from her agayne.

¶ The pꝛayer of Judith foꝛ the victoꝛy.

The

The.ix. Chapter.

NOw when they were gone their waye/ Judith went into her oratory, put on an heayre smocke, strowed ashes vpon her hed/ fel downe before the lord, and cried vnto him, sayenge: O Lord god of my father Symeon, which gauest him a sweard for a defence agaynst ỹ enemies, that vsed violence and wylfulnes, and that rauished the virgin and put her to dishonesty. Thou that gauest theyr wiues into a praye, and their daughters into captyuite, and al their praye for a spoile vnto thy seruauntes, which haue a zeale vnto the, helpe me widdow, O Lord my god I beseech the: For thou hast done al thinges from the beginning, and loke what thou haste taken in hande and deuysed, it came euer to passe. For al thy wayes ar prepared, ād thy iudgmētrs are done in thy euerlastinge for knowledge. O loke now vpon the armes of the Assiryans, lyke as yt was thy pleasure some tyme to loke vpon the host of the Egyppcyans, when they being weaponed, persecuted thy seruaunts, & put their trust i their charettes, horsmen and in ỹ multitude of theyr men of warre. But ỹ lokest vppon their hoost casting a thycke darcknes before them: and when theye came into the depe, ỹ waters ouer whelmed them.

Euen so Lord let it go with these that trust in the power of the multitud of their men of warre, in their charettes, arowes and speares, and knowe not/ ỹ thou only art our god, whych destroyest warres from the beginning, and ỹ thou art the Lord. O lyfte vp the arme nowe lyke as euer from the begynninge, and i thy power bryng ther power to naught cause their myght to fal in thy wrath. They make ther boast, that they wil vnhalow and defyle thy Sāctuary, and to wast ỹ tabernacle of thy name & to caste downe the horne of thine aulter wᵗ their swerde. Bryng to passe (O Lord) that the pryde of the enemy maie be cut downe with his owne sword that he maye be taken wyth the snare of hys eyes in me and that thou maiest smite theym with the lyppes of my loue. O geue me a stedfast mynde, that I may despyse hi and hys strenght, and that I maye destroy hym.

Thys shall bryngе thy name an euerlastinge remembraunce/ yf the hande of a womā ouerthrow hym For thy power (O Lorde) standeth not in the power of men, neyther hast thou anye pleasure in the strenght of horses. There was neuer proude persoune that pleased thee, but in the prayer of the humble and meake hath thy pleasure bene euermore.

O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, & Lord of all creatures, heare me poore woman, callynge vpon the, and put tyng my trust in thy mercye. Remembre thy couenaunte O Lorde, and myntster wordes in my mouthe, and stablysh this deuyce in my hert, that thy house maye contynue stil in holynesse, and that all the Heathen maye know and vnderstand, that thou arte God, and that there is none other but thou.

¶ Judith decketh hir self to go to Holofernes. The blessing that the elders gaue Judith. Holofernes is in loue with Judyth.

The.x. Chapter.

AND whan she had lefte of cryenge vn to the Lorde, she rose vp from the place, where she had lyen flatte before the Lorde, and called her mayd, wente downe in to her house, layed the heartie cloth from her, put of the garmentes of her wyddowhode, washed her bodye, anoynted hir self wyth precious thinges of swete sauour, broyded and plated her heare, set an hoode vpon hir heade, and put on soche apparel as belongeth vnto gladnesse, slippers vpon her fete, armelettes, spanges, earynges, finger rynges, and decked her self wᵗ al her best araye.

The Lord gaue her also a specyal beutie and fairnesse (for al this deckig of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnes and pleasure of the flesh, but of a ryght discression and duty, therfore did the lorde encrease her bewtye) so ỹ she was exceading amiable and wel fauoured i al mennes eyes. She gaue hir maide also a bottel of wyne, a pot wyth oyle, pottage, cake bred and chese/ and went her waye,

Now

B Now whan she came to the porte of the cytye, she founde Osias and therelders of the cite waytinge there, Wh̄yche when they sawe her, they were astonied, and marueled greatly at her bewtye, neuertheles they axed no questyon at her, but let her go/sayinge: The god of oure father geue the his grace, ād' w̄ his power performe al the deuice of thy hert: that Jerusalem maye reioyce ouer the, and that thy name maye be in ỹ nōber of the holy and righteous. And al they that were there, saide w̄ one voyce: so be it, so be it. Judith made her praier vnto the Lord, & went out at the porte, she and her mayde.

And as she was going downe the mountayn, yt happened that about the springe of the daye, the spyes of the Assiryans met w̄ her, and toke her, sayeinge: from whence commest thou? Or whither goest thou? She answered: I am a daughter of the Hebrues, & am fled from them, for I know, that they shalbe geuen vnto you to be spoyled: because they thought scorne to yeld them selues vnto you, that they myght fynd mercy in your sight. Therfore haue I deuised by my selfe after this maner: I wyl go before the prince Holofernes, and tel him al their secretes, and wil shewe him, how he may com to thē, & winne them, so that not one man of his hoste shal perish.

And when these mē had herde her C wordes, and cōsidered her fayr face they were astonied (for they wondred at her excellent bewtie) and layde vnto her: Thou haste saued thy life by fyndynge out this deuice, that thou wolcst come downe to our lorde: and be thou sure, ỹ when thou commest vnto him, he shal i treate the wel, and thou shalt please hī at the hert. So they brought her into Holofernes pauylion/and tolde him of her: Now when she came in before hym, immediatly he was ouercome and taken with her bewty. Then sayde his seruauntes: who wolde dispyse the people of the Jewes that haue so faire wemē? Shoulde we not by reason fight agaynst them for these? So whē Judith saw Holofernes lyeing in a canapy/that was wrought of purple, silcke, goulde/ Smaragde and precious stones, she loked fast vpon hym, and fell downe vpō the earth, and Holofernes seruauntes toke her vp agayne, at theyr Lordes cōmaundement.

Holofernes requireth of Juda the cause of her comming, which geueth hym a subtill answer.

The.xi. Chapter.

A Then saide Holofernes vnto her: be of good cheare, & feare not in thine herte, for I neuer hurt man, that wolde serue Nabuchadonosor ỹ kyng. As for thy People/yf they had not despised me. I should not haue lift vp a speare agaynst them. But tell me now, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, & wherfore art thou come vnto vs.

And Judith sayde vnto hym: Syr/ vnderstande the woordes of thy handmayden: for if thou wylte doo after the woordes of thy handmayden, the Lorde shall bringe thy matter to a prosperous effecte. As truly as Nabuchodonosor a Lorde of the lande lyueth/and as truly as hys power lyueth, whych is in ỹ, to the punishement of all men that doo wronge, all men shall not onely be subdued vnto hym thorowe thee, but al the beastes also of the felde. For all people speake of thy prudente captiuitie/and it hath euer bene reported, how thou only art good and myghtie in all hys kyngdome, and thy discretion is commended in all landes.

The thynge is manifest also, that Achior spake, and it is wel knowen, what thou commaūdedst to do vnto him. For B thys is playne and of a suerty, that our God is so wroth wyth vs (by the reason of oure synnes) that he hath shewed by hys prophetes vnto the people / how ỹ for oure synnes he wyll delyuer them ouer vnto the enemye. And for so muche as the chylderen of Israell knowe that they haue so displeased theyr god, they are sore afrayde of thee.

They suffre great honger also/ and for wante of water, they are dead nowe in a manner. Moreouer they are apointed to slay all theyr catel/that they mai drincke the bloud of them: and are purposed, to spende al the holy ornamentes

of

theyr God(whiche he hathe forbydden them to touche) for corne wyne, and oyle. Seing now that thei do these thiges, it is a playne case, that they must nedes be destroyed. Wherfore when I thy hādmayden perceaued/ I fled from them, and the Lorde hath sent me vnto the, to shew the these thinges. For I thy handmayden worshippe God euen here nowe beside the, and thy handmayden shal go forth, and I will make mi prayer vnto God/ and he shal tel me, when he wil reward them their sinne: then shal I cōe and shewe the and bringe the thorow ỹ middest of Jerusalem, so that thou shalt haue al the people of Israel, as the shep
D without a shepherde: there shal not soo moche as one dogg barcke agaynst the for these thinges are shewed me by thee prouydence of God: and for so much as God is displesed with them, he hath sēt me to tell the the same.

These wordes pleased holofernes and al his seruauntes, which marueled at the wisdome of her, and sayde one to another: there is not soche a woman vpō earth, in bewtye and discrecyon of wordes. And Holofernes sayd vnto her: god hath done well, that he hath sent the hyther before thy people, that thou mayst geue them into oure handes. And for so moche as thy promesse is goodde, yf thy God perfourme it vnto me, he shalbe mi God also/ ād thou shalt be excellēt agre at inȳ court of Nabuchodonosor, ād thy name shalbe spoken of in all the lande.

¶ Holophernes commaunded ỹ Judith kewel intreated. She desireth licence to go out in the nigyt season to praye, & obtayneth it. Vagao is sēt vnto her to moue her to come in to Holofernes to a banket, and she commeth. Holofernes is dyoncke.

The.xii. Chapte .

A THen commaūded he her to go in, where hys treasue repaye, and charged that shee sholde haue her dwellynge there, and appoynted what should be geuen her from his table, Judith answered him, and sayde: As for the meate that thou hast commaunded to geue me, I maye not eate of it as yow (lest I displease my god) but wil eat of soche as I haue brought wyth me.

Then sayde Holofernes/ vnto her: If these thiges that thou hast brought wyth thee fayle, what shall we do vnto the? and Judith sayd: As truly as thou lyuest my Lorde, thy handmayden shall not spende all thys/ tyll God haue brought to passe in my hande, the thynges that I haue deuised. B

So hys seruauntes brought her in to the tent, where as he had appointed. And as she was goinge in, she desyred that she myght haue leaue to go forthe by nyght and before day, to her prayer and to make intercession vnto the lord. Then commmaunded Holofernes hys chamberlaynes, that she shoulde go out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto god those three dayes.

And so in the nyght season she wēte forth into the valley of Bethulya, and washed her selfe in well water. Then went she vp, ād besought the Lord god of Israell that he woulde prosper her waye, for the delyueraunce of hys people. And so she wente in and remayned cleane in her tente, tyll she toke her meate in the euenynge. C

Upon the fourth daye it happened, that Holofernes made a costlye supper vnto hys seruauntes, and sayde vnto Vagao hys Chamberlayne: Go thy waye and counsel thys hebreuesse/ that she maye be wylling to consent to kepe company wyth me. For it were a shame vnto all the Assirians/ that a womanne shoulde so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come frō hym vnmedled wyll.

Then wente Vagao vnto Judith & sayde: Let not the good daughter be afrayed, to come into my Lorde, that she maye be honoured before hym that she maye eate and drinke wyne/ and be mery wyth hym. Unto whome Judith answered: Who am I, that I should say my Lorde nay? what soeuer is good before hys eyes/ I shal do it: & loke what D is hys pleasure, that shall I thynck well done/ as longe as I lyue.

So she stode vp, and decked her selfe wyth her apparell, and wente in, and stode before hym. And Holofernes herte was whol moued/ so that he brent in desyre towarde her. And Holofernes sayde vnto her: drincke nowe and sytt downe, and be merye, for thou hast foūd fauoure before me: Then sayde Judith:

Syr I wyll drynck, for my mynd is me ryer to daye, then euer it was in all my lyke. And she toke and ate and dranke before hym, the thynges that her mayd en had prepared for her. And holofernes was mery with her, and dranke more wine, then euer he did afore in hys lyfe.

Holofernes sleped for very dronkennes, Judith cut teth of his heade, and goeth therwith to her owne people: of whome she is receaued with ioy. They gene thākes vnto God, for their delyuraūce. Judith speaketh vnto Achior, which marueled at her feate done to Holofernes.

The xiii. Chapter.

A NOw when yt was late in ỹ nyght hys seruauntes made haste euerye man to hys lodgyng. And Vagao shut ỹ chambre dore, and wente hys way, for they were all ouerladen wt wyne. So was Judith alone in the chāber. As for Holofernes he laye vppon ỹ bed all dronncken / and of verye dronckennes fell a slepe.

Then commaunded Judith her maydē to stonde without before the dore / and to wayte. And Judith stoode before the bed, making her prayer wyth teares, & moued her lyppes secretlye, saīd: Strengthen me O Lord God of Israell, and haue respect vnto the workes of my hādes in thys houre, that thou mayest set vp thy Citie of Jerusalem lyke as thou hast promised: O graunte that by the I maye performe the thynge, whyche I haue diuised thorowe the beleue that I haue in thee.

B And when she had spoken this, she went to the bedsteade, and lowsed the swerde that hanged vpō it, and drew it out. Then toke she holde of the heayrye lockes of his heade, and sayde: Strengthen me O Lord God in thys houre: ād wyth that, she gaue hym two strokes vpon the necke, and smote of his head. Then toke she the canapy awaye, and rolled the deed body aslyde. Immediatly she gat her forth, and delyuered the head of Holofernes vnto her mayden, ād bad her put it in her walet. And so these two went forth together after their custome, as though they wold pray and so passed by the Hoost, and cam thorow the valley vnto the port of the cyte. And Judith cryed afarre of vnto the watchmen vppon the walles:

Open the geates (sayde she) for god is wt vs whiche hath shewed his power in Israel. And when they harde her voyce they called the elders of the cyte together And they came all to mete her lytil and greate younge ād olde, for they thought not that she shulde haue come so soone: So they lyghted candels, and gathered aboute her euerychone: but she wente vp into an hey place, and caused sylence to be proclamed.

When euery man now held his tōg Judith sayde: O prayse the Lorde oure god for he hath not despysed / nor forsakē thē / that put their trust in him: and in me his handmayde he hath performed his mercy, which he promysed vnto the hoste of Israel: yee in my hand this same nyght hath he slayne the enemye of hys people.

And with that she toke forth ỹ head of Holofernes out of the wallet and shewed it them, saying: Behold the head of Holofernes the captayne of the Assirias and this is the canapy, wherin he laye in his dronkennes: where the Lorde oure god hath slayne hym by the hande of a woman.

But as truly as the Lord lyueth his Aungel hath kepte me, goinge thither, remaynyng there and comming hether agayn from thence. And the Lorde hath not suffred me his handmayden to be defyled, but without any fylthynes of sīne hath he brought me agayn vnto you: ād that with great victory, so that I am escaped, and ye delyuered. O geue thākes vnto him euerychone / for he is gracios and his mercy endureth for euer.

So they prayed the Lord altogether and gaue thankes vnto him. And to her they sayde: The Lord hath blessed thee in his power / for thorowe thee he hathe brought oure enemyes to naughte. And Ozias ther chefe ruler of the People of Israel, sayde vnto her: Blessed art thou of the Lorde the hye God, a boue all wemen vpon erth.

Blessed be the lord, the maker of heauen and earth, which hath gyded the aryght to wound and to smite of the head of the Captayne of oure enemyes. For this day he hath made thy name so horryble ỹ thy prayse shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shal alway remembre the power of the lord: seing thou hast not spared thine owne self, but put thee in ieopardy, considring the anguysche and trouble of thy people, and so hast helped their fal before God our lord. And al the people sayde: Amen Amen.

Achior also was called, and he cãe Then sayde Judith vnto hi: The god of Israel vnto whom thou gauest witnes, that he woulde be auenged of hys enemies, euen he hath thys night thorowe my hande smitten of the head of al the vnfaithful. And that thou maiist se that it so is, beholde thys ys ỹ head of Holofernes, which in his presumtuous pryde despised the God of the people of Israel, and threatened the wyth destruccion, saying: when the people of Israel is taken, I shal cause thee also to be slyckte with the swearde.

Whẽ Achior saw Holofernes head, he fell downe vpon his face to the grounde for very anguysh and feare, so that he sownded withal. But after that he was come agayne to hym selfe, he fell downe before her, & prayed her, saiẽg: Blessed art thou of thy God in al the tabernacles of Jacob: for al the people that heare of thy name, shal prayse the God of Israel because of the.

¶ The counsel of Judith. Achior being an heathen man turneth to God. The Assyrians are afraid of the Jewes.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

JUdith sayde vnto all the people: brethren heare me. Stycke vp thys head vpon your walles, and when the sonne aryseth, take euery man his weapon, and sal out violently: not as though ye wolde go best them, but renne vpon them, with violence. When the spyes in the tentes se thys, they shal of necessite be compelled to flie backward and to rayse vp their captayne to the battel. So when their captaines com into Holofernes pauilyon, and fynd ỹ dead body wrapped in the blud, fearfulnes shall fall vppon theym: and when ye perceyue that they flie, folowe theym without al care, for god shal deliuer thẽ vnto you, to be destroyed.

Then Achior seyng the power of god which he hath shewed vnto the people of Israel, fel from his Heathenysh beleife, and put his trust in God, and let him selfe be circumcised: ãd so was he nombred among the peple of Israel, he and al his posterite vnto this dat.

Now as soone as it was daye, they stycke vp Holofernes head vppon the walles, and euery man toke his wepe, & so they went out with an horrible cry. When the spies sawe that, they ranne vnto Holofernes tente. And they that were within the tente, came before his chamber, and made a greate rustlinge to wake him vp/ because they thought wyth the noyse to haue raysed hym. For there durst not one of the Assirias knocke, go in or open.

But when the captaynes and prynces and all the cheefe in the kynge of the Assyrias hoost came together, they sayde vnto the chamberlaynes: Go your way in, and wake him vp, for thee myse are crepte out of their holes, and darre prouoke vs vnto battayll. Then wente Bagao in to hys chamber, stode before the bed, and clapped wyth hys handes, for he thought he had ben slepyng wyth Judith. But when he had herkened perfectly with hys eares, and coude perceaue no sterynge, he wente nyer to the bed & lift it vp, & thẽ saw he the ded body of Holofernes lieng there without a head weltred in hys bloude vpon the earth. Then cryed he wythe loude voyce and wyth weping rent hys clothes/ and wẽt into Judiths tent, and founde her not. And so he lepte out vnto the people, & sayde: one woman of the Jewes, hathe brought all Nabuchodonosors people to shame. For lo Holofernes lyeth vpon the ground and hath no head.

When the cheefe of the assirians hoost herde that, they rent theyr clothes, and there fell an innumerable feare and trẽbling vpon them/ so that theyr myndes were sore afrayed. And there was an exceedinge greate crye in the whole hoost.

¶ The flyght of ỹ Assirians, The pursute of Israel after them. Israel becometh ryche by the spoyles of the Assirians. Judith is prayed of Joacim and of the people.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

NOw when al the hoſt heard that holofernes was heded their mynd and councel fell frome them: and ſoche a fea re came vpon thē, that they vndertoke to defende them ſelues by fli eng away: one ſpake not to another, but hanged down their heades, left al behid them, and made haſt to eſcape from the Hebrues: for they hearde, that they were haſtyng to come after with their wepēs/ & ſo they fled by the wayes of ỹ feldes, & thorowe al the fote pathes of the dales. And when the children of Iſrael ſawe ỹ B they fled, they folowed vpon thē, & wēt downe with trompettes, blowyng & ma kyng a great crie after them. As for the Aſſyryans, they had no ordre, and kept not them ſelues together, but fled their waye. Neuertheleſſe the children of Iſ rael fel vppon them with one company and ordre/ and diſconfetede as manyas they myght get. And Oſeas ſēt meſſaū gers vnto al the cities and countres of Iſrael.

C So al the regions and euery cytie ſent out their beſt men after them in harneſ ſe/ and ſmote them with the ſwerde, tyll they came to the vttermoſt part of theyr borders. And the other that were in Be thulya came into ỹ tentes of the Aſſyriās and toke al that they whych were fleode had left behynd them, and ſo they foūde great good. And they that came agayne to Bethulya from the battel, toke wt thē ſoch thīgs as had bē thers, thet was no nombre of the cattel, and of all coſtly Je wels/ ſo that from the loweſt vnto thee hyeſt they were al made ryche of the ſpoi les of them. And Joachim the hyepreſt at Jeruſalem, came to Bethulya withal the elders, that they myghte ſe Judyth.

D Now when ſhe came out vnto thē they begane al to prayſe her with one voyce, ſayenge: thou worſchyppe of thee cyte of Jeruſalem/ thou ioye of Iſrael/ ỹ hono ure of our people, thou haſt done manly and thy hert is comforted/ becauſe thou haſt loued clenlynes and chaſtytee, and haſt knowē no man but thine owne huſ band: therfor hath the hand of the Lord comforted the, and bleſſed ſhalt thou be for euer. And all the people ſayd: ſo be it ſo be it.

In thyrtie dayes coulde the people of Iſrael ſcarce gather vp the ſpoyles of the Aſſirians. But al that belonged vnto holofernes, and had bene hys ſpe cyally (whether it were of golde, of ſyl uer, pꝛecious ſtones, clothinge and all ornaments) they gaue it vnto Judith. And al the people reioyſed, both womē, maydens/ and yong people wyth pypes and harpes.

The ſonge of Judith for the victorye: After the vic torye obtayned, the people commeth to Jeruſalem to worſhyppe and prayſe god.

The. xvi. Chapter.

THen ſonge Judith thys ſon A ge vnto the Lorde: Begyn vnto the Lorde vpon the ta bꝛettes, ſynge vnto the lorde vpon the cymbales. O ſin ge vnto hym a newe ſonge of thanckeſ geuinge, be ioyfull and call vppon hys name. It is the Lorde that deſtroyeth warres, euen the Lorde is his name. Which hath pitched hys Tentes in the myddeſte of his People, that he might delyuer vs from the hande of al oure e nemyes. Aſſur came out of the mountay nes, in the multitud of hys ſtrenght. His B peop le ſtopped the water bꝛookes, and theyr horſes coured the valleys. He pur poſed to haue bꝛent vp my lande, and to ſleye my ponge men with the ſwerde. He wolde haue caryed awaye my chylde ren and birgyns into captiuitee, but the almightie Lorde hurte hym, and deliue red hym into the handes of a woman, whych bꝛought hym to confuſyon. For theyr mightie was not deſtroyed of ỹ ponge men. It was not the ſonnes of ti tan that ſlewe hym, nether haue the gre ate gyauntes ſet them ſelues agaynſt hi but Judith the doughter of Merari w her fayr bewtye hath diſcomfyted hym and bꝛought hym to naughte. For ſhe layrd away her widdowes garment and C put on the apparell of gladnes in the re ioyſinge of the chylderen of Iſrael: ſhe anointed her face, and bound vp her her re in an hoode to begyle hym. Her lip pers rauiſhed hys eyes/ her bewtye cap tiuated hys mynde, & the ſwerde ſmote ſhe of hys neck. The perſians were aſto nied at her ſtedfaſtnes, & ỹ medes at her boldnes. Thē houled ỹ armis of ỹ aſſyri ās/ whē myſiple appeared dꝛy of thirſt

The

B The sonnes of the daughters haue persed them thorow, and slayne them as fugityue chyldren: they perysshed in the battayll, for the very feare of the Lord my God. Let vs synge a songe of thanksgeuynge vnto the Lorde, a new songe of prayse wyl we syng vnto our god. Lorde, Lorde, thou arte a great God, myghtye in power, whom noma may ouercome. All the creatures shuld serue the: for thou spakest but the word, and they were made: thou sentest the spyryte, and they were created, and no man can withstande thy voyce. The mountaynes shall moue from the foundacyons with the waters, the stony rockes shall melt before the lyke wax. But they that feare the: shalbe greate withe thee in all chynges. Woo vnto the people that ryse vp agaynst my generacyon, for the Almyghtye Lorde wyll auenge hym selfe of them, and in the daye of iudgement wyll he vysett them. For he shall geue fyre and wormes in to ther flesh, that they may burne and fele it for euermore. After this it happned, that after the victori all the people came to Jerusalem, to geue prayse and thanckes vnto the Lorde. And when they were puryfyed, they offred all their brent sacrifices and ther promysed offrings. And Judith offred all Holofernes Weapens, and all the Jewels, that the people had geuen her, and the canappe that she toke from his bed, and hanged them vp vnto the Lorde. The people was ioyfull, as the vse is: and this ioy by reason of the victory wyth Judith, endured three monethes. So after these dayes euery man went home agayne, and Judith was in great reputacyon at Bethulia, and right honorably taken in all the lād of Israell.

D Unto her vertue also was chastitee ioyned, so that after her husbande Manasses dyed, she neuer knew man al the dayes of her lyfe. Upon the hye solempne dayes she went out wythe greate worshyp. She dwelt in her husbands house an hundreth and fyue yeare, and left her handmayde free, and dyed, and was buryed besyde her husband in Bethulia. And all the people mourned for her seuen dayes. So longe as she lyued, ther was none that troubled Israell, and many yeares also after her deathe.

The daye wherin this victory was gotten, was solempnely holden, and reckened of the Jewes in the nombre of the holy dayes, and it is yet greatly holden of the Jewes euer sence, vnto thys day

The ende of the boke of Judith.

¶ The reste of

The Chapters of the boke of Esther which are nether founde in the Hebrue nor in the Chalde.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

❧ The.xi. Chapter after the latyne.

MArdocheus the sonne of Jair the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Ciset of the tribe of Benjamyn a Jewe: whych had hys dwellinge in Susis, a man of greate reputacion, and excellent amonge all them that were in the kynges court. (Neuertheles he was one of the prysoners whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had caried awaye from Jerusalem vnto Babylon wyth Jechonias the kynge of Juda). In the second yeare of the raygne of great Artaxerses in the fyrst day of the Moneth Nisan, had this mardocheus such a dreame: He thought he herde a great tempest, horrible thonder clappes, erthquakes, and great vproare in the lande: and that he sawe two greate dragons ready to fyght one agaynst an another. Their cry was great at the whych roaringe / and crye all the heathen were vp, to fight against the rightuous people. And the same Daye was full of darcknes and derke vncleare, full of trouble and anguysh / yea a greate fearefulnesse was there in the lande. The rightuous were amased for they feared the plage & the euell, that was deuysed ouer the and were at apointe wyth them selues to dye, so they cryed vnto god: and whyle they were cryeng, the lytell well grewe into a gret ryuer and into many waters And vpon that it was day, & the sunne rose vp agayne. And the lowly were exalted and deuoured the glorious & proud

B The sonnes of the daughters haue persed them thorow, and slayne them as fugityue chyldren: they perysshed in the battayll, for the very feare of the Lord my God. Let vs synge a songe of thanksgeuynge vnto the Lorde, a new songe of prayse wyl we syng vnto our god. Lorde, Lorde, thou arte a great God, myghtye in power, whom noma̅ may ouercome. All the creatures shuld serue the: for thou spakest but the word, and they were made: thou sentest the spyryte, and they were created, and no man can withstande thy voyce. The mountaynes shall moue from the foundacyons with the waters, the stony rockes shall melt before the lyke wax. But they that feare the: shalbe greate withe thee in all chynges. Woo vnto the people that ryse vp agaynst my generacyon, for the Almyghtye Lorde wyll auenge hym selfe of them, and in the daye of iudgement wyll he vysett them. For he shall geue fyre and wormes in to ther flesh, that they may burne and fele it for euermore. After this it happned, that after the victori all the people came to Jerusalem, to geue prayse and thanckes vnto the Lorde. And when they were puryfyed, they offred all their brent sacrifices and ther promysed offrings. And Judith offred all Holofernes Weapens, and all the Jewels, that the people had geuen her, and the canappe that she toke from his bed, and hanged them vp vnto the Lorde. The people was ioyfull, as the vse is: and this ioy by reason of the victory wyth Judith, endured three monethes, So after these dayes euery man went home agayne, and Judith was in great reputacyon at Bethulia, and right honorably taken in all the lād of Israell.

D Unto her vertue also was chastitee ioyned, so that after her husbande Manasses dyed, she neuer knew man al the dayes of her lyfe. Upon the hye solempne dayes she went out wythe greate worshyp. She dwelt in her husbands house an hundreth and fyue yeare, and left her handmayde free, and dyed, and was buryed besyde her husband in Bethulia. And all the people mourned for her seuen dayes. So longe as she lyued, ther was none that troubled Israell, and many yeares also after her deathe.

The daye wherin this victory was gotten, was solempnely holden, and reckened of the Jewes in the nombre of the holy dayes, and it is yet greatly holden of the Jewes euer sence, vnto thys day

The ende of the boke of Judith.

¶ The reste of

The Chapters of the boke of Esther which are nether founde in the Hebrue nor in the Chalde.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

❧ The.xi. Chapter after the latyne.

MArdocheus the sonne of Jair the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Ciset of the tribe of Benjamyn a Jewe: whych had hys dwellinge in Susis, a man of greate reputacion, and excellent amonge all them that were in the kynges court. (Neuertheles he was one of the prysoners whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had caried awaye from Jerusalem vnto Babylon wyth Jechonias the kynge of Juda). In the second yeare of the raygne of great Artaxerses in the fyrst day of the Moneth Nisan, had this mardocheus such a dreame: He thought he herde a great tempest, horrible thonder clappes, erthquakes, and great vproare in the lande: and that he sawe two greate dragons ready to fyght one agaynst an another. Their cry was great at the whych roaringe / and crye all the heathen were vp, to fight against the rightuous people. And the same Daye was full of Darcknes and derke vncleare, full of trouble and anguysh / yea a greate fearefulnesse was there in the lande. The rightuous were amased for they feared the plage & the euell, that was deuysed ouer the and were at apointe wyth them selues to dye, so they cryed vnto god: and whyle they were cryeng, the lytell well grewe into a gret ryuer and into many waters And vpon that it was day, & the sunne rose vp agayne. And the lowly were exalted and deuoured the glorious & proud

Now whē Mardocheus had sene thys dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his herte, what god wolde do: ād so he desired to know al the matter, ād his mīud was therupon vntil the nyghte.

Mardocheus vttereth the treason deuised agaynst the king, and is therfore rewarded of hym.

The.xii.Chapter.

A Aty same time dwelt Mardocheus wt bagatha & tares ỹ kiges chāberlaines & porters of ỹ palace. But whē he herd their deuice, & had diligētly cōsidred ther imaginacīōs, he pceued ỹ they wēt about/to late ther cruel hādes vpō ỹ kig Artaxerses: ād so he certified the kinge therof. Thē caused ỹ kig to examē ỹ.ii, gelded wt tormētes. And whē they had confessed it, they were put to deth. Ths ỹ kig caused to be put i ỹ cronicles for ā euerlastig remēbrāce & mardocheus wrote vp ỹ same mater: so ỹ king cōmaūded ỹ mardocheus shuld do seruice i ỹ court, & for this faithfulnes of his, he gaue hī a reward. But Amā ỹ sōne of Amadathu ỹ Agagit which was holde i grete honor & reputacīō i the kinges courte vndertoke to hurte Mardocheus & his people, because of ỹ two chamberlaines ỹ were put to death

B

The coppye of the letters of Artaxerses agaynst the Iewes. The prayer of Mardocheus.

The.xiii.Chapter.

A The grete king Artaxerses which raigneth frō Indta vnto Ethiopia/ouer an. C & vii. & .xx lādes, sēdeth his frēdly salutatīō vnto all the pīces & debites of ỹ coūtres / which be subiect vnto his dominīō. Whē I was made lord ouer many people, & had subdued ỹ whole earth vnto my dominīō/ my mind was not wt crueltē & wrōg to exalt my self by ỹ resō of my power: but purposed wt equite alwat & gētilnes, to gouerne those ỹ be vnder my iurisdicci on, & wholy to set the i a peceable itle, & therby to brīg my kigdō vnto trāquilite, ỹ mē might safely go thorow on euery side & to renu peace agaīne, which al mē desire. Now whē I asked my coūcelers how these thīgs might be brought to a good end/ther was one by vs (excelēt i wisdō, whose good wil turneth, ād faithfulnes hath oft bene shewed & proued) Amā by name: which certifyed vs/ how ỹ i al lādes there was crepte i a rebellious folke, ỹ made statutes & lawes against al other pple, & haue alwaie despised ỹ proclaymed cōmaūdementes of kinges: & how ỹ for this cause it were not to be suffred, ỹ such rule shuld cōtinue by you & not to be put doune: seīge now we perceue ỹ same, ỹ this people alone ar cōtrary vnto euery mā/ vsīge straūg & other maner of lawes & wstād our statutes & doīges, & go about to stablish shrewd matters, ỹ our kigdō shulde come to good estate, ād stedfastnes: Therfore haue we cōmanded, ỹ al they ỹ are apointed i wrīting & shewed vnto you by Aman, shal wt their wiues & chil drē be destroyed & roted out wt ỹ swerd of their enemies & aduersaries: & ỹther shalbe no mercy shewed, ād no mā spared. And this shalbe done ỹ xiiii. day of ỹ moneth (called Adar) of thys yeare ỹ they which of old & now also haue euer bene rebellious, maie i one daie wt violēce be thrust doune into hel to ỹ itēty after this maner, our ēpire mai haue pece & trāquilite. But Marcheus thought vpō al ỹ workes & noble actes of ỹ lord & made his prayer vnto hī, saīg O lord lord/ỹ valiaunt and almyghtye kyng Thou knowest al thīnges, thou wotest Lorde, that it was nether of malyce/ner presumpcyon, ner for euell desir of glorī that I wold not bow downe my selfe ner worshyppe ponder proude presūptuous Aman (for I wolde haue bene content and that with good wyll, yf it myght haue don Israel eny good, to haue kist euē his foteppes) but that I dyd it, because I wolde not set the honoure of a man in ỹ stead of the glory of god, ād because I wold worshep non but only ỹ lord. And this haue I don i no pryde ner presūcīō

B

C

D

And therfore O Lorde thou God & kyng/ haue mercy vpon thy people for they ymagene how they maye bring vs to naught, ye their mynd and desyre is to destroye and to ouerthrowe ỹ people that hathe euer bene Thine Enheritaunce of old. O despyse not thy porcyon which thou hast deliuered & brought out of Egypt for thyne owne selfe. Hear my prayer, & be merciful vnto thi people, whom thou hast chosen for an heretage vnto thy selfe. Turne oure cōplaīt and sorowe into ioye, that we maye liue O Lorde, and prayse thy name. O Lord suffere not the mouthes of thē that praise the, to be destroyed.

Al the peple of Israel in like mãer cried as ernestly as they could vnto ỹ lord for ỹr deth & destruccyõ stod before thez eies
The prayer of Esther for the delyuerance of her & her people

The. xiiii. Chapter.

A QUene Esther also beyng in the battayl, of death, reioyced vnto the Lorde, layed awaye her gloryous apperell and put on the garmentes ỹ serued for sighyng and morning. In ỹ steade of precyous oyntmẽt, she scatered asshes & donge vpon her heade: and as for her body she humbled it, ãd brought it very lowe. All ỹ places wher she was wõt to haue ioye after those filled she wt the hearte that she plucte out her selfe. She prayed also vnto ỹ lord god of Israel wt these wordes. O my lord, ỹ only art our king help me desolate womã/ wt haue no helper but ỹ, for my misery & destructiõ is hard at my hand. From my youth vp I haue herd out of ỹ kired of my father, ỹ ỹ tokest Israel frõ amõg al peple ỹ they shuld be thy perpetual inheritãce, & loke what ỹ dydest promyse thẽ, ỹ hast made it good vnto thẽ. Now well lord, we haue sined before the, therfore hast ỹ geuẽ vs into the hãdes of our enmyes, because we worshyped their gods Lord ỹ art rightuous. Neuertheles it satisfyeth thẽ not, ỹ we ar in bitter & hey captiuitie & oppressed amõg thẽ, but ỹ hast layd their hãdes vpõ ỹ hãdes of their gods so ỹ they begin to take awai the thing ỹ ỹ wt thy mouth hast ordened & apointed: to destroy thin ẽheritãce, to shut ãd to stoppe the mouthes of thẽ ỹ prayse ỹ to quẽch ỹ glory ãd worship of thy house & thine aulter, & to opẽ ỹ mouthes of the heathen ỹ they maye prayse the power ãd vertu of ỹ goddes. and to magnifie the fleshly king for euer. O lorde geue not thy sceptre vnto thẽ ỹ be nothing, least they laugh vs to scorne in oure mysery and fall: but turne theyr deuices vpon them selues, & punish him ỹ hath begon the same ouer vs & set hi to an exãple. Thinck vpon vs O Lorde & shew thy self in the time of our distres and of oure trouble. Strength me O ỹ kinge of gods, ỹ lorde of all power: geue me an eloquent ãd plesãt spech in my mouth before the lyon. Turn his hert vnto ỹ hãde of our enemy/ to destroy hi and al such as cõsẽt vnto hi, but delyuer vs wt thy hand: ãd helpe me desolat womã which haue no defence ner helper but õly ỹ. Lord ỹ knowest al thiges, ỹ wotest ỹ I loue not the glory and worshyp of ỹ vnrighteous & that I hate & abhorre ỹ bed of the vncircũcised & of all heathen. Thou knowest & wottest my necessite, ỹ I hate ỹ tokẽ of my preeminence & worshyp which I beare vpõ my head, what time as I must shew my self & be sene ãd ỹ I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, ãd ỹ I weare it not whẽ I ã quiet & alone by my self. Thou knowest also ỹ I thy hãdmayde haue not eatẽ at Amãs table, & ỹ I haue had no pleasure nor delyte in the kiges feast, ỹ I haue not drõck ỹ drinck offringes ãd ỹ I thy hãdmaid haue had no ioye, sence ỹ day ỹ I was brought hether vnto this day, but õly in ỹ o lord: o ỹ god of Abraha, o ỹ might i god aboue al, here ỹ voice of thẽ/ ỹ haue non other hope ãd deliuer vs out of ỹ hãds of the wicked ãd deliuer me out of my feare.
Mardoch eus moueth Esther to go in to the kyng and make intersession of her people and she performeth his requeste.

The. xv. Chapter.

AND vpõ ỹ third date it happened ỹ hester laid awaie ỹ mornig garmẽts, ãd put on her glorypos aparel ãd deckt her selfe goodly (after ỹ she had called vpõ god, which is ỹ beholder ãd sautour of al thiges) toke ii. maydes with her: vppon the one she leaned her self, as one that was tender: the other folowed her, and bare the traine of her vesture. The shyne of her bewtie made her face rose colored. The symilitude of her face was cheareful ãd amiable but her hert was sorowfull for grete feare: She went in thorow all the dores ãd stod before ỹ king. The king sat vpõ ỹ troue of his kingdõe & was clothed in his goodly arat, al of gold, ãd set wt precius stones, ãd he was very terrible. He lift vp his face, ỹ shoni ỹ clernes, ãd loked grily vpõ her. Thẽ kel ỹ Quene downe/ was pale & faint, lened her self vpon ỹ head of the maide ỹ went wt her. Neuertheles god turned ỹ kinges mind ỹ he was gentle, ỹ he leapt out of his sete therfor, & gat her in his armes ãd held her vp till she came to her selfe agayne,

He gaue her louing wordes also, and sayde vnto her: Hester, what is ỹ matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare, thou shalt not dye: for our commaundemente toucheth the commons, not the. Come nye. And with that he held vp his golden wande/ and layde it vpon her neck, and embraced her frendly, and sayde, talke with me. Then sayde she: I sawe the (O Lorde) as an Angel of God/ and my hert was troubled for feare of thy maiesty and clearnesse. For excellent and wonderful art thou (O lord) & thy face is full of amite, But as she was thus speakynge vnto him/ she fel down agayn for faintnes, for the whyche cause the Kynge was afrayed / and all hys seruauntes comforted her,

The Copy of the letters of Artaxerses, wherbye he reuoketh those which he fyrst send forth.

The.xvi. Chapter.

THe greate Kynge Artaxerses/ whiche raygneth from India vntoo Ethyoppya ouer an Hundrethe and. xxvii. landes/ seudeth vnto the Prynces, and Rulers of the same landes, suche as loue him, his frendely salutacion. There be many that for the soundrye frendshyppes and benefytes which are diuersly done vnto them for their worshyp, be euer the more proud and hye mynded, & vndertake not only to hurt our subiectes for plenteous benefites maye they not suffer, and beginne to immagin some thing agaist those that do them good, and take not only al vnthankfulnes awaye frō mē) but in pride and presumpcion (as they that be vnmindful & vnthanckful for the good dedes) they go about to escape the iudgment of God, that seyth all thinges/ which (iudgment) hateth & punisheth al wickednes. It happeneth A oft also, that they which be set in office by the hier power, and vnto whom the busines & causes of ỹ subiects ar cōmitted to be handled, waxe proud, and defile thē selues wt shedig of innocēt bloud which bringeth thē to intollerable hurt Which also wt false & dyscetfull wordes and wt lyeng tales, discouer & betray the innocent goodnes of Princes.

Now is it profitable & good, that we take hede, make searche therafter/ and consider, not only what hath happened vnto vs of old: but the shamful vnhonest/ and noysome thynges, that the debites haue now taken in hande fore our eyes: and therby to be warre in tyme to come, ỹ we may make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for al men, and that we might sometyme drawe yt to a chaunge: and as for the thig that now is present before oure eyes, to withstand it, and to put it downe, after the moost frendly maner.

What tyme now as Aman ỹ sonne of Amadathu the Macedonyan (a straunger verely of the Persians bloud, & farre from our goodnes, and com in among vs as an aleaunt, and had opened the frendshyp that we bere toward al people, so that he was called our father/ and had in hye honoure of euery man, as the next and principal vnto ỹ king/ he could not forbeare hi selfe frō his pryde, hath vndertakē not only to robbe vs of the kingdō, but of our life. C

With manyfolde disceat also hath he desyred to destroy Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, which hath done vs good in all thinges: and innocente Hester the lyke partaker of our kingedome, with al her people. For his mind was (when he had taken theim out of the waye, and robbed vs of theym) by thys meanes to translate the kyngdō of the Persians vnto theim of Macedonia. But we finde, that the Iewes D (which were accused of the wicked, that they might be destroted) ar no euel doers, but they vse reasonable and ryght lawes: & that they be ỹ children of the most hye lyuynge God, by whome the kingdome of vs & our progenitours hath bene well ordred hitherto. Wherfore, as for the Letters and cōmaundementes, that were put forth by Aman the sonne of Amadathu, ye shal do well yf ye hold theim of none effecte: for he that set them vp and inuented theym, hangeth at Suses before the porte, wt all his kynred, and God (which hathe all thynges in his power) hath rewarded him after his deseruyng.

And vpon this ye shall publisshe

and

and set vp the copy of thys letter in all places, that the Jewes maye freely and without hyndraunce hold them selues after ther owne statutes, and that they maye be helped, and that vpon the xiii daye of ỹ. xii. moneth Adar, they maye be auenged of them/which in the tyme of their anguysh and trouble, woulde haue oppressed them. For the god that gouerneth al thynges hath turned to toye the daye, wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

Moreouer, among the hye solemne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde thys daye also with al gladnes: ỹ now and in tyme to come, this daye may be a remembraunce to good, for all suche as loue the prosperite of the Persians: but a remembraunce of destruccyon to those that be sedicyous vnto vs.

All cytyes and landes that do not this, shal horribly perysh and be destroyed with the swerde and fyre, and shal not only be nothinhabited of men, but be abhoorred also of the wylde beastes and foules.

¶ The ende of reade of the boke of Esther.

¶ The boke of wysdome.

¶ How we ought to searche ỹ enquyre after God. and who be those that find him. Of the holy goost. We ought to flye frō backbityng & murmuring. &c

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

Set your affection vpon wysdome, ye that be iudges of the earth. Haue a good opinion of the lorde, and seke him in the symplenes of hert. For he wyl be found of thē that tempt him not, and apeareth vnto suche as put their trust in hym. As for frowarde thoughtes, they separate frō God, but vertue (if it be alowed) reproueth the vnwyse. And wyse wisdome shal not entet into a froward soule nor dwel in ỹ body ỹ is subdued vnto sinne. For the holye goost abhorreth fayned nurtoure, and withdraweth hym selfe from the thoughtes that are without vnderstandinge: and wheare wyckednesse hathe the vpper hande, he flyeth from thence. For the sprete of wysdōe is louynge, gentle and gracyous, and wyl haue no pleasure in him that speaketh euel wyth his lyppes. For god is a wytnes of his reynes, a true searcher out of hys hearte, and an herer of his tonge. For the sprete of the lord filleth the rounde compasse of the world, and the same that vpholdeth al thinges hath knowledg also of the voyce.

Therfore he that speaketh vnrighteous thynges, cannot be hyd, nether maye he escape the iudgment of reproof And why? inquysicton shalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the ¶ reporte of hys wordes shall come vnto god, so that his wyckednes shalbe punyshed For the eare of gelowsy heareth al thynges, and the noyse of the grudginges, shal not be hyd. Therfore beware of murmuringe which is nothig worth, and refrayne youre tonge from sclaunder, for here is no word so darck and secret, ỹ it shal go for naught: ād ỹ mouthỹ speaketh lyes, slayeth the soule.

Seke not your owne death in the errour of your lyfe, destroy not youre selues thorow the worckes of your owne handes. For god hath not made death, nether hathe he pleasure in the destruccion of the lyuinge. For he ¶ D created all thynges, that they myghte haue their beynge: yea al the people of the erth hathhe made ỹ they shuld haue helth, ỹ ther shuld be no destruccyon in the& ỹ the kyngdom of hel shoulde not be vppon earth (for ryghtuousnesse is euerlastynge and ymmortall, but vnryghtuousnes bryngeth death).

Neuertheles/the vngodlye call her vnto theym bothe wythe wordes and worckes/and whyle they thynck to haue a frende of her, they come to naughte: For the vngodlye that are conkederat wyth her and take her parte/are worthy of death.

The imaginacions and deslyes of the wycked, and their counsell agaynst the faythfull.

The.ii. Chapter.

For

and set vp the copy of thys letter in all places, that the Jewes maye freely and without hyndraunce hold them selues after ther owne statutes, and that they maye be helped, and that vpon the xiii daye of ỹ. xii. moneth Adar, they maye be auenged of them/which in the tyme of their anguysh and trouble, woulde haue oppressed them. For the god that gouerneth al thynges hath turned to toye the daye, wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

Moreouer, among the hye solemne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde thys daye also with al gladnes: ỹ now and in tyme to come, this daye may be a remembraunce to good, for all suche as loue the prosperite of the Persians: but a remembraunce of destruccyon to those that be sedicyous vnto vs.

All cytyes and landes that do not this, shal horribly perysh and be destroyed with the swerde and fyre, and shal not only be nothinhabited of men, but be abhoorred also of the wylde beastes and foules.

¶ The ende of reade of the boke of Esther.

¶ The boke of wysdome.

¶ How we ought to searche ỹ enquyre after God. and who be those that find him. Of the holy goost. We ought to flye frō backbityng & murmuring. &c

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

Set your affection vpon wysdome, ye that be iudges of the earth. Haue a good opinion of the lorde, and seke him in the symplenes of hert. For he wyl be found of thē that tempt him not, and apeareth vnto suche as put their trust in hym. As for frowarde thoughtes, they separate frō God, but vertue (if it be alowed) reproueth the vnwyse. And wyse wisdome shal not entet into a froward soule nor dwel in ỹ body ỹ is subdued vnto sinne. For the holye goost abhorreth fayned nurtoure, and withdraweth hym selfe from the thoughtes that are without vnderstandinge: and wheare wyckednesse hathe the vpper hande, he flyeth from thence. For the sprete of wysdōe is louynge, gentle and gracyous, and wyl haue no pleasure in him that speaketh euel wyth his lyppes. For god is a wytnes of his reynes, a true searcher out of hys hearte, and an herer of his tonge. For the sprete of the lord filleth the rounde compasse of the world, and the same that vpholdeth al thinges hath knowledg also of the voyce.

Therfore he that speaketh vnrighteous thynges, cannot be hyd, nether maye he escape the iudgment of reproof And why? inquysicton shalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the ¶ reporte of hys wordes shall come vnto god, so that his wyckednes shalbe punyshed For the eare of gelowsy heareth al thynges, and the noyse of the grudginges, shal not be hyd. Therfore beware of murmuringe which is nothig worth, and refrayne youre tonge from sclaunder, for here is no word so darck and secret, ỹ it shal go for naught: ād ỹ mouthỹ speaketh lyes, slayeth the soule.

Seke not your owne death in the errour of your lyfe, destroy not youre selues thorow the worckes of your owne handes. For god hath not made death, nether hathe he pleasure in the destruccion of the lyuinge. For he ¶ D created all thynges, that they myghte haue their beynge: yea al the people of the erth hathhe made ỹ they shuld haue helth, ỹ ther shuld be no destruccyon in the& ỹ the kyngdom of hel shoulde not be vppon earth (for ryghtuousnesse is euerlastynge and ymmortall, but vnryghtuousnes bryngeth death).

Neuertheles/the vngodlye call her vnto theym bothe wythe wordes and worckes/and whyle they thynck to haue a frende of her, they come to naughte: For the vngodlye that are conkederat wyth her and take her parte/are worthy of death.

The imaginacions and deslyes of the wycked, and their counsell agaynst the faythfull.

The.ii. Chapter.

For

A FOr the vngodly talke ād ymagē thusamōg thē selues (but not right:) The tyme of oure life is but short and tedious, and when aman ys ones gone, he hath no more ioy ner pleasure, nether knowe we eny mā ẏ turneth agai frō deth: for we ar born of naught & we shalbe hereafter as though we had neuer ben. For our breth is as a smoke in our nosetrels, & ẏ wordes as a sparke to moue oure hert. As for our body, it shal be very ashes that are quenched, & our sole shal vanish as the soft ayre. Oure lyfe shal passe away as ẏ trace of a cloude, and comme to naughte as the miste that is driuen away with the beames of the Sonne, and put down with ẏ heate therof. Oure name also shalbe forgottē by lytle and lytle, and noman shal haue oure workes in remembraunce.

B For oure tyme is a very shadow that passe awaye, and after oure ende ther is no returnynge, for it is fast sealed, so that no mā cometh againe. Com on therfore, let vs enioye the pleasures that ther are, & let vs soone vse the creature lyke as in youth. We wyl fil ourselues with good wyne & ointment, ther shal no flouer of ẏ tyme go by vs. We wyl crowne our selues with roses afore they be wythered: There shalbe no fayer medowe, but our lust shal goo thorow it. Let euery one of you be partaker of our voluptuousnes. Let vs leaue some token of our pleasur in euerye place, for that is oure porcyon, els geueth nothinge. Let vs oppresse ẏ poore ryghtuous, lette vs not spare thre wyddow ner olde man, let vs not regard the headdes that are graye for age. Let the lawe of vnryghtuousnesse beour aucto*r*yte, for the thinge that is feable is nothing worth. Therfore let vs defraude ẏ ryghtuous, and why? he is not for oure profyt, ye he is cleane contrary to our doinges. He checketh vs for offendīg agaynst the law, and sclaundreth vs as trāsgressours of al nurtour. He maketh his boost to haue the knowledge of God, ye he calleth him selfe Gods sonne. He is ẏ bewrayer of our thoughtes: It greueth vs also to loke vpon him, for his lyfe is not lyke other mens, his wayes are of a nother fashyon.

He counteth vs but vayne personnes/ he withdrawethe hym-selfe from oure wayes as from fylthynesse: he commendeth streatly the latter ende of the iust & maketh his bost that god is his father. Let vs se then if hys wordes be tru, let vs proue what shal come vpon hym: so shal we knowe what ende he shall haue. For yf he be the true Sonne of God, he wyl receaue him and delyuer hym from the handes of hys enemyes. Let vs exami*n* hym wyth despitefull rebuke! ande torme*n*ting, that we may know hys dignitie and proue hys pacience, Let vs cōdempne hym wyth the mooste shamefull deth: for lyke as he hath spoken, so shal he be rewarded. D

Such thynges dō the vngodlye ymagyne, and go astraye, for their owne wickednes hath blinded them. As for the misteries of God, they vnderstande them not: they nether hope for ẏ rewarde of ryghtuousnes, nor regard the worshyp that holy soules shall haue. For God created man to be vndestroyed, ye after the ymage of hys owne lyknes; made he hym. Nevertheles thorow enuye of the Deuell came Death into the worlde, and they that holde of hys syde do as he doth.

¶ The conseruation and assurance of th ryghtuous. The rewatd of the faythfull.

The iii. Chapter.

BVt the soules of the ryghtuos are in the hand of god and the paine of death shal not touche them. In the syght of the vnwyse they appeare to dye, and their ende is take*n* for verie destruction. The waye of the ryghtuous is iudge to be vtter destruction but they are in rest. And though they suffre payne before menne, yet is their hope full of immortalyte. They are punished but in fewe thynges, neuertheles in manye thinges shall they be well rewarded. For God proueth them, and findeth them mete for hym selfe: yea as the golde in the fornace doth he trye them/ and receueth them as a brent offering & whē ẏ time cōmeth they shalbe loked vpon. ¶ The ryghtuous shal shine as the sparkes ẏ renne thorow the rede busche. They shal iudge ẏ naciōs & haue dominion

A

B

hyon ouer the people, and theyr Lorde shal raigne for euer. They that put ther trust in him, shal vnderstand the truth, and suche as be faithful/wil agre vnto him in loue: for his chosen shal haue gifts and peace. But the vngodly shalbe punished acording to their owne ymmaginacyons, for they haue dyspysed the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

Who so dyspiseth wysdome and nurtoure, he is vnhappy, and as for the hope of suche yt is but vayne, their laboure vnfrutfull/and their worckes vnprofitable. Their wiues ar vndiscrete/ and their children most vngodly. Their creature is cursed. Blessed is rather the D barein and vndefiled, which hathe not knowen the sinful bed: she shal haue frut in the reward of the holy soules. And blessed is the gelded, which with his hãdes hath wrought no vnrighteousnes nor immagened wycked thiges against god. For vnto him shalbe geuen the especial gyfte of faith, and moste acceptable porcyon in the temple of God. For glorious is the frut of good laboure, and the rote of wisdome shall neuer fade away. As for the children of aduoutrers, they shall come to an ende, and the sede of an vnrighteous bed shalbe roted out And though they liue long, yet shal thei be nothing regarded/and their last age shalbe without honoure. Yf they dye hastely/they haue no hope, nether shall they be spoken to in that daye of knowledge. For horrible is the death & ende of the vnryghtuous.

¶ Of ꝑ chast generacion of the faithful, & of their felicite. Of ꝑ death of ꝑ righteous and of ꝑ condemnacion of the vnfaythful.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

A How fayre is a chast generacion with vertue: The memorial therof is immortall/for yt is knowne wyth good men. When it is present, men take example therat: and yf it go awaye, yet they desyre it. It is alwaye crowned and holden in honoure, and wynneth the rewarde of the. vndefyled battayl. But the multytude of vngodly children is vnprofitable and ꝑ thinges that are planted with whordom shall take no depe rote nor laye any fast fundacion. ¶ Though they be grene in the braunches for a tyme yet shall they be shaken with the wynd: for they stãde not fast, and thorow the vehemence of the wynde they shalbe roted out. For the vnparfecte braunches shall be broken, their frute shal be vnprofitable ãd sower to eate, ye mete for nothyng. And why? all the children that are born of the wycked, muste beare recorde of the wyckednesse against their fathers and mothers, when they be asked. But though the righteous be ouertaken wyth death, yet shall he be in rest.

plant of the Lord

Age is an honorable thinge: neuertheles it standeth not onely in the length of time: nor in the multitude of Yeares: but a mans wysdome is the grape heare and an vndefyled lyfe is the olde Age. He pleased god, and was beloued of him: so that where as he lyued among synners/he translated hym. Yea sodenly was he taken away, to thyntent that wyckednesse shoulde not alter hys vnderstandinge and that Ipocrysye shoulde not begyle hys soule: For the craftye bewitchyng of lyes, make good thynges darcke, the vnsted fastnes also and wickednes of voluptous desyre tourneth aslyde the vnderstandinge of the symple. ¶ Though he was sone dead, yet fulfylled he much time. For hys soule pleased god therfore hasted he to take hym awaye from among the wycked. ¶ Thys the people se/& vnderstande it not: they laye not vp suche thinges in their hertes howe that the louinge fauoure and mercye of God is vpon his saintes and that he hathe respecte vnto his chosen

Thus the righteous that is deed, condempne the vngodly whiche are lyuinge: and the youthe that is soone brought to an ende, the longe life of the vnrighteous, for they se the ende of the the wyse. but they vnderstand not what god hath deuised for hym, and wherfore the Lord hath taken him away. And why? They see hym and despite hym, therfore shall G O D also laughed them to scorne: So that they themselues shall Dye heare after (but wythous thout honour) yea in shame among the deed for euermore. For without any voyce shall he burste those that be pufte vp, and remoue them from the foundacions, so that they shalbe layde wast vnto the hiest. They shal morne and their memorial shal perishe. So they beyng afrayed shal remembre theyr synnes, & theyr owne wyckednesse shall bewraye them.

nota

¶ The constantnes of ꝑ ryghtwes before their persecuters. The hope of ꝑ vnfaithfull is vndurable & vayne. The blessednes and fortunatnes of ꝑ saynctes and godly

The. v. Chaper.

A Then shal the ryghtuous stand in greate stedfastnes agaynst such as haue dekt extremely with thē, and taken awaye their labours. When they se it, they shalbe vexed w̄ horrible feare, and shal wonder at the hastynes of the sodayn health: gronyng for very distresse of mynde, and shal saye within theym selues, haupnge inwarde sorow and mournynge for verye anguyshe of mynde):

These are they whom we sometyme, had in derysion, and iested vpon. We fooles thought their lyfe very madnes and theyr ende to be without honour. But lo, how they are counted among ꝑ children of god/ād their porcion is amonge the saynctes. Therfore we haue erred from the waye of truth, the lyght of

B righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs and the sunne of vnderstandynge rose not vp vppon vs. We haue wered oure selues in the waye of wyckednesse and destruccyon. Tedious wayes haue we gone: but as for the waye of the Lorde we haue not knowen it.

What good hath oure pryde done vnto vs: Or what profyt hath the pompe of ryches broughte vs: All those thynges are passed awaye like a shadow, and as a messaunger rennyng before as a shippe that passethe ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gon by, the trace therof can not be founde, neyther the pathe of it in the floudes. Or as a byrde that flyeth thorow the ayre, and no man can se ony token̄ where she is flowē, but only hereth ꝑ noise of her wiges beatig ꝑ light wind partige the ayre thorowe the vehemence of her goynge/ and flyeth on shakīg her winges where as after warde no token of her waye can be founde. Or lyke as C when an arowe is shott at a marcke, yt parteth the ayre, which immediatly cōmeth together agayne, so that a mān cā not know where it wente thorow. Euen so we in lyke maner as soone as we were borne, beganne immediatly to drawe to oure ende/ and haue shewed no tokē of vertue, but are consumed in oure owne wyckednesse.

Suche wordes shal they that haue synned speake in the hel: For the hope of the vngodlye ys lyke a drye thystell floure (or duste) that ys blowen awaye wyth the wynde: Lyke as thynne scomme that is scatered abrode wyth the storme: lyke as the smoke which is dispersed here and ther wyth the wynd, ād as the remembraunce of a Straunger that tarryeth for a daye, and then departeth. But the ryghtuous shall lyue for euermore: theyr reward also is wyth the lorde: and theyre remembraunce wyth the Hyest. Therfore shal they receaue a glo D tyous kyngdome and a bewtyful croune of the Lordes hande: for wyth hys ryght hande shall he couer them/ and wt hys owne arme shall he defende them. Hys gelousy also shall take awaye the harnesse, ād he shal weapon the creature to be aduenged of the ennemyes. He shal put vnrighteousnes for a brest plate, and take sure iudgement in steade of an helmet. The inuincyble shylde of equitie shal he take, hys cruel wrath shal he sharpen for a speare and the whoole compasse of the world shall fyght wyth hym agaīst the vnwyse.

Then shal the thōder boltes go out of the lyghteninges and come out of the rayne bowe of the cloudes to the place apoynted: out of the harde stony indygnacyon there shall fall thick hayles, and the water of the see shalbe wroth E against them, and the floudes shal renne roughly together. Yea a myghty wynde shal stand vp agaynste thē and a storme shall scater them abrode.

Thus the vnryghteouse dealynge of them shall bryng all the land to awil

derness

derues, and wyckednes shal ouerthrowe the dwellynges of the myghtye.

The callynge of kynges, Princes and Judges: whi the are also exhorted to searche wysdome.

The. vi. Chapter.

A Wysdom is better the strēgth, and a man of vnderstandyng is more worth then that is stronge. Heare therfore (O ye kinges) and vnderstand: O learne ye that be Judges of the endes of the earth. Geue eare ye that rule the multytudes, and delyte in much people. For the power is geuen you of the Lorde, and the strength from the Hiest: which shal trye youre workes and search out your ymaginacyons: How that yee be yng officers of his kingdome / haue not executed true iudgemente, haue not kepte the law of righteousnes, nor walked after his wil. Horribly and that right soone shal he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgemēt shal they haue that bear rule. Mercy is graūted vnto the simple, but they that be in auctorite shalbe sore punyshed. For God which is Lord ouer al / shall excepte no mans personne, neyther shal he stād in awe of any mans greatnes: for he hath made ꝑ small & great and careth for all alyke. But the mighti shal haue the sorer punyshment.

Unto you therfore (O ye kynges) do I speake, ꝑ ye may learne wisdō & not go amysse: for they that kepe righteousnes shalbe righteously iudged: and they ꝑ are lerned in righteous thinges, shal fynde to make answere. Wherfore lyst youre lust vpon my wordes, and louethē, so shal ye come by nurtour. Wisdom is a noble thing, and neuer fayleth alwaye: ye she is easely sene of thē that loue her / and founde of soch as seke her. She preuenteth thē that desyre her, that she mai fyrst shewe her selfe vnto them. Who so awaketh vnto her by tymes, shal haue no greate trauel, for he shal fynde her sitting readi at his dores. To thincke vpon her, is parfect vnstanding: and who so watcheth for her shalbe safe, and ꝑ sone For she goeth about seking soch as are worthe for her, sheweth her selfe cherefully vnto them in their goinges, and meeteth them wyth al diligence.

For the vnfained desire of reformacō is her beginninge: to care for nurtoure is loue, and loue is the keping of her lawes. Nowe the kepinge of the lawes is perfection and an vncorrupt lyfe, and an vncorrupte lyfe maketh a man familier with god. And so the desyre of wysdom leadeth to the kingedome euerlasting. If youre delite be then in royall seates and scepters (O ye kings of the people) set your lust vpon wisdome, that ye mai raigne for euermore. O loue ꝑ light of wysdō, al ye ꝑ be rulers of the people. As for wisdome what she is, and how she came vp I wyl tel you, and wil not hide the mysteryes of God from you: but wyl seke her oute from the begynnynge of the natyuyte, and bringe the knowledg of her into lyght / and wyl not kepe back the trueth: neither wyll I haue to do with consumyng enuy, for suche a manne shal not be partaker of wysdome. But the multitude of ꝑ wise is the welfare of the worlde, and a wise kyng is the vpholder of the people. O receaue nurtoure then thorowe my wordes, and it shal do you good.

Wisdome ought to be preferred before all thynges

The. vii. Chapter.

I My selfe also am a mortall man lyke as all other, and am come of the earthy generacion of hym that was fyrst made, and in my mothers wombe was I fashyoned to be flesh: In the tyme of ten monethes was I brought together in bloude thorow the sede of man, and the commodyous appetyte of sleape. When I was borne, I receaued lyke ayre as other men, and fell vppon the erth (which is my natur) crying and weppynge at the fyrst, as all other do. I was wrapped in swadlynge clothes, and broughte vp wythe greate cares. For there is no kyng that hath had eny other begynnyng of byrth. All men then haue one entraunce vnto lyfe, and one goynge out in lyke maner. Wherfore I desyred, and vnderstandyng was geuen me: I called, and the spryte of wysdome came in to me. I sett more by her, then by kyngdomes and royall seates, and counted ryches nothig in comparisō of her

As for precyous stonne I compared it not vnto her: for all gold is but grauell vnto her, and siluer shalbe counted but claye before her syght. I loued her aboue welfare and beutye, and purposed to take her for my lyght, for her shyne can not be quenched. All good thynges came to me wt her, and innumerable rych es thorowe her handes. I was glad in them all, for thys wysdome weute before me, and I knewe not that she is the mother of al good thynges. Now as I my selfe lerned vnfaynedly, so do I make other mē partakers of her, and hyde her ryches from noo man: for she is an infynite treasure vnto men, which who so vse, become Partakers of the loue and frendshyp of God, and are accepted vnto hym for the gyftes of wysdome.

God hath graunted me to talke wysely and conuenyently to handle the thyngs that he hath graciously lent me. For it is he, that ledeth vnto wysdomme, and teacheth to vse wtdōe arygh t. In his hād are we & our workes: ye al our wisdom, our vnderstādyng & knowledge of al our workes. For he hath geuē me ỹ true science of these thigs: so ỹ I know how ỹ world was made, & ỹ powers of ỹ elements: ỹ begining, ending & middest of ỹ times: how the time alter, how one goeth after another, & how they are fulfylled: the course of ỹ yere: ỹ ordinaūces of the starres: the natures & kindnes of bestes: ỹ furiosnes of bestes: ỹ power of ỹ windes: the immaginatiōs of mē: the deuersites of yōg plātes: the vertues of rotes, & al such thiges as are secret & not loked for, haue I learned. For ỹ workmaster of al thigs hath taght me wysdō. In her is ỹ spyret of vnderstāding, which is holy, manifold, one only subtil, curteous, discrete, quick, vndefyled, playne, swete, louing the thyng that is good, sharpe, which forbiddeth not to do well, gentle, kynde, stedfast sure, free: hauing al vertues, circumspect in al thiges: receauing al spyretes of vnderstanding being clean and sharp. For wysdō is nembler then all nemble thynges: she goeth thorowe and attayneth to all thynges, because of her cleanes.

For she is the breth of the power of God and a pure cleane expressing of ỹ clear nes of almightie God. Therfore can no vndefyled thinge come vnto her for she is the brightnes of the euerlasting lyght the vndefyled myrrowre of the maiestie of god, and the ymage of hys goodnes. And for so much as she is one, she maye do al thinge: and beinge stedfast her selfe she renueth al, and amounge the people conueyth she her selfe into the holye soules. She maketh gods frendes and prophetes: for god loueth no man, but him in whome wysdome dwelleth. For she is more bewtyfull then the sunne, and geueth more light then the starres, and the daye is not to be compared vnto her: for vpon the daye commeth night. But wickednes can not ouercome wysdome, and folyshnes maye not be with her.

The effectes of wysdome.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

WYsdome reacheth from one ende to another mightyly & louingly dothe she ordre al thynges. I haue loued her and laboured for her euen fro my youth vp: I did my dilygence to mary my selfe with her, such loue had I vnto her bewtye. Who so hathe company of God, commendeth her nobilitie, ye the Lorde of all thynges hym selfe loue thher. For she is the scholmastres of the nurtoure of god, and the chosen oute of hys workes: yf man woulde desyre ryches in thys lyfe, what is richer then wisdome, that worketh all thinges? Thou wylte saye: vnderstandinge worketh. Whot is it among all thynges ỹ worketh more then wisdome? if a man loue vertue and rightuousnes, let hi labour for wysdom, for she hath great vertues. And why? she teacheth sobernes & prudence, rightuousnes and strength, which are such thinges as men can haue no thynge more profytable in theyr lyfe. If a man desyre much knowledge, she can tell the thynges that are past, & discerne thinges for to come: she knoweth the subtilties of wordes and can expound darke sentences. She can tell of tokens & wonderos thynges, or euer they come to passe, & the endes of al tymes & ages: so I purposed after this māer: I wyl take her vnto my company, and co-

men

men louingly with her: no doute she shal geue me good councel, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and grefe. For her sake shall I be well and honestly taken amõge the comens and Lordes of the councell. Though I be yonge, yet shall I haue sharpe vnderstandynge, so that I shalbe maruelous in the sight of greate men, and the faces of Prynces shall wonder at me. When I holde my tounge, they shall byde my leasure: when I speake, they shall loke vpon me: and yf I talke moch, they shal laye their handes vppon their mouthe. Moreouer, by the meanes of her I shall obtayne immortalyte, and leaue behynde me an euerlastynge memoryal among them that comme after me. I shal set the people in ordre, and the Nacyons shalbe subdued vnto me. Horryble tyrauntes shalbe afrayed, when they do but heare of me amounge the Multytude, I shalbe counted good, and myghty in battayll. Whē I coin home, I shal finde reste wt her: for her cõpany hath no bitternes, and her felowshyp hath no tedyousnesse, but myrth & ioye.

¶ Now when I consydered these thynges by myselfe, & pondered thē in my herte, how that to be ioyned vnto wisdome is immortalyte, and greate pleasuer to haue her frendshippe: how that in the workes of her handes are infinyte riches: how that who so kepeth company with her shalbe wise: and that he whiche talketh with her, shall come to honoure: I went aboute seking to get her vnto me. For I was a ladd of a ryght wyt, and had a good vnderstãdinge.

nota

to be gat of god

But when I grew to more vnderstãding, I came to an vndefiled body. Nevertheles when I parceaued yͭ I could not kepe my selfe chast, except GOD gaue it me (and that was a point of wysdome also, to know whose gyft it was) I fepte vnto the Lorde, ād besought him, and with my whole herte I sayde after this maner:

A prayer of Salomon to obtayne wysdome.

The.ix. Chapter.

O God of my fathers, & lord of mercyes (thou that hast made al thinges with thy worde, and ordened man thorow thy wysdome yͭ he shuld haue dominion ouer yͤ creature which yͤ hast made: that he shuld ordre yͤ worlde according to equite and ryghteousnes, and execut iudgment with a true herte) geue me wysdome, which is euer aboute thy seate: and put me not out from amonge thy children: for I thy seruaunt and sonne of thy hãdmayden, am a feble person, of a short tyme and to yunge to the vnderstandyng of iudgment and the lawes. And, though a man be neuer so perfecte amonge the children of men, yet yf thy wysdome be not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded. But thou hast chosen me, to be a kynge vnto the people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

B

Thou hast commaunded me to bylde a temple vpon thy holy mount, & an aulter in the cite wherin thou dwellest: a lyknes of thy holye tabernacle which thou hast prepared from the beginning, and thy wysdome with yͭ, which knoweth thy workes: which also was wyth the when thou madeste the worlde, and knowe what was acceptable in thy syght/and ryght in thy commaundementes. O send her out of thy holy heauens from the trone of thy maiesty, that she maye be with me, and laboure with me: yͭ I maye knowe, what is acceptable in thy sight. For she knoweth and vnderstandeth al thynges: and she shal lede me soberly in my workes/and preserue me in her power.

C

So shal my workes be acceptable, ād then shal I gouerne thy people ryghteously, and be worthy to syt in my fathers seate. For what man is he/that maye know the councel of God? Or/ who can thynke what the wyll of God is? For the thoughtes of mortall men are miserable, ād our forcastes are but vncerten. And why? a mortal & corruptible body is heuy vnto the soule and the earthly mansiõ kepeth downe yͭ vnderstanding yͭ museth vpon many thinges. Very hardly can we discerne yͭ thinges yͭ are vpon earth, and grete labour haue we, or we can find yͭ thinges which are before our eyes: Who wil then seke out the grounde of the thynges yͭ are done in heauen? Oh Lord, who cã haue knowledg of thy vnderstãding

D

nota thynges

and meanyng, excepte thou geue wysdo me and sende the holy goost from abo= ue: that the ways of them whych are vp on earth maye be reformed: that men maye learne the thinges that are pleas unt vnto the, and be preserued thorow wysdome.

The delyueraunce of the righttwyes commeth tho zoughe wisdome.

The .x. Chapter

A WYsdome preserued the fyrst man, whome God made a father of the world, whē he was created alone, brought him out of his offence, to= ke him out of the mould of the erth, and gaue him power to rule all thynges.

B When the vnrighteuous wente awaye in hys wrath from thys wysdomme, the brotherhed perysshed thorow the wrath of murthur. Agayne, whē the water de stroyed the whole worlde, wysdome pre= serued the righteous thorow a pore trē wherof she was gouerner her selfe. Mo reouer when wyckednes had gotten the vpper hande, so that the nacyons were puft vp wt pryd, she knew the righteous preserued hym fautles vnto God, and layd vp sure mercy for his chyldren.

B She preserued the ryghteous, when he fled from the vngodly ỹ perysshed, what tyme as the fyre fell downe vpon the .v. cyties: Lyke as yet thys day the vnfru tefull, waste, and smokyng land geueth testimonye of their wyckednesse: ye the vnrype and vntymely frutes that grew vpon the trees.

And for a token of a remembraūce of the vnfaythful soule, there standeth a pi ler of salt. For al soch as regarded not wysdome/ gat not only this hurt, that they knowe not the thinges whichwer goode, but also left be hynde them vnto men, a memorial of their foolishnes: soỹ in the thynges wherin they sinned, they could not be hidd. But as for sochas take hede vnto wisdome, she shal delyuer them from sorowe.

C When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath/ wisdome led him ỹ right waye, shewed him the kyngdome of God/ gaue hym knowledge of holy thinges, made hi rych, in his laboures and brought to passe the thynges that he wente aboute. In the deceatfulnes of soch as defrauded hi, she stod bi him, and made him rithe. She saued hym from his enemies, and defended hifrō ỹ disceuers. She made him strōg in bat tayl and gaue hym the victory, that he myght knowe, how that wisdom is strō ger then al thinges. When the righteu= ous was solde, she forsoke him not, but delyuered him from sinners. She went downe with him in to the dongeon/ād tayled him not in the bādes: tyl she had brought him the scepter of the realme/ & power agaynst those that oppressed hi. As for them that had accused hym, shee declared them to be lyers, and brought hym to perpetual worshyppe.

D She delyured the ryghteous people and fautlesse sede, frome the nacyons ỹ oppressed them. She entred in to ỹ soul of the seruaunt of God, and stod by hī in wonders and tokēs agaynst the hor ryble kyng. She gaue the righteous ỹ rewarde of their labours, and led them forth amaruelus waye: on ỹ daye tyme she was a shadow vnto them/ & alight of starres i ỹ night seasō. She brought them thorow the red see, and caryed the thorow the great water. She drowned their enemyes in the see, and broughte them out of ỹ depe. So the ryghteous toke the spoyles of the vngodly, & prai sed thy holy name/ O lord, & magnified thy victorious hād wt one accorde. For wisdom openeth the mouth of the dōme ād maketh the tōges of babes to speke.

The myracles done for Israel. The venge aunce of synners. The great power ād mercy of God.

The .xi. Chapter.

A SHe ordred their worckes in the handes of the holy pro phet: so that they went tho zow the wyldernes ỹ was not inhabyted, ād pytched their tentes in thee waste deserte. They stod agaynst there enemyes, & were auē ged of their aduersaryes. When they were thirstie, they called vpō ỹ, and water was geuē the out of ỹ rock, & their thirst slaked out of the harde stone. For bi ỹ thiges/ wher thrōw their enemyes were punisshed, where they helped in theyre nede.

for

For vnto the enmies thou gauest mans bloud in stead of lyuing water. And whe re as they had scarcenes in the rebuke when the chyldre wer slayn, thou gauest vnto thyne owne a plenteous water vnloked for: declarynge by the thyrst that was at that tyme, howe thou wouldeste bryng thyne owne vnto honoure, and
B slay their aduersaryes. For whē they were tried, nortured w̄ fatherly mercy, they knowledged how the vngodlye were iudged, and punished thorow the wrath of God. These hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but vnto the other thou hast bene a boysterous kynge, layed hard to their charge, and condemned them. Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alyke/ For their greafe was double: namely e, mournyng, and the remembrance of thynges paste. But when they perceaued that their punishments dyd them good, they thought vpon the Lorde, and wondered at the ende. For at the last they helde moch of hym, of whom in the out castynge they thought scorne, as of an abiecte. Neuertheless the righteous dyd not so when they were thirstie: but euen lyke as the thoughtes of the foolish were, so was also their wickednes.
C Where as certayne men now (thorow errour) dyd worshipe domme serpents and vayne beastes, thou sendedste a multytude of dōme bestes vpon them for a vengeance: that they might know, that loke where withall a man synneth, by the same also shall he be punyshed. For vnto the almyghty hand, that made the worlde of naughte, it was not vnpossible, to send among them an heape of Beeres, or woodde lyons, or cruell Beastes of a straunge kynde, soch as are vnknowne or spoute fyre or cast oute a smokynge breth, or shot horrible sparkes out of their eyes: whych myght not only destroy them with hurtynge, but also kyll them with theire horryble syghte. Yee without these beastes mighte they haue bene slayne with one winde, beyng persecuted of theire owne workes, and scatered abroade thorow the breth of the powet.
D Neuertheles thou hast ordred all thynges in measure, nombre and weight. For thou hast euer had greate strengthe and myght, and who maye withstāde the power of thyne arme? And whyle lyke as the smal thing that the balaunce weyeth so is the worlde before thee: yee as adroppe of the mornynge dew, that falleth down vpon the earth. Thou hast mercy vpon all, for thou hast power of all thinges: and makest the as though thou sawest not the sonnes of men, because they shoulde amende. For thou louest all the sonnes of men, because they shoulde amende. For thou louest all the thynges that are, and hatest none of them whome thou hast made: nether diddeste thou ordeyne or make any thynge of euell wyll. How might any thinges endure, if it were not thy wyll? Or how coulde any thinge be preserued, excepte it were called of thee? But thou sparest all, for all are thyne, O Lorde, thou louer of soules.

The mercye of god towarde synners, the workes of God are vnsercheable. God geueth leyser to repēt vs.

The.xii. Chapter.

O Lorde, howe gracious and swete is thy spirite in all thinges? Therfore chastenest thē them measurably that goo wronge, and warnest them concerning the thynges wherin they offende: thou speakest vnto them (O Lorde) and exhortest them to leue their wickednesse, and to put their trust in thee, As for those olde inhabiters of thy holy lande thou mightest not away with thē/ for they committed abhominable workes agaynst thee: as witche craft, sorcery and Idolatry: they slewe their owne childeren without mercye: they ate vpmens bowels and deuored the bloud: ye because of suche abhominactions / misbeleues and Offrynges, thou slewest the fathers of the desolate soules by the hādes of oure fathers ye the land whych thou louest aboue al other mighte be a dwellynge for the childeren of God.

Neuertheles thou sparedst them also (as men) ād sendedst the forerunners of thyne hooste euen hornettes to destroye them out by lytle a lytle. Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the ryghteous in battel or with cruell beastes, or with one rough worde to destroy them together: But thy mynd was to dryue them out by lytle and lytle, ge-

uing them time and place to amēd kno wing wel, that it was an vnrighteous nacyon and wicked of nature and that their thought myght neuer be altered:
for it was a cursed sede from the begin nyg, and feared no man: Yet hast thou pardoned their sinnes. For who wil sai vnto the: why hast thou done that: Or who wyl stand agaynst thy iudgment:
Or who wil come befor thy face: ā auen ger of vnrighteous men: Or who wyll blame the, yf the people perish, whom ÿ hast made: For there is none other god but thou, that carest for al thinges: that thou mayest declare how that thy iudg mēt is not vnright. Ther darre nether kyng, ner tyraunt in thy syght require accōptes of thē whom ÿ hast destroied.

For so moch then as thou art righ teous thy selfe, ÿ ordrest al thinges righ teously/ and punishest euen hi that hath not deserued to be punished/ and takest him for a straunger and an aleaunt in the laude of thy power. For thy power is the beginning of rightousnes: and be cause thou arte Lorde of all thynges, therfore art ÿ gracyous vnto al. Whē men thinke ÿ not to be of a ful strēgth, thou declarest thy power: boldly dely uerest thou them ouer that knowe the not. But thou lorde of power iudgeste quyetly, and ordrest vs wt greate worl hype, for thou mayest do as thou wylte.

By soch workes now hast ÿ taught thy people, that a man also shuld be iust and louinge: and hast made thy childrē to be of a good hope: for euē when thou iudgest, thou geuest rowme to amend from sinnes. For in so moch as ÿ haste punished, and with soch dilygence dely uered thee enemyes of thy seruauntes, whiche were worthy to die (where tho rowt thou gauest them tyme and place of amendement, that they myght turne from their wickednes (with how great diligence thē ponishest thou thin owne childrē, vnto whose fathers thou hast swore and made couenaūtes of good promises: So wher as thou docst but chasten vs, thou punishest our ēmies di uerse wayes to ÿ intēt ÿ whē we punishe we shuld remēbre thi goodnesse: & when we oure selues are punished, to put our trust i thy mercy. Wherfor wher as men haue liued ignorauntly & vnrighteously ÿ hast punished thē sore euen thorow the same thynges that they worshypped.
For they went astraye verye longe in ÿ
waye of errour, and helde the beastes (whiche euen theyr ennemyes dispysed) for goddes, lyuinge as Chylderen of no vnderstandinge. Therfor hast thou sēt a scornefull punishement among them,
as awonge the chylderen of ignorauns
ce. As for such as woulde not be refor med by those scornes and rebukes, they felt the worthy punishementes of God.
For the thynges that they suffred they bare them vnpacientlye, beinge not con tent in them, but vnwyllynge. And whē they perisshe by the same thynges that they toke for goddes, they knowledged
then, that there was but one true God, whom afore they wold not know: therfo re came ÿ end of theyr dānacion vpō thē

All thinges be vayne, except the knowledg of God
Idolaters and Idoles ar mocked.

The.xiii. Chapter.

Vayne are all men, which ha
ue not the knoledg of God:
as wer they that out of the good thinges which are se ne, knewe not hym that of hym selfe is euerlastinge: Neyther toke they so muche regarde of the worckes ÿ are made, as to know, who was the craf tesman of theym: but some toke the fyre, some the wynde or ayer, some the cour se of the starres, som the water, some to ke Sunne and Moone, or the lyghtes of heauē whych rule the earth, for gods.
But though they had suche pleasure in their beutie, ÿ they thought thē to haue ben goddes: yet shuld they haue knowē
how much more fayrer he is ÿ made thē.
For ÿ maker of beuty hath ordeyned all these thinges: or if they merueled at ÿ po wer & workes of thē, thei shuld haue per ceiued therby, ÿ he which made these thī ges is mightier then they. For by ÿ gre atnes & beuti of ÿ creature, ÿ maker the rof may playnely be knowē. Notwstā dig they ar ÿ les to be blamed ÿ sought god, & wold haue foūd hi, & yet missed.
& why: for so much as they wēt about in his' workes & sought after thē, it is a to kē, ÿ they regard & hold moch of his wor kes ÿ are sen: howbeit they are not wholt

to

to be excused. For yf their vnderstãding and knowledge was so greate, that they coulde discerne the worlde and the creatures, why dyd they not rather finde out the Lorde therof?

But vnhappye are they/and among the deed is their hope, that call themgodes which are but ỹ worckes of mens hãdes: golde, syluer, and the thyng that is founde out by conyng, the symylitude of beestes, or any vayn sto ỹ hathbenmade by hand of olde. Or as when acarpenter ¶ cutteth downe atree out ofthe wodd, and pareth of the backe of it conyngly: and so with the one parte maketh a vessel to be vsed: and dighteth meat with the resydue. As for the other part that is left, whiche is profytable for nothyng (for it is a croked pece of wod and ful of knobbes (he carueth it dylygenly thorowhis vanite, and (according to the knowledg of his cõnyng) he geueth it some proper tion, fashyoneth it after the symylytude of a man, or makethe it lyke some beeste, streaketh it ouer with redd, and painteth it, and loke what foul spot is in it, he casteth some coloure vpon it.

Thẽ maketh he a conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in the wall, and maketh it fast with pro, prouidyng so for it, lest it happen to fal: for it is wel knowne, that it can not helpe it self: And why? it is but ã ymag, & must of necessitebe helped. Then goeth he and offrethe of his Goodes vntoit, for his children and for hys wife: he seketh helpe at it, he asketh counsel at it: he is not ashamed to speake vnto it that hath no soule: for health, he maketh his peticyon vnto him that is syck: for lyfe, he prayeth vnto him that is ded: he calleth vnto him for helpe, that is not able to helpe him selfe: and to sende hym a god iourneye, he prayeth him that mai not go. And in al the thinges that he taketh in hande (whether it be to optayne any thing or to worck) he prayeth vnto him that can do no maner of good.

¶ The detestacyõ and abhomynacyon of ymages. & curse of them that maketh them: The euelles that come of idolatry.

The .xiiii. Chapter

AGayne/another man purposyng to sayle, and begining to take his tourneye thorow the raging sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke/ that is farre weaker, then the tre that bereth hym. For as for it/ couetousnes of money hath found it out/and ỹ craftesman mede it with his conynge. But thy prouidence/O father gouerneth al thinges from the begynnynge: for thou hast made a waie in the sea, & ãd a sure path in the middest of the waues: declaring therby, that thou hast power to helpe in al thinges, ye though a man went to ỹ sea without shyp. Neuerthles, that the worke of wysoõ should not be vayne, thou hast caused an arke to be made: And therfore do men commit their lyues to a smal pece of wodd, passing ouer the sea in a shyppe and are saued. ¶ B

For in the olde tyme when ỹ proude gyauntes perished, he (whome the hope was left to increse the world) wẽt into the shippe/which was grounded thorow thy hande/and so lefte sede behynde him vnto the world. For happy is the tre where thorow righteousnes commeth: but cursed is the ymage of wodd, that is made with handes, yea both it ãd he that made it. He/because he made it: and it, beause it was called god, wher as it is but a fraile thynge. For the vngodly and hys vngodlines are both lyke abhominable vnto god. Euen so the worke and he that made it also shalbe punished together. Therfore shall there a plage come vpon the images of the Heathen: for out of the creature of god they are become an abhomynacyon, a temptacyon vnto the soules of mẽ, and a snare for the fete of the vnwyse. And why? the sekynge out of ymmages is the begynnynge of whordome, & the bryngyng vp of them is the destruccion of lyfe: For they were not from the beginninge, neither shal they contynue for euer. The welthy ydelnes of men hath founde them out vpõ earth, therfore shal they comm shortly to an ende. Whẽ a father mourned for his sõne ỹ was takẽ awai frõ hi/he made hi an imag (i al ỹ haste) of his ded sõne: & so he begã to worshyp hi as god, which was but a deed imã/& ordened his seruãts to offer vnto hi.

¶ Thus

Thus by proces of tyme and thorowe longe custome, this errour was kepte as a law, and tyrauntes compelled me by violence to honour ymages. As for those that were so farre of, that menne myght not worshyp the presently, their pycture was brought from farre (lyke the ymage of a kyng whom they wold honoure) to the intent that with great dylygence they myght worshippe hym which was farre of/as though he had bene present. Agayne/the synguler cōning of ỹ craftesman gaue ỹ ignorauūt also a greate occasion to worshyp ymages. For the workman willinge to do him a pleasure that set hym a worke, laboureth with al his cōning to make ỹ ymage of the best fashyon. And so/the howe the bewty of the worke) the comen people was disceaued, in so much that they toke him now for a god, whych a litle afore was but honored as a man. And this was the errour of mans like, when men (ether for to serue their owne affection / or to do some pleasure vnto kynges) ascribed vnto stones and stockes the name of god/which ought to be geuen vnto men.

Moreouer, this was not ynough for them that they erred in the knowledge of god: but where as they lyued in the greate warres of ignorauūce, those many and grete plages called they peace. For ether they slue their owne chyldre, and offred them, or dyd sacrifice in the nyght season, or els helde vnreasonable watches: so that they kepte nether lyfe nor mariage cleane: but ether one slue another to deathe malycyously, or els greued his neyghboure wadnoutrye. And thus were al thinges myxte together: bloude, manslaughter/theft, dissimulacion, corrupcō/vnfaithfulnes, sedicion, periury, disquyeting of good men, vnthankfulnes, defilyng of soules chaungyng of byrth, vnstedfastnes of ℰ of mariage, inysorde of aduoutry and vnclenes. And whye the honouring of abhominable ymages is the cause, the beginning and ende of al euel. For they that worshyp Idoles, either they are wad whē they be mery, or prophecy lyes, or lyue vngodly/or els lyghtlye for swear them selues.

For in somoch as their trust is in the Idols (which haue nether soule ner vnderstandyng) though they swere falsely yet they thincke it shall not hurte them.

Therfore commeth a greate plage vpon them, and that worthely: for they haue an euel opynion of God, geuyng hede vnto Idols, swearing vntrustly to deceaue, and despising rightuousnes. For their swearing is no vertue, but a plage of them that synne, and goeth euer wt ỹ offence of the vngodly.

The voyce of the faythful prayinge the mercy of God for whose graces sake they leaue not Idols.

The.xv. Chapter.

BVt thou (O oure God) art swete, long sufferinge and true, and in mercy ordreste thou al thinges. Though we synne/yet are we thyne, for we knowe thy strength. If we sinne not/thē ar we sure, that thou regardest vs. For to knowe the, is parfecte rightuousnes: yee to knowe thy tyghtuousnes & power, is the rote of imortalyte. As for the thing that men haue founde out thorow their euell scyence, it hathe not deceaued vs: as the paynting of ỹ picture (an vnprofytable laboure) and carued ymag, wt diuerse colours, whose syght entyseth the ygnorant: so ỹ thee honoureth and loueth the picture of a dead ymage that hath no soule.

Neuerthelesse/they that loue soche euel thinges, are worthy of death: they that trust in them, they that make them, they that loue them, ād they that honoure them. The potter also taketh and tēpereth soft earth, laboureth it, & geueth it the fashyō of a vessel, whatsoeuer serueth for oure vse, and so of one pece of claye he maketh some clene vessell for seruyce, and some contrary. But where to euery vessel serueth, that knoweth ỹ potter him selfe. So with his vayne laboure he maketh a God of ỹ same clay: this doth eue he, which a lytle afore was made of earth him selfe, and wythin a lytle while after (whē he dyeth) turneth to earth agayne.

Notwithstandynge, he careth not ỹ more because he shal labour, ner because hys his lif is shoꝛt: but striueth to excel gold smythes, the syluer smythes, the copper smythes, and taketh it foꝛ an honoure to make vayne thynges. Foꝛ hys hert is ashes, hys hope is but vayne earth, and his lyfe is no moꝛe woꝛth thē clay: foꝛ so much as he knoweth not hys owne maker, that gaue hym his soule to woꝛke, and bꝛethed in hym the bꝛeth of lyfe.

C They counte our lyfe but a pastime, and our conuersacion to be but a market, ād that men shoulde euer be getting, and ꝯ by euell meanes. Nowe he that of erth maketh fraple vessels and ymages, knoweth hi selfe to offende aboue all other.

All the enemyes of thy people and that holde them in subiection, ar vnwyse, vnhappy, and exceading pꝛoude vnto ther owne soules: foꝛ they iudge all ꝯ ydoles of the heathen to be goddes, whiche neither haue eye syghte to see, noꝛ noses to smell, noꝛ eares to heare, noꝛ fyngers of

D handes foꝛ to groape: and as foꝛ theyr fete they are to slowe to go. Foꝛ mā made them, and he that hath but a boꝛowed spꝛete, fashioned them. But no man can make a God lyke vnto him: foꝛ seinge he is but moꝛtal hym selfe, it is but moꝛtall that he maketh wyth vnrighteous handes. He him self is better then they whō he woꝛshippeth, for he lyued thoughe he was moꝛtall, but so dyd neuer they.

Ye they woꝛship beastes also, which are most miserable: foꝛ cōpare thinges that can not fele vnto them, and they ar woꝛse then those. Yet is there not one of these beastes, that with his syght can behold any good thing, nether haue they geuen pꝛaise noꝛ thanckes vnto god.

The punishement of Idolaters and the benefits done vnto the kaythfull.

The.xvi. Chapter.

A FOꝛ these & such other thynges haue they suffred woꝛthy punishemēt, & thoꝛow ꝯ multitude of beastes ar theiꝛ roted out. In stead of ꝯ which punischementes thou hast graciously oꝛdꝛed thyne owne People, and geuen them their desyꝛe that they longed foꝛ: a newe straunge taist, pꝛepaꝛynge theym quayles to be theyr meate: to the intente that (by the the thynges whych were shewed and sent vnto them) they that were so gredy of meate, myght be withdꝛawen euen from the desire that was necessary. But these within shoꝛt tyme were bꝛought vnto pouder, and tasted a newe meate. Foꝛ it was requysyte that (wythout any excuse) destruccyon should com vpon those which vsed tyranny, and to shew onli vnto the other, B. how thir enemies were destroyed. Foꝛ when the cruel woodnes of the beastes came vpon them, they pezished thoꝛow the stinges of the euel serpentes.

Notwithstanding thy wꝛath endured not perpetually, but they were put in feare foꝛ a lytle season, that they myght be rekourned, hauinge a token of saluacion/ to remembꝛe the cōmaundement of thy lawe. Foꝛ he that conuerted, was not heled by the thing that he sawe, but by the, O sauiour of al. So in this thou shewest thyne enemyes, ꝯ it is thou, which delyuerest from al euel. As foꝛ they when they were bitten wꝯ greshopers and flies, they died / foꝛ they were woꝛthy to pertish bi such: but nether the teeth of dꝛagons noꝛ of venemus woꝛmes ouer cam thi childꝛen, foꝛ thy mercy was euer by them, and he helped them. Therfoꝛe were they punished to remembꝛe thy woꝛdes/ but hastely were they healed agayne: lest thei C shuld fal into so depe foꝛgetfulnesse/ ꝯ they might not vse thy helpe.

It was nether herbe noꝛ playster ꝯ restoꝛed them to health, but thy woꝛde (O Loꝛd) which healeth al thinges. It is thou (O Loꝛd) that hast the power of lyfe and death: thou leadest vnto dethes doꝛe/ and bringest vp agayne. But man thoꝛowe wyckednes slayeth hys owne soule, and whē his spꝛete goeth foꝛth, it turneth not agayne, nether may he cal againe ꝯ soule that is takē awaye: It is not possible to escape thi hand. Foꝛ the vngodly that wolde not know the, wer punished by the stregth of thine arme: wꝯ straung waters/ haile D stones and raynes were they persecuted, & thoꝛow fire were they consumed. Foꝛ it was a wōdꝛous thig ꝯ fire might doo moꝛe thē water which quēcheth al thinges: but ꝯ woꝛld is ꝯ auēger of ꝯ rygh teous. Some time was ꝯ fire so tame ꝯ ꝯ beastes which were sent to noꝛish ꝯ vngodly vngodly, but not: and that because they shoulde se and knowe, that they were persecuted wyth the punishment of god And sommetime brente the fyre in the water on euery syde, that it myght destroy the vnrighteous nacion of the erth.

Agayne, thou hast fed thyne owne people with aungels fode, & sent them bred ready from heauen (without theyre labour) being very pleasaunt and wel gu-C sted. And to shewe thy ryches and swete nesse vnto thy children, thou gatherest euery one theyr desire/so that euery mā myght take what lyked hym beste. But the snow and yce abode the violence of the fire and melted not: that they might knowe that, the fyre burning in the hal and raine destroied the frute of the enemies: the fire also forgat his strength/a gaine, that the ryghtuous might be no rysked. For the creatur that serueth the (which arte the maker) is fearce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easy &
gētle to do good, vnto such as put ther D trust in thee. Therfore dyd all thinges alter at the same tyme/and were al obedient vnto thy grace, which is the norse of all thynges according to the desyre of them that had nede therof: that thy chil dren, O Lorde whome ꝑ louest, mighte knowe that it is not nature and the gro wing of frutes that fedeth men, but that it is thy word, which preserueth them that put ther trust in the. For loke what myght not be destroid with the fiere, as soue as it was warmed with a litle sun-ne beame, it melted: that all men mighte knowe, that thanckes mighte be geuen vnto thee before the sunne rise, and that ꝑ oughtest to be worshipped before the day springe. For the hope of the vnthā kful shal melt awaie as ꝑ winter yce, & perish as water, ꝑ is not necessary.

The iudgementes of god vpon the Egipcians.

The.xi. vii. Chapter.

A GReate are thy iudgementes
(O Lord) and thy councels can not be expressed, therfore men do erre, that will not be reformed with thy wisdō For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bandes of darken nes and long night, shut vnder ꝑ rofe/thinking to escape ꝑ euerlasting wisdō.
And while they thought to behyd in the darcknesse of their sinnes/they were sca tered abrode in the very myddest of the darck couering of forgetfulnes, put to horrible feare & wonderously vexed for the corner where they myghte not kepe them from feare: because the sounde ca me downe and vexed them: ye manifer rible and straunge visions made them afrayd.

No power of the fyre myghte geue them lyght, nether myght ꝑ clear flam B mes of the starres lyghten that horryb le nyght. For there appered vnto them a sodein fyre, very dredeful: at ꝑ which when they sawe nothyng) they were so a frayed, that they thought ꝑ thig whych they sawe, to be the more fearful. As for the sorcery and enchauntemente ꝑ they vsed, it came to derisyon, and the proud wysdome was broughte to shame. For they that promised to driue awaye thee fearfulnes and drede from thee weake soules/where syck for feare them selues, and that with scorne. And though none C of the wonders feared them, yet were thei afraid at the bestes which came vpō the and at the hissyng of the serpentes. In so moch that with trembling they sow ned and sayde they sawe not thee ayre, whiche no man yet maye escape.

For it is an heuy thing, when a mās owne conscience beareth recorde of his wickednes and condempneth him. And why? abered and wounded conscyence, nota taketh euer cruel thinges in hande. Fe- for sure arfulnes is nothing els but a declarig not that a man seketh helpe and defence, to āswer for him self. And loke how mo ch lesse the hope is within: the more is the vncertētye of the matter, for the which he is punished. But they that came in D myghty nyght: slepte the slepe that fell vpō them from vnderand from aboue somtyme were they afrayed thorow the feare of the wonders, and somtym they were so weake that they swowned wal for an hastye and sodayn fearfulnes ca me vpon the. After warde, yf eny of thē had fallen, he was kept and shutt in pre son but wythoutchaynes. But yf eny e dwelt in a villag, yf he had bene ā heir or husband man he suffred intollerable necessite

neceſſite: for they were al bounde wyth one chayne of darckneſſe.

Whether it were a blaſphemig wind, or a ſwete ſong of ỹ birdes amõge the thicke braũches of ỹ trees, or the vehemence of haſty rũnting water, or greate noyſe of the fallig downe of ſtones, or ỹ plateng & rũning of beaſtes whõthet ſawe not, or the mighty noyſe of rorig beſtes, or ỹ ſound ỹ anſwereth againe i the hie mountaines: it made thẽ ſownde for very feare. For all ỹ earth ſhyned wt clere light, & no mã was hidred ihts labour. Only vpõ thẽ there fell a heuy night, an imag of darknes ỹ was to com vpõ thẽ. Yee they were vnto thẽ ſelues ỹ moſte heuye and horrible darckneſſe.

¶ The fyrye lyght ỹ the Iſraelites had in Egypte The perſequucion of the faithful: The Lord ſmot all the fyrſt borne of Egypt. The ſonne of ỹ people in the wildernes. Aaron ſtode betwyxt the lyue and the deed wyth his cenſoure.

¶ The. xviii. Chapter.

A NEuertheles thy ſaintes had a very greate light (& the enemies herd their voice, but they ſaw not ỹ figure of thẽ.) And becauſe thei ſuffered not ỹ ſame thinges / they magnified ỹ: & they ỹ were vexed afore (becauſe they were not hurt now) thanked the, & beſought the (O god) ỹ thei might be a difference. Therfore had they a burning piler of fire to lede thẽ i ỹ vnknowne wate & ỹ gaueſt thẽ ỹ Sunn for a fre gift wt out any hurt. Reaſon it was / ỹ they ſhuld want light & be put in the priſon of darcknes, which kepte thy children i captyuite, by whõ the vncorupt light of ỹ lawe of ỹ world was for to be geuẽ. Whẽ thei thoght to ſlai the babes of ỹ righteous (one beig laid out / & preſerued to be leder vnto the other) ỹ broughteſt out the whole multitud of ỹ children / & deſtroiedſt thoſe i ỹ mighty water. Of ỹ night were our fathers certifyed afore ỹ, they knowyng vnto what oths they had geuẽ credẽce might be of good chere. Thus thy people receiued the health of the righteous but ỹ vngodli were deſtroied. For like as ỹ haſt hurte our enemies, ſo haſte ỹ promoted vs whõ thou calledeſt afore. For the rightuous children of the good men offred ſecretly ãd ordred the lawe of righteouſnes vnto vnite: that the iuſte ſhoulde receaue good and euell in lyke maner, ſinging prayſes vnto ỹ father of al men. Agayne, there was herd an vnconuenyent voyce of the ennuemyes, and a pyteous crye for children that were bewayled. The maſter and the ſeruaũt were puniſhed in lyke maner. For theye al together had innumerable that died one death.

B Nether were the lyuing ſufficient to bury the deed, for in the twincklyng of an eye, ỹ nobleſt nacyon of them was deſtroyed. As ofte as God helped them afore, yet wold it not make them beleue: but in the deſtruccyon of the firſt borne they knowleged, that it was the people of God. For while al thinges were ſtyl, and when the nyght was in ỹ myddeſt of her courſe / thy Allmyghtie worde (O Lorde) leapte downe from heauen oute of thi rotal trone as a rough mã of warre, in the middeſt of thee lande that was deſtroyed: and ỹ sharpe ſwerde perfourmed their ſtraite commaundement, ſtãding & fillyng al thinges wt death: yee it ſtode vpon the earth & reached vnto ỹ heauen. Thẽ the ſight of ỹ euel dreames vexed them ſodenly, & fearefulneſſe came vpon them vnawares.

C Then laye there one here / another there, half deed half quick, and ſhewed the cauſe of his death. For the viſyons that vexed them, ſhewed them theſe thinges a fore: ſo ỹ they were not ignoraũt, wherfore they peryſhed.

D The tẽptacyon of death touched ỹ righteous alſo, and among the multytude in the wildernes there was inſurrecion, but thy wrath endured not lõg. For the faultleſſe man went in al ỹ haſt, and toke the battayl vpõ him / brought forth the wepon of his mynyſtracyon: euen prayer and the cenſours of reconcilinge: ſette him ſelfe agaynſt the wrath and ſo brought the myſery to an ende: declaring therby, that he was thy ſeruaunt. For he ouercame not the multytude with bodely power, ner with weapens of myght: but with the worde hee ſubdued him that vexed him, puttinge the in remembraunce of the othe and couenaunt made vnto the fathers.

For

For when the deed were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the middest, pacified the wrath, and parted the waye vnto the lyuing. And why? his long garment was al the beu tye, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestye was wrytten in the crowne of his head. Upon these the destroyer gaue place, ād was afraide of them: for it was only a temptacion worthy of wrath.

The deeth of the Egyptians, and the great ioye of the hebrues. The meat that was gene vnto the desyr of the people. The elementes serue not only, to ỹ will of God, but also to ỹ wyll of man.

The.xix. Chapter.

A S for the vngodly, ỹ wrath came vpon them wythout mercy vnto ỹ end. For he knew before what shold happen vnto them: how ỹ (when they had consented to let theym go/and had sent them out wyth greate dyligence) they wold repent, and folow vppon them. For when they were yet mourning and makinge lamentacyon by the graues of the deade, they deuysed another folyshnes: so that they persecuted them in their flieng, whom thei had cast out afore with prayer. Worthi necessite also brought them vnto this ende/for thei had cleane forgotten the thinges that happened vnto thē afore. But the thing that was wantynge of their punishment, was requysyte so to be fulfilled vpon theym with tormentes: that thy people might haue a marueious passing thorow/and that these might fynd a straunge death.

B Then was euery creature fashioned agayne of newe accordinge to the wyl of their maker, obeyeng thy commaundementes ỹ thy children might be kepte without hurt, for the cloud ouershadowed their tentes, ād the drie earth appeared, wherafter was water so that in the red sea there was awaye wythoute impedymente, and the grete depe became a playne felde: where thorow al the people wente that were defyled wyth thy hande scynge thy wonderous and maruelous worckes. For as the horses, so were they fed, ād lepe lyke lambes, praising the (O lord) wyth ch hadest deliuered thē. And why? they were yet myndefull of the thinges, that happened whyle they dwelt in the land: how the ground brought forthe flyes in steade of catel, and how the ryuer scrauled wyth the multitude of frogges in steade of fyshes.

But at the last they sawe a new creacion of byrdes, what tyme as they were disceaued wyth lust, and wyth delycate meates. For when they were speaking of their appetite, the quailes came vpp vnto them from the see, and punishemētes cam vpon the synners, not without the tokens whych he came to passe afore by ỹ vehemēce of the streames: for they suffred worthely, according to their wickednesses, they dealt so abhominablye and churlishly/with straūgers. Som re C ceaued no vnknowen geastes, some brought the straungers into bondage that dyd them good. Besyde all these thynges there were some that not onely receaued no straungers wt theyr wylles, but persecuted those also ād did them much euell that receaued them gladly.

Therfore were they punished with blindnes, lyke as they that wer couered wyth sodayne darcknes at the dores of the righteous, so that euery one sought the entraunce of hys dore.

D Thus the elementes turned into them selues, lyke as when one tyme is chaunged vpon an instrumēt of Musike, and yet all the residue kepe theyr melodye: whych may easely be perceaued/ by the syght of the thynges that are com to passe. The drye lande was turned into a waterye/and the thynge that afore swamme in the water/went now vpon the drie grounde. The fyer hath power in the water (contrary to hys owne vertue) ād the water forgat hys owne kind to quench. Agayne, the flammes of the noysome beastes hurte not the flesshe of them that wente wyth them neyther melted they the yse whych eis melteth lyghtely. In al thinges hast thou promoted thi people (O Lord) and brought them to honur: thou hast not despised them, but alwaye and in all places hast thou stande by them.

The ende of the boke of wysdome.

¶ The boke of * Jesus the sonne of Syrah/which is called in latin Ecclesiasticus. Of Jesus

The Prologe of Jesus the sonne of Syrach vnto hys boke.

MAny and greate men haue declared wysdome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophetes and out of other that folowed the. In the which thynges Israell ought to be commended, by the reason of doctryne & wysdome: Therfore they that haue it and reade it, shoulde not onelye them selues be wyse there thorow, but serue other also wyth teaching and wrytynge.

After that my graundfather Jesus had geuen diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes and other bokes that were left vs of oure fathers, and had well exercised hym selfe there in: he purposed also to wryte some thynge of wysdome and good maners, to the intent that they which were wylling to learne and to be wise myght haue the more vnderstandinge, and be the more apte to leade a good conuersacyon.

Wherfore I exhorte you to receaue it louynglye, to reade it wyth dylygence, and to take it in good worthe, though oure wordes be not so eloquente as the famous Oratours. For the thynge that is written in the Hebreue tounge, soundeth not so well when it is translated into an other speache. Not only this boke of myne, but also the lawe, the Prophetes and other bokes sounde farre otherwyse, then they do, when they are spoken in theyr owne language.

Now in the.xxxviii. yeare when I came into Egipte in the tyme of Ptolomy Euerges, and continued there all my lyfe/I gat lybertie to reade and wrytte many good thinges Wherfore I thought it good ād necessary, to bestow my dylygence and trauayl to interprete this boke. And consyderinge that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my best to perfourme thys boke, and to bringe it vnto lyght: that the straungers also whych are disposed to lerne, myghte apply them selues vnto good maners, and lyue accordinge to the lawe of the Lorde.

¶ The boke of * Jesus the sonne of Syrah/which is called in latin Ecclesiasticus. Of Jesus

The Prologe of Jesus the sonne of Syrach vnto hys boke.

MAny and greate men haue declared wysdome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophetes and out of other that folowed the. In the which thynges Israell ought to be commended, by the reason of doctryne & wysdome: Therfore they that haue it and reade it, shoulde not onelye them selues be wyse there thorow, but serue other also wyth teaching and wrytynge.

After that my graundfather Jesus had geuen diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes and other bokes that were left vs of oure fathers, and had well exercised hym selfe there in: he purposed also to wryte some thynge of wysdome and good maners, to the intent that they which were wylling to learne and to be wise myght haue the more vnderstandinge, and be the more apte to leade a good conuersacyon.

Wherfore I exhorte you to receaue it louynglye, to reade it wyth dylygence, and to take it in good worthe, though oure wordes be not so eloquente as the famous Oratours. For the thynge that is written in the Hebreue tounge, soundeth not so well when it is translated into an other speache. Not only this boke of myne, but also the lawe, the Prophetes and other bokes sounde farre otherwyse, then they do, when they are spoken in theyr owne language.

Now in the.xxxviii. yeare when I came into Egipte in the tyme of Ptolomy Euerges, and continued there all my lyfe/I gat lybertie to reade and wrytte many good thinges Wherfore I thought it good ād necessary, to bestow my dylygence and trauayl to interprete this boke. And consyderinge that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my best to perfourme thys boke, and to bringe it vnto lyght: that the straungers also whych are disposed to lerne, myghte apply them selues vnto good maners, and lyue accordinge to the lawe of the Lorde.

Wysdom proceadeth and commeth of god. A prayse of ỹ fere of God. Rightwesnes is a degre to come by wysdome.

The fyrst Chapter.

ALl wisdom commeth of god the Lord, and hath ben euer with him, and is before all tyme. Who hath nombred the sande of the see, the dropes of the rayne and the dayes of tyme? Who hath measured the heygth of the auen ỹ brodth of the earth & the depnes of the se? Who hath sought out the groũde of gods wisdõ which hath bẽ before al thinges. Wisdom hath bene before al thinges: and the vnderstanding of prudence from euerlastyng (Gods word in the heygth is the well of wisdome, and ỹ euer lastyng commandementes are the entraunce of her.) Vnto whome hath ỹ rote of wisdom bene declared? Or who hath knowne her wit? Vnto whom hath the doctryne of wisdom bene discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstãde the many folde entraunce of her?

nota Almyghty

There is one: euen the Hiest the maker of al thinges, the Almyghtye, ỹ kyng of power (of whom men ought to stande greatly in awe) which sitteth vpon hys trone being a god of dominion: He hath created her thorow ỹ holy goost: he hath sene her: nõbred her, & mesured her: He hath powred her out vpon al his workes, and vpon al flesshe accordynge to his gift: he geueth her richelye vnto them that loue him. The feare of ỹ lord is worshipp and triumphe, gladnesse & a ioyful crowne. The feare of the Lord maketh a merye hart, geueth gladnesse, ioye and long lyfe. Who so feareth the lorde, it shal go wel with him at the last and in the daye of hys deathe he shalbe blessed.

The loue of God is honorable wysdome: loke vnto whome it apereth, them loue it, for they se what wonderous thinges it doth. The feare of the lorde ys ỹ beginninge of wisdome, and was made with the faythful in the mothers wõbe: it shal go with the chosen wemen, & shal be knowe of the righteous ād faythful. The feare of ỹ lord is ỹ right Gods seruice ỹ preserueth ād iustifieth the hert, and geueth myrth and gladnes. Who so feareth the Lord shalbe happye: and when he hath nede of comfort, he shall be blessed. To feare god is the wisdõe that maketh ryche, and bryngethe all good with her. She fylleth the whole house with her gyftes, and the garners with her treasure. The feare of the Lorde is the crowne of wisdome, and geueth plenteous peace and health. He hath sene her and nombred her: knowledge and vnderstanding, of wysdome hath he poured out as rayne: ād them that helde her fast, hath he brought vnto honoure.

G

The feare of the Lord is the rote of wisdome, and her braunches are lõg lyke. In the treasures of wisdom, is vnderstanding and deuision of knowleg but wisdome is abhorred of sinners.) The feare of the lorde dryueth out sinne (for he that is without feare) cãnot be made righteous, and his wilful boldnes is his owne destruccion. A pacyent man wyl sufferr vnto the tyme, and then shal he haue the rewarde of ioye. A good vnderstanding wyll hyde hys wordes for a tyme, and many mẽs lyppes shal speake of his wysdom. In ỹ treasures of wisdome is the declaracyon of doctryne, but the synner abhoreth the worshipp of god. My sonne (yf thou desyre wisdome, kepe the cõmaũdement, and God shal geue her vnto ỹ for the feare of the Lord is wysdome & nurtoure, he hath pleasure in fayth ād louynge mekenes (and he shall fyl the treasures therof. Be not obstynate and vnfaythfull to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto hym wyth a double herte. Be not an ypocrite in the syghte of men, and take good hede what thou speakeste.

nota wonderful boldnes

D

Watcke wel these thynges, lest thou happen to faull and bryng thy soule to dyshonoure, and so GOD discouer thy secretes (and caste thee downe in the myddeste of the Congregacyon: Because thou wouldeste not receaue the feare of GOD, and because thy herte ys full of faynednes and dysceate.

He

¶ He exhorteth the seruantes of god to rightuousnes, loue, vndestandig & pacience, and exhorteth hi that feareth God, to beleue, to hope, and to loue: because God neither confoundeth nor forsaketh them, that trust in hym. A curse vpon the subtil, feare ād impacient of herte:

The.ii.Chapter.

A MY sonne, yf thou wilt come in to the seruyce of god, stā de fast in rightousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to tentacyon: settle thine hert and be pacyent: bow downe thine eare/ receaue the wordes of vnderstandyng, and shryncke not awaye, when thou arte entysed. Holde the fast vpon God, ioyne thy self vnto hym and suffre, that thy lyfe maye encreace at the last. Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receaue it: suffre in heuynesse, and be patiente in thy trouble. For lyke as gold and syluer are tryed in the fyre, euen so are acceptable men in the fornace of aduersyte. Beleue in God, and he shall healpe the: ordre thy waye a right, and put thy trust in him. Holde fast his feare, and growe therin. O ye that feare the lord, take sure holde of his mercy: shrincke not awaye from him, that ye fall not. O ye that feare the Lord, beleue hym, and your reward shal not be emptie. O ye that feare the Lorde put your trust in him, and mercye shall come vnto you for pleasure. B O ye that feare the Lorde set your loue vppon him, and youre hertes shal be lyghtened. Consydre the olde generacions of men (O ye chyldren) and marke them wel: was there euer eny one confounded, ꝙ put his trust in ꝙ Lord: Who euer continued in his feare and was forsaken: Or whom dyd he euer despyse, that called faythfully vpon him: For God is gracious and mercyful, he forgeueth synnes in the tyme of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seke hym in the truethe. Woo be vnto him ꝙ hath a double hert, wycked lyppes and euell occupied handes, and to the synner that goeth two maner of ways. Woo be vnto them that are loose of herte, which put not their trust in God, and therfore shall they not be defended of him. Woo be vnto them that haue lost pacience, forsaken the ryght wayes and are turned backe in to frowarde ways. What wyll they do, when the Lorde shall begynne to visite them?

They that feare the Lorde, will not mistrust his worde: and they that loue hym, wyl kepe his commaundemente. They that feare the Lord wyl seke out the thynges / that are pleasaunt vnto him: and they that loue hym, shal fulfyl his lawe. They that feare the lord wyl prepare their hertes, and humble their soules in his syght. They that feare the Lorde kepe his commaundementes, and wyl be patient tyl they se him selfe, sayinge: better it is for vs to fall into the handes of the Lorde, then into the handes of men: for his mercye is as greate as him selfe.

To our father and mother ought we to geue double honoure. Of ꝙ blessing and curse of ꝙ father & mother. No man ought ouer curyosly to searche out the secretes of god.

The.iii.Chapter.

THe chyldren of wysdome are a congregacō of the ryghtuous and their exercyse is obedience and loue. Here me your father (O my deare children) and do thereafter, that ye maye be safe. For the Lord wyl haue the father honoured of the children, and loke what a mother commaūdeth her children to do, he wyl haue it kept. A Who so honoureth his father, his sines shalbe forgeuen him: and he that honoureth his mother is lyke one that gathereth treasure together. Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioye of hys owne children: and whe he maketh his prayer, he shalbe herde. He that honoureth hys Father, shal haue a longe lyfe: & he that is obedyent for the lordes sake/ hys mother shal haue ioye of hī.

He that feareth the lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doeth them seruyce, as it were vnto the lord B hym selfe. Honoure thy father in dede, in worde, and and in al pacyence, that thou mayest haue hys blessynge: for the blessinge of the father buyldeth vp the houses of the chyldren, but the mothers curse roteth oute the foundacyons. Reioyse not when thy father is reproued, for it is no honour vnto the but a shame. For the worshyppe of a mans father is hys owne worshypp, & where the father is without honoure, it is the dishonesty of the sonne.

My sonne/ make muche of thy father in his age, and greue him not as longe as he lyueth. And yf his vnderstādig
B fayle, haue pacience with him, and dyspise him not in thy strength. For the good dede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shal not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wantest/ it shal be rewarded thee (and for thy mothers offence ꝑ shalt be recompenced with good, yea it shall be founde for thee in righteousnes) & in ꝑ daye of trouble ꝑ shalt be remēbred: Thy sines also shall melt awaye, like as the yce in ꝑ fayre warme wether

He that forsaketh his father, shall come to shame; and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of god. My sonne, performe thy workes with louynge meknes, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men. The greater thou art/ the more humble thy selfe (in al thynges) & ꝑ shalt find fauour in ꝑ sight of god. For greate power belongeth only vnto god/ & he is honoured of the lowly.

Seke not out the thyngs that are aboue thy capacite, & searche not out ꝑ grou̇nd of such thinges as ar to mightye for ꝑ: but loke what god hath cōmaūded ꝑ, thinck vpō ꝑ al waie, & be not curious i
C many of his workes. For it is not nedful for ꝑ to se with thine eies ꝑ thinges ꝑ ar secret. Make not ꝑ to much search i superfluous thinges, & be not curyous in many of his workes: for many thinges ar shewed vnto ꝑ alredy, which be aboue ꝑ capacite of men. The medlyng with such hath begiled many a mā, & tāgled their wittes i vayne. Nowe he ꝑ loueth parel, shal perish therin. An hard hert shal fare euell at ꝑ last (ā hert ꝑ goeth two waies, shal not prospere: & he ꝑ is frowad of hert, wil euer be ꝑ worse ād worse.) A wicked hert shalbe ladē with sorowes, & ꝑ vngodly siner wil kepe one sine vpō another. The counsel of ꝑ proud hath no helth, for ꝑ plāt of sine shal
D be roted out i thē. The hert of hi ꝑ hath vnderstādig shal perceue hye thinges/ & a good eare wil gladly herkē vnto wisdō, An hert that is wise & hath vnderstādynge/ wyll absteyne from synnes/ and encrease in the woorckes of rightuousnes. Water quencheth burning fyre, ād mercy reconsileth synnes. God hath respect vnto hym that is thanckefull: hee thynketh vpon hym agaīnste the tyme to come/ so that when he falleth he shall fynde a stronge holde.

Almes must be done with all mekenes. The study of wisdome and her frute. A iudge ought to be mercifull. An exhortacion to eschue euell & to do good.

The.iiii.Chapter.

A

My sonne, defraude not thee poore of hys almes, ād turne not away thyn eyes frō hym that hath nede. Despyse not an hongry soule, and defye not the poore in hys necessite, greue not the herte of him that is helpelesse/ and wythdraw not the gyft frō the nedefull. Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble/ and turne not away thy face from the nedy. Cast not thyne eyes aside from the poore that ꝑ geue hī not occasion to speake euel of ꝑ For yf he complayne of thee in the bytternes of hys soule, his prayer shalbe herde: Euen he that made hym, shal heare hym. Be curteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto the elder and bowe downe thy heade to a man of worshippe. Let it not greue ꝑ B to bowe downe thyne eare vnto the poore, but paye thy debte/ and geue hym a frendlye answere/ and that with meknes.

Delyuer hym that suffreth wronge frō the hande of the oppressour and be not fayntherted when thou sittest in iudgemēt. Be mercyfull vnto the fatherles as a father, and be in steade of an husband vnto theyr mother: so shalt ꝑ be as an obedient sonne of the hyest, & he shal loue thee more then thy mother dothe. Wisdome bringeth lyfe into her children, receaueth them that seke her, and wyll go before them in the way of righteousnes. He ꝑ loueth her loueth lyfe: & they that seke her diligentlye/ shal haue greate ioye. They that kepe her, shal haue the heretage of lyfe: for where she entreth in/ there is the blessinge of god. They ꝑ honor her, shalbe ꝑ seruaūts of ꝑ holy one: & they ꝑ loue her: ar beloued of god. who so geueth eare vnto her, shal iudge the heathen: and he that hath re
C spect vnto her, shall dwell safely.

He that beleueth her, shal haue her i possession and his generacion/shal endure: for when he falleth, she shal go w̄ him, before al. Feare, drede & temptacyō shal she bringe vpon him, and trye him in her doctrine: tyl she haue so proued him in his thoughtes, that he committ his soule vnto her. Then shal she stablysh him, bring the right way vnto hi/ make him a glad man/shew him her secretes and helpe vpon the treasures of knowledg, vnderstanding and rightuousnes. But if he go wrong, she shal forsake him, and geue him ouer in to the hād des of his enemie.

My sonne make moche of the tyme, eschue the thinge that is euell/ and for thi life shame not to saie the truth. For there is a shame that bringeth synne ād there is a shame ꝑ bringeth worshippe and fauour. Accepte no person after thi owne wyl, that thou be not confoūded to thyne owne decaye. Be not ashamed of thy neyghbour in his aduersite, and kepe not back thy councel when it maie do good, nether hide thy wysdome i her beuty. For in the tonge is wisdom knowne, so is vnderstanding, knowledg & lerninge in the talkynge of the wyseād D stedfastnesse in the workes of rightuousnes. In no wise speke agaynst ꝑ worde of treuth but be ashamed of the lyes of thyne owne ignorāunce. Shame not to confesse thyne errroure, and submitte not thy selfe vnto euery man because of sinne. Withstād not ꝑ face of ꝑ mighty, and stryue not agaynst the streame. But for the trueth striue thou vnto death, & God shal fight for the agaynst thyne enemies. Be not haltye in thy tōg, nether slack & neglygēt in thy workes. Be not as a lyon in thyne own house, destroyīg thy houshold folckes, and oppressyng them that are vnder the/ Let not thyne hande be stretched out to receaue, & shut when thou shuldest geue.

¶ In riches may we not put any confidence. The vengeaunce of God ought to be feared ād to repē taunce maye we not be slowe.

The.v. Chapter

TRust not vnto thy riches, ād saie not: tush, I haue ynough for mi lyfe. (For it shall not helpe in the time of vengeaunce and temptacion) For lowe not the luste of thyne owne herte in thy strength, and saie not, tush, how haue I had strength/or who wil brige me vnder because of my workes? For doutles God shall auenge it. And saie not: I haue committed no synnes, but what euell hath happened me? For the Almightye is a pacyent rewarder. Because thy sinnes be forgeuen the, benot therfore without feare/neyther heape one synne vppon another. And saye not: tush/the mercy of the lorde is grete, he shal forgeue me my sines, be they neuer so manye. For lyke as he is mercyful/so goeth wrath from him also/ & his indignacion commeth downe vpō synners.

Make no taryenge to turn vnto the Lorde, and put not of from date to B daye: For sodenlye shall hys wrathe come, and in tyme of vengaūce he shal destroi thee. Trust not i wicked riches for thei shal not help i ꝑ date of punish mēt & wrath. Be not caried aboute to euery wynde, and goo not into euerye waye: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tonge. Stande fast in the wate of the Lord, be stedfast in the vnderstā ding, abyde by thy worde, and folow ꝑ worde of peace and rightousnes. Be gentle to heare the worde of god, that ꝑ mayeste vnderstande it, and make a true answere with wisdome. Be swift to heare, but slowe and pacīente in ge uynge answere: If thou hast vnderstandynge/shappe thy neyghboure an answeare. If no, late thine hand vpon thi mouth: lest thou be trapped i C an vndiscrete worde, and so confounded. Honour and worship is in a mās wyse talkinge, but the tonge of the vn discret is his own destruccion. Be not a preuy accuser as long as thou liuest and vse no sclaunder wyth thy tonge. For shame and sorowe goeth ouer the theke, and an euel name ouer hym that is double tonged: but he that is a preuy accuser of other men, shal be hated, enuyed and confounded. See that thou iustifye the small and greate alyke.

¶ It is ꝑ properte of a synner to be euel tonged. The doctrine of good councel of the wise ys to be embraced, Mysdō should be leazched for. The proffet therof.

The.vi. Chapter.

BE not thy neyghbours enemy for thy frendes sake: for who so is euel shalbe ỹ heyre of rebuke & dysl honoure/and whosoeuer beareth enuy and a double tonge offendeth. Be not proude in the deuice of thyne owne vnderstandinge, lest thy leaues wether/& thy frute be destroyed, & so thou be lefte as a dyre tree. For a wicked soule destroyeth hym that hath it, maketh hym to be laughed to scorne, of his enneinyes, (and bringeth him to the porcion of the vngodly.) A swete word multiplieth frendes, & pacifieth thē ỹ be at variaunce, & a thanckfull tonge wylbe plenteous in a good man. Hold fredshyp w̄ many, neuertheles haue but one counceler of a thousand. Yf thou gettest a frend/ proue hym fyrst, and be not hastie to geue hi credence. For some man is a frende, but for attime/and wyl not abyde in the day of trouble. And ther is som fred that turneth to enemyte/ād taketh parte against the: and if he know eny hurt by thee, he telleth it out. A gayne/some frende is but a companion at the table and in the daye of neade he continueth not. But a sure frende wylbe vnto the euenas thine owne self, and deale faithfully with thy housholdfolcke. If thou suffre trouble and aduersitie, he is w̄ thee, and hydeth not hym selfe. Depart from thyne ennemies, yea & beware of thy frendes.

A faithfull frende is a strong defence: who so findeth such one, findeth a noble treasure. A faythfull frende hath no peare, the weyghe of gold ād syluer is not to be compared to the goodnes of hys fayth. A faythfull frende/is a medicin of lyfe, and they ỹ feare the Lorde, find hym. Who so feareth the Lord, shal prosperare with frendes: and as he is hym selfe, so shall hys frende be also. My sone, receaue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou fynd wysdom tyl ỹ be old Go to her as one ỹ ploweth, & soweth, & wait pacientlye for her good frutes. For thou shalt haue but lytle labour in her worcke, but thou shalt eate of her frute ryghtsone. O how exceadinge sharp is wysdomme to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast body wyll not remayne in her. Vnto such she is as it were a touchstone, and he casteth her from him ryght as he hast: for wisdome is wyth hym but in tyme/there be but few that haue knowledge of her. (But with them that know her, she abideth euen vnto the appering of god.)

Geue eare (my sonne) receaue my doctryne, and refuse not my councel. Put thy fote in her fynckes, and take her yocke vpon thy necke: bowe downe thy shoulder vnder her, beare her paciently, and be not wery of her bandes. Come vnto her with thy whole hert, & kepe her waies w̄ al thy power. Seke after her, and she shalbe shewed the: & when thou hast her/forsake her not. For at the last thou shalt find rest in her & that shalbe turned to thy greate ioye. Then shal her fetters be a stronge defence for the, and her yocke a glorious rayment. For the bewtye of lyfe is in her/and her bandes are the couplinge together of saluacion. Yea a glorious raiment is it/thou shalt put it on, & the same crowne of ioye shalt thou weare.

My sonne, yf thou wylt/take hede/ thou shalt haue vnderstanding: and if thou wylt applye thy mynd, thou shalt be wyse. If thou wilt bow downe thine eare thou shalt receaue doctryne: and yf thou delyt in hearinge, thou shalte be wise. Stand with the multitude of suche elders as haue vnderstandyng/ & consent vnto their wisdome w̄ thine hert: that thou mayest heare all godly sermons, & ỹ the worthy sentences eskape the not. And if ỹ lest a man of discrete vnderstanding/get the soone vnto hi, and let thy fote tread vpon the steppes of hys dores. Let thy mynde be vpon ỹ cōmaundementes of god, and be earnestly occupied in his lawes: so shal he stablishe thy herte/ and geue the wisdome at thine owne desire.

¶ We must forsake euel, & yet not iustify our selues The behaueour of ỹ wise toward his wyfe, his frende, hys chyldrē his seruauntes, hys father & mother, the prestes &c.

¶ The. vi. Chapter

DO no euel/ so shal ther no harme happen vnto the. Depart awaye frō ỹ thinge ỹ is wycked, and no misfortune shal medle w̄ the.

My

My sonne, sow no euel thinges in the forowes of vnrightuousnes, so shalt ÿ not reape them seuen folde. Labour not vnto men for any lordshyp, uether vnto the kyng for the seate of honour. Justify not thy selfbefore God(for he knoweth the hert(and desyre not to be reputed wyse in ÿ presence of the king. Make no labour e to be made a iudge, excepte it so were, that thou couldest myghtely put downe wyckednes: for yf ÿ shuldest stand in awe of the presence of the mightye, thou shuldest fayle in geuyng sentence. Offend not in the multitude of the cite, ād put not thy self amonge the People. Bynde not two synnes together, for in one synne shalt thou not be vnpunyshed. Saye not: such, God wyl loke vpon the multitud of my oblacyons, and when I offre to the hyeste God, he wyll accepte it.

Be not faynt harted when thou makest thy prayer, nether slack in geuing of almes. Laugh no man to scorne in ÿ heuynesse of his soule, for God(which seyth all thinges(is he that can brynge downe, and set vp agayne. Accepte no lesyng agaynst thy brother, nether do ÿ same agaynst thy frend. Use not to make any maner of lye, for the custome therof is not good. Make not many wordes, when thou art amonge the elders: & when thou prayest, make not moch bablynge. Let no laborius worcke be tedious vnto the, nether the housbandry which the Allmyghtie hath created. Make not thy boaste in the Multytude of thy wickednes, but humble thy self euen frō thyne herte: and remembre that the wrath shall not be longe in tarying, and ÿ the vengeaunce of the flesh of the vngodly is a very fyre and wrome. Geue not ouer thy frende for enye good, ner thy faythful brother for the best golde. Departe not from a discrete and good woman, that is fallen vnto the, for thy porcion in the feare of the Lord, for the gyft of her honesty is aboue golde. Where as thy seruaunt worketh truly, intreate him not euell, ner the Hyrelynge that is faythful vnto the. Loue a dyscret seruaunte as thyne owne soule, defraude hym not of his libertie, neyther leaue him a poore mā.

If thou haue catell, loke wel to them: & they be for thy profit kepe them. If ÿ haue sonnes, bring them vp in nortour and lerning, and hold them in awe frō their youth vp. If ÿ haue daughters, kepe their body, and shewe not thy face chereful towardes them. Mary thi daughter, & so shalt ÿ perfourme a weighty matter: but geue her to a man of vnderstanding. If thou haue a wife after thi owne minde, for sake her not: (but commytte not thi selfe to the hateful.)

Honoure thi father from thi hole hert, and forget not the sorowful trauaile that thi mother had with the: remembre that thou wast borne thorow them, ād how canst thou recompence thē the thinges that they haue done for the? Feare the lord with al thi soule, and honoure his ministres. Loue thy maker wyth all thy strengthe, and forsake not his Seruauntes. Feare ÿ lord with al thi soul, & honoure his Prestes. Geue thē their porcion of the first frutes and increase of the earth, like as it is commaunded the: geue them the shoulders, and their appointed offrynges and fyrstlynges. Reache thine hād vnto the poore, that God maye blesse the w plentuousnes. Be liberal vnto all men lyuinge, yet let not but do good, euen to them that are deed.

Let not t' em that wepe be without cōforte, but mourne w sorowe as mourne. let it not greue ÿ to viset the sicke for ÿ shal make the to be beloued. Whatsoeuer thou takest in hād, remembre ÿ end and thou shalt neuer do amisse.

Agaynst thi better is no stryuing. Of ÿ deeth of the enmy mayst ÿ not reioyce, ner dispys thy neyghbores, ner ÿ wordes of ÿ wyse.

The.viii. Chapter.

Striue not with a mightye man, lest thou chaūse to fal in to his handes. Make no variaunce with a rich man lest he happen to bringe vp an harde quarel agaynst ÿ. For gold & siluer hath vndone many a man, yea euen the hartes of kinges hath it made to fall. Striue not w a man ÿ is full of wordes, & laye no stykes vpō his fire:

kepe

kepe no company with the vnlearned, leaſt he geue thy kinred an euel report. Deſpice not a man that turnethe hym ſelfe awaye from ſinne, and caſte hym not in the teeth withall: but remembre that we are frayle euerichone. Thincke ſcorne of no man in his olde age, for we ware olde alſo. Be not gladd of the ¶ death of thyne ennemy, but remembre that we muſt dye all the ſorte of vs (ād fayne wolde we come into loye.) Deſpyſe not the ſermons of ſuch elders as haue vnderſtanding, but acquaynt thy ſelfe wyth the wyſe ſentences of them: for of them thou ſhalt learne wyſdom, and the doctryne of vnderſtandynge/ and how to ſerue great men wythoute complaynte.

Go not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue lerned it of theyre fathers, for of them thou ſhalt learne vnderſtanding, ſo that thou mayeſt make anſwer in the tyme of nede. Kindle not the coales of ſynners, leſt thou be brēt in the fyre flammes of theyr ſinnes. Reſiſte not the face of the blaſphemer, leſt he laye not wayte for thy mouth. Lend not vnto hym that is mygbtier thē thy ſelfe: If thou lendeſt hym, counte it but loſt. Be not ſuerty aboue thy power: yf thou be, then thynke ſurely to pay it. Go not to lawe with the iudge, for he wyll iudge accordynge to hys own honoure. Trauayle not by the waye with hym that is brayneles, leſt he doo the euell: for he folowith hys owne wylfulnes/ and ſo ſhalte thou periſhe thorowe hys folye.

Stryue not wyth hym that is angrye and cruell, and go not wyth hym in the wyldernes: for bloude is nothīg in hys ſyght/ and where there is noo helpe, he ſhall murther thee. Take no counſell at fooles, for they loue nothinge but the thinges that pleaſe them ſelues. Make no counſell before a ſtraunger, for thou canſt not tell what wyll come of it. Open not thyne herte vnto euery man, leſt he be vnthanckfull of ỹ, and put the to reproke.

¶ The ieopardies of chaſtenes are to beeſchued. An olde frende is to be preferred before a new. The glory and riches of ſynners. Righteous mē ſhuld be bydden to geſt. Labor is ỹ cheefe thing in a Workman, and wyſdome in a prince.

The Boke of

The.xii. Chapter.

BE not gelous ouer the wyfe of thy boſome, that ſhe ſhewe not ſome ſhrewed poynt of wycked doctryne vppon the. Geue not the power of thy lyfe vnto a woman, leſt ſhe come in thy ſtrength, and ſo thou be confoūded. Loke not vpon a woman that is deſyrous of many men, leſt thou fall in to her ſnares. Vſe not the company of a woman that is a player and daunſer, and heare her not, leſt thou periſh thorow her entyſyng. Beholde not a mayde, that ỹ be not hurt in her bewtie. Caſt not thy mynde vpon harlottes in eny maner of thynge, leſt thou deſtroye both thy ſelfe and thyne heritage. Go not aboute gaſynge in euery lane of the cytye, neither wandre thou abrode in the ſtretes ther of. Turne awaye thy face from a beutyfull woman, and loke not vpon the fayrneſſe of other.

Many a man hath periſhed thorow the bewty of wemen, for thorow it the deſyre is kyndled as it were a fyre. (An aduouterous woman ſhalbe trodden vnder fote as myre, of euery one that goth by the waye. Many a mā wonderynge at the bewtye of a ſtraūge woman, hathe bene caſt out, for her wordes kyndle as a fyre. (Syt not wt another mās wyfe by eny meanes, lye not wythe her vpon the bedd, make no wordes with her at the wyne: leſt thine hert conſent vnto her, & ſo thou wt thy bloude fal in deſtruccyō. Forſake not an olde frende, for the new ſhall not be lyke him. forſake not a old frend A new frēde is new wyne: let him be old and thou ſhalt drynk him with pleaſure. Deſyre not the honoure and riches of a ſynner, for thou knoweſt not what deſtruccyon is for to come vpon him. Delyte not thou in the thynge that the vngodly haue pleaſure in, beinge ſure that the vngodly ſhall not be accepted vntyll their graue. Kepe the from the man that hath power to ſlaye, ſo nedeſt thou not to be afrayed of death. And yf thou commeſt vnto him, make no fawt, leſt he happen to take awaye thy lyfe. Remembre that thou goeſt in the middeſt of ſnares, and vpon the bul workes of the cytye.

Be

Be warre of thy neghboure as nye as ȳ canst, and medle with soch as be wyse & haue vnderstandynge. Lett iust men be thy gestes, lett thy myrth be in the feare of God, let the remembraunce of God be in thy mynde and let all thy talkynge be in the commaundementes of the Hyest. In the hādes of craftesmen shal the worckes be commended, so shall the prynces of the people in the wysdom of their talkynge. A mā full of wordes is perlous in his cytie: and he that is temerarious and past shame in his talkynge, is to be abhorred.

Of kynges/ and Judges. Pryde, and couetoulnes are to be abhorred Labour is prayled.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

A wyse iudge will ordre hys people with discrecion. and wher a man of vnderstandinge beareth rule, there goeth it well. As the iudge of the people is him selfe, euen so are his officers: and loke what maner of mā the ruler of the cytye is, soch are they that dwell therin also. An vnwyse kyng destroyeth his people, but where they that be in auctorite are men of vnderstandyng there the cytye prospereth. ¶ The power of the earth is in the hande of God, ād when his time is, he shall set a profytable ruler vpon it. In the hande of God is the power of man, & vpon the Scribes shall he laye his honoure. Remembre no wrong of thy neyghboure, and medle thou with no vnrightuous worckes. Pryde is hatefull before God and man, and all wickednes of the Heathen is to be abhorred. Because of vnrighteous dealyng, wronge blasphemies, & dyuerse disceate, a realme shall be translated from one people to another.

¶ There is nothyng worse then a coueto us man. Why art thou proud, O thou earth and asshes? There is not a more wicked thing, then to loue moneye. And why? soch one hath his soule to sell: yet is he but fylthy dounge whyle he lyueth. And though the phisician shew his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, to daye a kynge, to morowe deed. For when a man dyeth, he is the heyre of serpentes, beastes ād wormes. The beginyng of mās pride, is to fal a waye from God: & whi- hys hert is gōe from his maker, for pryde is the orygenal of al sinne. Who so taketh holde therof shalbe fylled wyth cursinges and at thee laste it shall ouerthrow hi. Therfor hath ȳ lord brought the congregacions of the wycked to dishonoure, and destroyed them vnto thee ende.

God hath destroyed thee seates of proude princes, and set vp the meke yn their steade. God hath withered the rotes of the proude heathen and planteds the lowly among them. God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathen, ād destroyed them out of the grounde. He hath caused them to wythere awaye, he hath brought them to naught, and made the memorial of them to ceasse from oute of the earth (God hath destroyede the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble of mind.) Pryde was not made for man, nether wrothfulnes for mens children. The sede of men that feareth god, shalbe brought to honour: but the sede which transgresseth the cōmaundementes of the lorde shalbe shamed. He that is the ruler amōg brethrē is houlden in honoure among them ād he regardeth soch as fere the lord. The glory of the riche of the honorable and of the poore is the feare of god.

Despise not thou the poore man, & magnifie not the rich vngodly. Great is ȳ iuge and mightye in honour, yet is there none greater, then he that feareth God. Vnto the seruaūt that is dyscrete shall the fre do seruyce. He that is wise and wel norytured wil not grudg when he is reformed, and an inguorauntbodye shall not come to honoure. Be not proude to do thy work, and despeat not in the tyme of aduersite. Better is he ȳ laboureth, ād hath plenteousnes of all thinges, then he that is gorgeous and wanteth brede.

My soune, kepe thy soule in meckenes & geue her her due honour. Who shall iustify him that sinneth agaynst hi selfe who wil honoure him, ȳ dishonoureth his owne lyfe? The poore is honoured for his faythfulnes & truth but ȳ riche is had in reputacio because of his goodes

Ff

He that ordreth him selfe honestly in po uerte, how moche more shal he behaue him selfe honestly in riches? And who so ordreth hym selfe vnhonestlye in riches, how moch more shal he be haue him sel fe vnhonestly in pouertie.

The prayse of humilitee. After the outwarde appe rannce ought we not to iudge. Of heady ādrasche iud gement. The ryche is not wythout offence. Al thin ges come of God. Al men are not to be broughte in to thine house.

The.xi. Chapter

A THe wisdom of hym that ys brought lowe, shall lyft vp his head, ād shal make him to sit among great men. Cō mende not a man in his bew ty/nether despyse a man in his vtter ap peraunce. The Bee is but a small beast among ỹ foules, yet is her frut exceding swete. Be not proude of thy raiment/ & exalte not thy selfe in the daye of thy ho nour: for the worckes of the Hyest onli are wonderful: ye gloryous, secrete and vnknowne are his worckes. Many ty rrauntes haue bene fayne to syt downe vpon the erth, & the vnlyckly hath wor ne the crowne. Many myghtie men ha ue bene brought lowe, and the honora ble haue ben deliuered in to other mēs hādes. Condemne no man, before thou haue tryed out the matter: and when ỹ haste made enquisycion, then reforme rightuously. Geue no sentence before ỹ hast herd ỹcause but fyrst let mē tel out their tales.

B Striue not for a matter ỹ toucheth not thy selfe, and stand not in the iudg ment of sinners. My son medle not w many matters: and if thou wilt be rich, thou shalt not get it: and though thou rennest thy way afor yet shalt thou not escape. There is some man that labou reth, and the more that he weerieth him selfe, the lesse he hathe. Agayne, some man is slothful, hath nede of helpe, wā teth strength, and hath great pouerte, & Gods eye loketh vpō hi to good, setteth him vp from hys lowe estate, & lyfteth vp his head: so that many men maruel at him, and geue honoure vnto God.

Prosperite and aduersyte, lyfe and death, pouerte and riches, comeal of the Lorde. (Wisdomme, Nourtoure and knowledge of the lawe are with God: lo ue and the wayes of good are whym.

Errour and darknes are made synners: and they that exalte them selues in euel, waxe olde in euell. (The wyll of God C remayneth for the righteous, and hys g ood wyl shall geue prosperyte for euer. Some man is rich by lyuynge nygard ly, and that is the porcyon of hys rewa rde, in that he sayeth: now haue I gotte n rest, and nowwyll I eate and drynk of my goodes my self alone. And yet he co nsyderyth not, that ỹ tyme drayweth nye, that he must leaue all these thinges vn to other men, and dye him selfe. Stan de thou fast in thy couenaunt, and exer cy se thy selfe therein / and remayne in the worcke vnto thy ayge. Continue not in the worckes of synners, but put thy trust in god, and byde in thyne esta te: for it is but ā ealy thyng in the sight of God/ to make a pore man riche, and that sodenly: The blessinge of God ha steth to the rewarde of the rightuous, and maketh hys frutes sone to florysh and prospeare, say not: what helpeth it me: and what shall I haue the whyle: Agayne, say not: I haue ynough, howe can I wante: when thou art in welfa re/ forget not aduersitie: and when it goeth not well wyth thee, haue a good hope, that it shalbe better. For it is but a small thyng vnto God, in the daye of death to rewarde euery man acording to his wayes, the aduersitie of an whos re maketh one to forget all pleasure: & when a man dieth, hys worckes are discouered. Prayse no body before hys death for a man shalbe knowen in hys childeren.

D Bringe not euerye man into thyne house, for the disceatfull layeth wayte dpuerssly. Lyke as a partrich in a mañ de/ so is the hert of the proude: and ly ke as a spye, that loketh vpō the fall of hys neyghbour. For he turneth good vnto euell/ and sclaundereth the chos sen. Of one sparck is made a gret fyer and an vngodly man layeth wayte for bloude. Beware of the disceatful, for he ymagineth wicked thynges to bring ỹ into a perpetual shame. If ỹ take st an aleāt vnto ỹ, he shal destroi ỹ in vnqui etnes, & dryue ỹ frō thyne owne wates.

Vnto whom we ought to do good. Enmies ought to be eschued.

The xii. Chapter.

A WHen thou wilt do good, knowe to whom thou doest it, and so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites. Do good vnto ỹ righteous and thou shalt fynd great rewarde: though not of him, yet (no doute) the Lord himself shall rewarde the. He standeth not in a good case ỹ is alwaye occupied in euel, and geueth no almes: for the Hyest hateth the synners, and hath mercy vpon them that shewe the workes of repentaunce. Geue thou vnto soch as feare God, and receaue not a synner. As for the vngodlye and synners, he shall recompense vengeaunce vnto them, and kepe them to the daye of wrath. Geue thou vnto the good, and receaue not the synner: do well vnto him that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly. Let not the bred be geuē him, that he be not myghtyer then thy selfe therin. For so shalt thou receaue twyse as moch euell, in al the good that thou dost vnto hym: And why? the Hyeste hateth synners, and shal rewarde vengeaunce to the vngodly.

B In prosperite, a frynd shal not be knowne, and in aduersyte an enemie shall not be hyd. For when a man is in wealth, it greueth his enemies: but in heuines and trouble a man shall know hys frynde. Trust neuer thine enemy, for lyke as an yron rusteth, so doth his wyckednes. And though he make moch crouchyng and knelyng, yet kepe well thy minde, & bewarre of him. Set him not by the nether let him syt at thy right hand: lest he turne hym, gett in to thy place, take thy rowme and seke thy seate, and so ỹ at the laste remembre my wordes, and be pryched at my sayinges. Bynde not two synnes together, for there shall not one be vnpunished.

C Who will haue pytye of the charmer, that is stynged of the serpent, or of all soch as com nye the beastes: Euē so is it with yͤ kepeth cōpanye with a wicked mā, & lappeth hi selfe in hys synnes. For a season wyll he byde with the, but yf thou stomble, he tarieth not. An enemy is swete in his lippes, he can make many wordes and speake many good thinges: Yee he can wepe wyth hys eyes, but in his herte he ymagineth how to throw thein to the pytt: and yf he maye fynde opportunitie he wyl not be satisfyed wyth bloude. If aduersite come vpon thee, thou shalte fynde hym there fyrst and though he pretend to do the helpe, yet shal he vndermine the. He shall shake his head and clappe hys hāndes ouer the for very gladnes and whyle he maketh many woordes, he shal disguyse hys countenaunce.

The companyes of the proude and of the ryche are to be eschued. The loue of god. Lyke do company vnto their lyke.

The xiii. Chapter.

A WHo so toucheth pitch, shal be fyled withall: and he that is familiar wyth the proude, shall clothe hym selfe with pryd. He taketh a burthen vpon hym, that accompanieth a more honorable man then hiselfe. Therfore kepe no familarite with one that is richer then thy selfe. Howe agreethe the kettell and the pot together? for if the one be smytten against the other, it shalbe broken. The rich dealeth vnrighteously and threateneth with all: but the poore beinge oppressed and wrongeously dealte with all, suffreth scarcenes, and geueth fayre wordes. If thou be for hys profit he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothinge he shal forsake the. As lounge as ỹ hast eny thing of thyne own he shalbe a good felow wyth thee: ye he shall make thee a bare man, and not be sory for the, If he haue nede of thee, he shal defraude the B and (with a priuie mocke) shal he put ỹ in an hope and geue thee all good wordes and saye: what wantest thou: Thus shal he shame the in his meate, vntyll he haue supte thee cleane vp twyse or thryse/ād at the last he laugheth the to scorne. After warde when he seth that thou hast nothing, he shal forsak the, and shake his heade at the,

Beware, that thou be not disceaued and brought downe in thy simpleneſſe. Be not to humble in thy wysdome leaſt when thou art brought lowe thou be diceaued thorow folyſchneſſe. If thou be called a mightie man, absente thy selfe so that he call thee to hym the more oft.

preaſe

Preace not ẏ vnto him, that thou be not shut out: but go not thou farre of, lest he forget the. Withdraw not thy self from his speach but beleue not his many wor-des. For with moch communicacyō shal he tempte the, and (with a preuy mock) shal he questiō the of thy secretes. The vnmercyfull mynde of his shall marke thy wordes, he shal not spare to do the hurte and to put the in preson, Beware, and take good hede to thi selfe, for thou walkest in parel of thy ouerthrowinge.

Now when thou hearest his wordes, ¶ make the as though thou weren̄t i a dre ame and wake vp, Loue god al thy life long, and cal vpon him in thy bed. Eue ry best loueth his like, euen so let euery man loue his neyghboure. Al flesh wyl resorte to their like, and euery man wyl kepe company with soche as hee is him self. But as ẏ wolf agreeth w̄ ẏ lambe, so doth the vngodly w̄ the righteous.
What felishippe should an holy mā ha ue with a dogge: How can ẏ ryche ād ẏ
ii. Corri. vi. e poore agree to gether: The wilde Asse is the lyons pray in thee wildernesse, euen so are poore men the meate of thee riche. Lyke as thee proude maye not a waie w̄oulynes, euē so doth ẏ riche abhorre ẏ pore. If a rich man fal, his fren des fethī vp again: but whē the pore fal leth his frendes forsake him. If a rich man fal in to errour, he hath many hel pers: he speaketh proud wordes, ād yet men iustifie him.

But if a poore mā go wrong, he is pu nyshed: yee though he spake wysely/yet can it haue no place. When thee riche man speaketh, euery body holdeth hys tonge: & loke what he sayth, they praise
it vnto the cloudes. But if the poore mā D speake, they saye what felow is this: & yf he do amysse, they shal destroye him.
Ryches are good vntohim that hathno synne in his conscience/and pouerte is a wycked thing in the mouth of the vn godly. The hert of man chaungeth his countenaunce, whether it bein good or euel. A chearful countenaunce is atokē of a good herte, for els is it ā hard thig to knowe the thought.

The offence of the tong. Man is but a vayne thig
Happy is he that contynueth in wisdome.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

BLessed is the man, that hath not fallen with the word of hys mouthe, and is not pricked with the conscience of synne. Happy is he that had no heupnes in his minde, and is not fallen from his hope. It becōmeth not a couetous man and a nygarde/to be ryche: and what shoulde a nygarde do with golde: He that with al his carefulnes hepeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folckes/and another mā shal make good chere with his goodes. He that is wycked vnto hym selfe, howe shoulde he be good vnto other men: How can suche one haue anypleasure of his goodes: There is nothyng worse, then when one dyspauoureth him selfe, and this is a rewarde of his wyckednes. If he do any good, he doth it not knowyng therof, & againste his wyl, and at the last he declareth his vngraciousnes. A nygard hath a wycked eye, he turneth away his face, and despyseth his owne soule. A couetous mans eye hath neuer ynough in ẏ porcyon of wyckednesse, vntyll the tyme that he wyther awaye, and haue loste hys owne soule.

A Eccli. xix. c. & xxv. c, Iacob, iii. a

Pro. xxviii. c. Eccli. i. a

B

A wycked eye spareth bred, & there is scarsnes vpon the table. My sonne/ do good to thy selfe of that thou hast/ and geue the Lord his due offeringes. Remembre that death tarieth not, and how that the couenaunt of the graue is shewed vnto thee: for the couenaūt of this worlde shal die the death. Do good vnto thy frend before thou dye, and according to thy abylite reach out thyne hand, and geue vnto the poore.

Eccli, iiii'. a Tobi. iiii. b. Luc. xvi. b

Be not dispoynted of thy good day, and let not the porcyō of the good day ouerpas the. Shalt thou not leue thy trauailes and labours vnto other mē? In the deuiding of thy heritage geue and take, and sanctify thy soule. Worke thou righteousnes before thy death, for in the hel there is no meate to find. Al flesh shal fade awaie like grasse, & like a florishynge leafe in a grene tre. Some growe, some are caste downe: Euen so is the generacyon of Flesche and bloud: one cometh to an ende, another is borne.

Al

All trancitori thinges shal faile at the last, and the worker therof shal go with al. Euery chosen worke shalbe iustified, and he that medleth wyth al, shall haue honoure therein. Blessed is the man ỹ kepeth him in wisdome, and exercise the him self in vnderstandyng, and withdis crecyon shal he thynche vppon the fore knowledg of God. Which considerithe the wayes of wisdome in his hert, hath vnderstandinge in her secretes, goth af ter her (as one that seketh her out) and contynueth in her wayes. He loketh in at her windowes, and herkeneth at her dores: He taketh his rest beside her house, and fasteneth his stake in her walles: He shal pitch his tent nye vnto her hande, and in his tente shall goode thinge s reste for euermore: He shall set his children vnder her couering, & shal dwell vnder her braunches. Under her couerynge shall he be defeuded from the heate, and in her Glorye shall hee reste.

The goodnes that folyweth him which fereth God God reiecteth and casteth of the sinner, God is not ỹ autour of euel.

The.xv. Chapter

He that feareth God, wil do good: and who so kepethe the lawe, shal optaine wysdome. As an honorable mother shal she mete him, and Mar.xiii.a. as a virgin shal she receue him. Johan.xiii.b. With bread of life and vnderstandyng shal she fede him, and geue him the water of wholsome wisdom to drink. If he be constãt in her, he shal not be moued: and if hee holde him fast by her, he shal not come to confuciõ. She shal bring him to honoure among his neighboures, and in the middest of the congregacion shal she open his mouth. With the spirite of wisdome and vnderstanding shal she fyll him, and clothe him with the garment of glory. She shal hepe the treasure of mirth and ioye vpon him, and geue him B an euerlasting name to heretage. Folish men wil not take holde vpon here, but soch as haue vnderstandinge, will mete her for she is farre from pride and deceate. Men that go aboute with lies wyll not remembre her: but mẽ of truth shalbe founde in her, euen vnto thee beholding of god. Prayse is not semely i th: mouth of the vngodly, for he is not sente of the lorde,

For of God commeth wisdom, and the prayse shall stande by the wisdome of god, and shalbe plenteous in a faithful mouth, and the Lord shall geue her vn to him. Saye not thou: It is the Lordes faute that I am gone by, for thou shalt not do the thing that god hateth. Saye not thou: he hath caused me to go wronge, for he hath no nede of the vngodly. God hateth al abhominacyon of errour, & they that feare god will loue non soch. God made man frõ the begin ning, and lefte him in the hande of his councel. He gaue him hys commaunde mentes and preceptes: yf thou wylt ob seruethe commaundementes, and ke pe aceptable faithfulnes for euer, they shal preserue the. He hath set water ãd fyre before the, reach out thine hand vn to which thou wilt. Before man is life and death, good and euel: loke what hi liketh, shalbe geuen him. For the wysdome of God is greate and mighti in po wer, and beholdeth al men contynually The eyes of the Lord are vpon they in that feare him/and he knoweth al the workes of men. He hath commaunded no man to do vngodlye, nether hath he geuen eny man leaue to sinne.

Geue.i.d.

C

Jeze.xxi.b.

C Of vnhappy and wycked children. How mã can hyde him selfe from god. An exhortacion to the receauing of instruction.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Delyt thou not in the multy tude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasur i thẽ if they fere not god. Trust not thou to their lyfe, & re garde not their labours: for one sonne ỹ feareth God is better, then a thousa nde vngodly. And better it is for a man to dye without children, then to leaue behynd him soch children as are vngo dly. For by one that hath vnderstandi nge, maye a whole citie be vpholden, but though the vngodly be many, yet shal it be walked thorow them. Many such thinges hath myne eye sene, & gre ater thynges then these haue I herde wyth myne eares. In the congregacyon of the vngodly shall a fyre burne, and a monge vnfaithfull people shal the wra th be kindled.

A

B The olde giauntes optaynednogr
Gene.vi.a. ace for their synnes, which were destro
ped/trustyng to their owne strengthe.
Gene.xix.e Nether spared he them among whome
Loth was straūger, but smote them & abhorred them because of pryd of their wordes. He had no pytye vpon them, but destroyed al the people/ that were so stoute in synne. And for so much as he ouersawe not the sixe hundreth thousande/that gathered them selues together in the hardnes of their herte: it were maruel, yf one being hardnecked/ should be fre. For mercy and wrath is wt him: he is mightye to forgeue, and to poure out displeasure. Lyke as hys mercy is greate, euen so is his punysh ment also, he iudgeth a man accordīg to his workes. The vngodly shal not escape in thy spoyle, and the long pacyence of him that sheweth mercye/ shall not byde behinde. Al mercy shal make place vnto euery man according to ỹ deseruing of his workes, and after ỹ vnderstanding of his pylgremage.

¶ Saye not thou: I wyl hyd, my self from god, for who wil thincke vpō me frō aboue: I shal not be knowne in so greate a heape of pepie, for what is my soule amonge so many creatures: Behold, the heauē ye the heauē of heaues, ỹ depe, the earth, & al ỹ therein is, shalbe moued at hys presence: the mountaines, the hilles/ and the foundacions of ỹ earth shal shake for feare, when god visiteth thē. These thiges doth no hert vnderstād, but he vndestandeth euery hert, & who vnderstādeth his wayes: No mā seyth his storme, & ỹ most part of his workes are secrete. Who wil declare ỹ workes of his righteousnes: Or who shalbe able to abid thē: For ỹ couenaūt is farre frō some/ & ỹ strenge out of mē is in fulfillyng. He ỹ is hūble of hert, thinketh vpō such thinges: but an vnwise and erroneous mā casteth his mind vnto folish thinges.

My sonne/ herken ỹ vnto me/ & lerne vnderstāding/ & marke my wordes wt
D thine hert: I wil geue ỹ a sure doctrine & playnly shal I instructe the. God hath set his workes in good ordre frō the beginning, & parte of them hath he sundred from the other. He hath garnished his workes from euerlastyng, and their begynnynges, according to their generacyons. None of them hyndered another, nether was any of them dysobedyent vnto hys worde. After thys. God loked vpon ỹ earth, & fylled it wt his goodes. With al maner of liuing beastes hath he couered the ground, & thet al shalbe turned vnto earth agayne.

¶ The creacion of man and the goodnes that god hath done vnto him. Of aulmous and repentaunce

¶ The.xvii. Chapter A

GOd shope man of ỹ earth/ Gene ii.d.
and turned him vnto erth againe. He gaue hym the nombre of dayes and cer-tayne tyme, yea and gaue
hym power of the thynges ỹ are vpon eartth. he clothed hym with strength, ād made hym after hys awne lyckines. He made all flesh to stand in awe of hym, gene.ii.d
so that he had the domynyon of all beastes and foules. He made out of hym ā helper lyke vnto hym self, and gaue thē dyscrecyon and tonge, eyes and eares, and a herte to vnderstande, and fylled them with instructyon and vnderstandynge. He created for them also the knowledge of the spyrete, fylled their hertes wt vnderstandyng, and shewed them good and euell. He set hys eye vpon their hertes, declarynge vnto them hys greate B and noble workes: that they shulde pray se hys holy name together, reioise of hys wonders, and be tellynge of hys noble actes. Besyde thys, he gaue them instructyon/ and the lawe of lyfe for an heretage. He made hym an euerlastyng couenaunt with them, and shewed thē his ryghtuousnes and iudgementes.
They sawe hys glory wyth their eyes, & their eares heard the maiesty of hys voyce. And he saide vnto them: beware of all vnryghtuous thinges. He gaue euery man also a commaūdement cōcerninge his neighbdure.

Their waies are euer before him, and are not hid from his eies. He hath set a ruler vpon euery people, but Israel is the Lordes porcion. All their workes are as the Sunne, in the sight of God, and C hys eies are alwaye lokinge vpon their waies. All their vnrighteousnesses are manyfest vnto him, and all their wikednesses are open in hys syght.

The

Ecle.xxix.b. The mercye that a man shewethe is as it were a purse wyth hym, and a mans good deade preserueth hym as the apple of an eye. At the last shal he awake, and rewarde euery man vpon hys heade as he hath deserued, and shall turne them together into the nethermost partes of the earth/ but vnto them that wil repente, he hath geuen the waye of rightuousnes. As for suche as be weake, he comforteth them, sukreth them and sendeth them the portion of the veritie. O turn then vnto the lord/ forsake thy synnes, make thy prayer before the lord, do the lesse offence, turne a gayne vnto ỹ Lord/ forsake thyne vnrighteousnes, be āyeer enmy to abhominacō/ lern to know the righteousnes and iudgementes of God, stande in the porcion that is set for thee, and in the prayer of the moost hye god. Go into the porcion of the holy world, wyth such as be lyuig/ and geue thanckes vnto god.

Who wyll prayse the Lorde in the hell? Abyde not thou in the errours of the vngodly, but geue him thanckes before death. As for the dead/ thankfulnes perisheth from hym as nothynge. Geue thou thankes in thy lyf, ye whyle thou arte lyuing and whole shalt thou geue thanckes and prayse god and reioyce in hys mercy. O how greate is ỹ louing kyndnesse, of the lorde, and his mercyfull goodnes vnto suche as turne vnto hym? For al thinges maye not be in mā, and why? the sonne of man is not immortal, & he hath pleasur in ỹ vanite of wickednes. What is more clere thē the sōne? yet shal it kayle. Or what is more wicked then the thing that flesche and bloude hath imagined? and the same shalbe reproued. The lorde seyth the power of the hye heauen, and all are but earth and asshes.

¶ The meruelous workes of god, the mystery and wretchednes of man. Against god ought we not to complayne. Pray must we continually.

The. xviii. Chapter.

Gene.i.a A He that liueth for euer more, made all thinges together. God only is righteous, ād remaineth a victorious kinge for euer.

Who shalbe able to expresse the workes of him? Who hath sought out the grounde of his noble actes? Who shal declare ỹ power of his greatnes? Or, who wil take vpon him to telle oute his mercy? As for the wondrous workes of the Lorde, there mate nothing be taken from them/ nothing maye be put vnto them, nether mate the groūd of them be founde out. But when a man hath done his best, he must begin agayne: and when he thinketh to com to an ende, he muste go agayne to hys laboure. What is man? Wherto is he worth? what good or euell can he do? If the nōbre of a mās dates be almost B an hundreth yeare/ it is muche.

Lyke as the droppes of rayne are vnto the sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparyson of the sande: so are these fewe yeares to the date euerlastinge. Therfore is the Lorde patient with the and poureth out his mercy vpō them. He sawe and perceaued the thoughtes and ymaginacyons of their hertes/ ỹ they were euell: Therfore heaped he vp his mercyful goodnes vpon the, and shewed them the waye of righteousnes. The mercy that a mā hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercy of god is vpon al flesh. He chasteneth, he teacheth and nourtoureth: yea euen as a shepard turneth againe his flock, so doth he all them that receaue chastenyng, nurtoure and doctryn. Merciful is he vnto theym, that stande in awe of hys iudgements. My sonne, whē thou doest good make no grudging at it: & what soeuer thou geueste, speke no discomforlable wordes. Shall not the dewe coule the heate? Euen so is a word better then a gyfte. Is not a frndly worde a good honest gyfte? but a gracious mā geueth them bothe.

A foole shall cast a man in the teeth, and that roughly, and a gyft of the nygarde putteth out the eyes. Get the righteousnes before thou come to iudgement. Learne before thou speakest & go to phisyke or euer thou be sycke: examen and iudge thy selfe, before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou fynd grace in the sight of God.

Humble thy selfe afore thou be sycke, &

Iob.xxxiii.c

Psalm.xxxix.c

Prouer.xv.c

in tyme of thy displeasure shew thy conuersacion. Let not to praye alway, and stande not in feare to be reformed vnto death/for the reward of God endureth for euer. Before thou prayest prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God. Thincke vppon the wrathfull indignacion, that shalbe at the ende, and the houre of vengeaunce, when he shal turne awaye his face. When thou hast ynough, remembre the time of honger, and when thou art rych thinck vppon the tyme of pouertie and scarcenesse.

D From the morninge vntyll the euening the time is chaunged, and al such thinges are done donne in the syghte of God. A wise man feareth God in all thynges, and in the dayes of transgression he kepeth hym selfe from synne.

A discrete man hath pleasure in wisdome/and he that fyndethe her, maketh much of her. They that haue had vnderstandinge/haue dealt wysely in woordes, haue vnderstande the truethe and righteousnes, and haue sought out wyse sentences and iudgementes. Folow not thy lustes, but turne from thyne owne wyll. For yf thou geuest thy soule her desyres, it shall make thy ne enemyes to laugh thee to scorne.

Roma.vi.b. & xiii.b.

Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes/and medle not to much with all. Make not to greate cheare of the thynge that thow haste wonne by aduauntage, leaste thou falle into Pouertye, and haue noothynge in thy purse.

Wyne and whordom bryng men to pouerte. In thy woordes must thou vse discrecyon. The dyfference of wysdom of God & man Wherby ỹ mayest know what is in a mā. Correction must be vsed without anger.

The. xix. Chapter.

A Labouring man that is geuen vnto dronckenes, shall not be rych: and he that maketh not muche of smal thinges, shall fall by lytle and lytle. Wyne and Women make wyse men rennagates, ād put men of vnderstanding to reproche: and he that accompanyeth aduoutrers shal become a wicked man.

nota nota Women

Mothes and wormes shall haue hym to heretage, ye he shalbe set vp to a greter ensample, and his soule shalbe rooted out of the nomber. He that is hasty to geue credence, is lyght mynded/and doth against hym selfe. Who so reioyceth in wyckednes, shalbe punished: he that hateth the to be reformed, hys lyfe shalbe shortened: ād he that abhorreth babelynge of woordes, quencheth wyckednes. He that offendeth against his owne soule, shal repente it: and he that reioyceth in wyckednes, shalbe punyshed.

B

Rehearce not a wicked and churlysh woorde twyse, & ỹ shalt not be hindered. Shew thy secretes nether to frende nether to, and yf thou hast offended, tel it not oute. For he shal herken vnto the, and whē he fyndeth opportunitie/he shal hate the. If thou hast herde a woord agaynst thy neghbour, let it be deed within the: and be sure, thou shalt haue no harme therby. A fole trauayleth with a woorde, lyke as a woman that is payned with bearing of chylde. Like as an arow shot in a dogges thyghe, so is a woorde in a foles hert. Tel thy frend hys faute, lest he be ignorant, and saye: I haue not done it, or yf he haue done it, that he do it nomore. Reproue thy neyghboure, that he kepe his tōg & if he haue spokē, that he saye it nomore. Tell thy neyghboure his faute, for oft tymes an offence is made, & geue not credence to euery woorde. A man falleth somtyme with hys tonge, but not with hys wyll. For what is he, ỹ hath not offended in hys tonge? Geue thy neyghbour warning, before thou threaten him, & geue place vnto ỹ lawe of the Lorde. The feare of God is all wysdome, and he that is a ryght wyse man, kepeth the lawe. As for the doctryne of wyckednesse, it is no wysdome, and the prudence of synners is no good vnderstandyng: it is but wyckednesse & abhominaciō and a blaspheming of wisdome. A symple man of small vnderstandyng that feareth God, is better then one that hath moch wysdom, and transgresseth the lawe of the Hyest. A crafty sotteil man can be wyse, but he is vnrighteous, and with gyftes he wrasteth the open and manyfest lawe.

A wicked man can behaue hym selfe hū bly and can douke wyth hys head, ād Wath.vi.b. yet is he but a dysceauer within. He hydeth his face/and dysguyseth it: ād because he shuld not be knowne, he pre uenteth the.

And though he be so weake that he can do the no harme, yet when he mate kynde opoztunite/he shal do some euel Eccle.xxi.c. A man maye be knowne by his face/ a nue that hath vnderstanding, may be perceaued by the loke of his countena nota A mans garment unce, A mans garment, laughter/and goinge, declare what he is.

¶ Of conuersion and repentaunce. Of the gyfte of the wyse man and of the fole, Of lyinge.

¶ The.xx. Chapter

A Eccle.xxxi.d Some man repzoueth hys neyghboure oft times, but not in due season: Againe some man holdeth his tonge/and he is wyse and discrete. It is muche better to geue warninges to repzoue, then to beare euell wyl: for he that knowledgeth hi selfe openly, shalbe preserued from hurt and destruccion. Like as whe a gelded mā shozow delyze and lust dekyleth a mai den, euen so is it wh hi y vseth violence and vnrighteousnes in y lawe: O how good a thig is it, a man y is repzoued/ to shew openly his repentaunce: for so Inota repentance shalt thou escape wyful synne.

Some man kepeth sylence, and ys soud: but he y is not ashamed what he sayeth/is hateful. Some man holdeth his tong/ because that he hath not the vnderstandyng of y language: Some man kepeth sylence, waityng a conue-
Eccleci.iii.a Ecclixxxi.a nient tyme. A wise man wyl holde hys tonge tyl he se opoztunite/but a wantō and vndiscret body shal regard no ty-me. He y vseth many wozdes, shal hurt his owne soule: and he y taketh autozi te vpon hym vnrighteously/shalbe ha ted. Some man hath oft time prosperi te i wicked thiges. Agayne, some man getteth much/ hath harme and losse. There is some gift y is nothig wozth: a gaine there is som gift, whose reward is double. Some mā getteth a fall foz beig to proud some cōmeth to wozsh ip frō low estate. Som mā bieth moch foz a litle price must paye foz it seuen fold. A wise mā wh hys wozdes maketh him self to be loued, but the fauours of Eccli.vi.a foles shalbe poured out. The gifte of y vnwyse shall do the no good, foz hys ey es are seuen folde. He shall geue lytle, Eccli.xviii.c and saye he gaue moch: he openeth his mo uth & crieth out, as it were one that cri eth out wine. To date helendeth, to mo zow he asketh it againe, & soch a man is to be hated. The foole saieth: I haue no frende, I haue no thanke foz all mi good dedes: yee euen thei that eate mi bred, speake no good of me. O how oft, and of how mani shall he be laughed to scozne: He taketh a moze perlous fall bi soch wozdes then if he fell vpon the grounde: euen so shal the falles of wick ed men come hastely. In the mouth of hym that is vntaught, are many vnco uenyent and vnmete wozdes. A wyse sentence shall not be alowed at the mou th of the fole, foz he speketh it not i due season. Som man synneth not, because he hath not wherwithall, & i hys rest he shalbe stynged. Some man there is th at destroyeth hys awne soule wyth sha me, & foz an vnwyse bodyes sake destro yeth he it, and wyth acceptynge of per sones shal he vndoo hym selfe. Some man promeseth his frende a gyft foz be ry shame, & getteth an enemye of hym foz naught. A lye is a wycked shame in a man, yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnwyse. A theke is better, then a man that is accustomed to lye, but they bothe shall haue destruccyon to herita ge. The condycions of lyers are vnhon est, and their shame is euer wyth them. A wyse man shall bzynge him self to ho noure with his wozdes, and he that ha th vnderstandynge shall be set by amo nge greate men. He that tilleth hys lād shal encrease hys heape of cozne: he y wozcketh rightuousnes/shall be exal-ted / and he that pleaseth greate men, shall escape muche euell. Rewardes Rewardes and gyftes blynde the eyes of the wyse/and make him dōme, that he cā not tel men their faultes. Wisdō that is hyd/and treasure that is hooz ded vp, what profyte is in them both. Better is he that kepeth his ignozau nce secrete, then a man that hideth hys wysdome.

¶ Of the repentaunce of sin. We may not heape sine vpon synne. The boldnesse of an heretyk. The end of sinners. Of ỹ foole and of the wise man. Of hym that cuylleth ỹ deuell.

The.xxi.Chapter.

Eccli.v.a. vii.a.xiic.

MY sonne if thou shast sined, do it nomoze: but praye foz thy foze sinnes, ỹ they maye be fozgeuen thee. Fle frō sinne, euen as from a serpente: foz yf thou commest to nie her, she wyll byte the. The teeth therof, are as the teeth of a lyon, to sley the soules of men. The wickednes of men is as a sharpe two edged swerde, which maketh such woundes that they can not be healed.

Note

Strife & wzongeous dealing, shal wast awaye a mans goodes, & thozow pride a riche house shalbe bzought to naught: so the riches of ỹ pzoude shal be roted out. The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and commeth vnto the eares/and his vēgeaunce (oz defēce) shal come, & that hastely. Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly parsonne: but he that feareth God, wyl remembze him selfe. A mightye man is knowne a farre of bi his tonge, but he that hath vnderstanding, perceueth that he shal haue a fal.

B Who so buyldeth his house wyth other mens cost, is lyke one that gathereth stones in winter. The congzegacyon of the vngodli is like stubble gathered together, their ende is a flamme of fier. The waye of the vngodly is set wt stones, but in their end is hel, darknes and payne. He that kepeth the law, wil holde fast the vnderstandyng thereof/ and the ende of the feare of God is wisdome. He that is not wyse, wyll not bee taught in good: but the vnwise man abundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternes is, there is no vnderstandynge. The knowledg of ỹ wise shal flow like water that renneth ouer, and his councel is like a fountayne of lyfe.

C The harte of a foole is lyke a broke vessel, he can kepe no wisdome. Whē a man of vnderstanding heareth a wyse worde, hee shall commende it and make moch of it. But if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therin but cast it behynde hys backe.

The talcking of a foole is like an heui burthen by ỹ waye: but to heare a wise man speake, it is a pleasure. Where a dout is in the congregacyon, yt is asked in the mouth of the wyse / ād they shal pōder his wozdes in their hertes. Lyke as a house that is destroyd, euen so is wisdom vnto a foole: As foz the knowledg of the vnwise, it is but darke wozdes. Doctrine is vnto hym ỹ hath noo vnderstandinge, euen as fetters about hys fete/and lyke mannycles vpon his right hande. A foole lifteth vp hys voyce wt laughter / but a wyse man shal scarse laugh secretly. Eccli.xi.d.

D Lernynge is vnto a wyse man a Jewel of gold, and lyke an armlet vpon his right arme. A foolish mans fote is soone in his neighbours house, but one that hath experience, shalbe ashamed at the personne of the myghtye. A foole wyl pepe in at the window into ỹ house/but he that is wel nurtured, wil stande wout. A foolyshe man standeth herkenynge at the doze/but he that ys wyse/wil be ashamed.

The lyppes of the vnwyse wyl be telling foolish thinges, but the wozdes of suche as haue vnderstanding, shall be weyed in the balaunce. The hert of fooles is i their mouth, but the mouth of the wise is in their hert. Whē the vngodly curseth ỹ blasphemer/he curseth his owne soule. A pzeuy accuser of other mē, shal defile his owne soule, and be hated of euery man: (but he that Levit.xix.a. kepeth his tong & is discrete, shal come to honoure.

¶ The purgacōn of ỹ slouthfull. Of the folysh sonne & daughter, we must haue discretion how ād to whom we ought to preache, of forowyng vpō ỹ deed. A fole is not to be much talked withal. Iniu eyes and wzōges do breake frendshipād amits.

The.xxii.Chapter.

A Slouthfull body is mouled of a stone of claye. He ỹ toucheth hym must shew his handes agayne. A mis-nurtoured sonne is ỹ dyshonoure of the father. A foolysh daughter shalbe lytle regarded. A wyse daughter is an heretag vnto her husband, But she that commeth to dyshonestye/ bryngeth her father in heuines. A daughter ỹ is past shame, dishonoureth both her father & her husbād: ỹ vngodli shal shal regarde her, but they both shal dispise her, the playnge of Musick is not mete where heupnes is, euen so is the B correccyon and doctryne of wysdome euer vnpleasaunt vnto fooles. Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that nota hym that glueth a potsherde together: as one that telleth a tayle to hym that heareth hym Howeth potsherd not, and as one that rayseth a man out of an heuy slepe. Who so telleth a foole of wysdome, is euen as a man, whych speaketh to one that is a slepe. When he hath tolde his tayle, he saieth: what is the matter? When one dyeth, lamentacion is made for hym, because the lyght fayleth hym: euen so let men mourne ouer a foole: for he wanteth vnderstandyng. Make but lytle wepyng because of the deed: for he is come to rest, but the lyfe of the fole is worse then the deeth. Seuen dayes do men mourne for hym Eccus.vi.b. that is deed, but the lamentacyon ouer the vnwyse and vngodly shuld endure all the dayes of their lyfe. Talke not

C moch with a foole, & go not with hym that hath no vnderstandyng. Beware of him, lest he turne the to trauayle, and thou shalt not be defiled with his symne. Departe from him, & thou shalt fynd rest, & shalt not be troue back into his folyshnes. What is heuyer then leade? And what shuld a foole be called els but leade. Sande, salt, and a lumpe of Prou.xxvii. yrō is easier to beare, then an vnwyse, folysh, and vngodly man. Like as the band of wod bōūd together i the foundacīō of the house can not be lowsed, euen so is it wt the hert that is stablyshed in the thought of counceil. The thought of the wyse, shall nether feare ner be offended at any tyme.

D Like as a fayre playstred wall in a wynter house, and an hye buyldig, may not abyde the wynde and storme, euē so is a koles herte afrayde in hys ymagynacion: he feareth at euery thyng/ & can not endure. Lyke that nippeth a mās eye/ bringeth forth the teares, & he that pricketh the hert/ bringeth forth the mynd & thought. Who so casteth a stone at the byrdes/ fraieth thē away: & he that blaspemeth his frende: breaketh the frendshyppe: though that drawest a sweard at thy frend, yet dispayre not, for thou mayest come agayne to thy frend. If he speake lowerly, feare not, for it ye maye be agreed together agayne: except it be that thowe blaspheame hym/ disdayne hym, open hys secretes, and wounde hym traytourlye: for all suche thinges shall dryue away a frende.

Be faythfull vnto thy neighbours in hys powerte/ that thou mayest reioyce with hym also in hys prosperite, Abide stedfast vnto hym in the tyme of hys trouble/ that thou mayest be heyre with hym in his heretage. Lyke as the vapour and smoke goeth oute at the ouen before the fyre, euen so cuell wordes, rebukes & threatenynges go before blodshedding. Be not ashamed to defend thy frende: as for me/ I wyll not hyde my face from hym though he should do me harme. Who soeuer heareth it, shall bewarre of him. Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lyppes/ that I fall not wyth them, and that my tonge destroy me not.

Psalm.xl.c

¶ A prayer against pryde, lecherye, and glotony. Of othes, blaspheny, and of wyse communicacion. Of the thre kyndes of synnes. Many synnes proceed of aduoutery. Of the fere of God.

The.xxiii. Chapter.

LOrde, father and gouernour of my lyfe/ leaue me not in their generacion, & good counceil. Oh let me not fall into suche reproue. Who wyll kepe my thoughte with the scourge/ and the doctrine of wysdōme in myne herte: that he spare not myne ignorauunce, that I fall not wyth them, lest myne ignorauunces increse/ that myne offences be not many in nombre, ād that my synnes exceade not, least I fall before myne enemyes, and so my aduersary reioyce. O Lorde, thou father and God of my lyfe, leaue me not in their y imaginacyon. O let me not haue a proude loke/ but turne away all wolupteousnes fro me. Take fro me the lustes of the body/ let not the desyres of vnclennes take holde vpon me/ and geue me not ouer into an vnshamefaste and abhomynable mynde. Heare me (O ye chylderen) I wyll geue you a doctryne/ how ye shal order youre mouth: who so kepeth it/ shall not perysh throw his lyps, nor be hurt throw wyked workes BAs for the synner/he shalbe taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proud and cursed, shall fall therin.) Let not thy mouth be accustomed wyth swearinge/for in it there are many falles. Let not the nammynge of god be continually in thy mouth: for lyke a seruaunt which is ofte punished can not be without some soze, euen so what soeuer he be that sweretheand nameth god, shall not be clean purged from sinne. A man that vseth much swearinge / shall be fylled wythe wickednes, and the plage shal neuer go frō his house. If he begyle hys brother/ hys faulte shalbe vpon hī: if he knoledg not hys synne, he maketh a double offence/ and if he sweare in vayn, he shal not be founde righteous/ for hys house shal be full of plages.

Nota

The wordes of the swearer bringeth death (God graunte that it be not foūd in the house of Jacob.) But they that feare god/ eschue al suche, and lye not welteringe in synne. Vse not thy mouth to vnhoneste & filthy talking for in it is the woorde of synne. Remēbre thy father & thy mother, whē ye art set amōg great mē, lest god forget the in theyr syght, ād lest thou doting in the custom suffre rebuke, and wysh not to haue ben borne/ and so curse the daye of thy natyuite. The mā that is accustomed wyth the wordes of blasphemye, wyll neuer be reformed al the dayes of his lyfe. To synne twyse is to muche/ but the thyrd bringeth wrath and destruction. An hote stommake can not be quenched (euen lyke a burninge fyre) tyll it haue swalowed vp somthing: euen so an vnchast man hath no rest in hys flesshe, tyll he haue kindled a fyre.

All breade is swete to an whoremonDger/ he wyll not leaue of, tyl he haue his purpose. A man that beareth wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayeth: Tush, who seith me? I am compassed about with darckenes, the walles couer me, nobody seeth me: whom nede I to feare? The hyest wyll not remembre my sinnes. He vnderstandeth not that hys eyes se al thinges/ for al such feare of men dryueth away the feare of god frō him: for he feareth onely the eyes of mē, & cōsyderyth not yͤ the eyes of the lorde are clearer then the Sunne, beholdinge all the wayes of men and thee goundes of the depe, and lokyng euen to mens hertes in secrete places. The Lorde God knoweth al thinges or euer they were made & after they be brought to passe also he loketh vpon them al. The samman shalbe openly punyshed in the stretes of the citie, and shalbe chased abrode lyke a ponge horse foale: and when he thynketh leest vpō it, he shalbe take. Thus shal he be put to shame of euery man because he wolde not vnderstand the fear of the Lorde. And thus shall it go also with euery wife that leaueth her husband, ād getteth an heretaūce by a straūge mariag. First she hath bene vnfaithful vnto the lawe of the Hyest: Secondly, she hath forsaken her own housbād: Thirdly, she hath playd the whore in aduoutry, and gotten her children by another man. She shalbe broughte out of the congregacion, and her cheldrē shall be loked vpon: Her children shal not take rote: and as for frute, her braunches shal bring forth none. A shamful report shal she leaue behind her, and her dishonoure shall not be pout out. And theyr remayne, shal knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of God: ād that there is nothing sweter then to take hede vnto the cōmaundementes of the Lorde. A greate worshippe is yt to folowe the Lorde, for longe lyfe shal be receyued of him.

Exodi.xx.c

E

A pryncipal of wysdom proceading forth of the mouth of god. Of her workes & place where she resteth:

The.xxiiii. Chapter.

WYsdome shal prayse her selfe, and be honoured in god and reioyce in the myddest A of hys people: In the congregations of the hyest shal she ope her mouth, and triūphe in the beholding of hys power: In the myddest of her people shal she be exaltedde, and wōdred at in yͤ holy fulnes: In the multytude of the chosē she shalbe cōmended & among suche as be blessed she shalbe prayled & shal say: I ā cō out of yͤ mouth of yͤ hiest, fyrst borne before al creatures. I caused the light yͤ fayleth not to aryse in the heauen and couered al the earth as a cloude. My dwellinge is aboue in the heyghth, and my seate is in the pyller

of

of ỹ cloud: I haue walked in ỹ floudes of ỹ se, & haue stād i al lādes: my domi nion is in euery people & in euery nacī on, & wt mi power haue I trodē doune the hertes of al/both hie and lowe.

In all these thinges also I soughte rest, and a dwellinge in some enherytaunce. So the creatoz of al thiges gaue me a commaundement: and he ỹ made me, appointed me a tabernacle/& saide vnto me: Let thy dwelling be i Jacob, and thine enheritaunce in Israel, and rote thy self among thy chosen. I was created from the beginning ād before the wozlde, and shal not leaue of vnto ỹ wozld to come. In the holy habitacy- Ozeus.viiii on haue I serued before him, & so was I stablished in Sion. In the holy cite rested I in lyke maner: and in Jerusa Exo.xxxi.a lem was my power, I toke roote i an honozable people, euen in the pozcyon Psa.cxxxvi.b of the Lozde and in hys heretage, and kept me in the fulnes of the saintes. I am set vp on hie lyke a Ceder vpon Li banus, and as a Cypzes tre vppon the mount Hermon: I am exalted lyke a palme tre in Cades/and as a rose plāt in Jericho: Is a fayze olyue tree in the feld/and am exalted lyke as a plantey ne tre by ỹ water side. I haue geuen a smel in the stretes, as ỹ Cinamom and Balme, ỹ hath so good a sauoure: yea a swete odour haue I geuen as it were Myzre of the best.

I haue made my dwellinges to smel as it were of rosyn, Galabaū, of Clow es, & Incense/& as Libanus whē it is ℂ not hewē dowhe/& mine odour is as ỹ pure Balme. Is ỹ Terebi haue I stret ched out mi bzaūches & mi bzaūches ar ỹ bzaūches of honour & louing fauour As ỹ vine haue I bzoght fozth frut of a swete sauor, & my flowers are the frut of honoure & riches. I ām the mother of bewty/of loue, of fere, of knowledg ād of holy hope. In me is al grace of lyfe John.xv.a and treuth: In me is al hope of life ād vertu. O come vnto me, all ye ỹ be de- sirous of me, and fyl your selues wt mi John.xiiii.a frutes: for mi spzete is sweter thē hony, & so is my inheretaunce moze the hony combe: the remembzaunce of me endu- reth for euermoze.

They that eate me, shal haue the more honger: and they that drincke me, shal thirste the more. Who so herkneth vnto me, shall not come to confusion: ād they that worke in me, shal not offend. They that make me to be knowen, shal haue euerlasting lyfe.

All these thinges are the boke of life, the couenaunt of the Hyest, and the kno ledge of the truth. Moses cōmaunded Ecc.xxiiii.b the lawe in the preceptes of righteous- nes for an heretage vnto ỹhoule of Ja cob, and committed the promyses vnto Israel (Out of Dauid his seruaunt ye Psal.cxxxi.b ordened to rayse vp a moste mighty kig, Act.ii.b sittinge in the seate of honour for euer more) Thy is filleth wyth wisdome lyke as the flode of Physon, and as ỹ floud of Tigris, when the newe fruites are a growinge.

This bringeth a plenteous vnder Deutiiii.a standing like Euphrates: and filleth it vp, as Jordan in the time of harueste. D This maketh nourtour to breake fozth Josue.iii.e as the light, ād as the water Gihon in the harueste. The fyrst hath not knowne her perfectly, no moze shal the last se out the ground of her. For her thought is fuller then the se, and her counsel ys profounder then the grete depe. I wisdom haue cast out floudes I am as a great waterbroke out of the riuer. I am as the ryuer Dozix, and as a wa ter condyte am I come out of the gar- dē of pleasure. I saie: I wil water ỹ gar den of my ponge plantes, and fyll thee frut of my birth. So mi waterbroke be came exceadinge greate, and my ryuer approched vnto thee see. For I make doctrine to be vnto al mē as lighte as the fayze mozninge, and I shal make it to be euer the clearer. I wil peatse tho- zow al the lower partes of the earth, I wil loke vpō al soch as be a slepe, and lighten al them ỹ put their trust in the Lozd. I shal yet poure out doctryne, ly ke as prophecy, and leaue it vnto soch as seke after wisdom, and their genera cyons shal I neuer fayle, vnto the holi euerlastynge wozlde. Beholde/ howe ỹ I haue not labourede for my selfe one ly, but for al thē that seke after ỹ truth.

Of thze thinges which please God, & of thze which he hateth. Of.ix. thinges that be not to be suspect & of the tenth cheakely of ỹ malice of a womā.

ℂ The.xxv. Chapter

Thze

A Gene.xliii.b Roma.xii.a.

THre thinges there are, ꝑ my spyrete fauoureth, which be also alowed before God ād men: The vnite of brethren the loue of neyghbours, a men and wife that agree well together.

Thre thinges ther be which my soul hateth ād I vtterly abhorre the lyfe of them: A poore man that is proud. A rych man that is a lyar, and ā olde bodi that doteth and is vnchaste. Eccli.xl.d.

If thou hast gathered nothing i thy youthe/what wylte thou finde then yn thine age? O how pleasant a thing is it, when gray headed men are discrete, & when the elders can geue good coūcel? O how comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men? ye vnderstanding & councel is a glorious thing. The crowne of old de men is to haue moch experience. and the fere of god is their worshyppe.

B Ther be.ix. thinges whiche I haue iugged in my harte to be happye, and the tenthe, will I tell forthe vnto men with my tonge. A man that while he lyueth, hath ioye of his children/ād seith the fall of his enemyes.

Well is him that dwelleth with an huswyfe of vnderstandynge, and ꝑ hathe not fallen with his tong, and that hath not bene fayne to serue soch as are vnmete for him. Wel is him, that fyndeth a faythfull frende: & wel is him, whiche talketh of wisdome to an hert that heareth hi. O how great is he ꝑ fideth wisdō & knowledge yet is he not aboueht that feareth the Lord. The fear of god hath set it selfe aboue al thinges. Blessed is the man, vnto whome it is grāted to haue ꝑ feare of god. Vnto whom shal he be lyckened that kepeth it fast? The feare of god is the beginyng of his loue, and the begininge of fayth is to cleue fast vnto it. The heuines of ꝑhert is al the punishment, ād the wickednes of a woman goeth aboue al. All punishment and plage is no thing in comparison of the plage of the herte, euen so al wykednes is nothing to the wickedness of a woman. C

Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto amā, is nothinge in comparison of it, that his cruel willers do vnto hym. And all vengeance is no thynge to the vengeaunce of the enemye. There is not a more wicked heade then the head of the serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman. I will rather dwell wt a lyon and dragon, then to kepe house wt a wicked kyfe. The wyckednesse of a woman chaungeth her face, she shall moffell her countenaunce as it were a Beer, and as a sack shal she shewe it among the neighbours. Her husbande is brought to shame amonge his neighbours, ād whē he heareth it, it maketh him to syghe. All wyckednes is but lyte to the wyckednes of a woman, ꝑ porcyon of the vngodly shal fall vpon her. Lyke as to clymme vp a sandy waye is to ꝑ fete of the aged, euen so is a wyf full of wordes to a styll quiete man. Loke not to narowly vpon the bewtye of a woman, lest ꝑ be prouoked in desyre toward her. The wrath of a woman is dishonoure and greate confusyon. If a woman get the maistrie, then is she contrary to her housbande. A wycked wyfe maketh a sory herte, an heuy countenaunce and a deed wounde. Of the woman came the begynnyng of synne, and thorow her we al are ded. Geue thy water no passage, no not a lytle, nether geue a wicked woman her wyll. If she walke not after thy hande, she shall confounde the in the syght of thy enemies. Cut her of then from thy flesh, that she do not alwaye abuse the. D Eccle.xlii.b. ii.Reg.xi.b. 3.xiii.a

C The praise of a good womā. Of the fere of thre thynges & of the fourth. Of ꝑ Jelouze & wroneken womā. Of two thinges ꝑ cause sorow & of the third which moueth wrath. It is hard to fynde a marchaunt without dyscet, or a tauerner wythous synne in his tong.

C The.xxvi. Chapter

HAppye is the man that hathe a vertuous wife, for the nombre of his yeares shalbe dubble. An honest woman maketh her husband a ioyful man/and she shall fyl ꝑ yeares of his lyfe in peace. A vertuous womā is a noble gyft/whych shalbe geuen for a good porcyon vnto such as fere god. Whether a man be ryche or poore, he maye haue euer a mery hert, and a chereful countenaunce, there be thre thynges that my herte feareth/and my face is afrayde of the fourth. B

Treason

Treason in a citie, a seditious people, and netsome tonges, al these are heuyer then the death. But when one is gelous ouer his wife, it bringeth paine & sorowe vnto the harte: and a woman telleth out al thinges, is a scourge of ỹ tong. When one hath an euel wife, it is euẽ as when ā vnlyke pare of oxẽ muste draw together/he that getteth her, getteth a scorpion. A dronckē woman is a great plage, for she can not couer her owne shame.

nota ỹ gyft of a woman

The whordom of a woman may be knowen in the pride of her eyes and eielidde3. If th' daughter be note shame fast, holde her straytly, lest she abuse her selfe through ouermoch libertie. Beware of al the dishonestie of he eyes, & maruel not if she do against the. Lyke as ōe that goth by the waye and is thirstie, so shal she open her mouth, and drincke of euery next water that she maye get. Bi euery hedge shal she set her downe, ād open her quiuer agaynst euery arowe. A louing wyfe reioyseth her husband, and fedeth his bones with her wisdom. A womā, of few wordes is a gift of god and to a well nourtured mynde maye nothing be compared.

B Ecclesi. xxvi.

Ecclesi. xlii. b

An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other gyftes, and ther is no weight to be compated, vnto a mynd that can rule it selfe. Lyke as the sunne when it ariseth, is an ornament in thee hye heauē of the Lord, so is a vertuous wife the bewty of al her house. Like as the cleare sygh̄t is vpon the holy cādel sticke, so is the beuty of the face vpō ā honest body. Lik as the golden pyllers are vpon the sockettes of siluer, so are thee fayre legges vpon a woman that hath a constant minde. Perpetual are ỹ foundacions that be layed vpon a whol stony rocke, so are the commaundements of God vpon an holy woman.

C

Genesis v. d

Here be two thinges that greue mi hert, and in the thirde is a displeasure come vpon me. When an experte man of warre suffreth scarsnesse and pouertee. When mē of vnderstādinge and wisdome are not sette by: & when one departeth frome ryghtuousnes vnto sinne.

D

Who so doth suche, the lorde hath prepared hym vnto the swerde. There bee two maner of thynges, which me thinck to be herde and perilous. A matchaunt can not lyghtely kepe hym from wrong neyther a tauerner hym selfe from synne.

nota a marchaunt from wrong & taūer from synne

☞ Of the poore that wolde be riche, the probacō of the man that feareth god. The vncōstantnes of a fole, the secretes of a frende aze not to be vttred. The wycked imaginith euell which retorneth vpon him selfe.

The.xxviii. Chapter.

A

Because of pouertī haue many one offended, and he that seketh to be rich, turneth his eyes a syde. Lyke as a nayle in the wall sticketh faste betwyxte two stones, euen so doth synne stick betwixt the byer and the seller. If he holde hym not dilygently in the feaze of the lordhys house shal sone be ouerthrowē, Lyk as whē one sifteth the fylthynes remayneth in the seue: So remayneth ther some vncleane thinge in the thought of mā. The ouen proueth the potters vessel/so doth temptacion of trouble trye ryghtuous men.* The tree of the felde is knowen by his frute, so is the thoughte of mans herte knowen by his wordes. Prayse no mā excepte thou haue herd hym, for a man is knowen by hys woordes.

Sapie. iii. a
i. Pet. iii. b.

Math. vii b.

B

If thou folowest ryghtuousnes, thowe shalt get her/and put her vpon thee as a fayre garment. And thou shalt dwell with her, and she shall defende thee for euer, and in the day of knowledg thou shalt fynde stedfastnes. The byrdes resorte vnto theyr lyke, so doth the truth turne vnto them that be occupyed with all. The lyon wayteth for the praye: so do the synnes lurke vpon the workers of wickednes: The talkynge of hym ỹ feareth god, is nothyng but wisdome: as for a foole/he chaungeth as the Mone. If thou be amonge vndiscret/kepe thy worde to a conuenient tyme, but amonge such as be wyse, speake on hardely. The talkynge of fooles is abhominacion, and theyr sporte is volupteousnes and mysnurtoure: Muche swearig maketh the hearre to stand vp/and to stryue with such, stoppeth the eares.

The strife of the proud is bloudshedig, & theyr blasphemig is heuy to heare nota vrgent nede of vnderstadinge & wisdome are not sette by

who

Eccle.xvi.b. xxii.d. Who so discovereth secretes, loseth his credence, and fyndeth no frende after hys wyll. Loue thy frende, and bynde thy selfe in faythfulnes wyth hi, but if thou bewrayest his secrets, thou shalt not get him agayn: For lyke as the mā is that destroyeth hys ennemye, so is he also that dealeth falsely in the frende shippe of his neyghboure.

D Lyke as one that letteth a byrde go out of his hand, can not take her agaie: Euen so thou, if thou geue ouer thy frēd:, thou canst not get hym agayne: Yea thou canst not com by him, for he is to farre of. He is vnto the as a Roo escaped out of ỹ snare, for his soule is woūded: As for woūdes, they may be boūd vp agayne, and an euell worde may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a frende, there is nomore hope to be had vnto hym.

Pro.x.b. He that winketh with his eyes, imagineth some euel, and no man shal take hym from it. Whē thou art present, thee shall hastely commende and prayse thy wordes: but at ỹ last he shall turne his tayle, and sclaunder thy saiyng. Many thynges haue I hated, but nothyng so euell: for the Lord him selfe abhorreth such one.

E Who so casteth a ston on hye, it shal fall vpon hys owne heade: and he that smyteth with gyle, woundeth him self. Exod.xxi.b. Who so diggeth a pyt, shal fal therin: & he that layeth a snare, shall be taken in it hym selfe: whoo so geueth a wycked noysome councell, it shall come vpon hi selfe, and he shall not knowe from whēce. The proude blaspheme and are scornefull, but vengeaunce lurketh for thē as a lyon. They that reioyce at the fal of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, anguish of hert shal consume thē before they dy. Anger and rygorousnes are two abhominable thynges, and the vngodly hath them both vpon hym.

We oughte not so desyre vengeaunce, but to forgeue the offence. Of the vices of the toung, and of the daungers therof

The. xxviii. Chapter.

A Deu.xxxii.c. Rom.xii. C Mat.v.b.vi b.xxii.d. He that seketh vengeaunce, shal fynde vengeaunce of the Lorde / whyche he shall surely kepe hym hys synne.

Forgeue thy neyghboure the hurt that he hath done thee, and so shal thy synnes be forgeuen the also / when ỹ prayest. A man that beareth hatred one agaynst another, howe darre he desyre the forgeuenes of god? He that sheweth no mercy to a man whiche is lyke him selfe, how darre he aske forgeuenes of his synnes? If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred and kepeth it, who wyl itreate for hys sinnes? Remembre the end, and let enmite passe, which seketh deth and destruccion / and abyde thou in ỹ commaundementes. Remembre the cōmaundement, so shalt thou not be rigorous ouer thy neyghboure. B Thynck vpon the couenaunt of the hiest, ād forgeue thy neyghboures ignorāunce. Bewarre of strife, and thou shalte make thy sinnes fewer. For an angry mā kyndleth barsaunce and the vngodlye Eccle.viii.a. dysquyeteth frendes / and putteth discorde amonge them that be at peace The more wodd there is / the more behement is the fyre: and the mightier ỹ men be, the greater is the wrath: and ỹ longer the stryke endureth / the more it burneth. Prou.xxv.c. An hasty braulynge kyndleth a fire, and an hasty stryke sheddeth bloud. C If thou blow the sparke: it shal burne: If thou spyt vpon it it shal go forth, & both these go out of thy mouthe. The Eccli.xxi.b sclaūderer and dubble tunged is cursed / for many one that be frendes setteth he at variaunce. The thirde tong hath disquieted many one, and dryuē them from one lande to another. Strong cyties hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowne the houses of greate mē. The thyrde tonge hath cast out many an honest woman, and robbed theym of their laboure. Who so herkeneth vnto suche, shal neuer fynde rest / and neuer dwel safely. The stroke of the rodd maketh yedders / but the stroke of the tong, smyteth the bones in sunder.

There be many that haue perished wt the swerd, but many mo thorow the tonge.

Well is him that is kepte frō an euell tounge, and commeth not in the D anger therof, whyche drawyth not the yocke of suche / and is not bounde in the ȳ bandes of it. For ȳ yock therof is yrō, and the bande of it of stele. The deathe therof is a very cruel deth: hell were better for one, then soche a tonge. But the fyre of it, maye not oppresse theim that feare God, and the flamme therof, maie not burne them. Suche as forsake the Lord, shal fal therin: and it shal burne them, and no man shal be able to quech it: It shal fal vpon them as a Lyon, & deuoure them as a leopard. Thou hedgest thy goodes with thornes: why doest thou not rather make dores ād barres for thi mouth: Thou weyest thi golde and siluer: why doest thou not weye thy wordes also vppon the balaunce? Be ware that thou slyde not in thy tōge, and so fall before thyne enemyes/ ȳ laye wayte for the.

How we ought to lend ouze money, & do almes. Of a faythful man answeryng for his frynde. Of lybe ralyte and hospytalyte.

The.xxix.Chapter.

Ecclesiastici 8. Luc.vi.d

WHo so wil shewe mercy, lett hi lēd vnto his neyghboure: and he that is able, lett him kepe the cōmaūdmēt. Lende vnto thy neghbour in time of his nede, and paye thou thy neyghbour agayne in due season. Kepe thy word and deale faithfully with hi & thou shalt alwaye finde the thinge ȳ is necessary for the. There haue bene many, ȳ whē a thing was lent thē, rekened it to be found, & made them trauayle & laboure, that had helped them. Whyle they receaue eny thinge, they kysse the handes of soche as geue them, and for their neyghbours good they humble their voyce. But when they shuld paye agayne, they kepe it backe, and geue euel wordes, and make many excuses, by reason of the time: and though he be able, yet geueth he scarse the halfe agaīne, & rekeneth the other to be foūd. And if he wt holde not his mony, yet hath he ā enemie of him, and that vndeserued. He payeth him with cursing & rebuke & B geueth hī euel wordes for his good dede. Ther be many oe which are not glad for to lende / not because of euell, but they feare to lese the thinge that they lende. Yet haue thou pacience with the symple, and witholde not mercy from him. Helpe the poore for the commaundements sake, and let hym not go empty frō thee, because of his necessitie. Lese thy moneye for thy brother and neyghbours sake/ and bury it not vnder a stone wher it rusteth and corrupteth. Gather thy treasure after the commaundements of the hyest, and so shall it bringe ȳ more profyt then golde. Lay vp thy almes in the hand of the poore/ and it shal kepe the from all euell. A mans almes is a purse wyth hym, and shall kepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shall it aryse, and paye euery man his rewarde vpon hys heade. It shall fyght for thee agaynste thyne enemyes, better then the shyld of a glaunce, or speare of the myghtye. A good honest man is suertie for hys neybour, but a wicked parsōne letteth him com to shame. Forget not the frendshyp of thy suertie, for he hath geuē hys soule for thee. The vngodly despyseth the good deade of hys suertye, and the vnthanckfull and ignoraunt leaueth hys suertye in daunger. Some man promiseth for hys neyghboure: and when he hath lost hys honeste, he shal forsake hi. Suertieshyp hathe destroyed many a richman/ and remoued them as the waues in the se. Mighti people hath it driuen awaye, and caused them to wandre in straunge countres. An vngodly mā trasgressing the commaundement of ȳ Lord/ shall fall into an euell suertishipe: and though he force hym selfe to get oute, yet shall he fal, into iudgemente. Helpe thy neyghbour out after thy power, and beware, that thou thy selfe fal not in suche dett. The cheafe thynge ȳ kepeth in the lyfe, is water and breade, clothyng and lodgynge, to couer the shame.

Ecclesiastici xxix.c.

Better is it to haue a poore lyuinge in a mans owne house, then delycate fare among the strange. Be it lytle or much that thou hast, holde thee content wt all, and thou shalt not be blaymed as a vacabounde, for a myserable lyfe is it, to goo fromme House to House/ and where a man is freinde/ he darre not opē hys mouth. Though one be lodged, and haue lodged, and haue meate and dryncke, yet shall he be taken as vnwor-thy, and heare many bitter rough wordes, namely thus: Go thy waie thou straunger, and prepare a table for thi selfe, and fede me also of that thou hast. Awaie thou straunge (so, ꝑ he regardeth hys honoure no more) mi brother cõme ẽ in to mi house, and so he telleth hi the necessite of his house. These thinges are heuy to a man that hath vnderstãding: namely, the forbyddynge of the house, and that the Lender callethe him in the teth.

D Psa.xxxvi.b i.Tim.vi.b Hebr.xiii.a.

¶ Of ꝑ correction of children. Of the commodite of health. Death is better thẽ a sorowfull lyfe. Of hyd wysdom. Of the ioye and sorow of the hert.

go so pleaseth & thy to God doth pay vnder correction

The. xxx. Chapter.

A Prou. xiii. c and. xxviii b

WHo so loueth hys chylde, holdeth him still vnder correccion, that he maye haue ioye of him afterward/and ꝑ he grope not after hys neyghbours dores. He that teacheth his sonne, shall haue ioye in him, and nede not to be ashamed of him amonge his aquauntauns. Deut. vi. g Who so enfourmeth & teacheth his sonne, greueth ꝑ enemye: and before hys frendes he maye haue ioye of him. Though the father dye, yet is he as though he were not deed: for he hath left one behynde him that is lyke him. In his lyfe he sawe him, & had ioye in him, and was not sory in his deth, nether was he ashamed before the enemyes. For he left behynd hym an auenger agaynste his enemyes, and a good doer vnto the frendes. For the lyfe of chyldren he shall bynde the woundes together, and his herte is greued at euery crye. An vntamed horse wilbe hardy, and a wanton chylde will be wylfull. If thou bryuge vp thy sonne delicatly, he shall make the afrayed: and yf thou play with him, he shal bryng the to heuynes. Laugh not wt hi, lest thou wepe wt hym also, and lest thy teth be set on edge at the last.

B Geue him no lyberte in hys youth and excuse not hys foly. Bowe downe hys necke whyle he is younge, hyt him vppon the sydes whyle he is yet but a chylde, least he ware stubberne/and geue no more force of thee and so shalt ꝑ haue heuines of soule. Teach thi chil de, and be diligẽt therin, lest it be to thy shame. Better is the poore beinge whole and strõge, then a man to be riche, and not to haue his health.

Health and welfare is aboue all golde, ãd a hole bodi aboue al treasure. Ther is no riches aboue a sounde body, and no ioy aboue the ioie of ꝑ hert. Deth is better then a wretched lyfe, or continual sickines. The good thinges ꝑ are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is laide vpon the graue. nota ꝑ good thynges ꝑ are put in a close mouth

What good doth the offering vnto ã Idol? For he cã nether eat, taste, ner smell Euen so is he ꝑ is chased of the Lorde, and beareth the rewardes of iniquitie. He seith with his eyes, and groneth lyke a gelded man, that lyeth wyth a wyrgin and sygheth. Geue not ouer thi mide into heupnes, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne coũcel. The ioye and cheerfulnes of the herte is the life of man, & a mans gladnes is the prolonginge of his dayes. Loue thyne owne soule, & cõforte thine harte: as for sorow and heuines, dryue it farre frõ the, for heuines hath slayne many a man, and bringeth no profit. Zele and anger shorte ꝑdaies of the life: carfulnes and sorow bringe age before the time. Vnto a mery herte euery thinge hath a goode tast, that he eateth. vnto a mery hert euery thinge

A Rayso a good tast to the mouth

¶ We ought to geue diligẽt hede to honestye. Of ebẽ that take payne to gather riches. The prayse of a eyche man wythout a faute. We ought to flie dãnnesse and folowe soberneste.

The. xxxi. Chapter.

THe rauayle ãd carefulnes for riches taketh awaie ꝑ slepe and maketh the flesh to consume. When one lyeth and A Tymo. vi. B taketh care, he waketh euer by, like as greate sickenes breaketh the slepe. The rich hath great labour in gathering his riches together, and thẽ wt the pleasure of his riches he taketh his rest, and is refreshed. But who so laboureth and prospereth not, he is poore: ãd though he leaue of, yet is he a begger Nye ꝑ loueth riches shal not be iustified: & whoso followeth corrupciõ, shal haue iough therof. Many one are come i greate misfortũe by the reason of gold, ãd haue found their destrucciõ before thẽ.

A

It is a tree of fallynge vnto them that ofire it vp, and all such as be foolysh/ fall therin. Blessed is the rich/whych is founde wythout blemysh/and hath not gone after golde/nor hoped in moneye and treasures. Where is there suchone: and we shall commende hym: and call hym blessed / for greate thynges dothe he among his people. Who so is tryed, and founde perfecte in suche thynges, shalbe commended and praysed. Who myght offende and hath not offended: Who coulde do euell and hath not don it? Therfore shall hys good be stablysshed, and the whole congregation shal declare hys almesses. If thou sytte at a great mans table/open not thy mouth wyde vpō it, and make not many wordes. Remembre, that an euell eye, is a shrewe.

What thynge created is worse thē
B a wycked eye? therfore wepeth it before euery mans face? Laye not thyne hand vpon euery thyng that thyne eye seeth, and stryue not with hym in the dishe.

Math.vii.a. Ponder by thy selfe what thy neyghbor wolde fayne haue/and be discrete in euery poynte. Eate the thyng that is set before thee manerly/as it becomme the a man: and eate not to muche, lest thou be abhorred. Leaue thou of first of all because of nurture, lest thou be he, whō no man maye satysfye, which may turne to thy decay. When ỹ sytteſt among many men/reache not thyne hand first of all. O howe well content is a wyse man with a lytle wyne? so that in slepe thou shalt not be sycke thereof, nor, fele payne. A swete wholsome slepe shall suche one haue, and fele no inward greke. Ha rysech vp betimes in the morowyng, and is well at ease in hym selfe. But a vnsaciable eater slepeth vnquietly, and hath ache & payne of the body. If thou feelest that thou haste eaten to much/a rysse, go thy waye/cast it of thy stomack, and take thy reste.

My sonne, heare me, and despise me
C not/and at the last thou shalt fynde as I haue tolde the: In al thy workes be Roma.xii.b. diligent and quicke so shal there no sic Pron.xxii.a nes happē vnto the. Who so is lyberal in dealig out of his meat, many mē shal lysse hym, and prayse hi w̄ ther lyppes:

and the same is a sure token of his loue and faithfulnes. But he that is vnfaithful in meate, the whole citie shal cō plaine of him: and that is a sure experience of his infidelite & wyckednes. Be not thou a wine bibber, for wine hathe destroyed many a mā. The fire prouethy the hard pyron, euen so doth wine proue the hertes of the proude, when they be droncken.

Wine soberli dronicken, quickeneth
D the life of mā. If thou drinckest it measurably thou shalt be temperate. What life is it, that maie continue without wine? Wyne was made frō the beginning, to make men glad (and not for drō kennes) wine measurably dronkē is a refor singe of the soule and body. But if it be dronken with excesse, it maketh bytternes and sorowe vnto the mynde. Drōkenes filleth the mind of ỹ folish w̄ shames ruine, myrysheth the strength & maketh woundes. Rebuke not thy neyghboure at the wyne/and despyse him not in his mirth. Geue hi no despytful wordes, ād praysse not vppō him w̄ contrary sayenges.

Of the discrecyon & prayse of a preacher, & of ỹ hea 25. Of the feare, fayth, & confidence of God.

¶ The.xxxii. Chapter.

If ỹ be made a ruler, pryde
A not thy selfe therin, but be Deut.xvii.d
thou as one of the people. Take dilygēt care for thē, and loke wel therto: & when thou hast done al thy dewtye, sette thee downe, that thou mayst be mery w̄ thē/ ād receaue a croune of honoure. Talke wisely and honestly/for wisdome be cōmeth the right wel. Hinder not musyck.

Speake not, where ther is no audyence: and poure not forth wysdome out of tyme at an importunyte. Like as the Carbuncle stone shyneth that is set in golde, so doth a songe gaynysh ỹ wine feast: and as the Smaragde that is set in golde, so is ỹ swetnes of Musick by the mirth of wine.

Thou yonge man, speake that becō
B meth the and that is profytable, ād yet scarse when thou art twyse asked. Comprehende moch with fewe wordes. In manye thynges, bee as one that is Ignoraunt, geue eare, & holde thy tonge withal. If thou be amonge men of hyer auctorytie, desier not to compare thy self vnto them: and when ā elder speaketh, make not thou many wordes therin. Before ỹ thonder goeth lightnyng/ and before nurtour ād shamefastnesse, goeth loue and fauoure. Stand vp by times, and be not the last: but get ỹ hōe soone, and there take thy passime, and do what thou wylt: so that thou do no euell, and defye no manne. But for all thinges geue thanckes, vnto him that hath made the, and replenished the with his goodes.

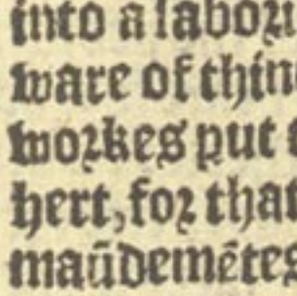
℄ Who so feareth the Lorde, wil receaue his doctrine: and thei that gett them to him by tymes, shal find grace. Ye that seketh the lawe, shall be filled wyth all: As for him that is but fayned, he wyll be offended therat. They that feare ỹ Lorde, shal finde the iudgment, & righteousnes shalbe kindled as a light. An vngodly mā wil not be reformed, but can helpe him sele with the example of other in his purpose. A mā of vnderstā ding, despiseth no good councell: but a wilde and proude body hath no feare. By sōne, do nothing with out aduisement/ so shal it not repent the after the dede. Goo not in the waye where thou maiest fal/ner wher thou mayest stomble agaynst the stone. Geue not thi self into a laborious slipperye waye, ād beware of thine owne children. In al thy workes put thi trust i god frō thi whole hert, for that is the keppynge of the commaūdemētes. Who so beleueth Gods worde, taketh hede to the commaunde mentes: and he that putteth his trust in the Lord, shal want nothinge.

℄ The delyuerāunce of him that fereth God. The answere of ỹ wise. The littell dyler repon of a kole. Man is in the hāde of God, as ỹ earth is inỹ hād of ỹ potter. We ought not to dyspose oure selues, to be come subiect to other.

The.xxxiii.Chapter.



Yer shal no euel happē vn to him that feareth God: but when he is in temtaciō, the Lord shal delyuer him, A wise man hateth not the lawe, but an ypocrite is as a shype in a raginge water.

A man of vnderstandinge geueth credence vnto the lawe of god, & the lawe is faythful vnto him. Be sure of the mater, then talke therof: be first wel instruct/ then mayest thou geue answer. The herte of the foolishe is lyke a carte whele, ād hys thoughtes rēne about lyke the axell tre. Lyke as a wylde horse that neyethe vnder euerye one ỹ spytteth vpon him, so is it wyth a stoutnefull frende. Why doth one daye excell another, seynge all the dayes of the yeare come of the Sunne? The wysdome of ỹ Lorde hath so parted them a sunder, & so hath he ordened the tymes and solempne feastes. Some of them hath he chosen and halowd before other dayes. And all men are made of the grounde, and out of the earth of Adam.

B In the multitude of scyence hath the Lorde sundered them, and made their wayes of dyuerse fashyons. Some of thē hath he blessed, made moch of thē, halowed them, and claymed them to hī selfe. But some of them hath he curssed, brought them lowe, and put them out of their estate. *Like as the claye is in the potters hande, and all the ordynge therof at his pleasure: so are men also in the hande of him that made them, so ỹ he may geue them as it liketh him best. Against euell is good, & against death is lyfe: so is the vngodly agaynst soch as feare God. Beholde thus all the workes of the Hyest, and there are euer *two agaynst two, and one sett agaynst another. I am awaked vp last of al, as one that gathereth after in hareste. In the gyftes of God and in hys blessynge I am increased, and haue fylled my wyne presse, like a grape gatherer. Beholde, how I haue not laboured only for my selfe but for all soche as loue nurtoure and wysdome.

Heare me, O ye greate men of the people, and herken with your eares ye rulers of the congregacyon. Geue not thi sōne and wife/ thi brother and frende power ouer the/ while thou lyuest: and geue not awaie thi substaunce and good to another/ lest it repent the/ and thou be fayne to begge therfore thi self. As longe as thou lyuest and hast breth/ let no mā chaunge the: For better it is thy childe to praye ỹ, then that thou shuldest

Romain.16.b

Some reade two agaynst one.

Eccli.xxiiii.d

℄ nota gone not thi sone power over the

dest be fayne to loke in their hãdes. In al thy wozkes be excellente, that thy honoure be neuer stayned. At the time whẽ thou shalt ende thy dayes, and fynysh thy life, destrybute thyne inheretaunce. The fodder, the whyppe, and ỹ burden, belongeth vnto the Asse: Meate, cozrection, and wozcke vnto the seruaunte.

If thou set thy seruaunt to labour thou shalt fynde rest. But if thou let hi go ydel, he shal seke lyberty. The yocke and the whippe bowe downe the neck, but tame thou thy euel seruaunt w̃ bõdes & cozrection. Sende him to labour, that he go not ydle: For ydilnesse bringeth moch euel. Set him to wozke, for that belongethe vnto him and becometh him wel. If he be not obedient, bide hys fete: but do not to much vnto hi in any wyse, and without discretion do nothyng. If thou haue a (faythful) seruaunt, let him be vnto the as thine owne soule, for in bloude hast thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruauute, hold hi as thy selfe, for thou hast nede of him as of thi self. If thou intreatest him euel & kepest him harde, ãd makest him to be proud, and to renne awaye from the thou canst not tel what waye thou shalt seke him.

D note or remark

Eccli. vii.c.

Of dremes, dyuinactions, & enchauntementes. We ought to confute vayne hope, and lyinge, The praise of thẽ ỹ fere god. Of diuers wozkes of men. God dothe not alowe the wozcke of an vnfaythfull man

The.xxxiiij. Chapter.

A VAin wise people begile themselues with vayne and deceatful hope, ãd foles trust in dreames. Who so regardeth dreames/is like him ỹ wil take holde of a shadowe, & folowe after the winde: Euen so is it with the appearinges of dreames. Before the face is the likenes of a face. Who cã be clensed of the vnclene? Or what truth can be spoken of a liar? Sothsayinge, witchcraft, sorcery and dreamige, is but vanite: like as whẽ a womã trauayleth with childe, and hath many fantasyes in her herte. Where as soch visions cõe not of God, set not thine hert vpõ thẽ: For dremes hath disceued many a mã, & they, fayled, ãd put their trust therin.

The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lyes, and wisdom is sufficiẽt to a fayth full mouth. A wyse man that is well instructe, vnderstandeth moch: and he that hath good experience, can talke in wysdome. He that hath no experience, knoweth lytle: and he that erreth, causeth moch wickednes.

When I was yet in erroure, I lerned moch also: yee I was so lerned, that I coulde not expresse it all, and came oft in parell of death therouer, tyll I was delyuered from it. Now I se, that they which feare god, haue the right spyrite: for their hope stãdeth in him, that can helpe them. Who so feareth the Lorde, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayed, for the Lorde is his hope and comforte. Blessed is the soule of hym ỹ feareth the Lorde: In whom putteth he hys trust? who is his strength? For the eyes of ỹ Lorde haue respecte vnto them, that loue hym. He is their mighty protection and strouge grounde: A defence for the heate, a refuge for ỹ hote none daye, a succore for stomblyng, & an helpe for fallynge. He setteth vp the soule, and lyghteneth the eyes: He geueth healthe lyfe and blessynge. He that geueth an offering of vnrighteous good, his offeryng is refused: and the scornefull dealynges of the vnrighteous please not God. God hath no delyte in the offerynges of the vngodlye, nether may ye synne be reconcyled in the multitude of oblacyons. Who so bryngeth an offerynge out of the goodes of the poore, doth euen as one that kylleth the sonne before the fathers eyes. The breed of the nedefull is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth him therof, is a man of bloude. Who so robbeth hys neyghboure of hys lyuing/ doth as great synne as though he slewe hym to deathe. He that defraudeth the labourer of hys hyre is a bloudsheder. When one buyldeth ãd another breaketh doune/ what profyt haue they then but labour? When one prayeth ãd another curseth whose voyce the lord wil here? He that washeth him self because of a dead body, and then toucheth the ded agayne, what doth his washing? Sotis it with a mã that fasteth for his sinnes, & doth them agayne: who wil heare his prayer? Or what doth his fasting help hi-

D

C

Deut. xxiiij.c
Eccle. vii.c

Num. xix.b

Prouerbi. c
ii. Pet. ii. b

¶ It is wel done to praye, and to do sacrifice. The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widdowe: & that humbleth himselfe.

The. xxxv. Chapter

Jere vii. c

WHo so kepeth the lawe bringeth offeringes enough/he yͤ holdeth fast the commaũdement, offreth the right he alehoffringe. Hey is thãkful and recompenseth/offreth fyne floure

Hebr xiii. c
Philip. iiii. c

* Who so is merciful and geueth almes, that is the right thãckoffrig. God hath pleasure/when one departeth from sinne: and to forsake vnrighteousnes is concyleth vs wyth hym.

Thou shalte not appere emptye before the Lorde/for all such is done because of the commaundement. The offeringe of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and a swete smell is it/before the hyest. The offeringe of the righteous is acceptable vnto god, and shall neuer be forgotten. Geue god hys honoure wyth a chearefull eye/and kepe not backe the fyrstlynges of thy handes. In all thy gyftes, shewe a mery countenaunce, and halowe thy tythes vnto God wyth gladnesse. Geue vnto god, accordinge as he hath enriched & prospered thee, and loke what thyne hande is able, that geue wythe a chearefull eye: for the Lord recompenseth, and geueth thee seuẽ tymes as muche agayn

B Geue no vnrighteous gyftes, for suche wyll he not receaue. Beware of wrongeous offerings, for the lorde is a righteous iudge: and regardeth no mans personne: He accepteth not the person of the poore/but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed. He despiseth not the desyre of the fatherlesse, nor the widdow when she poureth out her prayer before hym. Doth not god see the teares, that runne downe the cheekes of the widdowe? Or heareth he not the cõplaynt ouer suche as make her to wepe? Who so serueth god after hys pleasure/shal be accepted, and hys prayer reachethe vnto the cloudes. The prayer of hym that humbleth hym selfe, goeth thrOw the cloudes, tyll she come nye. She will not be comforted, nor go her waye/tyll the hyghest GOD haue respecte vnto her, geue true sentence, and performe the iudgment. And the lorde will not be

Iudith viii. d
Exodi iii. b

Ecclesi. xxxv. a Actor. x. b

C slack in comming, nor tary longer: tyll he haue smytten in sonder the backes of the vnmercyful, and auenged hym selfe of the Heathẽ: tyl he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel/and broken the sceptre of the vnrighteous: tyll he geue euery man after his workes, and rewarde them as they haue deserued: tyl he haue deliuered his people, maintayned theyr cause, and reioyced them in his mercy. O how faire a thinge is mercy in the time of angwysh and trouble? It is lyke a cloude of raine that cõmeth in the time of a drouth.

A prayer to God in the persone of al faythful men with the prayse of a good woman.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

HAue mercy vpõ vs, O lorde A th ou god of al thinges.

Haue respecte vnto vs/ shewe vs the lighte of thy mercyes/& sende thy feare amonge the Heathen and straungers, which seke not after thee: yͤ they maye knowe/how yͤ ther is no god but thou, & that they maye shew the wonderous workes. Lyfte vp thy hand ouer the outlãdish Heathẽ, that they maie lerne to knowe thy mighte and power. Like as thou art hallowed in vs before thẽ, so bringe to passe, that thou maiest be magnified in thẽ before vs: yͤ they may knowthe, like as we knowthe. For ther is none other God, but only yͤ/O lorde

Renewe the tokens, and chaunge the wondrous workes. Shew thine hand and thy right arme gloriously. Rayse vp thy indignacion, and powre out thy wrath. Take awaye the aduersary, and smite the enemye. Make the time shorte, remember thy couenaunte, that thy wonderous workes maye be praysed. Let the wrath of the fire consume them, that lyue so careles/and let them perish that do thy people hurt. Smite in sonder the head of the Princes, that be oure enemies, and say: ther is none other but we.

Gather al yͤ tribes of Jacob together B agayne, yͤ they may know, how yͤ there is none other god but only thou, yͤ thei make shew thy wonderous workes/and be thy people and heritage, lyke as frõ the be gynnynge. O Lorde haue mercy

vpon

vpon the people that hath thy name/& vpon Israel/whō thou haste lykened to a fyrst borne sonne. O be mercifull vnto Jerusalem the cyte of thy Sanctuary/the cyte of thy rest. Fyl Syon w̄ thy vnspeakable vertues/and thi people w̄ thi glorie. Geue witnes vnto thy creature/whom thou madeste from the beginninge, & raise vp the prophecies that haue bene shewed in thy name. Reward thē that wayte for thee, that thy prophetes may be founde faithfull. O Lorde heare ỹ praier of thi seruaūtes, accordinge to the blessing of Aaron ouer thi people: that all thei which dwell vpon the earth, maie knowe, that thou art the Lorde the eternall God, which is from euerlastynge.

Exoliii, e

Num, vi, d

The belly deuoureth al meates, yet is one meate better then another. Lyke as ¶ the tōge tasteth benyson, so doth an hert of vnderstandynge marcke false wordes. A froward hert geueth heuines but a man of experiēce lifteth hym vp agayne. The woman receaueth euery man, yet is one doughter better then another. A fayre wyfe reioyseth her husbād, and a man loueth nothyng better. If she be louynge and vertuous wyth all, then is not her husbande like other men. He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possessyon: she is vnto hym an helpe & pyller, wherevpō he resteth. Ano her no hedge is, ther the goodes are spoyled: and where no housewyf is, there ỹ frendles mourneth. Lyke as there is no credence geuen to a robber, that goeth from one cytye to another: So is not the man beleued, ỹ hath no nest, & must turne in, where he maye abyde in the nyghte.

4 Corin. ii b

not a woman

How a man shulde kno we frendes ād coūsellers ād search the company of an holy man.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

¶ Euery frende sayeth: I will be frendly vnto hym also. But there is some frende, which is only a frende in name. Remayneth ther not heuines vnto death, when a companyon and frend is turned to an enemye: O most wicked presumpcyon: From whence art thou sprōg vp to couer ỹ earth w̄ falsed & disceipte? Ther is som cōpanyon which in prosperite reioyceth wyth hys frende:

Eccl. vi b.

but in the tyme of trouble, he taketh parte agaynst hym. Ther is some companyon, that mourneth with his frend for the bellyes sake: but when trouble cometh, he taketh holde of the shylde. Forget not thy frende in thy mynd/ād thyncke vpon hi in thy ryches. Euerye counseler bryngeth forth hys counsel: Neuertheles there is some that counseleth but for hys own profyt. Beware of the counseler/ and be aduised afore wherto thowe wylte vse hym, for he wyll counsell for hym self: Let he cast the lot vpon thee, and say vnto thee: Thy waye and purpose is good/ and afterward he stande agaynst thee/and loke what shall become of thee.

B

Aske no councel at hym, that suspecteth thee for an enemye/and hyde thy councel from suche as hate thee. Aske no councell at a woman concerning ỹ thinges that she longeth for: nor at a fearefull and faynthatted body in maters of warre: or at a marchaunt/ how deare he wyl cheape thy wares, towarde hys: or at a byer, of sellynge: Or as an enuyous mā, of thankesgeuynge: Or at the vnmercyful/of louing kyndnes Or at the slouthful, of worckyng: Or at ā hirelyng which hath no house, of pryuate or wealth. (An idle body wold not gladly here speake of muche labour.) Take no such folkes to councel, but be dilygente to seke councell at a vertuous man that feareth god, such one as thou knowest to be a keper of the commaundementes, which hath a mynd after thine owne mynde, & is sorye for thee when thou stomblest.

C

And holde thy councel fast i thyne hert: for there is no man more faithful to kepe it: thē thou thy self. For a mās mynde is somtime more disposed to tel out, thē seuen watchmē ỹ sit aboue i ā hie place loking about thē. And aboue al this, praye the Hiest, ỹ he wyll leade thy wate in faithfulnes and truth. Before al thy worckes aske coūcel first: ād ouer thou doest any thing, be wel aduysed. Ther be four thinges ỹ declare a chaunged hert, wherout there sprynge euel & good, death & life, & a malertful tong ỹ bableth much. Som mā is apte & wel instruct i many thinges/

and

and yet verye vnprofytable vnto hym selfe. Some man ther is, that can geue wyse and prudent counsel, and yet is he hated/and continueth a begger: for that grace is not geuen him of god, to be accepted. An other is robbed of all wysdome, yet is he wyse vnto hym selfe, and the frute of vnderstanding is faythful in hys mouth.

A wyse man maketh hys people wyse/and the frutes of hys wysdome fayl not. A wyse man shalbe plenteously blessed of God/ and all they that see hym, shal speake good of hym. The lyfe of man, standeth in the nombre of the dates/but the dayes of Israel are innumerable. A wyse man shall optayne faythfulnes and credence amonge hys people/and hys name shalbe perpetuall.

My sonne proue thy soule in thy lyfe, & yf thou see eny euell thynge/geue it not vnto her. For al thynges are not profytable for all men, nether hath euery soule pleasure in euery thynge. Be not gredy in euery eating, and be not to hasty vpon all meates. For excesse of meates bryngeth sycknes, & glotony commeth at the last to an vnmesurable heate.

Thorowe glotonye haue many one perysshed: but he that dyeteth hym selfe temperatly, prolongeth hys lyfe.

¶ A Physicien In sickines ought we to praye, and kynde a Physitien whych healeth by prayer. The beweping of the deed. Sadnes. Wisdome. Artificers or craftesmen.

¶ The.xxxviii. Chapter.

Honoure the Physicien: honoure hym because of necessite. God hath created him (for of the hyest cōmeth medicyne) and he shall receaue gyftes of the kynge. The wysdome of the Physicien bryngeth hym to great worshyp, and in the syght of the great men of thys worlde, he shalbe honorably taken. The lorde hath created medecyne of the earth/and he that is wise wyll not abhorre it. Was not the bitter water made swete wyth a tree: that men mighte learne to knowe, the vertu the reof. The Lorde hath geuen men wisdome and vnderstanding/that he mighte be honoured in hys wonderous workes. With suche doth he heale men, and

Exo.xxxbtitd ii.Par.xvi.c

Ecclesiasticus 1.Cor vi.c. and.x.a

Ecclesiasticus xxxi.b.

Exod.xv.d, iiii.Reg.ii.c.

taketh away ther paines: Of such doth the Apotecary make a confeccyon/ yet can no man performe al hys workes. For of the Lorde commeth prosperous wealth ouer al the earth.

My sonne, despyse not thys in thy sicknes, but praye vnto the Lord, and he shal make the whole. Leaue of from synne, and ordre thy handes a right: clense thyne hert from al wickednes. Geue a swete sauoured offring, and the fyne floure for a token of remembraunce: make the offeryng fat, as one that geueth the fyrst frutes, and geue rowme to the Physycien. For the Lorde hath created hym: let him not go from the/ for thou hast nede of him. The houre maye come/that the syck maye be helped thorow them, when they praye vnto the lorde, that he maye recouer, and get healthe to lyue longer. He that synneth before hys maker, shall fal into ye handes of the Physicyon.

My sonne, bryng forth the teares ouer the deed: and begynne to mourne, as yf thou haddest suffred grete harme thy selfe: and then couer his bodye after a conuenyent maner, & dyspise not his buryal. Enforce thy selfe to wepe/ and prouoke thy selfe to mourne and make lamentacion expediently, and ye a daye or two, lest thou be euel spoken of: and then comforte thy selfe because of the heuynes. For of heuynes commeth death/the heuines of the hert bereaketh strength. Heuynes and pouertie greueth the hert in temptacion and offence. Take no heuynes to hert, dryue it awaye, and remembre the last thinges. Forget yt not, for there is no turnige agayne. Thou shalte do no good, but hurt thy selfe. Remembre his iudgmēt, thyne also shalbe lyke wyse: vnto me yester daye/vnto the to daye. Let the remembraunce of the deed ceasse in hys rest, & cōfort thy selfe agayne ouer him, seyng hys spyrete is departed from hi. The wisdome of the scrybe is at cōuenient time of rest: and he that ceasseth from exercyse and labour/shalbe wise. He that holdeth the ploughe, and hath pleasure i proddyng and dryuinge the oxen, and goeth about wyth suche worke, he can speake of oxen.

C

Eccl.xxii.c.

i.Esd.iiii.d

Prou.xii.d. and xvii.d. Eccl.xxx.c

ii.Reg.xii.c.

D

He

He setteth his hert to make kowowes/& is dilygent to geue the kyne kodder.
So is euery carpenter also and wozk master,that laboureth styl nyghte and daie: he carueth,graueth and cutteth out,and his desire is in soudry cõning thinges,and his hert ymageneth/how he mate conyngly caste an image,hys dilygence also and watching perfourmeth the wozcke.The pzon smith i like maner bydeth by his stithye, and doth his dyligence to labour the pzon.The vapoure of the fyze bzenneth hys flesh, and he must fyght wyth the heate of ỹ fornace.The noyse of the hammer soũdeth euer in his eares,& his eyes loke styl vppon the thinge that he maketh. He hath set his mynde therupon, that he wil make out his wozcke, and therfoze he watcheth/ howe he maye set yt out/and bzyng it to an ende.

So doth the potter syt by his wozcke,he turneth the whele aboute wyth his fete/he is dilygent and carefull in al doinges,and his labour and wozke is wout nombze.He fashioneth ỹ clate wt his arme/and wt hys fete he tempereth it. His hert ymageneth howe he may make it pleasant,and his diligẽce is to clense the ouen.All these hope in their handes/& euerye one thinketh to be cõning i his wozke.Without these maye not the cytes be maintened,inhabited ner occupied:yet com thei not nie in the congregacion:they vnderstand not the couenauut of the lawe:they cã not declare equyte and iudgment:thei can not fynd out the darke sentences: But thzow them shal the creature of the wozlde be mayntened:their pzaier concerneth onely the wozke and laboute of connynge.

A wyse man. The wozckes of god. Unto the good, good thynges do pzofyte: but vnto the euell euen good thinges are euyll.

¶ The.xxxix.Chapter.

He that applyeth his mind to vnderstãd ỹ law of god, doth dylygently seke oute the wysdõ of the of the olde tyme,& exercyseth him self i ỹ Pzophetes.He kepeth ỹ sayinges of famous mẽ,& pzesseth to ỹ vnderstandyng of darke sẽtences of wysdome. He seketh out the mystery of secrete sayinges, and exercyseth hym selfe therin continually. He dothe seruice amonge great men,and apeareth before the pzĩce.He goeth into a straunge contre and traueleth thzowe it:loke what good oz euell is amonge men,he pzouith it and seketh it oute.He purposeth in his hert, to resozte early vnto the lozde that made hym,and to pzaye before the Hyeste God.He openeth his mouth in pzayer, and pzayeth foz hys synnes.When the greate Lozde wyl, he shalbe fylled with the spzet of vnderstanding,that he may then poure out wyse sentences, and geue thanckes vnto the Lozde in hys pzaier.He shall ozdze hys deuice, and leade hys knoweledge aryght/and geue him vnderstandinge of secrete thynges. He shall shewe fozth the science of hys learnynge/and reioyce in the couenaunt of the lawe of the lozd. The whole congregatyon shall commende hys wysdome, and it shall neuer be put out. The remembzaunce of hym shall neuer be foz gotte/ & hys name shal cõtynue frõ one Generaciõ to an other. His wysdõ shal be spoken of & the whole congregatyon shal openly declare hys pzayse whyle he lyueth he hath a greater name thẽ a thousand besyde and after hys death the same name remaynyeth vnto hym. Yet wyll he speake of mo men of vnderstandinge,foz I am ful as the Moone.

Herken vnto me (ye holy vertuous chyldecen)bzynge fozth frute,as the rose ỹ is plãted by the bzokes of the feld, and geue ye a swete smel as Libanus, Flozysh as the rose garden,singe a songe of pzayse.O geue thankes vnto god ouer all hys wozkes.Geue glozy ãd honour vnto the lozd, shewe his pzayse wt your lyppes.Ye euẽ wt the song of your lippes,wt harpes & playing,& in geuig thãkes vnto hi/saye after thys maner: Gene.i.,31.
All ỹ wozkes of the lozde are exceedinge good/& al hys commaundementes are mete & conuenient in due season.A̅ nẽ nede not to saye:what is ỹ: what is ỹ: foz at tyme conuenient they shall be sought.At hys commaundment ỹ water Gene.vii.,d was as a wall/& at the wozd of his mouth the waters stode styl.In hys commaũdment is euery thyng acceptable & recõciled,& his helth cã not be minished

The

The wozkes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hyd from his eyes. He seyth from euerlastyng to euerlastyng, and there is nothing to wōderful oz hye vnto hym. A man nede not to saye then, what is this, oz that? Foz he hath made al thinges to do good vnto mā. His blessing shall renne ouer as the streame, and moisture the erth like a flode of water. Like as he maketh ỹ water foz drouth, so shal his wzath fall vpon the Heathen.

¶ His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iust, but the vngodly stomble at them. Foz the good, are good thinges created from the begynnynge, and euel thinges foz the vngodly. All thinges necessary foz the lyfe of man/are created from the begynnyng: water, fyze, yron & salt, meel, wheate and hony, milke & wyne, oyle & clothinge. All these thinges are created for the best to be faythfull: But to the vngodly ꝯ al all these thinges be turned to the hurte and harme. ¶ Here be spzetes that are created foz vengeaunce, and in their rygozousnes haue they fastened their tozmentes. In the tyme of ỹ ende they shall poure oute their strength, & pacyfye the wzath of him that made them. Fyze, hayle, hōger and death: all these thinges are created foz vengeance.

The teeth of wylde noysome beastes, the scozpions, serpentes, and the swerde are created also foz vengeaunce, to the destruccyon of the vngodly. They shall be glad to do his cōmaundementes: and when nede is, they shal be ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commaundement of the Lozde.

Therfoze haue I takē a good cozage vnto me from the begynnynge, and thought to put these thynges in wzyting, & to leaue them behynde me. All the wozkes of the Lozde are good, & he geueth euery one in due season, & whā ue de is, so that a mā nede not to say: thys is wozse then that. Foz in due season they are all pleasaūt and good: And therfoze prayse the Lozde wyth whole herte and mouth, and geue thankes vnto his name.

The Boke of ¶ Many miseries light in a mās lyfe. All thinges passe away, but a fyzme & stable faith remayneth. Of the blessyng of the rightuous, & pzerogatyue of the stocke of God.

The.xl. Chapter.

A Greate trauaile is created foz al men, and an heuy yoke vpon al mens childzen/ from the daye that they go out of their mothers wombe/tyl they be buried in(the earth) the mother of all thynges: namelye, their thoughtes and immaginacyons/feare of the hert, councell, meditacyons, longinge and desyze/the daye of deth: frō the seate that syteth vpon the glozyous seate, vnto the lowest and most sīple vppon the earth: from him that ys gozgeously arated, ād wereth a croune, vntyl him ỹ is but homely and simply clothed. There is nothing, but wzath, zele, fearefulnes, vnquietnes/ and feare of death, rigozous anger and strife. And in the nyght when one should rest and slepe vpon his bed/the slepe chaūgethe his vnderstanding and knowelege. A lytle as nothing is his rest, in the slepe as well as in thee daye of laboure.

B He feareth & is disquieted in ỹ vysyon of his hert, as one that tēueth out of a battell: ād in the tyme of health he awaketh/ and marueleth that the fere was nothinge. Such thinges happen vnto al flesh, both man and beast: but seuēfold to the vngodly. Moreouer, deth/bloudshedinge, strife and swerd/oppzession, honger, destruccion & punishment: these thinges ar al created agaīst the vngodly, & foz their sakes came ỹ floude also. Al that is of the earth, shal turne to earth againe: & al waters eb again ito ỹ sea. All bzibes & vnrighteousnes shalbe put awaye/but faithfulnes & treuth shal endure foz euer. The substaunce ād goodes of ỹ vngodly shall be dzied vp and synck awaye as a water floude/and they shal make a soūde lyke a greate thunder in the rayne. Lyke as the rightuous retoyseth whē he openeth hys hande/so shall the transgressours be fayne, when their goodes vanysh and consume awaye. The childzen of the vngodly shal not obtayne many bzaunches: and the vnclene

Eccli. xxxix. a Gene. vi. d.
viii. d.

Eccle. xli. b

rotes

rotes vpon the hie rockes shalbe rotid out before the gras by the water syde, & vpon the ryuer bankes.

Frendlynes and liberalitie in the encrease and blessing of God, is lyke a paradice and garden of pleasure: such mercye also and kyndnes endureth for euer. To labour and to be content wyth that a man hath, is a swete pleasaunte lyfe: and that is to fynde a treasure above all treasures. To beget chyldren and to repayre the cyte, maketh a perpetual name/but an honest woman is more worth then they both. Wyne and mirth reioyce the hert, but the loue of wysdome is aboue them both.

Pyping and harpinge maketh a swete noyse/but a frendly tonge goeth beyond them both. Thyne eye desyreth fauoure and bewtie, but a grene sede tyme rather then they both. A frende and companyon, come together at opportunitie/but aboue them bothe, is a wyfe that agreeth wyth her husbande. One brother helpeth an other in the tyme of trouble / but almes shall delyuer more then they bothe. Gold and syluer fasten the fete, but a good counsel is more pleasaunte then they bothe. Temporall substaunce and strengthe lyfte vp the mynde: but the feare of the Lord, more then they both. The feare of the Lorde wanteth nothinge, and nedeth no helpe. The feare of the Lorde is as a pleasaunte garden, of blessinge, and nothing so bewtifull as it is. My sonne, leade not a beggers lyfe/for better it were to dye then to begge. Who so loketh to an other mans table/taketh no thoughte for hys owne lyuinge, howe to vpholde hys lyfe, for he fedeth hym selfe with other mens meate. But a wyse and well nurtured man, wyl beware therof. Beggyng is swete in ỹ mouth of ỹ vnchamfast, but in his bely ther burneth a fyre.

Timot. vi. b
Philip. iiii d

nota

nota

to geue gyftes vnto

Of the remembraunce of deeth. Death is not to be fered. A curse vpon them that forsake the law of god. Good name and fame. Exhortacyon to geue hede vnto wysdom. Of what thynges a man ought to be ashamed.

The.xli. Chapter.

O Deth how bitter is the remembrãce of ỹ, to a mã ỹ leueth rest & cõfort/ in hys substaũce ād ryches, vnto ỹ mã ỹ hath nothig, to hym hi, & ỹ hath prospered in al thinges, yea vnto hi ỹ yet is able to receaue meate.

O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgment vnto the nedefull, ād vnto him whose strength fayleth, and that is now in his last age, and that in al thinges is ful of care & fearfulnes: vnto him also that is in dispayre, and hath no hope nor pacyence. Be not ỹ afraide of death: remembre then that I haue bene before the: and that come after the: this is the iudgment of ỹ lorde ouer al flesh. And why woldest thou be agaynst this pleasure of the Hyest? Whether yt be ten / an hundreth/ or a thousand yeare: death asketh not how long one hath lyued.

Gene. vbi.

The chyldren of the vngodly are abhominable chyldren, and so are theye ỹ kepe company with the vngodly. The inheritaunce of vngodly chyldrē shal com to naught, and ther posterite shal haue perpetual shame and confusion. The chyldren complaine of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake theye are rebuked and dyspysed. Woo be vnto you (O ye vngodly) which haue forsaken the lawe of the hyest God: yf ye be borne, ye shal be borne to cursyng: yf ye dye, ỹ curse shal be your porcyõ.

Eccli. xl. ē

All that is of the earth, shal turne to earth agayne: so goo the vngodly also out of the curse into destruccion. The sorow of men is in their bodye: but the name of the vngodly shalbe put out/ for it is nothing worth. Labour to get the a good name, for that shal continue lenger by the, then a thousād grete treasures of gold. A good lyfe hath a nõber of dates, but a good name endureth for euer. My chyldrē, kepe wisdom i peace: for wysdom ỹ is hid, & a treasure ỹ vs not sene/what profyt is in them both?

Eccli. xli. a

A man that hideth his foolyshnes, is better then a mã ỹ hideth his wisdõ. Therfore be ye turned at my wordes: for it is not good, i al thiges & alwaye to be ashamed. True faith must proue & measure it. Be ashamed of whordõ before father & mother: Be ashamed of lesynge before ỹ prince & mẽ of auctorite: Of sinne, before ỹ iudge & ruler: Of offẽce, before ỹ cõgregacion ād people: of vnrighteousnes, before a cõpanio & frẽd:

Eccli. xli. b

Of

Of theft, before the neyghboures. As for the treuth of god & his couenaũt, be not ashamed therof.

Roma.i.b. Be ashamed to lye with thine elbowes vpon the bred: Be ashamed to loke vpon harlottes: Be ashamed to turne awaye thy face from thy frende. Be ashamed to take and not to geue: Be ashamed also to loke vpõ another mãs wyfe, and to make many tryflyng wordes with her mayden, to stande by her bedsyde. Be ashamed to vpbrayde thy frende: When thou geuest anye thyng, cast hym not in the teth withal.

¶ Secretes maie not be opened. The lawe of god must be taught. A daughter. A womã. God knoweth al thinges, ye euen ỹ secretes of the hert.

¶ The .xlii. Chapter.

Reherse not a thing twyse, ãd disclose not ỹ wordes/ that thou hast herde in secrete. Be shamefast & well manered in dede, so shall euery man fauoure the. Of these thinges be not thou ashamed, and accepte no persõ to offend. Namely, of these thinges be not ashamed: Of ỹ lawe of god, of the couenaunt/ of iudgmẽt: to bring the vngodly from his vngodlynes to righteousnes, and to make him a good man: to deale faythfully with thy neyghboure and companion: to distribute the heretage vnto the frendes: to be diligent to kepe treue measure & weight, to be content, whether ỹ gette much or lytle: to deale truly with tẽporal goodes, in byenge and sellynge: to bryng vp children wyth dylygence: to correcte an euel seruaunt: to kepe that thine is from an euell wyfe: to sett a locke where many handes are: what thou delyuerest and geuest out to be kept, to tell it/ and to wepe it: to write vp al ỹ out geuig & receuige: to enfourme the vnlerned and vnwyse: Of the aged, that are iudged of the ponge. Yf thou be diligente in these thynges, truly thou shalt be lerned and wyse and accepted
B of all men.

The daughter maketh the father to watch secretly: and the carefulnes that he hath for her/ taketh away his slepe: yea in the youth, lest she shoulde ouergrow hym: And when she hath an husbande, lest she shoulde be hated: lest she shoulde be defyled or rauished in her virginite/ or gotten with chylde in her fathers house: Or (when she commeth to the man) leaste she behaue her selfe not ryght or cõtynue vnfrutefull. Yf thy daughter be wanton, kepe her straytely, least she cause thyne enemyes to laugh thee to scorne, & the whole cyrie to geue the an euel reporte/ & so ỹ be faine to beare thy chare of euery man/ ãd be confounded before all the people. Behold not euery bodyes bewtye, and haue not moch dwellynge amonge weinen. For lyke as ỹ worme and moth commeth oute of clothynge, so doth wickednes come of wemen. Ecclesiasticus xxv.b

Ecclesiasticus xxv.b

Genesis iii.d

It is better to be with an euell man, then w a frendly wyfe ỹ putteth one to shame and rebuke. I will remembre the workes of the Lorde, & declare the thyng that I haue sene. In the wordes of the Lord are his workes. The Sunne ouerloketh all thynges with his shyne, and all his workes are full of the clearenes therof. Hath not the Lord brought to passe, that his sayntes shuld tell out all his wonderous workes, which the Almightye Lorde hath stablyshed? All thynges endure in his glory. He seketh out the grounde of the depe and the hert, and he knoweth all their ymaginacyon and wysdome. For the Lorde knowe
D th all science, and he loketh in to the token of the tyme. He declareth the thynges that are past and for to com, & dysclo seth thynges ỹ are secret. No thought maye escape hym, nether maye eny worde be hyd from hym. He hath garnyshed the hye excellent workes of hys wysdome, and he is from euerlastyng to euerlastynge. Vnto him maye nothyng be edded, nether cã he be minished, he hath no nede also of eny councel. O how amiable are all his workes, and as a sparke to loke vpon! They lyue al, and endure for euer: and whensoeuer nede is, they are al obedient vnto him. They are al dubble, one against another: he hath made nothyng ỹ hath fawt or blemysh. He hath stablyshed ỹ goodes of euery chone: and who may be satysfied wyth his glory, when he seeth it?

Job, xxiiii, & Esa. xxix, c.

Deu. xxxii, a

¶ The summe of ỹ creacyõ of ỹ workes of God.

The .xliii. Chapter.

The

A
a Calm.fr,a

THe glory of the heygth, is ỹ fayre and cleare firmament, the bewtye of the heauē yn his glorious clearenes. The sunne when it appeareth, declareth ỹ daye in the goinge out of it, a maruelous worke of ỹ hiest. At noone it burneth ỹ earth, and who maye abyde for ỹ heate therof? Who so kepethe an ouen when it is hoote, thre times more doth ỹ Sunne burne vpon ỹ mountaynes, whē it bretheth oute ỹ fyrie beames and shinethe: with the brightenes of it, blindeth the eyes. Greate is the Lorde that made it, and in his cōmaundemēt, he causeth it to renne hastely.

The Moone also is in al, and at cō
Gene.1.b. uenient season it sheweth the times, & is Exo,xii.a a token of the time. The token of the solempne feast is taken of the Moone. A lyght that minisheth and increasethe a-B gayne. The Moneth is called after ỹ, Moone, it groweth wonderously in her chaungynge.

The armie of heuen also is in the Heygth, in the firmament of heauen, yt geueth a cleare & glorious shine: This is the clearnes of the starres, the bewtifull apparel of heauen, the apparel ỹ ỹ Lorde lyghtenethe in the Heygth. In his holy worcke they continue in theyr ordre, ād not one of them fayleth in his watch. Loke vpon the rayne bowe, & prayse him that made it: very bewtifull
Gene.1.c,b is it in his shyne. He compaseth the heauen aboue with his clearnes and glori, the handes of the Hyest haue bente it. Thorow the cōmandement he maketh the snow to fal, and the thonder of hys iudgment to smyte hastily. Thorow his commaundemente the treasures ar opened, and the cloudes flee as the foules. In his power hath he strengthened ỹ cloudes, and broken the hayle stones.

The mountaynes melt at the sight of him, the winde blowethe accordinge to his wil. The sounde of his thonder beateth the earth, and so doth the storme of
C the northe: the whyrle winde also lighteth downe as a fethered foule, casteth oute and spreadeth the snow abrode: & as the grashoppers that destroye al, so falleth it downe, the eye marueleth at the bewtye of the wytnesse therof, & the herte is afrayed at the rayne of it.

He poureth out the frost vpon earth, lyke salt, and when it is frosen, it is as sharpe as ỹ pricke of a thistle. When ỹ colde Northwynde bloweth, harde Christall cōmeth of the water. He lyghteth downe vpon al ỹ gatheryuges together of water, and putteth on the wa-
D ters as a brest plate. He deuoureth the mountaynes, and burneth the wylder-nesses: and loke what is grene, he putteth it out like fyre. The medycine of al these is, when a cloude cōmeth hastely: and when a dew commeth vpon the heate, it shalbe refreshed agayne.

In his worde he stilleth the wynde. In his councell he setteth the depe, & (ỹ Lorde) Iesus plantede it. They that sayle ouer the see, tell of his perels and harmes: & when we heare it with our eares, we maruell therat. For there be straunge wonderous workes, dyuerse maner of nyce beastes & whalfyshes. Thorow hym are all thynges sette in good ordre and perfourmed, and in hys worde all thynges endure.

I speake moch, but I can not sufficientlye attayne vnto it, for he him selfe onely is the perfeccyon of all wordes. We shulde prayse the Lord after al our power, for he is greate in al his workes. The Lord is to be feared, yee very Psal.cxlv,a greate is he, and maruelous is hys po-E wer. Prayse the Lord, and magnifye him as moch as ye may, yet doth he far Psal.cxlv,a excreade all prayse. O magnifie him with all youre power, and labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wyse able sufficientlye to prayse him. Who hath sene him, that he myght tell vs? Who can magnifye him so greatly as he is? For there are hyd yet greater thynges then these be: as for vs/ we haue sene but few of his worckes. For the Lorde hath made all thinges, and geue wysdome to soche as feare God.

¶ The prayse of certen holy men, Henoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaack and Jacob:

The .xliii. Chapter.

LEt vs commend the noble famous men, and the generacō of our fore elders. ād fathers. Many more glorious actes hath the lorde done, and shewed hys greate power

euer sins the beginning. The noble famous mē rayned in theyr kingdomes, and bare excellent rule. In theyr wysdome ād vnderstanding/they folowed the counsel shewed in the prophecyes. They led the folcke thrōw the counsell and wysdome of the scribes of the people. Wyse sentences are found in their
B instruction. They soughte the swetenes and melody of Musick/& brought forth the pleasaunt songes in scripture They were rich also, and coulde comforte and pacify those that dwelt with them. All these were very noble and honorable men in theyr generacions, and were well reported of in theyr tymes. These haue left a name behynde them so that theyr prayse shall alway be spoken of. Afterwarde there were some/ whose remembraunce is gone. They came to naught & perished, as though they had neuer bene: and became as though they had neuer bene borne, yea and theyr children also wyth them.

C Nevertheles these are louyng men, whose righteousnes shall neuer be forgotten, but continu by theyr posterites Theyr children are an holy good heritage: Theyr sede endureth fast in the couenaunt. For theyr sakes shall their children and sede continue for euer, and theyre Prayse shall neuer be putt downe. Theyr bodies are buryed in peace, but theyr name lyueth for euermore. The people can speake of theyre wysdome, and the congregation can talke of theyr prayse. Enoch walked right and acceptably before the lord. therfore was he translated for an exāple of amendemente to the generacyons. Noe was a stedfaste and righteous man: and in the tyme of wrath he became a reconcylynge. Therfore was he left a remnaunt vnto the earth, whē the floude came. An euerlastinge couenaunte was made wythe hym, that all flesh shoulde perysh no more wyth the water. Abraham was a great father of D many people, in glorye was there none lyke vnto hym. He kepte the lawe of ỹ hyest, and cam into a couenaunt with hym. He set the couenaunt in hys flesh and when he was tēpted/he was foūd faythful, therfore swore god vnto him with an oth e, that he wolde blesse, all people in hys sede, ỹ he wold multiply and increse him as the dust of ỹ earth/ and to exalt his sede as the starres: yea and that his sede shulde haue the possessyon and inherytaunce of the lande from sea to sea, and from the ryuer vnto the borders of the lande.

With Isaac dyd he stablish ỹ same couenaūt, for Abrahās his fathers sake. Yea that gracyous blessig and healthy of al men/& couenaunt did he stablish with Jsack, and made it to rest vpō ỹ head of Jacob. He knew him, in that he prospered him so wel and tychely, and gaue him an heretage, & sundered hys porcion by it self/and parted it amōg ỹ twelue tribes. Mercyful mē brought he out of him, which feinde fauour before al flesh. Genesis xxvi, c

Genesis xxviii, xxix.

¶ The prayse of Moses, Aron, & Phinehes.

The xlv. Chapter.

A Moses beloued of god and mā/ whose remembraunce is i Hye prayse: hym that ỹ Lord made like in the glory of the saintes and magnified him so that the enemies stode in awe of hi, thrōw his wordes he dyd greate wonders. He made hym greate in the sight of kynges, gaue hi commaundement before hys people, & shewed him his glorious power. He stablisshed hym with faithfulnes and meknes, and chose him out of all men. For he herde hys voyce, and led him in the darck cloude/and there he gaue hi the commaundementes/yea the law of lyfe and wysdome that he myght teache Jacob the couenaunt/and Jsrael his lawes. Exodi xxxiii, c Exodi vii, c

Numeri xii

B He chose Aaron ỹ hys brother also out of the trybe of Leui, exalted him, & made him suche lyke. An euerlastynge couenaunt made he with hym/& gaue hi the prīsthod i the people. He made hi glorious in bewtifull araye, & clothed him wt the garment of honoure. He put perfect ioye vpon him, and girded him wt strengthe. He decte hym wt syde clothes/and a tunycle, wt an ouer body cote also and a girdel. Rounde about made he hym belles of golde/& that many: ỹ when he wente in/ ỹ soūd myght be herd, that they myght make a noyse in the sanctuary, and geue the people warninge. The holy garmente was wrought and broderd with gold, palow spicke and purple. And in the brestlappe there was a goodly worcke wherin was fastened lyghte & perfectnes. Uppon the same also there was a Exoxxviii,c worke fastened, and set wyth costly precious stones, all bound wyth golde: and thys he brought in hys ministracion. The stones were fastened for a remembraunce, after the twelue tribes of Israell. Upon his myter there was a plate of pure gold, a grauen Image of holy stones, a famous & noble worke, garnished and pleasaunt to loke vpon. Before hym were there sene no suche fayre ornamentes, and these it behoued hym alwaye to vse: There myght none other put them on, but only hys childre perpetually. Dayly performed he hys Leuitici.a brētofferings, ii. times. Moses fylled his handes, & anoynted hi w holy oyle.

This was now confyrmed to him w
D an euerlastynge couenaunt, ād to his sede, as the dayes of heauen/namelye: ye hys children should alwaie ministre before hi, and performe the Office of the preasthod, & wtch the people good in hys name. Before al men lyuing chose he him, that he shoulde offer before the lord/and make odoures for a swete sauour and remembraūce/ye he should reconcyle the people of the lord w hym a Deutxvii,c gayne. He gaue him auctorite also in exxi,a his cōmaūdementes ād i the couenaūt, Malaci.ii.a that he shold teach Jacob the statutes and testymonies, ād to enforme Israel i his lawe. Therfore there stode vp certayne againſt hi, ād had enuy at hi i the E wylderne: namely, ye they were of da-Numexvi.a than/ād Abirams side, & the furious cōgregatyō of Chore. This the lord saw, & it displeased hi, ād in his wrothful i dygnacyō were they cōsumed. A gret wonder dyd he vpon thē/ād cōsumed Exode xxv,f them w the fyre. Beside thys, he made Leu xxiiii.b Aaron yet more honorable and glorious. He gaue him an heretage, and parted the first frutes vnto him. Unto hi specially he appointed the bred of suste naunce (for ye Preistes did eat of ye offeringes of the lord) this gaue he vnto hi & hys sede, Els had he no heretage nor portyon i the land and w the people. For the Lord him selfe is his portyon and enheritaunce.

The third noble and excellent mā
F Numxv,c is Phinehes the Sonne of Eleazer/ which pleased ye god of Israel, because he had the zele and feare of the Lorde. For when the people were turned back he put him selfe forth rysht soone, ād that w a good wyl, to pacyfy ye wrath of the lord toward Israel. Therfore was there a couenaunt of peace made w him/that he should be the principal among the righteous and the people, that he and his posteritee shoulde haue the Office of the preasthode for euer (Lyke as there was made a counaunt w Dauid of the tribe of Juda/ B that from among his sōnes only there should be a kyng: And that Aaron also and his sede shold be the heretage, to geue vs wisdome in our hert, to iudge hys people in ryghtuousnes: that his goodes should not come into forgetfulnes, and ye their honoure might endure for euer.

The prayse of Josue, Caleb, and Samuel.

The.xlvi. Chapter.

MAnly and strong in battel was
I Josuerite Nu,xxvii.d De xxxiiii, Josue.i.a Jesus the sonne of Naue/which in stede of Moses the prophet was geuen to be captayn of the people which according vnto his name was a greate sauoure vnto the electe of god, to punish ye enemyes that rose vp agaynst Israel, that Israel myght optayne their inheritaunce. O how greate, noble and excellent was he, whē he lyft vp his hande, and drewe out his swerde againſt the cytees? Who stode so manly before him? For ye lord himselfe brought in the enemyes.
Josuex. Stode not the Sunne stil at his commaūdement/& one daye was as longe as two? He called vpon the Hyest and most myghty, when the enemies preased vppon him on euery syde: and the lorde herde him with the hayle stones. They smote the Hethenish people mighty, & i fallyng downe they slew al the aduersaries/so ye the heathē knew his hoost, & al his defence, ye the Lord himselfe foughte agaynste them, for he loked vpon the myghty men of them.

B In the tyme of Moses also he and Caleb the sõne of Jephune, did a good worcke, which stode against the enemies, withheld the people from sinne, ãd stilled the wicked murmuringe. And of sixe hundreth .M. people of foote, they two wer preserued, yͤ they were broughte into the heretage, namelye a lãd yͤ floweth w̃ milk & hony. The lord geueth strength also vnto Caleb which Iosu. xiiii. remayneth with him vnto his age: so that he went vp into the hye places of the lande, and hys sede conquered the same for an heritage: yͤ all the childere of Israel myght se/how good a thige it is, to be obedient vnto the lord. And the iudges or rulers (euerye one after his name) whose hert went not a whorying, nor departed from the lorde, and that forsake not the lord vnfaithfullie, whose remembraunce hath a good report: Yea their bones florish oute of their place, and their name shal neuer be chaunged. not pngood

C Samuel the prophet beloued of the lorde, ordeyned a king/and anointed the princes ouer the people. In yͤ lawe of the lorde ruled he, and iudged yͤ congregatiõ, ãd the lord had respect vnto Jacob. The prophet was found diligent in his faithfulnes: yea i his faithfulnes was the faithfulnes of the vision knowne. He called vpon the lord the myghty, when the enemies preſsed vpõ hi on euery syde/what tyme as he offred the sucking lãbes. And the lorde thõdred frõ heuẽ, & made his voyce to be herd w̃ a grete noise. He discõfited i.Reg.xii.a. yͤ princes of Tire, al yͤ rulers of yͤ philistines. Before his laste ende he made protestaciõ i yͤ sight of yͤ lord, & hys anoited, yͤ he toke nother substaũce nor good of any mã/no not so much as a shue: ãd no mã might accuse hi. After this he tolde/yͤ his ende was at hãde, & shewed yͤ kinge also his ende ãd death: & frõ yͤ erth lift he vp his voice i yͤ prophecy, yͤ yͤ vngodly people should perish

The prayse of Nathan, Dauid, and Salomon.

The .xlvii. Chapter.

A i.Reg.xii.a

After ward in the time of kinge Dauid, there rose vp a prophet called Nathã: For lyke as yͤ fat is taken awaye frõ the offering/so was Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel. He toke his pastyme with the lions and with hyddes and with beres like as with lambes. Slew he not a giaunte when he was yet but younge. and toke away the rebuke from his people i.Reg.xvii.f what time as he toke the stone in his hãde, and smot downe the proude goliath w̃ the slinge: For he called vpõ the hieste Lorde, which gaue him strength in his right hand, so that he ouerthrew yͤ myghtygyaunt in the battel that he myghte set vp the horne of his people agayne Thus brought he him to worshype abo B ue all princes and made him to haue a i.Re.xviii.b good reporte in the prayse of the Lorde that he shulde weere a crowne of glory For he destroyed the enemies on euery side roted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder like as it is broken yet this daye. In al ii.Reg.xxi. his worckes, he praysed the heyest and holiest, and ascribed the honoure vnto him. With his whole hert did he prais not a and loue him that made him He set singers also before the alter, & in their tune pngood he made swete songes. He ordened to kepe the holy dayes worshipfully, and that the solempne feastes throwe the whole yeare should be honorably holden, w̃ preysing the name of the lorde and with his synging by tymes in the morning in the Sanctuary.

The Lord toke awaye his synnes, & i.Para.xxvi exalted his horne for euer. He gaue hi the couenaunt of the kingdom/ãd the trone of worship in Israel. After hym there rose vp a wyse sonne called Salomon/and for his sake he drowne the enemies awaye farre of. This Salomõ reigned w̃ peace in hys tyme (for god gaue him rest from hys enemyes on euery syde, that he myghte buylde hym a howse in hys name/and prepare the Sanctuary for euer) lyke as he was well instructe in hys youthe and fylled w̃ wysdome and vnderstandynge, as it were wythe a water floude. He couered and fylled the whoole Lande wyth symplytudes and wyse prudent sentences.

Hys name went abrode in the Iles because of his peace he was beloued.

Al

All landes marueled at his songes, prouerbes, similitudes and at his peace, & at the name of the lorde god, whych is called the god of Israel. He gathered golde as tynne/ and he had as muche siluer as leade. He was moued in vnordynate loue towarde wemen/ and was ouercom in affectiõ. He stayned his honoure and worshyp/yea hys posterytie defiled he also, in bryngyng the wrath of the lord vpon his children, & sorowe after his ioye: so that his kyngdõ was deuyded, and Ephraim became an vnfaithful, and an vnconstant kyngdom. Neuertheles god forsoke not his mercy, nether was he vtterly destroyed because of his woorckes, that he shoulde leaue him no posterite.

1.Regvi.e iii,Regvi.a xii,Reg.xii,e xi,Reg.vii.e

As for the sede ỹ came vpõ hi, whych he loued, he brought yt not vtterlye to naught, but gaue yet a garment vnto Jacob & a rote vnto Dauid out of hi. Thus rested Salomon wt his fathers and out of his sede he lefte behynd him a very foolishnes of the people, & such one as had no vnderstãdyng: namely Roboã whych turned awaye ỹ people thorow his coũcel, & Jeroboã ỹ sonne of Nabat, which caused Israel to sine & shewed Ephrai ỹ wai of vngodlines

xii.Reg.xiib
xii,Reg,xiid

In soo muche that theyre synnes and mysdeades had the vpperhande so sore that at the last/ they were dryuen out of the lande for the same. Yea he sought out ãd brought vp all wyckednes: tyll ỹ vengeaunce came vpon them.

The praise of Eliah. Helyzeus, Ezechiah, and Esay

The.xlviii. Chapter.

xlii.Reg.vi.a

Then stode vp Eliah the prophet as a fyre, and his worde brente lyke a creshet. He brought an honger vpon thẽ, and in hys zele he made them few in numbre, for they myghte not awaye with the commaundementes of the lorde. Thorow the woorde of the lorde he shut the heuen, and thre tymes brought he the fyre down. Thus became Eliah honorable in hys wonderosdedes Who maye make his boost to be lyke hi?

xlvii.Reg.xlvii.c
xlii,Reg.i,c.

One that was ded rayled he vp frõ death, and in the worde of the hyghest he brought hym out of the graue agayne.

He cast downe kynges and destroyed them, and the honorable from their seate. Vpon the mount Syna he herd ỹ punyshment, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance. He prophecied recompensing vnto kynges, and ordeyned prophetes after hym. He was taken vp in the storm of fyre in a charet of horses of the Lorde. He was ordyned in ỹ reprouynges i time to pacyfye the wrath, to turne the herts of the fathers vnto the chyldren/ and to sett vp the trybes of Jacob agayn. Blessed were they that saw the, and were garnyshed in loue: for we lyue in lyfe.

Eliah was couered in the storme, but Helyseus was fylled with his mouth. Whyle he lyued he was afrayed of no prynce, and no man myght ouer come hym. Ther could no word disceaue hi, & after his death his body prophecied. He did wounders in his lyfe and in deathe were his workes maruelous. For all this, the people amended not nether departed they from ther sinnes: til thei were caried awaie Prisoners oute of the land, ãd were scatred abrode in al countrees, so that of theym there remained but a veri litle people, & a prince vnto the house of Dauid. Howbe it some of them did right. & some heaped vp vngodlines.

Hezekiah made his citie strong, cõueied water in to it, digged thorow the stoni rock with yron, and made vp a well by ỹ water side In his time came Sennaherib vp, and sent Rabsaketh, lift vp his hande against Sion, and defied them wt gret pride. Then trimbled ther hertes and handes, so that thei sorowed like a woman trauailing with childe. So thei called vpon the Lord, whi che is merciful, and lift vp their handes before him. Immediatli the Lord herd them out of heauen, and deliuered thẽ by ỹhãd of Esai. He smote the hoost of the Assirians, and his angell destroied them.

iii.Par.xxxii.a

For Hezekiah had done the thing that pleased the Lorde, and remained stedfastly i the waye of Dauid his father. Which Esay was greate & faithful i his visiõs. In his time ỹ Sũne went backward, & he lẽgthened ỹ kinges life wyth a ryghte spyrete prophesyed he, what shulde come to passe at the last: & to soch as were sorowful in Sion hega ue consolacion, wherwhith they might cō forte them selues for euermore. He shew ed thinges that were for to come & secre tes/or euer they came to passe.

Of Josiah, Hezekiah, dauid. Jeremy, Ezechiel, Zo robabel, Jesus, Nehemiah, Enoh and Joseph.

The.xlix. Chapter.

A iiii. Reg. xxii. & xxiii. 2. Par. xxxiii.

THe remembraunce of Josiah is like as whan the Apote cari maketh many precious swete smellinge thinges to gether. Hys remembraunce shalbe swete as hony in all mouthes, & as the playenge of Musyck by the wi ne. He was appoynted to turne the peo ple agayne, and to take awaye all abho mynacyons of the vngodly. He dyrected hys hert vnto the Lorde, and in the ty me of the vngodly he sett vp the wor shyp of God agayne. All kynges (excep te Dauid, Ezekiah and Josiah (cōmit ted wyckednes: for euen the kynges of Juda, also forsoke ỹ lawe of God. For they gaue their horne vnto other. their honor & worshyp also to a straunge peple

Therfore was the electe cytie of the Sanctuary brent with fyre, and the stre tes thereof laide desolate and waste: for they intreated Jeremi euel, which neuertheles was a Prophete ordeined from his mothers womb, that he might rote oute, breake of, and destroie: and ỹ he might builde vp, and plante againe. Ezechiell sawe the glory of the Lorde in a vision which was shewed him vpon C charett of the Cherubins. For he thou ght vpon the enemies in the raine, to do good vnto soch as had ordred their wais a right. And the bones of the twel ue prophetes florische from out of their place: for thei gaue comforte and conso lacion vntoo Jacob, and deliuered the faithfully. How shal we praise Zorobabel, which was as a king in ỹ right hān dee So was Jesus also the sonne of Josedec: these men in their times build did the house and set vp the Sanctua rye of ỹ Lorde againe, whiche was pre pared for an euerlasting worshyp.

D And Nehemyah is all waye to be cōmen ded, which set vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the yates

Gene. v. k Eccle. xlvi. b Hebr. xi. a and barres agayne/and buylded our houses of the new. But vpon earth is there no man created lyke Enoch/for he was taken vp from the earth. And Joseph/which was lord of his brethrē, and the vpholder of his people: his bones were couered and kept. Seth and Sem were in greate honoure amōge the people: and so was Adam aboue al the beastes when he was created.

Of Simon the sonne of Oniah.

The.l. Chapter.

A iii. Mach. iii, iiii

SYmon the sonne of Onyah the hie prest, whiche in his lyfe set vp the house a gayne, and in hys dayes made fast the temple. The heyghte of the temple also was foun ded of him, the double buylding/and ỹ hye walles of the temple. In his dates the welles of water flowed out, & were exceading ful of the sea. He toke care for his people, and deliuered thē from destruccion. He kept his cytie ād made it stronge, that it shoulde not be besie ged. He dwelt in honoure ād wor shyp emong his people, and enlarged ỹ intraunce of the house, and the court. He geueth light as the mourning star in the myddest of the cloudes, and as the moone when it is full. He shyneth as the sonne in the temple of god. He is as brighte as the rayne bow in the rayre clouges, and florisheth as ỹ flow res and roses in the spryng of ỹ yere, ād as the lyles by the riuers of water Like as the braunches vpon the mount Libanus in the tyme of Sommer: as a fyre and incence that is kyndeled: Lyke as an whole ornamente of pure gold, set wt al maner of precyous stones: as an olyue tree that is fruitful, ād as a Cypres tre which groweth vp ō hie.

When he put on the garmēt of ho noure, and was clothed with all bew- B tye: when he wente to the holye aulter to garnysh the couertinge of the San tuary: when he toke the porcyōs out of the prestes hand, he hi self stode bi the harth of the aulter/& his brethrē roūd about in ordre. As ỹ braūches of cedre tre vpō the moūt of Libanus, so stode they roūd about hi. And as the braun ches of ỹ olyue tre so stode al the sōnes of Aaron in their glory. And ỹ he might

luk

sufficiētlye perfourme his seruice, vpō
ỹ alter, & garnisly ỹ offring of the hyest
God, he stretched out hys hand and to-ke the drincofferinge and poured in of the wyne. So he poured vpō the bottō
of ỹ altar a good smel/vnto ỹ hiest price

nota bragging & blowing of trompets in prayse of the lorde nota si ỹ sang goodly wt ther boyce

Then began the sonnes of Aaron
to synge and to blowe wyth trompets,
and to make greate noyse/for a remem
braunce and prayse vnto the lorde,
Then were the people afrayed and fel
towne to the earth vppon their faces,
to worship the lord their God, and to geue thankes to the almyghtie God.
They song goodly also with their voy-
ces, so there was a pleasaūt noyse in ỹ
greate house of the lorde. And the people in their prayer besought the lorde
the hyest, that he wolde bee mercyfull,
till the honoure of the lorde were performed. Thus ended their mynistraciō and seruice. Then went he downe and stretched out his handes ouer the who le multitude of the People of Israel, ād
that they shoulde geue prayse and thākes out of their lyppes vnto the lorde
and to reioyce in hys name. He beganne
yet ones also to praye that he myght openlye shewe the thankesgeuinge befo re the hyest, namely thus: O geue pra
se and thankes (yea all) vnto the lord
our god which hath euer done noble &
greate thynges, which hath encreased
oure dayes from our mothers wombe
and dealte wyth vs accordinge to hys mercye: That he wyll geue vs the ioyfulnes of hert, & peace for oure time
in Israell. which faythfullye kepethe
hys name for vs euermore, and alway
deliuereth vs in due season.

There be two maner of people that
I abhorre from my hert: as for the third
whom I hate/it is no people: They ỹ
syt vpon the mountayne of Samaria,
the philistines, and the folysh People/
that dwell in Sichimis.

I Jesus the sonne of Strach Eleā-zarus of Jerusalem haue tokened vp these informacions and documentes of wisdomme and Understandinge in thys
boke, & poured out ỹ wysdō of my hert.
Blessed is he ỹ exercyseth hī selfe in the tin, &
who so taketh such to hert shalbe wyse.
Yf he do these thinges, he shal be strong
in al, For the lyght of the Lorde leadeth hī

The prayer of Jesus the sonne of Strach.

The.li. Chapter.

I Thanke the/O Lord and king, & prayse the, O god
my sauioure. I will yelde prayse vnto thy name: for thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body frō
destrucciō, from the snare of traitrous
tonges, and from the lippes that are oc cupyed wyth lyes. Thou hast bene my helper from such as stode vp agayn me
me/ād hast delyuered me after the mul titude of thy mercye, and for thy holye names sake. Thou hast delyuerd me
from the roaringe of them that prepare them selues to deuoure me, out of ỹ
handes of such as sought after my soū
le: From the multitude of them that troubled me, ād went about to set fyre vpō me on euery syde, so that I ā not brent in the myddest of the fyre.

From mine the deappe of hell: from an vncleanne tounge: from mine lyenge
wordes, from the wycked kinge, & frō
an vnrighteous tounge. My Soule shall prayse the Lord vnto deathe/ for my lyfe drewe nye vnto hell.

They cōpassed me round about frō
euery syde, and ther was no man to hel pe me. I loked about me, if there were any man ỹ would succour me: but ther
was non. Then sought I vpō thy mercy
O Lord and vpon the actes yͤ yͤ hast dō euer of old namly, that ỹ delyuerest such as put their trust in thee and ydelest
them out of the handes of the heathen.
Thus lyft I vp my praier from ỹ ear
he, and prated for delyueraunce frō
death. I called vpon ỹ lord my father
ỹ he would not leaue me without help
in the daye of my trouble & in the time of the proude. I prayed thy name cōtynually, yeldinge honoure and thākes vnto it: ād so my praier was herd
Thou sauedst me from destruction, &
delyueredst me from the vnrighteous
time. Therfor will I acknowledg & prase ỹ, & magnifye ỹ name of the lorde.
whā I was yet but yōg, or euer I went astraie, I desired wisdō openly in my praier. I came therfore before ỹ temple, & sought her vnto ỹ last. Thē flouri shed
she vnto me, as a grape ỹ is sone rype

My

sufficiētlye perfourme his seruice, vpō
ỹ alter, & garnisly ỹ offring of the hyest
God, he stretched out hys hand and to-
ke the drincofferinge and poured in of
the wyne. So he poured vpō the bottō
of ỹ altar a good smel/vnto ỹ hiest price

nota bragging & blowing of trompets in prayse of the lorde nota si ỹ sang goodly wt ther boyce

Then began the sonnes of Aaron
to synge and to blowe wyth trompets,
and to make greate noyse/for a remem
braunce and prayse vnto the lorde,
Then were the people afrayed and fel
towne to the earth vppon their faces,
to worship the lord their God, and to
geue thankes to the almyghtie God.
They song goodly also with their voy-
ces, so there was a pleasaūt noyse in ỹ
greate house of the lorde. And the people in their prayer besought the lorde
the hyest, that he wolde bee mercyfull,
till the honoure of the lorde were performed. Thus ended their mynistraciō
and seruice. Then went he downe and stretched out his handes ouer the who le multitude of the People of Israel, ād
that they shoulde geue prayse and thā-
kes out of their lyppes vnto the lorde
and to reioyce in hys name. He beganne
yet ones also to praye that he myght o-
penlye shewe the thankesgeuinge befo
re the hyest, namely thus: O geue pra
se and thankes (yea all) vnto the lord
our god which hath euer done noble &
greate thynges, which hath encreased
oure dayes from our mothers wombe
and dealte wyth vs accordinge to hys mercye: That he wyll geue vs the
ioyfulnes of hert, & peace for oure time
in Israell. which faythfullye kepethe
hys name for vs euermore, and alway
deliuereth vs in due season.

There be two maner of people that
I abhorre from my hert: as for the third
whom I hate/it is no people: They ỹ
syt vpon the mountayne of Samaria,
the philistines, and the folysh People/
that dwell in Sichimis.

I Jesus the sonne of Strach Eleā-
zarus of Jerusalem haue tokened vp
these informacions and documentes of wisdomme and Understandinge in thys
boke, & poured out ỹ wysdō of my hert.
Blessed is he ỹ exercyseth hī selfe in the tin, &
who so taketh such to hert shalbe wyse.
Yf he do these thinges, he shal be strong
in al, For the lyght of the Lorde leadeth hī

The prayer of Jesus the sonne of Strach.

The.li. Chapter.

I Thanke the/O Lord and
king, & prayse the, O god
my sauioure. I will yelde
prayse vnto thy name: for
thou art my defender and
helper, and hast preserued my body frō
destrucciō, from the snare of traitrous
tonges, and from the lippes that are oc
cupyed wyth lyes. Thou hast bene my helper from such as stode vp agayn me
me/ād hast delyuered me after the mul
titude of thy mercye, and for thy holye
names sake. Thou hast delyuerd me
from the roaringe of them that prepare them selues to deuoure me, out of ỹ
handes of such as sought after my soū
le: From the multitude of them that troubled me, ād went about to set fyre
vpō me on euery syde, so that I ā not brent in the myddest of the fyre.

From mine the deappe of hell: from
an vncleanne tounge: from mine lyenge
wordes, from the wycked kinge, & frō
an vnrighteous tounge. My Soule shall prayse the Lord vnto deathe/ for
my lyfe drewe nye vnto hell.

They cōpassed me round about frō
euery syde, and ther was no man to hel
pe me. I loked about me, if there were any man ỹ would succour me: but ther
was non. Then sought I vpō thy mercy
O Lord and vpon the actes yͤ yͤ hast dō
euer of old namly, that ỹ delyuerest such
as put their trust in thee and ydelest
them out of the handes of the heathen.
Thus lyft I vp my praier from ỹ ear
he, and prated for delyueraunce frō
death. I called vpon ỹ lord my father
ỹ he would not leaue me without help
in the daye of my trouble & in the time
of the proude. I prayed thy name cō-
tynually, yeldinge honoure and thā-
kes vnto it: ād so my praier was herd
Thou sauedst me from destruction, &
delyueredst me from the vnrighteous
time. Therfor will I acknowledg & pra-
se ỹ, & magnifye ỹ name of the lorde.
whā I was yet but yōg, or euer I went astraie, I desired wisdō openly in my praier. I came therfore before ỹ temple, &
sought her vnto ỹ last. Thē flouri shed
she vnto me, as a grape ỹ is sone rype

My

My hert reioyced in her the went my fote the ryght waye/yt from youth vp soughte I after her: I bowed downe myne eare and receiued her. I found me much wisdom, and prospered greatly in her. Therfore will I ascribe the glory vnto hym, that giueth me wisdom: for I am admitted to do therafter. I wyl be gelous to cleue vnto yͤ thing yͤ is good, so shall I not be confounded. My soule hath wrestled wyth her/ād I haue bene dyligente to be occupyed in her. I lift vp myne handes on hygh thē was my soule lightened thorow wisdome/that I knowleged my folyshnes, I ordred my soul after her/she ād I were one hert from the beginning, and I founde her in clennes: And therfore shall I not be forsaken.

My hert longed after her, and I gat a good treasure. Thorow her the Lorde hath geuen me a newe tonge, wherwith I wyl prayse hym. D come vnto me ye vnlerned and dwel in the house of wisdome: withdraw not your selues from her, but talke and commen of these thinges, for your soules are very thyrstye. I opened my mouth, and spake: D come and bye wysdome without money bowe downe your necke vnder her yocke and your soule shall receyue wysdom She is harde at hande and is contēt to be founde. Beholde wyth your eyes howe that I haue had but lytle labour and yet haue founde muche rest. D receaue wysdome/and ye shall haue plēteousnes of syluer and gold in possession. Let your mynde reioyce in hys mercy/and be not ashamed of hys prayse.

Worcke hys worcke betimes/and he shal geue you your reward i due time

¶ The ende of the boke of Jesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

¶ The boke of the Prophet Baruch.

¶ Baruch wrote aboke, during the captiuitee of Babilon which he redde before Jeconiah ād al the people The Jewes lend the boke with mony, vnto Jerusalem, to their other brethen to thintent that they shulde praye for them.

The first Chapter.

AND baruch dyd rede yͤ wordes of this boke, that Jechoniah yͤ sonne of Joacim kyng of Juda might here and in the presence of all yͤ people, that were come to heare yͤ boke: yea and before al the noble kinges sonnes, before the lordes of the counsel & elders: and before the whole people, frō yͤ lowest vnto the hiest: before al thē yͤ dwelt at Babilō, by yͤ water of Sodp Which whē they herd it/wept, fasted/ & prayed before the lord. They made a collection also of mony, according to euery mans power, and sent it to Jerusalē vnto Joacyn the sonne of Helchyah yͤ sōne of Salon yͤ preste wͭ yͤ other prestes: And to al the people which were wͭ hī at Jerusalem what tyme as they had gotten yͤ ornamētes of yͤ tēple of the lord (yͤ were taken awaye out of the tēple) yͤ they might bring thē agayne to yͤ lāde of Juda/the x. daie of the moneth Siba: namely/siluer vessels (which Sedechiah the sōne of Josiah king of Juda had made) After yͤ Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon had takē Jechoniah, wͭ al his prices, lordes/& all yͤ people, & led thē captiue frō Jerusalē vnto Babilō. And they said: beholde/ we haue sent you monei, to bie you burnt offeringes & incense wall: make you vnleuened bred, & offer for sinne vpon the aulter of the lord our god. And pray for the prosperite of Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon, ād of Balthasar his sonne: yͤ their dates mate be vp on earth, as the dates of heauē: yͤ god also mate geue vs strength, & lyghten our eyes: yͤ we maye lyue vnder the defēce of Nabuchodonosor king of Babilō/& vnder yͤ protectiō of balthasar his sōne: yͤ we mate long do thē seruice, ād finde fauour i their sight. Praie for vs also vnto yͤ lord our god/for we haue sinned against yͤ lord our God ād vnto

fasted & prayed

water

his sonne of yͤ lord

Deu. xiiii, c, Iere xxix, b i, Timo, ii, a

My hert reioyced in her the went my fote the ryght waye/yt from youth vp soughte I after her: I bowed downe myne eare and receiued her. I found me much wisdom, and prospered greatly in her. Therfore will I ascribe the glory vnto hym, that giueth me wisdom: for I am admitted to do therafter. I wyl be gelous to cleue vnto yͤ thing yͤ is good, so shall I not be confounded. My soule hath wrestled wyth her/ād I haue bene dyligente to be occupyed in her. I lift vp myne handes on hygh thē was my soule lightened thorow wisdome/that I knowleged my folyshnes, I ordred my soul after her/she ād I were one hert from the beginning, and I founde her in clennes: And therfore shall I not be forsaken.

My hert longed after her, and I gat a good treasure. Thorow her the Lorde hath geuen me a newe tonge, wherwith I wyl prayse hym. D come vnto me ye vnlerned and dwel in the house of wisdome: withdraw not your selues from her, but talke and commen of these thinges, for your soules are very thyrstye. I opened my mouth, and spake: D come and bye wysdome without money bowe downe your necke vnder her yocke and your soule shall receyue wysdom She is harde at hande and is contēt to be founde. Beholde wyth your eyes howe that I haue had but lytle labour and yet haue founde muche rest. D receaue wysdome/and ye shall haue plēteousnes of syluer and gold in possession. Let your mynde reioyce in hys mercy/and be not ashamed of hys prayse.

Worcke hys worcke betimes/and he shal geue you your reward i due time

¶ The ende of the boke of Jesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

¶ The boke of the Prophet Baruch.

¶ Baruch wrote aboke, during the captiuitee of Babilon which he redde before Jeconiah ād al the people The Jewes lend the boke with mony, vnto Jerusalem, to their other brethen to thintent that they shulde praye for them.

The first Chapter.

AND baruch dyd rede yͤ wordes of this boke, that Jechoniah yͤ sonne of Joacim kyng of Juda might here and in the presence of all yͤ people, that were come to heare yͤ boke: yea and before al the noble kinges sonnes, before the lordes of the counsel & elders: and before the whole people, frō yͤ lowest vnto the hiest: before al thē yͤ dwelt at Babilō, by yͤ water of Sodp Which whē they herd it/wept, fasted/ & prayed before the lord. They made a collection also of mony, according to euery mans power, and sent it to Jerusalē vnto Joacyn the sonne of Helchyah yͤ sōne of Salon yͤ preste wͭ yͤ other prestes: And to al the people which were wͭ hī at Jerusalem what tyme as they had gotten yͤ ornamētes of yͤ tēple of the lord (yͤ were taken awaye out of the tēple) yͤ they might bring thē agayne to yͤ lāde of Juda/the x. daie of the moneth Siba: namely/siluer vessels (which Sedechiah the sōne of Josiah king of Juda had made) After yͤ Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon had takē Jechoniah, wͭ al his prices, lordes/& all yͤ people, & led thē captiue frō Jerusalē vnto Babilō. And they said: beholde/ we haue sent you monei, to bie you burnt offeringes & incense wall: make you vnleuened bred, & offer for sinne vpon the aulter of the lord our god. And pray for the prosperite of Nabuchodonosor king of Babilon, ād of Balthasar his sonne: yͤ their dates mate be vp on earth, as the dates of heauē: yͤ god also mate geue vs strength, & lyghten our eyes: yͤ we maye lyue vnder the defēce of Nabuchodonosor king of Babilō/& vnder yͤ protectiō of balthasar his sōne: yͤ we mate long do thē seruice, ād finde fauour i their sight. Praie for vs also vnto yͤ lord our god/for we haue sinned against yͤ lord our God ād vnto

fasted & prayed

water

his sonne of yͤ lord

Deu. xiiii, c, Iere xxix, b i, Timo, ii, a

to thys daye is not hys wrath turned yet awaye from vs. and se that ye reade thys boke (which I haue sēt vnto you to be reherled in the temple of the lord)
vpon the hye dayes, & at time cōuenīēt.
Thus shal ye saye: The Lorde our god is rightuous, but we are worthy of confusion and shame: lyke as it is come to passe thys daye, vnto all Juda and to euery one that dwelleth at Jerusalem to our kinges, princes, prestes/prophe tes and to oure fathers. We haue syn ned before the Lord our god, we haue not put our trust in hī/nor geuen hym credence, we haue not obeyed hym/ we haue not herkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our god to walcke in the com maundementes that he gaue vs. Sēs the daye that he brought oure forefathers out of the lande of Egipte vnto thys presente daye we haue bene euer
a misbeleuinge, and vnfaythfull people vnto ỹ lord our god: destroui our selues vtterly, and shrincking bac ke, that we should not heare hys voyce

Baru, ii b, Dan. ix. a

Wherfor there are come vpon vs great plages & dyuerse curses/lyke as the lord dyuised by moses hys seruaūt whych brought our forefathers oute of the lande of egypte to geue vs a lā-de that floweth wyth mylke and hony lyke as it is to se thys daye, Neuer-theles, we haue not herkened vnto the voyce of the lorde oure god according to all the wordes of the Prophets, whō
he sente vnto vs and to oure rulers:
but euery man followed hys owne min
de and wycked ymagination: to offre vnto straunge goddes, and to do euel in the syght of the lorde our god.

Leu, xxvi, Deute. xxviii,

¶ The Jewes confesse that they suffre Justly for their sinnes. The cōfessiō of ỹ Christen. Their wes desire to haue the wrath of God turned frō the. The Lorde wyl that we obeye vnto princes altho ugh they be euel. He promiseth that he wil cal agayn the people from captyuytie, god geue them a newes euerlasting testament.

The, ii, Chapter.

For the which cause ỹ Lo rd oure God hath perfour med his deuyce, wherof he certifyed vs/and oure hea
de: that ruled i Jerusale:
yee and oure kynges, princes, & al Is rael and Juda. And soch plages hath ỹ lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauē like as it is ful filled in Jerusalem, according as it is writtē in the law of Moses: ỹ a man shulde eate ỹ flesh of his owne sonne, & the flesh of his owne daughter. Mor eouer, he hath delyuered them vnto the handes of all the kynges, ỹ are round aboute vs (to be confounded and desol ate (and scatred them abrode in all lan des and nacyons. Thus are we brou ght beneth and not aboue, for we haue sinned against the Lorde our God, and not bene obedient vnto his voice. Ther fore the Lorde our God is rightuous & we & our fathers (as reason is) are brought to open shame, as it is to se th ys daye. And as for these plages that are come vpon vs allready, the Lorde had deuysed them for vs: yet wolde we not praye vnto the Lorde oure God, ỹ
we myght euery man turne from his vn godly wayes. So ỹ Lord hath caused soch plages to come vpon vs: for he is rightuous in al his workes. which he hath comaunded vs: wherych we also ha ue not done, ner harkened vnto his voi ce, for to walke i the comaundementes of the Lorde, that he had geuen vnto vs.

Deut. xxviii, xxix, xxx, Reg. viii, Esrem. viii, b

B

And now O Lorde God of Israell thou that hast brought thy people out of the lande of Egypte wyth a mightie hande, with tokens and wonders, with thy greate power and out stretched arme: and hast gotten thi selfe a name, as it is com to passe this dai. O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wic kedli, we haue behaued oure selues vngodly in al thi rightousnesses.

Deut. xxxi, xxxii, xxxiii, ix

C

Turne thy wrath from vs (we beseche thee) for we are but a fewe lefte among the heathen, where thou hast scatred vs Heare oure prayers (O Lorde) and our petitions, bringe vs out of captiuitie, for thyne owne sake: get vs fauoure in the syghte of theym, whyche have ledde vs awaye, that all landes maye knowe that thou arte the Lorde oure God and that Israel and hys generacion calleth vpon thy name.

O Lorde, looke downe from ỹ holy hou se vpon vs: enclyne thyne eare, and hea re vs. For the deed/that be gone doune

Daniel, ix: b

to their graues, and whose soules are Deut xxvi.c out of their Bodies/ascribe vntoo the Esa.xliii.c Lorde neither prayse nor righteousma kyng: but the soule that is vexed for the multytude of hir synnes, whi.h goeth on heauely & weakelye, whose eyes be-gynne to fayle: ye suche a soul ascribeth prayse and righteousnes vnto ꝑ Lord O Lorde, we poure out prayers before thee/ and requyre mercie in thy sighte,
O lord our God: not for eny godlynes
D of oure forefathers, but because thou haste sente out thy wrath & indygn acy on vppon vs: accordynge as thou dyd dest threaten vs, by thy seruaunte the prophetes, saiynge.

Thus sayeth the Lorde: Boue downe your shulders and neckes, and serue the kynge of Babylon, so shall ye remayne still in the lande/ ꝑ I gaue Jere xxvii. vnto youre fathers. Yf ye wyll not do thys/ nor heare the voyce of the Lorde youre God, to serue the kynge of Babi lon: I shall destroye you in the cities of Juda, wyth in Jerusalem wyth out.
I wyll also take from you the voyce of myrth & the voyce of ioye, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of ꝑ bryde/and there shal no man dwel more i the land. But they wolde not herken vn to thy voyce, to the king of Babylon seruyce: and therfore hast thou per four med the wordes, that thou spakeste by thy seruaũtes, ꝑ prophets: namely, ꝑ the bones of our kinges & the bones of our fa thers shuld be traslated out of ther place And lo, now are they layde out i the heate of the Sonne, and in the colde of the nyght, and dead in greate myserie: wt hũger, wt swearde, with pestilence and are clene cast forth. As for ꝑ temple wher in thy name was called vpon thou haste laide it waste/ as it is to se thys daie: & ꝑ for the wickednes of the house of Isra el and the house of Juda. O Lorde our God, thou hast intreated vs after al thi goodnes and according to al that great louinge mercie of thine, like as thou spa keste by thy seruaunt Moses, i the daie whan thou dyddest commaunde hym, to wryte thy lawe before the chyldren of deute.d xiii.d Israell/ saiynge.
Yf ye wyll not herken vnto my voyce,
then shall thys great multitude be tur ned into a very smal people, for I will scater them abrode. Notwithstãding
I am sure/ ꝑ thys folck wyll not heare me: for it is an hardnecked people. But in the land of their captiuitie, they shal remembre them selues and learne to knowe/ that I am the lorde their god
when I geue thẽ an hert to vnderstãd & eares to heare. Then shal they praise me, in the lande of their captiuitie, ãd thincke vpon my name. Ther shall they turne them from their hard backes, and from their vngodlynes: Thẽ shall they remembre the thynges that happened vnto ther forefathers: which sinned against me. So wil I bringe them againe into the land, which I pro mised wt ãoth vnto their fathers: Abra ham, Isac, and Jacob and they shalbe lordes of it, yea, I wyll increase them/ Hebr.viii.c & not mynisch them. And I wyll make Zach viii.b. an other couenaunt wyth them: suche Apoc.xxi.b.
one as shall indure for euer: namely/ ꝑ
I wylbe their god, and they shalbe my people: and I wyll nomore driue my people/ the chylderen of Israell, out of the lande that I haue geuen them.

¶ The people continueth in their prayer begonne, for their deliueraunce. He prayseth wisdom vnto the people, shewyng ꝑ so grete aduersatyes came vn to thee for the despysing thereof. Only god was the finder of wisdome: Of the nearnacyon of Chryst.

The iii. Chapter.

AND now O Lorde almigh tie/ thou God of Israell: I out soul that is in troble, and our spyrete that is ver
ed cryeth vnto thee: heare vs (O Lord) and haue pytie vpon vs, for thou arte a mercyfull god/ be gracious vnto vs for we haue synned before thee, thou endurest for ever/ shold
we then vtterly perysshe O Lorde al- Ephesi.
myghtie, thou God of Israell, heare
now the prayer of the dead Israelytes Daniel.iiii.c and of their chylderen whych haue si- Jere ii.g.iiie ned before thee and not harkened vn & vi.
to the voyce of the lord their God, for the whyche cause/ these Plages hange now vpon vs. O lord remẽbre not the wickednesse of oure forefathers / but thyncke vpon thy power ãd name now at this time: for thou art the Lord our God, ãd thee (O Lorde) wyl we prayse
For thou hast put thy feare in our her- Humiliate kes Psal xxxvii.a

tes, to the intent that wr should cal vp on thy name, and prayse thee in oure captyuytee: and that we myght turne from the wickednes of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

B Behold, we are yet this dayt in our captyuytee, whet as thou hast scatered vs, to be an abhomnacion, curse, and synne: lyke as yt hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of al thet wickednes and departynge from thee.

O Israel, heare the cõm aundmẽtes of lyfe: ponder them wel wt thyne eares yt thou mayst learne wysdõ. But howe happeneth it Israel, yt yt arte in thyne enemyes lande? yt arte waxen olde in a straunge countre, & defyled wt ye dead. Jere.ii.b. Why art thou become lyke them, that go downe to theyr graues? Euen because thou hast forsaken the wel of wisdõ. For yf yt hadest walked in the way of god, truely thou shuldest haue remained styl safe in thine owne lande.

C Learne then where discretion is, Proner.i.a where vertu is, wher vnderstandinge is, yt yt mayest knowe also frõ whence cõmeth longe lyfe, a necessary lyuinge the lyght of the eyes & quietnes, who Psal.xxxvi.b, xxxix.c euer found out of her place? or who cãe euer into her treasures.

Where are the prynces of the heathen become and suche as ruled the beastes vpon the earth? They yt had theyr paistime with the foules of the ayr, thei yt hoorded vp siluer & golde (wherin mẽ truste so moche) & made no ende of their gatheringe? What in worth of thẽ yt coyned siluer, and were so carefull, & could not bringe theyr workes to passe? Thei be roted out, & gon doune to hel, & other mẽ are cõ vp in theyr sted: yõg mẽ haue sene light, & dwelt vpon erth: but yt waie of reformacio haue they not knowe nor vnderstãd yt pathes therof: nether haue their children receaued it, yea right far is it from them. It hath not bene herde of in the lande of Canaan, nether hath it bene sene at Theman.

What is become of the riches they coyned

The Agarenes sought after wysdom, but that which is erthly, like as yt marchauntes of the lande do. They of Theman are conuynge also, and they laboure for wysdome and vnderstanding: but yt way of true wysdõ they knowe not, nether do they thinke vpõ yt pathes therof. O Israel, how greate is yt house of God: and how large is the place of hys possessio? Greate is he, and hath non end: high & vnmeasurable. What is become of those famous giaũtes, yt were so great of bodies, and so worthymẽ of warre? Those had not yt Lord chosen neither haue they founde the waye of reformacyon, therfore were they destroyed: and for so moch as they had no wysdome, they perished because of their foolishnesse. Deuter.ii.d Jere.xxii.d Psal.cxlv.a.

E Who hath gone vp in to heauen, to take wysdome there, and brought her down frõ the clowdes? Who hath gone ouer the see to finde her, and hath chose her aboue golde, and so brought her hyther? No man knoweth the wayes of wysdome, nether is there eny that can seke out her pathes. But he that woteth al thynges, knoweth her, and he hath founde her out with his forknowledge. This same is he which prepared the earth at the begynnyng, and fylled it with all maner of foules and beastes. When he sendeth out yt light, it goeth: and when he calleth it agayne, it obeyeth him wt feare. The starres, kepe their watch, and geue their lyght, yee and that gladly. When he calleth them, they saye: here we be. And so wt cheerfulnes they shewe lyght vnto him that made them. This is oure God, & there shall none other be compared vnto hym: It is he, that hath found oute all wysdome/and hath geuen her vnto Jacob his seruaũt, and to Israel his beloued. Afterward dyd he shewe him self vpon earth, and dwelt amonge men. Genesis & Josu.i.r. Psa.xxx.b Eccl.xxiv.a

The reward of them that kepe the law: the punishment of them that despyse it. A comforting of yt people beyng in captiuitee. A complaynt of Jerusalem vnder the figure therof: of the church. A consolacio and comfortynge of the same.

The.iiii. Chapter.

THis is the boke of the commaundementes of God, & of the lawe that endureth for euer. All they that kepe yt shall come to lyfe: but soch as forsake it, shal come to deth. Turne thee (O Jacob) and take holde of it: walke by this waye, thorow his brightnesse and shyne.

geue

Geue not thine honoure to another / and thy worshipp to a straunge people.
Psal.xciiii.b O Israel, how happy are we, seynge ỹ God hath shewed vs such thinges as are plesaunt vnto hi: Be of good chere, thou people of god, O thou auncīēt Israel. Now are ye solde amonge the Heathen / howbeit, not for verye vttre destruccyon: but because ye prouoked god the Lord to wrath and displesure, therfore were ye delyuerd vnto youre enemies: for ye dispised the euerlastig god that made you, offeringe vnto deuels ād not to god. Ye haue forgotten him that brought you vp / & your norsle haue ye greued / O Jerusalem.

B When she sawe that the wrathe of god was comming vppon you: she sayde: harken, O ye that dwell aboute Sion / for god hath brought me into greate heuynes: and why? I se the captiuyte of my people / of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting god wyl bringe vpon them. Wyth ioye do I norish them, but now muste I leaue them with weppynge and sorow.

Let no man reioyce ouer me wyddowe and forsaken: which for my chyldren am desolate of euery man. For why? they departed from the lawe of God: they wolde not knowe his righteousnes, ner walke in the wate of hys commaundmentes: and as for the pathes of the treuthe and godlynes, they had no lust to go in them.

C O ye dwellers aboute Sion: com, and let vs cal to remembraunce ỹ captyuite, that the euerlasting God hathe brought vppon my sonnes and daughters. He hath brought a people, vpon them from farre, an vncurteous peple of a straunge language: which nether regard the olde, nor pytie the yong.
Deu, xxviii.c Jerem, v, c:

These haue caried awaye ỹ deare beloued of my widdowes / leauing me alone / both desolate and childlesse. But alas, what can I help you? Now he that hath brought these plages vpon you, delyuer you also from the handes of your enemies.

Go your waye (O my children) go your way: for I am desolate and forsaken, I haue put on the clothig of pece, and put vpō me ỹ sack cloth of prayer /
Deut.iiii,e, xxx.a

& for mi time I wil cal vpō ỹ most hiest. Bar, xxx, 1
Be of good cheare, O my chyldren / crye vnto the lorde, and he shal delyuer you from the power of the prynces your enemyes.

For verely, I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous helth: ye a very gladnes is come vpon me, from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shal haue of our euerlastynge sauiour.

With mourning and wepyng dyd I let you go fro me, but wyth ioye and D perpetuall gladnes, shal the Lord bringe you agayne vnto me. Lyke as the neyghbours of Sion sawe your captiuite from god. Euen so shall they also se shortely your health in God / why che shall come on you, with greate honour and euerlasting worshipp.

O my chyldren, suffre pacientlye the wrath that shall come vpon you. For ỹ enemye hath persecuted the / but shortely thou shalt se hys destruction, & shalt treade vpon hys necke. My derlinges haue gone rough hard wayes, for they are led away as a flocke that is scatered abroade from the enemyes. But be of good comforte (O my children) and crye vnto the Lorde: For he that led you awaye, hath you yet in remembraunce: and lyke as ye haue bene minded to swarue from youre god, so shall ye now endeuoure your selues ten tymes more, to turne agayne, and to seke him. For he that hath broght these plages vpon you, shall bryng you euerlasting ioye agayne, wyth youre health. Take a good herte vnto thee. O Jeru salem: for he which gaue thee that name, exhorteth the so to do.
Eccl, lv v. Jere, i, a b, c

The wicked doers that now put the to trouble, shall perysshe: and suche as haue reioyced at thy fall, shalbe punisshed. The cities whome thy children serue, and that haue caryed awaye thy sonnes / shalbe couered. For lyke as they be now glad of thy decaye, so shal they mourne in theyr owne destruccō. The ioye of theyr multitude, shalbe taken away, and theyr cheare shalbe turned to sorowe. For a fyre shall fal vpon them from the euerlastinge god / longe to endure: and it shalbe inhabyted of deuelles for a greate season.

Jerusalem

¶ Jerusalem is moued vnto gladnes for the retourne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof, the church.

The.v.Chapter

A O Jerusalem/loke aboute toward the east, and behold the tope that commethe vnto the from god. For lo, thy sonnes (whoome thou hast forsaken/and that were scattered abrode) come gathered together from the east and west, reioicing in the word of the holye one / vnto the honoure of God.

Put of thy mourninge clothes (O Jerusalem) and thy sorowe, and decke thee wyth the worschyppe and honoure that commeth vnto thee from god, w euerlasting glory. God shal put the cloake of rightuousnes vpon the, and sett a crowne of euerlasting wyst om vpō thyne heade: for vpon the wyll god declare hys brightenes, that is vnder the heauen: Ye an euerlastinge name shall be geuen thee of god/wyth peace of rightuousnes / and the honoure of Goddes feare.

B Aryse O Jerusalem, stande vp on hye/loke aboute thee towarde the easte and beholde thy chyldren gathered frō the east, vnto the west, which reioyce in the holy worde, hauing god in remembraunce. They departed from the enemyes/and were led away of theyr ennemyes, but now shall the lorde bring thē caryed wyth honoure, as chylderen of the kyngdome. For God is purposed to bryng downe al stoute mountaynes yea and all hye rockes / to fyll the valleyes, and so to make them eauen with the grounde/that Israell maye be duly gent to lyue vnto the honoure of God. The woddes and all pleasaunte trees, shal ouershadowe Israell at the commaundemente of God. For bether shal God bryng Israel wyth toyfull mirth and in the light of hys magesty, wyth the mercy and rightuousnes, that commeth of hym selfe.

¶ A copy of the epistle that Jeremy sent vnto ỹ Jewes, which were led awaye prysoners by the kynge of Babylon: where in he certifieth them of the thig that was commaunded him of God.

¶ The.vj. Chapter

A Because of the synnes that ye haue done against God ye shal be led awaie captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the kinge of Babylon. So whan ye are come in to Babilon, ye shall remayne there many yeares, and for a longe season: namely vii. generacyons: and after that wyll I bringe you awaie peaceably from thence. Now shal ye se in Babylon, goddes of golde, of siluer, of wod & of stone: borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a fearfulnes before the Heathen. But loke ỹ ye do not as the other: be not ye afraid, and lett not the feare of them ouercome you. A Jere xxv, ab

B Therfor whā ye se the multitude of people, worshipinge them behinde & before, say ye in your hertes: O Lord, it is thou, that oughtest only e to be worshipped. Mine Angel also shal be with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules, Deut, vi c. As for the tymbre of those goddes, the carpēter hath polyshed them: yee gilted be they, and layed ouer wyth siluer/yet are they but vaine thinges, and cannot speke. Like as a wēch that loueth peramours is trimly decke, euen so are these made and hanged with golde. Crownes of gold verely haue their goddes vpon their heades: so the preistes themselues take the golde and syluer from them, and put it to their owne vses: yee they geue of the same vnto harlottes, & trymme their whores withall: anone, they take it from the whores, and decke their goddes therwith. Yet can not these Goodes delyuer theym selues from ruste and mothes. And when they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wipe their faces for the dust of the temple, wherof ther is moch amonge them. One hath a sceptre in his hand, as though he were iudge of the countre: yett can he not slaie soch as offende him. Another hath a sword or an axe in his hande, for all that, is he neither able to defende him selfe from battayll, ner from murtherers. Jerex.a. C

By this ye maye vnderstande, that they be no goddes: therfore se that ye neither worshipe them, ner feare them.

For lyke as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broke, euē so ts it wyth theyr goddes. When they be set vp in the tēple, their eyes be full of dulte thorowe the fete of those that com in. As dust as the dores are shut in rounde about vpon him, that hathe offended the kynge: Or as it were a deed body kepte beside the grauc: Euē so the prestes kepe the dores wt barres and lockes, lest their goddes be spoiled with robbers. They set vp candels before them (yea verely and that manye) wherof they can not se one, but euen as blockes, so stande they in the temple. It is sayde, that the serpentes ād wormes which com of the earth, gnaw out their hertes, eatyng theym and their clothes also, and yet they fele it not. Their faces are black thorow the smoke that is in the temple. The oules, swalowes, and bydes fly vpon them, yea and the cattes runne ouer their heades.

By this ye maye be sure, that they
D are not goddes, therfore feare them not
The gold that they haue, is to make thē bewtiful: for al that, except some body dyghte of their ruste, they will geue no shine: and when they were caste into a fourme, they felt it not: they are bought for money, and haue no breth of life wt in them. They must be born vpon mennes shulders, as those that haue no fete whereby they declare vnto mē, that they be nothing worth. Confounded be they then, that worship them. For if they fal to the grounde, they can not rise vp againe of them selues.

Yea thoughe one heape theim vp and set them tighte, yet are they not able to stande alone: But muste haue proppes set vnder them like deed men

As for the thinge that is offered vnto them, their preystes sel it, and abuse it: Yea the Prestes wyues take therof, but of it the women with childe and the menstruous laie handes of ther offrinnges. By this ye maie be sure, that they are no Goddes, therfore be not ye afrayde of theim. From whence commeth it then, that they be called goddes? The Women sytt before the Goddes of syluer, golde, and wodde, and the Prestes syt in their tēples, hauing open clothes, whose hedes and berdes are shauen, and haue nothing vpō their heades: roaringe and cryeng vpō their goddes, as menne do at the feast, when one is feed.

The prestes also take awaie the garmētes of ỹ images, & decke their wyues & chyldren withall. Whether it be good or euel that any man doth vnto theim, they are not able to recompence it: they can neyther sett vp a Kynge nor putt hym downe. In lyke maner they maie neyther geue ryches, nor reward euell.

Thoughe a man make a vowe vnto them and kepe it not, they wyll not require it. They can not restore a blind man to his syghte, nor helpe any man at hys nede. They can shew no mercye to the wyddowe, nor do good to the fatherles. Their goddes of wodde/ stone, gold, & syluer, ar but euē as other stones, that be hewen of the mountaine. They that worshippe theim, shalbe confounded. How shoulde they then be taken for goddes? yea how darre men cal them goddes?

And though the Caldees worshipped them not, hearinge that they were but domme and coulde not speake. Yet they them selues offre vnto Bell, and wolde fayne haue made hym to speke, as who saye, they coulde fele, that maye not moue. But whan these men come to vnderstandinge, they shall forsake theym for theyr goddes haue no helpyng. A greate sort of women, gyrde with coardes, syt in the stretes, and burne olyue berryes. Now if one of them be conueyed away, and lye with anye suche as comme by: shee casteth her Neighbouresse in thee teethe, because she was not soo worthe lye reputed, nor her coarde broken. What soeuer is done for them, it is but in vayne, and loste, howe maye it then be thought or sayde that they are goddes? Carpenters and goldesmythes make them, nether be they anye other thynge, but euen what the worcke men wyll make of them. Yea the golde smythes them selues that make them, are of no longe continuaunce.

Eccles. 9 nota

How

How shulde then ỹ thinges ỹ are made of thẽ/be goddes? Ma ne therfore are the thynges yee very shame is it(ỹ thei leaue behinde them for their posterite. For as soone as there cõmeth enye war re or plage vpon them,theu the prestes ymagyn,where they maye hide them sel ues with thẽ. How cã men thynk then ỹ they be goddes/whych nether maye de= fend them selues from warre,ner deliuer them fro myssortune: For seyng they be but of wod, of stone, of syluer and of gol de: all people and kynges shall knowe hereafter,ỹ they be but vayn thinges:ye it shalbe openly declared,that they be no goddes: but euen the very workes of mens handes/and that God hathe noo thing to do wyth them. They can set no kynge in the lande ner,geue rayne vnto men, They cã geue no sentẽce of a mat= ter,nether defende the lande from wron ge: For they are not able to do so moch as a crowe/that flyeth betwixte heauen and earth.

When there happeneth a fyre i to ỹ house of those goddes of wodde, of syl= uer and of golde,the prestes wyl escape and saue them selues,but the goddes burne as ỹ balkes therin They can not wythstande eny kynge or batel: how ma ye it then be thought or graũted,ỹ thei be goddes? Wherefore,these goddes of wodde,of stone,of gold and syluer,ma ye nether defend them selues from the= ues ner robbers: yee ỹ very wicked are stronger then they. These stripe them out of their apparell,ỹ thei be clothed wal,these take their gold & siluer from them,and so get thẽ awaie: yet can thei not helpe them selues. Therfore it is moch better for a man,to be a kyng and to so shewe his power: or els a profita= ble vessel in a house,wherin he that oweth it,might haue pleasure: yee or to be a dore in a house,to kepe soch thinges safe as be therin,then to be soch a vain god. The Sunne,the Mone and all ỹ starres whan thei geue their shine and light,are obedient, & do mẽ good: whã the lightninge glistreth, all is cleare, the wid bloweth i euery countre & whã God cõmaunded the cloudes to go roũd about the whole worlde they do as thei are bydden: whã the fire is set down frõ aboue & cõmanded,it burneth vp hylles and woddes: But as for those goddes they are not lyke one of these thinges, nether in bewtye nor in strenght. Wher= fore men shoulde not thincke, nor saye, that they be goddes,seing they can nei= ther geue sentence in iudgement,ner do men good. For so much as now ye are sure that they be no goddes,then fea= re them not: For they can nether speake euell nor good of kynges. They can ¶ shewe no tokens in heauen for the hey= then,nether shyne as the sunne/nor ge ue lyght as the moone: yea the vnreson able beastes are better then they, for they can get them vnder the rofe,& do them selues good, So can ye be certifi ed by no maner of meanes: therfore fea re them not, For lyke as a frayebog= garde in a garden of Cocũbers keperh nothinge,euen so are their Goddes of wood,of syluer and gold: and lyke as a whyte horne in an orcharde,that euerye byrde sytteth vpon,ye lyke as a deedbo dy that is cast in the darcke. Euen so is it wyth those goddes of wodde, syluer and golde. By the purple and scarlette wt ich they haue vppon them, and sone fadeth away,ye maye vnderstand, that they be no goddes: ye they them selues shal be consumed at the last, whyche shalbe a greate confusion of the lande. Blessed is the godlye man, that hath no ymа= ges,and worship= peth none, for he shal be farre from reprofe.

¶ The ende of the prophet Baruch, which is not in the Canon of the Hebrewe.

How shulde then ỹ thinges ỹ are made of thẽ/be goddes? Ma ne therfore are the thynges yee very shame is it(ỹ thei leaue behinde them for their posterite. For as soone as there cõmeth enye war re or plage vpon them,theu the prestes ymagyn,where they maye hide them sel ues with thẽ. How cã men thynk then ỹ they be goddes/whych nether maye de= fend them selues from warre,ner deliuer them fro myssortune: For seyng they be but of wod, of stone, of syluer and of gol de: all people and kynges shall knowe hereafter,ỹ they be but vayn thinges:ye it shalbe openly declared,that they be no goddes: but euen the very workes of mens handes/and that God hathe noo thing to do wyth them. They can set no kynge in the lande ner,geue rayne vnto men, They cã geue no sentẽce of a mat= ter,nether defende the lande from wron ge: For they are not able to do so moch as a crowe/that flyeth betwixte heauen and earth.

When there happeneth a fyre i to ỹ house of those goddes of wodde, of syl= uer and of golde,the prestes wyl escape and saue them selues,but the goddes burne as ỹ balkes therin They can not wythstande eny kynge or batel: how ma ye it then be thought or graũted,ỹ thei be goddes? Wherefore,these goddes of wodde,of stone,of gold and syluer,ma ye nether defend them selues from the= ues ner robbers: yee ỹ very wicked are stronger then they. These stripe them out of their apparell,ỹ thei be clothed wal,these take their gold & siluer from them,and so get thẽ awaie: yet can thei not helpe them selues. Therfore it is moch better for a man,to be a kyng and to so shewe his power: or els a profita= ble vessel in a house,wherin he that oweth it,might haue pleasure: yee or to be a dore in a house,to kepe soch thinges safe as be therin,then to be soch a vain god. The Sunne,the Mone and all ỹ starres whan thei geue their shine and light,are obedient, & do mẽ good: whã the lightninge glistreth, all is cleare, the wid bloweth i euery countre & whã God cõmaunded the cloudes to go roũd about the whole worlde they do as thei are bydden: whã the fire is set down frõ aboue & cõmanded,it burneth vp hylles and woddes: But as for those goddes they are not lyke one of these thinges, nether in bewtye nor in strenght. Wher= fore men shoulde not thincke, nor saye, that they be goddes,seing they can nei= ther geue sentence in iudgement,ner do men good. For so much as now ye are sure that they be no goddes,then fea= re them not: For they can nether speake euell nor good of kynges. They can ¶ shewe no tokens in heauen for the hey= then,nether shyne as the sunne/nor ge ue lyght as the moone: yea the vnreson able beastes are better then they, for they can get them vnder the rofe,& do them selues good, So can ye be certifi ed by no maner of meanes: therfore fea re them not, For lyke as a frayebog= garde in a garden of Cocũbers keperh nothinge,euen so are their Goddes of wood,of syluer and gold: and lyke as a whyte horne in an orcharde,that euerye byrde sytteth vpon,ye lyke as a deedbo dy that is cast in the darcke. Euen so is it wyth those goddes of wodde, syluer and golde. By the purple and scarlette wt ich they haue vppon them, and sone fadeth away,ye maye vnderstand, that they be no goddes: ye they them selues shal be consumed at the last, whyche shalbe a greate confusion of the lande. Blessed is the godlye man, that hath no ymа= ges,and worship= peth none, for he shal be farre from reprofe.

¶ The ende of the prophet Baruch, which is not in the Canon of the Hebrewe.

The songe of the thre children

¶ The songe of the three children, whych were put into the hote burning ouen. The common translacion readeth this songe in the. iii. Chap. of Daniel.

AND they walked in the middest of the flamme, prayſig God and magnifienge the Lord. Asariah stode vp, & prayde on this maner. & he in the middest of the fyre opened he his mouth, and saide: Blessed be thou (O Lorde God of our fathers) ryght worthy to be prayſed ād honoured is that name of thyne for euermore: for thou art righteous in all the thynges that ꝑ hast done to vs: Yea faithful are all thy workes, thy waies are ryght, & thy iudgementes trew. In all the thynges that thou hast brought vpon vs, ād vpon the holy cyties of our fathers (euen Jerusalē) thou hast executed true iudgment: yea according to right and equitie hast thou brought these thynges vpon vs, because of our synnes.

For why: we haue offended, and done wickedly, departing from thee: In all thynges haue we trespassed, and not obeyed thy cōmaundementes, nor kept them, nether done as thou hast bydden vs, that we might prospeare. And herfor all that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement: as in delyuering vs into the handes of oure enemyes, among vngodlye, and wicked abhominations, ād to an vnrighteous kinge, ye the most froward vpon earth and now we may not opē our mouthes, we are become a shame and reproche vnto thy seruauntes, and to them that worſhippe thee. Yet for thy names sake (we beseech the) geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenaunt, and take not away thy mercy from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruants Isaacs sake, and for thy holye Israels sake: to whom thou hast spoken and promysed that thou wouldeste multiplye their sede as ꝑ starres of heauen, and as the sande that lyeth vpon the see shore.

Daniel. ix. a.

Baruch. ii. b

Jere. ii. b.

Gene. xv. c. xxii. c. xxvi. a Deute. x. d.

For we (O Lord) are become lesse then any people, ād be kept vnder this daie in al the worlde, because of oure sinnes So that now we haue neyther prynce, duke, prophet, burnt offering, sacrifice, oblacion, incence, nor Sanctuarye before thee.

Neuertheles, in a contrite hert and an humble sprete lett vs be receaued ꝑ we maie optayne thy mercy. Like as ī ꝑ burntoffering of rammes ād bullokes, and lyke as the thousande of fat lambes: so let our offrig be in thy sight this daye, that it maye please thee, for there is no confusyon vnto them, ꝑ put their trust in the. And now we folow the with al our herte, we feare the, and seke thy face. Put vs not to shame, but deale wt vs after thy louing kyndnes, and according to the multitude of thy mercyes. Delyuer vs by thy miracles (O Lord) get thy name an honoure: that all they which do thy seruauntes euel, maye be confounded. Let them be ashamed thorow thy almyghtye power, and let their strength be brokē: that they mai know, how ꝑ thou only art the Lord god, and honoure worthy thorowe oute all the worlde.

1. Pete. ii. a Roma. x. a Esa. xxviii. b Rom. ix. c

And the kynges seruauntes that put them in, ceassed not to make the ouen hote wyth wylde fyre, drye strawe, pitche and fagottes: so that the flamme went out of the ouen vpon a. xlix. cubites: yea it toke awaye, and brente vp those Caldees, that it gat hold vpon be syde the ouen. But the angel of ꝑ lorde came downe into the ouen to Asaryah and hys felows, and smote the flamme of the fyre out of the ouen, and made ꝑ myddest of the ouen, as yt were a cold wynd blowing: so ꝑ the fyre nether touched them, greued them, nor dyd them hurte. Then these thre (as out of one mouth) prayſed, honoured, and blessed God in ꝑ fornace, sayinge.

Blessed be thou, O lord God of our fathers: for thou art praise and honour worthy, yea & to be magnified for euer more. Blessed be the holy name of thy glory, for it is worthy to be prayſed, & magnified ī al worldes. Blessed be thou in the holy tēple of thy glory, for aboue all thynges thou arte to be prayſed, ye and

i. Mach. xiiii. b

Psal. lxxii. a

pea and more then worthy to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in ỹ trone of thy kingdom, for aboue al ỹ art wor thy to be wel spoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer. Blessed be thou, that lokest thorow the depe, ād sittest vpon the cherubins: for ỹ art worthye to be praysed, and aboue all to be praysed. Blessed be ỹ in the firmament of Heauen, for thou art prayse and honoure worthy for euer.

O al ye workes of the Lord, speake good of the lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

Psal, cii, c, v. exlix, a. O ye angels of the lord, speke good of the lorde: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

O ye heauens, speake good of the lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

O all ye waters, that be aboue ỹ firmament, speke good of the lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

O al ye powers of the lorde, speake good of the lord: prayse him, and set hi vp for euer.

Psal, exlviii. O ye sonne & Moone, speake good of the lorde: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

Psal, exlviii. O ye starres of heauen, speake good of the lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye showers and dew, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye windes of God, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye fyre and death, speake good of the Lorde: Prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye Winter and Sommer, speake good of the Lorde: Prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

O ye dewes and frostes, speke good of the Lorde: Prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye frost and colde, speake good of the Lorde: Prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye yce & snow, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

O ye nightes & days, speake good of the Lorde, Prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye lyght and darckenesse, speake good of the lorde: praise him, and set hī vp for euer.

O ye lyghtenynges & cloudes, speke good of the lorde: praise him, and set hī vp for euer.

O let the earthe speake good of the lorde: yea let it prayse him/and set him vp for euer.

O ye mountaines and hilles, speke good of the lorde: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

O al ye grene thinges vpō the earth, speake good of the lorde: prayse hym, & set him vp for euer.

O ye welles, speake good of ỹ lord: prayse him, and set hi n vp for euer.

O ye sees and floudes, speake good of the lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

O ye whalles and al that lyue in the waters, speake good of the lord: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

O al ye foules of ỹ ayre, speake good of the lorde: praise him, and set hym vp for euer.

O all ye beastes & catel, speake good of the lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye children of men, speke good of the lord: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O let Israel speke good of the lord: prayse him, and set him, vp for euer.

O ye prestes of the lord, speke good of the lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

Psal, cxiii, a cxxxv, and cxxxiii. a Apoc xix, a O ye seruauntes of the lorde, speke good of the lorde: praise hym, and set hi vp for euer.

O ye spretes and soules of ỹ righteous, speake good of the lorde: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

O ye holy and humble men of hert, speake good of the lorde praise him ād set him vp for euer.

Jeremy, xix, a Ecclesiasti, a Psal, cxlii, a O Ananias/Asarias & Misael, speke ye good of the lord: praise ye him, ād set him vp for euer. Which hath deliuered vs from the hel, kepe vs frō the hād of death, ridde vs frō the middest of ỹ burning flamme, & saued vs euē in the middest of the fire. O geue thākes therfore vnto the lorde: for he is kynde herted

pea and more then worthy to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in ỹ trone of thy kingdom, for aboue al ỹ art wor thy to be wel spoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer. Blessed be thou, that lokest thorow the depe, ād sittest vpon the cherubins: for ỹ art worthye to be praysed, and aboue all to be praysed. Blessed be ỹ in the firmament of Heauen, for thou art prayse and honoure worthy for euer.

O al ye workes of the Lord, speake good of the lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

Psal, cii, c, v. exlix, a. O ye angels of the lord, speke good of the lorde: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

O ye heauens, speake good of the lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

O all ye waters, that be aboue ỹ firmament, speke good of the lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

O al ye powers of the lorde, speake good of the lord: prayse him, and set hi vp for euer.

Psal, exlviii. O ye sonne & Moone, speake good of the lorde: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

Psal, exlviii. O ye starres of heauen, speake good of the lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye showers and dew, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye windes of God, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye fyre and death, speake good of the Lorde: Prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye Winter and Sommer, speake good of the Lorde: Prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

O ye dewes and frostes, speke good of the Lorde: Prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye frost and colde, speake good of the Lorde: Prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye yce & snow, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

O ye nightes & days, speake good of the Lorde, Prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye lyght and darckenesse, speake good of the lorde: praise him, and set hī vp for euer.

O ye lyghtenynges & cloudes, speke good of the lorde: praise him, and set hī vp for euer.

O let the earthe speake good of the lorde: yea let it prayse him/and set him vp for euer.

O ye mountaines and hilles, speke good of the lorde: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

O al ye grene thinges vpō the earth, speake good of the lorde: prayse hym, & set him vp for euer.

O ye welles, speake good of ỹ lord: prayse him, and set hi n vp for euer.

O ye sees and floudes, speake good of the lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

O ye whalles and al that lyue in the waters, speake good of the lord: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

O al ye foules of ỹ ayre, speake good of the lorde: praise him, and set hym vp for euer.

O all ye beastes & catel, speake good of the lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye children of men, speke good of the lord: prayse him, and set hym vp for euer.

O let Israel speke good of the lord: prayse him, and set him, vp for euer.

O ye prestes of the lord, speke good of the lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

Psal, cxiii, a cxxxv, and cxxxiii. a Apoc xix, a O ye seruauntes of the lorde, speke good of the lorde: praise hym, and set hi vp for euer.

O ye spretes and soules of ỹ righteous, speake good of the lorde: praise him, and set him vp for euer.

O ye holy and humble men of hert, speake good of the lorde praise him ād set him vp for euer.

Jeremy, xix, a Ecclesiasti, a Psal, cxlii, a O Ananias/Asarias & Misael, speke ye good of the lord: praise ye him, ād set him vp for euer. Which hath deliuered vs from the hel, kepe vs frō the hād of death, ridde vs frō the middest of ỹ burning flamme, & saued vs euē in the middest of the fire. O geue thākes therfore vnto the lorde: for he is kynde herted and his mercy endureth for euer. O all deuoute men, speke good of the Lorde euen the god of all goddes: O prayse hym, and geue him thanckes / for hys mercy endureth worlde without ende.

The ende of the songe of the three children.

¶ The story of

Susanna which is the xiii. Chapter of Daniel, after the laten.

A

There dwelt a man in Babilon, called Joachi that toke a wife, whose name was Susāna, the daughter of helkiah, a very fayre woman, and suche one as feared God. Her father & her Mother also were godly people, & taught their daughter acordig to ỹ law of Moses. Now Joachi (her husband) was a greate rich man, and had a fayre orcharde ioyning vnto hys house, And to hym resorted the Jewes comenly, because he was a mā of reputation amōg them. The same yeare were there made two iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of: All the wickednes of babylon, commeth from the elders (that is from the iudges, which seme to rule the people, these came oft to Joachyms house ād all such as had eny thynge to do in the lawe came thyther vnto them.

Now when the people came agayne at after none, Susanna went into her husbandes orcharde, to walke. The elders seing thys that she wente dayly, ād walked: they burned for lust to her, yea that
B were almoost oute of theyr wyttes, and they cast downe theyer eyes, that theye shoulde not se heauen, nor remembre / ỹ god is a righteous iudg. For they were both wounded wyth the loue of her / neither durst one shewe another hys grefe And for shame, they durst not tel her theyr inordinat luste, ỹ they wolde fayne haue had to do with her.

Yet they layed wayte for her earnestly from daye to daye, that they myght (at the leest) haue a syght of her. And ỹ one sayde to ỹ other Up, 'ett vs goo home, for it is dyner time. So they went their waye from her.

When they returned agayne, they came together, enquiryng out the mater betwixt them selues: ỹ e the one tolde the other of hys wicked lust. Then appoynted they a tyme / when they might take Susanna alone.

It happened also, that they spyed oute a conuenient tyme, when she went forth to walke (as her maner was) and no body with her, but two maides, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden / for it was an hote season: And there was not one person ther, except ỹ two elders that had hyd theym selues, to beholde her. So she sayde to her maydens: Go fet me oyl and sope, and shut the orchard doore, that I may wash me. And they dyd as she bad them / and shut the orchard doore, and went out them selues at a back dore, to fet the thing that she had comaunded: but Susanna knewe not, that the elders laye there hyd within: Now whē the maydēs wer gone forth, the two elders gat them vp: and ranne vppon her, sayinge now the orchard dores are shut, that no mā can se vs: we haue a lust vnto ỹ, therfore consent vnto vs, and lye wyth vs.

If thou wylt not, we shall bringe a testemoniall agaynst the: that there was a yonge felowe with the, and that thou hast sent awaye thy maydēs from ỹ for the same cause. Susanna sighed, and sayde: Alas. I am in trouble on euery side. Thoughe I folowe youre mynde, it will be my death: and yf I consente not vnto you, I can not escape youre hāD
des. Well, it is better for me, to fall in to your handes without the dede doynge / then cō spynne in the syght of the Lorde: and with ỹ, she cryed out with a loude voyce: ỹ elders also cryed out agaynst her.

Then ranne there one to ỹ orcharde doore, & smote it open. Now when ỹ seruauntes of the house herde the crye in the orcharde, they russhed in at ỹ backe doore, to se what ỹ matter was. So when the elders tolde the ỹ seruauntes were grea

and his mercy endureth for euer. O all deuoute men, speke good of the Lorde euen the god of all goddes: O prayse hym, and geue him thanckes / for hys mercy endureth worlde without ende.

The ende of the songe of the three children.

¶ The story of

Susanna which is the xiii. Chapter of Daniel, after the laten.

A

There dwelt a man in Babilon, called Joachi that toke a wife, whose name was Susāna, the daughter of helkiah, a very fayre woman, and suche one as feared God. Her father & her Mother also were godly people, & taught their daughter acordig to ỹ law of Moses. Now Joachi (her husband) was a greate rich man, and had a fayre orcharde ioyning vnto hys house, And to hym resorted the Jewes comenly, because he was a mā of reputation amōg them. The same yeare were there made two iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of: All the wickednes of babylon, commeth from the elders (that is from the iudges, which seme to rule the people, these came oft to Joachyms house ād all such as had eny thynge to do in the lawe came thyther vnto them.

Now when the people came agayne at after none, Susanna went into her husbandes orcharde, to walke. The elders seing thys that she wente dayly, ād walked: they burned for lust to her, yea that
B were almoost oute of theyr wyttes, and they cast downe theyer eyes, that theye shoulde not se heauen, nor remembre / ỹ god is a righteous iudg. For they were both wounded wyth the loue of her / neither durst one shewe another hys grefe And for shame, they durst not tel her theyr inordinat luste, ỹ they wolde fayne haue had to do with her.

Yet they layed wayte for her earnestly from daye to daye, that they myght (at the leest) haue a syght of her. And ỹ one sayde to ỹ other Up, 'ett vs goo home, for it is dyner time. So they went their waye from her.

When they returned agayne, they came together, enquiryng out the mater betwixt them selues: ỹ e the one tolde the other of hys wicked lust. Then appoynted they a tyme / when they might take Susanna alone.

It happened also, that they spyed oute a conuenient tyme, when she went forth to walke (as her maner was) and no body with her, but two maides, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden / for it was an hote season: And there was not one person ther, except ỹ two elders that had hyd theym selues, to beholde her. So she sayde to her maydens: Go fet me oyl and sope, and shut the orchard doore, that I may wash me. And they dyd as she bad them / and shut the orchard doore, and went out them selues at a back dore, to fet the thing that she had comaunded: but Susanna knewe not, that the elders laye there hyd within: Now whē the maydēs wer gone forth, the two elders gat them vp: and ranne vppon her, sayinge now the orchard dores are shut, that no mā can se vs: we haue a lust vnto ỹ, therfore consent vnto vs, and lye wyth vs.

If thou wylt not, we shall bringe a testemoniall agaynst the: that there was a yonge felowe with the, and that thou hast sent awaye thy maydēs from ỹ for the same cause. Susanna sighed, and sayde: Alas. I am in trouble on euery side. Thoughe I folowe youre mynde, it will be my death: and yf I consente not vnto you, I can not escape youre hāD
des. Well, it is better for me, to fall in to your handes without the dede doynge / then cō spynne in the syght of the Lorde: and with ỹ, she cryed out with a loude voyce: ỹ elders also cryed out agaynst her.

Then ranne there one to ỹ orcharde doore, & smote it open. Now when ỹ seruauntes of the house herde the crye in the orcharde, they russhed in at ỹ backe doore, to se what ỹ matter was. So when the elders tolde the ỹ seruauntes were

grea

greatlye ashamed, for why, there was neuer soch a reporte made of Sulsãna. On the morow after came the people to Joachim her husbande, and the two elders came also/full of wyscheuous imaginacions agaynst Sulsanna, to brig her vnto death and spake thus before the peple: Send for Sulsãna the dought ter of Helchyah Joachims wyfe. And immediatlye they seme for her. So she came with her father and mother, her chyldren and all her kyndred.

Now Sulsanna was a tender person and maruelous fayre of face, Therfore the wycked men commaunded to take of ỹ Cloths from her Face (for she was couered) that at the least they might be satisfyed in her bewty, Then her frendes & all they that knewe her, began to wepe.

These two elders stode vp in the middest of the people, and layed theyr hãdes vpon the heade of Sulsanna: whych wepte, and loked vp towarde heauen, for her hert had a sure trust in the Lord.

Leui.xviii.c And the elders sayde: As we were walkyng in the orchard alone, this woman came in wyth her two maydens: whome she sẽt awaye from her/and sparred the orchard dores. With that, a yong felow (which there was hyd) came vnto her, and laye with her. As for vs, we stode in the corner of the orchard. And whẽ we sawe this wyckednes, we ranne to her: and perceaued, that they had meddled together. But we coulde not holde him for he was stronger then we: thus he opened the dore, and gat him awaye. Now when we had takẽ this womã, we asked her, what yonge felow this was: but she wolde not tel vs. This is the mater, & we be witnesses of the same. The comẽ sorte beleued them, as those that were ỹ elders and iudges of the people & they condemned her to death. Sulsanna cryed out with a lowde voice, and sayd: O euerlasting God, thou cercher of secretes thou that knowest all thinges afore they comme to passe: thou wottest that they haue borne false wytnes against me: & behold, I muste die, wher as I neuer dyd any such thinges, as these men haue maliciously inuented against me. And the Lord herd her voice. For when she was led forth to death, ỹ lord rayled vp the spyrite of of a yong child whose name was Daniel, which cryed wt a loude voice: I am cleane frõ this bloude. Then all the people turned thẽ toward him, and saide: what mene these wordes ỹ ỹ hast pobẽ Daniel stode ỹ middest of thẽ, & saide. Are ye such fooles, O ye childzen of Israel, that ye can not discerne? ye haue here cõdemned a daughter of Israel vnto death/ and know not the treuth wherfore: Go syt on iudgment againe, for they haue spoken falle wytnes against her. G ii. Mc. iiii. Actu. xxiii

Therfore the people turned againe in all the haste. And the elders (that is, the principal heades) sayde vnto him: come sit downe here among vs, & shew vs this matter, seyng God hath geuen the as greate honour as an elder. And Daniel said vnto them: Put these two aspyde one from another, and then shall I heare the. When they were put asũder one from another, he called one of them, and saide vnto him: O thou olde canckerde carle, that hast vsed this wickednes so long: thine vngracyous dedes which ỹ hast done afore, are nowe come to light. For thou hast geuẽ falle iudgmentes, thou haste oppressed the innocent, and letten ỹ giltey go fre: where as yet the Lorde sayeth: The innocẽt and righteous se thou slaie not. Well than, yf thou hast sene her, tel me vnder what tre thou sawest thẽ talkig together. He answered: vnder a molbe rye tree. And Daniel saide: very wel, now thou lyest euen vpon thine head. Lo now the messanger of the lord hath receaued the sentence of him/to cut the in two. Thã put he him aspyde, and called for the other, and saide vnto hym: O thou sede of Canaan, but not of Juda: Fairenes hath dysceaued thee, and lust hath subuerted thyne herte. ii. Reg. iii. d. Exo. xxiii. a. Prou. xvii. c

Thus dealt ye afore wyth the daughters of Israell, and they ye (for fcare) consented vnto you: But the daughter of Juda woulde not abyde youre wyckednesse.

Nowe tell me than vnder what tree dyddeste thou take them, speakynge together? He answered: Vnder a Pomgranate tree,

Then

Deu. xiii. c

greatlye ashamed, for why, there was neuer soch a reporte made of Sulsãna. On the morow after came the people to Joachim her husbande, and the two elders came also/full of wyscheuous imaginacions agaynst Sulsanna, to brig her vnto death and spake thus before the peple: Send for Sulsãna the dought ter of Helchyah Joachims wyfe. And immediatlye they seme for her. So she came with her father and mother, her chyldren and all her kyndred.

Now Sulsanna was a tender person and maruelous fayre of face, Therfore the wycked men commaunded to take of ỹ Cloths from her Face (for she was couered) that at the least they might be satisfyed in her bewty, Then her frendes & all they that knewe her, began to wepe.

These two elders stode vp in the middest of the people, and layed theyr hãdes vpon the heade of Sulsanna: whych wepte, and loked vp towarde heauen, for her hert had a sure trust in the Lord.

Leui.xviii.c And the elders sayde: As we were walkyng in the orchard alone, this woman came in wyth her two maydens: whome she sẽt awaye from her/and sparred the orchard dores. With that, a yong felow (which there was hyd) came vnto her, and laye with her. As for vs, we stode in the corner of the orchard. And whẽ we sawe this wyckednes, we ranne to her: and perceaued, that they had meddled together. But we coulde not holde him for he was stronger then we: thus he opened the dore, and gat him awaye. Now when we had takẽ this womã, we asked her, what yonge felow this was: but she wolde not tel vs. This is the mater, & we be witnesses of the same. The comẽ sorte beleued them, as those that were ỹ elders and iudges of the people & they condemned her to death. Sulsanna cryed out with a lowde voice, and sayd: O euerlasting God, thou cercher of secretes thou that knowest all thinges afore they comme to passe: thou wottest that they haue borne false wytnes against me: & behold, I muste die, wher as I neuer dyd any such thinges, as these men haue maliciously inuented against me. And the Lord herd her voice. For when she was led forth to death, ỹ lord rayled vp the spyrite of of a yong child whose name was Daniel, which cryed wt a loude voice: I am cleane frõ this bloude. Then all the people turned thẽ toward him, and saide: what mene these wordes ỹ ỹ hast pobẽ Daniel stode ỹ middest of thẽ, & saide. Are ye such fooles, O ye childzen of Israel, that ye can not discerne? ye haue here cõdemned a daughter of Israel vnto death/ and know not the treuth wherfore: Go syt on iudgment againe, for they haue spoken falle wytnes against her. G ii. Mc. iiii. Actu. xxiii

Therfore the people turned againe in all the haste. And the elders (that is, the principal heades) sayde vnto him: come sit downe here among vs, & shew vs this matter, seyng God hath geuen the as greate honour as an elder. And Daniel said vnto them: Put these two aspyde one from another, and then shall I heare the. When they were put asũder one from another, he called one of them, and saide vnto him: O thou olde canckerde carle, that hast vsed this wickednes so long: thine vngracyous dedes which ỹ hast done afore, are nowe come to light. For thou hast geuẽ falle iudgmentes, thou haste oppressed the innocent, and letten ỹ giltey go fre: where as yet the Lorde sayeth: The innocẽt and righteous se thou slaie not. Well than, yf thou hast sene her, tel me vnder what tre thou sawest thẽ talkig together. He answered: vnder a molbe rye tree. And Daniel saide: very wel, now thou lyest euen vpon thine head. Lo now the messanger of the lord hath receaued the sentence of him/to cut the in two. Thã put he him aspyde, and called for the other, and saide vnto hym: O thou sede of Canaan, but not of Juda: Fairenes hath dysceaued thee, and lust hath subuerted thyne herte. ii. Reg. iii. d. Exo. xxiii. a. Prou. xvii. c

Thus dealt ye afore wyth the daughters of Israell, and they ye (for fcare) consented vnto you: But the daughter of Juda woulde not abyde youre wyckednesse.

Nowe tell me than vnder what tree dyddeste thou take them, speakynge together? He answered: Vnder a Pomgranate tree,

Then

Deu. xiii. c

Then sayde Daniell vnto hym: Ucrye weil,now thou lyelt also euen vpon thine heade.The messenger of the Lorde standeth wayting wyth the swerd to cut thee in two,and to slaye you both.

With that all the whole Multitude gaue a great shoute,and praysed god, whych alway delyuereth them that put theyr trust in him.And they came vpon Psal,xxxi.a. the two elders (whome Daniell hadde conuicte vp theyr own mouth: that they Deute.xix,d. Prouer,xixa had geuen false witnes)and delt wt them cuen lykewyse as they wolde haue don wyth their neighbour:yea, they did according to the lawe of Moses,and put them to deth.Thus the innocent bloud was saued the same daye.

Then Helchiah and his wyfe praysed God,for their daughter Susanna,with Joachim her husbande,and all the kinred:that there was no dishonestie found in her.From that day forthe,was Daniell had in greate reputacion in the syghte of the people.

¶ The ende of the story of Susanna.

d

¶ The story of

Bell,and of the dragon, which is in the xiiii. Chapter of Daniell, after the Latin.

There was at Babylon an image,called Bel:and there were spente vppon hym, euery day.xii.cakes xl.shepe,and vi great pottes of wine.

Him dyd the kyng worshyp him selfe and went daily to honour him:but Daniell worshypped his owne God.And the kyng saide vnto him Why doest not thou worshippe Belle He answered and said: Because I may not worshippe thynges that be made wt handes,but the lyuynge god which made heauen and earthe,& hath power vpon all flesh.

The kyng sayde vnto him:thinckest thou not,that Bell is a lyuyng God? Dost thou not howe moche he eateth and drynketh euery day? Daniel smyled,& sayde:O kyng disceaue not thy selfe:this is but made of claye within,and of metal without,nether eateth he euer any thynge. Deu,xiii,c,& v. Exod,xx,a Mat,iiii,a

Then the kynge was wroth,and called for his prestes,and sayd vnto them: If ye tell me not whoo is this,that eateth vp these expenses,ye shal die:but yf ye can certifie me,that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die,for he hath spoken blasphemi against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the kyng:let it so be,according as thou hast saide. The Prestes of Bel were.lxx.beside their wyues and children.And the kinge wente with Daniel in to ỹ temple of Bel. So Bels prestes sayd:Lo,we wil go out,and set ỹ meate there (O king)and poure in the wine:then shutt ỹ doore fast,and seale it with thine owne signet:and to morow when ỹ commest in,yf thou findest not,ỹ Bel hath eaten vp all,we will suffre death:or els Daniel,that hath lyed vpon vs.The prestes thought them selues sure inough,for vnder the altar they had made a priui intraunce,and there went they in euer,and ate vp what there was. B

So when they were gone forth,ỹ kyng set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commaunded his seruantes to bringe ashes and these he sifted thorow out al the tẽple,that ỹ kinge might see. Then went they out,and barred the doore,sealing it with the kinges signet,and so departed.In the night came the prestes with their wiues and childrẽ (as they were wonte to do)and ate and droncke vp all.In ỹ morning be times at ỹ breake of ỹ daie, ỹ kinge arose/ād Daniel wt him.And the king said:Daniel are ỹ seales whole yet? He answered:Ye,O king,they be whole.Now as soone as he had opened the doore,the king loked vnto the aultare,& cryed with a loude voyce:Great art thou,O Bel, and with the is no disceate. C

they

Then sayde Daniell vnto hym: Ucrye weil,now thou lyelt also euen vpon thine heade.The messenger of the Lorde standeth wayting wyth the swerd to cut thee in two,and to slaye you both.

With that all the whole Multitude gaue a great shoute,and praysed god, whych alway delyuereth them that put theyr trust in him.And they came vpon Psal,xxxi.a. the two elders (whome Daniell hadde conuicte vp theyr own mouth: that they Deute.xix,d. Prouer,xixa had geuen false witnes)and delt wt them cuen lykewyse as they wolde haue don wyth their neighbour:yea, they did according to the lawe of Moses,and put them to deth.Thus the innocent bloud was saued the same daye.

Then Helchiah and his wyfe praysed God,for their daughter Susanna,with Joachim her husbande,and all the kinred:that there was no dishonestie found in her.From that day forthe,was Daniell had in greate reputacion in the syghte of the people.

¶ The ende of the story of Susanna.

d

¶ The story of

Bell,and of the dragon, which is in the xiiii. Chapter of Daniell, after the Latin.

There was at Babylon an image,called Bel:and there were spente vppon hym, euery day.xii.cakes xl.shepe,and vi great pottes of wine.

Him dyd the kyng worshyp him selfe and went daily to honour him:but Daniell worshypped his owne God.And the kyng saide vnto him Why doest not thou worshippe Belle He answered and said: Because I may not worshippe thynges that be made wt handes,but the lyuynge god which made heauen and earthe,& hath power vpon all flesh.

The kyng sayde vnto him:thinckest thou not,that Bell is a lyuyng God? Dost thou not howe moche he eateth and drynketh euery day? Daniel smyled,& sayde:O kyng disceaue not thy selfe:this is but made of claye within,and of metal without,nether eateth he euer any thynge. Deu,xiii,c,& v. Exod,xx,a Mat,iiii,a

Then the kynge was wroth,and called for his prestes,and sayd vnto them: If ye tell me not whoo is this,that eateth vp these expenses,ye shal die:but yf ye can certifie me,that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die,for he hath spoken blasphemi against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the kyng:let it so be,according as thou hast saide. The Prestes of Bel were.lxx.beside their wyues and children.And the kinge wente with Daniel in to ỹ temple of Bel. So Bels prestes sayd:Lo,we wil go out,and set ỹ meate there (O king)and poure in the wine:then shutt ỹ doore fast,and seale it with thine owne signet:and to morow when ỹ commest in,yf thou findest not,ỹ Bel hath eaten vp all,we will suffre death:or els Daniel,that hath lyed vpon vs.The prestes thought them selues sure inough,for vnder the altar they had made a priui intraunce,and there went they in euer,and ate vp what there was. B

So when they were gone forth,ỹ kyng set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commaunded his seruantes to bringe ashes and these he sifted thorow out al the tẽple,that ỹ kinge might see. Then went they out,and barred the doore,sealing it with the kinges signet,and so departed.In the night came the prestes with their wiues and childrẽ (as they were wonte to do)and ate and droncke vp all.In ỹ morning be times at ỹ breake of ỹ daie, ỹ kinge arose/ād Daniel wt him.And the king said:Daniel are ỹ seales whole yet? He answered:Ye,O king,they be whole.Now as soone as he had opened the doore,the king loked vnto the aultare,& cryed with a loude voyce:Great art thou,O Bel, and with the is no disceate. C

they

Then laughed Daniel/& helde ỹ kyng that he shulde not go in and sayde: Behold the pauement, marcke wel, whose fotesteppes are these? The kyng saide: I se the fotesteppes of men, wemen and chyldren.

D Therfore the kynge was angrye, & toke the prestes, with their wyues and chyldren, and they shewed him the preuy dores, where they came in, and ate vp Jeremy ii, g. Esay, xlvi. a. Jeremy, l, a l such thynges as were vpon the aultar. For the which cause the king slew thē, and delyuered Bel in to Daniels power, which destroyed him and his temple. And in that same place ther was a great Dragon, whiche they of Babylon worshypped. And the kyng sayde vnto Daniel: sayest thou, that this is but a God of metall also? lo, he lyueth, he eateth & drinketh: so that thou canst not saye, ỹ he is no lyuynge God, therfore worship him. Daniel sayde vnto the kyng: Daniel, vi, c I wyll worshipe the Lorde my God, he is the true lyuynge God: as for thys, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kyng) and I shall destroye this Dragon with out swearde or staf. The kynge sayde: I geue ỹ leaue. Then Daniel toke pitch, fatte and heartye woll, & dyd seth them together, and made lompes therof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the dragon barst in sonder: and Daniell sayde: lo, there is he whom ye worshiped. Wher they of Babylon herde that, they toke greate indignacion/ and gathered them together agaynst the kyng, saying: The kynge is become a Jewe also, he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slayne the dragon, and put the prestes to death. So they came to ỹ kyng, and sayde: let vs haue Daniel, or els we wyll destroye the & thyne house.

Daniel, vi e Now when the kyng sawe, that they rushed in so sore vpon him/ and ỹ necessitye constrayned him, he delyuered de Daniel vnto them: which cast him i to the lyons denne/ where he was syxe daies. In ỹ denne there were seuen lyons/ and they had geuen them euery: daie two bodies & two shepe: which then were not geuen them, that they might deuour Daniel.

There was in Jewry a prophet called Abacuch, which had made potage/ and broken bred in a depe platter, and was goinge into the felde/ for to bring it to the mowers. But the aungel of the lord sayde vnto Abacuch: go cary the meate that thou hast into Babylon vnto Danyell, whiche is in the lions denne. Abacuch sayde: Lord, I neuer sawe babylon: and as for the denne, I know it not. Then the aungell of the lorde toke him by the toppe, & bare hym by the heare of the head, and (throw a myghtye wynde) set hym in Babylon vppon the denne. And Abacuch cryed, saiynge: O Daniell thou seruaunt of god, haue: take thee breakefast, that God hath sente thee. And Daniell sayde: O God, haste thou thought vpon me? well: thou neuer fayleste them ỹ loue the: So Daniel arose and dyd eat: and the angel of the lorde, set Abacuch in hys owne place agayne, immediatly. Ezech, viii.a

ii, Re, xxiii

Upon the seuenth daye, the kynge went to bewepe Daniel, and when he came to the denne/ he loked in. And beholde, Daniel sate in the myddest of the lyons. Then cryed the kyng wyth a lowd voyce, saiyng: Great art thou O Lord god of Daniell, and he drewe him oute of the denne. As for those that were the cause of his destruction, he dyd cast thē into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face. Jere, xxxviii Hester, viii, b

dānie, vi, c

After this, wrote ỹ kynge vnto all peple, kynreds and tunges, that dwelt in all countrees saiynge: peace be multiplyed wyth you. Wy commaundment is in al the dominion of hys reime: that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels god, for he is the lyuing god, which endureth for euer: hys kingdome abydeth vncorrupte, and hys power is euer lastinge. It is he that can delyuere and saue: he doth wonders and meruelous workes in heauen and in earth for he hath saued Daniel frō the power of the Lions. daniel, vi, k

Luc. i, c
Esa. xliii. d
Osee. xiii, b,
daniel, iii, k

¶ The ende of the storye of Bel,

Then laughed Daniel/& helde ỹ kyng that he shulde not go in and sayde: Behold the pauement, marcke wel, whose fotesteppes are these? The kyng saide: I se the fotesteppes of men, wemen and chyldren.

D Therfore the kynge was angrye, & toke the prestes, with their wyues and chyldren, and they shewed him the preuy dores, where they came in, and ate vp Jeremy ii, g. Esay, xlvi. a. Jeremy, l, a l such thynges as were vpon the aultar. For the which cause the king slew thē, and delyuered Bel in to Daniels power, which destroyed him and his temple. And in that same place ther was a great Dragon, whiche they of Babylon worshypped. And the kyng sayde vnto Daniel: sayest thou, that this is but a God of metall also? lo, he lyueth, he eateth & drinketh: so that thou canst not saye, ỹ he is no lyuynge God, therfore worship him. Daniel sayde vnto the kyng: Daniel, vi, c I wyll worshipe the Lorde my God, he is the true lyuynge God: as for thys, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kyng) and I shall destroye this Dragon with out swearde or staf. The kynge sayde: I geue ỹ leaue. Then Daniel toke pitch, fatte and heartye woll, & dyd seth them together, and made lompes therof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the dragon barst in sonder: and Daniell sayde: lo, there is he whom ye worshiped. Wher they of Babylon herde that, they toke greate indignacion/ and gathered them together agaynst the kyng, saying: The kynge is become a Jewe also, he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slayne the dragon, and put the prestes to death. So they came to ỹ kyng, and sayde: let vs haue Daniel, or els we wyll destroye the & thyne house.

Daniel, vi e Now when the kyng sawe, that they rushed in so sore vpon him/ and ỹ necessitye constrayned him, he delyuered de Daniel vnto them: which cast him i to the lyons denne/ where he was syxe daies. In ỹ denne there were seuen lyons/ and they had geuen them euery: daie two bodies & two shepe: which then were not geuen them, that they might deuour Daniel.

There was in Jewry a prophet called Abacuch, which had made potage/ and broken bred in a depe platter, and was goinge into the felde/ for to bring it to the mowers. But the aungel of the lord sayde vnto Abacuch: go cary the meate that thou hast into Babylon vnto Danyell, whiche is in the lions denne. Abacuch sayde: Lord, I neuer sawe babylon: and as for the denne, I know it not. Then the aungell of the lorde toke him by the toppe, & bare hym by the heare of the head, and (throw a myghtye wynde) set hym in Babylon vppon the denne. And Abacuch cryed, saiynge: O Daniell thou seruaunt of god, haue: take thee breakefast, that God hath sente thee. And Daniell sayde: O God, haste thou thought vpon me? well: thou neuer fayleste them ỹ loue the: So Daniel arose and dyd eat: and the angel of the lorde, set Abacuch in hys owne place agayne, immediatly. Ezech, viii.a

ii, Re, xxiii

Upon the seuenth daye, the kynge went to bewepe Daniel, and when he came to the denne/ he loked in. And beholde, Daniel sate in the myddest of the lyons. Then cryed the kyng wyth a lowd voyce, saiyng: Great art thou O Lord god of Daniell, and he drewe him oute of the denne. As for those that were the cause of his destruction, he dyd cast thē into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face. Jere, xxxviii Hester, viii, b

dānie, vi, c

After this, wrote ỹ kynge vnto all peple, kynreds and tunges, that dwelt in all countrees saiynge: peace be multiplyed wyth you. Wy commaundment is in al the dominion of hys reime: that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels god, for he is the lyuing god, which endureth for euer: hys kingdome abydeth vncorrupte, and hys power is euer lastinge. It is he that can delyuere and saue: he doth wonders and meruelous workes in heauen and in earth for he hath saued Daniel frō the power of the Lions. daniel, vi, k

Luc. i, c
Esa. xliii. d
Osee. xiii, b,
daniel, iii, k

¶ The ende of the storye of Bel,

Then laughed Daniel/& helde ỹ kyng that he shulde not go in and sayde: Behold the pauement, marcke wel, whose fotesteppes are these? The kyng saide: I se the fotesteppes of men, wemen and chyldren.

D Therfore the kynge was angrye, & toke the prestes, with their wyues and chyldren, and they shewed him the preuy dores, where they came in, and ate vp Jeremy ii, g. Esay, xlvi. a. Jeremy, l, a l such thynges as were vpon the aultar. For the which cause the king slew thē, and delyuered Bel in to Daniels power, which destroyed him and his temple. And in that same place ther was a great Dragon, whiche they of Babylon worshypped. And the kyng sayde vnto Daniel: sayest thou, that this is but a God of metall also? lo, he lyueth, he eateth & drinketh: so that thou canst not saye, ỹ he is no lyuynge God, therfore worship him. Daniel sayde vnto the kyng: Daniel, vi, c I wyll worshipe the Lorde my God, he is the true lyuynge God: as for thys, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kyng) and I shall destroye this Dragon with out swearde or staf. The kynge sayde: I geue ỹ leaue. Then Daniel toke pitch, fatte and heartye woll, & dyd seth them together, and made lompes therof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the dragon barst in sonder: and Daniell sayde: lo, there is he whom ye worshiped. Wher they of Babylon herde that, they toke greate indignacion/ and gathered them together agaynst the kyng, saying: The kynge is become a Jewe also, he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slayne the dragon, and put the prestes to death. So they came to ỹ kyng, and sayde: let vs haue Daniel, or els we wyll destroye the & thyne house.

Daniel, vi e Now when the kyng sawe, that they rushed in so sore vpon him/ and ỹ necessitye constrayned him, he delyuered de Daniel vnto them: which cast him i to the lyons denne/ where he was syxe daies. In ỹ denne there were seuen lyons/ and they had geuen them euery: daie two bodies & two shepe: which then were not geuen them, that they might deuour Daniel.

There was in Jewry a prophet called Abacuch, which had made potage/ and broken bred in a depe platter, and was goinge into the felde/ for to bring it to the mowers. But the aungel of the lord sayde vnto Abacuch: go cary the meate that thou hast into Babylon vnto Danyell, whiche is in the lions denne. Abacuch sayde: Lord, I neuer sawe babylon: and as for the denne, I know it not. Then the aungell of the lorde toke him by the toppe, & bare hym by the heare of the head, and (throw a myghtye wynde) set hym in Babylon vppon the denne. And Abacuch cryed, saiynge: O Daniell thou seruaunt of god, haue: take thee breakefast, that God hath sente thee. And Daniell sayde: O God, haste thou thought vpon me? well: thou neuer fayleste them ỹ loue the: So Daniel arose and dyd eat: and the angel of the lorde, set Abacuch in hys owne place agayne, immediatly. Ezech, viii.a

ii, Re, xxiii

Upon the seuenth daye, the kynge went to bewepe Daniel, and when he came to the denne/ he loked in. And beholde, Daniel sate in the myddest of the lyons. Then cryed the kyng wyth a lowd voyce, saiyng: Great art thou O Lord god of Daniell, and he drewe him oute of the denne. As for those that were the cause of his destruction, he dyd cast thē into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face. Jere, xxxviii Hester, viii, b

dānie, vi, c

After this, wrote ỹ kynge vnto all peple, kynreds and tunges, that dwelt in all countrees saiynge: peace be multiplyed wyth you. Wy commaundment is in al the dominion of hys reime: that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels god, for he is the lyuing god, which endureth for euer: hys kingdome abydeth vncorrupte, and hys power is euer lastinge. It is he that can delyuere and saue: he doth wonders and meruelous workes in heauen and in earth for he hath saued Daniel frō the power of the Lions. daniel, vi, k

Luc. i, c
Esa. xliii. d
Osee. xiii, b,
daniel, iii, k

¶ The ende of the storye of Bel,

The .i. boke

¶ The prayer of Manasseh kynge of Juda, when he was holden captyue in Babylon.

O Lorde Almyghtye, God of our fathers Abraham, Isack and Jacob, and of the ryghteous sede of theym: which hast made heauen & erth wt al ẏ ornamẽt therof, which hast ordened the sea, by the worde of thy cõmaundement: which haste shutt vp the depe, for thy fearful ād laudable name, which al men feare, and tremble before the face of thy vertu, and for the anger of thy threatning, the whiche is importable to sinners: but ẏ mercy of thy promes is grete & vnsearchable: for ẏ art ẏ Lorde God moste hyghe, aboue all the earth/longe sufferynge, and exceadig mercyful, and repentaunte for ẏ malice of mẽ: thou lord after thy goodnes hast promesed repentaunce of the remission of synnes: and thou that arte the God of the ryghteous, haste not putt repentaunce to the righteous, Abraham Isaac, and Jacob/vnto them that haue not synned agaynste thee: But because I haue sinned aboue the nombre of the sandes of the sea, and that manye iniquities are multyplyed, I am humbled wyth many bandes of yron, and ther is in me no breathing. I haue prouoked thyne anger, ād haue done euel before ẏ, in committyng abhomynacyons, & multyplyeng offences. And now I bowe ẏ knees of my hert, requyringe goodnesse of the, O Lorde. I haue synned, Lorde I haue synned, and know myne iniquitye. I desyre the by prayer, O Lord, forgeue me: forgeue me and destroye me not wt mine iniquites, nether do thou alwaies remembre mine euels to punysh thẽ/but saue me (which am vnworthy) after thy grate mercye: & I wyl prayse the euerlastynglye, all the dayes of my lyfe, for all the vertue of heauen prayseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glorye, worlde with out ende Amen.

¶ The fyrst boke of the Machabees.

¶ After the deeth of Alexander the Kinge of Macedonia, Antiochus taketh the kingdom, Many of ẏ children of Israel make couenaunt wyth the gentiles. Antiochus subdueth Egypte and Jerusalem vnto his dominion. Jerusalem beinge burnt maketh lawes, of her owne and for byddeth to kepe Godes lawes. Antiochus setteth vp an Idole ouer the aulter of God.

The .i. Chapter.

AFter that Alexander the sõne of Philyp, kinge of Macedonia wente forth of the lãd of Cethim ād slew, Darius kinge of the perciens & Medes: It happened ẏ he toke great warres in hand, wan very many strõge cyties, and slewe many e kinges of the earth: going thorowe to the endes of ẏ worlde and gettynge many spoiles of ẏ people: In so moch that the worlde stode in gret awe of him and therfore was he proude in his herte.

Now when he had gathered a myghty stong holt and subdued the landes, ād people with their princes, so that thei became tributartous vnto him he fell sick. And when he perceaued that he must nedes dye, he called for his nobul estates (which had bene brought vp with him of children) and parted his kingdom amõge them while he was yet aliue. So Alexander raygned .xii. yeare/and then dyede.

Dan. vii, & v. viii, b

After hys death fell the kingedom vnto hys princes, and they optayned it euerye one in hys rowme, and caused theim selues to be crowned as kynges and so did their children after them many yeares, and muche wickednes increased in the worlde. Out of these came the vngracious rote, noble Antiochus the sonne of Antiochus the kinge (whiche had ben a pledge at Rome) & he raygned in the C. xxxvii. yeare of the raygne of the Grekes.

Wach. viii.

B

In those dayes went there out of Israel wiked men/which moued much people in thei counsell, saieng: Let vs go and make a couenaunt with the hethen, that are rounde about vs: for sens we departed from them, we haue had much sorow.

So

The .i. boke

¶ The prayer of Manasseh kynge of Juda, when he was holden captyue in Babylon.

O Lorde Almyghtye, God of our fathers Abraham, Isack and Jacob, and of the ryghteous sede of theym: which hast made heauen & erth wt al ẏ ornamẽt therof, which hast ordened the sea, by the worde of thy cõmaundement: which haste shutt vp the depe, for thy fearful ād laudable name, which al men feare, and tremble before the face of thy vertu, and for the anger of thy threatning, the whiche is importable to sinners: but ẏ mercy of thy promes is grete & vnsearchable: for ẏ art ẏ Lorde God moste hyghe, aboue all the earth/longe sufferynge, and exceadig mercyful, and repentaunte for ẏ malice of mẽ: thou lord after thy goodnes hast promesed repentaunce of the remission of synnes: and thou that arte the God of the ryghteous, haste not putt repentaunce to the righteous, Abraham Isaac, and Jacob/vnto them that haue not synned agaynste thee: But because I haue sinned aboue the nombre of the sandes of the sea, and that manye iniquities are multyplyed, I am humbled wyth many bandes of yron, and ther is in me no breathing. I haue prouoked thyne anger, ād haue done euel before ẏ, in committyng abhomynacyons, & multyplyeng offences. And now I bowe ẏ knees of my hert, requyringe goodnesse of the, O Lorde. I haue synned, Lorde I haue synned, and know myne iniquitye. I desyre the by prayer, O Lord, forgeue me: forgeue me and destroye me not wt mine iniquites, nether do thou alwaies remembre mine euels to punysh thẽ/but saue me (which am vnworthy) after thy grate mercye: & I wyl prayse the euerlastynglye, all the dayes of my lyfe, for all the vertue of heauen prayseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glorye, worlde with out ende Amen.

¶ The fyrst boke of the Machabees.

¶ After the deeth of Alexander the Kinge of Macedonia, Antiochus taketh the kingdom, Many of ẏ children of Israel make couenaunt wyth the gentiles. Antiochus subdueth Egypte and Jerusalem vnto his dominion. Jerusalem beinge burnt maketh lawes, of her owne and for byddeth to kepe Godes lawes. Antiochus setteth vp an Idole ouer the aulter of God.

The .i. Chapter.

AFter that Alexander the sõne of Philyp, kinge of Macedonia wente forth of the lãd of Cethim ād slew, Darius kinge of the perciens & Medes: It happened ẏ he toke great warres in hand, wan very many strõge cyties, and slewe many e kinges of the earth: going thorowe to the endes of ẏ worlde and gettynge many spoiles of ẏ people: In so moch that the worlde stode in gret awe of him and therfore was he proude in his herte.

Now when he had gathered a myghty stong holt and subdued the landes, ād people with their princes, so that thei became tributartous vnto him he fell sick. And when he perceaued that he must nedes dye, he called for his nobul estates (which had bene brought vp with him of children) and parted his kingdom amõge them while he was yet aliue. So Alexander raygned .xii. yeare/and then dyede.

Dan. vii, & v. viii, b

After hys death fell the kingedom vnto hys princes, and they optayned it euerye one in hys rowme, and caused theim selues to be crowned as kynges and so did their children after them many yeares, and muche wickednes increased in the worlde. Out of these came the vngracious rote, noble Antiochus the sonne of Antiochus the kinge (whiche had ben a pledge at Rome) & he raygned in the C. xxxvii. yeare of the raygne of the Grekes.

Wach. viii.

B

In those dayes went there out of Israel wiked men/which moued much people in thei counsell, saieng: Let vs go and make a couenaunt with the hethen, that are rounde about vs: for sens we departed from them, we haue had much sorow.

So

So thys deuice pleased them well, and certayne of the people toke vpon them for to go vnto the king, which gaue thē licence to do after the ordinaunce of the Heathen. Then set they vp an open sale (at Jerusalem) of the lawes of the Heathen, and were nomore circumcised: but forsoke the holy testament, and ioyned them selues to the Heathen, & were cleane solde to do mischefe. So when Antiochus beganne to be mighti in his kingdome, he wente aboute to optaine the lande of Egypte also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes. Upon this entred he in to Egipte, w a stronge hoost with charrettes, elephantes, horsmen and a greate nombre of shippes, and beganne to warre against Ptoloni the kinge of Egipte. But Ptoloni was afraied of him, and fled: and mani of his people were wounded to death. Thus Antiochus wāne many strong cities, and toke awai grett good out of the lande of Egypte.

And after that Antyochus had smitten Egipt, he turned again in the xliii yeare, and wente towarde Israel, and came vp to Jerusalem with a migh ye people: & entred proudli in to the Sanctuarie, and toke awaie ỹ golden altare, ỹ candilsticke and all ỹ ornaments therof, ỹ table of the shewebred, the pouring vessel, the chargers, ỹ golden spones the vale, ỹ crownes and golden apparell of the temple, and brake downe all. He toke also the siluer and golde, ỹ precious Jewels and ỹ secrete treasures that he founde. And when he had taken awaye all together, caused a great murthur of men, & so fulfilled his malicious pryde. He departed in to his owne lande.

Thus there arose greate heuynesse and misery in al ỹ lande of Israel, The princes and ỹ elders of ỹ people mourned, ỹ yonge men and the maydens were defyled, and ỹ fayre beutye of wemen was chaunged: ỹ brydegrom and ỹ bryde toke them to mournynge: the lande and those that dwelte therein was moued: for all the House of Jacob was brought to confusion.

After two yeares ỹ king sent his chefe treasurer vnto ỹ cite of Juda which came to Jerusalem with a great multitude of people speking peacyble wordes vnto them, but all was disceate: for whan they had geuen him credence, he fell sodenly vpon the citie, and smote it sore: and destroied much people of Israell. And when he had spoyled the cite he set fyre on it, castinge downe houses and walles on euery syde. The wemen and theyr chylderen toke they captiue, and led awaye theyr cattel. Then buylded they the castell of Dauid with a greate and thick wal, and with mighty toures/ and made it a stronge holde for them. Besyde all thys, they set wicked people and vngodly men to kepe it, stored it with weapens and vitayles: gathered the goods of Jerusalem, and laid them vp ther: thus became it a theuish castel

And this was done to laye wait for the people that wente into the Sanctuary, and for the cruell destruction of Israell. Thus they shed innocent blonde/ on euery syde of the sanctuary, and defiled it. In so much, that the citesyns were fayne to departe, and the citie became an habytacion of straungers, being desolat of her owne sede, for her owne natyues were faine to leaue her. Her sanctuary was cleane waste/ her holi dayes were turned into mourninge her sabbathes were had in derision, and her honoure brought to naught. Loke howe great her glory was afore, so gret was her confusion, and her ioye turned into sorow.

Antiochus also the king sent out a cōmission vnto all his kingdome, ỹ al the people shulde be one. Then they lefte euery man hys lawe and all the heathē agreed to king Antiochus: Yea many of the Israelytes consented ther vnto, offering vnto idoles, and defyling the Sabath. So the kinge Antiochus sett hys messaungers with his commission vnto Jerusalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they shoulde folowe the lawes of the heathen, and forbad eyther burntoffering, meateoffring, or peace offringe to be made in the Temple of god: and that there shoulde no Sabath nor hye feall daye be kept: But commaūded, that the sanctuary and the holy people of Israell shoulde be defyled.

Dan. viii. a
1. Mach. i. b
1. Mach. i. c
1. Mach. i. d
Tobi. ii. a. Amos. viii. a
1. Mach. i. e

Ye

He commaunded also that there should beset vp other aulters/temples, and Idoles: to offre vp swynes flesh ād other vncleane beastes, that men shuld leaue theyr chyldere vncyrcumcised, to defyle theyr soules wyth al maner of vnclennesse and abhominacions: That they myght so forget the lawe, and chaunge all the holy ordinaunces of god: and ye whosoeuer wolde not do accordinge to the commaundment of king Antiochus should suffre death. In lyke maner cōmaunded he thorowe all hys realme, ād set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to do these thinges/commaūdinge the cyties of Juda, to do sacrysifice vnto Idoles.

Then wente the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsoke the lawe of the Lord/ and committed much euell in ye lande: ye and chaced out the secrete Israelytes, which had hyd them selues in corners, and pryuy places. The .xv. daie of the moneth Casleu, in the .cxlv. yere, sett k inge Antiochus an abhominable Idol of desolacion vppon the altar of God, they buylded altars thorow oute al the cytyes of Juda on euery syde, before the dores of the houses, and in the stretes: where they brente incense, and dyd sacrifyce. And as for the bokes of the lawe of God/ they brent them in ye fyre/ and rent them in peces. Whatsoeuer he was that had the booke of the testament of the Lord founde by hym, yea whosoeuer endeuored him selfe to kepe the lawe of the lorde, the kynges commaundement was, that they shuld put him to deth. And thorow his auctorite he executed these thinges euery moneth, vpō the people of Israel that were found in the cyties.

Exod. xxxvi. c

The fyue and twentye daye of the moneth what tim as they did sacrifice vpon the altare (which stode in the stede of the altare of the lorde) accordyng to the commaundement of kinge Antyochus/ they put certen womē to death, which had caused her chyldre to be circumcysed: Not onely that, but they hāged vp the chyldren by the neckes thorow out al their houses, and slewe the circumsisers of them.

G

ti. Mac vi. b

Yet were there many of the people of Israel/ which determed in themselues, that they woulde not eate vncleane thinges: but chose rather to suffer death, thē to be defyled w vncleane meates. So because they colde not breake the blessed law of god, they were cruelly slain. And this great tyrranny increased be ryght sore vpon the people of Israel.

¶ The mournyng of Mathathiah & his sōnes, for the destruccyon of the holy cite. They refuse to doo sacrifice vnto Idoles. The zele of Mathathiah for the lawe of god. They are slayne & wil not fighte agayne, because of the Sabboth daye. Mathathiah dyinge commaūdeth his sonnes to stryk by ỹ word of God after the example of the fathers.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

IN those dayes there dyd stande vp one Mathathyah, the sonne of Symon the prest (out of the kinred of Joaris) from Jerusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin, and had .v. sonnes: Jhon called Goddis: Simeon, called Thasy: Judas, other wise called Machabeus: Eleazar, otherwise called Abaron: & Jonathas/ whose surname was Apphus These sawe the euel, that was done among the people of Juda and Jerusalē. And Mathathias had sayd: Wo is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this misery of my people, and the piteous destruccion of the holy cyte: and thus to syt so styll, it beynge delyuered into the handes of the enemyes. Her Sanctuary is come into the power of straungers, her temple is/ as it were a man that hath lost his good name. Her precyous ornamentes are caryed awaye captiue, her olde men slayne in the stretes/ and Her yonge menne are fallen thorowe the swearde of her enemyes.

1 Mach i, b.

What people is it, that hath not some porcyon in her kyngdome? Or who hath not gotten some of her spoiles? Al her glory is taken awaie. She was a Quene, and now she is become an handmaide. Behold our Sanctuary, our bewty and honoure is wasted awaie, and defyled by the Gētils: what helpeth it vs then to liue? Mathathyah rent hys clothes, he and hys sonnes/ and put sacke cloth vpon thē, and mourned very sore.

Then

B Then came the men thether whiche were sent of king antiochus, to compel suche as were fled in the citye of Modin, for to do sacrifice and to burne incence vnto Idoles, and to forsake the lawe of God. So, many of the people of Israell consented and enclyned vnto them/ but Mathathiah and his sonnes remayned stedfast. Then spake the commissioners of king Anthiochus/ & sayde vnto Mathathiah: thou art a noble man, of hye reputacion, and greate in thys citie, hauing fayre chylderen ād bretheren. Come thou therfore fyrst/ād fulfyll the kinges commaundemente, like as all the heathen haue done, ye and the men of Juda, and such as remayne at Jerusalem: so shalt thou and thy children be in the kinges fauoure, and enriched wyth golde, syluer and greate rewardes.

Mathathiah answered, and spake with a loud voice: Though al nacions obeye the kinge Antiochus, and fall awaye euery man from kepinge the law of theyr fathers: though they consente to hys commaundementes, yet will I and my sonnes and my Bretheren not fall from the law of our fathers. God forbid we shuld. ẏ were not good for vs, ẏ we shuld forsake ẏ lawe & ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of kinge Antiochus. Therfore we wyll do no suche sacrifice, nether breke the statutes of oure lawe, to go another way. And when he had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes which openly in the sighte of all dyd sacrifice vnto the Idols vpon the aultar in the citie of Modin, accordyng to the kinges commaundement.

When Mathathiah sawe thys, it C greued hym at the herte, so that hys reines shoke withal, and hys wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe. Wyth that he gaue a skippe forth, and kylled the Jewe beside the aultare: ye and slewe the kinges commissioner, that compelled hym to do sacrifice, and destroyed the aultar at the same tyme/ such a zele had he vnto the law of god. Lyke as Phinehes did vnto zambry the sonne of Salomi. And Mathathiah cryed wt a loude voyce thorowthe citie, saiynge: Who so is feruent in the lawe and wil kepe ẏ couenaunt, let hī folowe me. So he and hys sonnes fled in to the mountaynes and left all that euer they had i ẏ citye. Many other godly men also departed in to the wildernesse wyth their chyldren, their wyues and their catel, & remayned there: for the tyrāny increaced so sore vpon them. 1. Macc. 2.

D Nowe when the kynges seruauntes, and the host, which was at Jerusalem in the cytie of Dauid herde/ that certeyne men had broken ẏ kynges commaundement and were gone their waie to the wylderneſſe in to secrete places, & ẏ ther wer many departed after thē. they folowed them to fyghte agaynste thē in the Sabbath daye and sayde: Wyll ye yet rebell? Get you hence and do the cōmaundement of kynge Antiochus, and ye shal liue. Thei answered. we wil not go forth, nether wyll we do the kynges commaundement, to defile the Sabbath daie. Then begāne thei to fight against them, neuertheleſſe thei gaue them none other answere, nether cast thei one stone at them nor made fast their preuie places, but saide. We will die al in our innocency, heauen ād earth shall testifie with vs. that ye put vs to deth wrongeously. Thus they fought against thē vpon the Sabboth, and slewe both men and catell their wiues and their childrē, to the nombre of a thousand people. Josu. 1. c

When Mathathiah and his frēdes herde this thei mourned for them right E sore, and saide one to another: If so be that we all do as our brethren haue done/ & fight not for our liues & for our lawes against ẏ hethē then shal thei the sooner rote vs out of the erth. So they concluded amonge them selues at the same, saiynge: Whatsoeuer he be that cōmeth to make battaille with vs vpon the Sabbath daie, we will fight against him, and not die al, as our brethren that wer murthred so haynously. Upon this came the Synagoge of the Jewes vnto thē strong men of Israel, also such as were feruent i ẏ lawe. And all they that were fled for persecucyon, came to help them and to stand by them: In so moch ẏ they gathered an hooste of men, and slewe the wicked doers in their gelousi, and the vngodly men in their wrath. Some of the wicked fled vnto the Heathen, & escaped.

Thus Mathathias and his frends wente about, and destroyed the aulters and Circumcysed the Chyldren, that had not yet receaued circumcisiõ: as many as they founde within the costes of Israel: and folowed mightely vpon the chyldren of pryde, and this acte prospered in their handes: In so moche, that they kept the law agaynst the power of the Gentiles and the kinges/ and gaue not ouer their domynyon vnto wycked doers.

If After this when ỹ tyme drewe on fast that Mathathias shulde dye, he sayde vnto his sonnes: Now is pryde & persecucyon increased, now is ỹ tyme of destruccyon & wrathful displeasure: wherfore (O my sonnes) be ye feruent in the lawe/ & ioparde your lyues for ỹ Testamẽt of the fathers: & to remembraunce what actes oure fathers dyd in their tyme, so shall ye receaue greate honour and an euerlastinge name. Remember Abraham, was not he founde fayth full in tentacyon, and it was reckened vnto him for rightuousnes? Joseph in tyme of hys trouble kepte the commaundement, and was made a Lorde of Egypte. Phineches our father was so feruent for the honoure of God, that he optayned ỹ couenaunt of an euerlastynge prest hode. Josue for fulfillinge ỹ worde of God, was made the captayne of Israel. Caleb bare recorde before the congregacion, and receaued an heretage. Dauid also in hys mercyfull kyndnesse, optayned the trone of an euerlastynge kyngdom. Elias being gelous and feruent in the lawe, was taken vp into heauen. Hananias, Asarias and Misael remayned stedfast in fayth, & were deliuered out of ỹ fyre. In lyke maner Daniel beynge vngiltie, was saued from the mouth of the Lyons.

Jacob. xl. c
Rome. iiii. d
Gene. xxii. e

And thus ye mate consydre thorow out all ages sence the worlde beganne that who soeuer put their trust i God, were not ouer come. Feare not ye then the wordes of an vngodli man, for hys glorye is but dounge and wormes: to daye is he set vp, and to morowe is he gone: for he is turned into earth and his memorial is come to naught. Wherfore (O my sonnes) take good hertes vnto you, and quite youre selues lyke men in the lawe: for if ye do the thynges that are commaunded you in the lawe of the lorde your god, ye shall optayne greate honour therin.

Hebre. xi. b

And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a manne of wisdome: se that ye geue eare vnto hym alwaye, hee shalbe a father vnto you. As for Judas Machabeus, he hathe euer bene myghtye and stronge from hys youthe vp: let hym be your captayne, and ordre the battell of your people: thus shal ye bringe vnto you all those that fauoure the lawe, and se that ye auenge the wrõge of youre people, and recompence the heathen agayne, and apply your selues wholy to the comaundement of the lawe. So he gaue thẽ his blessinge, and was layd by hys fathers & died in the, C, and xlvi. yeare at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulcre, and all Israel made great lamentacion for hym.

Judas is made ruler ouer the Jewes, He killeth Appolonius Sezoa the pryce of Syria. The confidence of Judas towarde God, Judas determeneth to fight agaynst Lisias whome Antiochus had made captayne ouer his host. The prayer of the Israelites,

The. iii. Chapter

A Josephus cap. viii, xi. li, xii, Antiq.

Then stode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers stede, and all his brethren helped hym: and so dyd all they that helde with hys fathers/ and fought wyth cherefulnes for Israell. So Judas gat hys people greatte honour: He put on a brest plate as a gyaunte, and arayde hym selfe wyth hys harnes, and defended hys hoste: wt hys swearde. In his actes he was lyke a lyon, and as a lyons whelpe roaringe after hys praye.

He was an enemye to the wickedde and hunted thẽ out: and brent vp those, that vexed hys people: so that his ennemyes fled for feare of him, and all the workes of vngodlynes wer put to trouble: suche lucke & prosperitie was in his hande. Thys grened diuerse kynges/ but Jacob was greatlye reioyced thorowe hys actes, and he gat him selfe a great name for

B for euer.

He wente thorow ỹ cytyes of Juda, destroyenge the vngodly out of them/ turnyng awaye ỹ wrath from Israell, and releauyng soch as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto ỹ vtter most parte of the earth. Then Appollonius (a prince of Sirta) gathered a migh tye greate hoofte of the Heathen & oute of Samaria, to fyght agaynst Israell.

Whych when Judas perceaued, he wente forth to mete him, fought w̄ him: slewe him, and a great multitude with hym, the remnaunte fled, & he toke their substaunce Judas also toke Appollonius owne swearde, and foughte with it all his lyfe longe,

B Now when Seron (another prince of Siria) herde saye/ ỹ Judas had gathered vnto hym the congregacyon & church of the faythfull, he saide: I will get me a name and a praise thorow out ỹ realme: for I will go fight with Judas, and them that are with him as many as haue despised the kiges commaundemēt.

So he made him ready, and there wente with him a grete myghtie hoost of the vngodly, to stande by hym, and to be auenged of ỹ children of Israel. And when thei came nie vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against thē with a small compani. And when his people sawe soch a great host before them, thei sayde vnto Judas: How are we able (beynge so fewe) to fyghte against so grete a multitud and so stronge? seing we be so weery/ and haue fasted all this daie?

But Judas sayde: It is a small matter for many to be ouercome w̄ fewe: ye there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer bi a great multitude or bi a small compani: for the victori of ỹ battel standeth not in the multitude of the hoost, but the strength cōmeth from heauen. Beholde, thei come against vs withe a presumptuous, and proude multitude, to destroie vs, oure wiues & oure children, and to robbe vs. But we wyll fight for oure lyues, and for oure lawes, and the Lorde him selfe shall destroie them before our face: therfore be not ye afrayed of them.

As soone as he had spoken these wordes he leapte sodenly vpon them. Then was Seron smiten and his host put to flyght and Judas folowed vpon them beyonde Bethoron vntoo the plain felde, where ther were slayne, viii hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the lande of the philistines. Then all the heythen on euery syde were afrayd for Judas and his brethere: so that the rumoure of hym came vnto the kings eares, for al ỹ gentyles could tell of the warres of Judas.

So when kinge Antiochus hearde these tydinges, he was angry in his minde: wherfore he sent forth and gathered an host of hys whole realme very strōg armies, and opened hys treasurye, and gaue his hoost a yeares wagies in hād commaundinge them to be redye at all times. B

Neuertheles when he saw that there was not money enough in hys treasuries/ and that thorow the discorde āde persecution, which he made in the land (to put downe the lawes that had bene of olde times) his customes and tributes of the lande were minished: he feared that he was not able for to beare ỹ costes and charges any longer/ nor to haue suche giftes, to geue so lyberallye as he dyd afore, more then the kinges that were before hym.

Wherfore he was heuy in his minde, and thoughte to go into Persydes/ for to take tributes of the lande, and so to gather much moneye. So he left Lisias (a noble man of the kynges bloud) to ouersee the kinges businesses, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egipte: and to keepe well his sonne Antiochus tyll he came agayne. 1. Mac. vi. a Moreouer, he gaue hym half of his hoofte and Elephantes committed vnto him euery thynge of hys mynde, concerninge those whyche dwelte in Juda and Jerusalem: that he shoulde sette oute an armye against them to destroy and to roote oute the powere of Israell, and the remnaunt of Jerusalem, to put out theyr memorial from that place, to set strangers for to inhabit al theyr quarters, and to part theyr land amonge them. Thus the king toke the

1. Mac. xiii. a

nota

1. Par. xxv b

nota

Josephus capit. lib xii. Antiq.

other parte of the hoost, and departed from Antioch (a citie of his realme) ouer the water of Euphrates, in the hundreth and. xlvii. yeare, and went throw the hye countrees.

i. Ma vii. a

And Lisias chose vnto hym Ptolomy the sonne of Dorimimus, Nicanor and Gorgias myghtie men, and the kinges frendes. These he sent with. xl. thousand fote men, and. vii. thousand horsmen, for to go into the lande of Juda, & to destroye it, as the kinge commaunded. So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus into the playne feilde. When the marchauntes herd the rumour of them, they and their seruauntes toke very muche syluer and golde, for to bye the chylderen of Israeli to be theyr bondmen. Ther came vnto them also yet mo men of warre on euery syde, out of Siria and from the E Palestines.

Nowe when Judas and hys brethren sawe that troubble encreased, and the hoost drew nye vnto they: borders, considering the kinges wordes whych he commaunded vnto the people: namely, that they shoulde vtterly waste and destroye them: They sayde one to another: Let vs redresse the decaye of oure people/let vs fighte for oure folcke, and for oure Sanctuary. Then the congregation were sone ready gathered together to fyght, to praye and to make supplication vnto God for mercye & grace.

i. Ma. i. b

As for Jerusalem, it laye voyde, & was as it had bene a wyldernes, Ther wente no man in nor oute at it, and the sanctuary was trodden down. The aleauntes kepte the castell, there was the habitacion of the heathen. The mirthe F of Jacob was taken awaye, the pype & the harpe was gone from amonge the.

The Israelytes gathered them together and came to Maspha, before Jerusalem: for in Maspha was the place wher they praied afore time. So they fasted ye day, & put on saccloth & asshes vpon their heads: rent theyr clothes, and layde forth the bokes of the lawe (Wherout the heathen sought the lykenesse of their ymages) and brought the prestes ornamentes, the fyrstlynges & the tithes. They sette there also the abstayners whyche had fulfylled theyr dayes) before god, and cryed with a loude voice towarde heauen saying: what shall we do wyth these? and whether G shal we cary them awaye? For ye Sanctuary is troden downe and defyled, thy prestes are come to heuynesse and dyshonour: and beholde, the Heathen are come together for to destroye vs. Thou knowest what thinges they ymagin agaynst vs. How may we stande before them, excepte thou (O GOD) be oure helpe?

Num. vi. d

They blewe out the trompette also wyth a loude voyce. Then Judas ordened captaynes ouer the people: ouer thousandes, ouer hundredes / ouer fyftye, and ouer ten. But as for soch as buylded them houses, maryed wyues, planted them vyneyardes, and those that were fearfull: he commaunded them euery man to go home, accordynge to ye lawe. So ye hoost remoued, and pytched vpon ye southlyde of Emmaus.

Deut. xx. a,

And Judas sayde: Arme youre selues, be stronge (O my chylderen) make you ready agaynst to morow in the morynge, that ye may fyght wyth these people, whych ar agreed together to destroy vs and oure sanctuarye. Better is it for vs to dye in battayll, than to se our people & our sanctuary in soch a mysera ble case. Neuertheless, as the wyll is in heuen, so be it.

Math. vi. b Luc. xi. a

Judas goeth agaynst Gorgias whych lyethe in wayte. He putteth Gorgias and his host to flyght. Lisias inuadeth Jewrye, but Judas driueth hym out. Judas purifieth ye temple and dedicateth ye aulter.

The. iiii. Chapter.

THen tok Gorgias fyue thousand men of fot, and a thousande of the beste horsmen: and remoued by night, to come nye where ye Jewes hoost laye, and so to slaye them sodenly. Now the men that kepte the castell, were the conueyers of them. Then arose Judas to smyte the chefe and pryncipall of the kynges Hoost at Emmaus, for the army was not yet come together. In the meane season came Gorgias by nyght in to Judas tentes: and when he founde no man there he sought them in the mountaynes, and thought they had bene fled awaye because of him.

A

but

But when it was daye, Judas shewed hym selfe in the feld wyth thre thousande men only, whyche hath nether harnesse ner swearde to their myndes.
But on the other syde, they sawe that ỹ Heathen were myghtie and wel harnessed, and their horsmen aboute them/& all these well experte in fettes of warre: Then sayde Judas to the men ỹ were with him: Feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afrayed of their violente rummynge: remembre how oure fathers were delyuered in ỹ reed see, when Pharao threatened them with a great Host. Exo. xiiii. f. Euen so lett vs also crye now towarde heauen: and the Lorde shall haue merci vpon vs, and remembre the couenaunt of oure fathers, yee and destroye this Host before oure face this date: And all the Heathen shal know, that it is God hym selfe, which delyuereth and saueth Israel.

Then the Heathen lyft vp their eies: and when they sawe that they were comynng agaynst thẽ, they went out of ther tentes in to the battayll. and they that were wyth Judas, blewe vp the trompets. So they buckled together, and ỹ Heathen were discomfyted and fled ouer the playne felde: but the hynmost of them were slayne For they folowed vpõ them vnto Allaremoth, and in to ỹ feldes of Idumea towarde Azot & Jamnia: so that ther were slayn of them vpon a thre thousande men. So Judas turned agayne wyth his Hoste, & saide vnto the people: Be not gredy of spoyles, we haue yet a battayll to fyght: for Gorgias and his host are here by vs i the mountaynes, but stande ye fast agaynst oure enemyes, and ouer come the: then maye ye safely take the spoyles.

As Judas was speaking these wordes there apeared one parte of them vpon the mount. But whan Gorgyas sawe that they of his partye were fled/& the tentes brente vp (for by the smoke they might vnderstand what was done (they perceauynge this, were very sore afrayed: and when they sawe also ỹ Judas and hys hoost were in the felde ready to stricke batayll, thei fled euery choue in to the laude of the Heathen.

So Judas turned agayne to spoyle the tentes where they gat muche golde and syluer, precious stones: purple & greate riches. Thus they went home and songe a Psalme of thankesgeuing and prayed god in heuen: for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer. And so Israell had a great victorye in that daye.

Now all the heathen that escaped, cam ād told Lisias euerithig as it is apoited. Wherfor Lisias was sore afrayde and greued in his mynde, because Israel had not gotten such misfortune as he woulde they shoulde. nether as ỹ kinge commaunded. The nexte yeare folowing: gathered Lisias three score thousande, chosen Menne of fote, and fyue thousād horsmen, to fyght agaiste them.

So they came into Jewry, and pitched theyr tents at Bethoron wher Judas came agaīst them withe ten thousande men, And when he sawe so greate myghtie an host, he made hys prayer & sayde: Blessed be thou (O sauioure of Israell) which diddest destroy the vyolent power of the giaunte/in the handē of thy seruaunt Dauid, and gauest the host of the hethen into the hande of Jonathas (the sunne of Saul) and of hys weapen bearer. 1. Reg. vii. g. iiii. Re. viii.

Put this hoost nowe into the hande of thy people of Israel, and let them be confounded in theyr multitude of horsemen. Make them afrayde and discomfort the boldnes of theyr strenght that they may be moued throw theyr destruction Cast them downe thorow the swerde of thy louers, then shall all they that knowe thy name, prayse the with thanckesgeuinge,

So they stroke the battell, and there were slayne of Lisias host fyue thousand men, Then Lisias seinge the discomfeting of hys men, and the manlynes of the Jewes, howe they were redi ether to lyue or to dye lyke men: He wente vnto Antioche and chose out men of warre: that when they were gatherede together they might comme agayne in to Jewry.

Then sayde Judas and hys brethren: beholde, our enemyes are discomfited:

Let vs now go vp/to clense and to repayre the Sanctuary.

Upon this,al the hoost gathered thē together,ād wente vp vnto mount Sion. Now when they sawe the Sanctuary layed wast,the alter defiled ẏ dores brent vp,& the shrubbes growinge in ẏ courtes,like as in a wode or ẏ pō moūtaynes,yee and that the prestes Celles were broken downe:They rente theire clothes,made greate lamentacion cast asshes vpō their heades,fell downe flat to the grounde,made a greate noyse w the trompetes, and cryed towarde heauen.

Then Judas apoynted certayne mē, to fyght agaynst those,which were in ẏ castel til they had clensed ẏ Sāctuary. So he chose prestes that wer vndefiled: such as had pleasure in the lawe of god/ and they clensed the Sanctuarye/ and bare out ẏ defyled stones into an vnclene place.And for so much as the aulter of burntoffrigs was vnhalowed,he toke aduisement,what he might do with al: so he thought it was best to destroye it (lest it shoulde happen to do theym any shame)for the heathen had defiled it,& therfore they brake it downe.As for the stoones they layde theym vp vpon the moūtain by ẏ house in a cōuenięt place til there came a prophet to shewe, what shulde be done with them.

So they toke whole stones acordig to the lawe,and buylded a newe aulter such one as was before,and made vp ẏ Sanctuary w̄in and w̄out,ād halowed the courtes.They made new ornamētes,and brought the candelstick the aulter of incence,ād the table into the temple.The incence laied they vpō ẏ alter, and lyghted the lampes which wer vpon the candelsticke,that they myghte burne in the temple. They set the shewbread vpon the table and hanged vp ẏ vale,and set vp the temple,as it was afore and vpon the xix day of the ix moneth,which is called the moneth of casleu in the cxlviii. yeare they rose vp by times in the morninge for to do sacrifyce accordīng to the lawe vpon the new burnt offeringeaulter that they had made: after the tyme and season that the Heathen had defyled it.

The same daye was it set vp againe w̄ songes,pypes,harpes and cimbales.

And al the people fel vpon their faces,worshipping and thancking ẏ god of heauen,which had geuen thē the victory. So they kept the dedicaciō of the aulter viii.daies offring burnt sacrifyces and thankes geuinge w̄ gladnes. They decte the temple also with crownes and shyldes of golde, and halowed the portes and celles,and hāged dores vpon them.Thus ther was very grete gladnes among the people,because the blasphemy of the Heathen was put awaie. So Judas and his brethren w̄ the whole congregacion of Israel,ordened,that the tyme of the dedicacyon of the aulter shulde be kepte in his season from yeare to yeare,by the space of viii daies from the.xxv.daye of the moneth Casleu:yea and that wyth myrthe and gladnes.

And at the same time builded they vp the mount Sion with hie wales ād stronge towres rounde aboute:lest the Gentils shoulde come & treade it doune as they did afore.Therfore Judas set men of warre in it,to kepe it:and made it strong,for to defend Bethsura: that the people might haue a refuge agaīst the Edomites.

¶ Judas vaynquished ẏ Heathen that go about to destroye Israel and is helped of his brethren Simō and Jonathas he ouerthroweth the kyng of Ephrō, because they denied him passage thorow it.

¶ The.v.Chapter.

IT happened also that whe the heathen rounde aboute herd,how that the aulter & the Sanctuary were set vp in their olde estate:it displesed them very sore,wherfore they thought to destroy the generacion of Jacob that was amonge them: In so much that they begaune to slaye and to persecute certayne of the people.

Then Judas fought agaynste thee chyldren of Esau in Idumea, and agaynst those wiche,were at Arabathane(for they dwelt rounde about the Israelytes where he slew & spoiled a grete multitude of them,He thought also vpon the malyce and vnthanckfulnesse of the children of Beon,how they were a snare & stopp vnto ẏ people & howthey

layd wayt for the in ye hye way: wherfore he shut the vp into towers & came vnto them, condempned them, and b sent vp theyr towres, with all that were in them

Afterwarde went he agaynst the chyldren of Ammon, whereof he founde a mightye power, and a greate multitude of people, with Timothye theyr captaine. So he stroke many batels with the which were destroyed before hym. And when he had slayne them, he wan Gazer the citie with the townes belonginge ther to, and so turned agayne into Jewrye. The heathen also in galaad gathered them together against the Israelytes that were in theyr quarters to slaye them: but they fled to the castell of Dathema n, and sent letters vnto Judas & his brethren, sayeng: The heathen are gathered against vs on euerye syde, to destroye vs, and now they make theym for to come, and laye syege to the castell, whervnto we are fled: And Tymothi is the capteyn of theyr hoost: come therfore, and delyuer vs out of theyr hands for there is a greate Multitude of vs slain already: yea & our brethern that were lefte at Tubin, ar slayn and destroid (well nye a thousand men) and theyre wyues, theyr childrezen, & theyr goodes haue the ennemyes led away captyue.

Exod. xiiii. k.

Whyle these letters were yet a redig, beholde, theare came other messengers from Galilee, with rente clothes: which tolde euen the same tidynges, and sayd that they of Ptolomaus, of Tirus and of Sidon were gathered against them, and that all galyle, was fylled with enemyes to destroy Israel. When Judas and the people herde thys, they came together (a great congregacion) to deuise, what they might do for their brethern /that were in troubble and besieged of theyr enemyes. And Judas saye de vnto Simon his brother: chose the out certayne men, and goo delyuer thy brethren in Galile. As for me and my brother Jonathas, we wyll go into galaadithim. So he left Josephus the sonne of zachary, & Asarias to be captaynes of the people and to kepe the remnaunt of the hoste in Jewry, and comaū ded the sayig: take ye ouerlight of thys people & se ye make no war against ye Heathen, vntyll the tyme that we come agayne, And vnto Simō he gaue thre thousande men for to goo into Galilee, but Judas hym selfe had eyght thousande in Galaadithim.

C

Then went Symon in to Galile, & stroke diuerse batelles with the Heathen: whom he discomfyted, and followed vpon them vnto the porte of Ptolomais. And there were slayne of the Heathen allmost .iii. thousande men. So he toke the spoyles of them, and caried awaye ye Israelites, that were in Galilee & Arbatis, wyth their wyues, their childrzen & all that they had, and brought them in to Jewry with greate gladnesse, Judas Machabeus also and his brother Jonathas, wente ouer Jordane, and trauailed .iii. dayes iourney i the wylderneese: where the Nebutheos met them, and receaued them louyngly, and tolde the euery thynge that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaadithim, & how ye many of the were beseged i barasa Bosor, Alimis, Casphor, Mageth & Carnaim (al these are strong walled and myghte greate cyties (and that they were kept in other cytyes of Galaad also: and to morow they are apoynted to bringe their host vnto these cities, to take them & to winne them i one daye.

D

1. Mac. xii. g.

1. Mac. v. c.

So Judas and his host turned i all the haste in ye wylderneese towarde Bosor, and wonne the cytie, sleweal ye males with the swearde, toke all their goodes/and sett fyre vpon the cytie And in ye nyght they toke their iournaye from thence, and came to the castell. And by tymes i the morynng whē they loked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearynge laders and other instrumētes of warre, to take ye castellano to ouercome them.

When Judas sawe that ye battaill beganne, and that the noyse therof went vp and range in to the Heauen and ye there was so greate a crye in the cytie: He sayd vnto his host: fyght this daye for your brethren. And so came behinde their enemyes in thre companyes, and blewe vp the trompettes, and cryed in their prayer to God.

But

But as soone as Timotheus hooste perceaued that Machabeus was there they fled from him, and the other slewe them doune right sore: so that ther wer killed of them that same daye, al moste eyght thousande men. Then departed Judas vnto Maspha, laied sege vnto it, wanne it, slewe al the males in it, spoiled it, and set fyre vpon it. From thence went he & toke Casbon, Mageth Bosor and the other cyties in Galaad.

After this gathered Timothy an other hoste, which pitched their tentes before Raphon beyonde the water. Judas sent to spy the hoost, and they brought him worde agayne, sayenge: All the Heathen that be round abboute vs are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is very greate: Yea they haue hyred thee Arabians to helpe theym, and haue pytched their tentes beyonde the water, and are readye to come and fighte agaynste thee. So Judas wente on to mete them.

And Tymothy sayde vnto ỹ captaynes of hys hoost: when Judas and hys hoost come vpe the riuer: yf he goo ouer fyrste, we shal not be able to withstande him: for why, he wyl be to strōg for vs. But yf he darre not come ouer so that he pytche hys tente beyonde the water: then wyll we goo ouer, for we shalbe stronge ynough agaynste hym,

Now as soone as Judas came to the ryuer, he appoynted certayn scrybes of the people, and commaunded them, saienge: se that ye leaue none behynd vpon thys syde of the ryuer, but let euerye man come to the battayll. So he wente first ouer vnto them, and his people after him

And all the Heathen were discomfited before him, and let their weapons fal, and ranne into the temple that was at Carnai. Which cytie Judas wanne, and brent the temple with al that were in it: So was Carnaim subdued, and myght not withstande Judas. Then Judas gathered al the Israelytes that were in Galaad ythym, from the leest vnto the most, with their wyues and their childzen (a very greate hoost) for to cō into the land of Israel.

So they came vnto Ephron, which was a myghtye greate and stronge cytie, and laye in their way. For they could not go by it, nether of the ryghte hande nor of the lyfte, but must go thorowe yt. Neuertheles they that were in the citie, wolde not let them go thorowe, but wal led vp the portes wyth stones. And Judas sent vnto them w̄ peacible wordes, sayinge: Let vs passe throw your land, that we maie go into our own countre: ther shal no body do you harme, we wil but only go thorow. But they wolde not let them in.

Wherfore Judas commaunded a proclemacion to be made throw out the hoost, that euerye man shulde kepe his ordre: and so they did their best lyke valiaunte men.

And Judas beseged the cyte al that daie and al that nighte, and so wan it: where they slewe as many as were males, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and wente thorowe all the cytie ouer them that were slayne. Then went they ouer Jordan in the playn felde, before Bethsā. And Judas helped those forwarde that came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortacyon al the wai thorowe tyll they were come into the lande of Juda.

Thus they wente vp vnto the mounte Sion, where they offred with mirth ād thankesgeuinge: because there were none of them slayne, but came howe againe peaceably.

Now what teme as Judas and Jonathas were in the lande of Galaad ād Simon their brother in galylee before Ptolomays. Then Josephus the sōne of zacharye and Azariah the capteynes hearinge of the actes that were done & of the battels that were stroken, sayde: Let vs get vs a name also and go fight agaynst the hethen that ly round about vs.

So they gaue their hoost a commaū dement, and wente toward Jamniah. then came Gorgiah and hys men oute of the citte to fyghte agaynste them, Josephus also & Assirtah were chased vnto the borders of Jeuwry and there were slayne that daye of the people of Israel iii. M. men so that there was a great misery amonge the people, and al because

nota dat brent hys temples w̄ al ỹ ther in yt

because they were not obedyente vnto Judas and his brethren but thoughte they shoulde quite them selues manfully. Neuertheles they came not of the sede of these men, by whom Israel was helped. But the men that were with Judas, were gretly cõmended in the sight of all Israel and al Heathen, whereso-euer their name was herde vpon, and the people came vnto theym byddynge them welcome.

After this went Judas forth wyth hys brethren, and foughte againste the childzen of Esau, in the land that lieth towarde the south, where he wanne the citie of Hebon and the townes that lie beside it, and as for the walles and towres round aboute it, he brente them vp. Then remoued he to go into the lande of the Philistines, and went thorow Samaria. At the same time were many prestes slaine in the battail, which wilfully and without aduisement, went out for to fight, to get them honoure. And whe Judas came to Azot in the Philistines lande, he brake downe theyr aulters / brent the images of their Idols, spoyled the cities, and came agayne into the land of Juda.

¶ Antiochus wyllig to take the citie of Elimas for a praye is driuen awaye of the Cytezins. He falleth into sechenes and dyeth. His sonne Antiochus is made kynge. The beseege of the tower of Sion, Eupator commeth in to Jewry with a great army. The boldenesse of Eleazar.

The vi. Chapter.

Now when kinge Antiochus trauailed thorow the hie countrees, he herd that Elymas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citye in siluer and golde and þ there was in it a very rich temple: where as were clothes, cote armours and shildes of gold, which Alexander the sonne of Philippe king of Macedonia had left behind hi. Wherfore he went about to take the cytie and to spoile it, but he was not able: for þ citizis were warned of it, & fought whi. And so he fled & departed wt grete heuines, & rã againe into Babilõ. Now recouer, there cã one which brought hi tydinges i Perside, þ his hostes whyche were i þ lãd of Juda, were driuẽ awaie and how þ Lisias went forth firste wt a greate power, & was driuẽ awaie ofþ Jewes: how þ they had wonne the vic-

A Josephus. cap. xiii. lib. xii. antiq.

Machabei, i. iiii

torye & gotten greate goodes out of the hoostes that perysshed: howe they had broken downe the abhominacion, which he set vp vppon the aultar at Jerusalẽ, and fenced the sanctuary with hye walles, lyke as it was afore tyme and Bethsura hys cytie also. i. Machab. vi.

Soit chanced that when the kinge had herde these wordes, he was afraid ãd greued very sore. Wherfor he layd hym downe vpon his bedde, and fell sycke for very sorowe and al because it had not happened as he had deuysed. And there continued he longe, for his greke was euer more and more, so that he sawe, he must nedes dye. Therfore he sent for hys frendes and sayde vnto theym: the slepe is gone fro myne eyes for the very sorow and veration of herte that I haue: for when I consydered in my mynd / the greate aduersitie that I am come in, where as afore tyme I was so merry, and so gretly set by (by reason of my power) Againe consydering the euel that I haue donne at Jerusalem, from whence I toke all the riches of golde & siluer that were in it, and sent to fetch awaie the inhabiters of Jewry wythout any reasõ why: I know, that these troubles are com vpon me for þ same cause. And beholde, I must dye wt greate sorow in a straung lande. Then called he for one Philyppe a frende of his, whõ he made ruler of al his realme, ãd gaue him the croune, his roabe and his ring: that he shuld take his sonne Antiochus vnto him, and bringe hi vp, til he might raigne him selfe. So the king Antiochus died ther, in the. cxlix. yeare. Whe Lisias knewe that the kinge was deed, he ordened Antiochus his sonne (whõ he had brought vp) to raigne in his fathers sted, & called him Eupator. Now they that were in the castel (at Jerusalẽ kepte in the Jewes rounde aboute the Sanctuary, and sought euer still to do them harme / for the strenthening of the Heathen.

B

C

i. Machab. vi. ã. b. c. d. e

Wherfore Judas thought to destroy thẽ, and called al the people to gether, þ they might laie syege vnto them. So they came together in the. cl. yeare, ãd beseged them layinge, forth their ordynaunce and instrumentes of warre.

Then

Then cer'tayne of them that were beſeged wente forth(vnto whom ſome vngodly men of Iſraell ioyned them ſelues alſo(and went vnto the king, ſay-enge: How longe wyl it be,or thou punyſh and auenge our brethren? We haue euer bene minded to do thy father ſcrupce,to walke in his ſtatutes,& to o-bei his cõmaundements: Therfore our people fell from vs, and whereſoeuer they founde any of vs,they ſlew them:
ād they haue not only medled with vs/
but with al our countrees:and beholde thys daie are they beſegyng the caſtell at Ieruſalem, and haue made vp the ſtronge hold in Bethſura: And if thou Mach.iiiig doeſt not preuēt them right ſoone,they wyl do more then theſe,and thou ſhalte not be able to ouercome them.

When the king herde thys he was
D very angry,and called al his frendes, Mach,xiii c the captaines of his fote men and of al his horſe men together. He hyred men of warre alſo out of other realmes ,ād out of the Iles of the ſea,whyche came vnto him,and the nombre of his hooſte Mach iiii,g was an hundreth thouſand fote men,& s,vi f, twentie thouſande horſemen,and .xxxii Elephantes wel exerciſed to battayll.
Theſe came thorow Idumea vnto Be thſura,and beſeged it a long ſeaſon, ād made diuers inſtrumentes of warre a-gaynſte it. But the Iewes came out ād brent them,and fought lyke men. Thē departed Iudas from the caſtel at Ieruſalem,and remoued the hoſt toward Bethzacaran ouer againſt the kynges armye.

So the kynge arose before ỹ daye, and brought the power of his hoſt into ỹ waie to Bethzacaran,where ỹ hoſtes E made them to the batyll, blowynge the trõpettes. And to prouoke the Elephā tes to fyght,they ſhewed them the reed grapes and mulberies. And deuyded the Elephantes amonge the hooſte ſo that by euery Elephant there ſtode a.
M. men wel harneſſed,and helmets of ſtele vppon their heades: Yea vnto eue ry one of ỹ Elephātes alſo were ordēned, v. hundred horſe men of the beſte/whyche wayted of the Elephantes, goynge where ſo euer he wente, and depar ted not from hym.

Euery Elephante was couered wyth a ſtronge Tower of wodde, where vppon were .xxxii. valyaunte men wyth wepõs to fyghte,and within yt was a man of Inde to rule the beaſte.

As for the remnaunte of the horſemen,he ſet them vppon bothe the ſydes in two partes wyth trompettes, to pro uoke the hooſt,and to ſtere vp ſuch as were ſlowe in the armye. And when the ſonne ſhone vppon their ſhyldes of golde and ſtele/the mountaynes glyſte red agayne at them,and were as bryghs as the creſſettes of fyre. The kinges hoſt alſo was diuided one part vpō the hye mountaynes, ỹ other low beneth: ſo
they went on, takīg good hede, & kepīg their ordre, & al they that dwelt in ỹ lād were afrayed at the noyſe of their hoſt when the multitude wente forth, and when the weapens ſmot together, for ỹ hoſt was both great & myghti. Iudas alſo, & his hoſt entred into ỹ battel,and ſlew .vi. C. men of ỹ kiges armye. Now when Eleaſar, the ſonne of Saura did ſe one of the Elephāts decket wt ỹ kigs badge,and was a more goodlye beaſte then the other: he thoughte the kynge ſhulde be vpon him, and ieoparde hym ſelfe to deliuer his people,and to get hī
a perpetuall name.

Wherfore he ranne with a corage vnto the Elephante in the middeſt of ỹ hooſt,ſmytynge theym downe of both the ſydes,and ſlew many aboute hym.
So went he to the Elephantes fete, & gat hī vnder him,and ſlew him: then fel
the Elephant doune vpon him,ād there he dyed. Iudas alſo and his men ſeing the power of the king and the myghtye violence of his hoſt,departed from thē.
And the kinges armye went vp againſt F
theym towarde Ieruſalem, and pyt-ched their tentes in Iewrye beſyde the mounte Syon. Moreouer,the kyng toke truce wyth them that were in Bethſura.

But when they came out of the cite i,Ma,iiii.g, (becauſe they had no vytayles wythin, vi,d.
and the lande laye vntilled)the kynge ii.Ma,xi.a, toke Bethſura,and ſet men to kepe it, xii a and turned his hooſt to the place of the Sanctuary/& layde ſege to it a greate while.

whyle. Where he made all maner ordynaunce, handbowes, fyre dartes, rackettes to cast stones, scorpyons to shute arowes, and slinges. The Jewes also made ordinaūce against theirs, & fought a longe season.

But in the cytie there were no victayles, for it was the seuenthe yeare of the warres, and those Heathen that remayned in Jewry had eaten vp al our store And in the sanctuary were few mē lefte for the hunger came so vpon them, that they were scatered abrode euery man to his owne place.

So when Lysias herde that Philippe (whom Antiochus the kyng whyle Mach.vi.b he was yet liuing, had ordened to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be kyng) was come againe out of Persia and Medea with the kynges hoost, and thought to optaine the kyngdome: He gat him to the kynge in al the haste and to the captaynes of the hoost, and saide: we decrease daylye, and oure victayles are but small: Agayne, the place that we laye sege vnto, is very strong, & it were our parte to se for the realme. Let vs agree wyth these men and take truth with them, and wyth al their people. and graunt them to lyue after their lawe as they dyd afore. For they be greued and do al these thinges against vs because we haue dispysed their lawe. So the kyng and the prynces were content, ādsēt vnto thē to make peace/ and they receaued it. Now when the kynge and the princes had made ā othe vnto them, they came oute of the castell, and the kyng went vp to mounte Syon. But when he sawe ỹ the place was well fenced/ he brake the othe that he made, and commaunded to destroie the wall rounde about e. Then departed he in all the hast, and returned vnto Antioch where he founde Philippe hauyng dominion of the cytyes. So he foughte against him, and toke the cytie agayne into hys hande.

Demetrius raygneth after he had killede Antyochus & Lysias. He troubleth the childrē of Israel tho row the counsel of certen wicked persons. The prayer of the prestes agaynst Nicanor. Judas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

The vii Chapter.

In the. cli. yeare came Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus frō the cyte of Rome A wyth a small companye of mē, vnto a cytie of ỹ se coste and there he bare rule. And it chaūched that when he came to Antioch the citye of hys Progenetours, his hoost toke Antiochus and Lysias, to bryng them vnto him. But when it was told him, he said: let me not se their faces. So the hooste put them to death: Nowe when Demetrius was set vpon the trone of his kingdome, there came vnto him wicked and vngodly menne of Israell: whose captayne was Alcimus, that woulde haue bene made hye preste.

These men accused ỹ people of Israel vnto the kynge, sayinge: Judas & his brethren haue slayne thi frendes, & dryuen vs out of oure owne lande. Wherfore sende now some man (to whom ỹ geuest credence) that he may go and se all the destruccion, which he hath done vnto vs and to the kinges lande, and lett him be punished with all his frendes and fauourers.

Then the kinge chose Bachides a frend B of hys, which was a man of greate power in the realme (beyond the great water) and faythful vnto the kyng and sete hym to see the destruction that Judas had done: and as for that wycked Alcymus he made him hye preest, and commaunded hym to bee aduenged of the chylderen of Israell. So they rode vp and came with a greate hoste into the lande of Juda, sending messaungers to Judas and hys brethren, and speakige vnto them with peacible wordes: but vnder disceate. Therfore Judas and hys people beleued not theyre sayinge, for they saw that they wer com wyth a great hoost.

After thys came the scribes together vnto Alcimus and Bachides. trusting the best vnto them: And fyrst the Assideans required peace of them, saynge Alcimus the preest is come of the sede of Aaron, howe can he disceaue vs? so they gaue them louinge wordes, and swoore vnto theym, and sayde: we wyll do you no harme, nether your frendes, Psa.lxxix.a

and

and they beleued them. But the very same daye toke they xl. men of them, and slewe them accordinge to the wordes ỹ are written: They haue cast the flesh of thy sainctes, and shed their bloud rounde aboute Jerusalem, and there was noo ¶ man that wolde bury them. So there came a greate feare and drede amonge the people, seing: ther was nether truth nor righteousnes in thē, for they haue broken the appointment of other that they made. And Bachides remoued his hoost from Jerusalem, ād pytched his tēt at Bethzecha: wher he sēt forth and toke many of them that had forsaken him: He slew many of the people also, and cast them into a greate pyt.
Thē committed he the lande vnto Alcimus, and lefte men of warre wyth hym to helpe hym, and Bachydes hym selfe wente vnto the kynge. And thus Alcymus defended hys hye presthod, and all such as vexed Israel, resorted vnto hi: In so muche that they optayned ỹ land of Juda, and dyd muche euell vnto the Israelites.

Nowe when Judas sawe al the mischefe ỹ Alcimus and his companye had done (yea more then the Heathen theym selues) vnto the Israelites: He wente forth round aboute the borders of Jewrye, and punished those vnfaithful runnagates, so ỹ they cam nomore out into the countre. So whē alcimus saw, that Judas and hys people had gotten the vpperhande, and that he was not able to abyde theym: he wente againe to the kynge, and saide al the worst of them ỹ he coulde. Then the king sent Nicanor one of his chefe princes (which bare euell wyll vnto Israell) and commaunded him, that he should vtterly destroie the ¶ people.
ii, Mac. xv. a
So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a greate hoost, and sent vnto Judas his brethren with frendlye wordes (but vnder disceate) sayenge: there shal be no warre betwyxte me and you: I wyl come wt a fewe men, to se how ye do with frendship. Upon thys he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were apointed to take Judas by violence Neuerthelesse it was told Judas, that he came vnto hym but vnder disceat: wherefore he gat hym awaye from hym, and wolde se hys face no more. When Nicanor perceaued that his councell was bewraied, he went out to fight against Judas, besyde Caparsalama: Where there were slayne of Nicanors hoost, v. M. men: the residue fled vnto ỹ castell of Dauid.

After thys came Nicanor vp vnto ỹ mount Sion: and the prestes with the elders of the people wente forth to salute him pacifently and to shewe hym the burnt sacrifices that were offered vnto the kyng. But he laughed thē to scorne mocked them, defiled their offeringes, and spake disdaynedlye, yea and fore in his wrath, sayenge: If Judas and his hoost be not delyuered now into my hā- ¶ des, as soone as euer I came agayne (ii, Mac, xiv fayre wel) I shal burne vp thys house. With ỹ, went he out in a greate anger.
Then the prestes came in, and stode before the aulter of the temple/ weppynge and sayenge: For so muche as thou (O Lorde) hast chosen thys house, that thy name myght be called vpon therī, and that it shoulde be an house of prayer and petition, vnto thy people. Be auenged of thys man and hys hoost and let them be slayne with the swerd, remembre the blasphemies of them ād suffre them not to continue eny longer.
ii. Par. viii
iii, Re, viii. f
Esa. lvi, b
Mat. xxi, b
note
house of prayer

When Nicanor was goue from Jerusalem, he pitched his tent at Betharon and there an hoost met him out of Syria. And Judas came to Adersa withe iii. M. men and made hys prayer vnto God sayeng: O Lorde because themessaungers of king Sennaherib blasphemed the, the aungel went fourth & slewe ā C.xxxv. thousannd of them: Euen so destroy thou this hooste before vs thys daye, that other people may know, how that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuari and punish him, according to his malyciousnes.
Esa, xxxvii. f
ii, Ma, viii. d and, xv. d
iiii, Re, xix. g

And so the hooste stroke the felde ỹ thirtenthe daye of the Moneth Adar and Nicanors hooste was discomfited and he hym selfe, was fyrst slayn in the battell. When Nicanors men of warre saw ỹ he was killed, thei cast awai their weapons and fled, but the Jewes folowed wed vppon them an whole dayes tourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowynge with the trompettes, and making tokens after them. So the Jewes cam forth of al the tounes there about, and blew out their hornes vpon them, and turned against them: Thus were they al slaine, and not one of them left.

Then they toke their substaūce for a praie and smote of Nicanors heade & hys right hand (whiche he helde vp so proudly) and brought it with them, and hanged it afore Jerusalem. Wherfore the people were exceadyngly re-ioysed, And passed ouer that daye in greate gladnesse. And Judas or-deyned, that the same daye (namelye, the .xiii. daye of the moneth Adar)
should be kepte in myrth euery yeare.
Thus the lande of Juda was in rest a lytle whyle.

¶ Judas considring the power & goodly policy of the romaines maketh peace with thē. The rescript of the romaynes sent vnto the Jewes.

¶ The .viii. Chapter.

JUdas hearde also the fame of the Romaynes, that thei were mightye and valeant menne, and agreable to all thynges that are required of them, and make peace with all men, which come vnto them, and howe they were doughtie men of strength.

Besides that it was tolde hym of theyr battels and noble actes which they did in Galacia, how he conquered them, ād brought them vnder trybute: and what greate thinges, they had done in Spaine, how that wyth theyre wysdome and sober behaueoure, they had wonne the Mines of siluer and golo that are ther, and optayned all the land, withe other places farre from them: how they hadde discomfited and slayne downe the kynges that came vpon them, from the vtter mooste parte of the earth, and how other people gaue them trybute euerye yeare: How they had slayne and ouercome Philyppe and Perses kynge of Cethi, & other more (in battel) whiche had brought their ordinance against thē: howe they discomfited great Antiochus kyng of Asia (ẏ wouldnedes fight wyth thē) hauing an hundred & .xx. Elephantes, with horsmen/charettes, & a very great hoost: how they toke hi selfe alyue, & ordened hym (with such as shulde raigne after him (to paye them a greate trybute, yee and to fynde them good suertyes and pledge: beside all thys, how they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia (his best landes) & geuen them to kynge Eumenus. Agayne, how they perceauyng that Grekes were commynge to vexe them: sent agaynst them a captayne of an hoost, which gaue thē battayl, slew many of them, led away their wyues and Children captyue, spoyled them, toke possession of their lande, destroied their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bonde men, vnto this daye: Moreouer, how that as for other kyngdomes and Iles, whych somtyme with stode them, they destroyed them, & brought thē vnder their dominyō: But helped euer their owne frendes and those that were confederate with them, & conquered kyngdomes both farre and nye: and that who so euer herde of their renowne, was afrayed of them: for whō they wolde helpe to their kingdomes, those raigned: and whom it lyked not them to raigne, thei put him down: And howthei were come to great preeminēce, hauinge no kinge amonge them, nether eni man clothed in purple, to be magnified there thorow but had ordened them selues a parlament/where i there sat iiii. C. and xx. Senatours daylie vpon the councel, to dispatch euer the busi nesse of the people, and to kepe good order: And how that euer i yeare they chose a Maire, to haue the gouernaunce of al their lande: to whome euerye man was obediente, and that there was neyther euell wil ner discencion amonge them. ¶

Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Jhon the sonne of Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, & sent thē vnto Rome for to make frendshype ād a bonde of loue withe theym: that they might take from thē the bondage of the Grekes, for the Jewes sawe that the Grekes wolde subdue the kingdom of Israell. So they went vnto Rome (a very great iourney, and camein to the Perlament, and sayde: Judas Machabeus with his brethren & the people of the Jewes hath sẽt vs vnto you to make a bãde of frendship and peace wythe you,

and ye to note vs as your louers & frendes, And the matter pleased the romaines right well, wherfore it was writen vp: of the which the romaynes made a writing in tables of laten ãd sent it to Jerusalẽ: ẏ they might haue by thẽ a memorial of ẏ same peace & bõd of frẽdship, after thys maner: God saue ẏ romaynes & the people of ẏ Jewes bothe by see, and by land, & kepe ẏ swerde, ãd enemye frõ thẽ for euermore. Jf ther cõ first any warre vpon the Romaynes or any of theyr frendes throw out all their dominion, the people of the Jewes shal help thẽ (as ẏ time requireth) & ẏ w̃ all their hertes. Also they shall nether geue nor send vnto their enemyes, vitayles, weapons, money nor shippes: but fulfil thys charge at the Romaines pleasure, & take nothing frõ them therfore. Agaĩ if the people of the Jewes happen first to haue warre, the romaines shal stande by the w̃ a good wil, acordig as ẏ time wyl suffre. Nether shal they geue vnto the Jewes enemyes, vitails, wepõs mo nye ner shippes. Thus are the Romaynes contẽt to do, & shal fulfil theyr charge w̃ our dilceat. Accoyding to the articles, the romaynes made the bonde w̃ the Jewes . Nowe after these articles (sayd they) if any of ẏ parties wil put to theym, or take anye thinge from them: they shall doo it w̃ the consente of both: & whatsoeuer they adde vnto thẽ or take frõ thẽ, it shal stãd fast. And as touching ẏ euel, ẏ Demetrius hath don vnto the Jewes we haue writẽ vnto hi saying: wherfor layest ẏ thy heuy yocke vpon the Jewes our frends & louers: yf they make any complaynte of the agaynst vnto vs / we shall defende them, and fyght with thee, by see and by lande.

After the death of Nicanor Demetrius sendeth his armi agaynst Judas Judas is slayne. Jonathas is put in steade of his brother The strife betwene Jonathas and Bachides, Alcimus is taken withe the palsie and dyeth Bachydes retourneth agayne vnto the kinge. He commethe vpon Jonathas by the councell of certen wicked personnes. is ouercom The truce of Jonathas with Bachydes.

The.ix. Chapter.

A 1 Mach. viii. Jose ca. xviii li. xii.

In the meane season, when Demetrius herde that Nicanor and hys hoost was slayn in the felde, he proceaded further to sende Bachydes and Alcymus agayne into Jewry, & those that were i ẏ right wynge of his hoost, with them. So they wente forth by the waye that ledeth vnto Galgala, & pitched their tentes before Mesaloth which is in Arbellis, and wanne the citie, & slewe moch people. In the first moneth of ẏ C.lii. yeare, they brought their hoost to Jerusalẽ / arose vp & came to Berea, w̃ xx. M. fote men, and .ii. M. horsmen.

Now Judas had pitched his tente at Laisa, with thre thousande chosen men. And when they sawe the multytude of the other army that it was so great, they were sore afrayed, and manye conueyed them selues out of the hoost, Jnso moch that there abode no mo of thẽ but viii. C. men. When Judas sawe ẏ his hoost fayled him, and that he must nedes fight: it brake his hert, that he had no tyme to gather them together: wherfore the man was in extreme trouble. Neuerthelesse he sayde vnto them, that remayned with hym: Up, let vs go agaynst our enemyes, paraduentur we shall be able to fighte wyth them. But they woide haue stopped him, sayinge: we shal not be able, therfore let vs now saue our selues, and turne agayne to our brethren and then wyl we fight agaynst them, for we are here but fewe. And Judas sayde: God forbyd, that we shulde fle from them. Wherfore yf oure tyme B be come, lett vs dye manfully for oure brethren, and let vs not stayne our honour. Then the host remoued out of ẏ tentes, & stode agaynst them. The horsmen were deuyded in two partes: the slyng casters and the archers wente before the hoost, and all the mightye men were formest in the feld. Bachides himself was in the right wyng of the battel and the hoost drewe nye in two partes, and blew the trompettes. They of Judas syde blewe the trompettes also, and the earth shoke at the noyse of the hoostes, and they stroke a felde from ẏ morning til nyght. And when Judas sawe that Bachides hoost was strongest of the right syde, he toke with hym all the hardy mẽ, and brake the right wynge of their ordre, and folowed vpõ the vnto the mount Azot

Now when they whych were of the left wynge, sawe that the righte side was dyscomfited, they persecuted Judas & them that were with hym. Then was there a sore battayll, for many were slayne and wounded of both the partyes/ Judas also hi self was kylled, and ỹ rẽ naunt fled: so Jonathas & Symon toke Judas their brother, and buried him i his fathers sepulcre in the cytie of Modin. And all the people of Israell made greate lamentacion for him, & mourned longe, sayenge: Alas, that thys worthy shulde be slayne, which delyuered ỹ people of Israel. As for other thinges pertayning to the battayles of Judas, the noble actes that he did ād of his worthinesse: they are not written, for thei were very many.

nota Judas was buried in his fathers sepulcre

¶ Joseph. cap. xii. lib. xii. Antiq.

And after ỹ deth of Judas, wicked men came vp in al the coastes of Israel, and there arose all soch as worke vngodlynesse. In those dayes was there a great dearth in the lande, and all the countre gaue ouer them selues and theirs vnto Bachydes. So Bachydes chose wicked men and made thẽ lordes i ỹ land. These sought out and made search for Judas frendes, and brought thẽ vnto Bachides: which auenged him self vpõ thẽ with greate despite. And there came so great trouble in Israell, as was not sens the time that no prophet was sene there.

Then came all Judas frendes together, and sayde vnto Jonathas: For lo moche as thy brother Judas is deade, ther is non lyke him to go forth against oure ennemies, agaynst Bachides/ and soch as are aduersaries vnto our peple. Wherfore thys daye we chose the for him, to be oure prynce and captayne to ordre oure battell. And Jonathas toke the gouernaunce vpon hym at ỹ same tyme, and ruled i steade of hys brother Judas. When Bachydes gatt knowlege therof, he sought for to slee hi: But Jonathas & Symon his brother, perceauyng that, fled into ỹ wildernes of Thecua wyth all their compani, & pytched their tentes by the water pole of Asphar.

Which when Bachydes vnderstode, he came ouer Jordan wyth all hys host vpon the Sabbath daye. Now had Jonathas sent his brother John (a captayne of ỹ people, to praie his frẽdes ỹ Nabuthites, that they wolde sende thẽ their ordynaunce, for they had moch. So the chyldren of Jambry came out of Madaba, and toke John and all that he had, and wente their waye wyth al. Then came worde vnto Jonathas/ and Symon his brother, that ỹ childrẽ of Jambry made a greate maryage, and brought the bride fro Madaba with greate pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noble princes of Canaan. Wherfore they remenbred the bloude of John their brother, and wente vp, and hyd them selues vnder the shadowe of the mountayne.

So they lyft vp theyr eyes, and loked: and beholde, thet was moch a do: ād greate repayre: for the brydegrome cam forth, & his frẽdes & his brethren met them wyth tympanes, instruments of musick, and many wepons. Then Jonathas and they that were with hym, rose out of their lurking places against them and slew many of them. As for the remnaunt, they fled into the mountaynes, & they toke al their substaunce. Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melody into lamentacion. And so when they had auenged ỹ bloude of their brother/ they turned agayne into Jordan.

Bachydes hearinge this, came vnto the very border of Jordan with a great power vpon the Sabboth daye. And Jonathas sayd to hys company: let vs get vp, and fight agaynst our enemies: for it standeth not wyth vs to daye, as in times past: Beholde, our enemyes are in oure waye, the water of Jordane vpon the one syde of vs, with bankes, fennes and wods on ỹ other syde, so that there is no place for vs to departe vnto. Wherfoore crye nowe vnto heauen, that ye maye be delyuered from the power of youre enemyes. So they stroke the battell. And Jonathas stretched out his hands to smite Bachides, but he fled backward. Then Jonathas and they that were with him lepte into Jordane, and swymmed ouer Jordane vnto him, and there were slaine of Bachydes syde that daye, a thousãde men.

¶

Therfor Bachides with his hoost turned agayn to Jerusalem/& buylte vp the castels and stronge holdes ẏ were i Jewry, Jericho, Emaus, Bethorō, Bethel, Thamnata Phara and Topo/ẇ hye walles, wyth portes and with lockes: and set men to kepe them, that thei mighte vse their malice vpon Israell. He walled vp Bethsurah, Gazarah & ẏ castell at Jerusalem also, & prouyded them ẇ men and vitales: He toke also, the chefeste mens sonnes in the countre for pledges, and put them in the castell at Jerusalem to be kepte.

After warde in the C.xliii. yeare in ẏ second moneth/ Alcimus commaunded, that the walles of the inmost Sanctuary shulde be destroyd, & ẏ buyldinges of the prophetes also. And when he begane to destroy them the thinges ẏ he wente about, were hyndred for he was smytten ẇ a palsey, & hys mouth shut, so that he coulde nomore speake ner cōmaunde eny of his house cōcerning his busynesse. Thus dyed Alcimus in great mysery at the same tyme. And when Bachides sawe ẏ Alcymus was deed, he turned agayne to the kinge, and so the lande was in rest ii. yeares. Then all the vngodly men helde a councell, sayeng: Beholde, Jonathas and his company ar at ease, and dwel without care. Wherefore lett vs bringe Bachides thither, And he shal take them al in one night.

So they went and gaue Bachides thys councel, which arose to come ẇ a great hoost, and sent letters priuely to his adherentes which were in Jewry/ to take Jonathas and those that were wyth hym: but they myght not, for the other had gotten knoledge of theyr deuice. And Jonathas toke .L. men of the countre, (which wer the ryngleaders of them) and slew them, Then Jonathas and Symon with their company departed vnto the cytye Bethbessen whiche lieth in the wildernes, and repaired ẏ decaye therof, and made it strong. When Bachydes knewe thys he gathered all hys hoost, and sent worde to them that were of Jewry. Then came he and layed sege to Bethbessen & fought against it a long season, & made instruments of warre: now Jonathas left hys brother Simō in ẏ cite, & wēt forth hī selfe into the countree, and came with a certayne numbre, and slew Odares and his brethren and the children of Phaseron in theyr tentes: so that he beganne to bee stronge, and to increace in power.

As for Simon and his companye, they went out of the citie, and brent vp the instrumentes of warre, and fought against Bachides, ād discomfited him. And bachides was sore vexed, because hys councell and trauayl was in vain. Wherfore he was wroth at the wicked men (that gaue hym councell to come in to theyre lande) and slew many of them Then purposed he with hys companye to go awaye vnto hys owne countree: wherof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent embassadours vnto hym, for to make peace ẇ him and that he shuld delyuer hym his prisoners againe. To the which Bachides consented gladlye/ and did acording to hys desyre: yea and made an oth, that he should neuer do hi harme all the dayes of hys lyfe. So he restored vnto hym al the prisoners that he had taken out of the lande of Juda, and then turnede and wente hys waye into his owne lande, nether proceaded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda. Thus Israel had no mor warre. And Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and beganne there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israell.

¶ Demetrius desireth to haue peace ẇ Jonathas Alexander moueth warre against Demetrius, Demetrius is slayne. The frendshipp of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

¶ The .x. Chapter.

A Iose. cap. ii. in. lib. xiii.

In the .c. xlyear came Alexander ẏ sonne of noble Antiochus, & toke Ptolomais whose citesens receaued hi and ther he raygned. Wherof Demetrius herde therof, he gathered a exceading greate hoost, and went forth agaynst him to fight. Wherfore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas with louing wordes, and praysed him greatly. For he sayd, we wyl first make peace with hym/ before he bynde hym selfe ẇ Alexander against vs, els he shal remēbre the euell that we haue done against hym hym,his brother ād his people. And so he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hooſt,to make weapons and to be confederate wyth hym, and commaunded the pledges that were in the caſtel to be delyuered vnto hym.

Then came Jonathas to Jeruſalē, and red the letters in the audience of al the people,and of them that were in the caſtel and therfor were they ſor afeerd, because they hearde,that the kinge had geuen hym lycence to gather an hooſt. Thus were the pledges delyuered vnto Jonathas,whyche reſtored them to theyr elders. Jonathas alſo,dwelte at Jeruſalem,and beganne to buylde vp
B and to repayre the citie:commaundinge the workemen,to wal it,and the mount Sion round aboute wyth free ſtone to be a ſtronge holde/and ſo they dyd.As for the heathen that were in the caſtels, which Bachides had mad vp,thei fled, ſo that euery man left the place,& went into hys owne countree.Only at Bethſura,remayned certayne of the Jewes, whych had forſaken the law and commaundementes of God, for Bethſura was theyr refuge.

Now when kinge Alexander hearde of ỹ promyſes that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas,& when it was told him of the battayles and noble Actes, whiche he and hys bretheren had done, ād of the great trauailes that they had taken:he ſayd:where ſhal we fynd ſuch a man?well,we wyl make him our frēd and be confederate with him,vpon this he wrote a letter vnto hym,withe theſe wordes:Kinge Alexander ſaluteth his brother Jonathas. We haue herde of thee,that thou art a valeaunt man,ād mete to be our frend:wherfore this day we ordene thee to be the hye preſt of thy people,and to be called the kinges frēd. (Upon this,he ſent hi a purple clothig & a crowne of golde) ỹ ỹ mayeſt cōſyder what is for oure profyt,& kepe frēdſhip toward vs.So in ỹ. vii.moneth of ỹ
C ir yeare vpon the ſolēpne feaſt day of ỹ tabernacles, Jonathas put the holi raiment vpon hym. Then gathered he an hoſt,and made many weapons.Which when Demetrius herde,he was meruel? ſory,& ſayd:alas,what haue we done, ỹ Alexander hathe preuented vs in getynge the frendſhyp of the Jewes,for his owne defence?Yet wyll I write louynglye vnto them alſo,yee & promyſe them dygnytyes and rewardes, ỹ they maye be of mi ſyde.Wherupō he wrote vnto them theſe wordes:Kyng Demetrius ſendeth greting vnto the people of the Jewes.Where as ye haue kepte your couenaunt toward vs,and cōtynued in our frendſhyp,not enclyning to oure enemyes we were glad, when we herde therof, Wherfore remayne ſtyl & be faythfull to vs:and we ſhall well recompenſe you for the thinges,that ye haue done on oure partye:we ſhall releaſe you of many charges,ād geue you rewardes.And now I dyſcharg you & all the Jewes from tributes,I forgeue you the cuſtomes of ſalt,ād releaſe you of the crowne taxes,of the thirde parte of lede,and half of ỹ frute of trees,which is myne owne dewty. Theſe I leaue for you,from this daye forth:ſo ỹ they ſhall not be taken of the lande of Juda ner of the three cities whiche are added ther vnto out of Samaria ād Galilee/ D from this day forth for euermore. Jeruſalem alſo with all thinges belonging therto,ſhal be holy and free,ye the tithes and tributes ſhall pertayne vnto it.
As for the power of the caſtell which is at Jeruſalem. I remitte and geue it vnto the hye preſt,that he mai ſet in it ſuch men,as he ſhall chooſe to kepe it. I frely deliuer all the Jewes that are preſoners thorow out all my realme:ſo that euery one of them ſhalbe free from paying any trybute yee euen of their catell. All the ſolēpne feſtes,Sabbathes,newmones,the dayes appoynted,& thre dayes before and after the feaſt ſhalbe free for all the Jewes in mi realme:ſo that in them no man ſhal haue power to do eni thing,or to moue any buſines agaīnſt ani of thēi ani maner of cauſe.There ſhall.xxx.M. alſo of the Jewes be written vp in the kinges hoſt,ād haue their wages payed,as all other men of warre of the kinges ſhulde haue:and of them ſhalbe ordened certaine,to kepe ỹ kinges ſtrong holdes:yee and ſome of thē ſhalbe ſet ouer the kinges buſines ỹ they may faithfully deale with ỹ ſame,

The Jewes also shal haue prynces of their awne, & walke in their owne lawes, as the king hath commaunded in ỹ lande of Juda.

And the thre cytyes that are fallen vnto Jewry from the countre of Samaria and Galilee: shalbe taken as Jewry/ād be vnder one: nether be subiect
E to anye straunge Lorde/ but to the hye prest. As for Ptolomais and the lande pertenynge therto, I geue it vnto the Sāctuary at Jerusalem, for the necessary expences of the holy thinges. Moreouer, I wyl geue euery yere xb. thousand Sycles of syluer out of the kynges cheker (whych pertaineth vnto me) to the woorcke of the temple: yee & loke what remayneth (which they that had our matters in hande in tymes past, haue not payed) that same shall they geue vnto them also. And besydes all thys, ỹ
.v. M. sycles which they toke yearly of the rentes of the Sāctuary, shal belonge vnto the preastes that do seruice.
Item, whosoeuer they be that fle vnto the temple at Jerusalem or with in the liberties therof, where as they are fallen into the kings daunger for eny maner of busynes, they shall be pardoned, and all the goodes that they haue i mi realme, shalbe fre. For the buyldynge also and repayrynge of the woorke of ỹ Sanctuari/ expenses shalbe geuen out of the kinges Checker: Yee and for the makinge of the walles rounde aboute Jerusalem, for the breakinge downe of the olde, and for the settinge vp of the stronge holdes in Jewri, shal the costes and charges be geuen out of the kinges Checker.

1.Mac.vii.b But when Jonathas and the people herde these wordes, they gaue no credēce vnto thē, neyther receaued them: for they remembred the greate wyckednesse that he had done vnto Israel, and how sore he had vexed them. Wherfore thei agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt frendly wyth thē and so thei stode by him allwaie. Then gathered kyng Alexander a great host, and broughte his armie against Demetrius. So the two kinges stroke bat Jose.cap:vt lib.xiii, taill together, but Demetrius host fled, and Alexander followed after & fell vp-on them. A mightie sore feelde was it, continuing till the Sunne wente downe, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

And Alexander sent embassitoures vnto Ptolomy the kinge of Egipte w F these wordes, saying: For so much as I am come agayne to my realme, and am set in the trone of my progenitors, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercomed Demetrius, conquered the lande, and striken a felde with him, so that we haue discomfited both him and hys host,
and syt in the trone of hys kingdome:
Let vs nowe make frendshyp together, geue me thy daughter to wyfe, so shal I be thy sonne in lawe, and both geue the rewardes, and her dignitie. Ptolomy ỹ the kinge gaue answere, sayinge: Happye be the daye wherin thou arte come agayne to the land of thy progenitours and set in the trone of theyr kingdome.
As now wyll I fulfyl thy writting: but mete me at Ptolomais / that we maye se one an other, and that I maye marye my doughter vnto thee acording to thy desyre. So Ptolomy wet out of Egipt, with his doughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the. Clxii. yere: where the kinge Alexander mette hym, and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and maried them at Ptolomais w greate worshippe, lyke as the maner of kinges is to be. Then wrote kinge Alexander vnto Jonathas that he shuld come and mete hym. So he went honorably vnto Ptolomais and ther he met the two kinges, and gaue them greate presentes of gold and syluer, and foude fauoure in theyr sight. And there came together against Jonathas certayn wicked men and vngracious persons of Israell, making complaintes of hym
but the kinge regarded them not.

As for Jonathas the kynge commaunded to take of his garmentes, & to clothe him in purple: & so they did. The the kinge appointed hym to syt by hym and sayde vnto his princes: Go wythe hym into the myddest of the citie, & make a proclamacio, that no mā complaine agaynst hym of any mater, and that no man trouble him for aye maner of cause.

So

So it happened that whē hys accusers saw the worshipp which was proclaimed of him: & that he was clothed in purple, then fledde euerichone. And the kynge made much of hym/ wrote him amonge his chefe frendes, made him a duke, & partaker of his dominion. Thus Jonathas wente agayne to Jerusalem with peace and gladnesse. In the C. lxv. yere came Demetrius the Sonne of Demetrius from Creta into hys fathers lande: wherof when Alexander herde tel he was rypght sorye/ and retourned vnto Antioche. And Demetrius chose Appollonius (which had ꝑ gouernaūce of Celosyria) to be hys captayn.

Joseph. cap. 2 lib. xiii, anti

1, Mac, iii, a

So he gathered a greate hoofte and came into Jamnia, & sēt word vnto Jonathas the hye prieft, sayeng: Darest ꝺ̄ wilt and vs thy selfe alone: As for me/ I am but laughed to scorne ād shamed because thou prouoste thy strengthe against vs in the moūtaines. Now therfore yf ꝺ̄ trustest in thine owne strēgth come downe to vs in the plaine feelde and there let vs proue our strength together: thou shalte fynde, that I haue ꝺ̄ valeaunte men of warre with me: and shalt know whom I am, and the other ꝺ̄ stand bie me. Which saie, ꝺ̄ your fote is not able to stāde before oure face, for thy fathers haue bene twyse chased into their oune lād. And now, how wilt ꝺ̄ be able to abyde so great ā hoft of horsmē and fotemen in the feld, wher as is nether rocke stone nor place, to fle vnto.

When Jonathas herde the wordes of Appolonius, he was moued in hys mynde: wherfor he chose. x. thousand mē and went oute of Jerusalem, and Symon hys brother met him for to help him And they pitched theyr tentes at Joppa, but the citie kept hym forth, for Joppa was an holde of Apollonius. Then Jonathas layd sege to it, and they that were in the citie, for verye feare let them in: and so Jonathas wanne Joppa. Appollonius hearing of thys brought thre thousād horsmen with a great hoste of fotemē, & went as though he woldo go to Azotus and came immediatlye into the playne felde, because he had so manye horsmen, and put hys trust in them. So Jonathas folowed vppon hym to Azotus, and ther they stroke a battail. Now had Appollonius left a thousāde horsemen behinde thē, preuelye in their tentes. And when Jonathas knew that such waite was laied behinde thē, they went roūde aboute the enemies hooſt, and shot dartes at the people from the mornynge to the euenynge. As for Jonathas people, they kepte their order as he had cōmaunded thē, ād the enemies horses were euer labouring.

Then brought Simō forth his hoft & set them against the fotemen. For the horsemen were wery alredy. So he discomfited them, and they fled. And they that were scatered in the felde, gat thē to Azotus, & came into the tēple of Dagon their Idol, ꝺ̄ they might ther saue their liues, but Jonathas set fyre vpon Azotus, and al the cities round aboute it, and toke their goodes and brent vp the tēple of Dagon w̄ al thē that were fled into it.

Thus were slaine and brent welnie. viii. M. men. So Jonathas remoued ꝺ̄ hoft from thence, and brought them to Ascalon: where the men of the citie cam forth, and met them w̄ greate worshipp. After thys wente Jonathas and hys hoft againe to Jerusalē, w̄ greate substaunce of good. And when kinge Alexander herd these thinges, he thought to do Jonathas more worshipp/ and sente him a coler of golde, as the vse is to be geued vnto such as ar the kinges nerr bloude. He gaue him also the cytie of Accaron (w̄ the landes belonging therto) in possession.

1, Mac, x, b

The dyssencyon betwirt Ptolomeus & Alexander. his sonne in lawe, The death of Alexaunder. Demetrius raigneth after the death of Ptolomeus. Symō is beleged of Jonathas, Demetrius, seing ꝺ̄ no mā resisted him, sent his army againe, Triphō moueth Antiochus agaīft Demetrius, Demetrius is deliuered by the succor of Jonathas. After his deliueraunce he breaketh his couenaunt ꝺ̄ he had made.

The. xi. Chater

AND the king of Egypt gather an hooſt (like ꝺ̄ sand ꝺ̄ lieth vpon ꝺ̄ sea shore) & was ny shippes: & went a boute thorow diſceate to optaine the kyngdomme of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto hys owne realme.

A Joseph, cap vii, lib. xiii.

Upon thys he toke hys iourneye vnto Syrya, and was letten into the

the cities, and men came forthe to mete him: for king Alexãder had cõmaũded thẽ so to do, because he was his father in Lawe. Nowe when Ptolomy entred into eny citie, he left mẽ of warre to kepe it, and thys he did thorow all the Cities. And when he came to Azotus, thei shewed him the temple of Dagon and Azotus that was brent vp, w the other thynges, which were destroyed, the deed bodies caste abroade, and the grauesy they had made by the way side, for such as were slayn in ẏ feld: And told ẏ king that Jonathas had done all these thinges to the intente they might get hym euel wyl. But the king said not a word therto. And Jonathas met the kyng w greate honoure at Joppa / where theye saluted one another, and toke ther rest. So when Jonathas had gone wyth ẏ kinge/ vnto the water that was called Elutherus, he turned againe to Jerusalem. Now Ptolomy had gotten the dominion of ẏ cyties vnto Sekucia vpon the sea coast imagenig wicked coun
B cels against Alexander, and send embassetoures vnto Demetrius, saieg cõ let vs make abond betwixt vs, so shal I gyue ẏ my daughter that Alexander hathe/ and thou shalt raygne in thi fathers kyngedome. I repente that I gaue Alexander mi daghter/ for he goeth aboute to slee me. And thus he sclaundred Alexander, because he wold haue had his realme.

Thus he toke his daughter from him, gaue her vnto Demetrius, ãd forsoke Alexander, so that his malice was opẽly knowẽ. And Ptolomy cam to Antioche, where he set two crownes vppon his owne hed* ẏ crowne of Egypte and of Asia: In the meane season was kynge Alexander in Cilicia, for they that dwelte in those places, had rebelled agaynste him. But when Alexander herde of this, he came to warre agaynst him, So kyng Ptolomi brought forth his host and met him with a myghtye power, and chased him away. Then fled Alexander into Arabi, ther to be defended, and kynge Ptolomis honoure increased. And zabdiel the Arabian smote of Alexanders head, and sente it vnto Ptolomy.

But the thyrd daye after, dyed Kynge Ptolomy him selfe: and they whome he had set in the strong holdes, wer slaine of those that were w̃in the cyties. And Demetrius raigned in the hundreth & seuen and syxtie yeare.

At the same time gathered Jonathas them that were in Jewry to laye sege vnto the castel which was at Jerusalem, and so they made many ĩuremẽtes of warre against it. Then wente there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owe people) vnto kyng Demetrius, and told him, that Jonathas beseged the castel. So when he herde it, he was angrie, and Immediatlye came vnto Ptolomais / ãd wrote vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde not late sege to ẏ Castel, but come and speke with hym in al the haste. Neuertheles when Jonathas herde this he commaunded to besege it. He chose also certayne of the elders and prestes of Israel, and put himselfe in the parel, and toke w̃ him gold, siluer, clothing and diuers presentes: & went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and founde him gracious.

And though certain vngodly men of his owne people made complaintes vpon him, yet the kinge intreated hym, like as his predecessours had done before: & promoted hi i the sight of al his frendes, confirmed hi i the hye prelthod with al the worshipp ẏ he had afore, and made him his cheke frende. Jonathas desired ẏ king also that he wold make Jewry fre, w̃ the thre head cities of Samaria and the landes parteinyng therto: vpon this did Jonathas promise hi thre. C. talentes. Wherevnto the kyng consented, and gaue Jonathas writig of the same, conteyninge these wordes. King Demetrius sendeth greting vnto his brother Jonathas ãd to the people of the Jewes. We sende you a copy of the letter which we did write vnto our elder Lasthenus, concernig you that ye shuld know it.

D kyng Demetrius sendeth gretinge vnto Lasthenus his elder. For ẏ faithfulnes ẏ oure frendes the Jewes kepe vnto vs, and for the louyng kyndnesse which they bare toward vs: we are determed to do them good.

Wherfore

Wherfore we ordeyne all the coastes of Jewry with the three cyties, Lyda and Romatha (whiche are added vnto Jewry and from Samaria) and al the landes pertaining ther vnto, to be frely separated for such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem: both concerninge the paimentes which ỹ king toke yearly afore time, and the frutes also of the earth and trees. As for other tithes ād tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharge theym therof from this time forth. In like maner we graunt vnto them al the custōes of salte & countaxes which wer brought vnto vs. And this fredome shall they haue firme and stedfast, from this time forth for euermore. Therfore se that ye make a copy of our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas: that it maie be kepte vpon the holy mounte in a conuenyent place.

After thys, when Demetrius the kynge sawe that his lande was in rest, and that no resistaunce was made hym, E he sent awaye al his hoost euery man to his owne place, except an army of straūgers, whome he brought from the Iles of the Heathen, wherefore all his fathers hoost had euel will at him. Now was there one Triphon (that had bene 1.Mac.xii.e of Alexanders parte afore) whiche whē he sawe that all the hoost murmured agaist Demetrius: he went to Emalcuel the Arabiā (that brought vp antiochus the sonne of Alexandria) and laie sore vpon him, to delyuer hym thys ponge Antiochus: that he might reigne in his fathers steade. He tolde him also what greate euel Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre loued him not: & so remained there a longe season.

And Jonathas sēt vnto king Demetrius, to driue thē out which wer i ỹ castel at Jerusalē & in the other refugyes for they did Israel grete harme. So Demetrius sent word vnto Jonathas, saiēg: F I wil not only do these thinges for the & thy people, but at time conueniēt I wil do both the & thy people great worship. But nowe ỹ shalt do me a pleasure, if ỹ wilt send me mē to help me: for al mine army is gone fro me. So Jonathas sent hi.iii.M. strong mē vnto Antioch, & they came vnto the kyng, wherfore ỹ kinge was very glad at their cōmynge But they ỹ were of ỹ citie (euen an. Cxx M. men) gathered them together, and wolde haue slaine ỹ king, which fled into hys courte: & the cytyens kepte the stretes of the citie, & be ganne to fyght. Then the kynge called for the Jewes help, which came vnto hym altogether and wente abroade thorowe the cytye, and slewe the same daye an C. M. mē: set fire vpon the cytie, gat many spoyles in that daye, and delyuered the kynge. So when the cytesins sawe that the Jewes had gotten their wil of the cytye, and they them selues dysapoynted of their purpose the made their supplicacion vnto the kyng sayeng, Graunte vs peace, and lette the Jewes ceasse from troublynge vs and the cytie, and vpon thys they cast awaye their wapens. Thus they made peace, and the Jewes gat great worship in ỹ sight of ỹ kig, & in ỹ sight of al ỹ wer in his realme, & wer spokē of thorow out the kyngdom: and so they came agayne to Jerusalem with greate goodes.

So the kynge Demetrius sat in the trone of his kyngdome, and had peace in his lande. Neuertheles he dissem- G bled in al that euer he spake, and withdrewe him self from Jonathas, nether rewarded him accordynge to the benefites which he had don for him, but troubled hym verie sore. After thys came Cryphon agayne ỹ ponge Antiochus whiche raygned and was Crowned kynge. Then there gathered vnto hym all the men of warre whom Demetrius had put awai, these fought against Demetrius, which fled and turned his backe. So Triphon toke the Elephantes, and wanne Antioche: And yong Antiochus wrot vnto Jonathas sayinge: I confirme the in thy prestihod and make the ruler, ouer .iiii. countrees, ỹ thou mayst be a frende of the kinges.

Upon thys he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue hym leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple and to weere a coller of golde. He made his brother Simon also captayne / frō the coastes of Tirus vnto ỹ borders of Egipt. Then Jonathas toke his iourney, and wente thrōw the cities beyond the water (of Iordane) and all the men of watre of Siria gathered them vnto hym for to helpe hym. So he came vnto Alcalon, and they of the citye receaued hym honourablye, and from thence went he vnto Gasa, but they would not let hym in: wherfore he layde sege vnto it burnynge vp and spoylynge the places that were about the cytie.

the

¶ And the citesins of Gaza, submitted them selues vnto Jonathas which made peace with them, but toke of theyre sonnes to pledge, sent thē to Jerusalem, and wente thorowe the countree vnto Damascus. Now whē Jonathas herd that Demetrius princes were come into Cades (which is in Galyle) with a great hoste, purposinge to put Demetrius out from medling of the realme: he came against them, and lefte Simon hys brother, in the lande which came to Bethsura, and layed sege to it a longe season, & discomfited them. So they desyred to haue peace with him, whiche he graunteth them, and afterward put them out from thence, toke the citie, and set men to kepe it. And Jonathas & hys hoste came to the water of Jenesar, and bytimes in the morninge gat them to the playn felde of Asor.

And behold, the hoostes of the heathen mette theym in the felde, and layde watche for them in the mountaynes: so that when Jonathas cam against thē, the other (which were layde to watche) rose out of theyre places, and fought, & they that were of Jonathas syde, fled euery man, and there was not one of thē left, excepte Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, & Judas the sonne of Chalphi the captayn: of the hoost. Then Jonathas rente his clothes, layed earthe vpō his hed, made his prayer, & turned again to thē in ỹ feld: wher thei fought together, & he put them to flyght. Now whē his owne mē ỹ were fled, saw thys they turned againe vnto hi, & helped hi to folow vpō al ther enemies vnto ther tentes at Cades. So ther were slayn of the heathen the same daye. iii. M. men, & Jonathas turned again to Jerusalē.

¶ Jonathas sendeth imbassitores to rome + to the people of Sparta to renue thēre couenaunte of frēdship. Jonathas putteth to flight the Princes of Demetrius, Tryphon taketh Jonathas by deceate.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

Jonathas seinge that ỹ tyme was mete for him, chose certē men āde sent them vnto Rome for to stablish and to renue the frendshyp with them. He sente letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in lyke maner. So they wente vnto Rome, and entred into the coūcel and sayd: Jonathas the hye preste and the people of the Jewes sente vs vnto you, for to renue the olde frendshyp and bonde of loue: Upō this the Romaines gaue thē fre pasp ortes/that men shuld leade them home into the land of Juda peceably. And this is the copy of the letters that Jonathas wrot vnto ỹ Spartcians. A

Jonathas the hie prest with the elders, prestes, and the other people of ỹ Jewes, sende greting vnto the Spartcyans ther brethren. Ther were letters sent long ago vnto Onias the hye prest from Arius, which than raigned amōg you: that ye are our brethren, as ỹ wrytinge made therupon/specyfieth. And Onias intreated the embassatour, that was sent, honorably, and receaued the letters: wherin there was mencyon made of the bonde of loue āde frendship. But as for vs, we nede no such wrytynges: for why, we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our handes to oure comforte. Neuertheles we had rather sende vnto you, for the renuing of the brotherhode and frendshyp/leste we shoulde be straunge vnto you/for it is long, sence the tyme that ye sent wordes vnto vs. B

Wherfore in the sacrifices that we offer & other ceremonies vpō ther solempne daies āde other, we alwaie remembre you wout ceasing (lyke as reason is/and as it becometh vs to thinke vpon our brethren) yea and are ryght glad of your prosperous honoure.

And thoughe we haue had greate troubles and warres, so that the kynges about vs haue foughten againste vs: yet wolde we not be greuous vnto you nor vnto other of oure louers and frēdes i these warres. For we haue had help from heauen, so ỹ we are defiled, & oure enemies subdued. Wherefore we chose Numenyes the sonne of Antiochus chus and Antipater the sonne of Jasō and sent them vnto the Romaynes, for to renue the olde bonde of frendshyppe and loue with them. We commaūded thē also to com vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you oure leters, concernyng the reputacō of our brotherhod. And now ye shal do right well, to geue vs answere therunto.

And this is the copy of the wrytig, which Arius the kynge of Sparta sent vnto Onias: Arius king of the Spartians sendeth greting vnto Onias the hye prest. It is founde in writinge, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethrē and come out of the generacion of Abraham. And now for so muche as thys is come to our knowleg, ye shal do wel, to write vnto vs of our prosperite. As for vs, we haue writtē our mīd vnto you: Oure cattell and Goodes are yours, and youres oures. These thynges haue we cōmaūded to be shewed vnto you. When Jonathas herde, that Demetrius prices were come forth to fight against hym wt a greater hoost then afore, he went from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Hemath, for he gaue them not space to come into hys owne countre. And he sent spies vnto ther tētes, which came agayne and tolde hym that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night season. Wherfore whē the sunne was gone downe, Jonathas commaunded his men to watch all the nyght, and to be ready wt weapons for to fyghte: and set watche men round aboute the hoost. But when the aduersarys herd that Jonathas was ready wt his men in the battayl, they feared and were afraide in their hertes, and kindled fyres in their tentes, brake vp, and gat them awaie. Neuertheles Jonathas ād his company knew it not tyl the mornig, for they sawe the fyresburnig.

Then Jonathas folowed vpon thē but he myghte not ouertake them, for they wer gone ouer the water Eleutherus. So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians (whiche were called Zabadei) slewe them, and toke their goodes. He proceded further also, & came into Damascus/ and went thorow al that coūtre. But Simon his brother toke his tourney and came to Ascalon and to ye nexte stronge holdes: departing vnto Joppa, and wanne it. For he herd yt they wolde destroie Demetrius partie: wherfore he sent men of warre in the cyte to kepe it. After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together: and deuised wt them for to builde vp the strōg holdes in Jewry, and the lawes of Jerusalem, to set vp an hye wal betwyxt the castel and the cytie, for to separate it from the cytie, that it myght be alone, and that men should nether bye nor sel in it.

Upon this they cam together for to buylde vp the citie: and for so muche as the wal vpon the broke of the west syde (called caphethetah) was fallen down, they repayred it. And Symon set vp Adiadah in Sephilah, and made it strōg settinge portes and lockes vpon it.

Now when Triphon purposed to raigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slaye kinge Antiochus: he was afrayede that Jonathas wold not suffre hī, but fight against him: wherfore he went about to take Jonathas, and to kyll hym. (E) (Mach. xi. f. Joseph. cap. xi. lib. xiii.

So he departed, & came vnto Bethsan. Then went Jonathas forth against hym to the battell with fourty thousād chosen men, and came vnto Betsan also. But when Triphō sawe that Jonathas came wt so great an hoost to destroy him, he was afrayed: and therfore he receaued hym honorably, commended him vnto his frendes, and gaue hym rewardes, commaūded his mē of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to him selfe. And sayde vnto Jonathas: why hast thou caused thys people to take soche trauayle/ seyng there is no warre betwyxte vs? Therfore send them home agayne, and chose certayn men to wayte vppon thee, and come thou wt me to Ptolomais: for I wyll geue it the, wt the other stronge holdes, men of warre and their officers: As for me, I must departe, thys is onlye the cause of my cōmynge. Jonathas beleued him/ ād did as he sayde, puttinge awaye his hoost, which went in to the lande of Juda. He kepte but .iii. M. by him, wherof he sente .ii M. into Galilee, āno on M. wente with him selfe. (F)

Now

Now as soone as Jonathas entred into Ptolomais, the cytisens sparred the gates of the cittie, and toke him, & slewe al them with the swerde, that came in with him. Then sente Typhon an hoost of fote men and horsmen into Galilee ād into the greate plaine felde, to destroie al Jonathas company. But whē they knewe that Jonathas was taken, & al they slaine that waited vponhym: they toke councel together, and came forthe ready to the battaill. So when they whiche folowed vpon them, sawe that it was a mater of lyfe, they turned backe againe. As for the other/ they went into the land of Juda peaceably, ād bewayled Jonathas, and theym that were with him ryghte sore. And Israell made greate lamentacion. Then all the heathen that were round about thē sought to destroie them. For they saide: nowe haue they no captain, nor anye man to helpe them. Therfore let vs ouercome them, and rote oute their name from amonge men.

¶ After Jonathas was taken Simon is chosen captayne, of whom Typhon takyng hys childzen & mony for the redempcyon of Jonathas, kylleth him & his childzem The graue of Jonathas Tryphō kylleth Antiochus and possesseth the realme. Demetrius taketh truce wyth Simon. Simon winneth Gaza. He possesseth the tower of Syon. He maketh hys sonne John Captayne.

¶ The. xiii. Chapter.

A Now when Simon herde y Typhon gathered a great hoost to come into y lande of Juda, and to destroy it: and sawe y the people was in greate fearfulnes and care: he cam vp to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together, ād gaue them exhortacyō, saying: ye know what grete battailes I and my brethren & my fathers house haue stryken for the lawe of the Sanctuary, and what maner of troubles we haue sene, thorowe occasion wherof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am lefte alone. And nowe let not me spare myne owne lyfe in any maner of trouble, for I am no beter thē my brethren: but wyl auēge my peple & y Sānctuary, our childzen and our wyues: for all the Heathen are gathered together, to destroye vs of very malice.

t. Ma. vi. (x. b. xiii. b.

At these woordes the hertes of the people were kindeled together, so that they cryed with a lowde voyce, saying: Thou shalt be oure captayne in steade of Judas and Jonathas thy brethere. ordre thou oure battel and what so euer thou commaundest vs, we shall do it. So he gathered all the men of warre, making hast to finisshe all the walles of Jerusalē, which he made strong round aboute. Then sent he Jonathas the sōne of Absalomus with a freshe hoste vnto Joppa, which droue thē out that were in the castell, and remayned there hym selfe. B

Typhon also remoued frō Ptolomais, wyth a great army, to com into the land of Juda, and Jonathas with him inward: And Simon pitched hys tentes at Adus before the playne felde.

But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stode vp in steade of his Brother Jonathas, and that he wolde warre against hym: he sente messengers vnto hym, saynge: where as we haue kepte Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owyng in the kinges accōpte, concernynge the busynes that he had in hande. Wherfore sende nowe an C. talentes of syluer/ād hys two sonnes for suertie, that when he is letten forthe he shall not forsake vs, and we shall sende hym agayne. Neuertheles Simon knewe, that he dissembled in hys woordes: yet commaunded he the money and childeren to be delyuered vnto him: least he shulde be the greater enemy against the chyldren of Israell/ and saye: because he sent him not the mony and the chylderen, therfore is Jonathas dead.

So Simon sent him the chyldren and an hundreth talētes, but he dissembled, and wolde not let Jonathas goo. Afterward came Typhon into y lād to destroy it, & wēt round about by y way, y leadeth vnto Ador, but whersoeuer they went thyther went Simō & hys hoste also. C

Now they that were in the castell sent messengers vnto Typhon, y he should make hast to come by the wildernesse/ and to sende them vitayles: & Typhon made ready al hys horsmenne to come that same night, Neuertheles it was a verye greate snowe, so that he came came not in Galaadithim. And when he drewe nye Baschama, he slewe Joathas and his sonnes there, and then turned forto goo home in to his awne lande.

Then sent Symon for to fet his brothers deed coarse/and buried it in Modin his fathers cytie. So all Israel bewayled hym with greate lamentacyon, and mourned for hym very longe. And Symon made vpon the sepulcre of his father and his brethre a buyldynge hye to loke vnto of fre stone behynd and before: and sett vp seuen pyllers, one against another (for his father, hys mother and foure brethren (and set greate pillers round about, with armes vppon theym for a perpetuall memory, and carued shippes beside the armes: that they might be sene of men saylyng i the sea. This sepulcre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day. Now as Tryphon went forth to walke with the ponge kyng Antiochus/he slew him trayterously, & raigned in his stede, crowned him self kyng of Asia, and dyd moch euell in the lande. Symon also buylte vp the castels in Jewry, makynge them stronge wyth hye towres, great walles, portes and lockes, & layed vp vytales i the stronge holdes. And Symon chose certayne men, and sent them to kyng Demetrius: to desyre him, that he wolde discharg the land from all bondage, for Tryphon had spoiled it very sore. Wherupon Demetrius the kinge answered him, & wrote vnto him after this maner, Josep. cap, x lib. xiii.

Demetrius the king sendeth gretinge vnto Simon the hie preest his frende, with the elders and people of ỳ Jewes. The golde crowne and precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued: & are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, ye and to wryte vnto our officers, for to release you, concerning the thynges wherin we made you free: and the appoyntmēt ỳ we make with you, shalbe fyrme and stable. The stronge holdes which ye haue buylded, shal be youre awne. As for eny ouersyghte or fawte commytted vnto this daie, we forgeue it, and the Crowne Tare that ye ought vs also. And where as was eny other tribute in Jerusalem, it shal now be no tribute: and loke who are mete among you to be in our courte, let them be written vp, that there maie be peace betwixte vs.

Thus the yocke of the heathen was taken from Israel, in the hundreth and seuenti yeare. And the people of ỳ Jewes beganne to wryte in their letters and actes on thys maner. In the firsl yeare of Symon the preest, and prynce of the Jewes. 1. Ma. xiii. d

In those daies wente Symon vnto Gaza, and besieged it rounde about, where he set vp ordinaūce of warre. And wan a towre which he toke. So they ỳ gatt into the towre leapte in the cytie, which was in a greate feare: In so much that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and clymmed vp vpon the walles wyth their wiues and children besechīg Symon to be at one with them: sayenge.

Deale not after our wyckednes, but be gracious vnto vs/ & we shal do the seruice. Then Symon for very pyte, wolde fight nomore against them, but put them out of the citye, and caused the houses (wherin the Images were) to be clensed: and so entred the cytie wyth Psalmes of prayse, geuynge thankes vnto the Lorde. So when he had cast al abhominacyons out of ỳ cytye, he set suche men in it as kepte the lawe of God and made the cyte strong, and buylded a dwellynge place for him selfe.

Now when they in the castel at Jerusalem were kepte so streatlye, that they coulde not come forth nor into the countre/ & might neither bie nor sel: they were very hongry, and many of them famyshed to death: In so muche that they besought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them. So he put them out from thence, & clensed ỳ castel from filthines. And vpon the xxiii. daie of the second moneth in the. C. lxxi. yeare they entred into it with thākesgeuing and braūches of palme trees, wharpes, crowdes, cimbales, & lutes syngīg psalmes and sōges of praise vnto god, for that the greate enemye of Israel was ouercome.

And Symon ordened that the same daye shulde be kept euery yeat in gladnes, and made strong the hil of the tẽple that was beside ẏ castel, wher he dwelt hym selfe with hys company. Symon also perceauinge that Jhon hys sonne was a mighty man of armes, made hi captaine of al the hoštes, and caused hi to dwell at Gaza.

Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. Simon being captaine there is great quietnes in Israel. The couenaunt of frendshyp with the Romanes & with ẏ people of Sparta is renued.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

In the .Clxxii: yeat, gathered kinge Demetrius hys hoošte and departed vnto Media, to get hym helpe, for to fight againšte Triphon. Nowe when Arsaces the kinge of Persia and Media herd, that Demetrius was entred with in hys borders, he sent one of his Princes to take hym alyue, and to bringe hym vnto hym. So he wẽt & slew Demetrius hošt, toke him selue/brought hym to Arsaces, which kepte hym in warde. And all the lande of Juda was in rešt, so longe as Simon lyued for he sought the welthe of his people, therefore were they glad to haue hym for there ruler, and to do him worshippe all waye. Symon wãne the city of Joppa also for an hauẽ toune, and made it an intraunce in to the Jles of ẏsee. He enlarged the borders of his people, & conquered them more lande: He gathered vp many of theyr people that were prisoners: he had the dominion of Gasa, Bethsura and the castel, whych he clensed from fylthynes and there was no man that resisted hi: So that euery man tylled his grounde in peace, the lande of Juda and the trees gaue theyr frute and encrease. The elders sate all in iugement, & toke theyr deuice for the wealthe of the lande: the ponge men put on worshyp and harnes vppon them. He prouided vitalles for the cities, and made goodly strõge holdis of thẽ: so that the fame of hys worshyp was spokẽ of vnto ẏ ẽd of ẏ world. For he made peace thorow out the lande. and Israell was full of myrth and ioye. Euery man sat vnder his vyne and fyge trees and ther was no man to fray thẽ awaye.

Leui.xxvi.a. iii.Re,xiii.b

There was none in the lande to fyght agaynst them, for then the kynges wer ouercome. He helped those that were in aduersyte amonge his people, he was diligent to se the law kepte: as for soch as were vngodly and wycked he toke them away. He set vp the Sãctuarye, and encreased the holy vessels of the temple. nota

When the Romaynes and Sparcians had gotten worde, that Jonathas was deed, thei were right sory. But whẽ they herde that Symon his brother was made hye prest in his steade/and how he had wonne the lande agayne with the cyties in it: they wrote vnto hi in tables of latyn, to renue the frendshyppe, and bonde of loue/whiche they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren. Which wrytynges were redde before the cõgregacyon at Jerusalem.

And thys is the copy of the letters/ that the Sparcians sent: The Senatours and citezins of Sparta send greting vnto Simon the great prest w ẏ elders, prestes/and the other people of ẏ Jewes their brethren: When youre embassytours that were sent vnto oure people/certified vs of youre worshippe honoure & prosperous welth: we were glad of their comynyng, and haue wrytten the earand which they spake before the councell of the people: namely, of Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, & Antipater the sonne of Jason the Jewes embassitours are come vnto vs for to renue the old frendshyppe w vs: Upon this the people consented that the men shulde be honorably intreated, and that the copi of their earande shulde be writen in the special bokes of ẏ people for a perpetuall memory vnto ẏ Sparcians: yee and that we shulde sende a copi of the same vnto Symon ẏ great Preste.

i:Mac,xiii.c and,xii.a

¶

After this did Symon sed Numenius vnto Rome, with a golden shilde of a thousaund pounde weight to confirme the frendshyp with them: which when the Romaynes vnderstode, they saide: what thanckes shall we recompence again vnto Simon and his children? For he hath stablished his brethren, & ouercome the enemies of Israel.

wher

Wherfore they graunted hym to be fre And all this wrote the Jewes in tables of latine, and nayled it vnto the Pillers vpon the mounte Sion. The copy of ỹ writinge is thys: The .xviii. daye of the moneth Elul in the Clxxii. yeare in the thirde yeare of Simon the hyghe preast in the great congregation of the prestes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countree at Jsarame, were these wordes openly declared:

For so much as ther was much warre in our lande, therfore Simon the sũne of Mathathiah (come of the chyldren of Jareb) and his brethren, put thẽselues in parel and resisted the enemies of theyr people, that theyr sanctuarye & lawe might be maintayned & dyd theyr people greate worshyppe. Jonathas in lyke maner, after that he had gouerned hys people and bene theyr hye preste did, and lyeth buried besyde hys elders.

After that wold theyr enemyes haue troden theyr holy thynges vnder foote, destroyed theyr land ād vtterly wasted theyr sanctuary. Then Simon withstode them, and fought for his people, spẽt muche of hys owne moneye, weapened the valeaunte Menne of hys people. Gaue them wages, made strong the cyties of Juda with Bethsurah that lieth vpon the bordeys of Jewry (wher the ordinaunce of theyr enemyes laye sometyme) and set Jewes there for to kepe it.

He made fast Joppa also which lyeth vpon the se, & Gaza ỹ bordreth vpon Azotus (where the enemyes dwelt afore) ether he set Jewes to kepe it, ād what soeuer was meate for the subduinge of the aduersaryes, that layed he therin.

Now when ỹ people saw ỹ noble actes of Simon, & what worshyp he purposed to do for thẽ, his godly behaueour, & kaythfulnes which he kepte vnto thẽ/ & how he sought by al wayes ỹ wealth of hys people, because he dyd all thys, therfore they chose hi to be theyr prince and hye preest: and in hys time they prospered well by hi, so ỹ the heathen were takẽ out of their land: & they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Jerusalẽ in the castel (wher they wente oute and defyled al the thynges ỹ were aboute ỹ Sanctuary, & dyd greate harme vnto clenlynes) and Symon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of ỹ lande and the cytie, and set vp the walles of Jerusalem.

And kynge Demetrius confirmed him in his hie prestlhode, made him his frende, and dyd him greate worshipe. For he herde that the Romayns called the Jewes their frendes, louers & brethren: how honorably they receued Simons embassytours: how the Jewes and prestes consented that he shulde be their prynce and hye preest perpetually (tyll God rayled vp the true prophet) & that he shuld be their captayne, to care for the Sanctuary, and to sett officers vpon ỹ workes therof ouer the land, ouer the wepẽs/ ouer the houses of defẽce to make prouision for the holy thinges, and to be obeyed of euery man, & all the wrytynges of ỹ lande to be made in his name, that he shuld be clothed in purple and golde, and that it shulde be laufull for none of the people nor prestes to breke eny of these thynges/ to wythstande hys wordes, ner to call eny congregacyon in the land without him: that he shuld be clothed i purple, and weare a colar of gold: And yf there were eny which disobeyed or brake this ordinaunce, that he shuld be punished.

So all the people consented to alow Simon, and to doo accordynge to these wordes. Symon also him selfe toke it vpon hym, and was contente to be ỹ hye preest, the captayne and prynce of ỹ Jewes and prestes, and to gouerne thẽ all. And they commaunded to make this wrytynge in tables of latyn, and fasten it vnto the compas of the Sanctuary in an open place: and to laye vp a copy of the same in the treasury, that Symon ād hys posterite migh haue it.

¶ Antiochus maketh acouenaunt of frendship w Simon. Tryphõ is percequuted, The Romayns write lettres vnto kinges & nacions in ỹ defence of the Jwes. Antiochus refusing ỹ helpe that Simon sente him, breketh his cõuenaunt

¶ The .xv. Chapter.

Moreouer, kyng Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sente letters from the Jles of the se, vnto Symon the hye preste and prince of the Jewes, and to al the people, contey nyng these wordes: Antyochus ꝑ kyng sendeth greting vnto Symon the hye prest and to the people of the Jewes.

For so muche as certayne wicked men haue gotten the kyngedom of our progenytoures, I ā purposed to chalēg ꝑ reame agai, & to reūoreit to ꝑ old estate

Wherfore I haue gathered a greate host & made shyppes of warre: that I maye goo thorowe the countre/ and be auenged of thē whiche haue destroyed oure lande, and walled many cityes in my realme. And therfore now I make thee free also from al the tributes, wher of all kynges my progenitours haue discharged the, and from other custo= mes (wher frō they haue releled thee) whatsoeuer they be: yee I geue thee lea ue to smyte money of thyne awne with in thy lande. As for Jerusalem/ I wil that it be holy and free: and al the we= apens and houses of defence whiche ꝑ hast builded and kepelt in thyne hādes shall bee thyne. Where as eny thyng is or shall bee awynge vnto the kynge. I forgyue it thee, from thys tyme forth for euermore. And when wee haue ob= tayned our kyngdome we shall do thee, thy people and the temple great worsh= yppe: so that youre honoure shall bee knowen thorow out the whole worlde.

In the. CLxxiiii. yeare went Antioch⁹ in to his fathers lande, & al the men of warre came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon. So the kyng Antiochus folowed vpō him, but he fled vnto Doza, which lyeth by the see syde: for he sawe that there was mis chefe commynge vnto hym, & that his host had forsaken hi. Thē came Antio= chus vnto Doza w̄ an hūdreth & twen tye thousand men of armes vpon fote, and eyght thousand horsmen. So hecō passed the citie rounde about: and the shippes came by the see. Thus they ver ed the city by lād & by water, in so much ꝑ thei suffered no man to go in nor out.

1.Mo.xiiii.d In the meane season came Numeny us (and they that had bene with hi frō the cytte of Rome, haupnge letters writ ten vnto the kynges, and prouynces / wherin were conteined these wordes: Lucius the Mayr of Rome sendeth gre tyng vnto Ptolomy the king. The em= bassitours of the Jewes oure frendes beynge sent from Symon the hye prest and from the people of the Jewes. cāe vnto vs, for to renue the old frend shyp pe. and bonde of loue/ and brought a shylde of golde, weyenge a thousande pounde/ which we were content to rece ue of thē. wherfor we thought it good to wryte vntoo the kynges and Pro= uinces, to do thē no harme, nor to take part agaynst them, their cytes ner cōu trees nether to mayntayne their enemi= es agaynst them. If there be eny wyck= ed persones therfor fled from their cōu tree vnto you/ deliuer theym vnto Sy= mon the hye prest: that he maye punysh them accordynge to their owne lawe.

The same wordes wrote the Romay nes also vnto Demetrius the kyng, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, & to all regy ons: as Samsanes, to them of Spar ta, Delo, Mido, Sydon, Carta, Sam= os, Pamphilia, Lycia, Halicarnassum, and to ꝑ Rhodes, to Faselis, Coo, Sy da, Arado, Gortina, Gnydum / to Cy= pres and to Cyzen. And of euery lettre they sent a copy to Symō the hye prest and to the people of ꝑ Jewes. So An tiochus ꝑ kyng brought his host vnto Doza the seconde tyme, to take it: whe re he made diuerse ordinaunce of war re/ and kepte Tryphon in that he shuld not come forth. Then sent Simon An= tiochus two thousande chosen men to helpe hym with gold, syluer and other pleteous geer: Neuertheles he wold not receaue them, but brake al the coue= naunt which he made w̄ Symō afore, and withdrewe him self from him.

He sent Athenobius also a frende of hys vnto Symō, for to reason wyth him sayynge: Ye withholde fro me Jop pa and Gaza (with the castell that is at Jerusalem) which are cyties of my real me, whose borders ye haue destroyed and done greate euell in the lande, ha = uing the dominacion in many other pla ces of my kyngdome. Wherfore delyu= uer now the cyties which ye haue taken w̄ the tributes of the places that ye ha ue rule vpon wout ꝑ borders of Jew ry: Or els geue me. v. hundreth talētes, if no we shal come & fight against you

So Athenobius the kinges frende came to Jerusalem and when he sawe the greate worshyp and honour of Simon, in golde / Syluer, and so greate plenty of ornamentes he marueled and told Simon as the king commaunded hym. Then answered Symon and sayde vnto hym: As for vs we haue nether taken other mens lande, nor wytholden them, but onelye oure fathers heretage, which oure enemies had vnrightuously in possession a certayn tyme, Thys heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of time. And where as thou complaynest concernynge Joppa and Gaza, they dyd great harme to our people and in oure lande, yet wyll we geue an. C talentes for them.

Judic.xi.c,d

Neuertheles Athenobius answered hym not one worde, but turned agayne wrothfully vnto the kinge, and tolde hi all these wordes, and the greate dignite of Simon wyth al that he had sene and the king was very angry. In the meane tyme fled Tryphõ by shippe vnto Orthosayda. Then the kinge made Cendebeus captayn of the sea coast, and gaue hym an hoste of fotemen and horsemen, commaundyng hym co remoue the hooste towarde Jewrye, and to buylde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre agaynst the people of the Jewes. As for the king hym selfe, he folowed vpon Tryphon. So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people to treade downe Jewry, to take the people prisoners, to slay them ād to buylde vp Cedre, where he set horsmē and other men of warre, that they might comefoorth and go thorow the stretes of Jewrye / lyke as the king had commaū ded hym.

Cendebeus the Captaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon Ptolomeus the sõne of Abobus killeth Simon, his two sõnes at a bāket. John killeth them & lye in wayte for hys lyfe.

The.xvi. Chapter

Then came, Jhon vppe from Gaza, and told Simon hys father what Cēdebeus had done among theyr people. Upon thys called Simon. ii of hys elde sonnes Judas and John & sayde vnto thē. I & my bretheren & my fathers house, haue euer frō our youth vp vnto this daye, foughten agaynste the enemyes of Jsrael, and God gaue vs good fortune to delyuer Jsrael ofttymes. And now for so moch as I am olde, be ye in steade of me and my brother, to goo forth and fyghte for oure people, and the helpe of God be with you. So he chose. xx. M. fyghtinge men of the countre, w horsmen also, which wente forth against Cendebeus and rested at Modin.

In the morynge they arose, & went to the playne felde: & beholde, a mighty great hoste came agaynst thē, both of fote menne and horsmen. Now was there a water broke betwyxte them, & Jhon remoued the hoste towarde them. And when he sawe that the people was afrayed to goo ouer the waterbroke / he wente ouer fyrst him selfe: & ỹ men seynge this, folowed him.

Then Jhon set his horsmen and fote men in ordre, the one by the other, for their enemyes horsmen were very mani. But when they blewe vp ỹ prestes trō pettes, Cendebeus fled wyth hys hoste, whereof many were slayne, and ỹ remnaunt gat them to their stronge holde. Judas also Jhons brother was wounded at the same tyme. And Jhon folowed styll vpon the enemyes, tyll he came to Cedron which he buylded. The enemyes fled also vnto ỹ towres that were i the feldes of Azotus, and those did Jhon burne vp. Thus ther were slaine. ii. M. men of thē, and Jhon turned agayne peceably in to Jewry.

And in the felde of Jericho was Ptolomy the sonne, of Abobus made captayne: which because he had aboundaūce of syluer and gold (for he had maried the daughter of Symon the hie preste) waxed proud in his minde, and thought to conquere ỹ londe, ymagenyng falsched against Symon & his sonnes, to destroye thē. Now as Symon was going aboute thorow the cyties, that were in the countre of Jewry, and caryng for them: he came downe to Jericho, w Mathathiah and Judas his sonnes, in the Clxxvii. yeare i the. xi. moneth called Sebat. Then Ptolomi the sonne of Abobus receaued them (but w dyscea-

So Athenobius the kinges frende came to Jerusalem and when he sawe the greate worshyp and honour of Simon, in golde / Syluer, and so greate plenty of ornamentes he marueled and told Simon as the king commaunded hym. Then answered Symon and sayde vnto hym: As for vs we haue nether taken other mens lande, nor wytholden them, but onelye oure fathers heretage, which oure enemies had vnrightuously in possession a certayn tyme, Thys heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of time. And where as thou complaynest concernynge Joppa and Gaza, they dyd great harme to our people and in oure lande, yet wyll we geue an. C talentes for them.

Judic.xi.c,d

Neuertheles Athenobius answered hym not one worde, but turned agayne wrothfully vnto the kinge, and tolde hi all these wordes, and the greate dignite of Simon wyth al that he had sene and the king was very angry. In the meane tyme fled Tryphõ by shippe vnto Orthosayda. Then the kinge made Cendebeus captayn of the sea coast, and gaue hym an hoste of fotemen and horsemen, commaundyng hym co remoue the hooste towarde Jewrye, and to buylde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre agaynst the people of the Jewes. As for the king hym selfe, he folowed vpon Tryphon. So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people to treade downe Jewry, to take the people prisoners, to slay them ād to buylde vp Cedre, where he set horsmē and other men of warre, that they might comefoorth and go thorow the stretes of Jewrye / lyke as the king had commaū ded hym.

Cendebeus the Captaine of Antiochus hoste is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon Ptolomeus the sõne of Abobus killeth Simon, his two sõnes at a bāket. John killeth them & lye in wayte for hys lyfe.

The.xvi. Chapter

Then came, Jhon vppe from Gaza, and told Simon hys father what Cēdebeus had done among theyr people. Upon thys called Simon. ii of hys elde sonnes Judas and John & sayde vnto thē. I & my bretheren & my fathers house, haue euer frō our youth vp vnto this daye, foughten agaynste the enemyes of Jsrael, and God gaue vs good fortune to delyuer Jsrael ofttymes. And now for so moch as I am olde, be ye in steade of me and my brother, to goo forth and fyghte for oure people, and the helpe of God be with you. So he chose. xx. M. fyghtinge men of the countre, w horsmen also, which wente forth against Cendebeus and rested at Modin.

In the morynge they arose, & went to the playne felde: & beholde, a mighty great hoste came agaynst thē, both of fote menne and horsmen. Now was there a water broke betwyxte them, & Jhon remoued the hoste towarde them. And when he sawe that the people was afrayed to goo ouer the waterbroke / he wente ouer fyrst him selfe: & ỹ men seynge this, folowed him.

Then Jhon set his horsmen and fote men in ordre, the one by the other, for their enemyes horsmen were very mani. But when they blewe vp ỹ prestes trō pettes, Cendebeus fled wyth hys hoste, whereof many were slayne, and ỹ remnaunt gat them to their stronge holde. Judas also Jhons brother was wounded at the same tyme. And Jhon folowed styll vpon the enemyes, tyll he came to Cedron which he buylded. The enemyes fled also vnto ỹ towres that were i the feldes of Azotus, and those did Jhon burne vp. Thus ther were slaine. ii. M. men of thē, and Jhon turned agayne peceably in to Jewry.

And in the felde of Jericho was Ptolomy the sonne, of Abobus made captayne: which because he had aboundaūce of syluer and gold (for he had maried the daughter of Symon the hie preste) waxed proud in his minde, and thought to conquere ỹ londe, ymagenyng falsched against Symon & his sonnes, to destroye thē. Now as Symon was going aboute thorow the cyties, that were in the countre of Jewry, and caryng for them: he came downe to Jericho, w Mathathiah and Judas his sonnes, in the Clxxvii. yeare i the. xi. moneth called Sebat. Then Ptolomi the sonne of Abobus receaued them (but w dyscea-

ito a ſtrong houſe of his called Doch, whiche he had buylded, where he made them a banckett.

So when Symon and hys ſonnes were merye and had dronken well Ptolomy ſtode vp with hys men (whoome he had hyd there) and toke theyr weapons, entred into the banckett houſe, and ſlewe Simon with hys two ſonnes ād certen of his ſeruauntes. Such great vnfaithfulnes dyd Ptolomy in Iſrael and recō penced euell for good. Then wrote This Ptolomy the ſame vnto king Antiochus, requyring hym, that he ſhoulde ſende hym an hooſt to helpe him: and ſo ſhoulde he delyuer hym the lande, with the cities and trybutes of the ſame. He ſent other men alſo vnto Gaſa, for to take Iohn, and wrote vnto the captaynes to come to him, and he ſhould geue them ſyluer golde and rewardes. And to Ieruſalem he ſent other, to take it & the ſanctuarye.

Then ranne there one before, and toulde Iohn in Gaſa, that his Father and hys bretheren were ſlayne and how that Ptolomy had ſent to ſlaye hym alſo: When Iohn herde thys, he was ſore abaſhed, and layd handes vpon them that were come to deſtroye him and ſlewe them: for he knewe, that they wente aboute to kyll hym.

As for other thinges concernynge Iohn, of hys warres, of hys noble actes (wherin he behaued hym ſelf manfully) of the buylding of walles which he made: other of hys dedes: they ar written in the cronicles of hys preſthode, from the tyme forth that he was made hye preſt after his father.

¶ The ende of the fyrſte booke of the Machabers;

The ſecond boke

Of the Machabees.

¶ An Epiſtle of the Iewes ỳ dwelt at Ieruſalē ſende vnto them whiche dwelt in Egypte where in they'r horted them to geue thanckes for the deth of Antiochus Of the fyre that was hyd in the pyt The prayer of Nehemiah.

¶ The.firſt. Chapter

THe brethren of the Iewes which be at Ieruſalem and in the land of Iewry, wiſh vnto thoſe brethren of the Iewes that are thorow out Egipte: good fortune, healthe and peace.

God the Lord be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his couenaūt that he made with Abrahā, Iſaac, and Jacob, his fathfull ſeruauntes: and geue you all ſuch an hert, that ye maye loue and ſerue him, yea and performe his wyl w an whole hert & a of wylling mynd: He open your hertes in his lawe and i his commaundementes, ſende you peace: heate youre prayers, be at one w you, and neuer forſake you in tyme of trouble. ¶ Thys is here oure prayer for you.

What tyme as Demetrius raigned in the. cliii. yere, wee Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and vyolense that came vnto vs. In thoſe yeares after ỳ Jaſon departed out of the holy lande & kyngdome, they breme vp the portes & ſhed innocent bloude. Then made wee oure prayer vnto the Lord, & were herd, wee offred, and lyghted the candels, ſettynge forth cakes and bred. And nowe comeye into the feaſt of tabernacles, i the moneth caſleu.

In the clxxxviii. yeare, the people that was at Ieruſalem, and in Iewry, the councell and Judas hym ſelfe, ſende vnto Ariſtobolus kynge Ptolomyes maſter whyche came of the generacion of the anoynted prieſtes: and to the Iewes that were in Egipte: In ſo much as god hath delyuered vs from great parels, we thanke hym highlye. In that we reſyſted ſo myghty a kynge. And why? he brought men oute of Perſis by heapes, to fight againſt vs and the holye cytye.

For

ito a ſtrong houſe of his called Doch, whiche he had buylded, where he made them a banckett.

So when Symon and hys ſonnes were merye and had dronken well Ptolomy ſtode vp with hys men (whoome he had hyd there) and toke theyr weapons, entred into the banckett houſe, and ſlewe Simon with hys two ſonnes ād certen of his ſeruauntes. Such great vnfaithfulnes dyd Ptolomy in Iſrael and recō penced euell for good. Then wrote This Ptolomy the ſame vnto king Antiochus, requyring hym, that he ſhoulde ſende hym an hooſt to helpe him: and ſo ſhoulde he delyuer hym the lande, with the cities and trybutes of the ſame. He ſent other men alſo vnto Gaſa, for to take Iohn, and wrote vnto the captaynes to come to him, and he ſhould geue them ſyluer golde and rewardes. And to Ieruſalem he ſent other, to take it & the ſanctuarye.

Then ranne there one before, and toulde Iohn in Gaſa, that his Father and hys bretheren were ſlayne and how that Ptolomy had ſent to ſlaye hym alſo: When Iohn herde thys, he was ſore abaſhed, and layd handes vpon them that were come to deſtroye him and ſlewe them: for he knewe, that they wente aboute to kyll hym.

As for other thinges concernynge Iohn, of hys warres, of hys noble actes (wherin he behaued hym ſelf manfully) of the buylding of walles which he made: other of hys dedes: they ar written in the cronicles of hys preſthode, from the tyme forth that he was made hye preſt after his father.

¶ The ende of the fyrſte booke of the Machabers;

The ſecond boke

Of the Machabees.

¶ An Epiſtle of the Iewes ỳ dwelt at Ieruſalē ſende vnto them whiche dwelt in Egypte where in they'r horted them to geue thanckes for the deth of Antiochus Of the fyre that was hyd in the pyt The prayer of Nehemiah.

¶ The.firſt. Chapter

THe brethren of the Iewes which be at Ieruſalem and in the land of Iewry, wiſh vnto thoſe brethren of the Iewes that are thorow out Egipte: good fortune, healthe and peace.

God the Lord be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his couenaūt that he made with Abrahā, Iſaac, and Jacob, his fathfull ſeruauntes: and geue you all ſuch an hert, that ye maye loue and ſerue him, yea and performe his wyl w an whole hert & a of wylling mynd: He open your hertes in his lawe and i his commaundementes, ſende you peace: heate youre prayers, be at one w you, and neuer forſake you in tyme of trouble. ¶ Thys is here oure prayer for you.

What tyme as Demetrius raigned in the. cliii. yere, wee Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and vyolense that came vnto vs. In thoſe yeares after ỳ Jaſon departed out of the holy lande & kyngdome, they breme vp the portes & ſhed innocent bloude. Then made wee oure prayer vnto the Lord, & were herd, wee offred, and lyghted the candels, ſettynge forth cakes and bred. And nowe comeye into the feaſt of tabernacles, i the moneth caſleu.

In the clxxxviii. yeare, the people that was at Ieruſalem, and in Iewry, the councell and Judas hym ſelfe, ſende vnto Ariſtobolus kynge Ptolomyes maſter whyche came of the generacion of the anoynted prieſtes: and to the Iewes that were in Egipte: In ſo much as god hath delyuered vs from great parels, we thanke hym highlye. In that we reſyſted ſo myghty a kynge. And why? he brought men oute of Perſis by heapes, to fight againſt vs and the holye cytye.

For

For as he was in Perlis (namely, the Captayne with the greate host, he pere shed in the temple of Naneas, beynge disceaued thorow ỹ deuice of Naneas preistes. For as he was purposed to ha ue dwelte there, Antiochus and hys frendes came thyther, to receaue much money for a dowry. So when Naneas prestes had layed forth the moneye, he entred wyth a small company into the compas of the temple, and so they shut ¶ the temple.

Nowe when Antiochus entred by openig the preuepe intraunce of ỹ temple, the prestes stoned the Captayne to death, hewed them in peces that wer wt hi, smote of theyr heades, and threw thē out i al thinges. God be praysed, which hath deliuered ỹ wicked i to our hādes.

Where as we now are purposed to kepe the purifycacion of the temple vpon the .xxv. daye of the moneth Casleu we thoght necessari to certifie you ther of: that ye also myght kepe the taberna cles feast daye, and the daie of the fyre, which was geuen vs when Nehemiah offred, after that he had set vp the tem ple and the aulter. For what tyme as our fathers were led awaie vnto Persis, the prestes (whiche then sought the honoure of god) toke the fire preueli frō the aulter, and hyd it in a valley, where as was a greate depe drie pyt: ād there in they kepte yt, because the place was vnknowne to euery man. Nowe after many yeares when it pleased god, that Nehemiah should be sent from ỹ kyng of Persia: he sente the childers childzen of those prestes (which had hid the fire) to seke it. And as they told vs, they fo unde no fire, but thicke water. Then cō ¶ maunded he them to drawe it vp, ād to bringe it him & ỹ offertinges wt al. Now wher the sacrifyces were laied on & or dered, ỹ prest Nehemiah cōmaūded to sprinckle thē & ỹ wod wt ỹ water. Wher this was done, & ỹ time come ỹ ỹ Sunne shone, which afore was hid in ỹ clo ude: where was a greate fire kidled. In so much ỹ euery mā marueled: now al ỹ prestes prayed, whyle the sacrifice was a making. Jonathas prayed first, ād ỹ other gaue answere.

And Nehemias prayer was after this maner: O Lord God maker of all thin ges, thou fearfull and stroung, ỹ rygh tuous and mercyfull, thou that art on ly gracyous kynge, onely lyberall, on ly iust, Almightie & euerlastynge, ỹ that delyuerest Israel frō all trouble, ỹ that hast chosē the fathers and halowed thē, receauinge the offerynge for the whole people of Israel/ preserue thyne owne portyon, and halowe it. Gather those together that are scatred abrode from vs: delyuer them that ar vnder the Hea thens bondage, loke vpon them whych are despyled ād abhorred/ that ỹ Hea thens may know and see, how that thou art oure God: Punysshe them that op presse, ād proudly put vs to dishonour. Set thy people agayne in thy holy pla ce, like as Moses hath spoken. Exod. xxx. ¶

And ỹ prestes song Psalmes of thā kesgeuynge, so longe as the Sacrifice endured. Now when the sacrifyce was brent, Nehemiah commaunded the gre ate stones to be sprynckled with the rest due of ỹ water. Which whē it was do ne, there was kyndled a flāme of them also: but it was consumed thorowe the lyght, that shyned from the aulter. nota principlyng of ponds

So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the kynge of Persia, that in the place where the prestes, which were led awaye, had hyd fyre, there apeared water in steade of fyre, and that Nehe mias and his company hadde purified the sacrifices withal. Then the kyng e consyderynge and ponderynge the mat ter dyligētly, made him a temple to prō ue the thynge that was done. And whē he founde yt so in dede, he gaue the prestes many giftes ād dyuerse rewar des: yee he toke theym wyth hys owne hand/ and gaue them. And Nehemias called ỹ same place Nephtar, which ys as moch to saye as a clensynge: but ma ny men call it Nephi.

¶ How Jeremy hidde the tabernacle ỹ Arcke, and the aultare in the hil Of the, v. bokes of Jason cōtai ned in one.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

¶ Is found also in ỹ writin ges of Jeremi the prophet that he commaunded them whiche were caried awaye to take fire, as it is sayde a fore. He commaunded them also that ii. Ma. iii. ¶

they shoulde not forget the lawe & commaundementes of ỹ lord, & ỹ they shuld not in their myndes, wher they see images of siluer & gold wt their ornamẽts. These and such other thinges cõmaunded he them, & exhorted hi, ỹ they shuld not let the lawe of God go oute of their hertes.

It is written also, howe the prophete (at the cõmaũdemẽtes of god) charged thẽ/ to take the tabernacle & the arke wt them: & he went forth vnto ỹ moũtaine where Moises clymed vp, and saw the heretage of god. And whẽ Jeremy came there he founde an open caue, wherei he laid the tabernacle, the arke and ỹ aulter of incence, and so stopped the hole. There came certayn men together also
B folowing hi, to marke ỹ place, but they coulde not finde it.

Wherch when Jeremy perceaued, he reproued them saiyng: As for that place, it shalbe vnknowne, vntyll the tyme ỹ God gather his peple together agayn, Exod, xiii, d and receaue them vnto mercy. Then iii, Re. viiib shal god shew them these thinges/ and the maiesty of the Lord shal appeare, & ỹ cloud also, lyke as it was shewed vnto Moises: and like as when Salomon desired that the place might be sãctified as it was shewed him.

For he beynge a wyse man, handled honorably & wysely offeryng vnto God i ỹ halowyng of the temple, when it was finished. And lyke as whẽ Moises prayed vnto the Lorde, the fyre came downe from heauen, and consumed ỹ burnt Leui. ix. d offeryng: Euen so prayed Salamõ also, ãd the fyre came downe from heauẽ and consumed ỹ burnt offeryng. And Moises sayde: because the synofferynge was not eaten, therefore it is cõsumed. In lyke maner Salamon kepte ỹ dedycacion (or halowinge) eyght dayes.

C Some reade Nehemias, In the Annotacions & wrytinges of * Jeremy, were these thinges put also, & how he made a lybrarye, & how hee gathered out of all countres ỹ bookes of ỹ prophetes, of Dauid, the epystles of ỹ kynges, & of ỹ presentes. Euen so Judas also, loke what he lerned by experiẽce of warre, & soch thinges as hath happened vnto vs/ he gathered them all together, and so wee haue them by vs.

If ye now desyre to haue the same, sende some body to fetch them vnto you. Whereas we then are about to celebrate the puryficacyon, wee haue written vnto you. Therfore ye shall do well, & ye kepe the same dayes. We hope also, ỹ the God (which delyuered his people/ and gaue them all the heretage, kyngedom, prestood and Sanctuary that he Deute. xxi, a promised them in the lawe) shal shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together frõ vnder the heauẽ in to his holy place: for he hath saued vs frõ greate parels, and hath clensed ỹ place.

As concernynge Judas Machabeus & his brethren, the purification of ỹ D greate temple, the dedicaciõ of the aulter, yee and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus and Eupator his sõne, of ỹ chynynges that came down frõ
i. Mac, vi. a heauen vpon those, which manfully defended the Jewes. For though they were but few, yet defeded they the whole lande, droue awaye ỹ enemyes hoost, recouered agayne the temple, that was spoken of thorowe out all the worlde/ delyuered the citie, doynge their best. ỹ the law of ỹ Lord which was put doune, might with all tranquilyte be restored agayne vnto the Lorde, that was so mercifull vnto thẽ. As touchyng Jason also of Cyren, we haue vndertaken compendiously to bring in to one boke, the thinges that were comprehended of him in fyue. For we consyderyng ỹ multitude of the bokes, and howe harde it E should be for theym that woulde medle wt storyes and actes (ãd that because of so diuerse matters) haue vndertaken so to comprehende the storyes: ỹ soch as are disposed to reade, myght haue pleasure and pastyme therin: and that they which are dilygent in soch thinges, myght the better thinke vpon them: yee and that whosoeuer readeth them, might haue profit therby.

Neuertheless we oure selues that haue medled with this matter for the shortenynge of it, haue taken no smal laboure, but great diligence, watchyng and trauailig. Lyke as they that make a feaste, wolde fayne to other men pleasure: Euẽ so we also (for many mens sakes (are very wel content to take the labour, where as we maye shortly comprehende/ ỹ thynges ỹ other men haue truly written.

laboure

For he ỹ buyldeth an house anewe/ must prouyde for many thinges to ỹ whole buyldynge: but he that paynteth it afterwarde, seketh but only what is comly/mete and conuenient to garnysh it withall. Euen so do we also in lyke maner. And why: He that beginneth to wryte a story for ỹ fyrst, must with his vnderstandynge gather ỹ matter together, set hys wordes in ordre, and dilygently seke out of euery parte: But he ỹ afterward wyl shorte it, vseth few wordes, and touchethe not the matter at ỹ largest. Let thys be sufficient for a Prologe, nowe will we begynne to shewe ỹ matter: for it is but a folysh thinge to make a longe Prologe, and to be shorte in the story it selfe.

¶ Of the honour done vnto the temple by the kynges of ỹ Gentyles, Symō vttereth what treasury is in the temple, Heliodorus is sent to take them away. He is strycken of God, and healed at ỹ prayer of Onias.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

A

When tyme as the holye cyte was inhabyted i al peace and wealth, and when the laws were yet veri wel kepte. (For so was it ordened by Onias the hye prelate and other godly men/ that were enemyes to wickednesse) It came therto/ that euen ỹ kynges ād princes thē selues did ỹ place greate worshippe, and garnished the temple with great gyftes: In so moch ỹ Seleucus kynge of Asia of his awne rentes bare al ỹ costes belonging to the seruyce of the offringes. Then Symon of the tribe of Ben Jamin a ruler of the temple, laboured to worcke some myschefe in the cite: but ỹ hye prest resisted him.

Neuertheles when he might not ouercome Onias, he gat him to Appolonius the sonne of Thersa (which then was chefe lord in Celosiria and Phenices) and tolde him that the treasurie in Jerusalem was full of innumerable money, and how that the comons goodes (wich belonged not vnto the offeringes) were exceadinge greate also: ye and howit were possible, that all these might come vnder the kinges power.

Now when Appolonius had shewed the king of the money, as yt was tolde him: ỹ kyng called for Heliodorus his steward, ād sent hi w a cōmaundemēt, to bring hi n the same mony. Immedyatly Heliodorus toke his iourney, but vnder a colour, as though he wolde go to Celosiria & Phenices to viset the cityes, but his purpose was to fulfill the kynges pleasure: so whē he came to Jerusalem, and was louingly receaued of the hye prestes into the citie: he tolde what was determened concerninge the mony, he asked also, yf it were so i dede. Then the hie prest tolde him that there was such money laid vp for the vp holding of widdowes, & fatherles childre, and how that a certaine (f it belonged vnto Hircanus Tobias a noble mā & ỹ of al ỹ mony (which ỹ wiked mā Symō had bewraied) there were. iiii. C, talentes of syluer: a. ii. hundreth of goulde, yea and that it were vnpossible for those mens meaninge, to be disceaued, that had laide vp theyr moneye, in the place and temple (which is had in great worshyp throw ỹ whole worlde) for the maintenaunce and honoure of the same Whervnto Helyodorus answered, that the kinge had commaunded hym in aupe wyse to bringe him in the money.

So that day appoited, Helyodorus entred into the temple to prdre this mater but ther was no smal feare throw out ỹ whole citie. The preistes fell downe before the aultare in theyr vestimentes, & called vnto heauen vpon hym wich had made a lawe concerning stuffe geuen to kepe, that they shoulde be safely preserued, for such as committe them vnto kepinge. Then whoo so had loked the hye prest in the face it wold haue greued his herte. For hys countenaūce and ỹ chaūging of hys colour declared the inwarde sorow of hys mynde. The man was all in heupnes, and hys body in fear: wherby they that loked vpon him might perceaue the greke of hys herte. The other people also came out of theyr houses by heapes vnto the comen prayer, because the place was lyke to come into confusyon. The wemen came together throw the streates with heary clothes aboute theyr breistes.

The virgyns also that were kepte in, ranne to Onyas, some to the walles, other some loked out of ỹ wyndows: ye they all held vp theyr handes towarde heauen, and prayd. A mysserable thinge was it to loke vpon the comen people, ād ỹ hye prest beynge i̇ suche trouble. But they besought almyghty God that the goodes whiche were cōmytted vnto them, myght be kepte whole, for those that had deliuered thē vnto their keppynge. Neuertheles the thynge ỹ Helyodorus was determed to do, ỹ perfourmed he in the same place, he himselfe personally beyng about the treasurye wyth his men of warre. But the spirite of almyghty God shewed hym selfe openli, so ỹ all they whcih presumed to obeye Heliodorus, fell thorow the power of God into a greate fearfulnesse ād drede. For there apeared vnto them an horse, w̄ a terryble man sittyng vpō hi deckte i̇ goodly aray, and the horse smote at Heliodor⁹ w̄ his fore fete. Now he ỹ sat vpō the horse had harnesse of gold vpon hi. More ouer there appeared. ii. faire ꝛ beutifull pōge mē i̇ goodly araie which stod by him, scourged hi of both the sides, and gaue hi many stryppes w̄ out ceassing. With ỹ fel Heliodorus sodēly vnto ỹ ground. So they toke him vp (being cōpassed about w̄ grate darknes) ꝛ bare hi out vpō a beare. Thus he ỹ cam w̄ so many rūnners ꝛ men of warre into ỹ saide treasury was borne out, were as no man might helpe hi: ād so the power of god was manifest and knowne. He laie stil dōme also by ỹ power of God, destitute of all hope ꝛ life. And they praised ỹ lord, ỹ he had shewed hys power vpō hys place ād temple, which a lytle afore was ful of feare and trouble, ꝛ ỹthorow the reuelacion of the almightie lord it was kylled w̄ ioye and gladnes. Then certayne of Helyodor⁹ frendes prayed Onias, ỹ in all haste he wolde call vpon God, to graunte hi his life, which was geuig vp the goost. So the hye prest consydered the matter, ād lest the king shold suspecte ỹ the Jewes had done Heliodorus some euell he offered an healthoffering for hym.

Now when the hye preist had optained hys peticion, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stode beside Heliodorus, sayēg: Thancke Onias the hie prest, for his sake hath the Lord graunted thee thy lyfe: therfore seing ỹ God hath scourged the, geue him prayse and thanckes, and shewe euerye man hys myght and power. And when they had spoken these wordes they appeared nomore.

So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto hi, whych had graunted hi his life, thāked Onias, toke hys hoose and wente agayne to the king. Then testifyed he vnto euery man of the greate worckes of God, that hee had sene wyth hys eyes. And when the kyng asked Helyodorus who were mete to be sent yet ones agayne to Jerusalē/ he sayde if thou hast anye enemye or aduersarye vnto thy realme/ sende hym thether, and thou shalt haue him punished, yf he escape with hys lyfe: for in ỹ place (no doubt) there is a speciall power ỹ working of god. For he that dwelleth in heauē, visiteth and defendeth ỹ place: ꝛ al ỹ come to do it harme/ he punysheth ꝛ plageth them. Thys is now the mater cōcerning Helyodorus, ꝛ the kepinge of the treasury at Jerusalem.

¶ Simon reporteth euel of Onias Jason desyring the office of the hye Preest corrupteth the king with rewardes. the wicked intent of Jason.

The.iiii.Chapter.

This Simon now of (whom we spake afore) being a bewrayer of ỹ money ꝛ of his owne natural cōtre, reported the worste of Onias as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, ꝛ as though he had ben a bringer vp of euel. Thus was he not ashamed to cal hi an enemy of ỹ realme, that was so faythful an ouerseer ꝛ defender of ỹ citie ād of hys people: yea and so feruēt in the law of god, but whē the malice of Simon encreased farre, that thorow his frendes there wer certayn manslaughters cōmitted: Onias consydered ỹ parell ỹ myght come thorow thys stryfe ꝛ how ỹ Appolonius (namely ỹ chef lord in Celosyria and Phenices) was all set vpon tyrauny, and Symons malyce increaced ỹ same: He gat hi to the kynge not as an accuser of the cytesins, but as

as one that by hym selfe intended ꝑ cō-mon wealth of the whole multitude.
For he sawe it was not possible to lyue i peace. nether Symon to leaue of from his folyshnesse, excepte ꝑ kynge dyd loke therto. But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus(which is cal led the noble) toke the kyngdome: Ja son the brother of Onias laboured to bee hye preest: For he came vnto the kyn
B ge, and promised him three hundreth
e. lx talentes of syluer, & of the other rē
tes. lxxx. talentes. Besydes this he pro mysed hym yet an. C. & L. if he myght haue the schoole of the chyldren, & that he myght call them of Jerusalem Anti ochians. Which when the kynge had graunted, and he hadgotten the superi orite, he beganne immediatli to drawe his kynsmen to the customs of the hea then, put downe ꝑ thynges that ꝑ Je-wes had set vp of loue, by John ꝑ father of Eupolemius / whych was sent embassytoure vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of frendshyppe and loue. He put downe all the Jewes and Lyberties of the Jewes / and set vp the wic ed statutes. He durst make a fyghtynge schole vnder the castel, and set fayre yōge men to learne the maners of whores and brotheles.

C Thys was now the begynninge of ꝑ heathenysh and straunge conuersacyon, brought in thorow the vngracious & vnherd wickednes of Jason, whych shall not be called a Preste, but an vngodly person. Insomuch that ꝑ prestes were now no more occupied about the seruice of the alter but despised ꝑ tēple, regarded not the offeringes: yea gaue their diligence to lerne to fight, to wre-stel, to leape, to daunce, and to put at ꝑ stone: not settinge by the honour of the fathers, but lyked the glory of ꝑ Grekes best of al: for the which they stroue perelously & were gredy to folow their statutes ye they lust ws in al thinges to be lyke them which afore wer theyre enemies and destroyers. Howbeit to do wickedly against the lawe of god shall not escape vnpunished: but of thys wee D shal speake here after.

*These were kept euery fif ys yeare.

What time as the * Olimpadies spor-tes were played at Tyrus (the kynge him selfe beinge present) this vngraci ous Jason sent wicked men, bearyng from them of Jerusalem (whych now were called Antiochyans) iii. C. drachmas of syluer for an offerig to Hercules. These had they that caryed them, desyred vnder soch a fashiō, as though they shoulde not haue bene offred, but bestowed to other vses. Neuertheles he that sent them / sente them to the intēte that thei shuld be offred vnto Hercules. But because of those that were present, they were geuen as to the makyng of shyppes. And Appolonius the sonne of Nesteus was sent into Egyp-te, because of the noble men of kynge Ptolomy Philometor. Now when An-tiochus perceaued that he was put out from meddelynge in the realme he sou-ghte hys owne profyte, departed from thence, camme to Joppa, and then to Jerusalem: where he was honorably receaued of Jason and the cite, & was brought in wt torch lyght and with gre ate prayse: and so he turned his hoost vnto Phenices.

After iii. yeare Jason sent Menela E us, the forsayde Symons brother, to ii. Ma. iiii.
beare the money vnto the kyng, and to bringe him answere of other necessary matters. But he (when he was prayed of the kinge for magnyfying of his po wer (turned the Preshode vnto him selfe, layinge vp. iii. C. talētes of syluer for Jason. So when he had gotten cō maundementes from the kynge, he cāe hauinge nothinge that becommethe a preest but bearing the stomack of a cruel tyraunt, and the wrath of a wylde brute beest. Then Jason (which had dysceaued his awne brother) seinge that he him selfe was begyled also, was fayne, to flee into the lande of the Ammonites and Menelaus gat dominyon. But as for the money ꝑ he had promysed vnto
the kynge, he dyd nothing therin / whe Sostratus the Ruler of the Castell requyred it of him. For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes:
wherefore they were both called before the kinge. Thus was Menelaus put out of the preshode, and Lysimachus his brother cam in his stead. Sostra-tus also was made lord of ꝑ Cyprias.

It happened in the meane season, ỹ the Tharsians and Mallocians made insurrection, because they wer geuẽ for a presente vnto kynge Antiochus concubine. Then came the kynge in all the haste/to still them againe, and to pacify the matter, leauinge Andronicus there to be his debyte, as one mete therfore. Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a ryght cõuenient time, stole certaine vessels of golde out of the temple, & gaue thẽ to Andronicus for a present and some he solde at Tyrus and in the cyties therby.

Which when Onias knewe of a certye, he reproued him: but he gat him i a Sanctuary beside Daphnis, that lyeth by Antioche. Wherfore Menelaus gat him to Andronicus/and prated hi ỹ he wolde slaye Onias. So when he cã to Onias, he coũcelled hym craftely to come out of the Sanctuary, geuyng hi his hand w an othe (how be it he suspect him) and then he slew Onias, without any regarde of righteousnes. For the which cause not only ỹ Jewes, but other nacions also toke indignacyon, & were displeased for ỹ vnrighteous deth of so godly a man.

And when the king was com againe from Cilicia, and the Jewes ãd certayn of the Grekes went vnto him, cõplaynyng for the vnrighteous deth of Onias. Yea Antiochus him selfe was sory in his mind for Onias, so ỹ it pitied hi and he wepte, remembrig his sobernes and manerly behauiour. Wherfore he was so kyndled in his mynd, that he cõmaũded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothinge, and so to be led thorow out al the citie: yea and the vngracious man to be slayne in the same place, where he committed his wyckednes vpon Onias. Thus the lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued. Now whẽ Lysimachus had done many wicked dedes in ỹ temple thorow the councel of Menelaus, and the voyce came abrode: ỹ multitude gathered them together against Lisimachus for he had caried out now much golde.

So when the people arose, and wer full of displeasure, Lysimachus armed iii M vnthryftes to defende him: a certayne tyraunt kynge theire captayne, which was growen bothe in age & wodnesse. But when the people vnderstod ỹ purpose of Lysimachus/ some gat stones, some good stronge clubbes, & som cast ashes vpon Lysimachus. Thus there were many of them wounded, some beynge slayne, and al the other chaced away. But as for the wiked church robber him selfe, they kylled him beside the treasury. Of these maters therfore ther was kepte a courte agaynst Menelaus. Now when the kynge came to Tyrus, they made a cõplaynte vn to hi of Menelaus, concernynge this busines, and the embassitours were three. But Menelaus went apromised Ptolomy to geue him moche money, if he wolde persuade ỹ kynge. So Ptolompye went to the kinge into a courte (where as he was set to cole him) and brought hym out of that mynd. Insomuch that he dyd discharged Menelaus from the accusacions that notwithstanding was cause of all mischefe: and those poore mẽ which if they had tolde theyr cause ye before the Scithians they shuld have ben iudged innocent, them he condempned to death.

Thus were they soone punished, which folowed vpon the matter for the cytie, for the people, and for the holy vessel. Wherfore they of Tyrus toke indygnacyon, and buried them honorably. And so thorow the couetousnesse of them that were in powre, Menelaus remayned stylll in authorite, increasinge in malyce, to the hurte of the cytesins

Of the sygnes and tokens sene in Jerusalem. Of the ende ãd offence of Jason, The pursute of Antiochus against the Jewes. The spoiling of ỹ temple

The.v. Chapter.

At the same tyme Antiochus made hi ready againe to Egypte. Then were there sene at Jerusalem. xl dayes longe/ and horsmen running to and fro in the ayre/ whiche had raiment of golde, and speres. Ther were sene also whole hostes of men weaponed, and horses running in an ordre howe they came together, how thei held forthe theire shyldes, how ỹ harnessed menne drewe oute their swordes/and shot their dartes.

The

The shyne of the golden weapens was sene, and of al maner of armure. Wherfore euery mā prayed, that those tokens might turne to good. Now whē there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had ben deed: Jasō toke a .M. men, and came sodenly vpō the citie. The citisins came vnto ỹ walles, at the last was ỹ citie taken, & Menelaus fled into the castel.

As for Jason he spared not his owne cytisyns in the slaughter, nether consydred he what greate euell it were to destroie the prosperite of his owne kynsmen: but dyd as one that had gootten the victory of his enemies, and not of his frendes. For al this gat he not the superiorite, but at the last receaued confucyon for his malyce, and fled agayne lyke a vagabunde into the lande of the Ammonites.

1. Mac. xiii. c

Fynally, for a rewarde of hys wyckednes, he was accused before Aretha ỹ king of the Arabians: In so much that he was fayne to flie from cytie to cytye/ beyng despysed of euery man as a forsaker of the lawes, and an abhompnable person. And at the last (as an open enemy of his owne natural cōūtre ād of ỹ cytisins) he was dryuē away into Egipt.

Thus he that afore put many oute of their owne natyue land, perished frō home him selfe. He wente to Lacedemon, thynking there to haue gotte succour by reason of kindred. And he ỹ afore had casten many out vnburyed, was throwne out hī selfe, no mā mourning for him, nor puttynge him in hys graue: so ỹ he nether enyoied the buryal of a straunger, nether was he partaker of his fathers sepulcre.

¶ Now when this was done the king supecte, ỹ the Jewes wold haue fallen frō him: Wherefore he came in a greate displeasure out of Egipt, and toke the cytie by violence. He commaunded hys mē of warre also ỹ they shuld kyl ād not spare, but slaie downe suche as wstode them, or clymmed vpon ỹ houses.

2. Mach. i. c

Thus was there greate slaughter of yong men, olde men, wemen, childrē and virgines. In. iii. dayes were there slayne, lxxx. M. fourthy thousand put in prison, and no lesse sold. Yet was he not content with this, but durst go in to the most holi temple (Menelaus that traytoure to the lawes and to hys owne naturall countree, bringe hys gyde) and with his wicked handes toke thē Holye vessell, whych other kynges and Cyties had geuen thether for the garnishing ād honour of the place: them toke he in his handes vnworthely, and defyled them.

So mad was Antiochus, that he cōsydered not, howe that God was a lytle wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelte in the citie, for the whiche suche confusyon came vpon that place. And wyp-yf it had not happened thē to haue bene lapped in many synnes, this Antiochus (as soone as he had come) had sodenly bene punished, and shut out for hys presumption, lyke as Helyodorus was, whome Seleucus the king sēt to robbe the treasury. Neuertheles god hathe not chosē the people for the places sake, but the place for the peoples sake: and therfore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but after warde shall it enioye the wealth of them. And like as it is nowe forsaken in the wrath of almyghtie God, so when the greate God is recōsiled it shalbe set vp in hye worshyp agaī.

Judith. v. & ii. Mac. iii. b

So when Antiochus had taken a M. viii. C. talentes out of the temple he gat hym to Antioch in al the halte, thynkig in hys pryde, that he myght make men sayle vpon the drye lande, and to go vpon the see such an hye mynde had he. He lefte debities there to vexe the people: At Jerusalem left he Philyppe a Phrygian in maners more cruel then hī selfe ỹ set hi ther: At Garisim he left Andronicꝰ & Menelaus: whych wer more greuous to ỹ citesins then other. Now as he was thus set in malyce agaīst ỹ Jewes, he sēt Appolonius an hated prince, M. xxii. M. cōmaunding hi to slay al those ỹ wer of perfect age and to sell the women, maydes and chylderen. When he came nowe to Jerusalē he fayned peace, & kepte hi styl vnto the Sabboth day: & thē he cōmaūded his mē to take thē to theyr wepēs (for ỹ Jewes kepte holy day) & so he slew althē ỹ wer gon forth to ỹ opē play running here and there thorow ỹ cytye, wt his men weapened, and murthered a greate nombre. But Judas Macha-

beus

be⁹ which was the tenche, fled into the wildernes, led his life there with his cõpany amonge the wylde beastes & vpõ the mountaines, dwellynge there, and eating grasse/lest they should be pertakers of the faithfulnes.

¶ The Jewes are compelled to leaue ꝑ law of god The temple is defiled The readers are monished ꝑ they shal not abhorre ꝑ aduersite where vᵗ the Lord afflicteth them, The greuous payne of Eleazerus.

The .vi. Chater

ANOt longe after this, sent ꝑ kinge a messaũger of anty oche, for to cõpell ꝑ Jewes to altre the ordinaũces of ꝑ fathers & ꝑ lawe of god, to defile ꝑ tẽple ꝑ was at Jerusalẽ, & to cal it ꝑ tẽple of Jupiter Olimpius: & ꝑ thei shuld be in Gazarim, as those which dwel at the place of Jupiter ꝑ herberous. This wiked sedicõ of ꝑ vngodly was heuy vpõ al ꝑ people: for ꝑ tẽple was full of voluptuousnesse, bibbinge & bolling of ꝑ hethẽ/of tribaudes & harlottes together. The wemẽ wẽte into the holy place, & bare in ꝑ was not laufull. The alter also was ful of vnlaufull thĩges which ꝑ lawe forbiddeth to laie vpon it. The Sabbothes were not kept, ꝑ other solẽpne feastes of ꝑ lãde were not regarded. To be plaine, there durst no mã be a knowne ꝑ he was a Jewe. Inꝑ daie of ꝑ kinges birth they were cõpelled perforce to offer: & when ꝑ feaste of Bachꝰ was kept, they wer cõstrained to weer garlãdes of yuy, & so to go about for ꝑ honour of Bachꝰ. Moreouer thorow ꝑ coũcel of Ptolomy, there wẽt out a cõmaũdemẽt in ꝑ next cities of ꝑ Heathẽ, ꝑ they shuld intreat ꝑ Jewes i like maner: namely, to cõpel thẽ for to do sacrifice after ꝑ law of ꝑ Gẽtiles: ãd who so wolde not, to put thẽ to death. A pyteous thing was it to se. There were .ii. wemẽ accused to haue circũcised theyr sonnes, whõ whẽ they had led roũde about ꝑ citie (ꝑ babes hãgig at their brestes) they cast thẽ doune headling ouer ꝑ walles. Some ꝑ wer crept into dẽnes ãd had kept ꝑ Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, ãd brent in ꝑ fire: be cause ꝑ for ꝑ feare of god they kept ꝑ cõmaũdemẽt so stifly, & wold not defẽd thẽ selues Now I beseech al those which reade this boke, that the refuse it not for these falles of aduersite: & iudge ꝑ thynges (that are happened) for no destruccion, but for a chastenyng of oure people, And why: whẽ God suffred not sinners longe to folowe theyr owne mynde, but shortly punished them, it is a token of his greate loulnge kyndnes. For thys grace haue we of God more then other people, that he suffreth not vs longe to sinne vnpunished like other nacions that when the Daye of Judgemente commethe, he maye punish them in the fulnes of their synnes. Jf we synne, he correcketh vs, but he neuer withdraweth his merci from vs: and though he punish vᵗ aduersite, yet doth he neuer forsake his people. But lette this ꝑ we haue spoken now vᵗ few wordes, be for a warnyng and exortacion of ꝑ Heathẽ Now wil wee come to ꝑ declaryng of ꝑ matter. Eleazar one of the principall Scribes, an aged man & of a welfauored contenaũce, was constrayned to gape vᵗ open mouth & to eate swinesflesh But he delitig rather to dye gloriously then to liue vᵗ shame, offred hi self willigly to the marterdõ. Now whẽ he saw ꝑ he must nedes go to it, he toke it pacyently: for he was at a poynte vᵗ hi selfe ꝑ he wold consent to no vnlawful thig for any pleasur of lyfe. They ꝑ stode by brig moued vᵗ pitie (but not aright) for ꝑ old frẽdshyp of ꝑ mã, toke hi aside priuely, & praied hi ꝑ he wold let such flesh be brought hi as were laufull to eate, & thẽ to make a coũtenaũce as though he had eatẽ of ꝑ flesh of ꝑ sacrifice lyke as ꝑ king cõmaũded, for so he might be delyuered from death, ãd so for the olde frendshyp of the man, they shewed hym thys kindnes. But he beganne to consyder his dyscrete and honorable age, hys noble and worshyppfull stocke, and howe that from his youth vp he had be of an honest & good conuersacion: yea & how constantly he had kepte the ordynaunces and Lawes Commaunded by god, wherfore he gaue thẽ thys answer and sayde: Yet had I rather first be layde in my graue. For it becometh not mine age (sayd he) in anye wyse to dissemble, wherby many yong persons myghe thinke, that Eleazar being .lxxx. yere old ãd .x., were now gone to a straunge lyfe

and

¶ Prouer. iii.,b nota eleazar

Leuitic. xi.,a

D

i. Thessa. 5 c

and so thorow myne ypocrysy (for a lytle tyme of transitorye lyfe) they might be disceaued by thys meanes, also shuld I defyle myne age, and make it abhomynable: For though I were nowe delyuered from the tormētes of men yet shuld I not escape the hand of almyghty god nether alyue nor dead. Wherfore I wil E dye manfully, and do as it becommethe myne age: wherby I may peraduenture leaue an exāple of stedfastnes for suche as be yonge, yf I with a readye mynde and manfully dye an honest deathe, for the moost worthy and holy lawes.

When he hadde sayde these wordes immediatlye he was drawen to the torment. Now they that led hym and were mylde a lytle afore, beganne to take displeasure because of the wordes that hee sayde, for they thoughte he had spoken thē of an hye mynde. But when he was in hys martirdomme, he mourned and sayd: Thou (O Lord) which hast the holy knoweledge, knoweste openlye: that where as I myghte be delyuered from death, I suffre these sore paynes of my body: but in my mynde I am well content to suffre them because I feare the. Thus thys man dyed, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto yonge men, but vnto all the people to be stedfast and manly.

The punishmēt of .vii. brethren & of their mother

The .vii. Chapter

It happened also that ther were .vii. brethren (with theyr mother) taken and compelled bye the kinge against the lawe to eate swynes flesh: namely with scourges ād lethren whyppes. And one of thē which was ye chefe said, what seekest ye, & what requirest ye of vs? As for vs we are redy rather to suffre deathe thē to offēd ye lawes of god & ye fathers Thē was ye kīg angry, & bad heate cau drons & brasē pottes. Which whē they were made hot, imediatly he cōmaūded ye tong of hym that spake first to be cut out, to put the skinne ouer hys head, to pare of ye edges of his hādes & fete: yea & ye in ye sight of his mother & the other of his brethren. Now whē he was clean marred he cōmaunded a fire to be made & so (whyle ther was anye brethe in hī) to be fried in the caudron. In ye whiche when he had bene longe payned/the other brethren with their mother exhorted him to dye manfully, sayinge: The Lorde God shal regarde the treuth/ād comfort vs, lyke as Moses testifyeth Deut, xxxii a and declareth in hys songe, sayenge: and he wyll haue compassion on his seruauntes. B

So when the fyrste was deed after this maner, they brought the second to haue him in derision/pulled the skynne wt the hearre ouer his head/& asked hī if he wolde eate swines flesh, or he were pained in the other mēbres also thorow out hys body. But he answered boldly and saide: I wyl not do it. And so was he tormented lyke as the fyrst/and whē he was euen at the geuing vp ye goost he saide: Thou most vngracious persō puttest vs now to death, but the kynge of the world shal raise vs vp (which die for his lawes) in the resurrectiō of euerlastinge lyfe.

After him, was the third had in derision: as when he was required, he putt out his tonge, and ye right soone, houldyng forth his handes manfullye, and spake wt a stedfast faith: These haue I of heauen, but nowe for the lawe of God I despyse them, for my truste is, ye I shall receaue them of him againe. In so much that the king and they whyche were with him, marueyled at the yonge mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paines. C

Now when he was deed also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in lyke maner. So when he was now at his death, he said: It is better, that we be slayne put to death of men, haue our hope and truste in god, for he shal rayse vs vp againe. As for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrectiō to life. And whē they had spoken to ye fifth they tormented hym. Then loked he vnto the kyng, & said: ye hast power amōg men, for ye art a mortal man also thy selfe, to do what ye wilt but thinke not ye God hath forsakē our generacion. Abide thee, tary stil a while, and thou shalt se ye great power of God how he wil punish thee and thy sede. After him they brought ye fifte, whiche beinge, at the point of death, sayd: Be not

A Gene, xi, a

disceaued

disceaued) O kynge(for this we suffre for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, & therfore maruelous thinges ar shewed vpon vs. But thinke not thou, whiche takest in hand to stryue agaynst God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished. This excellent mother(worthy to be wel reported of, and had in remembrance) saw her seuen sonnes dye in one daye/ and suffered it patientlye, because of the hoope that shee had in God: yee she exhorted euery one of them in especyall, and that boldely & stedfastly w perfite wisdome, wakynge vp her wyuish thought with a manly stomake/ and sayde vnto them: I can not tell howe ye came in my wombe, for I nether gaue you breth ner soule, nor life. Je is not I that ioyned ỹ membres of your bodies together, but the maker of ỹ worlde, wich fashioned the birthe of man, & beganne all thinges. Euen he also of his owne mercy shal geue you breathe and life agayne lyke as ye now regarde not your owne selues for his lawes sake. Now thought Antiochus that she had despised him, therefore he let her go with her reproues, & beganne to exorte the yongest sonne(whych yet was left) not only w words but swore vnto him w an ooth, that he shoulde make him a ritche and welthye Manne, (if hee woulde forsake the lawes of his Fathers.) yea and that he shoulde geue hym what soeuer were necessary for hym. But when the younge man wolde not be moued, for all these thynges, he called hys mother, and counceled her to saue her Sonnes lyfe.

And when he had exhorted her w many words, she promised him that she shoulde speake vnto her sonne.

So she turned her vnto him(laughing the cruel tiraunt to scorne) and spake w a bolde voyce: O my sonne, haue pytie vppon me, that bare the .ix. monethes in my wombe, that gaue the socke, norysshed thee and brought thee vp vnto thys age.

I beseche the (my sonne) loke vpon heauen and earth and al that is therin, and consider that God made them and mans generacion of naught: so shalte thou feare this hāgmā: but suffer deth stedfastly like as thy brethre haue done it, ỹ I mai receue the agayn in the same mercy with thy brethren.

Whyle she was yet speaking these words the yong man sayd: whome loke ye for? Wherfore do ye tary? I wyl not obeye the kinges commaundement, but the lawe that god gaue vs by Moises. As for thee that imaginest all mischeafe against the Jewes/ thou shalt not escape the hande of god, for we suffre these thinges because of oure sinnes. Leuit.xi.m. Deut.xiiii.e F

And though god be angrye with vs a lytle wyle (for oure chastening and reformacion) yet shall he be at one agayn with his seruauntes. But thou (O shameful and moost abhominable person) Pryde not thy selfe throwe vayne hope in bring so malycious vpon the seruantes of god: for thou hast not yet escaped the iudgemēt of ỹ god which is almighty, and seeth all thinges. My brethern that haue suffred a lytle paine are now vnder the couenaunt of euerlasting lyfe: but thorow the Judgemente of god, thou shalt be punished ryghteously for thy pride.

As for me (lyke as my bretheren haue done) I offre my soule and my bodie for the lawes of our fathers calling vpon God, that he wyll sone be mercyfull vnto oure people: yea and wyth payne and punishment to make the graunte, that he onely is God. In me nowe and my Brethren the wrathe of almighty God is at an ende, which righteously is fallen vpon oure people. ii. Mach.xi

Then the kinge being kindled in anger was more cruell vpon him then vpon all the other, and toke indignacion, that he was so lyghtly regarded.

So this ponge man dyed vndefiled, & put his trust styll in the Lorde. Last of al after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also. Let this now be ynough spoken concerning the offeringes and extreame cruelnes.

Judas gathered to gether his host Nicanor is sent agaynst Judas. Judas exorteth his souldears to cō stātnes. Nicanor is ouercom. The Jewes geue thākes after they had put their enemise to flyght, dyuyding the spoyle vnto the fatherless & vnto ỹ wydowes. Nicanor fleeth vnto Antiochus.

The.viii. Chapter

A WHen Judas Machabeus, & they that were wythe hym, went preuilye into the townes, called theyr kinsfolkes and frendes together, toke vnto them all suche as continued yet in the fayth & law of the Jewes, & brought forth vi.M.men.

So they called vpon the Lorde, that he would haue an eye vnto hys people which was troden downe of euerye manne to be gracious vnto the temple, that was defyled of the vngodly, to haue compassion vpon the destruction, of the citty, which was shortly like to be laied waste, to heare the voyce of the blonde that cryed vnto him: to remeimember the moste vnrighteous deathes of yong innocēt childrē, ỹ blasphemyes also don vnto his name, and to punysh them.

nota

the temple that was defyled

1.Ma.ii.a. Now when Machabeus had gathered thys multitude together, he was to mightye for the heathen (for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercy) he fel vpon the townes ād cities vnawares, brent them, toke the moost commodious places/and slew many of the enemies. But specialli he made much chases by night, in so much that his manlynesse was spoken of euery where.

B So when Phylippe sawe that the manne encreased by lytle and lytle, and that the Matter prospeared wyth hym for the moost parte he wrote vnto Ptolomy (which was a captayne in Celosyria and Phenices) to help hī in the kinges busynes. Thē sent he Nicanor Patrocly (a specyal frende of hys (in all ỹ haste, and gaue hym of the comen sorte of the heathen no lesse then xx.M. harnessed men, to route oūt ỹ whole generacyon of the Jewes, hauing to help hī one Gorgias, a man of warre, which in matters concerning battels had greate experiēce. Nicanor ordened also ỹ tribute (which the Romaynes shulde haue had) to be geuen vnto the kinge, out of the captiuitye of the Jewes, namelye ii M. Talentes. And immedyatly he sent to the cytees of the see coast requiringe them for to bye Jewes to be theyr Seruauntes & bondmen, promysing to sell them, lxxx. and ten for one talent: but he considred not the wrath of almightye god that was come vpon hym.

C When Judas knew of this, he told the Jewes that were wyth hym of Nycanors commynge. Now were there some of them fearfull/not trustinge vnto the righteousnes of God and redde their waie.

But the other that remayned, came together and besought the Lord to delyuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde theym or euer he came nye them: and though he wolde not do it for their sakes, yet for the couenaunt that he made with their fathers, and because they called vpon hys holy & glorious name. And so Machabeus called his men together, namely about vi.M. exhorting them not to agre vnto theyr enemyes nether to be afraid for ỹ multitude of their aduersaries comming agaynst thē vnrighteously, but to fight manly, considering the reproffe ỹ they had done to the holy place wt out cause how they had dispised and oppressed ỹ cytye, yea and destroyed the Lawes of the fathers. For they (saide he) trust in their weapons and boldnesse, but oure cōfidence is in the almighty lord which in the twincklyng of an eye maye bothe destroie them that come against vs/& al the worlde.

nota the Reproffe they had to the Gode

Jere.xvii,b. Psalm,xx.b

He exorted them also to cal to remēbraunce the help, that God shewed vnto their fathers: as when there perished an C. and lxxxv.M of Sennacherybes people: And of the batail that they had in Babilon against ỹ Gallacians: how ỹ al the Macedonyans ỹ came to helpe them, stode in feare: and how they beīg but onely, vi.M. slewe an C and xx.M thorow the help that was geuen theym from heauen, wherby they also had receaued many benefites.

D iiii.re,xix.g. Esa.xxxvii,f i,Mac,vii,c Thorow these wordes the men toke good hertes vnto them, ready to die for the lawe and the countre. So he set vpon euery company a captaine, one of his owne brethren: Simon, Joseph ād Jonathas: geuinge ech one xv.C men. He caused Esdras also to reade the holy boke vnto them/and to geue them a token of the helpe of god. 1,Ma,iiii,b

Then he him selfe being captayne in the fore fronte of the battail, buckled wt Nicanor. And God was their helpe, in so much yt they slew aboue. ix. M men and cõpelled yt more parte of Nicanors host to flee, they were so wounded and feable. Thus they toke ymoneye from those yt came to bye them, and folowed vpon them on euery side. But when the tyme came vpõ them, they returned, for it was the Sabbath/ & therfor they folowed nomore vpon thẽ. So they toke their weapons and spoyles and toke yt Sabbothes, geuing thãckes vnto the Lord, which had delyuered them yt day, and shewed them his mercy. After the Sabbath they distributed yt spoyles to the sycke, to the fatherles and to wyddowes, and the residue had they theim selues wt theirs. When this was done, and they al had made a general prayer: they besought the mercyful Lord to be at one with his seruauntes.

Num, xxxi: d
ii, reg, xxx, c
Deut, xx, b,

Of those also that were wt Timotheus and Bachides, which fought against them, they slewe. xx. M wãne hie & strong holdes, & destroied moo spoyles: euer geuing an equal portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherles to widdowes & to aged persons. And when they had diligently gathered their weapens together, they laied them all in conuenięte places, and the remnaunt of the spoiles broughte they to Jerusalẽ. They slew Philarches yt wicked persõ, which was wt Timotheus/ a had vexed many Jewes. And when they held yt thanckesgeuinge, at Jerusalem for yt victory they brent those that set fire vpon the portes of the tẽple: namely Callisthenes, whych was fledde into an house: & so they gat a worthy rewarde of their wickednes. As for that moost vnworthy Nycanor which had brought a M. marchauntes to bye the Jewes, he was throwe the help of the Lord brought downe, euen of them whõ he regarded not: i so much yt he put of his glorious rayment/ fled by sea, and came alone to Antioch wyth greate shame and dyshonoure, whych he gat throw yt destruccion of his host. Thus he yt promised the Romaines to paie theym their trybute, when he toke Jerusalem: began now to saye plainely that god was the defender of the Jewes, and therfore not possible to wounde them, because they followed the lawes whych god had made.

nota
of fyckes and god persons

If

Antiochus willyng to spoyle Perlopolys is driuen to flyght. As he persecuteth the Jewes, he is stryken of the Lorde. The fayned repentaunce of Antiochus. He dyeth.

The ix. Chapter.

At the same tyme came Antiochus agayne with dishonour out of Persis: for whẽ he came to Persepolys, and vndertoke to robbe the temple, and to subdue the cytie, the People ranne together and defended themselues, in so muche that he and hys were fayne to flie with shame. And so after yt flyght it happened, that Antiochus came agayne wt dishonour. But when he came to Eghbathana, he gat knowledg what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus. Now as he was aduauncynge hym selfe in hys wrath, he thought he was able to aduenge the iniury that was done to them, vpon the Jewes: & therfore comaunded to make readye his charet, hasting in hys iourney wythout ceassinge, the iudgement of god prouoking hi because he had spoken so proud y, that he wolde come to Jerusalem, and make it a graue of the Jewes. But the lord god of Israel that seeth all thinges, swote him with an inuisible plage, which no man coulde heale.

A

i, Mac, vi

For as sone as he had spokẽ these wordes there came vppon hym an horrybie payne of his bowels, and a sore greife of the charmes. And that was but ryghte: for he had martyred other mẽs bowels with dyuerse and straunge tormentes, howbeit he wolde in no wyse ceasse frõ his malyce. Yea he was yet the prouder and more malicious against the Jewes. But while he was commaunding to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fel down violentlye from the charet so that it brosed hys body, and dyd him great payne.

B

And so he that thought he myght commaunde the floudes of the see (so proude was he beyond the condition of mã) and to weye the hye mountaynes in a

nota the plage of antiochus

paine of stoales, was now brought doune to the grounde, and caryed vppon an horslitter, knowledgig the manyfest power of god vpon him: so that ỹ wycked bodye of hys was full of wormes, which in his paine fel quick out of hys flesh: In so muche that his hoolste was greued with the smel and stinke of him. Thus he that a lytle afore thought he might reache vnto the starres of heuē, him might no mā now abide nor heare, for the vehemence of stynche.

Actes.xii.d

Therfore he beyng brought from his great pryde, beganne forto cometo knowleg of hi selfe: for the punishment of god warned him, and hys paine increased euer more and more. And when he hi selfe might not abyde his owne stinche, he saide these wordes: It is reason to be obedient vnto god, and that a mā desire not to be like vnto him. Thys wicked person prayed also vnto ỹ lord of whom he shoulde haue optained no mercy. And as for the citte that he came vnto so hastely, to bring it downe to the groūd, and to make it a graue for deaed men: Now he desyreth to delyuer yt free.

nota the promyse of antiochus

And as touching the Iewes, whome he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but wold haue cast thē out for to be deuoured of the foules & wild beastes, sayenge, that he wold haue destroyed both olde & yōg: Now he promiseth, to make them lyke the citizins of Athens. And wher as he had spoiled the holy temple afore, nowe he maketh promyse to garnysh it wt greate giftes, to increase the holi ornamentes, and of his owne rētes to beare the coastes, and charges belōging to the offerynges: yea and that he wolde also become a Iewe him selfe, to go thorow euery place of the world, ād to preache the power of god.

nota

But when hys paynes wold not ceasse (for the righeous iugmēt of God was come vppon hym) oute of a verye dyspaire he wrote vnto the Iewes a letter of intercession/conteynig these wordes: The kyng and prince Antiochus wysheth vnto ỹ vertuous citesins of ỹ Iewes, much health and good prosperyte.

If ye and your children fare well, and yf al thinges go after youre mynd:

D

wee geue great thanckes.

In my syckenesse also doo I remembre you louigly: for as I came out of Persia, and was taken wyth sore disease: I thought it necessarye to care for the cōmen wealth. Neyther despayre I in my selfe, but haue a good hoope to escape thys sickenes.

But consydering that my father led an hoost somtime in the hyer places, ād shewed who shoulde raygne after hym, that (yf there happened any controuersye, or any harde thing were declared) they in the lande myghte knowe theyre chefe Lord, that there shoulde be no insurrection: Agayne, when I pondre by my selfe, how that all the myghtye men & neyghbours rounde aboute, are laynge wayte, and loke but for oportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned that my sonne Antiochus shal raygne after me, whome I often commended to many of you, when I was in the hyer kingdomes, and haue written vnto hym as it foloweth here after. Therfore I pray you and require you, to remēber the benefittes that I haue done vnto you generally and in especyall. For I hope ỹ he shalbe of sobet/ & louing behaueour, and yf he folowe my deuice, he shalbe indifferent vnto you.

C

Dani.viii.c.

Thus that murtherer and blasphemer of God was sore smytten: and lyke as he had entreated othermen/ so he died a miserable death in a straunge cōtree vpon a mountaine. And hys bodye dyd Philyppe (that went wyth hym) cary awaye: which fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egipte to Ptolomy Philometor.

¶ Judas Machabeus taketh the citie & the temple. He beginneth to shewe ỹ actes of Eupator. Thē Iewes fyght agaynst the Idumeans: Timotheus iudeth Iewry, wt whome Judas ioyneth battel. A, mē apeare in the ayre, to the helpe of the Iewes. Timothy is slayne.

The.x. Chapter.

A

Machabeus now ād hys compayny (thorow the help of the lord) wanne the temple and the citye agayne, destroyed the aulters and chapels that the heathen had buylded thorow the stretes: clensed the temple, made an other aulter of bryche stone, and after two yeares they offered sacrifices, set forth the incence, the lyghtes & shew

i.Mac.iiii.e

Exodyer.d:

dread. Whē that was don, they fel dowe flat vpon the grounde, and besought the Lorde, that they myghte come no more in to soch trouble: but yf they synned eny more agaynst him, he him self to chasten thē w̄ mercy, & not to come in ỹ handes of ỹ aliaūtes ād blasphemus men.

B Nowe vpon the same daie that the straungers poluted the tēple, it happened that on the verye same daye it was i.Ma.iiii.c cleused agayne: namely, the.xxii. day of the moneth called Casleu. They kepte viii daies in gladnesse, lyke as in the feast of the tabernacles: remembringe ỹ not longe afore, thei helde the feast of ỹ tabernacles vpon the mountaines and in dennes like beastes. And to the same toke they bare greene bowes, braunches ād palmes before him that had geuē them good fortune to cleanse his place. They agreed also together, & made a statut, ỹ euery yere those dayes shuld be solēply kept of all ỹ people of ỹ Jewes.

How Antiochus then (that was called the noble) died, it is sufficiently told. Now wil we speke of Nicanor the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, howe it happened wyth him: and so with few wordes to comprehende the aduersite that chaunsed in the warres. When he had taken in the kyngdome, he made one Lisias (which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenices and Siria) ruler ouer the matters of the realme. For Ptolomi that was called Macrō, beinge a ruler for the Jewes (and speceally, to sit in iudgment for soch wronge as was done vnto them) vnder toke to deale peaceably with them. For the which cause he was accused of the frendes before Eupator: and whē he was suspecte to be a traytour (because he had left Cipres that Philometor had commytted vnto him: and because he departed from noble Antiochus, that he was come vnto) he poysoned hī selfe, & died.

C Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he toke straungers and vnder toke of times to warre wyth the Jewes. Moreouer ỹ Idumeans that helde the stronge holdes, receaued those that were dryuen from Jerusalem, and toke in hande to warre also.

5.Macch.v.a

But they that were with Machabeus besoughte and praied vnto the lorde, ỹ he wold be their helper: and so they fell into the strong holdes of ỹ Idumeās, & wan many places by strength: Soch as came against thē they slew, and kylled no lesse (of al together) then twenty M. Neuertheles some, no lesse then. x. thousand, were fled in two stronge towres, hauing al maner of ordinaunce to with stande them.

D Then Machabeus leauing Symō Josephus, Zachaus ād those that were w̄ them (which were very many) wente to besege them, & to fight where moost nede was. Now they ỹ were w̄ Symō, beyng led w̄ coueteousnesse, were intreated for money, throw certaine of those ỹ laye in ỹ towres: toke. lxx. M: Dzachmas, & let som of thē escape. But whē it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called ỹ captaines of ỹ people together, accusig those persones, ỹ thei had sold ỹ brethrē for money, & let their enemies go. So he slew those traitores & immediatly went i hād w̄ ỹ. ii. towres ād whē they had ordred thē selues mānly w̄ their weapēs & hādes, they slew i two castels moo then xx. M.

Now Timotheus whō the Jewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multy- t.Macch.v.a
tude of straūg people, brought an host ii.Ma.viii.c also of horsmen of ỹ Assirians, to winne Jewry by strenght. But when he drewe nye, Machabeus & they ỹ were w̄ hym E fell into their praier, sprincled asshes vp ii.Mac.xi.a on their heades, being girded with hearye cloth about their loines, fell doune before the aulter, and besought ỹ lorde that he would be mercyful to them, but an enemy vnto their enemies, and to take parte against their aduersaryes, according as it is promised in the lawe. So after the praier thei wēt on further from the citie: and when they came nye the enemies, they prepared them selues against them.

And by tymes in the mornynge at ỹ breake of the daye, both the hostes buckled together. The one parte had the Jere.xvii.d
Lord for their refuge, which is ỹ geuer of prosperite/strength and victory.

The

The other had a manly stomack, which is a captayne of warre.

The battail now beynge graet, there appeared vnto the enemyes frō heauen v. men vpon horsbackes w bridles of golde, leadig the Jewes, and two of thē hauyng Machabeus betwixte them, ỹ kepte him safe on euery side with theyr weapons, but shot dartes and lightenynges vpon the enemyes: wher thorow they were confounded with blindnes & so sore afraied, that they fel downe. There were slaine of fote men twentye thousand and fyue hundreth/ and syxe hundreth horsmen. As for Timotheus hi selfe, he fled vnto Gazar a very strōg hold, wherin Cereas was captain. But Machabeus and hys companye layed sege to it chearfully .iiii. dayes.

Now they that were within trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceadingly, and made greate crakynge w wicked wordes. Neuertheless vpon the fifth daie in the morninge. xx. yonge men of Machabeus companye, beynge sette on fyre in their myndes because of the blasphemy came manfully vnto the wal, and with bolde stomackes they and their other companions climmed vp vpō the towres, vndertaking to set fire vpon the portes/ & to burne those blasphemous persones quicke. Two daies were they destroieg the castel, which when they founde Eymotheus (that was crept into a corner) they killed him, and slewe Cereas hys brother in like maner with Appollophanes. Whē this was done, they sunge psalmes, w praises & thācks geuiges vnto the lord, which had done so great thinges for Israel, and geuen them the victorye.

Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Jewes. Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Jewes. The letter of Lysias to the Jewes. The letter of kinge Antiochus vnto Lisias. A letter of the same vnto ỹ Jwes. A letter of the Romaynes to the Jewes.

¶ The .xi. Chapter.

NOt long after this, Lysias the kynges steward and a kynsmanne of hys (whiche had the gouernaūce of his matters (toke sore displeasure for the thynges that had happened: and when he had gathered .lxxx. M me of fote with al the host of the horsmen/ he came against the Jewes, thynkynge to wynne the Cytie, to make it an habytacion for the Heathen, and the temple wolde he haue to be an house of lucre, lyke as the other goddes houses of the Heathen are/ and to sel the preistes office euery yeare: Not considering the power of God, but was wylde in hys mynde/ trustynge in the multitude of fote men/ in thousandes of horsmē, and in his .lxxx. Elephantes.

So he came in to Jewry and then to Bethsura (a castell of defence lyinge in a narow place. v. furlonges from Jerusalem) and wāne it. Now when Machabeus and his company knew that ỹ stronge holdes were taken, they fell to their prayers with wepyng and teares before the Lorde: And all the people in lyke maner besought him/ that he wolde sende a good angell to delyuer Israel. Machabeus hym selfe was the fyrst that made him ready to the battayll/ exortyng the other that were with him, to ieoperde thē selues and to help their brethre. And whē he was goynge forth of Jerusalē together with a redy and wyllyng mynde, there apeared before them vpon horsback a mā in whyte clothyng with harnesse of golde, shakynge his speare. Then they prayed ỹ Lorde all together, which had shewed thē mercy, & were comforted i their mides: in so mothe that they were redy not only to fyght with men, but with ỹ most cruel beastes, ye and to runne thorowe walles of yron.

Thus they went on willingly hauinge an helper from heauen, and the Lorde mercifull vnto them. Thei fell mightely vpon their enemies like lions, brought downe .xi. M. fote men. xvi. C. horsmen, put al the other to flight, many of them being wounded, & some gat away naked de. Yee Lisias him selfe was faine to flie shamefully, & so to escape. Neuertheless the mā was not with out vnderstanding, but considered by him selfe that his power was mynished and pondred how the Jewes beynge defended by the helpe of Almighti God, were not

Mit. We. vi. a
i. Mac. iii. d & xi. b.

Iohn. ii. b.

Esa. xxxvi. b

B

ii. Mac. x. b

ii. Mac. iiii. d

C

able to be ouercome: wherfore he sent them word, and promysed, that he wolde consente to all thynges which were reasonable, and to make the kyng their frēd. To ỹ which praier of Lysias Machabeus agreed settyng in al thynges ỹ comen welth: and what soeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concernynge the Jewes, the kyng graunted it. For there were letters wrytē vnto the Jewes from Lysias conteinyng these wordes.

Lysias sendeth greatīg to the people of Jewes. Jhon and Absalon which were sente from you, deliuered me wrytynges, and ꝑsuaded me to fulfyll the thynges concernyng their arand. Therfore loke what might be graunted, I certifyed the kynge thereof: and whatsoeuer was conuenient. I agred therto, If ye now wyl be faithful in the maters. I shal endeuer my selfe herafter also to do you good. As concerning other thinges by cuerye article therof: I haue cōmytted them to youre messaungers: to whom I sent vnto you, to commen with you of ỹ same/ fare ye wel, In ỹ hundreth & .xlviii. yeare, ỹ .xxiiii. daye of ỹ moneth Dioscorinthius.

Now the kinges lettre conteyned these wordes. Kynge Antiochus sendethe greating vnto his brother Lisias. For so moch as our father is now deed/ oure wyl is/ that they which are in oure realme, lyue without eny insurrecyon, and euery man to be dyligent in his owne matters. We vnderstande also/ that ỹ Jewes wolde not consente to oure father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gētyles, but stykly to kepe their owne statutes: for the which cause they requyre of vs also, to lette thē remayne still by their awne lawes.

Wherfore our minde is, that this people shalbe in rest: we haue concluded & determined also/ to restore them their temple agayne; that they may lyue accordynge to the vse and custom of their forefathers, Thou shalt do vs a pleasure therfore, yf thou sende vnto them and agree with them:

That whē they are certified of our mīd they maye be of good chere, and loke to their owne wealth.

And thys was the letter that the kynge wrote vnto the Jewes: kynge Antiochus sendeth greatig vnto the councel & the other people of the Jewes: Yf ye fare well, we haue oure desyre: as for vs we are in good health. Menelaus came and tolde vs, how that your desyre was to come downe to youre people, whiche ate wyth vs.

Wherfore those that wyl come, we wyll geue them fre lybertie, vnto the .xxx. day of the moneth of Apryll that they maye vse the meates of the Jewes and theyr owne lawes/ lyke as afore: and none of thē by any maner of wayes to haue harme, for thynges done in ignoraūce. Menelaus whome we haue sent vnto you, shall comen with you at large, fare yee well, In the .Cxlviii. yeare, the xv. day of the moneth Apryll.

The Romaynes also sent a lettre, cōteynyng these wordes: Quintus Mennius and Titus Manilius, Embassytoures of the Romaynes, Sende greting vnto the people of the Jewes. Loke what Lisias ỹ kinges kinsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also. But as concernynge the thynges which he referred vnto the king, sēde hyther some wyth spede, and ponder the matter dylygently among e your selues that we maye cast the best to youre profyte, for we must departe now to Antioch. And therfore wryte shortly agayne, that we maye knowe youre mynde: Fare well. In the Cxlviii. yeare, the .xv. day of the moneth of Apryll.

Timotheus troubleth the Jewes. The wiked deade of the Ieppites, against the Jewes: Judas is aūged of them. He setteth fire on the gate of Jamnya The pursuyte of the Jewes against Timothye. Timothy is taken and let go vnhurt. Judas pursueth Gorgias, Judas offring sacrifice for the deth sheweth the hope of the resurrection

The .xii. Chapter:

When these couenauntes were made Lisias went vnto the king, and the Jewes tylled the fyre grounde, but Tymotheus, Apolonius the sonne of Genei, Jerom and Demophon the proude, Nicanor the capteyne of Cepres, and they that laye in those places wolde not let them lyue in reste and

and peace. They of Joppa also did euē such a shamful dede. They praied the Jewes that dwelt amōg them, to go w̄ their wiues ād children into the shippes which they had prepared, and did with thē/as though they had oughte thē no euel wil. For so much thē as ther was gone forth a general proclamatiō thorow the citie because of peace, they consented therto, and suspect nothing but when they were gone forth into ẏ depe, they drowned no lesse then .ii. hundreth of them.

When Judas knewe of this cruelty shewed vnto his people, he commaunded those that were wyth him to make them ready, exhorting them to call vpō god the righteous iudge: went forth against those murthurers of his brethrē, set fyre in ẏ hauen by night, brent vp ẏ shyppes, and those that escaped from ẏ fyre, he slew w̄ the sweard. And whē he had don thys, he departed as thoughe he wolde come agayne, and rote out al them of Joppa. But when he had gottē worde that the Jamnites were minded to do in lyke maner to the Jewes which dwelt among them, he came vpon ẏ Jamnites by nighte, and set fire in the hauen w̄ the shippes: so that ẏ lyghte of the fyre was sene at Jerusalem, vpō a .ii. C. .x. .xl. furlonges.

Now when they were gone frō thēce .xx. furlonges, in their iourney towarde Timotheus. v M. men of fote ād. v C horsmen of the Arabians foughte with him. So when the battail was eatnelt & prospered w̄ Judas thorow ẏ help of God: ẏ residue of ẏ Arabiās beig ouercome, besought Judas to be at one w̄ them, and promised to geue him certain pastures, and to do hym good in other thinges. Judas thinkynge that they shoulde in deade be profytable concerninge manye thynges, promysed them peace: whervppon they shoke handes, and so they departed to their tentes. Judas went also vnto a citie, which was verye faste kepte wyth brydges, fensed rounde a bout wyth walles, and diuers kyndes of people dwellynge therin, called Caspin.

They that were wythin it, put soch trust in the stregth of ẏ walles, ẏ i their floare of bittayles: that they were the slacker in theyr doinges, cursynge and reuylyng Judas with blasphemyes, and speaking such wordes as it becommeth not. But Machabeus callynge vppon the greate Prince of the worlde (whych wythout any battayll rammes or ordynaunce of warre, did cast down the wales of Jericho, in the tyme of Josue) fel manfully vpon the walles, toke the citie, & (throw the helpe of the Lord) made an exceading great slaughter: In so muche that a lake of two fourelonges broade which laye therby, semed to flowe wyth bloude of the slayne. Josue. vi. e

Then departed they from thence. vii C. and L. fourlonges, and came to Caraca, vnto the Jewes that are called Tubiaei. But as for Timothey, they coulde not gett hym there: for (not one mater dispatched) he was departed frō thence, and had de lefte certayne menne in a verye stronge holde. But Dositheꝰ and Sosipater, which were capteynes wyth Machabeus slew those that Timotheus had lefte in the house of defence, euen ten thousand men. And Machabeus prepared hym wyth the .vi. thousand men that were aboute hym, set thē in ordre by companyes, and went forth agaynst Timotheus, whyche had with hym an C. and xx. thousand men of fote, ii. M. and v. C. horsmen.

When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, D
chyldren and the other baggage vnto a castel called Carnyō (For it could not be wonne/and was harde to come vnto/the ways of the same places were so narow, and when Judas company came fyrst in sight, the enemyes were smitten with feare, throw the presēce of god whych seeth all thynges: In soo muche ẏt they fleyng one heere, an other there, were rather discomfitted of theyr owne people, and wounded with the strockes of their owne swerdes. Judas also was very earnest in folowing vpō thē punysshing those vngodly, and slewe .xxx. M men of them. Tymotheus also hym selfe fell into the handes of Dositheus and Sosipater whome he besoughte wythe many prayers, to let hym go wyth hys Judith. viii. e i. Reg. xiii. c ii. Para. xx. d lyfe: because he had many of the Jewes fathers and brethren in preson, which (yf they put hi to death) myght be disapoynted. So when he had promysed faythfully to delyuer thé agayne accordinge to the condicion made, they let hi go without harme, for the health of the bretheren. And when Judas had slayn xxb. M. he wente from Carnion.

Now after that he had chased away and slayne hys enemyes, he remoued ỹ hoost to warde Ephron a stronge cytye, wherin dwelte many dyuerse people of the heathen, and the stronge yonge mẽ kepte the walles, defendinge them mighty lye. In this citie was much ordinaunce, and prouision of dartes. But when Judas & hys companye had called vpon almyghty god (which with hys power breaketh the strenght of the enemies) they wanne the cytie, and slewe xxb. M. of them, that were withi. From thẽce went they to the citie of the Scithians, which lyeth. bi C. furlonges from Jerusalem. But whẽ the Jewes which were in the cytie testifyed, that the cytesyns dealte louingly with them, yea and intreated them kindly in ỹ tyme of their aduersitie. Judas and hys companye gaue them thanckes desyring theym to be frendly styll vnto theym: and so they came to Jerusalem the hye feast of the weekes beinge at hande. And after ỹ fest thei wẽt forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, wyth .iii. thousãd men of fote, and .iiii. C. horsmẽ. Wyche when they met to gether: it chaunsed a fewe of the Jewes to be slayne.

D And Dositheus one of the Bachenors a myghti horsman of Thracia fell vpõ him/ and smote of his arme, so that Gorgias escaped & fled i to Mozosa. Whe they now ỹ were of Gorgias syde, had foughte longe and were weary: Judas called vpon the Lorde that he wolde be theyr helper, & captayne of ỹ felde; and wt that, he begane with a manly voyce to take vp a song of prayse, & a crie, In so moch that hee made the enemyes afrayed, and Gorgias men of warre to take theyr flyghte. So Judas gathered his host, & came in to the cytie of Odolla & whẽ the seuenth daye came vpõ thẽ ỹ cleansed thẽselues (as the custome was) & kepte the Sabboth in the same place. And vpon the daye folowinge, Judas and his companye came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them in the fathers graues. Nowe vnder the cotes of certaine Jewes whiche were slayne, they founde Jewels ỹ they had taken oute of the temple and from the Idoles of the Jamnites: whiche thing is forbiddẽ the Jewes by the lawe. Then euery man saw ỹ this was the cause/ wherfore they were slayne. E

And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his rightuous iudgmẽt which had opened the thynge that was hid. They fel downe also vnto their prayers, and besought God, the fawte which was made, might be put oute of remembraunce. Besydes that, Judas exorted the people earnestly, to kepe thẽselues from suche a synne: for so muche as they saw before their eyes, that these men were slaine, for the same offence. So he gathered of euery one a certain in so muche that he broughte together two thousand drachmas of siluer, which he sent vnto Jerusalẽ, ỹ there might a sacrifice be offered for ỹ misdede. In the which place he dyd wel and righte: for he had some consideracion and pondryng of the lyfe that is after this time. For yf he had not thoughte that they/ which were slain, did yet lyue, it had bene superfluous ãd vayne, to make anie vowe or sacrifyce, * for them, that were dead. But for so much as we saw e, that they whyche dye in the fauoure and beleue of God, are in good rest and ioye; he thought it to be good and honorable for a reconcilyng, to do ỹ same for those which wer slain, that the offence might be forgeuen.

* Judge vpon this place whether ỹ opinion hath bene to prayefor the deede, as to bee baptised for thẽ i. Corinth. xv. d. which thynge was onely done to confirme the hope of the resurrecyon of ỹ deed, not to delyuer thẽ fr ãny payne. Sẽ Paul dyd not alow ỹ ceremony of Christenyng for the ded, no more doth any place of the canonycal. Scripture alow ỹ ceremony of offeryng for the deed.

Furthermore: This hole boke of Machabees, * specyally this second is no sufficient autorite to make an article of our fayth: as it is before sufficiently proued by the authorite of Sẽ Jerome in the prologe of these bokes called Apocripha.

C The commynge of Eupator in to Jewry. The deeth of Menelaus. Machabeus goyng to fyght agaynst Eupator, moueth his soudiers vnto prayer. He killeth xiiii. thousande men in ỹ tentes of Antiochus, Rhodocus the betrayer of the Jewes is taken. Antiochus retayneth frendshyp with ỹ Jewes

The.xv. Chapter.

A t.Ma.vi.d. IN the.clix. yere gat Iudas knowleg, that Antiochus Eupator was comyn ge wyth a greate power in to Jewry, and Lysyas the stewarde and ruler of his matters with hym: haupng an.C.x.M. méof fote. v. M. horsmen. xvii. Elephantes, and. iii. C. charettes. Menelaus also ioyned ti.Ma.iiii.d him self wyth them (but wyth greate dyscreate) and spake fayre to ỹ kynge, not for eny good of the countre, but because he thought to haue bene made som greate man, of auctorite. But the kinge of kinges moued Antiochus mynd agayn ste thys vngodly personne, and Lysias informyd the kynge, that thys Menelaus was the cause of all myschefe: so ỹ the kynge commaunded to take him, & (as the maner of them is) to put hym vn to death in the same place.

There was also in the same place a tower of. L. cubytts hye, heapped with asshes: but aboue it was so made, that men myght loke downe on euery syde. B Aboue in to the kynge commaunded ỹ C.Mete shamefull person to be caste amonge ỹ asshes, as one that was cause of al vngracefoulnesse. And reason it was, that the vnthryft shulde dye, soch a death, & not to be buryed: for he had done moch myschefe vnto the aulter of God (whose fyre and asshes were holy) therfore was it righ, that he him self also shulde be destroyed wt asshes.

But ỹ kynge was wood in his mynde and came to sheewe hym selfe more cruell vnto the Jewes, then hys father was. Wherof when Iudas perceaued, he commaunded the people to call vpon the Lorde nyght and daye: that he wolde now helpe them also, lyke as he had done alway: For they were afrayed to be put from their lawe, from their natural countre and from the holy temple: & not to suffre the people (whych a lytle whyle afore began to recouer) to be subdued again of the blasphemos nacyons So when they had done thys together and besought the Lorde for mercye, wt C weping and fasting thre days long flat vpon the ground Iudas exhorted thẽ to make them selues readye. But hee and the elders together deuysed to goo forthe fyrste with theyr People. afore the kynge brought hys hoost in to Jewry, and afore hee beseged the cytie/ and so to committe the matter vnto God.

Wherefore he ascribed the power of all thynges vnto God the maker of the worlde, exortynge his people to fyghte manfully, (yee euen vnto death) for the lawes/ the temple, the citye, their awne natiue countre, and to defende ỹ cytesins: and set hys hoost before Modyn. He gaue them also that were wt hym, a token of the victory of God, chosyng out the manlyest ponge men, wente by nyght in. the kynges pauilyon, and slewe of the hoost. xiiii. M. men, & ỹ greatest Elephantes, wt those that sat vpon them.

Thus when they had brought a greate feare and rumour amõge the tentes of theyr enemyes, and all thinges weme prosperously wt them, they departed in D the breake of the day, God being their healper and defender. Nowe when the kynge perceaued the manlinesse of the Jewes, he wente aboute to take ỹ strõg places by crafte, and remoued hys hoost vnto Bethsura, which was a well kepte house of defence of the Jewes: but thei were chased awaye, hurt & dyscõfited. And Judas sent vnto them ỹ were i it, soch thinges as were necessary. In the Jewes hoost also ther was one Rhodoch⁹ which tolde the enemyes their secretes: but they sought hym out, and whẽ they had gotten hym, they put hym in prisõ After this dyd the kynge comen wt thẽ that were in Bethsura, toke truce wt thẽ departed, and stroke a battayll wt Judas, which ouercame him,

But when he vnderstode, that Philipp (whom hee left to be ouerseer of his busynesses at Antioche) began ne to rebel agaynst him, he was astonnied in hys minde: so that he yelded him selfe to the Jewes, and made them an othe, to do whatsoeuer they thought ryght.

Now when he was reconsyled wt them he offred, made moch of the temple/ gaue greate gyftes vnto it/ enbrased Machabeus, makynge hym captayne and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Garreues.

Notꝛa
wepyng & fastyng

Newes

Neuertheleſſe when hee came to Ptolomays, the people of ỹ cyty were not content wyth that bonde of frendſhype: for they, were afrayed, that he wolde breake the couenaunt. Then wente Lyſias vp in to the ſeat, ād enfourmed the people, ſhewed them the cauſe why, & pacyfyed them. So he cam agayn to Antyoch. Thys is now ỹ mater concernynge the kynges iourneye, and hys returne.

¶ By the mocyon of the Lord, Demetrius ſendeth Nicanor to kyl the Jewes. Nicanor maketh a compacte with ỹ Jewes, which he yet breaketh through the mocion of the kyng. Nicanor cōmaundeth Razia to be taken, The boldnes of Razia.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

After thre yeares was Judas inkourmed, howe ỹ Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus was come vp with a greate power and ſhyppes, thorow the hauen of Tripolis, to take certayne commodyous Places and countrees, agaynſt Antiochus and his captayn Lyſias. Now Alcimus (which had bene hye Preſt, & wylfully defyled hym ſelf, in the tyme of the myxtynge) ſeing, that by no meanes he coulde be helped, nor haue any more intraunce to ỹ aultar: he came to kyng Demetrius in the hundreth and one and fyftye yeare, preſentyng vnto him a crowne of golde, a palme and an olyue tree: which (as me thought) belonged to the temple, and ỹ daye he helde his tonge. But when he had gotten opoꝛtunytye for his madnes, Demetrius called him to councel, and aſked hym, what thinges or councels the Jewes leaned vnto. He anſwered: The Jewes that bee called Aſſidei (whoſe capteyn is Judas Machabeus) maynteyne warres, make inſurrecyons, and wyl not let the realme be in peace.

For I beynge depryued of my fathers
2B honoure (I meane the hye preſthode) am come hither: partly e becauſe I was faythfull vnto the kynge / and partly becauſe I ſought the profyt of the cyteſyns. And why? all our people thorow ỹ wickednes of them are not a lytle troubled. Wherfore I beſeche the (O kynge) conſyder al theſe thynges dilygently and then make ſome prouiſyon for the lande and the people, accordynge to the kyndnes that thou haſt offered vnto them. For as long as Judas hathe the vpperhande, it is not poſſible ỹ men can lyue in peace.

When he had ſpoken theſe wordes, other frendes alſo haunge euell wyll at Judas, ſett the kynge Demetrius on fyre agaynſt him. Which immediatly ſent Nicanor (ruler of the Elephantes) a captayn, into Jewry: commaundyng him, to take Judas him ſelf alyue, but to ſlaye them ỹ were with him, & to make Alcimus hye preſte of the temple.

Then the Heathen whych fled oute of Jewry frō Judas, came to Nicanor bi flockes, thinkyng the harme and decaie of the Jewes to be their welfare. C
Now whē ỹ Jewes herde of Nicanors commynge, and the gatheryng together of the Heathen thei ſprenckled them ſelues with earth ād beſought him which made them hys people, and euer defen- ii.Ma.x.e.
ded his owne porcion with euident tokens, that he wolde preſerue thē ſtyll. So at the commaundement of the captaine thei remoued from thence, and came to a towne called Daſſalā. And Simon Judas brother fel in hande wyth Nicanor but thorow the ſodane cōmige of the enemyes / he was afrayed.

Neuertheles Nicanor hearynge ỹ manlynes of them that were wt Judas, and ỹ bolde ſtomakes that they had to fight for theyr naturall countree, durſte not proue the mater wt bludſheding. Wherfore he ſent Poſſidonius, Theodocyus & Mathias before, to geue & to take peace. So when they had taken long aduiſement there vpon, and the captayne ſhewed it vnto the multitude: they were agreed i one mynde, to haue peace. And they appoynted a daye to ſyt vpō theſe matters quietly amonge them ſelfes, the ſtoles alſo were brought and ſet forth.

Neuertheles Judas commaunded certayne men of armes to wayte in cōuenyent places, leſt there ſhuld ſodenly aryſe any euel thorow the enemyes. And ſoo they commoned reaſonably together.

Nicanor, whyle he abode at Jeruſalem D ordred hym ſelf not vnreaſonably, but ſet away the people that were gathered totogeth̄er. He loued Judas euer w̄ hys herte and fauoured him. Hs prayed hī also to take a wyfe, and to bringe forth childzen. So he maried, lyued in reste, & chei led a comē life. But Alcimus perceauynge the loue that was betwyxte thē, & how thei wer agreed together, came to Demetrius, & tolde him that Nycanor had taken straunge matters i hande, and ordened Judas (an enemy of the realme) to be the kynges successor. Thē the kynge was sooze displeased, and thozow ỹ wicked accusations which Alcymus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nycanor, satynge: that hee was verye angrie for the frendshipp and agreement, which he had made w̄ Machabeus. Neuertheles he cōmaunded hym in al the haste, that hee shulde take Machabeus preſoner, and sende him to Antioche.

Wohych letters when Nycanor had sene, he was at his wittes end, and sore greaued, that hee shoulde breake the chynges whereyn they had agreed: speciallỹ, sayenge Machabeus was ỹ mā that neuer dyd him harme. But because he myght not w̄stande ỹ kynge hee sought opportunite to fulfil his commaundement. Not w̄standinge, when Machabeus sawe that Nicanor begā to bee churlyshe vnto him/ and that he intreated him more roughlỹ then he was wonte, he perceaued ỹ such vnkyndnes came not of God/ and therefore hee gathered a few of his men, ād withdrewe him selfe from Nicanor. Which when he knew that Machabeus had mankullỹ preuented him, he came in to the great and most holy temple: and commaunded the prestes (which were doyng their vsual offeriges) to delyuer him the mā. And whā they sware that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought he stretched out his hande/ & made an othe, sayenge: If ye wyl not delyuer me Judas captiue, I shall remoue thys tē ple of God in to ỹ playn feld, I shal breake downe the aulter, & consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus. After these wordes he departed.

1.Ma,vii,c. Then the prestes lyft vp there hādes toward heauen, and besought him that was euer the defēder of their people, saienge. Thou O lord of all/ which haste nede of nothynge, woldest that the temple of thy habitaciō shuld be amōg vs. Therfore now O most holy Lord, kepe this house euer vndefyled, which lately was clensed. Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, one Razis an Aldermā of Jerusalem, a louer of the whole citie and a man of good reporte: whiche for the kinde hert that he bare vnto ỹ people was called a father of ỹ Jewes. This man eft tymes, when the Jewes were minded to kepe them selues vndefiled, defended and deliuered thē, being content stedfastly to spende his body & his lyfe for his people.

1.Ma,vii,d. So Nicanor wyllyng to declare the hate/ that he bare to the Jewes sente. v C men to take him: for he thoughte, yf he gat him he should bringe the Jewes in great decaye. Nowe when the people began to ruſhe in at his house/ to breake the doares, and to set fire on it: he beinge now taken/ wold haue defended hī selfe with the swerde: choosing rather to dye manfully, then to yelde him selfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, he had rather bene put to extreme cruelte. Notwithstandig what tyme as he missed of his stroke for hast and the multitude fell in violentlye betwyxt the dores: he ranne boldely to the wall, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the people of them/ which gaue roone place to his fall, so that he fel vpon his bely.

Neuertheles while there was yet breathe with in him, he was kyndled in his mynde, and whyle hys blonde gusshed out exceadingly (for he was verye sore wounded) he ranne thorow the middest of the people and gat hym to the toppe of a rocke. So when his blonde was now gone, he toke out his owne bouelles with both his handes, and threwe them vpon the people: callyng vpon ỹ Lord of lyfe and spyrete, to rewarde hym this a gaine, and so he died.

¶ Nicanor goeth aboute to cōe vpon Judas on the Sabboth day, The blasphemy of Nicanor Machabeus expoundinge vnto the Jewes the vision boldneth theyr hertes, The prayer of Machabeus After the hoste of Nicanor is ones ouercome Machabeus commaundeth his heades hys handes to be cut of & his tong to be geuen vnto fowles.

¶ The xv. Chapter.

A ii,Ma,vii.d

NOwe when Nicanor knewe that Judas was in the coũtre of Samaria, he thoght with al his power to strike a felde wyth hym, vppon a Saboth daye. Neuertheles the Jewes that were compelled to go wt hym, said: O do not so cruelly and vnkindlye but halowe the Sabboth day, and worshyp hym that seyth all thynges. For all this yet sayde the vngracious personne: Is there a myghty one in heauen, that commaunded the Sabbath day to be kepte? And when they sayde: ye a the lyuing god, the myghtie Lorde in heauen commaunded the seuenth daye to be kepte, he sayd: And I am myghty vpõ earth, to commaunde them for to arme theym selues, and to performe the kynges businesse. Notwithstanding he myght not haue hys purpose.

iii,reg,xx,c

Exod.xx.d

Nicanor had deuised wythe greatte pryde to ouer come Judas, and to bringe awaye the victorye. But Machabey had euer a fast confydence and a perfecte hope in God that he wolde help hym, ād exhorted hys people, not to be afraid at the commyng of the heathen: but alwaye to remembre ỹ help that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, yea & to be sure now also, that almighty God wolde geue them the victorye. He spake vnto them out of the lawe and prophetes, putting them in remembraunce of the battayles, that they had stryken afore, and made them to bee of a good corage.

B

So when theyr hertes were pluct vp he shewed them also the dyscreatfulnes of the heathen, and how they wold kepe no couenaunt nor oth. Thus he weaponed thē not wyth the armour of shyld & speare, but with wholsome wordes and exhortacions. He shewed them a dreame also, where thorowe he made theym all glad, whych was thys: he thought that he sawe Onias (whych had bene a high preste, a vertuous and louing man, sad, and of honest conuersacion, wel spoken, and one that had bene exercysed in godlynes from a chyld) holding vp hys hãdes towarde heauen, and prayinge for hys people. Afterthys there appeared vnto hym another mã, whych was aged honourable and glorious.

And Onias sayde: This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israell. This is he that prayeth moch for the people, and for al the holy cytie: Jeremy the prophet of God. He thought also ỹ Jeremy helde out hys ryght hãd and gaue hym (namelye vnto Judas) a swearde of gold, sayinge. Take this holy swearde, a gyfte from God, wherwith thou shalte smyte downe ỹ enemyes of the people of Israell. And so they were well comforted thorow ỹ wordes of Judas, and toke corage vnto them, so that the yonge men were determed in theyr myndes to fyght, and to byde styfly at it. In so moch that in the thinges which they toke in hand, theyr boldnesse shewed the same, because the holy cytye and the temple were in parell: for ỹ which they toke moze care, thē for theie wyues, childezen, brethezen and kynsfolckes. Agayne, they that were in the cytie, were most careful for those which were to fyght. Now when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of ỹ matter was at hande, & the enemyes drew nye, the host beynge set in aray, the Elephātes and horsmen euery one standynge in his place: Machabeus consydered the commynge of the multitude, the ordynaunce of dyuerse wepens, the cruelnes of the beastes, and helde vp his hādes towarde heauen, callynge vpon ỹ Lorde that doth wounders, which geueth not ỹ victory after the multitude of weapens and power of the host (but to them that please him) accordyng to hys awne wille. Therfore in his prayer he sayd these wordes, O Lord, thou that dyddeste sende thyne Angell in the tyme of Ezekiah kynge of Juda, and in ỹ hoste of Sennaheryb slewest an hundreth ād fyue and fouze score thousande: sende now also thy good Angel before vs (O Lorde of heauens) in the fearfulnesse & dreade of thy myghtye arme, that they which come agaynst thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afrayed. And so he made an ende of his wordes. The Nicanor and they that were with hym, drewe nye with shawmes and songes:

C

D

ii:Pa.xliii.c Judic,vii.b

iiii.re,xix,g Ec xxxvi.i,Ma,vii,e ii.Mac,viii

but

but Judas & hys company wyth prayer and callynge vpon God.

Wyth theyr handes they smote, but wyth theyr hertes they prayed vnto the Lorde, and slew no lesse then .xxxv. thousande menne: For thorowe the presente helpe of God they were gloryously comforted.

Nowe when they left of, and were turnynge agayne wt ioye they vnderstode that Nicanor him selfe was slayne wt the other. Then they gaue a great shoute and a crye, praysynge the Almighty Lorde wt a loude voyce. And Judas (which was euer ready to spend his bodi and lyfe for his citesins) cõmaunded to smite of Nicanors head, wt his arme and hande, & to be brought to Jerusalem. And when he came there, he called all the people, and the prestes at the aulter wythe those that were in the castell, and shewed them Nicanors head, and hys wycked hande, which he had presumptuously holden vp agaynste ỹ temple of God. He caused the tonge also of ỹ vngodly Nicanor to be cut in lytle peces, & to bee cast to the foules/ and the cruell mans hande to be hanged vp before the tẽple. So euery mã gaue thankes vnto the Lorde, sayenge: Blessed bee hee, that hath kepte his place vndefyled.

As for Nicanors head, he hanged ỹt vp vpon the hye castell, for an euydent and playn token of ỹ helpe of God. And so they agreed all together, to kepe ỹ daye holy, namely the .xiii. daye of the moneth Adar, which in the Syrians language is called the next daye before Mardocheus daye. Thus was Nicanor slayne, & from that tyme forth the Jewes had ỹ citye in possessyon: And here wyll I nowe make an ende.

C

The ende of the seconde boke of the Machabees.

(No. 4)

Hec sunt iudicia que proponis eis. Exod. xxi.

The Newe Testamente of our sauiour Iesu christ/ newly and diligently translated into Englisch wyth Annotacions in the Margent to helpe the Reader to the vnderstandinge of the Texte.

Ite in mundū vniuersū predicate Euāgeliū &c. Ma. 16

Printed in the Yeare of oure Lorde God.

M. D. XLIX.

That is glad tydings

The *Gospell of S.Mathew.

¶ The genealogye of Christ, & maryage of hys mother Mary. The aungel satysfyeth Josephs mynd.

The. j. Chapter. ✠

A THys is the boke of the generacion of a*Jesus Christ the sonne of b*Dauid, the sonne also of Abraham.
Abraham begat Isaac:
Isaac begat Jacob:
Jacob begat Judas and his brethren:
Judas begat Phares & zare of Themar.
Phares begat Hesrom:
Hesrom begat Aram:
Aram begat Aminadab:
Aminadab begat Naasson:
Naasson begat Salmon:
Salmon begat Booz of Rahab:
Boos begat Obed of Ruth:
Obed begat Jesse:
Jesse begat Dauid the kyng:
Dauid ye kyng begatt Salomo, of her
B that was the wyfe of Ury:
Salomon begat Roboam:
Roboam begat Abia:
Abia begat Asa:
Asa begat Josaphat:
Josaphat begat Joram:
Joram begat Osias:
Osias begat Joatham:
Joatham begat Achas:
Achas begat Ezechias: Ezechias begat Manasses:
Manasses begat Amon:
Amon begat Josias:
Josias c*begat Jechonias & his brethre about ye tyme they were caryed awaye to Babylon.
And after they were brought to Babilo,
Jechonias begat Salathiel:
Salathiel begat Zorobabel:
Zorobabel begat Abiud:
Abiud begat Eliachim:
Eliachim begat Azor:
Azor begat Sadoc:
Sadoc begat Achin:
Achin begat Eliud:
Eliud begat Eleasar:
Eleasar begat Matthan.
Matthan begat Jacob:
Jacob begat Joseph ye husbad of Mary of whome was borne ye Jesus, that is called *Christ. ✠
All the generacios fro Abraham to Dauid are fowrtene generacions. And from Dauid vnto the captyuyte of Babilo, are fowrtene generacions. And fro ye captyuite of Babilo to christe, ar also fowrtene generacions. C
✠ The byrthe of Jesus Chryste was on this wise. When his mother Marye was maried to Joseph, before thei came to dwel to gether, she was founde withe chylde by the holy goost. Then Joseph her husbade beynge a perfect ma, and loth to make an e*ensample of hyr, was minded to put her awaye secretlye. Whyll he thus thought, beholde the f*angel of the Lorde appered vnto him in a dreame, saying: Joseph the sone of Dauid, feare not to take vnto the Mary thy wife. For that which is conceaued in her is of ye holy goost. She shal bringe forth a sonne, & thou shalt call hys name Jesus. For he shal saue his people fro theyr synnes. not: wel
All this was done to fulfyl ye which was spoken of ye lord by the Prophet, sayinge: D
Behold a maide shal be with childe, & shal bringe forthe a sonne, & they shall call hys names *Emanuel, which is by interpretacion, God wyth vs. ✠
And Joseph as sone as he awoke oute of slepe, did as ye angel of ye lord bade him & toke hys wyfe vnto hym, and knewe her not til she had brought forth h*hir first so ne, and called hys name Jesus.

The Notes.

a* Or after ye Hebr. Jesua, ye is, Sauioure!
b* Dauid & Abram are fyrst rehersed: because that Christ was specially promysed vnto them, to be of their seed Gene xxii.
c* Here is left out in the bokes of oure tyme (as it apereth. 1: Par iii, c begat Jehoakin and Jehoakim & c) d* In Hebr. Messiah/it signifyeth/anoynted. Jesus Christ then is the earnest & pledge of goddes promesse, by whom ye grace and fauour of god is promesed to vs, wyth ye holye goost: whych illumyneth lighteth & renueth oure hertes to fulfyl the lawe.
e* Ensample ye is to saye/to bryng hyr out to punyshment for ye ensample of other.
f* Aungel, that is, messenger:
g* Christ is called Emanuel in ye he toke ye flesh of ma & Joyned & knyte hym selfe to vs & became oure brother/Hebr/ii:c

h* Her fyrst sonne, not because she had any after, but because she had none before.

¶ The time & place of Christes byrth. & he wyse men offre theyr presentes. Christ fleeth into Egipte, the rouge children are slayne, Christ cometh into Galile.

The.ii. Chapter.

A When Jesus was borne at Bethlehē in Jurye, in ỹ tyme of Herode the king. Beholde ther came a* wyse men frō ỹ east to Jerusalē saying: wher is he that is borne kynge of Jewes? We haue sene hys starre in the East, & ar come to worshyp hym.

B Whē Herode the kyng had heard thys, he was troubled, & al Jerusalē with hym, & he gathered al the cheefe Priestes & Scribes of ỹ people, & asked of thē wher christ shuld be borne. And they said vnto him: at Bethleem in Jury. For thus it is wrytten by the prophet. And thou Bethleem in the lande of Jury, arte not the b* leest concerning the Princes of Juda. For out of the shal come the captayne, that shal c* gouerne my people Israell.

B Thē Herode preuely called ỹ wyse mē and diligently enquyred of them, the tyme of the starre that appered, and sent thē too Bethleem saying: Go & searche diligently for the chylde. And when ye haue founde him, bringe me worde, that I maye come & worshippe him also.

✣ Whē they had heard the king, they departed: & lo the starre whyche they sawe in the East wēt before thē, tyl it came & stode ouer the place wher the chyld was. When they saw the starre, they were maruelously glad: & went into the house, & foūd ỹ chyld wyth Mary hys mother, & kneled downe & d* worshipped hym, & opened theyr treasures. & offred vnto him gyftes, gold frankynsēce & myrre. And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they shoulde not go agayne to Herode, they returned into theyr owne countrey another way. ✣

When they were departed: behold ỹ angel of ỹ Lord appered to Joseph in a dreame saying: aryse & take the chyld and hys mother, & flye in to Egypte, & abyde there tyll I bringe the worde. For Herode wyll seke the chylde to destroye hym. Thē he arose and toke thee chylde & hys mother by nyght and departed into Egypt, and was there vnto the death of Herode to fulfylle that which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet whych sayth, out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

Thē Herode perceauing ỹ he was mocked of the wyse mē was exceding wroth & sent forth & e* slue al the chyldren ỹ were in Bethleem, and in all the coastes thereof, as many as were two yere old & vnder, according to the tyme which he had diligently searched out of the wyse men.

Thē was fulfylled that which was spokē by the prophet Jeremy saying: On the hylles was a voyce heard, mourning, weping, and great lamentacion. Rachel weping for her children, & wolde not be comforted, because they e* were not. ✣ D

✣ When Herode was dead: behold, an angel of the Lord appered in a dreame to Joseph in Egipt sayinge: aryse and take the chyld and his mother, & goo into the lande of Israel. For thei are dead which sought the childes lyfe. Then he arose vp, & toke the chylde & his mother, and came into the lande of Israel. But when he hearde that Archelaus dyd raygne in Jury, in the rowme of his father Herōde, he was afrayd to go thither. Notwythstāding after he was warned of God in a dreame he turned aside into the partes of Galile, & went and dwelt in a cytie called Nazareth, to fulfyl that which was spoken by the Prophetes he shalbe called a* Nazarite. Judi.xiii. a

The Notes

a* These were neither kynges nor princes but as Strabo sayth (which was in theyr tyme) sage mē amōg the persiēs as Moses was among the Hebrues, he sayth also that they were the prestes of the Persiens

d* Understand because Christe was borne ther Bethleē betokeneth the Christētie: whyche in the eyes of the worlde is lytle & byle: but in the eyes of god is great and precious.

c* To gouerne is, to order & rule ỹ people by lerninge & example. Act.xx.k.i. Timo, v.a where he speaketh of wedowes.

d* The Hebrues do often vse this worde worshyp, for doynge reuerence wyth inclynacion and bowing of the body, as ye haue. Ge. xxviii.a. and. i. Regum. xv.g. and. c, e* Of thys is also mencyon made in Macrobius, in the second boke & fourth chapter of his Saturnalles how Augustus Cesar, hearinge that Herode hadd lykewyse kylled hys owne sonne, sayd: It is better to be Herodes swyne than hys sonne.

f* That is because they were al putte too death and remayned not vnto hyr.

¶ The baptyme, preachyng and office of Jhon, and how Christ was baptysed of hym in Jordan.

The

The.iii.Chapter. ✠

A Mark.i.a Luke,iii,a. IN those dayes John ỹ Baptist came & preached in ỹ wyldernes of Jewry, saying: Repent, ỹ kingdō of heauē is at hand. This is he of whom it is spokē by the prophet Esay, which sayth The voyce of a cryer in wyldernes, prepare the Lordes waye, and make his pathes strayght. Thys John had hys garmēt of camels heare, and a gyrdell of a skynne about hys loynes. His meate was a* locustes and wylde honye. Then went oute to hym Jerusalem and all Jewry, and al the B region rounde aboute Jordan, and were baptysed of hym in Jordan, confessinge theyr synnes. ✠

✠ When he sawe many of the Pharises and of the Saduces come to his baptyme he sayd vnto them: O generation of b* vipers, who hath taught you to flē frō the vēgeaunce to come? Bringe forth therfore ỹ fruytes belonging to repentaunce. And se that ye ones thinke not to saye in your selues, we haue Abrahā to oure father. For I saye vnto you, that God is able of these stones to rayse vp chyldrē vnto Abraham Euen now is the axe putt vnto the rote of the trees: so that euery tree which bringeth not forthe good fruyte, is hewen downe & cast into the fyre.

I baptyse you in water in tokē of repētaunce: but he that commeth after me, is mightier thē I, whose shoes I am not worthy to beare. He shal baptyse you with the C holy goost and wyth fyre: which hath also hys fan in his hand, and wyll pourge hys floure, and geather the c* wheat into hys garner, and wyl burne the chaffe wyth vnquenchcable fyre. ✠

✠ Thē came Jesus frō Galile to Jor D dan vnto John too be Baptysed of hym. Vt But John forbade him saying: I ought to be baptised of the: & comest thou to me? Jesus answered & sayde to hym. Let it be so now. For thus it becometh vs to fulfyl d* all righteousnes. Then he suffred hym And Jesus as soone as he was baptysed, came streyght out of the water. And lo, heauē was opē ouer hym: & John sawe ỹ spirite of God descende lyke a doue & lyghte vpō him. And loo, there came a voyce frō heauen sayinge: This is that my beloued sonne in whom is my delyte. ✠

The Notes

a* They be certayn beastes, which ỹ people of Parthia and of Ethiopia dyd cōmenly vse to eate as affyrmeth Plin. in the vi. boke the. xxiv. chapt. and. xvi. boke and. xxx. chapter yet do some holde opinion, that they be ỹ toppes or (as we call them) buddes of trees or fruytes

b* They be certeyn serpentes that breake theyr mothers belyes at theyr byrth & so kyll them: Plin, in the tenth boke. Chap. xvi

c* By the wheat and the chaffe are vnderstande the good and the euell. Luke, iii, c d* Al righteousnes: that is, to do al ỹ ordynaunces of God for such purpose as God ordayned them for ¶ Christ fasteth and is tempted: he calleth Peter, Andrew, James & Jhon, and healeth all the syche.

The.iiii.Chapter. ✠

THen was Jesus led awaye of the spirite into wyldernes, to be tempted of the deuyl. And when he hadde fasted fourty dayes and fourty nightes, he was afterward an hungred. Thē came to him the tempter, & sayd: yf thou be the sonne of God cōmaunde that these stones be made bred. He answered & sayd: it is wrytten, man shal not lyue by bread onlye, but by euery worde that proceadeth out of the mouth of God. A Jesus fasteth.

Thē the deuyl toke hym vp into ỹ holy citie, & sette him on a pinacle of the tēple, & sayd vnto him: yf thou be ỹ sonne of God cast thy selfe downe. For it is writtē: he shal geue hys angels charge ouer ỹ, & wt theyr handes they shal bold the vp ỹ thou dashe not thy foote againste a stone. And Jesus said to him: it is writtē also: * Thou shalt not tempte thy Lord God. Psalm. xci. B Deute. vi.

The deuyl toke him vp agayne & ledd him into an exceding hye mountayne, and shewed him al the kingdōs of the worlde, & all the glorye of thē, and sayde to hym: all these wyl I geue the, yf ỹ wilt fall downe & worshyp me. Thē sayd Jesus vnto him Auoyd Satan. For it is writtē, * ỹ shalte worshyp the Lord thy God, and hym only shalt thou serue. Deu. vi. c, & x. d

Then the deuyl left hym, & beholde, the angels came & ministred vnto hym. ✠

✠ When Jesus had hearde that John was taken, he departed into Galile & lefte Nazareth, & went & dwelt in Capernaum whych is a cytie vpon the see, in the costes of Zabulon & Nepthalim, to fulfyll that that whych was spoken by Esay the Pro-

C Esaye.ix.a phet, sayinge:*The land of Zabulō and Nephthalim, thee waye of the see beyonde Jordan, Galile of the Gentils, the people which sat in darknes, saw great light, & to thē which sate in the region & shadowe of death, lyght is begon to shyne.

Frō that tyme Jesus began to preach, and to saye: a*repent, for the kingdom of heauen is at hande. ✠

✠ As Jesus walked by the see of Galile he saw two brethren: Simō which was called Peter, & Andrew his brother, castinge a net into the see, for they were fishers, and he sayde vnto them, folowe me and I wyll make you fyshers of men. And they streyghte waye lefte theyr nettes, and folowed hym.

D And he went forth from thence, & sawe other two brethrē, James the sonne of Zebede, & John his brother, in the shyp wyth Zebede theyr father, mēdinge their nettes and called them. And they wythout taryinge lefte the shyp and theyr father and folowed hym ✠

✠ And Jesus went about al Galile, teachyng in theyr synagoges, & preachyng the b*gospel of the kingdō, & healed al maner of sycknes, & al maner diseases amōg the people. And his fame spreade abrode thorowout al Siria. And they brought vnto him al sycke people that were taken wyth diuerse diseases & gryppinges, & them that were possessed with deuyls, & those whych were lunatyke, & those that had the palsye and he healed thē. And there folowed him a great nombre of people, from Galile, ✠ and from the ten cytyes & from Jerusalē, and from Jewry, & from the regions that lye beyond Jordan.

The Notes

a* to repent, is, to forthinke & to leaue & chaūge their euel lyfe, for the loue of vertue & hate of synne, as in Mark. i. b. Actes. iii. d b* The gospel is an opē shewing and preachyng of the grace & redemptiō obtained & geuen thorow Christe.

C In thys Chapter & in the two nexte folowing is contayned the most excellent and louyng Sermon of Christ in the mount: Which sermō is the very keye that openeth the vnderstandinge into thee lawe. In this fyfth chapter specially he preacheth of the. viii beatitudes or blessinges, of mānslaughter, wrath and anger: of aduoutrye, of swerynge, of suffring wrong and of loue euen toward a mans enemyes.

The. v. Chapter. ✠

WHē he saw the people he wēt vp into a moūtayne, & when he was set, his disciples came to hi, & he opened his mouth, and taught thē sayinge: blessed are thee a*poore in spyrete for theirs is the kyngdom of heauē. Blessed are they ℓ mourne: for they shalbe confforted. Blessed are the meke: for they shal enherete the erth Blessed are they which b*honger & thurst for righteousnesse: for they shalbe fylled. Blessed are the mercyful: for they shal obteyne mercy. Blessed are the pure in herte: for they shall se God. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shalbe called the c*children of God. Blessed are thei which suffre B persecutiō for righteousnes sake: for theirs is the kyngdom of heauen. Blessed are ye when mē reuyle you, and persecute you and shall falsely saye all maner of euyll sayinges agaynste you for my sake. Reioyce and be gladde, for great is youre d*rewarde in heauen. ✠ For so persecuted they the Prophetes whyche were before youre dayes.

✠ Ye are the salt of ℓ earth: but yf the salt haue lost hir saltnes, what cā be salted therwith? It is thence forthe good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troaden vnder fote of mē. Ye ar ℓ light of ℓ world A citie that is set on an hyll, cānot be hyd, nether do mē light a candel, and put it vnder a bushell, but on a candelstycke, and it lyghteth al that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may se your good workes, and glorifye your father whych is in heauen. ✠

✠ Thinke not that I am come to destroy the law, or ℓ prophetes: no I am not come to destroye thē, but to fulfyll thē. For truly I say vnto you, tyl heuen and erthe perysshe, one iott or one tyttle of the law shal C Luk. xvi. D not scape, tyll al be fulfylled.

Whosoeuer breaketh one of these leest cōmaundementes, and teacheth men so, he shalbe called the leest in the kingdō of heauen. But whosoeuer e obserueth and teacheth, the same shalbe called greate in the kyngdom of heauen. ✠

✠ For I say vnto you, except your righteousnes exceade the righteousnes of thee Scribes & Pharises, ye cannot entre into the kingdom of heauen.

Ye

Ye haue herde how it was sayd vnto thē of ȳ old tyme: Thou shalt not kil. For whosoeuer killeth, shalbe in daūger of iudgemēt. But I say vnto you, whosoeuer is angry with his brother, shalbe in daūger
D of iudgemēt. Whosoeuer sayth vnto hys brothers *Racha, shalbe in dāger of a coūsel. But whosoeuer saith thou fole, shalbe in daunger of hel fyre.

Therfore whē thou offrest thy gyfte at the aulter, and there remembrest that thy brother hath ought against the: leaue ther thyne offerynge before the aulter, & go thy way fyrst and be reconcyled to thy brother, and then come and offre thy gyfte. ✠

✠ Agre with thyne aduersary quickly, whyles thou art in ȳ way wyth him, lest ȳ aduersary deliuer the to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer the to the minister, and then thou be cast into preſō. Verely I say vnto the: thou shalt not come out thēce b* tyl ȳ haue payed the vtmost farthinge.

Ye haue herde how it was sayd to thē of old tyme. Thou shalt not cōmit aduoutrye. But I say vnto you, that whosoeuer loketh on a wyfe, lustynge after her, hathe commytted aduoutrye wyth her alreadye in hys herte.

Wherfore yf thy ryght eye offende the E p* plucke hym out, & cast hym frō the. Better it is for thee that one of thy members perysche then that thy hole body shulde be cast into hel. Also yf thy ryght hand offend the, cut hym of and cast him from the. Better it is that one of thy membets perysshe, then that all thy bodye shuloe be caste into hell. ✠

It is sayd, whosoeuer put away his wyfe, let him geue her a testimonial also of ȳ deuorcemēt. But I say vnto you: whosoeuer put away his wife (except it be for fornicatiō) causeth her to breake matrimony. And whosoeuer maryeth her that is deuorced, breaketh wedlocke.

F Agayne ye haue heard how it was said to thē of old tyme, thou shalt not forswere thy self, but shalt perfourme thyne oth to God. But I saye vnto you, sweare not at Sweare all: neyther by heauen, for it is Goddes seate: nor yet by the earth, for it is hys fote stole: neyther by Jerusalē: for it is the citie of that greate Kynge: neyther shalte thou sweare by thy head, because thou canst not make one whyte heare or blacke. But your communication shalbe, yea, yea: nay, nay. For whatsoeuer is more then that, cōmeth of euyll.

nota yea/yea nay/nay

Ye haue heard how it is sayd, an eye for an eye: a toth for a toth. But I say to you ȳ ye resist not wrōg. But whosoeuer geue ȳ a blowe on thy right cheke, turne to hym the other. And yf any mā will sue the at the lawe, & take awaye thy coote, let hym haue thy cloke also. And whosoeuer wyl cōpel the to go a myle, go with him twayne. Geue to him that asketh, & frō him that wold borowe, turne not awaye.

exod.xxi.c deutero.xix.c leuit.xxiiij.c luke.vi.c

Ryghte cheke G

✠ Ye haue heard how it is sayd: ȳ shalt loue thine neyghbour, & * hate thyne enemye. But I saye vnto you, loue your enemyes. Blesse thē that curse you. Do good to thē that hate you. Praye for thē whych do you wrōg & persecute you, that ye may be the chyldren of your father that is in heauen: for he maketh hys sunne to aryse on the euel, and on the good, and sendeth hys rayne on the iuste and vniuste. For yf ye loue them, whych loue you: what rewarde shal ye haue? Do not the Publicans euen so? And yf ye be frendly to youre brethren only: what synguler thinge do ye? Do not the Publicans lyke wyse? ye shal therfore be perfect, euen as your father which is in heauen, is perfecte

The Notes

a* Of these poore in spyrite is sayd. Lu. vi. d

b* To haue hōger & thyrst of righteousnes is, to desyre the pure and true Innocēcie, of whych desyre be those greuously troubled & sore perplexed that know theyr synnes, wher of it is sayde. Luke. i. e c* Those be called the chyldren of God, vnto whome the Lorde by hys promes hath done hys godlye benefytes more abundantlye than to other, as in Deut, xiiii, a, Joh, i. b. c.

d* Reward is geuen to men for theyr worke/ but it is not due to the worke: as it is sayde after in the. xx. a e* that do as many as saye/ that these christes Commaundementes/ contayned in these v. vi. and. vii. Chapters are but councelles/ in as moche as Christe hym self calleth them here commaundementes.

f* to obserue the lawe/ is/ to do that thee lawe byddeth wythe free and lyberall harte/ that is/ gladly to lyue to god/ and to do wel/ yea though we hadde no lawe / John. viii. c/ Roma/ xiii/ c/ gala/ b/ b g* Chrisost sayth that it is a worde of thee Syriens speach/ by which is shewed that the mynde is moued to anger. But vnder thys worde fole/ dothe S. Austyne and Chrisosto.

vnderstande all maner of Iniurye of opprobrious and spitefull wordes
h* Tyll thou haue payed, &c. / thys pro-ueth not that he shall come out after, nomore then these wordes. Math. i. d / tyll she hadde broughte forth her fyrst sonne, proue that she hadde one after, or Genes. xxii. that another rauen shal come, Loke the places
p* To plucke out the eye is, to mortifie
the concupyscence of thee herte proceadinge by the meanes of the eye, and lykewise to cut of handes and fete, as Mat. xix. b. Mar. ix. a Luke. vi. d
k* Thys / hadde the Scribes and pharyses added to them selues / because of that whi che is wrytten Exod. xxxiiii. b. Deute. vii. a Iosue xxiii. c. of haupnge no kanlyarite or amitie wyth the nacions.

¶ Of Almes, prayer & fasting He forbiddeth the ca-refull seking of worldly thinges.

The. vi. Chapter. ✣

A TAke hede to youre almesse.
That ye geue it not in ỹ sight of men, to the intẽt ỹ ye wold be sene of them. Or els ye get no reward of your father wht che is in heauẽ. Wherẽ soeuer therfore thou geuest thyne almes, thou shalt not make a trompet to be blowẽ before the as the ypo crytes do in the synagoges & in the stretes for to be praysed of men. Verely I say vn to you, they haue theyr rewarde. But whẽ thou doest thyne almes, a* let not thy lyfte hande knowe what thy ryght hand doth, that thyne almes maye be secrete: and thy father whych seyth in secrete: shal reward the openly. ✣

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the ypocrytes are. For they loue too stande and praye in the synagoges, and in the corners of ỹ stretes, because they wold
B be sene of men. Verely I saye vnto you, they haue theyr rewarde. But when thou prayest, entre into thy b* chambre, & shutt thy dore to the, & praye to thy father which is in secrete: and thy father whych seyth in secrete, shal rewarde the openly.

And, when ye praye, bable not moch, as the heathen doo: for they thincke that they shalbe hearde, for their moche bablynges sake. Be ye not lyke them therfore. For youre father knoweth wherof ye haue nede before ye aske of hym. After thys maner therfore praye ye.

O oure father whyche arte in heauen, halowed be thy name. c* Lett thy kingdõ come. Thy wyll be fulfylled, as well in earth, as it is in heauẽ. Geue vs this daye oure daylye bread. And forgeue vs oure trespases, euen as we forgeue oure trespa cers. And leade vs not in to temptation:
but delyuer vs frome euyll. For thyne is the kyngdom and the power, and the glorye for euer. Amen. For and yf ye shal for- nota Amen geue other men their trespasses, your hea uenly father shal also forgeue you. But & ye wyll not forgeue men their trespases, nomore shal your father forgeue you your tretrespases.

✣ Moreouer when ye faste, d* be not sadde as the ypocrytes are. For they disfy gure their faces, that they myght be sene of men howe they faste. Verely I say vn- C to you, they haue their reward. But thou when thou fastest, annoynte thyne heade, and washe thy face, that it appere not vnto men howe that thou fastest: but vnto thy father whych is in secrete: and thy father whyche seyth in secrete, shall rewarde the openlye.

Se that ye geather you not treasure vppon the earth, where rust and moul- Treasure thes corrupte, and wher theues breake tho roughe & steale. But geather ye treasures together in heauen where nether ruste nor moulthes corrupte, and where theues ney ther breake vp nor yet steale. For whersouer youre treasure is, there wyll youre hea tes be also. ✣

The lyghte of thee e* bodye is thyne eye. Wherefore yf thyne eye be syngle all thy body shalbe full of lyght. But and yf thyne eye be wycked then al thy body shal be ful of darkenes. Wherfore yf the light that is in the, be darckenes: howe great is that darkenes.

✣ No man can serue two maisters. For Two ma ether he shal hate the one & loue the other: sters.
or els he shal leane to the one & despyse the D
other: ye cannot serue God & Mammon.
Therfore I saye vnto you, be not careful for your lyfe, what ye shal eate, or what ye shal drinke, nor yet for your bodi, what ye shal putt on. Is not thy lyfe more worthe thẽ meat, & the bodi more of value thẽ ray mente? Beholde the foules of thee ayer:
for they sowe not, neyther reape, nor yet Foules carye

cary into the barnes: and yet youre heauenly father fedeth them. Are ye not moch better then they.

Wherfore yf god so cloth the grasse, which is to day in the feld, & to morow shalbe cast into the fournace, shall he not moche more do ꝑ same vnto you, O ye of lytle fayth?

Xylyes

Wherfore take no thoughte sayinge: what shall we eate, or what shall we drincke, or wherwith shal we be clothed? After al these thinges seke the gentyls. For youre heuēly father knoweth that ye haue neade of al these thinges. But rather seke ye fyrst the kingdō of heuen and the rightewesnes thereof, & all these thynges shall be mynystred vnto you.

✠ *Care not then for the morow, but lett ꝑ morow care for it selfe: for the day present hath euer ynough of his owne trauayle.

The forbiddeth foolysh & temerarious iudgement, ꝛe prayeth vpocrisie, exhorteth vnto prayer, warneth to beware of false prophetes, & so cōcludeth his sermō.

The.vii. Chapter.

IUdge not, ꝑ ye be not iudged. For as ye iudge so shal ye be iudged. And wt what mesure ye mete, wt the same shal it be mesured to you again. Why seyst ꝑ a moote in thy brothers eye, & perceauest not ꝑ beame that is in thyne owne eie. Or why saiest thou to thy brother: suffre me to pluck out the moote oute of thine eye, & behold a beame is in thyne owne eie. Ypocryte, fyrste cast oute ꝑ beame oute of thyne owne eye, and then shalte thou sle clearly to plucke oute the moote oute of thy brothers eye.

A

Geue not ꝑ which is a*holy, to dogges nether cast ye youre pearles before swyne, lest they treade them vnder their fete, & the other turne againe and al to rent you.

Aske & it shall be geuen you. Seke & ye shal fynd. Knocke & it shalbe opened vnto you. For whosoeuer asketh receaueth, & he that seketh findeth & to him that knocketh it shalbe opened. Is ther any man among you which yf his sōne asked him bred, wold he offer him a stone? Or yf he asked fishe, wold he proffer him a serpente? If ye then which ar euyll can geue to youre chyldren good giftes how moch more shall your father whych is in heauē geue good thinges to them that aske him.

B

Therfore whatsoeuer ye wold that men shuld do to you, euen so do ye to thē. This is the lawe and the Prophetes.

Lawe & Prophetes

Enter in at the strayte gate: for wyde is the gate, and brode is the way that leadeth to destruction: and many ther be which go in therat. But strayte is ꝑ gate, and narowe is the waye whych leadeth vnto lyfe: & fewe there be that fynde it. ✠ Beware of b*false Prophetes, whych come to you in shepes clothynge, but inwardlye they are rauenynge wolues. Ye shall knowe them by theyr frutes. Do men gather grapes of thornes? or fygges of bryers? Euen so euery good tree bryngeth forthe good frute. But a corrupte tree, bryngeth forthe euyll frute. A good tree cānot bryng forth bad frute: nor yet a bad tree cā bring forth good frute. Euery tree that bryngeth not forthe good frute, shall be hewen downe,

and

The Notes.

a* By this sheweth our sauyour christ, that he wylleth not vs to be esteamed or honoured of men for the gyfte: but that it shalde suffyce vs that we be alowed of god

b* Chābre here signifieth a secret place separate from all worldly noyse, where we go about soch thinges as we wold no man shulde know of/ as it is sayde Esay. xxvi. d. Soche a chambre mayst thou make of thyne owne herte, and there praye.

c* That is, that we whyche before haue serued the world, hereafter may come vnder the dompynyon and kyngdome of christ/ as he promiseth Mathew. xix/c d* By thys it appereth that the true fast is to put awaye attonce all wanton desyres and lustes, & ce and to rule thee bodye by conuenyent chastice & mortifying, as it is sayd in ꝑ Psal. xxxiii. c/ & Esa lviii/a e* The body here sygnyfyeth thee lyfe wyth the workes/ & the eye sygnyfyeth ꝑ thought and entent.

f* It is cōmaunded vs in the sweate of our face to wynne oure bread that trauayle must we dayelye/ dylygentlye and earnestlye doo: but not be carefull what profet shall come vnto vs thereof, for that were to carefor to morowe/ we muste therfore commytte that too God, whyche is ready to prospere oure labores wyth his blessinge/ and that aboundauntelie/ so that moste shall we profette whē we are leste carefull/and cast into ȳ fire. Wherfore by their frutes ye shal knowe them.

Not al they ȳ say vnto me, Lorde, Lorde shal entre in to the kyngdom of heauē: but he that dothe my fathers will which is in heauen. ✠ Many wyl saye to me in that day: Lorde, Lorde, haue we not in thy name prophesied? And in thy name haue cast oute deuyls? And in thy name haue done many miracles? And thē wyl I knowledg vnto thē that I neuer knew thē. * Depart from me, ye workers of iniquite.

Luke.xiii.f. Nota Dog gans ꝺ not in ȳ mus propho=

D Psa.vi.b Luk.xiii.f

Whosoeuer heareth of me these sayinges & doth ȳ same, I wil liken him vnto a wise mā which * bilt his house on a rok: & aboū dance of raine descended, & ȳ fluddes came & the wyndes blewe & bet vpon that same house & it fel not, because it was groūded on the rock. And whosoeuer heareth of me these sayinges & doth thē not, shalbe lykened vnto a folysh mā which bilt his house vpō the land: & aboundaunce of raine descended, & the fluddes came and ȳ wyndes blew and beet vpon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

And it came to pas, that whē Jesus had ended these sayinges, * ȳ people were astonyed at hys doctrine. For he taught thē as one hauing power, and not as the scribes.

Mark.i.c. Luke.iiii.c

The Notes.

a* Thys holy thynge is goddes word. Dogges are they that persecute the word, by Swine vnderstande them that walow them selues in the dyrte of fleshlye lustes and regarde not the worde. Philyp.iii.a

b* False prophetes are preachers that peruert & wrest the word of god. Shepe skynnes sygnifye ȳ aperaunce of outewarde holynes, Rauenynge wolues / are tyrauntes ȳ delyte in persecutyon and shedyng of innocēt bloud Act.xx.f

c* Thys symplytude of buyldyng is to reare vp and to enstruct mennes cōsciences by ȳ word of the law and the gospell Roma.xiii.d

¶ Christ clenseth the leper, healeth the captaines seruaunt and many other dyseases, helpeth peters mother in law, stylleth the see and the winde, & dryueth the deuels out of the possessed in to the swyne.

The.viii. Chapter.

A marked.d

A leper.

When he was come downe frō thee moūtayne, moche people folowed hym. And lo, ther came a leper and worshypped him sayinge: Master yf thou wylte thou canste make me clene. And Jesus put forth his hand & touched him sayinge: I wyll, be thou clene, & immedyatlye hys leprosye was cleansed. And Jesus sayd vnto hym: se thou tell no man, but go and shew thy selfe to the preste, & * offer the gifte that Moses commaunded in wytnesse to them.

Leuit.xiii.a Luke.vii.a

✠ When Jesus was entred into Capernaum ther came vnto him a certayne Centuriō, and besought him sayinge: ✠ Master, my seruaunt lyeth sycke at home of the palsye, and is greuously payned. And Jesus sayd vnto him: I wil come and heale him. The Centurion answered and sayd: Syr I am not worthy ȳ thou shuldest come vnder my rofe, but speake the worde onelye & my seruaunt shalbe healed. For I also my selfe am a man subiecte to the authorytye of another, and haue soudyars vnder me and I saye to one go, and he goeth, and to another come and he comethe: & to my seruāt, do thys, and he doeth it. When Jesus heard ȳ, he marueled and sayde to thē that folowed hym: Verely I saye vnto you, I haue not found so greate fayth: no, not in Israel. ✠ I say therfore vnto you that many shal come frō the east and weest & shall rest wt Abrahā, Isaac and Jacob in ȳ kyngdom of heauē: and the children of the kingdom shalbe cast out in to vtter darcknesse: there shalbe weppynge and gnasshynge of teth. Then Jesus sayde vnto the ✠ Centurion, go thy waie, and as thou beleuest so be it vnto the. And hys seruaunt was healed the selfe houre. ✠

Cēturiō. Luke.vii.a Joan.iiii.g

B

Luk.xiii.g

vtter darkenes

And thē Jesus wēt to Peters house, and sawe his wiues mother lying sycke of a feuer, and touched hir hād and ȳ feuer lefte hir: and she arose, and ministred vnto thē.

Marke.i.c Luke.iiii.c

When the cuē was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed wt deuyls. And he cast out ȳ spirites wt a word, and healed al that were sick, to fulfyl that which was spokē by Esayas the Prophet sayinge: ✠ He toke on him our infyrmytyes, and bare oure sycknesses.

C Esay.liii.b

When Jesus sawe moche people about hym, he cōmaunded to go ouer thee water. And ther came a Scribe & said vnto him: Master, I wil folow the whyther soeuer ȳ goeste. And Jesus sayde vnto hym: the foxes haue holes, and the bryddes of ȳ aier haue nestes, but the a* sōne of the mā hath not wher on to rest hys heed. Another that was of hys Dysciple sayde vnto him: master, suffre me fyrste to go and burye my father, father. But Jesus saide vnto him: folowe me, and let the deed burye theyr deed.

Luke.ix.g

✠ And he entred into a shyp, & hys Disciples folowed him. And behold ther arose a great tẽpest in the see, in so moche that the shypp was couered with waues, & he was a slepe. And hys Disciples came to him, & awoke him saying: Master saue vs, we perysshe. And he said to them: why ar ye fearful, O ye of litel faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the wyndes and the see, & there followed a great calme. And ỹ mẽ marueiled & sayd: what mã is this, that both windes and see obey hym? ✠

And whẽ he was come to ỹ other syde, into ỹ coũtre of the Gergesites, ther met him two possessed of deuils, which came out of the graues, & were out of measure fearce, so ỹ no mã might go by ỹ way. And behold they cried out saying: O Jesu ỹ sonne of god what haue we to do wt ỹ? Arte thou come hyther to torment vs before the tyme be come? And ther was a good way of frõ them a great heerd of swyne feedyng. Thẽ the deuyls besought him sayinge: yf thou cast vs out, suffre vs to go oure waye into ỹ heerd of swyne. And he sayd vnto thẽ go youre wayes. Then went they out, and departed into the heerde of swyne. And behold ỹ whoale heerd of swyne was caryed with violẽce hedlynge into the see, & perysshed in the water. Then the heerdemen fleed & wẽt their waies in to the cytye, and told euery thing, & what had fortuned vnto ỹ possessed of the deuyls. And behold al the cytie came out & met Jesus, and when they saw him, they besought hym to departe out of their coostes.

Mark. v. a. Luk. viii. b

Mark. v. d.

The Notes.

a* Christ calleth hym selfe ỹ sonne of mã, ỹ is very natural man, shewyng in ỹ hys humylyte & goodnes, which humbled him selfe so lowe for our saluacyon.

This healeth the palsye, called Mathew from ỹ custome, answered for his disciples, healeth ỹ woman of the bloudy yssue, helpeth Jairus daughter, geueth 2. blindmen theyr syght, maketh a domme mã to speke, and dryueth out a deuel'.

The .ix. Chapter. ✠

Palsye

And he entred into a shyppe & passed ouer & came in to hys owne citie. And lo, they brought to hi a mã sycke of the palsie, lying in his bed. And whẽ Jesus saw the fayth of them, he sayd to ỹ sycke of the palsie: sonne be of good chere, thy sinnes be forgeuẽ the. And behold certaine of the Scribes saide in them selues, this mã blaspheameth. And whẽ Jesus sawe their thoughtes, he sayde: Wherfore thinke ye euyll in youre hertes? Whether is easyer to saye, thy synnes be forgeuen thee, or to saye: aryse and walke? That ye maie knowe that the sonne of man hathe power to forgeue sinnes in erth, then sayd he vnto the sycke of the palsye: ✠ aryse, take vp thy bed, & go home to thyne house. And he arose & departed to hys owne house. And when the people sawe it, they marueyled & glorifyed God whyche had geuen soche power to men. ✠

This myracle shalbe a sygne to you, that I haue power to forgeue synnes

Mark. ii. a. Luke. v. c. John. v. b

✠ And as Jesus passed forth frõ thẽce, he saw a mã syt a receauyng of custome, named Mathew, & said to hi: folow me. And he arose & followed hi. And it came to passe as he sat at meat in the house: behold many Publycãs & sinners came & sate downe also with Jesus and hys Disciples.

Mathewe

B

Whẽ the Pharises saw that, they sayd to hys Disciples: why eateth your master wt Publicans and synners? Whẽ Jesus heard that, he saide vnto them: The whole neade not the Phisicio, but they ỹ ar sycke. Go & learne what ỹ meaneth: I haue pleasure in mercy, & not in offrynge. For I am not come to cal the rightewes, but the synners to repentaunce. ✠ publicãs eate with Jesus.

Mercy & not sacrifyce Ose. vi. c

✠ Then came the Disciples of John to him sayig: why do we & the Pharises fast often: but thy Disciples faste not? And Jesus said vnto them: can the weddyng chyldre mourne as longe as the brydegrome is with them? The tyme wyll come when the brydgrome shalbe taken from them, & thẽ shal they fast. No man peeceth an olde garment wyth a pece of newe clothe. For then taketh he away the pece agayne from the garmẽt, & the rent is made greater. Neither do men put new wine into olde vessels for then the vessels breake, & the wyne rũneth oute, & the vessels perysshe. But they powre new wyne into new vessels & so ar both saued together. ✠

John's disciples faste

Newe & olde agree not

✠ Whyle he thus spake vnto thẽ, *behold de ther came a certayne ruler, and worshipped him, saying: my daughter is euẽ nowe deceased, but come & lay thy hãde on her & she shal lyue. And Jesus arose & folowed

Mark. v. c. Luke. viii. c

C

hym

him with his disciples. And beholde a woman whyche was diseased wythe an yssue of bloud. xii. yeres, came behinde him & touched the heme of his vesture. For she said in her selfe: yf I may touche but euen hys vesture onlye, I shalbe safe. Then Jesus turned him aboute, & behelde her sayinge: Daughter be of good cõfort, thy a* fayth hath made ỹ safe. And she was made whole euen that same houre.

And whẽ Jesus came into ỹ rulers house, & saw ỹ minstrels & ỹ people ragynge, he sayde vnto them: get you hence, for the maid is not deed, but sleepeth. And they laughed hym to scorne. As sone as the people were put forth, he wẽt in & toke her by ỹ hãde, & the mayd arose. And thys was noised throughout all that lande.

And as Jesus departed thẽce, two blinde mẽ followed hym crying and saying: O ỹ sõne of Dauid haue mercye on vs. And when he was come home, ỹ blynd came to him. And Jesus said vnto thẽ: Beleue ye ỹ I am able to do this? And they sayd vnto him: ye lord. Thẽ touched he theyr eies, saying: according to youre fayth be it vnto you. And their eies were opened. And Jesus charged them saying. See that no mã know of it. But they as sone as they were departed, spred abroade his name throughout all the lande.

As they went out, *behold, they brought to him a dome mã possessed of a deuil. And as soone as ỹ deuil was cast out, the dõme spake. And ỹ people merueiled, sayinge: it was neuer so sene in Israel. But ỹ Pharises said: he casteth out deuils, by the power of the chefe deuyll.

And Jesus wẽt about al cities & townes, teachyng in their synagoges & preachyng the glad tidinges of the kingdom, & healig al maner sickines and dysease amonge the people. But when he saw ỹ people, he had cõpassion on thẽ. because they were pyned awaye, & scattered abroade, euen as shepe hauyng no shepherde.

Then sayde he to his dysciples, the b* harueste is greate, but thee labourers are fewe. Wherfore praye the Lorde of thee harueste, to sende forthe labourers in to hys harueste.

The Notes.

a* Fayth is ỹ ryghtwesnes of a chrystẽ mã/ whych setteth at peace the cõscyence, & receaueth ỹ herytage euerlastinge, galat. iii. a b* The harueste ar the hertes of mẽ prepared to heare the word as it appereth of ỹ Samarytanes. John iiii. c ¶ Christ sendeth out his. xii. Apostles to preach in Jewry, giueth them charge, teacheth them, and cõforteth them agaynst persecutyon and trouble.

The. x. Chapter.

And he called his. xii. disciples vnto him, & gaue them power ouer vncleane spyrites, to caste thẽ oute, and to heale all maner of sicknesses, & all maner dyseases. A Mar. vi. b Luke. ix. a

The names of the. xii. Apostles ar these. The fyrst, Symon called also Peter: & Andrew hys brother. James the sonne of Zebede and John hys brother. Philyp & Bartlemew. Thomas and Mathewe the Publican. James the sõne of Alphe, and Lebbeus otherwyse called Taddeus. Symon of Cane, and Judas Iscarioth, whyche also betrayed him. The apostles are sente

These. xii. dyd Jesus send, & commaunded them sayinge: Go not in to ỹ wayes ỹ leade to gentyls, & into the cyties of ỹ Samaritans enter ye not. But go rather to ỹ loste shepe of the house of Israel. Go and preache: sayinge: that the kyngdom of heauen is at hand. Heale the sycke, clense the lepers, rayse the deed, caste oute the deuyls. Frelye ye haue receaued, frelye geue agayne. Posses not gold nor syluer, nor a*brass B in youre gyrdels, nor yet scrypp towardes your iorney: nether .ii. cotes, nether shoes, nor yet a staffe. For the workman is worthi to haue his meat. Into whatsoeuer citye or towne ye shal come, enquire who is worthy in it, and there abyde tyll ye go thence. And when ye come in to an house, salute the same. And yf the house be worthye, youre peace shall come vpon it. But yf it be not worthye, youre peace shall retourne to you againe.

And whoso euer shall not receaue you, nor wyll heare youre preachynge: when ye depart oute of that house or that citie, shake of the dust of youre fete. Trulye I say vnto you: it shall be easyer for the land of Zodoma and Gomorra in the daye of iudgement, then for that cytye. Luke. x. b Dust. Shepe as mõg wolues

Beholde I sende you forthe as shepe amõge wolues. Be ye therfore wise as serpẽtes, and innocent as doues. Beware of men, for they shall delyuer you vp to the Wyse as serpentes Innocẽte as doues.

cōcels, and shall scourge you in theyr sy= nagoges. And ye shalbe brought to ẏ heed rulers & kinges for my sake, in witnesse to them and to the Gentyls.

But when they delyuer you vp, take ¶ no thought howe or what ye shall speake,
The spy ryte speaketh i vs for it shalbe geuen you, euen in that same houre, what ye shall sate. For it is not ye ẏ speake, but ẏ spryte of youre father whych speaketh in you. The brother shal betraye the brother to deeth, & thee father the sōne.
And the chyldren shall aryse agaīst their father & mothers, & shal put them to deeth:
and ye shall be hated of all men for my na me. But he that endureth to the end, shall be saued.

When they persecute you in one cytie, flye in to another. I tel you for a truth, ye shall not fynysche all the cytyes of Israel, Disciple til the sonne of man be come. The disciple is not aboue his master: nor yet the seruaūt te aboue his Lorde. It is ynough for thee disciple to be as hys master is, and that ẏ seruaunt be as hys Lord is. If they haue called the Lord of the house[b]* Beelzebub how much more shall they call them of his housholde so? Feare them not therefore.
There is nothyng so closse, that shal not be opened, and nothynge so hyd, that shal not be knowen.

What I tel you in derknes, ẏ speake ye in light. And what ye heare in ẏ eare, that preache ye on the house toppes.

And feare ye not thē which kyll ẏ body, Feare and be not able to kil the soule. But rather feare hī, which is able to destroi both soule & body into hel. Ar not two sparowes sold Sparo- for a farthing? And none of thē doth light wes. on the grounde, without youre father. And now ar al the heres of youre heades num= bred. Feare ye not therefore: ye are of more value then many sparowes.

Whosoeuer therfore shal knowleg me before mē, him wil I knowledg also before Confesse my father which is in heuē. But whoso e= uer shal dente me before mē, hī wyll I also denye before my father which is in heuen.

Denye. Thinke not, that I am come to sende peace into ẏ erth. I came not to send peace, but a swearde. For I am come to set a mā
A swerd at varyaunce agaynst hys father, and the daughter agaīst her mother, and ẏ daugh ter in law agaynst her mother in law: And a mannes foes shall be they of hys owne housholde.

He that louethe hys father, or mother more thē me, is not mete for me. And he that louethe hys sonne, or daughter more thē me, is not mete for me. And he ẏ taketh not hys crosse and followeth me, is not me te for me. He that *kyndeth hys lyfe, shal lose it: and he that losethe hys life for my sake, shall fynde it.

He that receaueth you, receaueth me: &
he that receaueth me, receauethe hym that Recea sent me. He that receauethe a Prophet in ẏ name of a Prophete, shall receaue a Pro= phetes rewarde. And he that receauethe a rtghteous mā in the name of a rightcouse mā, shal receiue his reward of a righteous Mark.
man. ‡ And whosoeuer shal geue vnto one of these lytle ones to drynche, a cuppe of colde water only in the name of a disciple:
I tell you of a truethe, he shall not lose hys rewarde.

The Notes.

a* That is, money of brasse.

b* Beelzebub is the name of an Idol, sygnt fynge the master or Lord of a flee/ by which name ẏ Iewes called the deuell.

c* To fynd his lyfe, is to satisfie ẏ desyre of hys herte.

¶ John Baptist sendeth his disciples vnto Chryst which geueth them their answere, rebuketh the vn= thankful cyttes and louyngly exhorteth mē to take his yocke vpon them.

The .xi. Chapter.

And it came to passe whē Je= A sus had made an end of com= maūding his .xii. disciples, ẏ
he departed thence, to teache & to preach in theyr cytyes.

‡ When John beynge in prison hear Luke.
de the workes of Christ, he sent two of hys dyscypples and sayde vnto hym. Arte thou he that shal come: or shall we loke for ano ther. Jesus answered and sayde vnto thē.
Go and shewe John what ye haue heard and sene. The blynde se, the halte go, the le pers are clensed: the deef heare, the deed ry se agayne, and the glad tydynges is preа= ched to the poore. And happie is he ẏ is not offended by me.

And as they departed, Jesus began to speake vnto the people of John. To se what, went ye out into ẏ wyldernes? went ye out to se a* rede shakē withe ẏ wynde other what went ye oute for to se? A man clothed in softe raymēt? Behold thei that weare

weare sooft clothing are in kinges houses
But what wēt ye out for to se? A prophet?
Yea I sayd to you & more then a Prophet
B For thys is he of whom it is wrytten. Behold, I send my messenger before thy face whych shal prepare thy way before the. ✠ ✠ Verely I saye vnto you, amonge the chyldren of wemen arose there not a greater then John the Baptist. Notwithstan-Christ why he humbled hym self to the crosse was to be Lukes vi ding he that is lesse * in the kingdō of heuē is greater then he. From the tyme of John Baptiste hytherto the kingdom of heauen suffereth violence, and they that goo to it wych violence plucke it vnto them. For al the Prophetes & the law Prophesyed vnto the tyme of John. And also yf ye wyll receaue it, thys is Helias whyche shoulde come. He that hath eares to heare lett hym heare. ✠

C But wher vnto shal I lyken this gene ration? b* It is lyke vnto chyldrē whyche syt in the market & cal vnto theyr folowes and saye: we haue pyped vnto you, and ye haue not daunsed? We haue mourned vn to you, & ye haue not sorowed. For John came nether eating nor drinking, and they saye, he hath the deuyll. The sonne of man came eating and drinking, and they saye, beholde a glutton and drinker of wyne, &
a frende vnto publicans and synners. Ne uertheles c* wysdomme is iustyfyed of her chyldren.

✠ Thē began he to vpbrayd the cyties in which most of his myracles were done, because thei mēded not. Woo be to the Cho razin. Woo be to the Bethsaida: for yf thee myracles which were shewed in you, hadd bene done in Tyre & Sidō, they had repē ted long a gone in sack cloth & asshes. Ne-uertheles I say to you: it shalbe easyer for Tyre & Sidon at the daye of iudgement, then for you. And thou Capernaū, whiche art lyft vp vnto heauen, shalt be brought D downe to hel. For yf the myracles whyche haue bene done in the, had bene shewed in Sodom: they had remayned to this daye.
Neuertheless I saye vnto you: it shall be easyer for the land of Sodom in the daye of iudgement, then for the. ✠

✠ At that tyme Jesus answered & said:
I prayse the o father Lord of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these thinges from the wyse and prudent, & hast opened them vnto babes: euen so father, for so it pleased the. All thynges are geuē vnto me of my father. And nomā knoweth ꝑ sonne but the father: nether knoweth any mā the father, saue the sonne, and he to whom the sonne wyll open hym.

Come vnto me all ye that a* labour & are laden & I wyl ease you. Take my yock on you & lerne of me, for I am meke & lolye in hert: & ye shal fynde reste vnto your soules. For my yocke is easy, and my burden is lyghte. ✠

The Notes.

a* The rede is a fygure of the doctrine ꝑ is not of god/ which waueth wt euery wynde.
b* Here is a prouerbe as is sayd/ Esa. xxvi a/ sygnyfying/ by dyuers wayes haue we go ne aboute to styre you to thākes geuynge/ but ye haue by noo meanes bene moued ther to c* Wysdom is iustyfyed &c, That is, they ꝑ are the chyldrē of God/ receaue his doctryne and hys word as truth & wysdom/ al though the contrary part do not so receaue it
d* Yethat labour &c, Those are here counted to laboure that knowledge theyr synnes and are poore in spyrete,

The disciples plucke the eares of corne, he excuseth them, healeth the dryed hande, helpeth the possessed that was blynde and domme, rebuketh the vnkyndfull that wolde nedes haue tokens, and sheweth who is his brother, syster and mother.

The.xii. Chapter. ✠

AT that tyme Jesus wente on the Saboth dayes thorow ꝑ corne and hys dysciples were an hongred, & began to pluck the eares of corne, & too eate.
Whē the Pharises saw that, they sayd vn to him: Behold, thy disciples do that why-che is not lawful to do vpon the Saboth daye. He sayde vnto thē. Haue ye not rede what Dauid dyd, whē he was anhongred and they also which were with hym: How he entred into thee house of God, & ate the halowed loaues whyche were not lawfull for hym to eate nether for thē whych were wyth hym, but only for the prestes. Or ha ue ye not rede in the law, how ꝑ the prestes in the temple breake the Saboth day, and yet are blameless? But I saye vnto you, ꝑ here is one greater then the temple. Wher fore yf ye had wyst what this saying mea Mercy & neth: I requyre mercy and not sacrifice: ye not sacry wold neuer haue cōdēned innocētes. For eyce the sonne of mās lord euen of the saboth daye.

And

And he departed thence, and went in to their synagoge: and beholde there was a man which had his hande dryed vp. And they asked him, saying: is it lawful to hea le vpon the Sabothe dayes? because they might accuse him. And he sayde vnto thē:
which of you wold it be, yf he had a shepe fallē into a pytt on the Saboth day, that wold not take hym and lyft him out? And how moch is a mā better thē a shepe? Wher fore it is lefull to do a good dede on thee
B Saboth dayes. Then sayde he to ỹ man:
stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it forth. And it was made whole agayne ly= ke vnto the other.

Mat.xii.a Iohn.v.g ✠* Then the Phariſes wēt out, & helde
a councel agaynste hym, how they myght destroy him. Whē Jesus knew that, he de parted thēce, & much people folowed him, and he healed thē all, & charged thē ỹ they shuld not make him knowē: to fulfil that which was spokē by Esay ỹ prophet wht= esay.xlii.a che sayeth. * Behold my child, whō I haue chosen, my beloued, in whō my soule deli= teth. I wil put my spyrete on him, & he shal shew iudgmēt to ỹ gētils. He shal not stry ue, he shal not crye, nether shal eny mā hea re hys voice in ỹ stretes, a broysed rede shal he not breake, and flaxe that begynneth to burne, he shal not quēche, til he send forth iuogmēt vnto victorie, & in his name shal
the gentyles truste. ✠

Then was brought to him, one possessed Luke.xi.c ỹ a deuyll whyche was both blynde, and dōme: & he healed hym, in so moche that he which was blynde & domme, both spake & sawe. And al the people were amased, and said: * Is not this thee sonne of Dauid?
Mark.iii.c But when ỹ Phariſes heard that, they sai luke.xi.f de: This felow driueth ỹ deuils nonother wyse out but by the helpe of Belzebub the chefe of the deuyls.

Belzebub

But Jesus knew theyr thoughtes & say de to them. Euery kyngdom deuided with in it selfe, shalbe brought to naughte. Ne= ther shall eny cytye or housholde deuyded against it self, cōtinue. So yf Satan cast
C oute Satan, then he is deuyded agaynste hym selfe. How shal then his kynge dome endure? Also yf I by ỹ helpe of Belzebub cast out deuyls: by whose helpe do youre childzen cast them out? Therfore thei shal be youre iudges, But yf I cast out the de uils by the spyrite of god: then is the kyng dome of god come on you?

Ether how can a man enter into a strōge mannes house, & violently take away his goodes: excepte he fyrst bynde the strong mā and then spoile hys house? ✠ He that is not wt me, is against me. And he ỹ ga= thereth not wt me, scatereth abrode. Wher fore I saye vnto you, al maner of synne &
a* blasphemy shalbe forgeuē vnto men:
but ỹ blasphemi of ỹ spyrite, shal not be for geuē vnto mē. And whosoeuer speaketh a word against the sōne of mā, it shalbe for geuē hī. But whosoeuer speaketh against ỹ holy goost, it shal not be forgeuen him, no nether in this worlde * nether in the worlde to come. Ether make ỹ tree good, & his fru te good also: or els make the tree euel, and his frute euil also. For the tree is knowen by his frute. O generatiō of vypers, how can ye saye well, when ye youre selues are euyll? For of the aboundaunce of the hert the mouth speaketh. A good mā out of the good treasure of his hert bringeth forthe good thiges. And an euil mā out of hys e= uil tresure, bringeth forth euil thiges. But I say vnto you, ỹ of euery ydel word that men shal haue spokē: they shal geue a cōt tes at the day of iudgmēt. For by thy wor des thou shalt be iustyfyed: & by thy wor= des thou shalte be condemned. ✠

✠ Then answered certayne of the Scry bes & of the Phariſes sayīg: * Master, we Luk.xi.b
wolde faine se a signe of the. He ānswered max.viii.b & said to thē: The* euyl & aduouterous generacyon seketh a sygne, but there shall no sygne be geuē to thē, saue ỹ signe of the Prophete Jonas. For as Jonas was. iii.
dates & thre nyghtes in the whales belly:
so shalthe sonne of mā be thre dates & thre nightes in the hert of the erth. The mē of D Nintue shal ryse at the day of iudgmente with this nacyon, and condemne them: for they amended at the preaching of Jonas
And beholo, a greater then Jonas is here
* The quene of the south shal ryse at thee Iohn.xii.b
day of iudgmēt wyth thys generacyon, & iii.iii.reg.x.a shal condemne thē: for she came from the ii.Par.ix.a vtmost partes of the worlde to hear ỹ wis dome of Salomon. And beholde a grea= ter then Salomon is here.

Whē ỹ vncleane spyrite is gone out of a mā, he walketh throughout dry places, se=

kynge

king reste & findeth none. Then hesateth: I wyll retourne agayne into my house from whence I came out, And when he is come, he fyndeth ꝑ house empty & swepte & garnished. Then he goeth his wat, & taketh vn to him seuē other spretes wozse then him selfe, & so entre they in & dwell ther. And ꝑ ende of ꝑ man is wozse then ꝑ begynning Euen so shall it be with this euell nacyon.

Mat.xii.d. Luk.viii.c. Wohyle he yet talked to ꝑ people: * behold his mother & his brethrē stode wyth out, desyrynge to speake wyth him. Then one sayd vnto hym: beholde thy mother & thy brethren stande wythout, desyring to speake with the.

He answered & said to hym ꝑ told him: Who is my mother? oz who are my brethrē? And he stretched forth his hand ouer his disciples & said: beholde my mother & my brethren. For whosoeuer dothe my fathers wyl whiche is in heauen, the same is my brother, syster and mother.

The Notes.

a* Blasphemy is, whē mē se & knowe ꝑ opē and manifest truth of god & hys wozde, theyr consciences beyng fully certifyed therof, and yet notwithstanding wyl raple vpon it & persecute it to the vttermost of theyr power, sayinge it is of the deuyl & not of God. Mat.xii. d. luke/xii:b

b* That is neuer/as saynt Mark doth wel expound it in the thyrd Chapter.b

c* Euel and adulterous generacion are al those that beleue not in God & in hys sonne Jesus Chryst: Mark.ix.c. luke.ix.f

¶ The parable of the sede, of the tares, of the mustarde sede, of the leuen, of the treasure hyd in ꝑ feld of the perles, and of the nette

The.xiii. Chapter.

A Mat.xiii.a Luk.viii.a The same day went Jesus out of ꝑ house, and sat by the see syde, and moch people resorted vnto him, so greatly ꝑ he went, & sat in a shippe, and al the people stode on the shooze. And he spake manye thynges to thē in symylytudes, saying: Beholde, the sower went forthe to sow. And as he sowed, some fel by ꝑ wayes side, & ꝑ fowles came & deuoured it vp. Some fel vpō stony groūd where it had not moch erth, and anone it sprong vp, because it had no depth of erth: & whē the sūne was vp it caught heet, and for lacke of rotyng wydred awaye. Some fel amōg thornes, & ꝑ thornes spronge vp and choo ked it. Parte fell in good ground, and brought forth good frute: some an hūdred folde, some sixtie folde some thyrtie folde. Whosoeuer hath eares to hear let hi heare

And ꝑ disciples came and sayd to him: B Why speakest thou to them in parables? He answered and sayd vnto them, it is geuen vnto you to knowe the secretes of the kyngdome of heauen, but to them it is not geuen.a* For whosoeuer hath, to him shal be geuē: and he shall haue aboundaunce. But whoso euer hath not: from hym shal be taken away euen that he hathe. Therefore speak I to thē in similitudes: for though they se, they se not: & hearing they heare not: nether vnderstād. And in them is fulfilled the Prophesie of Esaias, which prophesie saith: with ꝑ eares ye shall heare & shal not vnderstande, and with ꝑ eyes ye shal se, & shal not perceaue. For thys peoples hertes are wexed gros, and their eares at dul of heryng, & theyr eies haue they closed lest they shuld se wꝫ theyr eyes, and heare with their eares, and shuld vnderstād with their hertes, & shuld tourne that I myght heale them.

But blessed are your eyes, for they se: & your eares, for they heare. Verely I saye C vnto you, ꝑ many Prophetes, and perfyte mē haue desyred to se those thinges which ye se, & haue not sene them: & to heare those thinges whyche ye heare, & haue not herde thē. Here are ye therfore the similitude of the sower. Whosoeuer heareth the worde of ꝑ b* kyngdō & vnderstandeth it not, ther cometh the cuyll man & catcheth awaye that whych was sowne in his hert. And this is he which was sowne by the way syde. But he that was sowne in the stony grounde, is he which heareth the word of god, & anone wyth ioye receaueth it, yet hath he no rotes in hym selfe, and therfore dureth but a sea sō: for as sone astribulation or persecutiō arryseth because of the worde, by and by he falleth. He that was sowne amōg thornes is he that heareth ꝑ worde of God: but the care of thys worlde, & the dysceytfulnesse of ryches choke the word, and so is he made vnfrutefull. He whyche is sowne in ꝑ good ground is he that heareth thee worde and vnderstādeth it: whych also bereth frute and bryngethe forthe, some an hundred folde, some syxtye folde, & some thyrtye folde.

Another

Another symylytude put he forthe vnto the sayinge:✣The kyngdom of heauē is D lyke vnto a mā which sowed good seed in his feld. But whyl men* slept there came his foo & sowed tares amonge the wheate, & went his waie. Whē the blade was sprō ge vp and had brought forth frute, thē ap pered the tares also. Then came the scruā tes to thee housholder, and said vnto him:
Syr sowedeste not thou good seed in thy closse, frō whence then hath it tares? He sai de to thē: the enuious man hath done this.
Then the seruaūtes sayde vnto him: wylt thou thē that we go & wede them out? But he sayd, nay, lest whill ye go aboute to we= de out ỹ tares, ye pluck vppe also with thē
the wheate by the rottes: let bothe growe to gether tyll hatueste coume, and in tyme of harueste, I wyll saye to the repers, gather ye fyrste the tares, and bynde them in she= ues to be brent: but gather the wheate into my barne. ✣

✣ Another parable he put forth vntō thē
Mar. iiii. d saying: The kingdom of heauē is lyke vn to a graine of mustard seed, which a mā ta keth and soweth in his feld, which is ỹ lest of al seedes. But whē it is growne, it is ỹ greateste amōg yearbes, and it is a tree: so ỹ the birdes of the ayer come & bylde in the braunches of it.

E Another similitudē sayd he to them. The kyngdō of heauē is lyke vnto leuē whiche a woman taketh & hydethe in. iii. peckes of of meele, tyll all be leueuoed.

Mar. iiii. c. All these thinges spake Jesus vnto thee people by similitudes, & wyth oute symply tudes spake he nothynge to them, to fulfil ỹ which was spoken by the Prophete say= Ps. lxxvii a ing: * I wyll open my mouth in symylytu des, & wyl speake forth thynges whych ha ue bene kept secrete from the begynnynge of the worlde. ✣

✣ Then sent Jesus the people awaye, & came home. And hys dysciples came vnto him, saying: declare vnto vs ỹ symylitude of the tares of the feld. Then answered he & sayd to thē. He that soweth the good seed Tares is ỹ sonne of mā. And the feld is ỹ worlde.
arre expō And the chyldren of the kingdom, they are ded the good seed. And ỹ tares are the childrē of the wicked. And the enemie that soweth them, is the deuil. The harueste is the ende of the worlde. And the repers be ỹ Angels.
For euen as the tares ar gathered & brent in the fyre: so shall it be in the ende of thys worlde, * The sonne of mā shal send forth Apoc. xiiii e his Angels, and thei shal gather out of his F kingdom all thynges that offende, and thē whych do iniquite, & shall cast them into a furnes of fire. There shalbe wayling and gnashing of teth. * Then shal the iust men Sapie. iii shine as bright as the sonne in the kingdō of theyr father. Whosoeuer hath eares to heare, let him heare. ✣

✣ Agayne the kyngdom of heauen is lyke vnto treasure hydde in the felde, ỹ whi= che a man kyndeth and hydeth: and for ioy thereof goeth and selleth al that he hath, & bieth that felde.

Agayne ỹ kingdome of heauē is lyke to a marchaūt ỹ seketh good pearles, whiche
whē he had fouūd one precious pearle, wēte and solde al that he had, and bought it.

Agayne the kyngdom of heauē is lyke vnto a neet cast into the see, that gathereth of al kyndes of fisshes: which whē it is ful, men drawe to lande, & sytte and gather ỹ good in to vessels, and caste the bad awai. G
So shall it be at the end of the worlde. The Aungels shall come oute and seuer ỹ bad from the good, & shal cast them into a fur= nes of fyre: ther shall be waylinge & gnas= shynge of teth.

Jesus said vnto them. Vnderstād ye al these thinges? They sayd: ye Lorde. Then said he vnto thē: Therfore euery * Scri= be whych is taught vnto the kyngdome of heauē is lyke an housholder, whyche bryn= geth forth, out of his treasure, thinges both newe and olde. ✣

And it came to pas whē Jesus had fynis= shed these symylytudes, that he departed thence, & came into his owne countre, and taught thē in their synagoges, in so moche that thei were astonyed & saide: whence co=
meth al thys wysdom & power vnto him?
Is not this the Carpenters soune? Is not his mother called Mary? and hys brethrē be called James and Joses and Symon and Judas? And are not his sisters al here wyth vs? Whence hath he all these thyn=
ges. And they were offended by hym. Thē Jesus sayde too them, a Prophete is not wythoute honoure, saue in hys owne coun tre, and amonge hys owne kynne. And he dyd not many myracles there, for there vn beleefes sake.

The Notes.

a That is/To him ꝑ hath a good herte to warde godes worde to fulfyll it/shalbe more grace geuē. And to him that hath not, shall be takē away euen thee same knowledge that he hath/and hys hert so hardened that he shal not repent.

b* Kingdom syguifieth here the gospell: by whyche god raygneth in the heartes of thee faithful: & the same signifieth chryste whych is oure kyng & oure kyngdō/ raignig in vs/ and in whome we raygne as we prayse. Mat. vi/b/c* This slepe signifieth, the negligēce and ignorance that men haue of god/whych cōmeth by the carefulnes of ryches & pleasures of this worlde.

d* Scribe after Erasmus in his annotacyōs was he that had ꝑ office of interpretyng & answering vnto ꝑ sentences of thee Prophetes as it apereth of Herode asking ꝑ Scrybes in the third Chapt. afore. c

John is taken and headed. Christ fedeth fyue thousande men with .v. loues and two fysshes, and appeareth by nyght vnto his disciples vpon the see.

The .xiiii. Chapter.

AT that tyme Herode the* Tetrarcha heard of ꝑ fame of Jesu & said vnto his seruaūtes: this is John ꝑ Baptist. He is risen agayne from deeth and therfore are soch myracles wrought by hi. For Herode had taken John, & bound him & put him in prisō for Herodias sake, hys brother Philips wyfe. For John said vnto him: it is not lawful for ꝑ to haue her. And when he wolde haue put hym to deethe, he feared the people, because thei counted him as a Prophete.

But whē Herodes birth daie was come the daughter of Herodias daunsed before thē, & pleased Herode. Wherfore he promysed w an othe, ꝑ he wold geue her whatsoeuer she wold ask. And she being informed of her mother before, sayde: geue me here John Baptistes heed in a platter. And the kig sorowed. Neuertheles for his othes sake, & for their sakes which sate also at ꝑ table, he cōmaūded it to be geuē her: & sente & beheaded John in ꝑ prisō, & his heed was brought in a platter & geuē to the damsell, & she brought it to her mother. And his disciples came & toke vp his bodye, & buryed it: and went and tolde Jesus.

John Baptiste is heded.

Mat. xiiii. b. Mar. vi. d.

Whē Jesus heard that, he departed thence by shyppe into a deserte place oute of the way. And when the people had heard therof, thei folowed him a fote out of theyr cities. And Jesus wēt forth & sawe moche people, and hys herte dyd melte vpon thē, & he healed of them those that were sycke. When euen was come, his disciples came to hi saying: thys is a desert place, & ꝑ day is spēt: let the people depart, that they may go in to the townes, and bie them vytalles. But Jesus sayde to them: They haue no neade to go awaye. Geue ye them to eate. Then sayde they vnto him: we haue here but .v. loues and two fysshes. And he sayd: bryng thē hyther. And he cōmaūded ꝑ people to sit downe on the grasse, and toke the .v. loues & the .ii. fysshes, & loked vp to heauen and b* blessed, & brake & gaue ꝑ loues to his disciples, & the disciples gaue thē to the people. And thei did al eat, & were sufficed. And they gethered vp of the gobets ꝑ remayned .xii. baskets full. And they that ate, were in nombre aboute .v. M. men, besyde weimen and chyldren.

c And streight way Jesus made his disciples enter into a shippe, and to go ouer before him, whyl he sēt the people away. And as sone as he had sent the people away, he went vp into a mountayne alone to praye. And whē night was come, he was there hi selfe alone. And the shyppe was now in the middes of the see, and was tost w̄ waues, for it was a cōtrari wid. c* And in ꝑ fourth watch of the nyght Jesus came vnto them walking on the see. And whē his disciples saw hym walkynge on the see, they were troubled, saying: it is some spryte, & cryed out for feare. And streight way Jesus spake vnto them sayinge: be of good cheare, it is I, be not afrayed:

John .vi. b Mark .vi. c

Peter answered him, and saide, Master: yf thou be he, bid me to come vnto the on ꝑ water. And he saide, come. And whē Peter was come downe out of the shyp, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. But whē he sawe a myghty wynde, he was afrayed. And as he beganne to syncke, he cried saying: master saue me. And immediatlye Jesus stretched forth his hād, & caught him, & said to him: O thou of litel faith, wherfore dedest thou dout? And assone as they were come into ꝑ shippe, the wynd ceased. Then they that were in the shyppe, came and worshypped hym, sayinge: of a truth thou art the sonne of god. And when they were come ouer, come ouer, they wente into the lande of Ge

D nazareth. And whē the men of ỹ place had knowledge of hym, they sent out into all ỹ countre rounde aboute, and brought vnto him all that were sycke, and besought him, that they myght touche the hemme of hys vesture onlye, And as many as touched it were made safe.

The Notes.

a* Tetrarcha that is a lord of the fourth parte of Juda/for Juda was deuyded into .iiii partes as sayth Eusebyus Lyb. i/ cappitle/ x/

b* To blesse, in moost places of ỹ new testament is to prayse god & to geue him thankes as after in the xv. i Mar.iiii. luk xviii.

c* The hebrewes deuyded ỹ nyght into iiii. partes whych they called the.foure watches/ Wherfore the fourth watche was next to the morynge and was called the morynge watche/as in the i reg,xi.c

¶ Christ excuseth his disciples, & rebuketh the scrybes and Pharises for transgressynge Gods cōmaundement thorow their owne tradycyons. The thynge that goeth into the mouth defylethe not the man. He deliuereth the womā of Cananees daughter, feleth the multitude, & with, v. i, loaues & a fewe litle fyshes fedeth .iiii. M. men. besyde wemen and chyldren.

The.xv. Chapter. ✠

THen came to Jesus Scribes & Pharises from Jerusalem sayinge: why do thy disciples transgres the tradicions of ỹ elders? for they wesh not their handes when they eate bread. He āswered & sayde vnto them: why do ye all so transgresse the commaundement of God, thorow youre tradycyons? For god commaunded sayinge: honoure thy father & mother & he that curseth father or mother shall suffer deeth. But ye saye, euery man shal saye to his father or mother: that which thou desyrest of me to helpe the with: is geuē god: so shall he not honoure hys father or hys mother. And thus haue ye made, that thee commaundemente of god is wythout effecte, through youre tradycyons. Ypocrytes, well prophesyed of you Esayas sayinge: This people draweth nye vnto me wythe their mouthes, & honoureth me wyth theyr lyppes, how be it their hertes are farre frō
B me: but in vayne they worshyppe me teachynge doctrynes, whych are nothyng but mens precepts.

And he called the people vnto hym, and sayd to them: heare & vnderstād, That whi che goeth into ỹ mouth, defileth not ỹ mā: but that whych commeth out of ỹ mouthe, defyleth the man.

Then came his disciples, and sayde vnto him: Perceauest thou not, how that ỹ Phariseis are offended in hearinge this saying? He answered and sayde: *al plantes why che my heauenly father hath not planted, shalbe plucked vp by the rotes. Let thē alone, they be ỹ blynde leaders of the blynd. If the blynde leade the blynde, both shall fal into the dyche.

Then āswered Peter & sayd to him: declare vnto vs this parable. Then sayd Jesus ar ye yet without vnderstanding? perceaue ye not, ỹ whatsoeuer goeth in at ỹ mouthe, descendeth downe into ỹ bely, & is cast out into ỹ draught? But those thynges whych procede out of the mouth, come frō ỹ herte, & they defyle the man. For out of the heart come euil thoughtes, murder, breaking of wedlock whordom, theeft, false wytnesse berynge, blasphemye. These are thee thynges whych defyle a man. But to eate wyth vnwasshen handes, defilethe not a man. ✠

[nota that comes of ỹ herte & defyles a man]

[nota] not to eate vnwasshen handes defyleth not a man

✠ And Jesus wēt thence, & departed into the costes of Tire and Sidon. And behold a womā which was a Cananite came out of ỹ same costes, & cryed vnto hi sayinge: haue mercy on me lord thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is pyteously vexed wt a deuil. And he gaue her neuer a word to answere. Thē came to him his disciples, & besought hym sayinge: send her away, for she foloweth vs crying. He answered, & sayd: I am not sēt, but vnto the lost shepe of the house of Israel. Then she came & worshipped him, sayinge: master helpe me. He answered & sayd: it is not good, to take thee chyldrens bred, & to cast it to[b]* dogges. She āswered & sayd: truthe Lorde, neuertheles the dogges eate of the crōmes, whyche fall frō their masters table. Then Jesus answered & saide vnto her. O womā great is thy fayth, be it to thee, euen as thou desyrest. And her daughter was made whole cuē at that same houre. ✠

[nota great ỹ fayth]

Thē Jesus went awaye from thence, & D came nie vnto ỹ see of Galyle, & wēt vp into a moūtaine & sat downe ther. And moch people came vnto him, hauyng with them, halt, blind, domme, maimed, and other many: & cast thē downe at Jesus fete. And he healed thē, in so moche that the people wondred, to, se the domme speake, thee maymed whole, & halt to go, & the blynde to se. And they glorifyed the God of Israel.

Then Jesus called his disciples to him, & sayd: I haue compassion on the people because they haue contynued wt me now .iii. dayes, & haue nought to eate: and I wyll not let thē departe fastynge, leste they perysshe in the waye: And his disciples sayde vnto him: whence shulde we gett so moche bredde in the wyldernes as shuld suffyse so greate a multitude? And Jesus said vnto thē: how many loues haue ye? And they sayd: seuen, and a fewe lytle fysshes. And he cōmaunded the people to sytt downe on the grounde: and toke ỹ seuē loues, & ỹ fyshes, & gaue thankes, and brake them, and gaue to his disciples, & the disciples gaue thē to the people. And they dyd al eate and were suffysed. And they toke vp the brokē meate that was left vii. baskettes ful. And yet they that ate were .iiii. M. men, besyde women and chyldrē. And he sent away the people, and toke shyppe & came into ỹ parties of Magdala.

The Notes.

a* Origen and chrysostom vnderstand this of the pharyses because of theyr euyl opynyons. Hylarius. And Erasmus vnderstand it of mennes tradycyons.

b* The Jewes cal the Gethē & gentils dogges, because of theyr ydolatry.

¶ The pharyses require a token. Jesus warneth his disciples of the pharises doctrine. The confession of Peter. The keyes of heauen. The layhefull muste beare the crosse after Christ.

The .xvi. Chapter.

A Mat. xvi. b Joh. vi. d Luke. xii. g

THen came the Pharises and Saducees, & dyd tempte hym, desiring him to shew them so me signe frō heuen. He answered & sayd vnto them. * At euen ye say, we shal haue fayre wedder and that because the skye is reed: and in ỹ morninge ye saye, to daye shalbe foule weder, and that because the skye is cloudye and reed. O ye ypocrytes, ye can discerne ỹ fassyon of the skye: & can ye not discerne thee signes of the tymes? The frowarde nacyō & aduoutrous seketh a signe, and ther shal no nother sygne be geuen vnto them but ỹ sygne of the * Prophete Jonas. So lefte he them and departed.

Jone. i. a

B And when his disciples were come to ỹ otherside of the water, thei had forgottē to take bred wt thē. Then Jesus sayde vnto them: Take hede & beware of the * leuē of the Pharises & of the Saduces. And they thought in thē selues sayīg: because we haue brought no bred wt vs. Wherē Jesus vnderstode that, he sayde vnto them. O ye of litel fayth, why are youre myndes cūbred because ye haue brought no breed? Do ye not yet perceaue, nether remēber those .v. loues when there were .v. M. men, & how many baskets toke ye vp? Nether thre. vii. loues whē ther were iiii. M., & how many baskets toke ye vp? Why perceaue ye not thē, that I spake not vnto you of bred, whē I sayde, beware of the leuē of the Pharises & of the Saduces? Then vnderstode they, howe that he bad not them beware of thee leuē of breed: but of ỹ doctryne of the pharises, and of the Saduces.

C Mat. xvi. c Luke. ix. b

✠ When Jesus † came into the costes of the cittie which is called Cesarea philippy, he asked hys dysciples sayinge: whom do men say ỹ I the sonne of mā am? They say de, some saye that thou arte John Baptist, some Helyas, some Jeremyas, or one of ỹ prophetes. He sayde vnto them: but whom saye ye that I am? Simon Peter āswered & sayde. † Thou art Christ the sonne of the lyuynge God: And Jesus answered & said to him: happy arte thou Simon ỹ sōne of Jonas, for flesshe & bloud hath not opened vnto ỹ that, but my father which is in heauē. And I say also vnto ỹ ỹ thou art Peter and b * vpon this rock I wyl bylde my congregatiō And c * ỹ gates of hel shal not prayle against it. And d * I wyl geue vnto ỹ, the keies of the kyngdō of heuē: what soeuer ỹ bindest vpon erth, shall be & bounde in heuē: & whatsoeuer thou loosest on erth, shalbe lowsed in heauen. ✠

mat. xvi. d Luke. ix. c

Then he charged hys dysciples, ỹ they shoulde tell no mā, that he was Jesus christe. From that tyme forth Jesus began to shewe vnto his disciples, how that he must go vnto Jerusalem, & suffer † many e thynges of the elders, & of the hye Prestes, & of the Scribes, & must be kylled, & rise agayne the thyrde daye. But Peter toke hym aside, and began to rebuke hym saying: master fauer thy self, thys shal not come vnto the. Thē turned he aboute, & sayde vnto peter: come after me Satan thou offendest me, because thou sauourest not godly thinges, D but worldly thynges.

Jesus

Jesus then sayd to his disciples. If eny mā will folowe me *let him forsake hi self & take vp his crosse & folowe me. For who soeuer will saue hys life, shall loose it. And whosoeuer shal loose hys life for my sake, shall finde it. What shall it profet a man, though he shuld winne al the whole world yf he loose hys owne soule? Or elles what shal a mā geue to redeme his soule againe wt al? For ỹ sonne of mā shall come in the glory of hys father, wt hys angels: & then shal he reward euery mā accordyng to hys dedes. Verely I say vnto you, some ther be among them that here stande, whych shall not tast of death, tyl they shall se the sonne of man come in hys kyngdome.

The Notes.

a* Leuē is sometyme taken in ỹ scripture in an euel sence/as here, & some tyme in a good sence, as aboue in the thirtene chapter.

b* Upon thys rocke, that is, as sayth sayne Austen vpon the confession wych thou hast made. knowledgynge me to be christ the sonne of the lyuyng god: I buylde my congregacion or churche.

c* By the gates of hel are sygnyfyed death, hel, desperacyon synne/vyolent & tyrānious handelynge/persecutyon &c d* To ỹ I wyll geue the keyes &c. Origen wrytynge vpon Mathew in hys fyrst homili/ affyrmeth that these wordes were as wel spoken to all the reste of the Apostles as to Peter & prouethe it by that christ John. xx. c sayth Receaue the holy goost, whose synnes soeuer ye remyt &c. and not ỹ remyttest &c. In the same oppynyon ar Tertullian, Cipryan, Austen and Jerome/and wyth diuers other old auctent doctours.

e* To forsake hym self &c. is vtterly to do agaynst the wyl of hys flesshe/mortyfyeng the affectyons of hys mynde/workyng the glory of god and the profyt of hys neyboure as is sayde rom. xb. phylyp. ii.

¶ The transfyguracion of Christ vpon the mounte of Tabor. He healeth the lunatyke, & payeth tribute.

The. xvii. Chapter.

A Nd after vi. dayes Jesus toke Peter and James & John his brother, & brought thē vp into an hie mountaine out of ỹ wat, and was transfygured before them: and hys face dyd shyne as the sunne, and hys clothes were as whyte as the lyghte. And be hold there apered vnto thē, Moses and Helyas, talkynge wythe hym. Then ānswered Peter, & sayd to Jesus: master here is good beynge for vs. If ỹ wilt, lett vs make here .iii. tabernacles, one for the, & one for Moses and one for Helyas. Whyll he yet spake, beholde a bright clou de shadowed them. And *behold ther came a voyce out of that cloude sayinge: thys is my deare sonne, in whom I delite, heare hi. And when the dysscyples hearde that, they fell on theyr faces and were sore a frayed. And Jesus came and touched them, and sayde: aryse and be not afrayed. And when they looked vp, they sawe no man, saue Jesus onlye.

B Matth. xvii. mar. i. b. & ix. Luke. iii. e. and. ix. e

And as they came downe frō the mountayne, Jesus charged them sayinge: se that ye shewe the vision to no mā, vntyl the sonne of man be rysen agayne from deethe. ✠ And hys disciples asked of him, sayinge ‡. Why then say ỹ Scribes, ỹ Helias muste fyrst come? Jesus answered, & sayde vnto them: Helyas shall fyrst come, & restore all thynges. And I saye vnto you that Helyas is come alredy, and they knew hym not: but haue done vnto him what soeuer they lusted. In lykewyse shall also the sonne of mā suffre of thē. Thē the disciples perceaued ỹ he spake vnto thē of John Baptiste. And whē they were come to the people, ther came to hi a certayne man, & kneled downe to him: & sayd: Master haue mercye on my sonne for he is lunatycke: & is sore vexed. And oft times he falleth into the fyre, and oft in ỹ water. ‡ And I brought him to thy dissyples, & they coulde not heale him. Jesus ānswered & sayd: O generacion faythles & croked: how long shal I be with you? how lōge shal I suffre you? bryng hym hyther to me. And Jesus rebuked the deuil, & he came out of him. And ỹ chyld was healed euen at that same houre. ✠

Then came ỹ dyscyples to Jesus secretly, & sayde: Why could not we cast hi out? Jesus said vnto thē: Because of youre vnbeleefe. For I saye verely vnto you: ‡ yf ye had fayth as a grayne of mustard seed, ye shulde saye vnto thys mountayne, remoue hence to yōder place, & he shuld remoue: nether shulde eny thinge be vnpossible for you to do. How beit this kynde goeth not out, but by prayer and fastyng. As they passed ỹ tyme in Galile, Jesus sayd vnto thē: ‡ the sonne of man shall be betrayed into ỹ handes of men, and they shall kyl hym, & the thyrde daye shall he ryse agayne. And they sorowed greatlye

C Mark. ix. b Luke. ix. e

D Luk. xvii. b

✠ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that were wonte to gether polle money, came to Peter & sayd: Doth youre master paye tribute? He sayd: ye. And whē he was come into ỹ house, Jesus spake first to hym, saying: What thinkest ỹ Symon? of whom do ỹ kinges of the erth take tribute or polle money? of their chyldren, or of straungers? Peter sayd vnto hym: of straungers. Then sayd Jesus vnto hym again: Then are ỹ children fre. Neuertheles: lest we should offend thē: go to ỹ see, & cast in thyne angle, & take the fysshe ỹ fyrste cometh vp: & whē thou hast opened his mouthe: ỹ shalt fynde a pece of twentie pēce: that take and pay for me and the.

¶ He teacheth his disciples to be humble & harmles: to auoyde occasyons of euel, and one to forgeue another offence.

The.xviii. Chapter.

At the same tyme the disciples came vnto Jesus saying: & who is the greatest in the kyngdō of heuen? Jesus called a childe vnto him, & set hym in the middes of them, & sayde: Verely I say vnto you: except ye tourne, & become as children, ye cannot enter into the kyngdome of heuen. Whosoeuer therfore hūble him self as thys childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdō of heuē. And whosoeuer receaueth such a child in my name, receaueth me. But whosoeuer offende one of these lytelons, which beleue in me: it were better for him that a mylstone were hāged about hys necke, & that he were drowned in the depthe of the see. Woo be vnto the worlde because of offenses. How be it, it cannot be auoided but that offences shalbe geuē. Neuertheless woo be to the man, by whom the offence cometh.

Wherfore yf thy hande or thy fote offēd ỹ * cut him of & cast hym frō the. It is better for ỹ to enter into lyfe halt or maymed, rather then ỹ shuldest haue inge two hādes or two fete, be cast into euerlastig fire. And yf also thyne eye offend the, pluck hyt oute & cast hit frō the. It is better for ỹ to enter into lyfe wt one eye, then hauing two eyes to be cast into hel fyre. See ỹ ye despise not one of these litelones. For I say vnto you, that in heuē their angels alwayes behold ỹ face of my father, which is in heuē. For & ỹ sonne of mā is come to saue that which is lost. How thynk ye? If a man haue an hundred shepe, & one of thē be gone astray, doth he not leue nynty & nyne in the moūtains, & go & seke that one whyche is gone astraye? * If it happen that he fynd hym, verely I say vnto you: he reioyseth more of thee shepe, then of the nynty & nyne which wēt not astraye. Euen so it is not thee wyll of your father in heuen, that one of these lytelons shulde perysshe.

Moreouer * yf thy brother trespace agaynst the. Go & tell him hys faute betwene him and the alone. If he heare thee, thou hast wone thy brother: But yf he heare the not, then take yet wt the one or two, that in the mouth of two or thre witnesses, al thynges maye be stablished. If he heare not the tell it vnto thee congregacyon. If he heare not the cōgregacion, take him as an hethē mā & as a publican. Verely I sai vnto you * whatsoeuer ye bynd on erth, shalbe boūde in heauen. And whatsoeuer ye lowse on erth, shalbe lowsed in heuen. Agayne I sai vnto you, that yf two of you shall agre in erthe vpon eny maner thynge, whatsoeuer they shall desyre: it shall be geuen them of my father which is in heuē. For wher two or thre ar gathered to gether in my name, ther am I in the middes of them.

Then came Peter to hym, & sayde: master how ofte shall I forgeue my brother, yf he synne agaynste me, seuen tymes? Jesus sayd vnto hym: I say not vnto the seuen tymes: but seuenty tymes seuē tymes.

¶ Therfore is ỹ kyngdom of heuē lykened vnto a certaine king, which wold take a coūtes of his seruauntes. And when he had begone to reken, one was brought vnto him, which ought hī ten thousād talētes: whō because he had nought to paye, his master cōmaūded him to be solde, & his wife, & his children, & al that he had, & payment to be made. The seruaūt fel downe & besought him saying: Sir, geue me respite, & I wil pay it euery whit. Then had ỹ lorde pytye on that seruaunt, & lowsed him, & forgaue hym the det.

And ỹ sayde seruaunt went out & found one of his felowes which ought him an hundred pēce, and leyed handes on him, & toke him by the throote, saying: paye me that ỹ owest. And his felowe fel downe & besought hym saying: haue pacience with me, & I wyl pay the al. And he wold not but wēte and te and cast him into prefō, tyl he shuld pay the det. Whē his other felowes sawe what was done, they were very sory, and came & tolde vnto their Lorde al that had happened. Then his Lorde called him and sayde vnto him. O euil seruaunt I forgaue thee al that det, because thou praydest me: was it not mete also that thou shuldest haue had compassion on thy felow, euē as I had pytte on the? And hys lord was wroth, & deliuered him to ye iaylers, tyll he shuld pay all Wath. vi. b Mark. x. d that was due to hym. So*lykewyse shall my heuenly father do vnto you, excepte ye forgeue vō youre heartes, eache one to hys brother their trespaces. E a* Cut him of This expoūded in what b e.

The Notes.

b* Whatsoeuer ye binde &c that is whatsoeuer ye condempne by my worde in earthe, the same is condempned in heauen. And that ye alowed by my worde in erth, is alowed in heuen.

¶ Christ geueth answere concerning maryage, and teacheth not to be careful nor to loue worldly riches

The. xix. Chapter.

AND it came to passe, when Iesus had fynyshed those sayinges, he gat hym from Galyle, and came into ye costes of Iewry beyonde Iordan, and moch people folowed hym, and he healed them there.

Marke. x. a* *Then came vnto hym thee Pharyses tempting him, & saying to him: Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wyfe for al maner of causes? He answered and sayde
Gene. i. d vnto them: Haue ye not redde, howe ye he* whyche made mā at the begynnynge, made Gene. ii. d ephesi. v. g. i. Cor. vi. d. thē man & womā and sayd: *for this thynge, shall a mā leue father & mother & cleue vnto his wife, & thei twaine shalbe on flesh. Wherfore now ar they not twaine, but one flesshe. Let not man therfore put a sunder, ye which god hath cuppled togeather. Thē sayde they to hym: why did Moses cōmaūde to geue a testymonyal of dyuorsement and to put her awaye? He sayde vnto thē: Moses because of the hardenes of youre hertes suffered you to put away your wyfes: But frō the beginnynge it was not so. I saye therfore vnto you whosoeuer putteth away hys wyfe (excepte it be for fornycacion) & marieth another breaketh wedlocke. And whosoeuer maryeth her whyche is dyuorsed, doth commit aduoutry.

Then sayd hys disciples to hym: yf the matter be so betwene man & wyfe, then is it: not good to marye. He sayde vnto them: al men can not awaye with that saying saue they to whō it is geuen. There are chast, which were so borne out of their mothers belly. And there ar chaste, which be made of men. And there be chaste, whiche haue made them selues chaste* for the kingdō of heuens sake. He that cā take it, let hi take it. Then were brought to him yonge chyldrē that he shuld put hys hādes on thē & pray. And the disciples rebuked them. But Iesus said: suffre ye childrē & forbidd thē not to come to me: for of such is the kingdō of heuen. And when he had put hys hādes on them he departed thence. B

And beholde one came, & sayd vnto hym: good master, what good thynge shal I do, that I may haue eternall life? He sayd vnto him: why callest thou my good? there is none good but one, & ye is god. But yf thou wylt entre into lyfe, kepe the cōmaūdemētes. The other sayde to hym: Whyche? And Iesus sayde: breake no wedlocke, kyll not: steale not: beare not false wytnesse: honour father & mother: & loue thy neybour as thy self. And ye young mā said vnto hi: I haue obserued al these thinges from my youth, what lacke I yet? And Iesus sayde Marke. x. c. Luk. xviii. c. ano. xii. d vnto him* yf ye wylt be perfect, go & sel ye ye haue, and geue it to the poore, & thou shalt haue treasure in heuen, & come and folowe me. When the yonge mā herd that sayinge, he went away mournynge. For he had greate possessions. C

Thē Iesus sayd vnto his disciples: Verely I say vnto you: it is herde for a ryche mā to enter into the kingdō of heuen. And moreouer I saye vnto you: it is easyer for b*a camel to go through ye eyl of a nedle, then for a c*ryche mā to enter into ye kyngdō of God. When his disciples heard that, they were excedyngly amased, saying: who thē cā be saued: Iesus beheldе thē, & sayde vnto thē: With men this is vnpossible, but with god all thynges are possyble.

✠ Then answered Peter, and sayde to him: Behold, we haue forsaken al and folowed the, what shal we haue? Iesus sayd vnto them: verely I say to you: when ye sōne of man shall syt in the seat of his mate-

ste, ye which folow me in ȳ second generacio shal syt also vpō .xii. seatz a iudge ȳ .xii tribes of Israel. And whosoeuer forsaketh houses, or brethrē, or sisters, other father, or mother, or wyfe, or childrē, or lādes, for my names sake, ȳ same shal receaue an hūdred fold, a shal inheret euerlastyng lyfe. ✠ Many a nye that are fyrste shalbe laste, and the laste shall be fyrste.

The Notes.

a* For ȳ kingdom of heuēs sake/that is, to the entent that they may the more quietlye/& freely worke the wyll of god.

b* Theophilactus readeth a table. ȳ greke word signifieth both Camel and gable.

c* He is here called ryche ȳ putteth his confydence in hys goodes, which thynge they do that haue al theyr delyte and ioy therin/as in luke/xii/c

¶ Christ teacheth by a symilitude that god is better vnto no man, and how he is alwaye callynge men to his labour. He teacheth his disciples to be lowlye, & geueth two blynde men their syght.

The .xx. Chapter.

For the kingdome of heuen is lyke vnto an housholder, whiche wēt out early in ȳ morynge to hyer labourers in to hys vyneyarde. And he agreed wt ȳ labourers for a peny a day, a sent thē into his vyneyarde. And he wēt out about ȳ thyrde houre, a sawe other stādyng ydel in the market place, a sayd vnto thē, go ye also into my vyneyarde: a whatsoeuer is ryght, I will geue you. And they went theyr waye, Agayne he went out about the syxt a nynthe houre, and dyd lykewyse. And he went out about ȳ eleuenth houre a founde other standynge ydell, a sayde vnto them: Why stand ye here al the daye ydel? They sayde vnto hym: because no man hath hyred vs. He sayd to them: go ye also into my vyneyard, a whatsoeuer is ryght, that shal ye receaue.

When euē was come, the Lord of the vyneyard sayd vnto his steward: cal ȳ labourers, a geue thē their hyer, begynnynge at the laste, tyll thou come to thee fyrste. And they which were hyred about the eleuenthe houre, came a receaued euery man a peny. B Thē came the fyrst, supposing ȳ they should receaue more, a they likewyse receaued euery mā a penny. And whē they had receaued it, they murmured agaynst the good man of the house sayinge: These last haue wrought but one houre, a thou hast made them equal vnto vs, which haue borne the burthen and heet of the daye.

He answered to one of them sayinge: frende I do the no wronge: dydest thou not agree wt me for a pēny. Take that whych is thy duty, and go thy way I wyl geue vnto this last, as moch as to ȳ. Is it not lawful for me to do as me listeth with mine owne? Is thyne eye cuyll because I am good? * So the laste shall be fyrste, and thee fyrste shalbe last. For many are called and fewe be chosen. Luke.xiii,f. Marke,x.c.

✠ And Iesus ascēded to Ierusalem and toke the .xii. disciples a parte in ther waye, a sayde to them. * Beholde we go vp to Ierusalem, and the sonne of man shalbe betrayed vnto the chefe Prestes, and vn to ȳ Scribes, and they shall condemne hym to deeth, and shall delyuer hym to the gētyls, to be mocked, to be scourged, and to be crucyfyed: and the thyrde daye he shall ryse a gayne. C Mark. x.c. Luk, xviii, c

✠ Then came to him the mother of zebedes childrē with her sonnes, * worshippinge him and desyrynge a certayne thynge of him. And he said vnto her: what wilt thou haue? She sayde vnto him: Graunte that these my two sonnes may syt, ȳ one on thy ryghte hand and the other on the lyfte hād in thy kyngdome. mark:,x.c

Iesus answered and sayd: Ye wote not D what ye aske. Are ye able to dryncke of the cuppe ȳ I shall drink of, and to be baptysed with ȳ baptyme, that I shall be baptysed wt? They answered to him, that we ar. And he sayde vnto thē: Ye shal dryncke of my cup a shalbe baptyled wythe thee baptyme that I shalbe baptysed with. But to sit on my right hād a on my lyft hande, is not mine to geue: but to them for whō it is prepared of my father. ✠

* And when the ten heard this, they dysdained at ȳ two brethren: But Iesus called them vnto hī a sayd. ✠ Ye know that ȳ lordes of the gētils haue dominacio ouer thē. And they that ar great, exercyse powr ouer them. It shal not be so amōg you. But whosoeuer wil be great amōg you, let hym be your minister: a whosoeuer wylbe chefe, let him be your seruaunt, euen as ✠ the sonne of man came, not to be ministred vnto, but to minister, and to geue his life for the redemptyon of many. ✠ Marke.x.f Luke.xxii.c Mtke,x,3

And as they departed frō Hiericho: moch people

marke.xx. luk.xv.ii.g. people folowed him.* And behold.ii.blin demē sytting by the way syde, when they heard Jesus passe by, cried saying: Thou Lord ꝑ sōne of Dauid haue mercy on vs And the people rebuked thē, because they shuld hold their peace. But they cried the more saying: haue mercy on vs thou lord which art the sōne of Dauid. Thē Jesus stode styl, & called thē, & sayd: what wil ye that I shuld do to you: They sayd to him marke.x.g Lord that our eyes may be opened.* Jesus had cōpassiō on them, & touched their eyes & ymmediatlye theyr eyes receaued syght. And they folowed hym.

The rydeth into Jerusalē, dryueth ꝑ marchaūtes out of the tēple, curseth the fyge tree, and rebuketh the Pharises wt the symylitude of the two sonnes & of the husbandmen, that slewe soch as were sent vnto them.

The.xxi. Chapter.

A Mar.xi.a. Luke.xix.c

¶ Whē they drewe nye vnto Jerusalē, and were come too Bethphage, vnto mouṫ Oliuete: then sent Jesus two of his disciples, saying to them Go into ꝑ towne ꝑ lieth ouer against you & anōne ye shal fynd an asse boūde, & her colt with her: lose thē & bring thē vnto me And yf any mā say ought vnto you, saye ye ꝑ the Lord hath nede of thē, & streyght waye he wyl let thē go. All this was done to fulfyl ꝑ which was spoken by the prophet, saying: Tel ye ꝑ daughter of Sion behold thy king cometh vnto the, meke Esay.lxii.d & sytting vpō an asse & a colt, ꝑ fole of an zacha.ix.b asse vsed to the yocke. The disciples wēt John.xii.c. Luke xix.c. & dyd as Jesus cōmaūded thē, & brought the asse & ꝑ colte, & put on thē their clothes & set hym thereon. And many of ꝑ people spred their garmētes in ꝑ way. Other cut downe braūches frō thee trees, & strawed thē in the way. Moreouer ꝑ people ꝑ wēt B before, & they also ꝑ came after, cried saying: Hosanna to the sone of Dauid. Blessed be he ꝑ cometh in the name of the lord. a Hosanna in the hyest. ✠

✠ And whē he was come to Jerusalē, al the cytie was moued saying: who is this: And the people sayd: this is Jesus ꝑ prophete of Nazareth a cytye of Galile. And Jesus wēt into ꝑ tēple of God, & cast out al thē ꝑ solde & brought in ꝑ tēple, & ouer threw the tables of the mony chaūgers, & the seates of thē ꝑ solde doues, & sayde to thē: It is wrytte* my house shalbe called the house of prayer. But ye haue made it a deune of theues. And ꝑ blynd & the halt came to him in ꝑ tēple, & he healed them

When the cheke priestes and Scribes sawe the marueyles that he dyd, & the chyldren ceying in the tēple & saying: Hosāna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdayned, & sayd vnto him: hearest ꝑ what these saye: Jesus said vnto them yea: haue ye neuer redde, ꝑ of the mouth of babes & suckelinges thou haste ordeyned prayse: And he left them, & went out of the cytie vnto Bethanie, & had hys abyding there. ✠

In the morning as he returned into ꝑ cytie agayn, he hōgred, & spyed a b* figge tree in the way, & came to it, & founde nothing theron, but leues only, & sayde to it, neuer frute growe on ꝑ hence forwardes And anon the fygge tree widdered away And when his disciples sawe ꝑ, they marueled saying. How sone is the fygge tree widdered away: Jesus answered, & sayd vnto them. Verely I say vnto you, yf ye shal haue fayth and shal not dout ye shal not only do that which I haue done too ꝑ fygge tree: but also yf ye shall saye vnto thys mouṫayne, take thy selfe away, and cyst thy self into ꝑ see, it shalbe done. And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer (yf ye beleue ye shal receaue it.

✠ And when he was come into ꝑ tēple, ꝑ cheke Prestes & the elders of ꝑ people, came vnto him as he was teaching, & sayde by what authorite doest ꝑ these thinges: & who gaue the this power: Jesus āswered & sayde vnto thē: I also wyll aske of you a certayn questiō, which yf ye assoyle me, I in lykewyse wyll tell you by what auctorite I do these thinges. The bapty me of John: whence was it: frō heauē, or c* of mē: Thē they reasoned amōg them selues saying: yf we shall say frō heuē, he wyl say vnto vs: why dyd ye not thē beleue hi: But & yf we shal saye ✠ of mē, then feare we ꝑ people. For al mē held John as a prophet. And thei āswered Jesus & said we cānot tel. And he lykewise sayde vnto thē: nether tel I you by what auctorite I do these thigz ✠ What say ye to this: ✠ A certayn mā had.ii. sonnz, & cam to ꝑ elder & sayd: sonne go & worke to day in my vyneyarde neyard. He ānswered & sayd, I will not: but afterward repēted & wēt. Thē came he to ỹ second, & sayd lykewise. And he ānswered & sayde: I will syr: yet wēt not. Whether of thē twayne dyd ỹ will of the father? And they sayd vnto him: the fyrst. Jesus sayde vnto thē: verely I say vnto you ỹ the publicanes & ỹ harlots shal come into ỹ kyngdō of God before you. For Johm came vnto you in ỹ way of righteousnes, & ye beleued him not. But ỹ publicās & ỹ harlotes beleued him. And yet ye (though ye saw it) were not yet moued with repēt aūce, that ye might afterward haue beleued hym. ✠

D Mar.xii.a. Luke.xx.b Esay.v.a Iere.ii.d

✠ Herke another similitude * Ther was a certayne housholder, whych plāted a vyneyard, & hedged it round about & made a wynepresse in it, & bilt a tower, & let it oute to husbandmē, & wēt into a straung countre. And whē the tyme of the fruyte drewe neare, he sent his seruaūtes to ỹ husbandmē to receaue ỹ frutes of it. And ỹ husbādmen caught his seruātes, & bet one, killed another, & stoned another. Agayne he sente other seruātes mo thē ỹ first: & they served thē lykewyse. But last of al, he sente vnto thē his owne sonne sayeng: they will feare my sonne. But whē ỹ husbādmē sawe the sonne, they sayd amōg thē selues. * This is the eyre: come, let vs kyl hym, & let vs take his inheritaūce to our selues. And they caught him & thrust him out of ỹ vineyarde, & slewe him. Whē ỹ lord of ỹ vyneyarde cometh, what wil he do vnto those husbādmen? They sayd vnto him: he wil cruelly destroy those euyl psons, & wyl let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, whiche shal deliuer him ỹ frute at tymes cōuenient. Jesus sayd vnto thē: dyd ye neuer rede in ỹ scriptures: The stone which ỹ * bilders refused, ỹ same is set in ỹ principal part of ỹ corner: this was ỹ Lordes doing, & it is merueylous in our eies. Therfore say I vnto you, the kingdō of God shalbe take frō you, & shalbe geuen to the gentyls, whych shal bring forth the frutes of it. And whosoeuer shal fal on this stone, he shalbe broken, but on whosoeuer it shal fal vppon it wyl grinde him to powder. And when the chefe Priestes & Pharises heard these similitudes, they perceaued ỹ he spake of them

Joh.vii.d * And they went aboute to laye handes on hym, but they feared thee people, because they toke hym as a Prophet. ✠

¶ The Notes

a* Hosanna, in Hebrue Hoshyna, that is to saye: I praye the geue helth

b* By thys fygge tree Christe doth sufficiently shewe that the Jewes, although they had an apparence of holynesse by theyr Ceremonies: yet neuertheles they hadde not the fruyte of Charite: By whych thynge he signyfyed that they shulde shorte ly be deprsyued and putte from thys false apparence by the destruction of Jerusalem

c* In the Scripture is that counted to be of men the whych is ymagyned and inuented of mens and of heauen, when it is of God

d* Of these buylders is spoken in the. cxviij. Psalme.

¶ The mariage of the kinges sonne. Tribute to be geuē to the Emperour, Christ confuteth the opinion of the Saduces concerning the resurrection, & answered the Scribe vnto hys Question

The.xxii. Chapter.

AND Jesus answered, & spake vnto them agayne, in symylitudes, sayinge. ✠ The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a certayne kynge, whych maryed hys sonne, and sent forth hys seruaūtes, to call them that were byd to the wyddynge, and they wolde not come. Agayne he sente forthe other seruauntes, sayinge: Tell them whyche are bydden: beholde I haue prepared my dynner, myne oxen and my fatlynges are kylled, and all thynges are ready, come vnto the maryage. But they made lyght of it, & went their wayes: one to hys ferme place, another about hys marchaundyse, thee remnaunte toke hys seruauntes and intreated them vngodlye and slewe them. When the kynge hearde that, he was wroth, & sende forth his warryers and destroied those murtherers, and brent vp theyr cytie

Luk.xiiii.f

Thē sayd he to hys seruaūtes: the wedding was prepared. But they which were bidden, were not worthy. Go ye therfore oute into the hye wayes, and as manye as ye fynde byd thē to the maryage. The seruauntes went out into the hie wayes, & gathered to gether as manye as they coulde fynde, both good & bad, and the weddinge was furnished wyth gestes. Then ỹ kyng came in, to byset the gestes, & spyed there a mā which had not on a a* weddynge garmente, & sayde vnto hym: frende, howe forcamest thou in hyther & hast not on a weddynge garment? And he was euen specheles. Then sayde the kynge to his ministers: take & binde him hãd & fote & cast hym into vtter darkenes, there shall be weping & gnasshing of teth. For many are called and fewe be chosen. ✠

hys

Mar.xii.a. ✠* Thẽ wẽt the Pharises & toke coũcell how they might cangle him in his wordes And they sent vnto hym their disciples w̃ Herodes seruaũtes saying: * Master, we Luke.xx.d know ꝑ thou arte true, & teachest the waye of god truly nether carest for any mã, for thou cõsyderest not mennes estate. Tell vs therfore: how thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to geue tribute vnto Cesar or not? Jesus perceaue their wyckednes, & sayde: Why tẽpte ye me ye ypocrites? Let me se the tribute money. And they toke hym * a peny. And he sayd vnto thẽ: whose is this Image & superscriptiõ? They sayd vnto hym: Cesars. Then sayd he vnto thẽ: Geue ther fore to Cesar, ꝑ which is Cesars: and geue vnto God, that which is Goddes. ✠ Whẽ they heard that, they marueled, & left hym and went their waye.

C A peny is euer taken for ꝑ the Jewes call a lyele: and is worth .x. pẽce ye Englishe

The same day ꝑ Saduces came to him (which saye that ther is no resurrection) & asked him saying: Master, Moses bad, yt a man dye hauing no chyldrẽ, that the brother marye hys wyfe, & reyse vp sede vnto his brother. Ther were vs vs seuẽ brethrẽ & the fyrste maried & deceased wout yssue & left his wyfe vnto his brother. Likewise the second and the thyrd vnto the seuenth. Last of al the womã dyed also. Nowe in ỹ resurrection whose wyfe shal she be of the seuen? For all had her. Jesus answered & Mar.xii.b. sayd vnto thẽ * ye ar deceaued and vnder stand not the scriptures, nor yet the power of God. For in the resurrectiõ they nether mary nor are maryed: but are as ỹ Angels in heauen.

As touching the resurrectiõ of ỹ dead: haue ye not redde what is sayde vnto you Exod.iii.b. of God, which saith: * I am Abrahãs god & Isaacs God, & the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead: but of ỹ liuing And whẽ the people heard that, they were astonied at hys doctryne.

D ✠ Whẽ the Pharises had heard, howe ỹ he had put ỹ Saduces to sylẽce, they drewe together, & one of thẽ whych was a doctour of lawe, asked him a questiõ tẽptinge him & saying: Master which is ỹ chefe cõmaũdemẽt in the lawe? Jesus sayd to him Loue the Lord thy god with al thine hert, withall thy soule, and wythall thy mynde. This is the first and the chefe cõmaundement. And ther is another lyke vnto thys. Loue thyne neybour as thy selfe. In these two cõmaundementes hange all the lawe and the Prophetes.

Whyl the Pharyses were gathered together, Jesus asked thẽ sayng: what thynke ye of Christ? Whose sonne is he? They sayde vnto hym, thee sonne of Dauid. He sayd vnto them: how then doth Dauid in spyryte, call hym Lord saying: The Lorde sayd to my lord, syt on my right hãd * tyll I make thyne enemyes thy foote stole. Yf Dauid call hym Lord: how is he then his sonne? And none coulde answere hym a-gayne one worde: neyther durst any from that daye forthe, aske hym anye moo questyons. ✠

The Notes

a* Of thys weddyng garmente is spoken Esaye, lxi, d

b* Untyll I make thyne enemy thy foote stole, &c, thys argueth not when the enemyes of Christ ar subdued/ that then Christ shall no more syt on the right hand/ but signifieth no ende shalbe of that tyme/ as it oftẽ doth according to the maner of the Hebrewes/ as in Math, i, d/ æ, b, d so that this worde vntyll is taken for a tyme wythout ende/ or els shulde Christ haue an end of syttyng with his father in heauen/

C Christ cryeth wo vnto the Phar sees Scribes and ypocrytes, & prophecieth the destruction of Jerusalem.

The .xxiii. Chapter

Thẽ spake Jesus to the people, and to hys disciples sayinge:

a* The Scribes & the Pharises syt in Moses seat. All ther fore whatsoeuer they byd you obserue, that obserue & do: but after their workes do not: for they say, & do not. Yea they bynd heuy burthens and greuous to be borne, & laye them on mẽnes shoulders: but they them selfes wyll not heaue at thẽ wyth one of their fyngers. Al their workes they do, for to be sene of mẽ. They set abroade their philateries, and make large bordets on their garmẽtes, & loue to sit vp permost at feastes & to haue ỹ chefe seates in the synagoges, & gretynges in the marketes, & to be called of men Rabbi.

B But ye shal not suffre your selues to be called Rabbi. For one is your master, that is to wit Christ, and all ye ar brethrẽ. And cal no man your father vpon the erth, for ther is but one your father, & he is in heue Be not called masters, for there is but one your master, & he is christ. He ỹ is greatest amõg you, shalbe your seruaũt. But who soeuer exalteth hym selfe, shalbe brought lowe. And he ỹ hũbleth him selfe, shalbe ex alted. Woo be vnto you Scribes & Pharises, ypocrytes, for ye shut vp the kingdõ of heauẽ before men: ye your selues go not in, neyther suffre ye thẽ ỹ come to enter in.

Woo be vnto you Scribes & Pharises Ypocrites: ye deuoure widdowes houses:
and that vnder a coloure of praying long prayers wherfore ye shal receaue the grea ter dampnation.
Woo be vnto you Scribes & Pharises Ypocrites, which cõpasse see and lande, to bringe one into your belefe: and whẽ he is broughte ye make him two folde more the chyld of hel, then ye your selues are.
Woo be vnto you blind gydes, which say whosoeuer sweare by thee temple: it is nothyng: but whosoeuer sweareth by ỹ gold of the tẽple, he offẽdeth. Ye foles & blynd:
whether is greater, the gold or ỹ tẽple that sãctifieth ỹ gold? And whosoeuer sweareth by the aulter, it is nothing: but whosoeuer sweareth by the offering ỹ lyeth on the aul ter, offendethe. Ye foles & blynde: whether is greater the offring, or the aultar: which sanctyfieth the offryng? Whosoeuer therfore sweareth by the aulter, sweareth by it and by all that thereon is. And whosoeuer sweareth by thee tẽple, sweareth by it & by hym ỹ dwelleth therin. And he ỹ sweareth by heauen sweareth by the seate of God &
by hym that sytteth thereon.
Woo be to you Scribes & Pharises, Y-pocrites, which tyth mynt, anyse, & cõmin, & leaue the wayghter matters of the lawe vndone: iudgemẽt, mercy, & faythe. These ought ye to haue done, & not to haue left ỹ other vndone. Ye blind gydes which stray ne out a gnat and swalowe a camel.
Woo be to you Scribes & Pharises Y
pocrites, which make cleane the vtter syde of the cuppe, & of thee platter: but wythin they are ful of bybery and excesse. Thou blynd Pharyse, clense fyrste the ynnesyde of the cup & platter, that the outsyde of the maye be cleane also.
Woo be to you Scribes & Pharises Y-pocrites, for ye are lyke vnto paynted toin bes which appere beautiful outwarde but are wythin ful of dead bones & of al fylthi
nes. So ar ye, for outward ye appere righ teous vnto mẽ, whẽ within, ye ar ful of y-pocrysye and iniquite.
Woo be vnto you Scribes & Pharises
Ypocrytes: ye bylde the tombes of ỹ Prophetes, & garnish the sepulchres of ỹ righ teous, & saye: yf we had bene in thee dayes of our fathers, we wold not haue bene par teners with thẽ in the bloud of ỹ Prophetes. So then ye be wytnesses vnto youre selues, ỹ ye are thee chyldren of thẽ whych kylled the Prophetes. Fulfyl ye lykewyse the measure of your fathers. Ye serpẽtes and generatiõ of *b vipers how shulde ye scape the dampnation of hell.
✠ Wherfore, beholde I send vnto you prophetes, wyse men & scrybes, of them ye shal kyl & crucyfye: & of thẽ ye shal scourge in your synagoges, & persecute frõ citie to cytie, that vppon you maye come al the ryghteous bloud that was shed vpon the earth, frõ the bloude of ryghteous Abell, vnto that bloude of Zacharias the sonne of Barachias, whõ ye slew betwene the tẽ ple and the aultar. Verely I say vnto you all these thynges shal lyght vpon this generation. Jerusalẽ, Jerusalẽ whyche kyllest Prophetes, & stonest thẽ which ar sent to the: howe often wolde I haue gathered thy chyldren together, as the henne gathe-reth her chickẽs *c vnder her wynges, but ye wold not: Beholde your habitatiõ shal be lefte vnto you desolate. For I saye to you, ye shal not se me hence forth, tyll that ye saye: blessed is he that cõmeth in the name of the Lorde. ¶

¶ The Notes

a* The Scribes and Pharises syt in Moy-ses seat &c, Erasmus in hys annotations noteth them that wrested thys text to that pur pose/ that we shoulde obeye all thynges that Byshoppes commaunde/ or rulers (thoughe they be wycked) for thee offyce sake wherein they are: where as Christe (sayeth he) speaketh of them that doo truely teache the lawe of Moyses/ and not of soche as wrappe them in thee constytutyons of men. And euen now happelye/ muste the Byshoppe be heard that dothe truelye teache the gospell/ thoughe he lyue skante gospell lyke: But who can suffer them agaynste Christes Doctryne for their owne profytes to make and vnmake lawes/exercysynge vppon the people playne tyrannye/ and measurynge all thynges for their owne aduauntage and aucthorite/ they that wyth

wyth tradycyons ymagyned for theyr awne lucre & tyrannye do hamper the people, do not lyt in ỹ chayre of the Gospel/but in ỹ chayre of Symon Magus and Cayphas. These are thee verye wordes of Erasmus vppon thys place

b* Of vppers is spoke afore in Mat. xii, b c* Under her wynges. We are byd vnder the wynges of Christ/when euen withal our hert we put our trust to hys deserupnge and mercye. psalm, xvi. c,

¶ Christ sheweth his disciples the destructiō of the temple, the ende of ỹ world & the tokens of ỹ latter dayes, & warneth thē to wake, for the worlde shall sodenly perysshe

The. xxiiii. Chapter.

AND Jesus went out & departed frō the temple: & his disciples came to him, for to shew him the buylding of the tēple Jesus said vnto thē: se ye not al these thinges? Verely I saye vnto you: there shal not be here lefte one stone vppon another, that shal not be cast downe.

And as he sat vpon the mount Olyuete Luke. xix. g hys disciples came vnto him secretly sayinge. Tel vs when these thinges shalbe: & what sygne shalbe of thy cōming & of the ende of the world? And Jesus answered & Ephe. v. b said vnto thē: *take hede ỹ no mā deceaue you. For many shal come in my name saying: I am christ: & shal deceaue many. Ye shal heare of warres, & of the fame of warres: but se that ye be not troubled. For all these thinges must come to passe, but ỹ ende is not yet. For natiō shal ryse agaynste natiō, and realme agaynst realme: & there shal be pestilence, honger and erthquakes in all quarters. Al these are the beginning of sorowes.

Thē shal they put you to trouble, & shal kyl you: & ye shalbe hated of al natiōs for my names sake. And thē shal many be offended, & shal betraye one another, & shall hate one ỹ other. And many false ꝓphetes shal aryse, and shal deceaue many. And because iniquitie shall haue the vpperhād, ỹ loue of many shal abate. But he that endureth to ỹ ende, ỹ same shalbe safe. And this glad tydinges of the kingdō shalbe preached in al the world, for a wytnes vnto all nacyons: and then shal the ende come.

Whē ye therfore shall se ỹ abhominatiō that betokeneth desolatiō, spokē of by Daniel the Prophet, stand in ỹ holy place: let hym that redeth it, vnderstāde it. Then let thē which be in Jurye, flye into ỹ mountaynes. And lette hym whych is on the houses toppe, not come downe to fett any thyng out of hys house. Nether let hym whych is in the feld, returne back to fetch his clothes. Woo shalbe in those dayes to thē that are with chyld, & to thē ỹ geue sucke. But praye that your flight be not in the a* winter, neyther on the Sabboth daye. For then shalbe greate tribulatiō, soche as was not from the beginninge of the worlde to this tyme, nor shalbe. Ye & excepte those dayes shuld be shortened, ther shuld i* no flesche be saued: but for ỹ chosens sake, those dayes shalbe shortened.

Then yf any man shall saye vnto you: lo, here is Christ, or there is Christ: beleue it not. For there shal arise false Christes, and false Prophetes, & shal do great myracles and wonders. In so moch that yf it were possible, the very electe shulde be deceaued. Take hede, I haue tolde you before. Wherfore yf they shall saye vnto you: ¶ Mar. xiii. c. Luke. xvii. c *beholde he is in the deserte, go not forth: beholde he is in thee secrete places, beleue not. For as the lightninge cometh out of the Easte, & shyneth into the west: so shall the cōming of ỹ sonne of mā be. For wher soeuer a dead karkas is, eue thyther wyll the egles resorte. Immediatlye & after the tribulations of those daies, shal the sunne be darkened: & the mone shal not geue her lyght, & the starres shal fall frō heaue, & ỹ powers of heaue shal moue. And thē shal apeare the sygne of the sonne of mā in heaue. And then shal al the kynredes of ỹ erth mourne, and they shall se the sonne of mā come in the cloudes of heaue wyth power and great glorye. * And he shal sende hys Angels with the great voyce of a trompet and they shall gather together his chosen, from the fower wyndes, and from the one ende of the world to the other. Mar. xiii. c. Luke. xxi. c. Joell. ii. c Dan. vii. a Learne a symylitude of the fygge tree: whē hys braunches are yet tender and his leaues spryng, ye know that sommer is nye. So lykewyse ye, when ye se al these thinges, be ye sure that it is neare, euen at thee dores. Verely I saye vnto you, that this generation shall not passe tyll all these be fulfylled. Heaue & earth shall perisshe, but my wordes shal abyde. But of that day & houre knoweth noman, no not the angelles of heauen, but my father only.

As the

Gen.vii,b Luk,xvii,f

* As the tyme of Noe was, so lykewyse shal the cõming of the sonne of mã be. For as in the dayes before the floude: they dyd eate & drinke, mary, & were maried, euẽ vn to the daye that Noe entred into the shyp, & knew of nothing, tyl the floud came and toke thẽ al a way. So shal also the cõmin-ge of the sonne of mã be. Thẽ two shalbe in the feldes, the one shalbe receaued, & the other shalbe refused, two shalbe grinding at the mylle the one shalbe receaued, & the o-Luke,xii,e ther shall be refused. * Wake therfore, because ye know not what houre your mayster wyl come. Of this be sure, ỹ yf ỹ good mã of the house knewe what houre ỹ theefe wold come: he wold surely watch, and not suffer his house to be brokẽ vp. Therfore be ye also redy, for in the houre ye thincke he wold not: wyl the sonne of mã come, Is ther be any faythfull seruaũt & wyse, whõ hys master hath made ruler ouer his houf hold to geue thẽ meat in season conueniẽt happy is ỹ seruaũt whõ his mayster (whẽ he cometh) shal find so doynge. Verely I saye vnto you, he shall make hym ruler ouer al hys goodes. But & yf that euyll seruaũt shal saye in his hert, my mayster wyl defer his cõming, & begynne to smyte hys felowes, ye & to eate & to drinke with ỹ drũ ken: the seruauntes mayster wyl come in a daye when he lokethe not for hym, & in an houre that he is not ware of, & wyl deuyde hym, and geue hym hys rewarde wythe ypocrytes. And there shalbe weping & gnaf shinge of teethe.

The Notes.

a* In the wynter because it was euel tra uapling/ & on the Saboth because they were cõmaunded as that day that they shuld go no farther then a myle/ and in that day dyd põ-peius take thẽ, Strabo.xvi.boke. And so dyd Tytus & Uespasian also, of whom Frontonius wryteth

b* No flesshe/ for no men,

¶ The ten virgins, The talẽtes deliuered to ỹ ser uauntes, and of the generall iudgement

The.xxv.Chapter.

A

Then the a* kingdõ of heuẽ shalbe likened vnto ten vyr-gyns, which toke theyr lãpes & went to mete the brydegrõ:
fyue of them were folish, and fyue were wyse. The folysshe toke theyr
b* lampes, but toke none oyle wyth them.
But the wyse toke oyle with them in theyr vessels with their lampes also. Whyle the brydegrõ tarryed, al slombred & slepte. And euẽ at midnight, there was a crye made: behold, the brydegrõ cometh, go out against hym. Then al those virgins arose, and pre pared theyr lãpes. And the folysshe sayd to the wyse: geue vs of your oyle for our lãpes go out. But the wyse answered sayin ge: c* not so, lest there be not ynoughe for vs & you: but go rather to them that sell & B bye for your selues. And whyle they went to bye, the brydegrõ came: & thei that were ready, went in wyth hym to the weddinge and the gate was shutte vp. Afterwardes came also ỹ other vyrgins saying: Mayster, master, opẽ to vs. But he answered & sayd, verely I say vnto you: I knowe not
you. Watche therfore: for ye know nether the daye nor yet the houre, when the sonne of man shal come. ✠

✠ Lykewise as a certeyn mã (redy to take his iorney to a strãge coũtre, called his ser uãtes & deliuered to thẽ his goodes * And mat.xxiiii.d
vnto one he gaue. v. talẽtes, to another. ii. luke,xix,e & to another one: to euery mã after his abi luke,xix,b litie & streight way departed. Thẽ he that Mar,xiii.d had receaued ỹ. v. talẽtes, wẽt & bestowed thẽ and wanne other fyue talentes. Lykewyse he that receaued. ii, gayned other two
But he that receaued ỹ one, went and dyg ged a pyt in the erth, & hyd his masters mo ney. After a long season the Lord of those seruaũtes came & reckened withe thẽ, Thẽ came he that had receaued fyue talentes, & brought other fyue talẽtes saying: master thou deliueredst vnto me fyue talentes: be hold I haue gayned with thẽ fyue talẽtes moo. Thẽ his master sayd vnto hym: well good seruaũt & faythful. Thou hast bene faythful in lyttle, I wyl make the ruler ouer moche: d* enter in into thy masters ioye
Also he ỹ receaued two talentes, came and said: master thou deliueredst vnto me two talẽtes: behold, I haue wõne two other ta lentes with thẽ. And his mayster sayd vnto him, wel good seruãt & faythful. Thou hast bene faythful in lyttle, I wyl make ỹ ruler ouer moche, goo in into thy masters ioye. ✠

Thẽ he which had receaued the one ta- C lente came & sayde: mayster, I consydered that thou wast an hardy mã, which repest

where

where thou sowedst not, & gatherest wher thou strawedst not, & was therfore afraied & wēt & hyd thy talent in the erth: beholde, thou hast thyne owne. Hys master answered & sayd vnto hym: thou euyl seruaunte and slowthful, thou knewest that I reape wher I sowed not & gather where I strawed not: ꝯ oughtest therfore to haue had my money to the chaungers, & then at my coming shuld I haue receaued mine owne wyth vauntage. Take therfore the talent frō him, and geue it vnto hym which hath ten talentes. e* For vnto euery mā ꝯ hath shalbe geuen, and he shal haue aboundance, and from hym that hath not, shalbe taken awaye, euen that he hathe. And caste ꝯ vnprofytable seruaunt into e* vtter darknes: there shalbe weppynge and gnashinge of teethe.

✠ Whē the sonne of mā cōmeth in hys glorye, & al the holy angels with him, then shal he syt vpon the seate of his glory, and before him shalbe gathered al natiōs. And he shal seperate thē one from another, as a shepeherde deuydeth the shepe frō the goates. And he shal set the shepe on hys ryght hand, and the goates on the lyft. Thē shal the kynge saye to thē on his ryght hande: Come ye blessed childrē of my father, inherit ye the kyngedō prepared for you from the beginninge of the worlde. For I was an hongred & ye gaue me meate. I thursted, & ye gaue me drinke. I was herbourlesse, & ye lodged me. I was naked and ye clothed me. I was sicke & ye visited me. I was in prisō & ye came vnto me. Thē shal d the righteous answere him saynge: mayster, whē saw we the an hongred, & feed ꝯ? or a thurst, and gaue the drinke? whē saw we the herbourlesse, and lodged the? or naked & clothed the? or whē saw we the sycke or in prison & came vnto the? And ꝯ kyng shal answere and saye vnto thē: verely I say vnto you: in as moch as ye haue done it vnto one of the leest of these my brethrē, ye haue done it to me.

Thē shall the kynge saye vnto thē that shalbe on the lyft hand: depart from me ye cursed, into euerlasting fyre: which is prepared for the deuyl and his angels. For I was an hūgred, & ye gaue me no meate. I thursted, & ye gaue me no drincke. I was herbourles, & ye lodged me not. I was naked, & ye clothed me not. I was sycke & in prison, and ye visyted me not.

Then shal they also answere hym saynge: mayster, when saw we thee an hungred, or a thurst, or herbourlesse, or naked, or sycke, or in prison, and dyd not minister vnto the? Then shal he answere thē & saye verely I saye vnto you in as moch as ye dyd it not to one of thee leeste of these, ye dyd it not to me. And these shall goo into euerlastinge payne: & the righteous into lyke eternall. ✠

The Notes.

a* The kyngdom of heauen in thys place/ sygnyfyeth the whole congregation of beleuers, beyng yet cōuersaūt in this lyfe/ which God doth gouerne inuisybly/ as Luk, xii. c

b* By lāpes wout oyle/ vnderstand workes wythout fayth, whych cānot shyne because they are wythout lyght

c* Not so/ least ther be not ynough &c. Note here ꝯ their owne good workes sufficed not for thē selues/ & therfore remayned none to be destributed vnto theyr felowes.

d* Enter into thy masters ioye/ is as moch to saye as possesse the kyngdom prepared for all soch as are faythfull

e* To hym that hath, shalbe geuē/ loke afore/ Math. xiii. b

f* Utter darknes/ doth not here sygnyfye hell/ but the trouble & paynes in this worlde as in Esa. b. g

¶ The Magdalene anoynteth Christ. They eat the Easter lambe and the supper of the lorde, Christe prayeth in the garden, Judas betrayeth hym. Peter smyteth of Malcus eare, Christ is accused by false wytnesses. Peter denyeth hym

The. xxvi. Chapter.

AND it came to passe, whē Jesus had finished al these sayinges, he saide vnto his disciples: ✠* Ye knowe ꝯ after two dayes shalbe easter, & the sōne of mā shalbe delyuered to be crucified, thē assembled together the chefe prestes & the scribes & the elders of the people to ꝯ palace of the hye prest, called Cayphas, & held a counsel, how they myght take Jesus by suttelte & kyll hym. But they sayd, not on the holy daye, lest eny vprore aryse among the people. Mat. xxiii. a Luk. xxii. a

Whē* Jesus was in Bethany, in thee house of Simon the leper, ther came vnto him a womā, which had an alabaster bore of precious oyntment, & powred it on hys head, as he sate at ꝯ bourd. Whē hys disciples saw that, they had indignatiō saying what neded thys waste? Thys oyntmente myght Mat. xxiii. a Luk. vii. a might haue bene well solde, & geuen to the poore. When Jesus vnderstode ỹ, he said vnto thē: why trouble ye the womā? She hath wrought a good worke vpō me. For ye shal haue poore folke alwayes wt you: but me shal ye not haue alwayes. And in that she casted this oyntmēte on my body, she dyd it to burye me wythall. Verely I ☞ saye vnto you, wherefoeuer thys gospell B shalbe preached throughout all the world there shal also thys that she hath done, be tolde for a memoriall of her. nota memoriall

Thē one of the twelue called Judas Iscarioth went vnto the chefe prestes: & said what wil ye geue me, * & I wil deliuer him vnto you? And they appoynted vnto hym xxx. peces of siluer. And from the tyme he sought opportunite to betraye hym. mar. xiiii. b Luk. xxii. a

* The first day of swete breed ỹ disciples came to Jesus saying vnto him: wher wilt thou that we prepare for ỹ to eate the paschal lambe? And he sayd: go into the cytte, to soch a mā, & say to him, ỹ master sayeth my time is at hand, I wyl kepe mine ester at thy house wt my disciples. And the disciples dyd as Jesus had appoynted thē, & made ready the esterlambe. mar. xiiii. b Luk. xxii. a

* Whē the euē was come he sate downe with the .xii. And as they dyd eate, he said: Verely I saye vnto you, ỹ one of you shal betray me. And they were exceding sorowful, & began euery one of thē to saye vnto hym: is it I master? He answered & sayde: he ỹ deppeth his hāde wt me in ỹ dishe, the same shal betray me. * The sonne of man goeth as it is wrytte of hym: but wo be to the mā, by whō the sonne of mā shalbe betrayed. It had ben good for the mā yt he had neuer ben borne. Thē Judas whiche betrayed him, āswered & sayd: is it I master? He sayd vnto him: thou hast said. As they dyd eate, Jesus toke bred & gaue thākes, brake it, & gaue it to the disciples, and said: * Take, eate, this is my body. And he toke the cup, & thāked, & gaue it thē, sayinge: drincke of it euery one. For thys is my bloud of ỹ newe testamēt, that shalbe shed for many, for the remission of synnes. I say vnto you: I wyl not drinke hēce forth of thys fruyte of the vyne tree, vntyll that daye, when I shal drinke it new with you in my fathers kyngdom. Mat. xxvi. c Luke. xxii. b Joh. xiii. c Psalm xl. C ¶. Cor. xi. c Luke. xxii. b Mat. xxvi. c

And whē they had sayd grace, they wēt out into mount oliuete. Then sayd Jesus vnto them: al ye shalbe offēded by me thys night. For it is writtē: * I will smite ỹ shepe herd, & the shepe of ỹ flock shalbe scatered abroade. But after I am risen againe, I wil go before you into Galile. Peter āswered, & sayde vnto hym: though all men shulde be offended by the, yet wolde I neuer be offended. Jesus sayd vnto him: Verely I say vnto ỹ, that this same night before the cocke crowe, thou shalte denye me thryse. Peter said vnto him * If I shoulde die wt ỹ, yet wold I not denie ỹ. Lyke wise also sayd the dysciples. Zacha. xiii. a Mar. xiiii. c Luk. xxii. b Joh. xiii. b D

Then went Jesus with thē into a place which is called Gethsemane, & sayde vnto thee disciples, sytt ye here whyll I go and praye yonder. And he toke wyth him peter & the two sonnes of zebede, & began to wexe sorowful & to be in an agonye. Then said Jesus vnto thē * my soule is heuy euē vnto the deeth. Tary ye here: & watche wt me. And he went a lytel a parte, & fell flatte on hys face: and prayed sayinge: O my father, yf it be possible, * let this cuppe passe frō me: neuertheles, not as I wyl, but as thou wylt. And he came vnto the disciples and founde them a slepe, and sayde to Peter: what, coulde ye not watche wythe me one houre: watche: and praye ỹ ye fall not into temptaciō. The spryte is wyllynge, but the flesshe is weake. Mat. xxvi. c Mar. xiiii. c Luk. xxii. c Joh. xii. b

He wente awaye once moare & prayed, sayinge: O my father, yf thys cuppe cānot passe awaye from me, but that I dryncke of it, thy wil be fulfilled. And he came, and founde them a slepe agayne. For their eies were heuy. And he left thē & went agayne, & prayed the thyrd tyme sayinge the same wordes. Then came he to hys dysciples & said vnto the: * Slepe hence forth & take your reest. Take hede the houre is at hād, & ỹ sonne of mā shalbe betrayed into ỹ hādes of sinners. Rise, let vs be going: behold, he is at hand ỹ shall betraye me. Whyll he yet spake: lo, Judas one of the .xii. came, & wt him a great multitude with swordes & staues, sent from the chefe prestes and elders of ỹ people. And he that betraied him, had geuen a token, sayinge: whosoeuer I kysse, ỹ same is he, lay handes on him. And forth wt al he came to Jesus, & saide, hayle Master: & kissed hi. And Jesus sayd vnto hym: Mat. xxvi. c Mar. xiiii. c Luk. xxii. c Joh. xii. b E vnto hym: frende, wherfore art thou come. Then came they & layde handes on Jesus and toke hym.

And behold, one of thē which were with Jesus, stretched out his hād and drue hys sweard, & stroke a seruaūt of ỹ hye prieste, & smote of his eare. Thē sayd Jesus vnto him: put vp thy sweardе into hys sheathe. Gene.ix.d Job.xviii.b *For al ỹ laye hande on ỹ sweard, shal perishe with ỹ swerde. Ether thinkest thou ỹ I cannot now pray to my father, & he shal geue me mo thē .xii. Legions of angelles? But how then shuld the scriptures be fulfylled: for so must it be. The same time sayde Jesus to the multitude: ye be come out as it were vnto a theke, wt sweardes & staues for to take me. I sate daylie teachinge in ỹ tēple amōg you, & ye toke me not. All thys was done ỹ the scriptures of the Prophetes myght be fulfylled. mar.xiiii.f. Luke.xxii.f Joh.xviii.b *Thē al ỹ disciples forsoke him & fled. And they toke Jesus & lede him to Cayphas the hye Preste wher the Scribes & the elders were assembled. And Peter folowed hym a farre of, vnto the hie prestes place: & went in, & sate with the seruauntes to se the ende.

The cheke Prestes & the elders, & all the coūcel, sought false witnes agaīst Jesus for to put him to death, but foūde none: in so moch that whē many false witnesses came, yet foūd they none. At ỹ last came two false witnesses, & sayd: This felowe sayd: I can destroye the tēple of God, & bylde it agayne in .iii. dayes. And the cheke Prieste arose, & said to hym: āswerest thou nothinge? How is it ỹ these beare wītnes agaynst the? But Jesus helde his peace. And ỹ cheke prest answered, & sayd to hym: I charge the in the name of the lyuing God, ỹ thou tell vs, whether thou be Christ the sōne of God. Jesus sayd to hym: thou haste sayd. Neuertheles I saye vnto you *hereafter mar xiiii.g Luke.xxii.f shal ye se the sonne of man syttyng on the ryght hand of power, and come in the cloudes of the skye.

mar.xiiii.g. Luke.xxii.f *Then the hye prest rēt hys clothes sayinge: he hath blasphemed what nede we of G any mo wytnesses? Beholde now ye haue hearde hys blasphemye: what thincke ye? They answered and sayd: he is worthy to dye. Then spat they in hys face and buffeted him wyth fystes. And other smote him wyth the palme of theyr hādes on the face sayinge: tel vs thou Christ, who is he that smote the?

Peter sate without in ỹ place. And a dāsel came to him sayinge: Thou also waste with Jesus of Galile: but he denied before thē al saying: I woot not what thou sayst When he was gone out into the porche, another wēche sawe him, & sayde vnto thē that were ther. This felow was also with Jesus of Nazareth. And agayne he denyed wyth an othe that he knew not the man And after a whyle came vnto hym they ỹ stode by & sayde vnto Peter *sueriy thou arte euen one of them, for thy speache bewrayeth the. Then began he to curse & to sweare, ỹ he knewe not the mā. And ymmediatly the cocke krewe. And Peter remembred the wordes of Jesu which sayd vnto hym: before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denye me thryse: and went out at the dores & wepte bitterlye. mar xiiii.f Luke.xxii.f Joh.xviii.c

¶ The Notes

a* Slepe hence forth and take your reste Thys is an Irōny/ which is one thing spokē and another meant As here in bydding them slepe/ he spgnyfyed that it had bene more meter for them to haue gone aboute other busynes then to fall to sleppnge at thys tyme,

¶ Christ is delyuered vnto Pilate, Judas hangeth him self. Christ is crucified among theues. He dyeth and is buryed. Watchmen kepe the grāue

The.xxvii.Chapter.

When the morning was come al the cheke prestes & ỹ elders of the people held a counsayl agaynst Jesus, to put him to death, and brought him boūd and delyuered hym vnto Pontius Pilate the debyte. A mar.xv.a luke.xxiii.a

Thē whē Judas which betrayed him, sawe that he was cōdempned, he repented him self, & brought agayne the .xxx. plates of syluer to the cheke Prestes & elders sayinge: I haue synned betrayinge the innocent bloud. And they sayd: what is that to vs? See thou to that. And he cast downe ỹ syluer plates in the tēple & departed, & wēt and hounge hym selfe.

And the cheke prestes toke ỹ syluer plates & sayd: it is not lawfull for to putt thē into ỹ tresure, because it is ỹ pryce of blode. And thei toke counsel, & bought wt thē a potters feld to bury straūgers in. Wherfore ỹ felde is called the feld of bloud, vntyl thys day. Thē was fulfylled, ỹ whych was spoken by Jeremy the Prophet saying: & they toke .xxx. syluer plates, the prise of him that was valued whom they bought of the childre of Israel, & they gaue the for the potters feld, as the Lord appoynted me. * Jesus stode before the debite: & the debite asked him saying: art thou the king of the Jewes Jesus sayde vnto him: Thou sayest. And whe he was accused of the cheke prestes & elders, he answered nothig. The sayd Pilate vnto him: hearest thou not, how many thinges they laye against the? And he answered him never a word: in so moch that the debite marueyled greatlye.

B

Mar. xv. e. Luk. xxiii. a. Joh. xviii. c

At that feaste, the debyte was wonte to delyuer vnto the people a prisonner, whom they wold desyer. He had the a notable prisonner called Barrabas. And when they were gathered together, Pilate sayd vnto the: * whether wyl ye that I geue loose vnto you: Barrabas or Jesus which is called Christ? For he knewe well, that for enuye they had delyuered hym.

Mar. xv. a Joh. xviii. g

Whe he was sett downe to geue iudgemet his wyfe sente to hym sayinge: haue thou nothing to do with that iuste man. For I haue suffred many thinges this daye in a dreame about him. But that chefe prestes & the elders had persuaded the people, that they shuld aske Barrabas, & shulde destroye Jesus. The the debyte answered & sayd vnto the whether of the twayne wyl ye that I let loose vnto you? And they said, Barrabas. Pilate sayd vnto the: what shal I do the with Jesus which is called christ? They al said to him: let hym be crucyfied, The said the debite: what euel hath he done? & they cried more sayeg: let hi be crucified. Whe Pilate sawe that he preuayled nothige, but more busynes was made, he toke water & washed hys hades before the people saynge:

C

Hys iudge condemneth hi to be. iiii.

I am innocent of the bloud of thys * iuste person, & ye shal se. The answered al the people & sayd: his bloud be on vs, and on our chyldren. Then let he Barrabas loose vnto them, & scourged Jesus, & delyuered hym to be crucified.

Then the soudiours of the debite toke Jesus vnto the comen hal, & gathered vnto hi al the copany. And thei stripped him and put on hym a purpil roobe, & platted a crowne of thornes & put vpo hys head, & a rede in hys right hād: & bowed their knees before hym & mocked hym, saying: hayle kyng of the Jewes: & spytted vpo hym, and toke the rede and smote him on the head.

And when they had mocked hym, they toke the roobe of him agayne, & putte hys owne rayment on hym, & led hym away to crucifye hym. And as they came oute, they foud a mā of Cyren, named Simon: hym they copelled to beare hys crosse. And whe they came vnto the place, called Golgotha (that is to saye, a place of dead mens sculles) they gaue him vyneger to drincke megled wyth gall. And when he had tasted therof he wolde not drincke.

D

When they had crucified hi, they parted his garmentes, & dyd cast lottes: to fulfyl that was spoke by the prophet. * They deuided my garmetes amog the, & vpo my vesture dyd cast lottes. And they sate & watched him ther & they set vp ouer his head the cause of his deeth writte. This is Jesus the king of the Jewes. * And ther were two theues crucified with him, one on the right hād and another on the lyfte.

Psal. xxii. d marke. xv. e

marke. xv. e Luk. xxiii. e

E

They that passed by, reuyled him, waggig their heades & sayinge: that destroyest the tēple of god & byldest it in .iii. dayes, saue thy self. If thou be the sonne of God, come downe frō the crosse. Lykewyse also the prestes mocking him wyth the Scribes & elders sayd: He saued other, hym self he cā not saue. If he be the kyng of Israel: lette hym nowe come downe frō the crosse, & we wyl beleue hym. He trusted in god, let him delyuer hym now, if he wyl haue him: for he sayd, I am the sonne of God. That same also the theues which were crucified with hym, cast in hys teeth.

Frō the syxte houre was ther dercknes ouer all the land vnto the ninth houre. And about the ninth houre Jesus cryed with a lowde voyce, sayinge: Eli Eli lama asbathani. That is to saye: * my God, my God why hast thou forsaken me? Some of the that stode ther, when they heard that, sayd This mā calleth for Helias. And streyght waye one of the rāne & toke a sponge & filled it ful of vineger & put it on a rede, and gaue hym to drinke. Other sayd, let be: let vs se whether Helyas wyl come & delyuer hym. Jesus cryed agayne with a loude voyce and yelded vp the goost.

F

marke. xv. e Psal. xxii. a

And behold the * vayle of the temple did rente

Mar. xv. d. Luk. xxiii. f.

rent in twayne frō the toy to the bottome, and the earth dyd quake, & the stones dyd rent and graues dyd opē: & the bodyes of many saīctes which slept, arose and came out of the graues after his resurrection, & came into the holy cytie, & apered vnto ma ny. *Wohē the Centurīō & they that were Mark.xv.c Luk,xxiii,g with hym watching Jesus, sawe the earth quake & those thinges whyche happened, they feared greatly, sayinge: Of a suertye thys was the sonne of God.

Mar,xv,d. Luk.xxiii,d. * And many weimē were ther, beholding hym a farre of, whiche folowed Jesus frō Galile, mynistryng vnto him. Amōg why che was Mary Magdalen, & Mary ỹ mo ther of James & Joses, and the mother of Zebedes childrē. *Wohē ỹ euē was come, G mark,xv.d. luk,xxiii. g Iohn,xix,g ther came a rych mā of Aramathia named Joseph which mā also was Jesus disciple. He wēt to Pilate & begged the bodi of Jesus. Thē Pilate cōmaunded the body to be deliuered. And Joseph toke the body & wrapped it in a clene lynnen cloth, & put it in hys newe tombe, which he had hewen out, euē in the rocke, & rolled a great stone to the doze of the sepulcre & departed. And mark.xv,d there was *Mary Magdalen & the other Mary sytting ouer agaynst the sepulcre. The next day ỹ folowed ỹ daye of prepa ring ỹ Saboth, ỹ hye prestes & Pharyses gat thē selues to Pilate & said: Syr, we re mēber, ỹ this deceauer sayd whyle he was yet alyue. After thre dayes I wyl aryse a gayne: Cōmaunde therfore ỹ the sepulcre be made sure vntil ỹ third day, lest parad uēture his disciples come & steale hī away & saye vnto ỹ people, he is rysē frō ỹ death & the last errour be worse thē ỹ fyrst. Py late sayd vnto thē. Take watch men: Goo & make it as sure as ye can. Jud they wēt and made the sepulcre sure with watchmē and sealed the stone. ✠

¶ The resurrectiō of Christ, The hye Prestes gene the soudiers large money to saye that Christe was stollen oute of hys graue, Christe appeareth to hys dysciples, and sendeth them forth to preache and to Baptyse,

The.xxviij.Chapter ✠

In the Saboth day at euen why che dauneth the morow after the Sabboth, Mary Mag- A mark,xvi a luk,xxiiii. a Iohn,xx.a dalē & the other Mary came to se the sepulcre.

And behold ther was a great erthquake For the angel of the lord descended frō he uen & came & rowlled backe thee stone frō the doze, & sate vpon it. Hys countenaūce was lyke lightening, & hys raymēt whyte as snow. And for feare of him the kepers were astonyed, and became as dead men.

* The angel answered & sayd to the we mark,xvi b luk,xxiiii, a men, feare ye not. I know ỹ ye seke Jesus which was crucified: he is not here: he is ry sen as he sayde. Come, & se the place where the Lord was put: & go quickly & tell hys disciples that he is rysē frō death. And be hold, he wil go before you into Galile, ther ye shal se hym. Lo I haue tolde you. ✠ B

✠ And they departed quickly frō the se= mark,xvi b pulcre with feare & great Joye: & dyd rūne to bryng his disciples worde. And as they wēt to tel his disciples: behold. Jesus met thē sayīng: Al hayle. And they came & held hym by the fete & worshypped hym. Then sayd Jesus vnto thē: be not afrayde. Goo & tel my a*brethrē, ỹ they go into Galile, & there shal thei se me. Wohē they were gone beholde, some of the kepers came into thee cytie, & shewed vnto ỹ hye prestes, al ỹ thin ges ỹ were happened. And they gathered thē together with the elders, & toke coūsel & gaue large money vnto ỹ soudyers say= inge: Say ỹ his disciples came by nyghte and stole hym awaye whyle ye slepte. And yf thys come to thee rulers eares, we wyll please hym, and saue you harmeles. And they toke the money and dyd as they were taught. And thys saying is noysed amōg the Jewes vnto thys daye. ✠ C a* go shewe my brethrē &c, that is shew thē ỹ belene i me as in Rom viii, f

✠ Then the.xi. disciples went away in to Galile, into a mountayne where Jesus had appoynted them. And when they saw hym, they *worshipped him. But some of mark.xvi d thē douted. And Jesus came & spake vn= to thē sayīng. Al power is geuen vnto me in heuen and in earth. Go therfore & teach al nacions, baptysynge thē in the name of the father, & the sonne, and the holy goost: Teachīng thē to obserue al thinges, what soeuer I commaunded you. And lo, I am wyth you all waye, euen vntyl the ende of the worlde. ✠ D

¶ Here endeth the Gospell of S. Mathewe.

rent in twayne frō the toy to the bottome, and the earth dyd quake, & the stones dyd rent and graues dyd opē: & the bodyes of many saīctes which slept, arose and came out of the graues after his resurrection, & came into the holy cytie, & apered vnto ma ny. *Wohē the Centurīō & they that were Mark.xv.c Luk,xxiii,g with hym watching Jesus, sawe the earth quake & those thinges whyche happened, they feared greatly, sayinge: Of a suertye thys was the sonne of God.

Mar,xv,d. Luk.xxiii,d. * And many weimē were ther, beholding hym a farre of, whiche folowed Jesus frō Galile, mynistryng vnto him. Amōg why che was Mary Magdalen, & Mary ỹ mo ther of James & Joses, and the mother of Zebedes childrē. *Wohē ỹ euē was come, G mark,xv.d. luk,xxiii. g Iohn,xix,g ther came a rych mā of Aramathia named Joseph which mā also was Jesus disciple. He wēt to Pilate & begged the bodi of Jesus. Thē Pilate cōmaunded the body to be deliuered. And Joseph toke the body & wrapped it in a clene lynnen cloth, & put it in hys newe tombe, which he had hewen out, euē in the rocke, & rolled a great stone to the doze of the sepulcre & departed. And mark.xv,d there was *Mary Magdalen & the other Mary sytting ouer agaynst the sepulcre. The next day ỹ folowed ỹ daye of prepa ring ỹ Saboth, ỹ hye prestes & Pharyses gat thē selues to Pilate & said: Syr, we re mēber, ỹ this deceauer sayd whyle he was yet alyue. After thre dayes I wyl aryse a gayne: Cōmaunde therfore ỹ the sepulcre be made sure vntil ỹ third day, lest parad uēture his disciples come & steale hī away & saye vnto ỹ people, he is rysē frō ỹ death & the last errour be worse thē ỹ fyrst. Py late sayd vnto thē. Take watch men: Goo & make it as sure as ye can. Jud they wēt and made the sepulcre sure with watchmē and sealed the stone. ✠

¶ The resurrectiō of Christ, The hye Prestes gene the soudiers large money to saye that Christe was stollen oute of hys graue, Christe appeareth to hys dysciples, and sendeth them forth to preache and to Baptyse,

The.xxviij.Chapter ✠

In the Saboth day at euen why che dauneth the morow after the Sabboth, Mary Mag- A mark,xvi a luk,xxiiii. a Iohn,xx.a dalē & the other Mary came to se the sepulcre.

And behold ther was a great erthquake For the angel of the lord descended frō he uen & came & rowlled backe thee stone frō the doze, & sate vpon it. Hys countenaūce was lyke lightening, & hys raymēt whyte as snow. And for feare of him the kepers were astonyed, and became as dead men.

* The angel answered & sayd to the we mark,xvi b luk,xxiiii, a men, feare ye not. I know ỹ ye seke Jesus which was crucified: he is not here: he is ry sen as he sayde. Come, & se the place where the Lord was put: & go quickly & tell hys disciples that he is rysē frō death. And be hold, he wil go before you into Galile, ther ye shal se hym. Lo I haue tolde you. ✠ B

✠ And they departed quickly frō the se= mark,xvi b pulcre with feare & great Joye: & dyd rūne to bryng his disciples worde. And as they wēt to tel his disciples: behold. Jesus met thē sayīng: Al hayle. And they came & held hym by the fete & worshypped hym. Then sayd Jesus vnto thē: be not afrayde. Goo & tel my a*brethrē, ỹ they go into Galile, & there shal thei se me. Wohē they were gone beholde, some of the kepers came into thee cytie, & shewed vnto ỹ hye prestes, al ỹ thin ges ỹ were happened. And they gathered thē together with the elders, & toke coūsel & gaue large money vnto ỹ soudyers say= inge: Say ỹ his disciples came by nyghte and stole hym awaye whyle ye slepte. And yf thys come to thee rulers eares, we wyll please hym, and saue you harmeles. And they toke the money and dyd as they were taught. And thys saying is noysed amōg the Jewes vnto thys daye. ✠ C a* go shewe my brethrē &c, that is shew thē ỹ belene i me as in Rom viii, f

✠ Then the.xi. disciples went away in to Galile, into a mountayne where Jesus had appoynted them. And when they saw hym, they *worshipped him. But some of mark.xvi d thē douted. And Jesus came & spake vn= to thē sayīng. Al power is geuen vnto me in heuen and in earth. Go therfore & teach al nacions, baptysynge thē in the name of the father, & the sonne, and the holy goost: Teachīng thē to obserue al thinges, what soeuer I commaunded you. And lo, I am wyth you all waye, euen vntyl the ende of the worlde. ✠ D

¶ Here endeth the Gospell of S. Mathewe.

The Gospell of

S. Marke.

¶ The office of John the baptist, The baptyme of Christ, his fastinge, his preachinge, and the callinge of Peter, Andrew. James & John. Christ healeth ỹ mā wyth the vncleane spyrete, helpeth Peters mother in lawe. and cleanseth the leper.

The fyrst Chapter. ✠

A THe begynnynge of the Gospel of Jesu Christe the sonne of God as it is wrytten in ỹ Prophetes, *beholde I sende my messēger before thy face why che shal prepare thy waye before the. The voyce of a cryer in the wyldernes: *prepare ye the waye of the Lorde, make hys pathes streyghte. John dyd Baptyse in thee wyldernes, & preache the baptyme of repētaunce, for the remission of synnes. And al that land of Jurie & they of Jerusalē, wēt oute vnto hym, and were all Baptysed of hym in the ryuer Jordan, confessing their synnes.

mala. iii. a

Esay. xl. a

John was clothed wyth camelles heyre and with a gerdel of a skyn about his loynes. And he dyd eate a*locustes & wyld hony, & preached saying: a stronger then I cōmeth after me, whose shoo latchet (I am not worthye to stoupe downe) & vnlose. I haue baptised you with water: but he shal baptyse you with the holy ghost.

B

And it came to passe in those daies, that Jesus came frō Nazareth, a cytye of Galile: and was Baptised of John in Jordan. And assone as he was come out of ỹ water b*John sawe heauē open, & the holi goost descending vpō him, like a doue. And ther came a voyce frō heuē. Thou art my derelsonne in whom I delyte.

And immediatly the spyrete draue hym into wildernes: & he was ther in the wildernes .xl. dayes, & was tēpted of Satā and was with wilde beastes. And the angelles ministred vnto him. After John was take Jesus came into Galile, preaching ỹ Gospel of the kingdō of God, & saying: ỹ time is come, & the kingdō of god is at hand, repent & beleue the Gospell.

As he walked by ỹ see of Galile, he sawe Simō & Andrew his brother, castīng nettes into the see for they were fyshers. And Jesus sayd vnto thē: folowe me, & I wyll make you fysshers of men. And streyghte waye, they forsoke theyr nettes & folowed him. And whē he had gone a lyttel further thence, he sawe James the sōne of Zebede & John hys brother, euen as they were in the shyp mendinge their nettes. And anone he called thē. And they lefte their father Zebede in the shyp with his hyred seruaūtes and went theyr waye after hym.

And they entred into Capernaum: and streyght way on the Saboth dayes, he entred into the synagoge & taught. And they marueled at hys learnyng. For he taught thē as one that had power wyth hym, and not as the Scrybes.

C

And ther was in their Synagoge a mā vexed wᵗ an vncleane spyrete, ỹ cried saying let be, what haue we to do with ỹ thou Jesus of Nazareth? Arte ỹ come to destroye vs? I knowe the what thou arte, euen that holy of god. And Jesus rebuked hi saying hold thy peace & come out of hym. And the vncleane spirit tare him, & cried with a loud voyce, & came oute of hym. And they were al amased, in so moch that they demaūded one of another amōg them selues saying: what thing is this? c*what newe doctrine is this? For he cōmaūdeth ỹ foule spirites with power, & they obeye hym. And immediatly hys fame spred abrode throughout al the regiō borderinge on Galile.

And forth with, as sone as they were come out of the Synagoge, they entred into the house of Symon & Andrew, with James & John. And Symōs mother in lawe laye sycke of a feuer. And anone they told hym of her. And he came & toke her by the hand & lyft her vp: & the feuer forsoke hyr by & by: & she ministred vnto thē. And at euē whē ỹ sunne was downe, they brought to him al that were diseased, & thē that were possessed wyth deuils. And all the cytye gathered together atỹ doze, & he healed many ỹ were sicke of diuers deseases. ¶ And he cast out many deuyls, & suffred not the deuyls to speake, because they knew hym.

D

Luke. iiii. g
marke. iii. b

And in the morning very erly, Jesus arose & wēt out into a solitary place, & there prayed. And Simō & they that were wyth hym folowed after him. And whē they had found him, they sayd vnto him: al mē seke for the. And he sayd vnto thē: let vs go into the next townes, ỹ I maye preache ther also also: for truly I came out for ỹ purpose. And he preched in their synagoges, thoroughout al Galile, & cast the deuils out math. viii. a Luke. v. c *And ther came a leper to hi, besechyng him, & kneled downe vnto him, & said to him: yf thou wilt, ỹ canst make me clene And Jesus had cõpassion on hym, & put forth his hãd, touched him, & said to him I wyll, be thou clene. And as sone as he had spokẽ, immediatly ỹ lepry departed frõ him, & sent him awaye forth wt & sayd vnto him: See ỹ say nothing to any mã: but get the hence, & shewe thy self to the Prest, & offer for thy clensinge, those thinges whych Moses cõmaũded, for a testimonyall vnto thẽ. But he (assone as he was departed) begã to tel many thinges, & to publish ỹ dede: in so moch ỹ Jesus could nomore opẽly entre into ỹ citie but was without in desert places. And they came to hym frõ euery quarter.

The Notes

a* Locustes / loke in Mat, iii, a b* John saw heuẽ opẽ / ỹ is he had many fest knowledge of the godhede of Christ, & was fully certified ỹ it was euen he ỹ was sent of god to be the sauiour of al that shuld de beleue in hym as Ezechiel, i, a c* What newe doctrine is this, Je was thẽ new, & now after, xb, c, xxxvi, yeares is yet new, when wyl it then be olde?

¶ He healeth the mã of the palsye, calleth Leui ỹ custumer, eateth with opẽ synners, & excuseth his disciples.

The .ii. Chapter.

After a fewe daies, he entred into Capernaũ agayne, & it was noised that he was in a house. And anone many gathered together, in so moche ỹ now ther was no roume to receaue thẽ no not so moch as aboute ỹ dore. And he preached ỹ word vnto thẽ. And ther cam vnto him ỹ brought one sicke of ỹ palsy borne of fowre men. And because they could not come nye vnto hym for preasse they vncouered ỹ rofe of the house wher he was: And when they had brokẽ it opẽ they let downe the bed wherin ỹ sycke of the palsye laye. When Jesus sawe their fayth, he sayde to the sycke of the palsye

Luke. v. d. *sonne thy synnes are forgeuen the.

And there were certayn of ỹ Scrybes sytting ther, & reasoning in their hertes: how doth this felow so blaspheme? who can forgeue synnes, but God only? And

Mat. ix. a. Luke, vi. d immediatlye when Jesus perceaued in his spyrite ỹ they so reasoned in thẽ selues he sayd vnto thẽ: why thinke ye sochthinges in your hertes? Whether is it easier to saye to the sycke of the palsye, thy synnes are forgeuen the: or to saye, aryse take vp thy bed, & walke? * That ye maye know that the sonne of man hath power in earth to forgeue synnes, he spake vnto ỹ sycke of the palsye: I saye vnto the, aryse & take vp thy bed, & gette the hense into thyne owne house. And by & by he arose, toke vp the bed, & wẽt forth before thẽ al: in so moch that they were al amased, and glorifyed God sayinge: we neuer sawe it on thys fassyon. math. ix. a Luke. v. e

And he wẽt agayne vnto the see, & al ỹ people resorted vnto hym, & he taughte thẽ. And as Jesus passed by, he saw Leui the sonne of Alphei sytt at the receyte of costume & sayd vnto hym: folow me. And he arose & folowed him. ✝ And it came to passe, as Jesus sate at meat in his house, many publicãs & synners sate at meat also wt Jesus & hys disciples. For there were many ỹ folowed hi. And whẽ ỹ Scribes & pharises sawe hi eat wt publicãs & synners, they sayd vnto hys disciples: how is it, ỹ he eateth & drinketh wt publicãs & synners? Whẽ Jesus heard that, he sayd vnto thẽ, * The whole haue no nede of the Physicio, but the sycke I came not to cal the righteouse, but the synners to repentaunce. math. ix. a Luke. v. e ✝ math. ix. b Luke. v. e and. xv. e ¶ math. ix. b luke. v. e

And the disciples of John & the Pharises did faste: & therfore came & said vnto him. Why do the disciples of John & of the Pharises fast, & thy disciples fast not. And Jesus sayd vnto them: can the childrẽ of a wedding fast, whiles the bryd degrõ is with thẽ. As long as they haue the brydegrõ with them, they cãnot fast. But the dayes wyl come when the bryde grom shalbe taken frõ them & then shal they a* faste in those dayes.

Also nomã soweth a pece of new cloth vnto an olde garmẽt, for then taketh he away ỹ new pece frõ the olde, & so is the rẽt worse. In lykewyse, nomã powreth new wine into old vessels: for yf he do, ỹ new wine breaketh ỹ vessels, & the wyne rũneth out, & the vessels ar marred. But new wine must be powred into new ves- D

sels. And it chaunsed ꝑ he went thorow the corne feldes on the Saboth daye: & his disciples as they wēt in their way, began to plucke the eares of corne. And ꝑ Pharises sayde vnto him: beholde, why do they on ꝑ Saboth dayes ꝑ whyche is not lawful? And he sayde to thē: haue ye neuer rede what Dauid did, whē he had nede, & was an hōgred bothe he & they ꝑ were wᵗ him? How he wēt into the house of god, in ꝑ dayes of Abiathar ꝑ hie prē ste, & did eate the halowed loaues, which is not lawful to eate, but for the Prestes only: & gaue also to thē which were with him? And he sayd to them the Sabboth was made for man, & not man for ꝑ Saboth. Wherfore ꝑ sonne of man is Lord euen of the Saboth day.

The Notes

a* Then shal they fast, ꝑ is, so long as I am wyth the they shal not feale ꝑ trouble, & great persecution of the world, but whē I am taken from thē then shal they fast, ꝑ is/ then shal they mourne for then their perse: cution and trouble shall begynne.

C He helpeth the mā wyth ꝑ dry d hand, choseth his apostles, & casteth out ꝑ vnclene spyrite, whych the Pharises ascribe vnto the deuel. The brothers syster and mother of Christ.

The. iii. Chapter.

A Nd he entred againe into ꝑ synagoge, & ther was a mā ther which had a wᵗ withered hād. And they watched him to se, whether he wold heale hym on the Saboth daye, ꝑ they might accuse hym. And he sayde vnto the man which had the withered hād: arise & stād in ꝑ middes. And he said to thē: whether is it lawful to do a good dede on the sa= both dayes, or an euyl? to saue life, or kil But they held their peace. And he loked rōnd about on thē angerly mourning on the blindnes of their hertes, & said to the mā ‡ stretch forth thine hād. And he stret ched it out. And hys hand was restored, euen as whole as the other. b

And the Pharises departed, & streight way gathered a cōcel, wᵗ thē ꝑ belōged to Herode, against hi ꝑ thei might destroy hi. And Jesus auoyded wᵗ his disciples to ꝑ see. And a great multitude folowed hi frō Galile & frō Jurye, & frō Jerusa= lē, & frō Idumea, & frō beyōd Jordā, & they that dwelled about Tyre & Sidō a great multitude: which whē thei had her de what thinges he dyd, came vnto him.

And he cōmāded his disciples, ꝑ a ship shuld wayt on him, because of ꝑ people, lest they shulde thrōge him. For he had healed many, in so moche ꝑ they preased vpon him, for to touch hym as many as had plages. And whē ꝑ vnclene spretes saw him, they fel downe before hi, & cried sayinge ꝑ arte the sonne of God. And he straytly charged thē that they shuld not vtter hym. * And he went vp into a mōn tayne, & called vnto hym whō he wold, & they came vnto him. And he ordeyned ꝑ xii. that they shuld be with him, & that he might send thē to preache: and that they myght haue power to heale syckenesses, & to cast out deuils. And he gaue Simō to name Peter. And he called James the sōne of Zebede and John, James bro= ther, & gaue thē Bonarges to name, whi che is to say, the sonnes of thonder. And Andrew, & Philip, & Bartelmew, & Ma thew, & Thomas, & James the sonne of Alphey & Taddeus, and Symō of Ca= ne and Judas Iscaryoth, whyche same also betrayed hym.

And they came vnto house, & the peo= ple assembled together agayne, so great ly that they had not leyser so moch as to eate bread. And whē they that lōged vn to him heard of it, they went out to hold him. For they thought he had ben beside hi self. * And ꝑ Scribes whych cam frō Jerusalē, sayd: he hath Belzebub, & by ꝑ power of the cheke deuyl, casteth out de= uyls. And he called them vnto hym, and sayd vnto them in symylytudes.

How can Satā dryue out Satā? For yf a realme be deuided against it selfe, ꝑ D realme cannot endure. Or yf a house be deuyded against it self, that house cānot cōtinue. So yf Satā make insurrectiō against hym self & be deuyded, he cānot continue but is at an ende. No mā can en tre into a strōge mās house, & take away hys goodes, except he first binde the strō ge man & then spoyle hys house. Verely I saye vnto you, al synnes shalbe forge uen vnto mens children and blaspheiny wher wᵗ they blaspheme. But he ꝑ a blas= phemeth the holy ghoost, shal neuer ha= ue forgeuenes: but is in daūger of eter= nal dānatyon: because they sayd, he had an vncleane spyrite. Then came hys mo= ther and

a Of blas= phieme rede matth. xii. c.

ther & his bzethzē, & stode without, & sent vnto hym & called hym. And thee people sate about him, & sayd vnto him: behold thy mother & thy * bzethzen seke foz the without. And he answered them saying: who is my mother & my bzethzē? And he loked round about on his disciples, whi che sate in cōpasse about hym, & sayd: be holde my mother & my bzethzē. Foz who soeuer doeth ỹ wyl of God, he is my bzo ther, my syster and mother.

Gene.xiii.b
xxix.xlii.d
Luke.viii.c

¶ The parable of th' sower. Christ teacheth ỹ tem pest of the see, whych obeyed hym.

The.iiii. Chapter. ✠

AND he begā agayn to teach by the see side. And ther gathered togeather vnto hym moch people, so greatly ỹ he entred into a ship, & sate in ỹ see, & al the people was by the see side on the shooze. And he taught thē many thin ges in similitudes and sayd vnto thē in his doctrine. Herkē to: behold, ther went out a sower to sowe. And it fortuned as he sowed, ỹ some fel by the way syde, & ỹ fowles of ỹ ayze came & deuoured it vp. Some fel on stony grounde wher it had not moch erth: & by & by spzāg vp, becau se it had not depth of earth: but as sone as ỹ sunne was vp it caught heet, & be cause it had not rotting, widered away.

And some fel among the thoznes, and the thoznes grewe vp & choked it, so that it gaue no frute. And some fel vpō good ground, & dyd yelde frute that spzong & grew, & bzought fozth: some thyzty fold some syxtie fold, & some an hundzed fold. And he sayd vnto thē: he ỹ hath eares to heare, let hym heare. ✠

And when he was alone, they ỹ were a bout him with.xii. asked him of ỹ simili tude. And he said vnto thē. To* you is it geuē to know ỹ mistery of the kingdō of god. But vnto thē that ar wout shal all thinges be done in similitudes: ỹ whē they se, they shal se, & not discerne: & whē thei heare, thei shal heare, & not vndersta de: lest at any tyme they shuld tourne, & theyz sinnes shuld be fozgeuen thē. And he sayd vnto them: perceaue ye not thys similitude? how then shuld ye vndersta all other similitudes.

The sower soweth ỹ word. And they ỹ ar by ỹ wayes side, wher ỹ word is sowē ar they to whō, assone as thei haue herde it Sata cometh immediatly, & taketh a way ỹ worde that was sowē in theyz her tes. And likewyse they that ar sowē on ỹ stony ground, are they: which when they haue herde the word, atonce receaue it with gladnes, yet haue no rotes in thē selues, & so endure but a tyme: & anone as trou ble & persecution aryseth foz the wozdes sake, they fal immediatly. And they that ar sowē amōg ỹ thoznes, ar soch as hea re ỹ wozde: & the care of this wozld & the disceytfulnes of riches & the lustes of o ther thinges, entre in & chooke the wozd, & it is made vnfruteful. And those that were sowē in good ground, are thei that heare the word & receaue it, & bzing fozth frute, some thirty folde, some syxty fold, some an hundzed folde.

And he said vnto thē: is the cādle ligh ted to be put vnder a bushell, oz vndet ỹ table, & not rather to be put on a candel stick? Foz ther is nothing so preuye, that shal not be opened: nether so secret, but ỹ it shal come abroade. Yf any man haue eares to heare let him heare. And he said vnto thē: take hede what ye heare. With what measure ye mete, with the same shall it be measured vnto you agayn. And vn to you that heare, shall moare be geuen. Foz * vnto hym that hath, shal it be ge uen: & from hym that hath not, shalbe ta ken awaye, euen that he hath.

And he sayd: so is the kingdō of God, euē as yf a mā shuld sowe sede i ỹ groūd & shuld slepe & ryse vp night & daye: & ỹ sede shuld spzing & grow vp, he not wa re. Foz ỹ erth bzingeth fozth frute of her self: first ỹ blade, then ỹ eares, after that ful cozne in ỹ eares. And assone as ỹ fru te is bzought fozth, anone he thzusteth in the sykel, because the heruest is come.

And he sayd: wher vnto shal we lyken the kingdō of god? oz with what cōparisō shal we cōpare it? It is lyke a graync of mustardsede, which whē it is sowen in ỹ erth, is the leest of all sedes that be in the erth: but after ỹ it is sowē, it groweth vp & is greatest of al yerbes: & beareth grea te bzaūches, so that the fowles of ỹ ayze may dwel vnder the shadowe of it.

And with many soch similitudes he prea ched the wozde vnto them, after as they

a* Vnto you: that is vnto you which ar without deceit & ar not curyous ner truste in anything ỹ pertayneth to mī, is it geuē of my father of hys meeryfull goodnes to know ỹ mystery. ỹ is ỹ secret, of ỹ kingdom of god: ỹ is of the gospell, in whi he is taughte the kingdom of god, whych is our righteousnesse peace & ioye in the holy goost. Also & whych is ỹ kingdom of al mercye, & the kingdō of forgenes of synnes for christes sake. But vnto thē ỹ are with out, yis vnto soche as be curious & trust meze in their owne wozkes thē i ỹ righteousnes of christ. & all thinges spoke in parables ỹ is, al ¶ ỹ they heare is euē as obscure & darke vnto thē as thoughe thei were in dede parables: which thyng God therfoze suffreth to be done, ỹ whē thei se, they shal se & not decerne &c. as it followeth in the text.

* Ieke in xl. at. xiii. b

might heare it. And wout similitude spake he nothig vnto thē. But whē they were a part, he expoūded all thinges to hys disciples. And ỹ same day whē euē was come, he saide vnto thē: let vs passe ouer vnto ỹ other syde. And they left ỹ people & toke him euē as he was in ỹ ship. And ther were also with him other shippes.

D And ther arose a great storme of wind & dashed the waues into the ship, so ỹ it was ful. And he was in the sterne a slepe on a pelowe. And they awoke hym, & said to him: Mayster, carest thou not that we perysshe? And he rose vp, & rebuked the wynd, & sayd vnto the see: peace & be styl And the wynd alayed, & there followed a great calme. And he sayd vnto thē: why are ye so fearful? How is it ỹ ye haue no fayth? And they feared exceedingly, & sayde one to another: what felowe is thys? For both wynd and see obeye hym.

¶ He deliuereth the possessed frō ỹ vnclene spyrit, the womā from the bloudy yssue, and rayseth the captaynes daughter.

The.v. Chapter. ✠

A Nd they came ouer to the ouerside of the see into ỹ coūtre of the Gaderenites. And whē he was come out of the ship, there met him out of the graues a man possessed of an vncleane spryte, which had his abyding amōg the graues. And no man could bind him: no not with chaynes, because ỹ whē he was oftē bound with fetters and chaynes, he plucked the chaynes a sūder, & brake the fetters in peces. Neither could any mā tame him. And alwayes both night & daye he cryed in the moūtaynes & in ỹ graues & bet him self with stones. When he had spyed Jesus a farre of, he rāne & worshipped him, & cryed with a loude voyce and sayd: what haue I to do with the Jesus the sonne of the moost hyest God? I requyre the in the name of god that thou tormente me not. For he had sayde vnto hym: come out of the mā thou foule spryte. And he asked hym: what is thy name & he answered saying: my name is Legion, for we are many. And he prayed him instantly, that he wold not send them awaye out of the countre.

And ther was ther nye vnto ỹ moūtaynes a great heerd of swyne feding.

B & al the deuyls besought him saying: sende vs into the heerd of swine, ỹ we may enter into thē. And anone Jesus gaue thē leaue. And the vnclene spyrytes went out & entred into ỹ swine. And the heerd start teled, & ran hedling into ỹ see. They were about .ii.m. swyne, & they were drowned in ỹ see. And the swyne heerdes fled & told it in the citie & in the coūtre. And they came out for to se what haddehappened: & came to Jesus, & sawe hym ỹ was vexed wth the fend & had the Legiō, syt, both clothed & in his right mind, & were afrayed And they ỹ sawit told them, how it had happened to hī that was possessed wthe deuyl: & also of the swyne. * And they began to praye him, that he wolde departe frō their coostes. ✠ And whē he was come into ỹ ship, he ỹ had the deuil, prayed him that he might be with him. Howbeit Jesus wold not suffer hī, but sayd vnto him: go home into thyne owne house & to thy frendes, & shewe thē what great thinges ỹ Lord hath done vnto the, & how he had cōpassion on the. And he departed, & began to publisshe in the ten cities, what great thinges Jesus had done vnto him and all men dyd mercyle. C

Luke. viii. Matth. ix.

And whē Jesus was come ouer again by ship vnto the other syde, moch people gathered to hī, & he was nie vnto ỹ see. * And behold, ther came one of ỹ rulers of ỹ synagoge, whose name was Jairus: & whē he sawe hī, he fel downe at his fete, & besought hī greatly saying: my daughter lieth at point of death, I wold ỹ woldest come & lay thi hād on her ỹ she might be safe & liue. And he wēt with hym, & moch people folowed hī, & thrōged him. Mark. v. Luke. viii.

And ther was a certayn womā, which was diseased of an yssue of bloude .xii. yeres, & had suffred many thīges of many physytions, & had spent al ỹ she had, & felt none amēdemēt at al, but wexed worse & worse. Whē she had heard of Jesus she came into ỹ preace behynd hym, & touched his garmēt. For she thoughte: yf I may but touch his clothes, I shalbe whole. And streyght waye her fountayne of bloud was dryed vp, & she felt in her body, that she was healed of the plage.

And Jesus immediatly felt in hī self, ỹ vertue ỹ went out of hym, & turned hym rouñd about in ỹ preace, & sayd: who touched my clothes? And his disciples sayd vnto him: seyst ỹ the people thrust the, & yet askest. who dyd touch me? And he lo ked rouñd about, for to se her ỹ had done ỹ thig. The womā feared & trēbled (for she knew what was done vñ in her) & she came & fel doune before hi, & tolde hī the truth of euery thig. And he sayde to her:

Daughter thy fayth hath made ỹ whole: go in peace, & be whole of thy plage.

D Math.ix.c. luke.viii.g

* Whyl he yet spake, ther came frō the ruler of the Synagoges house, certayne whych sayde: thy daughter is deed: why diseasest ỹ the Master eny further? Assone as Jesus herd that word spokē, he said vnto the ruler of the Synagoge: be not afraied onlye beleue. And he suffred no mā to folow hī more thē peter & James & John ỹ brother of James. * And he came vnto ỹ house of the ruler of the synagoge, & saw the wōdrig: & them that wept & wailed greatly, & wēt in & sayde vnto thē: why make ye this a do & wepe. The maidē is not deed but slepeth. And they laught hī to scorne. Thē he put thē al out & toke the father & ỹ mother of ỹ maidē, & thē that were vñ hī, & entred in wher the maidē lay, & toke the maidē by the hād, & said vnto hir: Tabitha, cumi: which is by interpretacyō: maidē I saie vnto the, aryse. And streyght the maydē arose, & went on her fete. For she was of the age of twelue yeres. And thei were astonied at it out of measure. And he charged thē straytly that no mā should know of it, & commaunded to geue her meate.

Math.ix.c. luke.viii.g

The Notes,

a* To worshyp here, is not to geue ỹ dew honour that perteineth vnto god/ but soch reuerēce as perteyneth vnto mē/ as bowing ge the knee or makyng of curtesy.

¶ Christ sendeth his apostles to heale thē ỹ were diseased. Of John and Herode. Of ỹ .v. loues & fyshes. And of the walkynge on the see.

The, vi. Chapter ✠

AND he departed thence, & came into his owne coūtre, & his disciples folowed him. And whē ỹ Sabothe daye was come, he begā to teach in the synagoge. And many that herd hi were astonied, & sayd: from whence hath he these thinges? & what wysdom is this that is geuē vnto hī: & soch vertues that are wrought by his hādes? Is not this ỹ

A Mat.xiii.g luke.iiii.c

carpenter Maryes sonne & the brother of James & Joses & of Juda & Simō? & are not his sisters here vñ vs? And they were offended by him. And Jesus sayde vnto them: a prophet is not despised but in his owne countre, & among his owne kynne, & amōge them that are of the same houshold. And he could there shewe no myracles, but layd his hādes vpon a fewe sicke foulcke and healed them & he marueyled at their vnbeleefe. ✠

And he went about by the tounes that lay on euery syde, teachinge. And he called the twelue, & began to sēde them two & two, & gaue them power ouer vncleane spretes. And cōmaūded them, that they should take nothing vnto their iorney saue * a rode onlt nether scrip, nether bred nether mony in their pourses, but should be shood vñ sandals. And that thei should not put on two cootes. And he sayd vnto thē: wher soeuer ye entre into an house, there abyde til ye departe thence. And whosoeuer shal not receaue you nor heare you, whē ye depart thēce, shake of the dust ỹ is vnder your fete, for a wytnesse vnto thē. I say verely vnto you, it shalbe easier for sodō & Gomor at ỹ daye of iudgmēt, thē for ỹ citie. And thei wēt out & preached, ỹ they should repēt: & thei cast out many deuils. And thei anoīted many that were sycke with oile, & healed them

25

And kynge Herode herde of hym (for hys name was spred abroade) and sayde: John Baptiste is rysen agayne from deeth, & therfore myracles are wrought by him. Other sayd it is Helyas: & some sayd: it is a prophete or as one of the prophetes. But when Herode hard of hym, he sayde: it is John whō I beheaded, he is rysen from deeth agayne.

C

✠ For Herode him selfe had sent forth & had taken John, & bound him & caste hī into prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother philyppes wife: For he had maried her. John said vnto Herode It is not lawful for the to haue thi brothers wife. Herodias layd wait for him, & wolde haue kylled him. but she coulde not. For Herode feared John, knowyng that he was a iust mā & an holy: & gaue hī reuerence: and when he harde hym, he dyd many thinges, & heard him gladly.

But

But when a conuenyent day was come: Herode on his birth day made a supper to ỹ lordes, captaines & chefe estates of Galyle. And the daughter of ỹ sayde Herodias came in & daũsed, & pleased Herode & thẽ ỹ sate at bourd also. Thẽ the king said vnto ỹ maid: aske of me what that ỹ wilt, & I wil geue it ỹ. And he swa re vnto her, whatsoeuer ỹ shalte aske of me, I wil geue it ỹ, eué vnto ỹ one halfe of my kyngdõ. And she went forth & sayde to her mother: what shal I aske? And she said: John Baptystes heed. And she cã in streight way wt haste vnto ỹ king, & asked sayig: I wil: that ỹ geue me by & by in a charger the heed of John Baptiste. And the king was sory: how beit for his othes sake, & for their sakes which sate at supper also, he wold not put her beside her purpose. And immediatly ỹ kig sent the hãgmã & cõmaũded hys heed to be brought in. And he wente & beheeded him in the prysõ & brought his heed in a charger, & gaue it to the maiden and the maiden gaue it to her mother. And when his disciples heard of it, they came & toke vp his body, & put it in a toumbe. ✠

And the Apostles gadered thẽ selues together to Jesus, & told hi al thiges, both what they had done, & what they had taught. And he said vnto them * come a part into ỹ wildernes, & rest a while. For there were many commers & goers, that they had no leasure so moche as to eate. And he wẽt by ship out of ỹ way into a desert place. But the people spied thẽ whẽ thei departed: & many knew him, & ran a fote thither out of all cities, & came thyther before thẽ, & came to geder vnto hi. And Jesus wẽt out & saw moch people, & had cõpassiõ on thẽ, because they were like shepe which had no shepherde. And he began to teache them many thynges.

* And whẽ the day was now farre spẽte, his disciples came vnto hi sayig: this is a desert place, & now the daye is farre passed, let thẽ depart, ỹ they may go into ỹ coũtrey roũd about & into ỹ townes, & bie thẽ bred: for thei haue nothig to eate. He ãswered & sayde vnto them: geue ye thẽ to eat. And thei said vnto hi: shal we go and bye. ii. c. peny worth of bred, & geue thẽ to eat? He sayd vnto thẽ: how many loues haue ye, Go & loke. And when thei had serched, thei said. v. & two fisshes And he cõmaũded thẽ to make thẽ al syt downe by cõpanies vpõ the grene gras. And they sate downe here arow & there a row, by hũdredes, & fifties. And he toke ỹ. v. loues & the two fysshes, & loked vp to heuen * and blessed & brake the loues and gaue them to his disciples to put before thẽ: & the. ii. fishes he deuided amõg them al. And they al did eat, & were satisfyed. And thei toke vp. xii. baskettes ful of the gobets and of the fisshes. And thei that ate were about fiue thousand men:

And streyght way he caused his disciples to go into the shyp, and to go ouer ỹ water before vnto Bethsayda, whyl he sent away the people. * And assone as he had sẽt thẽ away, he departed into a moũtaine to pray. ✠ And when euen was come ỹ shyp was in the middes of the see, & he alone on the lãd & saw them troubled in rowing, for the wind was cõtrary vnto thẽ. And about ỹ fourthe * quarter of the night, he came vnto them, walkynge vpõ the see, & wold haue passed by them Whẽ they saw hi walkyng vpõ the see, they supposed it had bene a spryte & cryed out: for they al saw hi, & were afrayed And anon he talked wt them & said vnto them: be of good chere, it is I, be not afraied. * And he went vp vnto thẽ into ỹ ship & the wind ceased, & they were sore amased in thẽ selues beyõde measure, & marueiled. For they remẽbred not of the loues, because their hertes were blinded

And they came ouer and went into the lãd of Genazareth, and dryue vp into the haué. And assone as they were come out of the shyppe, streight they knew hi, and ran forth through out all the regiõ roũde about and begã to cary about in beddes al that were syck, to the place where they herd tel that he was. And whyther soeuer he entred into townes cities, or villages, they laid their sick in the streates, and prayed him that they might touche, and it were but the edge of hys vesture. And as many as touched hi, were safe. ✠

Mat. xiii. c
Luke. ix. c
John. vi. a

Mat. xiii. b
Luke. v. b
John. vi. a

Mat. xiii. c
Luke. ix. c
John. vi. a

Mat. xiii. d

Mat. xiii. d

The Notes.

a * Wethern loke gene. xiii, b b * Saue a rode only. Although in Math. v. a. & Luke. ix. a. He should seme to forbyde thẽ a rode, yet ỹ text meneth not so in dede, but forbiddeth cote, shoes, rode &c by a figure: to ỹ entẽt only ỹ they shuld vtterly put from frō the al carefulnes of any soch p;ouisiōs. For yf he hed so meant ỹ they shuld haue taken no soch thinges w̄ thē/thē shuld it not now be lawful for any p;eacher to haue any of those thynges wyth them when they go to p;each. And therfore Marcke exp;essynge christes mynde more playnly geueth lyberte to take a rode or a walkynge staffe to ease them selfe wal when they are wery.

c* Blessed/that is/he gaue thankes,

d* The fourth quarter is the.iiii.watch as in Mat.xiiii.c

¶ The disciples eate w̄ vnwasshē hādes. The cō maūdement of god is trāsgressed by mānes tradicyons, Of the woman of Sirophenissa. Of thre Saboth

The.vii.Chapter.

A ND ỹ pharises came to ged der vnto hi, & diuers of the scribes which came frō Jerusalē. And whē they sawe certaine of his disciples eat breed w̄ cōmen handes (that is to saye, w̄ vnwasshen handes) thei complained. For ỹ Pharises & all the Jewes, except they wash their handes ofte, eate not, obseruing the tradicions of ỹ elders. And whē they come frō ỹ market, except they washe, they eat not. And many other thi ges ther be, which thei haue takē vpō thē to obserue, as ỹ washig of cuppes & cru ses, & of brasen vessels and of tables.

B Then asked him the pharises & Scry bes why walk not thy disciples accordige to ỹ traditions of the elders, but eate breed w̄ vnwashen handes? He āswered & said vnto them: wel prophesied Esay as of you ypocrits, as it is writē: ‡ This people honoreth me w̄ their lippes, but their herte is farre from me: In vayne they worshyp me, teachig doctrines whych ar nothing but ỹ cōmaundemētes of men. For ye lay the cōmaūdemēt of god apart, & obserue the traditions of mē, as the weshing of cruses and of cuppes, & many other suche lyke thynges ye do.

Esa.xxix.d. math.xv.b.

And he sayde vnto them: wel, ye calle a syde ỹ cōmaūdement of god, to maintey ne your owne traditiōs. * For Moyses sayde honour thy father & thy mother: & whosoeuer curseth father or mother, let hi die for it. But ye say: a mā shal say to faher or mother Corbā: which is: ỹ ỹ desirest of me to helpe the w̄ is geuen god And so ye suffre hi no more to do ought for his father or his mother makig thee worde of God of none effecte, throughe your owne tradicions whych ye haue ordeyned. And many soche thynges do ye.

Exod.xx.b Deute.v.b sybill.vi.a Exod.xxi.c Leuit.xx.b Prou.xx.b

And he called al the people vnto hym, & sayd vnto them: herkē vnto me, euery one of you & vnderstand. * There is nothing without a mā that cā defile hi whē it entereth into him: but those thīges wh che p;ocede out of him, ar those which defile ỹ mā. If any mā haue eares to heare, let hi heare. And when he came to house away frō ỹ people, his disciples asked him of ỹ similitud. And he said vnto thē ar ye so wout, vnderstādyng? Do ye not yet perceaue, that whatsoeuer thing frō wythout, entrethe in to a man, it can not defyle him, because it entrethe not in to hys hert, but into ỹ belly: & goeth out into ỹ draught that pourgeth out al meates.

C math.xv.b

And he said: ỹ defyleth a man which cometh out of a man. For frō with in, euen out of the hert of mē p;oceade euil thoughtes, aduoutrye, fornication, murther, theeft, couetousnes, wickednes, deceyte, vnclennes, & a wicked eie, blasphemi, pride, foltishnes: al these euill thinges come frō with in, & defile a mā. ‡ And frō thēce he rose & wēt into the borders of Tire & Sidō, & entred into an house, & wolde ỹ no mā shuld haue knowē. But he could not be hid. For a certaine womā whose daughter had a foule spryte hard of him & came & fel at his fet. The womā was a gre ke out of Syrophenicia, & she besought him ỹ he wold cast out ỹ deuil out of her daughter. And Jesus said vnto her: lett the childrē first be fed. For it is not mete to take ỹ chyldrens breed, and to caste it vnto whelpes. She āswered & said vn to hun: cuē so Master, * neuertheles, the whelpes also eate vnder ỹ table of ỹ chil drens crommes. And he saide vnto her: for this saying go thy way, ỹ deuil is gone out of thy daughter. And whē she was come home to her house, she foūd ỹ deuil departed, & her daughter lyig on the bed

‡ math.xv.c

D math.xv.c

+ And he departed againe frō ỹ costes of Tire & Sidō, & came vnto the see of Galile thorow ỹ middes of ỹ costes of ỹ x.cities. And thei brought vnto him one ỹ was deffe & stāmred in his speche, and prayed hi to put his hāde vpō him. And he toke hi a side frō the people, & put his fingers in his eares & did spit & touched math.xv.c math.ix.b

E

lyps

his tonge & loked vp to heuē & syghted, & said vnto him: Ephatha, that is to say be opened. And streyght way hys eares were opened, & the stringe of his tounge was loosed, and he spake plaine. And he cōmaūded thē that they shuld tel no mā. But the moze he forbad them, so moch ꝑ moare a greate deale they publisshed it: and were beyonde measure astonied, saynge: ¶ He hathe done all thynges well, and hathe made booth the deffe to heare and the domme to speake. ✠

Gene.i.d
eccle.xxxix

¶ The miracles of the seuen loues. The pharises aske a sygne. The leuen of the pharises. The blinde receaueth hys syght.

The.viii. Chapter.

In the daies whē ther was a very greate company, and had nothing to eate, Jesus called his disciples to hym & sayd vnto thē: I haue cō= passion on this people, because thei haue now bene wt me. iii. dayes, and haue no= thing to eate: & yf I shuld sēd thē awaye fasting to their owne houses, they shuld faynt by the waye. For diuers of thē ca= me from farre. And his disciples answe= red hym: wher shuld a man haue breade here in ꝑ wildernes to satisfie these? And he asked thē: howe many loues haue ye? They sayd, seuen. And he cōmaunded ꝑ people to syt downe on the ground. And he toke ꝑ. vii. loues, gaue thākes, brake & gaue to hys disciples, to set before thē. And thei did set thē before ꝑ people. And they had a fewe smal fishes. And he blessed thē & cōmaūded thē also to be set be= fore thē. And they ate and were suffised. And they toke vp of the broken meate ꝑ was left. vii. baskets ful. And they that ate, were in nomber aboute fower thou= sand. And he sent them awaye. ✠ mat.xv.a

mat.xv.b

And a none he entred into a shyp with his disciples, & came into ꝑ parties of dal manutha. * And ꝑ pharises came forth, & began to dispute with him, seking of hym a sygne frō heauen & tempting hi. And he syghthed in hys spryte & sayde: why doth thys generacyō seke a sygne? Verely I sai vnto you, ther shal no signe be geuē vnto thys generaciō. And he lefte them and went into the shyp againe, & departed ouer the water.

mat.xvi.a
luke.xi.d
Joh.vi.d

And thei had forgottē to take bread wt thē, nether had thei in ꝑ ship wt thē moze then one loofe. And he charged thē sayig ✠ Take hede, & beware of ꝑ leuen of the pharises, & of the leuen of Herode. And they reasoned amōg them selues sayinge: we haue no breed. And when Jesus knewe ꝑ, he said vnto them: why take ye thought because ye haue no bred? perceaue ye not yet, nether vnderstād? Haue ye your hertes yet blinded. Haue ye eyes & se not? & haue ye eares and heat not? Do ye not remember? When I brake. v. lo= ues amōg. v M. How many baskets ful of broken meat toke ye vp? They sayde vnto him, twelue. When I brake. vii. a mōg. iiii. M. How many baskettes of ꝑ leuinges of broken meate toke ye vp? They sayd, seuen. And he said vnto thē: how is it that ye vnderstande not.

mat.xvi.c
luke.ix.c
Joh.vi.c

✠ And he came to Bethsayda, & they brought a blind mā vnto hi, & desired hi to touch him. And he caught ꝑ blid by ꝑ hand, & leade him out of the toune & spat in his eyes & put hys hādes vpon him, & asked hi whether he saw oughte. And he loked vp & saide: I se ꝑ men: for I se thē walk, as they were trees. After ꝑ he put hys hādes againe vpon his eies, & made hi se. And he was restored to hys sight, & saw euery mā clerli. And he sent hi home to his house sayng: nether go into ꝑ toune, nor tel it to eny in the towne. ✠

And Jesus went oute & his disciples into ꝑ tounes that lōg to the cittye called Cesarea Philippi. And by the way he asked his disciples sayig: whō do men say ꝑ I am? And thei ānswered: some say that ꝑ art John Baptist: some say Helyas: & some one of the prophetes. And he sayd vnto thē: but whō say ye ꝑ I am? * peter ānswered & said vnto hi ꝑ art very christ. And he charged thē, ꝑ they shulde tell no mā of it. And he began to teach thē, how that ꝑ sōne of mā must suffre many thin= ges, & shuld be reproued of ꝑ elders & of the hie prestes & scribes, & be kylled, & af= ter. iii. daies arise agayne. And he spake that saying openly. And Peter toke him aside, and began to chyde him. Then he tourned aboute, and loked on hys disci= ples, and rebuked Peter sayinge, Go af= ter me Satā. For thou sauerest not the thinges of god but the thynges of men.

mat.xvi.c
luke.ix.c
Joh.vi.c

Mar.xvi.d
and.e.d
Luke.ix.c
and.xiiii.c

* And he called the people vnto him, wt

his

his disciples also, & said vnto thē. Whosoeuer wil folow me, let him forsake him selfe & take vp his cros, & fololow me. For whosoeuer wyl saue hys lyfe, shall lose it. But whosoeuer shal lose his life for my sake & ꝓ Eospels, ye same shal saue it. What shal it profet a mā, yf he shuld winne al ꝑ worlde & lose his owne soule? or els what shal a mā geue to redeme his soule againe? Whosoeuer therfore shalbe ashamed of me & of my wordes, amōg this aduoutrous & sinful generatiō: of him shal the sōne of man be ashamed, when he cometh in ꝑ glorye of hys father with ꝑ holy angels. And he sayde vnto thē: Verely I say vnto you: There be some of them ꝑ stād here, which shal not taste of deeth, tyl they haue sene the kyngedom of god come wyth power.

¶ The trāsfiguracion. The lunatike is healed. The disputacion who shuld be the greatest. Wemen are forbydden.

The.ix. Chapter.

mat.xvii.a Luke.ix.b

AND after. vi. daies Jesus toke Peter, James & John, & ledde thē vp into an hie mountayne out of ꝑ waye alone, & he was trāsfigured before them. And his raimēt did shine, & was made very whyte, euē as snowe: so whyte as no fuller can make vpon the erth. And there apered vnto them Helias wt Moses: & thei talked wt Jesu. And Peter answered and sayd to Jesu: Master here is good beynge for vs, let vs make. iii. tabernacles, one for ꝑ, one for Moses, & one for Helias. And yet he wyst not what he sayde: for they were afrayde. And ther was a cloude that shadowed thē. And a voyce came oute of the cloude sayinge: * Thys is my deare sōne, heare him. And sodenly they loked rounde about thē, and saw no man more then Jesus onelye wythe them.

mat.iii.d & xvii.b. Luke iii.c & ix.c Mark.i.b

And as they came downe frō the hil, he charged them that they shulde tel no man what they had sene tyl the sonne of mā were rysen frō deeth agayne. And they kepte that sayinge with them, & demaunded one of another, what ꝑ rising frō deeth againe shuld meane? And they asked him saying: why then Saye the Scribes, that Helias must first come? He answered & saide vnto thē: * Helias verely shal first come & restore al thinges. And also the sonne of man as it is written, shal suffre manye thynges and mat.xvii.a. Esay.xlii.b Math.xiii.c Luke.xxiv.c

shalbe set at nought. Moreouer I say vnto you that Helias is come, and they haue done vnto him whatsoeuer pleased thē, as it is wrytten of hym.

And he came to his disciples & saw moch people about them, and the Scribes disputynge with them. And streight way al ꝑ people whē they beheld hym, were amased and rā to hym & saluted him. And he sayde vnto the Scribes: what dysputе ye wyth them? † * And one of ꝑ cōpanye answered & sayd: Master I haue brought my sonne vnto the, which hath a domme spyryte. And whensoeuer he taketh him, he teareth hym, and he fometh, and gnasheth wyth his tethe, and pyneth awaye. And I spake to thy disciples that they shuld caste hym out, & they coulde not.

¶ What, xvii. Luke, ix.

He answered hym and sayde: O generacīō without faith, how longe shall I be wt you? How longe shall I suffre you? Bringe hym vnto me. And they broughte hym vnto hym. And assone as the spyrite sawe hym, he tare him. And he fell downe on the groūde walowynge and fomyng. And he asked his father how long is it a goo, sens thys hath happened hym? And he sayde, of a cōylde: and ofte tymes casteth him in to the fyre, and also into the water, to destroy him. But yf thou canst do ony thyng, haue mercy on vs, and helpe vs. And Jesus sayde vnto hym: yf thou couldest beleue, al thinges are possyble to hym that beleueth. And streyght way the father of the chylde cryed wyth teares sayinge: Lorde I beleue, helpe myne vnbeleefe.

D

When Jesus saw that the people came runnynge to geather vnto hym, he rebuked thee foule spyrite, sayinge vnto hym: Thou domme and deffe spyrite, I charge ꝑ come oute of hym, and entre no more in to hym. And thee spyryte cryed, and rente hym sore & came oute: & he was as one that had bene deed, in so moche that many sayde, he is deed. But Jesus caught hys hande and lyfte hym vp: and he rose: And when he was come into the house, hys dyscypples asked him secretly why coulde not we cast hī oute? And he sayde vnto them: thys kynde cā by no nother meanes come forth, but by prayer and fastynge. ‡

note pray fasty

† And they departed thens, & toke theyr iorney thorow Galile, & he wold not ꝑ enye

G

man

mā ſhuld haue knowen it. For he taughte his dyſcypples, & ſaid vnto them: *the ſōne of mā ſhalbe deliuered into ỹ hādes of mē, and they ſhall kyll hym and after that he is killed he ſhal aryſe agayne ỹ thyrd day. But they wyſte not what ỹ ſaying meāt, & were afrayed to aſke him. And he came to Capernaum. And whē he was come to hou ſe, he ared them: what was it ỹ ye diſputed bitwene you by ỹ way? And they held their peace: for by the waye they reſoned amōge thē ſelues, who ſhuld be the cheſeſt. * And he ſate downe & called the twelue vnto him & ſaid to thē, yf eny man deſire to be fyrſte, the ſame ſhalbe laſt of all, & ſeruaunte vn= to all. And he toke a chylde, & ſet him in the middes of thē, & toke him in his armes and ſayd vnto them: whoſoeuer receaueth enye ſoche a chylde in my name, receaueth me. And whoſoeuer receaueth me, receueth not me, but him that ſent me. ✠

Mat. xviii. a luke. ix. f

mat. xviii a luke. ix f

nota nota ſ not ſaid & ye not

John anſwered hym ſaying: ✠ Maſter, we ſaw one caſtyng out deuyls in thy na= me, whyche foloweth not vs & we forbade him becauſe he foloweth vs not. But Je= ſus ſaid forbid him not. For ther is no mā that ſhall do a myracle in my name, that cā lyghtelye ſpeake euyll of me. Whoſoeuer is not againſt you, is on your part. And who ſoeuer ſhal geue you a cup of water to drin ke for my names ſake, becauſe ye belonge to Chryſte, verely I ſaye vnto you, he ſhal not loſe hys *reward. And whoſoeuer ſhal offende one of theſe lytelons, that beleue in me, it were better for hym, that a mylſtone were hanged aboute his necke, and that he were caſt into thee ſee. Wherfore yf thy hā de offende the, cutt hym of. It is better for the, to enter into lyfe maymed, thē hauyng two handes go into hell, into fyre that ne= uer ſhalbe quenched, where their worme dy eth not, and thee fyre neuer goeth out. Like wyſe yf thy fote offend the, cut hym of. For it is better for the to go halte into lyfe, then hauynge two fete to be caſte into hell, into fire that neuer ſhalbe quenched: wher their worme dyethe not, and thee fyre neuer go= eth oute. Euen ſo yf thyne eye offend thee, plucke him out. It is better for the to go in to the kyngdome of God wyth one eye, thē hauynge two eyes to be caſte into hel fire: where theyr worme dyeth not, and the fyre neuer goethe oute. &

What ſoeuer is done for chriſtes ſake ſhalbe rewarded with the re warde that chriſt hath deſerued for vs.

G

Eucry man therfore ſhalbe ſalted wyth fyre. And euerye ſacryfyce ſhalbe ſeaſoned wyth ſalt. Salt is good. But yf ỹ ſalt be vn= ſauery, what ſhall ye ſalt therwith? Se that ye haue ſalt in your ſelues: & haue peace a= mōge youre ſelues, one wyth another.

Fyre is the oblation, and ſalte is goddes worde.

Of deuocyonēt. The ryche man queſtioneth with Chryſt. Of the ſonnes of zebede. Barthimeus ỹ blyn de man.

The.x. Chapter. ✠

AND he roſe from thence and went into the coſtes of Jurye through the regyō that is be= yond Jordan. And the people reſorted vnto hym a freſhe: & as he was wonte, he taught them agayne. And thee Pharyſes came and aſked hym a queſtyon: whether it were lawefull for a man to put away hys wyfe: to proue hym. And he anſwered & ſaid vnto them: * what dyd Moyſes byd you do? And they ſayde Moſes ſuffred to wryte a teſtymonyall of deuorſement, and to put her away. And Je ſus anſwered and ſayde vnto them: For ỹ hardnes of youre hertes he wrote this pre= cepte vnto you. But at the fyrſte creacyon God made them man and woman. * And for thys thynges ſake ſhall man leue hys father and mother & byde by his wife and they twayne ſhalbe one fleſſhe. So then ar they nowe not twayne but one fleſh. Ther fore what God hathe coupled, let not man ſeparate.

A

A mat. xix. a.

mat. xix. a. & mar. x. a.

Gene. ii. g. 1. Cor. vi. d mat. v. g. & xix. a Ephe. v. g.

And in the houſe his diſciples aſked him agayne of that matter. And he ſayde vnto them. Whoſoeuer putteth awaye his wife & maryeth another, breaketh wedlocke to herwarde. And yf a womā forſake her huſ band and be maryed to another: ſhe cōmyt tethe aduoutrye. ‡ And they brought chyl= dren to hym, that he ſhoulde touche them. And hys diſcypples rebuked thoſe that brought them. When Jeſus ſawe that, he was diſpleaſed and ſayde to them: Suf= fre the chyldren to come vnto me, & forbyd thē not. For of ſuch is ỹ kingdom of God. Verelye I ſaye vnto you whoſoeuer ſhall not receaue the kingdom of God as a chil de, he ſhal not enter therin. And he toke thē vp in his armes, & put his hādes vpō thē, and bleſſed them. ✠

B

mat. xix b luk. xviii d

‡ And when he was come into the way, ther came one runnyng and kneled to him, & aſked hi: good maiſter, what ſhal I do:

that

that I maye enherett eternall lyfe? Jesus sayde to hym: why callest thou me good? There is no man good but one, whyche is C god. Thou knowest the cõmaũdementes: breake not matrymony: kyl not: steale not, bere no false wytnes: defraude no mã: honoure thy father & mother. He answered & sayde to hym master al these I haue observed frõ my youth Jesus behold him, & had a fauour to hym & sayd vnto him: one thinge is lackig vnto ỹ Go* & sel al that thou hast, and geue to the pooze & thou shalt haue treasure in heuen & come & folowe me, & take vp the crosse. But he was discumfozted with that saying, & went away mournige, foz he had greate possessions.

And Jesus looked round about, & sayd vnto his disciples: what an hard thig is it foz thẽ ỹ hauc ryches, to entre into the king
D õõ of God. And his dyscyples were astonnyed at hys wozdes. But Jesus answered againe & said vnto thẽ: children how herde is it foz thẽ. ỹ trust in rycheſſe, to entre in to the kyndom of God? It is easyer foz a camel to go thozowe the eye of an nedle, then foz a ryche man to entre into the kyngdom of god. And they were astonied out of measure, sayinge betwene thẽ selues: who then can be saued? Jesus loked vpõ thẽ, & said: with men it is impossible, but not wt god: foz wyth god al thynges are possyble.

And Peter beganne to say vnto him: Lo,
E we haue fozsaken all, and haue folowed the. Jesus answered & sayde: Uerely I say vnto you, ther is no mã that fozsaketh house, oz bzethzen, oz systers, oz father, oz mother, oz wyfe, other chyldzen, oz landes foz my sake and the gospelles, whych shal not receaue an hundzed foolde nowe in this life: houses and bzethzin, and systers, & mothers. and chyldzen, and landes with persecutions: and in the wozlde to come, eternal lyfe? Many ỹ are fyzst, shalbe last, & ỹ last, fyzst. And they were in the waye goyng vp to Jerusalem. And Jesus went befoze thẽ: and they were amased, & as they folowed, were afrayde.

And Jesus toke the .xii. agayne, & began to tel them what thynges shuld happẽ vnmath.xvi.c. to him. ✝ Beholde we go vp to Jerusalem, xvii, c. xxvi, and the sonne of man shalbe deliuered vnc, Lu. xviii, c to ỹ hie prestes and vnto the Scribes: and aud. fo. ii, t they shall condempne him to deethe, & shall delyuer him to the gentylles: and they shal mocke him, and scourge him & spytt vpon hym, and kyll hym. And the thyzde dayt he shall ryse agayne

And then James and John the sõnes of zebede came vnto him, saying: Master: we wold that thou shuldest do foz vs whatsoeuer we desyze. He sayde vnto them: what wold ye I shuld do vnto you? Thei said to him: graunt vnto vs that we maye sit one on thy ryght hande, & the other on thy lyfte hãd, in thy glozi. But Jesus said vnto thẽ. Ye wot not what ye aske. Cã ye dzyncke of the cup that I shal dzynck of, and be baptised in the baptime that I shalbe baptised in? And they sayde vnto hym: that we can. Jesus sayde vnto them: ye shal dzincke of F the cup that I shall dzyncke of & be baptysed wt the baptyme that I shalbe baptised in: but to sit on my ryght hand and on my lyfte hande is not myne to geue, but to thẽ foz whom it is prepared.

* And when the .x. herd that, they begã to Mat. xx. d disdayne at James & John. But Jesus called them vnto him, & sayde to them: ye knowe ỹ they whych seme to beare rule among the gentils, raigne as lozdes ouer thẽ. And they that be greate amonge them, exercyse auctozite ouer thẽ. So shal it not be amõge you, but whosoeuer of you wilbe greate amõg you, shalbe your minister. And whosoeuer wilbe cheefe, shalbe seruaũt vnto al Foz euẽ the sonne of mã came not to be ministred vnto: but to minister, & to geue his lyfe foz the redemption of many.

And they came to Hiericho. * And as he G wẽt oute of Hiericho wyth his disciples, & a great nombze of people: Bartimeus ỹ sonne of Thimeus which was blynde, sate by the hye wayes syde beggynge. And whẽ he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he beganne to crye and to saye: Jesus thee sonne of Dauid, haue mercye on me. And many rebuked hym, that he shoulde holde hys peace. But he cryed thee moze a greate deale, thou sonne of Dauid haue mercy on me. And Jesus stode styll, and commaũded hym to be called. And they called thee blynde, sayinge vnto hym: Be yf good cõfozte: ryse, he calleth the. And he thzewe away hys clooke, and rose and came to Jesus. And Jesus answered, & saide vnto hi: what wylt thou that I do vnto thee? The mach. xx. d Lu. xviii. g

blynd

blind said vnto him: Master, that I might se. Iesus sayde vnto hym: go thy way, thy faith hath saued ỹ. And by & by he receued his sight, and folowed Iesus in the waye.

The Notes.

a* Go sel al ỹ ỹ hast/ that is pluck thy herte from al that ỹ doest possesse, & so forsake them w al thy hearte so that in thy mynde thou sell them. and be readie also in deade to sel them ỹt the necessite of thy neighbour requere it. The affecte and truste in thynges possessed muste we euer renounce or elles are we not perfect as Mat. xix. b ¶ Chryst rideth to Ierusalem. The figge tree dryeth vp. The biers and sellers are cast out of the temple. The Pharises question with chryst.

The. xi. Chapter.

A Mat. xxi. a. Luke. xix. c.

AND when they came nye to Ierusalem vnto Bethphage and Bethanye, besides mount Olyuete; he sente forthe two of hys dyscyples, and sayd vnto them: Go youre wayes into the towne that is ouer agaynst you. And as sone as ye be entred in to it, ye shall fynde a coolt, bounde, whereon neuer man sate: lose hym and brynge hym. And yf enye man saye vn to you: why do ye so? Saye that the lord hath neade of hym: and streyghte way he wil sende hym hydder. And they wente their waye & founde a coolte tyed by the doze without in a place where two wayes met, & they losed hym. And dyuers of them that stode there, sayde vnto them: * what do ye loosinge thee coolte? And they sayde vnto them euen as Iesus had commaunded thē. And they let them go. And they brought ỹ coolte to Iesus, and caste theyr garmentes on hym: & he sate vpō him. And manye spredetheir garmētes in ỹ way. Other cut downe braunches of the trees, & strawed thē in the waye. And they that went before and they that folowed, cryed sayinge: a* Hosanna: blessed be he that commeth in the name of the Lorde. Blessed be thee kyngdome that commeth in the name of hym that is Lord of oure father Dauid: Hosanna in thee hyeste.

John. xii. b.

B Mata ouerthrew out the seates of the money chaungers

And the Lord entred into Ierusalē & into the tēple. And when he had loked round about vpō al thinges, & how thee euen tyde was come, he went oute vnto Bethany, wt the twelue. And on the morowe when they were come out frō Bethany, he hungred, & spied a b* figge tree a farre of hauinge leues, & wēt to se whether he myght find enything theron. But when he came therto, he found nothynge but leues: for the tyme of fygges was not yet. And Iesus answered and sayd to it: neuer man eate frute of thee here after whyl the worlde stādeth. And his dyscypples hearde it.

C And they came to Ierusalem. And Iesus went into the temple, and beganne to caste out the sellers and byers in the temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the moneye chaungers, and the stoles of them that solde doues: and wolde not suffre that eny man caryed a vessell thorow the tēple. And he taught sayinge vnto them, * is it not writtē: my house shalbe called the house of prayer vnto al nations? But ye haue made it a den of theues. Esay. lvi. c.

And the Scribes and hye preastes heard it and sought howe to destroie him. For they feared him, because all the people maruueled at his doctrine. And whē cuē was come, he went out of ỹ citie. * And in ỹ morninge as they passed by, they saw ỹ figge tree dryed vp by the rotes. And peter remēbred & sayde vnto him: master, beholde, ỹ fygge tree which thou cursedest, is widred away. And Iesus answered & said vnto thē: haue cōfydens in god. † Verely I saye vnto you, ỹ whosoeuer shall say vnto thys mountayne take awaye thy selfe, & cast thy selfe into the see and shall not wauer in hys herte, but shall beleue those thynges which he sayethe shall come to passe, what soeuer he sayeth, shalbe done to him. Therfore I say vnto you. † whatsoeuer ye desyre when ye pray, beleue ỹ ye shal haue it, & it shalbe done vnto you. And when ye stand and pray, forgeue, yf ye haue eny thyng agaynste eny mā: ỹ your father also which is in heuē, may forgeue you your trespases. Mat. xxi. b

D Mat. xxi. c. Iohn. xv. b. c

And they came agayne to Ierusalem. † And as he walked i ỹ tēple, ther came to hi the hye prestes, & ỹ Scribes, & the elders, & sayde vnto hym: by what auctorite doest ỹ these thynges? and who gaue the this auctorite, to do these thinges? Iesus āswered & said vnto them: I wil also aske of you a certayne thynge & answere ye me: & I wyll tel you by what auctorite I do these thynges. The baptime of John, was it from heuen or * of men? Answere me. And they thoughte in thē selues sayinge: yf we shall say frō heuen: he wyl saye, why then dyd ye not Luke. xx. a. Math. xxi. c not beleue hi: but yf we shal say, of mẽ: then feare we ȳ people. For al men counted John, that he was a verie Prophete. And they answered & sayde vnto Jesu: we cannot tel. And Jesus answered, and sayd vnto them: nether wyl I tel you by what auctorite I do these thynges.

The Notes.

a* Hosanna loke in Mat. xxi. b d* Fygge tree loke in Mat. xxi, b c* Of men or of heuen/loke Mat. xxi. c

¶ The vineyarde is let oute. Geue to Cesar that belongeth to Cesar. Of the Saduces, of the doctor of lawe, ypocrytes must be eschewed. the offerinse of the poore wedowe.

The. xii. Chapter.

A math, xxi. d. Luke, xx. b Esaye, v. a,

AND he begã to speake vnto thẽ in similitudes. A certayne mã plãted a vyneyard, & cõpassed it wt an hedge & ordeined a wine presse, & bylt a towre in it. And let it oute to hire vnto husbãdmẽ, & went into a straũg coũtre. And whẽ the tyme was come, he sente to ȳ tenaũtes a seruaũt, ȳ he might receaue of ȳ tenaũtes of the frute of the vineyarde. And thei caught him & bet hi, & sẽt hi againe emptye. And moreouer he sente vnto thẽ another seruaũt, & at hi thei cast stones & brake his heed, & sent him againe al to reuyled. And agayne he sent another, & him they kylled: & many other, berynge some and kyllynge some.

Yet had he one sonne whõ he loued tenderly, him also he sente at ȳ last vnto thẽ sayng they wil feare my sõne. ‡ But ȳ tenaũtes said amõgest thẽ selues: this is ȳ heire: come let vs kil him & ȳ inheritaũce shalbe ours. And they toke hi & kylled him, & cast hi out of ȳ vyneyarde. What shal then the Lord of the vyneyarde do? He wil come and destroye the tenãtes, & let out ȳ vyneyard to other. Haue ye not redde this scrypture? * The stone which the bylders did refuse, is made the chefe stone in ȳ cozner: thys was done of the lord, and is meruelous in our eyes. And thei went about to take him, but thei feared the people. For they perceaued that he spake that symylytude against them. And they left him and went their waye.

* And they sent vnto hi certaine of the phartises wt Herodes seruaũtes, to take hi in his wordes. And assone as they were come they sayde vnto him: master we math. xxi. b Luke. xx. d

mark. xii. c mat. xxi. b

math. xxii. b Luke. xx. d

know that ȳ art true, & carest for noma: for thou consyderest not ȳ degre of men but teachest the way of God truly: Is it lauful to pay tribute to Cesar, or not? Ought we to geue, or oughte we not to geue? He vnderstode their simulation & said vnto them. Why tempt ye me? Bryng me a peny, that I mate se it. And they brought. And he said vnto thẽ: whose is thys ymage and superscryptyon? And they sayd vnto him, Cesars. And Jesus answered and sayd vnto them: ‡ Thẽ geue to Cesar that which belõgeth to Cesar: and to god, that which perteineth to god. And they meruelled at hym,

Rom. xiii. b math. xxii. c

Then came ȳ Saduces vnto hi, whiche say, ther is no resurrection. And they asked him saying: ‡ Master, Moses wrote vnto vs yf any mans brother dye, & leue hys wyfe behid hym, and leue no chyldre: that then his brother shuld take his wyfe, and reyse vp seed vnto his brother. There were seuen brethren: & the fyrste toke a wife, & when he died left no seed behind him. And ȳ second toke hir, & dyed: nether left eny seed. And the third lykewyse. And seuẽ had her & lefte no seed behind thẽ. Last of al the wife dyed also. In the resurrectiõ then whẽ they shal ryse againe: whose wife shal she be of thẽ? For seuen had her to wife. Jesus answered & said vnto them: Ar ye not therfore deceaued & vnderstande not the scryptures, nether the power of god? For when they shal rise againe frõ deeth, they neyther mary nor ar maried: but are as thee angels which ar in heuen. As touchyng the deed, that they shal rise agayne: haue ye not redde in the boke of Moses, howe in the bussh God spake vnto hi sayinge: ‡ I am the god of Abraham and god of Isaac, & the god of Jacob? He is not ȳ god of the deed, but the god of the lyuinge. Ye are therfore greatly deceaued.

math. xxii. b Luke. xx. d

Exod. iii. b

C

* And ther came one of ȳ Scribes that had herd thẽ in disputing together, & perceaued that he had answered them wel, & asked him: which is ȳ fyrst of al the cõmaũdementes? Jesus ãswered him: the fyrst of all ȳ cõmaũdementes is. Heare Israel: * The lord god, is one lord. And thou shalt loue the Lord thy god wt all thy hert, & with al thy soule, and wyth al

mat. xxii. b

mat. xxii. b. Exodi, xx. a Deute. vi. a thy mynd, & with all thy strength. Thys deuet.vi.d is the first cõmaundemẽt. And the secõd math.xxii.d is lyke vnto this: * Thou shalt loue thy Rom.xiii.c neyghbour as thy self. There is none o-Galat.v.d. ther cõmaũdement greater then these.

And the Scrybe sayd vnto him: well master, thou hast said the truth, that ther is one God and that ther is none but he. And to loue him withal ỹ hert, & withall the mind & withal the soule, & withal the strength: & to loue a mãs neyghbour as him self, is a greater thing then al burnt offeringes & sacrifices. And whẽ Jesus saw that he answered discretly, he sayde vnto him: a* Thou art not farre frõ the kingdom of God. And nomã after that durst aske hym any questyon.

D And Jesus answered & said, teaching in the temple: how say the Scrybes that Christ is ỹ sonne of Dauid? for Dauid him self inspyred with ỹ holi goost, said: The Lord sayd to my Lorde, syt on my eyght hand b * tyl I make thyne enemyes thy fote stole. Then Dauid him selfe calleth hym Lord: and by what meanes is he then hys sonne? And moche people hearde hym gladly.

And he sayd vnto thẽ in his doctrine: beware of ỹ Scribes which loue to goo in lõge clothing, and loue salutacions in thee market places, and the cheefe seates in the synagoges, and to syt in the vppermost rowmes at feastes, & deuoure wydowes houses, & that vnder a coloure of longe prayeng. These shal receaue greater dampnatyon.

✠ And Jesus sat ouer agaynst the treasury, & beheld how the people put money into the treasurye. And many that were ryche cast in moch. And ther came a certayne poore wydowe, & she threw in two mytes, whych make a farthinge. And he called vnto hym his disciples & sayd vnto thẽ: Verely I saye vnto you, that this poore wydowe hath cast more in, then al they which haue cast into the treasurye. For they all dyd caste in of theyr superfluyte: but she of her pouerte, dyd cast in al that she had, euen al her lyuinge. ✠

The Notes

a* Thou art not farre frõ the kingdom of God, that is, thou hast the trueknowledge of the law & lackest nothing but fayth & trust in me, by whych onely cometh euerlasting lyfe.

b* Tyl I make thyne enemyes thy fote stole &c, Luke in Math. xxii. d

¶ The ende of the worlde, & the day & the houre is vnknowen.

The. xiii. Chapter. ✠

AND as he wẽt out of the tẽple, one of his disciples said vnto hym: Master, se what stones, & what bildinges are here. And Jesus answered & sayd vnto him: Seyst thou these greate byldinges? Ther shal not be left one stone vpõ another, that shal not be throwẽ downe. And as he sate on moũt Oliuete ouer against the temple, Peter, & James and John, and Andrew asked him secretly: tel vs, whẽ shal these thinges be? And what is the sygne when al these thynges shalbe fulfylled? And Jesus answered them, and began to saye: * take hede lest any man deceaue you. For many shal come in my name saying: I am christ, and shal deceaue many. J mat.xxiiii.a Luke.xxi.b. mat.xxiiii.a luke.xxi.b.

When ye shal heare of warre & ydinges of warre, be ye not troubled. For soch thinges must nedes be. But ỹ ende is not yet. For there shal nation aryse agaynst nacion, & kingdom against kingdom. And ther shalbe erthquakes in al quarters, & famishmente and troubles. B These are the beginninge of sorowes. * But take ye hede to your selues. For they shal bringe you vp to the coũsels & into the synagoges, & ye shalbe beatẽ: ye and shalbe brought before rulers & kinges for my sake for a testimoniall vnto them. And the Gospel must fyrst be publyshed among all natyons. B John.xvi.a

‡ But whẽ they leade you & present you take no thought afore hãd what ye shal saye, nether ymagion: but whatsoeuer is geuen you at ỹ same tyme, ỹ speake. For it shal not be ye that shal speake, but the holy goost. Yea & ỹ brother shal deliuer ỹ brother to death, & the father the sonne & the chyldrẽ shal ryse agaynste their fathers & mothers, & shal put thẽ to death And ye shalbe hated of al mẽ for my names sake. But who soeuer shall endure vnto the ende, the same shalbe safe. Math.x.c Luke.xxi.c

‡ Moreouer whẽ ye se the abhomnatiõ ỹ betokeneth desolatiõ, wherof is spokẽ by Daniel the prophet, stand wher it ought not, let him that redeth vnderstãd mat.xxiiii.b Luke.xxi.d Danie ix.z

Then

Then let thē ȳ be in Jury, fle to the mouñ taynes. And let him ȳ is on the housetop not descend downe into the house, nether entre therin, to fetch eny thing out of his house. And let him ȳ is in ȳ feld, not turne back agayne vnto the thinges whych he left behind him for to take his clothes with him. Woo shalbe then to thē that ar with chyld, & to thē that geue soucke in those dayes. But pray, a* that your fligh te be not in the winter. For ther shalbe in those dayes sorche tribulatiō, as was not frō the beginnig of creatures which god created vnto thys tyme, neyther shalbe. And except ȳ the Lord shuld shorten those dayes, no mā shuld be saued. But for the electes sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

C mat. xxiiii. b Luk. xvii. e. *And then, yf any mā saye to you: lo, here is Christe: lo, he is there, beleue not. For false Christes shal ryse, & false Prophethes, & shall shewe myracles & wonders, to deceaue yf it were possible, euē ȳ electe. But take ye hede: beholde, I haue shewed you all thinges before.

mat. xxiiii. c Joel. ii. c *Moreouer in those dayes, after that tribulatiō the sunne shal were darcke, & the mone shal not geue her light, and the starres of heauen shal fal: & the powers which are in heuen shal moue. And then shal they se the sonne of man cominge in the cloudes, with great power and glory And then shal he sende his angelles, and shal gather together his elect frō ȳ fowre wyndes, and from the one ende of the world to the other.

Learne a similitude of ȳ fyg tree, whē his brāches ar yet tēder, & hath brought forth leues, ye know that sōmer is neare So in like maner whē ye se these thīges come to passe: vnderstand, ȳ it is nye euē at the dores. Verely I say vntoyou, that this generatiō shal not passe, til these thīges be done. Heuē & erth shall passe, but my wordes shal not passe. But of ȳ day & the houre knoweth noman: no not thee angels which ar in heauē: b* neyther the sonne him selfe: saue the father only.

Take hede, watch & pray, for ye know not whē the tyme is. As a man whych is gone into a straūge coūtrey, & hath lefte his house, & geuē auctorite to his seruaūtes, & to euery mā his worke, & cōmaunded the porter to watche. Watche therfore, for ye know not whē the master of the house wyl come, whether at euen or mid night, whether at the cock crowing or in the daunting: leste yt he come sodenly he shuld fynd you sleping. And that I say vnto you, I say vnto al men, watche.

The Notes

a* That your flight be not in the winter, loke in Math. xxiiii, b

b* Neyther the sonne hym selfe &c, As cōcerning his māhode he was lesse thē hys father/ & therfore knew it not/ al thoughe by hys godhed he knew it

Mary Magdalen anoynteth Christ. The eester lambe is eaten Christ is take. Peter denieth him wyth many other thinges that were demaunded of Christ.

The. xiiii. Chapter. ✠

After two daies folowed Easter, and the dayes of swete breed. And the hye prestes & the Scrybes sought meanes howe they mighte take hym by crafte and put him to death. But they sayd: not in the feast daye, leest any busynes aryse among the people.

A mat. xxvi. d Luke. xxii. a ‡ Whē he was in Bethania, in ȳ house of Simō the leper, euē as he sate at meate, ther came a womā hauing an alabaster box of oyntmēt called narde, ȳ was pure & costly: & she brake the box & powred it on his head. And ther were some ȳ were not cōtent in them selues, & sayde: what neded this waste of ointment? For it might haue bene solde for more thē. iii. hundred pens & bene geuē vnto ȳ poore And they grudged agayn̄st her.

mat. xxvi. b Joh. xii. a

And Jesus sayd: let her be in rest, why trouble ye her? She hathe done a good worke on me. For ye shal haue poore with you all wayes: & when soeuer ye wyll ye may do thē good: but me ye shal not haue al wayes. She hath done ȳ she could she came afore hand to anoynt my body to hys burying warde. Verely I say vnto you: wheresoeuer thys gospell shal be preached throw out the whole worlde: this also that she hath done, shalbe rehersed in remembraunce of her.

nota Regis sed Paulus Rombra of for ‡ And Judas Iscariothy, one of the. xii. wēt away vnto the hye prestes, to betray him vnto thē. When they herd that, they were glad, & promised that they wold geue him money. And he soughte, howe he might conuentently betraye hym.

mat. xxvi. b Luke. xxii. a

nota ȳ not ȳ sonne

And the fyrst day of swete bred, when men offer the pascal lambe, his disciples sayd vnto him: wher wilt thou ꝑ we goo ꝓpare, that thou mayst eate the ester lãbe? And he sẽt forth two of hys disciples and sayd vnto them. Go ye into the citte and ther shall a mã mete you bearinge a pitcher of water, folow hi. And whether soeuer he goeth in, say ye to the good mã of ꝑ house, the master asketh wher is the geest chãber, wher I shal eate the ester lãbe with my disciples. And he wyll shewe you a greate parlour, paued & ꝓpared: there make readye for vs. And his disciples went forth & came to the cytie & foũde as he had sayd vnto thẽ: & made ready the Ester lambe.

C ‡ And at euẽ he came with the .xii. And mat. xxvi. b. Luke. xxii. b. John. xiii. c as they sate at borde & ate, Jesus sayde: Verely I saye vnto you: that one of you shall betraye me whiche eateth with me. And they beganne to mourne, and to say to hym one by one: is it I? And another sayd: it is I? He answered & sayde vnto them: It is one of the .xii. & the same dep peth with me in the platter. The sõne of man goeth, as it is wrytten of hym: but wo be to that man, by whom the sonne of man is betrayed. Good were it for hym: yf that man had neuer bene borne.

And as they ate, Jesus toke bred, blessed & brake & gaue to them & said: Take eate, this is my body. And he toke ꝑ cup, gaue thankes, & gaue it to thẽ, & they all dranke of it. And he said vnto thẽ: This is my bloud of the newe Testamẽt why che is shed for many. Verely I say vnto you: I wyl drinke nomore of this frute of the vyne, vntyll that daye, that I drinke it new in the kyngdome of God. And when they had sayde grace: they wẽt out to mount Olyucte.

And Jesus said vnto thẽ: Al ye shalbe offended thorowe me this nighte. For it is writtẽ: I wyll smyte the shepherde, & the shepe shalbe scattered. But after ꝑ I am rysen agayne, I wyll go into Galile before you. ‡ Peter sayde vnto him. And though al mẽ should be offended, yet wol de not I. And Jesus sayd vnto him. Verely I say vnto the, this daye euẽ in this night before ꝑ cock crowe twyse, ꝑ shalt denye me thryse. And he spake boldlyer: no, yf I should dye with the, I will not denye the. Lykewyse also sayd they all.

D mat. xxvi. b ‡ And they came into a place named Gethsemani. And he sayd to his disciples Syt ye here whyl I go apart and pray. And he toke wyth hym Peter, James & John, & he began to wax abashed, & to be in an agony & sayd vnto thẽ: My soule is very heuy euẽ vnto the death, tarys here & watch. And he went forth a lyttle & fel downe on the groũde & prayed, ꝑ yf it were possible, ꝑ houre might passe frõ him. And he sayd: ‡ Abba father al thinges are possible vnto the take away this cup frõ me. Neuertheles not ꝓ I wyll: but that thou wylt, be done.

mat. xxvi. d. Luke. xxii. a.

And he came & found them sleping, & sayd to Peter: Simõ slepest thou? Coudest not thou watch with me one houre? watch ye, & praye leest ye enter into temptacõ, the spryte is ready, but the flesshe is weeke. And agayne he wẽt away & prayde & spake ꝑ same wordes. And he returned & foũd thẽ a slepe agayn for their eyes were heuy: nether wist they what to answere him. And he came the thyrd time & sayd vnto thẽ: slepe a* hens forth, & take your ease, it is ynough. The houre is come, behold ꝑ sõne of mã shalbe delyuered into ꝑ hãdes of synners. Ryse vp, let vs go. Lo he that betrayeth me, is at hande.

C

a. Slepe ye forth & take your ease, loke in mat. xxvi. d.

And immediatly whyl he yet spake, came Judas one of the twelue, & wt hym a great nõber of people wyth swerdes & staues frõ the hye Prestes & Scrybes & elders. And he that betrayed him had geuen them a general token saying: whosoeuer I do kysse, he it is: take him & leade hi away warely. And as sone as he was come, he wẽt streyght way to hym, & said vnto hym: master, master, & kyssed hym. And they layd their hãdes on hym, & toke him. And one of them ꝑ stode by, drue out a swerde, and smote a seruaunte of the hye Preste, and cut of hys eare.

And Jesus answered & sayd vnto thẽ: ye be come out as vnto a theefe wt swerdes & with staues, for to take me. I was dayly wt you in the tẽple teachinge, & ye toke me not: but ꝑ the scriptures shuld be fulfilled. And they al forsoke hym & ran away. And ther folowed him a certayne youge mã, clothed in lynnẽ vpõ ꝑ bare, &

I

they

the yonge men caught him, & he left hys math.xxvi.f lynnē, & fled frō thē naked. ‡ And thei led & luke.xxi.f Jesus away to ỹ hyest pryeste of all, & to Joh.xvi.c him came al ỹ hye prestes, & the elders, & the Scribes. And Peter folowed him a great way of euen into the pallys of the hye pryeste, & sate with the seruātes, and warmed him selfe at the fyre.

And the hye Prestes & all the councel sought for witnes agaynst Jesu, to put hym to death & foūd none. Yet many bare false witnes agaīst hym, but theie witnes agreed not together. And ther arose certayn & brought false witnes agaynst him saying. We herde him saye: I wyll destroy this tēple made with hādes, and with in thre dayes I wyl bylde another, made wythoute handes. But theyr wytnes agreed not together.

And the hyest pryeste stode vp amōgest thē, & asked Jesus saying: āswerest thou nothing? Howe is it that these bare wytnes agaynst ỹ? And he helde his peace, & āswered nothing. Agayn ỹ hyest Pryeste asked him & sayd vnto him: Art ỹ chryst the sonne of the blessed? And Jesus said
G I am. ‡ And ye shal se ỹ sonne of mā sytt math.xxvi.f on the right hande of power, & come in ỹ luke.xxii.g cloudes of heauē. Thē the hiest pryest rēt his clothes & said: what nede we any further of wytnes? Ye haue herde blasphemy, what thinke ye? And thei al gaue sentence that he was worthy of death. And some begā to spit at him, & to couer hys face, & to beate him with fistes, & to saye vnto him, arede vnto vs. And the seruātes bofeted hym on the face.

And as Peter was beneth in the pallys, ther came one of ỹ wēches of ỹ hieste mat.xxvi.g luke.xxii.f Joh.xviii.c pryeste: & ‡ whē she saw Peter warminge him selfe, she loked on hym, & sayd: wast not thou also with Jesus of Nazareth? And he denyed it saying: I know hī not nether wot I what thou sayeste. And he wēt out into the porche, & the cock crewe And a damsel saw him: & agayne began to saye to thē that stode by, this is one of thē. And he denyed it agayne. And anone after, they ỹ stode by, sayd agayne to Peter: surely thou art one of them, for ỹ arte of Galile, & thy speach agreeth therto. And he began to curse and to sweare sayinge: I know not thys mā of whō ye speake. And agayne the cock crewe, ‡ & Peter remembred the worde that Jesus sayde vnto hym, before thee cocke crowe twyse, thou shalte denye me thryse, & began to wepe.

mat.xxvi.g Luke.xxii.g

¶ The Passyon of Christ. Of hys death and buryall.

The.xv. Chapter.

AND anone in the dawninge the hye Prestes held coūsell A with the elders & the Scri- mat.xxvii.a bes, & the whole cōgregatiō Luk.xxiii.a & boūde Jesus & ledde hym Joh.xviii.e
away and deliuered hym to Pilate. And Pylate asked hym: art thou the kyng of the Jewes? And he answered & sayd vnto him: thou sayest it. And the hie prestes accused him of many thinges. Wherfore Pylate asked hym agayne sayinge: * mat.xxvii.b Answerest thou nothing? Beholde howe Luk.xxiii.b
manye thinges they laye too thy charge. Jesus yet answered neuer a worde, so ỹ Pylate merueled.

At that feast Pylate was wont to delyuer at their pleasure a pryesoner: whom soeuer they wolde desyre. And ther was one named Barrabas, whych lay boūde w thē that made insurrectiō, & in ỹ insurrection cōmitted murther. And thee people called vnto him, & began to desyre according as he had euer done vnto them. Pylate answered them & sayd: Wyll ye that I lowse vnto you the king of ỹ Jewes? For he knew ỹ the hye pryestes had deliuered him of enuy. But ỹ hie prestes had moued the people ỹ he shulde rather delyuer Barrabas vnto them.

And Pylate answered agayne, & said vnto thē: ‡ What wyll ye then that I do mat.xxvii.b
wyth hym whō ye cāl the kyng of ỹ Jewes? And they cryed agayne: Crucifye him. Pilate sayde vnto thē: What euyll hath he done? And they cryed the moare feruētlye: Crucifye hym. And so Pylate wylling to content the people lowsed thē Barrabas, and deliuered Jesus whē he had scourged him, for to be crucified. Luk.xxiii.e

And the soudiars led him away into ỹ B cōmē hal, and called together the whole multitude, & they clothed him with purple, & they platted a crowne of thornes & crowned him withal, and begā to salute hym. Hayle Kynge of the Jewes. And they smote him on the head with a rede, & spat vpon him, & worshipped hym.

And whē they had mocked hym, they toke the purple of him, & put his own clothes on him & ledde him oute, to crucifye hym. ‡ And they cōpelled one that passed by, called Simō of Cyrene (which came out of the felde, & was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse. And mat.xrvii.d Luk.xxiii.e

¶ they brought hym to a place named Golgotha (which is by interpretacio, the place of dead mens scoulles) and they gaue him to drinke, wyne mingled with myrre but he receaued it not.

And whē they had crucifyed him, they parted his garmētes, castinge lottes for thē, what euery man shulde haue. And it was about ỹ thyrd houre, & they crucified hym. And thee tytle of hys cause was writtē: The kyng of ỹ Jewes. And they crucified wt hym .ii. theues: the one on ỹ right hād, & the other on his left. And the scripture was fulfilled which sayth: ‡ he Esay.liii.d was counted among the wycked.

‡ And they that wēt by rayled on him: mat.xxvii.e Luk.xxiii.e wagging their heades & saying: A wyse the, that destroyest the tēple, & byldest it in thre dayes: saue thy self, & come downe frō the crosse. Lykewyse also mocked hi the hye Prestes among thē selues wyth the Scrybes & sayd, he saued other men hym self he cannot saue. Let Christe the kyng of Israell now descende from the crosse, that we maye se and beleue. And they that were crucifyed wyth hym, checked hym also.

And when thee syxte houre was come darkenes arose ouer al the erth vntyll ỹ nynthe houre. And at ỹ nynth houre Jesus cried with a loude voyce saying: Eloi, Eloi, lamaasbathani whichis ỹ is it be interpreted: ‡ my god, my god, why hast Psal.xxi.a. thou forsakē me. And some of thē ỹ stode by, whē they heard that, sayd: beholde he calleth for Helias. And one ran & fylled a sponge ful of vyneger, & putt it on a rede, & gaue him to drinke, sayinge: let hym alone, let vs se whether Helias wyl come and take hym downe.

But Jesus cryed wyth a loude voyce & gaue vp the Goost. And a* the valeye of the tēple dyd rēt in two peces, frō thee toppe to ỹ bottome. And whē the Cētu- rion which stode before him, sawe ỹ he so cryed & gaue vp the goost, he sayd: truly this mā was ỹ sonne of god. There were also wemē a good way of beholdig him amōg whō was Mary Magdalen and Mary the mother of James the lyttle, & of Joses, & Mary Salome: whych also whē he was in Galile, folowed him & ministred vnto hym, & manye other wemen which came vp with him vnto Jerusalē

And now whē night was come (because it was the euē that goeth before ỹ Sabboth) Joseph of Arimathia a noble counsellour whych also loked for the kingdō of God, came & wēt in boldly vnto Pilate, & begged the body of Jesu. And Pilate merueled that he was already dead, & called vnto him the Cēturion, & asked of him, whether he had ben any whyle dead And when he knew the truth of ỹ ‡ Centurio, he gaue ỹ body to Joseph. And he bought a linnē cloth, & toke him down, & wrapped him in ỹ linnē cloth, & layd him in a tombe that was hewen out of the sepulcre. And Mary Magdalen, & Mary Joses behelde where he was layde. Cēturiō, is a captayne of an C. mē

The Notes

a* The vayle of the tēple rent in, ii. peces &c, This vayle was a certen cloth that hanged in the tēple deuyding: the most holy place frō ỹ rest of the tēple, as our clothe that is hanged vp in lent/deuydeth the auter frō the rest of the church, The rentyng of which vayle signified that the shadowes of Moses lawe shuld banishe awaye at the florishing lyght of the Gospell, ¶ Christ is eyther agayne and appered to thee Apostles to whom he committeth the preachyng of the Gospell.

The .xvi. Chapter ✠

And when the Saboth day was past, Mary Magdalē & Mari Jacobi, & Salome boughte odoures, that they might come & anoynt hym. mat.xxviii.a Luk.xxiiii.a Joan.xx.a. And early in the morynyng the next daye after the Saboth daye, they came vnto the sepulcre, when the sunne was ryssen. And they sayde one to another: who shal rolle vs awaye thee stone from thee doze of thee sepulcre? And when they loked, they sawe how ỹ stone was rolled away: for it was a verye greate one. And they went into the sepulcre, and sawe a yonge man syttinge on the ryghte syde, clothed in a longe whyte garmēt, and they were abashed

mat.xxviii.a luc.xxiii.a

abashed. ✠ And he sayde vnto thē, be not
B afrayed: ye seke Jesus of Nazareth, wht
che was crucyfyed. He is rysen he is not here. Behold ỹ place, wher they put him
But go your waye, & tell his disciples, & namely Peter: he wyl go before you into Galile: ther shal ye se hym, as he said vn
to you. ✠ And they went out quickly & fled frō the sepulcre. For they trembled & were amased. Nether sayd they any thin ge to any mā, for they were afrayed.

✠ When Jesus was rysen the morow after the Saboth daye, he apered fyrste to Mary Magdalen, out of whō he cast
C seuē deuyls. And she went & tolde them that were wyth hym, as they mourned & wepte. And though they herde ỹ he was alyue & had appered to her, yet they beleued it not. After ỹ, he appered vnto twoo
Luk.xxiiii.b of thē in a straūge fygure, as they walcked & wente into the countrey. And they went & tolde it to the remnaūt. And they beleued them neyther. ✠

✠ After ỹ, he appered vnto thee eleuen as they sate at meat: & cast in theyr teeth their vnbeleefe & hardnes of hert: because they beleued not thē which had sene him
D after his resurrectiō. And he sayde vnto thē: a Go ye into all the world, & preache the glad tidinges to al creatures, he that beleueth and is baptysed, shalbe saued. But he ỹ beleueth not, shalbe dampned.

a Goo ye & preache the glad tidinges vnto al creatures, ỹ is vnto al nacions of ỹ worlde.

And these thinges shall folowe thē ỹ beleue. In my name they shal caste oute deuyls & shal speake with new tōges, & shal kyll serpentes. And yf they drincke any deadly thing, it shal not hurte them. They shal laye theyr hādes on the sicke, and they shall recouer.

nota

in my name they shall cast oute deuyls & holy sicke

So then when the Lord had spoken vnto them, he was receaued into heauen and sate hym downe on the ryght hande of God. And they went forth, & preached euery where. And the Lord wroughte wt them, & confyrmed the worde with myracles that folowed. ✠

¶ The ende of the Gospel of S. Marke.

The Gospel of S. Luke.

FOr as moch as many haue take in hād to cōpyle a treatyse of those thinges, which ar surely knowē amōg vs, euē as they declared thē vn to vs whych frō the beginning sawe thē theyr selues, & were mynysters at the dooynge: I determined also as soone as I had searched oute diligently all thinges frō the beginning, ỹ then I wolde wryte vnto ỹ, good Theophilus: ỹ ỹ myghtest know the certente of those thinges wher of thou arte informed.

¶ The cōception & byrth of Johā the baptist. The cōception of Christ. ¶ The thankful songes of Mary and Zachary

The. I. Chapter.

THer was in the dayes of Herode the king of Jury a certayne preste named Zachary, of ỹ course of Abia. And hys wife was of the daughters of Aarō: & her name was Elizabeth A
Both were perfecte before God, & walcked in al the lawes & ordinaunces of the Lord, that noo man coulde fynde faute wyth them. And they had no chylde, because that Elizabeth was barren & both were well stryken in age.

And it came to passe, as he executed ỹ Prestes office before God, as his course came (according to the custume of ỹ Prestes office) hys lot was to burne incense And he went into the tēple of the lorde, & the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer whyle the incense was a burninge. And ther appered vnto hym an Angel of the Lorde standinge on the right syde of the aulter of incense. And when Zacharias sawe hym, he was abashed, & feare came on hym.

And the angel sayde vnto hym: feare not Zachary, for thy prayer is heard: ✠ And thy wyfe Elizabeth shal beare the a sonne, & thou shalt cal his name Johā, & thou shalt haue ioye & gladnes, & many shall reioyce at his byrth. For he shall be great in ỹ sight of the lord, & shal nether drynke wyne ner strong drincke. And he
B Gen.xvii.b

mat.xxviii.a luc.xxiii.a

abashed. ✠ And he sayde vnto thē, be not
B afrayed: ye seke Jesus of Nazareth, wht
che was crucyfyed. He is rysen he is not here. Behold ỹ place, wher they put him
But go your waye, & tell his disciples, &
namely Peter: he wyl go before you into Galile: ther shal ye se hym, as he said vn
to you. ✠ And they went out quickly & fled frō the sepulcre. For they trembled & were amased. Nether sayd they any thin ge to any mā, for they were afrayed.

✠ When Jesus was rysen the morow after the Saboth daye, he apered fyrste to Mary Magdalen, out of whō he cast
C seuē deuyls. And she went & tolde them that were wyth hym, as they mourned & wepte. And though they herde ỹ he was alyue & had appered to her, yet they beleued it not. After ỹ, he appered vnto twoo
Luk.xxiiii.b of thē in a straūge fygure, as they walcked & wente into the countrey. And they went & tolde it to the remnaūt. And they beleued them neyther. ✠

✠ After ỹ, he appered vnto thee eleuen as they sate at meat: & cast in theyr teeth their vnbeleefe & hardnes of hert: because they beleued not thē which had sene him
D after his resurrectiō. And he sayde vnto thē: a Go ye into all the world, & preache the glad tidinges to al creatures, he that beleueth and is baptysed, shalbe saued. But he ỹ beleueth not, shalbe dampned.

a Goo ye & preache the glad tidinges vnto al creatures, ỹ is vnto al nacions of ỹ worlde.

And these thinges shall folowe thē ỹ beleue. In my name they shal caste oute deuyls & shal speake with new tōges, & shal kyll serpentes. And yf they drincke any deadly thing, it shal not hurte them. They shal laye theyr hādes on the sicke, and they shall recouer.

nota

in my name they shall cast oute deuyls & holy sicke

So then when the Lord had spoken vnto them, he was receaued into heauen and sate hym downe on the ryght hande of God. And they went forth, & preached euery where. And the Lord wroughte wt them, & confyrmed the worde with myracles that folowed. ✠

¶ The ende of the Gospel of S. Marke.

The Gospel of S. Luke.

FOr as moch as many haue take in hād to cōpyle a treatyse of those thinges, which ar surely knowē amōg vs, euē as they declared thē vn to vs whych frō the beginning sawe thē theyr selues, & were mynysters at the dooynge: I determined also as soone as I had searched oute diligently all thinges frō the beginning, ỹ then I wolde wryte vnto ỹ, good Theophilus: ỹ ỹ myghtest know the certente of those thinges wher of thou arte informed.

¶ The cōception & byrth of Johā the baptist. The cōception of Christ. ¶ The thankful songes of Mary and Zachary

The. I. Chapter.

THer was in the dayes of Herode the king of Jury a certayne preste named Zachary, of ỹ course of Abia. And hys wife was of the daughters of Aarō: & her name was Elizabeth A
Both were perfecte before God, & walcked in al the lawes & ordinaunces of the Lord, that noo man coulde fynde faute wyth them. And they had no chylde, because that Elizabeth was barren & both were well stryken in age.

And it came to passe, as he executed ỹ Prestes office before God, as his course came (according to the custume of ỹ Prestes office) hys lot was to burne incense And he went into the tēple of the lorde, & the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer whyle the incense was a burninge. And ther appered vnto hym an Angel of the Lorde standinge on the right syde of the aulter of incense. And when Zacharias sawe hym, he was abashed, & feare came on hym.

And the angel sayde vnto hym: feare not Zachary, for thy prayer is heard: ✠ And thy wyfe Elizabeth shal beare the a sonne, & thou shalt cal his name Johā, & thou shalt haue ioye & gladnes, & many shall reioyce at his byrth. For he shall be great in ỹ sight of the lord, & shal nether drynke wyne ner strong drincke. And he shalbe fylled wt̄ ỹ holy goost, eue̅ in hys mothers wombe: & many of the chyldren of Israel shal he tourne to theyr Lorde god. And he shal go before hi̅ in ỹ spyrete & power of Helias, to tourne ỹ *hertes of the fathers to ỹ children, & ỹ vnbeleuers to the wysdom of the iuste men: to make the people redy for the Lorde.
B Gen.xvii.b

*To make ỹ chyldren haue loche an hart to god as Abrahā and the fathers had

And Zacharias said vnto ỹ angel: wher by shal I know this? seig that I am old & my wyfe wel stryken in yeres. And the angell answered & said vnto him. I am Gabryel ỹ stand in the presens of God, & am sent to speake vnto the: & to shew the these glad tidynges. And behold ỹ shalt be do̅me, & not be able to speake, vntyl ỹ tyme ỹ these thynges be performed, because ỹ beleuest not my wordes whyche shalbe fulfylled in their season.

And the people wayted for Zacharias & merueyled ỹ he taried in the temple. And whē he came out, he could not speke vnto thē. Wherby they perceued ỹ he had sene some vysiō in ỹ tēple. And he becke ned vnto them, & remained speachles.

✠ And it fortuned, assone as ỹ tyme of his office was out, he departed home into his owne house. And after those dayes, his wife Elizabeth cōceued, & hyd her self fyue moneths sayīg: This wise hath God dealt with me in ỹ daies whē[a] *he loked on me, to take frō me the rebuke ỹ I suffred a mōg mē. And in the syxt mo neth the angel Gabryell was sente from god vnto a cytie of Galyle, named Nazareth, to a virgin spoused to a mā who se name was Joseph, of ỹ house of Da uid, & ỹ virgins name was Mary. And ỹ angel wēt in vnto her, & said: [b]*Hayle ful of grace, the Lorde is wt̄ the: blessed arte thou amonge wemen.

Whē she sawe hi̅ she was abasshed at his saying: & cast in her mynd what ma ner of salutacō that shuld be. And ỹ an gel said vnto her: feare not Mary: for ỹ hast found grace with God. Lo, ỹ shalt conceaue in thy wombe, & shalt beare a sōne, & shalt cal his name Jesus. He shal be greate, & shalbe called ỹ sonne of thee hest. And ỹ lord god shall geue vnto hi̅ the seate, of his father Dauid, & he shall raygne ouer ỹ house of Jacob for euer, & of hys kyngdom shalbe none ende.

Thē sayd Mary vnto the angel: holy shal this be, seyng I knowe not a man? And the angel answered & said vnto her The holy goost shal come vpō the, & the power of the hyest shal ouershadow the. ‡ Therfore also ỹ holy thing which shal be borne, shall be called ỹ sonne of God. And behold thy cosen Elizabeth she hath also conceaued a sonne in her age. And thys is her syxte moneth, thoughe she be called barren: for wyth god can nothing be vnpossible. And Mary sayd: behold the handmayden of the Lord, be it vnto me euen as thou hast said. ‡ And the An gel departed from her. D

✠ And Mary arose in those dayes, & wēt into the moūtayns with hast, into a cytie of Jury, & entred into thee house of Zachary, & saluted Elizabeth. And it for tuned, as Elizabeth heard the salutiō of Mary, the babe sprōge in her belly. And Elizabeth was fylled wyth ỹ holy goost & cryed wt̄ a loude voyce, & said: Blessed art thou amonge the wemen & blessed is the frute of thy wombe. And whēce hap peneth this to me that the mother of my Lord shuld come to me? For lo, as soone as ỹ voice of thy salutatiō soūded in my ne eares, ỹ babe sprange in my belly for ioye. And blessed art ỹ that beleuedst: for those thiges shalbe pformed which were tolde ỹ frō the Lord. And Mary sayde: Luce. vi. d

My soule magnifieth the Lord. And my spyrt reioyseth in god my sauiour. ‡ For he hath loked on the poore degre of hys hādmaydē. Behold now from hence forth shal al generatiōs call me blessed. For he ỹ is myghti hath done to me grea te thynges, & holy is hys name. And hys mercy on thē ỹ feare him thorow out all generatiōs. He sheweth strēgth c* with his arme, he scatereth thē ỹ ar proude in the ymagination of their hertes. He put teth down ỹ mighty frō their seates, & ex alteth thē of low degre. He fylleth the hō gry wt̄ good thinges: & sendeth away ỹ ryche empty. He remembreth mercy: & hel peth hys seruaunt Israell. Magnificat

‡ Euē as he promysed to our fathers Abrahā & to hys sede for euer. And Ma ry abode wyth her about a. iii. monethes and returned agayne to her owne house Gen. xxii. c F

✠ Elizabeths tyme was come that she

she should be delyuered, and she brought forth a sonne. And her neighboures and her cosins heard tel how the Lorde had shewed great mercy vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

And it fortuned the eyght day: they came to circũcyse the chyld: and called hys name Zacharyas, after ỹ name of his father. Howbeit his mother answered and sayde: not so, but he shalbe called John. And thei said vnto her: There is none of thi kin, that is named wt this name. And they made sygnes to his father, howe he wold haue him called. And he asked for wryting tables & wrote saying: his name is John. And they merueiled al. And hys mouth was opened immediatlye, & his tong also, & he spake lawding God. And feare came on al thẽ that dwelt nye vnto them. And also these sayinges were noised abrode throughout al ỹ hyl countre of Iurie & al they that herd thẽ laide thẽ vp in their hertes saying: What maner child shal this be? And the hand of ỹ Lord was wyth hym.

And his father Zacharias was filled wt the holy goost, & prophecyed saying.

Blessed be ỹ lord god of Israel, for he Benedictus G hath * visited & redemed his people. And hath reysed vp an horne of saluacyon vnto vs in the house of his seruaũte Dauid.

Euen as he promysed by the mouth of hys holy prophetes which were sens the worlde began. That we shouldc be saued fro̅ oure enemyes & from the hãdes of al that hate vs:

To fulfyl the mercy promised to our fathers, & to remẽber hys holy couenaũte.

‡ And to performe the othe whiche he
Gen.xxii.c sware to our father Abraham, for to geue vs.

That we delyuered oute of the hãdes of our enemyes might serue him wythout feare, al the dayes of our lyfe, in suche holynes & ryghtewesnes as ar acceptе before hi. And thou chyld shalt be called ỹ prophet of the hyest: for ỹ shalt go before ỹ face of the Lord, to prepare his wayes: And to geue knowledge of saluacion vnto his people for the remission of synnes. Through the tender mercy of oure God, whereby the * daye spryngе from an hye hath vysyted vs.

To geue light to thẽ that sate in darkenes & in shadowe of death, & too gyde oure fete into the waye of peace. And thee chylde grewe & wexed streng in spyrite, & was in wyldernesse, tyll thee daye came when he should shewe hym selfe vnto the Israelytes.

The Notes

a* When he loked vpõ me/ &c, ỹ is, why he shewed fauoure or grace to me

b* Hayle full of grace: that is, hayle as one to whõ the Lord hath shewed a boũdante fauoure

c* He sheweth strength wyth his arme, &c. The arme is Christ, as it is expounded. Esay. ii. c d* He hath visited/ that is he hath remedyed his people as in Gene. l. d e* Christ is the daye spryng that geueth lyght to them that sytt in darckenes of the ignorance of God

¶ The byrth & circũcisyõ of christ how he was reuealed into the tẽple how Symeõ & Anna prophetye of him, & howe he was founde in the temple amonge the doctours.

The. ii. Chapter. ✠

A Nd it chaũced in those dayes: ỹ ther went out a cõmaũdement frõ August the Emperour, ỹ al the worlde shuld be taxed. And thys taxinge was the first & executed whẽ Syrenius was leiftenaũt in Syria. And euery maũ went vnto hys owne cytye too be taxed. And Joseph also ascended from Galile out of a citie called Nazareth, into Jury vnto the citie of Dauid whych is called Bethleem, because he was of the house & linage of Dauid, to be taxed wt Mary hys spoused wife which was with chyld.

And it fortuned whyl they were there her tyme was come ỹ she shuld be delyuered. And she broughte forth her a* firste begotten sonne & wrapped him in swadlynge clothes, & layde hym in a manger, because ther was no rowme for thẽ with in the ynne.

And ther were in ỹ same regiõ shepher des abiding in the feld & watching their flocke by night. And lo ỹ angel of ỹ lord stode harde by thẽ, & the brightenes of ỹ Lord shone roũd about thẽ, & they were sore afrayed. But the angell sayde vnto thẽ: Be not afrayed. For behold, I bringe you tidinges of great ioye, that shall come too all thee people: for vnto you is borne borne this day in ỹ cittie of Dauid, a sauecour which is christ the lord. And take this for a sygne: ye shall fynd the chylde swadled & laid in a māger. And streight way ther was wt the angell a multitude of heuenly sowdyers, laudyng god and sayīg: Glory to god on hye, and * peace on the erth: & vnto men reioysyng. ✠

And it fortuned, assone as the angels
C were gone away frō thē into heuē, ✠ the shepherdz said one to another: let vs go euē vnto Bethleem, & se this thinge ỹ is hapened, which the lord hath shewed vnto vs. And they came wt hast and found Mary and Joseph and the babe layd in a manger. And whē they had sene it, thei published abrode ỹ sayīg which was told de thē of ỹ child. And al ỹ herd it, wōdred at those thinges which were tolde thē of ỹ sheppcrdes. But Mary kept al those sayīges, & pōdered them in her hert. And ỹ shepherdes retourned, praising & lauding god for al ỹ they had herd & sene, euen as it was told vnto them. ✠

✠ And when the eyght date was come that the chylde shuld be circumcised, his name was called Jesus, which was named of ỹ Angel before he was cōceaued in the wombe. ✠

D ✠ And when the time of their purifyca
Luke xii. cīō (after the law of Moses) was come, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord (as it is wryten in ỹ lawe of the Lord: euery mā chyld ỹ fyrst openeth thee (* matrix, shalbe called holy to ỹ lord) & to offer (as it is sayd in the lawe of the lord) a payre of turtle doues or two ponge pigiōs. And behold there was a man in Hierusalem whose name was Simeon. And the same man was iust & feared god & longed for the consolacīō of Israel & the holy goost was in hi. And an āswere was geuen hi of ỹ holy goost, that he shuld not se deth, before he had sene the lords christ. And he came by inspyracyon into the temple.

And when ỹ father & mother brought in the child Jesus, to do for hi after thee
Nunc dimittis. custome of the lawe, then toke he him vp in his armes and said. Lord, now lettest
E ỹ thy seruaūt depart in peace accordynge to thy promes. For myne eyes haue sene the sauēour sent from the. Which ỹ hast prepared before the face of all people. A light to lighten the gentyles, and the glory of thy people Israel. ✠

✠ And his father & mother meruey led at those thynges whiche were spoken of him. And Simeon blessed them, & sayd vnto Mary his mother: behold, this child de shalbe ỹ fal and resurrection of many in Israel, & a signe which shalbe spoken againste. And moreouer * the swerd shal pearce thy soule, ỹ ỹ thoughtes * of many hertes may be opened.

And ther was a prophetisse, one Anna, the daughter of Phanuell of ỹ trybe of Aser: which was of a great age, & had lyued wt an husbād. vii. yeres frō her byrginite. And she had ben a wedow about iiii. score & .iiii. yere. which wēt neuer out of the tēple, but serued god wt fasting & prayer nyght & day. And the same came forth that same houre, & prayse the lorde, & spake of him to al that lokcd for redempcyon in Hierusalem.

And assone as they had performed al thynges accordyng to the lawe of ỹ Lorde, thei returned into Galile to their owne cytye Nazareth. And the chyld grewe and wexed strong in spyrite, and was fylled wyth wysdome, and the grace of god was wyth hym. ✠

And his father & mother went to Jerusalem euerye yere at the feste of ester. ✠
And when he was .xii. yere old, they wēt vp to Jerusalem after the custome of ỹ feeste. And whē they had fulfilled ỹ dayes, as they returned home, ỹ chylde Jesus boode stil in Jerusalem vnknowing to his father & mother. For they suppo-
G sed he had bene in the cōpany, & therfore came a dates iorney & sought hym amōge theyr kynsfolke & acquaintaūce. And when they foūd hym not, they went backe agayne to Jerusalem, & sought hi. And it fortuned after .iii. dayes that they foūde hi in the temple, sytting in the middes of the doctours, both hearyng them and posynge them. And al that hearde hym, meruelled at his wit and answeres.

And when they sawe him, they were astonied. And his mother said vnto him: sonne, why hast thou thus dealt wt vs: Beholde thy father & I, haue soughte ỹ, sorowenge. And he sayd vnto thē: howe

is

is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must go aboute my fathers busines? And they vnderstode not ỹ sayinge ỹ he spake to thẽ. And he went wt them, & came to Nazareth, & was obediẽt to them. But his mother kept al these thinges in her hert. And Jesus increased in wyldõ & age & in fauour with God & man. ✠

The Notes

a* First beggoten sonne, loke in ma/i, d/

b* And peace on the erth. Peace here sygnifyeth reconsyliacyõ & remyssyon of our synnes/as paul calleth christe oure peace. eph ii.c

c* Al that first open ỹ matrix/loke in ex. xxviiii.c. and Gene.xxvbiii, g

d* The swerd shal pearce thy soule &c, ỹ is/ because ỹ sonne of god/whom ỹ reioycest that thou hast borne (& ỹ truth whyche he shal preach, & those that shal leane vnto hym/shalbe agayne sayd of the wycked, the swerd of great grefe & sorow shal pearce thi soule, that is thy selfe.

e* That the thoughtes of manye heartes may be opened &c. The vnbeleuynge do agayne saye him, the faythfull ar thrust thorow wyth ỹ swerde of sorowfulnes/ when he is agayne sayd, and so by this sygne christe, are thee dyuers thoughtes and effectes of mẽ dysclosed and made open, both of the wycked and of the faythful.

¶ The preachynge, baptime & prefigurẽt of John & the baptyme of christe, and a rehersal of the generacion of the fathers.

The.iii. Chapter. ✠

A IN the fyftene yere of ỹ ragne of Tiberius the Emperour, Pontius Pylate beyng leftenaunt of Jurye, & Herode beyng Tetrach of Galile, & his brother Philyp* Tetrach in Iturea & in the regyon of Traconitz, & Lisanias the Tetrach of Abiline, whẽ Anna & Caiphas were the hie prestes ỹ worde of god came vnto John the sõne of zacharias in the wildernes. And he came into al the costes about Jordan, preachynge the baptyme of repentaũce for ỹ remyssyon of synnes, as it is wrytten in ỹ boke of thee sayinges of Esaias ỹ Prophet which sayeth. ‡ The voyce of a cryer in wildernes: prepare ỹ way of ỹ lord, make his pathes straycht. Euery valey shalbe filled, and euery mountayne & hil shalbe brought lowe. And croked thynges shalbe made streight: & ỹ rough wayes shalbe made smoth: & al flesche shal se the saueour sent of God. ✠

Mar.xi.a Iohn.i,c

B Then sayde he to the people that were come to be baptised of him. b* O generacyõ of vipers, who hath taught you to flie frõ ỹ wrath to come? Bring forth due frutes of repentaũce, & beginne not to say in your selues, we haue Abrahã to our father. For I say vnto you: God is able of these stonys to reyse vp children vnto Abraham. Now also is ỹ axe leyd vnto ỹ rote of ỹ trees: so that euery tree which bringeth not forth good frute, shalbe hewen downe, & caste into the fyre.

And ỹ people asked him sayig: what shal we do then? He answered & sayd vnto them: He that hath two cotes, let hym part with him that hath none: & he that hath meate, let hym do lykewyse. C

Thẽ cam ther publicãs to be baptised, & said vnto him: Master, what shall we do? And he said vnto thẽ, require no more then ỹ which is apoynted vnto you.

The soudioures likewise demaũded of him saying: & what shal we do? And he said vnto thẽ. Do violence to no mã: neither trouble eny mã wrõgfully: but be content with your wages.

As the people were in a doute, and all mẽ disputed in their hertes of John, whether he were very Christ: John ãswered & said to thẽ al: I baptyse you with water but a strõger thẽ I comethe after me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthye to vnlouse: he wyl baptise you wyth the holy goost, & wt fyre: which hath his fanne in his hand, and wyl pourge hys flooze: & wyll gather the corne into hys barne: but thee* chaffe wyll he bourne wt fyre that neuer shalbe quenched. And many other thinges in his exhortacõ preached he vnto the people.

Thẽ Herode the Tetrach (whẽ he was rebuked of hi for Herodias his brother Philippes wyfe, & for al the euyls whyche Herode had done) added thys aboue al, and leyd John in preson. D Math.iii.a marke.i.b

‡ And it fortuned as al the people receaued baptime (& when Jesus was baptysed and dyd pray) ỹ heuen was opened & ỹ holy goost came downe in a bodely shape like a doue vpõ him, and a voyce came frõ heuen saying: Thou art my dere sonne, in the do I delyte. math. iii.a marke.i b

And Jesus him self was about thyrtie yere of age whẽ he began, beyng as men E supposed

ſuppoſed ꝑ ſonne of Joſeph: which was the ſõne of Heli: which was the ſonne of Mathat: which was ꝑ ſõne of Leui: which was the ſonne Melchi: which was the ſõne of Janna: which was ꝑ ſõne of Joſeph: which was the ſõne of Matatthyas: which was ꝑ ſõne of Amos: whyche was ꝑ ſõne of Nahum: which was ꝑ ſõne of Elli: which was the ſonne of Nagge: which was the ſõne of Maath: whiche was the ſõne of Matathias: whych was ꝑ ſõne of Semei: which was the ſõne of Joſeph: which was the ſõne of Juda: which was ꝑ ſõne of Johãna: which was the ſonne of Rheſia, which was the ſõne of zorobabel: which was the ſõne of Salathiel: which was the ſonne of Neri: which was the ſõne of Melchi: which was ꝑ ſonne of Addi: which was ꝑ ſõne of Coſã: which was the ſõne of Helmadami: which was the ſõne of Her: which was the ſõne of Jeſo: which was the ſõne of Heliezer: which was ꝑ ſonne Joꝛã: which was ꝑ ſonne of Matthat: whiche was the ſõne of Leui: which was the ſõne of Simeõ: which was ꝑ ſõne of Juda: which was ꝑ ſõne of Joſeph: whych was the ſonne of Jonã: which was ꝑ ſõne of Heliachim: which was the ſonne of Melca: which was the ſonne of Menã: which was the ſonne of Mathathã: whyche was the ſõne of Nathã: which was the ſonne of Dauid: which was ꝑ ſonne of Jeſſe: which was the ſonne of Obed: which was ꝑ ſõne of Boos: whiche was ꝑ ſõne of Salmõ: which was the ſonne of Naaſon: which was the ſonne of Aminadab, which was the ſonne of Arã: which was the ſõne of Eſrõ: which was the ſonne of Phares: which was the ſone of Juda: whiche was the ſonne of Jacob, which was the ſõne of Iſaac: which was the ſonne of Abꝛahã: which was the ſonne of Tharra: which was thee ſonne of Nachoꝛ: which was ꝑ ſonne of Saruch: which was the ſonne of Ragau: whyche was the ſonne of Phalec: which was ꝑ ſonne of Heber: which was ꝑ ſonne of Sala: which was the ſonne of Cainã: whych was ꝑ ſonne of Arphaxat: which was the ſonne of Sẽ: which was the ſõne of Noe: whiche was the ſonne of Lameth: which was the ſõne of Mathuſala: which was the ſonne of Enoch: whiche was ꝑ ſonne of Jareth: which was the ſonne of Malalehel: which was ꝑ ſõne of Cainã: which was the ſõne of Enos: which was the ſonne of Seth: which was ꝑ ſonne of Adã: which was the ſonne of god.

The Notes

a* Tetrarcha/loke in Math.iii.a b* Generacõ of vipers. loke in Ma.iii.b c* But thee ch•fe wyll he bourne/looke in Math.iii.c

¶ Jeſus is led into ꝑ wildernes. and faſteth al ꝑ tyme of hys tẽptacõ, ouer cometh the deuel, goeth into Galile, preacheth at Nazareth & Capernaũ, the Jewes deſpyſe hym, the deuels knowledg hi: he cometh into peters houſe, healethe his mother in lawe, and doth greate myracles.

The.iiii. Chapter.

IEſus then ful of the holye gooſt returnid from Joꝛdã & was caried of thee ſpꝛete into wilderneſſe, & was. xl. dates tẽpted of the deuyll. And in thoſe dates ate he nothinge. And whẽ they were ended, he after ward hongred. And the deuil ſaid vnto hym, yf ꝑ be the ſonne of god commaũd this ſtone that it be bꝛede. And Jeſus ãſwered hym ſayig: ✝ It is wꝛitẽ. mã ſhall not liue by bꝛed onely, but by euery woꝛd of God.

A Math.iiii.a marke,i.b

Deu.viii.a

And the deuil toke hĩ into an hye moũtayne, and ſhewed him al the kyngdome of the woꝛld cuẽ in the twinckling of an eye. And the deuill ſayde vnto hym: all this power wyl I geue the euery whit & the gloꝛye of thẽ: foꝛ that is deliuered to me & to whoſoeuer I wil, I geue it. If ꝑ therfoꝛe wylt woꝛſhyppe me, they ſhalbe al thyne, Jeſus anſwered him & ſaid: hence from me Satan. Foꝛ it is wꝛyttẽ. Thou ſhalt honoure the Loꝛd thy God and hym only ſerue.

B

And he caryed hym to Jeruſalẽ, & ſette him on a pynacle of the temple, & ſaid vnto hym: Yf thou be the ſonne of god caſt thy ſelfe downe from hens. Foꝛ it is wꝛitten, he ſhall geue his Angels charge ouer the to kepe the, & vpon theyꝛ hãdes they ſhal ſtay the vp that thou daſhe not thy foote agaynſt a ſtone. Jeſus ãſwered and ſayde to him, it is ſayd: ✝ ꝑ ſhalt not tẽpt the Loꝛde thy god. Aſſone as the deuyl had ended all hys temtacyons: he departed from hym foꝛ a ſeaſon.

Deut.vi.c

✠ And Jeſus retourned by ꝑ power of the ſpꝛete into Galile, & ther wẽt a fame

math.iiii.c marke.i.c

of

of hym thorow out all the regiõ roũde about. And he taught in their synagoges & was commended of all men.

math.xiii.b marke.vi.a * And he came to Nazareth where he was noursed & as his custome was, wẽt into the synagoge on ỹ Saboth dayes: & stode vp for to rede. And ther was de-liuered vnto hi the boke of ỹ Prophete Esaias. And whẽ he had opened ỹ boke he found the place, wher it was wrytẽ: *
Esay.lxi.a. The spyrite of ỹ lord vpõ me, because he hath anoynted me: to preach ỹ gospell to ỹ poore he hath sent me: & to heale ỹ brokẽ harted: to preach deliueraũce to ỹ cap tiue, & sight to the blind, & frely to sett at lyberte thẽ that ar bruised, & preache the acceptable yere of the Lorde.

D And he closed the boke, & gaue it agayne to the minister, & sate downe. And the eyes of al ỹ were in the synagoge, were fastened on him. And he began to say vnto thẽ. Thys day is this scripture fulfylled in your eares. And al bare him wytnes, & wõdred at the gracyousse wordes which proceded out of his mouth & sayde: Is not this Josephs sonne?

And he said vnto thẽ: Ye may surely wel say vnto me this prouerb. Physicõ, heale thy self. + Whatsoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaum, do the same here likewyse in thyne owne coũtre. And he sayde, verely I saye vnto you: No prophet is accepted in his owne countre.

E But I tel you of a truthe, * many wydowes were in Israel in ỹ dayes of Helias, whẽ heuen was shut thre yeres and syxe monethes, whẽ greate famischmente was through out al the lãd, & vnto none of them was Helyas sent, saue into Sarepta besydes Sidon vnto a woman ỹ was a widowe. * And many lepers were in Israel in the tyme of Heliseus ỹ prophete: and yet none of thẽ was heled, sauyng Naaman of Syria.

And as many as were in the synagoge whẽ they herd that, were filled w wrath: & rose vp, & thrust him out of the citye, & ledde him euen vnto the edge of the hil, wheron their citte was bilte, to caste hym downe hedlyng. But he wẽt his way euẽ thorow ỹ middes of thẽ: + + * & came in to Capernaum a cytie of Galile, & there taught them on the Saboth daies. And math.iii.d. marke.vi.a

they were astonied at his doctrin: for his preachynge was with power. * And in ỹ synagoge there was a man whyche had a spyrite of an vncleane deuel, & cryed w a loude voice sayinge: lett me alone, what hast ỹ to do w vs, ỹ Jesus of Nazareth? Art ỹ come to destroy vs? I knowe thee what ỹ art, euẽ the holy of god. And Jesus rebuked him sayig: hold thy peace & come out of him. And ỹ deuill threwe hi in the middes of thẽ & came out of hym, & hurte him not. And feare came on thẽ al, & they spake amõg thẽselues sayige: what maner a thyng is this. For w auctorite & power he cõmaũdethe the foule spyrites, & they come out? And ỹ fame of him spreed abrode thorow out all places of the countre round aboute. +

math.viii.b marke.i.c F

+ * And he rose vp & came out of ỹ synagoge, & entred into Simons house. And Simõs motherlaw was taken wythe a great feuer, & they made intercessiõ to hi for her. And he stode ouer her, & rebuked the feuer: and it left her. And immediatly she arose & ministred vnto them.

When the sonne was downe, all they that had sycke taken w diuers diseases, brought them vnto hym: & he layde hys hãdes on euery one of thẽ, & healed thẽ. * And deuyls also came out of many of thẽ crying and saying: thou art Chryste the sonne of god. And he rebuked thẽ & suffered thẽ not to speake: for they knew that he was Christ.

marke.i.b and.iii.b G

Assone as it was daye, he departed and wẽt away into a desert place, & ỹ people soughte him & came to him, & kepte hym that he shuld not depart frõ them. And he said vnto thẽ. I must to other cytyes also preache the kingdom of god: & for therfore am I sent. And he preached in ỹ synagoges of Galyle.

¶ Christ preacheth in ỹ ship. The disciples forsake al, and folow him. He clenseth thee leper, healeth the man of the palsye, calleth Mathew ỹ customer and eateth with open synners.

The.v.Chapter.

It came to passe as the people preased vpõ him, to heare the word of God, that he stode by the lake of Genezareth: * & saw two shippes stãd by the lake syde, but the fisshermen were gone out of them, & were washyng marke.i.a A marke.iii.a

theyr

their nettes. And he entred into one of ỹ shippes, which perteyned to Simō, and prayed him, that he wold thrust oute a ly tel frō ỹ land. And he sate downe & tau= ght the people out of ỹ ship. Wher he had lefte speaking, he said vnto Simō. Laū che out into ỹ depe, & let slip your nettes
B to make a draught. And Simō ānswered and sayd to hym: Master, we haue labo= red al night, & haue taken nothinge. Ne= uerthelater at thy word I wil lose forth the net. And when they had so done, they inclosed a greate multitude of fysshes.
And their net brake: but thei made signs to their felowes which were in the other shyp, that they should come & helpe them
And they came: & filled both the shippes that they soncke agayne.

When Simon Peter saw that, he fel downe at Jesus knees saying: Lord go frō me, for I am a sinful mā: For he was vtterly astonyed and al that were wyth him, at ỹ draught of fysshe which they to ke: & so was also James & John the son nes of Zebede which were partners wt Simō. And Jesus said vnto Simō fea re not frō hence forth ỹ shalt catch men.
And they brought ỹ shippes to lande, &
forsoke al, and folowed hym. ✠

C *And it fortuned as he was in a cer= Mat. viii. a Marke. i. b tayne citie: behold, ther was a mā full of lepry: & whē he had spied Jesus, he fel on his face, & besought him saying: Lord de yf thou wilt, thou cāste make me clea=
ne. And he stretched forth his hād, & tou ched him sayinge: I will, be thou cleane.
And immediatly ỹ lepry departed frō
hym. And he warned hī, that he shuld tel no mā: but that he shuld go * & shewe hi Leui. xiiii. a self to the prest, & offer for hys clensyng accordynge as Moses cōmaundemente was, for a wytnes vnto them.

But so moche the moare went there a fame abroade of him, & moch people ca= me to gether to here, & to be healed of hi, of their infyrmityes. And he kepte hym selfe a parte in the wyldernesses, & gaue him selfe to prayer.

✠ And it hapened on a certayne daye, Mark. ii. a D ỹ he taught: & ther sate the pharises and doctours of lawe, which were come oute of al ỹ townes of Galile, Jurie, & Jeru= salē. And the power of the Lorde was to heale thē. * And behold, men broughte a Math. ix. a marke. ii. a mā lying in his bed which was takē wt
a palsie: & sought meanes to bringe him in & to lay hī before him. And when they coulde not fynde by what way they my= ght bring hī in, because of ỹ preasse, they wēt vp on the top of the house, & let him doune thorow the tylyng, bed & al, in ỹ middes before Jesus. Whē he saw their faith, he said vnto him: man, thy synnes ar forgeuē the. And the scribes & ỹ pha= rises began to thinck saying: What fe=
low is this which speaketh blasphemy?
E * Who cā forgeue sinnes but god only.
Math. ix. a marke. ii. a When Jesus perceaued their thoughtes, he answered & said vnto thē: What think ye in youre hertes? Whether is ea sier to say, thy sinnes ar forgeuē thee, or to say: rise & walk? But that ye may kno we that ỹ sōne of mā hathe power to for geue sinnes on erth, he sayd vnto the syc ke of ỹ palsye: I say to ỹ, aryse take vp thy bed & go home to thi house. And im= mediatli he rose vp before thē, & toke vp his bed wherein he lay & departed to his owne house praysing god. And they we re al astonied & they lauded God, & were fylled wyth feare saying: We haue sene
straunge thynges to daye. ✠

F *And after that he went forth & sawe
math. ix. a marke. ii. b a publycan named Leui, syttyng at thee receypte of custome, & sayd vnto him: fo= lowe me. And he lefte all, rose vp, & folo= wed him. And ỹ same Leui made hym a great feaste at home in his owne house.
And ther was a great cōpany of publy
math. ix. a
marke. ii. b cās & of other ỹ sate at meat wyth him. ‡
And ỹ scribes & phariseis murmured a= gaist his disciples, saying: Why eat ye & drinck ye wt publicās & synners? Jesus answered & said vnto thē: They that are whole nede not of the phisicion: but they that ar syck. I came not to cal the rygh tewes, but sinners to repentaunce.

Then they said vnto him: Why do the disciples of John faste often & praye, &
the disciples of the phariseis also: & thine
G eate & drinke? And he said vnto thē. * Cā math. ix. b
marke. ii. c ye make the children of the weding fast, as long as the brydgroome is present wt them? The dayes wil come, whē ỹ bride grome shalbe taken awaye frō thē: then shal they fast in those dayes.

Then

Then he spake vnto thē a similytude: No man putteth a pece of a new garmēte, into an olde vesture: for yf ye do: then breaketh he the new, & the pece that was taken out of ỹ new, agreeth not wt the olde. Also, no mā poureth newe wyne in to old vessels. For yf he do, the newe wyne breaketh ỹ vessels, & rūneth out it selfe, & the vessels perish: But new wine must be poured into newe vessels, & both are preserued. Also, no mā ỹ dr̄ynkethe olde wine, straight way cā away wt newe for he sayeth, the olde is pleasaunter.

¶ He excuseth the disciples, that pluck ỹ eares of corne he healeth the mā with the withred hād, chooseth his twelue apostles, maketh a swete sermō, & teacheth to do good for euer.

The. vi. Chapter.

A math. xii. a marke, ii d

IT chapened on an after Saboth, that he went thorow ỹ corne feld, & ỹ his disciples plucked the eares of corne, & ate, & rubbed thē in their handes. And certaine of the phariſes said vnto them. Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the Saboth dayes?

B Mat. xii. a marke, ii a

And Jesus āswered them & said: * Haue ye not redde what Dauid dyd, when he him self was an hungred and thei which were wt him: how he went into the house of God, & toke and ate the loues of halowed bread, & gaue also to them whych were wt him: whiche was not lawfull to eate, but for the prestes only. And he sayde vnto them: The sōne of mā is Lorde of the Saboth daye.

B Mat. xii. a marke, ii a

And it fortuned i another Saboth also, ỹ he entred into the synagoge & taught. And ther was a mā whose ryght hāde was dried vp. And the scribes & phariſes watched him, to se whether he wolde heale on ỹ Saboth day, ỹ they might fynde an accusacyon agaynst him. But he knewe their thoughtes, & said to ỹ mā which had the wyddred hād: Ryse vp, & stand forth in the middes. And he arose & stepped forth. Thē sayd Jesus vnto thē: I wil aske you a questiō: Whether is it lauful on ỹ saboth daies to do good or to do euil: to saue lyfe or for to destroye it? And he beheld thē al in cōpas, and said vnto the mā: Stretch forth thy hande. And he did so: & his hād was restored & made as whole as the other. And they were fylled full of madnesse, & comuned one with another, what they might do to Jesu.

C mat. xiiii. a marke, vi. b Joh. vi. a

And it fortuned in those dates, that he went out into a mountayne for to pray, & continued al nighte in prayer to God. And assone as it was day, he called hys disciples, & of them he chose twelue, wht che also he called apostles. Simō whom he named Peter, & Andrew his brother. James & John, philip and Bartlemew, Mathew & Thomas, James ỹ sōne of Alpheus & Simon called zelotes, & Judas James son: & Judas Iscariothe, which same was the traytour.

And he came downe wt them & stode in the playne felde wt the cōpany of hys disciples, & a great multytude of people out of al parties of Jurie & Jerusalem, & frō ỹ see cost of Tire & Sydō, whych came to here hi, & to be healed of their dyseases: & they also ỹ were vexed wt foule spyrites, & thei were healed. And al ỹ people preased to touch him: for ther went vertue oute of him, and healed them all.

D

And he lifted vp his eies vpō the disciples, and said: Blessed be ye * poore: for yours is ỹ kigdō of god. Blessed are ye ỹ hōger now: for ye shalbe satisfied. Blessed are ye ỹ wepe now: for ye shal laugh. Blessed are ye whē mē hate you, & thrust you out of their cōpanie, & raile, and abhorre your name as an euil thīge, for the sonne of mānes sake. Reioyse ye then, & be glad: for behold, your reward is greate in heuen. For after thys maner their fathers entreated the Prophetes.

But wo be to you that are * ryche: for ye haue therin youre cōsolacion. Woo be to you that are ful: for ye shal hōger. Woo be to you that nowe laughe: for ye shall wayle and wepe. Woo be to you when al men praise you: for so did their fathers to the false Prophetes.

But I saye vnto you which heare: Loue your enemies. Do good to thē which hate you. Blesse them ỹ curse you. And pray for thē whiche wrōgfully trouble you. And vnto hī that smiteth ỹ on ỹ one cheke, offer also ỹ other. And hī ỹ taketh away thy goune, forbid not to take thy cote also. Geue to euery mā that asketh of the. And of him that taketh away thy goodes,

E

math.vii.b. goodes, aske thē not againe. ¶ And as ye wold that men shuld do to you: so do ye to them lykewyse.

If ye loue thē which loue you: what thāke ar ye worthy of? For ꝑ vere sinners loue their louers, And yf ye do for thē which do for you: what thāke ar ye worthy of? For ꝑ very synnes do euē ꝑ same. If ye lend to them of whome ye hope to receaue: what thāke shal ye haue: for ꝑ vere sinners lend to sinners to receaue as moche againe. Wherfore, loue ye your enemyes, do good & lēd, loking for nothig againe: & your reward shalbe greate, & ye shalbe ꝑ childrē of the hiest: for he is ꝯkind vnto the vnkynde and to the euyll.

F

✠ Be ye therefore mercyfull, as youre father is mercyful. * Judge not, and ye shal not be iudged. Condemne not: & ye shal not be condemned. Forgeue, and ye shalbe forgeuē, Geue, and it shalbe geuē vnto you: good measure, pressed downe, shaken to gether & runnynge ouer, shall mē geue into your bosomes. * For with what measure ye mete, wt the same shall men mete to you agayne.

math.vii.a

Mar.xiii.c.

And he put forth a similitude vnto thē: Can the blynd leade ꝑ blynde? Do they not both then fal into the dyche? The disciple is not aboue his master. Euery mā shalbe perfect, euē as his master is. Why seyst thou a moote in thy brothers eye, & cōsyderest not the beame that is in thyne owne eye? Ether how canst thou saye to thy brother: Brother, let me pull out the moote that is in thyne eye: whē thou perceauest not the beame ꝑ is in thine owne eye? Ypocryte cast out the beame oute of thyne owne eye fyrst, and thē shalt thou se perfectly, to pull out the moote out of thy brothers eye, ✠

Math.vii. G

* It is not a good tree ꝑ bringeth forth euyl frute, neyther is that an euyll tree, ꝑ bringeth forth good frupte. For euerye tree is knowē by his frupte. Neyther of thornes gather mē figges, nor of bushes gather they grapes. A good mā out of ꝑ good treasure of his hert, bringeth forth ꝑ which is good. And an euyl mā out of ꝑ euyl treasure of his hert, bringeth forth that which is euyl. For of the aboūdaūce of the hert, hys mouth speaketh.

Why cal ye Master, Master: and do not as I byd you? whosoeuer cometh to me, & heareth my sayinges, & doth the same, I wyl shewe you to whō he is lyke. He is lyke a man which bylt an house: & dygged depe & layde the foundation on a rocke. When the waters arose, ꝑ floud bet vpō that house, & could not moue it. For it was groūded vpō a rock. But he that heareth & doth not, is like a mā that without foundatiō bylt an house vpon the erth, agaynst which ꝑ floud dyd beat and it fell by and by. And the fal of that house was greate.

The Notes

a* Christ calleth thē here poore whych are poore in spirite: ꝑ is, which trust in no worldly thinges & ar forsakē & despysed of other, beyng poore & cōtrite in hert, whyche oftē do not prosper in the world, because they leade a godly lyfe and put their hole trust & cōfydence in God, as in Math.b,a, b* Wo be vnto you that are ryche, &c Of this ryches is spoken, Math,xix,c

The healeth the Captaynes seruaūt: rayseth vp the wedowes sonne frō death to lyfe, enformeth the disciples whō John Baptist sente vnto hym, cōmendeth John, & reproueth the Jewes for their vnkaythfulnes. He eateth wyth the Pharise. The woman washeth his fete with her teares, & he forgeueth her hyr synnes.

The.viii.Chapter.

When he had ended all hys sayinges in the audience of ꝑ people, he entred into Capernaū. And a certayn * Cētu- Cēturiō is a Captaine ouer an. C. men turious seruaūt was sycke and redy to dye, whō he made moche of. And whē he heard of Jesu, he sent vnto hym the elders of the Jewes, besechinge him ꝑ he wolde come & heale his seruaūt And they came to Jesus & besought him instātly saying: He is worthy that thou shuldest do thys for hym. For he loueth oure nation, & hath bylt vs a synagoge, And Jesus went wyth them.

And when he was not farre from the house, the Centuriō sent frendes to hym saying vnto hym * Lord trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthi ꝑ thou shuldest enter vnder my rofte. Wherfore I thought not my self worthy to come vnto ꝑ: but saye the word, & my seruaūte shalbe whole. For I lykewyse am a mā vnder power, and haue vnder me soudiers, & I saye vnto one: go, & he goeth. And to another, come: & he cometh. And to my seruaūte, do this: & he doeth it. When Jesus mat.viii.a.

B

heard

herade this, he mercyfed at hym, & turned hym about & sayd to the people that folowed hī: I say vnto you, I haue not foūde so great fayth, no, not in Israell. And they that were sent, turned back home agayne, and found the seruaunt that was sycke, whole.

✠ And it fortuned after that, ỹ he wēt into a citie called Naim, & many of hys disciples went with him & moche people wyth hē he came nye to the gate of ỹ cytye: behold ther was a dead man caryed out which was ỹ only sonne of his mother, & she was a widowe, & moch people of the C. cytie was wyth her. And whē the Lord saw her, he had cōpassiō on her, & sayde vnto her, wepe not. And he wēte & touched the coffin, & they ỹ bare him, stode styll. And he sayd: Yonge mā, I say vnto ỹ, aryse. And the dead sate vp, & begā to speake. iii. Re, iii, d * And he delyuered hym to hys mother. v. re, vi. d And ther cam a feare on thē al. And they glorified God saying: a great Prophet is risen amōg vs, & god hath visited his people. ✠ And this rumor of hym wēt forth throughout al Jury, & thorowout al the regions which lye roundē about.

And ỹ disciples of John shewed hym of al these thinges. And John called vnto hī. ii. of his disciples, & sent thē to Jesus saying: Art thou he ỹ should come: or shal we loke for āother? Whē ỹ mē were come vnto him they sayd: John baptist sent vs vnto ỹ, saying: Art ỹ he that should come: or shal we wayt for āother? And at that same time he cured many of their infirmities & plages, & of euyl spyrites, & vnto many ỹ were blynde he gaue D sight. And Jesus answered, & sayd vnto thē: Go your wayes & shewe John what thinges ye haue sene & herde, how that the blind se, ỹ halt go, ỹ lepers ar clensed, the deafe heare, the dead aryse, to thee poore is the glad tydinges preached, & a * happy is he, that is not offended by me.

Whē the messengers of John were departed, he begā to speake vnto ỹ people of John. What wēt ye out into ỹ wildernes for to se, went ye to se a rede shaken wt ỹ wind? But what wēt ye out for to se A mā clothed in soft raimēt? behold they which are gorgeously apparelled, & lyue delycatlye, are in kynges courtes. But what went ye forth to se? A prophet? Ye I say to you, & more thē a prophet. This is he of whō it is writtē: Behold I send my messenger before thy face, to prepare thy waye before the. For I saye vnto you: a greater prophet then John, amōg wemens childrē is ther none. Neuerthe lesse b * one that is lesse in the kyngdom of God, is greater then he. ✠ E

And al the people that heard, and the publicans, iustified God, & were baptysed wyth the baptyme of John. But the Pharises and Scribes despysed the cōsell of God agaynst them selues, & were not baptised of hym.

And the Lord sayd: Whether vnto shal I lyken the men of this generation, and what thing are they lyke? They are lyke vnto chyldren sytting in the market place, & crying one to another, & saying: We haue piped to you, & ye haue not daūsed: we haue mourned to you, & ye haue not wept. For John Baptist came, nether eatinge bred nor drinking wyne, & ye saye: he hath the deuell. The sonne of man is come and eateth and drinketh, & ye saye: beholde a man which is a glotton, and a dryncker of wine, a frende of publicans and synners. Yet is c * wysdō iustifyed of hyr chyldren.

✠ And one of the Pharises desyred hī F that he wold eate with hym. And he wēt into the Pharises house, & sate down to meat. And behold a womā in that cytye, which was a sinner, as sone as she knew that Jesus sate at meat in the Pharises house, she brought an alabaster boxe of oyntment, & she stode at his fete behinde him wepinge, & began to washe hys fete wyth teares, & dyd wype them wyth the heares of her head, & kyssed his fete, and anoynted them wyth oyntment.

When the pharise which bade hī, sawe ỹ, he spake wtin him selfe, saying: If this mā were a pphete, he wolde surely haue knowen who & what maner womā this is which toucheth him, for she is a sinner And Jesus answered & sayd vnto hym: Simō I haue somwhat to say vnto the. And he said: master say on. Ther was a certen lender which had. ii. detters, ỹ one ought fyue. C. pence, & the other. l. Whē they had nothing to paye he forgaue thē both, Which of thē tell me, wyl loue him moost? Symon answered & sayd: I suppose that he to whom he forgaue moost And he sayde vnto him: Thou hast truely iudged.

G And he turned to the wōmā & sayd vnto Simō: Seist thou this womā? I entred into thy house, & thou gauest me no water too my fete: but she hathe washed my fete wt teares & wyped thē wt ye heares of her head. Thou gauest me no kisse: but she, sence ye time I came in, hath not ceased to kysse my fete. Myne head wt oyle ye diddest not anoynt: but she hath anoynted my fete wt oyntmēt. Wherfore I say vnto the: d* many synnes are forgeuē her: for she loued moch. To whom lesse is forgeuē, the same doth lesse loue. And he sayd vnto her, thy synnes ar forgeuen the. And they that sate at meat wt him, began to saye wythin them selues: Who is this which forgeueth synnes also? And he sayd to the womā: Thy faith hath saued the: Go in peace.

The Notes

a* Happye is he ye is not offended by me &c, To be offended in Christ, is to wyl neyther to know christ nor yet to beleue in him: and not to be offended in hym is to receaue hym and knowledge by a perfyt fayth that he is oure sauioure.

b* One ye is lesse in the kingdō of heaue is greater then he. &c. Luke in Math. xi. b.

c* Wysdom is iustified of her chyldren Luke in Math. xi. c d* Many synnes are forgeuē her because she loued moch. &c. Not that her loue obtayned remission of her synnes, but faythe out of whyche loue proceaded: and therfore Christ openly affyrmeth, thy fayth hath made the safe. For as sayth saynt Paul, wythout fayth is it impossible to please god. Hebrue xi. a. And whatsoeuer is not of fayth, the same is synne. Rom. xiiii. b ¶ Christ with his apostles goeth from towne to towne & preacheth, she weth the parable of ye sedes, telleth who is his mother & his brother, stylleth ye raging of the see, deliuereth the possessed, and dryueth the deuels into the heerde of swyne, helpeth the sycke woman and Jairus daughter.

The. viii. Chapter.

3 AND it fortuned after ye, that he him self wēt throughout cyties & townes, preaching, & shewinge the kingdom of God, & the twelue with him And also certayne weimen, whyche were healed of euyl spyrites, & infirmities: Mary called Magdalen, out of whom went seuē deuyls, & Joanna ye wyfe of Chusa Herodes steward, & Susāna & many other: whiche ministred vnto thē of theyr substaunce. ✠ ‡ Whē moch people were gathered togeather, & were come to hym out of al cyties, he spake by a symilitude A sower went out to sowe hys sede: & as he sowed some fell by the waye syde, & it was trodē vnder fete, & the foules of the ayre deuoured it vp. And some fel on stone, and as sone as it was spronge vp, it widdred away, because it lacked moystnes. And some fel amōge thornes, and ye thornes sprange vp wyth it, & choked it. And some fel on good groūd & sprange vp, & bare fruite, an hundred folde. And as he sayde these thinges, he cryed: He ye hath eares to heare, let hym heare. Matth. xii. & Marc. iiii. a

And his disciples asked him sayinge: what maner symilitude is thys? And he sayd: a* vnto you is it geuē to know the secretes of the kyngdom of God: but to other in similitudes: ye when they se they should not se, & when they heare they shulde not vnderstande.

The similitude is this. The sede is ye word of God. Those ye ar besyde ye waye are they that heare, & afterwarde cometh the deuil & taketh away the word out of theyr hertes leste they shulde beleue & be saued. They on the stones, ar they which when they heare, receaue the word wt ioy But these haue no rotes, which for a whyle beleue, and in tyme of temptacīō go awaye. And that which fel amōg thornes are they which heare, & go forth, & ar choked with cares and with ryches, and voluptuous lyuinge, & bring forth no fruyte. That in the good groūd, ar they whyche wyth a good and pure hert, heare the worde and kepe it and bring forth fruyte wyth pacyence. k

‡ No mā lighteth a candel, & coureth it vnder a vessel, nether putteth it vnder the table but setteth it on a candelsticke, that they that enter in, may se the lyght. Nothing is in secret that shall not come abroade: Neyther any thing hyd, ye shal not be knowē, & come to lyght. Take hede therfore how ye heare For whosoeuer hath, to hym shalbe geuen: And whosoeuer hath not, frō him shalbe takē, euen ye same which he supposed that he hath. Math. v. b Marc. iiii. c

Thē came to him his mother & his bre thren,

thzen, & could not come at him for preasse And they told him saying: Thy mother & thy brethrē stand without, & wold se ỹ. He answered & sayd vnto them: my mother & my brethrē ar these whych heare ỹ worde of God and do it.

✠ And it chaūced on a certayne daye ỹ he went into a ship & his disciples also, & he sayd vnto thē: Let vs go ouer vnto ỹ other syde of the lake. And they lanched forth. And as they sayled, he fel a slepe, & ther arose a storme of winde in the lake, and they were fylled with water, & were in ieopardy. And they went to him & awoke him saynge: Master, Master we are loost. Thē he arose & rebuked the winde & the tēpest of water, & they ceased, and it waxed calme. And he said vnto thē: wher is your fayth? They feared & wondered saying one to āother: what felow is this for he cōmaūdeth both the wyndes and water, & they obey him? ✠ And they sayled vnto the region of the Gaderenites, whych is ouer agaynst Galile.

And as he went out to lande, ther met hym a certayne mā out of ỹ cytie, whych had a deuyl lōge time, & ware no clothes nether abode in any house: but amonge graues. When he saw Jesus, he cryed, & fell downe before hym, and with a loude voyce sayd: What haue I to do with the Jesus the sonne of ỹ god moost hiest? I besech the tormēt me not. Then he cōmāded the foule spyrete to come out of ỹ mā. For ofte tymes he caught him, & he was bound with chaynes, & kept with fetters and he brake the bondes, and was caried of the fende, into wyldernesse.

And Jesus asked him saying: What is thy name? And he sayd: ✠ Legiō, because many deuils were entred into him And thei besought him, ỹ he wold not cōmaūde them to go out into the depe. And ther was therby an herde of many swine feding on an hyl and besought him, that he wolde suffre them to enter into them. And he suffred them. Then went the deuyls out of the man, and entred into the swyne: And the hearde toke theyr course and ran hedlinge into the lake, and were choked. When the heerdmen sawe what had chaunsed, they fled and told it in the cytie and in the vyllages.

And they came out to se what was done: & came to Jesus, and found the man out of whō the deuyls were departed, sitting at the fete of Jesus, clothed & in his right mynde, & they were afrayed. They also whych saw it told thē by what meanes he ỹ was possessed of the deuyl, was healed. And al the whole multitude of ỹ cōtrey of the Gaderenites, besought him ỹ he wold depart frō them: for they were taken wt great feare. And he gate him into ỹ ship & returned back agayne. ‡ Thē the mā out of whō ỹ deuyls were departed, besought him ỹ he might be wt him. But Jesus sent him away saynge. Goo home agayne into thyne own house, and shewe what great thinges god hath done to the. And he went his way, & preched throwout al the cytie what greate thinges Jesus had done vnto hym. F marke. v. b

And it fortuned when Jesus was come agayne that ỹ people receaued hym. For they all wayted for hym: ✠ And behold ther came a mā named Jairus (and he was a ruler of ỹ synagoge) and he fell downe at Jesus fete, & besoughte hym ỹ he wolde come into his house, for he had but a daughter only, vpon a twelue yere of age, and she laye a dyinge. And as he went the people thronged hym. matth. ix. c marke. v. b.

And a womā hauing an issue of bloud xii. yeres (which had spent al her substāce amōg Phisitiōs, nether could be holpen of any) came behind him, & touched the hem of his garmēt, & immediatly her yssue of bloud stanched. And Jesus sayde: Who is it that touched me? When euery mā denyed, Peter & they that were wt him, sayd: Master ỹ people thrust the & vexe thee: & sayest ỹ who touched me? And Jesus sayd: some body touched me For I perceaue ỹ vertue is gone oute of me. When the womā sawe ỹ she was not hyd, she came trēbling, & fel at his fete, & told him before al ỹ people for what cause she had touched hi, & how she was healed immediatly. And he sayde vnto her: Daughter be of good cōfort. ✠ Thi fayth the hath made the hole, go in peace. matth. ix. d. marke. v. b

While he yet spake, ther came one frō ỹ rulers of ỹ synagoges house which said to him: thy daughter is dead, disease not thee maister. When Jesus heard that,

marke. ix. d, marke. v. d

He answered ỹ father, saying: ✠ Feare not beleue only and she shalbe made whole. And whē he cam to ỹ house he suffred no mā to go in wt him, saue Peter, James & John, & the father & the mother of ỹ maidē. Euery body wept & sorowed for her. And he sayde: Weepe not: for she is not dead, but slepeth. And they lewgh him to scorne. For they knew ỹ she was dead. And he thrust thē al out, & caught her by the hand: & cryed saying: Mayde aryse. And her spyret came agayne, and she rose straycht way. And he cōmaūded to geue her meat. And ỹ father & ỹ mother of her were astonied. But he warned thē ỹ they should tel no man what was done.

The Notes

a* Unto you is it geuen to know the secretes of God. &c. Luke in Mat. xiii. b b* whosoeuer hath, to hym shalbe geuen &c. Luke in Math. xiii. b c* Mother & brethren, as touching brethren Luke in Gene. xiii. d

d* Legion after Vegecius cōprehendeth at the least vi. M. vii. hūdred and .xxxii.

Ihc sendeth out the .xii. Apostles to preache. He coueteth to heare tell of hym ỹ fedeth fyue thousand men wyth fyue loaues and two fyshes, the dysceples confesse hym to be the sonne of God. he trāsfygureth hym selfe vppon the mounte, deliuereth thee possessed, and teacheth hys Dysceples to be lowly. They desyre vengeaunce, but he reproueth them.

The .ix. Chapter. ✠

mathe. x. a, marke. vi. a

Then called he ỹ .xii. together & gaue thē power, & auctorite ouer al deuils, & that they might heale diseases. And he sent thē to preach ỹ kingdom of God, & to cure the sycke. And he sayd to thē: Take nothing to sucker you by the way: a* nether staffe, nether scrype nether bread: nether money, neither haue two cotes. And whatsoeuer house ye enter into, ther abyde & thence depart. And whosoeuer wyll not receaue you, whē ye go out of that cytie, shake of ỹ very dust frō your fete, for a testimonye agaynste thē. And they wēt out, and went thorow the townes, preachinge the Gospell and healynge euery wheare. ✠

And Herode the b* Tetrarch heard of al ỹ was done by him, & douted, because ỹ it was sayd of some, ỹ John was rysē agayn frō death: & of some, that Helyas had appered: & of some, that one of ỹ old Prophetes was rysen agayn. And Herode sayd: John haue I beheaded: who thē is this of whom I heare soche thinges: And he desyred to se hym.

And ỹ Apostles returned: & tolde him what great thiges they had done. ✠ And he toke thē & wēt aside into a solitary place, nye to a citte called Bethsaida. And ỹ people knew of it, & folowed him. And he receaued thē, & spake vnto thē of ỹ kingdō of God & healed thē ỹ had nede to be healed. And whē ỹ day begā to weare away, thē came the .xii. & sayd vnto hym: send the people away, ỹ they may go into ỹ townes & villages roūd about & lodge, & get meat, for we ar here in a place of wyldernes. But he sayd vnto thē. Geue ye thē to eat. And they said. We haue no mo but .v. loaues & .ii. fishes, excepte we shuld go & bye meat for all this people. And thei were about a .v. M. mē. And he sayd to hys disciples. Cause thē to sytte down by .l. in a cōpany. And they dyd so, & made thē al syt downe. And he toke the fyue loues, & the .ii. fyshes, & loked vp to heuē, & blessed thē, & brake, & gaue to the disciples, to sette before the people. And they ate, and were al satisfied. And there was take vp of that remayned to thē, xii baskettes ful of broken meat.

mat. xiiii. b Mark vi. b John. vi. a

And it fortuned as he was alone prayeng, hys dysciples were wt hī, & he asked thē sayig: who say ỹ people ỹ I am? they answered & said: John baptist: Som say Helias. And some say, one of the old prophetes is rysen agayn. He sayd vnto thē who say ye ỹ I am? Peter answered and sayd: ỹ art ỹ christ of God. And he warned & cōmaunded thē ỹ they shuld tel no mā ỹ thing sayig: ỹ the sōne of mā must suffre many thiges, & be reproued of the elders, & of the hye prestes & scribes & be slayne, and the thyrd day rise agayne.

C math. xvi. b marke. viii. c

And he sayd to them al, yf any mā will come after me, let him denye hym selfe, & take vp his crosse dayly & folowe me. c* Whosoeuer wyll saue his lyfe, shal lose it. And whosoeuer shal loose his lyfe for my sake, the same shal saue it. For what auaūtageth it a mā to winne the whoale world, yf he lose hī self or rūne in domage of him selfe? For whosoeuer is ashamed of me, & of my sayinges: of hī shall the sonne of mā be ashamed, whē he cometh in his owne glory, & in the glory of his father, & of ỹ holy angels. And I tel you of a suertī. d* Ther be some of them that stande here whyche shal not taste of death, tyll they se the kyngdom of God.

And it folowed about an viii. dayes after those sayinges, ỹ he toke Peter, James, & John & went vp into a mõtayne to praye. And as he prayed, the fashiõ of his coũtenaũce was chaunged, & his garment was whyte & shone. And behold. ii men talked with him, & they were Moyses & Helyas which appered gloriously, & spake of his departing, whych he shulde ende at Jerusalẽ. Peter & they ỹ were with him, were heuy with slepe. And whẽ they woke, they saw hys glorye, and two men standinge wyth hym.

And it chaunsed as they departed frõ him, Peter sayd vnto Jesus: Maister, it is good being here for vs: Let vs make thre tabernacles, one for ỹ & one for Moses, & one for Helyas: & wist not what he sayd. Whyle he thus spake, there came a cloud and shadowed them & they feared when thei were come vnder ỹ cloud. And ther came a voyce out of the cloud sayig This is my deare sonne heare hym. And as sone as ỹ voice was past, Jesus was founde alone. And they kepte it cloose: & tolde no man in those dayes any of those thynges whych they hadde sene.

And it chaũsed on the next day as they came down frõ the hyl, moch people met him. And behold a mã of ỹ cõpany cried out saying: Master, I beseche ỹ beholde my sonne, for he is al ỹ I haue: and se, a spyret taketh him & sodenly he crieth, & he teareth him ỹ he foometh agayne, & wyth moch payn departeth frõ hi, whẽ he hath rẽt hi, & I besought thy disciples to cast him out, & thei could not. Jesus ãswered & sayd: O generatiõ wout fayth, & croked: how long shal I be with you: & shal suffre you: Bring thy sõne hither. As he yet was a coming, the fend rent him, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked ỹ vnclene spyrete, & healed the chylde, and deliuered him to his father. And they were al amased at the myghty power of God.

Whyle they wondered euery one at all thinges which he dyd, he sayd vnto hys disciples: Let these sayinges synke downe into your eares. The tyme wyl come, when ỹ sonne of mã shalbe deliuered into the hãdes of men. But they wiste not what that word meant, & it was hyd frõ them, that they vnderstode it not. And they feared to aske hym of that saying.

‡ Then there arose a disputatiõ amõg them who shulde be the greatest. When Jesus perceaued the thoughtes of their hertes, he toke a chyld, & sett him hard by hym, & sayd vnto thẽ. Whosoeuer receaueth thys chylde in my name, receaueth me. And whosoeuer receaueth me, receaueth hym ỹ sent me. For he that is leaste among you al, the same shalbe greate.

And John answered & sayd: Maister we sawe one castinge oute deuyls in thy name, & we forbade hym, because he foloweth not with vs. And Jesus sayd vnto hym: forbyd ye hym not. For he that is not agaynst vs, is wyth vs.

And it folowed whẽ ỹ tyme was come that he shuld be receaued vp, then he sett his face to go to Jerusalẽ, & sent messengers before him. And they went & entred into a citie of the Samaritans to make redy for him. But they wold not receaue him, because his face was as though he wold go to Jerusalẽ. Whẽ his disciples James & John sawe ỹ, they sayd. Lorde, wilt ỹ that we cõmaunde, that fyre come downe frõ heuen & cõsume them, euẽ as Helias did? Jesus turned about, & rebuked thẽ sayinge: ye wote not what maner spyrete ye ar of. The sonne of man is not come to destroye mens lyues, but to saue thẽ. And they wẽt to ãother town. ✣ And it chaunsed as he went in the waye, a certayn mã sayd vnto him: I wil folowe ỹ whether soeuer thou go. Jesus sayd vnto him: foxes haue holes, & byrdes of the ayre haue nestes: but the sonne of man hath not whereon to laye his head.

And he sayd vnto another: folow me And the same sayd: Lord suffre me fyrst to go & burye my father. Jesus sayd vnto hym. Let the e* dead bury theyr dead but go thou and preache the kyngdome of God.

And another sayde: I wyl folowe the lord: but let me fyrst go byd thẽ fare wel whyche are at home at my house. Jesus sayd vnto him: No mã that putteth his hand to the plowe, & loketh back, is apte to the kyngdom of God. ✣

Mat. xvii. a mark. ix. c
Luke. xvii. c

G

The Notes

a* Neither staffe or coddese Luke in mar. vi. b b* Tetrarcha is expounded in. math. xiiii. a a* Whosoeuer will saue his lyfe, &c, ꝓ is, whosoeuer (in this worlde) regardeth so his life, ꝓ he will not put it in ieopardye for me whē tyme requyreth, the same shal lose hys lyfe eternally. &c.

d* Ther be some of thē ꝓ stād. &c, shal not tast of death tyl they se ꝓ kingdō of god. &c This kingdō of god which Mark in ꝑ. viii. chap. d. writeth to come wt power, is ꝓ kingdō of christ which som of thē dyd thē se, which were Peter, Iohn & Iames, whyle they saw ꝓ cloud & the glory of christ trāsformed & heard ꝓ testimony & witnes of ꝓ father of heuē, of moses, & Helias, for thē did al these aboundantly testify that christ was a king and the sonne of God.

e* Let ꝓ dead bury theyr dead. &c, ꝓ is, let the infidelles alone wt their infidelite, & folowe ꝓ me, ꝓ is beleue thou in me. &c. And go preache the kyngdom of God. &c.

¶ He sendeth the seuētie before him to preache, & geueth them a charge how to behaue thē selues, prayeth his heauēly father, āswereth the Scribe ꝓ tempted him, & (by the exāple of the Samaritā) sheweth who is a mās neyghbour, Martha receaueth the Lord into her house. Mary Magdalē is feruent in hearinge hys worde.

The.x. Chapter. ✠

A Fter these thinges, ꝓ lord appointed other. lxx. also, & sēt thē two & two before hi into euery cytye & place, whether he him self wold come.

And he said vnto thē, ꝓ harueste is great but ꝓ labourers ar fewe. Pray therfore the lord of the haruest, to sende forth labourers into his haruest. Go your wayes: behold, I send you forth as lābes amōg wolues. Beare no wallet, nether scrippe, nor shoes, & salute no mā by ꝓ waye. Into whatsoeuer house ye enter, first say Peace be to this house. And yf ꝓ sōne of peace be there, your peace shal rest vpon hym: yf not, it shal turne to you agayne. And in the same house tary styl, eating & drincking soch as they haue. For the labourer is worthy of hys rewarde. ✠

Go not frō house to house: & into whatsoeuer citie ye enter, yf they receaue you, eate soch thinges as are set before you, & heale the sycke that ar ther, and say vnto thē: the kingdō of God is come nye vpō you. ‡ But into whatsoeuer cytie ye shal enter, yf they receaue you not, goo youre wayes out into the stretes of ꝓ same and say: euē the very dust, which cleaueth on vs of your citie, we wipe of against you Notwithstādyng, marke this ꝓ the kingdom of God was come nye vpō you. Ye and I say to you: that it shalbe easier in that day for Sodome, then for that citie.

mark.i.a

Wo be to the Chorazin: wo be to thee Bethsaida. For yf the myracles had ben done in Tyre & Sidō, whych haue bene done in you, they had a great whyle ago ne repented syttyng in heare & asshes. Neuerthelesse it shalbe easier for Tyre & Sydon, at the iudgement, then for you. And thou Capernaū whych art exalted to heuen, shalt be thrust downe to hell. ‡ He ꝓ heareth you, heareth me: & he ꝓ despiseth you, despiseth me: & he that despiseth me despyseth hym that sent me.

Math.x.d. Iohn.xiii.e

And the seuentie turned agayne with ioye, saying: Lord euen the very deuyls ar subdued to vs thorow thi name. And he sayd vnto thē: I saw Satā, as it had ben lightening, fall downe frō heuē. Be holde I geue vnto you power to treade on serpentes & scorpiōs, & ouer al maner power of the enemye: & nothing shal hurte you. Neuertheles, in this reioyse not, that the spretes are vnder youre power: but reioyse, because your names ar wrytten in heauen. Rejoyse, because your name az wrytten in heauen

That same tyme reioysed Iesus in the spirite, & sayde: I cōfesse vnto the father: ‡ Lord of heauē & earth, that thou haste hyd these thinges frō the wise & prudēt, and hast opened thē to the babes. Euen so father, for so pleased it ꝓ. All thynges are geuen me of my father. And no man knoweth who the sonne is, but ꝓ father: nether who the father is, saue the sonne, & he to whō the sonne wyl shewe hym.

mathe.xi.

And he turned to his disciples, & said secretly: ✠ Happy are the eyes whyche se that ye se. For I tell you that many prophetes & kinges haue desyred to se those thinges whyche ye se, and haue not sene them: & to heare those thinges whych ye heare, and haue not heard them.

And behold a certayn lawer stode vp and tempted hym saying: ‡ Master what shal I do to inheret eternal lyfe? He said vnto hym: What is wrytten in the lawe? Howe readeste thou? And he answered and sayd: ‡ Loue thy Lorde God, wyth all thy hert, and wythal thy soule & with al thy strength, & wythal thy mynde: and thy neyghbour as thy self. And he sayd vnto him: Thou hast answered ryghte. This do & thou shalt liue. a* He willing to iustifye hym selfe, sayd vnto Iesus:

Who

who is then my neyghbour?

Jesus answered & sayd: A certayn mā descended frō Hierusalem into Hierico, & fell into the handes of theues, which robbed him of his raymēt & wounded hym, & departed leuynge him halfe dead. And by chaunce ther came a certayne preste ỹ same waye, & whē he saw him, he passed F by. And lykewyse a Leuite, whē he was come nye to ỹ place, went & loked on him and passed by. Thē a certayn Samaritane, as he iorneyed, came nye vnto hym & when he saw him, he had cōpassion on him, & went to & bound vp his woūdes, and powred in oyle & wine, & put him on his owne beast, & brought him to a cōmē ynne, & made prouision for him. And on the morowe whē he departed, he toke out two pēce & gaue thē to the host, & said vnto him: Take cure of hym, & whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come agayn I wyl recompence the. Whiche nowe of these thre thinkest thou, was neyghbour vnto him that fell into the theues hādes? And he sayde: he that shewed mercye on hym. Then sayd Jesus vnto hym: Goo and do thou lykewyse.

✣ It fortuned as they wēt, that he entred into a certayn towne. And a certayn G womā named Martha receaued him in to her house. And this woman had a syster called Mary, which sate at Jesus fete, & heard his preachinge. And Martha was cōbred about moch seruing, & stode & sayd: master, doest ỹ not care, ỹ my syster hath lefte me to minister alone? Byd her therfore, ỹ she helpe me. And Jesus āswered, & sayd vnto her Martha, Martha, thou carest, & art troubled about many thinges: verely one is nedeful. b* Mary hath chosen her that good part which shal not be taken awaye from her. ✣ a* He willinge to iustifie him selfe. &c. That is, he wyllyng to set forth hym selfe as iuste and as one that was learned, sayde who is my neyghbour. &c

The Notes

b* Mary hath chosen her ỹ good part, &c, That is, she hath chosen the hearing of the worde of God, whych euer endureth, & is the only way to euerlastinge lyfe

¶ Hi teacheth his disciples to praye, dryueth out a deuyl, and rebuketh the blasphemous Pharises. They requyre signes & tokēs. Hi eateth wyth the Pharisee & reproueth the ypocrysye of the Pharises, Scrybes and ypocrytes.

The. xi. Chapter.

AND it fortuned as he was praying in a certayne place A whē he ceased one of his disciples sayd vnto hi: Master teach vs to pray, as John taught his disciples. And he sayd vnto thē: whē ye praye, saye: O oure father which art in heuē, halowed be thy name. Thy kingdō come. Thy wil be fulfilled euē in erth as it is in heuen. Our daylye bred geue vs euermore. And forgeue vs our sinnes: For euē we forgeue euery mā ỹ trespaseth vs. And leade vs not into temptacion. But deliuer vs from euyll.

And he sayd vnto thē: ✣ yf any of you shuld haue a frend, & shuld go to him at midnight, & say vnto him: frēde lend me thre loues, for a frēd of mine is come out of the way to me, & I haue nothing to set B before him: & he within shuld āswere & say, trouble me not, ỹ dore is now shut, & my seruaūtes are with me in the chāber, I can not ryse & geue thē to ỹ. I say vnto you, though he wold not aryse & geue him, because he is his frend: yet because of hys importunite he wold ryse, & geue him as many as he neded. And I say vnto you: ‡ aske & it shalbe geuen you. Seke, & ye shal fynd, knocke, & it shalbe opened vnto you. For euery one ỹ asketh, receaueth: & he ỹ seketh, findeth: & to hi ỹ knocketh, shal it be opened. Yf the sonne shal aske bred of any of you ỹ is a father: wyll he geue hi a stone? Or yf he aske fyshe, wil he for a fysh geue him a serpēt? Or if he aske an egge: wyl he offer him a scorpiō? Yf ye thē which are euyl, can geue good gyftes vnto your childrē, how moch more shall the father of heauen geue an holye spryte to them, that desyre it of hym? ✣

✣ And he was casting out a deuil, whi che was dōme. And it followed when the deuil was gone out, ỹ dōme spake, & the people wondred. But some of thē sayd: he casteth out deuils by the power of a* Belzebub the chefe of ỹ deuyls. And other tēpted him seking of him a sygne frō heuē. But he knew their thoughtes, and sayd vnto them: Euery kingdō deuided with in it selfe shalbe desolate: & one house shal fal vpō another. So yf Satā be deuyded within hī selfe: how shal his kingdō endure? Because ye saye ỹ I cast out by the power of Belzebub

‡ aske & it shalbe geuen you. Seke, & ye shal fynd, knocke, & it shalbe opened vnto you. — math. vii. a, John. xvi. c, Jacob. i. c.

C

deuils by ypower of Belzebub. Yf I by ℔ power of Belzebub cast out deuils: by whō do your childrē cast thē out, ℣ * ther fore shal they be your iudges. But yf I by ℔ finger of god cast out deuils, no doute the kingdō of god is come vpon you.

When a strong mā armed watcheth hys house: that he possesseth is in peace. But when a stronger then he cometh vp on him & ouercometh hym: he taketh frō him hys harnes wherein he trusted & deuydeth hys goodes. He that is not wyth me, is agaynste me. And he ℔ gathereth not wyth me, scattereth.

Whē the vnclene spyrite is gone out of a man, he walketh thorough waterlesse places, seking reste. And whē he findeth none, he sayth: I wyl returne agayn vn to my house whēce I came out. And whē he cometh, he fyndeth it swept & garnis shed. Thē goeth he & taketh to hym seuē other spyrites worse thē him selfe: & they enter in, & dwel there. And ℔ ende of that man, is worse then the begynninge.

And it fortuned as he spake those thin ges, a certayn womā of the cōpany lyfte vp her voyce, & sayd vnto hym: Happye is the wombe that bare the, and the pap pes whych gaue the sucke. But he sayd: Yea, happy are they that heare the word of God and kepe it. ✠

Whē the people were gathered thicke together: he began to saye: This is an e uil naciō: they seke a signe, & ther shal no signe be geuen thē, but the sygne of Jo nas ℔ pphet. For as Jonas was a signe to the Nin'uites, so shal ℔ sonne of man be to this naciō. ✠ The quene of the south shal ryse at iudgemēt, w the men of this generatiō, & cōdēpne thē: for she cam frō the ende of the worlde, to heare the wisdō of Salomō. And behold a greater then Salomon is here. The men of Nini ue shal ryse at the iudgement w thys gene ration: & shall cōdemne thē: for they re pented at the preachinge of Jonas. And behold a greater then Jonas is here.

mat.xii.d. iii. Reg. x. a ii. Par ix. a math. xii. d.

E ✠ No mā lighteth a candel, & putteth it in a preuy place, nether vnder a bushel but on a candelstick, ℔ they that come in may se the light. The light of thy bodye is the eye. Therfore whē thine eye is sin gle: then is al thy body ful of light. But yf thyne eye be euyl: thē shal al thy body be ful of darckenes. Take hede therfore that the light which is in the, be not dar kenes. For yf all thy body shalbe lyght, hauinge no parte darke: then shall all be full of light, euen as when a candel doth light the with hys brightnes. ✠

And as he spake, a certayn Pharise be sought him to dyne with hym: & he wēte in & sate downe to meate. Whē the Pha rise sawe that, he marueyled that he had not fyrst washed before dyner. And the Lord said to him: ✠ Now do ye pharises make clene ℔ outside of the cup, & ℔ plat ter: but your inward partes ar ful of ra uentinge & wyckednes. Ye foles, dyd not he ℔ made that which is without: make that which is within also? Neuertheles geue almose of ℔ ye haue, & behold all is clene to you. But wo be to you Pharises for ye tithe ℔ mynt & rewe, & al maner er bes, & passe ouer iudgemēte and the loue of God. These ought ye to haue done & yet not to haue lefte the other vndone. F mat.xxiii.e.

Wo be to you Pharises: for ye loue ℔ vppermost seates in the synagoges, and grettinges in the markets. Wo be to you scribes & Pharises Ypocrites, for ye are as graues which appere not, & the men ℔ walke ouer thē ar not ware of thē. Then āswered one of the lawears & sayd vnto him: Master, thus saying ℔ puttest vs to rebuke also. Thē he said: wo be to you also ye lawears: for ye lade mē with bur thens greuous to be borne, & ye your sel ues touche not ℔ packes w one of youre fingers. Wo be to you: ye byld the sepul cres of the prophetes, & your fathers kil led thē, truly ye bare witnesse, ℔ ye alowe the dedes of your fathers: for they killed thē, & ye bylde theyr sepulcres. Therfore sayd the wisdō of god: I wyl send them Prophetes & Apostles, & of thē thei shal slee & persecute: ℔ the bloud of al prophe tes, whych was shed frō ℔ beginning of the worlde, may be requyred of this gene ratiō frō ℔ bloud of ✠ Abel vnto ℔ bloud of Zachary, which perished betwene the aulter & the temple. Verely I saye vnto you: it shalbe requyred of this nation. G Genesi. iiii. ii. par. xxiiii c.

Wo be to you lawears: for ye haue ta ken away ℔ keye of knowledge, ye entred not in youre selues, & thē that came in ye forbade. Whē he thus spake vnto them

the

the lawears and the Pharyses began to wexe busy about hym, and to stoppe hys mouth with many questyõs, laying wayte for hym, and seking to catche some thyng of hys mouth, wherby they might accuse hym.

The Notes.

a* Of Belzebub reade, Math, x, c b* If I by the fynger of god cast oute deuyls &c/ that is/ yf I by the power of god cast them out &c.

¶ The leuen of the phaeises, Chriſte confoyteth his disciples against persecution warneth them to beware of couetousnes, by the symylitude of a certaine ryche man: he wyl not haue thē to hange vpō earthly thynges, but to watch and to be redy against hys commynge.

The. xii. Chapter.

A S ther gathered togeather an innumerable multytude of people (in so moch y they trode one another) he began to saye vnto his dyscyples: fyrst of al beware of thea* leuē of ỹ pharyses whiche is ypocrysy. For ther is nothyng couered, that shal not be vncouered: nether hyd that shal not be knowen. For whatsoeuer ye haue spoken in darknes: that same shalbe herd in the lyght. And ỹ which ye haue spokē in ỹ eare euē in secret places, shalbe preached euen on the top of the houses.

B I saye vnto you my frēdes: be not afraid of them that kyll ỹ body, and after that haue no more that they can do. But I wil shew you, whom ye shal feare. Feare hym whych after he hath kylled, hath power to cast into hel. Ye I say vnto you hym feare. Are not fyue sparowes bought for two farthinges? And yet not one of them is forgoten of god. Also euen ỹ very heares of your heedes ar nombred. Feare not therfore: ye are more of value then many sparowes.

C I say vnto you: whosoeuer confesseth me before men, euen him shal the sõne of man confesse also before the angelles of god. And he that denieth me before men: shalbe denied before ỹ āgels of god. And whosoeuer speaketh a word agaīste b* the sõne of mā it shalbe forgeuē hi. But vnto hi ỹ blasphemeth ỹ holi gost, it shal not be forgeuē. When thei bring you vnto the synagoges, & vnto ỹ rulers & offycers, take no thought how or what thynge ye shal ānswere or what ye shal speake. For the holy goost shal teach you in ỹ same houre, what ye ought to saye.

✝ One of the company said vnto him: Master byd my brother deuide ỹ enheritaūce wt me. And he said vnto him: Mā, who made me a iudge or a deuyder ouer you? Wherfore he said vnto thē: take heede, & beware of couetousnesse. * For no D mans lyfe standeth in the aboūdance of ỹ thiges which he possesseth. And he put forth a similitude vnto thē saying: The groūd of a certayne rych man brought forth frutes plenteously, & he thought in him self saying: what shal I do? because I haue no roume wher to bestowe my frutes? And he said: This wyll I do. I wyl destroye my barnes, & bilde greater, & therin wil I gather all my frutes and my goodz: & I wyl say to my soule: Soule ỹ hast moche goodes layde vp in store for many yeares, take thine ease: eate, drinck, & be mery. But god sayd vnto hi: Thou fole, thys nyght wil they fetche away thy soule againe frō ỹ Then whose shal those thinges be which ỹ hast prouided? So is it with hi that gathereth tyches? & is not ryche in God.

And he spake vnto his disciples: Therfore I say vnto you: Take no thought for your life, what ye shal eat, nether for your body, what ye shal put on. The life is more then meat, & the body is more thē raymente. Consydre the rauens, for they nether sowe nor repe, whych nether haue store house ner barne, and yet God fedeth them. How moch are ye better then foules. Which of you wt takig thought can adde to hys stature one cubyt? If ye then be not able to do that thing whyche is lest: wht take ye thought for ỹ rēnaūte? Cōsydre ỹ lilies how thei grow. They labour not: they spin not, & yet I say vnto you, ỹ Salomon in all thys royalte, was not clothed lyke to one of these.

If the grasse which is to day in the feelde, & to morow shalbe cast into ỹ fornace, god so clothe, how moch more wyll he clothe you, o ye enduced wt lytle fayth? and aske not what ye shal eat or what ye shal drink, nether clyme ye vp an hye: for al soch thiges ỹ hethen people of ỹ worl de seke for. Your father knoweth that ye haue neade of soch thiges. Wherfore seke seke ye after the kingdom of god, and al these thinges shalbe ministred vnto you ✠Feare not lytel flocke, for it is your fathers pleasure. to geue you a kyngdom.

c* Sel ỹ ye haue, & geue almes. And make you bagges, whyche were not olde, & treasure ỹ fayleth not in heuen, wher no theefe cometh, nether mothe corrupteth.
For where youre treasure is, there wyll youre hertes be also.

E Let your loines be gerdde about, & your lightes brenning, & ye your selues like vnto men that wait for their master, whē he wil returne frō a weding: that assone as he cōmeth & knocketh, they may open vnto him. Happy are those seruātes, whych the lord whē he cōmeth shall find waking. Verely I say vnto you, he wyl gyrde him self about & make thē to sit doune to meat, & walke by & minister vnto thē. And yf he come in the secōd watch, ye yf he come in the thyrde watch, & shal finde them so, happy are those seruaūtes. Thys vnderstonde, ỹ yf ỹ good man of ỹ house knew what houre the theefe wold come, he wolde surely watche: & not suffre hys house to be broken vp. Be ye prepared therfore: for the sonne of man wyl come at an houre when ye thinke not.

matt.xxiiii.d marc.xiii.c. Then peter sayd vnto him: *Master, tellest ỹ this similitude vnto vs, or to al men? And ỹ lord said: Who ther be a faythful seruaūte & wise, whome his Lorde shal make ruler ouer his houshold, to geue them their outie of meat at due seasō happy is that seruaūte, whō hys master when he cometh, shal find so doing. Of a truth I say vnto you: that he wil make hi ruler ouer al ỹ he hath. But & yf ỹ euil
F seruaūt shal say in his hert: My master wil deferre his cōming, and shall begine to smyte the seruaūtes & maydens, & to eate & dryncke and to be drōcken: ỹ lord of ỹ seruaūt wil come in a day when he thinketh not and at an houre when he is not ware, & wil deuide him, & wil geue hi his rewarde wt the vnbeleuers.

The seruaūt that knew his masters wil & prepared not hi self, nether dyd according to his wil, shalbe beten wt many stripes. But he that knewe not, and yet did cōmit thinges worthy of stripes, shal be beatē wt feaw stripes. For vnto whō moch is geuen, of hym shalbe moche requyred. And to whom men moch cōmyt, the more of hym wyl they aske.

I am come to send fyre on erth: & what is my desyre, but that it were all readye kyndled? Notwithstanding I must be baptysed wt a baptime: & how am I payned till it be ended? Suppose ye that I am come to send *peace on earth? I tel you nay, but rather debate. For frō hēce G forthe there shalbe, v, in one house deuyded, thre against two, & two against thre. The father shalbe deuided against ỹ sonne, & the sōne against the father. The mother against ỹ daughter, & ỹ daughter against ỹ mother. The motherelaw against hyr daughterelawe, and the daughterelawe agaynst her motherelawe.

Then said he to the people: when ye se a cloude ryse out of ỹ west straight way ye saye: we shall haue a shower, and so it is. And when ye se the fourth winde blowe, ye saye: we shall haue heet: and it cōmeth to passe. Ypocrytes, ye can skyl of the faciō of the earthe & of thee skye: but what is the cause, that ye cannot skyl of this time? Ye and why iudge ye not of youre selues what is ryghte.

Whyl thou goest with thyne aduersary to the ruler: as thou art in the way, geue dylygence that thou mayst be delyuered frō hym, leaste he brynge the to the iudge, & the iudge deliuer the to ỹ tayler, & the tayler cast the in to preson. I tel the, thou departest not thence tyll thou haue made good the *vtmost myte.

The Notes.

a* What leuen ỹ faithful must be warre of/ is more cupdently shewed in Math. xvi where by leuen is vnderstanded ỹ doctrine & inuency on of ỹ pharyses/ & of al other mē lyke conditioned vnto thē, here it is noted by thee name of ypocrysye because it is deceatful/ false/ & vngodly/ & maketh all the louers therof ypocrytes:

b* To speake a worde agaynst ỹ sonne of mā is, to be offended wt ỹ humanyte or mā hed of Jesus christ for hys hūble & lowe degree, as were many of ỹ Jewes John. vii. Math. xii. c. Marc. iii. d

c* Sel al. ac, of thys loke Marc. x. c d* Such peace as this world loueth (whych is then at peace when mens appetytes & desyres ar satysfied, & when ỹ euel agree wt the euel) came I not to send on the earthe, but therfore came I, wt ỹ wordes of verye peace, to destroye the peace of thys world: for lyth ỹ doctryne of ỹ gospel/ which teacheth cheth al peace, shalbe enuied of many, it cā not be but debate must rise euen amongest greatest frēdes/while they that loue thys world wyl soner exercyse cruelty towarde chē they loue best/then leaue the vices whi che they haue bene accustomed vnto. And agayne/those whom the fyre of the charyte belongyng to ꝑ gospel hath touched/ wyll by no means suffre thē selues to be deuided frō that which they haue begōne to cleaue to, betwyxt them am I not come to set peace, but debate,

e* Of thys Math.v.d

¶ Of the Galileans whō Pylate slew, & of those that died in Siloe. The similitude of ꝑ figge tre. Christ healeth ꝑ sycke woman. The parable of ꝑ mustard sede & leuē. Few entre into the kyngedō. Christ reproueth Herode and Ierusalem.

The.xiii.Chapter.

THere were present at ꝑ same seasō ꝑ shewed him of ꝑ galileans, whose bloude Pylate medled wt their owne sacrifice. And Iesus answered, & said vnto thē: Suppose ye ꝑ these Galileans were greater sinners then all ꝑ other Galileans, because they suffred such punishment? I tel you naye: but except ye repent, ye shal al likewise perysh Or those .xviii. vpon which the toure in Siloe fel, & slew thē, thynke ye that they were sinners aboue al mē ꝑ dwel in Ierusalē? I tel you nay: but except ye repente, ye al shal lykewyse perysshe.

b ✠ He put forth this similitude: a certayne mā had a figge tre plāted in his vineyard & he came & sought frute thereon, & foūd none. Then said he to the dresser of his vineyard: behold, this thre yere haue I come & sought frute in this figge tree, & fynd none: cut it downe: why cōbrethe it ꝑ groūd: and he answered & said vnto him: Lord let it alone this yeare also, tyl I dygge rounde about it, & dōg it, to se whether it wyll beare frute: & yf it beare not thē, after that, cutte it doune. And he taught in one of theyr synagoges on the Sabboth daies. And behold there was a womā which had a spryte of infyrmytye xviii. yeres: & was bowed together & could not lyft vp her self at all. c When Iesus saw her, he called her to him, & sayde to her womā thou art delyuered frō thy dysease. And he laid his handes on her, & immediatly she was strayght, and glorysied god. And ꝑ ruler of the synagoge ānswered wythe indignacion (because that Iesus had healed on the Sabboth daye) and sayde vnto the people. There are .vi. dayes in whych men ought to worke: in them come and be healed, and not on the Sabboth daye.

Then answered hym the Lord, and sayde: *ypocryte, doth not eache one of you on the Sabboth day, lowse his oxe or his asse from the stall, & leade him to the water? And ought not this daughter of Abrahā, whom Satan hath boūd lo xviii yeares, be lowsed frō this bond on ꝑ Sabboth day? And when he thus sayd, al his aduersaries were ashamed, and al ꝑ people reioysed on all the excellent dedes, ꝑ were done by hym. ✠ mathxii, & Luk.xiii.'a d Then sayd he: what is the kyngdome of God lyke? or wherto shall I compare it? It is lyke a grayne of mustard seede, wyych a mā toke and sowed in his garden: and it grewe & wexed a great tree, & the foules of the ayre made nestes in the braunches of it,

And agayne he sayd: wher vnto shal I liken the kyngdom of god? it is lyke leuen, which a womā toke, and hyd in thre bushels of floure, tyl al was thorow leuended. And he went thorow al maner of cytyes and townes teaching, and iorney inge towardes Ierusalem. Then sayde one vnto hi: Lord, ar ther few ꝑ shalbe saued? And he sayde vnto thē: stryue wt you selues to enter in at the strait gate: for many I say vnto you, wil seke to enter in, and shal not be able.

a* When the good mā of the house is rysē vp, and hath shet to the doore, ye shal beginne to stand wout, & to knock at thee doore saying Lord Lord, open vnto vs: & he shal answere & say vnto you: I know you not whēce ye ar. Then shal ye begin to saye: we haue eaten in thee presence & drōck, & thou hast taught in our stretes. And he shal saye: I tel you I know you not whence ye ar: departe from me all ye workers of iniquytye. Ther shalbe wepyng & gnashyng of teth, when ye shal se Abraha and Isaac & Iacob, and al thee prophetes in the kingdome of God, and your selues thrust out at doores. And they shal come, frō ꝑ east & from the weeste & frō ꝑ north & from the southe, and shall sit downe in the kingdome of god. And beholde, ther are last, whych shalbe first.

And

And there are fyrst which shalbe last.

G The same daye ther came certayne of ỹ Pharises and sayd vnto him: get ỹ oute of ỹ way, and departe hence: for Herode will kyl the. And he sayde vnto them. Go ye and tel ỹ fore, behold I cast oute deuils and heale ỹ people to day and to morow, and the third day I make an ende. Neuertheles, I must walke to daye & to morowe, & the daye folowing: for it cannot be, that a prophet perysh enye other wher, saue at Jerusalem.

mat.xxiii.d. ✱O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest Prophetes, & stonest thē that ar sent to the: how often wolde I haue gathered thy chyldrē together, as the hen gathered her nest vnder her wynges, but ye wold not. Behold youre habitacyō shalbe left vnto you desolate. For I tel you, ye shal not se me vntil ỹ time come that ye shall saie, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lorde.

The Notes.

a ✱ When the couenaūt made in ỹ bloud of christ is blynded / then men payne themselues wythe holye workes / trustinge ther by to enter / but al in vayne.

C Jesus eateth wt ỹ pharisee, healeth the dropsy vpon the Saboth, teacheth to be lowly, telleth of the great supper, & warneth them that wil folow hym, to lay their accōptes before what it will cost them. The salt of the earth.

The .xiiii. Chapter ✠

A to eat brede ỹ is to dine or to take a repaste, as. it is sayd. mat.xiiii.c

ANd it chaunced that he wēt into ỹ house of one of ỹ chefe phartises to eate brede on a Sabothe daye: and they watched hym. And beholde ther was a mā before him, which had the dropsye. And Jesus answered & spake vnto ỹ lawears & pharises saying: is it lawful to hele on the Saboth daye? And they held their peace. And he toke him & healed hym, and lett him go: and answered them saying, which of you shal haue an asse or an ore fallen into a pytte, and wil not straight way pul him out on the Saboth daye? And they coulde not answer him agayne to that.

B He put forth a similitude to ỹ gestes, whē he marked how thei preased to ỹ hiest roumes, & said vnto thē: When ỹ art bidden to a wedding of eny mā, sytt not doune in the hiest rouine. lest a more honorable mā then ỹ be bidden of him, & he that bade both him & the, come and saye to the: geue this mā roume, & ỹ then begin wt shame to take the lowest rowme. But rather when ỹ arte bidden, go & syt in ỹ lowest roume, ỹ whē he that bade ỹ cōmeth, he may say vnto the: frende syt vp hier. Then shalt thou haue worshipe in ỹ presence of them that sit at meat wt the. ✱ For whosoeuer exalteth him selfe, shalbe brought lowe. And he that humbleth him self, shalbe exalted. ✠

C mat.xxiii.b Luk.xviii.c

Then sayde he also to him that had desired him to diner: ✠ When thou makest a diner or a supper: call not thy frendes, nor thi brethren nether thy kinsmē or yet rych neighbours: lest they byd the agayne, & a recōpence be made the. But when thou makest a feast, call thee poore, thee maimed, ỹ lame & the blid and thou shalte be happy, for they cannot recompence the. But thou shalt be recōpensed at the resurrection of the iuste men.

When one of them that sate at meate also herd that, he said vnto him: happy is he that eateth breed in the kingedome of god ✠ Then sayd he to him. ✠ A certaine man ordened a great supper, & bade many, & sent his seruaūte at supper time, to say to them that were biddē, come: for al thinges at now redy. And they al at once begā to make excuse. The first sayd vnto hī: I haue bought a ferme, & I muste nedes go & se it, I pray ỹ haue me excused. And another said: I haue bought. v. yocke of oxen, and I go to proue thē, I pray ỹ haue me excused. The thyrd sayd I haue maryed a wyfe & therfore I can not come. And the seruaunte wente, and brought his Master worde therof.

D Wat.xxii.a Apoc.xix.b

Then was the good mā of the house dyspleased, & said to his seruaūte: Go out quyckly into the stretes & quarters of ỹ cytye, and bringe in hither ỹ poore & the maimed & the halt & the blind. And ỹ seruaunt said lorde it is done as thou commaūdest & yet ther is roume. And ỹ lord said to the seruaunt: Go oute into ỹ hye waies & hedges, and compel thē to come in, that my house may be fylled. For I say vnto you, that none of those mē which were bidden, shal tast of my supper ✠

note I haue maryed a wyfe & therfore I can not come

E There went a great cōpany wt him, and he turned and said vnto thē. ✠ If a mā come mat.x.d. mat.viii.

come to me, & hate not his father and mo
F ther & wyfe and chyldren, & brethren, & systers: moreouer and his owne lyfe, he cannot be my dyscyple. And whosoeuer beare not his cros, and come after me cā not be my dyscyple.

Which of you disposed to bild a toure, sitteth not downe before & counteth the cost, whether ye haue sufficiēt to perfourm
it: lest after he hath laide the foūdacyon & is not able to perfourme it, al ỹ beholde it, beginne to mock him saying: this mā beganne to bild, and was not able to ma G ke an ende. Or what kig goeth to make batail against another king, and sitteth not downe fyrst, and casteth in hys mīd, whether he be able with ten thousand, to mete him that cometh against him wyth xx. thousand. Or els whyl ỹ other is yet a great way of, he wil sēd abassatours, and desyre peace. So lykewyse one of you that forsaketh not all that he hathe, can be my dyscyple. ✠

*Salt is good, but yf salt haue loste
Mat.v.b
Mar.ix.b
hyr saltnes, what shall be seasoned there with? It is nether good for the lād nor yet for the donge hyll, but men cast it out at the dores. He that hathe eares to heare, let hym heare.

¶ The louyng mercy of God is opened fo[r]th in the parable of the hundreth shepe, & of the sonne that was lost.

The.xv.Chapter. ✠

Then resorted vnto hym al ỹ
A Mat.xi.b
Mar.ii.b.
Luce.v.f
publycans and sinners, for to heare hym. And the pharises and Scribes murmu red saynge: He receaueth to hys company sinners, and eateth with them. Then put he forth this similitude to them saynge: What man of you hauynge an hundred shepe, yf he loose one of them, dothe not leue nyntye and nyne in the wyldernes, and go after that why che is loost vntyll he fynde hym? And when he hath found him, he puttethe hi on hys shulders wythe ioye: And assone as he cometh home, he calethe to geather his louers and neighbours saying vnto them: Reioyse wyth me for I haue foūde my shepe which was lost: I say vnto 28 you, ỹ likewise ioye shall be in heuē ouer
one sinner that repēteth, more then ouer nynty & nyne iuste persons, which nede no repentaunce. Ether what woman hauig.x. grotes, yf she lose one, doth not ly ght a cādel, & swepe the house, & seke dy ligētly tyll she find it? And whē she hath fonnd it she calleth hir louers & her negh bours saynge: Reioice with me, for I ha ne founde the grote which I had lost. Li ¶ kewyse I say vnto you, ioye is made in the presence of ỹ angels of god ouer one synner that repenteth. ✠

✠ And he sayd: A certayne man had. ii sonnes, & the yonger of them sayd to his father: father geue me ỹ part of ỹ goods ỹ to me belongeth. And he deuided vnto them his substance. And not long after,
ỹ yōger sonne gathered al ỹ he had toge ther, & toke his iorney in to a farre coun-tre, & ther *he wasted his goodes wt rye- Prou.xxix.a tous lyuyng. And when he had spent all that he had, ther arose a great derth tho-row out al ỹ same lād, & he begā to lack.
And he went & claue to a cytesyn of that same coūtre, which sent him to his feilde, to kepe his swine. And he wold fayne ha ue filled his bely with the codds that ỹ swine ate: and no man gaue to hym.

¶ The he came to him self and sayd: how D
many hyred seruaūtes at my fathers ha ue bred ynough, & I dy for hōger. I wil aryse & go to my father, & wyll say vnto him: father I haue synned against heuē & before ỹ, & am no more worthi to be cal led thy sonne, make me as one of thy hy-red seruaūtes. And he arose and went to his father. And when he was yet a grea te way of, hys father sawe him, and had cōpassyō, & ran & fell on his neck & kys-sed him. And the sonne said vnto him: fa ther, I haue sined against heuē, & in thy sight, & am no more worthy to be called thy sonne. But his father said to his ser uaūtes: bring forth that best garment & put it on him, & put a rynge on his hand, & showes on his fete. And bringe hyther that fatted caulfe and kil hi, & let vs eat & be merry: for this my sonne was deed, & is alyue agayne, he was lost, and is now founde. And they beganne to be merye.
¶ The elder brother was in ỹ feld, & when he cam & drew nie to ỹ house, he herd mistrelsi & daūsing, and called one of hys seruātes, & asked what those thinges mēa te. And he sayde vnto him: thy brother is come come, & thy father had killed the fatted caulfe, because he hath receued hi safe & sou̅d. And he was angry, & wold not go in. Thé came his father out & entreated him. He answered & sayde to hys father: Lo these many yeares haue I done ꝑ ser uice, nether brake at any time thi cōmaū demēt, & yet gauest ꝑ me neuer so moche as a kid to make mery withe my louers: but assone as this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy goodes wt har lotes, ꝑ hast for his pleasure killed ꝑ fat ted caulfe. And he said vnto him: Sōne, thou wast euer wt me, and al that I haue is thine, it was mete that we shuld make merye and be glad: for thys thy brother was deed, and is a lyue agayne: & was loste, and is founde. ✣

¶ The parable of the wicked Mām̄on. Not one tittle of gods word shal perysh. Of the ryche man, and poore lazarus.

The.xvi. Chapter.

A Nd he said also vnto his dis cyples. ✣ Ther was a certain rych mā, which had a ste= ward, that was accused vn to hym, that he had wasted his goodes. And he called him: & said vn to him: How is it, that I heare this of ꝙ Geue a comptes of thy steward shyppe: For thou mayst be no longer stewarde. The stewarde sayd wt in hym self: what shal I do? for my master wyl take away frō me the stewarde shyppe. I cānot dig ge, and to begge, I am ashamed. I wo= te what to do, that when I am put oute of the stewardshippe, they maye receaue me into their houses.

Then called he al his masters detters, & sayd vnto the first: howe moche owest thou vnto my master? And he sayde an hūdred tonnes of oyle. And he said to hi: take thy byl, & sit downe quickly & wry= te fyfty. Thē said he to another: what o= west thou? And he sayd: an hūdred quar ters of wheat. He sayd to him: Take thy bil, and wryte foure score. And the Lord cōmēded the vniust steward because he had done wisely. For the childrē of thys world ar in their kynde, wiser then ꝑ chil drē of lyght. And I saye also vnto you: ✣ make you frēdes of ꝑ wicked mām̄o, ꝑ whē ye shal departe, they maye receaue you into euerlasting habitacions. ✣

✣ He that is faythful in that whych is lest the same is faythful in moch. And he that is vnfaithful in that least: is vnfai thful also in moch. So then yf we haue not ben faithful in ꝑ wicked mām̄o, who wil beleue you in that which is tru. And yf ye haue not bene faithfull in another mānes busines: who shal geue you your owne? No seruaūt can serue .ii. masters, for other he shal hate ꝑ one & loue the o= ther, or els he shal lene to the one & despy se ꝑ other. Ye cānot serue god & mām̄o.

All these thinges herde the pharyses al so whych were couetous, & they mocked hi. And he said vnto thē: Ye ar they whi chb* tustyfy your selues before mē: but God knoweth your hertes. For that whi che is hyghlie esteined among mē, is ab hominable in the sight of god. ✣

The law & the prophetes raygned vn til the tyme of John: and sence that time ꝑ kyngdom of god is preached, & euerye man stryueth to go in. Sooner shal heuē & erth perysshe then one title of the lawe shall perysh. Whosoeuer forsaketh his wyfe & maryeth another, breaketh ma= trimony. And euery man whych marieth her that is deuorsed frō her husband, cō mitteth aduoutry also.

✣ Ther was a certayne rych man, why ch was clothed in purple and fyne bisse, & fared delicyously euery day. And there was a certayne begger named Lazarus, whyche laye at hys gate ful of soores de sirige to be refreshed wt the cromes why che fel frō the ryche mannes bord. Ne= uertheles, ꝑ dogges came & licked his so res. And it fortuned that the begger dy= ed, and was caryed by the angelles into ✣ Abrahams bosome. The rych man al so dyed, and was buryed.

And being in hel in tormētes, he lift vp his eyes and saw Abrahā a farre of, & la zarus in his bosome, & he cried & said: fa ther Abraham, haue mercy on me, & send Lazarus ꝑ he may dip the typpe of hys figer in water, & cole my tōge: for I am tormēted in this flame. But Abrahā sa= de vnto hi: Sōne, remēber ꝑ thou in th lyfe tyme, receuedst thy pleasure, & contra ry wyse Lazarus payne. Now therfore is he cōforted, & thou art punished. Be= yonde al this, betwene you and vs there is a great space set, so ỹ they which wold go from hence to you cannot: neither mai come from thence to vs.

is

G Then he saide I praye the therfore father, sende him to my fathers house. For I haue fyue brethrē: for to warne thē lest they also come into the place of torment. Abrahā said vnto hi: they haue Moises & the prophetes let them heare thē. And he said: nay father Abraham, but yf one came vnto them frō the dead, they wolde repent. He sayde vnto hym: If they hea re not Moses and the Prophetes, neither wyl they beleue, though one rose frō dea the agayne.

nota tgoi gors t moses & propfett

The Notes

a* Make you frendes of ỹ wicked Mam mō. This word Mamon is a word of ỹ Sy riā spech, & sygnyfyeth ryches. So that the text meaneth. Bestow your riches accordig to ỹ word of god/ ỹ god be pleased wt youre doinges & not deceitfully as this felow dyd b* ye ar they ỹ iustifie your selues & c. Of this is spoken afore in the. x. chap. e.

c* Some by the bosome of Abrahā do vnderstand the fayth of Abrahā, other some al so vnderstand it of ỹ place wher the elect & chosen that folow ỹ fayth of Abraham do rest after their death. But where that place is (because ỹ scripture doth not expreslly determine it) cā we not tel & therfore may no man be so bolde as to defyne it.

¶ Christ teacheth his disciples to auoyde occasy one of euel, one to forgeue another, stedfastlye to trust in god & no mā to presume in his owne work ke. He healeth the ten lepers, speaketh of ỹ later dayes, and of the ende of the worlde.

The. xvii. Chapter.

A mat. xviii. a marc. ix. t

Then sayd he to his disciples, It cānot be auoided but that offences wyll come. Neuertheless wo be to hym thoro we whome they come. It were better for him that a mylstone were hanged about his necke, & that he were cast into the see, then that he should offende one of these litle lōs. Take hede to you re selues. * If thy brother trespas agaīst the, rebuke him and yf he repēte, forgeue him. And though he sinne against the se uē times in a day, & seuen times in a day tourne agayne to the saying: it repēteth me, forgeue hym.

mat. xviii. a luce. xvii. c marc. xi. k

And the Apostles sayd vnto the Lord: increase our faith. And the lord sayd: yf ye had faith like a graine of mustard sed & shuld say vnto this sicamine tree, pluck thy selfe vp by the rootes, & plāte thy

B selfe in the see: he shuld obey you.

Who is it of you yf he had a seruaūte plowing or fedyng catel, that wolde say vnto him when he were come from thce felde: Go quickly and syt downe to mea te: & would not rather saye to him, dresse wherwt I may sup, and gird vp thi selfe and serue me, til I haue eaten & dronken: & afterwarde, eate ỹ, and dryncke thou? Doeth he thāk that seruaūt because he did that which was cōmaūded vnto hi? I trow not. So lykewyse ye, whē ye ha ue done al those thynges whych ar commaunded you say, we are vnprofitable seruauntes. We haue done that which was oure duety to do.

C In workes may no fayth be putte for by them no mā is iustified before god. but by Christes blood only

¶ And it chaunced as he went to Jerusalē, ỹ he passed thorow Samaria & Galyle. And as he entred in to a certaine toune, there met him ten men ỹ were lepers. Which stode a farre of & put forth their voices & said: Jesu master, haue mercye on vs. Whē he saw thē, he said vnto thē: Go and shewe your selues vnto ỹ Prestes. And it chaūsed as they wēt, they were clensed. And one of thē, when he sawe ỹ he was clēsed, tourned back agayne, & wt a loude voyce praysed God, & fel doune on his face at his fete, and gaue hi thankes. And the same was a Samaritane. And Jesus āswered & said: ar ther not te clensed? But wher ar those nine? There ar not foūde that returned againe, to geue God prayse saue only thys straūger. And he said vnto him: arise, & go thy wa ye thy fayth hath made the whoale.

D

¶ When he was demaūded of ỹ Pharises, whē the kingdō of god shuld come he āswered thē & said: The kyngdom of god cometh not wt wayting for, Nether shal men say: Lo here, lo there. For behold the *kyngdom of God is with in you.

C The kingdom of god is to loue god with al thyne hert, & to put thy hole trust in hym accordyng to the couenāt made in christ. & for christes sake to loue thi neyghbour as christe loued ỹ And al this is wt the in the.

* mat. xxiv. c alibi. & luce. xxi. c

And he sayde vnto the disciples: thee dayes wyl come, when ye shal desyre to se one daye of the sonne of mā, & ye shall not se it. And they shal saye to you: Se here, Se there. Go not after them, nor folow thē, for as the lyghtenynge that apereth out of ỹ one parte of heuen: & shyneth vnto ỹ other parte of heauen. * So shall the sonne of man be in his dayes. But fyrst must he suffre many thinges, & be refused of hys nacyon.

As

As it happened in the tyme of Noe: so shal it be in ỹ time of ỹ sõne of mã. They ate they dranke, they maryed wyues, & were maried, euẽ vnto that same daye, ỹ Noe wẽt into the Arcke: & the floud came & destroied them all. Likewise also, as it chaũced in ỹ dates of Lot. They ate, they drãk, they bought they sold, they plãted, they bylt. And euen the same day that lot went out of Sodom it rayned fire & brym stone frõ heuen, & destroyed thẽ al. After these ensãples, shal it be in ỹ day whẽ ỹ sonne of mã shall appere.

G At that day he that is on the house top & his stuffe in ỹ house: lett him not come doune to take it out. And likewise let not hi that is in the feldes, turne bak againe to that he lefte behinde. Remẽber lottes wyfe. Whosoeuer wil go about to saue hys lyfe, shal lose it: & whosoeuer shal lose hys lyfe, shall saue it. I tel you in thee nyght, ther shalbe two in one bed, ỹ one shalbe receaued & the other shalbe forsakẽ. Two shalbe also agrindig together: the one shalbe receaued, & the other forsaken. And they answered, & sayde to him: where Lord? And he said vnto thẽ: wher soeuer the a* body shalbe, thyther wil the egles resorte.

The Notes.

a* Wherseoeuer the body shalbe/ thyther wyl the egles resort/ ỹ is/ ther as the sonne of mã shalbe to iugde the world, thyther shal al gather together vnto me.

Che teacheth to be feruent in prayer continually. Of the phariles & the publican. The kyngdom of God belongeth vnto childrẽ. Christ ãswerethe the ruler, and promiseth reward vnto al suche as suffre losse for hys sake, and folow him. The blynde man is restored to hys syght.

The.xviii. Chapter. ✠

A And he put forth a similitude vnto thẽ, signifying ỹ mẽ ought alwayes to praye & not to be wery, sayig: Ther was a Judge in a certayne citie, whiche feared not god nether regarded mã. And ther was a certayne wedow in the same citie, whiche came vnto hi sayig: aueng me of myne aduersarie. And he wold not for a whyle. But afterward he said to hi self: thoughe I feare not god nor care for mã, yet because this wedow troubleth me, I wil auẽg her lest at the last she come & hagge on me. And B the Lorde saide heare what the vnryght wes Judge sayeth. And shal not god auenge his elect, whych crye daye and nyght vnto him, ye though he deferre thẽ? I tel you he wyl auenge them and that quickly ✠ Neuertheles, whẽ the sõne of mã cometh, suppose ye, that he shal fynd fayth on the erth.

✠ And he put forth this similitude, vnto certayne which trusted in thẽ selues ỹ they were perfect, & despised other. Two men went vp into ỹ tẽple to praye: ỹ one a pharise & the other a publicã. The pharise stode & prayed thus w̃ him self. God C I thanke the that I am not as other mẽ ar, extorsioners, vniuste, aduoutreres, or as this publicã I faste twise in ỹ weke. I geue tithe of al that I possesse. And ỹ publican stode a farre of, & wold not lift vp his eies to heuen, but smote his brest saying: God be mercyfull to me a sinner. I tel you thys mã departed home to his house iustyfyed moare then the other.* mat.xxiii.b For euery man that exalteth hym selfe, shalbe broughte low: And he that humbleth hym self, shalbe exalted. ✠

* They brought vnto him also babes, Matth.xix.b marke.x.b that he shuld touche thẽ. Whẽ hys disciples saw that they rebuked thẽ. But Iesus called them vnto hi, & said: Suffre childrẽ to come vnto me, & forbyd them not. For of soch is the kyngdom of god. Verely I saye vnto you: whosoeuer receaueth not ỹ kyngdõ of god as a child: he shal not entre therin.

And a certayne ruler asked hym sayinge: good master: what ought I to do, to obtayne eternal lyfe? Iesus sayde vnto hi: Wyht callest ỹ me good? none is good saue God only. Thou knowest the commaũdementes: Thou shalt not commyt Exod.xx aduoutry: ỹ shalt not kil: thou shalt not steale: thou shalt not beare false witnes: Honour thy father & thi mother. And he sayd al these haue I kept frõ my youth. Whẽ Iesus heard ỹ, he sayd vnto him. Yet lakest thou one thig.a* Sel al that thou hast, & distribute it vnto the poore, & thou shalt haue treasure in heuen and come, & folow me. Whẽ he hard that, he was heuy: for he was very ryche.

Whẽ Iesus saw him morne, he sayde: w̃ what difficulte shal they that haue ryches, enter into ỹ kingdom of God: it is easier easter for a camel to go thorow a nedles eye, then for a rych man to enter into the kingdō of God. Then said they þ heard that. And who shal thē be saued? And he sayd: Thinges which are vnpossible wt men are possyble wyth God.

¶ Then Peter sayd: Lo we haue left al and haue folowed the. And he said vnto them: ✠ Verely I saye vnto you, there is no mā that leaueth house, other father or mother, or brethren, or wyfe, or chyldren for the kingdom of Goddes sake, which same shal not receaue moch more in this worlde: and in thee worlde to come, lyfe euerlastynge.

math.xix.d. marc.x.d

✠ He toke vnto him the twelue, & sayd vnto them. Behold we go vp to Ierusalem, & all shalbe fulfylled that ar writtē by the Prophetes of thee sonne of man. He shalbe deliuered vnto the gentyles, & shalbe mocked and shalbe despytefully entreated, and shalbe spetted on: & when they haue scourged him, they wyl put hi to death, and the thyrd day he shal aryse agayn. But they vnderstode none of these thinges. And this saying was hyd frō them. And they perceaued not thee thynges whych were spoken.

‡ And it came to passe, as he was come nye vnto Hierico, a certayne blinde man sate by the waye syde begging. And whē he hearde thee people passe by, he asked what it meant. And they sayd vnto him, that Jesus of Nazareth passed by. And he cryed sayinge: Jesus þ sonne of Dauid, haue þ mercy on me. And they whych went before rebuked hym, þ he shuld hold hys peace. But he cried so moch the more, ✠ þ sonne of Dauid haue mercy on me. And Jesus stode styll, & cōmaunded him to be brought vnto him. And when he was come neare, he asked him saying what wilt thou that I do vnto the? And he sayde: Lorde that I may receaue my syght. Jesus said vnto him: receaue thy syght: thy fayth hath saued the. And immedately he saw, and folowed him, prayesinge God. And al the people when they sawe it, gaue laude to God. ✠

G math.xx.d marc.x.g

marc.x.g.

The Notes

a✱ Sel al that þ hast. &c. loke in mar. x. c.

¶ Of zacheus, and the ten seruaūtes to whō the talentes were deliuered. Christ rydeth to Jerusalem and weepeth ouer it,

The.xix.Chapter ✠

And he entred in & wēte thorowe Hierico. And beholde, A ther was a mā named Zacheus, which was a ruler amōg the Publicans, & was ryche also. And he made meanes to se Jesus, what he shuld be: & coulde not for þ preace, because he was of a low stature. Wherfore he ran before, & clymed vp into a wylde fyg tree, to se him: for he shulde come & waye. And when Jesus came to the place, he loked vp, & sawe him, and said vnto him: zache, come downe atonce for to daye I muste abyde at thy house. And he came downe hastelye & receaued him ioyfully. And when they saw þ they al grudged saying: He is gone in to tary wyth a man that is a synner.

And zache stode forth and sayd vnto B
the Lord: beholde Lorde, the halfe of my goodes I geue to the poore, and yf I haue done any man wronge, I wyl restore hym fowre fold. And Jesus sayd to him thys daye is helth come vnto thys house, for as moche as he also is become the chylde of Abraham. ✱ For thee sonne of mā is come to seke and to saue that whych was loste. ✠ math.xviii.a

As they heard these thinges, he added therto a symplitude, because he was nye to Hierusalē, & because also they thought that the kyngdō of God shuld shortely appere. He sayd therfore: ✠ ‡ a certayne noble man went into a farre countre, to receaue hym a kyngdō, & then to come agayne. And he called his ten seruaūtes and delyuered them ten pounde, sayinge vnto thē: by and sell tyl I come. But his cytesens hated him, and sent messengers after him sayinge: we wyll not haue this man to raygne ouer vs. C math.xxv.b marc.xiii.b

And it came to passe, when he was come agayne & had receaued hys kingdō, he cōmaunded these seruaūtes, to be called to him (to whō he gaue his money) to wit what euery mā had done. Thē came the first, saying: Lord, thy poūde hath encreased ten poūd. And he sayd vnto him ‡ Wel good seruāt because þ wast faithful in a very littel thing, take thou auctorite ouer. x. cytyes. And the other came saying: Lord thy pound hath encreased fyue pound. And to the same he sayde: & math.xxv.b

H.i. be thou

& be thou also ruler ouer fyue cytyes.

And the third came & sayd: Lord behel de here thy pound, whych I haue kepte in a napkyn, for I feared the. because thou arte a straite man: thou takest vp ỹ thou laydest not downe, & repest that thou did D dest not sowe. And he sayde vnto hym: *
math.xxv.c Of thine owne mouth, iudge I the ỹ e= uyl seruaũt. Kneweste thou that I am a strait mã takyng vp that I laid not dou ne, & reppynge that I dyd not sow: Wher fore then gauest not thou my money in= to ỹ bank, that at my cõminge I myght haue required mine owne w vaũtage.

And he said to them that stode by: take frõ him that pound, & geue it hi that hath ten pound. And they sayd vnto hym lor de he hath ten pounde. I saye vnto you, that * vnto all them that haue, it shall be geuen: & frõ him that hath not, euen that he hath shalbe take frõ hym. Moreouer those mine enemies, which wold not that I shuld raigne ouer them bring hyther, & slee them before me. * And whẽ he had thus spoken, he procedeth forthe before, assendyng vp to Jerusalem. F

And it fortuned, whẽ he was come nie to Bethphage & Bethany, besides mouñt Olyuete, he sent two of his disciples say tinge: go ye into the towne which is ouer agaynst you. In the which assone as ye ar come, ye shal fynd a colt tied, whereon yet neuer mã sate. Louse him and bryng him hyder. And yf any mã aske you, wht that ye lowse him: thus saye vnto hym, the Lord hath nede of hym.

They that were sent, wẽt theyr waye & foũd, euen as he had sayd vnto thẽ. And as they were alosing the colt the owners said vnto them: why lowse ye the colt: F And they said: for the Lord hath nede of him. And they broughte hym to Jesus. And they cast their rayment on the colt, and set Jesus theron. And as he wente, they spredde, their clothes in the way.

And when he was now come, where he shuld go downe frõ the mouñt Olyuete, ỹ whole multitude of the disciples begã to reioyce, & to laude god w a loude voy ce, for al the miracles that they had sene, saying: blessed be the kyng that cõmethe in the name of the lord: peace in heauen, & glory in the hyest. And some of ỹ phary ses of the cõpany sayd vnto hi: Master rebuke thy disciples. He answered, & say de vnto thẽ: I tel you yf these shuld hol= de their peace, the stones wold crie.

✣ And when he was come nere, he behel de the citie, & wept on it saying: If thou haddest knowen those thinges which be lõg vnto thy * peace, euen at thys thy ti me: But now are they hyd frõ thine eies. For the dayes shal come vpon thee, that thy enemyes shall cast a banke about ỹ, and compasse the rounde, & kepe thee in on euery side, & make the euen w ỹ grou de, with thy chyldren whych are in thee. G And they shall not leue in the, one stone vpõ another, because thou knowest not the tyme of thy vysytacyon.

And he went into the temple, & begãne to cast out them that solde therin, & them that bought saying vnto them, it is writ ten: my house is the house of prayer: but ye haue made it a den of theues. And he taught daili in the tẽple. I * The hie pre stes & the scrybes and the cheke of ỹ peo ple went about to destroye hi: but could not fynd what to do. For all thee people stack by him, & gaue hym audyence.

John.vii. marke.xi.

The Notes:

a * That belonge vnto thy peace. &c, here peace is take for health as in esa, xlviii. /b/

¶ They aske christ one question, & he asketh the another. The parable of the vyneyard. Of tey bu te to be geuen vnto Cesar. and how christ stopeth the mouthes of the Saduces.

The.xx. Chapter. ✣

AND it fortuned i one of tho se daies as he taught ỹ peo ple in the tẽple & preched ỹ gospel: the hye prestes & the Scrybes came w ỹ elders & spake vnto hi sayig: ✣ Tel vs by what auctorite ỹ doeste these thinges: Ether who is he ỹ gaue ỹ this auctorite: He ã= swered & said vnto them: I also wil aske you a question, & answere me, The bap tyme of John: was it from heauen or of a * men: And they thought w in thẽ selu saying: yf we shal say frõ heuẽ: he wyll say: why then beleued ye hi not. But and yf we shal say of men, al the people wyll stone vs. For they be persuaded ỹ John is a prophet. And they answered that they could not tel whence it was. And Je sus sayde vnto them: neither tell I you by what auctorite I do these thynges.

B

matth.xxii. Mark.xii.

a Of men or of Ba. Some matth xxi.e

Thẽ begã he to put forth to the people thys

math.18.b. marke,xii.a

this similitude. ✝ A certayne man plãted a vyneyard, & let it forth to fermers and went hym self into a straunge cõtre for a great season. And when the tyme was come, he sent a seruaũt to hys tenaũtes þ they shuld geue hym of the frutes of the vyneyarde. And the tenauntes dyd bette him, & sent him away empty. And agayn he sente yet another seruaunte. And they dyd bet hym, & koule entreated him also, & sent him awaye emptye. Moreouer, he sent the thyrd to, & hym they wounded, & cast out. Then sayd the lord of the vyne C yard: what shal I do? I wil send my dea re sonne, him peraduenture they wyl re= uerence, when they se hym.

But when the fermers saw hym, they thought in thẽ selues saying: this is the heyre, come let vs kyll hym, that the enhe ritaũce may be ours. And they cast him out of the vyneyard: & kylled him. Now what shall the lord of the vyneyard doo vnto them? He wyl come and destroy the se fermers, & wyl let oute hys vyneyarde to other. ¶ When they hearde that, they sayde: God forbydde.

pla.cxlvii.c math,xxi,d marke xii,a

And he beheld thẽ & sayde: what mea= neth this then that is writtẽ: ✝ the stone þ the bylders refused, the same is made the head corner stone? Whosoeuer stõble at that stone shalbe brokẽ: but on whoso= euer it fal vpõ, it wyl grinde him to pow= der. And the hye prestes & the Scribes þ same houre went aboute to laye handes on hym, but they feared the people. For they perceaued that he had spoken this symylytude agaynst them.

And they watched hi, & sẽt forth spies, D which shuld sayne thẽ selues perfecte, to take him in his wordes, & to delyuer him vnto the power & auctorite of the debite And they asked him saying: Master, we know þ thou sayest & teachest right, ney= ther cõsyderest thou any mãs degre, but teachest the way of god truly. Is it law ful for vs to geue Cesar tribute or noo? He perceaued their craftines, & sayd vn= to thẽ: ✝ why tẽpt ye me? Shewe me a pẽ Mat.xxii,e marke,xii,b ny. Whose ymage & superscriptiõ hath it? They ãswered & said: Cesars. And he said vnto thẽ: geue thẽ vnto Cesar þ whi che belõgeth to Cesar: & to god þ wiche ptayneth to god. And they could not re= proue his sayiñg before þ people, but thei marueled at his ãswer, & held their peace

Thẽ came to hi certayn of the Sadu= F ces which denye þ ther is any resurrectiõ And thei asked hi saying: ✝ Master, Mo= math.xxii,a marke xii,b. Deu.xxv.b ses wrote vnto vs, yf any mans brother die hauing a wyfe, & þ same die without yssue: þ then hys brother shuld take hys wyfe, & rayse vp sede vnto hys brother. Ther were .vii. brethre, & the first toke a wife, & dyed without childre. And þ secõde toke the wyfe, & he dyed chyldles. And þ thyrd toke her, & in lykewyse the resydue of the seuen, & left no childre behind thẽ & dyed. Last of al the woman dyed also. Now at þ resurrectiõ whose wyfe of thẽ shal she be? For seuen had her to wyfe.

Jesus ãswered & said vnto thẽ. The childre of this world mary wyues, & are F maried, but thei which shalbe made wor thy to enioye þ world, & þ resurrectiõ frõ deeth, neither mary wyues nor ar maried nor yet cã die any more, for they ar equal vnto þ angels: & ar the sonnes of god in as moch as they ar the childre of þ resur rectiõ. And þ the dead shall ryse agayne, euẽ Moses signified beside the bushe, whẽ he sayd: ✝ the Lord God of Abrahã Exod.iii.b All h & the God of Jsaac, & the god of Jacob line in god For he is not þ god of þ dead, but of thẽ which liue. For al liue in hi. Thẽ certay= ne of the Pharises ãswered & sayd: Ma ster þ hast wel said. And after that durst they not aske him any questyon at all.

Then sayd he vnto thẽ: ✝ how say they G that christ is dauids sonne? And Dauid mat.xxii.d. marke,xii.b him self saith in the boke of the psalmes ✝ The Lord sayd vnto my Lorde, syt on pſal.cix.a. my right hand, tyl I make thyne enemy es thy fote stole. Seinge Dauid calleth him Lord: how is he then hys sonne?

Thẽ in the audience of al the people, he sayde vnto hys disciples: ✝ beware of mat,xxiii.a marke,xii.b the Scribes, which desyre to go in longe clothing: and loue gretinges in the mar kets, & the hyest seates in the synagoges and the chefe rowmes at feastes, whiche deuoure wydowes houses & that vnder a coloure of long prayng: the same shal receaue greater damnacion.

¶ Christ cõmẽdeth the poore wyddowe, telleth of thee destructiõ of Jerusalẽ, of false teachers, of þ tokens & troubles for to come, of the ends of thee worlde, and of hys owne commynge.

The.xxi. Chapter.

A marc. xii.d

AS he beheld, he sawe ye ryche men, how they cast in their offringes into ye treasury. And he sawe also a certayn poore wyddow, which cast in thy-ther.ii.mites. And he sayd of truth I say vnto you, this poore wyddow hath putt in more then they all. For they al haue of theyr superfluyte added vnto the offrynge of God: but she, of her penurye hathe cast in al the substaunce that she had.

As some spake of the temple, howe it was garnished with goodly stones & Jewels, he sayd: † The dayes wil come, whē
Mat xxiiii.a marc.xiii.a
B of these thinges whiche ye se, shal not be lefte stone vppon stone, that shall not be throwē downe. And they asked him saynge: Master when shal these thinges be and what signe wyl there be when soche thinges shal come to passe.

And he sayd: take heede, ye be not deceaued. For many wyl come in my name saying: I am he, & the tyme draweth neare. Folowe ye not thē therfore. But when ye heare of warre & dissencion: be not a-feayed. For these thinges must fyrst come: but the ende foloweth not by and by C Thē sayde he vnto thē: Naciō shall ryse agaynst nacion, & kingdō agaynst kingdom, & greate earthquakes shalbe in all quarters, and honger, and pestilēce: and fearful thinges. And great sygnes shall there be from heauen.

But before al these, they shal lay their hādes on you & persecute you, delyuering you vp to the Synagoges & into prison, & bring you before kinges & rulers for my names sake. And this shal chaunce you for a testimonial. Let it stick therfore fast in your hertes, not once to study before, what ye shal answere: for I wyll geue you a mouth & wysdō, wher against all your aduersaryes shall not be able to speake nor resist. Yea & ye shalbe betrayed of your fathers & mothers, & of youre brethren, & kynsmen, and louers, & some of you shal they put to death. And hated
D shal ye be of al men for my names sake. Yet ther shal not one heyre of your heades perishe. Wyth your a*patience possesse your soules.

And when ye se Jerusalē besieged with an hoste, thē vnderstād: that ỹ desolaciō of the same is nye. Then let thē which ar in Jewry flye to the mountaynes. And let thē which are in the middes of it, depart out. And lette not them that are in other countreyes, enter therin. For these be the dayes of vengeaunce, to fulfyll all that are writtē. But wo be to them that be wchylde, & to them that geue sucke in those dayes: for ther shalbe great trouble in ỹ E lande, & wrath ouer all thys people. And they shal fal on the edge of the swearde, and shalbe led captyue, into all naciōs. And Jerusalem shalbe troden vnder foote of the gentyls, vntyll the tyme of thee gentyls be fulfylled.

✣ And ther shalbe sygnes in the sunne and in the mone, & in the starres: & in the erth, the people shalbe in soch perplexite, that they shall not tel which way to turne thē selues. The see & the waters shall roare, and mēnes hertes shal fayle thē for feare, and for loking after those thinges which shal come on the erth. For ỹ powers of heauen shal moue. And then shall they se the sonne of man come in a cloud wyth power & great glorye. When these thinges begynne to come to passe: then loke vp, & lifte vp your b*heades for your redemption draweth nye.

And he shewed thē a similitude: behold the fyg tree, & all other trees, when they F shoot forth their budes, ye se & know of youre owne selues ỹ sommer is then nye at hand. So lykewise ye (whē ye se these thinges come to passe) vnderstād, that ỹ kingdō of God is nye. Verely I say vnto you: this generatiō shal not passe, tyll all be fulfylled. Heauen & erth shal passe but my wordes shal not passe. ✣

✣ Take hede to your selues, lest your hertes be ouercome with surfetting and dronkennes & cares of this world: & that, ỹ daye come on you vnwares. For as a snare shal it come on al thē that sit on the face of the erth. Watche therfore cōtinually & praye, that ye may obtayne grace G to flye al this that shal come, and that ye may stand before the sonne of man. ✣

In the daye tyme, he taught in the tēple & at midnight, he went out, and had abyding in the mount oliuete. ‡ And al ỹ people came in the morninge to hym in ỹ Joh.viii.a temple, for to heare hym.

The

The Notes

a* With patience possesse your soules, &c The soule is possessed that is, perisheth not, but is saued by patience, yt is thorow fayth in Christe do patiently suffer all aduersytes.

b* Lift vp your heades &c, To lyft vp ỹ head, is to haue remembrauce or to reioyse.

¶ Christ is betrayed. They eate the ester lambe. The institutiõ of the sacramẽt. They stryue, who shalbe greatest. he reproueth thẽ: he prayeth thre tymes vpõ ỹ mõut. They take him & bring him to the hye prestes house: Peter denyeth hym thryse, & they bringe hym before their councell.

The.xxii.Chapter ✠

THe feast of swete bred drue nye which is called Ester, & the hye Prestes & Scribes sought how to kil him, but they feared ỹ people. Then entred Satã into Judas, whose surname was Iscarioth (which was of ỹ nõbre of ỹ.xii.) & he wẽt his way & cõmuned wt ỹ hye prestes & officers how he might betraye hi to thẽ. And thei were glad: & promised to geue hi money. And he cõsẽted, & sought opportunite to betray him vnto them when the people were awaye.

A mat.xxvi.a. mar.xiiii.a

‡ Thẽ came the day of swete bred, whẽ of necessite the esterlãbe must be offred. And he sent Peter & John saying: goo & prepare vs the esterlãbe, ỹ we may eate. They sayd to hi. Wher wilt ỹ, ỹ we prepare? And he said vnto thẽ. Behold whẽ ye be entred into the citte, there shal a mã mete you bearing a pitcher of water, him folow into ỹ same house ỹ he entreth in, & say vnto ỹ good mã of the house. The master sayth vnto ỹ, wher is the gest chãber, wher I shal eate mine esterlãbe with my disciples? And he shall shewe you a great parlour paued. There make redy. And they wẽt & foũd as he had sayd vnto thẽ: & made ready the esterlambe.

mat.xxvi.b mar.xiiii.a

B

And whẽ thee houre was come, he sate downe & the twelue Apostles wyth him. And he sayd vnto thẽ: I haue inwardly desyred to eate this esterlãbe wythe you before ỹ I suffer. For I saye vnto you: hence forth I wyl not eate of it any more vntil it be fulfilled in the kingdõ of god

mat.xxvi.c mar.xiiii.c luce.xxii.c 1.Cor.xi.c

‡ And he toke the cup & gaue thanckes, & sayd. Take thys, and deuyde it amonge you. For I saye vnto you: I wyll not drincke of the fruyte of the vyne, vntyll the kyngdom of God be come.

And he toke bred, gaue thãkes, & gaue to thẽ, saying: This is my body which is geuẽ for you. This do in the remẽbrauñce of me. Lykewyse also, when they had supped, he toke the cup saying: Thys cup is the newe testament in my bloud, whiche shall for you be shedde.

Yet behold, ỹ hand of him ỹ betrayeth me, is wt me on the table. And thee sonne of man goeth as it is apoynted: But wo be to ỹ mã by whom he is betrayed. And they begã to enquyre among thẽ selues, which of thẽ it shuld be, ỹ shuld do that.

C mat.xviii.a marke.ix.c luke.ix.c

✠ ‡ And ther was a stryke amõg them, which of thẽ shuld be takẽ for ỹ greatest And he said vnto thẽ: ỹ kinges of ỹ gentyls raygne ouer thẽ, & they ỹ beare rule ouer thẽ, ar called gracious lordes. But ye shal not be so. But he ỹ is greatest amõg you, shalbe as the yoũgest, & he ỹ is cheke, shalbe as ỹ mynister. For whether is greater, he ỹ sitteth at meat: or he ỹ serueth? Is not he ỹ sitteth at meat? And I am amõg you, as he ỹ ministreth. Ye ar they which haue biddẽ wt me in my tẽptatiõs. And I apoynt vnto you a kingdõ as my fat her hath apoynted to me: ỹ ye may eate & drincke at my table in my kingdõ, and syt on seates, and iudge the twelue trybes of Israell. ✠

And the Lord sayd: Simon, Simon behold Satan hath desyred you, to syfte you, as it were wheat: but I haue prayed for the, that thy faith fayle not. And whẽ thou art conuerted, strength thy brethrẽ.

D mat.xxvi.e marc.xiiii.e

And he sayd vnto him. ‡ Lorde I am redy to go with the into prison & to death. And he sayde: I tell the Peter, the cocke shall not crowe thys daye tyll thou haue thryse denyed that thou knewest me.

And he sayd vnto thẽ: when I sent you without wallet & scrippe & shoes: lacked ye any thing? And they sayd no. And he sayd to thẽ: but nowe he ỹ hathe a wallet let hi take it vp, & likewyse his scrip. And he ỹ hath no sweard, let him sel his coote & bye one. For I saye vnto you, that yet that which is wrytte, must be perfourmed in me: ‡ cui wyth the wycked was he nõbred. For those thinges whych ar writtẽ of me, haue an ende. And they said: lord: behold here are two swordes. And he sayde vnto them: it is ynough.

math.xxvi.e Mar.xiii.e Joh.xviii.e

And he came out, & went as he was wonte to moũte Oliuete. And the disciples folowed him. And when he came to the place, he sayde to them: praye leste ye fall into temptacion.

And he gate him selfe frō thē, about a stones cast, & kneled down, & prayed, saying. Father yf ȳ wilt, withdraw this cup frō me. Neuertheles, not my wil, but thyne be fulfilled. And ther appered an angel vnto him frō heuē, cōforting hī. And he was in an agony, & prayed som what lōger. And his sweat was lyke droppes of bloud, trickling downe to the ground And he rose vp frō prayer & came to hys disciples, & foūd thē sleping for sorowe, & sayde vnto them: why slepe ye? Ryse & praye, lest ye fall into temptation.

While he yet spake: behold, ther came a cōpany, & he ȳ was called Judas one of ȳ. xii. went before them, and preased nye vnto Jesus to kisse him. And Jesus said vnto hī: Judas, betrayest ȳ ȳ sōne of mā wt a kisse? When they which were aboute him sawe what wold folow, they said vnto hī: Lord, shal we smite wt swordes. ✝ And one of thē smote a seruāt of ȳ hyest prest of al, & smote of his right eare. And Jesus āswered & said, suffer ye thus far forth. And he touched hys eare, & healed him. Thē Jesus sayd vnto ȳ hie prestes & rulers of the tēple & thee elders whych were come to him. Be ye come out, as vnto a theke wt swordes & staues? When I was dayly wt you in the tēple, ye stretched not forth hādes against me, but this is euē youre verye houre, & the power of darknes. Thē toke they hym, & led hym, & brought him to the hye Prestes house. And Peter folowed a farre of.

When they had kyndled a fyre in ȳ middes of ȳ palis, & were set down together ✝ Peter also sate downe amōge thē. And one of ȳ wēches, beheld him as he sate by the fyer, & set good eye sight on hī & said this same was also wt him. Thē he denyed him saying: woman I knowe him not. And after a lyttel whyle, āother saw him & sayd: ȳ art also of thē. And Peter said man I am not. And about the space of an houre after, āother affirmed saying: verely euē this felow was wt him, for he is of Galile, & Peter sayde: man I wote not what ȳ sayest. And immedtatly while he yet spake, the cock crewe. And the Lorde turned back & loked vpō Peter. And Peter remembred the wordes of the Lorde, how he sayde vnto hym, before the cocke crowe, thou shalte denye me thryse. And Peter went out, and wepte bytterly.

And the men that stode about Jesus, mocked hym, & smote hym, & blynfolded hym, and smoote hys face. And asked him saying: arede who it is ȳ smoote the? And many other thinges despytfully sayd they agayn st hym.

And assone as it was day ȳ elders of ȳ people & the hye Prestes & Scribes, came together, & led hym into their cōsell saying: art thou very christ? tell vs. And he sayd vnto thē: yf I shal tel you, ye wil not beleue. And yf also I aske you, ye wil not āswere me or let me go. Herafter shal ȳ sonne of man syt on the right hāde of ȳ power of god. Thē sayd they al: art ȳ then the sonne of God? He sayd to thē: ye saye ȳ I am. Then sayde they: ✝ what nede we any further witnes? We ourselues haue herde of hys owne mouth.

mat. xxvi. mar. xiiii. ✠

¶ Jesus is brought before Pilate & Herod. The wemē make lamentation for hims He prayeth for his enemies, forgeueth the theke vpō his right hāde, and dyeth on the crosse. and is buried.

The. xxiii. Chapter

And the whole multitude of thē arose, & led him vnto Pilate. And they begā to accuse hī saying: we haue foūde this felow peruerting ȳ people, & forbiddinge to paye tribute to Cesar: saying, ȳ he is christ a king. And Pilate apposed hym saying: art ȳ the king of the Jewes? He answered him & sayd: thou sayest it. Then sayde Pilate to the hye Prestes, & to the people: I fynde no faute in this mā. And they were the more fearce saying. He moueth the people, teaching thorow out Jewry, and began at Galile, euen to thys place.

✠ mat. xxvii. a mar. xv. & Joh. xviii. c

When Pilate heard mencion of Galile he asked whether ȳ mā were of Galile. And assone as he knew ȳ he was of Herodes iurisdictiō he sent hym to Herode, which was also at Jerusalē i those daies And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceadingly glad. For he was desyreous to se hī of a lōge seasō, because he had herde many thinges of him, & trusted to haue sene som myracle done by hī. Thē questioned he wt hym of many thiges. But he answered hi not one word. The hye prestes and Scrybes stode forth & accused

mat. xxvi. g mar. xiiii. g Joh. xviii. c him kraytly. And Herode wyth his men of warre, despised him, & mocked hym, & arayed him in whyte, & sent him agayne to Pilate. ‡ And that same daye Pylate and Herod were made frendes to gether For before they were at variaunce.

Acta.iiij.c

And Pylate called together ỹ hye prestes & the rulers, & the people, & sayd vnto them: ye haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerted ỹ people. And behold I haue examined him before you and haue foũde no faute in this man of those thinges wherof ye accuse him. No nor yet Herode. For I sent you to hym: and lo nothing worthy of death is done to him. I wyl therfore chasten him & let him louse. ‡ For of necessite, he must haue let one louse vnto them at that feast.

C

mat.xxvij.d marke.xv.a Joh.xviij.a

And al the people cryed atonce saying away with hym, & delyuer to vs Barrabas: which for insurrectiõ made in the cyte & morther, was cast in prison. Pilate spake agayn to thẽ wylling to let Jesus lowse. And they cryed saying: Crucifye hym, Crucify him. He sayd vnto thẽ the thyrd tyme. What euyll hath he done? I fynd no cause of death in hi. I wyl therfore chasten him, & lett hym lowse. ‡ And they cryed wt a loude voyce, & required ỹ he might be crucifyed. And the voyce of them & of the hye Prestes preuayled.

mat.xxvij.c marke.xv.a Joha.xix.a

D

And Pilate gaue sentence ỹ it shulde be as they requyred & let louse vnto thẽ, hym that for insurrectiõ & morther, was cast into prison, whõ they desyred: & delyuered Jesus to do with him what they wolde. ‡ And as they led him away, they caught one Simõ of Syrene, comynge out of the felde: & on hym layde they the crosse, to beare it after Jesus.

mat.xxvij.d marke.xv.b

And ther folowed him a great cõpany of people & of wemẽ, which wemẽ beweyled & lamented hym. But Jesus turned backe vnto them, & sayd: Daughters of Jerusalẽ, wepe not for me: but wepe for your selues, & for your children. For behold, ỹ dayes wil come, whẽ mẽ shal say ‡ happy ar the barrẽ & the wõbes that neuer bare & the pappes which neuer gaue sucke. Then shal they beginne to say to the moũtaynes, fal on vs: & to the hylles couer vs. For yf they do thys to a grene tree, what shalbe done to the drye.

Luke.xxiij.a Apoc.vij.c Gala.iiij.d

And there were two euyl doers led wt hym to be slayne. ‡ And when they were come to the place, which is called Caluary, ther they crucified him, & the euyl doers, one on the ryght hand & the other on the left. Thẽ sayd Jesus: father forgeue them, for they woote not what they doo. And they parted his rayment, & cast lots And the people stode & beheld. And ỹ rulers mocked him wt thẽ saying: he holpe other mẽ, let him helpe him selfe, yf he be christ ỹ chosẽ of god. The soudiars also mocked him, & cam & gaue him vynegre & sayd: yf ỹ be ỹ king of the Jewes saue thy selfe. And his superscriptiõ was writ ten ouer hym, in Greke, in Latyn, & Hebrew: This is the king of the Jewes.

mat.xxvij.d marke.xv.b Joh.xix.b

E

F

And one of ỹ cuyl doers which hãged, railed on him saying: Yf ỹ be christ saue thy selfe & vs. The other ãswered and rebuked him saying: Nether fearest ỹ god because thou art in the same damnatiõ. We ar righteously punished, for we receaue according to our dedes: But thys mã hath done nothig amisse. And he sayde vnto Jesus: Lord remẽber me wh ỹ comest into thy kingdõ. And Jesus sayde vnto him: Verely I saye vnto the, to day shalte ỹ be with me in * Paradyse.

And it was about ỹ sixt hour. And ther came a darknes ouer al the lãd, vntil the ninth houre, & the sunne was darkened. And ỹ vayle of the tẽple dyd rẽt euẽ thorow the middes. And Jesus cried with a great voyce & sayd. Father, into thy hãdes I cõmẽd my spyrit. And whẽ he thus had sayd he gaue vp the goost. Whẽ the Cẽturiõ saw what had happened, he glorified god saying: Of a surtye thys mã was ryght. And al ỹ people ỹ came together to ỹ sight, beholding ỹ thinges why che were done, smoote their brestes, & returned home. And al his acquayntãce, & the wemẽ ỹ folowed him frõ Galile stode a farre of beholding these thinges.

G

And behold ther was a mã named Joseph, a coũcellour, & was a good mã & a iuste, & did not cõsent to the coũcel & dede of thẽ, whiche was of Aramathia, a cyte of the Jewes: whyche same also wayted for the kingdõ of god: he went vnto Pylate & begged the body of Jesus, & toke it down, & wrapped it in a linnen clothe, layed it in an hewē toūbe, wherin was neuer man before layed. ✠ And that day was ỹ saboth euen, & the Sabothe drue on. The wemē ỹ folowed after which came wt him frō Galyle, beheld the sepulcre & how his body was leyed. And they returned & prepared odoures and oyntmentes: but rested ỹ Saboth day, accordynge to the commaundement.

The Notes.

a* By Paradyse (as affirmethe Erasmus in his annotacios vpon this text) is vnderstād a place of synguler quietnes & pleasure.

¶ The wemē come to the graue, christ apeareth vnto the two disciples that go towarde Emaus, standeth in ỹ middest of al his disciples, openeth their vnderstandyng in the scriptures, geuethe a charge, & ascendeth vp to heuen.

The.xxiiii. Chapter. ✠

ON ỹ morow after ỹ saboth, erly, in ỹ morning, thei came vnto ỹ toūbe & broughte ỹ odours which they had prepared & other wemē wt thē. And they foūd ỹ stone rowled away frō ỹ sepulcre, & went in: but founde not the body of ỹ lord Jesu. And it hapened, as thei were amased therat: Behold. ii. mē stode by thē in shinig vestures. ✠ And as they were afraid, & bowed downe their face to ỹ erth: they sayd to thē: why seke ye the lyuyng among the ded? He is not here: but is risen. Reuēber how he spake vnto you, when he was yet wt you in galile, saying: ỹ the sōne of mā must be deliuered into the hādes of synful men, & be crucifyed, & the third day ryse agayne Alath.xx.a marke.xvi.a Iohn.xx.a.

mat.xxviii.a. marke.xvi.b

B And thei remēbred his wordes, & returned frō ỹ sepulcre, & tolde al these thiges vnto ỹ eleuen & to al the remnaūt. * It was Mari Magdalen & Joāna, & Mary Jacobi, & other that were wt thē, which told these thinges vnto the apostles, & their wordes seined vnto them fayned thigs, nether beleued they thē. Thē arose peter & ran vnto the sepulcre, & stowped in & saw the linnē clothes layd by them self, & departed wondryng in hym selfe at that whych had happened. ✠ mark.xvi.b. luce.xxiiii.b.

✠ And behold, ii. of them went that same day to a towne whyche was frō Jerusalem about. lx. score forlōges, called Emaus: & thei talked togethr of all these thiges that had hapened. And it chaūsed, as they cōmened together and reasoned, that Jesus hi self drue neare, & wēt with thē. But their eyes were holdē, that they could not knowe him. And he sayde vnto thē: What maner of cōmunicatiōs are these ỹ ye haue one too another as ye walke, & are sadde? And the one of them named Cleophas, answered & said vnto him: art thou only a straūger in Jerusalem, & hast not knowē the thinges which haue chaūsed therin in these dayes? To whom he sayd: what thinges?

And they sayd vnto him: of Jesus of Nazareth which was a prophet, mighty in dede & word before God, & al the people. And how the hye Prestes, & oure rulers deliuered hym to be condempned to death: & haue crucifyed hym. But we trusted that it shuld haue ben he that shuld haue delyuered Israel. And as touching al these thinges to daye is euen the third daye, that they were done.

C Yea & certayne wemē also of our company made vs astonied, which came erly vnto the sebulchre, & foūd not his body: & came sayinge, that they had sene a vision of angels, whiche sayd that he was alyue. And certayn of thē which were wt vs, went their waye to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the wemen had sayd but hym they sawe not.

D And he sayd vnto thē: O fooles & slowe of hert to beleue al that the Prophetes haue spokē. Ought not christ to haue suffered these thinges, & to enter into his glory? And he began at Moses, & at al the Prophetes, & interpreted vnto thē in al scriptures which were writtē of him

E And they drue nye vnto ỹ towne whych they wēte to. And he made as though he wolde haue gone further. But they constrayned hym saying, abyde wt vs, for it draweth towardes night, & ỹ daye is fast passed. And he went in, to tary with thē.

And it came to passe as he sate at meat with thē, he toke bred, blessed it, brake & gaue to thē. And their eies were opened & they knew him: and he vanysshed out of their sight. And they said betwen thē selues: dyd not our hertes burne within vs whyl he talked wyth vs by ỹ waye, & as he opened to vs the scriptures? And thei rose vp ỹ same houre, & returned agayn to Jerusalem, & found the eleuen gathered together, & them that were wyth thē

which

whych sayd: the Lorde is rysen in dede, & hath appered to Simon. And they told what thinges was done in ȳ way, & how they knew him in breakyng of breed. ✠

As they thus spake ✠ Jesus him selfe stode in the middes of thē, and said vnto thē: peace be vnto you. And thei were abasshed & afraid, supposyng that they had sene a spyrite. And he said vnto thē: why ar ye troubled, & why do thoughtes arise in your hertes? Beholde my hādes & my fete, ȳ it is euen my selfe. Handle me and se: for spyrites haue not flesh & bones, as ye se me haue. And whē he had thus spoke he shewed them his hādes and his fete. And whil they yet beleued not for ioye & wōdred, he said vnto them: Haue ye here any meate? And they gaue hi a pece of a broyled fysh, and of an honye cōbe. And he toke it, and ate it before them.

And he sayde vnto them. These ar the wordes which I spake vnto you whil I was yet with you: that al must be fulfilled which were wrytten of me in the law of Moses and in the Prophetes, and in ȳ Psalmes: * Then opened he their wyttes, that they myght vnderstand ȳ scriptures, and sayde vnto them: Thus is it wrytten, & thus it behoued christ to suffre, & to ryse agayne from deeth ȳ thirde day, and that repentaūce and remissyon of sinnes shuld be preached in his name amōg al naciōs, ✠ & must be begynne at Jerusalem. And ye are witnesses of these thinges. And beholde, I wyl send the promes of my father vpō you. * But tary ye in the citie of Jerusalem, vntill ye be endewed with power from an hye.

And he led them out into Bethani, and lift vp his hādes & blessed thē. * And it came to passe, as he blessed thē, he departed from thē, and was caryed vp into heuen. And they worshipped hi, and returned to Jerusalem with greate ioye, and were contynuallye in the tēple praysing & lawdynge God: Amen.

Here endeth the Gospel of Sayncte Luke.

The Gospel of S. John.

The euerlastyng byrth of Christ, & how he became mā. The testimony of John. The callyng of Andrew, Peter, &c.

The. J. Chapter. ✠

IN the beginninge was thee worde, & the worde was with God: & the worde was God The same was in the beginning with God. Al thinges were made by it, and without it, was made nothinge that was made. In it was lyfe, & the lyfe was the light of mē, * the lyghte shyneth in the darckenes but the darkenes comprehended it not.

Ther was a mā sente frō God, whose name was John. The same came as a witnes to beare witnes of ȳ light, that al mē thrugh hym myght beleue. He was not ȳ light: but to beare witnes of ȳ light That was a true light which lighteth al men ȳ come into the worlde. He was in ȳ world, & the worlde was made by hym: & yet * the world knewe hym not.

He cam among hys owne, & hys owne receaued him not. But as many as receaued hym, to thē he gaue power to be the sonnes of God in ȳ they beleued on hys name: whyche were borne, not of bloude nor of the wyl of the flesshe, nor yet of the wyll of man: but of God.

And ȳ word was made flesshe & dwelt among vs, & we sawe the glorye of it, as the glory of the only begotten sonne of ȳ father, whyche worde was full of grace and verite. ✠

✠ John bare witnes of him and cryed saying: This was he of whō I spake, he ȳ cometh after me, was before me, because he was yer then I. And of his fulnes haue al we receaued, euē * grace for grace. For ȳ law was geuen by Moses, but grace and truthe came by Jesus Christ. * No man hath sene God at any tyme. The only begottē sonne, whych is in the bosome of ȳ father, he hath declared hī. ✠

✠ And this is ȳ record of John when the Jewes sent prestes & Leuites frō Jerusalem, to aske hym, what arte ȳ? And he cōfessed & denyed not & sayd playnly: I am not christ. And thei asked hī: what then?

whych sayd: the Lorde is rysen in dede, & hath appered to Simon. And they told what thinges was done in ȳ way, & how they knew him in breakyng of breed. ✠

As they thus spake ✠ Jesus him selfe stode in the middes of thē, and said vnto thē: peace be vnto you. And thei were abasshed & afraid, supposyng that they had sene a spyrite. And he said vnto thē: why ar ye troubled, & why do thoughtes arise in your hertes? Beholde my hādes & my fete, ȳ it is euen my selfe. Handle me and se: for spyrites haue not flesh & bones, as ye se me haue. And whē he had thus spoke he shewed them his hādes and his fete. And whil they yet beleued not for ioye & wōdred, he said vnto them: Haue ye here any meate? And they gaue hi a pece of a broyled fysh, and of an honye cōbe. And he toke it, and ate it before them.

And he sayde vnto them. These ar the wordes which I spake vnto you whil I was yet with you: that al must be fulfilled which were wrytten of me in the law of Moses and in the Prophetes, and in ȳ Psalmes: * Then opened he their wyttes, that they myght vnderstand ȳ scriptures, and sayde vnto them: Thus is it wrytten, & thus it behoued christ to suffre, & to ryse agayne from deeth ȳ thirde day, and that repentaūce and remissyon of sinnes shuld be preached in his name amōg al naciōs, ✠ & must be begynne at Jerusalem. And ye are witnesses of these thinges. And beholde, I wyl send the promes of my father vpō you. * But tary ye in the citie of Jerusalem, vntill ye be endewed with power from an hye.

And he led them out into Bethani, and lift vp his hādes & blessed thē. * And it came to passe, as he blessed thē, he departed from thē, and was caryed vp into heuen. And they worshipped hi, and returned to Jerusalem with greate ioye, and were contynuallye in the tēple praysing & lawdynge God: Amen.

Here endeth the Gospel of Sayncte Luke.

The Gospel of S. John.

The euerlastyng byrth of Christ, & how he became mā. The testimony of John. The callyng of Andrew, Peter, &c.

The. J. Chapter. ✠

IN the beginninge was thee worde, & the worde was with God: & the worde was God The same was in the beginning with God. Al thinges were made by it, and without it, was made nothinge that was made. In it was lyfe, & the lyfe was the light of mē, * the lyghte shyneth in the darckenes but the darkenes comprehended it not.

Ther was a mā sente frō God, whose name was John. The same came as a witnes to beare witnes of ȳ light, that al mē thrugh hym myght beleue. He was not ȳ light: but to beare witnes of ȳ light That was a true light which lighteth al men ȳ come into the worlde. He was in ȳ world, & the worlde was made by hym: & yet * the world knewe hym not.

He cam among hys owne, & hys owne receaued him not. But as many as receaued hym, to thē he gaue power to be the sonnes of God in ȳ they beleued on hys name: whyche were borne, not of bloude nor of the wyl of the flesshe, nor yet of the wyll of man: but of God.

And ȳ word was made flesshe & dwelt among vs, & we sawe the glorye of it, as the glory of the only begotten sonne of ȳ father, whyche worde was full of grace and verite. ✠

✠ John bare witnes of him and cryed saying: This was he of whō I spake, he ȳ cometh after me, was before me, because he was yer then I. And of his fulnes haue al we receaued, euē * grace for grace. For ȳ law was geuen by Moses, but grace and truthe came by Jesus Christ. * No man hath sene God at any tyme. The only begottē sonne, whych is in the bosome of ȳ father, he hath declared hī. ✠

✠ And this is ȳ record of John when the Jewes sent prestes & Leuites frō Jerusalem, to aske hym, what arte ȳ? And he cōfessed & denyed not & sayd playnly: I am not christ. And thei asked hī: what then?

chê: art ÿ Helias: And he said: I am not Arte ÿ the prophete: And answered no.
Then said thei vnto him: what art thou that we may geue an ãswere to thê that sent vs: What sayeste ÿ of thy selfe: He said I am ÿe * voice of a cr:ar in ÿ wyldernes, make straight the way of ÿ lorde, as sayd the Prophete Esaias.

And they which were sent, were of the D pharises. And they asked hym, and said vnto him: why baptisest ÿ thê yf thou be not christ, nor Helyas, nether a prophet:
John ãswered thê saying: I baptyse vñ water: but one is come amõge you, whõ ye know not, he it is ÿ cometh after me, which was before me, whose sho latchet
I am not worthy to vnlose. These thin ges were done in Bethabara beyõd Jor
dã where John dyd baptyse. ✠

✠ The next day John saw Jesus cõming vnto him, & saide: behold ÿ lambe of god, which taketh away ÿ sinne of the world. This is he of whõ I saide. After me cometh a mã, which was before me, for he was yer thê I, & I knew him not:
but ÿ he should be declared to Israel, ther fore am I come baptysing with water.

E And John bare record saying: I saw ÿ spryte descẽd frõ heuen, like vnto a doue & abide vpon him, and I knew him not.
But he ÿ sét me to baptise in water, the Math. 3.d Mark. 1.d Luke, iii. d same sayd vnto me: * vpon whom thou shalt se the spryte descend & tary styll on him, the same is he which baptiseth with the holy goost. And I saw and bare record that this is the sonne of god. ✠

The next day after, John stode again, & .ii. of his disciples. And he beheld Jesus as he walked by, & said: beholde the lãbe of god. And the .ii. disciples herde him speke & followed Jesus. And Jesus F turned about, & saw them folow, & sayd vnto thê: what seke ye: They said vnto him: Rabbi (which is to say by interpre tacõ, Master) wher dwellest ÿ. He sayd vnto them: come & se. They came & saw wher he dwelt: and abode whi that dai.
For it was about the tenth houre.

One of ÿ. ii. which herd John speake & followed Jesus, was Andrew Simõ peters bother, the same fond his brother Simõ firste, & saide vnto hym: we haue fond Messias, which is by interpretacõ, anoynted: & brought him to Jesus. And Jesus beheld him & saide: thou art Si mõ the sonne of Jonas, ÿ shalt be called Cephas: which is by interpretacõ, a stone

The day folowing Jesus wold go in to galile, & fond phylyp, & sayd vnto hi, folow me. Philip was of Bethsaida the citie of Andrew & Peter. And phylyp found Nathanael, and sayd vnto hym.
We haue found hym of whom Moses in ÿ lawe, and the Prophetes dyd wryte
Jesus ÿ sonne of Joseph of Nazareth.
And Nathanael said vnto him: can ther
any good thyng come out of Nazareth.
Philip sayd to him: come and se.

Jesus saw Nathanael coming to hi, & said of him. Behold a right Israelite, G in whõ is no gile. Nathanael said vnto him, wher knewest thou me: Jesus answered, & said vnto him: Before ÿ Philip called ÿ, whê thou wast vnder ÿ fyg tree, I saw the. Nathanael ãswered and said vnto him, Rabbi: thou art the sõne of god, ÿ art ÿ king of Israel. Jesus an swered & said vnto him. Because I said vnto the, I saw the vnder the figge tre.
ÿ beleuest. Thou shalt se greter thinges thê these. And he saide vnto hi: Verely e, verely, I sai vnto you, hereafter shal ye se heuẽ opẽ, & the angels of god ascendi ge & descendyng ouer the sonne of man

The Notes

a* The lyght shyneth in the darkenesse. &c
By the lyght is vnderstand christe & by the darknes vngodly & vnbeleuyng mẽ, amõg whom christ came & they receaued him not as Eph. iiii. d

b* The world knew him not the worlde is here take for ÿ people of the worlde/ as after in the, bii/a and Marc/xbi/c c* Grace for grace. By grace vnderstande fauour. The meanyng is/for ÿ fauour that god the father hath to hys sonne Chryste/hath he receaued vs into fauour: so that as chryst is beloued of hys father, euen so are we beloued for hys sake as rom. b, c d* No mã hath sene god at any tyme, &c.

Ther cã no bodely eye behold ÿ maiesty of god in his excellẽte nature as he is as we haue declared in epo. xxxiii, d e* Voyce that is, I am that I preache I am sent to proue you synners & to crye on you to amend, that ye may receaue Chryst.

and hys grace.

✠ Christ turneth the water vnto wine, & driueth
ÿ byers & sellers out of the temple.

The.ii. Chapter.

AND the third day, was there a marriage i Cana a citie of ga-lile, & ÿ mother of Jesus was A ther

ther. And Jesus was called also and his disciples vnto ỹ mariage. And whē the wine failed, ỹ mother of Jesus said vnto hī, they haue no wine. Jesus sayde vnto her: womā what haue J to do w̄ the? myne houre is not yet come. His mother saide vnto the ministers: whatsoeuer he sayeth vnto you, do it. And ther were stādinge ther, syxe waterpots of stone after ỹ maner of the purykying of ỹ Jewes, cōtaynynge two or thre fyrkins a pece.

And Jesus said vnto thē: fyl ỹ waterpottes w̄ water. And thei filled thē vp to ỹ brim. And he said vnto thē: draw oute now, & beare vnto ỹ gouerner of ỹ feast And they bare it. Whē ỹ ruler of ỹ feast B had tasted the water ỹ was turned vnto wine, & knew not whence it was (but the ministers which drue the water knewe) He called the bridgrome, & said vnto hī: All men at the beginning, set forth good wine. & [a]* when men be dronck, then that which is worse. But thou hast kept backe the good wine, vntyll now.

a whē men be drōke. ac That is, whē men be fylled and satisfyed.

This beginīng of miracles did Jesus in Canaor Galile, & sheweth his glori, & his disciples beleued on hī. ✠ After ỹ he descēded into Capernaū, & [b] his mother, & his brethren, & hys disciples, but contynued not manye dayes there.

b Hys mother & hys brethren, loke in Ca. xiii. b

C ✠ And the Jewes ester was euē at hād, & Jesus went vp to Jerusalem, & foūd sittīng in the temple those that sold oxen & shepe & doues & chaungers of money. And he made a scourge of smal cords, & draue thē al out of the tēple, w̄ the shepe & orē, & poured out the chaūgers monei, & ouerthrue the tables, & said vnto them ỹ sold doues: Haue these thīges hence, & D make not my fathers house an house of marchaūdise. And his disciples remembred, how that it was writen* the zele of [p] Ca. lxviii. b thyne house hath euen eaten me.

Then answered the Jewes and sayde vnto hym: what token shewest thou vnto vs, seing that thou dost these thīges? Jesus answered & sayde vnto them: ✠ destroye thys temple, and in thre dayes J wil reare it vp agayne. Then sayd ỹ Jewes. xlvi. yerz was this tēple abildīng: & wylt thou reare it vp in. iii. dais? But he spake of the temple of his body. As sone therfore as he was risen frō deth againe his dysciples remembred ỹ he thus sayde. And they beleued ỹ scripture, and the wordes whych Jesus had sayde,

When he was at Jerusalem at ester in the fest, many beleued on hys name, whē they sawe hys myracles whyche he dyd. But Jesus, put not hym self in theyr hāndes, because he knew al men, and neded not, that any mā shuld testifie of hī. For he knew what was in man. ✠

¶ The cōmunycacyon of chryst w̄ Nicodemus. The doctryne and baptyme of John, and what wytnesse he beareth of Chryst.

The. iii. Chapter. ✠

THen was a mā of the pharises named nicodemus a ruler amōg the Jewes. Thee same came to Jesus by nyght, and sayd vnto hī. Rabby, we know ỹ thou art a teacher whych art come frō god. For no man coulde do such miracles as thou doest, except God wer w̄ him. Jesus āswered & said vnto him: Verely verely J say vnto the: except a mā be borē a new, he cānot se the kīgdom of god. Nicodemus said vnto hī: how can a mā be borē when he is olde? cā he enter into his mothers wōbe & bee borē agayne, Jesus āswered: verely verely. J say vnto ỹ [a]* except ỹ a mā be boren of water & of ỹ spryte, he cānot enter into ỹ kingdō of god. That which is boren of ỹ flesh is flesshe: & ỹ which is borē of thee spryte, is spryte. Maruayle not ỹ J sayd to the, ye must be borē a new. The wynde bloweth wher he lysteth, & ỹ heareste hys soūd: but canst not tel whēce he cometh & whether he goeth. So is euery mā that is borē of the spyryte.

And Nycodemus answered and sayde vnto hym: howe can these thynges bee? Jesus answered & sayde vnto hym. art thou a master in Israel, & knoweste not B these thynges? Verely, verely, J say vnto the, we speke ỹ we know, & testyfye ỹ we haue sene: and ye receaue not our witnes, ✠ when J tell you earthly thīges, ye beleue not: how shuld ye beleue, yf J shal tel you of heuenly thynges.

And [b]* no mā ascēdeth vp to heuē, but he ỹ came downe frō heauen, that is to say, the sonne of mā whych is in heuen.

And as Moses lyft vp the serpēt in ỹ wyldernes, euē so must ỹ sōne of mā be lyfte

mat. xxvi. f. mar. xi. xiiii. f

lyke vp, that none that beleueth in hi peryshe: but haue eternall lyfe. ✠

✠ For god so loueth the world, that he hath geuē his only sōne, that none þ beleue in hi, shuld perysche: but shulde haue euerlastig life. For god sēt not his sōne into þ world, to cōdēpne the worlde * but þ the world through hi, might be saued.
He þ beleueth on him, shal not be condēp
ned. But he þ beleueth not, is condempned alreadye, because he beleuethe not in the name of þ only sōne of god. And this is þ cōdēpnacion that lyght is come into the world, & the mē loued darknes more then lyght, because their dedes were euil For euery mā that euil doeth, hateth the light: nether cometh to light lest his ded shuld be reproued. But he þ doeth truth cometh to the light þ his ded might be knowē, how þ they ar wrought in god ✠

After these thynges came Jesus & hys dysceples into the Jewes land, & ther he haūted with them & baptised. And John also baptysed in Enon besydes Salim, because ther was moche water there, & thei cam & were baptised. For John was not yet cast into prison.

✠ And ther arose a question betwene Johns dysceples and the Jewes about purifying. And they came vnto John, & said vnto him: Rabby, he that was w þ beyond Jordan, to whō thou bareste wit
nes. Behold the same baptiseth, & al mē come to hym. John āswered, & sayde, a mā cā receaue nothing at al excepte it be geuē him frō heuen. Ye your selues are witnesses, how that I said: I am not chri ste, but am sent before hym. He þ hath þ bride, is the brydgrom. But the frend of the brydegrom, whych stādeth by & heareth hym reioyseth greatly of the brydegrooms voyce. This my ioy is fulfilled
He must increase: & I must decrease.

He that cometh frō an hie is aboue all
He that is of þ earth, is erthly, & speketh of the earth. He þ comethe from heauen, is aboue al, & what he hath sene & herde:
þ he testyfyeth: but no mā receueth hys testymony. Howbeit, he þ hath receaued his testymony * hath set to his sele that god is tru. For he whō god hath sēt, spe keth þ wordes of god. * For god geueth not þ spyrete by mesure (vnto hī). The fa ther loueth þ sōne & hath geuen al thinges into his hand. He þ beleueth on þ sonne, hath euerlasting life: & he that beleueth not the sonne, shal not se life, but þ wrath of god abydeth on hym. ✠

The Notes

a* Excepte amā be borne of water & of þ spirite &c. By this is signified þ baptyme/which is the mortificacyon of þ flesche pre-ched by John baptyst. & the renuyng of the spirite whych is remission of sinnes obtay ned by chryst.

b* No man assendeth into heuen/ but he þ came from heuē &c. That is, no man can come in heuen but by chryst the sōne of god that came frō heuē, &c. Only by his ryghte ousnes must we assende,

c* But that þ world thrugh hi might be saued &c. The world here doth only signifi that þ chosen and those that do beleue,

d* Hath set to his sele. & c. that is, hath it prynted in hys beleke as it were w a seale/

e* God geueth not þ spirite by mesure &c
How þ spirite or the giftes of þ spirite ar geuen by measure, read roma. xii. & i. Cor. n
xii. And euen so is the spyryte it self geuen forth thorow al christendom by measure/but to christ, whych alone hath put awaye
all synnes and deathe was it geuen aboue measure, as in Tytu. iii.

¶ The louyng communicacyon of chryst wythe þ woman of Samaria by the welles syde. Howe he healeth the rulers sonne.

The. iiii. Chapter.

AS sone as the lord had kno wledg, how þ pharyses had hearde, that Jesus made & B baptised mo dyscyples then John (thought that Jesus hī self baptised not: but his dyscyples) he left Jewry, & departed agayne into gali
le. And it was so þ he must nedes go tho row Samaria. Thē came he to a citie of Samaria called Sichar, besides þ possession that Jacob gaue to his sonne Jo seph. And ther was Jacobs well. Jesus thē wered in his iorney, sate thus on the wel. And it was * about the syxt houre, & ther came a womā of Samaria to dra
we water. And Jesus saide vnto her: ge-ue me drinck. For his ptsciples were gone away vnto þ toune to bye meat. Thē sayd the womā of Samaria vnto him:
how is it, þ thou being a Jew, askest dri ke of me, whicham a Samaritane? For the Jewes medle not with the Samary B tans. Jesus āswered & sayd vnto hir: yf thou knewest the gift of god, & who it is that sayeth to the geue me drink, thou wol dest haue asked of hym, & he wolde haue

geuen

geuen ꝯ water of life. The womā sayde vnto him. Syr ꝯ hast nothyng to drawe, & thee well is deepe: from whence then hast thou ꝯ water of life? Art thou greater then our father Jacob which gaue vs ꝯ wel, & he him self dranke thereof, and his children, and his catel?

Jesus answered & said vnto hir: whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shal thirste againe. But whosoeuer shal drink of ꝯ water that I shal geue hi, shal neuer be more a thirst, but ꝯ water ꝯ I shall geue him, shalbe in hi a wel of water, springinge vp into euerlastinge life. The womā said vnto hi: Sir geue me of that water, ꝯ I thirst not, neither come hider to draw

C Jesus said vnto her. Go & cal the husbāde, & come hither. And the womā answered & said to him. I haue no husbād. Jesus said to her. Thou hast wel sayde, I haue no husbād. For ꝯ haste had .v. husbādes, & he whom ꝯ now haste, is not thi husband. That saydest thou truely.

The womā said vnto him: Sir I perceaue ꝯ ꝯ arte a prophete. Oure fathers worshipped in this moūtaine: & ye say ꝯ in Jerusalē is ꝯ place wher mē ought to worship. Jesus said vnto her: womā beleue me, ꝯ houre cometh, whē ye shal neither in this moūtayne nor yēt at Jerusalem, worship the father. Ye worshypp ye wot not what: we knowe what we worshyp. For saluacīō cōmeth of the Jewes. But ꝯ houre cometh & now is, when the true worshippers shal worship ꝯ father in ꝯ spirite, & in trouth. For verely suche the father requireth to worship hi, God is a spirite, & they that worshyp hi, must worshyp him in spirite and trouthe.

The womā said vnto him: I wot well Messias shal com, which is called christ. When he is come, he wil tel vs al thinges: Jesus said vnto hir: I that speke vnto ꝯ am he. And cuē at ꝯ poit came his disciples, & merucled ꝯ he talked wt thee woman. Yet no mā said vnto hi: what meanest thou, or why talkest thou with her?

D The womā thē left her watcrpot, & went her way into the citte, & said to thee men. Come se a mā which told me al thynges ꝯ euer I did. Is not he christ? Thē they wet out of the citie, and came vnto hym.

And in ꝯ mene while his disciplꝫ praied him saying: Master, eate. He sayde vnto them: Ib*haue meate to eat, that ye knowe not of. Then said the disciples betwene thē selues: hath any mā brought him meat? Jesus said vnto thē: my meat is to do the will of him ꝯ sent me. And to finish his worcke. Say not ye: ther ar yet foure monethes, & then cometh harueste? Behold I say vnto you, lyft vp your eyes, & loke on the regions: for they are whyte alredy vnto haruest. And he ꝯ repeth receaueth reward, & gathereth frute vnto life eternal: ꝯ both he ꝯ soweth, & he that repeth might reioyce together. And herin is ꝯ saying true, that one soweth and another repeth. I sēt you to repe ꝯ whereon ye bestowed no labour. Other mē labored, & ye are entred into their labours. E

Many of the Samaritās of that citte F beleued on him, for ꝯ saying of the womā, which testified: he told me al thīges that euer I dyd. Thē when the Samaritans were come vnto him they besought hi, that he wold tary wyth thē. And he abode ther two dayes. And many mo beleued because of his owne wordes, & sayd vnto ꝯ womā: Now we beleue not because of thy saying: for we haue herd hi ourselues, and know that thys is cuē in dede chryst the sauiour of the world. F

After two dayes he departed thence, & went away into Galile. * And Jesus hi selfe testified that a prophete hathe none honour in his owne coūtre. Thē as sone as he was come into galile, ꝯ Galileans receaued him whych had sene al ꝯ thynges that he dyd at Jerusalem at the fest. For they wēt also vnto the feaste daye. And Jesus came againe ito Cana of galile, wher he turned ꝯ water into wyne. * Mat. viii. & mark. i. & Luke. iiii. Co'

✠ And ther was a certaine ruler, whose G sōne was syck at Capernaū. Assone as ꝯ same herde ꝯ Jesus was come out of Jewry into Galile, he wēt vnto hi, & besought hi, that he wold descend, & heale his sonne. For he was euen ready to die. Thē saide Jesus vnto him: except ye se sygnes & wōdres, ye cānot beleue. The ruler said vnto hi. Syr come away or euer that my child die. Jesus said vnto hi, go thy way, thy sōne liueth. And the mā beleued the wordes ꝯ Jesus had spokē vnto him, & wēt hys way. And anone as he wēt on his way his seruātes met hym,

and

& told him saying: thy child lyueth. Thē enquired he of them the houre whē he began to amend. And they said vnto him: Yester day ỹ seuenth houre, the feuer left hi. And ỹ father knewe that it was the same houre in which Jesus said vnto hi Thy sonne lyueth. And he beleued, & all his houshold. ✠ This is againe the secō de myracle that Jesus dyd, after he was come out of Jewry into Galyle.

The Notes,

a* About the syxt houre &c, The Jewes rekened ỹ houres of their dai from the sonne rysyng to the sonne settyng, so that the syxt houre was, vi. houres after thee sonne rysyng which at that tyme of the yere was about none,

b* I haue meat to eate &c. his meat is to do the wil of his father, and the chefe thing of his fathers will is to preach ỹ gospell to al the worlde, Which thing was euen now at hand to be done: as when the corne is rype men must kal to harueſt,

¶ He healeth the man that was syck eight & thyrtie yere. The Jewes accuse hi n. he answereth for hym self and reprouyth them.

The. v. Chapter.

A Fter that there was a feaste of ỹ Jewes, & Jesus wente vp to Jerusalē. And ther is at Jerusalē, by the* slaughterhouse, a pole called in the Ebrue tōge, a* bethseda, hauing. v. porches, in which laye a great multitude of syck folk, of blinde, halt and wyddered, wayting for the mouyng of thee water. For an angel went downe at a certayne ceasō into the pole and troubled the water. Whosoeuer then first after ỹ stering of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had. And a certaine mā was ther which had bene dyseased. xxxviii yeres. Whē Jesus saw hi lye, & knew that he now longe tyme had bene diseased, he said vnto him: Wilt ỹ be made whole? The syck man āswered hi: Syr I haue no mā when ỹ water is troubled, to put me into ỹ pole. But in ỹ meane time, whil I am about to come, a nother steppeth doune before me.

The greke hath theyr house: a place wher they kil the beastes that were offred

B And Jesus said vnto hi: rise, take vp thi bed & walk. And immediatly the mā was made whole, & toke vp his bed, & wente. And ỹ same day was ỹ sabothe daye. The Jewes therfore said to him ỹ was made whole. It is ỹ Saboth daye, it is not lauful for the to cary thy bed. He āswered the he ỹ made me whole, sayd vnto me: take vp thy bed, & get ỹ hēce. The asked they hi what mā is that which sayde vnto ỹ take vp thy bed & walk. And he that was healed, wist not who it was. For Jesus had goten hi self awai, because ỹ ther was preace of people in ỹ place.

C And after that, Jesus foūd hym in the temple, & said vnto him: behold ỹ art made whole, synne no more, lest a worse thige hapē vnto the. The mā departed and told ỹ Jewes that it was Jesus, whyche had made hi whole. ✠ And therfore ỹ Jewes did persecute Jesus, & sought ỹ meanes to slee hi, because he had done these thigs on ỹ saboth day. And Jesus āswered thē +b* my father worketh hider to, & I work, therfore ỹ Jews sought ỹ more to kil hi, not only because he had broken ỹ Saboth: but said also ỹ god was his father & made hi self equall wt god.

D Then āswered Jesus & said vnto them verely verely, I say vnto you: ỹ sōne cā do nothig of him self, but that he seeth ỹ father do. For whatsoeuer he doth, ỹ doeth the sōne also. For the father louethe ỹ sone & sheweth hym al thinges whatsoeuer he hi self doeth. And he wil shew hi greter works then these, because ye shul de marualle. For likewise as thee father raiseth vp ỹ deed, & quickeneth thē, euen so the sōne quyckeneth whō he will. Neither iudgeth the father eny mā: but hath cōmitted al iudgment vnto the sōne, because ỹ al mē shuld honour the sōne, euē as they honour ỹ father. He that honoureth not ỹ sōne, ỹ same honoreth not ỹ father which hath sent hi. Verely, verely I say vnto you: He that hereth my wordes & beleueth on hi that sent me, hath euerlasting life, & shal not come into dampnacyon: but is scaped from deeth vnto life.

E Verely, verely I say vnto you: the time shal come, & now is, whēc* the deed shal here ỹ voice of the sōne of god. And they ỹ heare, shal liue. For as the father hath life in hi self, so likewise hath he geuē to the sōne to haue lyfe in hym self: & hath geuen him power also to iudg, in that he is the sōne of mā: Maruaile not at this: ỹ houre shal come in ỹ which, al that ar in the graues, shal here his voice, & shal come forth: they ỹ haue done good vnto the resurrectiō of life: & they ỹ haue done eupl

Al ỹ ar in ỹ graues shal heare ỹ voice of ỹ sōne of mā: whe meaneth ỹ generall resurrection which shal be in ỹ last daye.

eupl, vnto ỹ resurrectiõ of dãpnatiõ. ✠

F ✠ I can of myne owne self do nothig at al. As I heare, I iudge, & my iudgemẽte is iust, because I seke not myne owne wil but the wyl of ỹ father whych hath sente me. If I beare witnes of my self, my witnes is not true. Ther is another ỹ bareth witnes of me, & I am sure that the wytnes which he beareth of me, is true.

Ye sẽt vnto Iohn, & he bare witnes vnto ỹ truth. But I receaue not the recorde of mã. Neuertheles, these thinges I say, ỹ ye might be sake. He was a burning, & a shyning light, & ye wold for a seasõ haue reioysed in his light. But I haue greater witnes thẽ the witnes of Iohn. For ỹ workes which ỹ father hath geuẽ me to finish: ỹ same workes ỹ I do, bare witnes of me, ỹ the father sent me. And ỹ father hi self which hath sẽt me, beareth witnes of me. Ye haue not herd his voice at any tyme nor ye haue sene hys shape: thereto his wordes haue ye not abyding in you. For whõ he hath sent: him ye beleue not.

Search ỹ scriptures, for in thẽ ye thike ye haue eternal lyfe: & they ar they which testify on me, & yet wil ye not come to me ỹ ye might haue life. I receaue not prayse of mẽ. But I know you, ỹ ye haue not ỹ loue of god in you. I am come i my fathers name, & ye receaue me not. Yf another shal come in his owne name, hi wyll ye receaue. How cã ye beleue which receaue honour one of another, & seke not the honour that cometh of God onely?

Do not thike ỹ I wil accuse you to my father. Ther is one ỹ accuseth you, euen moses i whõ ye trust. For had ye beleued moses, ye wolde haue beleued me: for he wrote of me, but seing ye beleue not his writig: how shuld ye beleue my wordes? ✠

The Notes

a* Bethseda or as some writeth bethesda is asmoch to say as a spittle or an hospital, where as poore folckes hath their beinge. Which place was by a pole wher the shepe that were offred in ỹ tẽple were kept. And the sicke remayned ther loking for the mouinge of the water. &c.

b* My father worketh hetherto & I worke &c, ỹ is, my father kepeth not ỹ Saboth day, nomore do I. but my father vseth no cõmẽ merchãdise on ỹ saboth. & nomore do I.

c* The deed shall beare ỹ voyce of ỹ sõne of god &c. Here he speaketh of ỹ resurrectiõ of iustificatiõ, wherby ỹ wicked ariseth frõ his wickednes & wherbi ỹ siner is brought frõ ỹ deeth of his sines into ỹ life of rightes ousnes, & specially of ỹ calling of ỹ gẽtyls, which was done after ỹ cõming of the holy goost. for ỹ gẽtils ar reputed as dead mẽ in cõparisõ to ỹ Iewes, and afterward when he sayth &c.

Iesus sedeth, v.m, me. departeth away, ỹ they shuld not make him king, & reproueth ỹ fleshly heerers of his word. The carnal ar offended at him.

The. vi. Chapter ✠

After these thinges Iesus wẽt his way ouer the see of Galile nye to a citie called Tiberias. B
And a great multitude folowed him, because they had sene his myracles whych he dyd on thẽ that were diseased. And Iesus went vp into a moũtayne, & there he sate with his disciples. And ester, a feast of ỹ Iewes was nye. ✠ ✠ Then Iesus lift his eyes, & saw a great cõpany come vnto hym, & sayde vnto Philip: whence shal we bye bread that these might eate. This he sayde to proue hym: for he hym selfe knewe what he wold do. mat. xiiii. b. marke. vi. c. luke. ix. b

Philip ãswered him, two hũdred penyworth of bred ar not sufficient for thẽ: ỹ euery mã haue a litel. Then sayd vnto hi one of his disciples. Andrew Simon Peters brother. Ther is a lad here, whiche hath. v. barly loaues & .ii. fishes: but what is that amõg so many? And Iesus sayd: Make the people sit downe: Ther was moch grasse in the place, & the men sate downe, in nõbre, aboute. v. M. And Iesus toke the bred, & gaue thãkes and gaue to thee disciples, & hys disciples to them that were set downe. And lykewise of the fyshes as moche as they wolde. B

Whẽ they had eate ynough he sayd vnto his disciples, gather vp ỹ brokẽ meat that remayneth: ỹ nothing be loost. And they gathered it together, & filled twelue baskets with the brokẽ meat, of the fyue barly loues: which brokẽ meat remained vnto thẽ ỹ had eatẽ. Then the men, whẽ they had sene ỹ myracle ỹ Iesus did, sayde: this is of a trueth the Prophete that shuld come into the worlde. ✠

Whẽ Iesus perceaued ỹ they wold come & take hi vp to make hi kyng, he departed agayn into a mõtayne him self alone mat. xiiii. c. marke. vi. f. luke. vi. c

And whẽ euẽ was come hys disciples wẽt vnto ỹ see & entred into a ship & wẽt ouer the see vnto Capernaũ. And anone it was darcke, and Iesus was not come to them. And the see arose wyth a greate

wynde

wynd that blew. And when they had rowē about a.xxv.or a.xxx.furlonges, thei saw Jesus walk on the see, & drawe nye vnto ꝯ ship, & were afrayed. And he sayde vnto thē: It is I, be not afrayd. Thē wold they haue receaued hym into thee ship, & the shyp was by and by at the lād whyther they went.

C The daye folowyng, the people whyche stode on the othersyde of the see, saw ꝯ ther was none other shippe there, saue that one wher into his disciples were entred, & that Jesus went not in wt his disciples in the ship: but that his disciples were gone away alone. Howbeit, ther came other shippes frō Tiberias nie vnto ꝯ place, wher they ate brede, when ꝯ lord had blessed. Then when ꝯ people sawe ꝯ Jesus was not ther nether his disciples, they also toke shippynge & came in Capernaum sekyng for Jesus.

And whē they had foūde hī on ꝯ other syde of ꝯ see, they said vnto him: Rabbi, whē camest ꝯ hither? Jesus ānswered thē & said: verely, verely I saye vnto you: ye seke me, not because ye saw ꝯ myracles: but because ye ate of ꝯ loues, & were fylled. ✝ Labour not for the meate whyche perisheth, but for the meat that endureth vnto euerlastyng lyfe, which meat ꝯ sonne of man shal geue vnto you. For hym hath god the father *sealed.

D Then said thei vnto him: what shal we do that we might worck the worckes of God? Jesus answered & sayd vnto thē. Thys is ꝯ work of God, that ye beleue on him, whō he hath sent. They sayd vnto hī: what sygne shewest thou thē, that we mai se & beleue the? What doest thou worcke? Oure father dyd eate Manna in the desert, as it is wrytten: He gaue thē brede from heauen to eate. Jesus sayde vnto thē: verely, verely I saye vnto you Moses gaue you not bred from heauē: but my father geueth you the true brede frō heauen. For the a *brede of god is he which cōmeth downe frō heauē, and geueth lyfe vnto the worlde.

Thē said they vnto him: lord, euer more geue vs this bred. And Jesus said vnto thē: I am ꝯ brede of lyfe. He that cometh to me shall not honger: and he that beleueth on me shal neuer thirst. But I saye de vnto you: ꝯ ye haue sene me, & yet beleue not. All that the father geueth me shal come to me: & him that cometh to me, I cast not away. For I cam downe frō heuen: not to do myne owne wyll, but hys wil which hath sent me. And thys is the fathers wil which hath sente me, that of al which he hath geuē me. I shuld loose nothing: but shuld rayse it vp agayne at ꝯ last day. And this is ꝯ wil of hī ꝯ sent me: ꝯ euery mā which seith the sōne & beleueth on hī, haue euerlastig life. And I wil rayse him vp at ꝯ last day. The Jewes thē murmured at hī, because he sayde: I am that bred which is come downe frō heuē. And they said: Is not this Jesus the sōne of Joseph, whose father and mother we knowe? How is it then that he saieth, I came doune frō heuē. Jesus ānswered & said vnto thē. Murmur not betwene your selues. ✝ No mā can come to me except ꝯ father which hath sēte me drawe hī. And I wyll rayse him vp at ꝯ last day. It is wrytē in ꝯ prophetes, that they shalbe al taught of god. Euery mā ther fore that hath herd & hath larned of the father cometh vnto me. Not that any mā hath sene ꝯ father, saue he which is of god, the same hath sene the father. math.xi.b Luk.vi.b

Verely verely I say vnto you, he that beleueth on me, hath euerlasting lyfe. I am that brede of lyfe. Your fathers dyd eate Manna in the wylderneſſe and are dede. This is that bred which commeth from heuen that he which eatethe of it, shuld also not dye. I am that lyuing brede which came downe from heuen. If any mā eate of this bred, he shal liue for euer. And the brede that I wyll geue is my flesh, which I wyl geue for thee lyfe of the worlde. F

And the Jewes stroue amōg them selues saying: How cā thys felow geue his flesh to eate? Then Jesus said vnto thē. ✝ Verely, verely I say vnto you, except ye eat ꝯ flesh of ꝯ sonne of mā & drynke his bloude, ye shal not haue life in you. Whosoeuer eateth my flesh & drynkethe my bloud, hath eternal life, & I wyl rayse hī vp at the last day. ✝ For my flesh is meat in dede: & my bloud is drynk in dede. He that eateth my flesh & drynkethe my bloud, dwelleth in me & I in him. As the lyuing father hath sent me, euē so lyue I by my father: and he that eateth me shal lyue by me. Thys is the bred which came frō heauē: not as your fathers haue eaten Manna & are dead. He ꝑ eateth of this bread, shal lyue euer. ✠

the

These thinges said he in the synagoge as he taught in Capernaū. Many therfore of his disciples: whē they had herde this, sayd: this is an hard saying: who cā abyde ꝑ hearing of it? Jesus knew in hi self, ꝑ his disciples murmured at it, and sayd vnto thē: b* Doth this offend you? What & yf ye shal se the sonne of mā ascende vp where he was before? It is the spyrete ꝑ quickeneth, ꝑ flesshe profeteth nothing. The wordes ꝑ I speake vnto you are spyrete and lyfe. But ther are some of you that beleue not. For Jesus knew frō the beginning, which they were that beleued not, & who shulde betraye hym. And he sayd: therfore sayde I vnto you: that noman can come vnto me, except it were geuen vnto him of my father.

Frō ꝑ tyme many of his disciples wēt backe & walked no more with him. Thē sayd Jesus to the twelue: wyl ye also go away? Thē Simō Peter āswered: Master to whō shall we go? Thou haste the wordes of eternall lyfe, ✠ and we beleue and know that thou art Christ the sonne of the lyuing God. Jesus answered thē: Haue not I chosen you twelue, & yet one of you is a deuyll? He spake it of Judas Iscariot the sonne of Symon. For he it was that shoulde betraye hym, and was one of the twelue. ✠

matthe. xvi. c
mar. viii. d
Luke. ix. c

The Notes

* (Sealed) that is: he hath put his marke of the holy ghost on hym whyche testifieth wyth myracles what he is.

a* The bred of God is he whych cometh down frō heuē &c. The word of the gospell (whych is Christ) is the true & lyuely bred of heauē ꝑ geueth lyfe to the whole world.

b* Doth thys offende you &c. That is yf my wordes do so offend you, what wyl thē ꝑ perfourmāce of thē do? whē ꝑ sonne of mā shal do in dede that he hath nowe spoken.

¶ Jesus cometh to Jerusalē at the feast, teacheth ꝑ Jewes & reproueth thē: Ther ar diuers opinions of him amōg the people, the Pharises rebuke the officers because they haue not takē hym, & chyde wyth Nicodemus for takynge hys part.

The. vii. Chapter ✠

AFter that, Jesus went aboute into Galile, & wolde not go about in Jewry for the Jewes sought to kyl hi. The Jewes tabernacle feast was at hand. Hys brethrē therfore sayd vnto him: get the hence & go into Jewry that thy disciples may se thy workes ꝑ thou doest. For ther is nomā ꝑ doeth any thinge secretly, & he him self seketh to be knowen openly. Yf thou do soch thinges, shewe thy selfe to the world. For as yet hys brethren beleued not in hym.

Thē Jesus sayd vnto thē: My tyme is not yet come: but your tyme is allway redy. The world cānot hate you. But me it hateth: because I testifye of it, that the workes of it ar euyl. Go ye vp vnto this feast. I wil not go vp yet vnto this feast for my tyme is not yet full come. These wordes he sayd vnto thē, & abode styl in Galile. But as sone as his a* brethrē were gone vp, thē wēt he also vp vnto ꝑ feast: not openly, but as it were preuelt. Thē sought hi the Jewes at the feast: & sayd: where is he. And moche murmuringe was ther of him amōg ꝑ people. Some said: He is good. Other said nay, but he deceaueth ꝑ people. Howbeit no mā spake openly of him, for feare of ꝑ Jewes ✠

B

✠ In ꝑ middes of the feast, Jesus wēt vp into the tēple & taught. And ꝑ Jewes marueled sayīg: How knoweth he ꝑ scriptures, seyng ꝑ he neuer learned? Jesus āswered thē, & sayd: My doctrine is not myne: but his ꝑ sent me: If any mā wyll do his ✠ wyll, he shal know of ꝑ doctrine, whether it be of god, or whether I speake of my self. He ꝑ speaketh of hym self, seketh hys owne prayse. But he ꝑ seketh his prayse that sent him, the same is true and no vnrighteousnes is in him.

He ꝑ loueth ꝑ wil of god to kepe his law: the same vnderstādeth the doctryne

C

Dyd not Moses geue you a law, and yet none of you d* kepeth the law? Why go ye about to kyl me. The people āswered & sayde: thou hast the deuyl: who goeth aboute to kyl the? Jesus answered & sayde to them: I haue done one worcke, and ye al meruayle. Moses therfore gaue vnto you circūcision not because it is of Moyses: but of ꝑ fathers: And yet ye on the Saboth daye, circūcise a man. Yf a mā on the Saboth day receaue circūcision without breaking of ꝑ law of Moses: disdayn ye at me, because I haue made a man euery whyt whole on the Sa-both day: Judge not after ỹ vtter apearañce: but iudge righteous iudgement.

Thē sayd some of them of Ierusalē: is not this he whō they go about to kil: Be hold he speaketh boldely, & they saye no-thing to him. Do ỹ rulers know in dede ỹ this is very Christ: Howbeit we know this mā whēce he is: but whē christ com-meth, nomā shal know whence he is.

Then cried Iesus in the temple as he taught saying: ye know me, & whence I am ye knowe. And yet I am not come of my self, but he that sente me is true, whō ye know not. I knowe hym: for I am of him, & he hath sent me. Thē they sought to take him: but no man layd handes on him, because hys tyme was not yet come. Many of the people beleued on him and sayd: whē Christ cometh, wyl he do moo myracles then thys mā hath done?

C The Pharises heard ỹ the people mur mured soch thinges about him. Wherfo re the Pharises & hye prestes sent min-sters forth to take him. Thē sayd Iesus vnto thē: Yet am I a little whyl wt you, & then go I vnto him ỹ sent me. Ye shall seke me, & shal not fynd me: & wher I am thyther cā ye not come. Thē sayd the Ie-wes bet wene thē selues: whither wyll he go, that we shall not fynde him? Wyl he go amōg the gentils which are scattered al abroade, & teache the gentiles: What maner of sayīg is this ỹ he sayd: ye shall seke me, & shal not fynd me: and where I am, thither can ye not come?

F In the last daye: the great day of the feast Iesus stode and cryed sayinge: Yf any man thyrst, let hym come vnto me, & drincke. He that beleueth on me, as sayth the scripture out of hys belly shall flowe ryuers of water of lyfe. Thys spake he of the spyrete whych they that beleued on hym, shuld receaue. For the holy ghost was not yet there, because ỹ Iesus was not yet glorifyed.

Many of the people, whē they heard this saying, sayd: of a truth this is a pro-phet: other sayd, this is christ: som sayd: shal christ come out of Galile: Sayeth not ỹ scripture ỹ christ shall come of the sede of Dauid: & out of ỹ town of Beth leem where Dauid was? So was there dissenciō amōg the people about hī. And some of thē wolde haue take hym: but no mā layde hādes on him. Then came the ministers to the hye prestes & Pharises. And they sayde vnto them: why haue ye not brought him? The seruātes āswered neuer mā spake as this mā doeth. Then āswered thē the Pharises: ar ye also dis-ceaued? Doth any of the rulers or of the pharises beleue on hī? But the comē peo ple which know not ỹ law: ar cursed. Ni codemus sayd vnto thē: He ỹ came to Je sus by nyght, & was one of them. Doth our law iudge any mā before it heare hī, and know what he hath done? They an-swered & sayd vnto him: art thou also of Galile? Searche & loke, for out of Gali le aryseth no Prophete. And euery man went vnto his owne house. F

The Notes

a* Dkbzethzen, loke in Gen. xiii. b b* None of you kepeth the law. &c. Of ỹ kepyng of the lawe Math. v. c

C A womā is take in aduoutrie. Christ deliureth her. The fredō of soch as folowe christ, whō they accuse to haue the deuyl with him, & go about to stone hym.

The. viii. Chapter. +

And Iesus went vnto mouē olyuete, & erly in the morning came agayn into the tem ple & al the people came vn-to him, & he sate downe and taught thē. And the Scribes & phatises brought vnto him a womā taken in ad-uoutry, & set hyr in the middes & said vn to him: Master, this womā was take in aduoutry, euē as the dede was adoyng. Moses in ỹ law cōmaūded vs that soch shuld be stoned. What sayest thou ther-fore? And this they sayd to tempt him: ỹ they might haue wherof to accuse hym. Iesus stouped downe, & with his finger wrote on the groūd. And whyle they cō-tinued asking him, he lyft hym selfe vp, & sayd vnto thē: let him ỹ is among you without synne, cast the first stone at her. And agayne he stowped downe & wrote on the ground. And as sone as thei hear de that, they wēt out one by one, ỹ eldest fyrst. And Iesus was left alone, & ỹ wo-man standing in the middes. When Je-sus had lyfte vp hym self agayne, & saw noo man, but the woman, he sayde vnto hyr: woman where are those thyne accu-sers? Hathe noo man condempned thee?

A Luke. xxi. g

B

She

She sayd: No man Lorde. And Jesus sayd: Nether do I condẽpne the. a * Go, and synne no more. ✠

✠ Then spake Jesus agayne vnto thẽ saying: I am the light of ỹ worlde. He ỹ followeth me, shal not walke in darknes: but shal haue the light of lyfe. The Pharises sayd vnto him: ỹ beerest recorde of thy self, thy record is not true. Jesus answered & sayd vnto thẽ: though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whẽce I cam & whether I go But ye cãnot tel whẽce I come & whither
C I go. Ye iudge after ỹ flesche, I iudge no mã. And yf I iudge, my iudgemẽt is true For I am not alone: but I & the father ỹ sent me. It is also writtẽ in your lawe, ỹ the testimony of two mẽ is true. I am one ỹ bare witnes of my selfe, & the father ỹ sent me, beareth witnes of me. Thẽ sayde they vnto him: wher is thy father? Jesus ãswered: ye nether know me, nor yet my father, yf ye had knowẽ me, ye shuld haue knowẽ my father also. These wordes spake Jesus in ỹ treasury, as he taught in the tẽple, & no mã layde hãdes on him for his tyme was not yet come. ✠

Then sayd Jesus agayne vnto them: ✠ I go my way, & ye shal seke me, & shal dye in your synnes. Whyther I go, thyther can ye not come. Then sayd the Jewes: wyl he kyl hym self, because he sayeth, whether I go, thether can ye not come? And he sayd vnto them: ye are from beneth, I am from aboue. Ye ar of thys world, I am not of this worlde. I sayde therfore vnto you, that ye shal die in your synnes. For except ye beleue that I am he, ye shal dye in your synnes.

Then sayd they vnto him, who art ỹ?
D And Jesus sayd vnto thẽ: Euẽ the very same thinge ỹ I saye vnto you. I haue many thinges to saye, & to iudge of you. Yea & he that sent me is true And I speake in ỹ worlde, those thinges which I haue heard of him. Howbeit they vnderstode not that he spake of his father. Then sayd Jesus vnto thẽ: when ye haue lyfted vp an hye ỹ sonne of mã, thẽ shal ye knowe that I am he, & that I do nothinge of my selfe: but as my father hath taughte me, euẽ so I speake: and he that sent me, is wt me. The father hath not left me alone, for I do alwayse those thinges that please him. ✠ As he spake these wordes many beleued on him.

✠ Then sayde Jesus to those Jewes which beleued on him. Yf ye continue in my wordes, then ar ye my very disciples and shal know the truth: & the truth shal make you free. They ãswered hym: We be Abrahãs sede, and were neuer bonde to any mã: why sayest thou then, ye shal be made free.

Jesus answered thẽ: verely, & verely I saye vnto you ỹ whosoeuer committeth synne, is the seruãt of sinne. And the seruãt abideth not in ỹ house for euer: But the sonne abideth euer. Yf the sonne therfore shal make you free, then ar ye free in dede. I know ỹ ye ar Abrahãs sede: but ye seke meanes to kil me, because my sayinges haue noo place in you. I speake ỹ I haue sene with my father: & ye do that which ye haue sene wt your father. They ãswered & said vnto him: Abrahã is our father. Jesus sayd vnto thẽ Yf ye were Abrahãs chyldren ye wold do the dedes of Abrahã. But now ye go about to kyl me, a mã ỹ haue tolde you ỹ truth which I haue herde of god: this dyd not Abrahã. Ye do ỹ dedes of your father. Then sayd they to hi: we were not borne of fornication. We haue one father, whych is god. Jesus said vnto them: yf god were your father, thẽ wolde ye loue me. For I proceaded forth & come frõ God. Nether came I of my selfe, but he sent me. Why do ye not know my speach? Euẽ because ye cãnot abyde the hearing of my wordes

Ye are of your father the deuyl, & the lustes of your father ye will do. He was a murtherer frõ the beginning, & abode not in the truth, because ther is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lye, thẽ speaketh he of his owne. For he is a lyar, & ỹ father therof. And because I tel you the truth, therfore ye beleue me not.

✠ Which of you cã rebuke me of synne? Yf I saye thee trueth, why do not ye beleue me? ‡ He that is of God heareth Gods wordes ✠ Ye therfore heare them not, because ye are not of God. Then answered the Jewes & sayd vnto hi: Saye we not wel that ỹ art a Samaritan and hast the deuil? Jesus answered: I haue not

C Roma. vi. e
vi. Pet. ii. D

a Iohn. viii. b.

not the deuyl: but I honour my father, and ye haue dishonoured me. I seke not myne owne prayse: but there is one that sekcth and iudgeth.

Verely, verelye I saye vnto you, yf a man kepe my sayinges he shal neuer see death. Then sayde the Jewes vnto him. Now know we that thou hast ỹ deuil. Abraham is dead, and also the Prophetes and yet thou sayest yf a mā kepe my sayinge, he shal neuer taste of death. Arte ỹ greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? & the Prophetes are dead. Whō makest thou thy selfe.

Jesus answered, Yf I honoure my selfe, myne honour is nothing worth. It is my father that honoureth me, whych ye saye, is your God, & ye haue not knowen hym: but I knowe hym. And yf I shuld saye, I know hym not, I shuld be a lyar lyke vnto you. But I know him, and kepe hys sayinge.

Youre father Abraham was glad to se my b*daye, & he sawe it and reioyced. Thē sayd the Jewes vnto him: thou art not yet. l. yere olde, and hast thou sene Abrahā? Jesus sayd vnto thē: Verely verely I saye vnto you: yer Abraham was I am. Then toke they vp stones to caste at hym. But Jesus hyd hym selfe & wēt out of the temple.

The Notes

a* Goo & synne no moze, &c. The gospell preacheth not so remissiō of sinnes vnto vs that we shulde continue in synne, but ỹ we shuld chaunge our lyfe & walke in a new lyfe of the spyrte, neuer purposynge to synne any moze.

b* My daye &c. all the holy fathers that were before ỹ coming of christ frō ỹ beginning of the worlde, hadde the same fayth in christ, that we haue which he called christē.

¶ Christ maketh the man to se that was borne blynde.

The. ix. Chapter.

AND as Jesus passed by, he sawe a man which was blynde from hys byrth. And his disciples asked him saying: Master who dyd sinne: this man or his father & mother, that he was borne blinde? Jesus answered: Neyther hath this man synned, nor yet his father & mother: but ỹ the workes of God shulde be shewed on him. I must worcke the workes of him ỹ sent me, whyl it is day.

‡* The night cometh whē noman cā worke. As long as I am in the world, I am the lyght of the worlde.

As sone as he had thus spokē, he spatt on the ground & made claye of the spetle and rubbed the claye on the eyes of thee blynde, & sayd vnto him: Go washe the in the pole of Siloe, which by interpretacion, sygnifieth sent. He went his waye & washed and came agayne sayinge. The neyghbours & they that had sene him before how that he was a begger, sayde: is not this he ỹ sate & begged? Some sayd this is he. Other sayd: he is lyke hym.

But he hym selfe sayde: I am euen he. They sayd vnto him. How are thine eyes opened then? He answered & sayde. The man that is called Jesus, made claye, & anointed mine eyes, & sayd vnto me. Go to the pole Siloe & washe. And I wēte & washed & receaued my sight. They sayd vnto hī: whet is he? He sayd: I cānot tel

Then brought they to the Phartses, hym that a lyttle before was blynde: for it was the Saboth daye whē Jesus made the claye & opened hys eyes. Then agayne the Pharises also asked him how he had receaued his syght. He sayd vnto thē: He put claye vpō myne eyes and I washed & do se. Then sayd some of thee Pharises: this mā is not of God, because he kepeth not the Saboth day. Other sayd: how can a man that is a synner, do soch myracles? And ther was strife amōge them. Then spake they vnto the blinde agayne. What sayest thou of hym, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he sayd: He is a Prophet.

But the Jewes dyd not beleue of ỹ fellow, how ỹ he was blind & receaued hys syght, vntyl they had called the father & mother of him ỹ had receaued his syght And they asked them sayinge: Is thys your sonne, whō ye say was borne blind How doth he nowe se then? Hys father & mother answered thē and sayd, we wote wel that thys is our sonne, & that he was borne blind: but by what meanes he nowe seyth that can we not tel, or who hath opened his eyes, can we not tel. He is old ynough, aske hym, lette him answere for him selfe. Soch wordes spake his father and mother, because they feared the Jewes.

wes. For the Iewes had cõspyred al rea dy that yf any man dyd cõfesse ỹ he was chrift he fhuld be excõmunicat out of the fynagoge. Therfore faid his father and mother: he is olde ynough, aske hym.

Then agayn called they the mã ỹ was blinde, & fayde vnto him: Geue God the prayfe: we know ỹ thys man is a finner. He anfwered and fayd: Whether he be a finner or no, I cannot tel: One thinge I am fure of, ỹ I was blinde, & nowe I fe, Thẽ fayd they to him agayn. What dyd he to ỹ? How opened he thine eyes? Yc ãfwered thẽ, I told you yer while, & ye did not heare. Wherfore wold ye heare it agayn? Will ye alfo be his difciples? Thẽ cated they him, & fayd: Thou art his difciple. We be Moſes difciples. We ar fure that God fpake with Moſes. This fe low we know not frõ whence he is.

Thee man anfwered & fayd vnto thẽ: thys is a meruelous thinge that ye wote not whẽce he is, feing he hath opened my ne eies. For we be fure ỹ god heareth not a* fynners. But yf any mã be a worfhip per of god & do his wyl, him beareth he. Sence ỹ world began was it not hearde that any mã opened the eyes of one that was borne blind. Yf thys man were not of god, he could haue done nothig. Thei anfwered & fayd vnto hym: thou arte all together borne in fynne, & doeft ỹ teache vs? And they caft hym out.

G Iefus heard ỹ they had excõmunicate him: & affone as he had foũd him, he faid vnto hym: doeft ỹ beleue on the fonne of God? He anfwered and fayd: Who is it Lord, ỹ I might beleue on him? And Ie fus fayd vnto him: Thou haft fene hym & he it is that talketh wt the. And he faid Lord I beleue, & worfhipped him. ✠ Ie fus fayd: I am come vnto iudgemẽt in to this world: ỹ they which fe not might fe, & they which fe might be made blinde And fome of ỹ Phariſes whych were wt hym, hearde thefe wordes and fayd vnto him: are we then blind? Iefus fayd vnto them: yf ye were blinde ye fhuld haue no fynne. But nowe ye faye, we fe, therfore your fynne remayneth.

The Notes

‡* The night &c. is. whẽ ỹ true knowled ge of chrift, how he only iuſtifieth, is loſte: thẽ cã nomã worke a good worke inỹ ſight of god, how glorfoufe foeuer his workes appeare.

a* God heareth no finners &c. that is, he heareth none that repent not nor is not in mynde to leaue theyr euyll lyfe.

¶ Chrift is ỹ true fhepeherd, & the dore of ỹ fhepe Some fay: Chrift hath ỹ deuil, & is madde. Some fay: he fpeaketh not the wordes of our ỹ hath the deuel. Becauſe he telleth the truth, the Iewes take vp ſtones to caſt at him, cal his preaching blaſphe my and go about to take hym.

The .x. Chapter. ✠

VErely, verely I faye vnto you, he ỹ entreth not in by ỹ dore into the fhepefold, but climeth vp fome other way ỹ fame is a thefe & a robber He ỹ goeth in by ỹ dore, is ỹ fhepeherde of ỹ fhepe: to him the porter openeth, & ỹ fhepe heare his voyce, and he calleth hys own fhepe by name, & leade thẽ out. And whẽ he hath fent forth his owne fhepe, he goeth before thẽ, & the fhepe folowe him: for thei know his voyce. A ſtraũger they wyl not folowe, but wyl flye frõ him: for they know not the voyce of ſtraungers. This ſumilitude ſpake Ieſus vnto them But they vnderſtode not what thinges they were which he ſpake vnto thẽ. Thẽ fayd Ieſus vnto thẽ agayn. Verely verely I faye vnto you: I am the dore of the fhepe. Al, cuẽ as many as cam before me are theues & robbers: but ỹ fhepe did not heare thẽ. I am ỹ dore: by me yf any mã enter in, he fhalbe fafe, & fhal go in & out & find paſture. The theefe cometh not but for to ſteale, kyl & deſtroye. I am come ỹ they might haue lyfe, and haue it more aboundantly. ✠

✠ I am the good fhepeherd. The good fhepeherd geueth hys lyfe for the fhepe An hyred ſeruãt, which is not the fhepe herde, neither the fhepe are his owne, ſeith the wolfe cõming, & leueth the fhepe, and flyeth, & ỹ wolfe catcheth thẽ, & ſcattereth the fhepe. The hyred ſeruãt flyeth, becau ſe he is an hyred ſeruãte, & careth not for the fhepe. I am ỹ good fhepeherde, and knowe myne, & am knowẽ of myne. ‡ As my father knoweth me: euen ſo knowe I my father. And I geue my life for ỹ fhe pe: & other fhepe I haue, whych ar not of this fold. Thẽ alſo muſt I bring, ỹ they may heare my voice, & ỹ ther may be one flocke & one fhepeherd. ✠ Therfore doth my father loue me, becauſe I put my life

Mt.xi.d Luke.x.d. math.xx.d

frō me, that I might take it agayne. No man taketh it from me: but I putte it awaye of my selfe. I haue power to put it frō me, & haue power to take it agayne: Thys cōmaundement haue I receaued of my father. And ther was a dissencion agayne among the Jewes for these sayinges, & many of them sayd. He hath the deuyll, & is mad: why heare ye hi? Other sayd, these ar not the wordes of him that hath the deuyl. Can the deuyll open the eyes of the blynde?

✠ And it was at Jerusalē the feast of ȳ dedicatiō, & it was winter: & Jesus walked in Salomōs porche. Thē came thee Jewes roūde about him, and sayd vnto him: How long doest ȳ make vs doute? Yf thou be Christ, tel vs playnly. Jesus answered thē: I told you & ye beleue not The workes ȳ I do in my fathers name, they beare witnesse of me. But ye beleue not, because ye ar not of my shepe. As I sayd vnto you: my shepe heare my voice & I know thē, & they folowe me, & I geue vnto thē eternal life, & they shal neuer perysshe, nether shal any mā plucke them out of my hāde. My father whych gaue them me, is greater then all & nomā is able to take them out of my fathers hāde. And I and my father are one.

Thē ȳ Jewes agayne toke vp stones, to stone him withall. Jesus answered thē: many good workes haue I shewed you frō my father: for which of them wyll ye stone me? The Jewes āswered hi saying For thy good workes sake we stone thee not: but for thy blasphempye, & because ȳ ȳ being a man, makest thy selfe god. Jesus āswered thē. Is it not writtē in your law. ✠ I say, ye ar gods? Yf he called thē Gods vnto whō the worde of God was spokē (& ȳ scripture cānot be brokē) saye ye thē to him, whō the father hath sanctifyed, & sent into the world, thou blasphemest, because I sayde I am the sonne of God? Yf I do not the workes of my father, beleue me not. But yf I do, thē though ye beleue not me yet beleue the workes, that ye may knowe & beleue that the father is in me, and I in hym. ✠

Agayne they wēte about to take hym: but he escaped out of theyr hādes, & wēt awaye agayne beyond Jordan, into the place where Jhon before had baptised, & ther abode. And many resorted vnto him and sayde, John dyd no myracle: but all thinges ȳ John spake of this mā, ar true. And many beleued on hym there.

Christ rayseth Lazarus frō death. The hie preistes & Pharises gather a counsel agaynst him. he getteth hym out of the waye.

The.xi. Chapter. ✠

A Certayn mā was sycke, named Lazarus of Bethania the towne of Mary & her sister Martha. It was that Mary which anoynted Jesus with oyntmēt & wiped his fete wyth her hayre, whose brother Lazarus was sycke, & his sisters sent vnto him saying Lord behold he whō thou louest, is sicke When Jesus heard that, he sayde: thys infirmite is not vnto death, but for the laude of God, ȳ the sonne of God might be praysed by the reason of it. Jesus loued Martha & her syster and Lazarus. Then after he had heard that he was sicke, yet abode he two dayes styll in the same place where he was.

Thē after ȳ, said he to his disciples: let vs go into Jewry agayne. His disciples sayd vnto him: Master, ȳ Jewes lately sought meanes to stone the, & wilte ȳ go thyther agayne? Jesus āswered, are ther not twelue houres in the day? Yf a man walke in ȳ daye, he stōbleth not, because he seyth the light of this world. But yf a mā walke in ȳ night, he stōbleth, because ther is no light in him. This said he, & after that, he sayd vnto thē: our frend Lazarus sleepeth, but I go to wake him out of slepe. Then sayd his disciples: Lorde yf he slepe, he shal do wel ynough. Howbeit Jesus spake of hys death: but they thought ȳ he had spoken of the naturall slepe. Then sayd Jesus vnto thē playnly, Lazarus is deed, & I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, because ye may beleue. Neuertheles let vs go vnto hym. Thē sayd Thomas which is called Didimus, vnto ȳ disciples: let vs also go, ȳ we may die with him. Thē went Jesus, & fōde ȳ he had lyne in hys graue foure dayes alreadye. Bethanie was nye vnto Jerusalē, about. xb. furlonges of, and many of the Jewes were come to Martha and Mary to comfort thē ouer their brother. Martha assone as she herde that Jesus was comyng, went & mett hym: but Mary sate styl in the house.

theyr

✣ Then said Martha vnto Jesus: lorde yt thou haddest bene here, my brother had not ben deed: but neuertheles, I know ꝑ whatsoeuer thou askest of god, god wil geue it the. Jesus said vnto her Thi brother shal ryse agayne. Martha sayd vnto him: I know ꝑ he shal ryse agayne in ꝑ resurrectiō at the last day. Jesus sayde vnto her: * I am ꝑ resurrectiō & ꝑ lyfe: He that beleueth on me, ye thought he were deed, yet shal he liue. And whosoeuer lyueth & beleueth on me, shall neuer die: Beleuest ꝑ this: She sayd vnto hi: ye lord, I beleue that ꝑ art Chryst ꝑ sonne of god whiche shuld come into ꝑ world. ✣ And assone as he had so sayde, she went her way & called Marye her syster secretly saying: The master is come and calleth for the. And she assone as she herde that, arose quickly, & came vnto him Jesus was not yet come into the toune: but was in the place wher Martha met him. The Jewes then which were ꝓ her in the house & comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose vp hastely, and went out, folowed her, saying: She goeth vnto the graue, to wepe ther.

Then whē Mary was come wher Jesus was & saw him, she fel downe at his fete, saying vnto him: Lord yf thou haddeste bene here, my brother had not bene deed. Whē Jesus saw her wepe, & ꝑ Jewes also wepe, which came ꝓ her, he groned in ꝑ spyrete, & was troubled in hi self & said: Where haue ye layed hym. They sayde vnto hym: Lorde come & se. And Jesus wept. Then said the Jewes. Behold how he loued him. And some of the said: could not he which opened the eyes of the blind, haue made also, ꝑ this man shuld not haue dyed? Jesus againe groned in him selfe, & came to the graue. It was a caue & a stone layde on it.

And Jesus sayd: take ye away ꝑ stone. Martha the syster of hi ꝑ was deed, saide vnto him, Lorde by this tyme he stinketh. For he hath bene deed foure dates: Jesus said vnto her: Saide I not vnto ꝑ, that yf ꝑ oldest beleue: thou shuldeste se ꝑ glory of god. Then they toke away the stone frō ꝑ place wher the deed was layd. And Jesus lift vp his eies & sayd. Father I thank the because that ꝑ hast heard me. I wot that thou hearest me alwayes: but because, of the people that stand by I said it that they may beleue, that thou hast sent me.

And when he thus had spokē, he cryed ꝓ a loude voice. Lazarus come forthe. And he that was deed, came forth, boūd hād and fote with graue bōdes, & his face was boūd with a napkin. Jesus sayd vnto thē: lowse him, & let him go. Then many of ꝑ Jewes which came to Mart, & had sene ꝑ thinges which Jesus dyd, beleued on hi, ✣ But some of them went their wayes to ꝑ Pharyses, & tolde them what Jesus had done.

✣ Then gathered ꝑ hye Prestes & the pharyses a coūcel and said: what do we? This mā doth many miracles. If we let hi scape thus, al men wil beleue on him, and ꝑ Romaines shal come & take away our coūtre & the people. And one of them named Caiphas which was ꝑ hye preste that same yere, said vnto thē: Ye perceaue nothyng at al nor yet consyder ꝑ it is expediēt for vs, ꝑ one man die for ꝑ people, & not al ꝑ al ꝑ people perisshe. This spake he not of hi self, but beig hie preste ꝑ same yere, he prophesied ꝑ Jesus shulde die for ꝑ people. & not for ꝑ people only, but that he shuld gather togeather in one the childrē of god which were scatered abrode. * Frō that dai forth they held a coūcel together, for to put hi to deeth.

Jesus therfore walcked no more opēly among the Jewes, but wēt hys waye thēce vnto a coūtre nie to a wildernes, into a citie called Ephraim, & ther haūted ꝓ his dysciples, * And the Jewes estre was nie at hād, & many wente out of the coūtre vp to Jerusalē before the ester, to purifi thē selues. Then sought they for Jesus, & spake betwene them selues as they stode in ꝑ tēple: What thinke ye, seing he cōmeth not to the fest. The hie prestes & pharises had geuē a cōmaūdement, that yf any mā knew wher he were, he shuld shew it, that thei might take hi. ✣

The Notes

a* I am ꝑ resurrection & lyfe. &c. That is I am ꝑ aucto: of resurrectyon and lyfe for those that beleue in me wyl I rayse vp at the laste daye into lyfe euerlasting, & those that are deed shal liue by me because they beleue in me.

¶ Mary anoynteth christes fete. Iudas murmureth. Christ excuseth her & rideth into Ierusalem.

The.xii. Chapter. ✠

Mat.xxvi.a. mar.xiiii.a. Iuan.xii.k.

When Iesus sixe dayes before ester, came to Bethanie where lazarus was, which was deed & whom Iesus raysed frō deeth. There they made him a supper, & Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of thē that sate at the table wt him. Then toke Mary a pounde of ointment called Nardus, perfect and precious, & anointed Iesus fete, & wypte his fete wt her heer & the house was fylled of ỹ sauer of the ointmēt. ✠ Thē sayde one of his disciples named Iudas Iscarioth Simōs sonne, which afterward betraied hi, why was not this ointmente sold for thre hūdred pence and geuen to ỹ poore. This said he, not ỹ he cared for ỹ pore: but because he was a theefe, & kepte ỹ bagge, & bare that which was geuē. Thē said Iesus: Let her alone, against ỹ day of my burying she kepte it. The poore al wayes shal ye haue wt you, but me shal ye not alwayes haue.

Mat.xxvi.a. mar.xiii.a

26 Moch people of the Iewes had knowledge that he was ther. And they came, not for Iesus sake only, but ỹ they myght se Lazarus also whom he raised frō deth. The hye prestes therfore held a coūcel that they might put lazarus to deethe also because that for his sake many of ỹ Iewes went away, and beleued on Iesus. ✠

Mat.xxi.a. mar.xiii.a. luke.xix.c

C ✱On the morow, moche people ỹ were come to ỹ feast when they herd ỹ Iesus shuld come to Ierusalem, toke braūches of palme trees & wēt & met him, & cryed Hosāna, blessed is he that in the name of ỹ lord, cometh kīg of Israel. And Iesus got a yōge asse & sate theron, accordīg to that which was writen: feare not daughter of Syon, behold thy kynge cometh sytting on an asses coolt. These thinges vnderstode not his disciples at ỹ fyrste: but whē Iesus was glorified, thē remēbred they ỹ soch thīges were writtē of hī, & that soch thīges they had done vnto hī The people ỹ was wt him whē he called Lazarus out his graue, & raised hī from death, bare recorde. Therfore met him ỹ people, because they heard that he hadde done soch a myracle. The Pharises therfore sayde amōge thē selues perceaue ye how we preuayle nothinge? Beholde the worlde goeth away after hym.

There were certayne Grekes amonge thē, that came to praye at the feast: the same came to Philip whych was of Bethsaida a citie in Galyle, & desyred him saying: Syr we wolde fayne se Iesus. Philip came & told Andrew. And agayn Andrew & Philip tolde Iesus. And Iesus answered thē saying: the houre is comen ỹ D the sonne of man must be glorified.

✠ Verely verely I say vnto you, except the wheat corne fal into ỹ groūde & dye, it bydeth alone. Yf it dye, it bringeth forthe moch frute. He ỹ loueth his lyfe shal destroy it: & hē ✱ he ỹ hateth his lyfe in this worlde shal kepe it vnto lyfe eternall. Yf any mā minister vnto me, let him folowe me & wher I am ther shal also my minister be. And yf any mā minister vnto me hym wyl my father honoure. ✠

Nowe is my soule troubled, and what shal I saye? Father delyuer me frō thys houre: but therfore cam I vnto this houre. Father glorifye thy name. Then came ther a voyce frō heauē: I haue glorified it & wil glorifye it agayne. Thē sayd the people ỹ stode by & herd it thoundreth. Other sayd an angell spake to hym. Iesus ānswered & sayd: this voyce came, not because of me, but for your sakes.

✠ Now is the iudgemēt of this worlde now shal ỹ prince of thys worlde be caste E out. And I, yf I were lyft vp frō the erth wyl drawe al men vnto me. This sayde Iesus, signifying what death he shulde dye. The people ānswered him: We haue heard out of ỹ law ỹ Christ bydeth euer and how sayest thou then ỹ the sonne of mā must be lift vp? who is that sonne of mā? Thē Iesus sayd vnto thē: yet a lytle whyle is the lyght with you. Walke whyl ye haue light, lest ỹ darcknes come on you. He ỹ walketh in the darcke, wotteth not whither he goeth. Whyl ye haue light beleue on the light, that ye maye be the chyldren of the lyght. ✠

These thinges spake Iesus & departed & hid him self frō them. And thoughe he F had done so many myracles before thē, yet beleued not they on him, ꝑ the saying of Esaias ꝓphet might be fulfilled ꝑ he spake. ✠ Lorde who shal beleue oure saying? And to whō is ꝑ arme of ꝑ Lord opened? Therfore could they not beleue because ꝑ Esaias sayth agayne: he hath blinded theyr eyes & hardened theyr hertes, ꝑ they shuld not se wt their eyes, & vnderstād wt their hertes & shuld be cōuerted, & I shulde heale thē. Soch thynges sayd Esaias whē he saw his glory, & spake of hi. Neuertheles amōg the chefe rulers many beleued on hi. But because of ꝑ Phartises they wold not be a knowē of it, lest they shuld be excommunicate. For they loued the prayse ꝑ is geuen of men, more then the prayse that cometh of god.

Esay.liii.a Esay.vi.c
ma.xiii.d
Mar.iiii.b
Luke.viii.b
Act.xxviii.f

G And Jesus cryed & sayd: he ꝑ beleueth on me, beleueth not on me, but on hym ꝑ sent me. And he ꝑ seith me, seith him that sent me. ✠ I am come a light into ꝑ world that whosoeuer beleueth on me, shuld not byde in darknes. And yf any mā hear my wordes, & beleue not, I iudge him not. For I cam not to iudge ꝑ world: but to saue ꝑ world. He ꝑ refuseth me & receaueth not my wordes, hath one ꝑ iudgeth hi. The wordes ꝑ I haue spokē thei shal iudge him in ꝑ last daye. For I haue not spokē of my self: but ꝑ father which sent me, he gaue me a cōmaūdement what I shuld saye, & what I shuld speake. And I know ꝑ this cōmaūdemēt is lyfe euerlasting. Whatsoeuer I speake therfore, euē as the father bade me, so I speake I a* He that hateth his life &c. ꝑ is, he that can be cōtēt to lose his tēporall lyfe in thys world for christes sake & his word, shal liue for euer as in Mat. x. Mar. viii. Luk. ix

The Notes

G Christ washeth the disciples fete, teliethe of Judas the traytour, & cōmaūdeth thē earnestly to loue one another.

The.xiii.Chapter. ✠

A BEfore ꝑ feast of Ester whē Jesus knew that his houre was come, ꝑ he shuld departe out of this world vnto ꝑ father. Whē he loued hys which were in ꝑ world, vnto ꝑ ende he loued thē. And whē supper was ended, after that the deuil had put in ꝑ hert of Judas Iscariot Simōs sonne, to betraye him: Jesus knowing that the father had geuē all thinges into hys handes, & that he was come frō god, & went to God: he rose frō supper, & layd a syde his vpper garmētes, & toke a towel, and girde hym selfe. After that, he poured water into a basin, & a* began to washe his disciples fete, & to wipe thē wyth the towel, wherwith he was gyrde.

Then came he to Simon peter. And petur sayd to him: Lord shal thou washe my fete? Jesus answered & sayde vnto him: what I do, thou wotest not nowe, but ꝑ shalt know hereafter. Peter sayd vnto hi: ꝑ shalt not washe my fete whyl ꝑ world stādeth. Jesus answered hi: yf I wash ꝑ not, thou shalt haue no parte wt me. Simō peter sayde vnto him: lorde, not my fete onli: but also my hādes & my heed. Jesus saide to him: he ꝑ is washed, needeth not saue to wesh his fete, & is clene euery whit. And ye ar clene: but not al. For he knew hys betrayer. Therfore said he: ye are not al clene. B

After he had washed their fete, & receaued his clothes, & was set doune againe, he sayd vnto them: wot ye what I haue done to you. Ye cal me master & lorde, & ye sav wel, for so am I: Yf I then youre lord and master haue washed your fete. ye also ought to wesh one anothers fete, for I haue geuē you an ensāple, ꝑ ye shuld do as I haue done to you. ✠ Verely verely I say vnto you, ꝑ seruaūt is not greter then his master, nether the messenger greater then he that sent hym.

Yf ye vnderstād these thynges happy are ye yf ye do them. I speake not of you al, I know whō I haue chosē. But that the scripture be fulfilled: he that eatethe breed wt me, hath b* lift vp his hele agaīst me. Now tel I you before it come: ꝑ when it is come to passe ye might beleue ꝑ I am he. Verely verely I saye vnto you. He that receiueth whō soeuer I send receaueth me. And he that receaueth me, receaueth him that sent me.

I nota
I haue gone
you an ens

Whē Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in ꝑ spyrete, & testified saying: verely verely I saye vnto you, that one of you shal betrate me. And when the disciples loked one on another douting of whō he spake. Ther was one of his disciplꝫ, which lened on Jesus bosom, whō Jesus loued. To hi beckened Simō peter that he

shulde

chuld aske who it was of whō he spake. He thē as he lened on Jesus brest, sayde vnto him: Lorde who is it? Jesus ānswered, he it is to whō I geue a sopp, whē I haue dypt it. And he wet a sop, & gaue it to Judas Iscarioth Simōs sonne. And after the sop c* Satan entred into hym. Thē sayd Jesus vnto him: that ÿ doeste do quickly. That wist nomā at the table for what intēt he spake vnto him. Som of them thought, because Judas had the bag, ÿ Jesus had sayd vnto him, bye those thinges ÿ we haue nede of against ÿ feest or ÿ he shuld geue some thing to ÿ poore. Assone thē as he had receaued the sop, he wēt immediatly out. And it was nyght, whē he was gone out. Jesus sayd: nowe is ÿ sonne of mā glorified. And God is glorified by him. Yf god be glorified by him, God shall also glorifye hym in him selfe: & shal straycht waye glorifye hym.

✠ Deare chyldrē, yet a litteli whyle am I w you. Ye shal seke me, & as I sayde vnto ÿ Jewes whyther I go, thyther can ye not come. Also to you I saye nowe. A new cōmaūdemēt geue I vnto you, ÿ ye loue together, as I haue loued you, ÿ eue so ye loue one āother. By this shal al mē know that ye ar my disciples, yf ye shall haue loue one to another. Simon Peter sayd vnto him: Lorde whyther goeste ÿ? Jesus answered hym: whyther I goo ÿ canst not folow me now, but thou shalte folowe me afterwardes. ✠ Peter sayde vnto hym: Lorde, why cannot I folowe the now? I wyl geue my lyfe for thy sake? Jesus answered him: wilt thou geue thy lyfe for my sake? Verelye, verelye I say vnto the, the cocke shal not crow, tyll thou haue denyed me thryse.

The Notes

a* Begā to washe &c. He washeth their fete to declare ÿ he came to minister to other & not to be ministred vnto: And further to teache by this washing ÿ hys ministration was to purge & washe away ÿ filth of sinne which is done by the sheding of hys bloud, for the bloud of Christ sprincled into oure hertes by the word of hys Gospell, & receaued by fayth, clenseth vs from all synne.

b* To lyfte vp hys hele, is, to oppresse by violence, for whō ye thrust or tryppe wyth the hele, him do ye vtterly ouerthrowe.

c* After the sop Satan entred, &c. Sathā was entred into hym before, as this Euangelist affirmeth inÿ begining of this chap. But now begā he more to enforce his strengthe, & more openly to shew hi selfe. In lyke maner as ÿ apostles had the holye ghost before christes resurrectiō. whē they beleued in him, whē they cōfessed him to be thesōne of god &c. But thē euydently receaued hym when Christ was ascended. actuum. ii. a

The armeth his disciples with cōsolatiō against trouble, & prompseth thē the holy goost, the spyryte of comforte.

The. xiiii. Chapter. ✠

And he sayd vnto hys disciples: let not youre hertes be troubled. Beleue in God, & beleue in me. In myfathers house are many mansions. Yf it were not so, I wold haue told you I go to prepare a place for you. And yf I go to prepare a place for you, I wyll come agayne, & receaue you euen vnto my selfe that where I am, ther may ye be also. And whyther I go ye knowe, & the waye ye knowe.

Thomas sayde vnto hym: Lorde we know not whether thou goest. Also how is it possible for vs to know the waye? Jesus sayd vnto hym: I am the waye, thee truth & ÿ lyfe. And noman cometh vnto ÿ father, but by me. Yf ye had knowen me ye had knowē my father also. And now ye know him, & haue sene hym.

Philip sayd vnto him: Lord shew vs the father, & it suffiseth vs. Jesus sayde vnto him, haue I ben so longe tyme with you: & yet hast ÿ not knowē me? Philip, he ÿ hath sene me, hath sene ÿ father. And howe sayest ÿ then: shewe vs the father? Beleuest ÿ not that I am in the father, & ÿ father in me? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speak not of my self: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doth the workes. Beleue me that I am in ÿ father, & the father in me. At the leest beleue me for the very workes sake.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleueth on me, the workes that I do, the same shal he do, & greater workes then these shal he do, because I go vnto my father. And what soeuer ye aske in my name, ÿ wyl I do, that ÿ father might a* be glorified by the sōne. Yf ye shall aske any thinge in my name, I will do it. ✠

✠ Yf ye loue me kepe my cōmaūdementes, & I wyl pray the father, & he shal geue you another cōforter, ÿ he maye byde w you euer: which is the b* spyrete of truthe whō the world cānot receaue because thee

ȳ wozld seeth hi not, nether knoweth hi. But ye know him. Foz he diwelleth with you, & shalbe in you. I wil not leaue you cõfoztlesse: but wyll come to you:

Yet a lytell whyle and the wozlde seeth me no moare: but ye shall se me. Foz I lyue and ye shall lyue. That daye shall ye knowe that I am in my father, & you in me, and I in you.

C He ȳ hath my cõmaũdemẽtes & kepeth them, the same is he ȳ loueth me. And he ȳ loueth me shalbe loued of my father: & I wil loue him, & wyl shewe myne owne selfe to him. Judas sayde vnto him (not Judas Iscarioth) lozd what is the cause ȳ thou wylt shew thy self vnto vs, & not vnto ȳ wozld? Jesus answered & sayde vnto him: yf a mã loue me & wil kepe my sayinges, my father also wil loue hi, & we wyll come vnto hym, and wil dwel wyth hym. He that loueth me not, kepeth not my sayinges. And ȳ wozdes whych ye here, are not mine, but the fathers wht che sent me.

D This haue I spokẽ vnto you being yet presẽt wt you. But ȳ cõfozter which is ȳ holy gost (whõ my father wyl sẽd in my name) he shal teach you al thynges, and bring al thinges to your remembraunce whatsoeuer I haue told you.

Peace I leue wt you, my peace I geue vnto you. Not as ȳ wozld geueth, geue I vnto you. Let not your hertes be greued, nether feare ye. Ye haue herd how I sayd vnto you: I go & come againe vnto you. Yf ye loued me, ye wolde verely reioyce, because I said I go vnto ȳ father. Foz the father is greter thẽ I. And now haue I shewed you, befoz it come, ȳ whẽ it is come to passe, ye might beleue. Here after wil I not talcke many wozdes vnto you. Foz ȳ ruler of this wozld cõmeth & hath nought in me. But ȳ wozld mai know that I loue the father: therfoze as ȳ father gaue me cõmaũdement, euẽ so do I. + Ryse let vs go to hence.

The Notes.

a* That the father myghte be glozified &c. The father is glozified by the sõne, whs we knowledg and geue thankes that he gaue hys sonne foz vs to saue vs.

b* Which is the spzete of truth, he is called ȳ spzete of truth. not only because he is true: but because he maketh thee men in to whom he entreth, true, where as al ȳ they no wout ȳ spzete is no nother thig but lies

C The true vyne, the husbandmon & thes braunches. & Doctzine al longe & a swete cõfozt against ȳ persecutyon.

The .xv. Chapter. ✠

I Am ȳ true vine, & my father is an husband mã. Euery braũche ȳ beareth not fruyte in me, he wyl take away. And euery bzaunch ȳ beareth frute, wyl he pourge, that it maybzinge moze frute. Now ar ye cleane thozow the wozdz which I haue spokẽ vnto you Byde in me, & lett me byde in you. As ȳ braunce cãnot beare frute of it selfe, except it bydein the vine: no moze cã ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vyne, & ye are thee bzauwches. He that abydethe in me, & I in him, the same bzingeth fozthe moch frute. Foz wout me can ye do nothing. Yf a mã byde not in me, he is cast fozth as a bzaũch, & is wyddered: & men gather it & cast it into the fize, and it burneth. * Yf ye byde in me & my wozdes also bide in you: aske what ye wyl, & it shal be done to you. + Herein is my father glozified, that ye bare moch frute, and be made my dyscyples.

As the father hath loued me, euẽ so haue I loued you. Cõtinue in my loue. Yf ye shal kepe my cõmaundemẽtes, ye shal byde in my loue, euẽ as I haue kept my fathers cõmaundementes, and byde in his loue. These thinges haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, & that your ioy myght be full.

✠ * This is my cõmaũdemẽt: that ye loue together as I haue loued you. Greter loue thẽ this hath no mã, then that a mã bestow his lyfe foz his frẽdes. Ye ar my frendes, yf ye do whatsoeuer I commaũde you. Hẽcefozth cal I you not seruauntes: foz the seruaũte knowethe not what his lozd doeth. But you haue I called frẽdes: foz al thiges that I haue herde of my father I haue opened to you.

Ye hauc not chosẽ me, but I hauc chosẽ you & ozdeined, that ye goo and bzynge fozth frute, & that youre frute remayne, that whatsoeuer ye shal aske of thee father in my name he shuld geue it you. +

+ This cõmaũd I you, that ye loue together. Yf ȳ wozld hate you, ye knowe ȳ he hated me befoze he hated you. Yf ye were of ȳ wozld, the wozld wold loue his owne:

nota
ꝯ nõt me c ȳ Do nothg

B
math. xxv.
t. Ioh. iii. d.

To kepe ȳ law maketh vs cõtynewe in the loue and fauour of chriſte, eph. v a owne. Howbeit because ye are not of the woꝛld, but I haue chosē you oute of the woꝛld, therfoꝛe hateth you ꝯ woꝛld. Remēber the saying that I sayd vnto you the seruaūt is not greter then the Loꝛde.

C

Math. x.c Luke. xvi. & Mark. x.c * If they haue persecuted me, so wil they persecute you. If they haue kept my say inges, so wyl they kepe youres.

D But al these thinges wyl they do vnto
you foꝛ my names sake, because they ha ue not knowē hi ꝯ sent me. If I had not come & spokē vnto them they should not haue had sinne: but now haue they nochi ge to cloke theyꝛ synne wal. He ꝯ hateth me, hateth my father. If I had not done woꝛks amōg them which none other mā did, they had not had sinne. But now ha ue they sene, & yet haue hated bothe me & my father: euē that the sayinge might be fulfilled ꝯ it is writē in their law: they ha ted me wout a cause. ✠ But when ꝯ cōfoꝛter is come, whom I wil send vnto you frō the father, which is the spꝛete of truth, which pꝛoceadeth of the father, he shall testifie of me. And ye shall beare a* witnes also, because ye haue bene wᵗ me from the begynnynge.

The Notes.

a* Wher as in thee. b. chapt̄re of Iohn chꝛist saith ꝯ he receaueth no wytnes of mā
It is to be vnderstand, ꝯ foꝛ hys owne par te he neded none: but foꝛ oure cause it was expedyent that his dyscypples shulde testyfye by᷑ truth vnto vs, & therfoꝛe sayth, ye shal beare wytnes of me also.

¶ Consolacyon agaynst troubte. Pꝛayers ar her de thꝛow Chꝛyst.

The. xvi. Chapter.

THese thinges haue I sayde
vnto you, because ye shuld not be offēded. They shall excōmunicat you: ye ꝯ time shall come that whosoeuer killeth you, wil thinke that he doth God seruice. And such thinges wil they do vn to you, because they haue not knowē the father nether yet me. But these thynges haue I told you, that when that houre is come, ye might remember then, that I tol de you so. ✠ These thinges said I not vn to you at the begynnyng because I was pꝛesent wyth you.

B ✠ But now I go my way to hym that sēt me, & none of you asketh me: whither goest ꝯ? But because I haue sayde such thinges vnto you, your hertes ar ful of soꝛow. Neuertheles I tel you thee truth it is expedyent foꝛ you that I go away.
Foꝛ yᵗ I goo not away, that comfoꝛter wil not come vnto you. But yᵗ I depar te, I wyl send hym vnto you. And when he is come, he wil rebuke the woꝛld of sīne, & of rightwesnes, & of iudgement. a*
Of sīne, because they beleue not on me:
of ryghtwesnes, because I go to my father, & ye shal se me no moare: of iudgmē te, because the cheke ruler of this woꝛld, is iudged alreadye

I haue yet many thinges to saye vnto
you: but ye cānot beare them away now.
Howbeit whē he is come (I meane ꝯ spꝛe C te of truthe) he wil leade you into al tru-the. He shal not speake of hym selfe: but whatsoeuer he shal here, that shal he spe ke, and he wyl shewe you thinges to come. He shal glorifye me, foꝛ he shal recea ue of mine & shall shew vnto you. Al thī ges ꝯ the father hath are mine. Therfore said I vnto you, that he shall take of mine and shew vnto you. ✠

✠ After a while ye shal not se me, & againe after a while ye shal se me: foꝛ I go to ꝯ father. Thē said some of his dis ciples betwene thē selues: what is thys ꝯ he saith vnto vs, after a while ye shall not se me, & againe after a while ye shall se me: & that I go to the father. They sai- D de therfoꝛe: what is this that he saith after a whyle, we cānot tel what he saith Je sus perceiued ꝯ they wold aske hi, & sayd vnto thē: This is it that enquyre of betwene your selues, that I said after a whi le ye shal not se me, & agayne after a whi le ye shal se me. Verely verely I say vn to you: ye shal wepe & lament & ꝯ woꝛlde shal reioyce. Ye shal soꝛow: but your so row shalbe turned to ioye.

A woumā whē she trauaileth hath so-row, because her houre is come: but assо C ne as she is deliuerd of the child, she re-mēbreth no moꝛe ꝯ anguish, foꝛ ioy that a man is boꝛne into ꝯ woꝛlde. And ye no we are in soꝛow: but I wyl se you agai-ne, and your hertes shal reioyce, & youre ioy shal no mā take frō you. ✠ And in ꝯ daye shal ye aske me no questiō. ✠ Ve-rely, verely I saie vnto you, whatsoeuer ye shal aske ꝯ father in my name, he wil

geue

I geue it you. Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my name. * Aske & ye shal receaue it: that your ioye may be full.

math.vii. Luke.xi.d Iacob.i.a

These thinges haue I spokē vnto you in prouerbes. The time wil come whē I shal no more speake to you in prouerbs: but I shal shew you plainly from my father. At ỹ daye shall ye aske in my name. And I saye not vnto you that I wil speake vnto my father for you. For the father himself loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleued ỹ I came oute frō god. I wēt out frō the father, and came into the worlde: & I leue the worlde agayn, and go to the father.

His disciples said vnto him: loo nowe spekest thou plainlye, & ỹ vsest no prouerb. Now know we ỹ ỹ vnderstandest all thinges, & nedest not that eny mā shulde aske ỹ any questyon. Therfore beleue we ỹ ỹ camest frō god. ✠ Jesus āswered thē: Now ye do beleue. * Behold ỹ houre draweth nie, & is already come that ye shalbe scatered euery mā his wayes, & shal leaue me alone. And yet am I not alone. For the father is wyth me.

G

mat.xxvi.c mark.xiiii.c

These wordes haue I spoken vnto you ỹ in me ye might haue peace. For in the worlde shal ye haue tribulatiō: but be of good chere, I haue ouercome ỹ worlde.

The Notes

a* Of synne because they beleue not on me, Unbelefe is ỹ sinne that cōdempneth ỹ world (By the world vnderstand the wyckedrepzoued, and vnfaythful, not al ỹ creatures that be in the world) and fayth is ỹ ryghtwesnes of beleuers, Thys thyng because the worlde and naturall reason wyll not know, but wyll be iustyfyed and saued by theyr owne workes is euen it, wherof the holy goost shal rebuke thee worlde and shew that it shalbe iustly condempned.

¶ The most harty & louyng prayer of chryste vnto his father, for al such as receaue the trueth.

The.xvii. Chapter. ✠

A These wordes spake Jesus & lift vp his eies to heuen, & said: father ỹ houre is come glorify thy sōne, that thi sōne may glorify ỹ: as ỹ hast geuen him power ouer al flesh, ỹ he shulde geue eternal lyfe to as many as thou haste geuē him. This is life eternall, ỹ thei might know the that only very god, & whom thou hast sent Jesus Chryst.

I haue glorified the on the erth. I haue finished the worcke which thou gauest me to do: And now glorifye me ỹ father wt thine owne selfe, wt the glory which I had with ỹ per the world was. I haue * declared thy name vnto the men whyche thou gauest me oute of the world. Thyne they were & thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy sayinges. Now they know that al thinges whatsoeuer ỹ haste geuē me, ar of the. For I haue geuē vnto thē the wordes which thou gauest me & they haue receaued thē, & know surely that I cam out frō the: & do beleue that thou dyddest sende me. B

* I pray for them, & praye not for the worlde: but for them which thou hast geuē me, for they ar thyne. And al myne ar thyne, and thyne are myne, & I am glorified in thē. And now am I no more in ỹ world, but they ar in ỹ worlde, & come to the. ✠ ✠. O holy father kepe in thine owne name, thē whych thou hast geuen me, that they may be one, as we ar. Whil I was wt them in ỹ world, I kept them in thy name. Those that thou gauest me haue I kepte, and none of them is loste, but that lost chyld, that the scripture might be fulfylled.

Now come I to the, & these wordes speke I in the world, that they might haue my ioyeful in thē. I haue geuē them thy wordes, & the world hath hated them, because thei ar not of ỹ world, euē as I am not of ỹ world. I desyre not ỹ thou shuldest take thē out of the worlde: but that thou kepe them frō euyll. They are not of the world, as I am not of the world. Sāctifie them wyth thy truth. Thy saying is truth. As thou dydest send me into the world, euen so haue I sent them into the world, & for their sakes sāctifye I my selfe, that they also myght be sanctifyed thorowe the truthe.

C

note that they might be sanctified

I pray not for thē alone: but for them also whiche shall beleue on me thorowe their preachig, that they all may be one, as thou father art in me, & I in the, that they maye be also one in vs, that ỹ world may beleue that thou hast sēt me. And that glory that thou gauest me, I haue geuē them, that they maye be one, as we note that glo

are

at one. ¶ in them & thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, & ỹ the worl de may know that ỹ hast sent me, & hast loued thē as thou hast loued me.

D Father, I wil that they which ỹ haste geuen me, be with me where I am, that they may se my glory which ỹ hast geuē me. For thou louedest me before the ma king of the wo:ld.* O ryghteousse fa= Math.x.d Luke.x.d ther ỹ very worzld hath not knowē ỹ: but I haue knowen the, & these haue knowē that thou hast sēt me. And I haue decla red vnto thē thy name, & wil declare it, ỹ the loue wherwith ỹ hast loued me, be in them, & that I be in them. ✠

The Notes

a* I haue declared thy name &c That is thy fame thy renowne & glo:i that thou art mercyful, for geuest synnes for my sake, art good, and ryghtwesse. &c b* I pray for them, I prape not for the worzld, that is, for the chosē pray I, not for ỹ wycked, froward, & vnbeleuers.

¶ Cryst is betrayed, The wozdes of his mouthe smite the officers to the grounde, Peter smyteth of Malchas eare. Jesus is brought before Anna Kayphas, and pylate,

The.xviii.Chapter. ✠

A mat.xxvi.d mar.xiiii.d luke.xxii.d

When Jesus had spokē these wozdz, he wēt forthe wt hys disciples ouer ỹ broke Ce= dzō, wher was a gardē into the whiche he entred wt hys disciples. Judas also which betraied hi, knew the place: for Jesus oft time resorted thyther wyth hys disciples. Judas then after he had receaued a bond of mē, & mynysters of the hie prestes and pha ryses, came thyther with lanters & fyer= brandes & wepens. Then Jesus know= ing al thinges that shuld come on hi, wēt forth & sayde vnto them: whom seke ye? They āswered hi: Jesus of Nazareth.

B mat.xxvi.e mar.xiiii.e luke.xxiii.e Jesus said vnto thē: I am he. + Judas also which betraied him, stode wt them. But assone as he had said vnto them, I am he, they wēt back wardes and fell to ỹ grounde. And he asked them agayne: who ye seke? They said: Jesus of Naza reth. Jesus answered: I sayd vnto you, I am he. If ye seke me, let these go their way. That ỹ sayinge myght be fulfylled which he spake: of them whych thou ga= uest me, haue I not lost one.

Symon peter had a sweard, and drue it, & smote ỹ hye prestes seruaunt, & cutt of his ryght eare. The seruaūtes name was Malchas. Then said Jesus vnto peter: put vp thy sweard into ỹ sheathe: shal I not drynk of the cup whyche my father hath geuē me. Then the cōpanye & ỹ captayne, & mynysters of the Jewes toke Jesus & boūd hi, & led him away to Anna first: for he was fatherelaw vnto Caiphas which was the hie prest ỹ same yere. Caiphas was he that gaue counsel to ỹ Jewes, that it was expedyente that one mā shuld dye for the people.

C mat.xxvi. f. mark.xiiii.f luke.xxii.f

*And Symon peter folowed Jesus & another disciple: that disciple was know= wē of ỹ hye prest, & went in wt Jesus in to ỹ pallys of the hye Prest. But Peter stode at ỹ doze wout. Then wente oute that other disciple which was knowēyn to the hie prest, & spake to the dāsel that kept the doze, & brought in Peter. Then said the dāsel that kept the doze, vnto pe ter: Art not ỹ one of this mans disciples He sayd: I am not. The seruaūtes & the ministers stode there, & had made a fyer of coles: for it was colde & they warmed them selues. Peter also stode amōg thē and warmed him selfe.

mar.xiiii.f. luke.xxii.g D

*The hie prest asked Jesus of his dyf cirles and of his doctrine. Jesus an swe red hi: I spake openly in ỹ worzld. I euer taught in ỹ Synage & in ỹ temple whither al the Jewes resorted, & in secret haue I said nothing: Why askest thou me, aske thē whych heard me, what I saide vnto them. Behold they cā tel what I sayde. Whē he had thus spokē, one of ỹ mynp sters which stode by, smote Jesus on the face sayig: āswerest ỹ the hiepriest so? Je sus āswered hi. If I haue euill spoken, beare witnes of the euil: yf I haue well spokē, why smytest ỹ me? And Annas sē te hi boūd vnto Caiphas the hye preste.

Simō Peter stode & warmed hi selfe And they saide vnto him: arte not ỹ also one of his disciples? He denied it, & said: I am not. One of ỹ seruaūtes of the hie prestes (his cosē whose eare peter smote of) said vnto hi: did not I se ỹ in ỹ gardē wt him? Peter denied againe: & immedy atly the cock crew. * Thē led they Jesus frō Caiphas into ỹ hal of iudgment, It was in the morning, & they thē selues wē= te not into the iudgmente hal leste they mat.xxvii.a marke.xv.a luke.xxiii.a shuld

shuld be defiled, but ꝑ they might eate ꝑ paschal lãbe. Pilate then went out vnto them & said: what accusacyõ bryng ye a gaist this mã? They ãswered & sayd vn to hi, yf he were not an euil doer we wold not haue deliuered him vnto ꝑ. Thẽ say de pilate vnto them: take ye him & iudge him after your owne law. Then ꝑ Jewꝛ said vnto hi. It is not lawful for vs to put any man to death. a* That ꝑ wordꝛ of Jesus might be fulfilled which he spa ke, signifying what deeth he shulde dye.

Then pylate entred into the iudgemẽte hal agayne, & called Jesus, & saide vnto him: art thou ꝑ king of ꝑ Jewes? Jesus answered: saist thou that of thy selfe, or did other tel it the of me? Pylate answe= red: Am I a Jew? thine owne nacyõ & hie prestꝛ haue delyuered ꝑ vnto me. What hast ꝑ done. Jesus answered: b* my kig dom is not of thys world. Yf my kigdõ were of thys world then wold my minis= sters surely fight, that I shuld not be de liuered to ꝑ Jewes, but now is my king dom not frõ hence. Pylate sayd vnto hi: Art ꝑ a kyng then? Jesus answered: ꝑ saiest that I am a kinge. For thys cause was I borne, & for thys cause came I in to the world, that I shuld beare wytnes vnto the trueth. And al that ar of the tru eth heare my voice. Pilate said vnto him what thynge is truth? And when he had said that, he went out agayne vnto ꝑ Je wes, & said vnto them: I fynd in him no cause at al. Ye haue a custome, ꝑ I shul de delyuer you one louse at easter. Wyl ye that I louse vnto you the king of the Jewes. Then cried they al agayn saing: Not him but Barrabas: that Barrabas was a robber.

The Notes.

a* That ꝑ wordes of Jesus might be ful fylled &c, he had sayd that he shuld be crucy fyed of the gentyls & therfore muste pylate geue sentence on hym & not ꝑ Jewes: for ꝑ perfourmaunce of hys worde.

b* My kyngdom is not of thys world &c ꝑ is, my kyngdom is not a worldly kynge= dom that consisteth in strengthe in harnes ed men in the swerde & in the subdewynge of bodely thynges. But my kyngedome is spirytual, whych is in the hertes of the fai thfull that are ruled, not by thee swearde. but by the gospel.

¶ Christ is crucified, He cõmendeth his mother vnto John, sheadeth his blood, and is buryed.

The.xix. Chapter.

Then pilate toke Jesus and scourged him. A And ꝑ soudi ers wouñd a croune of thorꝛ= nes & put in on his hed. And they did on hi a purple gar ment, & said: hail king of the Jewꝛ: & they smote him on ꝑ face: Pilate wẽt forth a gaine & said vnto thẽ, behold I brig him forthe to you, ꝑ ye may know, ꝑ I fynde no faut in him. Then came Jesus forth wearing a croune of thorne & a robe of purple. And pilate said vnto them: behol de ꝑ mã. * Whẽ the hie prestes & mynꝑ sters saw him, they cryed saying: crucify hi, crucify him, Pilate said vnto thẽ. Ta ke ye him & crucify him: for I fynde no cause in him. The Jewes ãswered hym. We haue a law, & by our lawe he ought to die: because he made hym self ꝑ sonne of god. Whẽ pilate herd ꝑ saying he was ꝑ more afraid, & wẽt agayne into ꝑ iudg ment hal, & said vnto Jesus whence art ꝑ? But Jesus gaue him none answere Then said pylate vnto hym. Speakest ꝑ not vnto me. Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucify the, & haue power to lowse ꝑ? Jesus answered: Thou coul dest haue no power at al against me, ex= cept it were geuen ꝑ frõ aboue. Therfo= re he that delitured me vnto ꝑ, is more in synne, * And frõ thence forth sought py late meanes to louse him: but the Jewes cried saying: yf thou let him go thou art not Cesars frende. For whosoeuer ma= keth hym self a kynge, is against Cesar.

When pilate herd that saying, he brou ght Jesus forth, & sate downe to geue sẽ tence, in a place called the pauement, but in the Hebrue tong, Gabbatha. It was the Saboth euen which falleth in the e= ster fest, & about ꝑ sixt houre. And he say de vnto ꝑ Jewes, behold youre kinge. They cryed away ẅ him, away ẅ him, crucify hi, pilate said vnto thẽ shal I cru cifie your king. The hie prestꝛ ãswered, we haue no king but Cesar. * Thẽ dely uered he him vnto them, to be crucified:

And they toke Jesus, & led him away, And he bare his crosse, and went forth in to a place called the place of deede inens sculles, which is named in Hebrue, Gol= gotha. Wher they crucified him, & .ii. o= ther with him, on ether side one, & Jesus

A
mat.xxvii.c
Mar.xv.b.

mat.xxvii.c
Mar.xv.a,
luke.xxiii.b

B

mat.xxvii.b
Mar.xv.c, luke.xxiii.a

C

mat.xxvii.a marke.xv.c
luke.xxiii.a

D

in the middes. And pilate wrote his title, & put it on the crosse. The writing was: Jesus of Nazareth kyng of ỹ Jewes: This title red many of the Jewȝ. For ỹ place wher Jesus was crucifid, was nie to the cytye. And it was writē in Hebrue Greke and Latyn. Then said ỹ hie prestes of the Jewes to pilate: write not kig of the Jewes, but ỹ he saydc I am king of the Jewes. Pylate answered: what I haue writen, that haue I writtcn:

C Then the soudiers, whē they had crucyfied Jesus, toke his garmentes & made foure partes, to euery soudier a parte, & also his cote. The cote was wout seme, wrought vpō thorow out. And they said one to another. Let vs not deuide it, but cast lotes who shal haue it. That ỹ scripture might be fulfilled whiche sayethe. * They departed my raymēt amōg them, & on my cote dyd cast lotes. And ỹ soudiers dyd soch thynges in dede.

ỹ Psal. xxii

Then stode by the crosse of Jesus his mother, & hys mothers syster Mary the wife of Cleophas, & Mary Magdalen. When Jesus saw his mother, & the dyscyple standing whō he loued, he said vnto his mother: womā behold thy sonne. Then said he to the disciple: beholde thy mother. And from that houre ỹ dyscyple toke her for his owne.

mat. xxvii. c. Mar. xv. d.

After that when Jesus perceued that al thynges were perfourmed: that the scripture might be fulfilled: & he said: I thirst

ỹ Psal. xxviii

Ther stode a vessel ful of veneger by, * And they filled a spūge w veneger, and wouīd it about with ysope, & put it to his mouth. Assone as Jesꝰ had receiued of ỹ veneger, he said: It is finished, & bowed his heed, & gaue vp the goost. The Jewes thē because it was ỹ saboth euen, ỹ ỹ bodies shuld not remayne vpō ỹ crosse on the saboth day (for that sabō: he daye was an hye daye) besought Pylate that their legges might bebroken & that they might be taken downe. Then came thee soudiers & brake the legges of ỹ firste, & of ỹ other whiche was crucifyed w Jesus. But whē they came to Jesus, & saw that he was deed alredy they brake not his legges: but one of ỹ soudiers with a speare, thrust him into ỹ syde, & forthe w came ther out bloud and water.

mat. xxvii. f. Mar. xv. d.

And he that saw it, bare record, & his record is true. And he knoweth that he saieth true that ye might beleue also. These thiges were done ỹ ỹ scripture shulde be fulfilled. * Ye shal not breake a bone of hi. And agaīne another scripture saieth: they shal loke on him, whō they pearsed.

exod. xii. g. Nume. ix. b zacha. xii. c.

* After ỹ, Joseph of Aramathia (whych was a disciple of Jesus: but secretly for fere of ỹ Jewȝ) besought pilate ỹ he might take doune ỹ body of Jesus. And pilate gaue hī licēce. And ther cā also Nycodemus which at ỹ beginig came to Jesus by night, & brought of mirre & aloes migled together about an hūdred poūd waight. Thē toke they ỹ body of Jesu, & wouīd it in linnē clothes w ỹ odours, as the maner of the Jewes is to bury. And i ỹ place wher Jesus was crucifyed, was a gardē, & in the garden a new sepulcre, wherin was neuer mā layed. There laid they Jesus because of ỹ Jewes Saboth cuē, for the sepulcre was nye at hād.

G mat xxvii. g Mar. xv. d. Luk. xxiii g

¶ The resurrection of christ, which apereth to Mary Magdalene & to al his disciples, to their great conforte.

The. xx. Chapter. ✠

I The morow after ỹ Saboth day, cā Mary Magdalene erly, whē it was yet darck, vnto the sepulcre, & saw the stone takē away from the toūbe. Thē she ran, & came to Simō peter & to the other disciple whō Jesus loued, & said vnto them. They haue taken away the lord out of the toūbe, & we can not tel wher they haue laid hī. Peter wēt forth & that other disciple & came vnto ỹ sepulcre. They ranne bothe together, & that other dyscyple dyd oute runne Peter, & cam first to ỹ sepulcre. And he stowped downe & saw the lynnen clothes lying, yet wēt he not in. Then came Simō peter folowinge hym, & wente into ỹ sepulcre, and saw the linen clothes lie, and the napkyn that was about his hed, not lyinge with the linen clothe, but wraped together in a place by it selfe. Then went in also that other dyscyple whyche came first to the sepulcre, and he saw * & beleued. For as yet they knewe not thee scryptures that he shuld rise againe frō deeth. ✠ And the dyscyples went awaye agayne vnto theyr owne home.

I mat. xxviii. a. Luk. xxiii a Mar. xvi a

B

Marye

✠ Mary stode wout at ꝑ sepulcre wepyng And as she wept she bowed her selfe into ꝑ sepulcre & saw two angels in whyte sytting, the one at the head & the other at the fete, wher they had layde the body of Jesus. And they sayd vnto her: womã why wepest ꝓ: She sayd vnto them: for they haue take away my Lord, & I wote not wher they haue layd him. When she had thus sayd, she turned her self back & saw Jesus stãding & knew not ꝑ it was Jesus. Jesus sayd vnto her: womã why wepest ꝓ: Whõ sekest thou: She supposing ꝑ he had ben a gardener, sayd vnto him. Syr yf ꝑ haue borne him hence tell me wher ꝑ hast layde him, & I may fet hi Jesus sayde vnto her: Mary. She turned her self, & said vnto hi: Rabboni, wht che is to say master. Jesus sayd vnto her b* touch me not, for I am not yet ascẽded to my father. But go to my brethrẽ & say vnto thẽ, I ascẽd vnto my father & your father: to my God & youre God: Mary Magdalene came & told the disciples ꝑ she had sene the Lord, & that he had spoken soch thinges vnto her. ✠

✠ The same daye at night, whych was the morow after ꝑ Saboth day, whẽ the doores were shut, wher the disciples were assembled together for feare of the Jewes, came Jesus & stode in the middes & sayd to thẽ: peace be vnto you. And whẽ he had so sayd, he shewed vnto thẽ his handes, & his side. Thẽ were ꝑ disciples glad whẽ they saw the lord. Thẽ sayd Jesus to thẽ agayne: peace be with you. As my father sent me, euen so sende I you. And when he had said ꝑ, he brethed on them & sayd vnto them: Receaue the holy ghost. Whosoeuers c* synnes ye remyt they ar remitted vnto thẽ. And whosoeuers synnes ye retayne, they are retayned. ✠

✠ But Thomas one of thec. xii. called Didimus, was not wt them when Jesus came. The other disciples said vnto him we haue sene the Lord. And he sayd vnto thẽ: except I se in his handes the pynt of the nayles, & thrust my hande into his syde, I wyl not beleue. And after eyghte dayes agayne his disciples were within & Thomas with thẽ. Then came Jesus when the doores were shutt, & stode in the middes & sayde: peace be with you.

After that sayd he to Thomas: bring thy finger hether & se my hãdes, & bring thy hãd & thrust it into my syde, and be not faythles, but beleuing. Thomas answered & sayd vnto hym: my Lord, & my God. Jesus sayde vnto hym. Thomas, because thou hast sene me, therfore thou beleuest: Happye are they that haue not sene, and yet beleue. ✠ Jesus dyd many other signes ꝑ

And many other signes dyd Jesus in ꝑ presence of his disciples, which ar not writtẽ in this boke. These ar wrytten that ye might beleue, ꝑ Jesus is Christ the sõne of God, & that in beleuing ye might haue lyfe thorow hys name.

The Notes

a* And beleued &c. Thesly ꝑ christ was taken out of the sepulcre as Mary Magdale had told hym afore.

b* Touche me not &c, ꝑ is, because ꝑ beleuest not that I am rysen verye God, but am carnall as I was afore I suffred death, therfore touche me not.

c* whose synnes ye remyt, they ar remyt ted &c. loke in Math. xviii. c

¶ He apeareth to his disciples agayn by the see of Tiberias & cõmaundeth Peter earnestly to fede hys sheep.

The. xxi. Chapter. ✠

After ꝑ Jesus shewed hym selfe agayn, at the see of Tiberias. And on this wise shewed he him self. Ther were together Simon Peter and Thomas, whyche is called Didimus: & Nathanael of Cana a citie of Galile, & ꝑ sonnes of Zebedei, & two other of the disciples. Simõ Peter sayd vnto thẽ. I go a fishing. Ther said vnto hi: we also wil go wt the. They went their way & entred into a ship straight way, & ꝑ nyght caught they nothing. But whẽ ꝑ morninge was now come Jesus stode on the shore neuerthèles thee disciples knewe not ꝑ it was Jesus. Jesus sayd vnto them: syrs haue ye any meat: They answered him, no. And he said vnto thẽ: cast out the net on the right side of the ship, & ye shal finde they cast out, & anone they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

Thẽ sayd the disciple whõ Jesus loued vnto Peter: It is the lord. Whẽ Simõ Peter heard that it was the Lord, he gyrde his mantel to him (for he was naked) & sprãg into the see. The other disciples came by ship, for they were not far

✠ Mary stode wout at ꝑ sepulcre wepyng And as she wept she bowed her selfe into ꝑ sepulcre & saw two angels in whyte sytting, the one at the head & the other at the fete, wher they had layde the body of Jesus. And they sayd vnto her: womã why wepest ꝓ: She sayd vnto them: for they haue take away my Lord, & I wote not wher they haue layd him. When she had thus sayd, she turned her self back & saw Jesus stãding & knew not ꝑ it was Jesus. Jesus sayd vnto her: womã why wepest ꝓ: Whõ sekest thou: She supposing ꝑ he had ben a gardener, sayd vnto him. Syr yf ꝑ haue borne him hence tell me wher ꝑ hast layde him, & I may fet hi Jesus sayde vnto her: Mary. She turned her self, & said vnto hi: Rabboni, wht che is to say master. Jesus sayd vnto her b* touch me not, for I am not yet ascẽded to my father. But go to my brethrẽ & say vnto thẽ, I ascẽd vnto my father & your father: to my God & youre God: Mary Magdalene came & told the disciples ꝑ she had sene the Lord, & that he had spoken soch thinges vnto her. ✠

✠ The same daye at night, whych was the morow after ꝑ Saboth day, whẽ the doores were shut, wher the disciples were assembled together for feare of the Jewes, came Jesus & stode in the middes & sayd to thẽ: peace be vnto you. And whẽ he had so sayd, he shewed vnto thẽ his handes, & his side. Thẽ were ꝑ disciples glad whẽ they saw the lord. Thẽ sayd Jesus to thẽ agayne: peace be with you. As my father sent me, euen so sende I you. And when he had said ꝑ, he brethed on them & sayd vnto them: Receaue the holy ghost. Whosoeuers c* synnes ye remyt they ar remitted vnto thẽ. And whosoeuers synnes ye retayne, they are retayned. ✠

✠ But Thomas one of thec. xii. called Didimus, was not wt them when Jesus came. The other disciples said vnto him we haue sene the Lord. And he sayd vnto thẽ: except I se in his handes the pynt of the nayles, & thrust my hande into his syde, I wyl not beleue. And after eyghte dayes agayne his disciples were within & Thomas with thẽ. Then came Jesus when the doores were shutt, & stode in the middes & sayde: peace be with you.

After that sayd he to Thomas: bring thy finger hether & se my hãdes, & bring thy hãd & thrust it into my syde, and be not faythles, but beleuing. Thomas answered & sayd vnto hym: my Lord, & my God. Jesus sayde vnto hym. Thomas, because thou hast sene me, therfore thou beleuest: Happye are they that haue not sene, and yet beleue. ✠ Jesus dyd many other signes ꝑ

And many other signes dyd Jesus in ꝑ presence of his disciples, which ar not writtẽ in this boke. These ar wrytten that ye might beleue, ꝑ Jesus is Christ the sõne of God, & that in beleuing ye might haue lyfe thorow hys name.

The Notes

a* And beleued &c. Thesly ꝑ christ was taken out of the sepulcre as Mary Magdale had told hym afore.

b* Touche me not &c, ꝑ is, because ꝑ beleuest not that I am rysen verye God, but am carnall as I was afore I suffred death, therfore touche me not.

c* whose synnes ye remyt, they ar remyt ted &c. loke in Math. xviii. c

¶ He apeareth to his disciples agayn by the see of Tiberias & cõmaundeth Peter earnestly to fede hys sheep.

The. xxi. Chapter. ✠

After ꝑ Jesus shewed hym selfe agayn, at the see of Tiberias. And on this wise shewed he him self. Ther were together Simon Peter and Thomas, whyche is called Didimus: & Nathanael of Cana a citie of Galile, & ꝑ sonnes of Zebedei, & two other of the disciples. Simõ Peter sayd vnto thẽ. I go a fishing. Ther said vnto hi: we also wil go wt the. They went their way & entred into a ship straight way, & ꝑ nyght caught they nothing. But whẽ ꝑ morninge was now come Jesus stode on the shore neuerthèles thee disciples knewe not ꝑ it was Jesus. Jesus sayd vnto them: syrs haue ye any meat: They answered him, no. And he said vnto thẽ: cast out the net on the right side of the ship, & ye shal finde they cast out, & anone they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

Thẽ sayd the disciple whõ Jesus loued vnto Peter: It is the lord. Whẽ Simõ Peter heard that it was the Lord, he gyrde his mantel to him (for he was naked) & sprãg into the see. The other disciples came by ship, for they were not far from lãd, but as it were two hũdred cubi

tes, & they drew the net wt fishes. Assone
as they were come to lãd, they saw hoot
coles & fishe layd theron, & breed. Jesus said vnto thẽ: bring of ỹ fisshe which ye D haue now caught. Simõ Peter stepped forth & drew the net to land ful of grea
te fishes, an hõdred & .liii. And for alther were so many, yet was not the net broke.
Jesus said vnto them: come & dine. And none of the disciples durst aske hi: what art thou: For they knew that it was the Lord. Jesus then came and toke breede, & gaue them, and fysch lykewyse. And thys is nowe the thirde time that Jesus apered to his disciples, after that he was rysen agayne from deeth.

E Whẽ they had dined, Jesus said to Si mon Peter: Simõ Joãna: louest ỹ me
more then these? He said vnto him: ye lor de ỹ knowest, that I loue the. He said vn to him fede my *lãbes. He sayde to hym
He loueth Christ ỹ fe- agayne the second time, Simõ Joãna, lo
deth his lãbes & shepe. uest thou me. He sayd vnto him: ye lorde thou knowest that I loue ỹ. He saide vn to him: fede my shepe. He sayd vnto him
the third time: Symon Joanna, louest ỹ me? And Peter sorowed because he said to hun the third time louest thou me, and said vnto him: Lord, thou knowest althi
ge, ỹ knowest that I loue the Jesus say
de vnto him: fede my shepe.

F Verely verely I saye vnto the, when ỹ
waste yong, thou gerdedst thy selfe, and walkest whyther thou woldest: but whẽ
thou arte olde, thou shalte stretche forth thy hãdes & another shall gyrde the, and leade ỹ whyther thou woldest not. That spake he sygnyfying by what deethe he should glorifye God.

And whẽ he had said thus, he said to hi
✠ folow me. Peter turned about & sawe
ỹ disciple whom Jesus loued folowinge
which also lened on his brest at supper &
G sayd: Lord which is he that shal betraye
the. Whẽ Peter saw him, he sayde to Je sus: Lorde what shal he here do? Jesus [nota sayd vnto him: Yf I wyll haue hym to ogat to tgat tary tyll I come, what is that to the? foo tgo low thou me. Then went this sayinge a brode among the brethrẽ, that ỹ disciple
should not dye. Yet Jesus sayd not to hi,
he shal not dye: but yf I wyll that he tary tyl I come, what is that to the. The sa me disciple is he, which testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges. And we knowe, that hys testimony is true. ✠
There are also many other thinges whyp
che Jesus did the whych yf they should be writen euery one a* I suppose ỹ worl
[nota de could not cõtaine the bokes that shul de be wryten. the world could not ~~cõtaine~~
contayne the bokes

The Notes.

a* I suppose ỹ ỹ world could not cõtaine
ỹ bokes ỹ shuld be writẽ & this is a figura tiue speech whych both signyfye ỹ ther was many thynges moo to write. But as Erasmus affirmeth in his paraphrasis vpõ this place, Ther remained so moch writen as is necessary & sufficyent to our saluacyon

Here endeth the Gospel of Sayncte John.

¶ The Actes of

the Apostles, wrytten by Sayncte
Luke the Euangelyst, whych
was present at the doinges
of them.

¶ The ascencion of christ: Matthias is chosen in the stede of Judas.

The .I. Chapter. ✠

I N the former treatise (O ca I re frend Theophilus) I ha ue wrytten of all that Jesus beganne to do and tea-
che vntyll thee daye in why
che he was taken vp, after that he, tho-
rowe the holye goost, had geuen cõmaũ dementes vnto thee Apostles, whiche he had chosen: to whome also he shewed hiselfe alyue after hys passyon by manye
tokens, appearynge vnto them fourtye
dayes, & speakynge of the kyngedom of god, and gathered them to gether, * and luk. xxiiij.
commaunded them, that they should not departe from Jerusalem: but to wayte
for ỹ promyse of the father wherof ye ha
ue herd of me. For John baptised wyth
water: but ye shalbe baptised wt ỹ holye
goost, and that with in this feawe dayes.
Whẽ thei wer come togetger, thei asked
of him saying: Lord wylt thou at this ty
me, restore agayne the kyngdom to Isra el. And he saide vnto them: It is not for you to knowe the times, or thee seasons

which

from lãd, but as it were two hũdred cubi
tes, & they drew the net wt fishes. Assone
as they were come to lãd, they saw hoot
coles & fishe layd theron, & breed. Jesus
said vnto thẽ: bring of ỹ fisshe which ye
D haue now caught. Simõ Peter stepped forth & drew the net to land ful of grea
te fishes, an hõdred & .liii. And for alther
were so many, yet was not the net broke.
Jesus said vnto them: come & dine. And none of the disciples durst aske hi: what
art thou: For they knew that it was the Lord. Jesus then came and toke breede, & gaue them, and fysch lykewyse. And
thys is nowe the thirde time that Jesus
apered to his disciples, after that he was
rysen agayne from deeth.

E Whẽ they had dined, Jesus said to Si
mon Peter: Simõ Joãna: louest ỹ me
more then these? He said vnto him: ye lor
de ỹ knowest, that I loue the. He said vn
to him fede my *lãbes. He sayde to hym
He loueth Christ ỹ fe- agayne the second time, Simõ Joãna, lo
deth his lãbes & shepe. uest thou me. He sayd vnto him: ye lorde thou knowest that I loue ỹ. He saide vn
to him: fede my shepe. He sayd vnto him
the third time: Symon Joanna, louest ỹ
me? And Peter sorowed because he said
to hun the third time louest thou me, and
said vnto him: Lord, thou knowest althi
ge, ỹ knowest that I loue the Jesus say
de vnto him: fede my shepe.

F Verely verely I saye vnto the, when ỹ
waste yong, thou gerdedst thy selfe, and
walkest whyther thou woldest: but whẽ
thou arte olde, thou shalte stretche forth
thy hãdes & another shall gyrde the, and leade ỹ whyther thou woldest not. That spake he sygnyfying by what deethe he should glorifye God.

And whẽ he had said thus, he said to hi
✠ folow me. Peter turned about & sawe
ỹ disciple whom Jesus loued folowinge
which also lened on his brest at supper &
G sayd: Lord which is he that shal betraye
the. Whẽ Peter saw him, he sayde to Je sus: Lorde what shal he here do? Jesus [nota sayd vnto him: Yf I wyll haue hym to ogat to tgat tary tyll I come, what is that to the? fo-
o tgo low thou me. Then went this sayinge a brode among the brethrẽ, that ỹ disciple
should not dye. Yet Jesus sayd not to hi,
he shal not dye: but yf I wyll that he tary tyl I come, what is that to the. The sa me disciple is he, which testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges. And we knowe, that hys testimony is true. ✠
There are also many other thinges whyp
che Jesus did the whych yf they should be writen euery one a* I suppose ỹ worl
[nota de could not cõtaine the bokes that shul
de be wryten. the world could not ~~cõtaine~~
contayne the bokes

The Notes.

a* I suppose ỹ ỹ world could not cõtaine
ỹ bokes ỹ shuld be writẽ & this is a figura
tiue speech whych both signyfye ỹ ther was
many thynges moo to write. But as Erasmus affirmeth in his paraphrasis vpõ this place, Ther remained so moch writen as is necessary & sufficyent to our saluacyon

Here endeth the Gospel of Sayncte John.

¶ The Actes of

the Apostles, wrytten by Sayncte
Luke the Euangelyst, whych
was present at the doinges
of them.

¶ The ascencion of christ: Matthias is chosen in the stede of Judas.

The .I. Chapter. ✠

I N the former treatise (O ca re frend Theophilus) I ha
ue wrytten of all that Jesus beganne to do and tea-
che vntyll thee daye in why
che he was taken vp, after that he, tho-
rowe the holye goost, had geuen cõmaũ
dementes vnto thee Apostles, whiche he
had chosen: to whome also he shewed hi-
selfe alyue after hys passyon by manye
tokens, appearynge vnto them fourtye
dayes, & speakynge of the kyngedom of
god, and gathered them to gether, * and luk. xxiiij.
commaunded them, that they should not
departe from Jerusalem: but to wayte
for ỹ promyse of the father wherof ye ha
ue herd of me. For John baptised wyth
water: but ye shalbe baptised wt ỹ holye
goost, and that with in this feawe dayes.
Whẽ thei wer come togetger, thei asked
of him saying: Lord wylt thou at this ty
me, restore agayne the kyngdom to Isra
el. And he saide vnto them: It is not for you to knowe the times, or thee seasons

which

which the father hath putte in hys owne power: but ye shal receaue power of thee holy ghost which shal come on you. And ye shal be wytnesses vnto me in Jerusalem, and in all Jewry and in Samary, & euen vnto the worldes ende.

B ¶ And whē he had spoken these thinges whyl they beheld, he was takē vp, and a cloud receaued him vp out of their sight And whyle they loked stedfastlye vp to heuē as he wēt, behold two men stode by thē in whyte apparel, which also sayd, ye men of Galile, why stād ye gasing vp in to heauē. This same Jesus which is takē vp frō you into heuē, shall so come, euē as ye haue sene him go into heauē. ✠ Then returned they vnto Jerusale from moūt Oliuete, which is nye to Jerusalē cōteynynge a a* Saboth dayes iorneye. And whē they were come in, they wēte vp into a parler, where abode bothe Peter & James, John & Andrew, Philip & Thomas, Bartlemew & Mathew, James the sōne of Alpheus, & Simō Zelotes, & Judas James sonne. These all cōtinued w one accord in prayer & supplication with the wemen and Mary the mother of Jesu, and wyth hys brethren.

C ✠ And in those dayes peter stode vp in the middes of the disciples & sayd (ꝑ nōber of names ꝑ were together, were aboute an hūdred & twentie) Ye men & brethrē this scripture must haue nedes ben fulfulled which the holy ghost throw thee mouth of Dauid spake before of Judas which was gyde to thē that take Jesus. For he was nōbred with vs & had obtayned fellowship in thys mynistratiō. And ꝑ same hath now possessed a plat of groū de with the reward of iniquite, & whē he was hanged, brast a sunder in the mydes, & al hys bowels gushed out. And it is knowē vnto all the inhabitters of Jerusalem: in so moch that that feld is called in theyr mother tonge, Acheldama, ꝑ is to saye, the bloude felde.

Psal.lxviii Psal.cviii D It is writtē in ꝑ boke of Psalmes: his habitaciō be voyde, & no mā be dwelling therin: & his Bishoprycke let āother take. Wherfore of these mē which haue cōpanied with vs, al the tyme that the lord Jesus went in & out amonge vs, beginninge at the baptime of John vnto that same daye that he was taken vp frō vs must one be ordeyned to beare witnes w vs of hys resurrection.

And they appoynted .ii. Joseph called Barsabas (whose sirname was Justus) & Mathias. And they prayed saynge: ꝑ Lord which knowest the hertes of al mē shewe whether of these twoo thou haste chosen that the one may take the rowme of this ministration & Apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to hys owne place. And they gaue forth theyr lottes, and the lotte fell on Mathias, and he was counted wyth the eleuen Apostles. ✠ M. Judas was mathyas a* A Saboth dayes Iorney was about a myle as afore in Math. xxiiii. b.

The Notes

¶ The cōming of the holy goost. The sermon of Peter before the cōgregatiō at Jerusalē, and the increase of the faythfull.

The .ii. Chapter. ✠

C When the fyfteth daye was come, they were all with one accord together in one place And sodenly ther came a sou de frō heauē as it had bene the coming of a mightye wynde, & it fylled all the house wher they sate. And ther appered vnto thē clouen tonges, lyke as they hadde bene fyre, and it sate vppon eache of thē: * & they were al fylled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tonges, euen as the spyrite gaue thē vtteraunce. Actu. viii. & xix.

And ther were dwelling at Jerusalem, Jewes, deuout mē which were of al naciōs vnder heuen. When this was noysed about, ꝑ multitude came together & were astonied, because that euery man hearde them speake his owne tounge. They wōdred al & marueled, saying amōg thē selues: behold, ar not al these whych speake of Galile? And how heare we euery man hys owne tonge wherein we were borē? Parthians, Medes & Elamytes, and ꝑ inhabiters of Mesopotamia, of Jury, & of Capadocia, of Pōthus & Asia, Phrigia, Pamphilia, & of Egipt, & of the parties of Lybia whych is besyde Syrene, & straūgers of Rome, Jewes & conuertes, Grekes & Arabians: we haue hearde them speake with our owne tounges the great workes of God. ✠ They were all amased, & wõdred saying one to another what meaneth this? Other mocked them sayinge: they are full of newe wyne.

B Conuertes ꝑ is, herde or gētiles couerted to ꝑ iewes faythe

¶ ✣ But Peter stepped forth with the .xi. and lyft vp his voyce, & sayd vnto them Ye men of Jewry, & all ye that inhabyte Jerusalem: be this knowē vnto you and wyth your eares heare my wordes. The se are not dronken, as ye suppose: for it is yet but the thyrd houre of the daye. But this is ỹ which was spoken by the Prophete Joheli: ✣ It shalbe in the last dayes sayth God: of my spret I wyl powre out vpō al flesshe. And your sonnes and your daughters shal propheṫye & your yonge men shal se visiōs, & your olde men shal dreme dremes. And on my seruātes, & on my hādmaydēs I wyl powre out of my spret in those dayes, & they shal prophesye. And I wyl shewe wōders in heauen aboue, & tokens in the erth beneth, bloud and fyre, & the vapour of smooke. * The sunne shalbe turned into darcknes, & the mone into bloud before that great & notable day of the Lord come. ✣ And it shal be, that whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shalbe saued. ✣

Joel.ii.

D ✣ Ye mē of Israel heare these wordes Jesus of Nazareth a man approued of God amōg you with myracles, wōders and signes which god dyd by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues know: hym haue ye take by ỹ hādes of vnrighteous persons, after he was deliuered by the determinate coūsel & foreknowledge of god, & haue crucifyed & slayne: whom god hath raysed vp & lowsed ỹ sorowes of death, because it was vnpossyble ỹ he shuld beholdē of it. For David speaketh of him. ✣ I fore hāde I saw God alwaies before me: for he is on my right hande, ỹ I shuld not be moued. Therfore did my hert reioyce, & my tonge was glad. More ouer also my flesshe shal rest i hope, because ỹ wilt not leaue my soule in hel, nether wilt suffre thine holy, to se corruption, ỹ hast shewed me ỹ wayes of life, & shalte make me ful of ioye wt thy countenaūce. ✣

Psal.xv.

nota
Thou wilt not leave my soule in hell

E Men & brethrē, let me frely speake vnto you of ỹ patriarke David: ✣ For he is both dead & buried, & his sepulcre remayneth wt vs vnto this day. Therfore seig he was a Prophet, & knew that god had sworne wyth an othe to him, that ỹ fruite of his loynes shuld syt on his seate (in ỹ christ shulde ryse agayne in the flesshe) he sawe before: & spake of the resurrectiōof Christ, ỹ hys soule shulde not be lefte in hell: nether hys flesshe shuld se corruptiō This Jesus hath God raysed vp, wher of we all are wytnesses.

Psal.cx.

Sence now ỹ he by the ryght hand of God exalted is, & hath receaued of the father the promyse of the holye Ghoste, he hath shed forth that which ye now seand heare. For David is not ascēded into he uē: but he sayd. ✣ The Lord sayde to my Lord syt on my right hād vntyl I make thy foes thy fotestole. So therfore let al the house of Israel know for a suerty, ỹ God hath made that same Jesus whom ye haue crucifyed, Lord and Christ.

F

Psal.cx.

Wh̄e they heard this they were pricked in their hertes, & sayd vnto peter & vnto ỹ other Apostles: Ye mē & brethrē, what shal we do? Peter sayd vnto thē: repente and be baptised euery one of you in ỹ name of Jesus Christ for the remission of synnes, & ye shal receaue the gyfte of the holy ghoste. For the promyse was made vnto you & to your chyldren, & to al that are a farre, euē as many as ỹ Lord oure god shal cal. And wt many other wordes bare he witnes & exhorted them sayinge: Saue youre selues frō this vntowarde generation. Thē they that gladly receaued hys preaching, were baptised: & the same day, ther were added vnto them aboute thre thousande soules.

G

And they cōtynued in ỹ Apostles doctrine & felowshyp, & in breaking of bread and in prayer. And feare came ouer euery soule. And many wōders & signes were shewed by the Apostles. And al ỹ beleued kept thē selues together, & hadde all thinges cōmen, & sold theyr possessiōs & goodes, & departed thē to al mē, as euery mā had nede. And they contynued dayly wt one accorde in ỹ tēple, & brake bred in euery house, & dyd eate theyr meat together, wythe gladnes & singlenes of herte praysing God, & had fauour withall the people. And the Lord added to the cōgregation dayly soch as shuld be saued.

¶ The halte is restored to his fete. Peter preacheth Christ vnto the people.

The

The.iii.Chapter. ✠

A PEter & John wēt vp togeather into ỹ tẽple at the nith houre of prayer. And there was a certaine mā halt frō hys mothers wōbe, whome they brought & layde at the gate of the temple called beutiful, to aske almes of them that entred into the tẽple. Whyche same when he saw Peter & John, ỹ they wold into the temple, desired to receue an almes. And peter fastened hys eies on hī with John, & sayde: loke on vs. And he gaue hede vnto them, trusting to receue some thynge of them. Then sayd peter:

B Syluer & gold haue I none, such as I haue, geue I the. In the name of Iesus christ of Nazareth, ryse vp & walk. And he toke hym by the ryght hand, and lyfte hym vp. And immedyatly hys fete and anclebones receiued strēgth. And he spryngē, stode and also walked, and entred wt them into the temple, walking & leaping and laudynge God.

And all the people saw him walke and laude god. And they knew him, ỹ it was he whiche sate & begged at the beutyfull gate of the temple. And they wondred & were sore astonyed at that which had happened vnto hym. And as the halt whyche was healed, helde Peter and John, all thee people ranne amased vnto them in Salomons porche.

C Whē peter saw that, he ānswered vnto ỹ people. ✠ Ye men of Israel, why mat-uaile ye at this, or why loke ye so stedfastly on vs, as though by oure owne power or holines, we had made this mā go? The god of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, ỹ god of our fathers hathe glorifyed his sōne Iesus, whō ye deliuered, & denied in the presence of Pylate when he had iudged him to be lowsed. * But ye denied ỹ holy & iust, & desired a murtherar to be geuē you & killed a * ỹ lord of life, whō god hath raised frō deeth, of ỹ whiche we are witnesses. And his name thorow ỹ faith of his name, hath made thys man soūd, whō ye se and know. And the faith whiche is by him, hath geuē to hī this healthe in the presence of you all.

And now brethrē I wote wel ỹ thorow ignorāunce ye did it, as dyd also youre hedes. But those thynges which god before had shewed by ỹ mouth of all hys prophetes, how ỹ Christ shuld suffre, he hath thus wise fulfiled. b * Repēt ye therfore & turne, that your sinnes may be done away, ✠ when the time of refreshinge cōmeth, which we shal haue of ỹ presēce of ỹ lord, & when god shal send him, whiche before was preached vnto you, ỹ is to wit Iesus Christ, whych must receue heauen vntyll the tyme that all thinges, which God had spoken by the mouth of al his holy prophetes sence the world began, be restored agayne.

D For Moses said vnto ỹ fathers: A prophet shal the Lord your god raise vp vnto you, euē of your brethrē like vnto me: hym shall ye heare in al thynges whatsoeuer he shall saye vnto you. For ỹ tyme wyl come, that euery soule whyche shal not heare that same Prophet, shalbe destroied frō amonge the people. Also al ỹ Prophetes frō Samuel & thēce forth as many as haue spokē haue in likewyse told of these dayes.

Deu.xviii. Actu.viii.

Ye are the children of the Prophetes & of the couenāt, which god hath made vnto our fathers, sayīg to Abrahā: * Euen in thy seed shal al the kinredes of ỹ erth be blessed. First vnto you hath god raysed vp his sōne Iesus, & him he hath sente to blisse you, that euery one of you shulde turne frō youre wyckednes. ✠

Genes.xxii.

The Notes

a * The lord & lyke &c that is euē he that first dyd ryse from death to lyfe & by whome al we must ryse and lyue, &c

b * Repent &c loke in Math iiii c

¶ The apostles are takē & brought before ỹ counceil. They ar forbidē to preach, but they turne thē vnto prayer, & ar more obediēt vnto god then vnto men.

The.iiii.Chapter.

AS they spake vnto the people, the Priestes & the ruler of the tẽple, and the Saduces came vpō them takyng it greuously ỹ they taughte the people & preched in Iesus the resurrectiō from deeth. And they laid handes on them & put them in holde vntyll thee next day: for it was nowe euē tyde. Howbe it many of thē which herd the wordes, beleued and the noumbre of the mē was about fyue thousande.

In Iesus ỹ he was ryssen & al shulde ryse by hym.

K.iii. And

And it chaũsed on ꝑ morow that theyr rulers & elders & Scribes, as Annas the cheke Prest & Cayphas & John & Alexander & as many as were of ꝑ kinred of ꝑ hie prestes gathered together at Jerusalẽ, & sett ꝑ other before thẽ, & asked: by what power or in what name haue ye done this, syrs? ✠ Thẽ peter ful of ꝑ holye goost said vnto thẽ: ye rulers of ꝑ people, & elders of Israel, yf we this day ar examined of ꝑ good dede done to ꝑ sick mã, by what meanes he is made whole: be it knowẽ vnto you al, & to ꝑ people of Israel, ꝑ in the name of Jesus christ of Nazareth, whõ ye crucified, & whõ god raysed againe frõ deeth: euẽ by hi doth thys mã stand here present before you whole. * This is ꝑ stone cast a syde of you bylders, which is set in ꝑ cheke place of ꝑ corner. Nether is ther saluacẽ in eny other. Nor yet also is ther eny other name geuen to men wherin we must be saued. ✠

When they saw the boldnes of peter & John, & vnderstode that they were vnlerned men & lay people, they marueyled, & they knew thẽ, that they were w̃ Jesu: & beholding also the man which was healed stãding w̃ them, they could not saye agaynst it. But they cõmaunded thẽ to go a syde out of the councel, and counceled amonge them selues sayinge: what shal we do to these mẽ? For a manyfeste signe is done by them, & is openlye knowẽ to al thẽ that dwel in Jerusalẽ, & we cannot denie it. But that it be noysed no farther amõg the people, let vs threaten & charge thẽ that they speake hẽce forth to no man in this name.

And they called them, & cõmaũded thẽ that in nowyse they shuld speake or teache in the name of Jesu. But Peter and John ãswered vnto them and said: whether it be right in the sight of god, to obey you more then god, iudge ye. For we cãnot but speke that which we haue sene & herd. So threatened they them & lett them go, and founde nothynge howe to punish them, because of the people. For al men lauded god for the myracle whiche was done: for ꝑ mã was aboue fourtie yeare olde, on whom thys miracle of healyng was shewed.

Assone as they were let go, they came to Act. 3. d. Mark. 8 & Luke. 9. c.

their felowes, & shewed all that thee hye Prestes & elders had sayd to them. And when they heard that, they lifte vp theyr voyces to God wyth one accord, & sayd: Lorde, thou arte God which haste made heauen & erth the see and al that in them is, which by ꝑ mouth of thy seruaũt David hast saide: * Why dyd ꝑ hethẽ rage, & the people immagẽ vaine thinges. The kynges of the erth stode vp and the rulers came together, against ꝑ Lord and agaynst his Christ. Psalm. ii.

For of a trueth, against thy holy chyld Jesus whõ ꝑ hast anoynted, both Herode and also Põtius Pylate, with ꝑ Gentylles and the people of Israel gathered them selues together, for to do whatsoeuer thy hãdes & the coũsel determined before to be done. And now lorde, beholde their threatenynges and graũt vnto thy seruauntes w̃ al cõfidence to speake thy worde. So that thou stretch forth thyne hãde, that healynge and sygnes & wonders be done by ꝑ name of the holy child Jesus. And assone as they had prayed, ꝑ place moued wheare they were assembled together, and they were all fylled w̃ the holy Goste, and they spake the word of god boldelye.

✠ And the multitude of them that beleued, were of one hert, & of one soule. Also none of them said, that any of the thynges whiche he possessed, was his owne: but had al thinges cõmẽ. And w̃ great power gaue ꝑ Apostles witnes of the resurrectiõ of the lord Jesu. And greate grace was w̃ thẽ al. Nether was ther eny amõge them. ꝑ lacked. For as many as were possessers of lãdes or houses, solde them & brought the pryce of the thynges that were solde, & layed it downe at the Apostles fete. And distribuciõ was made vnto euery mã according as he had nede. ✠

And Joses whych was also called of ꝑ apostles, Barnabas (that is to say, the sõne of consolacyon) beynge a Leuyte, & of the countre of Cypers had lande, and sold it and laide the pryce downe at thee Apostles fete.

The dyssemblynge of Ananias and Saphira is punished. Wyracles ar done by ꝑ apostles, whyche ar taken. but the angel of god bringethe them out of prison. They ar brought before the cõcel. The sentence of Gamaliel. The apostles ar beten, they reioyse in trouble.

The

The.v.Chapter.

A Certayn mā named Ananias with Saphira his wyfe sold a possessiō & kept away part of ỹ pryce (his wyfe also being of counsel) & broughte a certayn part, & a* layd it down at the Apostles fete. Thē sayd Peter: Ananias how is it ỹ Sathā hath filled thine hert, that thou shuldest lye vnto the holy ghost, & kepe away part of ỹ pryce of the lyuelod? Pertayned it not vnto the only, & after it was solde, was not the pryce in thine owne power? How is it ỹ thou hast cōceaued this thing in thine hert? Thou
B hast not lied vnto mē, but vnto god, whē Ananias herde these wordz, he fel downe & gaue vp ỹ ghost. And great feare cam on al thē ỹ these thinges herde. And the younge men rose vp, & put him aparte, & caryed him out, and buryed hym.

And it fortuned as it were aboute the space of .iii. houres after ỹ his wife came in, ignorant of ỹ which was done. And Peter sayd vnto her: Tel me, gaue ye the land for so moch? And she sayd: ye, for so moche. Then Peter sayd vnto her: why haue ye agreed together, to tempt ỹ spyrite of the Lord? Behold ỹ fete of thē why che haue buried thy husbande, are at the doze, and shal cary the out. Then she fell downe streyght waye at his fete & yelded vp the ghost. And the younge men came in, & founde her dead, & caryed her out, & buried her by her husbande. And greate feare came on all the congregation, & on as many as herde it.

C By ỹ hādes of the apostles were many signes & wōders shewed amōg ỹ people And they were al together w one accord in Salomōs porche. And of other durst noma ioyne him self to thē: neuerthelater ỹ people magnified them. The nōber of them that beleued in the lord both of mē and wemen grewe moze and moze: in so moche ỹ they brought the sycke into the stretes, and layde them on beddes & palettes, that at the least waye the shadowe of Peter whē he came by, might shadowe some of them. Ther came also a multitude out of the cities round about, vnto Jerusalē, bringing sycke folckes & thē wht che were vexed wyth vncleane spyrites.

D And they were healed euery one.

Thē the chefe Preste rose vp & al they ỹ were with him (which is the secte of the Saduces) & were ful of indignatiō, and layd hādes on the apostles, & put thē in ỹ cōmyn prison. But the angel of ỹ Lorde by night opened ỹ prison dores, & broughte thē forth, & sayde: go, steppe forth, & speake in ỹ tēple to the people al the wordes of this lyfe. When they heard that, they entred into the tēple early in ỹ morning & taught. The chefe Preste came & they that were w him, & cal ed a counsell together, & al the elders of the chyldrē of Israel, & sent to ỹ prison to fet thē. Whē the mynisters came & foūd thē not in the prison, they returned & told saying: ỹ prison found we shut as sure as was possible, & the kepers stādyng wythout before the dores. But when we had opened, we E found nomā within. Whē ỹ chefe preste of al & the ruler of the tēple & the hye prestes heard these thinges, they douted of them, where vnto thys wolde growe.

Then came one & shewed them: behold de the men ỹ ye put in prison, stande in ỹ tēple, & teache the people. Then went the ruler of the tēple with ministers, & brought them without violence. For they feared the people, lest they shulde haue bene stoned. And when they had brought thē, they set thē before ỹ coūsel. And the chefe preste asked thē saying dyd not we straitly cōmaunde you that ye shuld not teach in this name? And behold ye haue fylled Jerusalē with your doctrine & ye intend to bring this mās bloude vpon vs.

Peter & the other Apostles ānswered & F sayd: We ought more to obey god then men. The god of our fathers rayfed vp Jesus, whō ye slew & hāged on tre. Him hath God lyfte vp with his right hande, to be a ruler & a sauiour, for to geue tepētāce to Israel & forgeuenes of synnes And we are his recordes cōcerning these thinges & also the holy ghoste whō God hath geuē to them that obey him. When they heard that, they claue a sunder: and sought meanes to slee them. Then stode ther vp one in the coūsel, a Pharisey named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe had in auctorite amōg al the people & cōmaunded to putte the Apostels a syde a lyttle exodi.xv c.

Gen.xxvi a
Deut.xxi.b

space, & sayde vnto them: men of Israel take hede to your selues what ye entend
C to do as touchinge these mē. Before these dates rose vp one Theudas bostinge him self, to whō resorted a nōbre of men, about a foure hōdred which was slaine, & they al which beleued him were scattered abrode & brought to noughte. After this man, arose ther vp one Judas of galile in ỹ tyme when tribute begā, & drew a way moche people after him. He also perished: & al euenas many as harkened to him are scattered abrode.

And now I say vnto you: refrayn your selues frō these men, let thē alone. For yf ỹ coūsel of this worke be of mē, it wil come to nought. But & yf it be of god ye cā not destroy it, lest haply ye be foūd to strive against god. And to him they agreed, & called the Apostles, & bet them, & commaunded ỹ they shuld not speake in the name of Jesu, and let them go.

And they departed frō the coūsel, reioysing that they were coūted worthi to suffre rebuke for his name. And dayly in ỹ temple & in euery house they ceased not, teaching & preachynge Jesus Chryst.

The Notes.

a* By the castyng of his mony at ỹ Apostles fete / wold he haue bene coūted to bee one of the chrystē congregacion, & that one of the chefe. But in holdynge part a backe he declared vtterlye what he was, that is to wit, a very ypocrite mistrustynge the holy ghoost, which thing because Peter wolde in no cōdicion shuld be bred among that sorte, therfore punyshed he it so ernestly.

C Ministers (or deacons) are ordened in ỹ congregacion to do seruice in necessary thinges of the body, that ỹ apostles may ye watte only vpō ỹ word of God. Steuen is accused.

The. vi. Chapter.

A In those daies as the nōbre of the disciples grew, ther arose a grudge amonge the Grekes against ỹ Hebrues, because their a* wyddowes were despised in the daylye ministringe.
B Thē the twelue called ỹ multytude of ỹ disciples together & said: it is not mete ỹ we shuld leaue the worde of god and serue at ỹ tables. Wherfore brethrē loke ye out amōg you seuen men of honest report & ful of the holy goost & wysdom, whiche we may appoynt to this nedeful busynes. But we wil geue our selues cōtinual'y to prayer & to the ministratiō of the word. And the saying pleased the whole multitude. And thei chose Steuen a mā ful of fayth & of the holy ghost, & Philip and Prochorus, & Nichanor, & Timon, and Permenas, and Nicholas a cōuerte of Antioche. Which they sette before the Apostles, & they prayed and b* laydtheir handes on them.

C And the worde of God encreased, & the nōbre of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalē greatly and a great company of the preistes were obediēt to the fayth. ✠ And Steuen ful of fayth & power, dyd great wonders & myracles among the people. Then ther arose certayn of the Synagoge, which are called Libertines & Syrenites, & of Alexandria, & Cicilia & Asia & dysputed wyth Steuē. And they coulde not resyste the wisdom, & the spyrete, with which he spake. Then sente they in men, which sayd: we haue heard hym speake blasphemous wordes agaynst Moses, & agaynst god. And they moued the people & the elders & thee scribes: and came
D vpon him & caught him, & brought hym to the coūcel, & broughte forth false witnesses which sayd. This mā ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes agaynst this holy place & the lawe: for we harde him saye: thys Jesus of Nazareth shall destroye this place, & shal chaunge the ordinaunces whych Moses gaue vs. And all that sate in the counsel loked stedfastly on him, & sawe hys face as it had bene the face of an Angell.

The Notes

a* Because their wydowes were not indifferently loked on in the daylye distributinge the commen goodes.

b* Putting on of hādes here, is none other thing thā w an opē signe to admyt the to their offices, & declare opēly their callinge, euē as hādes were put on Paul & Barnabas whē they were sent to preache, after in the. xiii. a. They receaued neyther more grace nor goodnesse therby, nor couldе not for they had before receaued the holy ghost the very worcker of al grace and goodnes.

C Stenē maketh answere to his accusatiō. rebuketh thee hardnecked Jewes, and is stoned vnto death.

The. vii. Chapter.

Then sayd ỹ chefe prest, is it
A euē so? And he sayd: ye mē, brethrē & fathers, herkē to.

The

The god of glory apppered vnto oure father Abrahā whil he was yet in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran, & said vnto him: *come out of the contre, & frō thy kired, & come into the land, why che I shal shew the. Then came he out of the lād of Caldey, & dwelte in Charran. And after that, assone as his father was deed, he brought hī into this lād in whyche ye now dwel, & he gaue him none inheritaūce in it, no not the bredethe of a fote: *but promised that he wolde geue it to him to possesse & to his sede after him, when as yet he had no chylde.

Gene. xii. a

Gene. xiii. d

God verely spake on this wise, ỹ hys seade shuld be a dweller in a straūg lāde & that they shuld kepe them in bōdage & entreate thē cccc. lxiii. C. yeares. But thee nacīō to whome they shalbe in bondage wil I iudge, said god. And after ỹ shall they come forth and serue me in this place. ‡ And he gaue him the couenāte of circumcision. And he begat Isaac, & circumcised him the. viii. day, & Isaac begat Jacob, & Jacob the twelue Patryarckes. * And ỹ Patriarkes hauige indignacyon sold Joseph into Egipt. And god was with him, & deliuered him out of al his aduersities. and gaue hi fauour and wysdom in the syght of Pharao kynge of Egipt which made him gouerner ouer Egipte, and ouer al his housholde.

Gen. xvii. c

Ge. xxxvii c

Gene. xlii. e

‡ Then came ther a derth ouer al thee lād of Egypt & Canaan, and greate afflictiō, that our fathers foūd no sustenāce. But whē Jacob heard that ther was corne in Egipt he sent our fathers fyrst.

Gene. xlv. a

‡ And at thee seconde time, Joseph was knowē of his brethrē, and Josephs kinred was made knowē vnto pharao. Thē sent Joseph and caused hys father to be brought & al his kinne, thre skore & .xv. * soules. And Jacob descēded into Egipt and died both he & our fathers, and were trāslated into Sichem, and were putt in the sepulcre that Abrahā bought for money of the sonnes of Emor, at Sichem.

When the time of the promes drue nye (which god had swore to Abrahā) thee people grew & multiplied in Egipt, tyl a nother king arose which knew not of Joseph. The same dealt suttelye with oure kinred and euil intreted our fathers and made thē to cast out their yōge children that they shuld not remayne alyue. The same tyme was Moyses borne, & was a proper chyld in the syght of god, whych was norysshed vp in hys fathers house thre monethes. When he was cast oute, Pharaos daughter toke him, & norished him vp for her owne sonne. And Moses was learned in al maner wysdom of the Egyptians, and was myghty in dedes & in wordes.

And whē he was ful forty yeare old, it came into his hert to viset hys brethrē, ỹ childrē of Israel. And whē he saw one of thē suffre wrong, he defended him & auēged hys quarel ỹ had the harme done to him, & smote the Egiptiā. For he supposed hys brethrē wold haue vnderstande, how ỹ god by his handes shuld saue thē But they vnderstode not.

And ỹ next day he shewed hym self vnto thē as they stroue, & wold haue set thē at one agayne saying: Syrs, ye are brethre, why hurte ye one another? But he ỹ dyd his neyghbour wrōge, thrust him away saying: who made the a ruler and a judge amōge vs? What wilt ỹ kyll me, as ỹ dyddeste the Egyptian yester daye? ‡ Thē fled Moses at that saying, & was a stranger in ỹ land of Madian, wher he begat two sonnes.

D

exod. ii. c

‡ And whē. xl. yeres were expired, there appered to him in the wildernes of moūt Sina, an Angel of ỹ Lord in a flāme of fyre in a bushe. When Moses saw it, he wōdred at the syght. And as he drue neare to, behold, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him: I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abrahā the God of Isaac, & the god of Jacob. Moses trēbled & durst not behold. Thē sayd the Lord to hym. ‡ Put of thy shoes frō thy fete, for the place wher ỹ standest is holy groūd. I haue perfectly sene the affliction of my people which is in Egipt & I haue heard their groning, & am come down to deliuer thē And nowe come and I wyll sende the into Egypte.

Exod. iii. b

exod. iii. b
Iosue. v. b

This Moses whō they forsoke saying: who made the a rulet & a iudge: ỹ same God sent both a ruler & a delyuerer, by the hādes of ỹ Angell which appered to him in the bushe. And ỹ same brought them

E

them out, shewinge wondres & signes in Egipt, & in the red see & in the wyldernes xl. yeares. Thys is that Moses whyche Exod. viii. c
deu. xviii. d
said vnto the childzen of Israel: * A pzophet shal the Lozd your god raise vp vn to you of youre bzethzen, lyke vnto me, hym shal ye heare.

Thys is he that was in the congregacion, in the wyldernes wt the Angel whych spake to him in the mount Sina, & with oure fathers. This mã receaued ỹ wozd of lyfe to geue vnto vs, to whõ oure fathers could not obeye, but cast it frõ thẽ, & in their hertes turned back againe into Egypt, saying vnto Aarõ. ‡ make vs
Ex. xxxii. a goddes to go before vs. For this Moyses ỹ brought vs out of ỹ lãd of Egipt, we wote not what is become of him. And they made a calf in those dates & offered sacrifice vnto the ymage, & reioysed in ỹ wozkes of their owne handes.

Then god turned him selfe and gaue them vp, that they should wozship ỹ starres of the skye, as it is wzyten in the boke of the Pzophetes. ‡ O ye of the house of Israel, gaue ye to me sacrifices & meat offeringes by the space of. xl. yeares in the wildernes? And ye toke vnto you the tabernacle of b * Moloch, & thee starre of your god Remphan, fygures whyche ye made to wozshyp thẽ. And I wil trãslate you beyonde Babylon.
Amos. v. a.

Our fathers had ỹ tabernacle of witnz in the wildernes, as he had apointed thẽ speaking vnto Moses, that he shuld make it accozdyng to the fassyõ that he had sene. Which tabernacle our fathers receiued, & brought it in with Josue into thee possessyon of the Gentyls whyche God dzaue out before the face of our fathers vnto ỹ time of Dauid. Which found fauour before god, & wolde faine haue made a tabernacle foz ỹ god of Jacob. But Salomon bylt him an house.

Howbeit he that is hiest of al, dwelleth not in temples made wt handes, as saithe the Pzophet: heuen is my seate, & earthe is my fote stole, what house wyl ye bylde foz me sayth the Lozde? oz what place is it that I shuld rest in hath not my hande made al these thynges?

G Ye stiffenecked & of vncircũcised hertz and eares: ye haue al wayes resisted the holy goost: as your fathers did, so do ye. Which of the Pzophetes haue not your fathers persecuted? And they haue slayne them, which shewed before of the commig of that Just, whom ye haue now betrated and mozdered. And ye also haue receued a law by the ordinaunce of Angels, & haue not kept it.

✠ When they heard these thiges, theyr hertes claue a sunder & they gnashed on him with their teth. But he being ful of the holy gost, loked vp stedfastly wythe his eies into heuen, and saw the glozy of God, and Jesus standing on the ryghte hãd of god and said: behold, I se the heuens open, and the sonne of mã stãdynge on the right hande of god. Then they gaue a shoute wt a loude voice, & stoped their eares & ran vpon him al at once, & cast him out of the citie, & stoned hi. And the witnesses layde downe their clothes at a yõg mãnes fete named Saul. And they stoned Steuen calling on & saying: Lozde Jesu receaue my spzete. And he kneled downe and cryed wythe a lowde voyce: Lozde laye not this synne to their charge. And when he had thus spoke, he fell a slepe.

The Notes.

a * Soules ar men & wemẽ as in ge. xli b and. xlvii. d

b * Moloch thys is expounded in Leuyt xx. a

C Saul persecuteth ỹ christen. The apostles are scatred abzode. Philip commeth into Samarya. Simon magus is baptysed, he dyssembleth. ỹ eyly baptysethe the chamberlayne.

The. viii. Chapter.

SAul had plesure i his deeth And at that tyme there was a great persecutiõ agaynst the cõgregaciõ whych was at Jerusalẽ, and they were al scattered abzode thozowout ỹ regyõs of Iury & Samarya, except ỹ apostles. Then deuout men dzessed Steuẽ, & made great lamẽtaciõ ouer him. But Saul made hauock of the congregaciõ, and entred into euery house & dzewe out bothe mã & womã & thzust thẽ into pzesõ. Howbeit they that were scatered abzode, went euerye where pzeachynge the wozd. Thẽ came Philyp in to a cytye of Samaria, & pzeached Christ vnto them. And ỹ people gaue hede vnto those thinges whych

A

B

Philip

Philip spake, with one accorde in ỹ they heard & saw the myracles which he dyd. For vnclene spretes crying wt loud voyce, came out of many that were possessed of thē. And many takē wt palsyes, & many ỹ halted, were healed. And there was great ioye in that cytie. And there was a certayne mā called Simō, whych before tyme in the same citie, vsed witchcrafte & bewitched the people of Samarie, sayinge ỹ he was a man that could do greate thinges. Whō they regarded, frō the leest to the greatest, saying: this felowe is the great power of God. And him they sette C moch by, because ỹ of longe tyme he had mocked thē with sorcery. But as soneas they beleued Philippes preaching of the kingdom of God & of the name of Jesu Christ, they were baptysed bothe mē and wemen. Thē Simō him self beleued also, & was baptised, & cōtinued with Philip, & wondred beholdinge the myracles and sygnes, whych were shewed.

✣ Whē ỹ Apostles which were at Jerusalē heard saye that Samaria had receaued the worde of God: they sent vnto thē Peter & John. Which whē they were come, prayed for thē that they myghte receaue the holy gooste. For as yet he was come on none of thē: but they were baptised only in the name of christ Jesu. Thē layde they theyr handes on them,  and they receaued the holy ghost. ✣

Whē Simō sawe, that thorow laying on of the Apostles hādes on thē, ỹ holye ghost was geuē: he offred thē money saynge: geue me also this power, ỹ on whō soeuer I put the handes, he may receaue D the holy ghost. Thē sayd peter vnto him thy money perysh with the, because thou weenest that the gyfte of God may be obtayned wyth money. Thou hast nether parte nor fellowshyp in this busines. For thy hert is not rycht in the sycht of god Repent therfore of this thy wyckednes, & praye God that the thoughte of thyne hert maye be forgeuen the. For I perceaue that thou arte full of bitter gall, and wrapped in iniquite.

Then answered Simon & sayd: praye ye to the Lord for me, that none of these thinges which ye haue spokē, fal on me. And they when they had testified & preached the worde of the Lord returned toward Jerusalem & preached the Gospel in many cyttes of the Samaritans.

✣ Thē the angel of the Lord spake vn C to Philip saying: aryse and go towarde middeday vnto the waye ỹ goeth downe frō Jerusalem vnto Gaza which is in ỹ desert. And he arose & went on. And behold a mā of Ethiopia which was a chāberlayne, & of great auctorite wyth Candace quene of the Ethiophians, and had the rule of all her treasure, came to Jerusalem for to praye. And as he returned home agayne sytting in hys charette, he rede Esay the Prophet.

Then the spyrete sayde vnto Philip: go neare & ioyne thy self to yonder charette And Philip rāne to him, & heard him rede ỹ Prophet Esayas, & sayd: Vnderstādest ỹ what ỹ redest? And he sayd: Howe can I, except I had a gyde? And he desyred Philip ỹ he wold come vp & sit with him. The tenour of the scripture whych he red was thys. He was ledd as a shepe to be slayne: & lyke a lambe dōme before his shearer, so opened he not hys mouthe. *† Because of his hūblenes, he was not esteemed: who shal declare his generatiō? for his lyfe is taken frō ỹ erth. The chāberlayn āswered Philip & sayd: I praye the, of whō speaketh the prophet this? of hym selfe, or of some other man?

And Philip opened his mouth, & begā at ỹ same scripture, & preached vnto him Jesus. And as they went on theyr way, they came vnto a certayn water, and the chamberlayne sayde: Se here is water, what shal let me to be baptysed? Philip sayd vnto hym: Yf thou beleue wyth all thyne herte, thou mayest. He answered & G sayd: I beleue that Jesus Christe is the sonne of God. And he cōmaūded the charet to stand styll. And they wente downe bothe into the water: both Philip & also the chāberlayne, & he baptised hym. And assone as they were come out of the water, the spyrete of the Lord caught awaye Philip, that the chamberlayne sawe hym nomore. And he went on hys waye reioysynge: but Philip was found at Azotus And he walcked thorowoute the countre preachynge in theyr cyttes, tyll he came to Cesarea. ✣

The

The Notes.

a* And they receaued the holy ghost. Understand in a manifest & vilible sygne, as þ Apostels thē selues receaued it on the fyfty daye, or (as we cal it) whitsondaye/whyche thinge at that tyme was necessarye for the forthe raunce and stablyshment of the preachyng of the Gospell, all though not nedeful to saluatiō: but now the preaching therof is sufficiētly cōfyrmed, thys vilible myracle is ended: & yet remayneth þ styll whych was stablyshed by the myracle, þ is, that by the preaching of the Gospel is ministred þ holy ghost al thoughe oure bodelye eye se it not: by whom fayth cometh, whyche receaueth Christ to be our righteousnes sanctifyinge, and redemption, 1. Corint. 1. d

*t Because he was of so lowe degree in thys world: but a poore carpēter & hūbled him self vnto al mē & was obediēt euē vnto the moost vyle death of the crosse, therfore cannot the Jewes esteme hym for the very Messyas.

¶ Paul is cōuerted, and confoundeth the Jewes. Peter rayseth Tabitha

The .ix. Chapter.

AND Saul yet breathing out threatninges & slaughter agaynst the disciples of ỹ lord, wēt on to the hye preste & desyred of hī letters to Damasco to ỹ synagoges: t that yf he found any of this way whether they were mē or wemē, he might bring them bound vnto Jerusalē. But as he iorneyed & was come nye to Damasco, sodēly there shyned roūde about hym a light frō heauē, & he fel to the erth, & hearde a voyce saying to him: t Saul, Saul whypersecutest thou me? And he sayd: what art ỹ Lord? And the Lord sayd: I am Jesus whō ỹ persecutest, it shalbe harde for the to kycke agaynst the pricke. And he both trēblinge and astonied sayd: Lord what wilt thou haue me to do? And the Lord sayd vnto hym: aryse & go into the cytie, & it shalbe tolde the what thou shalt do.

The men which iorneyed wt him, stode amased, for they heard a voyce, but sawe nomā. And Saul arose frō the erth, and opened his eyes, but sawe no mā. Thē led they him by the hād, & brought hym into Damasco. And he was .iii. dayes without sight & nether ate nor dranke. And there was a certayne disciple at Damasco named Ananias & to hym sayd the Lord in a vysyon: Ananias? And he sayd: behold I am here Lord. And the Lord sayd vnto him: aryse & go into the strete which is called straycht, & seke in the house of Judas, after one called Saul of Tharsus. For beholde he prayeth, & hath sene in a vision a mā named Ananias coming in to him, & puttinge hys handes on him, þ he myght receaue hys syght.

Then Ananias answered: Lord, I haue heard by many of this mā, how moch euil he hath done to thy a* sayntes at Jerusalē: & here he hath auctoryte of the hye Prestes to bynd al that cal on thy name. The Lord sayd vnto him: go thy wayes for he is a chosen vessell vnto me, to beare my name before the Gentils & kinges and the chyldren of Israell. For I wyll shewe hym how great thynges he muste suffre for my names sake.

Ananias wēt his way & entred into the house, & put his handes on him & sayde: brother Saul: the Lord þ appered vnto the in the way as ỹ camest, hath sent me, that ỹ mightest receaue thy syghte & be fylled wyth the holy ghost. And immediatly ther fell frō hys eyes as it had bene scales, & he receaued syght & rose & was baptysed, & receaued meat & was cōforted. Then was Saull a certen dayes wt the disciples whyche were at Damasco. And streyght waye he preached Christe in the Synagoges, how that he was the sonne of god. Al ỹ heard him, were amased & sayd: is not this he that spoyled thē which called on this name in Jerusalē, & came hether for ỹ entent ỹ he shuld bringe them bound vnto ỹ hye prestes? But Saul encreased in strēgth, & cōfounded the Jewes which dwelt at Damasco affyrming that this was very Christ.

And after a good whyle, ỹ Jewes toke coūcel together, to kyl him. But theyr laying a wait was knowē of Saul. And they watched at the gates daye & nyght to kyl him. t Then the disciples toke him by night and put hym thorow the wal & let hym downe in a basket te.

And whē Saul was come to Jerusalē he assayde to cople him self wt ỹ disciples & they were al afrayed of him, & beleued not ỹ he was a disciple. But Barnabas toke him & brought him to the Apostles & declared to thē how he had sene ỹ Lord in the waye, & had spoken with hym: and how he had done boldely at Damasco in the ȳ name of Jesu. And he had his cõuersa ciõ wᵗ them at Jerusalem, & quit hi selfe boldly in the name of the lord Jesu. And he spake & disputed wyth the Grekes: & they went about to slee him. But whē ȳ brethren knew of that, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tharsus. Then had the cõgregaciõs rest tho rowout al Jewry, and Galyle & Sama

ry, and were edyfied, & walked in the fea F re of the Lord, and multiplied by the cõ-forte of the holy goost.

And it chaũsed as peter walked throughout al quarters, he came to ȳ saincts which dwelt at Lidda. And ther he foũd a certaine mã named Eneas, whych had kept his bed. viii. yeres sicke of ȳ palsye.
Thē said peter vnto him: Eneas Jesus Christ make the whole: arise and make thy bed. And he arose immediatlye. And al that dwelt at Lidda and Assarõ, saw him, and tourned to the Lord.

Ther was at Joppa a certaine woman (whi. h was a disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretaciõis called Dorcas)
the same was ful of good workes & almes dedes, which she did. And it chaunsed in those dates that she was sick and died. Wohen they had weshed her & layde her in a chãber: because Lidda was nye to Joppa, & the disciples had harde that peter was there, they sent vnto him, desy ring him that he wolde not be greued to come vnto them.

Peter arose & came wᵗ them, And when G he was come, they brought him into the chãber. And al the widowes stode roũde about him weping & shewinge the cotes & garmẽtes which Dorcas made whyll he was wᵗ thē. And peter put thē al forth & kneled downe & prayde & turned hi to the body & said: Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eies: & when she saw peter, sat
vp. And he gaue her ȳ hãde & lift her vp & called the saictes & widowes, & shewed her aliue. And it was knowē thorowout al Joppa, & many beleued on the Lord.
And it fortuned ȳ he taryed many dates in Joppa with one Simon a tannar.

The Notes.

a* By sayntes the scripture alwayes vn derstandeth none other but only those that beleued the gospel that was preached vnto thē, which were mē lyuyng in this worlde, & not those that ar departed as ye may se af ter by their necessytes whych paule erhor-ted the brethrē to mynistre vnto, as in thys Chaptre at the letter, k, & g Rom. xiiii, l. ii.
Corynth, viii and in many other places.

¶ The vision that Peter saw. How he was sent to Cornelius. The heythen also receaue ȳ spyrite, and are baptysed.

The. x. Chapter. ✠

THer was a certaine mã in Ce sarea called Cornelius, a cap taine of ȳ soudiers of Italy, a deuout mã, & one ȳ fea red god wythe all hys houshold, which gaue moche almes to ȳ peo ple, and prayde God alwaye. The same saw in a visiõ euidẽtly about the ninthe houre of ȳ day, an Angel of god coming into him, & saying vnto him: Cornelius.
Wohē he loked on him, he was afraide & said what is it lord? He said vnto hi, a* Thy prayers & thy almeses are come vp into remembraũce before god. And now sẽd mẽ to Joppa, & cal for one Simõ na med also Peter. He lodgeth wythe one Symon a tannar whose house is by the see syde. He shal tell the what thou ough test to do. When the Angell whych spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he cal led two of his housholde seruãtes and a deuoute soudier of them that waited on hym, and tolde them all thee mater, and sent them to Joppa.

On the morow as they wẽt on their ior
B ney & drewe nie vnto the citie, Peter wẽte vp vpõ ȳ top of ȳ house to pray, about ȳ vi. houre. Thē wexed he an hõgred, and wold haue eatẽ. But whyll they made re
dy. He fel into a traũce, and saw heue opened and a certayne vessel come doune vnto him, as it had bene a greate shete, knyt at the, iiii. corners, & was let downe
to the erth, where in were al maner of. iiii
C foted beastes of the earth, and vermen & wormes, & foules of the ayer. And there came a voice to hym: ryse Peter kyl and eate. But peter sayd: god forbyd Lord, for I haue neuer eaten eny thyng ȳ is co men or vnclene. And ȳ voice spake vnto him agayne the second tyme: what God hath clensed, ȳ make ȳ not comen. Thys was done thryse, & ȳ vessel was receued vp agayne into heuen.

D While peter mused in hi self what this visiõ which he had sene meãt: behold, the men

men which were sent frō Cornelius, had made inquirāce for Simons house, and stode before ꝑ dore. And called out one & asked whether Simō whyche was also called peter were lodged ther. Whyl peter thought on this vistō, the spyrite sayd vnto him: behold, mē seke the: arise therfore, get ꝑ downe & go wt them, & doute not: for I haue sēt them, peter wēt down to the mē whych were sent vnto him frō Cornelius, and sayde. Behold, I am he whō ye seke, what is the cause wherfore ye ar come. And they sayd vnto hi: Cornelius ꝑ captayne, a iust mā, & one that feareth god, & of good reporte among al the people of the Jewes, was warned by an holy angel to sēd for the into his house, & to heare wordes of the. Then called he them in, and lodged them.

And on ꝑ morow Peter went awaye wt them, & certaine brethren from Joppa accōpanyed him. And ꝑ thirde daye entred they into Cesaria. And Cornelius wayted for thē, & had called together his kinsmen, & special frendes. And as it chaunsed peter to come in, Cornelius met him, & fel downe at his fete, & worshypped hi But peter toke him vp sayinge: stād vp: for euen I my self am a man. And as he talked wt hym he came in, & foūd manie that were come together. And he said vnto thē: Ye know how that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Jew, to cōpani or come vnto an aliēt: but god hath shewed me that I shulde not cal any mā comen or vnclene: therefore came I vnto you wout sayinge nay, assone as I was sente for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me.

And Cornelius sayd: This daye now iiii. dayes I fasted & at the nynth houre I prayde in my house: & behold, a mā stode before me in bright clothyng, & sayde Cornelius, thy prayer is hard & thine almes dedes are had in remēbraunce in ꝑ syght of god. Sende therfore to Joppa, & cal for Simon which is also called peter. He is lodged in the house of one Symō a tanner by the see syde, the whyche assone as he is come, shal speake vnto ꝑ Then sent I for the immediatly: & thou hast wel done for to come. Now at we al here present before god, to heare al thynges ꝑ ar commaunded vnto the of God.

Then Peter opened hys mouth & said: Of a trueth I perceaue, that god is not partiall but in all people he that feareth hym & worketh ryghtewesnes, is accepted wyth hym,

Ye know the preachyng that God sente vnto ꝑ childrē of Israel, preachig peace ¶ by Jesus Christ, whych is Lord ouer al thinges + Which preachig was publisshed thorow out al Jewry, and beganne in Galile, after the baptime which Johan preached how god had anoynted Jesus of Nazareth wt the holy gost, & wyth power. Which Jesu wēt about doig good, & healinge al ꝑ were oppressed of the deuels, for god was wt him. And we ar witnesses of al thynges which he dyd in the land of the Jewes & at Jerusalē: whom they slew, & honge on tree. Him god reysed vp the third day, & shewed him opēly, not to al the people, but vnto vs wytnes chosē before of god, which ate & dronke wt hi, after he arose frō deeth. + And he cōmaūded vnto vs to preache vnto ꝑ people & testifie, that it is he that is ordened of god a iudge of quick & deede. To him gene al the Prophetes witnesse, that thorow his name, al that beleue in hym shal receaue remyssyon of synnes. ¶

While Peter yet spake these wordes, the holy gost fell on al thē which herde ꝑ preachig. And they of the circumcision whych beleued, were astonyed, as manye as came wt Peter, because that on ꝑ Gētyls also was sheed out the gyft of ꝑ holy gost. For they heardethem speake wt tōges & magnyfy God. Then answered Peter: cā any man forbyd water, ꝑ these shuld not be baptysed, whych haue receaued the holy ghoost as wel as we? And he cōmaunded them to be babtised in ꝑ name of the Lord. ¶ Then prayde they hym: to tary a feaw dayes.

The Notes.

a ✱ Thy prayer & almes &c, In as moche as by workes no mā cā be saued: as ꝑ psalmist openly affirmeth In ꝑ syght none ꝑ lyueth cā be iustified psal. cxliii. & againe If ꝑ loke on our inyquytyes, lord lord who shal be able to beare thē. psal. cxxix. No christen cōscience dare be so hardy as to attrybut ꝑ saluacyō of this mā For nelyus to hys prayer & fastyng. For tyrst ye se he was a Gentyle, vncircumcysed not keppynge ꝑ lawe ner once thynkynge therecon, and therefore must must be iustyfyed by fayth that came by hea ryng the glad tydinges preached in Christ.

Rom.v. And therfore must ye loke vnto the wordes of Luke in the beginninge of thys Chapter wher he sayeth that he feared god wheych thynge he could not haue done, ney ther yet haue prayed nor geuen almose, excepte he hadde beleued: for howe shoulde he haue called on hym, on whome he beleued not? Thus are we compelled to ascribe his callinge vnto faythe oute of whyche these fruytes of prayer and fastynge proceaded, specyally seynge that Saynte Paule affyrmeth that whatsoeuer is not done of fayth the same is synne. Romaynes. xiiii.d. The Christen then, and soche as wyll the Scrip ture to be trew in all places and so expoun de one texte, that another maye agree with it, doo ryghte well knowe that hys calling and oure saluacyon is freely geuen of God for hys sonne Christes sake: and not for the deserupnge of oure worckes. And because fayth can receaue thys greate and fre bene-fyte of God, and beleue it to be true, & wor kes neyther can beleue it nor yet deserue it therfore is it ascrybed vnto faythe and not to worckes. Yf prayer or fastynge or the he liest worcke vnder heauen could saue, Chri ste hadde neuer nede to haue suffered soche greuouse paynes, but vtterly died in vayne Neyther shoulde God freelye chose vs, but oure worckes shoulde chose hym. Vnder stande therfore that by hys worckes was he not called, but by hys fayth. out of why che hys worckes sprange, whyche fayth.
God freelye gaue hym, and by it freely called hym as he calleth and saueth vs all.
Good worckes muste we doo, as thys man
dyd, and that wyth all loue and earnestnes, and thereto are we bounde, and wythoute them can it not be knowen whether we be very Christen or not, no more then we can knowe a tree to be good and neuer fele hys fruyte, but we maye in no condicion ascribe iustyfycation or saluacyon to them, for as sayth Christe. Luke. xvii. when ye haue done all ye can do, saye ye are vnprofitable seruauntes, but to fayth: whych onely can receaue the benefyte of Christe, and beleue that he alone hath deserued forgeuenes for the synnes of the whole worlde. 1. John. i.
and. ii. The Apostles were here fyrste taughte and certyfyed by the holye ghoste of the conuersyon of the gentyles.

¶ Peter sheweth the cause wherfore he wente to the Gethen. Barnabas & Paul preached vnto the Heythen. Agabus prophecieth derth for to come.

The. xi. Chapter.

AND ye Apostles & ye brethren that were thorowout Jewry hearde saye that the Hethen had also receaued the worde of god. And whē peter was come vp to Jerusalē, they of the circūcy-syon reasoned wyth him sayinge: Thou wentest into men vncircumcised, & atest e-wyth them.

Then peter began & expoūded ye thyn ge in order to the saying. I was in ye cy-tie of Joppa prayinge, & in a traunce I sa we a visiō, a certē vessel descēd, as it had bene a large linnen cloth, let doune from heuē by the fower corners, & it came to me
Into the which when I had fastened mi ne eies, I cōsydered and sawe fower fo-ted beastes of the earth, & vermē & wormes, & foules of ayer: And I herd a voy ce sayinge vnto me, arise peter, sley & ea-te. And I said: God forbyd lord, for nothing * comē or vnclene, hath at any time entred into my mouth. But ye voyce an swered me againe frō heuen, coūte not ye those thinges comen which god hath clen sed. And thys was done thre times. And al were taken vp agayne into heuen.

B
* The Jewes called ye cōs me whyche is vnpure & vncleane & which they were forbid den by the lawe to eat leuit. xi.

And behold immediatly ther were thre mē come vnto ye house wher I was sent frō Cesarea vnto me. And ye spyrete sayd vnto me, ye I shuld go with them, wout doutyng. Moreouer the sixe brethren ac-companyed me: & we entred into the mās house. And he shewed vs, how he had se ne an āgel i his house, which stode & said to him: send mē to Joppa, & cal for Symō, named also peter: he shall tel ye wor-des, whereby both ye & al thine house shal be saued. And as I began to preache, ye holy goost fel on them, as he dyd on vs at C ye beginning. Then came to my remembrauce ye wordes of ye lord, how he sayd:
John baptist with water but ye shalbe John. i. d baptysed wythe the holye goost. For as moch thē as god gaue them like giftes, as he did vnto vs, when we beleued on ye lord Jesus christ: what was I, ye I shul-de haue withstand God. Whē they herd thys, they held their peace and glorifyed god, saying: thē hath god also to ye Gen-tyls graunted repentaunce vnto lyfe.

They which were scatred abrode tho-row ye affliction ye arose about Steuen, walked thorowout tyll they came vnto Phenices & Cypers & Antyoche preachi ge ye worde to no man, but vnto the Je-wes only. Some of thē were mē of Cy- D pers & Sirene, which whē they were co me into Antioche, spake vnto ye Grekes, and preached ye lord Jesus. And the hād
of

of the lord was wyth them, and a greate nõbre beleued & turned vnto the Lorde.

Tidinges of these thinges came vnto ꝑ eares of the cõgregacyon, whych was in Ierusalem. And they sent forth Barnabas ꝑ he shuld go vnto Antioche, which when he was come & had sene ꝑ grace of god, was glad, & exhorted thẽ al, that with purpose of hert, they wold cõtinual lye cleaue vnto the Lorde. For he was a good mã, and ful of the holy goost & of faith: & moch people was added vnto ꝑ Lord. Thẽ departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seke Saul. And when he had fõud him, he brought hi vnto Antioche. And it chaũsed ꝑ a whole yere they had ther cõuersacõ wt the congregacõ ther, and taught moche people: in so moche ꝑ ꝑ disciples of Antioche were the fyrste ꝑ were called Chrysten.

Acts.xi.b * In those dayes came Prophetes frõ Ierusalẽ vnto Antioche. And ther stode vp one of them named Agabus, and signified bi ꝑ spyrete, that ther shuld be greate derth thorowout al the world, whyche came to passe in the Emprour Claudius dayes. Then the disciples euery mã accordinge to his abilyte, purposed to sẽde socour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iewry, wohych thyng they also did, & sent it to the elders, by the hãdes of Barnabas and Saul.

¶ Herode persecuteth ꝑ Christe, killeth James, & putteth peter in prisõ, whõ the lorde delyuereth by an Angel. & his shameful death of Herode.

The.xii.Chapter. ✣

A

IN that tune Herode ꝑ king stretched forthe his handes to vexe certaine of ꝑ cõgregaciõ. And he killed Jamꝛ ꝑ brother of John with the swerde & because he saw that it pleased ꝑ Jewes, he proceaded forther, & toke Peter also. Then were the dayes of swete breede. And whẽ he had caughte him, he put him in prisõ & deliuered him to. iiii. *quaternyõs of soudiers to be kept, entẽding after ester to brig him forth to thee people. Then was peter kept in prison. But prayer was made wout ceasinge of ꝑ cõgregacon, vnto god for him. And whẽ Herode wold haue brought him out vnto the people, the same nyghte slepte peter bitwene two soudiers, bound with two chaynes, and the kepers before thes dore kepte the prison.

Quarterny ons foure

And behold ꝑ angel of the Lorde was ther present, & a light shined in the lodge. And he smote peter on the side, & stired hi vp saying: aryse vp quicklye. And hys chaynes fel of frõ hys handes. And ꝑ angel said vnto him: gyrd thy selfe and binde on thy ✝sandals. And so he dyd. And he sayde vnto him: cast thy mantle about the, & folow me. And he came out and folowed him, and wyste not, that it was truth ꝑ was done by ꝑ ãgel, but thought he had sene a vysiõ. Wohen thei were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate, that leadeth vnto the cytye, which opened to them by his owne accorde. And they wente out and passed thorow one strete, and by and by the Angel departed from hym.

✝Sãdals are soles to bee bound vnder the fete.

B

And whẽ peter was come to hym selfe, he sayd: now I know of a surety, that ꝑ Lord hath sent his Angel, & hath delyuered me out of the hande of Herode, & frõ al the waytynge for of the people of the Iewes. ✣ And as he consydred ꝑ thinge, he came to the house of Mary ꝑ mother of one ✝ John, which was called mar ke also, wher many were gathered to gether in prayer. As Peter knocked at thee entry dore, a dãsel came forth to herken, named Rhoda. And whẽ she knew Peters voice, she opened not thee entre for gladnes, but rã in & told how peter stode before the enter. And they said vnto her: ꝑ art mad. And she bare thẽ downe that it was euen so. Thẽ said they it is his angel. But peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the dore, & saw hi, they were astonted. And he beckened vnto thẽ with the hand, to hold their peace, & tolde them by what meanes the Lorde had brought him out of the prisõ. ✣ And he said: go shew these thinges vnto James & to thee brethren. And he departed & went in to another place.

✝Ille John is the same Mark that wrote the Gospell of marke.

C

Assone as it was day ther was no lytel a do amõg the soudiers, what was become of peter. Whẽ Herode had called for hi, & fõud hi not, he examined ꝑ kepers, & commaũded them to depart. And he descended from Iewry to Cesarea, & ther abode. Herode was displeased wyth them

D

of

of Tire and Sidon. And they came al at once, & made intercessiō vnto Blastus ỹ kinges chamberlen, and desired peace, because their coūtrey was nouryshed by the kinges land. And vpon a day apointed, Herode arayed him in royal aparell, & sat him in his seate, & made an oracion vnto thē. And ỹ people gaue a shoute, sayinge: it is ỹ voice of a god & not of a mā. And

Herode is slayn & eatē of wormes

immediatly the angel of the lord *smote him, because he gaue not god the honoure, & he was eaten of wormes & gaue vp the gost. And the word of god grew and multiplied. And Barnabas & paul returned to Jerusalē, when they had fulfilled their office, & toke with thē John, whych was also called Marcus.

Paul & Barnabas ar called to preach among the Hethen. Of Sergius Paulus & Elymas ỹ sorcerar. Paul preacheth at Antioche.

The.xiii. Chapter.

A There were at Antioche, in ỹ cōgregaciō certaine * prophetes & teachers: as Barnabas & Simō called Niger, & Lucyus of Cirene & Manahen Herode the Tetrarkes norsfelow, and Saul. As they ministred to the lord and fasted, the holy gost sayd: separate me Barnabas and Saul, for ỹ work wher vnto I haue called thē. Then fasted they & prayed, ād & put their hādes on thē, and lett them go. And they after they were sēt of the holy gost, came vnto Selcutia, and from thence thei sailed to Cyprus. And whē thei were come to Salamine, they shewed the word of god in the synagoges of the Jewes. And they had John to their minyster.

But they hādes & lo ke before in the syxte Chapter b

B When they had gone thorowout ỹ yle vnto the citie of Paphos, they founde a certaine sorcerer, a false prophet whyche was a Jew, named b * barjeu, which was w ỹ ruler of thee countre one Sergius paulus a prudent man. The same ruler called vnto hi Barnabas and Saul, & desyred to heare the word of god. But elimas the sorcerer (for so was hys name by interpretaciō) withstode thē, & sought to turne awaye thee ruler from the faythe. Thē Saul * which also is called paull being ful of ỹ holy goost set his eies on hi, and said: O ful of al suttelty and dysceitfulnes, ỹ child of ỹ deuyl, and ỹ enemye of all righteousnes, ỹ ceasest not to peruert the straycht wayes of the Lord. And now behold the hande of the Lorde is vpō the, & thou shalt be blynd & not se the sunne for a season. And immediatly ther fel on hym a myste & a darknes, and he wēt about seking thē that shuld leade hym by the hand. Then the rular whē he saw what had happened, beleued & wondred at the doctryne of the Lord.

C Whē they that were with Paul, were departed by ship frō Paphus, thei came to Perga a citie of Pamphilia: and ther John departed frō thē, and returned to Jerusalem. But they wandred thorowe the countreys frō Perga too Antioche a cytie of the coūtrey of Pisidia, & wēt into the synagoge on the Sabothe daye & sate downe. And after the law & the Prophetes were redde, the rulers of the synagoge sent vnto thē saying. Ye men and brethren, yf ye haue any serimō to exhort the people, saye on.

D Thē Paul stode vp & beckened wyth the hād, & sayd: Men of Israel, & ye that feare God, geue audience. The God of thys people chose our fathers, & exalted the people whē they dwelte as straūgers in the land of Egipt, & wyth a myghtye arme brought thē out of it, & aboute the tyme of .xl. yeres suffred he their maners in the wyldernes. And he destroyed .vii. nacions in the land of Canaan, & deuyded their land to thē by Lot. And afterward he gaue vnto thē iudges aboute ỹ space of .d * iiii. c. & .l. yeres vnto the tyme of Samuel the Prophet. And after that they desyred a kynge, & God gaue vnto thē Saul ỹ sōne of Cis, a mā of ỹ trybe of Benjamin, by the space of .xl. yeares. And after he had put hi downe, he set vp Dauid to be their king, of whō he repor ted saying: I haue found Dauid ỹ sōne of Jesse, a man after myne owne hert, he shal fulfyll all my wyll.

Of this mās sede hath god (according to hys promes) brought forth to the people of Israel, a sauiour, one Jesus, when John had fyrst preached before hys cōming the baptyme of repentaūce to Israel. And whē John had fulfilled his course, he sayd: whō ye thinke that I am, the same am I not. But behold ther cometh one after me, whose showes of hys fete I am not worthy to lowse.

✣ Ye men & brethrē, chyldrē of the generation of Abrahā, & whosoeuer amōg you feareth god, to you is this worde of saluatiō sent. The inhabiters of Jerusalē & their rulers, because they knew hym not, nor yet ỹ voices of ỹ Prophetes which are redde euery Saboth day, they haue fulfilled thē in cōdēpning hym. ‡ And

mat.xxvii.c
Luk.xxiii.c.

whē they found no cause of death in him yet desyred they Pylate to kill hym. And whē they had fulfylled al ỹ were written of hym, they toke hym downe frō the tree & put him in a sepulcre. But God rayled him agayne frō death, & he was sene many daies of thē which came with him frō Galile to Jerusalē. Wych are hys wytnesses vnto the people.

And we declare vnto you, how that the promes made vnto ỹ fathers, God hath fulfilled vnto vs their chyldrē, in ỹ he reysed vp Jesus agayne, euē as it is writtē in the fyrst psalme: ‡ Thou art my sonne, this same day begat I the. As concerning ỹ he rayled hym vp frō death, now moze to returne to corruptiō, he sayde on this wyse: The holye promises made to Dauid, I wyll geue thē faythfully to you. Wherefoze he sayth also in another place. ‡ Thou shalt not suffer thyne holy to se corruptiō. Howbeit Dauid after he had in his tyme fulfilled the wyll of god he slept, & was layde wyth his fathers, & sawe corruptiō. But he whō god reysed agayne, sawe no corruption.

psalm.ii.b Hebrew.i.b

Actes.xiii.b
Psal.xvi.d.
Actuū.ii.d.

✣ Be it knowē vnto you therfoze ye mē and brethrē, ỹ thorow thys man is preached vnto you the forgeuenes of sinnes, & that by him, al that beleue, are iustified frō al thinges frō which ye could not be iustified by the lawe of Moses. Beware therfoze lest ỹ fal on you, which is spokē of in the prophetes: Behold ye despisers and wonder, & perishe ye: for I do a worke in your dayes, which ye shal not beleue, yf a mā wold declare it you.

Whē they were come out of ỹ Synagoge of the Jewes, the gentils besought that they wold preache the word to them betwene ỹ Saboth dayes. Whē the congregatiō was brokē vp, many of the Jewes & verteous cōuertes folowed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to thē & exhorted thē to cōtinue in the grace of god ✣ And ỹ next saboth day came almost ỹ whole cytie together, to heare ỹ worde of God. Whē the Jewes sawe ỹ people, they were ful of indignatiō & spake agaynst those thinges which were spokē of Paul speaking against it, & rayling on it. Thē Paul & Barnabas waxed bolde, & sayd: G it was mete that the word of god shulde fyrst haue ben preached to you. But seinge ye put it from you, & thinke your selues vnworthy of euerlasting lyfe: lo, we turne to the Gentils: For so hath ỹ Lord cōmaūded vs. ‡ I haue made the a lyght to the Gentyls, that thou be saluatiō vnto the ende of the worlde.

Esay.xlix.b

The gentils heard & were glad & glorified the worde of the Lorde, & beleued: euē as many as were ordened vnto eternall lyfe. And the word of the Lord was published thorow out al the region. But the Jewes moued the worshipfull & honorable wemen & the cheke men of the cytie, & rayled persecution agaynst Paul & Barnabas & expelled them once of their costes. * And they shouke of the dust of their fete agaynst them, & came vnto Iconium. And the disciples were fylled wyth ioye and wyth the holy ghost. ✣

Mathe.x.b.
Marke.vi.b
Luke.ix.c

The Notes

a* Prophetes, loke after in the.xb.f

b* Barjesu, ỹ is by interpretaciō Jesus sonne euē this name had this sorcerer gotē to blind ỹ world withal. As now our sorcerars & cōiurers whē they go to worke, they cal to crossing & praying with al holy wordes to deceaue the people withall makinge thē to iudge ỹ they rather talke wt God then wt the deuil. And Elimas was hys name by interpretaciō sayth the texte, whych (as Erasmus affyrmeth in hys paraphrasis) soundeth as moche in the Syrian language, as great and false Prophete.

c* Saul which also is called Paul. Of ỹ name of paul do many dispute, but the most alowed opiniō is, ỹ of the Hebrues he was called Saul: & after ỹ maner of speach of ỹ Gētyls & Romains he was called Paul.

d* Foure. C. & fiftie yeares. These yeares must ye reake frō their cōming forth of Egipt. Exod. xii. & not frō their firste Judge. Judic. i.

¶ Paule & Barnabas preach at Iconiū, some beleue, some stere vp sediciō. At Listra they wold do sacrifice to Barnabas & Paul, which refuse it, & exhort the people to worship the true God, Paul is stoned, after ỹ cometh he to Derba, Listra Iconium and to Antioche.

The.xiiii.Chapter.

And

The.xiiii. Chapter.

A ANd it fortuned in Iconium that they wēt both together into ỹ synagoge of the Iewes, & so spake, that a great multitude both of ỹ Iewes and also of ỹ Grekes beleued. But ỹ vnbeleuing Iewes, stered vp & vnquieted the myndes of ỹ gētyls agaynst the brethrē. Lōge tyme a bode they there & quyt thē selues boldly with ỹ helpe of ỹ Lord which gaue testimony vnto the word of his grace, & caused signes & wonders to be done by their hādes. The people of ỹ citie were deuided: & part helde wyth the Iewes, and part with the Apostles.

Whē ther was a saulte made both of the gētils & also of ỹ Iewes wt their rulers, to putt thē to shame & to stone them they were ware of it, & fled vnto Lystra & Derba, cities of Licaona, & vnto the region ỹ lyeth round about, & ther preched
B the gospel. And ther sate a certayn mā at Lystra weake in hys fete, beynge crepel frō his mothers wōbe, & neuer walcked. The same heard Paul preache. Wt wych beheelde hym & perceaued ỹ he had fayth to be whole, & sayde with a loude voyce: stāde vprygbt on thy fete. And he sterte vp, & walked. And whē the people sawe, what Paul had done, they lyft vp theyr voyces, saying in ỹ speache of Licaonia Gods ar come downe to vs in ỹ lykenes of mē. And they called Barnabas Jupter, & paul Mercurius, because he was ỹ preacher. Then Jupiters preste, whiche dwelt before their citie, brought orē and garlādes vnto the churche porche, & wold haue done sacrifice with the people.

Paul & barnabas abhorre to haue orē & garlādes offred vnto them.

¶ But whē ỹ apostles, Barnabas & paul herde ỹ, they rente theyr clothes, & ran in amōg the people, crying & sayinge: syrs why do ye thys? We are mortal mē lyke vnto you, & preache vnto you, ỹ ye shuld turne frō these vanities vnto ỹ lyuinge God, which made heuē & erth & the see & al ỹ in thē is: the which in times past suffered al nations to walcke in their owne wayes. Neuertheles he left not hym self without witnes, in ỹ he shewed his benefites, in geuing vs rayne frō heauē and fruteful seasons, fylling oure hertes wt fode, & gladnes. And with these sayings scarse restrayned they the people, that they had not done sacrifyce vnto them.

Thyther came certayn Iewes frō Antioche & Iconium, & obtayned ỹ peoples cōsent, & stoned Paul, & drue hym out of the citie, supposing, he hadde bene dead. D Howbeit as the disciples stode round about him he arose vp & came into ỹ cytie And ỹ next day he departed with Barnabas to Derba. After they had preached to ỹ cytie, & had taught many they returned agayne to Lystra, & to Iconium & Antioche, & strengthed the disciples soules, exhorting thē to cōtinue in the fayth, affirming ỹ we must thorow moch tribulatiō, entre into the kingdō of God. And they ordened thē elders by electiō in euery cōgregation, & prayde & fasted, & commended them to God on whō they beleued. And they went thorow out Pisidia and came to Pamphilia, & whē they had preached the word of god in Perga, they descēded into Attalia, & thence departed by shyppe to Antioche, frō whence they were delyuered vnto the grace of God, to the worcke whych they had fulfylled When they were come & had gathered ỹ congregation together, they rehersed all that God had done by them, and how he hadde opened the dore of fayth vnto the Gentyles. And there they abode lōge tyme wyth the disciples.

¶ Mastaunce about circūcision. The apostles pcyfye the matter at Jerusalē. Paule & Barnabas preache at Antioche.

The.xv. Chapter.

THen came certayn frō Jewrye, & taught the brethrē except ye be circūcysed after ỹ maner of Moses, ye cannot be saued. And when there was rysen dissension & disputinge not a lyttle vnto paul & Barnabas, agaist thē They determined ỹ Paul & Barnabas, & certayn other of them shuld ascende to Jerusalē vnto the Apostels & elders about thys question. And after they were brought on their way by ỹ cōgregation, they passed ouer Phenices & Samaria, declaring the cōuersion of the Gentyls, and they brought great ioye vnto al the brethrē. And when they were come to Jerusalē, they were receaued of the congregaciō & of the Apostles and elders. And they declared what thīges god had done B

A Galat.v.a.

by the. Then rose vp certayn of the secte of the Phariſes, which dyd beleue, sayig that it was nedeful to circumcise them & to comoyne them to kepe the law of Moses. And the Apostles & elders came together to reason of thys matter.

And when ther was moch disputinge, Peter rose vp & sayd vnto the: Ye mē & brethrē, ye know howe y a good whyle ago, God chose amōg vs y the gentils by my mouth shulde heare the worde of the gospel & beleue And god which knoweth the hert, bare the witnes, & gaue vnto the the holy ghost, euen as he dyd vnto vs & he put no difference betwene them & vs, but with fayth a * purified theyr hertes. Now therfore why tempt ye god, that ye wold put a yock on the disciples neckes which nether our fathers nor we were able to beare. But we beleue y throwe the grace of the Lord Jesu Christ, we shalbe saued, as they do. Then all the multitude was pleased and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, which tolde what lygnes & wonders God had shewed amonge the Gentyls by them.

And whē they held theyr peace James answered saying: Men & brethren herkē vnto me. Simeō tolde how God at y beginning dyd visyt y Gentils, & receaued of the, people vnto his name. And to this agreeth y wordes of the prophetes, as it is writte. After this I wyl returne, & wil bylde agayne the tabernacle of Dauid which is fallē downe, & y whych is fallē in dekey of it, wyl I bylde agayne, and I wyl set it vp, y the residue of men might seke after the Lord, & also y gētils b * vpō whō my name is named sayth y lord, which doth all these thinges: knowē vnto god are all his worckes frō the beginning of the worlde. Wherfore my sentence is that we trouble not them which frō amōge the Gentyls, ar turned to God: but y we wryte vnto them, that they abstcyne the selues frō fylthynes of ymages, frō fornicatiō, frō c * strangled & frō bloud. For Moses of old tyme hath in euery cytye that preache hym, & he is rede in y synagoges euery Saboth daye.

Then pleased it the Apostles & elders with the whole cōgregation, to send chosen men of theyr owne company to Antioche wyth Paul and Barnabas. They sent Judas called also Barsabas, & Sylas whych were chefe men among y brethren, and gaue them letters in theyr hādes after thys maner.

The apostels, elders & brethrē send gretinges vnto y brethrē which ar of y Gentils in Antioche, Syria & Cilicia. For as moch as we haue heard y certayn which departed frō vs, haue troubled you wt wordes, & cōbred youre myndes saying: Ye must be circumcised & kepe the lawe, to whō we gaue no soch cōmaundement It semed therfore to vs a good thinge, whē we were come together with one accorde, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas & Paule, men y haue ieoparded theyr lyues for the name of our Lord Jesu Christ. We haue sente therfore Judas & Silas, which shall also tel you y same thinges by mouth. For it semed good to the holy ghost & to vs, to put no greuous thing to you, more then these necessary thinges: y is to saye, that ye absteyne from thinges offred to ymages, frō bloud, from strangled & fornication. Frō whych yf ye kepe your selues, ye shal do wel. So fare ye well.

Whē they were departed, they came to Antioche & gathered the multitude together, & deliuered the Epistle. When they had rede it, they reioyced of y cōsolation And Judas & Silas being † prophetes exhorted the brethrē with moch preachinge, & strengthed thē. And after they had taried ther a space, thet were let go in peace of the brethren vnto the apostles. Not withstāding it pleased Sylas to abyde ther styl. Paul & Barnabas cōtinued in Antioche teaching & preaching the word of the Lord wyth other many.

But after a certayn space, Paul sayd vnto Barnabas: Let vs go agayn & vysyte our brethren in euery citie where we haue shewed y word of y Lord, & se how they do. And Barnabas gaue cōsell to take with them John, called also Mark But Paule thoughte it not mete to take hym vnto theyr cōpany which departed frō the at Pāphilia, & went not wt thēto the worke. And y dissentiō was so sharp betwene them, y they departed a sunder one from thee other: so that Barnabas

† prophetes are here taken in diuers places of the newe Testament for expounders of the Scriptures.

toke

soke Marcke and sayled vnto Cypers.
And paul chose Sylas & departed, dely
uered of the brethrē vnto ỹ grace of god
And he went thorow al & syria & Cilicia, stablishing the congregations.

The Notes

a* Fayth purified their hertes &c. theyr hertes were purified w fayth, because they receaued by faythe, that theyr synnes were not imputed vnto them, but forgeuen for Christes bloudes sake.

b* Vpō whō my name is named &c, that is. Those that shalbe named w my name: as ar those ỹ ar called ỹ people of god & ỹ seruauntes of the Lorde, & the congregation of Christ, or the Christen companye.

c* Strangled is that whych dyeth and hath not hys bloud shedde.

¶ Timothy is circūcysed. Paul preacheth at philippos and ther is he put in prison.

The.xvi. Chapter.

A THen came he to Derba & to Lystra. And beholde a certayne disciple was ther named Timotheus, a womās sonne which was a Jewesse & beleued: but hys father was a Greke. Of whō reported wel, the brethrē of Lystra & of Iconiū. The same Paul wold ỹ he shuld go forth w hi, & toke & circumcised hym because of the Jewes whyche were in those quarters: for they knew al ỹ hys father was a greke As they went thorowe the cyties, they deliuered thē the decrees for to kepe, ordeyned of the Apostles and elders, whych were at Jerusalem. And so were the congregations stablyshed in the fayth, and encreased in nō ber daylye.

B Wohē they had gone thorow out Phrigia & the regyon of Galacia, & were forbidden of the holye ghoste to preach the worde in Asia, they came to Mysia, and sought to go into Bethynia. But ỹ spret suffred thē not. Then they wēt ouer Mysia, & came downe to Troada. And a vision appered to Paul in ỹ nyght. Ther stode a mā of Macedonia & prayed him saying: come into Macedonia & help vs

C After he had sene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goo into Macedonia, certifyed that the Lord had called vs, for to preache the gospell vnto them. Then lowsed we forth from Troada, & wyth a straight course came to Samothracia & the next day to Neapolim, & frō thēce to Philippos, which is the cheke cytie in the partes of Macedonia, and a free cytie.

We were in ỹ cytie abyding a certayn dayes. And on ỹ Saboth dayes we wēt out of ỹ cytie besydes a ryuer where men were wont to pray. And we sate downe & spake vnto the wemē which resorted thyther. And a certayn womā named Lidia a seller of purple, of the cytie of Thyatira, whych worshipped God, gaue vs audience. Whose hert the lord opened ỹ she attēded vnto ỹ thinges, which paul spake Wohē she was baptised & her household, she besought vs saying: Yf ye thincke ỹ I beleue on ỹ Lord, come into my house and abyde ther. And she cōstrayned vs. D

‡ And it fortuned as we wēte to prayer a certayn damsel possessed wyth a spyrite that prophesyed, met vs, which brought her master & masters moch vauntage w prophesying. The same folowed Paul and vs & cryed saying: these men are the seruauntes of the most hye God, whych shewe vnto vs the way of saluatiō. And thys dyd she many dayes. But paul not content, turned about & sayd to the spyrit I commaunde the in the name of Iesu christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre. Lenit. fradet den, xvii. b t, re, xxvii. a

And when her master & maistres sawe that the hope of their gaynes was gone, they caught Paul & Silas, & drue them E into the market place vnto the rulars, & brought thē to the officers saying: These men trouble our cytie, whyche are Jewes & preach ordinaunces, which ar not lawful for vs to receaue, nether to obserue, seyng we are Romayns. And the people ran on thē, & ỹ officers rent theyr clothes, & cōmaūded thē to be beaten w rodes. And when they had beate them sore they cast them into prison, cōmaūding ỹ iayler to kepe them surely. Which iayler when he had receiued soch cōmaūdment thrust them into the vnner presō, & made theyr fete fast in the stockes.

At midnight Paul & Silas prayed, & F lauded God. And the presoners harde thē. And sodenly ther was a greate erthquake, so ỹ thee foundatiō of the prison was shakē, & by & by al ỹ dores opened, & euery mās bādes were lowsed. Whē the keper of the prison waked out of his clepe & saw the prison doores opē he drue out hys sweard & wold have kylled hym selfe, supposinge the prisoners had bene fledde. But Paul cried wt a loude voyce saytug: do thy selfe no harme, for we ar al here. Then he called for a light & sprang in & came trembling, & fell downe before Paul & Silas, & brought thē out & said Syrs what must I do to be saued? And they sayd: beleue on the Lord Jesus and thou shalt be saued & thy household. And they preached vnto him the worde of the G Lord, & to al that were in his house. And he toke thē the same houre of the night & washed theyr woundes, & was baptysed wyth al that belōged vnto him strayght waye. When he had broughte them into hys house, he sett meate before them, and ioyed that he wyth all hys household, beleued on God.

And when it was day, ỹ officers sent ỹ ministers sayinge: let those men go. The keper of the prison tolde thys saying to Paul, the officers haue sent word to lowse you. Now therfore get you hence and go in peace. Then sayd Paul vnto them they haue beatē vs openly vncondēpned, for al ỹ we are Romayns, & haue cast vs into prison: & now wold they send vs away preuely? Nay not so, but lett thē come thē selues & fet vs oute. When ỹ ministers told these wordes vnto ỹ officers they feared when they heard ỹ they were Romayns, & came & besought them, and brought thē out, & desyred thē to departe out of the citie. And thei went out of the prison and entred in the house of Lydia and when they had seue the brethrē, they comforted them & departed.

Paul commeth to Thessalonica, wher the Jewes set the cytie on a roze. Paul escapeth, & commeth to Athens, where he preacheth the true and vnknowen God.

The.xvii. Chapter.

A S they made theyr iorneye thorow Amphipolis, & Apolonia, they cam to Thessalonica where was a Synagoge of ỹ Jewes. And paul as his maner was went in vnto thē, & .iii. saboth dayes declared out of ỹ scripture vnto thē, opening & alleging ỹ Christe must nedes haue suffered & rysen agayn frō death, & that this Jesus was Christ
Luk. xxiiii.a

whō (sayd he) I preache to you. And some of thē beleued & came & cōpanyed wt Paul & Silas: also of thee honourable Grekes a great multitude & of the chefe women, not a fewe.

But the Jewes which beleued not hauing indignatiō, toke vnto thē cuyl men whiche were vagabondes, & geathered a B cōpany, & set al the citie on a roze, & made assaut vnto ỹ house of Jason, & sought to bring thē out to the people. But when they koūd them not, they drue Jason and certayne brethren vnto the heades of the citie crying: these, ỹ trouble the world are come hydder also whych Jason hath receaued preuely. & And these al do cōtrary to the decrees of Cesar, affirminge another kyng, one Jesus. And they troubled the people & the officers of the citie, when they heard these thinges. And when they were sufficientlye answered of Jason & of the other, they let them go.

Joh. xix. c.

And ỹ brethren immediatly sent away Paule & Sylas by night vnto Berrea. Which whē they were come thither, they C entred into ỹ Synagoge of the Jewes. These were ỹ noblest of byrth amōg thē of Thessalonia, which receaued ỹ worde wt al diligence of minde, & searched & the scriptures dayely whether those thinges were euē so. And many of thē beleued: also of worshipful women which were gre kes, & of men not a fewe. When ỹ Jewes of Thessalonia had knowledge that the word of god was preached of Paule at Berrea, they cam & moued ỹ people ther And then by & by the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the see: but Sylas & Timotheus abode there styll. And they that gyded Paul, brought him vnto Athens, & receaued a cōmaūdemēt vn to Sylas & Timotheus for to come too him atōce & came their way. While paul wayted for thē at Athens, his spirite was moued in him. to se ỹ citie geuen to worshipping of ymages. Thē he disputed in ỹ synagoge wt the Jewes, & wt ỹ deuout persons, & in the market dayly with them ỹ came vnto him. Certain philosophers of the Epicures & of the Stoyckes, disputed with him. And some ther were which sayd: what wyl thys babler saye? Other sayd: he semeth to be a tydinges bringer
D

Desyreth the scriptures, for by them may ye trie al doctryne of new

of new deuyls, because he preached vnto them Jesus & the resurrection. And they toke hym, and brought hym into Marce strete sayinge: maye we not knowe what thys new doctrine wherof thou speakest is: For thou bringest straunge tydinges to our eares. We wolde knowe therfore what these thinges meane. For al the Athenians & straungers which were there gaue thē selues to nothing els, but ether to tell or to heare new tydinges.

Paule stode in the middes of Marce strete & sayd: ye men of Athens I perceaue þ in al thinges ye are to superstitious
F For as I passed by & beheld the maner how ye worshipp your goddes, I foūdan auter wherein was writtē: vnto the vnknowē God. Whom ye then ignorantly acta. xvij.c worshipp, him shewe I vnto you: & God þ made the world & al that ar in it, seinge þ he is Lorde of heauen & erth, he dwelleth not in temples made with hādes, nether is worshypped wyth mennes handes, as though he neded of any thinge, seinge he him selfe geueth lyfe & breeth to all men euery where & hath made of one bloud al nations of men, for to dwell on al the face of the erth, & hathe assigned before, howe longe tyme, & also the endes of theyr inhabitatiō, þ they shuld seke God, yf they might fele & fynd him thoughe he be not farre frō euery one of vs. For in him we lyue, moue & haue your being, as certain of your owne Poetes sayde. For we are also hys generation. For as moche then G as  we are the generation of God, we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is lyke vnto golde, syluer or stone, grauen by craft & ymagynation of man.

And the tyme of this ignoraūce god regarded not. But now he biddeth al men euery where repente, because he hath appoynted a day, in the which he wyl iudge the world accordyng to righteousnes, by that man whō he hath apoynted, & hathe offered fayth b* to all men, after that he had rayfed hym from death.

When they heard of þ resurrectiō frō death, some mocked, & other sayd: we wil heare the agayne of thys matter. So Paul departed frō among them. Howbeit certayne men claue vnto Paul & beleued, amōg the whych was Dionisyus a senatour, and a woman named Damaris, and other wyth them.

The Notes

a* We ar hys generatiō &c. þ is, we are come of him as of our father and maker.

b* Fayth is here taken for þ promyses of mercy, which thorow fayth saue vs: which promises after þ resurrection of christ, god commaunded to be preached vnto al nacions and not to the Jewes onely, as before ¶ Paul preacheth at Corinthū, continuing there a yere & a halfe, goeth agayne into Syria, cōmeth to Ephesus, Cesarea & Antioche. Of Apollos, Aquila and Priscilla.

The.xviij.Chapter.

After þ Paule departed frō Athens & came to Corinthū A & foūde a certayne Jewe named Aquila borne in Pontus, lately come frō Italie wt his wife Priscilla (because þ the Emperour Claudius had cōmaūded al Jewes to depart frō Rome) & he drew vnto thē. And because he was of þ same craft he abode wt them & wrought: their craft was to make tentes. And he preached in the synagoge euery Saboth daye, & exhorted the Jewes & the Gentyls.

When Silas & Timotheus were come frō Macedonia, Paul was cōstrayned by the spret to testyfye to þ Jewes þ Jesus was very Christ. And when they sayd cōtrary & blasphemed, he shoke his rayment & sayd vnto thē: your bloud vpō your owne heades, & frō henceforth I go blameleffe vnto the gentyles. And he departed thence, & entred into a certayne mās house named Justus a worshipper of God, whose house toyned hard to thee synagoge. Howbeit one Crispus þ chefe ruler of the synagoge beleued on the Lorde wyth all hys housholde, and many of C the Corinthians gaue audiēce, & beleued and were baptysed.

Then spake the Lord to Paule in the nighte by a vysyon: be not afrayed, but speake, & holde not thy peace: for I am wyth the, & noman shal inuade the to shalt hurt the. For I haue moch people in this cytye. And he contynued there a yeare & syxe monethes, and taught thē the word of God.

When Gallio was ruler of þ coūtre of D
Acaia the Jewes made insurrectiō with one accord against Paul, & brought him to the iudgemēt seate, saying: this felow

The.xx.Chapter.

A Fter thee rage was ceased, A
Paul called ỹ disciples vnto hym, & toke hys leaue of thẽ, & departed for to go into Macedonia. And when he had gone ouer those parties, & geuen thẽ large exhortations, he came into Grece, & ther abode.iii.monethes. And whẽ ỹ Jewes layd wayt for him as he was about to sayle into Siria, he purposed to retur ne thorow Macedonia. Ther accõpanied hym vnto Asia, Sopater of Berrea, & of Thessalonia Aristarcus & Secũdus B and Gayus of Derba, & Timotheus: & out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimos These went before, & taryed vs at Troas. And we sayled away frõ Philippos after the Easter holy dayes, & came vnto thẽ to Troas in fyue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

And on ỹ morow after ỹ Saboth day the disciples came together for to breake bread & Paul preached vnto thẽ (redy to depart on the morow) & cõtinued ỹ preaching vnto midnight. And ther were many lightes in the chãber where they were gathered together, & ther sate in a windo we a certayn ponge mã named Eutichus falle into a depe slepe. And as Paul declared, he was the more ouercome wythe slepe, & fel downe frõ the thyrd loft, and was take vp dead. *Paul wẽt downe & fel on him, & embraced him, & sayd: make nothing a do for his lyfe is in him. Whẽ he was come vp agayne, he brake bread and talked, & comened a longe whyle cuẽ tyl the morning, & so departed. And they brought the ponge man a lyue, and were not a lyttle conforted.

And we wente afore to shyp, & lowsed vnto Asson ther to receaue Paul. For so had he apoynted, & wold him self go a fote. Whẽ he was come vnto vs to Asson, we toke him in, & came to Mitilenes. And we sayled thẽce, & came the next daye ouer agaynst Chios. And the next day we aryued at Samos, & taryed at Trogilon. The next day we came to Myleton: for Paul had determined to leaue Ephesus as they sayled, because he wold not spẽd ỹ tyme in Asia. For he hasted to be (yf he could possible) at Jerusalẽ at the day of Pentecoste. Wherfore frõ Myleton he sent to Ephesus, & called thee elders of ỹ congregatiõ. And when they were come to him, he sayd vnto thẽ: Ye knowe from the fyrst daye that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene wyth you at all seasons, seruing the Lord withal hũblenes of mynde, & with many teares, & tẽptations which happened vnto me by the layinges awayt of the Jewes, & howe I kept backe nothing that was profytable but that I haue shewed you and taught you opẽly and at home in youre houses, witnessinge both to the Jewes, & also to the Grekes, the repentaũce toward God and fayth toward our Lorde Jesus.

And now behold I go bovnd in ỹ spyrit vnto Jerusalẽ, & know not what shal come on me ther, but ỹ the holy goost wytnesseth in euery cytie saying: ỹ bandes & trouble abyde me. But none of those thinges mone me: nether is my lyfe dere vnto my selfe, ỹ I myght fulfyl my course with ioye, & the ministration which I haue receaued of the Lord Jesu, to testyfie the Gospel of the grace of God. E

And now behold, I am sure ỹ hereforth ye al (thorow whõ I haue gone preachinge the kingdõ of god) shal se my face no more. Wherfore I take you to recorde thys same day, ỹ I am pure frõ ỹ bloud of al men. For I haue kept nothing backe: but haue shewed you al ỹ counsell of God. Take hede therfore vnto your selues & to al the flock, wher of ỹ holy ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the congregatiõ of god, whiche he hath purchased wt his bloud. For I am sure of this ỹ after my departing shal greuous wolues entre i amõg you, which wil not spare the flock. Moreouer of your owne selues shal mẽ arise speaking peruerse thinges to draw disciples after thẽ. Therfore awake & remẽber, ỹ by the space of .iii. yeares I ceased not to warne euerye one of you both nyght & daye wyth teares. F ii. Cor. xi. c Dan. xi. c

And now brethre I cõmẽd you to god & to ỹ word of his grace, which is able to bilde further & to geue you an inheritaũce amõg al thẽ which ar sanctified. I haue desyred no mãs syluer, gold, or vesture. Ye know wel that these handes haue ministred vnto my necessities, & to thẽ ỹ G were

were with me. I haue shewed you althin ges, how that so labozing ye ought to re ceue the weake & to remẽber the wozdes of the lozd Jesu, how that he sayde: it is moze blessed to geue then to receaue.

When he had thus spoke, he kneled dowe ne & prayed with them al. And they wept al aboundãtly & fel on pauls neck, & kis sed hym, sozowynge most of all for thee wozdes which he spake, that they shulde se his face no moze. And they accõpanyed him vnto the shyppe.

¶ Pauls iozney by shippe. Of philippe the Euã-gelist, & Agabus the prophet, which warned paul not to go to Jerusalem. He remayned stedfast in his purpose, and is taken in the temple.

The. xxi. Chapter.

A Nd it chaũsed that assone as we hav laũched fozthe, & were departed from thẽ, we came with a straight course vnto Choon & the daye folo wing vnto the Rhodi, & frõ thence vnto Patara. And we founde a shippe redy to sayle vnto Phenices, & wẽt a bozde & set fozth. Then apered vnto vs Cipzus, &
we left it on the left hande, & sayled vnto Siria & came vnto Tire. Foz there thee shipp vnladed her burthen. And whẽ we had founde bzethzen we taryed there. vii dayes. And they told paul thozow ỹ spzi te, that he shuld not go vp to Jerusalem
And when the dayes were ended, we departed & wẽt our waies, and thei al bzou ght vs on our waye, wyth their wiues & chylozen, tyll we were come out of the cy tye. And we kneled doune in the shoze &
B pzaide. And when we had takẽ our leaue one of another, we toke shyppe, and they returned home agayne.

When we had ful ended the course frõ
Tyze we arryued at Ptolomaida, & salu ted the bzethzẽ, & abode wythe them one day. The next day, we that were of paul company departed & came vnto Cesarea
And we entred into the house of Phylip
the Euangelist, which was one of the se uẽ deacones & abode wt him. Thee same mã had. iiii. daughters virgins, wlyche
C did pzophesi. ¶ And as we taried there a V:tu.ti.d good many of dayes, ther came a certai-ne pzophete frõ Jurie, named Agabus.
Whẽ he was com vnto vs, he toke pauls gerdel, & bound his hãdes and fete, & sai de. Thus sayth the holy goost: so shal the Jewes at Jerusalem bynd the man that oweth this gerdel, and shal delyuer hym into the handes of the Gentyls.

When we herd this, both we & other of the same place, besought hi that he wold not go vp to Jerusalem. Thẽ paul ãswe red & said: what do ye weping and bzeaking mine hert? I am redy not to be boũ de only, but also to die at Jerusalem foz
the name of ỹ lozd Jesu. When we could D not turne hys mynde, we ceased, saying:
the wyl of the lozd be fulfilled. After th-se dates we made our selues redy, & wẽt vp to Jerusalem. Ther went wt vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, & bzought wt them one Mnasõ of Cipzus an old disciple wt whom we shuld lodg.
And when we were come to Jerusalem, the bzethzen receued vs gladlye. And on the mozow paul went in wt vs vnto Ja mi. And al the elders cam together. And when he had saluted them, he told by oz-der al thinges, ỹ god had wzought amõ ge the gentyls by his ministracion. And whẽ they herd it, they glozyfyed ỹ Lozd, & said vnto him: Thou sest bzother, how many thousãd Jewes ther ar whych beleue and thei ar al *zelous ouer the law. *zelouse is
And they are infozmed of the, that ỹ tea- gloose, as chest all thee Jewes whyche are among a mã is ze-the gentylles, to fozsake Moses, & sayst lous ouer his that they oughte not to cyzcumcise their wyfe childzen nether to liue after the custums, what is it therfoze? The multitude must nedes come to geather. Foz they shall heare that thou arte come. Do therefoze this that we say to the.

*We haue. iiii. men, which haue a vow E on them. Them take & purifie thy selfe *Numero. vi.
wt them, and do cost on them, ỹ thei may shaue theyr heddes and al shal knowe ỹ those thinges whyche they haue herd cõ cernynge the, are nothyng: but that thou thy selfe also walkeste & kepest the lawe.
Foz as touchynge thee gentyls which be leue we haue wzytten & concluded. that they obserue no soche thynges: but that they kepe thẽ selues from thiges offered to ydoles, frõ bloud, frõ strãgled, & from foznicattõ. Then the next day paul toke the men and purified hi self wythe them and entred into the temple: declaryng ỹ

he obserued the dates of the purificaciō, vntil ỹ an offering shuld be offered for euery one of them.

And as the seuē dates shuld haue bene ended, ỹ Jewes which were of Asia whē they sawe him in the temple, they moued al the people, & layd hādes on hym crying men of Israel, helpe. This is the mā that teacheth al men euery wher against the people and the law, & this place. Moreouer also he hath brought grekes into the tēple, & hath polluted this holy place. For they saw one Trophimus an Ephesian w̄ him in the cytie. Hym they supposed paul had brought into the tēple. And al the citie was moued, & ỹ people swarmed together. And thei toke paul & drue hym out of the temple, and forthe wyth the dores were shut to.

As they wēt about to sle him, tidinges came vnto the hie captayne of the soudiers, that al Jerusalē was moued. Wyche immediatly toke soudiers & vndercaptaines, & ran doune vnto thē. Whē they saw the vpper captaine & the soudyers they left smiting of paul. Thē ỹ captaine came neare & toke him, & cōmaunded him to be boūd with .ii. chaines, & demaūded what he was, & what he had done. And one cried this, another ỹ amōge ỹ people. And when he could not knowe ỹ certaintie for the rage, he cōmaunded hi to be caried into ỹ castle. And when he came vnto a Grece, it fortuned that he was borne of the soudiers for the violēce of ỹ people. For the multytude of the people folowed after crying: away wyth him.

And as paul shuld haue bene caried into the castle, he sayd vnto the hye captayne: may I speake vnto the? Which sayde: Cāst thou speake Greke? Arte not ỹ that Egyptian which before these dates made an vproure, and ledde out into the wyldernes .iiii. thousand men that were mortherers? But paul sayd: I am a mā which am a Jewe of Tharsus a citie in Cicil a Citesin of no vyle citie, I beseech the suffre me to speake vnto the people. When he had geuen him licence, Paule stode on the steppes, & beckened w̄ thee hand vnto the people, & there was made a great silence. And he spake vnto them in the hebrue tonge saying.

¶ Paul answereth the Jewes, is scourged, and layd in prison agayne.

The. xxii. Chapter.

Men, brethren & fathers, heare mine āswere which I make vnto you. Whē they herd that he spake in the Ebrue tong to them, they kept the more silence. And he said: I am verely a mā which am a Jew borne in Tharsus, a cytie in Cicil: neuertheles yet brought vp in this citie, at the fete of Gamaliel, & informed diligently in the lawe of the fathers, & was feruent mīded to godwarde, as ye al are this same day, and * I persecuted thys waye vnto the deethe bynding & delyuering into presō both men & wemē, as the cheke prest doth beare me witnes, & al the elders of whom also I receued letters vnto the brethren, & went to Damasco to bringe them whych were there boūde vnto Jerusalem for to be punyshed. * acta. viii. & and. ix.

And it fortuned, as I made my iourney & was come nie vnto Damasco about none that sodenly ther shone frō heauen a great lyght rounde about me, & I fel vnto the erth, & herd a voyce saying vnto me. * Saul Saull, why persecutest ỹ me? And I answered: what art ỹ Lord? And he said to me: I am Jesus of Nazareth whom ỹ persecutest. And they that were w̄ me, saw verely a light and were afrayd: but they herd not the voyce of hi that spake w̄ me. And I said: what shal I do lord? And the Lord sayd vnto me: Arise & go into Damasco & ther it shalbe told the of al thynges which ar apointed for the to do. And when I saw not hi ge for the brightnes of the lyght, I was ledde by the hand of them that were w̄ me, and came into Damasco. * Actu. viii. a

And one Ananias a perfect man, & as pertaynyng to the lawe hauing good report of al the Jewes which there dwelt, came vnto me, & stode and said vnto me: Brother Saul, loke vp. And that same houre I receued my sight & saw hi. And he said, the god of our fathers hath ordeined ỹ before, that ỹ shuldest know his wil, & shuldest se that which is rightful, & shuldest heare the voyce of hys mouth for ỹ shalt be hys wytnes vnto all men of

of those thinges, which thou hast sene & heard. And now: why tarriest thou. Aryse and be baptised, and wesshe awaye thy synnes, in callynge on thee name of thee Lord. And it tortuned, when I was come agayne to Jerusalem & praide in the tẽple, that I was in a traunce, & saw him saying vnto me. Make haste, & gett thee E quyckly out of Jerusalem: for they wyl not receaue thy witnes that thou bearest of me. And I said: Lord they know that I presoned, & bet in euerye synagoge thẽ that beleued on the. And whẽ the bloude of thy witnes Steuẽ was shed, I also stode by, & cõsẽted vnto his deeth & kept the raymẽt of them ỽ slew hym. And he sayd vnto me: depart, for I wil sende the afarre hence vnto the Gentyls.

They gaue hi audyẽce vnto this worde, & then lyft vp their voyces & sayd: away wyth soch a felow from the erthe: it is pytie that he shuld lyue. And as they F cried & cast of their clothes, & threw duste into the ayer, the captaine bad him to be brought into the castle, & cõmaũded him to be scourged, & to be examined, that he might know wherfore they cried on him And as they bound him ỽ thõges, paul said vnto ỽ Centurion that stode by: Is it lauful for you to scourge a mã that is a Romayn & vncõdemned? When the Centurion herd that, he went, and told ỽ vpper Captayn saying. What intendest ỽ to do? This mã is a Romayne.

Then the vpper captayne came, & sayde to him: tell me, arte thou a Romayne: G he sayd: Ye. And the captayne ãswered: with a great some obtayned I this fredõ. And paul said: I was freborne. Thẽ straycht way departed from hym, they which shuld haue examined hym. And ỽ hye captayne also was afrayde. after he knewe that he was a Romayne: because he had bounde hym.

On the morow we because he wolde haue knowen thee certayntye wherefore he was accused of the Jewes, he lowsed hi from hys bondes, and commaunded the hye Prestes & al the councell to come together, & brought paul and sett hym before them.

¶ Paul cometh before the councel. Debate aryseth amõg the people, the Captayne deliuereth him. God comforteth hym.

The. xxiii. Chapter.

Paul beheld the cõcel & say A de: men and brethren, I haue liued in al good cõscience before God * vntyll thys Iosa.xxiij.b day. The hye prest Ananyas cõmaũded thẽ that stode by, to smyte him on the mouth. Then said paul to hi: God smite the thou painted wal. Sitest thou and iudgest me after the lawe: and cõmaundest me te be smitten contrary to the lawe? And they that stode by sayd: reuylest thou Goddes hye preste? Thẽ sayde paul: I wist not brethren ỽ he was the hye prest. For it is wrytten: ỽ shalte not curse the ruler of thy people.

Whẽ paul perceued that the one parte B were Saduces, & the other phartises: he cried out in the councel. Men & brethre, Phil.iij.b * I am a pharisay, the sonne of a pharisay. Of the hope & resurrection frõ deeth I am Judged. And when he had so sayde, ther arose a debate betwene the Pharisayes & the Saduces, and the multitude was deuided. For the Saduces say Mat.xxij.c that ther is no resurrectiõ, nether angell, nor spyrite. But ỽ phariseies graũt both. And ther arose a great crye, and the scribes which were of ỽ Pharisayes part, arose and stroue sayinge: we fynde none euyl in this man. Though a spyrite or an angell hath appered to hym, lette vs not stryue agaynst God.

And whẽ ther arose, greate debate, the C captaine featig lest paul shuld haue ben pluckt a sondre of them, cõmaunded the soudiers to go doune, & to take hi frõ amõg them & to bring him into ỽ castell. The nyght folowyng, god stode by him & sayd: be of good cheare paull: for as ỽ hast testifyed of me i Jerusalẽ, so must ỽ beare wytnes at Rome. Whẽ day was come, certaine of the Jewes gathered themselues to gether, and made a bow, sayinge, that they wold nether eat nor drynck tyl they had kylled paul. They were about. xl. which had made this cõspiracõ And they came to ỽ chefe preste & elders, and sayd: we haue bound our selues vnder D a bowe, that we wyll eate nothynge vntyl we haue slayne paul. Now therefore geue ye knowledg to the vpper captaine & to the councel, that he bryng him forth

vnto

vnto vs to morow, as though we wolde know some thyng more perfectly of him But we (or euer he come neare) are redy in the meane season to kyl hym.

When Pauls systers sonne heard of their laying awayte, he went and entred into the castle, and tolde paul. And paul called one of the vnder captaynes vnto him, and said: bryng thys younge man vnto the hye captayne: for he hath a certayne thyng to shew him. And he toke him & sayd: Paul the presoner called me vnto him, & prayed me to bryng this yōge man vnto the, which had a certaine matter to shewe the.

The hye captayne toke him by the hād & went a part wyth him out of ỹ waye: & asked him: what hast thou to saye vnto me? And he said: the Jewes are determined to desire the that thou woldest bryng forth paul to morow into the councel, as though they wold enquyre somwhat of him more perfectly. But folow not their myndes: for there lye in wayte for hym of them, mo then .xl. men, whyche haue bound them selues wyth a bowe, that they wyll nether eate nor drynke tyll they haue killed hym. And nowe are they redy, and loke for thy promes.

The vpper captayne let the yōge mā depart & charged hym: se thou tell it out to no man that thou haste shewed these thynges to me. And he called vnto hym two vnder captaines saying: make redy two hūdred soudiers to go to Cesarea & horsmen thre score & ten, & speare mē. lxx. hundred, at the thirde houre of the nyght And deliuer them beastes that they may put Paul on, and bryng hym safe vnto Felix the hye debyte, and wrote a letter in this maner.

Claudius Lisias vnto the most mighty ruler Felix, sendeth gretynges. Thys mā was take of the Jewes, & shuld haue bene kylled of thē. Then came I wt soudiers, & reskued him, & perceued that he was a Romane. And whē I wold haue knowē the cause, wherfore they accused hi, I broughte hym forth into their cōcel. There perceaued I that he was accused of questyons of their lawe but was not guilty of any thyng worthy of deth or of bondes. Afterward whē it was shewed me how that ỹ Jewes laid wait for the mā, I sent him straight way to the, & gaue comaundement to his accusers, yt they had oughte against him, to tel it vnto ỹ: fare wel. Thē ỹ soudiers as it was comaunded them, toke paul, & broughte him by nyght to Antipatras. On ỹ morow they lefte the horsmen to go wt him, & returned vnto ỹ castle. Which whē they came to Cesarea. they deliuered ỹ epistle to the debite, & presented Paul before hi. Whē the debite had redde the letter, he asked of what cōtre he was. And when he vnderstode ỹ he was of Cicil, I wyll heare the (saide he) when thyne accusars ar come also: & cōmaunded hi to be kept in Herodes pallys.

¶ Paul is accused before Felix, he answereth for hym selfe.

The.xxiiii. Chapter,

After fyue dayes, Ananyas ỹ hye prest descended, wyth elders & wt a certaine Oratour named Tartullus, and enformed ỹ ruler of Paul. Whē paul was called forth, Tartullus begā to accuse him saying: Seing ỹ we liue in great quietnes by ỹ meanes of ỹ, & that many good thinges are done vnto this nacīō thorow thy prouidēce: that alow we euer & in al places most mighty Felix wt al thanckes. Notwythstādyndyng, that I be not tedious vnto the, I pray the, that ỹ woldest heare vs of thy curtesy a few wordes.

We haue foūd this mā a *pestilent fellow, & a mouer of debate vnto al the Jewes thorow out the world, & a maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites, & hath also enforsed to pollute the tēple. Whō we toke & wold haue iudged accordyng to our law: but the hye captayne Lisias came vpō vs, & with great violēce toke hym away oute of our handes cōmaundyng hys accusers to come to the. Of whom ỹ mayst (yf thou wylte enquyre) know ỹ certaine of al these thīges wherof we accuse him. The Jewes likewyse affyrmed, saying that it was euen so.

Thē paul (after that the ruler him selfe had beckened vnto hi that he shuld speake) ānswered: I shal with the a more quyete minde ānswere for my selfe, for asmoche

* Psal. 5. & 11. & 139. b.

as I vnderstād ye thou hast bene of many yeres a iudge vntothis people, becau se that thou maist know that ther ar yet, D but .xii. dayes sence I went vp to Ieru-salem for to pray, & they nether foūd me in the temple dysputynge wyth any mā, ether rapsynge vp the people nether in ye Synagoges, nor in the cytye: Nether cā they reproue thee thynges whereof they accuse me.

But this I cōfesse vnto the, that after the way (which they cal heresye) so worship I the god of my fathers, beleuynge al thinges which ar writen in the lawe & ye prophetes & haue hope towardes god, that the same resurrectiō of ye deed (which they them selues loke for also) shalbe, both of iust & vniust. And therfore stodt
I to haue a cleare conscyence towarde god, and toward mā also.

But after many yeres I came & brought almes to my people & offeringes in the which they foūd me purified in ye tēple, nether with multitude, nor yet wt vn quietnes, howbeit ther were certaine Je-wes out of Asia, whych ought to be here present before the, & accuse me, yf they had ought against me, or els lett these same E here say, yf they haue founde anye euyll doyng in me, whyl I stāde here in ye coū-cell: except it be for thys one voyce, that I cryed standinge amonge them, of thee resurrectyō from deeth am I iudged of you thys daye.

Whē Felix herd these thinges, he defer
de them, for he knew very well of ye way, & sayde: when Lysias the captayne is co me, I wyll knowe the vtmoste of youre matters. And he commaūded an vnder captaine to kepe Paul and that he shuld haue rest, & that he shuld forbid none of F his acquayntaunce to mynister vnto hi, or to come vnto him.

And after certaine dales, came Felix
& his wife Drusilla which was a Jewe, & called forth paul, and heard him of the fayth which is toward chryst. And as he preached of righteousnes, temperāce, & iudgmēt to come, Felix trembled & āswe
G red: thou hast done ynough at thys time, depart, when I haue cōuenient tyme, I wil send for the. He hoped also ye money shuld haue beue geuē him of paul, that he might louse him: wherfore he called hi the oftener and comened with him. But after two yere. Festus Porcius came in to Felix rowme. And Felix wilīg to shew the Jewes a pleasure, lefte Paul in pre-son bounde.

¶ The Jewes accuse paul before Festus, he ap-pealethe vnto the Emperoure, and is sente vnto rome.

The .xxv. Chapter.

Whē Festus was come into ye prouince, after .iii. day-es, he ascended frō Cesarea vnto Jerusalē. Then enfor med him the hie prestes and the cheke of the Jewes of paul. And thei besought hym and desyred faueoure against hym, that he wolde sende for hym to Jerusalē: & layde awayt for hym in ye way, to kyll hym. Festus answered that paul shuld be kept at Cesarea: but that he hym self wold shortly depart thither.
Let them therfore (sayde he) which amō ge you ar able to do it, come downe with vs and accuse him, yf ther be anye faute in the man.

When he had taryed ther more thē ten B
dayes, he departed vnto Cesarea, & thee next day sate downe in the iudgmēt sea-te, & cōmaunded Paule to be broughte.
When he was come, the Jewes whyche were come frō Jerusalem, came aboute hym & layd many and greuous cōplain tes against paul, whych they couldē not prouе as longe as he answered for hym self, that he had nether agaynste the law of the Jewes, uether agaynste thee temple, nor yet agaynst Cesar offended any thynge at al.

Festus willing to do the Jewes a plea C sure āswered paul & sayde: wylt thou go to Jerusalem and there be iudged of the se thinges bef ore me? Then sayd paul:
I stand at Cesars iudgment seat. wher
I ought to be iudged. To the Jewes ha ue I no harme done, as thou verye wel knowest. If I haue hurte thē: or cōmit-ted any thyng worthy of deeth I refuse not to dye. If none of those thinges ar, wher of they accuse me, no mā ought to deliuer me to thē. I appeale vnto Cesar Then spake festus with delyberacion: & D answered. Thou hast apealed vnto Ce sar: vnto Cesar shalt thou go.

Aftes

After a certayne dayes, kynge Agrippa & Bernice came vnto Cesarea to salute Festus. And whē thei had bene ther a good ceasō, Festus rehersed paulscause vnto ỹ king saying: ther is a certaine mā left in prison of Felix, about whom whē I came to Jerusalem ỹ hye prestes & elders of the Jewes enformed me, & desired to haue iudgmēt against him. To whō I ānswered: It is not the maner of ỹ Romains to delyuer eny mā, ỹ he shulde perish, before that he which is accused haue the accusers before hym, & haue lycence to answere for him selfe cōcernynge ỹ crymelayd agaynst him: when they were comne hider wout delaye on the morowe I sate to geue iudgmēt, & cōmaunded the man to be brought forth. Against whō whē ỹ accusers stode vp, thei brought none accusatiō of soch thinges as I supposed: but had certaine questions agaynst hym of their owne superstition, & of one Jesus whych was deed whom Paul affirmed to be alyue. And because I douted of soche maner questiōs, I asked hym whether he wolde go to Jerusalem, & ther be iudged of these matters. Then when Paull had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledg of Cesar, I cōmaūded him to be kept, til I might send hym to Cesar. Agrippa sayde vnto Festus: I wold also heare the mā my selfe. To morow (said he) thou shalt heare hi. And on the morow when Agrippa was come and Bernice wythe greate pompe, & were entred into the coūcel house wyth the captaynes & chefe men of the citie, at Festus cōmaundement paul was brought forth. And Festus said: king Agrippa, & al men whiche are here presente wt vs: ye se this man about whom al ỹ multytude of thee Jewes haue bene wt me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to lyue any lēger. Yet founde I nothyng worthy of deeth that he had committed. Neuertheless seinge that he hath appealed to Cesar, I haue determined to send him. Of whō I haue no certaine thynge to wryte vnto my Lord. Wherfore I haue brought hī vnto you, & specially vnto the, king Agrippa, ỹ after examynacyon had, I myghte haue sumwhat to wryte. For me thinketh it vnreasonable, for to send a prisoner, & not to shewe the causes whych are layde agaynst hym.

¶ Kyng Agrippa heareth Paul, which telleth hi his callynge from the begynnynge.

The.xxvi. Chapter,

Agrippa sayd vnto paul: ỹ art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched forth ỹ hād, & ānswered for hym selfe. I thynke my selfe happy kynge Agrippa, because I shal answere this day before the, of al ỹ thynges wherof I am accused of the Jewes namely because ỹ art experte in all customes & questions, which at amōge the Jewes. Wherfore I beseche thee to heare me pacyently.

My lyuyng of a chyld, whych was at the fyrst amōg myne owne nacyō at Jerusalē know al the Jewes which knewe me from the begynnynyng, yf they wolde testify it. For after the most straitest sect of our lay, lyued I a pharyse. And now I stād & am iudged for the hope of the promes made of god vnto our fathers: vnto whych promes our xii. tribes instātly seruing god daye and nyghte hope to come. For whych hopes sake, kynge Agrippa, am I accused of ỹ Jewes. Why shuld it be thoughte a thynge incredible vnto you, that God shuld rayse agayne ỹ ded. I also verely thought in my self, that I ought to do many contrary thyngs, clene agaynst the name of Jesus of Nazareth: whych thyng I also did in Jerusalē. Wher many of the saītes I shut vp in prison, & had receaued auctorytye of the hye prestes. And when they were put to deeth, I gaue the sentence. And I punished them oft in euery synagoge, & compelled them to blaspheme: & was yet more mad vpō thē, & persecuted thē, euē vnto straunge cytyes. About which thinges as I wēt to Damosco wt auctorytye & lycence of the hye prestes, euē at mydday (o kyng) I saw in the way a lyght from heuen, aboue the brightnes of the sūne, shyne, roūd about me & thē which iorneyed wyth me.

When we were al fallen to the erthe, I heard a voyce speakyng vnto me, & sayīng in the Hebrew tong: *Saul, Saul, why

Actu. ix. & and. xxii. v.

why persecutest thou me? It is hard for the to kyck agaynst the pryncke. And I said: Who art thou lorde? And he sayde I am Jesus whō thou persecutest, but ryse & stād vp on thy fete. For I haue apered vnto the for this purpose, to make ȳ a mynister & a witnes both of those thinges which ȳ hast sene, & of those thinges in the which I wil apere vnto the, delyuering the frō the people, & frō ȳ gētyls, vnto which now I send the, to opē their eyes, ȳ they might turne frō darknes to lyghte, & from the power of Satā vnto god, that they may receaue forgeuenesse of sinnes & inheritaūce among the whiche are sāctyfyed by fayth in me.

F Wherfore king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heuenly vision: but shewed first vnto them of Damasco, & at Jerusalem, & thorow out al the costes of Jewry, & to the gentils, ȳ they shulde repent, & tourne to god, & do ȳ right works of repentaūce. For this cause the Jewes caught me in the tēple & wēt aboute to kil me. Neuertheles I obtained helpe of god & cōtinew vnto thys day witnessing both to smal & to greate saying none other thinges, then those whyche thee

G prophetes & Moses did say shuld come, that chryst shulde suffre, & that he shulde be the first that shuld ryse from deeth, & shuld shew lyght vnto the people, & to the gentils. And he thus āswered for hi selfe: Festus sayd w a lowd voice. Paul, thou arte besydes thy selfe. Moch learnyng hath made the mad. And paul sayde: I am not mad, most dere Festus: but speake the wordes of trueth and soberties. The king knoweth of these thiges, before whome I speake frely: nether thinke I that any of these thynges ar hiden frō him. For this thing was not done in a corner. Kyng Agrippa beleuest ȳ thee Prophetes? I wote wel thou beleueste. Agrippa sayde vnto Paul: Sumwhat thou bringest me in mynd for to become a chrysten. And Paul sayde: I wold to god that not only ȳ: but also al that heare me to daye, were, not sumwhat onelye but altogether soch as I am, except these bonds. And when he had thus spokē, the kyng rose vp, & the debyte, & Bernice, and they that sate wyth thē. And whē they were gone apart, they talked betwene them selues saying: This mā doeth nothing worthy of deeth, nor of bondes. Then sayde Agrippa vnto Festus: This mā might haue bene lowsed, yf he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

¶ Paul shyppyng toward Rome. Julius the captayne intreateth hym curteoully, at the last they suffre shyppwrake.

The.xxvii. Chapter.

A When it was cōcluded that we shuld sayle into Italye, they deliuered paul & certaine other pſoners vnto one named Julyus, an vnder captaine of Cesars soudiers. And we entred into a shyp of Adrametiū, & lowsed frō lāde: apoited to saile by the costes of Asia, one Aristarcus out of Macedonia of the contre of Thessalia: being w vs. And ȳ next day we came to Sidon. And Julius courteously entreted paul, & gaue him liberte to go vnto his frendes, & to refresh him selfe. And from thēce lanched we, & sayled hard by Cipers, because the windes were contrary. Then sayled we ouer the see of Cylicia, & Pāphylia, & came to Myra a citie in Lycia.

B And ther ȳ vnder captaine foūd a shyp of Alexāder, redy to sayle into Italye, & put vs therin. And when we had sayled slowly many daies, & scarce were come ouer against Gnidon (because ȳ wind w stode vs) we sailed hard by the costes of Candy, ouer against Salmo, & wythe moch work sailed beyōd it, & came vnto a place called goodport. Nie wher vnto was a citie called Lasea. When moch tyme was spēt & sayling was now troperdeous, because also ȳ we had ouerlonge fasted, Paul put them in remembraūce, C & said vnto them. Syrs, I perceiue that thys viage wilbe with hurt & moch domage, not of ȳ lading & shyp only: but also of our liues. Neuertheles the vnder captaine beleued ȳ gouerner & thee master, better thē the thingꝫ which were spokē of paul. And because the hauen was not cōmodius to witer in, many tooke counsel to depart thēce, yf by any meanes they might attaine to phenices & ther to witer which is an hauen of Cāndy, and serueth to the southwest and northwest wynde. When the south wind blew, they suppo-

synge

sting to obtayne their purpose lowsed vn to Asson, and sayled past al Candy.

But anone after, ther arose agaynst their purpose, a flaw of wynd out of the northeeste. And whē ỹ ship was caught & could not resist the wind, we let her go D & drawe wt ỹ wether. And we came vnto an yle named Clauda, & had moch work to come by a bote, whiche they toke vp & vsed help, vndergerding the ship, fearig lest we shuld haue fallē into Sirtes, & we let downe a vessel & so were carted. The next day whē we were tossed wt an exceding tēpest, they lyghtened ỹ ship, & the third day we cast out wt our owne hādes ỹ tackling of ỹ shippe. Whē at ỹ last neither sūne nor starre in many dayes apered & no smal tēpest lay vpō vs, al hope that we shuld be saued, was thē taken away. Then after long abstynence, Paul stode forth in the middes of thē & sayde: Syrs ye shuld haue harkened to me, & not haue lowsed from Candy, nether to haue brought vnto vs this harme & los. And now I exhort you to be of good chere. For ther shalbe no los of ani mās like amōg you, saue of ỹ ship only. For ther stode by me this night ỹ angell of God, whose I am, & whō I serue, sayig: feare not Paul for ỹ must be brought before Cesar. And lo, God hath geuen vnto the al ỹ sayle with the. Wherfore syrs be of E good chere: for I beleue god, ỹ it shalbe euē as it was told me. Howbeit we must be cast into a certayne ylonde.

But when ỹ fourtenth nyght was come as we were caried ī Adria about mid nyght, the shyppmen demed that ther apered some countre vnto them: & sounded, & found it. xx. feddoms. And when they had gone a litell further, they soūded againe, & found. xv. feddōs. Then fearig lest they shuld haue fallē on some rocke, they cast. iiii. ancres out of the sterne, & wysshed for the day. As the shipmen were about to fle out of the ship, & had lett doune ỹ bote into ỹ see, vnder a coulour as though they wold haue caste ancres out of the for shyp: Paul sayd vnto the vnder captaine & the Soudiers: except these abyde in the shyp, ye cānot be safe.
F Thē the Soudiers cut of the rope of ỹ bote, and let it fall awaye.

And in the meane time betwyxt that & day, Paul besought thē al to take meate, sayīg: this is ỹ fourtenth day ỹ ye haue taryed and cōtinued fastyng, receaui ge nothing at al. Wherfore I pray you to take meat: for this no dout is for your helth: for ther shal not an here fall from the heed of anye of you. And whē he had thus spokē, he toke breed & gaue thākes to god in presence of thē al, & brake it, & began to eate. Thē were they al of good cheare, and they also toke meat. We were altogether in the shyp, two hūdred. iii. score & sixtene soules. And whē they had eaten ynough, they lyghtened the ship, & cast out the wheate into the see.

When it was day, they knew not ỹ lā- G
de but thei spied a certaine hauē wt abāc ke into ỹ which they were mynded (yf it were possible) to thruste in the shyp. And whē they had takē vp ỹ ancres, they cōmitted thē selues vnto ỹ se, & lowsed ỹ rud der bōdes & hoysed vp ỹ maine sayle to the wind & drue to lād. But thei chaūsed on a place, which had ỹ see on both ỹ sydes, & thrust in ỹ ship. And the fooze part stuck fast & moued not but the hynder brake with the violence of the wawes.

The soudiers councel was to kil the presoners, lest anye of them, whē he had swome out shuld fle away. But ỹ vnder captayne wyllyng to saue Paull kepte thē frō their purpose, & cōmaunded ỹ they ỹ could swime shuld cast thē selues fyrste into thee see, and scape to lād. And the other he commaunded to go, some on bordes, and some on brokē peces of the shyp. And so it came to passe, ỹ they cam all safe to lande.

The Notes.

a* Lest we shuld haue fallen into Sirtes or perlouse sandy places in the see about the costes of Aphrica of thee nature of whirpoles,

¶ The vyper hurtethe not Paules hande, he healethe Publyus father, and preachethe Chryste at Rome.

The. xxviii. Chapter.

AND when thei were scaped, thē they knew that thee yle A was called Milete. And the people of ỹ countre shewed vs no lytel kidnes: for they kyndled a fyre & receaued vs euery one, because of the presēt rayne & because of the

the cold. And when paul had gathered a bōdel of stykes, and put them into thee
fire, ther cam a viper out of ꝑ heet & lept
on his hād. When the men of the coūtre saw the worme hang on his hād, they sai
de among them selues: this mā must ne-
des be a mortherer: whō (though he ha ue escaped the see) yet vengaūce suffreth
B not to live. But he shoke of the vermē into ꝑ fire & felt no harme. Howbeit they waited whē he shu d haue swolne, or fal len downe deed sodenly. But after they had loked a great while, & saw no harme
come to hym, they chaunged theyr mynd-
des, and sayd that he was a god.

In the same quarters the cheke mā of ꝑ
ple whose name was publius, had a lord ship: the same receued vs, and lodged vs
iii. dayes courteously. And it fortuned ꝑ
the father of publius lay sick of a feuer
and of a bloudy flixe. To whom paul en tred in & praide, and layd his handes on C hym and healed him. When this was done, other also which had dyseses in the ple, came and were healed. And they did vs great honour. And whē we departed,
they laded vs w̄ thynges necessarye.

Lucas paul ꝑple & gg was healed

Castor and Pollux the se in old tyme were esteamed as goddes: why the yf they appared both together were counten fauourable & lucky to mari ners

As trauelers the vses, ꝑ one after a nother, or but one all one, vnfortunate cru el. The owner of the ship carryed ꝑ badge of the, not with out great confydence therin nothing ꝑ tyrse it. Goddes wold ꝑser ver his vi ages because he honored the w̄ ꝑ ca ryed therof

After thre monethes we departed in a ship of Alexādry, which had wintred in ꝑ
ple, whose badge was Castor & Pollux.
And when we came to Siracusa, we tarri
ed ther. iii. dayes. And frō thence we fet a cōpasse & came to Regiō. And after one day ꝑ south wīd blew, & we came ꝑ next daye to Putiolus: whet we founde brethren, & were desyred to tary withe them
seuen dayes, & so came to roume. And frō thence, when the brethren herd of vs, thei
came against vs to Appiphorā, & to the. iii
tauernes. When paul saw them, he thāc ked god, & waxed bold. And whēthe came to roume, the vnder captayne delyuered ꝑ presoners to ꝑ chefe captaine of the host
but paul was suffred to dwel by hi selfe
with one Soudyer that kept hym.

And it fortuned after thre dates, ꝑ paul
called the chefe of the Iewes togeather.
And when they were come, he sayd vnto
them. Men and brethrē though I haue cōmitted nothing against ꝑ people or la
wes of our fathers: yet was I deliuered
presoner frō Jerusalem into the hādes
of ꝑ Romains. Which when they had eamined me wold haue let me go, because they foūd no cause of deethe in me. But when the Iewes cried cōtrary, I was cō strayned to appeale vnto Cesar: not because I had ought to accuse my people
of. For this cause haue I called for you,
euen to se you, & to speake with you: because that for the hope of Israel, I am bound with thys chayne.

And they sayde vnto hym: We nether receued letters out of Iewry pertaining
vnto the, nether came any of ꝑ brethren
that shewed or spake eny harme of thee.
But we wil heare of ꝑ what ꝑ thickeste.
For we haue herd of this sect, that euery
where it is spoken agaynst. And when they had apointed him a day, there came many vnto hi into his lodging. To whō
he expoūded & testified the kingdome of god, & preached vnto them of Jesu: both
out of the law of Moses & also out of ꝑ
prophetes, euē from mornyng to nyght.
And some beleued the thinges which we re spoken, & some beleued not.

When they agreed not amōg them sel
ues they departed, after that Paull had spoken one word. Well spake the holye
gost by Esay the prophet vnto oure fathers, sayinge: *Go vnto thys people &
say: w̄ your eares shal ye here, & shal not vnderstand: and w̄ your eyes shal ye se
and not perceaue.

Esaye. vi. & Mat. xiii. b Mar. iiii. b. Luk. viii. b Joha. xii. b

For the hert of this people is waxed
gros & their eare̅ were thick of hearing, &
their eyes haue they closed: lest they shul
de se w̄ their eyes. and heare with theyr
eares, & vnderstād with their hertes, and shuld be cōuerted, & I shuld heale them.
Be it knowen therfore vnto you, ꝑ thys
saluacyō of god is sent to the gentylles,
and they shall heare it. And when he had sayd that, the Iewes departed, and had great despycions among them selues.
And paul dwelt. ii. yeres ful in his lodging, & receued al that came to him, prea chynge the kyngdome of God, and teachynge those thinges whyche
concerned thee Lorde Jesus
with all confydence,
vnforboden.

Here endeth the Actes of ꝑ Apostles.

the cold. And when paul had gathered a bōdel of stykes, and put them into thee
fire, ther cam a viper out of ꝑ heet & lept
on his hād. When the men of the coūtre
saw the worme hang on his hād, they sai
de among them selues: this mā must ne-
des be a mortherer: whō (though he ha
ue escaped the see) yet vengaūce suffreth
B not to live. But he shoke of the vermē into ꝑ fire & felt no harme. Howbeit they waited whē he shu d haue swolne, or fal len downe deed sodenly. But after they had loked a great while, & saw no harme
come to hym, they chaunged theyr mynd-
des, and sayd that he was a god.

In the same quarters the cheke mā of ꝑ
ple whose name was publius, had a lord
ship: the same receued vs, and lodged vs
iii. dayes courteously. And it fortuned ꝑ
the father of publius lay sick of a feuer
and of a bloudy flixe. To whom paul en
tred in & praide, and layd his handes on C hym and healed him. When this was done, other also which had dyseses in the
ple, came and were healed. And they did vs great honour. And whē we departed,
they laded vs w̄ thynges necessarye.

Lucas paul ꝑple & gg was healed

Castor and Pollux the se in old tyme were esteamed as goddes: why the yf they appared both together were counten fauourable & lucky to mari ners

As trauelers the vses, ꝑ one after a nother, or but one all one, vnfortunate cru el. The owner of the ship carryed ꝑ badge of the, not with out great confydence therin nothing ꝑ tyrse it. Goddes wold ꝑser ver his vi ages because he honored the w̄ ꝑ ca ryed therof

After thre monethes we departed in a
ship of Alexādry, which had wintred in ꝑ
ple, whose badge was Castor & Pollux.
And when we came to Siracusa, we tarri
ed ther. iii. dayes. And frō thence we fet a cōpasse & came to Regiō. And after one day ꝑ south wīd blew, & we came ꝑ next
daye to Putiolus: whet we founde brethren, & were desyred to tary withe them
seuen dayes, & so came to roume. And frō
thence, when the brethren herd of vs, thei
came against vs to Appiphorā, & to the. iii
tauernes. When paul saw them, he thāc ked god, & waxed bold. And whēthe came to roume, the vnder captayne delyuered ꝑ
presoners to ꝑ chefe captaine of the host
but paul was suffred to dwel by hi selfe
with one Soudyer that kept hym.

And it fortuned after thre dates, ꝑ paul
called the chefe of the Iewes togeather.
And when they were come, he sayd vnto
them. Men and brethrē though I haue
cōmitted nothing against ꝑ people or la
wes of our fathers: yet was I deliuered
presoner frō Jerusalem into the hādes
of ꝑ Romains. Which when they had eamined me wold haue let me go, because they foūd no cause of deethe in me. But when the Iewes cried cōtrary, I was cō
strayned to appeale vnto Cesar: not because I had ought to accuse my people
of. For this cause haue I called for you,
euen to se you, & to speake with you: because that for the hope of Israel, I am
bound with thys chayne.

And they sayde vnto hym: We nether
receued letters out of Iewry pertaining
vnto the, nether came any of ꝑ brethren
that shewed or spake eny harme of thee.
But we wil heare of ꝑ what ꝑ thickeste.
For we haue herd of this sect, that euery
where it is spoken agaynst. And when they had apointed him a day, there came
many vnto hi into his lodging. To whō
he expoūded & testified the kingdome of
god, & preached vnto them of Jesu: both
out of the law of Moses & also out of ꝑ
prophetes, euē from mornyng to nyght.
And some beleued the thinges which we re spoken, & some beleued not.

When they agreed not amōg them sel
ues they departed, after that Paull had spoken one word. Well spake the holye
gost by Esay the prophet vnto oure fathers, sayinge: *Go vnto thys people &
say: w̄ your eares shal ye here, & shal not vnderstand: and w̄ your eyes shal ye se
and not perceaue.

Esaye. vi. & Mat. xiii. b Mar. iiii. b. Luk. viii. b Joha. xii. b

For the hert of this people is waxed
gros & their eare̅ were thick of hearing, &
their eyes haue they closed: lest they shul
de se w̄ their eyes. and heare with theyr
eares, & vnderstād with their hertes, and
shuld be cōuerted, & I shuld heale them.
Be it knowen therfore vnto you, ꝑ thys
saluacyō of god is sent to the gentylles,
and they shall heare it. And when he had sayd that, the Iewes departed, and had
great despycions among them selues.
And paul dwelt. ii. yeres ful in his lodging, & receued al that came to him, prea
chynge the kyngdome of God, and
teachynge those thinges whyche
concerned thee Lorde Jesus
with all confydence,
vnforboden.

Here endeth the Actes of ꝑ
Apostles.

¶ The Prologe of the Epistle of Saint Paul to the Romaynes.

FOr as moch as this Epistle is the pryncipall and most excellent part of the newe Testament and most pure Euangelion, that is to saye, glad tidinges, and that we cal Gospel, and also a lighte and a waye in, vnto the whole scripture, I thinke it mete ꝑ euery Christen man not only knowe it by rote & without the boke: but also exercise hi selfe therin euermoze continually as with the dayly breade of the soule. No man verely can rede it to ofte oz study it to wel: for the moze it is studyed the ealier it is, the moze it is shewed, the pleasanter it is, & the mozeg roundely it is serched, the prerioser thinges are found in it, so great treasure of spiritual thinges lieth hid therin.

I will therfoze bestowe my labour & diligence, thozowe this lytell preface oz prologe, to prepare a way in ther vnto, so farfozth as God shal geue me grace, that it may be the better vnderstanded of euerye man. Foz it hath bene hetherto euel darckened wꝫ glotes and wonderful dreames of Sophisters that no mā coulde spye out the entent and meaning of it. Which neuertheless yet of yt selfe, is a bryght lyght, & sufficiēt to geue lighte vnto al the scripture.

Fyrst we must marke diligently the maner of speakinge of the Apostel, and aboue al thinge knowe what Paule meaneth by these wozdes, the Lawe, Synne, Grace, Fayth, Rightcousnes, Flesh, Spirite & soche lyke, oz els rede thou it neuer so ofte, thou shalt but lose thy labour. This wozde lawe maye not bee vnderstand here after the commune maner and so vse Paules terme, after the maner of men oz after mans wayes, that thou woldest saye the lawe here in this place where nothig but lerninge which teacheth what ought to be done and what ought not to be done, as it goeth wyth mannes law, where the law ys fulfilled with outwarde wozkes only, though the hert be neuer so farre of. But God iudgeth the grounde of the herte ye & the thoughtes and the secret mouinges of the minde, and therfoze his lawe requireth the grounde of ꝑ herte and loue from the botome there of and is not content with the outwarde wozcke only: but rebuketh those wozckes most of al which spryngе not of loue from the grounde & lowe botome of ꝑ hezte, though thei appere outwarde neuer so honest and good. As Christ in the Gospel rebuketh ꝑ Phareses aboue al other that were open synners, and calleth them ypocrites, that is to saye dyssemblers & paited sepulcres which pharises yet liued no man so pure: as pertayneth to the outwarde dedes & wozckes of the lawe: ye & Paull in the thirde Chapter of his Epistell vnto the Philippians confesseth of hi self, that as touchyng the lawe he was soch a one as no man could cōplayne on & not wtstāding was yet a murderar of ꝑ Christen persecuted them and tozmented them so soze that he compelled them to blaspheme Christ, & was al together merciless, as many which now kayne outward good wozckes are,

The law of God requireth loue,

Howe Paul vseth certein wozdes must be dilygently vnderstāde

Foz this cause the. xiv. Psalme calleth al men lyars, because that no man kepeth ꝑ lawe frō ꝑ groūde of the herte nether can kepe it though he appeare outwarde full of good wozckes.

Foz al men are naturally enclyned vnto euel and hate the lawe: we finde in oure selues vnlust & tediousnes to do good, but lust & delectacion to do euel: Now wher no fre lust is to do good, there the botome of the hert fulfylleth not the lawe: & ther no doubt is also synne, & wzath is deserued before God, though ther be neuer so great outward shewe and apperaunce of honest liuynge. Foz this cause concludeth saint Paul in the seconde Chapter, ꝑ the Jewes are al sinners and transgressoz of the law, though they make men beleue, thozowe ypocrisy of outwarde wozckes, how that they fulfil the lawe, & sayeth that he only which doth the lawe is righteous before God, meanynge therby that no man wyth outwarde wozkes fulfylleth the lawe.

Thou sayth he, to the Jewe teachest a man shulde not breake wedlocke and yet breakest wedlocke thy selfe, where in thou iudgest an other man, there in condemnest thou thy self, foz thou thy selfe doest euen the very same thinges whiche thou iudgest. As though he wolde saye, thou lyuest outwardly wel in the wozckes of the lawe, and iudgest them that liue not so. Thou teachest other men, and seest a mote in ā other mans eye, but art not ware of the beame that is in thyne awne eye. Foz though ꝑ kepe the law outwardly with wozkes, foz feare of rebuke, shame & punischement, other foz loue of reward vauntage & vayne glory, yet doest thou al without, lust and loue towarde the lawe: and haddest leuer a greate deale oherwise do it ꝑ dedest not feare the lawe: ye inwardly in thine herte, thou woldest ꝑ there were no lawe, no nozyet God, the auctoz and vengear of the lawe, yf it were possible: so paynefull it is vnto the: to haue thyne appetites rekrayned. & to be kepte doune. Wherfoz then it is a playne conclusion that thou from the groundeād botome of thine hert, arte an enemy to the law, what preuayleth it now, that thou teachest an other man not to steale, when thou thyne owne selfe arte a thefe yn thyne herte, and outwardlye woldeste fayne steale yf thou durst, thoughe that the outwarde dedes abyde not awaye behinde with soche ypocrytes and dyssymulars, but breake foz th, amonge euen as an euell scabbe oz a pocke cannot alwayes be kept in wꝫ vyolēce of medicyne.

Thou teachest another man, but teachest not thi selfe ye thou woldest not what thou teachest. foz ꝑ vnderstandest not the lawe aright, how that it cannot be fulfilled and satisfied, but wꝫ an vnfayned loue & affliccion, so greatly it cannot be fulfilled wꝫ outwarde dedes and wozkes only. Moreouer ꝑ lawe encreaseth synne as he sayth in the fifte Chapter, because that man is an enemy to the lawe foz as moch as it requireth so many thinges clene contrarie to his nature, whereof he is not able to fulfyll one poynte oz tytle, as the lawe requireth it. And therefoze are we moare prouoked, and haue greater lust to breake it. Foz which causes sake as he sayth in the seuenth Chapter, that the law is spiritual though he wold saye, yf the lawe were fleshly and but mans doctzine, it myght be fulfilled, satisfied and stilled wyth outwarde dedes.

The lawe encreaseth sinne

But nowe is the lawe goostly, and no man fulfilleth it except that al that he doth, spryngе of loue frō ꝑ botom of the hert. Such a new hert & lusty corage vnto the lawward, canst ꝑ neuer com by of thine owne

The spyrit is required yet

strenght and enfozcement, but by the operacion and wozking of the spyrite. Foz the spyrite of God only maketh a man spyritual and lyke vnto the lawe, so that now hencefozth he doeth nothing of fear oz foz lucre vauntages sake oz vayne glory, but of a fre herte and of inwarde lust. The lawe is spiritual and wilbe the lawe. both loued and fulfilled of a spiritual hert, and therfoze of necessite requireth it the spyrite that maketh a mannes hert fre, and geueth him lust and courage vnto the lawwarde. Where soch a spyrit is not, there remayneth sinne, grudgyng and hatered agaynst the lawe, which lawe neuertheless is good righteous and holy.

Acquaynte thy selfe therfoze with the manner of speakinge of the Apostel, and let this new styke fast in thine herte. that it is not both one to do dedes and wozckes of the lawe and to fulfil the lawe. The wozcke of the lawe is what soeuer a man doth oz can do of his owne fre wyl, of his owne proper strēghte and enfozcing. Notwithstanding thought there be neuer so greate wozkinge yet as long as there remayneth in the herte vnlust, tediousnes, grudginge, grief, payne lothsumnes and compulsion towarde the lawe so long are al the wozkes vnprofitable, lost, ye & damnable in the syght of God. This meaneth Paul in the thirde Chapter where he sayeth, by the dedes of the lawe shal no flesh be iustified in the sight of god. Perceaueste thou that those sophisters are but dysceauers with teache that a man may and must prepare tyme, the cause is, that the flesh thorow negligence hath choked the spirite, and oppressed her and taken frō her ꝑ fode of her strenght with the fode of her meditacion in God and in hys wonderful deades, and in the manifolde couenauntes of hys mercye.

To do ꝑ dedes of ꝑ lawe & to fulfyll ꝑ lawe are two thynges.

Wherfore then before all the good workes as good frutes, there must nedes be faith in the herte whēce they spring. And before all bad dedes as bad frutes, there must be vnbeleke in the herte, as in the roote, fountayn, pyth and strenght of all synne. Which vnbeleke, and ignorannce is called the heade of the Serpent, and of the olde dragon, which the womans sede Christ must treade vnder foote, as it was promysed vnto Adam. Grace and gifte haue hys difference. Grace properly is Goddes fauoure, beneuolence or kind mynde, which of hys owne selfe, without deseruinge of vs, he beareth to vs, wherby he was moued and enclyned to geue Christ vnto vs, wyth all hys other gyftes of grace. Gift is the holy ghost and hys worcking wherby he powreth into the hertes of them, on whome he hath mercye, and whome he fauoureth. Thoughe the gyft of the spirite, encrease in vs dayly, and haue not yet theyr full perfection: yea and though there remayne in vs yet euell lustes and synne, which fyght agaynst the spirite, as he sayth here in the, vii, chapt. and in the, v, to the, Galathyans, and as it was spoken before in the, iii, Chapter of Genes, of the debate betwene the womans sede, and the seede of the serpent: yet neuerthelesse Goddes fauoure is so greate and so stronge ouer vs for Christes sake that we are counted for full, hole and perfecte before God. For Goddes fauoure towarde vs, dwelleth not her selfe, encreasing a lytle & a lytle, as do the gyftes, but receaueth vs hole and altogether in full loue for Christes sake oure intercessour and mediator, and because that the gyftes of the spirite and battayle betwene the spirite and euell lustes, are begonne in vs already.

Grace

Gifte.

Of thys now vnderstandest thou the, vii. Chapter, where Paull accuseth hym selfe as a synner, & yet in the, viii. chapt, sayeth, there is no dampnacion to them that are in Christe, and that because of the spirite, & because the gyftes of the spirite are begon in vs. Sinners we are because the flesh is not full kylled and mortified. Neuertheles in as much as we beleue in Christ, and haue the earnest and beginninge of the spirete, and wold fayne be perfecte. God is so louinge and fauorable vnto vs, that he wyll not loke on suche synne, neyther wyll counte it for synne, but wyl deale wyth vs accordynge to oure beleke in Christe, and accordinge to hys promyses, which he hath sworne to vs, vntyll the synne be slayne and mortyfyed by death.

Faythe is not mans opynion and dreame, as some ymagyne and fayne, when they heare the storye of the Gospell, whych when they se that there followe no good workes nor mendement of lyuinge, though they heare, and yet can bable many thynges of fayth, then they fall from the righte waye and say, fayth onelye iustifieth not, a man must haue good workes also, if he wylbe righteous and safe. The cause is when they heare the gospell or glad tydinges, they fayne of theyr owne strenght certayn imaginacions, & thoughtes in theyr hertes, saiyng: I haue herd the gospell, I remēbre ꝑ story, lo I beleue. And ꝑ they counte right fayth, wich neuertheles as it is but mās imaginatiō & fayning, euen so profiteth it not, neither folowe ther any good workes or mendement of lyuīg but right faith is a thing wrought bythe holy gost in vs, which changeth vs, turneth vs into a new nature, & begetteth vs anew in god, and maketh vs the sonnes of god, as thou redest in the .i. of Johan, and kylleth ꝑ olde Adam, and maketh vs altogether newe in the herte, minde, will, luste and in all oure affections and powers of the soule, the holy goste euen accompanynge her and rulinge the herte. Faith is a lyuely thinge mighte in worckinge, valeaunt and stronge, euer doinge, euer frutefull so that it is vnpossible that he which is endued therwith shulde not worke alwayes good workes without ceasinge. He asketh not whether good workes are to be done or not, but hath don them already, per mōcion be made of them, and is alway doinge, for such is hys nature, now quicke fayth in hys herte, and lyuely mouinges of the spirite, dryue hym, and stirre hym thervnto. Who soeuer doth not good workes, is an vnbeleuing person and faythlesse, and loketh rounde about, gropinge after fayth and good workes, and woteth not what fayth and good worckes meane, though he bable neuer so many thynges of fayth and good workes.

Faith is not the worke of man.

Right fayth is ꝑ worcking of ꝑ spirite of god.

Fayth is then a lyuelye and stedfaste trust in the fauor of god, wherwith we commit our selues altogether vnto god, & that trust, is so surely grounded and sticketh so fast in our hertes, that a man wold not one dout of it, thoughe he shoulde dye, a thousand tymes therfore. And suche trust wrought by the holy goost thorow fayth, maketh a man glad, lusti, cherefull and true herted vnto god and to all creatures. By the meanes whereof willingly without compulsion he is glad and redy to do good to euery mā, to do seruyce to euerye man, to suffre all thinges, that god maye be loued and praysed, which hath geuen hym such grace: so that it is impossible to separate good workes from fayth, euen as it is impossible to separate heate and burninge from fyre. Therfore take hede to thy selfe, and beware of thyne owne fantasies, and ymaginacions, whyche to iudge of fayth and good workes wyll seme wyse, when inde de they are stark blinde of all thinges most folysh. Praye god that he wyll wite safe to worcke faythe in thyne herte, or els shalte thou remayne euer more faythlesse, fayne thou, ymagine thou, enforce thou, wrastell thou wt thy selfe, and do what thou wylt or canst.

Fayth what it is.

Righteousnes is euen such fayth, and is called Goddes righteousnes, or righteousnes that is of valoure before god. For it is goddes gyfte, and it altereth a man, and chaungeth hym to a newe spiritual nature, and maketh him free and lyberall to paye euery man hys dutie. For thorowe fayth is a man purged of his synnes, and obtaineth luste vnto the lawe of god, wherby he geueth god hys honoure, and payeth hym that he oweth hym, and vnto men he doth seruis wyllingly wherwithe soeuer he can: and payeth euerye man his dutie. Suche righteousnes can nature, frewyll and oure owne strenght neuer bringe to passe. For as no man can geue hym selfe fayth, so can he not take awaye vnbeleke, how then can he take away any thig at all. Wherfore all is falle ypocrysy and sinne, what soeuer is done without faithe, or in vnbeleke, as it is euident in the xiiii. Chapter vnto the Romaines, thoughe it appeare neuer so glorious of beautyfull outwardes.

Faith is righteousnes.

Flesche and spryte mayest thou not here vnderstande, as thought flesche were only ꝑ which pertayneth vnto vnchastite, & the spryte, which inwardly pertayneth to the herte: but Paul calleth flesh here, ꝑ as Christ doth Iohn iii. All ꝑ is borne of flesche ꝑ is to wete the whole mā with lyfe, soule, body, witte, wil, reason & whatsoeuer he is, or doth Win & Wour: because that those al & al that is in man studyeth after the worlde & the flesche. Cal flesche therfore what soeuer (as longe as we are without the spryte of god) wethin he or spe- ke of god, of fayth of good workes and of spiritual matters, Call flesh also all workes whyche are done without grace and without the worcking of the spryte, how soeuer good holy and spirituall they seme to be, as thou mayest proue by the, v Chapter vnto the Galathians, where Paul numbreth worshipping of Idoles, witchcraft, enuy and hate, among the deds of the flesche, and by the .viii. vnto the Romaynes, where he sayeth that the lawe by the reason of the flesh is weake. Which is not vnderstande of vnchastite eyeonely, But of al synnes, and mooste specially of vnbeleke, whych is a vyce most spirituall, and ground of all synnes.

Faith what it is.

And as thou callest hym which is not renewed with the spirite and borne agayne in Christ, flesche: and all his dedes, euen the very mocions of his hert and mynde, hys learnyng, doctrine and contemplacion of hye thinges, hys preachinge, teachinge and study in the scripture, buylding of churches, foundinge of Abbeyes, geuinge of almes, masse, mattence and what soeuer he doth, though it seme spirituall and after the lawes of god: So contrary wyse call hym spirituall, which is renewed in Christ and all hys dedes, which springe of fayth seme they neuer so grosse, as the washinge of the disciples fete, done by Christ, and Peters fyshing after the resurrection, yea and al the dedes of matrimony are pure spyrituall, yf they proceade of fayth and what soeuer is done wythin the lawes of God, though it be wrought by the body, as the very wyping of shewes, and suche lyke, how soeuer grosse they appeare outwarde. Without suche vnderstandinge of these wordes canst thou neuer vnderstand thys epistle of Paul, nether any other place in the holy scripture. Take hede therfore, for who soeuer vnderstandethe these wordes otherwyse, the same vnderstandethe not Paull: what soeuer he be. Nowe wyll we prepare our selues vnto the Epistle.

The, i, Cha. For as much as it becommeth the preacher of Christes glad tydinges, fyrst thorow openinge of the lawe, to rebuke all thinges, and to proue all thinges synne, that proceade not of the spirite and of fayeth in Christ, & to proue all men sinners and chylderen of wrath by enheritaunce, and how that to synne is their nature, and that by nature they can none other wyse do then synne, and therwith to abate the pryde of mā and to bringe hym vnto knowledge of hym selfe, and to mysery and wretchednes, that he myght desyre helpe. Euen so doth sainct Paull, and beginneth in the fyrst Chapter to rebuke vnbeleefe and grosse sinnes, wyych all men se, as ydolatry, and as the grosse synnes of the heathen were, and as the synnes nowe are of all them which lyue in ignorauunce without fayth, and without the fauoure of God, and fayth. The wrath of the God of heauen appeareth thorow the gospell vpon all men for theyr vngodlynes and vnholy lyuing. For though it be knowen and daylye vnderstande by the Creatures, that there is but one God, yet is nature of herselfe without the spriete and grace, so corrupt and so poysoned that, men neither can thā ke hym, ner worshyp him, neither geue hym his due honoure, but blynde them selues and fall wythout ceasing into worse care, euen vntyll they come vnto worshipping of ymages and worcking of shameful synnes, which are abhominable and agaynst nature. and moreouer suffre the same vnrebuked in other, hauinge delectacion and pleasure therin: In the. ii. Chapter, he proceadeth further, and rebuketh al those holye people also which without lust and loue to the lawe, lyue well outwardly in the face of the worlde and condemne other gladly, as the nature of all ypocrites is, to thinke them selues pure in respect of open sinners and yet hate the lawe inwardly, and are ful of couetousnes and enuy and of al vncleanes, Math. xxiii. these are they wyych despise the goodnes of god, and accordinge to the charges of theyr hertes, heape together for them selues the wrath of god, Furthemore sayn t Paul as a true expounder of the lawe, suffreth no man to be withoute synne, but declareth that all they are vnder synne whych of frewyll and of nature will liue well and suffreth them not to be better then the open sinners. yea he calleth thē hard hazted & such as cannot repente. The. ii. cha,

In the. iii. Chapter he mingleth together bothe the Iewes and the Gentyles, & saieth that the one is as the other both sinners, and no difference betwene them, saue in this onely, that ꝑ Iewes had the worde of God comitted vnto them. And though many of theym beleued not theron, yet is Goddes truthe and promyse therby, nether hurt nor minished, and he taketh in his way & allegeth the saieing of the. l. Psal. ꝑ God which might abyde true in hys wordes and ouercome whē he is Judged: After ꝑ he returneth to his purpose agayn & proueth by ꝑ scriptur, ꝑ al men wtout differēce or exceptiō are sinners and that by the workes of the lawe no man is iustifyed: but that the lawe was geuen to vtter and declare synne only. Then he begynneth and sheweth the right waie vnto rightwesnes, by what meanes mē must be made righteous and sake, & sayeth. They are al sinners & without praise before God, and must without their owne deseruing be made righteous thorow fayth in Christ, wyych hath deserued such ryghtwesnes for vs and is become vnto goddes mercy stole for the remission of sinnes that are past, therby prouynge ꝑ Christes righteousnes which commeth on vs thorow faith, helpeth vs only. Which righteousnes, saith he is now declared thorow the gospel, and was testyfied of before by the lawe of the Prophets. Furthermor (sayth he) the lawe is holye ād iust thorow fayth, though ꝑ the workes therof wt al their boste are brought to naught and proued not to iustyfye. Third cha'. The lawe iustifieth not: but vttereth the synne onely and condemneth.

In the. iiii, Chapter (after that now by the. iii. fyrste Chapters, the synnes are opened, and the waie of fayth vnto ryghtwesnes layd) he begynneth to answere vnto certayne obiections & cauillacions. And fyrst he putteth forth those blynde reasons, wyych commenly they that wyl be iustified by their owne workes, are wonte to make when they here that faith only with out workes, iustifieth, sayinge: shall men do no good workes, ye and yf fayth only iustifie, what nedeth a man to study for to do good workes. He putteth forth therfore Abraham for an ensample, saying, what dyd Abraham wt his workes? was all in vayne, came his workes to no profite? and so concludeth ꝑ Abrahā wout and before al workes was iustyfyed and made righteous. In so muche that before the workes of circumcyslon he was prayed of the scripture and called righteous by his fayth onely, Gene. xv. So that he dyd not the worke of circumcyslon for to beholde therby vnto righteousnes, which yet god commaunded him to do, & was a good worke of obedyence. So in like wyse no doute none other workes helpe any thyng at al vnto a mans iustifyeng, but as Abrahams circumcyslon was an outwarde sygne wherby he declared his righteousnes wyche he had by faith, and hys obedyence and readynes vnto the wyl of God, euen so are other good workes outwarde syknes and outward frutes of fayth and of the spryte, which iustify not a man, but that a man is iustyfied al ready before God inwardly in the hert, thorow faith and thorow the spriete purchased by Christes bloud. Here wt now stablisheth sainct Paul his doctrine of fayth afore rehersed in the. iii. Chaptre, and bringeth also testimony of Dauid in the. xiii. Psal, which calleth a man blessed, not of workes, but in that his sinne is not rekened and in that fayth is imputed for righteousnes, though he abyde not afterwarde wout good workes, when he is once iustified. For we are iustified and receaue the spryte for to do good workes, ether were it, otherwyse possible to do good workes, except we had fyrst the spriete. The. iiii. Chap

For howe is it possible to do any thynge well in the sighte of God, while we are yet in the captiuite & bondage vnder ꝑ deuel, & the deuel possesseth vs altogether & holdeth our hertes, so that we cānot once consent vnto ꝑ wyl of god. No man therfore can preuent the spryte in doing good, but the spryte must fyrst come and wake hym out of his slepe, & wyth the thunder of the lawe feare hym, and shew him his myserable estate & wretchednes, & maketh him abhorre & hate hym selfe & to desyre helpe, & then comforte him agayne with ꝑ plesant rayne of the Gospell that is to saye wt the swete promises of God in Christ, & stere vp faith in hym to beleue the promises. Then when he beleueth the promises, as god was merciful to promyse, so is he true to fulfyl them, & wyl geue him the spryte and strength, both to loue the wyll of God and to worck ther after. So se we that god onely which according to the scrypture worketh al in all thinges

ges worketh a mans iustifieng, saluacion and health, yea and powzeth faith and beleke, lust, to loue Godes wyl, and strength to fulfyl the same, into vs, euen as water is poured into a vessel, & that of hys good wyl and purpose and not of our deseruynges and merites. Goddes mercy in promisynge, and truethe in fulfyllynge his promyses saueth vs and not we our selues. And therfore is al laude, prayse, and glorye, to be geuen vnto god for hys mercy and trueth, and not vnto vs for our merites and deseruinges. After that he stretcheth his ensamples out against al other good workes of the lawe, & concludeth that the Jewes can not be Abrahams heyres because of bloud and kynred only, and much lesse by the workes of the law, but must inheret Abrahās faith, yf they wyl be the ryght heyrs of Abraham, for as much as Abraham before the lawe, both of Moses and also of circumcysion, was thorow fayth made ryghtwes, ād called ẏ father of al them that beleue, and not of them that worke. Moreouer the lawe causeth wrath, in as much as no man can fulfyl it wyth loue and lust. And as longe as suche grudgyng, hate, and indignacion against the lawe remayneth in the herte, and is not taken awaye by the spyrete, that cometh by fayth, so long, no dout, the Workes of the lawe, declare euydently that the wrath of God is vpon vs and not fauoure. Wherfor fayth onely receaueth the grace promysed vnto Abraham. And these ensamples were not wrytte for Abrahams sake only, sayth he, but for oure also to whom if we beleue, fayth shalbe reken̄ed lyke wyse for righteousnes, as he sayth in the ende of the Chapter.

In the. v. Chapter he commendeth the frutes or workes of faith, as are peace, reioysing in the cō science, inward loue to God, and man, more ouer boldnes, trust, confidence and a strong and lusty mind ād stedfaste hope in tribulacyon and sufferinge. For al such folow, where the right fayth is for the abundante graces sake and gyftes of the spyrete, which God hath geuen vs in Jesu Christe, in that he gaue him to dye for vs yet his enemises. Now haue we then that faith only before al workes iustifieth. and that it followeth not yet therfor that a man shuld do no good workes, but that the right shapen workes abyde not behinde, but accompany faith, euen as brightnes doth the sonne, and are called of Paul the frutes of the spyrete. Where the spyrete is, there it is al waies somer and there are al wayes good frutes, that is to saye: good workes. Paules ordre is that good workes spryng of the spyryte, the spyrite commeth by fayth and fayth commeth by hearyng the worde of God, when the glad tydynges and promyses which God hath made to vs in Christe, are preached truely, and receaued in the grounde of the hert with out waueringe or doutyng, after that the lawe hath passed vpon vs and hath damned our conscyences. Where ẏ worde of God is preached purely and receaued in the herte, there is fayth and the spyryte of god, and there are also good workes, of necessityte whensoeuer occasyon is geuen: where goddes word is not purely preached but mens dreames, tradycyons/ymagynacyons, instrucyons, ceremonyes & superstycon, there is on fayth: and consequently no spryte that commeth of god. And where Goddes spryte is not, there can be no good workes, euē as wher ā appel tre is not, there can growe no appel, but there is vnbeleke, the deuels spryte & euel workes. Of thys goddes spryte & his frutes, haue oure holy ypocrytes once known, neither yet tasted how swete they are, though they fayne many good workes of their owne ymagynacyons, to be iustyfyed with al, in which is not one crome of true fayth of spyrytual loue, or of in warde ioye, peace & quietnes of conscyence, for as moch as they haue not the word of god for them, that soch workes please god, but they are euen the roten frutes of a roten tre.

The. v. chap

Good workes are the frutes of the spryte.

After that he breaketh forth, and runneth at large and sheweth whence doth synne and ryghteousnes death and lyfe come. And he cōpareth Adam and Christ to gether, thus wyse reasonynge and disputynge that Christ most neades come as a second Adam to make vs heyres of his ryghtewesnes thorow a newe spyrytuall byrth wythout oure deseruynges euen as the fyrst Adam made vs heyres of synne thorowe the bodely generacyon wythout our deseruinge. Whereby it is euydently knowen & proued to the vttermost that no man can bringe hym selfe oute of synne vnto ryghtwesnes, no more then he could haue withstand that he was borne bodely. And that is proued herewyth, for as moche as the verye lawe of God which of ryghte shulde haue holpe, & any thynge coulde haue holpen, not only came and brought no helpe wyth hyr, but also increased synne, because that the euel and poysoned nature is offended and vtterly displeased with the lawe & the more she is forbyd by the lawe, the more is she prouoked and set on fyre to fulfyl & satysfy hyr lustes. By the lawe then we se clearly that we must nedes haue Christ to iustify vs wyth his grace, and to helpe nature.

In the. vi. he setteth forth the chefe and prynceppal worke of fayth/the batayll of the spryte agaynste the flesh, how the spryte laboureth & enforceth to kyll the remnaunt of synne and lust whych remaine in the flesshe, after our iustifyenge. And this Chapter teacheth vs, that we are not so free from sinne thorow fayth, that we shulde hence forth go vp & down ydle, carles & sure of our selues, as though ther were now no more synne in vs: yes there is synne remaynynge in vs, but it is not reken̄ed, because of fayth and of the spryte, which fyghte agaynste it. Wherfore we haue ynough to do all oure lyues longe, to tame oure bodyes. and to compell the membres to obeye the spryte and not the appetites, ẏ therby we myght be like vnto Christes death & resurrection, & might fulfyl our baptyme, which signyfieth the mortifieng of sines, and the newe lyfe of grace. For this batayl ceaseth not in vs vntil the last byrth, & vntyl that sinne be vtterly slayne by the death of the bodye.

The. vi. chapiter.

Baptime is a witnes betwene God & vs: that we haue promysed to mortyfye the lustes and synne ẏ remaineth in the flesh.

This thinge (I meane to tame the body and so forth) we are able to do (sayeth hee) seinge we are vnder grace, and not vnder the lawe, what it is, not to be vnder the lawe, he hym selfe expoundeth. For not to be vnder the lawe, is not so to be vnderstande that euery man maye do what hym lusteth, But not to be vnder the lawe, is to haue a free herte renewed with the spirite: so that thou hast luste inwardlye of thyne owne accorde, to do that which the lawe commaundeth without compulsion as though there were no lawe. For grace that is to saye Goddes fauoure bringeth vs the spirite, and maketh vs loue the lawe: so is there now no more synne, neither is the lawe now any more against vs, but at one, and agreed with vs, and we with it. But to be vnder the lawe, is to deale with the workes of the lawe: and to worcke with oute the spirite and grace, for so longe no doubte, synne raygneth in vs thorowe the lawe, that is to saye, the lawe declareth that we are vnder sinne, and that synne hath power and dominion ouer vs, seinge we can not fulfyll the lawe namely with in the herte, for as muche as no man of nature fauoureth the lawe, consenteth there vnto and delyteth therin. Which thynge is exceadinge greate synne, that we cannot conset to the lawe, which lawe is nothinge else saue the wyll of God.

Not to be vnder the lawe what it meaneth

This is the right fredome and lybertie from synne, and from the lawe wher of he writeth vnto the ende of thys chapter, that it is a fredome to do good onely with luste, and to lyue wel without compulsion of the lawe, wherfore thys fredome is spirituall fredome which destroyeth not the law but ministreth that which the lawe requireth, and wherwith the lawe is fulfylled: that is to vnderstande luste and loue, wherwith the lawe is stylled, and accuseth vs no more, compelleth vs no more nether hath ought to craue of vs any more. Euen as though thou were in dette to an other man, & were not able to paye, two maner wayes myghtest thou be losed. One ways, ẏ he wolde requyre nothynge of the, and breke thyne obligaci

To be vnder ẏ law what it is.

on. Another waie, yͤ some other good man wold paie for ȳ, & geue ȳ as moch as ȳ myghtest satisfy thine obligation w̄al. Of this wise hath christ made ȳ free from ȳ lawe, & therfore is this no wyld fleshely lyberties, that shulde do nought, but that doth al thinges, and is free from ȳ crauinge & dette of the lawe.

The. vii. chapiter.

In the. vii. confirmeth he the same with a similitude of the state of matrimony. As when the husbande dyeth, the wyfe is at hyr lyberte, & the one lowsed and departed from the other, not that ȳ woman shulde not haue power to marye vnto an other man but rather now fyrste of all is she free, and hath power to marye vnto an other man whych she coulde not do before, tyll she was lowsed from hyr fyrst husband. Euen so are oure conscyences bound and in daunger to the lawe vnder olde Adam the flesh, as long as he lyueth in vs. For the lawe declareth that oure hertes are bound and that we can not disconsent from him. But when he is mortified and kylled by the spyryte, then is the conscience free and at lyberte: not so that ȳ conscience shal nowe nought do, but now fyrst of al clevyth vnto another, that is to wete Christ, and bringeth forthe the frutes of lyfe. So nowe to be vnder the lawe, is, not to be able to fulfyll the lawe, but to be debter to it, and not able to paye that whych the lawe requyreth. And to be lowse from the lawe, is to fulfyll it and to paye that whych the lawe demaundeth, so that it can now hence forth axe the nought.

To be vnder the lawe

To be lowse from the law

Consequently Paul declareth more largely the nature of synne and of the law, how that thorowe the lawe synne reuyueth, moueth hyr self, and gathereth strength. For the olde man and corrupte nature, the moare he is forboden and kepte vnder the lawe / is the moare offended and displeased there wyth, for as moche as he cannot paye that whych is requyred of the lawe. For synne is his nature and of hym selfe, he cannot but synne. Therfore is the lawe death to hym, tormente and marterdome. Not that the lawe is cupll but because that the cupll nature cannot suffre that whych is good, cannot abyde that the lawe shoulde requyre of hym any good thynge. Lyke as a sycke man cannot suffre that a man shulde desyre of hym to runne, to lepe and to do other dedes of an whole man. For whych cause Sayncte Paul concludeth, that where the lawe is vnderstande and perceaued of the beste wyse, there it doeth no moare but vtter synne, and bringe vs vnto the knowledge of oure selues, and therby kylle vs and make vs bonde vnto eternall damnacyon and detters of the euerlastyng wrath of God. euen as he wel feleth and vnderstandeth whose conscyence is truely touched of the lawe. In suche daunger were we yer the lawe came, that we knewe not what sinne ment, neither yet knowe we the wrath of God vppon sinners, tyl the lawe hath vttered it. So seest thou that a mā must haue some other thinge, ye and a greter and a more myghty thinge then the lawe. to make hym righteous and safe. They that vnderstande not the lawe on this wyse, are blinde and go to worke presumptuously, supposyng to satisfye the lawe with workes. For they knowe not that the lawe requyreth a free, a willinge, a lusty and a louynge herte. Therfore they se not Moses ryght in the face, the bayle hangeth betwene and hydeth hys face, so that they cannot beholde the glorye of hys countenaunce, how that ȳ law is spirituall and requireth the hert. I maye of myne awne strength refrayne that I do myne enemye no hurte, but to loue him with all myne herte, and to put awaye wrathe clene oute of my mynd, can I not of myne awne strength I maye refuse money of myne awne strenght, but to put away loue vnto ryches out of myne herte, can I not do of myne awne strenght. To abstayne from adultery as concernynge the vttewarde dede, can I do of myne awne strenght, but not to desyre in myne hert is as vnpossyble vnto me as is to chose. whether I will hongry or thurst, and yet so the lawe requireth. Wherfore of a manes awne strength is the lawe neuer fulfylled, we must haue therunto goddes fauoure, and his spryte, purchased by Christes blode. Neuerthelesse when I saye a man maye do many thinges outewardlye clene agaynst his herte, we must vnderstande that man is but driuen of diuers appetites, and the greatest appetite ouer commeth the lesse & caryeth the man awaye violently with hyr. As when I desyre vengeaunce, and feare also the inconuenience that is lyke to folow, if I feare be greater I abstayne, yt the appetite that desireth vengaunce be greater, I can not but prosecute the dede, as we se by experience in many murtherars and theues, which though they be brought into neuer so great perel of deeth, yet after they haue escaped, do euen the same agayne. And commen wemen prosecute their lustes because fere & shame are away, whē other which haue the same apetites in their hertes, abstaine at the least way outwardly or worke secretly being ouercome of feare and of shame, and so lyke wyse is it of al other appetites.

Flesh & spirit fyghte togeder

Further more he declereth, how the spryte and the flesshe fyghte to gether in one man, and maketh an ensample of him selfe, that we myght lerne to knowe how to worke a right. I meane to kyl sinne in our selues. He calleth both the spirite and also the flesshe a lawe, because that lyke as the nature of Goddys lawe is to drive / to compell and to craue: euen so the flesshe driueth, compelleth / craueth and rageth agaynst the spryte, and wil haue her lustes satisfyed. On the other syde dryueth the spryte, eryeth and fyghteth agaynst the flesshe, and will haue his luste satisfied. And this stryfe dureth in vs, as longe as we lyue, in some moare and in some lesse, as the spryte or the flesshe is stronger, and the very man his owne selfe is both the spryte and the flesshe, whith fyghteth with his awne selfe vntyll synne be vtterlye slayne, and we all together spiritual. In the. viii. Cha. he conforteth such fyghters that they dispere not because of suche flesshe,

The. viii: ch

other, thinke that they are lesse in fauour w̄ god. And he sheweth how ȳ the synne remaining in vs / hurteth not, for there is no daunger to them ȳ are in Christ which waike not after the flesshe, but fight against it. And he expoundeth more largely what the nature of the flesshe and the spryte is, & how the spryte cometh by Christ, which spryte maketh vs spirituall, tameth, subdueth and mortifieth the flesh, and certifieth vs ȳ we are neuer theles the sonnes of god, and also beloued though that sinne rage neuer so muche in vs, so longe as we folow the spryte and fight against sinne to kyl and mortifie it. And because nothig is so good to the mortifienge of the flesh, as ȳ crosse and tribulacion, he comforteth vs in our passions & afflictions by the assistence of the spryte which maketh intercession to god for vs mightely with groninges ȳ passe mans vtteraunce, so that mās speache can not comprehende them & with the mourninge also of the creatures with vs, of greate desire that they haue, that we were lowsed from sinne & corruption of ȳ flesh. So se we that these three Chapters. vi, vii. viii, do none other thinge so moche as to dryue vs vnto the ryghte worke of faith, which is to kil the old man & mortifie the flesshe.

The. ix. x. & xi chapters.

In the. ix, x. & xi. Chapters, he treateth of Gods predestinacion, whence it spryngeth altogether, whether we shal beleue or not beleue, belowsed from synne or not belowsed. By whiche predestinacion oure iustifiyng and saluacion are cleane taken out of oure handes, and put in the handes of god onely which thinges is moost necessary of al. For we are so weake and so vncertayne, that if it stode in vs there shoulde of a trueth no man be saued, the deuell no doubte would deceaue vs: But now is god sure that his predestinacion can not disceaue hym, nether any man withstande or let hym: and therfore haue we hope and trust agaynst synne. But here must a marke be set vnto those vnquiet, busye and hye clymminge spirites, how farre they shall go which fyrste of all bringe hether their hye reasons and pregnant wittes, and begi, first from an hye to serche bottomles secretes of goddes predestinacion, whether they be predestinat or not.

This is ȳ wyll vnderstand

These must nedes ether cast them selues doune headlonge into desperation, or els cōmit thē selues to fres chaunce careles, but folowe thou the ordre of thys Epistle, and nosel thy self w̄ Christ & learne to vnderstand what the lawe & the gospel meane, & the office of both two ȳ thou mayest in the one knowe thy selfe, & how that thou hast of thy selfe no strenght, but to synne, and in the other the grace of Christe.

And then se thou fyght against synne, and the flesshe as the. viii. fyrst. Chapters teache the. After that when thou

harte,come,to the.vii. Chapters and art vnder the crosse and sufferinge of trybulacyon, the necessyte of predestinacion wyl ware I wete,and thou shalt wel kele how pzecyous a thynge it is. Foz except thou haue bozne the crosse of aduersyte and temptacyon,& hast felte thy selfe bzought vnto the very bzimme of desperacyon,yea and vnto hel gates thou canst neuer medle with the sentence of predestynacion wyth oute thyne own harme,and with out secret wzath and grudgyng in wardly agaynst God,foz other wyse it shal not be possyble foz the to thynke that God is rygh teous and iuste. Therfoze must Adam be wel moztyfied and the flesshely wytte bzought vtterly to nought, yer that thou mayst away with this thing; and dzinke so stronge wyne. Take hede therfoze vnto thy selfe,that thou dzynke not wyne,wyle thou art yet but a cucklyng. Foz euery lerninge hath hyz tyme, measure and age, and in Chzyst is there a certayne chyldhod in which a man must be content wyth mylke foz a season, vntyl he ware stronge and growe vp a perfecte man in Chzist, and be able to eate of moze stronge meate. In the rii. Chapter he geueth exhortacions. Foz this maner obserueth Paul in al his Epistles, fyrst he teacheth Chzyst and the fayth, then exhozteth he to good wozkes, and vnto continual moztyfieng of the flesshe. So here teacheth he good wozkes in deade,& the treue seruynge of God, and maketh al men Pzestes, to offer vp not money & beastes as the maner was in the tyme of the lawe, but their owne bodyes with kyllyng and moztyfieng of the lustes of the flesshe. After that he describeth the outwarde conuersacyon of chzisten men how they ought to behaue them selues in spiritual thynges, how to teache, preache and rule in the congregacyon of Chzyst, to serue one to another/to suffer al thinges pacyently, and to commyt the wzeke and vengaunce to god, in conclusion how a Chzisten man ought to behaue hym selfe vnto al men, to frend, foo, oz what soeuer he be. These are the eight wozkes of a Chzysten man whych spzynge out of fayth. Foz faith kepeth not holy daye, neither sufsereth any man to be ydle, whersoeuer he dwelleth. In the.riii. he teacheth to honoure the wozde and temporal sweard. Foz though a mans law& ordinaunce make not a man good before God, nether iustifye him in the hert, yet are they ordeined foz the furderaunce of the comen welth, to maintain peace, to punish the euel and to defende the good. Therfoze ought the good to honoure the temporal swerd and to haue it in reuerence/though as concernyng them selues, they nede it not, but wolde abstayne from exsul of their owne accozde, ye and do good with out mans law, but by the lawe of the spzite which gouerneth the herte, and gydeth it vnto al that is the wyl of god.

Finally he compzehendeth and knitteth vp all in loue, Loue of her own nature bestoweth al that she hath and euen her owne selfe on that which is loued. Thou nedest not to byd a kind mother to be louinge vnto her onely sonne. Much lesse spirituall loue which hath eyes geuen her of God, nedeth not más law to teth her to do her dutie. And as in ỹ beginning he dyd put fozth Chzist as the cause and auctoure of our rightwelnes and saluacion, euen so here setteth he him fozth as an ensample to conterfayte. that as he hathe done to vs, euen so shoulde we do one to another.

In the riiii. Chapter he techeth to deale soberly with the conscience of the weake in the fayth which vnderstand not yet the lybertie of Chzist perfectlynough,& to fauour thẽ of Chzisten loue,& not to vse the lyberty of the fayth vnto hynderaunce, but vnto the furtheraunce & edifienge of the weake. Foz where such cõsideration is not, there foloweth debate and despisenge of the Gospell. It is better therfoze, to forbeare the weake a wyple vntyll they ware stronge, then that the learning of the Gospell should come altogether vnder fote. And such wozke, is the singular wozke of loue, and where loue is perfect there must nedes be such a respecte vnto the weake, a thinge that chzyst commanded and charged to be had aboue al thinges.

In the,xv, Chapter, He setteth fozth Chzist agayne to be folowed, if we also by hys ensample shoulde suffre other that are yet weake, as them that are feayle, open synners, vnlerned and vnexpert, and of loth come maners, and not to caste them awaye fozth withe, but to suffre them tyll they ware better, and exhozt thẽ in the meane tyme. Foz so dealt Chzist in the Gospell,& now dealeth with vs dayly, suffering our imperfectnes, weakenes, conuersation, and maners not yet fashioned after the doctryne of the Gospell, but smell of the flesshe, ye and somtime breake out in outwarde dedes. After that to conclude with all he wisheth them encrease of fayth, peace and ioye of conscience, prayeth them, and committeth them vnto God and magnifieth hys office and admistracion in the Gospell, and soberlye, and with greate discretion desyreth succoure and ayde of them foz the poore sainctes at Ierusalem, and it is all pure loue that he speaketh oz dealeth with all. So finde we in thys pystle plenteously, vnto the vttermoost, what soeuer a chzisten man oz woman ought to knowe, that is to wete, what the lawe, the Gospell,, synne, grace, fayth, righteousnes, Chzyst, God, good wozkes, loue, hope, and the crosse are, and euen wherin the pythe of all that pertayneth to the Chzisten fayth standeth, and how a Chzysten man ought to behaue hym selfe vnto euery man, be he perfecte oz a synner, good oz bad, stronge oz weake, frend oz foo: and in conclusyon howe and the keye to behaue our selues both toward God. and towarde our selues also. And al thinges are profoundly grounded in the scriptures, and declared with ensamples of hym selfe, of the fathers and of the prophetes, that it, and bzinge a man can here desyre no moze. Wherfoze it appeareth euidentlye, that Paules minde was to compzehẽ de bzefely in thys pystle all the whole learninge of Chzistes Gospell, and to prepare an introduction vnto all the olde testament. Foz without doubte, who soeuer hathe thys pystle perfectly in hys herte, the same vnderstanhath the lyght and the effect of the old testament. Wherfoze let euery man bout exception exercise hidinge of it. selfe there in dilygently, and recozde it nyght and daye contynually vntyll he be fully acquaynted therwith.

The last Chapter is a Chapter of recommendacion, wherin he pet mingleth a good monycion that we shoulde beware of the tradicions and doctryne of men, which begyle the symple with sophistrye and learning that is not after the Gospel and dzawe them from Chzyste. and nosel them in weake & feble,& (as Paul calleth them in the Epistell to the Galathians) in beggerly ceremonies foz thentent that they wold lyue in fatte pastures and be in auctozitye and be taken as Chzist, yea and aboue Chzyste, and syt in the tẽple of God, that is to wite in the consciences of men, where god onely. hys woozde, and hys Chzist oughte to syt. Cõpare therfoze al maner doctryne of men vnto the scripture & se whether they agreoz not. And cõmit thy selfe whole & altogether vnto Chzist & so shal he wỉ his holy spirit & shal his fulnes dwel in thy soul.

The somme and hole cause of the wziting of this Epistle, is, to pzoue that a man is iustified by fayth onely: which pzoposytion who so denyeth, to him is not only this Epistle and al that Paul wzyteth, but also the holy scripture so locked vp, that he shal neuer vnderstand it to his soules healthe And to bzynge a man to the vnderstanding & healing that faith only iustifieth: Paul pzoueth that the holy nature of mã is so poisoned and so corrupte, ye & so dead conserning godly liuing oz godly thinking, ỹ it is impossyble foz her to kepe ỹ lawe in ỹ sight of God, ỹ is to say, to loue it, & of loue & lust to do it as naturally as a mã eateth oz dzinketh, vntil she be quickened agayne & hea'es thozow faith. And by iustifienge vnderstande none other thinge then to be reconciled to God & to be restozed vnto his fauour, and to haue the synnes fozgeuen thee. As when I saye God iustifieth vs, vnderstand therby, that God foz Chzistes sake, merites and deseruinges onely receaueth vs vnto his mercy, fauoure and grace, and fozgeueth vs our sinnes. And when I saie Chzist iustifieth vs, vnderstad therby that Chzist hath onely redemed vs, bought ãd deliuered vs out of the wzath of god and dampnacion, and hath with his wozdes onley, purchased vs ỹ mercy, fauor, & grace of God & ỹ fozgeuenes of our sinnes. And when I saie that faith only iustifieth, vnderstand therby ỹ faith & trust in ỹ trueth of god & in ỹ mercy promised vs foz Chzistes sake, & foz his deseruinge & wozkes only, doth quiet ỹ conscience & certifi her ỹ our sinnes be fozgeuen & we in the fauor of god

The,xii. chp

The,xiiii. cha

Loue is the fulfylling of the lawe,

This epistle to ỹ Romayns is the sum of the scripture, ye and the keye to vnderstande the hole

The last cha

The prologe

Furthermoze lett before thyne eyes Chziſtes wozkes and thyne owne wozkes. Chziſtes wozckes onelye iuſtifye thee, and make ſatiſfaction foz thy ſynne, and thine owne woozkes not: that is to ſaye, quieteth thy conſcience, and make thee ſure that thy ſynnes are forgeuen thee, and not thyne owne wozckes. Foz the pzomiſe of mercye is made thee, foz Chziſtes wozkes ſake, and not foz thyne owne wozckes ſake. Wherfoze ſeing god hath not pzompſed that thyne owne wozkes ſhal ſaue thee, therfoze kayth in thyne owne wozckes can neuer quiet thy conſcience noz certifye thee before God (when god commeth to iudge oz to take a recouering) that thy ſynnes are forgeuen thee. Beyond al thys, myne owne wozkes can neuer ſatiſfye the lawe oz paye her that I owe her. Foz I owe the lawe to loue her with al myne herte, Moule power and might. Which thinge to paye I am neuer able whyle I am compaſſed with fleſche. No, I can not ones beginne to loue the lawe, except I be fyrſt ſure, by kayth that god loueth me, and forgeueth me. Finally, that we ſaye kayth onelye iuſtifieth ought to offende no man. Foz if thys be true, that Chziſt onely redemed vs, Chzyſt onely bare oure ſynnes, made ſatiſfaction foz theym, and purchaſed vs the fauoure of God, then muſt it nedes be true, that the truſt only in Chziſtes deſeruing and in the pzomiſes of god the father made vs foz Chziſtes ſake, do the onelye quyet the conſcience, and certifye her that the ſynnes are forgeuen. And when they ſaye, a man muſt repent, forſake ſynne, and haue a purpoſe to ſynne no moze, as nye as he can and loue the lawe of God. Ergo kayth onely iuſtifieth not, I anſwere, that and all lyke argumentes are nought, and lyke to this. I muſt repente and be fozy, the Goſpell muſte be pzeached me and I muſt beleue it oz elſe I cannot be partaker of mercye which Chziſt hath deſerued foz me, Ergo Chzyſte only iuſtifieth me not, oz Chzyſt only hath not made ſatiſfaction foz my ſinnes. As this is a naughtie argument, ſo is the other.

Now go to reader, and accozdinge to the ozdze of Paules wziting, euen ſo do thou. Firſt beholde thi ſelfe dilygentlye in the lawe of God, and ſe there thy iuſt dampnacion. Secondarelye turne thine eyes to Chziſt, and ſee there the exceadinge mercye of the moſt kinde and louinge father. Thyzdly remembze that Chziſt made not this attonemēt that thou ſhouldeſt anger god again, neyther died he foz thy ſynnes, that thou ſholdeſt liue ſtill in them, nether cleanſed he thee, that thou ſhouldeſte returne, as a ſwine, vnto thyne olde podell agayne. but that thou ſhouldeſte bee a newe creature and lyue a newe lyfe after the wyll of God, and not of the fleſche.

And be dylygent leaſt thozow thyne owne negligence and vnthanckfulnes, thou loſe this fauoure and mercye agayne.

Fare well.

The ende of the pzologe to the Romaynes.

✠

Tyndal

¶ The Epistel of

the Apostle Saynct Paull to the Romayns.

¶ Paul declareth his loue towarde ỹ Romaines, sheweth what the Gospell is with ỹ frute therof, & rebuketh the beestlynes of the flesshe.

The fyrst Chapter.

PAull the seruaũte of Jesus Christ called to be an Apostle, put a parte to preache ỹ Gospell of God, which he promysed afore by his Prophetes in ỹ holy scriptures ỹ make mencion of his sonne, the which was begotten of ỹ seed of Dauid, as pertayninge to ỹ flesshe: and declared to bee ỹ sonne of God, wt power of the Holy goost ỹ sanctifyeth, sence ỹ time that Jesus Christ our Lorde rose agayne from deathe, by whome wee haue receaued grace & Apostleshyp to bring all maner Heathen people vnto the obedyence of fayth, that is in his name: of ỹ which Heathen are ye a part also, which are Jesus Christes by vocacion.

To all you of Rome beloued of God & a*saynctes by callynge. b* Grace be wt you and peace from God oure father, & frō the Lorde Jesus Christ.

B Fyrst verely I thanke my God thorow Jesus Christ, for you all, because youre fayth is publisshed throughout all the worlde. For God is my wittnes, whō I serue wt my spirite in the Gospell of his sonne, that wt out ceasynge I make mencion of you al wayes i my prayers, beseechinge that at one tyme or other, a prosperous iorney (by the will of God) myght fortune me, to come vnto you. For I longe to see you, that I myghte bestowe among you some spyritual gyfte, to strenghte you with all: that is, ỹ I might haue consolacion to gether with you, through the commen fayth, which both ye and I haue.

I wolde that ye shulde knowe brethren, howe that I haue often tymes purposed to com vnto you (but haue bē let hytherto) to haue som frute amonge you, as I haue amounge other of the Gentyles.

For I am dettet both to the Grekes & to them which are no Grekes, vnto the learned and also vnto the vnlearned. Lyke wyse, as moche as in me is I am redy to preach the Gospel to you of Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ because it is the power of God vnto saluacyō to al that beleue, namely to the Jew, and also to the Gentyle. c* For by it ỹ ryghtewesnes which commeth of God, is opened, from fayth to d*faythe. As it is written: the Juste shall lyue by fayth.

C For the wrath of God apereth from heauen agaynst al vngodlynes, & vnrighteweslnes of men which withholde ỹ trueth in vnrighteweslnes: seyng, what maye bee knowen of God, that same is manifeste among them. For God did shewit vnto them. So that hys inuisible thynges: that is to say, hys eternall power and godhead, are vnderstande and sene, by the workes from the creacion of ỹ worlde. So that they are wyth oute excuse, in as moche, as when they knewe God, they glorified him not as God, nether were thankfull but were full of vanities in their imaginacions, and their folisshe hertes were blynded. When they counted them selues wyse, they became foles and turned the glory of the immortall God, vnto the similitude of the ymage of mortal man, and of byrdes, and foure foted beastes, and of serpentes. Wherfore God lyke wyse gaue them vp vnto their hertes lustes, vnto vnclennes, to defyle their awne bodyes betwene them selues: which tourned hys truthe vnto a lye, and worshypped and serued the creatures more then the maker, which is blessed for euer. Amen. For this cause God gaue them vp vnto shamfull lustes. For eue their wemen dyd chaunge the naturall D vse vnto the vnnatural. And lyke wyse also the men lefte the natural vse of the woman, and brent in their lustes one to another. And mā wt mā wrought filthines, and receued in them selues the reward of their errour, as it was accordynge.

And as it semed not good vnto them to be a knowen of god, euen so god deliuered them vp vnto a leawd mynde, ỹ they shuld do those thinges which were not comely, beinge full of all vnrighteous doynge, of Fornicacion, wickednes nes, coueteousnes, malycyousnes, full of enuie, morther, debate, disseyte, euell condycyoned, whisperers, backbyters, haters of god, doers of wrong, proude bosters, bringers vp of euell thynges, disobedient to father ād mother, wout vnderstādig, couenaūt brekears, vnlouig trucebrekers & mercyles. Which mē thogh they knew ỹ rightwesnes of god how ỹ they which comit such thiges are worthy of death, yet not onely do the same, but also haue *pleasure i them that do them.

The Notes

a *Sainctes by callyng is as much to saie, as called to be sayntes, called to holines and holy liuige: for the scripture is accustomed to cal them that be a liue saintes, & it ought to be al one, to saye, a sayncte and a Chrysten man or a Christian.

b *Grace be with you and peace. By grace, here vnderstand the fauour of god wherwith he freely forgeueth synnes. By peace, the tranquylite of conscience proceadyng therof.

c *For by it the ryghtwesnes which cometh of god, is opened, that is by the preachyng of the gospel, the imputacyon of ryghtewesnes wherwith God reputeth and pronounceth vs rightwes freely thorowe mercy, is euydently declared.

d *From fayth to fayth, that is from an vnperfect fayth to a perfect, from a weake fayth to astrōger, & from one batayle of fayeth to another, for as wee haue escaped one ieopardy thorow fayth, another inuadeth vs, thorow whych we muste wade by the helpe of fayth also.

*To haue pleasure in another mans synes is greater wyckednes then to synne thy selfe.

¶ He rebuketh the Jewes, which as touchyng sinne are lyke the heathen/yea worse then they.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

THerfore arte thou inexcusable O man, whosoeuer thou be that a*iudgeste. For in ỹ same wherin thou iudgeste another, thou condemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgest doeste euen the same selfe thynges. But we are sure that the iudgment of god is accordyng to trueth, against them which cōmyt such thinges.

Thinckest thou thys O thou man ỹ iudgest them which do such thynges, & yet doest euen the very same, that thou shal escape ỹ iudgmēt of God? Eyther dyspisest thou ỹ ritches of his goodnes pacience and longe sufferaunce? and remembrest not how ỹ the kyndnes of god ledeth the to repentaunce?

But thou after thyne herde herte that cannot repent, heapest ỹ to gether the treasur of wrath against the dai of vēgeaūce, whē shalbe opened ỹ ryghtwes iudgement, of god b*which will rewarde euery man accordynge to hys dedes: that is to saye, Prayse, Honoure and immortalite, to them whych contynue i good doynge, & seke eternall lyfe. But vnto them that are rebellious ād disobey the trueth, ād folowe iniquytie, shal come indignacion and wrath, tribulacion and anguysshe vpon the soule of euery man that doth euyll: of ỹ Jewe fyrst, and also af the Gentyl. To euery man that doth good, shall come prayse, honoure, and peace, to the Jewe fyrst, and also to the Gentyll. For ther is no parcialite wt God. But whosoeuer hath synned with out lawe/ shall perisshe wt out law: And as many as haue sined vnder the law, shalbe iudged bi ỹ lawe: c*For before God they are not ryghteous which heare the lawe: but the doers of the law shalbe iustified. For yf ỹ Geneyles which haue no law, do of nature the thynges contayned in the law: then they hauynge no lawe, are a lawe vnto them selues, which shew ỹ dedes of the law writen in their hertes: while their conscience beareth the witnesse vnto them and also their thoughtes, accusynge on another or excusynge, at the dai whē god shal iudge ỹ secretes of mē by Jesus christ, accordīg to my gospel.

Beholde, thou arte called a Jewe, and trustest in the lawe and reioysist in god, and knowest his will, and hast experience of good, and bad, in that ỹ are informed by the lawe: and beleuest ỹ ỹ thy selfe arte a gyde vnto the blynde, a lyght to them whych are in darckenes, an informer of them whych lack discrecion, a teacher of vnlearned, which haste the ēsample of that which ought to be knowen, and of the truth, in the lawe. But thou whych teachest another, teachest not thy self: Thou preachest a man shuld not steale: and yet thou stealest: thou sayst, amā shuld not cōmyt aduoutery & thou breakest wedlok: Thou abhorrest ymages, and robbest god of his honoure.

Thou reioisest in the law, and thorowe breaking the lawe, dishonourest God. For the name of god is euell spoken of amonge the Gentiles thorowe you, as it is wrytten.

circum

Circumcision verely auayleth, yf thou kepe the lawe. But yf thou breake the lawe, thy circũcision is made vncircũcision. Therefore yf the vncircũcised kepe the ryght thinges contayned in ỹ lawe: shal not his vncircũcisiõ be counted for circumcision? And shall not vncircũcision which is by nature (yf it kepe ỹ lawe) iudge the, whiche beynge vnder ỹ letter and circũcisiõ, doest trãgresse the lawe? For hee is not a Jewe, which is a Jewe outwarde. Nether is that thinge circumcision which is outwarde in the flesshe. But hee is a Jewe which is hid within, & the circũcision of the herte is ỹ true circũcisiõ, which is ỹ sprete & not ỹ letter. whose praise is not of men, but of God.

The Notes

a * To iudge, here (as in many other places) signyeth to condemne other and esteame thy selfe rightwes.

b * Which wyl rewarde euery man accordynge to his deades. This saieng may no men so vnderstãd, as though workes dyd iustify before God: for thẽ maketh he this whole Epistle false, which only laboureth to proue that our sinnes are forgeuen freely through mercy, for Christes sake, and not for our deseruinges or workes. Know ye therfore that S. Paul doth here ascribe iustificatyõ to workes, but describeth them hare rightwes, by the thing ỹ foloweth, that is by their frutes what they be. He wyl reward euery man &c, ỹ is to the rightwes wyll be geue lyfe, and to the vnrightwes payne.

c * For before God they are not righwes, &c, but the doares of the lawe shalbe iustified, that is, shal be pronounced iust and rightwes. This sentence is onely spoken to the rebuke of the Jewes, settynge no smal stoare by them selues in the behalfe of the law, which yet they kept not.

This thing lateth Paul to their charges, on thys wyse. It is not ynough for ỹ O thou Jewe to here the lawe only and to be a professour therof, & a leaner to it, but if thou wilt nedes be iustified & made rightwes in the syght of God by the lawe, as thou so greately crakest, then must thou kepe the lawe, not onely here it, now that dooste thou not, but are gylty of the breaking of it, and therfore must thou haue another waye to be com rightwes in ỹ syght of god, then by the keping of the lawe, which is, as this whole Epistle both after and before playnely proueth fayth, that fastly beleueth sinnes to be forgeuen freely by Christ, not for our workes or deseruynges, no not when we haue done the best that we can. Luke. xvii.

And to this purpose doth S Ambrose wryting on this selfe same text expound Paul, sayeng, not they are rightwes which heare the lawe, but which beleue in Christe whoome the lawe promesed afftymynge playnelye, that to beleue in hym, is to do the lawe.

¶ He sheweth what preferment the Jewes haue, & that both ỹ Jewes and Gentels are vnder sinne, & iustifyed only by the grace of God in Christ.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

What preferment then hath the Jewe? other what auauntageth circumcision? Surely very moche. First vnto them was committed the worde of God. What then though some of them dyd not beleue? shal their vnbeleue make the promes of God wyth out effecte? god forbid: Let god be true, ãd all men lyars, as it is written: that ỹ myghtest be iustifyed in thy sayinge, and shuldest ouercome, when ỹ arte iudged.

Yf oure vnrighteousnes make the rightwesnes of God more excellẽt: what shall we saye? Is God vnrighteous whych taketh vengaunce? I speake after ỹ maner of mẽ. God forbid, For how then shall God iudge the worlde? If the veritie of God appeare more excellent thorow my lye, vnto his prayse, why ã I hence forth iudged as a synner? and say not rather (as men cuyll speake of vs, and as some affyrme that we saie) let vs do euil ỹ good maye come therof. Whose damnacyon is iuste.

What say we then? Are we better thẽ they? No, i no wyse. For we haue alredy proued how ỹ both Jewes & Getils are al vnder sine, as it is writtẽ there is non righteous no not one: ther is none ỹ vnderstandeth, there is none ỹ seketh after god they are al gone out of ỹ waye, they are al vnprofitable/ther is none ỹ doeth good, no not one. Their throte is an opẽ sepulchre/ wyth their tonges they haue disceaued: the poyson of aspes is vnder their lyppes. Whose mouthes are full of cursynge and bytternes. Their fete are swyfte to shed bloud. Destruccyon and wretchednes are in their wayes. And the way of peace they haue not knowen. There is no feare of God before their eyes.

† Ye and we knowe that whatsoeuer the lawe sayth, he saith it to them which are vnder ỹ lawe. That al mouthes maie be stopped, and all the worlde be subdued to God because that by ỹ dedes of the lawe shall no flesshe be iustifyed in ỹ sight of God. For by the law cõmeth the knowledge of synne. ¶

Now verely is the ryghtewesnes that cometh of God declared with out fulfyllinge of the lawe/ hauynge witnes yee of the lawe and of the Prophetes.

The

The ryghteweſnes no doute whiche is good before God, cõmeth by the fayth of Jeſus Chriſt, vnto all and vpon all that beleue.

Ther is no dyfference: for all haue ſynned and lacke the praiſe that is of valoure before God: but * are iuſtified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Chriſt Jeſus, whom God hath made a ſeate of mercy through faith in his bloude, to ſhewe ȳ ryghteweſnes which before him is of valoure, in ȳ he forgiueth the ſines that are paſſed, which God dyd ſuffre to ſhewe at this tyme, the ryghteweſnes that is alowed of hi, that hee myght bee counted iuſt, and a iuſtifiar of hi which beleueth ō Jeſus. Where is thē thi reioyſinge? It is excluded. Bi what lawe? bi the lawe of workes? Naye: but by ȳ lawe of fayth.

Therfore wee holde ȳ a man is iuſtifyed by fayth wout the dedes of ȳ lawe. Is hee the God of the Jewes only? Is hee not alſo ȳ God of ȳ Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles alſo. For it is God only which iuſtifieth circũciſion whiche is of fayth, and vncircũciſiõ through fayth. Do wee thē deſtroie ȳ lawe through fayth? God forbid. But wee rather maynteyne the lawe.

The Notes.

a * Are iuſtifyed freelye by his grace. This layenge doeth. S. Ambroſe expounde on this wiſe: they worcking nothing nor acquyting him any whit, ar iuſtyfied by faith alone, by the gyft of god. Thys word, alone, (although many be therwith vniuſtly offended) is alſo euydently expreſſed by, S. Paul hym ſelfe, in theſe wordes, freely Wout the lawe, Wout workes, it is a gyft and ſuch lyke, which ȳ muſt marke, for they are alone Wt this forſaide expoſicion of. S. Ambroſe, by faith alone we are iuſtyfyed which layenge ſignyfieth this much. Onely by the beleefe wherWt we beleue that the mercy of god graũted in Chriſtes bloude dothe ſaue vs, are wee pronounced righteous. This word alone excludeth workes, not that thou ſhouldeſt not do thē: for vnto al good workes commaunded in the ſcripture art thou bounde/ and called to walke in them, and muſt earneſtly ſtudie and endeuoure thy ſelf to leue none of them vndone: but that thou ſhuldeſt in no condycion thincke, that thou art therby iuſtyfyed or made righteous before God.

¶ He declareth by the example of Abraham, ȳ fayth iuſtyfyeth, and not the lawe, nor the workes

¶ The .iiii. Chapter.

WHat ſhal we ſaye then, ȳ Abrahã our father as pertayninge to the fleſſhe, dyd finde? If Abraham were iuſtified by * dedes/ then hathe he wherin to reioyce: but not wyth God.

For what ſayth ȳ ſcripture? Abraham beleued God, and it was counted vnto him for ryghteweſnes. To him ȳ worketh, is the reward not reckened of fauoure, but of duty. To him ȳ worketh not but beleueth on him that iuſtifieth the vngodly, is his fayth coũted for ryghteweſnes. Euen as Dauid deſcrybeth the bleſſednes of the man vnto whom God aſcribeth ryghteweſnes wythout dedes. * Bleſſed are they, whoſe vnrighteouſnes are forgeuen and whoſe ſynnes are couered. Bleſſed is that man to whom the Lorde imputeth not ſynne.

Came this bleſſednes then vpon ȳ circũciſed or vpon the vncircumciſed? We ſaye verely how that fayth was reckened to Abraham for righteweſnes. How was it reckened? in the time of circumciſyon? or in the tyme before he was circumciſed? Not in the tyme of circumciſion: but when he was yet vncircumciſed. And he receaued the ſigne of circũciſyon, as a ſeale of the ryghteweſnes which is by faith, which fayth he had yet beynge vncircumciſed: that he ſhulde be the father of all them that beleue, though they be not circumciſed, ȳ righteweſnes myght be imputed to them alſo: and that he myght be the father of ȳ circumciſed, not becauſe they are circũciſed only: but becauſe they walke alſo in the ſteppes of that fayth that was in oure father Abraham before the tyme of circumciſyon.

For the promes that he ſhuld be the heyre of the worlde, was not geuen to Abraham or to hys ſeed through the lawe: but through the ryghteweſnes which cometh of fayth. For yf they which are of the lawe, be heyres, then is fayth but vaine, and the promes of none effecte. Becauſe the lawe cauſeth wrath. For where no lawe is, there is no tranſgreſſyon. * Therfore by fayth is ȳ inheritaunce geuen ȳ it might com of fauoure: and ȳ promes myght be ſure to all ȳ ſeed. Not to thē only which ar of ȳ lawe: but alſo to them which are of the faith of Abrahã, which is ȳ father of vs all. As it is written: I haue made the a father to many nacions, euen before God

whi

whome thou hafte beleued, which quyckeneth the dred, ād calleth those thinges which be not, as though they were.

D Which Abraham contray to hope, beleued in hope, that he shuld be the father of many nacyons, accordynge to ỹ which was spoken: So shal thi sede be.
And he faynted not i ỹ fayth, nor yet cōsydered his owne body which was now dead, euen when he was al most an hūdreth yeare old: nether yet ỹ Sara was past chylde berynge. He stakered not at the promes of God thorow vnbelefe:
but was made stronge in the faythe, and gaue honoure to GOD full certyfyed, that what he had promysed, that he was able to make good. And therfore was it rekened to hym for ryghtewesnes.

It is not wrytten for hym onelye, ỹ
it was rekened to him for righteweſnes but also for vs, to whom it shalbe cōūted for ryghtewefues, so we beleue on hym that rayſed vp Jesus oure Lorde from death: Which was delyuered for oure synnes, & rose agayne for to iusty-fye vs.

The Notes.

a* Therfore by fayth. &c. that ỹ promes might be fuer, that is therfore are ye pronounced righteous by fayethe (by whiche vnderstande euen the Mercye of God, receaued by faith, that thy conscience might be sure & certified of the will of God, and of the promiſes of the gospel that is of remission of sinnes, of reconciliacion or reputacion of righteweſnes, ād of the gyft of euerlasting life, that these thinges shall fuerly be perfourmed, which were not possyble yf the promes shulde depende or hange on oure workes.
For then shulde the conscience be vnsure doutinge whether we had woorkes ynowghe, whether God wolde be merciful, whether the law which we knowe we haue transgressed, wolde condemne vs &c.

Now when doutfulnes remayneth in vs there remayneth also fearfulnes, by which cometh despe racion and deeth: for so longe as the lawe sheweth vs ỹ anger of God, feare & deeth cā not be ouer cōe.
Therfore must we nedes stycke onely to fayth in the merciful promises of God furely certifieth ỹ they shalbe fulfilled al thoughe our workes haue not de serued ỹ fulfillinges of them.

¶ The power of fayth, hope & loue: & how deathy rai gned from Adā vnto Christ, by whome onely we ha ue forgeueneſſe of sinnes.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

A BEcause therfore that we are iustifyed by faith, a* we are at peace with God thorow our Lord Jesus Christ: by whome we haue a waye in thorow we fayth, vnto thys grace wherin
we stand and reioyce in hope of ỹ praise that shalbe geuen of god. Nether do we so onely: but also we reioyce in the trybulacyon. For we know that trybulacy on bringeth pacience/ pacyēce bryngeth experyence, experyence bryngeth hope.
And b* hope maketh not ashamed for ỹ loue of God is sheed abrode in our her-tes by the holy goost, whyche is geuen vnto vs.

For when we were yet weake, accor
dynge to the tyme: Christe dyed for vs whych were vngodly. Yet scace wil ani ma- dye for a ryghtwes man. Peraduē ture for a good manne durste a manne
dye. * But god setteth oute hys loue ỹ he hath to vs, seynge ỹ while we were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.
Muche more then now (seynge we are iustyfyed in hys bloude) shal we be saued from wrath thorow hym.
For yf when we were enemies, we were recōciled to God by ỹ death of his sonne: moche more, seynge wee are recōcyled, wee shalbe preserued by his life.
Not only so, but wee also ioye in God
by ỹ meanes of our Lorde Jesus Chri-ste, by whom wee haue receaued reconciliacion. Wherefore as by one mā sinne entred into the worlde/ & deeth by ỹ mea nes of sinne. And so deeth went ouer all men, in so muche ỹ all men sinned. For euen vnto the tyme of the lawe was sinne in ỹ worlde / but synne was not regarded, as longe as ther was no lawe: ne uertheleſſe deeth raygned from Adā to Moyses, euen ouer them also ỹ sined not, wt lyke tansgression as did Adam:
which is the similytude of him that is to come. But the gyfte is not lyke as ỹ sinne. For yf thorow the sinne of one, ma ny bee deed: mochemore plenteous vp on many was ỹ grace of God and gyfte by grace whiche grace was geuen by one man Jesus Christ.
And ỹ gyft is not ouer one sinne, as deth cā thorow one sinne of one ỹ sined. For dānacion came of one sinne vnto cōdēna cio: but ỹ gift came to iustify frō many synnes. For yf by the sinne of one, deeth raygned by the meanes of one: moche more shall they which receue abouudaūce of grace and of the gifte of ryghtwes nes/ raigne in lyfe by the meanes of one (ỹ is to saie) Jesus Christ.

Lyke wise then as by the synne of one condemnacion came on all men: euē so by the iustifyinge of one commeth the ryghtewesnes that bryngeth lyfe vpon al mē. For as by one mannes dysobedience many became synners: so by ỹ obedience of on shal many be made ryghteous. But the *lawe, in the meane tyme entred in, that synne shoulde encrease. Neuerthelatter where aboundance of sinne was, there was moze plenteousnesse of grace. That as sin had rayned vnto death, euen so might grace raygne thorow righteousnes, vnto eternall lyfe, by the helpe of Iesu Christ.

The Notes.

a* To beat peace w̄ god is no nother thing then to haue trāquillite and rest in oure hertes toward god knowing assuredlye that we be accepted of him and do please him, which thing we fynde by fayth onely in that it receaueth forgeuenes of synnes, & geuenes of lyfe euerlasting by mercy obtaynede at Christes blōude. Oure awne workes cā bring no soch trāquilite, because they be vnsure and engender doubt, of which followeth desperacion and of it dampnacion. *b We are not ashamed of our hope for we are sure by the death of Christ that god loueth vs, & wyll bringe oure hope to passe.

Adās disobedience damned vs al, yer we oure selues wrought euel. And Christes obedience saueth vs al yer we our selues, worke any good.

The lawe encreaseth synne and maketh our nature more gredy to do euel because ỹ law ministre the no power nor lust to that she biddeth, or to refraine from that she forbiddeth. Gala, iii, d

¶ For so much as we be deliuered thorow christ frō synne, we must facion our selues to lyue as the seruauntes of god, and not after our owne lustes. The vnlyke rewarde of rightwesnes & synne,

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

WHat shal we say then? Shal we contynue in sinne, ỹ ther maye be aboūdaūce of grace? God forbid: How shal we that are Deade as touchyng synne, lyue any lenger therin? * Remembre ye not that al we which are baptised in ỹ name of Iesu Christe are baptised to die w̄ him? We are buryed w̄ him by baptime, for to dye ỹ lyke wise as Christ was raised vp frō deeth by the glory of the father, euen we so also shulde walke in a newe life. For if we be graft in death like vnto hym: euē so must we be in the resurrection. That we must remembre that our olde mā is crucified w̄ him also, that the bodye of synne might vtterly be destroied, ỹ hēce forth we shoulde not be seruauntes of sinne. For he ỹ is dead, is iustifyed frō sinne. Wherfore yf we be ded w̄ Christ, we beleue that we shal liue wyth hi: remēbring ỹ Christ once raised frō death dyeth no more, deth hath nomore power ouer hi: for as touchig ỹ he died, he died cōcerning sine, once. And as touchig ỹ he liueth, he liueth vnto god. Lyke wise imagē ye also, that ye are* dead concerning sinne, but are aliue vnto god thorow Iesus Christe oure Lorde. * Let not sinne raigne therfore in your mortal bodies, that ye shuld therunto obey in the lustes of it. Nether geue ye youre membres as instrumentes of vnrightwesnes vnto synne: but geue your selues vnto God as they that are a lyue from deth. And geue your membersas istrumentes of rightwesnes vnto god, let not sinne haue power ouer you. For ye are not vnder the lawe/ but vnder grace. What then? Shall we synne, because we are not vnder ỹ lawe: but vnder grace? God forbyd. ✝ Remember ye not how that to whō soeuer ye commyt your selues as seruauntes to obei: his seruantes ye are to whō ye obeye: whether it be of synne vnto death, or of obedience vnto rightwesnes? God be thanked, that though ye were once the seruauntes of synne, ye haue yet obeyed wyth herte vnto the forme of doctrine where vnto ye were delyuered. Ye are thē made free from synne, and are become the seruauntes of ryghtewesnes. ✝

I will speake grosly because of the infirmitie of youre flesshe. As ye haue geuen youre members seruauntes to vnclenes and to iniquitie from iniquitye vnto iniquitye: euen so nowe geue your members seruantes vnto ryghtwesnes, that ye maye be sanctifyed. For when ye were the seruauntes of synne/ ye wer not vnder rightwesnes. What frute had ye thē in those thinges, wherof yee are now ashamed. For the ende of those thinges is death. But now are ye deliuered frō synne, & made ỹ seruaūtes of God, & haue youre frute that ye shuld be sanctified, ād the ende euerlastinge life. For the rewarde of synne is death: but eternall* life is the gifte of God, thorow Iesus Christ our Lord

The notes.

a* To dye vnto synne is. not to obey the desires and concupiscences of synne.

Eternal

Eternall lyfe is the deseruynge of Chryst.
¶ Chryst hath delyuered vs from the lawe and death. Paul sheweth what the flesshe and outwarde man is, and calleth it the lawe of the membres.

The.vii.Chapter.

A REmēbre ye not brethren (I speake to thē ỹ know ỹ lawe) how ỹ ỹ law hath power ouer a mā as long as it endureth: For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by ỹ lawe to the man, as long as he lyueth. If the man be dead/she is lowsed from the lawe of the man. So then yf while the man lyueth she couple her selfe wt an other man, she shalbe coūted a wedlocke breaker. But if the man be deed, she is fre from the lawe: so that if she is no wedlock breaker, though she couple her selfe with an other man.

B Euen so yee my brethren, a* are dead cōcerning the lawe by the body of Christ, that ye shoulde be coupled to an other (I meane to hym that is rysen agayne from death) that we should bring forth frute vnto god. For when we were in ỹ flesshe, the lustes of sinne which were stered vp by ỹ lawe, rained in our membres, to bring forth frute vnto death. But now are we delyuered from the lawe & dead frō ỹ wher vnto we were i bōdage ỹ we should serue in a new cōuersacion of the spryte, and not in the old conuersacion of the letter.

¶ What shal we saye thē? is the lawe sinne? God forbid: but I knewe not what sine ment but by ỹ lawe. For I had not knowne what lust had meant, except ỹ lawe had saide, * ỹ shalt not lust. But sinne toke an occasiō by ỹ meanes of ỹ cōmaūdement & wrought in me al maner of concupiscēce. For verely wout ỹ lawe, sinne was dead. I once liued wout law. But whē ỹ cōmaūdemēt came sinne reuiued, & I was deed. And ỹ very same cōmaūdemēt which was ordened vnto lyfe, was foūde to be vnto me an occasion of death. For synne toke occasyon by the meanes of ỹ cōmaundemēt, & so disceaued me, & by ỹ selfe cōmaūdment slewe me. Wherfore ỹ lawe is holy, & ỹ cōmaūdement holy, iust ād good. Was ỹ thē which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid. Naye sinne was death vnto me, ỹ it might appere, how ỹ sinne by ỹ meanes of ỹ whyche is good had wroghte death i me: ỹ sinne which is vnder ỹ cōmaū dēmēt myght be out of measure sinful. For we know ỹ ỹ lawe is spirituall: but I ā carnal solde vnder sin, because I wot not what I do. For what I wolde, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I. If I do nowe that which I wold not, I graunte, to the lawe that it is good. So thē now it is not I that do it, but synne that dwelleth i me. For I know, that in me (that is to saye in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. To wyl is present withe me: but I fynde no meanes to performe that which is good. For I do not that good thinge, whych I wolde, but that euell do I, which I wolde not. Finally yf I do that I wolde not, then is it not I ỹ do it, but sinne that dwelleth in me doth it. I fynde then by the lawe, that when I wolde do good/euell is present with me. I delyte in the lawe of god, concerning the inner man. But I se an other lawe in my mēbres rebelling agaynste the lawe of mi minde, and subduing me vnto the lawe of Sinne which is in my membres. O wretched man ỹ I am who shal delyuer mee from this body of death? I thanke god thorow Jesus Christ oure lord. So then I my selfe in my mynde serue the lawe of god, and in my flesshe the lawe of synne.

The Notes.

a * Are deed concerning the lawe, To be deed concerninge the lawe is to be made free from the lawe and from the burthen therof, and to receaue the spryte by which we may do after ỹ law. And the same is to be be delyuered from the lawe of deth.
To be solde vnder synne, is to be made a bondmāne to the wyll of Sinne onely.
¶ The lawe of the spirite geueth lyfe. The spirit of God maketh vs gods childeren and heyers wt Christ The abounda nt loue of god cannot be separated.

The viii. Chapter.

THere is then no dampnacion to them which are in Chryste Jesu, whych walke not after the flesh: but after the spirite, For the lawe of the spirytc, ỹ bringeth life thrōw Jesus Christ hath delyuered me from the lawe of synne ād death. For what the lawe coulde not do in as much as it was weake because of the flesh, that performed God and sent his sonne in the sinnefull flesshe and by * synne dampned synne in the flesh: that ỹ righeousnes required of ỹ lawe, myght be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the spirite. For they ꝑ are carnall, are carnallye mynded. But they that are spirituall, are goolly mynded. To be carnally mynded, is death. but to be spiritualy mided is life & peace

*Synne is taken here for a synne offerynge after the vse of the hebrewe tonge.

¶ Because that the fleshly mynde is emnyte against god: for it is not obedient to ꝑ lawe of God/nether can be. So then they ꝑ are geuē to the flesh cannot please God. But a*ye are not geuen to the flesshe, but to the *spirete: yf so be that the spirite of God dwell in you. If ther be eny man that hath not ꝑ spirite of Christ the same is none of hys. If Christ be in you, the body is dead because of synne: but the spirite is lyfe for ryghtewesnes sake Wherfore yf ꝑ spirite of him ꝑ raysed vp Jesus from death, dwell in you: euen he ꝑ raysed vp Christ from death, shall quycken your mortal bodyes, because ꝑ his spirite dwelleth in you.

a*ye are not geuen to the flesshe To be geuen to the flesh, is to lyue in the woryes of the flesshe which are reꝑted Galat. v. d.

¶ Therfore brethren we are now detters, not to the flesshe, to liue after ꝑ flesh. For yf ye lyue after the flesshe, ye must dye. But yf ye mortifye the dedes of the body by the helpe of the spirite/ye shall lyue. For as many as are led by ꝑ spirete of God: they are the sōnes of god For ye haue not receaued the spirete of bondage to feare eny moare, but ye haue receaued the spirete of *adopcion wher by we cry Abba father. The same spirite certifyeth oure spirete that we are ꝑ sonnes of God. If we be sonnes, we are also heyres, ꝑ heyres I meane of God and heyres annexed wt Christ, yf so be ꝑ wee suffer to gether, ꝑ we may be glorified to gether. ✠

*adopcion

✠ For I suppose ꝑ ꝑ afflictiōs of this lyfe, are not worthy of the glory which shalbe shewed vpon vs. Also ꝑ feruent desyre of ꝑ creatures abydeth lokynge when ꝑ sonnes of God shal appeare, because the creatures are subdued to vanyte agaynst their wil: but for his will whych subdueth them in hope. For ꝑ very creatures shalbe delyuered from ꝑ bondage of corrupcion into ꝑ glorye-ous libertie of ꝑ sonnes of god. For we know that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauayleth in payne euen vnto this tyme

Not they only, but euen we also wych haue the fyrste frutes of the Spyrite mourne in oure selues and wayte for ꝑ(adopcion) and loke for ꝑ deliuerance of oure bodyes. ✠ For we are sauyd bi hope. But hope that is sene is no hope for how can a mā hope for ꝑ which he seeth? But if we hope for that we se not, thē do we with pacience abide for it.

Lyke wyse the spirite also helpeth oure infirmities. For wee knowe not what to desyre, as we oughte: but the spirite maketh intercession mightely for vs with groninges, which cā not be expressed with tōg. And he that searcheth the hertes, knoweth the meaninge of ꝑ spirite: for he maketh Intercessiō for ꝑ saīctes, acordig to ꝑ pleasure of god. ✠ For we knowe that all thinges worke for the best vnto them that loue God whiche also are called* of purpose. For those whych he knew before, he also ordeyned before, that they shoulde be lyke fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne/that he myght be the fyrste begotten sonne among manye brethren. Moreouer which he appointed before them also he called, and whiche he called, them also be iustified, which he iustifyed, thē he also glorifyed. What shall we then saye to these thinges? yf God be on our syde/who can be against vs? which spared not hys owne sonne, but gaue hi for vs all: how shal he not wt hi geue vs al thigs also? Who shal lay any thing to ꝑ charg of gods chosē? it is god ꝑ iustifieth who thē shal cōdēpne? it is Christ which is dead/ye rather risē again, which is also on the right hand of god & maketh intercession for vs. Who shal separate vs from the loue* of god? shal trybulacion? or anguish? or persecution? other hūger? ether nakednes? ether parel? ether swerd? As it is writen: for thy sake are we kylled al day longe, and are counted as shepe apointed to be slayne. Neuertheles in all these thinges we ouercome strongly thorow hys help ꝑ loued vs: ye a I ā sure ꝑ nether death, nether lyfe, nether Angels, or rule, nether power/ nether thinges presente, nether thinges to come, nether heygh, nether lowth, nether eny other creature shalbe able to depart vs from the loue of God, shewedde in Christ Jesu our Lorde. ✠

The notes.

(Adopcion) that is the inheritaunce promised by grace.
* We must suffre with Christ yf we shal rayne with him in glory.
* First frutes, a tast, and a certayne porcion and not the ful gifte of the spyrite * We are saued by hope ꝟ is, we hope to be delyuered out of the corruption of our bodies into the glory that Christ now is in: and therfore faint not in our tribulations.
¶ Paul cõplaineth vpon the herd hertes of ꝟ Jewes that wolde not receaue Christ, and how ꝟ Heathen are chosen in their steade.

The .ix. Chapter.

I Saye the trueth in Christ, I lye not, in that wherof my conscyence beareth me wytnes in the holy goost, that I haue gret heuynes and continual sorowe in my herte. For I haue wysched mi selfe to be cursed from Chryste, for my brethren ād my kynsmen as pertaynynge to the flesshe, which are the Israelites. To whome pertaineth the Adopcion, and the glorie, and the couenauntes and the lawe that was geuen, and ꝟ seruice of God and the promyses: whose also are the fathers and they of whome (as concernynge the flesshe) Christe came, which is God ouer al thinges blessed for euer: Amen.
I speake not these thinges as though the wordes of god had take non effect. For they are not al Israelites which came of Israel: nether are they al children strayghte waye because they are the seede of Abraham. But in Isaac shall thy seed
B be called: that is to saye, they which are the children of the flesshe, are not ꝟ children of God. But the childrē of promes are counted ꝟ seede. For this is a worde of promes, aboute this time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.
Nether was it so w̄ her only: but also when Rebecca was w̄ childe by one, I meane by our father Isaac, yer the children were borne, when they had nether done good nether bad: that the purpose of God which is by election, myghte stande, it was sayde vnto her, not bi ꝟ reason of workes, but by grace of the caller: the elder shall serue the yonger. As it is wrytten: Jacob hee loued, but Esau hee hated.

What shall we saye then? is there anye vnrighteousnes w̄ God? God forbyd. For he saith to Moses: I wil shew mercy to whom I shewe mercy: & wil haue compassion on whō I haue compassiō. So lieth it not then in a mās wil or rūnyng, but in the mercy of God. For the scripture sayeth vnto Pharao euen for this same pleasure haue I stered the vp, to shewe my power on thee, ād that my name might be declared throw out all C the worlde. So hath he mercy on whom he wyll, and whome he wyll, he maketh herde herted.

Thou wilt saie then vnto me: why then blameth he vs yet? For who cā resist his wil? But O man, what art thou which disputest w̄ * God? Shal ꝟ worke saye to the worcke man: why haste ꝟ made me on this fashion? Hath not the potter power ouer the claye, euen of the same lompe to make one vessell vnto honoure, and another to dishonoure? Euen so, God willig to shew his wrath and to make his power knowē, suffred with long pacience ꝟ vesseles of wrath, ordeined to damnacion, that he might declare ꝟ riches of his glori on ꝟ vessels of mercy, whiche he had prepared vnto glory: that is to saie, vs whiche he cauled not of the Jewes only, but also of ꝟ gentiles. As he saieth in Osee: I wyll call theym my people: and her beloued.
And it shal come to passe in the place where it was said vnto them, ye are not mi people: that ther shalbe called ꝟ children of the lyuing god.
But Esaias crieth concernig Israel, thoughe the nombre of the chyldren of Israel be as the sonde of ꝟ sea, yet shal but a remnaunt be saued. He finyssheth D the worlde verely, and maketh it shorte in rightwesnes. For a short word wyll God make on erth. And as Esaias said before: except the lorde of Saboth had lefte vs seede, we had bene made as Sodoma, ād had bene kyndled to Gomorra.

What shal we saye then? We saye ꝟ the gentyles which folowed not righte wesnes haue ouertake rightewesnes: I meane the rightewesnes which cometh of fayth. But Israel which folowed ꝟ lawe of ryghtewesnes coulde not at-tayne vnto the lawe of ryghtwesnes. and wherfore? Because the soughte it not by fayth: but as it were by the worke of the law. For they haue stombled at the stombling stone. As it is written: Beholde I put in Sion a stombling stone, and a rocke which shal make me saule. And none that beleue on hi shal be a shamed.

The notes.

*The fleshely and proud mide that wyl be as wise as God must be mortyfyed to learne to feare God & to obeye hym & to leaue dysputyng vñ hym.
¶ The vnfaythfulnes of the Jewes, Two maner of ryghteousnes.

The .x. Chapter.

BRethren, my hertes desyre & prayer to god for Israel is, they myght be saued. For I beare them record ỹ they haue a feruent mid to godwarde, but not according to knowledg. For they are ignorant of the rightwesnes which is alowed before God, ād go a boute to stablish their owne rightwesnes, and therfore, are not obedyent vnto the righe wesnes which is of valewe before god. For *Christe is the ende of the lawe, to iustifie al that beleue.

Moses describeth the rightwesnes which cometh of the lawe, how that the man which doth the thynges of ỹ lawe, shal liue therein. But the rightwesnes which cometh of faith, speaketh on this wyse. Saye not in thine hert, who shall ascende into heauen (ỹ is nothynge els then to fetche Christ downe) other who shal ascende into the depe? (ỹ is nothig els but to fetch vp Christe from death) But what saith ỹ scripture? The word is nye thee, euen in thy mouthe and in thyne herte?

This word is the worde of *faith which we preache. For if thou shalte knowledge w̄ thy mouth ỹ Iesus is ỹ Lorde, and shalte beleue with thine hert that God raysed him vp from death ỹ shalte be safe. For the beleefe of ỹ herte iustifieth, and to knowledg w̄ ỹ mouth maketh a man safe. For ỹ scripture sayeth: whosoeuer beleueth on him shal not be ashamed.

There is no dyfference betwene the Jewes and the Gentiles: For one is Lord ouer all which is ryche vnto all ỹ call on him. For whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lorde, shalbe safe. But how shal they cal ōhi whō they beleued not? how shal they beleue on him of whō they haue not herde? how shal they heare with out a preacher? And howe shal they preache b *except they be sent: As it is written: how beautyfull are ỹ fete of them which bringe glad tydinges of peace, and bringe glade tydynges of good things. But they haue not alobeyed to the Gospel. For Esaias sayth Lorde who shall beleue oure saynges? So then fayth cometh by the worde of God. But I aske: haue they not herd? No dout, their soūde wēt out into all lāndes, and their wordes i to the endes of the worlde. ✠

¶

But I demaunde whether Israell dyd knowe or not? First Moyses sayth: I will prouoke you to enuy, by them that are no people and by a folisshe nacīō I will anger you. Esaias after ỹ, is bolde and sayth: I am foūde of thē ỹ sought me not: ād haue appered to thē ỹ asked not after me. And agaynst Israel he sayth: al daye long haue I stretched forth my handes vnto a people ỹ beleueth not, but speaketh agaynst mee.

The Notes

*a Christ is the ende of the lawe. that is, Christ, is ỹ fulfilling of the lawe: so that who so hathe him & beleueth ỹ he with shedyng of hys bloud hath washed awaye synnes and ther wyth ouer come death and hell, and obtayned the fauour of hys father for al that thus beleue, is counted ryghtwes although he do not in deade satisfye the lawe.
*Though fayth iustyfye from synne and though he Christ deserueth the rewarde promysed yet ys thee promys made on the condycyō ỹ we embrace Christes doctryne and confesse hym wyth worder & dede So that we are iustyfyed to do good workes, ād in them to walke to the saluacion promysed, b *Except they be sent, ỹ is, except the word be geuen them of god: Except they be sent: ye wil aske of whom verely of him which is the owner of ỹ gospell, that is God. Of him de they sent, whyche preache Christ truely without the desire of vaine glorye or gaynes, of the same maner doth Christ prone ỹ he is sent of hys father: because he spake to the glory of hys father not of himselfe. John vii. But soch as vnder the pretence of preaching the Gospel preache mens tradycions wherby they seke the praise of them selues, are false Apostles, and sent of Antychrist not of Christ.

¶ All the Jewes are not caste away, therfore paule warneth the gentyles that be called not to be hygh minded, nor to despise the Jewes, for the iudgemētes of godare depe and secrete.

The .xi. Chapter.

A I Saye then: hath God caste away his people? God forbyd. For euen I verely am an Israelite, of the seade of Abraham, and of the trybe of Beniamin. God hath not cast away his people whiche he knewe before. Eyther wot ye not what the scripture saith by the mouth of Helias how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying? * Lorde they haue kylled thy prophetes, and dygged downe thyne aulters: and I am lefte onely and they seke my lyfe. But what saith the answere of God to hym agayne? I haue reserued vnto me vii. thousand me whych haue not bowed the knee to Baall. Euen so is there a remnaunt left thorow ỹ election of grace. If it be of * grace, then is it not of workes. For then were grace no more grace. If it be of workes thē is it no more grace. For then were deseruing no lenger deseruing. what thē? Israel hath not obtayned, ỹ he sought. No but yet ỹ electiō hath obteined it. The rēnaunt are blynded, accordinge as it is written. * God hath geuen them the spirite of vnquietnes: eyes that they shold not se, and eares that they shoulde not heare vnto thys daye, * And Dauid sayeth: Let their table be made a snare to take them wyth all, and on occasion to faule/ and a rewarde vnto them. Let their eyes be blynded that they se not, and euen a * bowe downe their backes.

B I say then: haue they therfor stombled that they shoulde, but faule onely? God forbid, but thorow their faule is saluacion happened vnto the gentiles, for to prouoke them vnto all. Wherfore if the faull of them be the riches of the world & the minishinge of them, the ritches of the gentyles: How much more shoulde it be so/ if they all beleued? I speake to you gentiles, in as muche as I am the Apostle of the gentyles, I wyll magnifye myne office, that I might prouoke them whych are my flesh: & might saue some of them. For if the casting awaye of thē be the reconcilinge of the worlde: what shall the receauinge of them bee, but lyfe again frō death? For yf one peace be holy ỹ whole hepe is holy. And yf ỹ rote be holy, ỹ braunches are holy also

Though some of the braunches be broken of, and thou beynge a wylde olyue tree, art grafte in amonge them, and made partaker of the rote and fatnes of the olyue tree, boost not thy selfe agaynst the braunches. For yf thou boost thy selfe, remember that thou bearest not the rote/ but the rote thee. Thou wilte saye then: the braūches are broken of, ỹ I myght be grafte in. Thou sayst wel: because of vnbeleue they e are broken of, and thou standest stedfast in fayth. C Be not hye mynded, but feare seynge ỹ God spared not the naturall braunches, lest haply he also spare not the.

Beholde the kindnes and rigorousnes of God: on them whych fell, rigorousnes: but towardes the, kyndnes: yf ỹ continu in his kyndnes: For els ỹ shalt be hewen of, and they yf they byde not styll in vnbeleefe, shalbe grafted in agayne. For God is of power to graffe them in agayne. For yf thou wast cut out of a naturall wilde olyue tree, & wast grafted contrarye to nature in a true olyue tree: how moche more shall ỹ naturall braunches be grafted in their awne olyue tree agayne.

I wolde not that this secrete shulde be hyd from you my brethren (lest ye shuld be wyse in youre awne conseytes) that partlt blindnes is happened i Israel, vntyll the fulnes of ỹ gentyles be come in: and so all Israel shalbe saued. As it is written: * There shal come out of Sion he that doth deliuer/ and shal turne awaye ỹ vngodlynes of Jacob. And this is my couenaūt vnto thē, when I shall take awaye their synnes. As cōcerning the gospell they are enemyes for youre sakes: but as touchinge ỹ election they are loued for ỹ fathers sakes.

D For verely the gyftes and callinge of God are soche, that it cannot repent him of thē: for loke, as ye tyme past sed haue not beleued God, yet haue now obtayned mercy thorow their vnbeleue: euen so now haue they not beleued ỹ mercy whych is happened vnto you, ỹ they also may obtaine mercy. God hath wrappedde all nacyons in vnbeleue, ỹ he myght haue mercye on all.

nota that ge my hand me on all

O the depnes of the aboundaunt wysdome and knowledge of God: how vnsercheable are his iudgmentes, and his ways past fidig out: for who hathe

knowen the

the mynde of the Lorde? Or who was hys counseller? other who hath geuen vnto him fyrst, that he might be recompenced againe? For of him, and thorow him, and for him are al thinges. To him be glorye for euer: Amen.

The notes.

a* To bowe downe their backes, dothe not onelye signifye that they shoulde be brought vnder of the gentiles and oppressed with al kindes of euel: but þ they shoulde not onlelokevp to call on the lorde w sure beleefe of hert.

The swete conuersation, loue, and workes of such as beleue in Chryst.

The xii. Chapter.

I Beseche you therfore Brethren, by the mercyfulnes of God, that ye make your bodies a quicke Sacrifice, holye and acceptable vnto God: which is youre resonable seruing of God, and fashion not your selues lyke vnto this world: but be ye chaunged in youre shape/by the renuing of youre wittes, that ye maye fele, what thinge þ good, that acceptable/ and perfecte will of god is. For I say (thorow the grace that vnto me geuen is) to euery man amonge you, that no man esteme of hym selfe more then it becommeth him to esteme, but that he discretly iudge of him selfe, accordinge as God hath dealte to euery man the measure of fayth.

As we haue manye membres in one body, and all membres haue not one office: so we beinge manye, are one bodye in Christe, and euerye man among our selues/ one an others membres. ✠

B ✠ Seinge that we haue diuers giftes accordynge to the grace that is geuen vnto vs: if eny man haue the gyfte of * prophesy, let him haue it, that it be agreinge vnto the fayth. Let him that hathe an office wayte on his office. Let hym that teacheth, take hede to his doctrine Let hym that exhorteth geue attendaūce to hys exhortacion. If eny man geue, let him do it with singlenes. Let hym that ruleth, do it wyth dylygence. If any man shewe mercye/ let hym do it w̄ cheresulnes. Let loue be without dissimulacion. Hate that which is euell, and cleue vnto that whyche is good. Be kinde one to another wyth brotherly loue. In geuinge honour, go one before another. Let not that busines which ye haue in hande, be tedious to you. Be feruente in ỹ spirite. Applie youre selues to the time. Reioyce in hope. Be pacient in tribulacion. Continue in prayer. Distribute vnto the necessyte of the sayntes and be readie to harboure. Blesse them which persecute you: blesse but course not. Be mery with them that are mery. Wepe with C them that weape. Be of lyke affection one to wardes another: Be not hie minded: but make your selues equal to the of the lower sorte. ✠ Be not wise in youre awne opinions. Recōpence to no mane euyl. Prouyde afore hande thinges honest in the sight of al men. If it be possyble, how be it of youre parte/ haue peace with al men. Dearly beloued auenge not youre selues, but geue roume vnto the wrath of God. For it is written: vengeaunce is myne, and I will rewarde sayth the Lorde. Therfore yf thyne enemy honger, fede him, yf he thurst, ge him drinke. For in so doing, thou shalt heape *coles of fyre on his head. Be not ouercōe of euyl: but ouercome euil wyth goodnes. ✠

The notes.

C The obedience of men vnto theyr rulers. Loue fulfylleth þ lawe. It is now no tyme to folowe þ workes of darcknes.

* Coles that is thou shalt kyndle hym and make him to loue.

* Prophesye is taken here for þ expoundynge of scryptures: whych in darke places must be expounded, that it agre to the open places, and general articles of the fayth.

The. xiii. Chapter.

LEt euery soule submit him selfe vnto that auctorite of the hyer powers. For there is no power but of god. The powers ỹ be, are ordeined of God, Who soeuer therfore resisteth power/ resisteth the ordinaunce of God. And they that resiste, shal receaue to them selfe dānacyon. For rulers are not to be feared for good workes, but for euyll. Wilt thou be wout feare of the power? Do wel then: & so shalt thou be prayed of the same. For he is the minister of God, for thy welth. But and yf thou do euyll, then feare: for he beareth not a sweard for nought, but is the minister of God, to take vengeaunce on thē, that do euyl. Wherfore ye muste nedes obey

obeye, not for feare of vengaunce only: but also because of * conscience. And euē for this cause paie ye tribute. For they are Goddes ministers, seruing for the same purpose.

Geue to euery man therfore his dewtie: tribute to whō tribute belōgeth: custōe to whō custome is due: feare to whō feare belōgeth: honoure to whō honour pertayneth. * Owe nothing to any mā: but to loue one another. For he ỹ loueth another, fulfilleth the lawe. For these cōmaūdementes: Thou shalt not cōmit aduoutry: ỹ shalt not kill, ỹ shalt not steale: ỹ shalte not beare false wytnes: ỹ shalt not desire & so forth (if there be any other cōmaūdemēt) they are all coprehēded in this saieng: Loue thyne neyghboure as thy selfe. Loue hurteth not hys neighboure. Therfore is loue the fulfilling of the lawe. ✠

* This also we knowe, I meane the seasō, howỹ it is tyme ỹ we should now awake out of slepe. For now is our saluacīō nerer then when we beleued. The night is passed & the daye is come nye. Let vs therfore caste awaie ỹ dedes of darckenes, & let vs put on the (armour) of lighte. Let vs walke honestlye as it were in ỹ daye lyght: not in eating and drinkynge: nether in chamburyng and wantonnes, nether in strife ād enuieng: but put ye on the Lord Iesus Christ: ✠ And make not prouision for ỹ flesshe, to fulfil the lustes of it.

* Though thou were of power to resist the powers yet were thou dampned in thy conscience if thou dyddest it because it was against godes commaundemente.

Loue is the fulfyllyng of the lawe, Christe whiche is our saluacion is nowe nerer then when we loked for hym in the olde testament. (Armoure) of lyght, fayth, hope, loue, the feare that God, trueth al that the lyght of godes worde teacheth.

¶ The weake ought not to be despysed. No man shulde offende anothers cōscience. Agayne, for outewarde thynges shulde no man cōdempne another.

¶ The. xiiii. Chapter.

A Hym * that is weake in the fayth receaue vnto you, not in disputinge & troublynge his conscience. One beleueth ỹ he maye eate al thinge. Another which is weake eateth herbes Let not him that eteth dispise him that eateth not/ and let not him which eateth not, iudge hym that eateth. For god hath receaued hym:

Who arte thou that iudgest another mannes seruaunt? Whether he stande or falle/ that pertayneth vnto his master: yee, he shal stande. For God is able to make him stande.

This man putteth dyfference betwene day & daye. An other mā coūteth al dayes alyke. Se that no mā wauer in his awne meanynge. He ỹ obserueth one daye more then an other, doeth it for the Lords pleasure. And he that obserueth not one daye more then an other, doeth it to please the Lorde also. He that eateth, doth it to please the Lorde, for hee geueth God thankes. And hee that eateth not, eateth not, to please ỹ Lorde B wt all, & geueth God thankes. For none of vs lyueth his awne seruaunt: nether doeth anye of vs die his awne seruaunt. If wee lyue, wee lyue to bee at ỹ Lordes will. And yf wee dye, wee dye at the Lordes will. Whether wee lyue therefore or dye wee are ỹ Lordes. For Christ therefore dyed, & rose agayne, & reuiued that hee myght bee Lorde both of deed and quicke.

But why doest thou thē iudge thy brother? Other why doest ỹ despise thy brother? We shalbe al brought before the iudgment seat of Christ. For it is writē as truly as I liue saith ỹ lord, all knees shal bowe to me, and all tōges shal geue a knowlede to god. So shal euery one of vs geue acomptes of hī selfe to god. Let vs not therfor iudge one āother eny more. But iudge this rather, ỹ no man C put a stombling blocke, or an occasiō to faule in his brothers way. For I know & am ful certified in the Lorde Iesus ỹ ther is nothing comen of it selfe but vn to hym that iudgeth it to be comen. If thy brother be greued wythe thy meate, now walkest thou not charitablye. Destroye not hym with thy meat, for whome Christ dyed. Cause not youre treasure to be euelspoken of. For the kingdom of god, is not meate & drinck, but rightuousnes, peace and ioye in the holy goost For whosoeuer in these thinges serueth Christ pleseth wel god, & is comēded of men. Let vs folow those thinges which make for peace, ād thinges wherw̄ one may edifie an other: destroy not ỹ worke of god for a litel meates sake. Al thinges are pure: but it is euil for ỹ mā, wich eateth w̄ hurt of his conscience. It is good neyther to eate flesshe, neyther to drynke wyne, nether eny thing, wherby thy brother stombleth, eyther falleth, or is made weake. Hast thou fayth: haue it with thy selfe before God. Happy is he that condempneth not him selfe in ỹ thynge whych he alloweth: For he that maketh conscience/ is dãpned if he eate: because he doth it not of faith. For what so euer is not of fayth, ỹ same is synne.

Titu.i.b

The notes.

a* Him that is weake &c. He is weake that is sone offended & hathe lyttell proffeted in that knowledge and libertye of chryst, whych he got with hys bloude: And he is stronge that knoweth the libertie of a christen man, that to the cleane all thynges are clean: and which douteth not as. S. Ambrose saith, writing on this chapter that all thinges are to bee eaten, that are ordened for mans vse: which thinge he proueth by this open text of Genes. all thinges are creding good that God made, and thereof argueth that they are not be refused. He addeth moreouer, For nether Enoch sayth he which kyst pleased god nor Noe which at ỹ floud was only fõud rightwes nor Abrahã ỹ frind of God, or Isaac or Jacob those rightwes & Godes frindes, amongest whõ was also Loth, or other rightewes men are ready to haue abstaied frõ these. He meneth meates, whether they be fische or flesh . b* Our tresure is our knowleg. To do agaynst conscience is dãnable. And all that is not of fayth is synne.

¶ The infyrmyte and fraylnes of the weake ought to be borne with all loue and kyndnesse, after the ensample of Christ.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

A WE which are strong/ ought to beare the fraylnes of thẽ which are weake and not to stonde in oure awne conseites: Let euery mã please his neighboure vnto his welth, and edifiynge. Christ pleased not him selfe: but as it is writtẽ *The rebukes of thẽ which rebuked thee fell on me + What soeuer thinges are wrytten afore tyme / are written for oure learning, that we thorow pacience and comforte of the scripture, myght haue hope.

He is strong that can beate another mans weakenes. Psal. lxviii.

The god of pacience and consolacion, geue vnto euery on of you, ỹ ye be
B lyke mynded one towardes another after the ensample of Christ Jesu: that ye all agreynge to gether, maye with one mouth prayse god ỹ father of oure Lorde Jesus. Wherfore receaue ye one another as Christ receaued vs, to ỹ prayse of God. And I say that Jesus Christe was a minister of ỹ circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promyses made vnto the fathers. And let the gentyles prayse God for his mercy as it is written: For this cause I will prayse the amõg the gentyles, & syng vnto thy name. And agayne he sayth: reioyse ye gentyles, with his people. And agayne, prayse the Lorde al ye gentyles, & laude him all nacions. And in an other place Esayas sayth: ther shal be the rote of Jesse, and he that shal rise to raygne ouer the gentyles: in him shall the gentyles trust. The god of hope fil you wyth all ioye and peace in beleuinge: ỹ ye maye be ryche in hope thorowe the power of the holy goost. +

I my selfe am full certified of you my brethren, that ye your selues are ful of goodnes and fyled wyth all knowledge, and are able to exhorte one another. Neuertheles brethren I haue somwhat boldly wryten vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembraunce, thorow the grace that is geuen me of God, that I shulde be the mynyster of Jesu Christ among the Gentiles, & shuld minister the glad tydinges of God, that ỹ gentyles myght be an acceptable offering sanctyfyed by the holy goost. I haue therefore where of I maye reioyse in Christ Jesu/ in those thinges which pertayne to god. For I dare not speake of eny of those thynges whych Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the gentyles obe
D diente, with worde and dede, in myghty sygnes and wonders, by the power of ỹ spyrete of god: so that from Jerusalem and the coostes round about vnto Illyricum. I haue fylled all countres wyth the glad tydynges of Christ.

So haue I enforsed my selfe to preache the gospell, not where Christe was named, lest I shuld haue bylt on ãother mannes foundacyon: but as it is wrytten. To whome he was not spoken of, they shall se, and they that heare not, shall vnderstande. For thys cause I haue bene ofte let to come vnto you: but now seyng I haue no more to do in these countres, and also haue bene desyrous manye yeares to come vnto you, when G I shal take my iourneye into Spayne, I wyll come to you. I trust to se you in my iorney, and to be broght on my way thytherwarde by you, after that I haue somwhat enioyed you.

now

Now go I vnto Ierusalem, a minister vnto the saynctes. For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpō ỹ poore a* saynctes which are at Ierusalem. It hath pleased them verely/and their detters are they. For yf ỹ Gentiles be made partakers of their spirituall thiges, their dutye is to mynyster vnto theym in carnall thinges. When I haue performed this, and haue brought them this frute sealed. I wil come backe agayne by you into Spayne. And I am sure when I come, that I shal come wᵗ aboūdaūce of the blessinge of ỹ Gospel of Christe. I beseche you brethrē for our Lord Jesus Christes sake, and for ỹ loue of ỹ spyrete, that yee helpe me in my busynes wᵗ youre prayers to God for me, that I maye be delyuered from them which beleue not in Jesus, and ỹ this my seruice, which I haue to Ierusalem, maye be accepted of ỹ saynctes, ỹ I maye come vnto you wᵗ ioye, by ỹ will of God, and maye wᵗ you be refresshed. The God of peace be wᵗ you: Amē.

The notes.

a* what sainctes signify in the scripture loke Act. xxv

¶ I chapter of salutacions. He warneth them to beware of mens doctryne, and commendeth vnto thē certayne godly men, that were louers and brethren in the trueth

The. xvi. Chapter

I Commende vnto you Phebe oure syster (whyche is a minister of the congregatyon of Cenchrea) that ye receaue her in the Lord as it becommeth a* sainctes, & that ye assiste her in whatsoeuer busines she needeth of youre ayde. For she hathe succouted manye, and mine owne selfe. Grete Prisca ād Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesu, which haue for my lyfe layd doune their owne neckes. Vnto whyche not I onely geue thanckes, but also the cōgregation of the Gentiles. Like wyse grete ỹ congregation that is i their house. Salute my welbeloued Epenetes, which is the fyrst frute amounge them of Achaia. Grete Mari which bestowed much labour on vs. Salute Andronicꝰ and Iunia my cosins, which were preasoners with me also, which are well taken among ỹ apostles, ād were in Christ before me. Grete Amplias my beloued i ỹ lord. Salute Urbā our helper i christ, & Stachis my beloued. Salute Apelles approued in Christe. Salute theym which are of Aristobolus houshoulde. Salute Herodion my kynsman. Grete thē of the houshold of Narcyssus whiche are in the Lord. Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, whyche wemen dyd labboure in the lorde. Salute the beloued Persis, which laboured much in ỹ lord. Salute Rufus chosen in the lord, and hys mother and myne. Grete Asinerytus, Phlegon, Hermā, Patrobas, Hermen & the brethren whiche are wᵗ them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus & his sister, & Olympha, and all the saimctes which are wᵗ thē. Salute one another wᵗ an holy kisse. The cougregacyons of Christ salute you.

I beseech you brethren, marke thē which cause diuision and geue occasiō of euel, contrary to the doctrine whiche ye haue lerned: & auoide thē. For they ỹ are such serue not ỹ lord Jesus Christ: but their owne bellyes, & wᵗ swete preachynges & flattering wordes deceaue the hertes of the innocentes. For youre obedyence * extendeth to al men. I am glad no doubt of you. But yet I wold haue you wise vnto ỹ which is good, & to be innocente as cōcernig euel. The god of peace tread Satā vnder your fete shortely. The grace of our lord Jesu christ be wᵗ you.

Timotheus my worke felow, & Lucius, and Jason, & Sopater my kismē, salute you. I Tertius salut you, which wrote this Epistle in ỹ Lorde. Gayus mine host and the host of all the cōgregacyons, saluteth you. Erastus ỹ chāberlayne of the cytie saluteth you. And Quartus a brother saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Jesu Christ be with you al: Amen.

To him that is of power to stablish you accordyng to my gospel and preachyng of Jesus Christ in vttering of ỹ mistery which was kept secret sence the world began, but now is opened by the scriptures of prophecy, at the commaūdement of the euerlastinge god, to fiere vp obedience to the fayth, publyshed amonge al nacions: To the same God, whiche alone is wise, be prayse thorowe Jesus Chryst for eyer: Amen.

To

Now go I vnto Ierusalem, a minister vnto the saynctes. For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpō ỹ poore a* saynctes which are at Ierusalem. It hath pleased them verely/and their detters are they. For yf ỹ Gentiles be made partakers of their spirituall thiges, their dutye is to mynyster vnto theym in carnall thinges. When I haue performed this, and haue brought them this frute sealed. I wil come backe agayne by you into Spayne. And I am sure when I come, that I shal come wᵗ aboūdaūce of the blessinge of ỹ Gospel of Christe. I beseche you brethrē for our Lord Jesus Christes sake, and for ỹ loue of ỹ spyrete, that yee helpe me in my busynes wᵗ youre prayers to God for me, that I maye be delyuered from them which beleue not in Jesus, and ỹ this my seruice, which I haue to Ierusalem, maye be accepted of ỹ saynctes, ỹ I maye come vnto you wᵗ ioye, by ỹ will of God, and maye wᵗ you be refresshed. The God of peace be wᵗ you: Amē.

The notes.

a* what sainctes signify in the scripture loke Act. xxv

¶ I chapter of salutacions. He warneth them to beware of mens doctryne, and commendeth vnto thē certayne godly men, that were louers and brethren in the trueth

The. xvi. Chapter

I Commende vnto you Phebe oure syster (whyche is a minister of the congregatyon of Cenchrea) that ye receaue her in the Lord as it becommeth a* sainctes, & that ye assiste her in whatsoeuer busines she needeth of youre ayde. For she hathe succouted manye, and mine owne selfe. Grete Prisca ād Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesu, which haue for my lyfe layd doune their owne neckes. Vnto whyche not I onely geue thanckes, but also the cōgregation of the Gentiles. Like wyse grete ỹ congregation that is i their house. Salute my welbeloued Epenetes, which is the fyrst frute amounge them of Achaia. Grete Mari which bestowed much labour on vs. Salute Andronicꝰ and Iunia my cosins, which were preasoners with me also, which are well taken among ỹ apostles, ād were in Christ before me. Grete Amplias my beloued i ỹ lord. Salute Urbā our helper i christ, & Stachis my beloued. Salute Apelles approued in Christe. Salute theym which are of Aristobolus houshoulde. Salute Herodion my kynsman. Grete thē of the houshold of Narcyssus whiche are in the Lord. Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, whyche wemen dyd labboure in the lorde. Salute the beloued Persis, which laboured much in ỹ lord. Salute Rufus chosen in the lord, and hys mother and myne. Grete Asinerytus, Phlegon, Hermā, Patrobas, Hermen & the brethren whiche are wᵗ them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus & his sister, & Olympha, and all the saimctes which are wᵗ thē. Salute one another wᵗ an holy kisse. The cougregacyons of Christ salute you.

I beseech you brethren, marke thē which cause diuision and geue occasiō of euel, contrary to the doctrine whiche ye haue lerned: & auoide thē. For they ỹ are such serue not ỹ lord Jesus Christ: but their owne bellyes, & wᵗ swete preachynges & flattering wordes deceaue the hertes of the innocentes. For youre obedyence * extendeth to al men. I am glad no doubt of you. But yet I wold haue you wise vnto ỹ which is good, & to be innocente as cōcernig euel. The god of peace tread Satā vnder your fete shortely. The grace of our lord Jesu christ be wᵗ you.

Timotheus my worke felow, & Lucius, and Jason, & Sopater my kismē, salute you. I Tertius salut you, which wrote this Epistle in ỹ Lorde. Gayus mine host and the host of all the cōgregacyons, saluteth you. Erastus ỹ chāberlayne of the cytie saluteth you. And Quartus a brother saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Jesu Christ be with you al: Amen.

To him that is of power to stablish you accordyng to my gospel and preachyng of Jesus Christ in vttering of ỹ mistery which was kept secret sence the world began, but now is opened by the scriptures of prophecy, at the commaūdement of the euerlastinge god, to fiere vp obedience to the fayth, publyshed amonge al nacions: To the same God, whiche alone is wise, be prayse thorowe Jesus Chryst for eyer: Amen.

To

¶ To the Romayns:
¶ Sent frō Corinthum by Phebe the that was the minister vnto the congregacion at Cenchrea.

The notes.

a*Saynctes loke Act.ix.c.
*Fyrst frute:that is the fyrst that was conuerted to God.
*Paul wolde haue the laye people learned to iudge the prophetes and to obeye them accordinge to knowledge onlye, for all obedience that is not after true knowledg, is disalowed of God.

The fyrst Epistle of Saynct Paul the Apostle to Corinthyans.

¶ He commendeth the Corinthians, exhorteth thē to be of one mynde, and rebuketh the diuysion that was amonge them. Worldly wysdome is folyshnes before God, yee there is no wysdom but in the despysed trosse of God.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

PAul by vocacyon an Apostle of Jesus Christ thorowe the wyll of God, & brother Sostenes.

Vnto the congregacion of God which is at Corinthum. To them that are santifyed in Christ Jesu, a*saynctes bi callynge, with all that call on the name of oure Lorde Jesus Christ in euery place, both of theirs and of oures.

Grace be with you and peace from God oure father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christ.

* I thanke my God al wayes on youre be halfe, for the grace of God which is geuen you by Jesus Christ/that in all thinges ye are made ryche by him, in all lernynge and in all knowledge, euen as the testimony of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you, so that ye are behynde in no gyft, and wayte for the appea-
1. Tessa. v. rynge of our Lord Jesus Christ which shall strenght you vnto the ende, that ye
maye be blameles in the daye of oure
B Lord Jesus Christ. ¶ For God is fayth full by whoome ye are called vnto the kellouship of his sonne Jesus Christ oure Lorde. I beseche you brethren in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ/that ye all speake one thynge and that there be no dissencion amounge you: but be ye knyt to gether in one mynde & in one meanyng: It is shewed vnto me (my brethren) of you, by them that are of ꝑ house of Cloe, that ther is stryfe amonge you. And this is it that I meane: how that comenlye amonge you, one saith: I holde of Paule: another I holde of Apollo, the thyrd I holde of Cephas: the fourth I holde of Christ. Is Christ deuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptised in the name of Paul? I thanke God that I christened none of you, but Crispus & Gayus, lest eny shulde saye that I had baptised in myne awne name. I baptised also the house C of Stephana. Furthermore knowe I not whether I baptised eny man or no. For Christ sent me not to baptyse, but to preache the Gospell, not wyth wysdom of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ shulde haue bene made of none effecte For the preaching of the crosse is to the that perisshe folishenes, but vnto vs which are saued it is the power of god. For it is wrytten: I wyll destroye the wysdome of the wyse, and wyl cast away the vnderstandynge of the prudente. Where is the wyse? where is the scribe? where is the searcher of this worlde? Hath not God made the wysdome of this worlde folishnes?

For when the worlde thorow e wysdome knew not God, in the wysdome of God: it pleased god thorow folishnes of preachynge to saue the that beleue. For the Jewes require a sygne, and the Gzekes seke after wysdome. But we D preach Christ crucified, vnto the Jewes an occasion, of falling, and vnto the Grekes folyshnes: but vnto them whiche are called bothe of the Jewes, and b*Grekes, we preach Christ the power of God and the wisdome of god. For the folishnes of god is wiser then men: and the weakenes of God is stronger then men. Brethren loke on youre callinge how that not many wyse men after the flesh, not many myghtie, not many of hye degree are called: But god hath chosen the folyshe thynges of the worlde, to confounde the wyse.

And

¶ To the Romayns:
¶ Sent frō Corinthum by Phebe the that was the minister vnto the congregacion at Cenchrea.

The notes.

a*Saynctes loke Act.ix.c.
*Fyrst frute:that is the fyrst that was conuerted to God.
*Paul wolde haue the laye people learned to iudge the prophetes and to obeye them accordinge to knowledge onlye, for all obedience that is not after true knowledg, is disalowed of God.

The fyrst Epistle of Saynct Paul the Apostle to Corinthyans.

¶ He commendeth the Corinthians, exhorteth thē to be of one mynde, and rebuketh the diuysion that was amonge them. Worldly wysdome is folyshnes before God, yee there is no wysdom but in the despysed trosse of God.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

PAul by vocacyon an Apostle of Jesus Christ thorowe the wyll of God, & brother Sostenes.

Vnto the congregacion of God which is at Corinthum. To them that are santifyed in Christ Jesu, a*saynctes bi callynge, with all that call on the name of oure Lorde Jesus Christ in euery place, both of theirs and of oures.

Grace be with you and peace from God oure father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christ.

* I thanke my God al wayes on youre be halfe, for the grace of God which is geuen you by Jesus Christ/that in all thinges ye are made ryche by him, in all lernynge and in all knowledge, euen as the testimony of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you, so that ye are behynde in no gyft, and wayte for the appea-
1. Tessa. v. rynge of our Lord Jesus Christ which shall strenght you vnto the ende, that ye
maye be blameles in the daye of oure
B Lord Jesus Christ. ¶ For God is fayth full by whoome ye are called vnto the kellouship of his sonne Jesus Christ oure Lorde. I beseche you brethren in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ/that ye all speake one thynge and that there be no dissencion amounge you: but be ye knyt to gether in one mynde & in one meanyng: It is shewed vnto me (my brethren) of you, by them that are of ꝑ house of Cloe, that ther is stryfe amonge you. And this is it that I meane: how that comenlye amonge you, one saith: I holde of Paule: another I holde of Apollo, the thyrd I holde of Cephas: the fourth I holde of Christ. Is Christ deuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptised in the name of Paul? I thanke God that I christened none of you, but Crispus & Gayus, lest eny shulde saye that I had baptised in myne awne name. I baptised also the house C of Stephana. Furthermore knowe I not whether I baptised eny man or no. For Christ sent me not to baptyse, but to preache the Gospell, not wyth wysdom of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ shulde haue bene made of none effecte For the preaching of the crosse is to the that perisshe folishenes, but vnto vs which are saued it is the power of god. For it is wrytten: I wyll destroye the wysdome of the wyse, and wyl cast away the vnderstandynge of the prudente. Where is the wyse? where is the scribe? where is the searcher of this worlde? Hath not God made the wysdome of this worlde folishnes?

For when the worlde thorow e wysdome knew not God, in the wysdome of God: it pleased god thorow folishnes of preachynge to saue the that beleue. For the Jewes require a sygne, and the Gzekes seke after wysdome. But we D preach Christ crucified, vnto the Jewes an occasion, of falling, and vnto the Grekes folyshnes: but vnto them whiche are called bothe of the Jewes, and b*Grekes, we preach Christ the power of God and the wisdome of god. For the folishnes of god is wiser then men: and the weakenes of God is stronger then men. Brethren loke on youre callinge how that not many wyse men after the flesh, not many myghtie, not many of hye degree are called: But god hath chosen the folyshe thynges of the worlde, to confounde the wyse.

And

And God hath chosen the weake thinges of the worlde, to confound thinges which are myghtie. And vyle thinges of the world, and thinges which are despised, hath god chosen, ye and thinges of no reputacion, for to bring to naught thinges of Reputacion, that no Flesshe shoulde reioyce in his presence. And vnto hym pertayne ye, in Chryste Jesus, which of god is made vnto vs wisdom, and also rightuousnes, and sanctifying and redemption. That accordinge as it is written: he which a* reioyceth, shuld reioyce in the Lorde.

The Notes.

a* The Grekes signify some tyme their owne nacion onelye, as in the. Actes, vi, a. Some tyme all the Gentiles, as here. and Roma, i. b.

b* He reioyseth in the lorde whych knoweth certenly that god willeth hym good, and fauoreth hym, so that that thinge whyche he dothe pleaseth god: and that which he doth not as he should do, is forgeuen hym, and not imputed vnto hym, Jeremy, vi, g and Roman, viii, c

¶ It is not eloquence, & glorious paynted wordes of worldly wisdome, that can edyfye & conuert soules vnto Chryst, but the playne wordes of the scripture, for they make mencion of hym, and hys crosse.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

nota glorint wordes

AND I brethren when I came to you, came not in gloriousnesse of wordes or of wisdom, shewing vnto you the testimony of god. Neyther shewed I my selfe that I knewe any thig among you, saue Jesus Chryst, euen the same that was crucified. And I was amonge you in wekenes, and in feare, and in muche tremblinge. And my wordes and my preachinge was not with entisinge wordes of mans wisdom: but in shewinge of the spirite and of power, that your faithe shulde not stand in the wysdomme of men: but in the power of God.

That we speake of, is wysdom amonge them that are perfect: not the wysdom of this world, nether of the rulers of thys world (which go to nought) but we speke the wysdome of God whiche is in secrete and lyeth hyd, whiche God ordeyned before the worlde vnto oure glorye: which wisdom none of the rulers of the worlde knewe. For had they knowen it, they wold not haue crucified the lord of glory But as it is written: The eye hath not sene, and the eare hath not heard, nether haue entred into the herte of manne, the things which god hath prepared for the that loue hym.

But God hath opened them vnto vs by his spirete. For the spirete searcheth all thynges/ye the bottome of Gods secretes For what man knoweth the thinges of a man: saue the spirete of a man which is in him. Euen so the thinges of God knoweth no man, but the spirete of god: & we haue not receued the spirete of the worlde: but the spirete which cometh of God, for to knowe the thynges that are geuen to vs of god, which thynges also we speake, not in the conuynge wordes of mannes wysdome, but with the conuynge wordes of the holy goste, makyng spirituall comparysons of spirituall thynges. For the naturall man perceaueth not the thinges of the spirete of God. For they are but folishnes vnto hi nether can he perceaue them, because he is spiritually examined. But he that is spirituall, discusseth all thinges: yet he him selfe is iudged of no man*. For who knoweth the mynde of the Lord, other who shal informe hi[m]? But we vnderstande the mynde of Christ.

Esay. xl. d

Roman. xi. d

The Notes

Perfect are they that vnderstande the lawe, fayth and workes truly, and professe them.

The spirite vnderstandeth godly thinges. The natural man that is not renued in Christ cā not perceaue the thynges of God.

¶ Paul rebuketh the sectes and authors therof. Christe is the foundacyon of hys church. No man oughte to reioyce in men, but in God.

The. iii. Chaptes

AND I could not speake vnto you brethren as vnto spyrituall: but as vnto carnall, euen as it were vnto babes in Christ. I gaue you mylke to drinke and not meate. For ye then were not strong, no nether yet are. For ye are yet carnall. As longe verely as ther is amonge you enuyenge, stryfe and dissencyon: are ye not carnall, and walcke after the maner of men? As lōge as one sayth, I holde of Paull, & another I am of Apollo, are ye not carnal? What is Paul? What thynge is Apollo? Only mynisters are they by whome ye beleued, euen as the Lord gaue euery mā grace. I haue plāted, Apollo watred: but God gaue the encrece. So thē, nether is he that planteth eny thinge, nether he that watreth, but god that gaue the encreace. ¶ He that planteth and he ỹ watereth, are nether better thē ỹ other. Euery man yet shal receaue his reward

C accoꝛding to his labourers. We are Goddes labourers, ye are goddes husbandry, ye are goddes building. Accoꝛdynge to the grace of god geuen vnto me, as a wyse buylder haue I laid foũdacion. And another buylt theron: But let euery mā take hede how he buildeth vpon. For other foundacion can no mā laye, then that which is layd, whych is Jesus Chꝛist. If any mā buyld on this foundacion, golde/ siluer, pꝛecious stones: timber, haye oꝛ stuble: euery mans woꝛke shal appeare.a* For the daie shal declare it, and it shall be shewed in fyꝛe. And the fyꝛe shal trie euery manes woꝛke what it is. If any mans woꝛke that he hath buylt vpon/ byde, he shall receaue a reward. If any manes woꝛke burne, he shal suffer losse, but he shalbe sake hi selfe: neuertheles yet as it were thoꝛow fyꝛe.

✝ Are ye not ware that ye are ỹ temD ple of God, and how that the spꝛyte of God dwelleth in you? If any mā defile the temple of god him shal god destroy for ỹ tẽple of god is holy, which temple ye are. Let no man declare him selfe. If any man seme wyse among you, let him be a fole i this woꝛld, that he maie be wise. For the wisdome of this woꝛld is folishnes with god. For it is wꝛitten he compasseth the wise i their craftines. And agaie/ God knoweth the thoughtes of the wyse that they be vaine. Therfoꝛe lett no man reioyce in menne. For all thynges are youres/ whether it be Paull/ ether Apollo, ether Cephas: whether it be the woꝛld, ether lyfe, ether death, whether they be pꝛesente thynges oꝛ thynges to come: all are youres: and ye are Chꝛistes, and Christ is goddes. ✝

The notes.

a* For the daie shal declare it &c. Daie here signyfieth the tyme when God bꝛingeth to lyght ỹ thing that is hyd. By fire vnderstande exquisite & perfect true Judgment, the which, when it hath opened ỹ fawte and errour, affliction of foꝛthinking and repentyng doth folow. S. Paule so teacheth here of pꝛeachers that succeaded him when he was departed from the Coꝛynthians. He had layde a good foundacion, let other take hede, saith he, what they builde theron. If they builde thinges woꝛthy for Chꝛist their woꝛke wil remayne and abyde euē whē it is sene in the lyght, whiche thinge he signyfyeth when he sayth, for the daye shall declare it. But ye they dꝛynge in Jewyshe facyons, they shal happely deceaue foꝛ a time but at lenght their death shalbe espyed as soone as it ys begonne to be examyned by true and syncere Judgement, which is signyfyed by this woꝛde fyer: Thus doth Erasmus expounde this place in hys annotacyon vpon thys woꝛkes. Haye and stoble, pꝛouing also by ỹ authoꝛitie of S. Amꝛose/ Jerome, and other olde authoꝛes/ that it maketh nothing but purgatoꝛy, though manye haue wꝛongfully laboured to wꝛest it to that purpose. The pꝛeachers are but ministers, Jugement belongeth onely vnto god.

The iiii. Chapter.

A The Apostles are ministres.

LEt mē thys wyse esteme vs euen as the Ministers of Chꝛist/ and disposers of the secretes of God. Furthermoꝛe it is required of ỹ disposers, that they be founde faythfull.* With me is it but a verye small thinge that I should be iudged of you, eyther of (mans day). No I iudge not mine owne selfe. I know nought by my selfe, yet am I not therby iustified. It is the loꝛd that iudgeth me. Therfoꝛ iudge nothige hefoꝛe the time vntyll the Loꝛde come, which wyll lyghten thinges that are hyd in darknes, and open the consels of the hertes. And then shal euery man haue prayse of God. ✝

These thinges bꝛethren I haue described in myne owne Parson, and Appollos, foꝛ your sakes, that ye myghte learne by vs, that no man counte of hi selfe, beyond that which is aboue wꝛitē, that one swel not agaīst another foꝛ any mans cause. For who pꝛeferreth theeB what haste thou, that thou hast not receaued it? If thou haue receued it, why reioycest thou as though thou haddest not receaued it? Nowe ye are full, nowe ye are made rich: ye raygne as kinges without vs: and I wolde to God ye did raygne, that we might raigne with you.

We thincke that God hath set foꝛthe vs which are Apostels. For the loweste of al, as it were men apointed to death. For we are a gasinge stocke vnto the woꝛlde, and to the Angels, and to men. We are foles foꝛ Chꝛistes sake, and yea are wyse thoꝛow Chꝛiste. We are weake, and ye are strong. Ye are honoꝛable and we are despysed. Euen vnto thys daye we honger and thyꝛst, and are naked and aꝛe buffeted wyth fistes, and haue no certeyn dwellyng place/ and laboure woꝛckinge withe oure owne handes, we are reuyled, and yet we bielle.

The reason of true Apostles.

We

we are persecuted, & suffer it. We are euel spoken of, and we praie. We are made as it were the filthines of ỹ world the of scowringe of al thinges, euen vnto this tyme.

D I write not these thinges to shame you: but as my beloued sonnes I warne you. For though ye haue ten thousand instructours in Christ: yet haue ye not many fathers In Christ Iesu. I haue begotten you throw the Gospel. Wherfore I desire you to folowe me. For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my deare sonne & faithfull in the Lorde, which shall put you in remembraunce of my wayes whyche I haue in Christ, euen as I teache euerywhere in al congregations. Some swel as though I wold come no more at you. But I wyl come to you shortely, if god will: and wyll know, not the wordes of them which swel/but the power: for the kingdome of god is not in wordes, but in power. What wyl ye? Shal I come vnto you with a rodde, or els in loue & in the spyret of mekenes?

The notes

* Faithful is he that preacheth his master, not himselfe

Mannes daye, is mannes wysdome.

¶ After what maner Paule curseth the man, that had cõmytted fornycatyon wyth his mother in lawe.

The. v. Chapter

A It is there goeth a comen saieng that there is fornication among you and suche fornication as is not once named among the gentiles: that one shulde loue his fathers wyfe. And ye swel and haue not rather sorowed, ỹ he which hath done this deade, myght be put from among you. For I verely as absent in bodye, euen so present in spyret haue determined al redy (as though I were present, of hym that hath done this deade, in ỹ name of our lord Iesu Christe, when ye are gathered together, & my spirite, with the power of the Lorde Iesus Christe, to deliuer him vnto* Sathan, for the destruccyon of the flesh/that the spyrete may be saued in the daie of the Lorde Iesus.

Youre reioysinge is not good: know B ye not that lytle leuen sowreth ỹ whole lumpe of dowe.

Pourgetherfore the olde leuen/ that ye maye be new dowe, as ye are swete breed. For Christ oure ester lambe is offered vp for vs. Therfore let vs kepe holy daye/not with olde leuen, nether with the leuen of malicioulnes and wickednes: but with the swet breed of purenes and truthe. F

I wrote vnto you in a pistle that ye shuld not company with fornicatours. And I meante not at all of the fornicatours of this worlde, ether of the couetous, or of extorsioners, ether of the idolaters: for then must ye nedes haue gone C out of the world. But now I wryte vnto you, that ye cõpany not together, yf eny that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or a worshipper of images, ether a raylar, eyther a dronckard, or an extorcionar: wt hym that is soche se that ye eate not. For what haue I to do, to iudge them which are wythout? Do ye not iudge them that are within? Them that are wythout God shall iudge. Put awaye from amonge you that euyll person.

The notes

* Excommunicatyon is to destroye fleshlye wysdome that the spyrite maye be founde in ỹ doctrine of Chryst.

If any that professeth christ be such: nõ other Christen man maye beare hym company.

¶ He rebuketh them for going to lawe together before the Hethen/and reproueth vnclennesse.

The. vi. Chapter.

HOw dare one of you hauyng A ge busines withe another to go lawe vnder ỹ wycked/ & not rather vnder the saynctes? Do ye not know ỹ ỹ saynctes shall iudge the worlde? If the worlde shalbe iudged by you: are ye not good ynough to iudge smal trifles: know ye not howe ỹ wee shall iudge ỹ angels? How moch moare maie we iudge thynges that pertayn to ỹ lyfe? If ye haue iudgementes of worldely matters, take them which are despysed in the congregacyon, & make thẽ iudges. This I saye to youre shame. Is ther vtterly no wyse man among you? What not one at all/ỹ can iudge betwene brother & brother, but one brother goeth to lawe with another: & ỹ vnder ỹ vnbeleuers. B Nowe therfore there is vtterly a faute amonge you, because ye go to lawe one with another. Why rather suffer ye not wrōg? why rather suffer ye not your selues to be robbed? nay, ye your selues do wrōg, & robbe: & ý ý brethrē. Do ye not remēbre how that ý vnrighteous shall not inheret the kingdome of God? Be not deceaued. For neither fornicatours, nether worshippers of ymages, neyther whoremongers / nether weaklynges, nether abusers of them selues wyth the mankinde, nether theues / nether couetous, nether drounkerdes, nether cursed speakers, nether pillers, shal inheret the kingdome of god. And suche were ye verely: but ye are washed: ye are sanctyfied: ye are iustified by the name of ý lord Jesus, & by the spryte of oure God.

Chese such like haue no part in christ

All thinges are lawful vnto me: but al thinges are not profitable. All maye do al thinges: but I wil be brought vnder no mās power. Meates are ordeined for the bely, & the belly for meates: but god shal destroie both it and them. Let not ý body be applied vnto fornycacion, but vnto the lorde, and the lorde vnto the body. God hath raised vp the Lord, & shal rayse vs vp by his power.

C Dan rising & iustifieg' cometh by Christe and hys spryte.

ta
tgmgob azd nofull but not profitable

D ✠Ether remēbre ye not / that your bodyes are the *membres of Christ: shall I nowe take the membres of Chryst, & make them the membres of an harlot? God forbid. Do ye not vnderstād that he which coupleth him selfe with an harlot is become one body? For two (saith he) shalbe one flesh. But he that is ioyned vnto the lorde, is one spryte.

Fle fornycacyon. All sinnes ý a man doth, are without the body. But he that is a fornicator, sineth against his awne body. Ether know ye not how ý your bodyes are the temple of the holye goost, which is in you, whom ye haue of god, and how that ye are not your owne? For ye are dearly bought. Therfore glorifye god in your bodies and in youre spryte, for they are Goddes. ✠

C Of mariage, vyrginite and widdoheade.

The. vii. Chapter.

A Scōcernig ý thiges wher of ye wrote vnto me: yt is good for a man, not to touche a woman.

Neuertheles to auoyde fornycacyon, let euery mā haue his wife: and let euerye woman haue her husbande. Let the mā geue vnto the wife due beneuolēce.

Lykewyse also the wyfe vnto the mā: The wyfe hath not power ouer her awne body: but the husband. And like wyse the husbande hath not power ouer his awne body: but the wyfe. Withdraw ye not youre selues one frō another, except it be wt consent for a time / for to geue youre selues to fastynge and prayer. And afterwarde come agayne to the same thyng, lest Satā tēpte you for youre incontinencie. ✠

maytes drawe not yō selues except it be wt consent for a tyme to prayer & fast

C Thys I saye of fauoure, & not of commaundemet. For I wold that al mē were as I my selfe am: but euery man hath hys proper gyfte of God / one after this manner, another after that. I saye vnto the vnmaried men & wyddowes: it is good for them yf they abyde euen as I do. But and yf they cannot abstayne, lett them marry. For it is better to marry then to a *burne.

B

Vnto the maried commaunde not I, but the Lord: that the wyfe seperate not her selfe from the man. If she separate her selfe, let her remayne vnmaried or be reconsiled vnto her husbande agayne, And let not the husbande put away his wife from him.

C To the remnaunt speake I ād not the Lorde. If eny brother haue a wife ý beleueth not, yf she be content to dwell with hym, let him not put her awaye, & the woman which hath to her husbande an infidell, yf he consente to dwel wt her let her not put him awaye. For the vnbeleuīg husbād is sāctified by ý wife, & ý vnbeleuing wife is sanctified bi ý husbād. Or els were your childrē vncleane: but *now are they pure. But & if ý vnbeleuīng departe, let hi departe. A brother or a sister is not in subiection to soch. God hath calleth vs in peace. For how knoweth thou o woman whether thou shalte saue that man or no? Ether how knowest thou o man whether thou shalt saue that woman or no? but euen as god hath destributed to euery man.

C

As the Lorde hath called euery person, so let him walcke: ād so ordeine I i all congregacions. Is any man be called beyng

beinge circumcised, let him adde nothing therto. If any be called vncircūcised: let hi not be circūcised. Circūcisiō is nothig, vncircumcisyon is nothinge, but the kepinge of the commaundementes of God is all together.

D Let euerye man abyde in the same state wherin he was called. Arte thou called a seruaunt? care not for it. Neuertheles yf thou mayest be free, vse it rather. For he ỳ is called in the Lorde beinge a seruaunte is the lordes freman, Likewyse he that is called beinge free, is Christes seruaunt. Yee are dearely bought, * be not mennes seruauntes. Brethren let euery man, where in he is called, there in abyde with God. + As concerninge virgins, I haue no commaundemente of the Lorde: yet geue I counsel as one that hath obtayned mercye of the Lord to be faythfull. I suppose that it is good for the present * necessity. For it is good for a man so to be. Art thou bounde vnto a wyfe? seke not to be loosed. Art thou loused from a wife? seke not a wife. But

E ād if thou take a wyfe thou sinnest not. Alykewyse if a virgin marie, she sinneth not. Neuertheles suche shal haue trouble in theyr flesh: but I fauoure you.

Thys saye I brethren, the tyme is shorte, it remayneth that they which haue wyues, be as though they had none, and they that weepe, bee as though they wepte not, and they that reioyce, be as though they reioyced not: and they that bye, be as thoughe they possessed not: and they that vse thys worlde, be as though they vsed it not. For the fassyon of thys worlde goeth away. I wolde haue you without care. The syngle mā careth for the thinges of the Lord, how he maye please the Lorde. But he that hath maryed, careth for the thinges of ỳ worlde, how he maye please hys wyfe. There is

I difference, betweene a virgin ād a wife. The syngle woman careth for the thynges of the Lorde, that she maye be pure both in body, ād also in spirite. But she that is maried, careth for the thinges of the worlde, how she may please her husbande. This speake I for your profyt, not to tangle you in a snare: but for that which is honest, comely vnto you, and that ye may quietly cleaue vnto the lord without separation.

If any man thinke that it is vncomly for his virgin, yf shee passe the tyme of mariage, and if so nede requyre, let hym do what hee lysteth, hee sinneth not, let them be coupled in mariage. Neuertheles he that purposeth surely in hys hert hauinge none neade: But hathe power ouer hys owne wyl: and hath so decreed in his herte, ỳ he wyll keape his virgin, doeth well. So than he that ioyneth his virgin in mariage, doeth well. But he that ioyneth not his virgin in mariage, doth better. The wyfe is bounde to the lawe as lōg as her husband lyueth.

If her husband slepe, she is at lyberte to mary with whom she wyll, only in the Lorde. But she is happyar yf shee so abyde, in my iudgmente. And I thynke verely that I haue the spyrete of god.

The notes.

a * Coburne after S. Ambrose, is, when the wil cōsenteth to the lust of the flesh.

b * Now are they pure, Not that children are cleane ād pure by nature, for that were against the Apostle him self, which proueth Rom. v. that al are vnder original sinne, and naturaly the chyldren of Goddes wrath, as Ephe. ij. But hys meaninge is here, that lyke as al thinges are cleane vnto the cleane Tit. i: Euen so to a Christen mā an vnchristē wyfe is cleane, so that he maye be conuersaunte wyth her, & not offende in so doing, and that the chylderen of them are not to be reputed as vnlawful, and vncleanne.

c * Be not mens seruauntes. To be the seruauntes of men here is, to do anye thynge for the fauoure of men, by which they fal from ỳ fauour of God, while they despisynge Christ do hange on men, and more regarde mennes preceptes and ordinaunces thē the verye institucyons of God, yea, than God hym selfe.

This forbiddeth S. Paule here, and not that wee shoulde deny to be seruauntes to oure maisters to whom we be bounde accordinge to the commen ordre apoynted in commen weithes.

To these we are straytly commanded in sundry places of the scripture to be obedyent & loue ād diligētly in al thinges aggreable to Goddes holy worde.

* If a man haue the gyft, chastyte is good, ỳ more quietly to serue god. For the maried haue ofte moch trouble, but yf the minde of the chaste be combered with other worldly busines, what helpeth it? yf ỳ maried be the more quiet mynded therby, what hurteth it? Nether of it selfe is better then the other, or pleaseth god more thē ỳ other. Nether is outward circumcisyon or outwarde baptyme worth a pynne of them selues, saue that they put vs in remēbraūce to kepe the couenaunte made betweene vs & God.

Therebuketh them ỳ vse their liberte to ỳ sclaūder of other, and sheweth how mē ought to behaue them towarde such as beweake.

The. viii. Chapter

NOw as touchinge meates offered vnto idoles, we are sure ỳ we al haue knowledg. Knoweledge maketh a mā swell but loue edifyeth: yf any mā thinke ꝙ he knoweth any thinge, he knoweth no thing yet as he ought to know. But yf any Man loue God/the same is knowen of him.

To speake of meate dedicate vnto ydolles, we are sure that there is none ydolle in the worlde, ād that ther is none other God but one. And though there be that are called Goddes, whether in Heauen either in earth (as ther be goddes many and lordes many): yet vnto vs is there but one God/which is the father, of whō are all thinges, and we in him: and one Lord Iesus Christe, by whome are all thynges and we by him. But euery man hath not knowledge. For some suppose that ther is an Ydoll vnto this houre, and eate as a thynge offered vnto the ydole/ꝙ so their consciences beynge yet weake, are defyled. Meate maketh vs not acceptable to God. Neither if we eate are we the better: Neither yf we eate not, are we the worsse.

But take hede that youre libertye cause not the weake to falle. For yf some man se thee which hast knowledge, syt at meate in the ydoles temple, shal not the cōsciēce of him which is weake, be bolde dened to eate those thynges which are offered to the Ydole: And so thorow thy knowledge shall the weake brother perisshe for whom Christe dyed. When ye sinne so against the brethren, and wound their weake Consciences ye Synne against Christ. Wherfor yf meate hurte my brother, I wyl eate no flesshe while the worlde standeth, because I wyl not hurte my brother.

In all outwarde dedes we muste haue a respecte to our neibours weakthe.

Charitie whatt doeth

C Loue forbeareth the thynge that she maye do by the law. He exhorteth them to runne on forth in the course that they haue begonne.

The.ix. Chapter.

AM I not an Apostle? Am I not free? haue I not sene Iesus Christ our Lorde? Are ye not my worke i ꝑ Lord? If I be not an Apostle vnto other/yet am I vnto you. For the seale of myne Apostleshippe are ye in ꝑ Lord. Myne āswere to them that aske me, is this. Haue we not power to eate and to drynke? Either haue we not power to leade about a sister to wife/as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lorde & Cephas? Ether only I and Barnabas haue not power thys to do? Who goeth a warfare any tyme at hys owne coste? who planteth a vyneyarde, and eateth not of the frute? Who feadeth a flocke and eateth not of the mylke?

Saye I these thinges after ꝑ maner of men? Or saith not the lawe the same also? For it is writen in the law of Moyses: Thou shalt not mosel ꝑ mouth of ꝑ ore that treadeth out the corne. Doth God take thought for oxen? Ether saith he it not al together for our sakes? For our sakes no doute this is written: that he which eateth shulde eate in hope, ād that he which thresheth in hope, shuld be partaker of his hope. If we sow vnto you spirytuall thinges: is it a greate thinge: yf we repe your carnall thinges?

B The preacher hath ryght to chalēge a liuig for his labour

If other be partakers of this power ouer you, wherfore are not we rather?

Neuertheles we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all thinges leste we shulde hynder the gospell of Christ. Do ye not vnderstande how that they which minister in the temple, haue their fynding of the temple. And they whyche waite at the aulter, are partakers with the aulter. Euen so also dyd the Lorde ordaine, that they which preache ꝑ Gospel, shulde lyue of the Gospel. But I haue vsed none of these thinges.

Nether wrote I these thinges that it should be so done vnto me. For it were better for me to die, then that anye man shulde take this reioysing from me. In that I preache the gospel. I haue nothinge to reioyce of. For necessite is put vnto me. Woo is it vnto me if I preach not the Gospel. If I do it wt a good wil, I haue a rewarde. But if I do it against my wil, an office is committed vnto me. What is my reward then? Verely that when I preache the Gospel. I make the Gospel of Christ free, that I misuse not mine auctorite in the gospel. C

For though I be free from al men, yet haue I made my selfe seruaunt vnto al men, that I might winne the moo. Unto the Iewes, I became as a Iew, to winne the Iewes. To them that were vnder vnder ꝧ lawe, was I made as though I hadde bene vnder the lawe, to wynne them that weare vnder the law. To the that weare without law, became I as thoughe I had bene withoute lawe (when I was not without lawe as per tayning to god, but vnder a lawe as cõcerning Christ) to winne them that were with out lawe. To the weake became I as weake, to winne the weake. In all thinges I fassioned my selfe to al me, to saue at the lest waye some. And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I myghte ℣ haue my herte therof.

✠ Parceaue ye not how that they which runne in a course, roune all, yet but one receaueth the rewarde. So runne that ye maye obtayne.

Euery man that proueth masteries, abstayneth from all thinges. And they do yt to obtayne a corruptible croune: but we to obtaine an vncorruptible croune.

I therfore so renne, not as at an vncertayne thing. So fyght I not as one ꝧ beateth the ayer, but I tame my body, & bringe it into subiection, lest after that I haue preached to other I my selfe should be a cast awaye.

Paul proueth him selfe an Apostle equal to the best in that ꝧ spyte beareth recorde to his preachinge: in that as many were by him conuerted as by the other Apostles.

He feareth them with the ensamples of the old testament, and exhorteth them to a Godly conuersacion.

The .x. Chapter.

Brethren I wolde not that ye shoulde be ignoraunte of this: how that oure fathers were all vnder a cloud. And al passed thorowe the sea, and were all baptised vnder Moyses, in the cloude and in the Sea: and did al eate of one ‖spiritual meate, and did *al drincke of one maner of spiritual drincke. And they dranck of that spirituall rocke that folowed them, whiche rocke was Christ. ✠ But in many of thē had god no delyte. For they were ouerthrowen in the wildernes.

As it went in the olde Testament, so shalt it be in the new. Ex.xiii.d Ex.iiii.e

These are ensamples to vs ✠ that ℣ we shulde not lust after euel thinges, as they lusted. Nether be ye worshippers of images as were some of thē according as it is writen:*

Exo.xxxii.c The people sate downe to eate and dronck, and rose vppe agayne to playe

Nether let vs commit fornicacion * as some of them committed fornication, and were destroyed in one daye .xxiii. thousād. Nether let vs tempte Christ as som of them tẽpted, and were destroyed of serpentes. Nether murmure ye as some of them murmured and were destroyed of the destroyer. Num.xxv.a Psalme.cvi. ℭ

All these thinges happened vnto thē for ensamples, and were wrytten to put vs in remembraunce, whome the endes of the worlde are comen vpon. Wherfore let hym that thincketh he standeth, take hede least he fall. ℭ There hath none other temptacion take you, but such as foloweth the nature of man. But God is faythfull, which shall not suffre you to be tempted aboue youre strenghte: but shall in the myddest of the temptacion, make a waye to escape out.

✠ Wherfore my deare beloued, flee from ℣ worshyppinge of idoles.

I speake as vnto them which haue discretion, iudge ye what I saye. Is not the cup of blessinge, which we blesse partakynge of the bloude of Christ? is not the breade which we breake, partakinge of the body of Christe? because that wee (though we be many) yet are one bread and one body in as muche as we are all partakers of one bread. Beholde Israel which walketh carnally. Are not they which eate of the sacrifice partakers of the aulter. Cuppe. Bread.

What saye I then ꝧ the image is any thinge? or that it which is offered to Images is any thyng? Naye, but I saye, that these thynges whiche the gentyles offer, they offre to deuels, & not to god. ℭ

✠ And I wolde not that ye should haue fellowshyp wyth the deueles. Ye can not drincke of the cuppe of the Lorde, & of the cup of the Deuels. Ye can not be the partakers of the Lordes table, & of the table of Deuelles. Either shall we prouoke the Lorde? Or are we stronger then he? All thynges are lawful vnto me but all thynges are not expedient. All thinges are laufull to mee, but all ✠ thinges edifie not. Let no man seke hys owne profyte, but let euery man seke an others welth. We haue professed euery mã to seke nothers welth.

What soeuer is sold in ꝧ market, ꝧ eat and aske no questions for cõscience sake

For

For the earth is the lordes, and all ỹ therin is, ¶ any of thẽ which beleue not, bid you to a feast, & if ye be disposed to go: what soeuer is set before you, eate askig no question for conscience sake. But and if any man say vnto you: this is dedicate vnto idolles, eate not of it for hys sake that shewed it, and for hurtinge of conscience. The earth is the Lordes, and all that therin is. Conscience I say, not thyne: but the cõscience of that other. * For why shoulde my lybertie be iudged of ãother mannes conscience. For if I take my parte with thankes, why am I euel spoken of, for that thing wherfore I geue thanckes.

Whether therfore yee eate or drincke, or whatsoeuer yee do, do al to the prayse of God. ¶ See that ye geue none occasion of euell, nether to the Iewes, nor yet to the gentyles, neyther to the congregacyon of God: euen as I please all men, in all thinges, not seekinge myne owne profit, but the profyt of many, ỹ they might be saued. Folowe me as I do Christ.

The notes.

* We should be so ful of loue and so circumspecte, that we should geue none occasyon vnto the ignoraunce for to speake euel of us for our lyberte, and for doynge that which we may lawfully do before God.

* Loue seketh her neybours profyte.

He rebuketh them for the abuse and misordre that they had about ỹ sacrament of ỹ bodye & bloude of Christ, & bringeth thẽ againe to ỹ first institucion.

The.xi. Chapter.

I Commende you brethren ỹ ye remember me in all thinges and kepe the ordinaunces euen as I deliuered them to you. I wold yee knew that Christ is ỹ head of euery mã. And the man is the womans head. And God is Christes head. Euery man prayinge or prophesyinge hauing any thyng on his head, shameth hys head. Euery woman that prayeth or prophesieth bare headed, dishonesteth hyr head. For it is euen al one, ãd the very same thige euen as though she were shauen.

If the woman be not couered, let her also be shorn. If it be shame for a womã to be shorne or shauen, let her couer her head.

B A man ought not to couer his head, for as moche as he is the Image and glorye of god. The womã is the glory of ỹ mã. For ỹ mã is not of the womã, but ỹ woman of the man. Nether was the mã created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake: For thys cause ought the womã to haue * power on her heade, for the Angeles sake.

Neuertheles nether is the mã with out the woman, nether is the woman without the man in the Lord. For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the mã by the woman: but all is of god.

C Iudge in youre selues whether it be cõlye that a woman praye vnto god bare headed. Or els doth not nature teache you, ỹ it is a shame for a man, yf he haue longe heare: and a prayse to a womã yf she haue longe heare: For her heare is geuen her to couer her with all. If there be many men among you that lusteth to striue, let hi knowe that we haue no suche custome, nether the congregacions of god.

D Thys I warne you of, and cõmende not that ye come to gether: not after a better maner but after a worse. ¶ First of al when ye come to gether in the congregacion. I heare that there is dissencyon among you: and I partely beleue it. For ther must be sectes among you, ỹ they which are parfect amõg you might be knowen. When ye come to gether, a The Lordes supper. man cannot eate the lordes supper. For euery man begynneth afore to eate hys owne supper. And one is hongry, and a nother is dronken. Haue yee not houses to eate and to drinke in? Or els despyse yee the congregacõ of god, and shame them that haue not? What shall I saye vnto you? shall I praise you? In thys praise I you not. ¶

E ¶ That whiche I deliuered vnto you I receaued of the Lorde. For the Lorde Iesus the same nyghte in which he was betraied, toke bread: and thanked and brake, and sayd. Take yee, and eate yee: this is my body which is brokẽ for you. The iiii. tucion of ỹ Sacramente. Math:xxvi. Marke:xiiii. Luke, xxii.

* This do ye in the remembraunce of me. After the same maner he toke ỹ cup whẽ supper was done, sayig: this cuppe is the newe testamẽt in my bloud: This do as oft as ye drinke it, in remẽbraũce of me. For as often as ye shall eate this bread, and drinke this cup ye shal shew the the Lordes death, tyl he come. Wherfore whosoeuer shall eate of this bread/or dryncke of this cup vnworthely, shalbe gylty of the body and bloud of the Lorde. Let a man therfore examen him selfe, and so let hym eate of the bread and drynck of the cup. For he that eateth or drynketh vnworthely, eateth and drinketh hys owne damnacyon, because he maketh no differences of the Lordes body. For this cause many are weake & sycke among you/& many slepe. If we haue truly iudged our selues, we shold not haue bene iudged. But whē we are iudged of the Lorde, we are chastened, because wee shoulde not bee dampned wyth the worlde. Wherfore my brethren when ye comme to gether to eate, tary one another. If any man honger, let him eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condēnacio. Other thinges will I set in order when I come.

The notes

*Power is as moche to saye, as a sygne that the woman is in subiectyon and hath an heed ouer hyr.

¶ The dyuersyte of the gyftes of the holy goost, geuen to the confort and edyfiyng of one another, as the membres of a mans body serue one another.

The. xii. Chapter.

D Of spyritual thynges brethren I woulde not haue you ignorant. *Ye knowe yt ye were gentyles, and wēt youre wayes vnto domme ydoles, euen as ye were ledde: Wherfore I declare vnto you that no man speaking in the spyrite of God, defyeth Jesus. Also no mā can say that Jesus is the Lorde: but ꝑ holy goost. There are dyuersites of gyftes verely, yet but one spyrite. And ther are differences of admynystracyons, & yet but one Lorde. And there are dyuers maners of operacions, and yet but one God whych worketh all thinges that are wrought, in all creatures. The gyftes of * the spirite are geuen to euery manne, to profyte the congregacion. To one is geuen throw the spirite/ ꝑ vtterāce of wisdō. To an other is gēuē the vtteraunce of knoledge by the same spyrite. To an other is geuen fayth, by the same spirite. To an other the giftes of healynge, by the same spyrite. To an other power to do miracles. To ā other prophecye. To an other iudgement of spirites. To another diuers tonges. To another the interpretacion of tonges. And these all worcketh euen the selfe same spirite, diuidyng to euery man seuerall giftes, euen as he wyll. *

For as the bodye is one, and hathe many membres, and all the membres of B one body, though they be many, yet are but one bodye: euen so is Chryste. For in one spirit, are we al Baptised to make one bodye, whether wee be Jewes or Gentyles, whether we be bound or free, and haue all droncken of one spirite. For ꝑ body is not one membre, but many. If the fote saye: I am not the hand, therfor I am not of the body: is he therfore not of the bodye: and if the eare say, I am not the eye: therfore I am not of the bodye: is it therfore not of the bodye. If all the bodye were an eye, C where were than the eare? If all were hearing, where were the smellyng? But now hathe God dysposed the membres euerye one of them in the bodye, at hys owne pleasure. If they were all one mēbre: where were the body? Now are there many membres, yet but one body. & ꝑ eye cānot say vnto ꝑ hād, I haue no nede of the: nor the head also to the fete/ I haue no nede of you. Ye rather a great deale those membres of the bodi, which seme to be moost feble, are moost necessary

And vpon those membres of the bodye, which we thincke least honeste/ put wee D moost honesty on: & our vngodly partes haue most beauty ō. For our honest mēbres neade it not. But God hath so dysposed the bodye, and hath geuen moste honoure to that parte whiche lacketh, leaste there shoulde be any stryfe in the bodye, but ꝑ the membres should indifferently care one for another. And yf one membre suffre: al suffer wyth him, if one mēbre be had in honour, al membres be glad also.

Ye

Ye are the body of Chryst, and mem bres one of another. And God hathe also ordened in the congregacion, first the Apostles/secondarelye Prophetes, thyrdly teachers, then them that do miracles: after that the gyftes of healing, helpers, gouerners, diuersitie of tōges.

Are all Appostels? Are all Prophetes? Are all teachers? Are all doers of miracles? haue al the giftes of healing?
Do all speake with tonges? Do all interprete? Couet after the beste gyftes.
And yet shewe I vnto you a moare excellent waye.

The nature and conditions of loue.

The.xiii.Chapter. ✠

A

Though I spake wyth the tonges of men and angels, and yet had no loue, I were euen as sounding brasse: or as a tinckynge cymball.

And though I could prophecy, and vn derstand all secretes, and al knowledg:
yea, yf I had[a*] al fayth, so that I coulde moue mountaynes out of their places, ād yet had no loue. I were nothig.
And though I bestowed all my good-des to fede the poore, and though I ga B ue my bodye euen that I burned, and yet had no loue, it profiteth me nothig.

Loue suffereth long and is curteous/loue ēuieth not. Loue doth not fro wardly, swelleth not, dealeth not dishonestly, seketh not her owne, is not prouoked to anger, thinketh not euell, reioyceth not in iniquite: but reioyceth in the trueth/suffreth al thynges/beleueth al thinges, hopeth al thinges, endureth in all thinges. Though that prophecying fayl, other tonges shal cease, or kno weledge vanish awaye, yet loue fayleth neuer awaye.

For oure knoweledge is vnperfecte
and our prophesienge is vnperfecte,

C But when that which is perfecte, is come, then that which is vnperfecte, shal be done away. When I was a chylde, I spake as a chyld, I vnderstode as a child, I imagined as a child. But assoon as I was a man I put awaye chyldesh nes. Now we se in a glasse, euen i a dar ke speakyng: but then shal we se face to face. Now I knowe vnperfectly: but thē shal I know euen as ā knowē. Now abydeth fayth, hope, ād loue, euen these thre, the cheke of these is loue.

The notes.

a* Al fayth is as muche to say as so strong fayth.
b* The cheke of these is loue. Not cōcerning iustifi cation, but concerning the applienge of al thinges to the profet of the congregation. Nothing letteth some one peculyar thing diuersely referred to be no-we inferiour no we superyor to another. Loue concernyng prouyding for the necessitie of thy neighbour is cheafe and aboue fayth. But cōcernig the obtay nynge of iustifycation and saluacyon dothe fayth exceade loue.

C Paul sheweth that the gifte of prophesy, inter pretynge of preachinge excelleth the gyft of tonges and how they both ought to be vsed

The.xiiii. Chapter.

Aboure for loue and couet spirituall giftes: and most chefely for to prophecy. For he that speaketh with ton-ges speakethe not vntoo men, but vnto god. For no man heareth him. How be it in the spirit he speaketh misteries. But he that a*prophecyeth, speaketh vnto men, to edifieng, to exhortacyon and to cōfort.
He that speketh with tonges, profiteth
hym selfe: the that prophecyeth, edifieth the congregacyon. I wolde that ye all spake wyth tonges, but rather that yee prophecyed. For greater is he that pro phesieth, then he that speaketh w̄ ton-ges, excepte he expounde it also: that ȳ congregacion maye haue edyfienge.
Now brethren, yf I come vnto you spe-akynge with tonges: what shall I pro-fite you, except I speake to you, other by reuelacion or knowledg, or doctrine.
Moreouer when thinges without lyfe:
geue sounde: whether it be a pype or an harpe: except they make a distinccion in the soundes: how shal it be knowē what is pyped or harped? And also yf the trompe geue an vncertayne voyce, who shall prepare hym selfe to fyghte? Euē so lyke wyse when ye spake w̄ tonges, excepte ye speake woordes that haue signyficacion, howe shall it be vnder-stand what is spoken? For ye shal but speake in the ayer.

B

Many kindes of voyces are in the worl
de, and none of them are without sygnificacion: If I know not what ȳ voice

C

meaneth

meaneth, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh, an aliant, & he that speaketh shalbe an alient vnto me. Euen so ye (for as moch as ye couet spyritu all giftes) seke that ye maye haue plentye vnto the edifyinge of the congregacion.

Wherfore let him that speaketh wt tonges praye that he maie interpret also. If I praye wt tonges my spyrite prayeth: but my mynd is without frute

What is it then? I wyll praye with the a* spyrite, and wyll praye with the mynde also. I will singe with the spyrite/ and wyll singe with the mynde also.

For els when ỹ blessest with the spyrite, how shall he that occupieth the rowme of the vnlearned, saye Amen at thy geuinge of thanckes, seynge he vnderstandeth not what thou sayst. Thou verely geuest thankes well/ but ỹ other is not edified. I thank my God, I speake wt tonges moare then ye al. Yet had I leuer in the congregacion, to speake fyue wordes with my mynde to the informacyon of other rather then ten thousand wordes with the tonges.

Brethren/ be not chyldren in wytte. How be it as concernyng maliciousnes be chyldren but in wytte be perfect.

In the lawe it is written with other tonges, and with other lippes wyll I speake vnto this people, and yet for all ỹ, will they not heare me, sayth the Lord. Wherfore, tonges are for a sygne, not to them that beleue: but to them that beleue not. Contrary wyse, prophesyinge serueth not for thē that beleue not: but for them whych beleue.

If therfore when al the congregacion is come to gether, and all speake wt tonges, there come in they that are vnlerned or they which beleue not: wil they not saye that ye are oute of youre wittes? But and yf al prophesy, and ther come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of euery man: and so are the secretes of his hert opened, and so falleth he doune on hys face, and worshipperth God, and sayth that God is with you in dede.

How is it then brethren? When ye come to gether, euery man hath his songe, hath his doctrine, hath his tonge, hath his reuelacion, hath his interpretacion. Let all thinges be done vnto edifyinge. If eny man speake wt tonges, let it bee two attonce or at the most thre attonce and that by course/ and lett another interprete it. But yf there bee no interpreter, lett him kepe sylence in the congregacion, & let him speake to hi selfe and to God.

Let the prophetes speake two attonce, or thre attonce/ and let the other iudge: If any reuelation be made to another ỹ sitteth by, let ỹ first holde hys peace. For ye maye al prophecy one by one, ỹ al maye learne, & al maie haue cõfort. For the spyrites of ỹ Prophets are in ỹ power of the Prophetes. For God is not causer of stryfe: but of peace, as he is i al other cõgregatiõs of ỹ saītes. Let youre wyues kepe sylence in the cõgregacions. For it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but lette them be vnder obedience, as sayth the lawe. If they wyll learne eny thing, let them aske their husbandes at home. For it is a shame for wemen to speake in the congregacion. Spronge the word of God fro̅ you? Ether came it vnto you only? If eny man thinke hym self a Prophete, ether spirituall: let him vnderstande, what thynges I wryte vnto you. For they are the commaundementes of the Lord. But and yf eny man be ignorant let hym be ignoraunt. Wherfore brethren couet to prophesye, and forbyd not to speake with tonges. And let al thinges be done honestly and in order.

a* Prophesying is here taken for erpoundynge.
b* To speake wt tonges, or with the spirite, is to speake that other vnderstand not as Prestes saye their seruyce. To speake wt the mynde is is to speake that other vnderstande, as when the preacher preacheth.

1. Timo. ii. & Genesis iii.

The resurrection of the deade.

The xv Chapter.

Brethren as pertayning to the Gospell which I preached vnto you, whych ye haue also accepted and in the whiche ye continnue, by the whiche also ye are saued: I do you to wete after what maner I preached vnto you, yf ye kepe it except ye haue beleued in vayne. For fyrst of all I delyuered vnto you that whych I receaued how how that Christ dyed for our sinnes, agreynge to the scriptures: and that he was buried, ād that he rose againe the thirde daye accordīg to the scriptures, and that he was sene of Cephas, then of the twelue. After that he was sene of moo then fyue hundreth brethrē attōce of which many remaine vnto this daie, and manye are fallen a slepe. After that appered he to James / then to all the B Apostles.

And last of all he was sene of me, as of one that was borne out of due time. For I am ỹ lest of All ỹ apostles whiche am not worthye to be called ā Apostle, because I persecuted ỹ congregacion of God. But by the grace of God I am ỹ I am. And his grace which is in mee / was not i vaine: ✠ but I labored more aboundauntly then they all, yet not I / but the grace of God which is with me. Whether it were I or they, so we preache, and so haue ye beleued.

✠ If Christ be preached how that he rose from the dead: how saye some that are among you / that there is no resurrection of the dead: If there be no rysynge againe of the dead: then is christe not rysen. If Christ be not rysen / then is our preaching in vayne, & your faith is also in vayne. Ye and we are found false witnesses of god. For we haue testifyed of god, how that he raysed vp Christ whome he raysed not vp, yf it be so that the dead ryse not againe. For if the dead ryse not agayne, thē is Christ not rysen againe. If it be so that Christ rose not, then is your fayth in vaine, ād yet are ye in youre sinnes. And there to they which are fallen a slepe in Christ are perished. If in thys life only we beleue on Christ, then are we of al men the miserablest.

But nowe is Christ rysen from the dead, & is become the fyrst frutes of thē that slepe. For by a man came death, & by a man came the resurrecyon of the deed. For as by Adam al die: euen so by Christ, shal al be made aliue, and euery man in his owne ordre. ✠ The fyrste is Christe, then they that are Christes at his comming. Then commeth the end, when he hath deliuered vp the kingdōe to god ỹ father, whē he hath put doune al rule, auctorite ād power. For he must raygne tyll he haue put his enemies vnder his fete. The last enemy that shalbe destroied, is death. * For he hath put all thinges vnder his fete. But whē he saith al thinges are put vnder hī, it is manifest ỹ he is excepted, which dyd put al thinges vnder hī. When al thinges are subdued vnto hī, then shal ỹ sōne also hī selfe be subiecte vnto him that put thynges vnder hym, ỹ God may be al in all thinges.
D

Ether els what do they which are baptysed ouer the dead, yf the dead rise not at al? Why are they thē * baptised ouer the dead? Ye and why stande we i ieopardy euery houre? But our reioysinge which I haue in Christ Jesu our lord, I dye dayly. That I haue fought wt beastes at Ephesus after the maner of men, what auauntageth it me / if ỹ deed rise not agayne? Let vs eate ād drinke to morow we shal die. Be not disceued, euyll speakynges, corrupte good manners. Awake truly oute of slepe / & sinne not. For some haue not ỹ knowledge of god. I speake thys to your rebukes.
E

But some man wil saye: how aryse the deed? with what bodies come they? Thou foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickned except it dye. And what sowest thou? Thou sowest not that bodye ỹ shalbe: but bare corne (I meane ether of whete, or of some other) & God geueth it a body at his pleasure, to euery seede a seuerall body:

✠ All flesh is not one maner of flesh but there is one maner flesshe of men, another manner flesshe of beastes, another maner flesh of fysshes, and another of byrdes. There are celestyall bodies, and there are bodyes terrestryall. But the glory of the celestiall is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. There is one maner glorye of the Sunne & another glory of the Moone / and another glory of the starres, For one starre differeth from another in glory. So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowē in corruption, and ryseth agayne in incorruption. It is sowen in dishonoure, and ryseth in honor. It is sowen in weakenes, and ryseth in power. It is sowen a natural abody, and ryseth a spirituall body.
F

body. There is a natural body & ther is a spiritual body: as it is wrytte: the first man Adam, was made a lyuyng soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite. How be it, that is not firste which is spirytuall: but that whyche is naturall, and then that whyche is spyrytuall.

✣ The fyrste man is the erth, erthy: G And the seconde man is the Lorde frō heauen. As is the erthy, suche are they that are erthy. And as is the heuenly, suche are they that are heuenly. And as we haue borne the image of the erthye, so shal we beare the image of the heuenlye,

This saye I brethren, that b*flesh and bloud cānot inheret ỹ kingdom of god. Nether doth corrupcion inheret vncorrupcion. Behold I shewe you a mistery. We shall not all slepe: but we shall all be chaunged, and that in a moment, and in the twyncling of an eye/at the sounde of ỹ last trompe. For the trompe shall blowe, and the deed shall rise incorruptible, and we shalbe chaunged. For this corruptyble must put on incorruptybilite: and this mortal must put on immortalite.

When this corruptible hath put on incorruptibilite, ād this mortal hath put on immortalite: then shal be broght to passe the sayinge that is wrytte.

Death is cōsumed into victory. Death where is thy stynge? Hell where is thy victory? The stynge of death is synne: & the strength of synne is the lawe. But thankes be vnto God, which hath geuen vs victory, thorow oure Lorde Jesus Christ. Therfore my deare brethren be ye stedfast and vnmouable, alwayes ryche in the workes of ỹ Lord, for as moche as ye knowe how that youre labour is not in bayne in the Lorde.

The notes

a*Baptised ouer the deathe, Some men saye, that in token of the generall resurrection. certen Christen men were baptysed ouer dead mens graues, sygnifyeng, that the same dead men should ryse agayn.
b*Flesh and bloud can not enherite the kingdome of God. Oure belefe is that there shalbe a generall resurrection of the flesh, according to the scripture Esay. xxvi. Dan. xii. Job. xix. Jhon. v: Neuertheles it shall be pourged from al corruption, and be chāged to immortalyte, for it must be ā vncorupt flesh ỹ shal inheret the kyngdome of god.

The putteth them in remembrance of the gatheryng for the Poore Christen at Jerusalem, and concludeth his Epistle with the salutations of certayn louynge brethren.

The .xvi. Chapter.

Of the gatherig for the saīctes, as I haue ordeyned in the congregacions of Galacia, euen so do ye. Upon some sondaye let euery one of you put aside at home and lay vp what soeuer he thinketh mete, that there be no gatherynges when I come. When I am come/whosoeuer ye shall alowe by youre letters, them wyll I sende to bring youre liberalite vnto Jerusalem. B And yf it be mete that I go/they shall go wyth me. I wyll come vnto you after I haue gone ouer Macedonia. For I will go thorow out Macedonia. Vnto you paraūeture I wyl abyde a whyle: or els winter, that ye may bringe me on my waye whyther soeuer I go.

I wyl not se you now in my passage: but I trust to abyde a whyle with you, yf God shall suffre me. I wyll tary at Ephesus vntyll whitsontyde. For a greate dore & a frutefull is opened vnto me: and ther are many aduersaries. C If Timotheus come, se that he be without feare vnto you. For he worketh ỹ worke of the Lorde as I do: Let no man despyse him: but conuaye hym forthe in peace, that he maye come vnto me. For I loke for hym wt the brethren.

To speake of brother Apollo: I greatly desyred him to come vnto you with the Brethren, but his mynde was not al to come at thys time. How beit he wil come when he shall haue cōuenient time. Watche ye, stonde fast in the fayth, quyte you lyke men, & be stronge. Let all youre busynes be done in loue.

Brethren, ye knowe ỹ house of Stephana, how that they are the fyrst frutes of Achaia, and that they haue appointed theym selues to mynister vnto the saīctes: I beseech you that ye be obedīēt vnto soche and to all that helpe and labour. I am gladde of the commynge of Stephana, Fortunatus ād Achaicus: for that whych was lackynge on youre parte, they haue supplied. C They haue cōforted my spyrite and youres. Loke therfore

body. There is a natural body & ther is a spiritual body: as it is wrytte: the first man Adam, was made a lyuyng soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite. How be it, that is not firste which is spirytuall: but that whyche is naturall, and then that whyche is spyrytuall.

✣ The fyrste man is the erth, erthy: G And the seconde man is the Lorde frō heauen. As is the erthy, suche are they that are erthy. And as is the heuenly, suche are they that are heuenly. And as we haue borne the image of the erthye, so shal we beare the image of the heuenlye,

This saye I brethren, that b*flesh and bloud cānot inheret ỹ kingdom of god. Nether doth corrupcion inheret vncorrupcion. Behold I shewe you a mistery. We shall not all slepe: but we shall all be chaunged, and that in a moment, and in the twyncling of an eye/at the sounde of ỹ last trompe. For the trompe shall blowe, and the deed shall rise incorruptible, and we shalbe chaunged. For this corruptyble must put on incorruptybilite: and this mortal must put on immortalite.

When this corruptible hath put on incorruptibilite, ād this mortal hath put on immortalite: then shal be broght to passe the sayinge that is wrytte.

Death is cōsumed into victory. Death where is thy stynge? Hell where is thy victory? The stynge of death is synne: & the strength of synne is the lawe. But thankes be vnto God, which hath geuen vs victory, thorow oure Lorde Jesus Christ. Therfore my deare brethren be ye stedfast and vnmouable, alwayes ryche in the workes of ỹ Lord, for as moche as ye knowe how that youre labour is not in bayne in the Lorde.

The notes

a*Baptised ouer the deathe, Some men saye, that in token of the generall resurrection. certen Christen men were baptysed ouer dead mens graues, sygnifyeng, that the same dead men should ryse agayn.
b*Flesh and bloud can not enherite the kingdome of God. Oure belefe is that there shalbe a generall resurrection of the flesh, according to the scripture Esay. xxvi. Dan. xii. Job. xix. Jhon. v: Neuertheles it shall be pourged from al corruption, and be chāged to immortalyte, for it must be ā vncorupt flesh ỹ shal inheret the kyngdome of god.

The putteth them in remembrance of the gatheryng for the Poore Christen at Jerusalem, and concludeth his Epistle with the salutations of certayn louynge brethren.

The .xvi. Chapter.

Of the gatherig for the saīctes, as I haue ordeyned in the congregacions of Galacia, euen so do ye. Upon some sondaye let euery one of you put aside at home and lay vp what soeuer he thinketh mete, that there be no gatherynges when I come. When I am come/whosoeuer ye shall alowe by youre letters, them wyll I sende to bring youre liberalite vnto Jerusalem. B And yf it be mete that I go/they shall go wyth me. I wyll come vnto you after I haue gone ouer Macedonia. For I will go thorow out Macedonia. Vnto you paraūeture I wyl abyde a whyle: or els winter, that ye may bringe me on my waye whyther soeuer I go.

I wyl not se you now in my passage: but I trust to abyde a whyle with you, yf God shall suffre me. I wyll tary at Ephesus vntyll whitsontyde. For a greate dore & a frutefull is opened vnto me: and ther are many aduersaries. C If Timotheus come, se that he be without feare vnto you. For he worketh ỹ worke of the Lorde as I do: Let no man despyse him: but conuaye hym forthe in peace, that he maye come vnto me. For I loke for hym wt the brethren.

To speake of brother Apollo: I greatly desyred him to come vnto you with the Brethren, but his mynde was not al to come at thys time. How beit he wil come when he shall haue cōuenient time. Watche ye, stonde fast in the fayth, quyte you lyke men, & be stronge. Let all youre busynes be done in loue.

Brethren, ye knowe ỹ house of Stephana, how that they are the fyrst frutes of Achaia, and that they haue appointed theym selues to mynister vnto the saīctes: I beseech you that ye be obedīēt vnto soche and to all that helpe and labour. I am gladde of the commynge of Stephana, Fortunatus ād Achaicus: for that whych was lackynge on youre parte, they haue supplied. C They haue cōforted my spyrite and youres. Loke therfore

The Epistle

fore that ye knowe them that are suche.

The congregacions of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you muche in the Lord, and so doth the congregation that is in theyr house. All the bretheren grete you. Grete ye one another with an holy kysse. The salutacion of me Paul wyth myne owne hande. Yf anye manne loue not the Lorde Jesus Chryste, * the same be Anathema maranatha. The Grace of the Lorde Jesus Chryst be with you all.

My loue be wyth
you all in Chryst
Jesu.
Amen.

The ēd of ỹ fyrst epistle to ỹ Corithiās.

¶ Sent from Philyppos by Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Tymotheus.

¶ The ii Epistle

of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Corinthians.

¶ The consolation of God in trouble. The loue of Paul towarde the Corynthyans, and hys excuse þ he came not vnto them.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

PAule an Appostle of Jesus Chryst, by the wyll of God, and brother Tymotheus.

Vnto the congregacion of God, whych is at Corinthum wyth all the saynctes, whych are in all Achaia. Grace be wyth you & peace from God oure father, and from the Lorde Jesus Chryst.

Blessed be God the Father of oure Lorde Jesus Christ, the father of mercy, and the God of al comfort, which cōforteth vs in all oure tribulacion, in so much that we are able to comforte them whiche are troubled, in what soeuer trybulacion it be, with the same comforte, wherwith we our selues are comforted of God. For as the * afflictions of christ are plenteous in vs, euen so is our cō
B solacion plenteous by Christ.

Whether we be troubled for your consolation, and saluacion, which saluaciō sheweth her power in that yee offer the same afflictions, which we also suffer, or whether we be cōforted for your consolacyon and saluacyon: yet our hope is stedfaste for you, in as muche as we knowe how that as ye haue your parte in afflictions, so shal ye be partakers of consolacion.

Brethren I woulde not haue you ignorant of our troble/ whych happened vnto vs in Asia. For we were greaued out of measure passing strength/so greately that we despeared euen of life. Also we receaued an answere of death i our selues/ & that because we shuld not put our troust in our selues: but in god whiche raiseth the deed to life againe, & which deliuered vs frō so great a deth & doth deliuer. On whom we trust, ỹ yet herafter he wyll delyuer, by ỹ helpe of youre praier for vs, that by the meanes of many occasions, thankes maye be geuē of many on our behalfe, for the grace geuen vnto vs.

Our reioycing is this, the testimony C
of our conscience, that in singleness and godly pureues and not in fleshly wisdome, but by the grace of god we haue had our conuersacion in the world, and most of al to youwards. We write non other thinges vnto you, then that yee reade & also knowe. Yea and I trust ye shall finde, vs vnto the ende, euen as ye haue founde vs partlye: for we are youre reioycyng, euen as ye are ours in the day of the Lorde Jesus.

And in this confidence was I minded the other tyme to haue come vnto you that ye myght haue had yet one pleasure moare and to haue passed by you in to Macedonya, ād to haue come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to haue bene ledde forth to Iewrye warde of you/ when I thus wyse was minded, D thus dyd I vse lyghtnes: Or thynke I carnallye those thinges whiche I thincke: that with me shulde be a * yea yea, and naye naye. God is faythfull: For our preaching to you, was not yea and naye. For Goddis Sonne Jesus Christ which was preched amōg you by vs (that is to saye, by me and Siluan9, and Timotheus) was not yee ād naye: but in him it was yee:

for

The Epistle

fore that ye knowe them that are suche.

The congregacions of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you muche in the Lord, and so doth the congregation that is in theyr house. All the bretheren grete you. Grete ye one another with an holy kysse. The salutacion of me Paul wyth myne owne hande. Yf anye manne loue not the Lorde Jesus Chryste, * the same be Anathema maranatha. The Grace of the Lorde Jesus Chryst be with you all.

My loue be wyth
you all in Chryst
Jesu.
Amen.

The ēd of ỹ fyrst epistle to ỹ Corithiās.

¶ Sent from Philyppos by Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Tymotheus.

¶ The ii Epistle

of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Corinthians.

¶ The consolation of God in trouble. The loue of Paul towarde the Corynthyans, and hys excuse þ he came not vnto them.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

PAule an Appostle of Jesus Chryst, by the wyll of God, and brother Tymotheus.

Vnto the congregacion of God, whych is at Corinthum wyth all the saynctes, whych are in all Achaia. Grace be wyth you & peace from God oure father, and from the Lorde Jesus Chryst.

Blessed be God the Father of oure Lorde Jesus Christ, the father of mercy, and the God of al comfort, which cōforteth vs in all oure tribulacion, in so much that we are able to comforte them whiche are troubled, in what soeuer trybulacion it be, with the same comforte, wherwith we our selues are comforted of God. For as the * afflictions of christ are plenteous in vs, euen so is our cō
B solacion plenteous by Christ.

Whether we be troubled for your consolation, and saluacion, which saluaciō sheweth her power in that yee offer the same afflictions, which we also suffer, or whether we be cōforted for your consolacyon and saluacyon: yet our hope is stedfaste for you, in as muche as we knowe how that as ye haue your parte in afflictions, so shal ye be partakers of consolacion.

Brethren I woulde not haue you ignorant of our troble/ whych happened vnto vs in Asia. For we were greaued out of measure passing strength/so greately that we despeared euen of life. Also we receaued an answere of death i our selues/ & that because we shuld not put our troust in our selues: but in god whiche raiseth the deed to life againe, & which deliuered vs frō so great a deth & doth deliuer. On whom we trust, ỹ yet herafter he wyll delyuer, by ỹ helpe of youre praier for vs, that by the meanes of many occasions, thankes maye be geuē of many on our behalfe, for the grace geuen vnto vs.

Our reioycing is this, the testimony C
of our conscience, that in singleness and godly pureues and not in fleshly wisdome, but by the grace of god we haue had our conuersacion in the world, and most of al to youwards. We write non other thinges vnto you, then that yee reade & also knowe. Yea and I trust ye shall finde, vs vnto the ende, euen as ye haue founde vs partlye: for we are youre reioycyng, euen as ye are ours in the day of the Lorde Jesus.

And in this confidence was I minded the other tyme to haue come vnto you that ye myght haue had yet one pleasure moare and to haue passed by you in to Macedonya, ād to haue come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to haue bene ledde forth to Iewrye warde of you/ when I thus wyse was minded, D
thus dyd I vse lyghtnes: Or thynke I carnallye those thinges whiche I thincke: that with me shulde be a * yea yea, and naye naye. God is faythfull: For our preaching to you, was not yea and naye. For Goddis Sonne Jesus Christ which was preched amōg you by vs (that is to saye, by me and Siluan9, and Timotheus) was not yee ād naye: but in him it was yee:

for

For all the promises * of God, i him are yee; and are in him Amen, vnto the laude of god throwe vs. For it is god which stablisshed vs and you in Christ, ād hath annoynted vs, which hath also sealed vs, and hath geuen the ernest of the spirete into oure hertes.

The notes

a * yee yea, and, naye naye is here put for vnstablenes inconstantnes, seynyng or flytting of wyth wordes,

* All the promyses of God are geuen vs onlye for Christes sake.

He sheweth the cause of hys absence, exhorteth them to forgeue the man that was fallen, to receaue him agayne wyth loue.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

A I Call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that for to fauer you with al I came not eny more vnto Corinthum. Not that we be lordes ouer youre fayth: but helpers of your ioye. For by fayth ye stande. But I determined this in my selfe, ỹ I wolo not come agayne to you in heuynes. For yf I make you sorye, who is it that shuld make me glad, but ỹ same whych is made sory by me? And I wrote this same epistle vnto you, lest yf I came, I shuld take heuynes of them, of whom I ought to reioce. Certaynly this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioye is the ioye of you all. For in great affliccion and anguysshe of hert I wrote vnto you wt many e teares: not to make you sorye, B but that ye might perceaue ỹ loue whiche I haue, most specially vnto you. If eny man hath caused sorow, ỹ same hath not made me sory, but partely: lest I shulde greue you all. It is sufficient vnto the same mā that he was rebuked of many. So that now contrary wyse ye ought to forgeue him and comforte him: lest that same p ersone shuld be swalowed vp with ouer moche heuynes. Wherfor I exhorte you ỹ loue may e haue strenght ouer him. For this cause verily dyd I wryte, that I myghte know the proffe of you, whether ye shulde be obedient in all thynges. To whom ye forgeue eny thyng, I forgeue also. And verely yf I forgaue eny thynge, to whom I forgaue it, for youre sakes forgaue I it, i the roume of Christ, C lest Satan shuld preuent vs. For his thoughts are not vnknowen vnto vs.

When I was come to Troada for Christes Gospels sake (and a great dore was opened vnto me of the Lorde) I had no rest in my spyrete, because I foūd not Titus my brother: but toke my leaue of them and went away into Macedonia. Thankes be vnto god which alwaies geueth vs the victory in Christ, D and openeth the sauer of his knowlege by vs in euery place. For we are vnto god the swete sauour of Christ, both amonge them ỹ are saued, and also among them which perish. To the one parte are we ỹ sauour of deth vnto death: & vnto ỹ other part are we ỹ sauor of life vnto life. And who is mete vnto these thinges? For we are not as many are which choppe & chaung wt the word of God: but euen out of pureness, ād by the power of God, & in the sight of god so speake we in Christ.

¶ He prayseth the preachyng of the Gospel aboue ỹ preachyng of the lawe.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

A WE begin to praise oure selues agayne. Nede we as some other, of Epistles of recommendacio vnto you or letters of recommendacyō from you? Ye are our Epistle written in oure hertes, which is vnderstand and red of all men, in that ye are knowē howe that ye are the Epistle of Christ, ministred by vs and written, not wythe incke: but wyth the spirite of the lyuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the herte.

B * Such trust haue we thorowe Christe to God ward, not that we are sufficient of oure selues to thinke any thynge, as it were of oure selues, but our ablenes commeth of God, which hath made vs able to minister the new Testament not of the letter, but of the spirite. For a * the * letter, killeth: but ỹ ‡ spirit geueth life. If * the ministracion of deth thorowe the letters figured in stones was glorious, so that the children of Israell coulde not beholde the face of Moses for ỹ glory of hys countenaunce (which glorie neuertheles is don away) why shal not the ‡ ministracion of the spirite be much more glorio9? for if ỹ * ministrig of cōdēnacio be glori9: much more doth the ‡ ministracion of rightuousnes excede in glo

tye. ¶ For no doute ỹ which was there glorified, is not once glorified i respecte of this exceadyng glory. Then if *that whiche is destroied was glorypous, moche moare shal ‡that which remayneth, be glorypous.

Seing then that we haue such trust, we vse great boldnes ¶ do not as Moses, which put a vayle ouer hys face ỹ the chyldren of Israel shulde not se for what purpose ỹ serued which is put awaie. But their mides were blided. For vntil this daye remaineth ỹ same couetig vntaken away in ỹ old testamẽt whẽ they read it, which i Christ is put awaie. But euen vnto thys daye when Moyses redde/the vayle hangeth before their hertes. Neuertheles whẽ they turne to the Lord, the vayle shalbe taken away. The Lord no doute is a spirite. And where the spirite of the Lorde is/ there is lybertie. But we all beholde the glori of the Lord with hys face open, and are chaunged vnto the same similitude/frõ glory to glorye/euen of the spiritie of ỹ Lorde.

D

Therfore seing that we haue such an office, euen as mercy is come on vs, we faynte not: but haue cast from vs the cloakes of vnhonestye/ and walke not in craftines, ne ther corrupte we the worde of God: but walcke in open trueth, and reporte oure selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of god. If our gospel be yet hid, it is emõge them that are loste, in whome a*the god of thys world hath blynded ỹ mindes of them which beleue not, leaste the lyghte of the glorious gospel of Christ which is the image of God shuld shyne vnto them.

* For we preache not our selues/but Christ Jesus to be the Lord, and oure selues your seruauntes, for Jesus sake. For it is God/that commaunde the the lyghte to shyne out of darknes, whiche hath shyned in oure heartes, for to geue the lyghte of the knowledge of the glorye of GOD, b* in the face of Jesus Christ.

But we haue thys treasure in earthe vessels ỹ the excellẽt power of it might appeare to be of God, and not of vs. We are troubled on euery syde, yet are we not without shift. We are in pouerty: but not vtterly without somwhat. We are persecuted, but are not forsake. We are cast downe/neuertheles we perishe not. And we alwayes beare in our bodyes the dienge of the lorde Jesus, that the lyfe of Jesu myght appeare in our bodyes. ✠

B

For we which lyue, are allwayes deliuered vnto death for Jesus sake, that the lyfe also of Jesu mighte appeare in oure mortall flesh. So then death worketh in vs/and lyfe in you. ✠ Seynge thẽ that we haue ỹ same spirite of faith, accordinge as it is wrytten: I beleued, and therfore haue I spoken. We also beleue, and therfore speake. For we knowe that he whych raysed vp the Lorde Jesus, shall rayse vp vs also, by the meanes of Jesus, and shall set vs w you. C For all thynges do I for youre sakes, that the plenteous grace by thanckes geuen of manye, maye redounde to the prayse of God.

Wherfore we are not weryed, but though

The notes.

a* The letter killeth. i. e. The letter here and in the ii. of the Romaines. d. and in diuerse other places of the scripture, signifieth the lawe or olde testament. And that the spirite, the Gospell or ne we testament: And so doth S. Austyn expounde them in foundrye places of his boke, whych he wrote of the letter and the spirite: And Erasmus also both in his Paraphrasis and Annotacions. Because ỹ lawe tyndeth vs gylty, and therupon condemneth vs, therfore sayth the Apostle rightfully that it killeth, and ỹ Gospel be cause it pronounceth vs rightwesse by Christ ād sheweth vs that by him we are iustyfyed from al thinges wherof we coulde not be iustyfyed by the lawe. Act. xiii. f. doth therfore bryng life. As for soch as by the letter wil vnderstande the lytteral sence, & by ỹ spirit, ỹ spirituall, cannot lerned or chrysten mã alow. For these wordes *letter *mynystration of death, *mynystrynge of condempnacyon and *that whiche is destroyed sygnyfy all one thyng: And these, ‡ spret, ‡ministratiõ of ỹ spirit, ministratiõ of rygtwesnes = ỹ ‡ wych remayneth, be they very contraryes. Now wordes meanyng one thynge, must haue one interpretatyon. And by some of the fyrst cannot the lytteral sence be vnderstande, nor by som of the last the spyrytuall: ergo nether by these wordes, letter or spyryte: lyth the letter is all one wyth the fyrste, and the spyrite wyth the latter.

C A true preachere is dylygent, he corrupteth not the worde of God, he preacheth not by mselfe, but seketh the honor of Christ yea though yt be w ỹ paynes of hys lyfe.

The. iiii. Chapter.

thoʒgh our *outwarde mā perish, yet ỹ iwarde mā is renewed daie by daie. For our exceding tribulatiō which is momen-tany and light, prepareth ā exceading an eternall waighte of glory vnto vs/while we loke not on ỹ thiges which are sene, but on ỹ thiges which are not sene.
For thiges which are sene, are tẽporall:
but thiges wich are not sene, are eternal.

The notes.

a* The god of thys world. Sathan is Gods mynister, and can do no more then that he apoynteth hym to do. Neuertheles Christe calleth him the prince of this world. Johñ.xiiii. And here the Apostle calleth hi ỹ god of this world because ỹ ỹ world doth comenly forsake the true god, & seruety hī. For vnto whome so euer we obeye, we make him our god: as Paul calleth the bely theyr god, that are earthly mynded, ād serue theyr owne bely. Phyl.iii.

b* (In the face of Jesus Chryste) That is to saye, in the knowledge of Jesus Christ, not in the face of Moses, which is the knoweledge of the lawe. For by Christ come we to the knoweledg of God. Mat.xi Jhon.i, and.vi.

c* That he calleth the outwarde man, he some tyme calleth the olde man, some tyme the flesh. What the flesh signifieth shall ye fynde in the prologe to the Romaynes, the.lxi. leafe.

¶ Therewarde for sufferyng trouble.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

A WE know suerly yf oure erthy mācion wherin we now dwel were destroyed/ that we have a building ordeyned of God, an habitacion not made with haudes, but eternall in heauen. And herefore sygh we, desyryng to be clothed with oure mancion which is from heauen: so yet yf that we be founde clothed, & not naked. For as longe as we are in this tabernacle, we sigh ād are greued, for we woulde not bee vncloathed, but woulde bee cloathed vppon, that mortalite myght be swalowed vp of lyfe. He that hath ordeyned vs for this thyng, is God: which very same hath geuen vnto vs the ernest of the spyrite.

B Therfore we are alway of good chere, & knowe well ỹ as longe as wee are at home in the body, we are absent from God. For we walke in fayth and se not. Neuertheleſſe we are of good comfort, and had leuer to be absent from the body and to be present with the Lord. Wherfore, whether we be at home or from home, we endeuour our selues to please hī. For we must al appeare before ỹ iudgement seate of Christ, that euery mā may receaue the workes of his body accordynge to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

C Seinge then that we knowe, how the Lorde is to be feared, a* we fare fayre wmen. For we are knowen wel ynoughe vnto God. I trust also that we are knowen in youre consciences.

D We prayse not oure selues agayne vnto you, but geue you an occasyon to reioyce of vs, ỹ ye may haue some what against thē which reioyce in ỹ face, & not in ỹ hert. For if we be to feruent, to God are we to feruēt. If we kepe no measure for youre cause keape we measure. For the loue of Christ constrayneth vs, because we thus iudge, yf one be deade for all, that then are all deade, and that he dyed for all, that they whyche lyue should e not henceforth lyue vnto theim selues, but vnto hym which dyed for the and rose agayne. ✝

E Wherfore hence forth knowe we no man after the flesh. In so much though we haue knowen Christ after the flesh, nowe henceforthe knowe we hym so no more. Therfore if any man be in Christ, he is a newe creature. Olde thynges are passed away, beholde all thynges are become new. Neuertheles all thynges are of God, which hath reconcyled vs vnto hym self by Jesus Chryst, and hath geuen vnto vs the office to preach the attonement. For God was in Chryste, and made agreement betwene the worlde and hym selfe and imputed not their synnes vnto them: and hath commited to vs the preachynge of the attonement. Now then are we messengers in the roume of Chryste, euen as though God dyd beseech you throw vs. So prayse we you in Christes stede, that ye be at one wyth God: for he hath made hym b to be sinne for vs whiche knewe no synne, that we by hys meanes shuld be that righteousnes which before god is alowed.

A newe creature.

The notes

a* We fare fayre wyth men. That is, we play not the tyrauntes wyth cursynges and excommunycacyons, nether vse we violence meryciously amonge the people, but feare god and intreate the people louyngly, to drawe them vnto Chryst.
Christes seruauntes seke Christes will, and lyue not at theyr owne pleasure, but at hys.

* The attonement betwene God and man in Christ, is the Apostles office to preache.

b* To be synne for vs: that is to saye, to be sacrifyce for oure synnes, for synne in the scrypture is some tyme taken for the sacrifyce of synne, As Osee.iiii. the prestes eate the synnes of the people, And Rom viii. By synne he dampned synne in the flesh.

The ii. Epistle

¶ An exhortacyon to receaue the woorde of God wt thankefulnes and amendement of lyfe. The dilygence of Paul in the gospel, and how he warneth them to eschue, the company of the heathen.

The. vi. Chapter.

A WE as helpers therfor exhorte you, that ye receaue not the grace of God in *vayne. For he saith: I haue herd the in a tyme accepted: & i ỹ daye of saluacion, haue I succored the. Beholde, nowe is that wel accepted time: behold now is that day of saluacion. Lett vs geue no man occasion to euel, ỹ in oure office be founde no faute: but in al thynges let vs behaue our selues as the mynisters of God.

In moche pacience, in afflictions, in necessytye, in anguysse, in stryppes, in presonment, in stryfe: in laboure, in watchinge, in fastinge, in purenes, in knowledge, in long suffering, in kyndnes, in the holy goost in loue vnfayned, in the wordes of trueth, in the power of God, by ỹ armoure * of righteweisnes of ỹ ryght hande & on ỹ lyfte, in honoure & dishonour, in euel report & good report, as deceauers & yet true, as vnknowen, & yet knowen: as dyenge, & beholde we yet lyue: as chastened, & not killed: as sorowyng, & yet alwaye mery: as poore, & yet make many riche: as hauing no thyng/ & yet possessing all thinges. ‖

O ye Corinthyans, oure mouthe is open vnto you. Oure hert is made large: ye are in no strayte in vs, but are in a strayte in your awne bowelles: I promyse you lyke reward (as to me, as my chyldren. Set your selues ther fore at large, and ✝ beare not a straungers yoke with the vnbeleuers. For what fellowshyp hath ryghteweisnes with vnryghteweisnes? What company hath light wt darknes? What concorde hath Christ with Belial? Eyther what parte hath he that beleueth, with an infidell? howe agreeth the temple of God with ymages? And ye are the temple of ỹ lyuinge God, as sayde God. * I wyll dwell amonge them & walcke amonge them: & wylbe their God: & they shalbe my people. Wherfore come out from amonge them, & separate youre selues (sayth the Lorde) and touche none vncleane thinge: so wyll I receaue you, & wilbe a father vnto you/ & ye shalbe my sonnes & daughters, sayeth the Lord almyghty.

¶ He exhorteth them to receue the promyse of God thankfully. The Corinthyans are commended for their obedience and loue to ward Paul.

¶ The. vii. Chapter

SEynge that we haue suche promyses derelye beloued, let vs clense oure selues fro all fylthynes of the flesh and spirite, & grow vp to full holynes in the feare of God. Understande vs, we haue hurte no man: we haue corrupt no man: we haue defrauded no man: I speake not this to condempne you, for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our hertes, to dye and lyue with you. I am very bolde ouer you, and reioyce greatly in you. I am fylled with comforte & am exceading ioyoufe in al our tribulatiõs. For whe we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on euery syde. Outwarde was fightinge, inwarde was feare. Neuertheles God that comforteth the abiect comforted vs at the comyng of Titus.

And not wyth his comminge onely: but also wyth the consolacyon wherwt he was comforted of you. For he tolde vs youre desyre, your mourninge, your fernet minde to me ward: so that I now reioyce the more. Wherfore though I made you sory wyth a letter, I repente not: though I did repent. For I perceaue that the same Epistle made you sory though it were but for a season. But I nowe reioyce not that ye were sory, but ỹ ye so sorowed that ye repented. For ye sorowed godly: so that in nothynge ye were hurt by vs. For godly sorow causeth repentaunce vnto saluacion not to be repented of: when worldly sorow causeth death.

Beholde what diligence, this godly sorow that ye toke hath wroughte in you: yea it caused you to cleare your selues, it caused indignacyon, it caused feare, it caused desyre, it caused a feruent minde, it caused punishement/ for in all thinges ye haue shewed youre selues ỹ ye were cleare in that mater. Wherfore though I wrote vnto you, I dyd it not for his cause that did hurte, neyther for his cause that was hurte: but that oure good mynd which we haue toward you in the sycht of god, might appeare vnto you.

in

Therfore we are comforted, because ye are comforted: yea and exceedingly the more ioyed we, for ỹ ioy that Titus had because his spirite was refreshed of you al. I am therfore, not nowe ashamed though I bosted my self to him of you. For as al thinges which I preached vnto you are true, euen so is oure bostyng that I bosted my selfe to Titus with al founde true. And nowe is his inwarde affeccion moare aboundaunte towarde you, when he remembreth the obedience of euery one of you: howe w feare and tremblynge ye receaued hym. I reioyce that I maye be boulde ouer you in all thinges.

The puttethe them in remembraunce to helpe the poore saincte at Jerusalem, acording as the Macedonians did.

The. viii. Chapter.

Do you to wit brethren, of ỹ grace of God which is geuen in ỹ congregations of Macedonia, howe ỹ the abundaũce of their reioysig is, ỹ they ar tryed w much tribulation. And therto though they were exceding poore yet haue they geuen exceadynge richly, & ỹ i singlenes. For to their powers (I beare record) yea & beyond their power, they were willyng of their owne record, & praied vs w great instaũce, ỹ we wold receue their benefit, & suffer thẽ to be portakers w other i ministring to ỹ saincte. And this they did, not as we loked for: but gaue theyr owne selues first to ỹ lord, & after vnto vs by ỹ will of god: so ỹ we could not but desire Titus to accomplishe the same beniuolẽce among you also/ euẽ as he had begõne.

Now therefore, as ye are ryche in all parties, in faith/ in worde, i knowledg, in al feruentnes, and in loue, whiche ye haue to vs: euen so se ỹ ye be pleteous in this beniuolence. This sate I not as commaũding: but because other are so feruẽt, therfor proue I your loue/ whether it be perfect or no. Ye know the liberalitie of our lord Jesus christ, which though he were riche yet for your sakes he came poore, that ye thorow his pouertie/ might be made ryche.

And I geue councell here to. For this is expediẽt for you, which begaune, not to do only: but also to wyl a yeare ago. Now therefor perfourme the dede: that as there was in you a redynes to wyll, euen so ye maye perfourme the dede, of that which ye haue. For if there be first a wylynge mynde, it is accepted acordinge to that a man hath, and not acordinge to that he hath not. ¶

It is not my mynde, that other be sett at ease, and ye brought into combraunce, but that ther be egalnes now at this tyme, that youre aboundaunce maye socour their lackes: ỹ their abundaũce maye supplie your lacke: ỹ ther maye be equalite, agreeing to that whych is writen*. He that gathered much: had neuer the more aboundaunce, and he that gathered lytle: had neuertheles. Thankes be vnto god/ whych put in the herte of Titus, ỹ same good mind toward you. For he accepted the requeste, yea rather he was so wel wyllyng, that of hys owne accorde/ came vnto you. Exo. xvi.

We haue sẽt wyth hym that brother whose laude is in the gospell/ thorowe out all ỹ congregacions: & not so only/ but is also chosen of ỹ congregations, to be a felow w vs in our iourney concerninge thys beneuolence ỹ is mynistred by vs vnto the prayse of ỹ Lorde and to stirre vp your prompte mynd. For thys we eschue, that eny man sholde rebuke vs in thys plenteous distribucion that is ministred by vs, & therfore make prouision for honest thynges, not in the sycht of God onely, but also in ỹ sycht of men

We haue sente with them a brother of oures whome we haue proued dylygent in many thinges, but nowe muche more dyligente. The greate confydence which I haue i you hath caused me this to do: partly for Titus sake, whyche is my felow ād helper as concerning you, partely because of other whych are our bretheren, and the messengers of the cõgregacios. ād the glory of Chryst: wherfore shew vnto them proffe of your loue and of the reioycinge ỹ we haue of you/ that the congregacions maye se it.

In thys chapter dothe he the same, that he dyd in the Chapter goynge before, that is, moueth them to helpe the poore Bretheren at Jerusalem.

The. ix. Chapter.

The ii. Epistle

¶ He toucheth the false Apostles, & defendeth his auctorite and calling.

¶ The. x. Chapter.

I Paul my selfe beseche you by the mekenes of Christe, which when I am present a monge you am of no reputacion, but am boulde toward you being absente. I beseche you that I nede not to be bould when I am present (with that same cõfidẽce, where w^ch I am supposed to be boulde) against some which repute vs as though we walked carnally. Neuertheles though we walke compassed with the flesshe, yet we warre not fleshlye. For the weapens of oure warre are not carnal thinges, but thinges mighty in god /to caste downe strong holdes, wherwith we ouer throw imaginacions, ād euery hie thing, that exalteth it selfe against the knowledge of God, and bringe into captiuite al vnderstanding to the obedience of Christ, and are ready to take vengaunce on all disobedience, when youre obedyence is fulfilled. Loke ye on thiges after ỹ vtter apperaunce.

If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christes, let the same also consydre of him selfe, that as he is Christes, euẽ so are we christes. And though I shulde boste my selfe some what moare of oure auctorite which the Lorde hath geuen vs to edifie and not to destroye you, it shulde not be to my shame. This say I, lest I shulde seme as though I went a boute to make you afraid with letters. For the Epistles (saith he) are stronge: but his bodely presence is weake, and his speache is rude. Let hi that is suche thike on this wise, that as we are i wordes by letters when we are absent, such are we in dedes when we are present.

For we cannot find in our hartes to make oure selues of the numbre of thẽ, or to compare our selues to them, which laude them selues, neuertheles while they measure them selues with them selues, and compare them selues with the selues, they vnderstand nought. But we wyl not reioyce aboue measure: but accordyng to ỹ quantite of the measure which God hath destributed vnto vs, a measure that reacheth euen to you.

For

A * What saintes sygnifyed ỹ scripture, loke act. ix. c

IF the ministrige to ỹ * saintes is but superfluous for me to write vnto you: for I know your redines of mide wher of I bost my selfe vnto the of Macedonia, & saye that Achaia was prepared a yeare a goo, and youre feruẽtnes hath prouoked many. Neuertheles yet haue I sente these brethren, lest oure reioysinge ouer you shuld be i vaine in this behalfe, and that yee (as I haue sayde) prepare youre selues, leste paraduenture if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, the bost that I made in this matter, shulde be a shame to vs. I saye not vnto you.

B Wherfore I thought it necessary to exhorte the brethrẽ, to come before hãd vnto you, for to prepare your good blessing promised afore, that it might be redie: so that it be a blessing, and not a defrauding. ✣ This ye remembre, howe ỹ he which soweth litle shal reape litle, ād he that soweth plenteously shall reape plenteously. And let euery man do acordyng as he hath purposed i his hert, not groudgingly, or of necessite. For God loueth a cheareful geuer.

Eccle. xxxv.

C God is able to make you riche in al grace, that ye in al thynges hauing sufficient vnto ỹ vtmost, maye be riche vnto al good workes / as it is writte. *

Psalm. xl.

He hath sparcd abroade and hath geuẽ to the pore, his rightwesnes remayneth for euer. He that fideth the sower sede, shal minister bread for fode, & shal multyplie youre sede and increace the frutes of youre rightwesnes ✣ ỹ on all partes, ye maye be made riche in all singlenes, which causeth thorow vs, thankes geuinge vnto God.

D For the office of this ministracyon, not only supplieth ỹ nede of ỹ saintes: but also is abundaunte herein, that for this laudable mynistrig, thãkes might be geuen to god of many, which prayse god for the obedience of your professig the gospell of Christe, and for your singlenes in destributing to them ād to al men, and i their prayers to god for you longe after you, for ỹ aboundãt grace of God geuen vnto you. Thankes be vnto god for his vnspeakeable gifte,

For we stretche not out oure selues beyond measure, as though we had not reached vnto you. For euen to you haue we come with the gospell of Christ, and we boost not oure selues out of measure in other mens labours. Ye and we hope/ when youre fayth is increased amonge you/ to be magnified accordynge to oure measure/ more largely, and to preache the gospell in those regions which are beyonde you: and not to reioyce of y which is by an other mans measure prepared al redy. Let him y reioyseth/ reioyse in the *Lord. For he y prayseth him selfe, is not alowed: but whom the Lord prayseth).

*Let euery man reioyse in that Christ dyed for him, and not in the holynes of hys awne workes.

¶ Paul (vnder sufferaunce) commendeth him selfe, and defendeth his auctorite agaynst the false prophetes.

The.xi. Chapter.

A We be maryed to Christ's not to y preacher.

Wolde to God, ye could suffre me a lytell in my folishnes: ye and I praie you for beare me. For I am gelous ouer you with godli gelousye. For I coupled you to one man, to make you a chaste virgin to Christ. But I feare lest as the serpent begyled Eue thorow his sutelte, euen so youre wittes shulde be corrupte from the singlenes that is i Christ. For yf he that cõmeth, preache a nother Jesus then him whome we preached: or yf ye receaue an other spirite thẽ that which ye haue receaued: ether another gospell then that ye haue receaued, ye myght right well haue bene content. I suppose that I was not behynde the chefe Apostles. Though I be rude in speakinge, yet I am not so in knowledge. Now be it amõge you we are knowen to the vtmost what we are in all thynges. Dyd I ther i synne/ be cause I submytted my selfe, that ye might be exalted, and because I preached to you y gospel of God free? I robbed other congregacions, and toke wages of them to do you seruice w al. And when I was present, with you and had nede, I was greuous to no man for y ¶ which was lacking vnto me, the brethre which came from Macedonia, supplied: and in all thynges I kept my selfe y I shuld not be greueous to you: and so will I keape my selfe. If the trueth of Christ be in me, thys reioycinge shal not be take frõ me in the regions of Achaia. Wherfore because I loue you not? god knoweth. Neuertheles what I do/ that wyll I do to cut awaye occasion from them which desyre occasyon, that they myghte be founde lyke vnto vs in that wherin they reioyce. For the false Apostles, are disceatful worckers, and fassiõ them selues lyke vnto the Apposties of Christ. And no metuell, for Satan him selfe is chaunged into the fassion of an angell of lyght. Therfore it is no great thynge thoughe hys ministers fassion them selues as though they were the ministers of righteousnes: whose end shal be accordinge to their deades. I saye againe, lest anye man thincke that I am folysh: or els euen nowe take me as a fole, that I maye boast my selfe a lytle. That I speake, I speake it not after y wayes of the Lord, but as it were folyshly, whyle we are now come to boostinge. Seinge that manye reioyce after the flesshe, I wil reioyce also. + For ye suffre fooles gladly/ because that ye your selues are wyse. For ye suffre euẽ if a man bringe you into *bondage: if a man deuoure, if a man take: yf a man exalt him selfe: if a man smite you on the face. I ¶ speake as concerning rebuke, as though we had bene weake.

Paul is equall with yhe Apostle.

Now be it wherin soeuer eny man dare be bolde (I speake folishly) I dare be bolde also. They are Ebrues, so am I: They are Israelites, euẽ so am I. They are the seede of Abraham, euen so am I. They are y ministers of Christ (I speake as a foole) I am moare: In laboures moare aboundant: In stryppes aboue measure: In prison moare plenteously: In deadly ofte. Of the Jewes fyue tymes receaued I euery tyme. xl stryppes, saue one. Thryse was I beten with rodes. I was once stoned. I suffered thryse shipwracke. Nyght and daye haue I bene in the depe of the see, In iorneyinge often: in parels of waters: in parels of robbers: in ieopardies of myne awne nacion: in ieoperdies amonge the heathen. I haue bene in parels in cities, in parels in wildernes, in parels in the see, in parels amõg false brethre, in labour & trauel, in watchig oft, in honger, in thirst, in in fastiges often, in colde and in nakednes. And besyde the thinges which outwardly happen vnto me, I am combred daily, and do care for all congregacions. Who is sicke, and I am not sicke? Who is hurte in the fayth and my hert burneth not? If I must nedes reioyce, I will reioyce of myne infirmityes.

The Notes.

* To moche mekenes and obedience is not alowed in the kyngedome of God, but al must be according to knowledge.

¶ Paul is taken vp into the thyrde heauen, and heareth wordes not to be spoken of.

The. xii. Chapter.

A IT is not expedient for me (no dout) to reioyce. Neuertheiesse I wil com to visions & reuelacions of the Lord. I knowe a man in Christ aboue. xiiii. yeares agone (whether he were in ỹ body I can not tell, or whether hee were oute of ỹ body I cannot tel, God knoweth) whych was taken vp in to the thyrd heauen. And I knowe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell God knoweth) how that he was taken vp into Paradyse, and hearde wordes not to be spoken, which no man can vtter. Of this man will I reioyce, of my selfe wil I not reioyce/ except it be of mine infirmities. And yet though I wolde reioyce, I shuld not be a fole: for I wolde saye the trouth. Neuertheiesse I spare, lest eny man shulde thinke of me aboue that he seythe me to be, or heareth of me.

And lest I shuld be exalted out of measure thrOw the aboundance of reuelacyons, ther was geuen vnto me * vnquietnes of the flesshe, the messengers of Satan to buffet me: because I shuld not be exalted out of measure. For this B thinge besought I the Lord thryse ỹ it myght departe frō me. And he sayd vnto me: my grace is sufficient for ỹ. For my C strength is made perfect thrOw weakenes. Very gladly therfor wil I reioyce of my wekenes/ ỹ the strength of Christ maye dwel in me. + Therfor haue I delectaciō in infirmites, in rebukes, in nede, in persecutions, in anguysh, for Christes sake. For when I am weake, then am I stronge.

I am made a fole in bosting my selfe: Ye haue cōpelled me: I ought to haue bē cōmended of you. For in nothig was I inferyoure vnto the chefe Apostles, thoughe I be nothing, yet the tokēs of an Apostle were wrought amonge you w al pacience, with signes, ād wonders D ād mightie dedes. For what is it where in ye were inferiors vnto other congregatiōs except it be therin ỹ I was not greuous vnto you. Beholde nowe the third time I am redy to come vnto you: ād yet wyl I not be greuous vnto you. For I seke not yours, but you. Also ỹ children ought not to laie vp for the fathers and mothers: but the fathers ād mothers for the children.

I wyl very gladly bestowe, and will be bestowed for your selues: though ỹ moare I loue you, the lesse I am loued againe. But be it that I greued you not: neuertheless I was craftie & toke you wyth gyle. Dyd I pyll you by any of them which I sent vnto you? I desired Titus/ and with him I sent a brother. Dyd Titus defraude you of anye thig? walked we not in our spirite? walked we not in like steppes? Again thinke ye that we excuse oure selues? We speake in Chryste in the syghte of God.

But we do all thynges dearly beloued for youre edifieng. For feare lest it come to passe, that when I come/ I shal not fynde you suche as I wolde: ād I shalbe foūd vnto you such as I wold not: I feare lest there be founde amōg you debate, enuieng, wrath, strife, backbytinges, whisperinges, swellinge and discorde, I feare lest when I com agayne/ god bringe me lowe amounge you, and I be constrained to bewaile manye of them which haue sinned al ready, ād haue not repēted of the vnclennes/ fornication & wantonnes which they haue committed.

The notes.

a* Unquietnes of the flesshe is here the violent wistonding and agaynsaying and cuē the persecuting
of cuell mē which cōtinually troubled him, drabled
against his preaching. This was the minister of Sa tan/that as it had bene wyth buffettes vexed hym.
His aduersaries which with their blasphemouse &
contrarioule teaching dyd dysquiet and tormente
him, destroing as fast as he edified, were the verye pricke and desquietnesse of the flesshe, from which he desireth the Lorde to be delyuered.

¶ He promyseth to come vnto them and exhorteth
thē so to ordre them selues ỳ he maye fynd thē par-
fect and of one minde.

The .xiii. Chapter.

A NOw come I the third time vnto you*ī ỳ mouth of two or thre witnesses shall euē-tye thinge stande. I tolde you before, and tell you before: and as I saide when I was present wt you the seconde time, so write I now beinge absente to theym which in tyme past haue sinned, and to al other: that if I come againe, I will not spare, seing that ye seke experience of Christ which speaketh in me, which amōg you is not weake, but is mighty in you. And ver-ly though it came of weakenes that he was crucified, yet liueth he thorowe the power of God. And we (no doute) are weake in him: but we shal lyue wt hym,
by the might of God amonge you.

B Proue your selues whether ye are in the faith or not. Examen youre owne selues: knowe ye not your owne selues how that Jesus Christ is in you/excepte ye be cast awaies? I trust that ye shal know that we are not cast awaies.
I desire before god that ye do non euel:
not that we shoulde seme commendable
but ỳ ye shuld do that which is honeste:
and let vs be counted as lewde persō-nes. We can do nothinge against the trueth, but for the trueth. We are glad when we are weake, and ye strong.
This also we wisshe for, euē ỳ ye were perfect. Therfore write I these thinges beinge absent/lest when I am present,
I shulde vse sharpnes according to the ¶ power which the lorde hath geuen me/to edifie, and not to destroie. Finally e brethren fare ye well, be perfecte, be of good comforte, be of one mynde, liue in peace, and the God of loue & peace shal Sayntes Lo- be with you. Grete one another in an ho-de artes, &c. ly kisse. All the *saincte salute you.
The grace of oure Lord Jesus Christ and the loue of God, and the felosshippe, of the holy goost be wt you all Amen.

¶ The ende of the seconde epistle to ỳ Corinthians.
¶ Sent from Philippos a cytie in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Epistle of

Sayncte Paul the Apostle vnto the Galathians.

¶ Paull reboketh them because they were fallen awaye from the Gospel, sheweth hys owne conuersyon, magnyfyeth hys office and Apostelshyppe, ād declareth hymselfe to bee equall wyth the hye Apostles.

The fyrst Chapter.

PAul an apostle not of men, nether by man, but by Jesus Christ, and by God the father whiche raised hī frō death: and all the brethren which are with me.

Unto the congregations of Galacia.
Grace be with you ād peace from God
the father, and from oure Lorde Jesus Christe, whiche gaue him selfe for oure sinnes, to delyuer vs from this presēte euel worlde, thorow the wyl of god our father/to whome be praise for euer and euer Amen.

I maruaile that ye are so soone turned from hym that called you i ỳ grace of Christ, vnto another Gospell, which is nothyng els / but that there be some whiche trouble you, and intende to per-uert the Gospel of Christ. Neuertheles though we our selues, or an angell frō B heauen, preache any other Gospel vn to you, then that whiche we haue preached vnto you, holde hym as a cursed.
As I saide before, so saie I now againe,.
yf any man preache any other thing vn to you, then that ye haue receaued, hold him accursed. Preach I mans doctrine or Godes? Other go I about to please men? if I studyed to please men, I were not the seruaunt of Christe.

I certifie you brethren, that the Gospel

The notes.

a* Unquietnes of the flesshe is here the violent wi-
stonding and agaynsaying and cuē the persecuting
of cuell mē which cōtinually troubled him, drabled
against his preaching. This was the minister of Sa
tan/that as it had bene wyth buffettes vexed hym.
His aduersaries which with their blasphemouse &
contrarioule teaching dyd dysquiet and torment
him, destroing as fast as he edified, were the verye
pricke and desquietnesse of the flesshe, from which he desireth the Lorde to be delyuered.

¶ He promyseth to come vnto them and exhorteth
thē so to ordre them selues ỳ he maye fynd thē par-
fect and of one minde.

The .xiii. Chapter.

A NOw come I the third time vnto you * ī ỳ mouth of two or thre witnesses shall euery thinge stande. I tolde you before, and tell you be fore: and as I saide when I was present wt you the seconde time, so write I now beinge absente to theym which in tyme past haue sinned, and to al other: that if I come againe, I will not spare, seing that ye seke experience of Christ which speaketh in me, which amōg you is not weake, but is mighty in you. And verely though it came of weakenes that he was crucified, yet liueth he thorowe the power of God. And we (no doute) are weake in him: but we shal lyue wt hym, by the might of God amonge you.

B Proue your selues whether ye are in the faith or not. Examen youre owne selues: knowe ye not your owne selues how that Jesus Christ is in you/except ye be cast awaies? I trust that ye shal know that we are not cast awaies. I desire before god that ye do non euel: not that we shoulde seme commendable but ỳ ye shuld do that which is honeste: and let vs be counted as lewde persō-nes. We can do nothinge against the trueth, but for the trueth. We are glad when we are weake, and ye strong. This also we wisshe for, euē ỳ ye were perfect. Therfore write I these thinges beinge absent/lest when I am present, I shulde vse sharpnes according to the C power which the lorde hath geuen me/ to edifie, and not to destroie. Finally ye brethren fare ye well, be perfecte, be of good comforte, be of one mynde, liue in peace, and the God of loue & peace shal Saynctes Lorde artes, &c. be with you. Grete one another in an holy kisse. All the * sainctes salute you.

The grace of oure Lord Jesus Christ and the loue of God, and the felosshippe of the holy goost be wt you all Amen.

¶ The ende of the seconde epistle to ỳ Corinthians.

¶ Sent from Philippos a cytie in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Epistle of

Sayncte Paul the Apostle vnto the Galathians.

¶ Paull reproueth them because they were fallen awaye from the Gospel, sheweth hys owne conuer-
syon, magnyfyeth hys office and Apostelshyppe, ād
declareth hymselfe to bee equall wyth the hye Apostles.

The fyrst Chapter.

PAul an apostle not of men, A nether by man, but by Jesus Christ, and by God the father whiche raised hī frō death: and all the brethren which are with me.

Vnto the congregations of Galacia. Grace be with you ād peace from God the father, and from oure Lorde Jesus Christe, whiche gaue hym selfe for oure sinnes, to delyuer vs from this presēte euel worlde, thorow the wyl of god our father/to whome be praise for euer and euer Amen.

I maruaile that ye are so soone turned from hym that called you i ỳ grace of Christ, vnto another Gospell, which is nothyng els / but that there be some whiche trouble you, and intende to peruert the Gospel of Christ. Neuertheles though we our selues, or an angell frō B heauen, preache any other Gospel vn to you, then that whiche we haue preached vnto you, holde hym as a cursed i As I saide before, so saie I now againe, yf any man preache any other thing vn to you, then that ye haue receaued, hold him accursed. Preach I mans doctrine or Godes? Other go I about to please men? if I studyed to please men, I were not the seruaunt of Christe.

I certifie you brethren, that the Gospel gospel which was preached of me, was not after the maner of men, nether receaued I it of man, nether was I taught it: but receaued it by the reuelacion of Jesus Christ. For ye haue herde of my cõuersacyõ i tyme paste, in the Jewes wayes, how that beyond measure I persecuted the congregacion of God, and spoiled it: and preuayled in the Jewes lawe, aboue many of my companions, which were of mine owne nacion, & was a much more feruent maintayner of the traditions of the elders.

D But when it pleased god, which seperated me from my mothers wombe, ād called me bi his grace, for to declare his soune by me, that I shuld preache hym among the heathē: immediatly I cõmuned not of ỹ matter wt flesche & bloud, nether returned to Jerusalem to them which were Apostles before me: but wēt my waye into Arabia, and came againe vnto Damasco. Thē after thre yeare I returned to Jerusalē to se peter, & abode wt hi. xv. daies, no nother of ỹ Apostles sawe I, saue James ỹ Lordes brother. The thiges which I write, beholde god knoweth I lye not.

After that I wente into the costes of Siria & Cilicia & was vnknowen as touchige my persõ vnto ỹ cõgregatiõs of Jewry, which were in Christ: But they hearde only ỹ he whiche persecuted vs in tyme past, nowe preacheth the fayth which before he destroyed. And they glorified god one in my behalfe.

The notes.

Paule though he came longe after the Apostles, yet had he not his auctorite of Peter, or ony of ỹ went before him. Nether brought he with him letters of recommendation or bulles of confyrmation. But the confyrmation of his apostleshyp was the word of god/conscience of men, ād the power of the spyrite that testyfyed wyth him by miracles and manyfold giftes of grace.

a * Flesh & bloud here signyfy men or mens cõcel. The withstādeth Peter in the face & prooueth that the lawes cyrcumcysiõ are not necessary to saluatiõ.

The. ii. Chapter.

A THen. xiiii. yeates therafter I went vp againe to Jerusalem wt Barnabas, & toke with me Tytus also. Yee and I wente vp by reuelacion & cõmuned wt them, of the gospel, which I preache amonge the Gentiles: but betwene our selues, with them whiche were counted chef, lest it shuld haue bene thought that I should rūne or had runne in vayne. Also Titus which was wyth me, though he were a Greke, yet was not cõpelled to be circumcised, and ỹ because of icommers beyng false brethren whyche came in amonge other to spye out oure libertie which we haue i Christ Jesus, ỹ they myght bring vs i to bondage. To whom we gaue no rowme, no not for the space of an houre/as concerninge to be brought into subiectyon: ād that because that the trueth of the Gospell myght continue with you.

B Of them which seined to be great (what they were in tyme passed it maketh no matter to me: God loketh no mans person) neuertheless they which semed great, added nothyng to me. But contrary wyse, when they sawe that the Gospell ouer the vncircūsion was committed vnto me, as the Gospel ouer the *circumcisyon was vnto Peter: for he that was mighty in Peter in the Apostleshype ouer the circumcisyon, the same was myghty in me amonge the Gentyles: and therfore when they perceaued ỹ grace that was geuen vnto me, then James, Cephas, and John, which semed to be pylers, gaue to me and Barnabas ỹ ryght handes, and agreed with vs, that we shoulde preache amonge the heathen: and they amounge the Jewes: wantinge only that we shulde remember the poore. Which thinge also I was diligent to do.

C And when Peter was come to Antioche, I withstode him in the face/for he was worthy to be blamed. For yer that certayne came from James, he eat wyth the Gentyls. But when they were come, he withdrue and seperated him self, fearynge them whych were of the circumcisyon. And the other Jewes dissembled likewise, in so moche that Barnabas was brought in to their simulacion also. But when I sawe, that theye wente not the right way after the trueth of the Gospel, I sayde vnto Peter before all men, yf ỹ beynge a Jewe, lyueste after the maner of the gentyles, & not as do ỹ Jewes.

why

why causeste thou the Gentiles to lyue as do the Iewes? ¶ We which are Iewes by nature, & not sinners of the gentiles, knowe that a man is not iustified by the * deades of the lawe: but by the faith of Iesus Christ. And therfore we haue beleued on Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified bi the faith of Christ, ād not by the dedes of the lawe: because that by the dedes of the lawe no flesche can be iustified.

*Wedes of ye lawe iustifye not, but faith iustifyeth.

If then whyle we sekt to be made rightwes by Christ, we our selue ar koūde sinners, is not then Christe ỹ ministre of sinne? God forbid. For if I build agayne that which I destroied, thē make I my selfe a trespasser.  But I thorowe the lawe am dead to the lawe: ỹ I mygh̄t liue vnto god. I am crucified wyth CHRYSTE. I lyue verely: yet now not I, but Christ lyueth in me. For the lyfe which I now lyue in ỹ flesh, I liue by the faith of the sonne of God which loued me, and gaue him selfe for me. I despise not the grace of god. For if righteousnes com of ỹ law, thē Christ died in vaine.

The notes.

a  But I thorowe the lawe am dead to the lawe, ỹ is/ by the lawe of lybertie & grace graunted i Christ, I am deliuered from the law of bondag, mynistred by Moses, and from the burthen & curse therof. ¶ He rebuketh the vnstedfastnes of ỹ Galathians shewynge the vnperfectenes of ỹ lawe, & declareth neuertheles that it was not geuen for naughte.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

A O folysshe Galathians: who hathe bewytched you ỹ ye should not beleue ỹ trueth? To whom Iesus Christe was described before ỹ eyes, and amonge you crucified. This onelye wolde I learne of you, receaued ye the spirite by the dedes of the law, or els by preaching of the faith? Are ye so vnwyse, that after ye haue begonne in the spirite ye wold now end in the flesh? So many thinges ye haue suffered i vaine, yf that be vain. ¶ Which ministred to you the spirite, & worketh miracles among you doth he it thorow ỹ dedes of the lawe, or by preaching of ỹ faith? *Euen as Abraham beleued God, and it was assribed to hi for righteousnes. Vnderstande therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the chyldren of Abraham.

Gene. xv. b
Rom. iii. a Iacob. ii. b

For the scripture saw afore hand, that God wold iustifye the Heathen thorow faith, and therfore shewed before hande glad tydynges vnto Abraham: In thee shall all nacyons be blessed. So then they which be of faith, are blessed wyth faithfull Abraham. For as many as are vnder the deades of the lawe, are vnder malediccyō. For it is writen cursed is euerye man that contynueth not in all thynges which are written in the boke of the lawe, to fulfyll them. That no man is iustifyed by the lawe in the syght of God, is euident. For the iuste shall lyue by fayth. The lawe is not of fayth: but the man that fulfilleth the thinges contayned yn the lawe (shall lyue in them). But Christ hath deliuered vs from the curse of the law, and was made and * a cursed for vs. For it is wrytten: cursed is euerye one that hangeth on tree, that the blessynge of Abraham mygh̄t come on ỹ Gentiles thorow Iesus Christ, and that we might receaue the promes of the spirete thorow fayth. Brethren, I wyll speake after the maner of mē. Though it be but a mans testamēte yet no man despyseth it, or addeth eny thing therto, whē it is once alowed. ¶ To Abraham & hys seed were the promyses made. He sayth not in the seedes, as many: but in thy sede, as i one which is Christ. This I say e that ỹ law wyhych begonne after warde, beyonde iiii. C. & xxx. yeares, doth not disanul ỹ testament, that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christward, to make the promes of none effect. For yf the inheritaunce come of the lawe, it commeth not to promes. But god gaue it vnto Abraham by promes.

Wherfore then serueth ỹ law? The law was added because of transgression (tyll the seed came to whych the promes was made) and it was ordeyned bi Angeles in the hande of a mediator. A mediator is not a mediator of one. But God is one. Is the lawe then agaynst ỹ promes of God? God forbyd. Howbeit yf ther had bene a lawe geuen which could haue geuen * lyfe: then no dout ryghtwesnes shuld haue com by ỹ law: But ỹ scrypture concludeth al thinges vnder syn ỹ ỹ promes by ỹ fayth of Iesus

Jesus Christ shulde be geuen vnto the ỹ beleue. ✝ Wherfore that fayth came, we were kepte and shut vp vnder the lawe vnto the faith which shuld afterwarde be declared.

Wherfore the lawe was oure scole-master vnto the tyme of Christ, that we myght be made rightwes by faith. But after that faith is come, now are we no longer a* vnder a scole maister. For ye are all the sonnes of God by the fayth which is in Christ Jesus. For al ye that are baptised/haue put on Christ. Now is there no Jewe nether gentile: ther is nether bonde nor fre: there is nether mā nor woman: but ye are al one thinge in Christ Jesu. If ye be Christes, then are ye Abrahams sede, and heires by promises.

The notes, *Christ was accursed for vs sakes, that is: he was punysshed and slayne for oure synnes.
*The lawe geueth no lyfe but threatneth death.
a* To be vnder a scole master: to be vnder the lawe are both one/and are expounded in the prologe to ỹ Romaynes, the leafe. lxii
Paul sheweth ỹ thorow Christ we be delyuered frō ỹ lawe: rebuketh ỹ vnthankefulnes of the Galathians.

The. iiii. Chapter.

And I saie that the heyre as longe as he is a childe, differeth not from a seruaunt/ though he be lord of al, but is vnder tuters and gouerners, vntil the time appointed of the father. Euen so we, as longe as we were children, were in bondage vnder the ordinaunce of the worlde. But when ỹ* time was ful come, God sent his sonne borne of a woman and made bond vnto the lawe, to redeme them which were vnder the lawe: ỹ we thorow electyon myght receaue the inheritaunce ỹ belongeth vnto ỹ naturall sonnes. Because ye are sonnes, God hath sent the spirite of his sonne into our hertes, which crieth Abba father. Wherfore now, ỹ arte not a seruaūt, but a sonne. If thou be ỹ sonne, ỹ arte also the heire of God thorow Christe. ✝

Not withstandinge, when ye knew not god ye did seruice vnto thē, which by nature were no Goddes. But now seynge ye know god (yea rather are knowen of god (how is it ỹ ye tourne againe vnto ỹ weake & bedgarly ceremonies, wher vnto againe ye delire afresh to be ī bōdage:

Begarlye ceremonyes.

Ye obserue dayes/ and monethes, and tymes, and yeares. I am in feare of you least I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.

Brethren I beseech you/be ye as I am: for I am as ye are. Ye haue not hurt me at all. Ye knowe/how thorowe infyrmitie of the flesh e, I preached the Gospell vnto you at the fyrste. And my temptacion which I suffered by reason of my flesh e, ye despised not, neither abhorred, but receaued me as an Aungel of God: yea as Christ Jesus. How happy were ye then: for I beare you recorde ỹ if it hadde bene possible ye woulde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen them to me. Am I therfore become youre enemy, because I tell you the trueth.

Infirmyte & tēptatyō are persecution, rebuke ād ỹ crosse.

They are gelous ouer you amysse. Yea, they intende to exclude you, that ye shoulde be feruent to themwarde. It is good alwayes to be feruente, so it be in a good thinge, and not onely when I am presente wyth you.

My lytle chylderen (of whom I trauayle in byrth agayne/ vntyl Christ bee fashioned in you) I wold I were with you nowe, and could chaunge my voyce: for I stande in a doubte of you. Tell me ye that desyre to be vnder the lawe/ haue ye not hearde of the lawe: ✝ For it is written that Abraham had two sonnes, the one by a bond mayde/ the other by a fre woman. Yea and he which was of the bond woman was borne after the flesh: but he which was of the fre womā was borne by promes. Which thynges betoken mysterye. For these women are two testamentes, the one from the moūt Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage which is Agar. For monte Sina, is called Agar in Arabia/ and bordreth vpon the cytye, which is now Jerusalem, and is in bondage wyth her chylderen.

But Jerusalem: which is aboue is free, which is the mother of vs all. For it is written, Reioyce thou baren, that bearest no Chylderen, breake forth and crye, thou that trauelest not. For the desolate hath many moo chylderen thē she which hath an husbande. Brethren we are after the maner of Isaac, chylderen of promes. But as thē he that was borne ne carnalli, persecuted hi that was borne spritually. Euen so is it nowe. Neuertheles what saith ỹ scripture: put away the bonde woman and her sonne. For ỹ sonne of the bonde woman shall not be heyre wt the sonne of ỹ free womã. So then brethren we are not chyldren of the bond woman: but of the free woman.

The notes

a * The tyme ful com, was the time of Christes commynge whych made an ende of the lawe & deliuered vs from the burthen therof.

He laboureth to drawe them awaye from circumcysion, sheweth them the battayl betwyxt, ỹ spryte & the flesh, and the frutes of them both.

The .v. Chapter.

STand fast therfore in the lybertye wherwith Christ hath made vs free, & wrap not your selues agayne in the yoke of bondage. Beholde I Paul saye vnto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shal profyt you nothinge at al. I testifie agayne to euery man which is circumcised that he is bounde to kepe the whole lawe. Ye are gone quite from Christ as many as are iustified by the lawe, and are fallen frō grace. We loke for, and hope in ỹ spryte to be iustified thorow faith. For in Iesu Christ neither is circumcysyon, auye thing worth, other yet vncircūcisiō, but * fayth which by loue is mighty in operacion. Ye dyd rūne wel: who was a let vnto you, that ye shoulde not obeye the trueth? Euen ỹ counsel that is not of hi that called you. A lytle leuen doth leuen the whole lompe of dowe.

B I haue truste towarde you in ỹ Lorde, that ye shuld be none other wise minded. He that rebuketh you, shal bere his iudgment what soeuer he be. Brethren yf I yet preach circumcision: why do I then yet suffer persecution? For then had the offence which the crosse geueth, ceased. I wolde to God they were seperated from you, which trouble you. Brethren ye were called into (lybertye) only let not youre liberrie be an occasiō vnto the flesshe, but in loue serue one another.

For al the lawe is fulfylled in one worde, C whych is this: thou shalt loue thyne neyghbour as thy selfe. If ye byte and deuour one another: take hede lees ye be consumed one of another.

✠ I saye walke in the spryte, and fulfyl not the lustes of the flesshe. For the flesshe lusteth contrarye to the spirite, and the spryte contrary to the flesshe. These are contrary one to the other, so that ye cannot do that whych ye wolde. But & yf ye be led of ỹ spryte, then are ye not vnder the lawe. The dedes of the flesshe are manifest, which are these, aduoutrie, fornicacion, vncleannes, wantōnes, ydolatrye/witchecraft, hatred, variaunce, zele/wrath, stryfe/sedicion, sectes, enuying, murther, dronkennes, glottony, and soche like of the which I tell you before as I haue tolde you in time past, that they whych commyt soche thynges, shall not inherite, ỹ kyngdome of God. But * ỹ frute of the spryte is, loue, ioye, peace, long sufferinge, gentlenes, goodnes, faythfulnes, meakenes, temperancy. Agaynst suche ther is no lawe. They that are Christes/haue crucifyed ỹ flesshe with the appetites and lustes. ✠

✠ If we liue in the spryte, let vs walke in the spryte. Let vs not be vaine glorious, prouokig one another, & enuieng one another.

The notes.

To commyt suche dedes maketh vs vnder dampnation of the lawe

* The frute of the spryte. These dedes testyfy that we are not vnder the dampnation of the lawe.

C He exhorteth them to brotherly loue, and one to beare with another: In the ende he warneth them to beware of circumcysyon.

The .vi. Chapter.

BRethren, yf eny man be fallen by chaunce into eny faute: ye whych are spirituall, healpe to amende him in ỹ spryte of meknes: considering thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted. Beare ye one anothers burthen/and so fulfyll the law of Christ. If eni man seme to hym selfe that he is somwhat, whē in dede he is nothinge, the same deceaueth him selfe in hys imaginacion. Let euery man proue his awne worke, and then shal he haue reioysynge in hys awne selfe, & not in another. For euery man shall beare his awne burthen.

Let him that is taught i the worde, minister vnto hym that teacheth hym, i al good thinges. Be not * deceaued, God is not mocked.

For

ne carnalli, persecuted hi that was borne spritually. Euen so is it nowe. Neuertheles what saith ỹ scripture: put away the bonde woman and her sonne. For ỹ sonne of the bonde woman shall not be heyre wt the sonne of ỹ free womã. So then brethren we are not chyldren of the bond woman: but of the free woman.

The notes

a * The tyme ful com, was the time of Christes commynge whych made an ende of the lawe & deliuered vs from the burthen therof.

He laboureth to drawe them awaye from circumcysion, sheweth them the battayl betwyxt, ỹ spryte & the flesh, and the frutes of them both.

The .v. Chapter.

STand fast therfore in the lybertye wherwith Christ hath made vs free, & wrap not your selues agayne in the yoke of bondage. Beholde I Paul saye vnto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shal profyt you nothinge at al. I testifie agayne to euery man which is circumcised that he is bounde to kepe the whole lawe. Ye are gone quite from Christ as many as are iustified by the lawe, and are fallen frō grace. We loke for, and hope in ỹ spryte to be iustified thorow faith. For in Iesu Christ neither is circumcysyon, auye thing worth, other yet vncircūcisiō, but * fayth which by loue is mighty in operacion. Ye dyd rūne wel: who was a let vnto you, that ye shoulde not obeye the trueth? Euen ỹ counsel that is not of hi that called you. A lytle leuen doth leuen the whole lompe of dowe.

B I haue truste towarde you in ỹ Lorde, that ye shuld be none other wise minded. He that rebuketh you, shal bere his iudgment what soeuer he be. Brethren yf I yet preach circumcision: why do I then yet suffer persecution? For then had the offence which the crosse geueth, ceased. I wolde to God they were seperated from you, which trouble you. Brethren ye were called into (lybertye) only let not youre liberrie be an occasiō vnto the flesshe, but in loue serue one another.

For al the lawe is fulfylled in one worde, C whych is this: thou shalt loue thyne neyghbour as thy selfe. If ye byte and deuour one another: take hede lees ye be consumed one of another.

✠ I saye walke in the spryte, and fulfyl not the lustes of the flesshe. For the flesshe lusteth contrarye to the spirite, and the spryte contrary to the flesshe. These are contrary one to the other, so that ye cannot do that whych ye wolde. But & yf ye be led of ỹ spryte, then are ye not vnder the lawe. The dedes of the flesshe are manifest, which are these, aduoutrie, fornicacion, vncleannes, wantōnes, ydolatrye/witchecraft, hatred, variaunce, zele/wrath, stryfe/sedicion, sectes, enuying, murther, dronkennes, glottony, and soche like of the which I tell you before as I haue tolde you in time past, that they whych commyt soche thynges, shall not inherite, ỹ kyngdome of God. But * ỹ frute of the spryte is, loue, ioye, peace, long sufferinge, gentlenes, goodnes, faythfulnes, meakenes, temperancy. Agaynst suche ther is no lawe. They that are Christes/haue crucifyed ỹ flesshe with the appetites and lustes. ✠

✠ If we liue in the spryte, let vs walke in the spryte. Let vs not be vaine glorious, prouokig one another, & enuieng one another.

The notes.

To commyt suche dedes maketh vs vnder dampnation of the lawe

* The frute of the spryte. These dedes testyfy that we are not vnder the dampnation of the lawe.

C He exhorteth them to brotherly loue, and one to beare with another: In the ende he warneth them to beware of circumcysyon.

The .vi. Chapter.

BRethren, yf eny man be fallen by chaunce into eny faute: ye whych are spirituall, healpe to amende him in ỹ spryte of meknes: considering thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted. Beare ye one anothers burthen/and so fulfyll the law of Christ. If eni man seme to hym selfe that he is somwhat, whē in dede he is nothinge, the same deceaueth him selfe in hys imaginacion. Let euery man proue his awne worke, and then shal he haue reioysynge in hys awne selfe, & not in another. For euery man shall beare his awne burthen.

Let him that is taught i the worde, minister vnto hym that teacheth hym, i al good thinges. Be not * deceaued, God is not mocked.

For

For what soeuer a mā soweth, that shal he reape. He that soweth in his flesche shal of ẏ flesh reape corrupcō. But he that soweth in the spryte, shal of ẏ spryte reape lyfe euerlastinge. Let vs not be wery of wel doinge. For when the time

¶ ii. Tessalo iii. is come, we shal reape w̄ oute wetines. Awhile we haue therfore time, let vs do good vnto al men, and specyallye vnto theym whyche are of the houshoulde of fayth. ☙

Beholde howe large a letter I haue writen vnto you with mine owne hand. As many as desyre with outwarde appearaunce to please carnally/ they constraine you to be circumcised, onelye because they wolde not suffer persecucyō with the crosse of Christe. For they thē selues whyche are cyrcumcysed, kepe not the lawe: but desyre to haue you circumcysed, that they might reioye ī your flesche.

God forbyd that I shoulde reioyce, but in ẏ crosse of our Lord Jesu Christ, wherby the worlde is crucyfied as touchyng me, and I as touching ẏ world. For in Christ Jesu nether circūcysyon auayleth any thing at al, nor vncyrcūcisyon: but a*new creature. And as many as walke accordig to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and vpon Israel that pertayneth to god. From hence forthe, let no man put me to busynes. For I beare in my bodye ẏ markes of the Lorde Jesu.

Brethren the grace of oure Lorde Jesu Christ be with your spryte Amen.

* Nothinge helpeth saue to be a newe creature.

¶ Vnto the Galathians writtē from Rome.

¶ The Epistle

of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Ephesians.

¶ The euerlasting ordinaunce and election of God in sauing all men thorowe Christ Jesus hys sonne. We are ordened vnto good workes. The dominion of Christ.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

Paule an Appostle of Jesus Christ, by the wyll of God. A

To the sainctes, whych are at Ephesus, and to thē whyche beleaue on Jesus Christ.

ii. Cor. i. a. i. Pet. i. a

Grace be with you and peace from God oure father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christ. Blessed be God the Father of oure Lorde Jesus Christe, whiche hath blessed vs w̄ all maner of spiritual blessynges in heuenly thyngs by Chryste, accordinge as he had chosen vs in hym, before the foundacion of the world was layde, that we shoulde be sainctes, and without blame before hym, thorowe loue. And ordeyned vs before thorow Jesus Christe to be heyers vnto hym selfe, according/ to the pleasure of hys wyl, to the prayse of the glorye of hys grace, wherwith he hathe made vs accepted in the beloued.

B Predestynacyon

By whom we haue redemption thorow hys bloude, euen the forgeuenesse of sinnes, according to the riches of his grace, which grace he shed in vs aboundauntlye in all wysdom, and prudence. And hath opened vnto vs the * mystery of his wyl, acording to hys pleasure, and purposed the same in hym selfe / to haue it declared when the tyme were full come, that all thynges, both the thinges which are in heauen, and also the thynges which are in earthe shoulde be gathered together, euen in Chryste, that is to saye, in hym in whome we are made heyres, and were therto predestinate accordinge to the purpose of hym whyche worketh al thinges, after the purpose of hys owne wil: ẏ we which before trusted in Christe, should be vnto the prayse of hys glory.

Redēpcyō is ẏ forgeuenes of synne.

Mysterye is secret cōcel

Predestynacyon ¶

In

For what soeuer a mā soweth, that shal he reape. He that soweth in his flesche shal of ẏ flesh reape corrupcō. But he that soweth in the spryte, shal of ẏ spryte reape lyfe euerlastinge. Let vs not be wery of wel doinge. For when the time

¶ ii. Tessalo iii. is come, we shal reape w̄ oute wetines. Awhile we haue therfore time, let vs do good vnto al men, and specyallye vnto theym whyche are of the houshoulde of fayth. ☙

Beholde howe large a letter I haue writen vnto you with mine owne hand. As many as desyre with outwarde appearaunce to please carnally/ they constraine you to be circumcised, onelye because they wolde not suffer persecucyō with the crosse of Christe. For they thē selues whyche are cyrcumcysed, kepe not the lawe: but desyre to haue you circumcysed, that they might reioye ī your flesche.

God forbyd that I shoulde reioyce, but in ẏ crosse of our Lord Jesu Christ, wherby the worlde is crucyfied as touchyng me, and I as touching ẏ world. For in Christ Jesu nether circūcysyon auayleth any thing at al, nor vncyrcūcisyon: but a*new creature. And as many as walke accordig to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and vpon Israel that pertayneth to god. From hence forthe, let no man put me to busynes. For I beare in my bodye ẏ markes of the Lorde Jesu.

Brethren the grace of oure Lorde Jesu Christ be with your spryte Amen.

* Nothinge helpeth saue to be a newe creature.

¶ Vnto the Galathians writtē from Rome.

¶ The Epistle

of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Ephesians.

¶ The euerlasting ordinaunce and election of God in sauing all men thorowe Christ Jesus hys sonne. We are ordened vnto good workes. The dominion of Christ.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

Paule an Appostle of Jesus Christ, by the wyll of God. A

To the sainctes, whych are at Ephesus, and to thē whyche beleaue on Jesus Christ.

ii. Cor. i. a. i. Pet. i. a

Grace be with you and peace from God oure father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christ. Blessed be God the Father of oure Lorde Jesus Christe, whiche hath blessed vs w̄ all maner of spiritual blessynges in heuenly thyngs by Chryste, accordinge as he had chosen vs in hym, before the foundacion of the world was layde, that we shoulde be sainctes, and without blame before hym, thorowe loue. And ordeyned vs before thorow Jesus Christe to be heyers vnto hym selfe, according/ to the pleasure of hys wyl, to the prayse of the glorye of hys grace, wherwith he hathe made vs accepted in the beloued.

B Predestynacyon

By whom we haue redemption thorow hys bloude, euen the forgeuenesse of sinnes, according to the riches of his grace, which grace he shed in vs aboundauntlye in all wysdom, and prudence. And hath opened vnto vs the * mystery of his wyl, acording to hys pleasure, and purposed the same in hym selfe / to haue it declared when the tyme were full come, that all thynges, both the thinges which are in heauen, and also the thynges which are in earthe shoulde be gathered together, euen in Chryste, that is to saye, in hym in whome we are made heyres, and were therto predestinate accordinge to the purpose of hym whyche worketh al thinges, after the purpose of hys owne wil: ẏ we which before trusted in Christe, should be vnto the prayse of hys glory.

Redēpcyō is ẏ forgeuenes of synne.

Mysterye is secret cōcel

Predestynacyon ¶

In

In whom also ye (after that ye heard ꝑ worde of trueth, I meane the Gospell of youre saluacyon, wherin ye beleued) were sealed wyth the holy spyrite of promes, whych is the ernest of oure inherytaunce, to redeme the purchased possessyon, a ꝑ vnto ꝑ laude of hys glory.

Wherfore euen I (after that I heard de of the fayth which ye haue in the Lorde Jesu, and loue vnto all the sayntes) cease not to geue thankes for you, makinge mencion of you in my prayers, that the god of oure lorde Jesus Christ and the father of glori/might geue vnto you the spyrite of wysdome, and open to you the knowledge of hym selfe, and lyghten the eyes of your myndes, that ye myght knowe what that hope is, where vnto he hath called you, and what the ryches of his glorious inheritaunce is vpon ꝑ saynctes, ād what is the exceading greatnesse of hys power in vs warde, whyche *beleue accordynge to the workynge of ꝑ hys myghty power, which he wrought in Chryste, when he rayled hym from ꝑ the dead, and set hym on his ryght hand in heuenly thinges, aboue all rule, power, and myght and dominacyon, and aboue al names that are named, not in this worlde only, but also in the worlde to come: and hath put all thynges vnder his fete, and hath made him aboue al thinges, the heed of the congregacyō which is his body and the fulnes of him ꝑ fylleth all in all thinges.

Where faith ed Chryst is, there is loue ed al ꝑ are Sanctyfyed in his blodde

* sayth ys the worke of God onelye, euen as was that rayſyng vp of Chryſt.

¶ Paul sheweth them what maner of people they were before their conuersion, and what they are now in Chryst.

The.ii. Chapter.

And you hath he quyckened also that were dead in treſpasse and synne, in the which in time passed ye walked, accordynge to the course of this world, and after the gouernet that ruleth in the ayer, the spyrite ꝑ now worketh in the chyldren of vnbeleefe, amōge whych we also had oure conuersacyon in tyme past, in ꝑ lustes of oure flesshe/ and fulfylled the wyll of the flesshe and of the mynde: and were *naturally the chyldren of wrath, euē as wel as other.

But God which is rych in mercy thorow his greate loue wherwyth he loued vs/euen when we were dead by synne/ hath quickened vs to gether in Chryst (for by grace are yee saued) and hath rayſed vs vp together and made vs sit together in heauenly thinges thorowe Chryst Jesus, for to shewe in tymes to come the exceading riches of his grace, in kyndnes to vswarde in Chryst Jesu. For by grace are ye made safe, thorowe fayth, and that not of your selues. For it is the gift of God, and commeth not of workes, least anye man shoulde boaste hym selfe. For we are hys workemanshyppe created in Christ Jesu vnto a* good workes, vnto the which God ordeyned vs before that we shoulde walke in them.

Wherfore remembre that ye beinge in tyme passed Gentiles in the flesshe, ād were called vncircumcision to thē wich are called circumcision in the flesh, wich circumcision is made by handes: Remembre I saye, that ye were at that tyme without Chryst, and were reputed aliantes from the comen welth of Israel and were strauugers from the b* testamentes of promes, and had no hope, and were without God in thys worlde. But now in Christe Jesu/ye whiche a while ago were farre of, are made nie by the bloud of Chryst.

For he is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken downe the c* wall, that was a stoppe betweane vs, ād hath also put away thorow hys flesh d* ꝑ cause of hatred, that is to say ꝑ lawe of commaundementes, contayned in the law writtē, for to make of twayne one newe man in him selfe so making peace: and to reconcile both vnto god in one body, thorow his crosse, and slewe hatred there by: and came and preached peace to you which were a far of, to thē that were nye. For thorow him, we both haue an open waye in/in one spirite vnto the father.

¶ Now therfore are ye no more strāgers and forenners: but citesyns with ꝑ housholde of God: and are buylte vpon the e* foundacion of the Apostles, and Prophetes. Jesus Christ being ꝑ head corner stone, in whome, euery building coupleth together, groweth vnto an holy[e] *temple in the Lorde, in whom ye also are built together, and made an habitacyon for God in the spirite.

a* The promises of mercye in Chrystes bloude are made vs on that condition that we kepe the lawe & loue one another as Chryst loued vs.

b* The Gentyles tyll Chryst came, were not vnder the couenaunt of mercy, but the Jewes onely.

c* Moises law that was the wall and cause of hate betwene the Jewes and gentyles, is taken away: In whose steade is Josue come to loue one another as Chryst loued vs.

d* The cause of hatred betwene the Heathen, and the Jewes. For by the lawe wold the Jewes be better then the heathen. But now that they both haue one spirite thrō Chryst wythout the lawe, ỹ hatred hath an end, and the one is euen as the other in Chryst.

e* Foundation is the word of God.

f* Temple in the epistles of the apostles signifieth the congregation of faithfull, holye and vertuous men. Somtyme it signifieth the hert of euery Christian, as in. ii. Cor. vi. d. e. f. i Cor. iii. and. vi. d

¶ He sheweth the cause of his preferment/ delyreth them not to faynte because of hys trouble and prayeth god to make them stedfaste in his spyrite.

The. iii. Chapter.

FOr this cause I Paul am i the bondes of Jesus Chryst for youre sakes whych are heathen: If ye haue hearde of the mynystracion of the grace of god, which is geuen me to youwarde. For by reuelacyō shewed he this misterye vnto me as I wrote aboue in fewe wordes, wher by when ye reade ye may know, myne vnderstanding in the misterye of Chryst, wich mistery in times passed was opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now declared vnto hys holy apostles and prophetes by the sprite: that the Gētiles shoulde be inheritours also, and of the same bodye, and partakers of hys promes that is in Chryste, by the meanes of the gospell, wherof I am made a minister, by the gyfte of the grace of god, geuen vnto me throwe ỹ workinge of hys power.

Vnto me the least of al saīctes, is thys grace geuen, that I shuld preache among the Gentiles the vnserchable ryches of Chryst, and to make all men see what the felloshippe of the misterye is, which from the beginning of the worlde hath ben hid in God, whych made al thinges thrōw Jesus Chryst/ to the entent that now vnto the rulers and powers i heauen myght be knowen by the congregation, the many folde wysdom of god, according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Chryst Jesu our Lorde, by whome we are bolde to drawe nyghe in ỹ trust which we haue by fayth on hi.

Wherfore I desire that ye faynte not because of my tribulations for your sakes: which is your praise.

For this cause I bowe my knees vn to the father of our Lord Jesus Chryst, C which is in earth/ that he wolde graunt you acording to the riches of his glory, that ye maye be strengthed with myght by his spyrete in ỹ inner man that Chryst maye dwell in youre hertes by* faith/ ỹ ye beinge roted and grounded in loue / might be able to comprehende with all saīctes, what is ỹ bredeth and length, depth and heith: and to know what is ỹ Galath. 4. loue of Chryst, which loue passeth knowledge: that ye myghte be fulfylled with all maner of fulnes which commeth of God.

Vnto him that is able to do exceading aboūdatly, aboue al that we aske D or thincke accordinge to the power that worcketh in vs bee praise in the congregacion by Jesus chryst, throwe all generations from tyme to tyme. Amen. ℣

The notes.

Where true fayth i Chryst is, there is loue to ỹ neyboure. And fayth and loue maketh vs vnderstande al thynges. Faith vnderstādeth the secretes of god, and the mercy that is geuen her in Chryst. And loue knoweth her dutie to her neighboure, and can interprete al lawes and ordinaunces and knoweth how farre forth they are to be kepte, and when to be dispensed with.

¶ He exhorteth them vnto mekenes, lōge suffering vnto loue and peace, euery one to serue and edify another with the gifte that God hath geuen him, to beware of straunge doctrine, to laye aside the olde conuersation of grosse lustes, and to walke in newe life.

The. iiii. Chapter.

THerfore which am in bondes for the Lordes sake exhorte you, ỹ ye walke worthy of the vocation where- A with ye are called, in al hūblenes of mind, and mekenes, and lōge suffringe, for bearing one another throwe loue, and that ye be diligent to kepe the vnitie of the spyrete in the bond of peace, being one body, ād one spyrete euē as ye are called in one hope of your callynge. Let there be but one Lorde, one faith/ one baptime: one God and father of al which is aboue al throw al, and in you all. ℣

Vnto

* Unto euery one of vs is geuen grace, accordinge to the measure of the gyfte of Christ. Wherfore he sayth: He is gone vp an hye and hath ledde captiuitie captiue, & hath geuen gyftes vnto men. That he ascēded: what meaneth it, but that he also descēded fyrst into the lowest partyes of the erth? He that descended is euen the same also that ascended vp, euen aboue al heauēs, to fulfyll all thinges. And the very same, made some Apostles/some Prophetes/som Euangelistes, some Sheperdes, & som Teachers: that the saynctes myght haue all thynges necessary to worcke and minister with all/to the edifying of the body of Christ, tyl we euery one (i ỹ vnitie of faith, and knowledge of ỹ sonne of God) growe vp vnto a parfayct man, after the measure of * age of the fulnes of Christ. ✠ That we hensforth be no more childzen, wauering and caryed wyth euerye wynde of doctrine, by the wyly nes of men and craftynes, wherby they laye awayte for vs to deceaue vs. But let vs folowe the trueth in loue, and in all thinges growe in him which is the head, that is to sate Christ, in whome all the body is coupled and knyt to gether, in euery ioynt, wherwith on mynystreth to another (accordinge to the operacyon as euerye parte hath his measure) & increaseth the body/vnto the edyfynge of it selfe in loue.

✠ This I saye therfore, and testifye in ỹ Lorde/that ye hence forth walke not as other Gentiles walke in vanytye of their mynde, blinded in their vnderstādinge, beynge straungers from the lyfe which is in God throw the ignorancy that is in them, because of the blindnes of their hertes, which beynge past repentaūce, haue geuen thē selues vnto wātonnes, to worcke all maner of vnclennes, euen with gredines. But ye haue not so learned Christ, yf so be ye haue heard of him & are taught in him, euē as the truth is in Jesu. So then as concerning the conuersacion in tyme past, laye from you that olde man, which is corrupt throw the deceauable lustes/ & ✠ and be ye renued in the spryte of your myndes, and put on that newe manne, which after the ymage of God is shapen in ryghtewesnes and true holynes.

Wherefore put away lienge, and speake euery mā truth vnto his neighboure, for as much as we are membres one of another. a* Be angrye but sinne not: let not the sonne go downe vppon your wrath, nether geue place vnto the backbyter. Let him that stole, steale no more, but let hi rather laboure with his handes some good thinge, that he maye haue to geue vnto him that needeth. ✠

Let no filthie communication proceade out of youre mouthes: but that which is good to edyfie withal, when nede is: that it may haue fauour with ỹ heaters. And greue not the holye spryte of god, by whom ye are sealed vnto ỹ day of redemptiō. Let al bitternes, scarfnes and wrath, coring and cursid speakyng be put awaie from you, with all malycyousnes. Be courteous one to another and mercyfull, forgeuing one another, euen as God for Christes sake forgaue you.

The notes.

* Wherfore the true mynysters of the congregatiō serue. Euen to make vs perfect wen i the full knowledge of Christ.

a* Be angry, Christ was angry at the blyndnes of the Jewes. Mat. xxiii. And so was Moses at the idolatry of the Israelites. Exo. xxxii. and at the sedycyon of Chor, Dathan and Abiron, Nu. xvi. Nevertheles thys anger or wrath was but a very zele, vnto the lawe of god, thou mayest se by Phinees, Nume. xxv, & by Mathathias, i. Machabeo, ii. As for malice or vnlawful wrath, yt is forbydden, as it folowth here in thys Chapter.

✠ He exhorteth them vnto loue, warneth thē to beware of vnclennes, couetousnes, folysh talkynges, false doctryne: to be circumspecte, to auoyde dronkennesse, to reioyce ād to be thankeful toward god/ to submyt thē selues one to another. He teacheth how wemen shuld obey their husbandes, & how lo vyngly men ought to intreate theyr wyues.

The.v. Chapter.

BE folowers of god as dere childzen, ād walke in loue euē as Christ loued vs, and gaue hym selfe for vs, an offeringe and a sacrifice of a swete sauer to God. So that fornicacion and all vnclenesse or couetousnes be not once named amonge you as it becommeth saynctes: nether filthynes, nether folysshe talkynge, nether gesting, which are not cōly: but rather geuinge of thankes.

Agnoraūces is cause of euel lyuynge.

For this ye knowe that no whoremonger, ether vncleane person, or coueteous person, which is the worshiper of images, hath eny inheritaunce in the kingdome of Christ and of God. Let no man deceaue you w vayne wordes.

For thorow such thynges commeth the wrath of God vpon the chyldren of vnbeleke. Be not therfore companyons wyth them. Ye were once dercknes, but are now lyght in the Lorde.

Walke as chyldren of lyght. For ꝑ frute of ꝑ spirite is in all goodnes, ryghteweines & trueth. ¶ Accept that which is pleasynge to the Lorde: and haue no fellosshipe wyth the vnfrutefull workes of darcknes: but rather rebuke thē. For it is shame euen to name those thinges which are doune of them in secrete: but all thinges, when they are rebuked of the light, are manifest. For what soeuer is manifest, that same is light, wherfore he sayeth: awake thou that slepest, & stonde vp from death, and Christ shall geue the lyght.

Ignorauncets cause of enel lyuynge.

✣ Take hede therfore that ye walke circumspectly, not as fooles: but as wyse redeming ꝑ tyme: for the dayes are euil.

Wherfore, be ye not vnwyse/ but vnderstand what the will of the Lord is, & be not dronke w wine wherein is excesse: but be fulfylled wyth the spirite, speakinge vnto your selues in psalmes and hymnes, and spirituall songes, singinge and makinge melodie to the Lorde in your hertes, gyuyng thankes alwayes for all thynges vnto God the father, in the name of oure Lorde Jesus Christ: submittyng youre selues one to another in the feare of God. ✣

Wemen submyt your selues vnto youre awne husbandes, as vnto ꝑ Lorde. For the husband is the wyues head euē as Christ is the head of the congregacion, and the same is the saueoure of ꝑ body. Therfore as the congregacion is in subiecto n to Christ, likewyse let the wyues be in subieccion to ther husbandes in all thinges. Husbādes loue youre wiues, euen as CHRYSTE loued the congregacion, and gaue him selfe for it, to sanctify it, and clensed it i the fountain of water thorow the word to make it vnto him self, a glorious cōgregacion with out spott or wrinckle, or any such thinge: but ꝑ it should be holy and without blame.

So ought men to loue their wyues, as their awne bodyes. He ꝑ loueth hys wyfe, loueth him selfe. For no man euer yet hated his awne flesshe: but norisheth & cherisheth it, euen as the Lorde doth ꝑ congregacō. For we are mēbers of his body, of hys flesshe, & of his bones. For thys cause shall a man leaue father ād mother, and shal continue with his wyfe/ ād two shalbe made one flesh. This is a great secrete, but I speake bitweane Christ and the congregacyō. Neuertheless do ye so that euery one of you loue his wife truely euē as him selfe. And let the wife se that she feare her husbande.

How chylderen shoulde behaue them selues toward theyr fathers & mothers. lykewise fathers towarde theyr Childzen, Seruauntes toward theyr masters agayne masters toward ther seruantes, an exhortacyon to the spirytual batel and what wepons Christen men shoulde fight wythall.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

Childzen obey youre fathers and mothers in the Lorde: for so is it ryght. Honoure thy father and mother, that is the fyrst commaundemēt, that hath eny ꝓmes, that thou mayst be in good estate, and lyue longe on the erthe. And ye fathers moue not youre chyldren to wrath/ but brynge them vp with the norter and informacion of the Lorde. Seruauntes be obedient vnto youre carnall masters, with feare & trēbling in singlenes of your hertes, as vnto Christ: not with seruice in eye syght, as men pleasers: but as the seruauntes of Christ, doynge the wyll of God from the herte with good wil, seruing ꝑ Lorde, and not men. And remember ꝑ what soeuer good thinge eny man doeth ꝑ shall he receaue agayne of the Lorde, whether he be bond or free. And ye maysters, do euen the same thynges vnto thē puttynge awaye thzeateninges: and remember that euen youre mayster also is in heauen, nether is ther eny respecte of person with hym.

✣ Finally my brethren/ be strōge in ꝑ Lord & in ꝑ power of hys myght. Put on the armoure of God, ꝑ ye may stande stedfast agaynst the crafty assautes of

of the deuel.
For we wrestle not againste flesche ād bloude: but againste rule, againste power, and agaynste worldely rulers, of the derckenes of this worlde agaynst spirytuall wickednes, for heauenly thinges.

¶ For thys cause take vnto you ỹ *armoure of God, that ye maye be able to resyst in the euyll daye, and stande perfecte in al thinges.

Stande therfore, and your loynes girde aboute with veritie, hauing on ỹ brest plate of righteousnes / and shod wyth showes prepared by the gospel of peace. Aboue al take to you the sheld of faith, wherwith ye may quenche al ỹ fyrye dartes of the wicked. And take the helmet of saluacyon, and the swerde of the spyrete, which is the worde of god. ¶ And pray al wayes with al maner praier and supplicacion: and that in ỹ spyret: and watch thervnto with all instance & supplicacion for al sainctes and for me, that vtteraūce may be geuen vnto me / that I maye open my mouth boldly, to vtter the secretes of the gospell, wherof I am messenger in bondes, that therin I may speake frely, as it becōmeth me to speake.

D But that ye maye also know what condicyon I am in and what I do, Tychicus my deare brother & faithfull minister in the Lorde, shall shewe you of al thinges, whome I sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye might knowe what casse I stande in, and ỹ he might comfort your hertes. Peace be with the brethren and loue with faith, from God the father and from the Lord Jesu Christ. Grace be with all thē which loue our Lorde Jesus Christ in purenes. Amen.

¶ Sent from Rome vnto ỹ Ephesyans by Tichicus.

Th: notes

* The armoure of God foloweth verite, the shoes of a stedfast purpose to folow the gospel, faith, wherewyth our consciences are at peace after it hath ones felte Christ, the helmet of saluacyon which is hope, the word of god whych is the swerde. &c

¶ The Epistle

of Sainct Paule the Apostle vnto the Philippians.

He exhorteth them to encreale in loue, in knowledg, and experience of godly thinges maketh mention of his presonment at Rome, is glad to here Christ preached, is content ether to dye or lyue, and prayeth thē to leade a godly conuersacyon, to be of one mynde, and to feare no persecution.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

PAul & Timotheus the seruauntes of Jesu Christ. To al the sainctes in Christ Jesu, which are at Philippos with the Bysshops and deacons.

a* Grace be with you and peace from God our father and from the Lord Jesus Christ. a* Of this ye haue. Rom: i. 6.

I thancke my God wyth al remembraunce of you alwayes in all my prayers for you, and praye with gladnes, because of the fellowshyp whiche ye haue in the gospel from the fyrst day vnto now: and am surelye certifyed of this, that hee whiche beganne a good worcke in you / shall go forthe with it, vntyl the daye of Jesus Christ as it becommeth me so to iudge of you all, because I haue you in my hert and haue you also euery one cōpanions of grace with me, euē in my bōdes, as I defend and stablysh the gospel

For God beareth mee recorde how greatly I longe after you, all from the very hert rote in Jesus Christ, and this I praye that youre loue maye encrease more and more in knowledge, and in al feaſing, that ye myght accepte thinges moost excellente, that ye myght be pure / and suche as should hurte no mans cōscience, vntyll the day of Christe, fylled with the frutes of ryghtuousnes, which frutes come by Jesus Christe vnto the glory and laude of god. ¶ B

I wolde ye vnderstode brethren ỹ my busines is happened vnto the great furtheringe of the gospell.

of the deuel.
For we wrestle not againste flesche ād bloude: but againste rule, againste power, and agaynste worldely rulers, of the derckenes of this worlde agaynst spirytuall wickednes, for heauenly thinges.

¶ For thys cause take vnto you ỹ *armoure of God, that ye maye be able to resyst in the euyll daye, and stande perfecte in al thinges.

Stande therfore, and your loynes girde aboute with veritie, hauing on ỹ brest plate of righteousnes / and shod wyth showes prepared by the gospel of peace. Aboue al take to you the sheld of faith, wherwith ye may quenche al ỹ fyrye dartes of the wicked. And take the helmet of saluacyon, and the swerde of the spyrete, which is the worde of god. ¶ And pray al wayes with al maner praier and supplicacion: and that in ỹ spyret: and watch thervnto with all instance & supplicacion for al sainctes and for me, that vtteraūce may be geuen vnto me / that I maye open my mouth boldly, to vtter the secretes of the gospell, wherof I am messenger in bondes, that therin I may speake frely, as it becōmeth me to speake.

D But that ye maye also know what condicyon I am in and what I do, Tychicus my deare brother & faithfull minister in the Lorde, shall shewe you of al thinges, whome I sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye might knowe what casse I stande in, and ỹ he might comfort your hertes. Peace be with the brethren and loue with faith, from God the father and from the Lord Jesu Christ. Grace be with all thē which loue our Lorde Jesus Christ in purenes. Amen.

¶ Sent from Rome vnto ỹ Ephesyans by Tichicus.

Th: notes

* The armoure of God foloweth verite, the shoes of a stedfast purpose to folow the gospel, faith, wherewyth our consciences are at peace after it hath ones felte Christ, the helmet of saluacyon which is hope, the word of god whych is the swerde. &c

¶ The Epistle

of Sainct Paule the Apostle vnto the Philippians.

He exhorteth them to encreale in loue, in knowledg, and experience of godly thinges maketh mention of his presonment at Rome, is glad to here Christ preached, is content ether to dye or lyue, and prayeth thē to leade a godly conuersacyon, to be of one mynde, and to feare no persecution.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

PAul & Timotheus the seruauntes of Jesu Christ. To al the sainctes in Christ Jesu, which are at Philippos with the Bysshops and deacons.

a* Grace be with you and peace from God our father and from the Lord Jesus Christ. a* Of this ye haue. Rom: i. 6.

I thancke my God wyth al remembraunce of you alwayes in all my prayers for you, and praye with gladnes, because of the fellowshyp whiche ye haue in the gospel from the fyrst day vnto now: and am surelye certifyed of this, that hee whiche beganne a good worcke in you / shall go forthe with it, vntyl the daye of Jesus Christ as it becommeth me so to iudge of you all, because I haue you in my hert and haue you also euery one cōpanions of grace with me, euē in my bōdes, as I defend and stablysh the gospel

For God beareth mee recorde how greatly I longe after you, all from the very hert rote in Jesus Christ, and this I praye that youre loue maye encrease more and more in knowledge, and in al feaſing, that ye myght accepte thinges moost excellente, that ye myght be pure / and suche as should hurte no mans cōscience, vntyll the day of Christe, fylled with the frutes of ryghtuousnes, which frutes come by Jesus Christe vnto the glory and laude of god. ¶ B

I wolde ye vnderstode brethren ỹ my busines is happened vnto the great furtheringe of the gospell.

So that my bãdes in Christ, are manyfest thorow out al the iudgment hall, ãd in al other places: In so much that many of the brethren in the Lord are boldned thorowe my bandes, and dare more largelye speake the worde withoute feare. Some there are which preache Christe of enuye and strife, and some of good wyl. The one parte preacheth Christ of strife ãd not purely, supposig to adde moze aduersite to my bandes. The other parte of loue / because they se ẏ I am set to defende the Gospel.

What then? So that Christ be preached all maner wayes whether it be by occasion/or of true meaning, I therein ¶ ioye: ye and wil ioye: For I knowe that this shal chaunce to my saluacion, thorow youre praier and ministring of the spirite of Jesu Christ, as I hartely loke for, and hope that in nothing I shalbe ashamed: but ẏ with al confidence, as all wayes in times past, euen so Christ shal be magnified in my body, whether it bee thorow life, or els death. For Christe is to me life/ãd death is to me auaũtage.

If it chaunce me to liue in ẏ flesh, that is to me fruteful for to worke, and what to chouse I wot not, * I am constrained of two thinges: I desire to be lowsed and to be w̃ Christ, which thinge is best of al. Neuertheles to abide in the flesh is more nedeful for you. And this am I sure of, ẏ I shal abyde/ and with you all contynue, for the furtherance and ioye of your fayth, that ye may more are aboundantly reioyce i Jesus Christ thorowe me, by my comminge to you a gayne.

Onely let youre conuersacion bee as it becommeth the gospell of Christe, that whether I comme and see you, or els be absẽte, I may yet heare of you, ẏ ye continue in one spirite, & in one soule labouringe as we do, to mayntayne the faith of the gospell, and in nothing fearinge your aduersaries: which is to thẽ a tokẽ of perdicion, and to you of saluacion and that of god. For vnto you it is geuen that not only ye should beleue on Christ: but also * suffer for his sake, ãd haue euen the same fight, which ye sawe me haue and now heare of me.

Tribulacion is a token of saluacyon to the true beleuers

Therefore exhorteth them to vnitie and brotherly loue, & to beware of stryfe and vayne glory: And for a sure ensample, he layeth Christ before them.

¶ The, ii. Chapter.

If there be amounge you any consolation in Christ, if there be anye comfortable loue, if there be any felowshyp of the spirite, if ther be any compassion of mercy: fulfyl my ioye, that ye drawe one waye hauing one loue being of one accorde, and of one minde, that nothinge be done thorow strife or vayne glory, but that in mekenes of mynde, euery man esteame other better then hym selfe, a * and loke not euery mã on hys owne thinges, but euery man on the thinges of other men. Let the same mynde be in you/ that was in Christ Jesu: which beinge in the shape of God, ãd thought it not robberye/ to be equall w̃ god: Neuertheles he made hym selfe of no reputacion, and toke on hym the shape of a seruaunt/ and became lyke vnto men, and was founde in hys apparel as a man. He humbled hym selfe, and became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the crosse * wherfore god hath exalted him/ and geuen hym a name aboue all names: that in the name of Jesu shoulde euery knee bowe / both of thinges in heauen, and thinges in earth, ãd thynges vnder the earth/ & that all tonges shoulde confesse that Jesus Christ is the Lord vnto the prayse of God the father. ✠

Wherfore my dearely beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed not when I was present onelye, but nowe muche more in myne absence, euen so worke oute youre owne b * saluacyon with feare and tremblynge. For it is god whych worketh in you, both the wyll and also the dede/ euen of good wyll.

Do all thinge without murmuring and disputinge, that ye may be fautles and pure/ ãd the sonnes of god without rebuke in the middeste of a croked and peruerse nacion: amõg which se that ye shyne as lyghtes in the worlde holding faste the worde of lyfe vnto my reioycig in the daye of Christe, that I haue not run in vayne, neyther haue laboured in vayne.

Yea

Yea ad though I be offered vp vppon the offering & sacrifice of your fayth: I reioyce, & reioyce w̄ you all. For ỹ same cause also reoyce ye/ & reioyce ye w̄ me.

I trust in the Lord Jesus for to sēd Timotheus shortlye vnto you, that I also maye be of good comforte, when I know what case ye stande in. For I have no man that is so like minded to me, which with so pure affeccion careth for youre matters. For all other seke theyr owne, ād not that which is Jesus Christes. Ye know the proffe of him, how that as a sonne with the father, so with me bestowed he his labour vppon the gospell. Him I hope to sende assone as I know how it wil go w̄ me. I trust in ỹ Lord/ ỹ I also my selfe shal come shortly. I supposed it necessary to send brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companiō in labour and felow soudier/ youre Apostle and mynyster at my nedes. For he longed after you, and was ful of heuines, because that ye had herd saye that he should be sicke. And no doute he was sicke, and that nye vnto death. But god had mercye on him: not on hi only, but on me also lest I shulde haue sorow vpon sorowe. I sēt him therfore the diligentlyer, that when ye shoulde se him ye might reioyce againe, & I might be lesse sorowful. Receaue him therfor in the lord w̄ al gladnes, & make moch of such: because that for ỹ work of christ we wēt so far, ỹ he was nye vnto death, & regarded not his life to fulfil ỹ seruice which was lacking on your part toward me.

D

a* Loke not on your owne gyftes or profyt, but on loue and vnitie,

b* as ye be saued from synne thorow fayth to worke according to the couenaunt vntyll ye come to the saluation of glory. For if ye cease working the spirite quencheth agayn/ & ye cease to be partakers of ỹ promes. c* ye though I be offred, &c. He maketh here it. offringes or sacrifices they fayth maketh he one whome he offered to Christ, the other hym self, while he studieth to offer the offring to god aryght he be put to death & become in offering/ which thynge he refuseth not, so ỹ he bring to passe to make thē worthy of god,

¶ He warneth thē to beware of false teachers/ whō he calleth dogges and enemies of Christ and reproued mans owne rightuousnes.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

A Moreouer, my brethren reioyce in the Lorde. It greueth me not to write one thing ofte to you. For to you it is a sure thing. Beware of dogges, beware of euyl workes. Beware of dissencion. For we are circūcision which worship God in the spirite, and reioyce in Christ Jesu and haue no confidēce in the flesshe: though I haue wherof I myght reioyce in the flesshe. If eny other man thinketh that he hath wher of he might trust in ỹ flesh: moch more I: circūcised ỹ eight day of ỹ kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjami, an hebrue borne of the hebrues: as concerninge ỹ lawe, a Pharisaye, and as concerninge ferventnes, I persecuted the congregacio. and as touching the righteweisnes which is in the law, I was vnrebukeable.

But the thinges that were vauntage vnto me, I counted losse for Christes sake. Yee I thinke al thinges but losse for ỹ excellent knowledges sake of Christe Jesu my Lorde. For whom I haue counted al thinges losse, & do iudge them but dosse, that I might winne Christ, & might be founde in him, not hauinge mine awne ryghteweisnes which is of ỹ lawe: but that which springeth of the fayth which is in Christ. I meane the righteweisnes which cōmeth of God thorow fayth in knowinge him and the vertue of the resurrection, and the fellowship of his passions that I myght be cōformable vnto his (death) yf by eny meanes I myght attayne vnto the resurrection of ỹ dead. Not as though I had al redy atayned to it, ether were all redy perfect: but I folowe, yf that I maye cōprehende ỹ wherin I am cōprehended of Christ Jesu. Brethren I counte not my selfe that I haue gotten it: but one thinge I saye I* forget that which is behind & stretche my selfe vnto that which is before and preace vnto that marke apoynted/ to obtayne the rewarde of the hye callinge of God in Christ Jesu. Let vs therfore as many as be perfect, be thus wise mynded: & yf ye be other wyse mynded. I praye God open euen this vnto you. Neuertheles in that wher vnto we are come let vs procede by one rule, ỹ we maye be of one accord. + Brethren be followers of me, & loke on them which walke euen so, as ye haue vs for an ensample. For many walke (of whō I haue tolde you often and now tell you weping) ỹ they are ỹ enemies of ỹ crosse of Christ. whose ende is dampnacion whose god is their bely, ād whose glory is to their shame: which are worldy mynded.

B

C

Yea ad though I be offered vp vppon the offering & sacrifice of your fayth: I reioyce, & reioyce w̄ you all. For ỹ same cause also reoyce ye/ & reioyce ye w̄ me.

I trust in the Lord Jesus for to sēd Timotheus shortlye vnto you, that I also maye be of good comforte, when I know what case ye stande in. For I have no man that is so like minded to me, which with so pure affeccion careth for youre matters. For all other seke theyr owne, ād not that which is Jesus Christes. Ye know the proffe of him, how that as a sonne with the father, so with me bestowed he his labour vppon the gospell. Him I hope to sende assone as I know how it wil go w̄ me. I trust in ỹ Lord/ ỹ I also my selfe shal come shortly. I supposed it necessary to send brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companiō in labour and felow soudier/ youre Apostle and mynyster at my nedes. For he longed after you, and was ful of heuines, because that ye had herd saye that he should be sicke. And no doute he was sicke, and that nye vnto death. But god had mercye on him: not on hi only, but on me also lest I shulde haue sorow vpon sorowe. I sēt him therfore the diligentlyer, that when ye shoulde se him ye might reioyce againe, & I might be lesse sorowful. Receaue him therfor in the lord w̄ al gladnes, & make moch of such: because that for ỹ work of christ we wēt so far, ỹ he was nye vnto death, & regarded not his life to fulfil ỹ seruice which was lacking on your part toward me.

D

a* Loke not on your owne gyftes or profyt, but on loue and vnitie,

b* as ye be saued from synne thorow fayth to worke according to the couenaunt vntyll ye come to the saluation of glory. For if ye cease working the spirite quencheth agayn/ & ye cease to be partakers of ỹ promes. c* ye though I be offred, &c. He maketh here it. offringes or sacrifices they fayth maketh he one whome he offered to Christ, the other hym self, while he studieth to offer the offring to god aryght he be put to death & become in offering/ which thynge he refuseth not, so ỹ he bring to passe to make thē worthy of god,

¶ He warneth thē to beware of false teachers/ whō he calleth dogges and enemies of Christ and reproued mans owne rightuousnes.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

A Moreouer, my brethren reioyce in the Lorde. It greueth me not to write one thing ofte to you. For to you it is a sure thing. Beware of dogges, beware of euyl workes. Beware of dissencion. For we are circūcision which worship God in the spirite, and reioyce in Christ Jesu and haue no confidēce in the flesshe: though I haue wherof I myght reioyce in the flesshe. If eny other man thinketh that he hath wher of he might trust in ỹ flesh: moch more I: circūcised ỹ eight day of ỹ kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjami, an hebrue borne of the hebrues: as concerninge ỹ lawe, a Pharisaye, and as concerninge ferventnes, I persecuted the congregacio. and as touching the righteweisnes which is in the law, I was vnrebukeable.

But the thinges that were vauntage vnto me, I counted losse for Christes sake. Yee I thinke al thinges but losse for ỹ excellent knowledges sake of Christe Jesu my Lorde. For whom I haue counted al thinges losse, & do iudge them but dosse, that I might winne Christ, & might be founde in him, not hauinge mine awne ryghteweisnes which is of ỹ lawe: but that which springeth of the fayth which is in Christ. I meane the righteweisnes which cōmeth of God thorow fayth in knowinge him and the vertue of the resurrection, and the fellowship of his passions that I myght be cōformable vnto his (death) yf by eny meanes I myght attayne vnto the resurrection of ỹ dead. Not as though I had al redy atayned to it, ether were all redy perfect: but I folowe, yf that I maye cōprehende ỹ wherin I am cōprehended of Christ Jesu. Brethren I counte not my selfe that I haue gotten it: but one thinge I saye I* forget that which is behind & stretche my selfe vnto that which is before and preace vnto that marke apoynted/ to obtayne the rewarde of the hye callinge of God in Christ Jesu. Let vs therfore as many as be perfect, be thus wise mynded: & yf ye be other wyse mynded. I praye God open euen this vnto you. Neuertheles in that wher vnto we are come let vs procede by one rule, ỹ we maye be of one accord. + Brethren be followers of me, & loke on them which walke euen so, as ye haue vs for an ensample. For many walke (of whō I haue tolde you often and now tell you weping) ỹ they are ỹ enemies of ỹ crosse of Christ. whose ende is dampnacion whose god is their bely, ād whose glory is to their shame: which are worldy mynded.

B

C

If we be lyke Christ in conuersacio we shall be lyke hi in glorye.

But our conuersacion is in heaue/ frō whence we loke for a sauioure, euen the Lord Jesus Christ, which shall chaunge oure vyle bodies, that they maye bee fashioned lyke vnto his glorious body, according to the workinge, whereby he is able, to subdue all thinges vnto hym selfe. ❧

* We worshippe god in spyrite thorowe fayth and loue, we reioyce that Christ hath redemed vs & trust not in our workes. Christ only is our ryghteousnes & for hys sake our synnes are forgeuen: And for hys sake oure good workes are acceptable which els were damnable for ỹ synne that is in them.
¶ He saluteth certayne of them, exhorteth them to be of honest conuersation, & thanketh thē because of ỹ prouision, ỹ they made for hi being in prison.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

Therfore my brethren deare lye beloued and longed for, my ioye ād croune, so continue in the Lord ye beloued.

A I praye Euodias and beseche Syntiches, that they be of one accorde in the Lorde. Yea and I beseche the faythfull yoke felow, helpe the women which laboured with me in the [gospell/ and with Clement also, and with other my labour felowes, whose names are in
B the boke of lyfe. ❧ Reioyce in the Lorde alwaye, and agayne I saye reioyce. Let your softenes be knowen vnto all men. The Lorde is euen at hande. Bee not careful: but in al thinges shewe your peticiō vnto god in prayer and supplication, with geuinge of thanckes. And the peace of God whiche passeth all vnderstandinge, kepe your hertes and mindes in Christ Jesu. ❧

Furthermore brethren, what soeuer thynges are true, whatsoeuer thynges are honest, what soeuer thinges are iust, what soeuer thinges are pure, whatsoeuer thinges pertayne to loue, what soeuer thinges are of honest reporte: if ther be any vertuous thinge: yf there be any
C laudable thig, these same haue ye in youre mynd, which ye haue both lerned and receaued, herd and also sene in me: those thinges do and the god of peace shal be with you. I reioyce in the Lord greatly that now at the laste ye are reuiued agayn to care for me, in that wherin ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunite. I speake not because of necessitye. For I haue lerned in what soeuer estate I am, therewith to be contente.

I can both cast doune my selfe, I cā also exceade. Euery where and in al thinges I am instructed, both to be ful and to be hongrye, to haue plentye and to suffer nede. I can do al thiges thorowe the helpe of Christ which strengtheneth me: Not withstandinge ye haue well done, that ye bare parte with my in my tribulacion.

Ye of Philippos knowe that in ỹ beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no cōgregacion bare parte wt me as concerning geuing & receauig/ but ye only. For when I
D was in Thessalonia, ye sent once ād after warde againe vnto my nedes: not ỹ I desire giftes: but I desire abundaūce frute on youre parte. I receaued all, & haue plentie. I was euē filled after ỹ I had receaued of Epaphroditus, that which came frō you, an* odour ỹ smelleth swete, a* sacrifice accepted and pleasaunte to god. My god fulfill al youre nedes thorow his glorious riches i Jesu Christ: vnto god and oure father be prayse for euermore. Amen. Salute all the sainctes in Christe Jesu. The brethren which are with me, grete you. All ỹ saintes salute you: ād most of al they which are of the emperours houshold:

Exech.xx.c. Rom.xii.c

The grace of our Lord Jesu Christe be with you al. Amen.

❧ Sente from Rome by Epaphroditus.

The Epistle of

Saincte Paul the Apostle to the Collossians.

¶ He geueth thankes vnto god for their faith, loue & hope, prayeth for their increase, & sheweth how we are ỹ kyngdome of God, optayned by Christ, whiche is the heade of the congregacyon.

The fyrst Chapter.

Paule an Apostle of Jesu Christe by the will of God, and brother Timotheus.

A To ỹ saincte which are at Colossa, and brethren ỹ beleue in Christ.

Grace be wyth you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

We geue thākes to God ỹ father of our Lorde

If we be lyke Christ in conuersacio we shall be lyke hi in glorye.

But our conuersacion is in heaue/ frō whence we loke for a sauioure, euen the Lord Jesus Christ, which shall chaunge oure vyle bodies, that they maye bee fashioned lyke vnto his glorious body, according to the workinge, whereby he is able, to subdue all thinges vnto hym selfe. ❧

* We worshippe god in spyrite thorowe fayth and loue, we reioyce that Christ hath redemed vs & trust not in our workes. Christ only is our ryghteousnes & for hys sake our synnes are forgeuen: And for hys sake oure good workes are acceptable which els were damnable for ỹ synne that is in them.
¶ He saluteth certayne of them, exhorteth them to be of honest conuersation, & thanketh thē because of ỹ prouision, ỹ they made for hi being in prison.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

Therfore my brethren deare lye beloued and longed for, my ioye ād croune, so continue in the Lord ye beloued.

A I praye Euodias and beseche Syntiches, that they be of one accorde in the Lorde. Yea and I beseche the faythfull yoke felow, helpe the women which laboured with me in the [gospell/ and with Clement also, and with other my labour felowes, whose names are in
B the boke of lyfe. ❧ Reioyce in the Lorde alwaye, and agayne I saye reioyce. Let your softenes be knowen vnto all men. The Lorde is euen at hande. Bee not careful: but in al thinges shewe your peticiō vnto god in prayer and supplication, with geuinge of thanckes. And the peace of God whiche passeth all vnderstandinge, kepe your hertes and mindes in Christ Jesu. ❧

Furthermore brethren, what soeuer thynges are true, whatsoeuer thynges are honest, what soeuer thinges are iust, what soeuer thinges are pure, whatsoeuer thinges pertayne to loue, what soeuer thinges are of honest reporte: if ther be any vertuous thinge: yf there be any
C laudable thig, these same haue ye in youre mynd, which ye haue both lerned and receaued, herd and also sene in me: those thinges do and the god of peace shal be with you. I reioyce in the Lord greatly that now at the laste ye are reuiued agayn to care for me, in that wherin ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunite. I speake not because of necessitye. For I haue lerned in what soeuer estate I am, therewith to be contente.

I can both cast doune my selfe, I cā also exceade. Euery where and in al thinges I am instructed, both to be ful and to be hongrye, to haue plentye and to suffer nede. I can do al thiges thorowe the helpe of Christ which strengtheneth me: Not withstandinge ye haue well done, that ye bare parte with my in my tribulacion.

Ye of Philippos knowe that in ỹ beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no cōgregacion bare parte wt me as concerning geuing & receauig/ but ye only. For when I
D was in Thessalonia, ye sent once ād after warde againe vnto my nedes: not ỹ I desire giftes: but I desire abundaūce frute on youre parte. I receaued all, & haue plentie. I was euē filled after ỹ I had receaued of Epaphroditus, that which came frō you, an* odour ỹ smelleth swete, a* sacrifice accepted and pleasaunte to god. My god fulfill al youre nedes thorow his glorious riches i Jesu Christ: vnto god and oure father be prayse for euermore. Amen. Salute all the sainctes in Christe Jesu. The brethren which are with me, grete you. All ỹ saintes salute you: ād most of al they which are of the emperours houshold:

Exech.xx.c. Rom.xii.c

The grace of our Lord Jesu Christe be with you al. Amen.

❧ Sente from Rome by Epaphroditus.

The Epistle of

Saincte Paul the Apostle to the Collossians.

¶ He geueth thankes vnto god for their faith, loue & hope, prayeth for their increase, & sheweth how we are ỹ kyngdome of God, optayned by Christ, whiche is the heade of the congregacyon.

The fyrst Chapter.

Paule an Apostle of Jesu Christe by the will of God, and brother Timotheus.

A To ỹ saincte which are at Colossa, and brethren ỹ beleue in Christ.

Grace be wyth you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

We geue thākes to God ỹ father of our Lorde

Lorde Jesus Christ, alwaies prayeng for you sence we hearde of your * fayth whych ye haue in Christ Jesu, and of ỹ loue which ye beare to all sayntes for the hopes sake which is layd vp in store for you in heuen, of which hope ye haue herde before by the true worde of the Gospell, which is come vnto youeuen as it is into all the worlde, and is frutefull, as it is amonge you, from the fyrst daye in the which ye herd of it, & had experience in the grace of God i the truth, as ye learned of Epaphra oure deare felowe seruaunt, which is for you a faithful minister of christ which also declared vnto vs youre loue which ye haue i the spyrete.

B

✠ For this cause we also, sence the daye we herde of it, haue not ceasyd prayinge for you, & desyringe ỹ ye myght be fulfilled with the knowledge of his will, i all wisdome and spyretuall vnderstandyng. that ye might walke worthy of ỹ Lorde in all thynges that please beynge fruteful in all good workes and encreasynge i the knowledg of God, strengthed wyth all myght, thorowe hys glorious power vnto all pacience and longe suffering with ioifulnes ✠ geuinge thankes vnto the father which hath made vs mete to bee partakers of the inheritaunce of sayntes in light.

Which hath deliuered vs from the power of derknes, & hath trãslated vs into the kyngdomme of hys dere sonne, in whom we haue redemption thorow hys bloud, ỹ is to say/ the forgeuenes of synnes whych is the ymage of the inuisyble God, fyrst begotten of all creatures. For by him were all thynges created, thinges that are in heauen, and thinges that are in erth: thinges visyble and thinges inuisyble, whether they be maiestye or lordship, ether rule or power. All thinges are creatyd by him, and in hym and he is before all thynges, and in him all thinges haue their beynge.

Our redemption is ỹ forgeuenes of our sinnes.

And he is the head of the body, that is to wit of the congregaciõ: he is ỹ beginnyng and fyrste begotten of the dead, that in all thyng s he myght haue ỹ preeminence. For it pleased the father ỹ in him should all fulnes dwel, & bi him to reconcile all thinge vnto hym selfe, and to set at peace by him thorow the blood of his crosse, both thynges in heauen ād thinges in earth.

And you (which were in times paste straungers and enemies, because your myndes were set in euel workes) hath he now reconsiled i the body of his flesh thorow death, to make you holy, vnblamable ād without faut in his owne sight, if ye continue grounded and stablished in the faith, and be not moued away frõ the hope of the gospel/ wher of ye haue herd how ỹ it is preached amõg al creatures which are vnder heauen wher of I Paul am made a minister.

Now ioye I in my * sufferinges whyche I suffer for you, and fulfill ỹ which is behinde of the passions of Christe in my flesh for his bodies sake which is ỹ congregacion wher of I am made a minister accordynge to the ordinaunce of God which ordinaunce was geuen me vnto you warde, to fulfill the worde of god that mistery hid sence the worlde began, and sence the beginninge of generacõs: but now is opened to his saintes/ to whome God woulde make knowen the glorious riches of this mistery amonge the Gentiles, whiche riches is Christ in you, the hope of glory, whome we preache, warninge al men/ and teachinge all men in all wisdome, to make all men parfect in Christe Jesu. Wherin I also laboure and stryue, euen as farforth as his workynge worketh in me mightely.

The Notes.

* Passions or sufferinges of Christ is the passions which we must suffer for his sake. For we haue professed and are appoynted to suffer with Christe. Iohn. xv. As my father sent me, so sende I you. A true Apostle wolde haue al men perfecte ỹ knowledge of Christ and of his doctryne.

¶ What greate care Paul toke for al congregations. He erhorteth thẽ to be stedfast in Christ, to beware of false teachers & worldly wisdom, & descrybeth ỹ false Prophetes.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

I Wold ye knew what fightinge I haue for youre sakes and for them of Laodicia, and for as many as haue not sene my person in ỹ flesh he, that their hertes myght be comforted and knit to gether in loue, and in al ryches of full vnderstandinge, for to know

knowe the mystery of God the father & of Christ, in whom are hyd al the treasures of wysdome & knowledge. This I saye lest eny man shuld beguile you with entisinge wordes.* For though I be absent in the flesshe, yet am I present wyth
i. Corin. v. b you in the spyrete, ioyninge and beholdynge that order that yee keape/and youre stedfast fayth in Christ. As ye haue therefore receaued Christ Jesu the Lord, euen
B so walke, rooted and buylt in him & stedfaste in the fayth, as ye haue learned: & therin be plentous in geuynge thankes.
Beware lest eny man come and spoyle you thorow philosophy & disceatful vanitie, thorow the tradicyons of men, & ordinaunces after the worlde/and not after Christ. For a *in him dwelleth all the fulnes of that godheed bodily, & ye are complete in him whych is the head of al rule and power, in who also are circumcised wyth circumcyson made wyth out hades, by puttynge of the synfull bodye of the flesshe thorow the circumcyson that is i Christ, i that ye are buryed with him thorow baptime, in whom ye are also ryssen agayne thorow fayth, that is wrought by the operacion of God which rayssed him from death.
C And ye which were dead in synne thorowe the vncircumcision of youre flesshe, hath he quyckened wyth hym and hath forgeuen vs al our trespaces, and hath putte oute the b*hand wrytynge that was agaynst vs, contayned in the lawe written: and that hath he take out of the way & hath fastned it to his crosse, & hath spoyled rule & power, and hath made a shewe of them openly/& hath triumphed ouer the in his awne person.
D Let no man therfore trouble youre consciences aboute meate and drincke, or for a pece of an holy day/as the holy daye of the newe mone, or of the Sabboth dayes, which are nothig but shadowes of thinges to com: but c*the body is i Christ. Let no man make you shote at a wronge marke which after is awne imaginacion walketh in the humblenes and holynes of angeles, things which he neuer saw: causelesse puft vp with his fleshly mynde/& holdeth not the heed, where of al the body by ioyntes ād couples receaueth norisshmente and is knyt to gether, and encreseth wyth the increasyng that commeth of God.

Wherfore yf ye be dead wyth Christ from ordinaunces of the world, why as though ye yet liued in the world, are ye ledde with tradicions of them that saye Touche not/tast not, handel not, which al perisshe wyth the vsynge of them, and are after the commaundmentes and doctrynes of men: which thynges haue the symylytude of wysdom i chosen holynes & humblenes, & in that they spare not the body, and do the flesshe no worshyp vnto hys nede.

The notes.

a* In hym dwelleth all the fulnes of the godheade bodely, that is, verely and in deade, not in shadowes: so that when ye haue hym ye ought not to folow the shadowe of Moyses lawe, or the entisementes and iudgelynges of mannes wisdome. The trueth is now euidently set before all your sences, ye maye not now beholde figures and doubtful promyses.
b* The lawe is our handwrytinge in that the conscience setteth to her seale subscribeth ād consenteth that the lawe is iust, and we synners, which law cōcerning dampnation is taken away thorow fayth in Christ.
c* The body is in Christ, that is, the truth and very performaunce is in Christ, whom the shadowes did prefygure.
He putteth them in remembraunce of the spirituall resurrection, to laye aside all maner of corrupte lyuing, to be frutefull in al godlynesse and vertu, and sheweth all degrees their dutye

The.iii. Chapter.

If ye be then ryssen agayne wyth Christ seke those thinges which are aboue, where Christ sytteth on the ryght hande of God. Set youre affeccyon on thinges that are aboue, & not on thinges which are on the earth. For ye are dead, and youre lyfe is hyd wyth Christ in God. When Christ which is oure lyfe, shall shewe him selfe/then shall ye also appere with him in glory.

Mortifye therfore your membres which are on the earth, fornicacion, vnclennes, vnnaturall Luste, euill Concupiscence, and coueteousnes which is worshyppinge of ydoles: for which thinges sakes the wrath of God cometh on the childzen of vnbelefe. In whych thinges ye walked once, when ye lyued in them.

These membres must be slayne.

But now put ye also awaye frō you al thinges: wrath, fearsnes, maliciousnes, cursed spaking/filthy speaking out of youre mouthes.

Lye

lye not one to another that yoke yaw

with his workes be put of, and the new put on, which is renued in knowledge, after the image of hym that made him, where is nether Gentyle nor Jewe, circumcysion nor vncircumcysyon, Barbatous or Scythian/bounde or free: but Christe is all in all thinges.

✝ Now therfore as electe of God, holy and beloued, put on tender mercy/kindnes, humblenes of myndes, mekenes, lōge suffringe, forbearinge one another, and forgeuynge one another, yf any mā haue a quarel to a nother: euē as Christ forgaue you/ euen so do ye. Aboue all these thinges put on loue, which is ỹ bonde of perfectnes. And the peace of God rule in youre hertes, to the which peace ye are called in one body. And se that ye be thankfull. Let the worde of Christ dwel i you plenteously in al wysdome. Teache and exhorte youre awne selues, in Psalmes, and hymnes, ād spirytuall songes which haue fauour with theym, synginge in youre hertes to the lord. And al thinges (what soeuer ye do in worde or dede) do in the name of the Lorde Jesu geuing thankes to God ỹ father by him. ✝

*Wyues submyt youre awne selues vnto your awne husbandes, as it is Galat.vi.b comly in the Lord. Husbādes loue youre wyues and be not bytter vnto them. Chyldren obeye youre fathers and mothers in al thinges, for that is wel pleasyng vnto the Lorde. Fathers rate not your chyldren/ lest they be of a desperate mynde. * Seruauntes be obedyent vnto youre bodyly maisters in all thinges: not wyth eye seruyce as men pleasers, but i singlenes of hert, fearing god And whatsoeuer ye do, do it hertely, as though ye dyd it to ỹ Lord, and not vnto men: for as moche as ye knowe that of ỹ Lorde ye shall receaue the rewarde of inheritaunce, for ye serue the Lorde Christ. But he that doth wronge shal receaue for the wrong that he hath don: for ther is no respect of persons with God. Ye maysters do vnto your seruantes that which is iust and equal, seinge ye knowe that ye also haue a maister in heauen.

He exhorteth them to be feruent in prayer, to walke wisely vnto them that are not yet come to the true knowledg of Christ, and salteth them.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter

Continue i prayer and watche in the same wt thankesgeuing, praieng also for vs that GOD open vnto vs the dore of vtteraūce, that we maye speake the mysterye of Christ (wherfore I ā also in bondes) that I maye vtter it/ as it be commeth me to speake. * Walke wisely to them that are without, and redeme the time. Let your speach be always wel fauoured and powdred wt * salt, ỹ ye may know how to answere every man.

The deare brother Tithicos shall tel you of al my busines, which is a faithful mynister and felowe seruaunt in ỹ Lorde, whom I haue sent vnto you for ỹ same purpose, ỹ he might knowe how ye do, ād might comfort your hertes, wt one Onesimus a faythfull and a beloued brother, which is one of you. They shal shewe you of al thinges which are adoinge here.

Aristarchus my prison felowe saluteth you, * and Marcus Barnabas sisters sonne: touchīg whom, ye receaued cōmaundementes. If he come vnto you receaue him: and Jesus which is called Justus, which are of the circumcision. These only are my worke felowes vnto the kingdom of god (which were vnto my consolacīō. Epaphras ỹ seruaūt of chriſt, which is one you, saluteth you and allwayes laboureth feruently for you in prayers, ỹ ye maye stande perfect & ful in al ỹ is ỹ will of god. I beare hī recorde ỹ he hath a feruente minde toward you & toward them of Laodicia, & them of Hierapolis. Deare Lucas the Physicīō greteth you, & Demas. Salute ỹ brethren which are of Laodicia, & salute Nymphas & ỹ cōgregacīō, whiche is in his house. And when ỹ Epistle is reed of you make ỹ it be red in the cōgregacion of the Laodiciās also: and that ye like wise read ỹ epistle of Laodicia. And saye to Archippus: take hede to ỹ office ỹ thou haste receaued in the lorde ỹ ỹ fulfill it. The salutacion by ỹ hand of me Paul. Remēber my bondes: grace be with you: Amen.

¶ Sent from Rome by Tychicus, and Onesymus.

lye not one to another that yoke yaw

with his workes be put of, and the new put on, which is renued in knowledge, after the image of hym that made him, where is nether Gentyle nor Jewe, circumcysion nor vncircumcysyon, Barbatous or Scythian/bounde or free: but Christe is all in all thinges.

✝ Now therfore as electe of God, holy and beloued, put on tender mercy/kindnes, humblenes of myndes, mekenes, lōge suffringe, forbearinge one another, and forgeuynge one another, yf any mā haue a quarel to a nother: euē as Christ forgaue you/ euen so do ye. Aboue all these thinges put on loue, which is ỹ bonde of perfectnes. And the peace of God rule in youre hertes, to the which peace ye are called in one body. And se that ye be thankfull. Let the worde of Christ dwel i you plenteously in al wysdome. Teache and exhorte youre awne selues, in Psalmes, and hymnes, ād spirytuall songes which haue fauour with theym, synginge in youre hertes to the lord. And al thinges (what soeuer ye do in worde or dede) do in the name of the Lorde Jesu geuing thankes to God ỹ father by him. ✝

*Wyues submyt youre awne selues vnto your awne husbandes, as it is Galat.vi.b comly in the Lord. Husbādes loue youre wyues and be not bytter vnto them. Chyldren obeye youre fathers and mothers in al thinges, for that is wel pleasyng vnto the Lorde. Fathers rate not your chyldren/ lest they be of a desperate mynde. * Seruauntes be obedyent vnto youre bodyly maisters in all thinges: not wyth eye seruyce as men pleasers, but i singlenes of hert, fearing god And whatsoeuer ye do, do it hertely, as though ye dyd it to ỹ Lord, and not vnto men: for as moche as ye knowe that of ỹ Lorde ye shall receaue the rewarde of inheritaunce, for ye serue the Lorde Christ. But he that doth wronge shal receaue for the wrong that he hath don: for ther is no respect of persons with God. Ye maysters do vnto your seruantes that which is iust and equal, seinge ye knowe that ye also haue a maister in heauen.

He exhorteth them to be feruent in prayer, to walke wisely vnto them that are not yet come to the true knowledg of Christ, and salteth them.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter

Continue i prayer and watche in the same wt thankesgeuing, praieng also for vs that GOD open vnto vs the dore of vtteraūce, that we maye speake the mysterye of Christ (wherfore I ā also in bondes) that I maye vtter it/ as it be commeth me to speake. * Walke wisely to them that are without, and redeme the time. Let your speach be always wel fauoured and powdred wt * salt, ỹ ye may know how to answere every man.

The deare brother Tithicos shall tel you of al my busines, which is a faithful mynister and felowe seruaunt in ỹ Lorde, whom I haue sent vnto you for ỹ same purpose, ỹ he might knowe how ye do, ād might comfort your hertes, wt one Onesimus a faythfull and a beloued brother, which is one of you. They shal shewe you of al thinges which are adoinge here.

Aristarchus my prison felowe saluteth you, * and Marcus Barnabas sisters sonne: touchīg whom, ye receaued cōmaundementes. If he come vnto you receaue him: and Jesus which is called Justus, which are of the circumcision. These only are my worke felowes vnto the kingdom of god (which were vnto my consolacīō. Epaphras ỹ seruaūt of chriſt, which is one you, saluteth you and allwayes laboureth feruently for you in prayers, ỹ ye maye stande perfect & ful in al ỹ is ỹ will of god. I beare hī recorde ỹ he hath a feruente minde toward you & toward them of Laodicia, & them of Hierapolis. Deare Lucas the Physicīō greteth you, & Demas. Salute ỹ brethren which are of Laodicia, & salute Nymphas & ỹ cōgregacīō, whiche is in his house. And when ỹ Epistle is reed of you make ỹ it be red in the cōgregacion of the Laodiciās also: and that ye like wise read ỹ epistle of Laodicia. And saye to Archippus: take hede to ỹ office ỹ thou haste receaued in the lorde ỹ ỹ fulfill it. The salutacion by ỹ hand of me Paul. Remēber my bondes: grace be with you: Amen.

¶ Sent from Rome by Tychicus, and Onesymus.

¶ The.i. Epistle

of Saincte Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

¶ The.i. Chapter.

¶ He thanketh God for them, that they are so stedfaste in faith & good workes, & receaue the gospell wt such earnestnes.

A PAul, Syluanus and Timotheus. Unto the congregacion of the Thessalonians, in God the father/and in ỹ Lorde Jesus Christ.

Grace be with you and peace from God oure father / and from the Lorde Jesus Christ.

We geue God thankes al way for you all, makyng mencio of you in our prayers with oute ceasynge, and call to remembraunce your worke in the fayth, & labour in loue and perseueraunce in the
B hope of oure Lorde Jesus Christ, in the sight of god our father: because we knowe brethren beloued of God howe that ye are electe. For oure Gospell came not vnto you in worde only, but also in power, and also in the holy goost and in moche certaynetye, as ye knowe after what maner we behaued oure selues amõge you, for your sakes. And ye became folowers of vs and of the Lorde, & receaued the worde in moch affliccio, with ioye
C of the holy goost: so ỹ ye were an ensãple to all that beleue in Macedonia ãd Achaia. For from you sounded out the worde of the Lorde/not in Macedonia and in Achaia only: but youre faith also which ye haue vnto God, spred her selfe abroade in all quarters, so greatly that
D it needeth not vs to speake eny thinge at all. For they them selues shewe of you what maner of entrynge in we had vnto you & how ye turned to God frõ images, for to serue the lyuing & true God/ and for to loke for his sonne from heauen, whom he raised from death: I meane Jesus which delyuereth vs from ỹ wrath to come,

¶ He putteth them in remembraunce of the godlye conuersacion that he led among them when he preached the gospel vnto them, thanketh god ỹ they receaue his worde so frutefully & excuseth his absens.

¶ The.ii. Chapter

For ye your selues knowe brethren of oure entraunce in vnto you, how that it was not
A in vayne: but euẽ after that we had suffered before and were shamfully entreated at Philippos (as ye well knowe) then were we bolde in oure God to speake vnto you the Gospell of God/wt moche striuynge. Our exhortacyon was not to bringe you to errour, nor yet to vnclennes, nether was it wyth gyle: but as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel shuld be cõmytted vnto vs: euẽ so we speake, not as though we ẽtẽded to please mẽ: but God, which tryeth our hertes. Nether was our cõuersacio at ent time wt flateryg wordes, as
B ye wel know nether in cloked coueteousnes god is record: nether sought we prayse of mẽ, nether of you, nor yet of eni other when we myghte haue bene chargeable as the Appostles of Christe, but we were tender amonge you, euen as a norsse cheresheth her childeren, so was our affeccyon toward you: our good will was to haue dealte vnto you, not ỹ Gospell of God only: but also oure awne soules,
C because ye were deare vnto vs.

+ Ye remember brethren oure laboure, & trauayle. * For we laboured day & nyght because we wolde not be greueous vnto eny of you, and preached vnto you the Gospell of God. Ye are witnesses, & so is God, how holyly and iustlye & vnblameably we behaued our selues amonge you that beleue: as ye knowe howe ỹ we exhorted and comforted and besought euery one of you, as a father his childrẽ ỹ ye would walke worthi of God, whych hath caled you vnto hys kingdõ & glory

Acturum, 9. ti, Thes iii, b

For this cause thanke we God without ceasyng, because that when ye receaued of vs the worde wherwyth God was preached, ye receaued it not as the D worde of man: but euen as it was in dede, the worde of God, whych worketh in you that beleue. + For ye brethren became folowers of ỹ cõgregacions of God which in Jewry are in Christ Jesu: for ye haue suffered lyke thinges of youre kinsmen, as we oure selues haue suffered of the Jewes. Which as they killed the Lorde Jesus and their awne Prophetes, euẽ so haue they persecuted vs

and

and are cõtrary to all men and forbyd vs to preach vnto ỹ Gentyles, ỹ they might be saued, to fulfill their synnes alwaye. For the wrath of God is come on them, euen to the vtmost.

For as muche brethren as we are kepte from you for a season, as concerning the bodely presence, but not in the herte, we enforsed ỹ more to se you personally with great desire. And therfore we wolde haue come vnto you, I Paul once and againe: but Saten withstode vs: for what is our hope or ioye, or crowne of reioysinge? are not ye it in ỹ presence of oure Lorde Jesus Christ at his commynge? yes ye are oure glorye and ioye.

He sheweth how greatly he was reioyced whē Timothe tolde him of their fayth & loue.

The.iii. Chapter.

A Acts.xvi. Wherfore sence we could no lenger forbeare / it pleased vs to remain at Athens alone, & sēt Timotheus our brother ād minister of god, and our laboure felow in the gospell of Christ, to stablische you and to comforte you ouer youre faith, that no man shuld be moued in these afflictiõs. For ye youre selues know that we are euen apointed there vnto. B For verely when I was with you, I tolde you before ỹ we shuld suffer tribulacion, euen as it came to passe, and as ye know. For this cause when I could no lenger forbeare, I sēt that I might haue knowledge of your fayth / lest haply the tempter had tēpted you, and that oure laboure had bene bestowed in vaine.

But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and declared to vs youre faith and your loue and howe that ye haue good remembrauce of vs all ways / desiring to se vs as we desire to se you. Therfore brethren we had cõsolacion in you, in all oure aduersite & necessite, thorow your faith. For now C are we alyue, if ye stande stedfaste in the Lorde. For what thankes can we recõpence to god againe for you, ouer all ỹ ioye that we ioye for your sakes before oure God: while we, nighe & daye praie exceadingly that we might se you presently, and myght fulfyl that whiche is lacking in your fayth

God hym selfe oure father, and oure Lorde Jesus Christ gyde oute iourneye vnto you: and the Lorde encrease you & make you flow ouer in loue, one toward an other, and towarde all men, euen as we do toward you, to make your hertes stable and vnblameable, in holynes before God our father, at the comming of oure Lorde Jesus Christ wyth all hys sainctes. D

He exhorteth thē to stedfastnes, to kepe them selues frō sinne: & vnclenly cõuersation, to loue one ā other, rebuketh ydelnes, & speaketh of the resurrection.

C The.iiii. Chapter. *

Furthermore we beseech you brethren, and exhorte you in the Lorde Jesus / that ye increase more and more, euen as ye haue receaued of A Roman.xii. Ephesi.v.a vs, euen as ye oughte to walcke and to please god. Ye remembre what commādementes we gaue you in our Lorde Jesu Christe. For this is the wyll of God, euen that ye shoulde be holy, and that ye should absteyne / from fornicacion, that euerye one of you shoulde knowe howe to kepe hys vessel in holynes & honour, and not in the luste of concupiscence, as do the heathen, whiche know not God, that no man go to farre and defraude B hys brother in bargaynyng: because the Lorde is auenger of all suche thinges, as we told you before tyme and testified. For god hath not called vs vnto vncleannes: but vnto holynes. He therfore that despyseth, despiseth not man, but god which hath sent his holy spirite amonge you. *

* But as touchinge brotherly loue ye C nede not that I write vnto you. * For ye are taught of god to loue one another. Yea and that thinge verely ye do vnto all the brethren which are thorow out all Macedonia. We beseche you brethren that ye encrease more and more, & ỹ ye studie to be quiet, and to medle with youre owne busynes, and * to worcke wt your owne handes, as we commanded you: that ye may behaue your selues honestlye toward them that are without, and ỹ nothinge be lackinge vnto you *

* I wolde not Brethren haue you ignorant concerning them which are fallen a slepe, ỹ ye sorowe not as other do which haue

haue no hope. For yf we beleue that Jesus dyed, and rose agayne: euen so them also which slepe by Jesus/ wil god bringe agayne wyth him. And thys saye we vnto you in the worde of the Lorde, that we which lyue & are remaynynge in the commynge of the Lorde, shal not come yer they which slepe. For the Lord him self shal descend from heauen with a showte and the voyce of the Archangell and trompe of God. And the dead in Christ shal aryse fyrst: then shal we which lyue and remayne, be caughte vp wyth theym also in the cloudes, to mete the Lorde in the ayer. And so shall we euer be with the Lorde. Wherfore comforte youre selues one another with these wordes. ✠

¶ He enformeth them of the daye of dome and commynge of the Lorde, exhorteth them to watch, & to regarde such as preach Gods worde amonge them.

The. v. Chapter.

OF the tymes & ceasons brethren ye haue no nede that I wryte vnto you: * for ye youre selues know perfectly, that ỳ daye of ỳ lord shal come, euen as a theefe in ỳ night. When they shall saye peace and no daunger/ then commeth on them soden destruccyon, as ỳ trauaylynge of a woman wyth chylde, and they shall not scape. But ye brethrē are not in darckenes, that ỳ daye shoulde come on you as it were a theefe. ✠ Ye are all the chyldren of lyght, and ỳ chyldren of ỳ daye. We are not of the nyght nether of darckenes.

i. Pet. iii. Apo. iii & xvi.

Therfore let vs not slepe as do other: but let vs watche & be sober. For they that slepe slepe in the nyght: and they ỳ be dronckē, are dronck in the nyght.

But let vs which are of the daye, be sober, armed with ỳ brest plate of fayth and loue, and with hope of saluacion as an helmet. For God hath not apoynted vs vnto wrath: but to obtayn saluacion by the meanes of oure Lorde Jesu Christ which dyed for vs: that whether we wake or slepe, we shuld lyue to gether with him.

Wherfore comforte youre selues together, and edifie one another, euen as ye do. ✠ We beseche you brethrē, that ye knowe thē which laboure amonge you & haue the ouersyght of you in ỳ Lorde, and geue you exhortacion, that ye haue them the more in loue, for their workes sake, and be at peace wyth them.

✠ We desyre you brethren, warne the that are vnruly, comforte the feble mided, forbeare the weake, haue cōtinual pacience toward all men, se that non recompence euel for euell vnto any man, but euer folow that wich is good, both C amonge your selues and among al men. Reioyce euer. a* Praye continualy. In all thynges geue thanckes. For this is the wyll of God in Christ Jesu toward you.

Quenche not that b* spirite. Despyse not prophecieng. Examen all thinges, & kepe that which is good. Abstayne frō al suspictous thynges. The very god of peace sanctifie you thorow out. And I praye God, youre whole spirite, soule, & D body/ be kepte fautles vnto the comminge of oure Lorde Jesus Christe. ✠ Faythfull is he which called you: which wyll also do it. Brethren, praye for vs. Grete all the brethren, with an holye kysse. I charge you in the Lorde that this epistle be red vnto all the holy Brethren.

The grace of the Lorde Jesus Christ be with you: Amen.

The ende of the first epistle vnto the Thessalonians.

Sent from Athens.

The notes.

* Praye contynually. Lyke as he that is in prison, desyreth euer to be delyuered, whether he be eatyng, dryncking or slepinge: and as he that is sicke, desyreth alway to be whole. Euen so doth euery Christen man praye continually ye euen whan hee semeth not to praye. For prayer consisteth not in moche babyng. Math. vi. but in spyrite and verye. Iho. iiii And in the vehement desyre of the hert toward god

b* The spirite wherby we beleue in Christ and cōsēt to the law is quenched agayne wyth euell cōuersation, and lewde communycation.

The ii Epistle of

Sainct Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

He thanketh god for theyr fayth & loue, and prayeth for the encrese of the same

The fyrst Chapter.

A PAul, Siluanus and Timo the us.

Unto the congregacion of the Thessalonians, whych are in God oure father and in the Lorde Jesus Chryst.

Grace be wyth you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Chryst.

WE are bounde to thancke God all wayes, for you bretheren as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceadingly, and euery one of you swymmeth in loue towarde another betwene youre selues, so that we oure selues reioyce of you in the congregacions of God, ouer your pacience and fayth in al yor persecucions & tribulaciõs ỳ ye suffre, which is a token *of the righteous iudgment of God, that ye are counted worthy of ỳ B kingdom of God, for which ye also suffre. It is verely a righteous thinge with god, to recompence trybulacion to them that trouble you: and to you whych are troubled, rest with vs whẽ the Lord Jesus shall shewe hym selfe from heauen, wyth hys mighty Angeles, in flamming fyre, rendringe vengeaunce vnto them that knowe not God/and to them that obey not vnto the gospell of our Lorde Jesus Chryste, which shalbe punished wyth euerlastinge dampnacion, from ỳ presence of the Lorde, and from the glorye of hys power/when he shal come to be glorified in hys sainctes, ād to be made marueylous in all them that beleaue: because oure testimonye that we had to you/was beleued euen the same daye ỳ we preached it. *Wherfore we praye all C wayes for you: that our God make you worthy of the callynge, and fulfylle all delectacion of goodnes, and the worcke of faythe wyth power: that the name of our Lorde Jesus Christ maye be glorifyed in you/ād ye in hym, throw the grace of our God and of the Lorde Jesus Christ.

He sheweth them that the daye of the lord shal not come till the departinge from the fayth come fyrst, and therfore he exhorteth thẽ not to be deceaued but to stand stedfast in ỳ thinges ỳ he hath taught thẽ.

The.ii.Chapter.

WE beseech you bretherē by A ỳ commyng of oure Lorde Jesu Chryst, and in that we shall assẽble vnto hym, that ye be not sodeynlye moued from youre mynde and be not troubled nether by spyrete, nether by wordes/nor yet by letter, which shuld seme to cõe frõ vs, as thoughe the daye of Cryste, were at hand. Let no man deceaue you by eny meanes, for the Lorde commeth not, excepte ther come a departynge fyrst, ād that a that synfull man be opened, the sonne of perdicion which is an aduersarie/a is exalted aboue al that is called God, or that is worshipped: so ỳ he shall b* syt as God i the temple of God, and shewe him selfe as God.

Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these thinges? B And now ye know what withholdeth: ẽ that he might be vttered at his tyme. For the mystery of the iniquite doeth all ready worcke: tyll he which now onlye letteth, be taken out of the waye. And then shall that wicked be vttered, whom the Lord shall consume* with the spyrete of his mouth, and shal destroy it with the apearaunce of his commynge euen him whose comming is by the workinge of Satan, with all b* lyinge power, sygnes and wonders: and in al deceauablenes of vnrightewesnes, amonge thẽ that perisshe: because thei receaued not the* loue of the truth, that they myght haue bene saued. And therfore God shal sende them strounge delusion, that they shulde beleue lyes: that al they myght be dampned which beleued not the truth but hadde pleasure in vnrightewesnes. But we are bounde to geue thankes al waye to God for you brethren beloued of the Lord, for because that God hath from the begynnyng chosen you to saluacion, throwe sanctifyinge of the spyrete, and throw beleuing the trueth, whervnto he called you by oure Gospell, to obtayne the glorye ỳ commeth of oure Lorde, Jesus Christe.

The ii Epistle of

Sainct Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

He thanketh god for theyr fayth & loue, and prayeth for the encrese of the same

The fyrst Chapter.

A PAul, Siluanus and Timo the us.

Unto the congregacion of the Thessalonians, whych are in God oure father and in the Lorde Jesus Chryst.

Grace be wyth you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Chryst.

WE are bounde to thancke God all wayes, for you bretheren as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceadingly, and euery one of you swymmeth in loue towarde another betwene youre selues, so that we oure selues reioyce of you in the congregacions of God, ouer your pacience and fayth in al yor persecucions & tribulaciõs ỳ ye suffre, which is a token *of the righteous iudgment of God, that ye are counted worthy of ỳ B kingdom of God, for which ye also suffre. It is verely a righteous thinge with god, to recompence trybulacion to them that trouble you: and to you whych are troubled, rest with vs whẽ the Lord Jesus shall shewe hym selfe from heauen, wyth hys mighty Angeles, in flamming fyre, rendringe vengeaunce vnto them that knowe not God/and to them that obey not vnto the gospell of our Lorde Jesus Chryste, which shalbe punished wyth euerlastinge dampnacion, from ỳ presence of the Lorde, and from the glorye of hys power/when he shal come to be glorified in hys sainctes, ād to be made marueylous in all them that beleaue: because oure testimonye that we had to you/was beleued euen the same daye ỳ we preached it. *Wherfore we praye all C wayes for you: that our God make you worthy of the callynge, and fulfylle all delectacion of goodnes, and the worcke of faythe wyth power: that the name of our Lorde Jesus Christ maye be glorifyed in you/ād ye in hym, throw the grace of our God and of the Lorde Jesus Christ.

He sheweth them that the daye of the lord shal not come till the departinge from the fayth come fyrst, and therfore he exhorteth thẽ not to be deceaued but to stand stedfast in ỳ thinges ỳ he hath taught thẽ.

The.ii.Chapter.

WE beseech you bretherē by A ỳ commyng of oure Lorde Jesu Chryst, and in that we shall assẽble vnto hym, that ye be not sodeynlye moued from youre mynde and be not troubled nether by spyrete, nether by wordes/nor yet by letter, which shuld seme to cõe frõ vs, as thoughe the daye of Cryste, were at hand. Let no man deceaue you by eny meanes, for the Lorde commeth not, excepte ther come a departynge fyrst, ād that a that synfull man be opened, the sonne of perdicion which is an aduersarie/a is exalted aboue al that is called God, or that is worshipped: so ỳ he shall b* syt as God i the temple of God, and shewe him selfe as God.

Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these thinges? B And now ye know what withholdeth: ẽ that he might be vttered at his tyme. For the mystery of the iniquite doeth all ready worcke: tyll he which now onlye letteth, be taken out of the waye. And then shall that wicked be vttered, whom the Lord shall consume* with the spyrete of his mouth, and shal destroy it with the apearaunce of his commynge euen him whose comming is by the workinge of Satan, with all b* lyinge power, sygnes and wonders: and in al deceauablenes of vnrightewesnes, amonge thẽ that perisshe: because thei receaued not the* loue of the truth, that they myght haue bene saued. And therfore God shal sende them strounge delusion, that they shulde beleue lyes: that al they myght be dampned which beleued not the truth but hadde pleasure in vnrightewesnes. But we are bounde to geue thankes al waye to God for you brethren beloued of the Lord, for because that God hath from the begynnyng chosen you to saluacion, throwe sanctifyinge of the spyrete, and throw beleuing the trueth, whervnto he called you by oure Gospell, to obtayne the glorye ỳ commeth of oure Lorde, Jesus Christe.

The ii Epistle of

Sainct Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

He thanketh god for theyr fayth & loue, and prayeth for the encrese of the same

The fyrst Chapter.

A PAul, Siluanus and Timo the us.

Unto the congregacion of the Thessalonians, whych are in God oure father and in the Lorde Jesus Chryst.

Grace be wyth you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Chryst.

WE are bounde to thancke God all wayes, for you bretheren as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceadingly, and euery one of you swymmeth in loue towarde another betwene youre selues, so that we oure selues reioyce of you in the congregacions of God, ouer your pacience and fayth in al yor persecucions & tribulaciõs ỳ ye suffre, which is a token *of the righteous iudgment of God, that ye are counted worthy of ỳ B kingdom of God, for which ye also suffre. It is verely a righteous thinge with god, to recompence trybulacion to them that trouble you: and to you whych are troubled, rest with vs whẽ the Lord Jesus shall shewe hym selfe from heauen, wyth hys mighty Angeles, in flamming fyre, rendringe vengeaunce vnto them that knowe not God/and to them that obey not vnto the gospell of our Lorde Jesus Chryste, which shalbe punished wyth euerlastinge dampnacion, from ỳ presence of the Lorde, and from the glorye of hys power/when he shal come to be glorified in hys sainctes, ād to be made marueylous in all them that beleaue: because oure testimonye that we had to you/was beleued euen the same daye ỳ we preached it. *Wherfore we praye all C wayes for you: that our God make you worthy of the callynge, and fulfylle all delectacion of goodnes, and the worcke of faythe wyth power: that the name of our Lorde Jesus Christ maye be glorified in you/ād ye in hym, throw the grace of our God and of the Lorde Jesus Christ.

He sheweth them that the daye of the lord shal not come till the departinge from the fayth come fyrst, and therfore he exhorteth thẽ not to be deceaued but to stand stedfast in ỳ thinges ỳ he hath taught thẽ.

The.ii.Chapter.

WE beseech you bretherē by A ỳ commyng of oure Lorde Jesu Chryst, and in that we shall assẽble vnto hym, that ye be not sodeynlye moued from youre mynde and be not troubled nether by spyrete, nether by wordes/nor yet by letter, which shuld seme to cõe frõ vs, as thoughe the daye of Cryste, were at hand. Let no man deceaue you by eny meanes, for the Lorde commeth not, excepte ther come a departynge fyrst, ād that a that synfull man be opened, the sonne of perdicion which is an aduersarie/a is exalted aboue al that is called God, or that is worshipped: so ỳ he shall b* syt as God i the temple of God, and shewe him selfe as God.

Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these thinges? B And now ye know what withholdeth: ẽ that he might be vttered at his tyme. For the mysterye of the iniquite doeth all ready worcke: tyll he which now onlye letteth, be taken out of the waye. And then shall that wicked be vttered, whom the Lord shall consume* with the spyrete of his mouth, and shal destroy it with the apearaunce of his commynge euen him whose comming is by the workinge of Satan, with all b* lyinge power, sygnes and wonders: and in al deceauablenes of vnrightewesnes, amonge thẽ that perisshe: because thei receaued not the* loue of the truth, that they myght haue bene saued. And therfore God shal sende them strounge delusion, that they shulde beleue lyes: that al they myght be dampned which beleued not the truth but hadde pleasure in vnrightewesnes. But we are bounde to geue thankes al waye to God for you brethren beloued of the Lord, for because that God hath from the begynnyng chosen you to saluacion, throwe sanctifyinge of the spyrete, and throw beleuing the trueth, whervnto he called you by oure Gospell, to obtayne the glorye ỳ commeth of oure Lorde, Jesus Christe.

✠ Therfore brethren stande fast/ and kepe the ordinaūces which ye haue lerned whether it were by our preachinge or by epistle. Our Lorde Jesus Christe him selfe, and God oure father whyche hath loued vs, and hath geuen vs euerlasting consolacyon and good hope thorowe grace, comforte youre hertes and stablysshe you in all doctryne and good doinge. ✠

The notes.

a * That synful man signifyeth Antichrist. Of hym loke in the fyrst of Johñ the iii. Chapt.
b * To syt in the temple of God, is, to rule in the cōsciences of men, and ther to commaunde, where god only hath place and ought onely to raygne: whiche is as moch as to be exalted aboue god.
c * With the spyrete of his mouth. The spirite of his mouth, is, hys holy worde.
d * Lyeng myracles be cause they testifye a faulse faith.
e * Where no loue is to the trueth, ou the doth god set slippe false prophetes to deceaue them.
The desireth them to praye for hym that the gospel maye prospeare, and geueth them warninge to reprooue the Idole: and if they will not laboure with theyr handes/ that they shall not eate.

The. iii. Chapter.

A Furthermore brethren praie for vs, that ỹ worde of god maye haue free passage and be glorified, as it is w̄ you: and that we maye be delyuered from vnreasonable and euill men. For al men haue not fayth: but the lord is faythful, whiche shall stablisshe you, and kepe yōu from euyll. We haue confydence thorow the Lorde to you warde, that ye both do, and wyll do, ỹ which we commaunde you. And the Lorde gyde youre hertes to the loue of God & pacience of Christ.

B ✠ * We requyre you brethren in the name of oure Lorde Jesu Chryste, that ye wyth drawe youreselues from̄ euerye brother that walketh inordynatly, and not after the institucion whyche ye oughte to folowe vs.
Ye youre selues know how ye ought to folow vs. For we behaued not oure selues inordinatly amonge you.
Neyther toke we breade of anye man for nought: but wrought with labour and trauayle night and daye, because we wolde not be grenous to enye of you: * not but that we had auctoritye, but to make our selues ā ensample vnto you, to folow vs. For when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were anye which woulde not worke, that the same shoulde not eate.
We haue hearde saye (no doubt) that there are some which walke among you inordinatlye, and worcke not at all, but are busi bodies. Them that are such we commaund and exhorte by our lord Jesu Christe/ that they worcke with quietnes and eate theyr owne breade: * Yet therin be not werye in well doinge. ✠ If anye man obeye not our sayinges, send vs worde of hym by a letter: and haue no company wyth hym, that he maye be ashamed. And count hym not as an enemy: but warne hym as a brother.
The very Lorde of peace, geue you peace alwayes, by al meanes. The Lord be wyth you all. The salutacion of mee Paull, with myne owne hande. This is the token in all the epistles: so I write. The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christe be wyth you all. Amen.

Gal. vi. b

D

Sent from Athens.

The fyrst Epistle of Sayncte Paul the Apostle vnto Tymothe.

The exhorteth Tymothy to wayte vpon hys office: namely, to see that nothing be taught but goddes worde. &c. He sheweth also wherfor the law is good, and telleth thys swete and glad tydynges, ỹ Christ Jesus, came into the world to saue synners.

The fyrst Chapter.

Paule an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the commaundement of God our sauiour, and Lorde Jesus Christe which is our hope.

Act. xxiii.

Vnto Timothe hys naturall sonne in the faith.

Grace/ mercy and peace from God oure father and Lord Jesus Christ our Lorde.

As I besoughte the to abyde styl in Ephesus when I departed into Macedonia

✠ Therfore brethren stande fast/ and kepe the ordinaūces which ye haue lerned whether it were by our preachinge or by epistle. Our Lorde Jesus Christe him selfe, and God oure father whyche hath loued vs, and hath geuen vs euerlasting consolacyon and good hope thorowe grace, comforte youre hertes and stablysshe you in all doctryne and good doinge. ✠

The notes.

a * That synful man signifyeth Antichrist. Of hym loke in the fyrst of Johñ the iii. Chapt.
b * To syt in the temple of God, is, to rule in the cōsciences of men, and ther to commaunde, where god only hath place and ought onely to raygne: whiche is as moch as to be exalted aboue god.
c * With the spyrete of his mouth. The spirite of his mouth, is, hys holy worde.
d * Lyeng myracles be cause they testifye a faulse faith.
e * Where no loue is to the trueth, ou the doth god set slippe false prophetes to deceaue them.
The desireth them to praye for hym that the gospel maye prospeare, and geueth them warninge to reprooue the Idole: and if they will not laboure with theyr handes/ that they shall not eate.

The. iii. Chapter.

A Furthermore brethren praie for vs, that ỹ worde of god maye haue free passage and be glorified, as it is w̄ you: and that we maye be delyuered from vnreasonable and euill men. For al men haue not fayth: but the lord is faythful, whiche shall stablisshe you, and kepe yōu from euyll. We haue confydence thorow the Lorde to you warde, that ye both do, and wyll do, ỹ which we commaunde you. And the Lorde gyde youre hertes to the loue of God & pacience of Christ.

B ✠ * We requyre you brethren in the name of oure Lorde Jesu Chryste, that ye wyth drawe youreselues from̄ euerye brother that walketh inordynatly, and not after the institucion whyche ye oughte to folowe vs.
Ye youre selues know how ye ought to folow vs. For we behaued not oure selues inordinatly amonge you.
Neyther toke we breade of anye man for nought: but wrought with labour and trauayle night and daye, because we wolde not be grenous to enye of you: * not but that we had auctoritye, but to make our selues ā ensample vnto you, to folow vs. For when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were anye which woulde not worke, that the same shoulde not eate.
We haue hearde saye (no doubt) that there are some which walke among you inordinatlye, and worcke not at all, but are busi bodies. Them that are such we commaund and exhorte by our lord Jesu Christe/ that they worcke with quietnes and eate theyr owne breade: * Yet therin be not werye in well doinge. ✠ If anye man obeye not our sayinges, send vs worde of hym by a letter: and haue no company wyth hym, that he maye be ashamed. And count hym not as an enemy: but warne hym as a brother.
The very Lorde of peace, geue you peace alwayes, by al meanes. The Lord be wyth you all. The salutacion of mee Paull, with myne owne hande. This is the token in all the epistles: so I write. The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christe be wyth you all. Amen.

Gal. vi. b

D

Sent from Athens.

The fyrst Epistle of Sayncte Paul the Apostle vnto Tymothe.

The exhorteth Tymothy to wayte vpon hys office: namely, to see that nothing be taught but goddes worde. &c. He sheweth also wherfor the law is good, and telleth thys swete and glad tydynges, ỹ Christ Jesus, came into the world to saue synners.

The fyrst Chapter.

Paule an Appostle of Jesus Christ by the commaundement of God our sauiour, and Lorde Jesus Christe which is our hope.

Act. xxiii.

Vnto Timothe hys naturall sonne in the faith.

Grace/ mercy and peace from God oure father and Lord Jesus Christ our Lorde.

As I besoughte the to abyde styl in Ephesus when I departed into Macedonia

donta, euen so do, that thou commaũd some that they teach no nother wise: neither geue hede to fables & genealogies which are endles, & brede doutes more then godly edifienge which is by fayth. B For the end of ỹ cõmaundemẽt is loue ỹ commeth of a pure hert and a good cõscience, and of faith vnfained: from the which thinges some haue erred/& haue turned vnto vaine iangelynge because they wold be douctours i the scripture, and yet vnderstãd not what they speake, nether wherof they affirme.

Loue is the end of the cõmaundemẽt and must interprete it.

Roma. vii. c. Galat. iii. d. Exod. xx. a.

✣ We knowe that the lawe is good, yf a man vse it lawfully, vnderstandig this, howe ỹ the lawe is not geuẽ vnto a righteous man, but vnto ỹ vnryghteous and disobedient to the vngodly and to sinners, to the vnholy & vncleane to murtherers of fathers & murtherers of mothers to manslears & whore mõgers: to them that defile them selues w mankynde: to menstelers: to liers and to periured, and so forth if there be any other thinge that is contrary to holsom doctrine/ accordinge to the Gospel of ỹ the glorye of the blessed god, which gospel is committed vnto me.

¶ And I thancke Christe Jesus oure Lorde which hath made me stroũge: for he counted me true, and put me i office when before I was a blaspemer, and a persecuter, and a Tyraunt. But I optayned mercy, because I did it ignorantly thorow vnbelefe. Neurthelater the grace of oure Lorde was moare abouũdaunt with faith and loue whiche is in Christ Jesu. ✣

The ground of the fayth.

✣ This is the true sayinge and by all meanes worthy to be receaued, that Christ Jesu came into the world to saue sinners/ of whome I am chefe. Not w standynge for thys cause was mercy geuen vnto me, that Jesus Christ shuld kyrste shewe on me all long pacience, vnto the ensample of them which shall in time to come beleue one hym vnto eternal life. So then vnto god kyng euerlastinge, immortall, invisible, and wyse only, be honoure and prayse for euer ãd euer. Amen.

Paull is an ensample ỹ none dispeare that can repente.

D This commaundement commit I vnto ỹ sonne Timotheus, according to ỹ prophesies which in tyme past were prophesied of thee, that thou i them shuldest fyght a good fyght, hauyng fayth and good conscience which some haue put away from them, and as cõcernyng fayth haue made shypwracke. Of whose nombre is Himeneus & Alexander whych I haue delyuered vnto Satan that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

¶ He exhorteth to prayer for al men. He wil not haue wemẽ to be ouer costly arayed nor to teache i the congregation/ but to be in sylence, and obeye their husbandes.

The. ii. Chapter.

I Exhorte therfore, that aboue all thynges, prayers, supplicatiõs, intercessions & geuyng of thankes be had for all men: for kinges, and for all ỹ are in auctorite, that we may lyue a quyet and a peasable lyfe, in al Godlynes and honestie. For that is good and accepted in the syght of God oure saui our, whych* wyll haue all men saued, and come vnto the knowledg of the truB eth: For there is one God, and one (mediator) betwene God and man, which is the man Christ Jesus, which gaue him selfe a raunsome for all men, that it shuld be testified at his time, where vnto I am ordayned a preacher and an Apostle: I tell the trueth in Christ and lye not beyng the teacher of gentyles i fayth & verite. ✣

C I wyll therfor that the men praye euerye where, lyftyng vp pure handes wyth oute wrath, or dowting. Like wyse also the wemen that they atayre them selues i comlye apparell with shamfastnes and discrete behauour, not with broyded heare other golde, or pearles/ or costlye aray: but with such as becommeth wemẽ that profesle the worshippyng of God thorow good workes: *Let the woman lerne i sylence with al subiection. I suf- 1. Cor. xiiii. g fre not a woman to teache, nether to haue auctorite ouer the man: but for to be in silence For Adã was fyrste formed, D then Eue. Also Adam was not deceaued, but the womã was deceaued, & was in transgression.

Notwithstandynge thoꝛowe bearynge of chyldꝛen they shalbe saued/so they cõ tynue in fayth,loue and holynes with di= screcion.

¶ What maner a man a bisshoppe oꝛ yꝛest ought to be,& what condition his wyfe & chyldꝛen shuld haue. The pꝛoperties also requyꝛed in a deacon oꝛ mynis= ter,and his wyfe.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

THis is a true saige: If a mã couet the a* office of a Bis= shop he desireth a good woꝛ= ke. Yea & a Bysshope muste be fautelesse,the husbande of one wyfe,sober, discrete,honestly appa relled, harberous,apt to teache,not dzõ ken, no fighter,not geuen to fylthy lu= cre:but gentle, abhoꝛrynge fyghtynges/ abhoꝛrynge coueteousnes,and one that ruleth his awne house honestly,hauinge chyldꝛen vnder obedience with al hones= te. Foꝛ yf a man cannot rule his awne house,how shal he care foꝛ the congre= gacion of God. He may not be b* a yon= B ge scoler,lest he swel and faul into ỹ iud= gemente of the cuyll speaker. He must also be well repoꝛted of among thẽ whi= ch are without,lest he fall into re= buke & snare of ỹ cuyll speaker.

Lykewyse must Deacons be honest, not double tonged,not geuen vnto mu= che dꝛinkyng,nether to fylthy lucre:but hauyng the mistery of the fayth in pure conscience. And let them fiꝛst be pꝛoued, and then let them minister,yf they be fon C de fautlesse.

The wyues of the pꝛestes & Deacons

Euen so must their wyues be honest, not euill speakers:but sober and fayth= full in all thynges. Let the Deacons be the husbandes of one wife,and such as rule their chyldꝛen well,and their awne houssholds: Foꝛ they that mynister well get them selues good degree and grea= te lyberte in the faith,which is in Chri= ste Jesu.

D These thynges wꝛit I vnto thee,tru= stinge to come shoꝛtly vnto thee:but ād yf I tarie longe,that then thoumayest yet haue knowledg howe thou ought= est to be haue thi selfe in ỹ house of god/ which is the congregacion of the lyuin= ge GOD,the pylar and ground of tru= the.

And without naye great is that mistery of godlynes: God was shewed in the fle shе,was iustifyed in the* spirit,was se= ne of Aungels,was pꝛeached vnto the Gentyles was beleued on in earthe and receaued vp in glozye.

The notes.

a* Bysshoppe is as much to saye as a fear to,a ta= cher hede to,oꝛ an ouerseer, which when he desyꝛeth to leade Chꝛistes flocke with the lode of healthe,ỹ is wyth hys holy wozde,as the bysshoppes dyd in Paules time,desyꝛeth a good wozck and the verye office of a bysshop. But he that desyꝛeth honour gapeth foꝛ lucre, thꝛisteth greate rentes,seeth pree minence,pompe,dompnion:coueteth aboundaunce, of al thinges without doubt,rest and hertes ease, Chapels,parkes,lozdshyppes:peridomes, &c. desy= reth not to wozcke,muche les a good wozcke and is nothinge lesse then a bysshop as saint Paul here vn derstandeth a Bisshoppe.

b* a younge scoller. So calleth Paulle hym ỹ was herteley Chꝛistened oꝛ newly conuerted to the truth.

¶ He pꝛophesyeth of the latter dayes.& exhoꝛteth Timothy to the diligẽt reding of ỹ holy scripture.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter

THe spirite speaketh euidẽtly, that in the latter tymes some shall departe from the fayth,and shall geue hede vnto spirites of errour,ād deuelysh doctrine of them which speake false thoꝛowe Ipocrysye,and a* haue theyꝛ consciences marked with an hote iron,foꝛbyddinge to marry,ād commaū dyng to abstayne frõ meates which god hath created to be receaued wyth thau= kes geuinge,of them which beleue and knowe the trueth. Foꝛ all the creatures of god are good,ād nothing to be refu= sed,if it be receaued with thanckesge= uinge,Foꝛ it is sanctified by the woꝛde of God and pꝛayer. If thou shalt put ỹ bꝛetheren in remembꝛaunce of these thi ges,thoushalt be a good minister of Je su Chꝛist,which haste bene noꝛished vp in the woꝛdes of the faith ād good doc= trine which doctrine thou hast contynu ally followed. But cast away vngostly and oldewyues fables. A ii,Tim.iii.a ii.Pete,ii.a Jude,i.c B

Exercyse thy selfe vnto godlynes, Foꝛ bodyly exercise pꝛofyteth lytle: but godlynes is good vnto all thynges,as a thinge whiche hathe pꝛompyses of the lyfe that is now,and of the lyfe to come. C

¶ This is a sure saieng,& of all partyes woꝛthi to be receued. Foꝛ therfoꝛ we la= bour & suffre rebuke,because we beleue in the lyuinge God/ whiche is the Sa= ueoure of all men,but specially of those that beleues Suche thinges

com=

commaunde and teach. Let no man despyse thy youth: but be vnto them ỹ beleue, an ensample/ in worde, in conuersacion, in loue, in spyrite, in fayth and in purenes.

D Tyll I come, geue attendaunce to reding/ to exortacio and to doctryne. Despise not that gifte that is in thee, whiche was geuē thee throw prophecy and wt the b*laienge on of the handes of an elder. These things exercise, ād geue thy selfe vnto thē, that it maye be sene howe thou profetest in all thinges. Take hede vnto thy selfe and vnto learnynge, and continue therin. For if thou shalte so do thou shalte saue thy selfe and them that heare the.

The notes.

a *Haue their consciences marketh wt an hote iron. As, theues and euel doers are marked in the handes or other places of the body, with hote irons to the intent that their naughtines may by that marke be openly knowen euer after: euen so are the cōsciēces of false teachers marked, in ỹ they be wytnesses to thē selues that for their belyes sakes and delyte of fylthye lucre, they hide the trueth & stablishe lyes.

b *Of laienge on of handes loke in the Act. vi. b

¶ He teacheth how he shal behaue hym self in rebukynge al degrees. An order concernynge widdowes.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

A Rebuke not an elder: but exhorte him as a father, and ỹ yonger men as brethren, ỹ elder wemē as mothers, the yonger as sisters, with all purenes. Honoure widdowes, whyche are true widowes. If any widdowes haue children or neuues, let thē lerne first to rule their owne houses godly ād to recompence their elders. For that is good and acceptable before god. She that is a very widow and freendles, putteth her trust in god, and contynueth in supplication and praier night and day. But she that liueth in pleasure/ is dead euen yet aliue. And these thinges commaunde, that they may be wt out faute. If ther be eny that prouideth not for his owne and namely for them of his housholde, the same denieth the faith, ād is worsse then an infidel.

B Let no widdow be chosē vnder three score yere olde, and such a one as was ỹ wyfe of one man, and wel reported of in good workes: if she haue norished children, if she haue bene liberal to straūgers, if she haue washed the saynctes fete, if she haue ministred vnto them which were in aduersitye, if she were contynually geuē vnto all maner good workes/ the yonger wydowes refuse. For when they haue begonne to were wantonne to the dyshonoure of Christ, then wyl they mary, hauynge * damnacyon, because they haue broken their first fayth. And also they learne to goo from house to house ydle: yee not ydle only, but also tryflyng & busy bodyes, speakyng thynges which are not commely.

What soeuer be vsed amongest vs yf god be there by dishonored it aught to be broken

¶

I wyll therfore that the yonger wemen mary and bere children, and gyde the house, and geue none occasyon to the aduersari to speake euyll. For many of them are all redy turned backe, and are gone after Satan. And yf eny man or woman that beleueth haue widdowes, let them minister vnto them, and let not the congregacion be charged: ỹ ye maye haue sufficient for them that are wydowes in deade.

The elders that rule well are worthy of doble honor, most specialy they whych laboure in the worde and teachyng. For the scripture sayth: thou shalt not muselle the mouthe of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. And the labourer is worthy of his reward. * Agaynst an elder receaue none accusacion: but vnder two or three wytnesses. Thē ỹ synne/ rebuke openly, ỹ other maye feare.

Deut. xxv. d. 1. Tym. v. a. Mathē. x. b Luke. x. b

I testifie before God and the Lorde Jesus Christ and the electe angels, that thou obserue these thinges without hasty iudgement, and do nothing partialytye. Laye handes sodenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens synnes: kepe thi selfe pure. Drincke no lenger water, but vse a lytell wyne for thy stomakes sake and thyne often dyseases.

D

Some mennes synnes are open before hande and goo before vnto iudgement: some mēs synnes folow after. Lykewyse also good workes are manifest before hand and they that are other wyse, cannot be hyd.

¶ The dutye of seruauntes towarde their maisters. Agaynst suche as are not satysfyed wt the worde of God. Agaynst couetousnes. A good lesson for riche men.

commaunde and teach. Let no man despyse thy youth: but be vnto them ỹ beleue, an ensample/ in worde, in conuersacion, in loue, in spyrite, in fayth and in purenes.

D Tyll I come, geue attendaunce to reding/ to exortacio and to doctryne. Despise not that gifte that is in thee, whiche was geuē thee throw prophecy and wt the b*laienge on of the handes of an elder. These things exercise, ād geue thy selfe vnto thē, that it maye be sene howe thou profetest in all thinges. Take hede vnto thy selfe and vnto learnynge, and continue therin. For if thou shalte so do thou shalte saue thy selfe and them that heare the.

The notes.

a *Haue their consciences marketh wt an hote iron. As, theues and euel doers are marked in the handes or other places of the body, with hote irons to the intent that their naughtines may by that marke be openly knowen euer after: euen so are the cōsciēces of false teachers marked, in ỹ they be wytnesses to thē selues that for their belyes sakes and delyte of fylthye lucre, they hide the trueth & stablishe lyes.

b *Of laienge on of handes loke in the Act. vi. b

¶ He teacheth how he shal behaue hym self in rebukynge al degrees. An order concernynge widdowes.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

A Rebuke not an elder: but exhorte him as a father, and ỹ yonger men as brethren, ỹ elder wemē as mothers, the yonger as sisters, with all purenes. Honoure widdowes, whyche are true widowes. If any widdowes haue children or neuues, let thē lerne first to rule their owne houses godly ād to recompence their elders. For that is good and acceptable before god. She that is a very widow and freendles, putteth her trust in god, and contynueth in supplication and praier night and day. But she that liueth in pleasure/ is dead euen yet aliue. And these thinges commaunde, that they may be wt out faute. If ther be eny that prouideth not for his owne and namely for them of his housholde, the same denieth the faith, ād is worsse then an infidel.

B Let no widdow be chosē vnder three score yere olde, and such a one as was ỹ wyfe of one man, and wel reported of in good workes: if she haue norished children, if she haue bene liberal to straūgers, if she haue washed the saynctes fete, if she haue ministred vnto them which were in aduersitye, if she were contynually geuē vnto all maner good workes/ the yonger wydowes refuse. For when they haue begonne to were wantonne to the dyshonoure of Christ, then wyl they mary, hauynge * damnacyon, because they haue broken their first fayth. And also they learne to goo from house to house ydle: yee not ydle only, but also tryflyng & busy bodyes, speakyng thynges which are not commely.

What soeuer be vsed amongest vs yf god be there by dishonored it aught to be broken

¶

I wyll therfore that the yonger wemen mary and bere children, and gyde the house, and geue none occasyon to the aduersari to speake euyll. For many of them are all redy turned backe, and are gone after Satan. And yf eny man or woman that beleueth haue widdowes, let them minister vnto them, and let not the congregacion be charged: ỹ ye maye haue sufficient for them that are wydowes in deade.

The elders that rule well are worthy of doble honor, most specialy they whych laboure in the worde and teachyng. For the scripture sayth: thou shalt not muselle the mouthe of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. And the labourer is worthy of his reward. * Agaynst an elder receaue none accusacion: but vnder two or three wytnesses. Thē ỹ synne/ rebuke openly, ỹ other maye feare.

Deut. xxv. d. 1. Tym. v. a. Mathē. x. b Luke. x. b

I testifie before God and the Lorde Jesus Christ and the electe angels, that thou obserue these thinges without hasty iudgement, and do nothing partialytye. Laye handes sodenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens synnes: kepe thi selfe pure. Drincke no lenger water, but vse a lytell wyne for thy stomakes sake and thyne often dyseases.

D

Some mennes synnes are open before hande and goo before vnto iudgement: some mēs synnes folow after. Lykewyse also good workes are manifest before hand and they that are other wyse, cannot be hyd.

¶ The dutye of seruauntes towarde their maisters. Agaynst suche as are not satysfyed wt the worde of God. Agaynst couetousnes. A good lesson for riche men.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

LEt as many seruauntes as are vnder the yoke, counte their masters worthy of all honour, ỹ the name of God and his doctrine be not euel spoken of. ❧ They that they which haue beleuing masters, despise them not because they are brethren: but so muche ỹ rather do seruice, for as much as they are beleuing & beloued and partakers of ỹ benefite.

These thinges teache and exhorte, If any man teache other wise, ād is not contente with the wholsome wordes of oure Lord Jesu Christ, and with ỹ doctrine of Godlines, he is pufte vp & knoweth nothinge but walketh his braines aboute questions and strife, of wordes wherof springe enuy, strife, raylinges, euel surmisinges and vaine disputacyons of men ỹ corrupte mindes & destytute of the trueth, which thincke that lucre is godlynes. From such seperate thy selfe. Godlines is greate riches, yf a man be content with that he hath. *For we brought nothinge into the world, ād it is a plaine case that we can carye nothynge out.

Job.1.d. Eccleſi.v.c.

When we haue fode and raymente, let vs therwith be content. They wyll be riche, faule into temptacion and snares, and into many folishe and innocent lustes, which drounde men in perdicion and destruccion. For couetousnes is ỹ rote of al euel, which while some lusted after they erred from the faith, and tangled them selues ỹ many sorowes. But ỹ which art the man of God, flye such thinges. Folow rightwesnes/godlines, loue pacience and meknes. Fight the good fight of fayth. Laye hande on eternall lyfe, where vnto thou arte called/ & hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

Couetouſ-nes.

I geue the charge in the sight of god which quickeneth all thinges, & before Jesu Christ which vnder Poncius Pilate witnessed a good witnessing that ỹ kepe the cōmaūdement, & be vnspot & vnrebukeable/ vntill the appearynge of our Lord Jesus Christ. * which appering (when ỹ time is come) he shal shewe that is blessed and myghty only king of

Apoca.xvii. and.xix.c

kinges, and Lord of Lordes, which only hath immortalytie and dwelleth in ỹ lyght that no man can attayne, whome neuer mā sawe, nether cā se, vnto * whō be honoure and rule euerlasting. Amē.

Iohn.1.a. 1.Iohn.4.b

Charge them that are ritche in thys world that they be not exceadinge wyse, and that they trust not in the vncertein riches/ but in the lyuing god, which geueth vs aboundauntly all thinges to enioy them, and that they do good, and be riche in good workes, ād redy to geue and distribute, layenge vp the stoare for them selues a good foūdacion agaynste the time to come ỹ they maye optayne eternal life.

O Timothe saue that which is geuen the to kepe, and auoide vngodly vanyties of voyces and oppositions of scīēce falsly so called, which scīence whil some professed, they haue erred as concernig the faith. Grace be ỹ thee. Amen.

¶ Sent from Laodicea, which is the chefest citie of Phrygia Pacaciana.

¶ The ii. Epistle

of Sainct Paule the Apostle vnto Timothe.

¶ Paul exhorteth Timothy to stedfastnes & patience in persecucyon. and to contynue in the doctrynche he had taught hym. A commēdacyon of Onesiphorus.

¶ The first Chapter.

PAulle an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by ỹ wyl of god to preache the promes of lyfe, which life is in Christ Jesu. To Timothe hys beloued sonne.

Grace, mercy and peace, from God ỹ father, and frō Jesu Christ oure Lorde. * I thanke God, whom I serue frō mine elders ỹ pure conscience, that without ceasynge I make mencion of the in my prayers nyght and daye, desyringe to se thee, myndful of thy teares: so that I am filled with ioye, when I cal to remembraunce the vnfained fayth that is in thee, which dwelt fyrst in thy graunde mother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice & am assured ỹ it dwelleth in the also.

Rom.i.a

wherfore

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

LEt as many seruauntes as are vnder the yoke, counte their masters worthy of all honour, ỹ the name of God and his doctrine be not euel spoken of. ❧ They that they which haue beleuing masters, despise them not because they are brethren: but so muche ỹ rather do seruice, for as much as they are beleuing & beloued and partakers of ỹ benefite.

These thinges teache and exhorte, If any man teache other wise, ād is not contente with the wholsome wordes of oure Lord Jesu Christ, and with ỹ doctrine of Godlines, he is pufte vp & knoweth nothinge but walketh his braines aboute questions and strife, of wordes wherof springe enuy, strife, raylinges, euel surmisinges and vaine disputacyons of men ỹ corrupte mindes & destytute of the trueth, which thincke that lucre is godlynes. From such seperate thy selfe. Godlines is greate riches, yf a man be content with that he hath. *For we brought nothinge into the world, ād it is a plaine case that we can carye nothynge out.

Job.1.d. Eccleſi.v.c.

When we haue fode and raymente, let vs therwith be content. They wyll be riche, faule into temptacion and snares, and into many folishe and innocent lustes, which drounde men in perdicion and destruccion. For couetousnes is ỹ rote of al euel, which while some lusted after they erred from the faith, and tangled them selues ỹ many sorowes. But ỹ which art the man of God, flye such thinges. Folow rightwesnes/godlines, loue pacience and meknes. Fight the good fight of fayth. Laye hande on eternall lyfe, where vnto thou arte called/ & hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

Couetouſ-nes.

I geue the charge in the sight of god which quickeneth all thinges, & before Jesu Christ which vnder Poncius Pilate witnessed a good witnessing that ỹ kepe the cōmaūdement, & be vnspot & vnrebukeable/ vntill the appearynge of our Lord Jesus Christ. * which appering (when ỹ time is come) he shal shewe that is blessed and myghty only king of

Apoca.xvii. and.xix.c

kinges, and Lord of Lordes, which only hath immortalytie and dwelleth in ỹ lyght that no man can attayne, whome neuer mā sawe, nether cā se, vnto * whō be honoure and rule euerlasting. Amē.

Iohn.1.a. 1.Iohn.4.b

Charge them that are ritche in thys world that they be not exceadinge wyse, and that they trust not in the vncertein riches/ but in the lyuing god, which geueth vs aboundauntly all thinges to enioy them, and that they do good, and be riche in good workes, ād redy to geue and distribute, layenge vp the stoare for them selues a good foūdacion agaynste the time to come ỹ they maye optayne eternal life.

O Timothe saue that which is geuen the to kepe, and auoide vngodly vanyties of voyces and oppositions of scīēce falsly so called, which scīence whil some professed, they haue erred as concernig the faith. Grace be ỹ thee. Amen.

¶ Sent from Laodicea, which is the chefest citie of Phrygia Pacaciana.

¶ The ii. Epistle

of Sainct Paule the Apostle vnto Timothe.

¶ Paul exhorteth Timothy to stedfastnes & patience in persecucyon. and to contynue in the doctrynche he had taught hym. A commēdacyon of Onesiphorus.

¶ The first Chapter.

PAulle an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by ỹ wyl of god to preache the promes of lyfe, which life is in Christ Jesu. To Timothe hys beloued sonne.

Grace, mercy and peace, from God ỹ father, and frō Jesu Christ oure Lorde. * I thanke God, whom I serue frō mine elders ỹ pure conscience, that without ceasynge I make mencion of the in my prayers nyght and daye, desyringe to se thee, myndful of thy teares: so that I am filled with ioye, when I cal to remembraunce the vnfained fayth that is in thee, which dwelt fyrst in thy graunde mother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice & am assured ỹ it dwelleth in the also.

Rom.i.a

wherfore

Wherfore I warne thee that thou stere vp the gyft of God which is in thee, by puttynge on of my handes.* For God
Rom. viii. c hath not geuen to vs the spyrite of feare, but of power/and of loue, and of soberues of mynd. Be not ashamed to testifye oure Lorde/neyther bee ashamed of mee, which am bound for his sake: but suffre thou aduersitye also wyth ỹ Gospell, thorowe the power of God, whych saued vs, and caled vs with an holy callinge/not accordynge to oure dedes/but accordinge to his awne purpose and grace, whyche grace was geuen thorowe Christ Jesu before the worlde was, but is now declared openly by the appearinge of oure sauioure Jesu Christ which hath put away deth, and hath brought lyfe and immortalite vnto lyght thorow ỹ Gospell,* wher vnto I am apoynted/a
1. Timo. ii. d preacher and Apostle, and a teacher of ỹ gentyls: for the which cause I also suffre these thynges. Neuertheles I am not ashamed. For I know whom I haue beleued, ād am sure ỹ he is able to kepe that which I haue committed to his keppynge, agaynst ỹ daye.

D So thou haue the ensample of ỹ holsome wordes which thou hearddest of me in faith and loue wich is in Jesu Christ. That good thinge, whiche was cōmytted to thy kepping, kepe in the holy gost which dwelleth in vs. This thou knowest how that all they whiche are i Asia, be turned from me. Of which sorte are Phigelos & Hermogenes. The Lorde geue mercy vnto the house of Onesiphorus for he ofte refreshed me/and was not ashamed of mi chaine: but whē he was at Rome, besought me out very dylygently, & founde me. The Lorde graunte vnto hym that he maye fynde mercie with the Lord at that daye. And in how many thynge he ministred vnto me at Ephesus thou knowest very wel.

¶ Lyke as in the fyrst Chapter, so here he exhorteth him to be constante in trouble, to suffer manly, ad to dyde fast in ỹ holsome doctryne of oure lorde Jesus Christ.

The. ii. Chapter. ✠

THou therefore my sonne, bee strōg in the grace, that is in Christ Jesu. And what thinges thou haste herde of me many bearyng wytnes, the same deliuer to faithfull men, which are apte to teache other.

Thou therfore suffre afflyccion as a good soudier of Jesu Christ. No man ỹ warreth/entangleth him self with worldely busynes, and that because he wolde please him that hath chosen him to be a soudier. And though a mā stryue for a maistery, yet is he not crouned, except he strywe laufully.* The husband man that laboreth must fyrst receaue of the frutes. Consyder what I saie. The lord geue thee vnderstandyng in al thinges. ✠

B 1. Thor. iv. a

Remember that Jesus Christ beynge of the sede of Dauid, rose agayne frō deeth accordynge to my Gospell, wherin I suffre trouble as an euyl doar, euē vnto boundes. But ỹ worde of god was not bounde. Therefore I suffre all thynges, for the electes sakes, that they myght also obtayne that saluacio which is in Christ Jesu, with eternal glory.

It is a true saying, yf we be dead with him we also shall lyue with him: If we be pacient, we shall also raygne wt him. * If we denye him, he also shall deny vs. If we beleue not, yet abideth he faythful. He cannot denye him selfe.

C Roma. vi. a

Of these thynges putte them in remembraunce, testifye before the Lord, ỹ they striue not about wordes: which is of no profit, but to peruert ỹ hearers. Study to shewe thy selfe laudable vnto God a workman that nedeth not to be a shamed, dyuydynge the worde of truth iustly.* Ungostly and vaine voyces passe ouer. For they shall encreace vn to greter vngodlynes, & their wordes shal fret euen as doeth a cancre: of whose nombre is Hymeneos ād Philetos, which as concernyng ỹ trueth haue erred, saying that the resurrecyon is past all redy, and do destroye the fayth of dyuers personnes.

1. Tim. iiii. b and. vi. d.

But the sure grounde of God remayneth, and hath this seale: the Lord knowethe them that are his, and euerye * man that calleth on the name of Christe departe from iniquite. Not wyth standyng in a greate house are not onlye vesselles of golde and of syluer: but also of wood and of earth, some for honoure, & some vntodshocoure. But if a man purge hym selfe frō suche felowes he shal be a vessell sanctified vnto honoure, mete for the lord, and prepared vnto al good workes.

Lustes of youth flye: auoyde, and folowe rightousnes, faith, loue, ād peace, with them that cal on the lord with pure herte. Folyshe and vnlerned questions put from thee, remembringe that they doo gendre strife. But the seruaunt of ỹ lorde must not stryue: but must be peseable vnto all men, and apt to teache, and one that can suffre the euyll in mekenes ād can informe them that resist, yf that god at any tyme wyll geue them repentaūce for to knowe the trueth: that they maye come to them selues agayne out of the snare of the deuell, which are nowe taken of him at his wyll.

nota Folysh and vnlerned questions put from the

He prophecieth of ỹ parlous times, setteth oute ypocrites in their colours, telleth vs what they be within, for al their fayer faces outwardly, Persecucion for the gospel.

The.iii. Chapter.

1. Timo, iiii. ii. Petr. iii Iude, i, k.

THis vnderstande, that in the last dayes shall come parelous tymes. For the mē shal be louers of their awne selues, couetous, bosters, proude, cursed speakers, disobedient to father & mother, vnthankful, vnholy, vnkind, trucebrekers, stubborne, falsecausars, riatours, fearce, despisers of them which are good, traytours, heady, hye myinded, gredy vpō voluptousnes more thē louers of God, hauynge a symilitude of godly lyuynge, but haue denied ỹ power therof: a such abhorre. Of this sorte are they which entre into houses, and bringe into bondage wimmen laden with sinne, which wemen are ledde of diuers lustes, euer cariynge neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.

nota the later tyme shalbe ful of suche that shal be good

As Iannes and Iambres withstode Moses, euen so do these resyst the truth, men they are of corrupte myndes, and lewde as concerning the faith, but they shall preuayle no lenger for they re madnes shalbe vttered vnto al men as theirs was. But thou hast leene the experience of my doctrine, fassion of liuinge / purpose, faith, longe sufferynge, loue, pacience, persecutiōs & afflictiōs which happened vnto me at Antioche, at Iconium and at Lystra: which persecutiōs I suffered pacientlye. And from them all the Lord deliuered me. Yea and al that wil lyue godlie in Christe Iesu, must suffre persecucions. But the cuyll men & deceauers shal wexe worse ād worse whyle they deceaue and are deceaued them selues.

nota all scripture geuen by inspiracion of god

But continue thou in ỹ thynges which thou hast learned / whych also were commited vnto thee, seing thou knowest of whom thou hast learned them: ād for as moche also as thou hast knowē holye scripture of a child, which is able to make the wyse vnto saluacyon therow the fayth which is in Christ Iesu. For all scripture geuē bi inspiracion of god, is profytable to teache, to improue, to amende and to instructe in rightwesnes, that the man of God maye be perfecte and prepared vnto all good workes. ii. Petr. i. d.

He exhorteth Timothy to be feruent in the worde and to suffer aduersyte, maketh mencyō of his owne death & byddeth Timothy come vnto hym.

The.iiii. Chapter.

TEstify therfore before god, and before the Lorde Iesu Christ, wich shal iudge quicke and dead at hys aperynge in his kyngdome, preach the worde / be feruent, be it in season or out of season. Improue, rebuke, exhorte with all longe sufferynge and doctrine. For the tyme wyll come / when they wyl not suffer wholsome doctryne: but after their awn lustes shal they (whose eares itche) get them an heape of teachers, and shall turne their eares from the trueth, and shalbe geuen vnto fables. But watch thou in all thinges, and suffre aduersitie and do the worke of an Euangelyst, fulfyl thyne office vnto the vttermost.

nota the tyme of the worst

For I am now redy to be offered, ād the tyme of my departinge is at hande. I haue fought a good fyght, and haue fulfylled my course, & haue kept ỹ fayth.

From

From hence forth is layde vp for mee a croune of righteousnes, which the lord that is a righteous Iudge shall geue me at that daye: not to me only, but vnto al them that loue hys comming, make spede to come vnto me at once. For Demas hath left me, and loueth the presente worlde, & is departed vnto Thessalonica. Crescens is gone to Galacia, and Titus vnto Dalmacia, onely Lucas is with me. * Take Marke and bringe him with thee, for he is necessary vnto me, for to ministre. And Tichicus haue I sent to Ephesus. The cloacke that I left at Troada wyth Capus when ꝯ commest bringe with thee, and the bookes / but specially the parchemēt. Alexander the coppersmyth dyd me much euyll, the Lorde rewarde him according to hys dedes, of whom be thou ware also. For he wyth stode our preachinge.

Colos. iiii. c

At my first answering no man assisted me, but al forsoke me. I praye god, ꝯ it may not be layde to their charges: ✠ D notwithstanding the Lorde assisted me, and strengthed me, that by me the preachinge shulde be fulfilled to the vtmost, and that al the Gentiles shulde heare. And I was delyuered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And the lorde shal deliuer me from all euill doinge, and shall kepe me vnto his heuenly kingdome to whō be prayse for euer & euer: Amen. ✠

Salute Prisca ād Aquila, ād the housholde of Onesiphorus, Erastus abode at Corinthum. Trophimos I lefte at Miletū sicke. Make spede to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, & Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, ād all ꝯ brethren. The Lorde Jesus Christ be wyth thy spirite. Grace be with you. Amen.

☞ The ende of ꝯ secode Epystle vnto Tymothe.

☞ Written frō Rome whē Paul was presented ꝯ seconde tyme vp before Emperoure Nero.

¶ The Epistle of Saynct Paul vnto Tytus.

¶ Paul exhorteth Titus to ordeyne prestes or bisshops i euery cite, declareth what maner of mē they oughte to be ꝯ are chosen to that office, & chargeth Titus to rebuke such as wstand the gospell.

¶ The first Chapter.

PAul the seruaunt of God & an Apostle of Jesu Christ, to preache the faith of godes electe / & the knowledg of the trueth, which is after godlynes vpon the hope of eternal life, which life God that cānot lye hath promysed before the worlde beganne: but hath opened his word at the time apoynted thorow preaching, which preaching is committed vnto me, by the commaūdemente of God oure saueoure. To Titus hys natural sonne in the comme fayth:

A

Grace mercy and peace from God ꝯ father and from the Lorde Jesu Christ our sauioure.

For this cause lefte I thee in Crete, ꝯ ꝯ shuldeste performe ꝯ whiche was lacking, ād shuldest ordeine * elders i euerye citie as I appointed thee. If any be faultlesse, the husband of one wife, hauīg faithful children, which are not sclaundered of ryote, neyther are disobedient. For a * bisshoppe must be faulteles, as it becometh ꝯ ministers of god: not stubborne, nor angry, no dronkard, no fighter, not geuē to filthy lucre: be harberos, one that loueth goodnes, sobre minded righteous, holy / temperat, and suche as cleueth vnto the true word of doctrine, that he may be able to exhort with wholsome lerninge, and to improue thē that saye against it.

B

* Elders whiche Timotheus calleth ouerseers. i. Tim. iii. a.

nota

For there are many disobediente ād talkers of vanite ād disceauers of mindes, namely they of ꝯ circumcisiō, whose mouthes must be stoped, which peruert whole houses, teaching thinges whiche they ought not because of filthy lucre. One beinge of thē selues / which was a poete of their owne, said: The Gretians

C

From hence forth is layde vp for mee a croune of righteousnes, which the lord that is a righteous Iudge shall geue me at that daye: not to me only, but vnto al them that loue hys comming, make spede to come vnto me at once. For Demas hath left me, and loueth the presente worlde, & is departed vnto Thessalonica. Crescens is gone to Galacia, and Titus vnto Dalmacia, onely Lucas is with me. * Take Marke and bringe him with thee, for he is necessary vnto me, for to ministre. And Tichicus haue I sent to Ephesus. The cloacke that I left at Troada wyth Capus when ꝯ commest bringe with thee, and the bookes / but specially the parchemēt. Alexander the coppersmyth dyd me much euyll, the Lorde rewarde him according to hys dedes, of whom be thou ware also. For he wyth stode our preachinge.

Colos. iiii. c

At my first answering no man assisted me, but al forsoke me. I praye god, ꝯ it may not be layde to their charges: ✠ D notwithstanding the Lorde assisted me, and strengthed me, that by me the preachinge shulde be fulfilled to the vtmost, and that al the Gentiles shulde heare. And I was delyuered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And the lorde shal deliuer me from all euill doinge, and shall kepe me vnto his heuenly kingdome to whō be prayse for euer & euer: Amen. ✠

Salute Prisca ād Aquila, ād the housholde of Onesiphorus, Erastus abode at Corinthum. Trophimos I lefte at Miletū sicke. Make spede to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, & Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, ād all ꝯ brethren. The Lorde Jesus Christ be wyth thy spirite. Grace be with you. Amen.

☞ The ende of ꝯ secode Epystle vnto Tymothe.

☞ Written frō Rome whē Paul was presented ꝯ seconde tyme vp before Emperoure Nero.

¶ The Epistle of Saynct Paul vnto Tytus.

¶ Paul exhorteth Titus to ordeyne prestes or bisshops i euery cite, declareth what maner of mē they oughte to be ꝯ are chosen to that office, & chargeth Titus to rebuke such as wstand the gospell.

¶ The first Chapter.

PAul the seruaunt of God & an Apostle of Jesu Christ, to preache the faith of godes electe / & the knowledg of the trueth, which is after godlynes vpon the hope of eternal life, which life God that cānot lye hath promysed before the worlde beganne: but hath opened his word at the time apoynted thorow preaching, which preaching is committed vnto me, by the commaūdemente of God oure saueoure. To Titus hys natural sonne in the comme fayth:

A

Grace mercy and peace from God ꝯ father and from the Lorde Jesu Christ our sauioure.

For this cause lefte I thee in Crete, ꝯ ꝯ shuldeste performe ꝯ whiche was lacking, ād shuldest ordeine * elders i euerye citie as I appointed thee. If any be faultlesse, the husband of one wife, hauīg faithful children, which are not sclaundered of ryote, neyther are disobedient. For a * bisshoppe must be faulteles, as it becometh ꝯ ministers of god: not stubborne, nor angry, no dronkard, no fighter, not geuē to filthy lucre: be harberos, one that loueth goodnes, sobre minded righteous, holy / temperat, and suche as cleueth vnto the true word of doctrine, that he may be able to exhort with wholsome lerninge, and to improue thē that saye against it.

B

* Elders whiche Timotheus calleth ouerseers. i. Tim. iii. a.

nota

For there are many disobediente ād talkers of vanite ād disceauers of mindes, namely they of ꝯ circumcisiō, whose mouthes must be stoped, which peruert whole houses, teaching thinges whiche they ought not because of filthy lucre. One beinge of thē selues / which was a poete of their owne, said: The Gretians

C

are all wayes lyars euill beastes, & slowe belyes.

This witnes is true, wherfore rebuke them sharpely, that the may be sound in the fayth, and not taking hede to Jewes fables, and commaundemētes of mē that turne from the trueth. * Unto the pure are all thinges pure, but vnto thē that are defyled and vnbeleuing, is nothing pure, but euen the very mindes & consciences of them are defyled. They confesse that they knowe god: but with the dedes they deny him, and are abhominable and disobedient, and vnto all good worckes discommendable.

Rom, xiiii. d

* Bysshopes and elders is al one and an officer, chosen to gouerne the congregation in doctrine ād lyuynge.

¶ He telleth hym how he shall teache al degrees to behaue them selues

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

A Olde menne Olde wemen

But speake thou that which becommeth wholsom learninge. That the elder men be sober, honest/discret, sōde in the fayth, in loue, and in pacience. And the elder wemen lykewise ỹ they be in such rayment as becometh holynes, not false acusers, not geuen to muche drinking, but teachers of honest thinges, to make ỹ yonge wemē sobre minded, to loue theyr husbandes to loue theyr Children, to be discreate, chaste, huswifly, good and obedient vnto theyr owne husbāde that the worde of god be not euell spoken of. Yong men lykewyse exhorte that they be sober minded.

yong wemen

B

yong menne

Aboue all thinges shew thy selfe an ensample of good worckes with vncorrupte doctrine with honestie, and wyth the wholsome worde which cannot bee rebuked/that hee which withstandeth, may be ashamed, hauīg nothing in you that he may dispraise. The seruauntes exhorte to be obedient vnto theyr owne maisters and to please in al thinges not answering agayne, nether to be pikers but that they shew al good faithfulnes that they maye do worshype to the doctrine of our sauiour God in al thinges.

C

Ephes, vi, a. i. Peter. v. c. Colos, iii d.

For the grace of God, that bringethe saluacion vnto al men/hathe appeared and teacheth vs that we shuld deny vngodlynes, & worldly lustes/& ỹ we shuld liue sobre minded, righteously & godly in this present worlde, loking for ỹ blessed hope and glorious apering of the mighty God, and of oure sauioure Jesus Christ which gaue him selfe for vs, to redeme vs from al vnryghteweſnes, ād to pourge vs a peculyar people vnto him self, feruently geuē vnto good workes. These thynges speake, and exhorte, & and rebuke, with al commandyng. Se that no man despyse thee.

D

¶ Of obedyence to such as be in auctorite: He warneth Tytus to beware of folysh and vnprofitable questyons?

The. iii. Chapter.

Arne them that they submit thē selues to rule and power, to obey the officers, that they be readye vnto all good workes, that they speke euyll of no man, that they be no fyghters, but softe, shewyng all meknes vnto all men. For we oure selues also were in tymes past, vnwyse: dysobedient/ deceaued, in dauger to lustes, and to diuers maners of volupteousnes, lyuynge in malicyousnes and enuye, ful of hate hatynge one another.

Officers muste bee obeyed

But after that the kyndnes and loue of oure saueoure God to man warde appered, not of the dedes of ryghteweſnes which we wrought but of hys mercie he saued vs/by the fountayne of the newe byrth, and with the renuyng of the holy goste, which he shed on vs aboundantly, thorowe Jesus Christ our saueoure, that we once iustified by hys grace/ shuld be heyres of eternall life, thorowe hope. & This is a true sayinge.

B

ii. Tym, ii. a.

i. Tymo, i. d

ii. Tim, iii. d

Of these thinges I wolde ỹ shuldest certify, that they which beleue God, myght be diligēt to go forward in good workes. These thinges are good ād profitable vnto men. Foolisshe questions and Genealogies, and braulynge and stryfe aboute the lawe/auoyde: for they are vnprofitable and superfluous. A man that is geuen to heresye, after ỹ fyrst and the second admonicion, auoyde remembringe, that he that is suche, is peruerted and synneth, euen damned by his awne iudgement.

C

¶ Note what longeth to good workes, foolysshe questions/ auoyde

When I shall sende Artemas vnto thee, or Tichicus, be diligēt to come to me

D

vnto

vnto Nichopolis. For I haue determined there to winter. Bring zenas ỹ lawyer and Apollos on ther iourney diligẽtly, that nothing be lacking vnto them. And let oures also learne to excell in all good workes as farforth as nede requireth, that they be not vnfrutefull. All ỹ are with me, salute thee. Grete thẽ that loue vs in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

Written from Nychopolys a cytie of Macedonia.

¶ The Epistle of

Sayncte Paul vnto Philemon.

¶ He reioyseth to heare of the fayth & loue of Philemon. whom he desyreth to forgeue hys seruaunte Onesymus, & louyngly to receaue hym agayne:

PAule the prysoner of Jesus Christ, and brother Timotheus.

Unto Philemon ỹ beloued and our helper, and to ỹ beloued Appia/and to Archippus, our felowe soudier and to the congregatiõ of thy house.

Grace be with you and peace, from God ỹ father and from the Lorde Jesu Christ.

I thanke my god, making mencion all wayes of thee in my prayers, when I heare of the loue and fayth/which thou hast towarde the Lorde Jesu, and towarde al sainctes: so that the fellofhipp ỹ thou hast i the fayth is frutefull thorow knowledg of al good thinges, which are in you by Jesus Christ. And we haue great ioye & consolacion ouer thy loue. For by thee (brother) the saínctes hertes are comforted.

Wherfore though I be bolde i Christ to enioye thee, that wich becõmeth the: yet for loues sake I rather beseche thee, though I be as I am euen Paul aged, and now in bõdes for Jesu Christes sake. I beseech thee for my sõne Onesimus whom I begate in my bondes, which in time past was to thee vnprofytable: but now profitable both to thee & also to me, whom I haue sente home agayne. Thou therfore receaue him, that is to saye myne awne bowels, whom I wolde fayne haue retayned with me, that i thy stede he myght haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the Gospel. Neuertheless/without thy mynde wold I do nothing, that the good which springeth of thee, shulde not be as it were of necessite but wyllyngly.

Happly he therfore departed for a season, that thou shuldest receaue him foreuer, not nowe as a seruaunt but aboue a seruaunt, I meane a brother beloued, specially to me: but how moch more vnto thee, both in the flesh, and also in the Lorde? If thou count me a felow, receaue him as my selfe. If he haue hurt thee or oweth the ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it wyth myne awne hande. I wyll recompence it. So that I do not say to thee, how that ỹ owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe. Euen so brother let me enioye thee in ỹ Lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Truslinge in thyne obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing ỹ thou wilt do more then I saye for. Moreouer ye prepare me lodginge: for I trust thorow ỹ hope of your prayers, I shalbe geuen vnto you. There salute thee, Epaphras my felow prysoner in Christe Jesu/Marcus, Aristarchus Demas, Lucas, my helper: The grace of oure Lord Jesu Christ be with your spretes Amen.

Sent from Rome by Onesimus a seruaunt.

vnto Nichopolis. For I haue determined there to winter. Bring zenas ỹ lawyer and Apollos on ther iourney diligẽtly, that nothing be lacking vnto them. And let oures also learne to excell in all good workes as farforth as nede requireth, that they be not vnfrutefull. All ỹ are with me, salute thee. Grete thẽ that loue vs in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

Written from Nychopolys a cytie of Macedonia.

¶ The Epistle of

Sayncte Paul vnto Philemon.

¶ He reioyseth to heare of the fayth & loue of Philemon. whom he desyreth to forgeue hys seruaunte Onesymus, & louyngly to receaue hym agayne:

PAule the prysoner of Jesus Christ, and brother Timotheus.

Unto Philemon ỹ beloued and our helper, and to ỹ beloued Appia/and to Archippus, our felowe soudier and to the congregatiõ of thy house.

Grace be with you and peace, from God ỹ father and from the Lorde Jesu Christ.

I thanke my god, making mencion all wayes of thee in my prayers, when I heare of the loue and fayth/which thou hast towarde the Lorde Jesu, and towarde al sainctes: so that the fellofhipp ỹ thou hast i the fayth is frutefull thorow knowledg of al good thinges, which are in you by Jesus Christ. And we haue great ioye & consolacion ouer thy loue. For by thee (brother) the saínctes hertes are comforted.

Wherfore though I be bolde i Christ to enioye thee, that wich becõmeth the: yet for loues sake I rather beseche thee, though I be as I am euen Paul aged, and now in bõdes for Jesu Christes sake. I beseech thee for my sõne Onesimus whom I begate in my bondes, which in time past was to thee vnprofytable: but now profitable both to thee & also to me, whom I haue sente home agayne. Thou therfore receaue him, that is to saye myne awne bowels, whom I wolde fayne haue retayned with me, that i thy stede he myght haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the Gospel. Neuertheless/without thy mynde wold I do nothing, that the good which springeth of thee, shulde not be as it were of necessite but wyllyngly.

Happly he therfore departed for a season, that thou shuldest receaue him foreuer, not nowe as a seruaunt but aboue a seruaunt, I meane a brother beloued, specially to me: but how moch more vnto thee, both in the flesh, and also in the Lorde? If thou count me a felow, receaue him as my selfe. If he haue hurt thee or oweth the ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it wyth myne awne hande. I wyll recompence it. So that I do not say to thee, how that ỹ owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe. Euen so brother let me enioye thee in ỹ Lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Truslinge in thyne obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing ỹ thou wilt do more then I saye for. Moreouer ye prepare me lodginge: for I trust thorow ỹ hope of your prayers, I shalbe geuen vnto you. There salute thee, Epaphras my felow prysoner in Christe Jesu/Marcus, Aristarchus Demas, Lucas, my helper: The grace of oure Lord Jesu Christ be with your spretes Amen.

Sent from Rome by Onesimus a seruaunt.

vnto Nichopolis. For I haue determined there to winter. Bring zenas ỹ lawyer and Apollos on ther iourney diligẽtly, that nothing be lacking vnto them. And let oures also learne to excell in all good workes as farforth as nede requireth, that they be not vnfrutefull. All ỹ are with me, salute thee. Grete thẽ that loue vs in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

Written from Nychopolys a cytie of Macedonia.

¶ The Epistle of

Sayncte Paul vnto Philemon.

¶ He reioyseth to heare of the fayth & loue of Philemon. whom he desyreth to forgeue hys seruaunte Onesymus, & louyngly to receaue hym agayne:

PAule the prysoner of Jesus Christ, and brother Timotheus.

Unto Philemon ỹ beloued and our helper, and to ỹ beloued Appia/and to Archippus, our felowe soudier and to the congregatiõ of thy house.

Grace be with you and peace, from God ỹ father and from the Lorde Jesu Christ.

I thanke my god, making mencion all wayes of thee in my prayers, when I heare of the loue and fayth/which thou hast towarde the Lorde Jesu, and towarde al sainctes: so that the fellofhipp ỹ thou hast i the fayth is frutefull thorow knowledg of al good thinges, which are in you by Jesus Christ. And we haue great ioye & consolacion ouer thy loue. For by thee (brother) the saínctes hertes are comforted.

Wherfore though I be bolde i Christ to enioye thee, that wich becõmeth the: yet for loues sake I rather beseche thee, though I be as I am euen Paul aged, and now in bõdes for Jesu Christes sake. I beseech thee for my sõne Onesimus whom I begate in my bondes, which in time past was to thee vnprofytable: but now profitable both to thee & also to me, whom I haue sente home agayne. Thou therfore receaue him, that is to saye myne awne bowels, whom I wolde fayne haue retayned with me, that i thy stede he myght haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the Gospel. Neuertheless/without thy mynde wold I do nothing, that the good which springeth of thee, shulde not be as it were of necessite but wyllyngly.

Happly he therfore departed for a season, that thou shuldest receaue him foreuer, not nowe as a seruaunt but aboue a seruaunt, I meane a brother beloued, specially to me: but how moch more vnto thee, both in the flesh, and also in the Lorde? If thou count me a felow, receaue him as my selfe. If he haue hurt thee or oweth the ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it wyth myne awne hande. I wyll recompence it. So that I do not say to thee, how that ỹ owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe. Euen so brother let me enioye thee in ỹ Lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Truslinge in thyne obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing ỹ thou wilt do more then I saye for. Moreouer ye prepare me lodginge: for I trust thorow ỹ hope of your prayers, I shalbe geuen vnto you. There salute thee, Epaphras my felow prysoner in Christe Jesu/Marcus, Aristarchus Demas, Lucas, my helper: The grace of oure Lord Jesu Christ be with your spretes Amen.

Sent from Rome by Onesimus a seruaunt.

¶ The i. Epistle

of Sainct Peter the Apostle.

He sheweth that thorow the aboundaunte mercy of God we are begotten agayne to a lyuelye hope, and how fayth must be tryed: how the saluacion in chryst is no newes, but a thing prophecyed of olde: He exhorteth them to a godly conuersacyon, forso much as they are now borne anew by the worde of God.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A PEter an Apostle of Jesus Christe: to theym that dwell here and there as straungers thorow out Pontus, Galacia, Capadocia, Asia, and Bethynia electe by the forknowledge of God the father thorow the sanctifiynge of the spirite/ vnto obedience, and sprynckelynge of the bloude of Jesus Chryst.

Grace be with you, and peace be multiplyed.

Blessed be God the Father of oure Lorde Jesus Christ, which thorow hys aboundant mercy begat vs agayn vnto a* lyuely hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from deathe, to enioye an enheritaunce immortall and vndefyled, and that perisheth not/ reserued in heauen for you, which are kepte by the power of GOD thorowe faith, vnto saluacyon, whiche Saluation is prepared alreadye to bee shewed in the last tyme,

B in the whiche Time ye shall reioyce, though now for a season (if nede requyre) ye are in heuynes thorow manifolde temptacions that youre fayth ones tryed, being much more precious then golde that perisheth (though it be tryed wt fyre) might be founde vnto laude glory & honour, at ỳ appering of Jesus Christ whom ye haue not sene ād yet loue him, in whom euē now, though ye se him not yet do you beleue: and reioyce wyth ioy, vnspeakable and gloryous: receauynge the ende of youre fayth, the saluacion of youre soules.

Of which saluacion haue the Prophetes enquyred & searched/ which prophesied of ỳ grace that shuld come vnto you/ searching when or at what tyme of the spyrete of Christ which was in them, shuld signifie/ which spyrete testified before, the passions that shulde come vnto Christ, and the glory that shulde folowe after: vnto which Prophetes it C was declared, that not vnto themselues but vnto vs, they shuld minister ỳ thinges which are nowe shewed vnto you of them which by the holy goost sēt doune from heauē, haue preached vnto you the thynges which the angels desyre to beholde.

Wherfore gyrde vp the loynes of your myndes, be sober, ād trust perfectly on the grace that is broughte vnto you, by the declaryng of Jesus Christ/ as obedient chyldrē, not facionyng youre selues vnto your olde lustes of ignorance: but as hee whiche called you is holy euen so be ye holy in all maner of conuersacyon, because it is writtē. Be ye holy, for I am holy.

And yf so bee that ye call on the father whych wt out respect of person iudgeth accordyng to euery mannes * workes, se that ye passe the tyme of your pilgremage in feare. + For as moche as ye knowe how ỳ ye were not redemed with corruptible syluer and golde from youre vayne conuersacion whiche ye receaued by the tradicios of ỳ fathers: but with the precious bloude of Christe, as of a lambe vndefyled, & without spot, which was ordeyned before ỳ worlde was made: but was declared in the last tymes for youre sakes, whiche by his meanes haue beleued on God that rayled him from death, and glorifyed hym, ỳ youre fayth & hope myght be in God.

And for as muche as ye haue purifyed your soules thorow the spyrete, in obeyeng the trueth for to loue brotherly without fainting, se that yee loue one another wyth a pure herte feruentlye. For yee are borne a newe not of mortall seade but of immortall, by the word of God whyche lyueth and lasteth for euer.

For

¶ The i. Epistle

of Sainct Peter the Apostle.

He sheweth that thorow the aboundaunte mercy of God we are begotten agayne to a lyuelye hope, and how fayth must be tryed: how the saluacion in chryst is no newes, but a thing prophecyed of olde: He exhorteth them to a godly conuersacyon, forso much as they are now borne anew by the worde of God.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

A PEter an Apostle of Jesus Christe: to theym that dwell here and there as straungers thorow out Pontus, Galacia, Capadocia, Asia, and Bethynia electe by the forknowledge of God the father thorow the sanctifiynge of the spirite/ vnto obedience, and sprynckelynge of the bloude of Jesus Chryst.

Grace be with you, and peace be multiplyed.

Blessed be God the Father of oure Lorde Jesus Christ, which thorow hys aboundant mercy begat vs agayn vnto a* lyuely hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from deathe, to enioye an enheritaunce immortall and vndefyled, and that perisheth not/ reserued in heauen for you, which are kepte by the power of GOD thorowe faith, vnto saluacyon, whiche Saluation is prepared alreadye to bee shewed in the last tyme,

B in the whiche Time ye shall reioyce, though now for a season (if nede requyre) ye are in heuynes thorow manifolde temptacions that youre fayth ones tryed, being much more precious then golde that perisheth (though it be tryed wt fyre) might be founde vnto laude glory & honour, at ỳ appering of Jesus Christ whom ye haue not sene ād yet loue him, in whom euē now, though ye se him not yet do you beleue: and reioyce wyth ioy, vnspeakable and gloryous: receauynge the ende of youre fayth, the saluacion of youre soules.

Of which saluacion haue the Prophetes enquyred & searched/ which prophesied of ỳ grace that shuld come vnto you/ searching when or at what tyme of the spyrete of Christ which was in them, shuld signifie/ which spyrete testified before, the passions that shulde come vnto Christ, and the glory that shulde folowe after: vnto which Prophetes it C was declared, that not vnto themselues but vnto vs, they shuld minister ỳ thinges which are nowe shewed vnto you of them which by the holy goost sēt doune from heauē, haue preached vnto you the thynges which the angels desyre to beholde.

Wherfore gyrde vp the loynes of your myndes, be sober, ād trust perfectly on the grace that is broughte vnto you, by the declaryng of Jesus Christ/ as obedient chyldrē, not facionyng youre selues vnto your olde lustes of ignorance: but as hee whiche called you is holy euen so be ye holy in all maner of conuersacyon, because it is writtē. Be ye holy, for I am holy.

And yf so bee that ye call on the father whych wt out respect of person iudgeth accordyng to euery mannes * workes, se that ye passe the tyme of your pilgremage in feare. + For as moche as ye knowe how ỳ ye were not redemed with corruptible syluer and golde from youre vayne conuersacion whiche ye receaued by the tradicios of ỳ fathers: but with the precious bloude of Christe, as of a lambe vndefyled, & without spot, which was ordeyned before ỳ worlde was made: but was declared in the last tymes for youre sakes, whiche by his meanes haue beleued on God that rayled him from death, and glorifyed hym, ỳ youre fayth & hope myght be in God.

And for as muche as ye haue purifyed your soules thorow the spyrete, in obeyeng the trueth for to loue brotherly without fainting, se that yee loue one another wyth a pure herte feruentlye. For yee are borne a newe not of mortall seade but of immortall, by the word of God whyche lyueth and lasteth for euer.

For

Esay:xl, Ecclc.xliii.c Jacob.i,d For al flesh is as grasse, and al the glorye of mā is as the floure of grasse. The grasse wethereth, & ẏ floure faleth away
but the word of the Lord endureth euer.
¶ And this is the word which by ẏ gospel was preached among you.

The notes.

Here Peter (as other true apostles do) fyrst setteth forth the treasure of mercy whiche God hath bound hym selfe to geue vs for Chystes sake and then oure dutye what we be bounde to do againe, if we wil be partakers of the mercy.

a* A liuely hope is that whereby we be certayne of euerlasting lyfe.
* By oure workes shal we be iudged: for as the inuysible faith is, suche are the workes by whiche the faith is sene.
¶ He exhorteth men to laye asyde al vice, whereby Chryst is the foundacyon wher vpō they built, praieth thē to abstaine frō fleshly lustes, & to obey worldly rulers. How seruaūts shulde behaue them selues toward their masters. He exhorteth to suffer after ẏ ensample of Chryst.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

Wherfore laye aside al malycyousnes and all gyle/and dissimulation, and enuie & all backebytings: & as newe borne babes, desyre that reasonable mylke, wich is without corrup-
cion, that ye may growe ther in. If so be that ye haue tasted how pleasaunt ẏ lorde is, to whome ye come as vnto a liuinge stoone disalowed of men, but chosen of god and precious: and ye as liuing stones/ are made a spretuall house, and an holy prestehode for to offer vp spirytual sacrifice, acceptable to GOD by Jesus Chryst.

Wherfore it is contayned in ẏ scripture: behold I put in Sion an head corner stone, electe and precious: and he ẏ beleueth on him, shal not be ashamed.*
Vnto you therfore which beleue/ he is precyous but vnto them which beleue not the stone which the buylders refused, the same is made the head stone in ẏ corner, and a stoone to stomble at, and a rocke to offend them which stomble at ẏ worde, and beleue not that wheron they were set. But ye are a chosen generacyō, a royal prestehode, an holy nacion, & a peculier people, ẏ ye shulde shewe the vertuos of hi ẏ calleth you out of darkenes, to his maruelos light which i time past were not a people, yet are now the people of god: which were not vnder mercy but now haue obtayned mercye. ¶

Pet.ii.c Esa.xxviii.c Psal.cxvii.d Actuum,iiii.c

¶ Derely beloued, I beseche you as straungers and pylgrems/ abstayne from fleshly lustes, which fight against the soule/ and se that ye haue honest cō-uersacion among the gentyles, that the which backbyte you as euill doers, may see your good workes and prayse God
a* in the daye of visitacion.

Submitte your selues vnto all maner ordynaūce of man for the Lords sake, whether it be vnto the king as vnto
the cheke head, other vnto rulers as vnto them that are sent of him, for the punishmente of eueldoers, but for the laude of them that do well. For so is the wil of God, that ye put to silence the igno-raunce of the folyshe men: as free, and not as hauinge the lyberte for a cloake of malyciousnes: but euen as the seruan tes of God. ¶ Honoure all men. Loue brotherly fellowshippe. Feare god/ād honour the kinge.

Seruauntes obeye youre masters with all feare, not onely if they be good and curteous: but also though they bee frowarde. For it is thanckworthye yf a man for conscience towarde god endure grefe suffrynge wrongfully. For what prayse is in it, if when ye be buffeted for your faultes, ye take it paciently? But a if whē ye do well ye suffre wrong, & take it paciently, thē is thers thanke w̄ god.

For, therevnto were ye verely called for ¶ Chryst also suffered for vs, leding vs an ensample that ye shuld folowe his steppes, which dyd no synne, neyther was there gyle founde in hys mouthe, which whē he was reuiled not reuiled a gayn, whē he suffered, he thretened not,
but cōmitted the cause to hym that iudged righteously, * which hys owne selfe bare oure synnes in his bodye on the tree, that we shoulde be delyuered from synne and shoulde lyue in rightuousnes, By whose stryppes ye were healed. For ye were as shepe going astraye: but are now returned vnto shepherde and bys-shop of your soules.

The notes.

* We be the church and the obedyence of the hert is the spirytual sacrifice: Bodely sacrifice must be offered to oure neyghboures for if thou offerest it to god thou makest a bodely idole of hym.
a* In the daye of vysitacyon. So doth Peter cal ẏ tyme in whych god vouchsaketh whyys inspyrati ō to cal a man to better lyuynge.

he wil

How wyues ought to ozdre themselues toward their husbandes, and in their apparel. The duetye of men toward theyr wyues. He exhozteth all men to vnytye and loue and pacyently to suffre trouble. Of true baptym.

The.iii.Chapter.

LIke wyse let the wyues bee in subiection to their husbā des that euen they which be- leue not in the wozde, maye A without the wozde be wō- ne by the conuersacion of ỹ wiues: while they beholde youre pure conuersatiō coupled with feare. Whose apparell shall not be outewarde wyth broyded heare, and hanging on of gold, ether in putting one of glozious appar- rel: but let the hyd mā of the hert be vn- cozrupte, wyth a meke and quiet spzete, which spzete is befoze God a thing mu- che set by. Foz after this maner in ỹ olde time did the holy wemen whiche trusted in god, tyer them selues, and were obe- dient to their husbandes, euen as Sa- B ra obeied Abzaham, and called hi Lozd: whose daughters ye are as longe as ye do wel, not beinge afrayde of euery sha- dowe.

Likewise ye men*dwel with them accozding to knowledge.b*geuing ho- noure vnto the wife, as vnto the weker vessell, and as vnto theim that are hey- res also of the grace of lyfe, that youre pzaiers be not let.

✠ In conclusion, be ye al of one minde, one suffer with another, loue as bzethzē C be pitifull/be courteous, not rendzynge euyl foz euyl/nether rebuke foz rebuke, but contrary wise blesse, remembzing ỹ ye are ther vnto called, euen ỹ ye shulde be heyzes of blessinge. If any man lōge after life, and loueth to se good daies, let hym refraine his tonge from euell, & his lyppes that they speake not gyle. Let him eschue euyll and do good: let him seke peace, and eschue it. Foz the eyes of the Lozd are ouer the rghtwes, and his eares are open vnto their pzay ers. But the face of the lozde beholdeth them that do euel.

Mozeouer who is it that wil harme you, if ye folowe ỹ which is good.

Notwithstandinge happye are ye if ye suffre foz righteousnes sake. Yea and feare not thoughe they seme terrible vn- to you, neyther bee troubled: but sanctifye the Lozde god in your hertes.

Bee readye alwayes to geue answere to euery man that asketh you reason of the hope that is in you, and that withe mekenes and feare, hauing good con- science, that when they backbite you as euil doers, they maye be ashamed, foz as much as they haue falsely accused your good conuersacion in Christ.

It is better (if the wyl of God be so) that ye suffre foz wel doinge, then foz e- uell doinge. ✠ Foz as much as Christe hath ones suffered foz synnes, the iuste foz the vniuste, foz to bzinge vs to God, ād was killed as pertayning to the flesh but was quickened in the spirite. D

In whiche spirite he also wente and pzeached vnto the spyzites that were in pzyson, which were in tyme passed diso- bedient when the longe suffering of god abode exceadinge pacientlye in the days of Noe, whyle the arke was a pzeparin- ge wherin feawe (that is to saye. viii. so- les) were saued by water which signifye- eth*baptysme that nowe saueth vs, not the puttinge awaye of ỹ fylth of the flesh/ but in that good conscience consenteth to GOD, by the resurrection of Jesus Christe, whiche is on the righte hand of god: ✠ and is gone into heauen, an- geles, powers and mighte and subdued vnto him.

The notes.

a*To dwel with them is, wyth kaythfulnes, with the despysinge of pleasures and of ambycion, with ỹ deckyng of ỹ inner man, wyth ỹ mekenes and de- murenes of a quyet spzete, wyth loue and reuerēce, to ozder them: Not accozdynge to oure wylful cō- maundement and lust, but accozdige to knowlege: appoyntinge them to do nothyng but ỹ is expedy- ent, and fauoureyng them in nothyng ỹ may hurte oz cozupt honest condytions & manners.

b*Geuynge honour vnto the wyfe. Erasmus in hys annotacyons noteth out of S. Hierome, that to geue honour here is not to bowe the knee to them noz to decke them wyth golde oz pzecious stones but to abstaine from fleshly lustes.

c*By baptime here do dyuers learned interpzeters vnderstande the bloud and passion of Chzist by a fi- gure takinge the signe foz the thinge signified ther- by, foz this doth Baptyme syguifye vnto vs, beside other things, that as we are there washed w̄ water so are oure sinnes washed away with the shedyng of Chzistes bloude.

The exhorteth men to ceasse from sinne, to spende no worse tyme in vice, to be sober & apt to prayer, to loue eche other, to be pacient in trouble, & to beware þ no man suffer as an euell doer, but as a Christē mā and not to be ashamed.

The. iiii. Chapter.

FOr as moche as Christ hath suffred for vs in the flesche, arme youre selues lyke wise with the same mynde: for he which suffereth in þ flesche/ ceaseth from synne, that he hence forwarde shulde lyue as moche time as remayneth in the flesh: not after the lustes of men but after the wyll of God. For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the time that is past of the lyfe, after the wyll of the gentyles, walkyng in wantannes, lustes, dronckennes, in eatyng, drinkyng and in abhominable Idolatrie.

nota walkyng in eatyng and Dryncking

And it semeth to thē a straūge thinge that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of ryote, and therfore speake they euyll of you, whych shall geue a comptes to hym that is redy to iudge quik and deed. * For vnto this purpose verelye was the Gospell preached vnto the deed that they shulde be iudged lyke other men i the flesshe, but shulde lyue before God i þ spyrite. The ende of all thinges is at hande.

Be ye therfore discrete and sober, that ye may be apt to prayers. But aboue al thynges haue feruent loue among you. For loue couereth the multitude of synnes. Be ye herberous one to another, ād that without grudgynge. As euery man hath receaued the gyfte, minister the same one to another, as good ministers of the manyfolde grace of God. If eny man speake let him talke as though he spake the wordes of God. If eny man minister, let him do it as of þ abylite which God ministreth vnto him. That god i all thynges maye be glorifyed thorow Jesus Christ/ to whom be prayse & dominion for euer and while the worlde standeth: Amen.

Dearely beloued be not troubled in this heate, which now is come among you to trye you as though some straunge thinge had happened vnto you: but reioyce in as much as ye are partakers of Christes passions, that whē hys glory appeareth, ye may be mery and glad. If ye be rayled vpō for þ name of Christ happy are ye. For the spyrite of glory & of God resteth vpon you. On theyr parte he is euell spoken of: but on your parte he is glorifyed.

He that none of you suffre as a murtherer/ or as a theefe, or an euell doer, or as a busi body in other mens maters. If eny man suffre as a christen man, let hym not be ashamed: but let hi glorify God on this behalfe for the time is come that iudgement must begin ne at the house of god *. If it first begin ne at vs, what shal the ende be of them which beleue not the gospell of god? ād if the righteous scarcely be saued, wher shal the vngodly and the synner apeare. Wherfore let them that suffer according to the wyll of God, commyt their soules to hym with well doyng, as vnto a faithfull creature.

The notes.

* For vnto thys purpose was the gospell preached vnto the deade. &c. As certayne lerned expositours wyll: that he here calleth preachinge of the gospell, vnto the dead, in the chapter goynge next before he calleth the preachinge to the spyrytes that were in prison: whiche thynge (say they) signifyeth as much as vnto the dead also or spyrites in prison, came the saulue or medecyne of the Gospel and of the glad tidinges of Christes passion wherby they were loosed the strength therof being so pythy that they were therwyth brought forth of prison to immortalitye. And because it myghte haue beene demaunded, how the soules of these blessed came forth of prison whether compassed wyth theyr bodyes or onely in þ pure substaunce of the spirite, therfore sayth Peter that they should be iudged lyke other men in þ flesshe that is when al other men shalbe iudged in the flesh. But shoulde lyue before God in the spirite whiche signifyeth þ in the meane season tyll þ iudgemēte come shall theyr soules lyue and reioyce before god thorow Christ.

* If the sonnes of god must be all scourged and none maye be saued, but thorowe the same, fyre Christ went thorowe. what shal the dampnacyon of the disobedient and vnbeleuers be.

¶ A specyall exhortacyon for al bisshops or prestes to kepe the flocke of Christe, and what theyre dutye is & what rewarde they shal haue if they be dylygēt. He exhorteth yong persons to submit them selues to the elder, euery one to loue another, to bee sober ād to watche, that they maye resiste the enemye.

The. v. Chapter.

The

The exhorteth men to ceasse from sinne, to spende no worse tyme in vice, to be sober & apt to prayer, to loue eche other, to be pacient in trouble, & to beware þ no man suffer as an euell doer, but as a Christē mā and not to be ashamed.

The. iiii. Chapter.

FOr as moche as Christ hath suffred for vs in the flesche, arme youre selues lyke wise with the same mynde: for he which suffereth in þ flesche/ ceaseth from synne, that he hence forwarde shulde lyue as moche time as remayneth in the flesh: not after the lustes of men but after the wyll of God. For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the time that is past of the lyfe, after the wyll of the gentyles, walkyng in wantannes, lustes, dronckennes, in eatyng, drinkyng and in abhominable Idolatrie.

nota walkyng in eatyng and Dryncking

And it semeth to thē a straūge thinge that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of ryote, and therfore speake they euyll of you, whych shall geue a comptes to hym that is redy to iudge quik and deed. * For vnto this purpose verelye was the Gospell preached vnto the deed that they shulde be iudged lyke other men i the flesshe, but shulde lyue before God i þ spyrite. The ende of all thinges is at hande.

Be ye therfore discrete and sober, that ye may be apt to prayers. But aboue al thynges haue feruent loue among you. For loue couereth the multitude of synnes. Be ye herberous one to another, ād that without grudgynge. As euery man hath receaued the gyfte, minister the same one to another, as good ministers of the manyfolde grace of God. If eny man speake let him talke as though he spake the wordes of God. If eny man minister, let him do it as of þ abylite which God ministreth vnto him. That god i all thynges maye be glorifyed thorow Jesus Christ/ to whom be prayse & dominion for euer and while the worlde standeth: Amen.

Dearely beloued be not troubled in this heate, which now is come among you to trye you as though some straunge thinge had happened vnto you: but reioyce in as much as ye are partakers of Christes passions, that whē hys glory appeareth, ye may be mery and glad. If ye be rayled vpō for þ name of Christ happy are ye. For the spyrite of glory & of God resteth vpon you. On theyr parte he is euell spoken of: but on your parte he is glorifyed.

He that none of you suffre as a murtherer/ or as a theefe, or an euell doer, or as a busi body in other mens maters. If eny man suffre as a christen man, let hym not be ashamed: but let hi glorify God on this behalfe for the time is come that iudgement must begin ne at the house of god *. If it first begin ne at vs, what shal the ende be of them which beleue not the gospell of god? ād if the righteous scarcely be saued, wher shal the vngodly and the synner apeare. Wherfore let them that suffer according to the wyll of God, commyt their soules to hym with well doyng, as vnto a faithfull creature.

The notes.

* For vnto thys purpose was the gospell preached vnto the deade. &c. As certayne lerned expositours wyll: that he here calleth preachinge of the gospell, vnto the dead, in the chapter goynge next before he calleth the preachinge to the spyrytes that were in prison: whiche thynge (say they) signifyeth as much as vnto the dead also or spyrites in prison, came the saulue or medecyne of the Gospel and of the glad tidinges of Christes passion wherby they were loosed the strength therof being so pythy that they were therwyth brought forth of prison to immortalitye. And because it myghte haue beene demaunded, how the soules of these blessed came forth of prison whether compassed wyth theyr bodyes or onely in þ pure substaunce of the spirite, therfore sayth Peter that they should be iudged lyke other men in þ flesshe that is when al other men shalbe iudged in the flesh. But shoulde lyue before God in the spirite whiche signifyeth þ in the meane season tyll þ iudgemēte come shall theyr soules lyue and reioyce before god thorow Christ.

* If the sonnes of god must be all scourged and none maye be saued, but thorowe the same, fyre Christ went thorowe. what shal the dampnacyon of the disobedient and vnbeleuers be.

¶ A specyall exhortacyon for al bisshops or prestes to kepe the flocke of Christe, and what theyre dutye is & what rewarde they shal haue if they be dylygēt. He exhorteth yong persons to submit them selues to the elder, euery one to loue another, to bee sober ād to watche, that they maye resiste the enemye.

The. v. Chapter.

The

the.ii. Epistle

¶ The ii. Epistle

of Saynct Peter.

¶ For so much as the power of god hath geue the al thinges pertaynyng vnto lyfe, he exhorteth them to flye the corruption of worldly lust, to make their callynge sure with good workes, & frutes of fayth. He maketh mencyon of hys owne death declarynge the Lorde to be the true sonne of God: as hee hym selfe hath sene vpon the mount.

¶ The first Chapter.

SYmon Peter a seruaunt & A
ā Apostle of Jesus Christ/ to them which haue optayned lyke precious faith wt vs in the rightousnes that commeth of our God and sauioure Jesus Christ.

Grace with you/ and peace be multiplyed in the knoweledge of god, and of Jesus oure Lorde. Accordinge as hys godly power hath geuen vnto vs all thinges that pertayne vnto life and godlynes, thorow the knowledge of hym that hath called vs by vertue and glorye by the meanes wherof/ are geuen vnto vs excellente and moost greate promyses, that by the helpe of them ye shoulde bee partakers of the godlye nature in that ye flie the corruption of worldly lust.

And herevnto gette all dilygence: in B
your fayth *minister vertu, and in vertu knoweledg, and in knoweledge temperaunce, and in temperance pacience, in pacience godlynes, in godlynes brotherly kindnes, in brotherly kindnes loue. For if these thinges be amonge you and are plenteous, they wyll make you that ye neither shalbe ydle nor vnfrutefull in the knoweledge of our Lord Jesus christ. But he that lacketh these thinges is blinde and gropeth for the waye with his handes, and hath forgotten yt he was purged from his olde synnes.

Wherfore brethren geue the more C diligence for to a* make your callinge and electiō sure. For if ye do such thinges, ye shall neuer erre. Ye and by this meanes āu entring in shalbe ministred vnto yow aboundauntly into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lorde and sauiour Jesus Chryst.

wherfore

* Parysches ỹ grēke hath lottes his to saye, parysches ordeyneth vnto whiche ỹ prestes & bisshoppes are apointed by lot or election, to preache the gods worde to them.

* We be apointed to suffer in thys worlde.

the.ii. Epistle

¶ The ii. Epistle

of Saynct Peter.

¶ For so much as the power of god hath geue the al thinges pertaynyng vnto lyfe, he exhorteth them to flye the corruption of worldly lust, to make their callynge sure with good workes, & frutes of fayth. He maketh mencyon of hys owne death declarynge the Lorde to be the true sonne of God: as hee hym selfe hath sene vpon the mount.

¶ The first Chapter.

SYmon Peter a seruaunt & A
ā Apostle of Jesus Christ/ to them which haue optayned lyke precious faith wt vs in the rightousnes that commeth of our God and sauioure Jesus Christ.

Grace with you/ and peace be multiplyed in the knoweledge of god, and of Jesus oure Lorde. Accordinge as hys godly power hath geuen vnto vs all thinges that pertayne vnto life and godlynes, thorow the knowledge of hym that hath called vs by vertue and glorye by the meanes wherof/ are geuen vnto vs excellente and moost greate promyses, that by the helpe of them ye shoulde bee partakers of the godlye nature in that ye flie the corruption of worldly lust.

And herevnto gette all dilygence: in B
your fayth *minister vertu, and in vertu knoweledg, and in knoweledge temperaunce, and in temperance pacience, in pacience godlynes, in godlynes brotherly kindnes, in brotherly kindnes loue. For if these thinges be amonge you and are plenteous, they wyll make you that ye neither shalbe ydle nor vnfrutefull in the knoweledge of our Lord Jesus christ. But he that lacketh these thinges is blinde and gropeth for the waye with his handes, and hath forgotten yt he was purged from his olde synnes.

Wherfore brethren geue the more C
diligence for to a* make your callinge and electiō sure. For if ye do such thinges, ye shall neuer erre. Ye and by this meanes āu entring in shalbe ministred vnto yow aboundauntly into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lorde and sauiour Jesus Chryst.

wherfore

* Parysches ỹ grēke hath lottes his to saye, parysches ordeyneth vnto whiche ỹ prestes & bisshoppes are apointed by lot or election, to preache the gods worde to them.

* We be apointed to suffer in thys worlde.

B Wherfore I will not be negligente to put you alwayes, in remembraūce of suche thinges though that ye knowe thē & be also stablished in ỹ preſēt trueth. Not withstandig I thynke it mete (as longe as I am in thys *tabernacle) to stere you vp by putting you in remembraunce for as much, as I am sure how that the time is at hande ỹ I muste put of my tabernacle, euen as oure Lorde Jesus Christe hath shewed me. I wil enforce therfore, that on euery side ye might haue wherwith to stere vp the remembraunce of these thynges after my departinge.

+For we folowed not deceuable fables whē we opened vnto you the power and comminge of oure Lorde Jesus Christe, but with oure eyes we sawe hys maiesty: euen then verely when he receaued of God the father honoure and glorye, and when there came suche a voyce to him from the excellent glory. *This is my deare beloued sonne in whome I haue delite. This voyce we herde when it came from heauen, beinge with him i the holy mounte.

Math. xvii. And. iii. Jhon. i. c.

We haue also a righte sure worde D of prophecy where vnto if ye take hede as vnto lighte that shineth in a darcke place, ye do well, vntill the daye dawe & the daye sterre aryse in your hertes. + So that ye first know this: that no prophecy in the scripture hath eny priuate interpretacion. For the scripture came neuer by the will of man: but holye men of God spake as they were moued by ỹ holy goost.

The notes.

He that lacketh these and such like workes is blynd and vnderstandeth not what the fayth of Christe meaneth.

a *Although the callyng of god be stable & sure, neuertheles the apostle wyll ỹ our workes shoulde declare vnto men ỹ we are called.

b *Tabernacle here signifyeth hys body as it also doth in dede, Cozin, v, a

+ He prophecyeth of falce teachers, & sheweth ther punyshment.

The. ii. Chapter.

A There were false Prophetes among the people, euen as there shall be faulse teachers amonge you: whiche priuely shall bringe in dampnable sectes / euen denyenge the LORDE that hathe bought theym, and bringe vppon them selues swifte dampnation, and manye shall followe their dampnable wayes / by which the waye of trueth shall be euell spoken of, and thorow * couetousnes shall they make marchaūdies of you, whose iudgment is not farre of, and their dampnacion slepeth not.

For if God spared not the angels ỹ B sinned / but cast them doune into hell / & deliuer them into chaynes of derckenes / to be kept vnto iudgement: nether spared the olde worlde, but saued Noe the eyght preacher of righteousnes and broughte in the flud vpon the worlde of the vngodly, and turned the cities of Sodom and Gomor into asshes: ouerthrew thē, dampned theim, and made on theim an ensample vnto al that after shulde lyue vngodly. And iuste Lot vexed with vncleanly conuersation of the wicked, delyuered he. For beynge righteous & dwellinge among them in seing and hearing vexed his righteous soule from daye to daye with their vnlawful dedes. The Lord knoweth how to deliuer the godly oute of temptacion, and how to reserue the vniuste vnto the daye of iudgmente for to be punished: namely them ỹ walke C after the flesshe into lust of vnclennes, & dispise the rulers. Presūptuous are they & stubburne and feare not to speake euell of them that are in auctorite. Where the Angels whiche are greater both i power ād might / receaue not of ỹ Lord raylinge iudgment agaīst them. But these as brute beastes, naturally made to be taken & destroied, perishe through their owne destruction, & receaue the rewarde of vnrighteousnes.

They counte it pleasure to lyue deliciously for a season. Spottes they are and filthines, lyuinge at pleasure, & in diseuable wayes, feasting with you, hauinge eyes ful of aduoutry, and that cannot cease to sinne, begylynge vnstable soules. Hertes they haue exercysed wyth couetousnes. These are cursed chylderen, and haue forsaken the righte waye / * and are gone astraye folowynge the waye of Balam the sonne of Balaam, which loued the rewarde of vnrighteousnes: but was rebuked of his iniquitye. The tame & dumme beast, speakynge with mannes voyce, forbade ỹ folyshenes of the Prophete.

Bosor

Jude.i.d. * These are welles wythout water & cloudes caried about of a tempest, to whome the mist of darckenes is reserued for euer. For whē they haue spoken ỹ swelling wordes of vanytie, they begyle ẅ wantones thorowe the lustes of the flesshe, them ỹ were clene escaped: but now are wrapped in errours. They promes them lybertie, ād are them selues ỹ bonde seruauntes of corrupcion. * For of whom soeuer a man is ouercome vnto ỹ same is he in bondage. For yf they, after they haue escaped from the fylthines of the world thorow the knowledge of the Lorde and of the sauiour Jesus Christ, are yet tangled agayne therin and ouercome: then is the laste ende woorse then the begynning. For yf it had bene better for them, not to haue * knowne the waye of rygh teousnes then after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commaundement geuen vnto thē. It is happened vnto them accordyng to the true prouerbe: * The dogge is turned to his vomet agayn, and the sow ỹ was washed, to her wallowynge in the myer.

Jhon viii.e, Roma.vi.c, Hebreu.vi.a Mathe.xii.

It is better not to haue knowen the truth thē not to lyue there after. Prouer.xxvi

The notes:

* False prophetes muste nedes be amongeste vs ād also preuaile, and that because we haue no loue to the trueth.

ii. Thes.ii. And couetousnes is the father of them, and their preachyng confydence in workes is ỹ denynge of Christ.

He exhorteth men to be ware of such as wold make them beleue, that the daye of the Lorde were slacke in commynge: prayeth them to leade a godly lyfe, & to loke verely for the comynge of the Lorde, whose longe tarienge is saluation, and because he wolde haue no man lost, but wolde receaue all men to repentaunce.

¶ The.iii. Chapter

This is the second epistle that I now write vnto you beloued/ wherwith I stere vp, and warne youre pure myndes, to call to remembraunce the wordes whych were told before of the holye Prophetes, and also the commaundment of vs ỹ Apostles of ỹ Lorde and saueoure.

This first vnderstand that there shall come in the last daies, mockers, whiche will walcke after their owne lustes and saye: where is the promes of hys comminge? For sence the fathers dyed, all thinges cōtinu in the same estate wher in they were at the begynninge. This they knowe not (and that wyllyngly) howe that the heauens a great whyle ago were, and the earth that was in the water appeared by oute of the water, by the worde of God: by the which thinges the worlde that then was perished, ouerflowinge with the water. But the heauens nowe & earth whiche are now, are kept by the same word in store/ and reserued vnto fyre, against the day of iudgment and perdicion of vngodly men.

1.Timo.iiii. ii.Timo.iii. B

Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thinge, how that one day is with the Lorde, as a thousand yeare/ and a thousand yeare as one daie. The Lorde is not slacke to fulfyll his promes/ as some men counte slackenes: but is patient to vs warde, and wolde haue no man lost, but wolde receaue all men to repentaunce. C

1.Thessa.v. Apoca.iii.a and.xvi.

* Neuertheles the daye of the Lorde wyll come as a theefe in the nyghte, in ỹ which daye the heauens shall perish ẅ terrible noyse, and the elements melt ẅ heate, and the earth with the workes ỹ are therin shall burne.

If all these thinges shall perishe, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy cōuersacion and godlynes lokinge for ād hastinge vnto the commynge of the day of God, in which the heauens shal perishe with fyre, and the elementes shalbe consumed with heate. * Neuertheles we loke for a newe heauen and a newe erth acordyng to hys promes, wherin dwelleth righteousnes. D

Apocal.xi.e.

Wherfore dearelye beloued, seinge that ye loke for suche thinges, be diligent that ye maye bee founde of hym in peace without spotte and vndefyled. And suppose that the longe sufferinge of the Lorde is saluacion, euen as oure derely beloued brother Paul, accordīg to the wisdome geueu vnto him, wrote vnto you, yea, almoost in euerye epistle, speaking of such thinges among which are

are many thiges harde to be vnderstãde, whiche they that are vnlearned and vnstable peruert, as they do other scriptures vnto their awne destruccion. Ye therfore beloued, seyng ye know it before hande, beware lest ye be also plucked awaye with the errour of the wycked, and fall from youre owne stedfastnes: but growe in grace and in the knowledge of oure Lorde and sauioure Jesus Christ. To whõe be glory bothe now and for euer. Amen.

¶ The i. Epistle of Sayncte Johu the Appostle.

¶ True witnes of the euerlastyng worde of God. The bloude of Chryst is the purgacyon from sinne. No man is wythout synne.

The fyrst Chapter.

A That whiche was from ỹ begynnynge, whych we haue hearde, which we haue sene w̃ oure eyes/ whych we haue looked vpon, & our handes haue handled, of the word of ỹ life. For ỹ life apered, & we haue sene & bear wytnes, and shewe vnto you that eternal lyfe, which was with the father, and
B appered vnto vs. That which we haue sene and herde, declare we vnto you, ỹ ye maye haue felouschipe wyth vs & that oure felouschype maye be withe the father and his sonne Jesus Christe. And thys wryte we vnto you/ that your ioye maye be full.

And this is the tydynges whych we haue hearde of him & declare vnto you/ ¶ that God is lyght, and in him is no derknes at all. If we saye that we haue felloschipe with him, and yet walke in derknes, we lye, and do not the trueth. But and yf we walke in (light) euen as he is (light, then haue we felloschipe with him, (Lyghte) is the doctrine of Christ, Hebreu. ix. d 1 Petr. i, d:

and the bloud of Jesus Christ his sonne clenseth vs from all synne,

If we saye that we haue no synne, we deceaue oure selues and trueth is not in D vs. If we * knowledge oure synnes, he is faithfull and iust, to forgeue vs oure synnes, and to clense vs frõ al vnrighteweines. If we saye we haue not synned/ we make him a lyar and his word is not in vs.

The notes.

John here as in hys gospel, and as Paul and Peter in theyr Epystles, teacheth fyrst ỹ iustifieng of fayth & that al mercy commeth by Christ only wythout all other respecte, and then what our dutye is to do agayne for ỹ kindnes sake John, viii,

* If we confes oure synnes god which cannot lye, hath promised to forgeue them,

¶ Christ is our aduocate. O true loue, and how it is tryed.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

My lytel childre̅n, these thinges
A wryte I vnto you, that ye sinne not: if eny mã synne, yet we haue an aduocate wyth the father, Jesus Christ, whych is ryghteous: and he it is that obteineth grace for oure sinnes: not for our synnes only: but also for the synnes of all the worlde. And herby we are sure that we knowe hym, yf we kepe his *commaundementes. He that sayth I know hym, & kepeth not hys commaundementes is a liar, and the verity is not in hym. Whosoeuer kepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfect in dede. And therby knowe we that we are in him. He that sayeth he bydith in him, ought to walcke euen as he walked.

Brethren I wryte no new commaun-
B demente vnto you: but that olde Commaundement which ye heard from ỹ beginnynge. The olde commaundemente is the worde whych ye hearde from ỹ beginnynge. Agayne a newe commaundemente I wryte vnto you, a thinge ỹ is true in him and also in you: for the derknes is past/ & ỹ true light now shineth. He that saith how that he is in the lyghte, and yet hateth hys brother, is in derknes euen vntyll this tyme. He that loueth hys brother/ abydeth in the lyght & ther is none occasyon of euyl in hym. He that *hateth his brother, is in derckenes, and walketh in derckenes: and cannot tell whyther he goeth, because that derkenes hath blynded his eyes.

are many thiges harde to be vnderstãde, whiche they that are vnlearned and vnstable peruert, as they do other scriptures vnto their awne destruccion. Ye therfore beloued, seyng ye know it before hande, beware lest ye be also plucked awaye with the errour of the wycked, and fall from youre owne stedfastnes: but growe in grace and in the knowledge of oure Lorde and sauioure Jesus Christ. To whõe be glory bothe now and for euer. Amen.

¶ The i. Epistle of Sayncte Johu the Appostle.

¶ True witnes of the euerlastyng worde of God. The bloude of Chryst is the purgacyon from sinne. No man is wythout synne.

The fyrst Chapter.

A That whiche was from ỹ begynnynge, whych we haue hearde, which we haue sene w̃ oure eyes/ whych we haue looked vpon, & our handes haue handled, of the word of ỹ life. For ỹ life apered, & we haue sene & bear wytnes, and shewe vnto you that eternal lyfe, which was with the father, and
B appered vnto vs. That which we haue sene and herde, declare we vnto you, ỹ ye maye haue felouschipe wyth vs & that oure felouschype maye be withe the father and his sonne Jesus Christe. And thys wryte we vnto you/ that your ioye maye be full.

And this is the tydynges whych we haue hearde of him & declare vnto you/ ¶ that God is lyght, and in him is no derknes at all. If we saye that we haue felloschipe with him, and yet walke in derknes, we lye, and do not the trueth. But and yf we walke in (light) euen as he is (light, then haue we felloschipe with him, (Lyghte) is the doctrine of Christ, Hebreu. ix. d 1 Petr. i, d:

and the bloud of Jesus Christ his sonne clenseth vs from all synne,

If we saye that we haue no synne, we deceaue oure selues and trueth is not in D vs. If we * knowledge oure synnes, he is faithfull and iust, to forgeue vs oure synnes, and to clense vs frõ al vnrighteweines. If we saye we haue not synned/ we make him a lyar and his word is not in vs.

The notes.

John here as in hys gospel, and as Paul and Peter in theyr Epystles, teacheth fyrst ỹ iustifieng of fayth & that al mercy commeth by Christ only wythout all other respecte, and then what our dutye is to do agayne for ỹ kindnes sake John, viii,

* If we confes oure synnes god which cannot lye, hath promised to forgeue them,

¶ Christ is our aduocate. O true loue, and how it is tryed.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

My lytel childre̅n, these thinges
A wryte I vnto you, that ye sinne not: if eny mã synne, yet we haue an aduocate wyth the father, Jesus Christ, whych is ryghteous: and he it is that obteineth grace for oure sinnes: not for our synnes only: but also for the synnes of all the worlde. And herby we are sure that we knowe hym, yf we kepe his *commaundementes. He that sayth I know hym, & kepeth not hys commaundementes is a liar, and the verity is not in hym. Whosoeuer kepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfect in dede. And therby knowe we that we are in him. He that sayeth he bydith in him, ought to walcke euen as he walked.

Brethren I wryte no new commaun-
B demente vnto you: but that olde Commaundement which ye heard from ỹ beginnynge. The olde commaundemente is the worde whych ye hearde from ỹ beginnynge. Agayne a newe commaundemente I wryte vnto you, a thinge ỹ is true in him and also in you: for the derknes is past/ & ỹ true light now shineth. He that saith how that he is in the lyghte, and yet hateth hys brother, is in derknes euen vntyll this tyme. He that loueth hys brother/ abydeth in the lyght & ther is none occasyon of euyl in hym. He that *hateth his brother, is in derckenes, and walketh in derckenes: and cannot tell whyther he goeth, because that derkenes hath blynded his eyes.

¶ Babes I wryte vnto you how that oure synnes are forgeuen you for his names sake. I wrote vnto you fathers, how that ye know hi that was from the beginnyng. I wrote vnto you younge men, how that ye haue ouercome ỹ wicked. I wrote vnto you litell chyldrẽ, howe that ye know ỹ father. I wrote vnto you fathers, how that ye knowe hym ỹ was from the beginnynge. I wrote vnto you younge men, how that ye are stronge ād the worde of God abideth in you and ye haue ouercome that wycked.

He ỹ loueth ỹ world, loueth not god

Se that ye loue not the world, nether the thynges that are in the worlde. If eny man loue the worlde, the loue of the father is not in hym. For all that is in ỹ worlde (as the lust of the flesshe, the lust of the eyes, and the pryde of goodnes) is not of the father, but of ỹ worlde. And the worlde vanysheth awaye and ỹ lust thereof: but he that fulfylleth the will of God, abydeth euer.

Of ātichrist ioke in ỹ .iiii. Ca. folowig

Lytell chyldren it is the last tyme/ as ye haue herde how that *Antichrist shal come euen now are there many Antichristes come alredye. Wherby we knowe that it is ỹ last tyme. They went oute from vs/ but they were not of vs. For yf they had bene of vs, they wolde no dout, haue continued with vs. But that fortuned that it myghte appere, ỹ they were not of vs.

And, ye haue an oyntment of the holy goost and ye knowe all thynges. ✣ I wrote not vnto you, as though ye knew not the trueth: but as though ye knewe it, and knowe also that no lye commeth of trueth. Who is a liar but he that denyeth that Jesus is Christ: the same is the Antichrist that denyeth the father & the sonne. Whosoeuer denyeth ỹ sonne, the same hath not the father. Let therfore abide i you that same which ye herde from the beginninge. If that which ye herde from the beginninge, shall remayne in you, ye also shal contynew in the sonne, and in the father. And this is the promes ỹ he hath promysed vs euē eternall lyfe.

This haue I written vnto you, cōcernynge them that disceaue you. And the anoyntynge whych ye receaue of hym, dwelleth in you. And ye nede not ỹ anye mā teache you: but as the anoityng teacheth you al thinges, and is true, and is no lye/ād as it hath taught you euē so abide therin. And now babes abide in hi ỹ whēne he here shal appere, we may be bold and not be made ashamed of him at hys cōmig: If ye know that he is rightwes, know also that he which folowrth right wesnes, is borne of him.

The notes

*He that hateth, is in darkenes and knowethe not what Christ hath done for him but he that loueth is in lyghte, and wotteth what Christ hath done,
*Here ye se that Chryst and synne can not dwell together, for Chrystes spyryte fyghteth agaynst sinne,
¶ The synguler loue of god toward vs: & howe we agayne loue one another,

The.iii. Chapter.

Behold what loue the father hath shewed on vs that wee shulde be called the sonnes of god. For this cause the worlde knoweth you not because it knoweth not him. Dearly beloued/ now are we ỹ sonnes of God, & yet it doth not appere what we shalbe. But we know that when it shal appeare, we shalbe like him. For we shal se hym as he is. And euery man that hath thys hope in him, purgeth hym selfe, euen as he is pure. Whosoeuer committeth sinne cōmitteth vnrighteousnes also/ for sinne is *vnrighteousnes. As many as abide in hi sinne not: whosoeuer sinneth, hath not sene him, nether hath knowen him.

He ỹ worketh rightwesnes is borne of god & taught of his spirit.

Babes, let no man disceaue you. He that doeth righteousnes, is righteous/ euē as he is righteous. He that cōmitteth sinne, is of the deuil: for the deuel sinneth sence the beginning. For this purpose appeared ỹ sōne of god, to lowse ỹ workes of ỹ deuill. Whoso euer is borne of god sinneth not: for his seed remaynyeth in him, and he cannot sinne, because hee is borne of god. In thys are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuil. Whosoeuer doth not rightwesnes is not of GOD, nether loueth he not his brother.

For this is the tidinges that ye herde from ỹ beginning that ye shuld loue one

another

another not as Cayn which was of the wycked and slewe his brother,
And wherfore slewe he hi? Because hys owne workes were euel, ād his brothers good. ✣ Maruaile not my brethren though the world hate you. We knowe that we are translated from *death vnto life, because we loue the brethren. He that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death. Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslear. And ye knowe that no manslear, hath eternal life abiding i hi.

He that hath no cōpassion loueth not God.

Herby perceaue we loue: that he gaue his life for vs: and therfore ought we also to geue our liues for the brethren. Whosoeuer hath this worldes good & seith his brother haue neade: and shutteth vp his cōpassiō from him: how dwelleth the loue of God in him? My babes let vs not loue in word, nether in tonge, but with the dede and in verytē: ✣ for * D therby we knowe that we are of the verite, and can before hi quiet our hertes. But if oure hertes cōdempned vs, god is greater then oure hertes, and knoweth all thinges. Beloued, if oure hertes condempne vs not, then haue we truste to godwarde: and what soeuer we aske we shal receaue of him: because we kepe his commaundementes, & do those thinges which are pleasyng in his sight.

And thys is his commaundemente that we belene *on the name of his sōne Jesus Christe, and loue one another, as he gaue commaundemente. And he that kepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in hym, and he in hym: and therby wee knowe that there abydeth in vs of the spyrete which he gaue vs.

The notes

*He ỹ loueth, is escaped death. He that loueth not, is in death and a murtherer and hath not eternall lyfe.
*By loue we know ỹ we are in ỹ trueth, & haue quiet conscyences to God warde.
*Fayth & loue is the fyrst commaundement, and al cōmaūdementes, and he that hath them is i God ād hath his spyrete.
¶ Dyfference of spyretes, and howe ỹ spyrete of God maye be knowne frō the spyrete of errour. Of the loue of God and of our neyghboures.

The.iiii. Chapter.

Beloued, beleue not euery spyrete but proue the spyretes whether they be of God or not, for many false Prophetes are gone out into ỹ world. Herby shall ye know ỹ spyrete of god: Euery spyrete ỹ cōfesseth ỹ Jesus Christe is come in ỹ flesche, is of God. And euery spyrete which confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in ỹ flesche, is not of god. And this is the spyrete of a* Antichrist of whom ye haue heard, howe that he shulde come: and euen now alredy is he in the worlde

Lytel chyldren, yeare of God & haue ouercome them: for greater is he ỹ is in you, then he that is in the worlde. They are of the world, and therfore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them: We are of God. He that knoweth god, heareth vs: he that is not of god, heareth vs not. Herby know we ỹ spyrete of verite & the spyrete of errour.

Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue commeth of God. And euery one ỹ loueth is borne of God, and knoweth God. He that loueth not, knoweth not God: ✣ for God is loue. In this appered the loue of God to vs ward, because that God sent his only begotten sonne i to the worlde, that we might liue thorow him. Herī is loue, not that we loued God but that he loued vs and sent his sonne to make agrement for our sines. Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another. No man hath C sene God at enye time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, ād his loue is parfect in vs. Herby know we: ỹ we dwell in him and he in vs: because he hath geuen vs of his spyrete. And we haue sene and do testifye that the father sent the son, which is ỹ sauecour of the worlde. Whosoeuer confesseth that Jesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, & he i God. And we haue knowen and beleued ỹ loue that God hath to vs. GOD is loue, and he that dweleth in loue, dweleth in God, & God in him. Herin is the loue perfect in vs, ỹ D we shuld haue trust in the daye of iudgement: for as he is, euen so are we in thys world. Ther is no fere in loue but parfect loue casteth out all feare, for fere hath paynfulnes. He that feareth, is not parfect in loue.

We loue hym, for he loued vs fyrst. If a mā say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother he is a lyar. For how can he ỹ loueth not his brother whom he hath sene, loue God whome he hath not se-

He ỹ louethe not his brother loueth not god.

another not as Cayn which was of the wycked and slewe his brother,
And wherfore slewe he hi? Because hys owne workes were euel, ād his brothers good. ✣ Maruaile not my brethren though the world hate you. We knowe that we are translated from *death vnto life, because we loue the brethren. He that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death. Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslear. And ye knowe that no manslear, hath eternal life abiding i hi.

He that hath no cōpassion loueth not God.

Herby perceaue we loue: that he gaue his life for vs: and therfore ought we also to geue our liues for the brethren. Whosoeuer hath this worldes good & seith his brother haue neade: and shutteth vp his cōpassiō from him: how dwelleth the loue of God in him? My babes let vs not loue in word, nether in tonge, but with the dede and in verytē: ✣ for * D therby we knowe that we are of the verite, and can before hi quiet our hertes. But if oure hertes cōdempned vs, god is greater then oure hertes, and knoweth all thinges. Beloued, if oure hertes condempne vs not, then haue we truste to godwarde: and what soeuer we aske we shal receaue of him: because we kepe his commaundementes, & do those thinges which are pleasyng in his sight.

And thys is his commaundemente that we belene *on the name of his sōne Jesus Christe, and loue one another, as he gaue commaundemente. And he that kepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in hym, and he in hym: and therby wee knowe that there abydeth in vs of the spyrete which he gaue vs.

The notes

*He ỹ loueth, is escaped death. He that loueth not, is in death and a murtherer and hath not eternall lyfe.
*By loue we know ỹ we are in ỹ trueth, & haue quiet conscyences to God warde.
*Fayth & loue is the fyrst commaundement, and al cōmaūdementes, and he that hath them is i God ād hath his spyrete.
¶ Dyfference of spyretes, and howe ỹ spyrete of God maye be knowne frō the spyrete of errour. Of the loue of God and of our neyghboures.

The.iiii. Chapter.

Beloued, beleue not euery spyrete but proue the spyretes whether they be of God or not, for many false Prophetes are gone out into ỹ world. Herby shall ye know ỹ spyrete of god: Euery spyrete ỹ cōfesseth ỹ Jesus Christe is come in ỹ flesche, is of God. And euery spyrete which confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in ỹ flesche, is not of god. And this is the spyrete of a* Antichrist of whom ye haue heard, howe that he shulde come: and euen now alredy is he in the worlde

Lytel chyldren, yeare of God & haue ouercome them: for greater is he ỹ is in you, then he that is in the worlde. They are of the world, and therfore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them: We are of God. He that knoweth god, heareth vs: he that is not of god, heareth vs not. Herby know we ỹ spyrete of verite & the spyrete of errour.

Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue commeth of God. And euery one ỹ loueth is borne of God, and knoweth God. He that loueth not, knoweth not God: ✣ for God is loue. In this appered the loue of God to vs ward, because that God sent his only begotten sonne i to the worlde, that we might liue thorow him. Herī is loue, not that we loued God but that he loued vs and sent his sonne to make agrement for our sines. Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another. No man hath C sene God at enye time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, ād his loue is parfect in vs. Herby know we: ỹ we dwell in him and he in vs: because he hath geuen vs of his spyrete. And we haue sene and do testifye that the father sent the son, which is ỹ sauecour of the worlde. Whosoeuer confesseth that Jesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, & he i God. And we haue knowen and beleued ỹ loue that God hath to vs. GOD is loue, and he that dweleth in loue, dweleth in God, & God in him. Herin is the loue perfect in vs, ỹ D we shuld haue trust in the daye of iudgement: for as he is, euen so are we in thys world. Ther is no fere in loue but parfect loue casteth out all feare, for fere hath paynfulnes. He that feareth, is not parfect in loue.

We loue hym, for he loued vs fyrst. If a mā say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother he is a lyar. For how can he ỹ loueth not his brother whom he hath sene, loue God whome he hath not se-

He ỹ louethe not his brother loueth not god.

another not as Cayn which was of the wycked and slewe his brother,
And wherfore slewe he hi? Because hys owne workes were euel, ād his brothers good. ✣ Maruaile not my brethren though the world hate you. We knowe that we are translated from *death vnto life, because we loue the brethren. He that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death. Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslear. And ye knowe that no manslear, hath eternal life abiding i hi.

He that hath no cōpassion loueth not God.

Herby perceaue we loue: that he gaue his life for vs: and therfore ought we also to geue our liues for the brethren. Whosoeuer hath this worldes good & seith his brother haue neade: and shutteth vp his cōpassiō from him: how dwelleth the loue of God in him? My babes let vs not loue in word, nether in tonge, but with the dede and in verytē: ✣ for * D therby we knowe that we are of the verite, and can before hi quiet our hertes. But if oure hertes cōdempned vs, god is greater then oure hertes, and knoweth all thinges. Beloued, if oure hertes condempne vs not, then haue we truste to godwarde: and what soeuer we aske we shal receaue of him: because we kepe his commaundementes, & do those thinges which are pleasyng in his sight.

And thys is his commaundemente that we belene *on the name of his sōne Jesus Christe, and loue one another, as he gaue commaundemente. And he that kepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in hym, and he in hym: and therby wee knowe that there abydeth in vs of the spyrete which he gaue vs.

The notes

*He ỹ loueth, is escaped death. He that loueth not, is in death and a murtherer and hath not eternall lyfe.
*By loue we know ỹ we are in ỹ trueth, & haue quiet conscyences to God warde.
*Fayth & loue is the fyrst commaundement, and al cōmaūdementes, and he that hath them is i God ād hath his spyrete.
¶ Dyfference of spyretes, and howe ỹ spyrete of God maye be knowne frō the spyrete of errour. Of the loue of God and of our neyghboures.

The.iiii. Chapter.

Beloued, beleue not euery spyrete but proue the spyretes whether they be of God or not, for many false Prophetes are gone out into ỹ world. Herby shall ye know ỹ spyrete of god: Euery spyrete ỹ cōfesseth ỹ Jesus Christe is come in ỹ flesche, is of God. And euery spyrete which confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in ỹ flesche, is not of god. And this is the spyrete of a* Antichrist of whom ye haue heard, howe that he shulde come: and euen now alredy is he in the worlde

Lytel chyldren, yeare of God & haue ouercome them: for greater is he ỹ is in you, then he that is in the worlde. They are of the world, and therfore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them: We are of God. He that knoweth god, heareth vs: he that is not of god, heareth vs not. Herby know we ỹ spyrete of verite & the spyrete of errour.

Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue commeth of God. And euery one ỹ loueth is borne of God, and knoweth God. He that loueth not, knoweth not God: ✣ for God is loue. In this appered the loue of God to vs ward, because that God sent his only begotten sonne i to the worlde, that we might liue thorow him. Herī is loue, not that we loued God but that he loued vs and sent his sonne to make agrement for our sines. Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another. No man hath C sene God at enye time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, ād his loue is parfect in vs. Herby know we: ỹ we dwell in him and he in vs: because he hath geuen vs of his spyrete. And we haue sene and do testifye that the father sent the son, which is ỹ sauecour of the worlde. Whosoeuer confesseth that Jesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, & he i God. And we haue knowen and beleued ỹ loue that God hath to vs. GOD is loue, and he that dweleth in loue, dweleth in God, & God in him. Herin is the loue perfect in vs, ỹ D we shuld haue trust in the daye of iudgement: for as he is, euen so are we in thys world. Ther is no fere in loue but parfect loue casteth out all feare, for fere hath paynfulnes. He that feareth, is not parfect in loue.

We loue hym, for he loued vs fyrst. If a mā say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother he is a lyar. For how can he ỹ loueth not his brother whom he hath sene, loue God whome he hath not se-

He ỹ louethe not his brother loueth not god.

ne: And this commaundement haue we of hym: that he whych loueth God, shulde loue his brother also. ✠

¶ To loue God is to kepe his commaundementes. Fayth ouercommeth the worlde. Euerlastinge lyfe is in ỹ sonne of god. Of ỹ synne vnto death.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

A WHosoeuer beleueth that Jesus is Chryste, is borne of God. And euery one ỹ loueth him which begat, loueth him also whych was begotte of him: In this we knowe ỹ we loue ỹ childrē of God, whē we loue god & kepe his cōmaundementes. This is the loue of God that wee kepe his commaundementes, & his, cōmaundementes are not greuous. ✠ For all that is borne of God, ouercōmeth ỹ world. And this is ỹ victory ỹ ouercōmeth the worlde, euen * our fayth. Who is it ỹ ouercometh ỹ worlde: but he which beleueth that Jesus is the sonne of God.

Faith is our victory.

B This Jesus Chryst is he that came by water and bloud not by water only: but by water and bloud. And it was ỹ spyrite that beareth wytnes, because the spyrite is trueth.

(For ther are thre whych beare record in heuen, ỹ father, the word, & the holy goste. And these thre are one) For ther are thre wich bere record (in earth) the spyrite, and water, & bloud: and these thre are one. If we receaue the wytnes of men the wytnes of God is greater.

For thys is the wytnes of God, whych he testifyed of his sonne. He that beleueth on the sonne of God, hath the wytnes in him self. ✠ He ỹ beleueth not god, hathe made him a lyar, because he beleued not the record that God gaue of his sonne. And thys is ỹ recorde how ỹ god hath geuen vnto vs eternall life, ād this lyfe is in his sonne.

Came vnto death.

¶ He that hathe the sonne, hathe lyfe: and he that hath not the sonne of God hath not lyfe.

These thinges haue I written vnto you that beleue on the name of ỹ sonne of God that ye maye knowe how that ye haue eternall lyfe, and that ye maye beleue on the name of the sonne of God. And this is the truste that we haue i hi that if we aske any thyng accordyng to hys wyll, he heareth vs. And if we know that he heare vs what soeuer wee aske, we knowe that we shal haue the peticy-

In Christ is the lyfe eternall.

ons that we desyre of hym.

If anye man se hys brother synne a synne that is not vnto death, let hi aske, and he shal geue him life for theym that sinne not vnto death. There is a synne vnto death, for which saye I not that a D man shulde praye. All vnrighteousnes is sinne, and ther is sine not vnto death.

We know that whosoeuer is borne of god, sinneth not: but ye that is begotten of GOD kepeth him self, and that wicked toucheth him not. We knowe that we are of God, and that the world is all together set on wickednes. We knowe that the sonne of god is come, ād hathe geuen vs a mynde to knowe hym whiche is true: and wee are in hym that is true, thorow his sonne Jesus Christ. This same is very god, ād eternal life. Babes kepe your selues from ymages.

Amen.

¶ The iij Epistle

of Sayncte John.

¶ He wryteth vnto a certayne lady, reioyseth ỹ her children walke in trueth, exhorteth them vnto loue, warneth them to beware of such disceuers as denye that Jesus Chryst came in the flesshe, prayeth thē to contynu in the doctrine of Chryst, & to haue nothing to do with them that bringe not thys learnyng.

THe elder to the electe ladye and her chyldren which I loue i A the trueth: and not I only, but also al ỹ knowe ỹ trueth, for ỹ truthes sake which dwelleth in vs, & shalbe in vs for euer.

With you be grace, mercy, and peace from God the father and from the lorde Jesus Christ the sonne of the father, in truth and loue.

I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walcking in trueth, as wee haue receaued a commaundemente of ỹ father. And now beseche I thee lady, not as though I wrote a new commaundement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginninge, that we shuld * loue one another. And this is the loue that we shulde walke after hys commaūdemente.

This commaundment is (that as ye haue

ne: And this commaundement haue we of hym: that he whych loueth God, shulde loue his brother also. ✠

¶ To loue God is to kepe his commaundementes. Fayth ouercommeth the worlde. Euerlastinge lyfe is in ỹ sonne of god. Of ỹ synne vnto death.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

A WHosoeuer beleueth that Jesus is Chryste, is borne of God. And euery one ỹ loueth him which begat, loueth him also whych was begotte of him: In this we knowe ỹ we loue ỹ childrē of God, whē we loue god & kepe his cōmaundementes. This is the loue of God that wee kepe his commaundementes, & his, cōmaundementes are not greuous. ✠ For all that is borne of God, ouercōmeth ỹ world. And this is ỹ victory ỹ ouercōmeth the worlde, euen * our fayth. Who is it ỹ ouercometh ỹ worlde: but he which beleueth that Jesus is the sonne of God.

Faith is our victory.

B This Jesus Chryst is he that came by water and bloud not by water only: but by water and bloud. And it was ỹ spyrite that beareth wytnes, because the spyrite is trueth.

(For ther are thre whych beare record in heuen, ỹ father, the word, & the holy goste. And these thre are one) For ther are thre wich bere record (in earth) the spyrite, and water, & bloud: and these thre are one. If we receaue the wytnes of men the wytnes of God is greater.

For thys is the wytnes of God, whych he testifyed of his sonne. He that beleueth on the sonne of God, hath the wytnes in him self. ✠ He ỹ beleueth not god, hathe made him a lyar, because he beleued not the record that God gaue of his sonne. And thys is ỹ recorde how ỹ god hath geuen vnto vs eternall life, ād this lyfe is in his sonne.

Came vnto death.

¶ He that hathe the sonne, hathe lyfe: and he that hath not the sonne of God hath not lyfe.

These thinges haue I written vnto you that beleue on the name of ỹ sonne of God that ye maye knowe how that ye haue eternall lyfe, and that ye maye beleue on the name of the sonne of God. And this is the truste that we haue i hi that if we aske any thyng accordyng to hys wyll, he heareth vs. And if we know that he heare vs what soeuer wee aske, we knowe that we shal haue the peticy-

In Christ is the lyfe eternall.

ons that we desyre of hym.

If anye man se hys brother synne a synne that is not vnto death, let hi aske, and he shal geue him life for theym that sinne not vnto death. There is a synne vnto death, for which saye I not that a D man shulde praye. All vnrighteousnes is sinne, and ther is sine not vnto death.

We know that whosoeuer is borne of god, sinneth not: but ye that is begotten of GOD kepeth him self, and that wicked toucheth him not. We knowe that we are of God, and that the world is all together set on wickednes. We knowe that the sonne of god is come, ād hathe geuen vs a mynde to knowe hym whiche is true: and wee are in hym that is true, thorow his sonne Jesus Christ. This same is very god, ād eternal life. Babes kepe your selues from ymages.

Amen.

¶ The iij Epistle

of Sayncte John.

¶ He wryteth vnto a certayne lady, reioyseth ỹ her children walke in trueth, exhorteth them vnto loue, warneth them to beware of such disceuers as denye that Jesus Chryst came in the flesshe, prayeth thē to contynu in the doctrine of Chryst, & to haue nothing to do with them that bringe not thys learnyng.

THe elder to the electe ladye and her chyldren which I loue i A the trueth: and not I only, but also al ỹ knowe ỹ trueth, for ỹ truthes sake which dwelleth in vs, & shalbe in vs for euer.

With you be grace, mercy, and peace from God the father and from the lorde Jesus Christ the sonne of the father, in truth and loue.

I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walcking in trueth, as wee haue receaued a commaundemente of ỹ father. And now beseche I thee lady, not as though I wrote a new commaundement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginninge, that we shuld * loue one another. And this is the loue that we shulde walke after hys commaūdemente.

This commaundment is (that as ye haue

ne: And this commaundement haue we of hym: that he whych loueth God, shulde loue his brother also. ✠

¶ To loue God is to kepe his commaundementes. Fayth ouercommeth the worlde. Euerlastinge lyfe is in ỹ sonne of god. Of ỹ synne vnto death.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

A WHosoeuer beleueth that Jesus is Chryste, is borne of God. And euery one ỹ loueth him which begat, loueth him also whych was begotte of him: In this we knowe ỹ we loue ỹ childrē of God, whē we loue god & kepe his cōmaundementes. This is the loue of God that wee kepe his commaundementes, & his, cōmaundementes are not greuous. ✠ For all that is borne of God, ouercōmeth ỹ world. And this is ỹ victory ỹ ouercōmeth the worlde, euen * our fayth. Who is it ỹ ouercometh ỹ worlde: but he which beleueth that Jesus is the sonne of God.

Faith is our victory.

B This Jesus Chryst is he that came by water and bloud not by water only: but by water and bloud. And it was ỹ spyrite that beareth wytnes, because the spyrite is trueth.

(For ther are thre whych beare record in heuen, ỹ father, the word, & the holy goste. And these thre are one) For ther are thre wich bere record (in earth) the spyrite, and water, & bloud: and these thre are one. If we receaue the wytnes of men the wytnes of God is greater.

For thys is the wytnes of God, whych he testifyed of his sonne. He that beleueth on the sonne of God, hath the wytnes in him self. ✠ He ỹ beleueth not god, hathe made him a lyar, because he beleued not the record that God gaue of his sonne. And thys is ỹ recorde how ỹ god hath geuen vnto vs eternall life, ād this lyfe is in his sonne.

Came vnto death.

¶ He that hathe the sonne, hathe lyfe: and he that hath not the sonne of God hath not lyfe.

These thinges haue I written vnto you that beleue on the name of ỹ sonne of God that ye maye knowe how that ye haue eternall lyfe, and that ye maye beleue on the name of the sonne of God. And this is the truste that we haue i hi that if we aske any thyng accordyng to hys wyll, he heareth vs. And if we know that he heare vs what soeuer wee aske, we knowe that we shal haue the peticy-

In Christ is the lyfe eternall.

ons that we desyre of hym.

If anye man se hys brother synne a synne that is not vnto death, let hi aske, and he shal geue him life for theym that sinne not vnto death. There is a synne vnto death, for which saye I not that a D man shulde praye. All vnrighteousnes is sinne, and ther is sine not vnto death.

We know that whosoeuer is borne of god, sinneth not: but ye that is begotten of GOD kepeth him self, and that wicked toucheth him not. We knowe that we are of God, and that the world is all together set on wickednes. We knowe that the sonne of god is come, ād hathe geuen vs a mynde to knowe hym whiche is true: and wee are in hym that is true, thorow his sonne Jesus Christ. This same is very god, ād eternal life. Babes kepe your selues from ymages.

Amen.

¶ The iij Epistle

of Sayncte John.

¶ He wryteth vnto a certayne lady, reioyseth ỹ her children walke in trueth, exhorteth them vnto loue, warneth them to beware of such disceuers as denye that Jesus Chryst came in the flesshe, prayeth thē to contynu in the doctrine of Chryst, & to haue nothing to do with them that bringe not thys learnyng.

THe elder to the electe ladye and her chyldren which I loue i A the trueth: and not I only, but also al ỹ knowe ỹ trueth, for ỹ truthes sake which dwelleth in vs, & shalbe in vs for euer.

With you be grace, mercy, and peace from God the father and from the lorde Jesus Christ the sonne of the father, in truth and loue.

I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walcking in trueth, as wee haue receaued a commaundemente of ỹ father. And now beseche I thee lady, not as though I wrote a new commaundement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginninge, that we shuld * loue one another. And this is the loue that we shulde walke after hys commaūdemente.

This commaundment is (that as ye haue

*Lone is the fyrst cõmaundement.

haue heard from the beginnyng) ye shulde walke in it. For many deceauers are entred into ỹ worlde, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesshe. This is a deceauer and an Antichrist. Loke on youre selues, that we loose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a full rewarde. Whosoeuer trauersgresseth and bydeth not in the doctryne of Christe, hath not God. He that enduceth in the doctryne of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne,

D If ther come eny vnto you and bringe not this learninge, him receaue not to house: nether byd him God spede. For he that byddeth him God spede, is partaker of his euyl dedes. I had many thinges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I wolde not write with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you and speake w̃ you mouth to mouth, that our ioye maye be full. The sonnes of thy electe syster grete thee: Amen.

The .iii. Epistle Of Sainct Iohan.

C He is glad of Gayus, that he walketh in ỹ truth, exhorteth them to be louing vnto the poore Christen in theyr persecution, sheweth the vnkinde dealyng of Diotrephes, and the good report of Demetrius.

THe elder vnto the beloued Gayus, whom I loue in the trueth.

B Beloued, wyshe in all thynges that thou prosperedest and faredest wel, euen as ỹ soule prospereth. I reioyced greatlye when the brethren came and testifyed of the trueth that is in thee howe thou walkeste in trouble. I haue no greater ioye thẽ to here how ỹ my sonnes walke in verytie.

B Beloued ỹ doest faithfully what soeuer ỹ doest to the brethrẽ, and to straũgers, which beare witnes of thy loue before all ỹ congregacion. Whiche brethren when thou bringest forwardes of their iorneye (as it beseemeth God) thou shalte do well: because that for my names sake they wẽt forth and toke nothig of ỹ Gentyles. We therfore ought to receaue such, that we also might be helpers to the trueth.

I wrote vnto the congregacion, but C Diotrephes, whiche loueth to haue the preeminence among them receaueth vs not. Wherfore if I come, I wyll declare his dedes which hee doth, iestinge on vs wyth malycious wordes, neyther is therewith contente. Not onely hee hym selfe receaueth not the brethren: but also hee forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the congregaciõ.

Beloued, folow not that which is euell, but that whiche is good. Hee that D doeth well is of god: but he that doethe euell seyth not God. Demetrius hathe good reporte of all men and of the truth yea and we our selues also beare recorde, and yee knowe that oure recorde is true,

I haue many thynges to writte: but I wyll not with ynke and penne writte vnto thee. For I trust I shall shortelye see thee, and we shall speake mouthe to mouth. Peace be wyth thee. The louers salute thee. Grete the louers by name.

C The Epistle of Sainct Paule vnto the Hebrues.

C How God dealte louingly with them of the olde tyme, in sendig them his prophetes, but much more mercy hath he shewed vs in that he sent vs his owne sonne. Of the most excelent glory of Iesus Christ wyche in all thynges is lyke to hys father.

The fyrst Chapter.

GOd in time passed dyuerselye and manye wayes, spake A vnto the fathers by the prophetes but in these a* laste dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his sonne, whome he hath made heyre of all thinges by whome also hee made the worlde. Which sonne beinge the brightnes of his glorye, and very image of his substaunce, bearinge vp all thinges withe the worde of his power/ B hathe in his owne parson, purged oure synnes, and is sytten on the ryght hand of the maiestie on hygh, and is more excellent then the aungeles, in as much as he hath by enheritannce obtayned an excellenter name then haue they.

Christ hath purged oure synne.

For vnto which of the aungeles, sayde

*Lone is the fyrst cõmaundement.

haue heard from the beginnyng) ye shulde walke in it. For many deceauers are entred into ỹ worlde, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesshe. This is a deceauer and an Antichrist. Loke on youre selues, that we loose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a full rewarde. Whosoeuer trauersgresseth and bydeth not in the doctryne of Christe, hath not God. He that enduceth in the doctryne of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne,

D If ther come eny vnto you and bringe not this learninge, him receaue not to house: nether byd him God spede. For he that byddeth him God spede, is partaker of his euyl dedes. I had many thinges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I wolde not write with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you and speake w̃ you mouth to mouth, that our ioye maye be full. The sonnes of thy electe syster grete thee: Amen.

The .iii. Epistle Of Sainct Iohan.

C He is glad of Gayus, that he walketh in ỹ truth, exhorteth them to be louing vnto the poore Christen in theyr persecution, sheweth the vnkinde dealyng of Diotrephes, and the good report of Demetrius.

THe elder vnto the beloued Gayus, whom I loue in the trueth.

B Beloued, wyshe in all thynges that thou prosperedest and faredest wel, euen as ỹ soule prospereth. I reioyced greatlye when the brethren came and testifyed of the trueth that is in thee howe thou walkeste in trouble. I haue no greater ioye thẽ to here how ỹ my sonnes walke in verytie.

B Beloued ỹ doest faithfully what soeuer ỹ doest to the brethrẽ, and to straũgers, which beare witnes of thy loue before all ỹ congregacion. Whiche brethren when thou bringest forwardes of their iorneye (as it beseemeth God) thou shalte do well: because that for my names sake they wẽt forth and toke nothig of ỹ Gentyles. We therfore ought to receaue such, that we also might be helpers to the trueth.

I wrote vnto the congregacion, but C Diotrephes, whiche loueth to haue the preeminence among them receaueth vs not. Wherfore if I come, I wyll declare his dedes which hee doth, iestinge on vs wyth malycious wordes, neyther is therewith contente. Not onely hee hym selfe receaueth not the brethren: but also hee forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the congregaciõ.

Beloued, folow not that which is euell, but that whiche is good. Hee that D doeth well is of god: but he that doethe euell seyth not God. Demetrius hathe good reporte of all men and of the truth yea and we our selues also beare recorde, and yee knowe that oure recorde is true,

I haue many thynges to writte: but I wyll not with ynke and penne writte vnto thee. For I trust I shall shortelye see thee, and we shall speake mouthe to mouth. Peace be wyth thee. The louers salute thee. Grete the louers by name.

C The Epistle of Sainct Paule vnto the Hebrues.

C How God dealte louingly with them of the olde tyme, in sendig them his prophetes, but much more mercy hath he shewed vs in that he sent vs his owne sonne. Of the most excelent glory of Iesus Christ wyche in all thynges is lyke to hys father.

The fyrst Chapter.

GOd in time passed dyuerselye and manye wayes, spake A vnto the fathers by the prophetes but in these a* laste dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his sonne, whome he hath made heyre of all thinges by whome also hee made the worlde. Which sonne beinge the brightnes of his glorye, and very image of his substaunce, bearinge vp all thinges withe the worde of his power/ B hathe in his owne parson, purged oure synnes, and is sytten on the ryght hand of the maiestie on hygh, and is more excellent then the aungeles, in as much as he hath by enheritannce obtayned an excellenter name then haue they.

Christ hath purged oure synne.

For vnto which of the aungeles, sayde

*Lone is the fyrst cõmaundement.

haue heard from the beginnyng) ye shulde walke in it. For many deceauers are entred into ỹ worlde, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesshe. This is a deceauer and an Antichrist. Loke on youre selues, that we loose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a full rewarde. Whosoeuer trauersgresseth and bydeth not in the doctryne of Christe, hath not God. He that enduceth in the doctryne of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne,

D If ther come eny vnto you and bringe not this learninge, him receaue not to house: nether byd him God spede. For he that byddeth him God spede, is partaker of his euyl dedes. I had many thinges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I wolde not write with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you and speake w̃ you mouth to mouth, that our ioye maye be full. The sonnes of thy electe syster grete thee: Amen.

The .iii. Epistle Of Sainct Iohan.

C He is glad of Gayus, that he walketh in ỹ truth, exhorteth them to be louing vnto the poore Christen in theyr persecution, sheweth the vnkinde dealyng of Diotrephes, and the good report of Demetrius.

THe elder vnto the beloued Gayus, whom I loue in the trueth.

B Beloued, wyshe in all thynges that thou prosperedest and faredest wel, euen as ỹ soule prospereth. I reioyced greatlye when the brethren came and testifyed of the trueth that is in thee howe thou walkeste in trouble. I haue no greater ioye thẽ to here how ỹ my sonnes walke in verytie.

B Beloued ỹ doest faithfully what soeuer ỹ doest to the brethrẽ, and to straũgers, which beare witnes of thy loue before all ỹ congregacion. Whiche brethren when thou bringest forwardes of their iorneye (as it beseemeth God) thou shalte do well: because that for my names sake they wẽt forth and toke nothig of ỹ Gentyles. We therfore ought to receaue such, that we also might be helpers to the trueth.

I wrote vnto the congregacion, but C Diotrephes, whiche loueth to haue the preeminence among them receaueth vs not. Wherfore if I come, I wyll declare his dedes which hee doth, iestinge on vs wyth malycious wordes, neyther is therewith contente. Not onely hee hym selfe receaueth not the brethren: but also hee forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the congregaciõ.

Beloued, folow not that which is euell, but that whiche is good. Hee that D doeth well is of god: but he that doethe euell seyth not God. Demetrius hathe good reporte of all men and of the truth yea and we our selues also beare recorde, and yee knowe that oure recorde is true,

I haue many thynges to writte: but I wyll not with ynke and penne writte vnto thee. For I trust I shall shortelye see thee, and we shall speake mouthe to mouth. Peace be wyth thee. The louers salute thee. Grete the louers by name.

C The Epistle of Sainct Paule vnto the Hebrues.

C How God dealte louingly with them of the olde tyme, in sendig them his prophetes, but much more mercy hath he shewed vs in that he sent vs his owne sonne. Of the most excelent glory of Iesus Christ wyche in all thynges is lyke to hys father.

The fyrst Chapter.

GOd in time passed dyuerselye and manye wayes, spake A vnto the fathers by the prophetes but in these a* laste dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his sonne, whome he hath made heyre of all thinges by whome also hee made the worlde. Which sonne beinge the brightnes of his glorye, and very image of his substaunce, bearinge vp all thinges withe the worde of his power/ B hathe in his owne parson, purged oure synnes, and is sytten on the ryght hand of the maiestie on hygh, and is more excellent then the aungeles, in as much as he hath by enheritannce obtayned an excellenter name then haue they.

Christ hath purged oure synne.

For vnto which of the aungeles, sayde

he at any time: Thou art my sonne, this daye begat I thee: And agayne, I wyl be his father, and he shalbe my sonne.
And agayne, whē he bringeth in the first begotten sonne into the worlde, he saith: ¶ And all the angeles of God shall worshyppe him. And of the angeles he saith, He maketh hys angeles spirites, and his ministers flames of fyre. But vnto ỹ sonne he saith: God, thy seate shal be for euer & euer. The scepter of thy kingdome is a right scepter. Thou hast loued righteousnes, and hated iniquitie. Wherfore God which is thy God, had anoited thee with the oyle of gladnes aboue thy felowes.

Oyle of gladnes is the holy goost,

And thou Lorde in the beginnge hast layde the foundacion of the earth. And the heauens are the workes of thy handes. They shall perish but thou shalt endure. They all shall waxe olde as doth a garment: and as a vesture shalte thou chaunge them, and they shall bee chaunged: But thou arte alwayes: and thy yeres shall not fayle. Vnto whiche of the angeles sayd he at any time: Sitte on my right hād, tyl I make thyne enemyes thy fote stole: Are they not al mynistrig spirites, sēt to ministre/for theyr sakes which shalbe heyres of saluacion.

The notes. * Of these later dayes yehaue. Esa. i. a. Eze: xxxviiie ¶ He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new law which Christe hath geuen vs and not to be offended at the infyrmities, lowe degree of Christe: because it was necessary, that for our sakes he should take suche an humble state vpon hym, that he myght be lyke vnto his brethren,

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

Wherfore we oughte to geue the more hede to ỹ thinges which we haue herd lest we perish. For if the worde which was spoken by angels was stedfast, so that euery transgression and disobedience, receaued a iust recompence to rewarde, how shall we escape if wee despise so great saluacion, which at the first began to be preached of the Lorde hym selfe, and afterward was confirmed vnto vs warde, by them that herde it. God bearing witnes therto, both with signes and wonders also, and with diuers myracles, and giftes of ỹ holy goost acordig to hys owne will. He hath not vnto the āgeles put in subiection ỹ world to come, whereof we spake, but one in a certayne place wytnesseth sayenge.

Ye pharisees of Moses were so greuously punished what shal become of thē ỹ make a mocke of Christ,

What is man, that thou art mindful of him? After thou haddeste for a season, made him lower then the angeles: thou crounest him with honoure and glorye, and hast set hi aboue the workes of thy handes. Thou hast put al thinges in subiection vnder his fete. In ỹ he put al thinges vnder him, he left nothinge ỹ is not put vnder him. Neuertheles we yet se not al thinges subdued, but him ỹ was made lesse then the angels we se ỹ it was Jesus/which is crouned w̄ glorye and honoure for the suffering of death: that he by the grace of God/shulde tast of death for al men.

For it became him, for whom are all thinges and by whom are all thiges, after that hee had brought manye sonnes vnto glory, ỹ he shulde make the Lorde of theyr saluacion perfect thorow sufferinge. For he that sanctifieth and they which are sanctified, are al of one. For whyche cause he is not a shamed to call them brethren sayenge: I wil declare thy name vnto my brethren, and in ỹ middes of ỹ congregacion wil I prayse thee. And againe: I wil put my truste in hym. And agayne: beholde here am I and the chyldren which God hath geuen me.

For as much then as the chyldren were partakers of flesshe and bloud, he also him selfe likewise to toke parte with them, for to put doune thorow death, hī ỹ had lordshyp ouer death, that is to say the deuyl, ād that he might delyuer thē which thorow fere of death were al their life time in daunger of bondage. For he in no place taketh on him ỹ angels: but the seed of Abraham taketh hee on him. Wherfore in al thinges it became hym to be made like vnto his brethren, ỹ hee might be merciful, & a faithful hie Preest in thinges cōcerninge god, for to purge ỹ peoples sines. For in ỹ he him selfe suffered & was tempted, he is able to succker them that are tempted.

The notes

* Miracles are called signes, because they be a signe, token ād an euident proofe, that the thing ỹ is preached is gods worde.

¶ He requireth vs to be obedient vnto the word of Christ, which is more worthy then Moses. The punishment of such as wylfully harden theyr hertes.

The.iii.Chapter

Wherfore holy brethren, partakers of the celestial callynge consider the embassadour and hye prest of oure profession Christe Jesus, which was faythfull to him that made hi, euē as was Moyses in al his house.

And yet was this man counted worthy of more glory then Moises: Inasmoche as he whych hath prepared the house, hath more honoure in the house. Euery house is prepared of some mā. But he that ordeined all thinges, is god.

B And Moyses verely was faythfull in all his house/as a minister, to beare witnes of those thinges which shuld be spokē afterwarde. But Christ as a sōne/hath rule ouer the house, whose house are we/so that we hold fast the confydence and the reioysynge of that hope, vnto the ende.

Wherfore as the holy goost sayth: to daye yf ye shall heare his voyce, harden not youre hertes, after the rebellion in the daye of temptacion in ỹ wyldernes, where youre fathers tēpted me, proued me, and sawe my workes. xl. yeare longe.

Wherfore I was greued with the ge-

C neracyon ād sayde. They erre euer in their hertes: they verely haue not knowen my wayes so ỹ I sware in my wrathe, ỹ they shuld not enter into my rest. Take hede brethren, that therbe in none of you an euyll herte in vnbeleue, that he shuld departe from the lyuynge God: but exhorte one another dayly, whyle it is called to daye, leste enye of you were hard herted thorow the deceytfulnes of synne.

We are partakers of Christ yf we kepe sure vnto the end the *fyrst substance, so longe as it is sayd: to daye yf ye heare hys voyce, harden not youre hertes, as when ye rebelled. For some, when

D they heard, rebelled: howbe it not al that come out of Egipt vnder Moyses. But wyth whō was he displeased. xl. yeares? was he not displeased wyth them that synned whose carkases were ouerthrowen in the desert? To whom sware he ỹ that they shuld not enter into his rest: but vnto them that beleued not? And we se ỹ they coulde not enter in, because of vnbeleue.

*Fyrst substance is fayth.

The sabboth or rest of the Christen: punishment of vnbeleuers the nature of the worde of god.

C The.iiii.Chapter.

Let vs feare therfor leaste A ny of vs forsaking the promises of entring into his rest should seme to come behinde, for vnto vs was it declared, as wel as vnto them. But it profited not them that they hearde the worde because they which hearde it, coupled it not wyth *fayth, but we whych haue beleued, do enter into hys rest, as contrarywyse he sayd, to the other I haue sworne in my wrath/they shall not enter into B my rest. And that spake he verelye longe after ỹ the workes were made, and the foundacion of the world layde. For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenthe daye on thys wyse: And god dyd rest the seuēth day from all his workes. And in thys place agayne: They shall not come into my rest.

Seynge therfore it followeth that some must enter therinto, and they to whom it was fyrst preached, entred not therin for C vnbeleues sake. Agayne he appointed in Dauid a certayne present daye after so longe a tyme, sayinge as it is rehearsed: this daye yf ye heare his voyce, be not hard herted. For yf Iosue had geuē thē rest, then wolde he not afterwarde haue spokē of another day. There remayneth therfore yet a rest to the people of god. For he that is entred into his rest/doth *cease from hys awne workes as God dyd from hys.

Let vs studye therfore to enter into that D rest lest any man faul after the same ensample, into vnbeleue. For the worde of god is quicke, and mighty in operacyon and sharper then any two edged swerd: and entreth thorow, euen vnto the dyuydinge a sonder of the soule and ỹ spyrite, and of the ioyntes and the mary: & iudgeth the thoughtes ād the intentes of ỹ hert nether is ther any creature inuisible in ỹ syght of him, For al thinges are naked and bare vnto the eyes of him, of hī whom we spake.

*As fayth is the grounde of al grace: euenso is vnbeleue the rote of al synne.
*Synne is one worke, from which al muste ceasse ỹ enter into the rest of a quiet conscience in Christ.

Christ is our hye prest and seate of grace, & more excellent, then the hie prestes of the olde lawe.

The. v. Chapter.

A Seynge then that we haue a great hye prest which is entred into heue (I meane Jesus ỹ sõne of god) let vs holde our profession. For we haue not an hie prest, whiche can not haue cõpassion on oure infirmites: but was in al pointes tẽpted, like as wes are but yet without sinne. Let vs therefore go boldly vnto the seat of grace, ỹ we may receaue mercye, and finde grace to helpe in tyme of nede.

✝ For euery hye prest ỹ is takẽ amõg men is ordened for men, in thinges partayning to god: to offer giftes and sacrifices for sinnes: which can haue compassion on ỹ ignorannt, & one thẽ ỹ are out of ỹ waye, because ỹ he him selfe is compassed wt infirmite, for ỹ which infirmites sake he is bounde to offer for sinnes as wel for his owne part, as for the peoples. And no man taketh honoure vnto him self, but he that is called of God as was Aaron.

Euen so lyke wise, Christ glorified not him selfe, to be made the hye prest: but he ỹ sayd vnto hi ỹ art my sonne, this daye begat I thee, glorified hi. As he also in another place speaketh: ỹ art a prest for euer after the order of Melchisedech. & which in ỹ dayes of his flesshe, did offer vp prayers & supplycacions, wt strõg crieng & teares vnto him ỹ was able to saue hi frõ death & was also herd, because of his godlines. And though he were Goddes sonne, yet lerned he obedience, by thole thiges which he suffered, & was made parfait, & ỹ cause of eternal saluacion vnto al thẽ ỹ obey hi & is called of God an hie preste, after ỹ order of Melchisedech. Wherof we haue many thinges to say, which are herd to be vttred: because ye are dul of hearig For when as cõcernig ỹ time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye nede againe ỹ we teache you ỹ first principyples of ỹ word of god, ãd are become suche as haue nede of milke, & not of strõg meate: for euerye mã ỹ is fed wt milcke, is inexperte in ỹ word of rightwesnes. For he is but a babe. But strõg meat belõgeth to thẽ ỹ are parfect which thorow custõe haue their wittes exercysed, to iudge both good & euil also

The goeth forth wyth the thinge that he beganne in the later ende of the. v. Chap: and exhorteth them not to faint but to be stedfast and patient: for so much, as God is sure in hys promes:

The. vi. Chapter.

A Therfore let vs leue the doctrine pertayning to the begynninge of a Christen man, & let vs go vnto perfection, and now no more laye the foundacion of repentaunce from dead workes, and of fayth towarde God, of baptyme, of doctrine, and of layenge on of handes: and of resurrection from death, and of eternall iudgement. And so wyll we do if we repente. a* For it is not possible that they which were ones lighted, and haue tasted of the heauẽly gifte and were become partakers of the holye goost, and haue tasted of the good word of god, and of the power of the worde to come: yf they faule, shoulde bee renewed agayne vnto repentaunce: for as muche as they haue (as cõcernyng them selues) crucifyed the sonne of god a fresh and make a mocke of hym.

mota

For that earth which drincketh in ỹ rayne that commeth often vppon it, and bringeth forthe herbes meete for them ỹ dresse it, receaueth blessinge of God, but ỹ grounde whyche beareth thornes and bryers, is reproued, and is nye vnto cursing: whose ende is to be burned. Neuertheles deare frẽdes, we trust to se better of you, and thinges whiche accompanye saluacion, though we thus speake. For god is not vnrighteous that he should forget your worke and labour that proceadeth of loue, which loue ye shewed in his nãe which haue ministred vnto the sayntes, and yet ministre. Yea, and we desire that euery one of you shew the same dyligence, to the stablyshing of hope euen vnto the ende: ỹ ye fayntie not but folow them which thorow fayth and pacience, inheret the promises.

For when god made promes to Abraha because he had no greater thig to swere by he sware by him selfe, saynge: Surely I wyll blesse thee, and multiply thee in dede. And so after that he had taried a longe time, he enioyed the promes. Mẽ verely sware by him ỹ is greater thẽ thẽ selues, and an oth to confirme the thige

is

is among them an ende of al ſtrife. So god willing very aboundantly to ſhew vnto the heyres of the promes, the ſtable D nes of his counſayll, he added an oth ꝑ by two immutable thinges (in whyche it was vnpoſſible that god ſhoulde lye)
we might haue parfect conſolacio, whiche haue fled, for to hold faſt the hope ꝑ is ſet before vs, which hope we haue as an anker of the ſoule both ſure and ſted-faſt. Which hope also entreth in, into thoſe thynges which are withi ꝑ vayle, whither the fore runner is for vs entred
in/I meane Jeſus that is made an hye Preſte for euer, after the order of Mel-chiſedech.

The notes,

a* For it is not poſſible that they whiche were ones lyghted &c, Thys text demyeth no poſſibilyte of mercy in god, but the impoſſibilyte of repentance in ſuche men as malycyouſly forſake the truth, blaſpheme Chryſt, take parte agaynſt the holy goaſte. For the trueth is that with the Lorde there is mercy plenteous redemption, Pſal. cxxix. ſo that whoſoeuer calleth vpon his name ſhalbe ſaued Joel: Roman, x. Now they that forſake ꝑ truth, blaſphemyng chriſt and taking part agaynſt the holygoſt can not repent for yf ſynners wolde conuerte and cal vpon god, hee ſhoulde be ſure of remyſſion.

¶ He compareth the preſthode of Chriſt vnto Melchyſedech, but to be farre more excellent.

The. vii. Chapter

A THis Melchiſedech kynge of Salem (which beynge preſt of ꝑ moſt hie god, met Abraham, as he returned agayne from the ſlaughter of the kynges and bleſſed hym: to whō alſo Abraha gaue tethes of al thinges) fyrſt is by interpretacion kinge of righteweſnes: after ꝑ he is kyng of Salem, ꝑ is to say, kynge of peace Wout father with out mother, Wout kinne, & hath nether begininge of his tyme nether yet ende of his life: but is likened vnto the ſōne of God and contynueth a preſt for euer. Conſyder what a man this was vnto whom, ꝑ Patriarke Abraham gaue tythes of the ſpoyles. And verely thoſe children of Leui, which receaued the office of the preſtes, haue a commaundemēt to take accordinge to the lawe, tythes of the people, that is to say, of ther brethrē, yet though they ſprounge out of ꝑ loynes of Abraham. But he whoſe kynred is not coūted among thē receaued tythes of Abra
B ham and bleſſed hym that had the promyſes.

And without all naye sayinge, he whych is leſſe, receaueth bleſſynge of hym whi-che he is greater. And here men that dye, receaue tythes. But there he receaueth tythes of whom it is witneſſed, that he liueth. And to say the trueth, Leuy him ſelfe alſo which receaueth tythes, paied tythes to Abraham. For he was yet in the loynes of his father Abrahā when Melchiſedech met hi n.

If now therfore perfeccion came by ꝑ preſthod of the Leuites (for vnder that preſthod the people receaued the lawe) what neded it further more that another ſhuld ryſe, after ꝑ order of Melchiſedech, and not after the order of Aaron? Now no dout, yf ꝑ preſthod be trāſlated, then of neceſſytie muſte ꝑ lawe be C translated, also.

For he of whom theſe thinges are ſpoken pertayneth vnto another tribe, of which neuer mā ſerued at ꝑ aultre. For it is euident that oure Lorde ſprouge of the tribe of Juda, of whych tribe ſpake Moyſes nothing concernynge preſthod. And it is yet a more euydent thinge, yf after ꝑ ſimilitude of Melchiſedech ther aryſe another preſt, whych is not made after the lawe of the carnall commaundemēt: but after the power of ꝑ endleſſe lyfe. For he teſtifieth: thou arte a preſt for euer, after the order of Melchiſedech. Then the cōmaundemēt that went afore, is diſanulled/because of hyr weakenes and vnprofytablenes. For the lawe made nothynge parfecte: but was an introduccyō of a better hope, by whych hope, we drawe nye vnto God.

And for this cauſe it is a better hope, that it was not promiſed with out ā othe. Thoſe preſtes were made without an othe, but this preſt wyth an othe, by D hym that ſayde vnto hym, The Lorde ſware, and wyll not repent: Thou arte a preſt for euer after ꝑ order of Melchiſedech. And for that cauſe was Jeſus a ſtablyſſher of a better teſtament.

And amonge them many were made preſtes, because they were not ſuffred to endure by the reaſon of death. But this mā, because he ēdureth euer, hath ā euerlaſtynge preſthod. Wherfore he is able alſo euer to ſaue thē that cōe vnto God by him, ſeynge he euer lyueth, to make intercellyon for vs.

Suche

Suche an hye preest it became vs to haue which is holye, harmeles, vndefyled, separate from sinners, and made hier then heauen, which nedeth not dayly (as ponder hye Preestes) to offre vp sacrifice / fyrste for hys owne synnes, and thē for the peoples synnes. For that did he at once for all when he offred vp himselfe. For the lawe maketh men preestes, which haue infirmitie: but the worde of the othe that came sence the lawe maketh the sonne preeste, which is perfecte for euermore.

Christe ones sacrifised purged al sinnes

¶ The office of Christ is moze worthy then the preeste s office of the olde lawe, which was vnperfect and therfore abrogate.

¶ The. viii. Chapter

Of the thinges which we haue spoken this is the pyth: that we haue suche an high preeste that is sytten on the eyght hande of the seate of magestie in Heauen, and is a minister of holy thinges and of the very tabernacle which God pight and not man. For euerye hye preeste is ordeyned to offer giftes and sacrifices, wherfore it is of necessite that this man haue somewhat also to offre. For he were no preeste yf he were on the earth, where are preestes that accordinge to the lawe offer gifts / which preestes serue vnto the ensāple and shadowe of heauenly thinges: euen as the aunswere of god was geuen vnto Moises, when he was about to fynishe the tabernacle: Take hede sayde hee / that thou make al thinges accordinge to the patrone shewed to thee in the mount.

offer

B

Now hath he optayned a moze excellente office in as muche as he is the mediatour of a better Testamente, whiche was made for better promyses. For if ỹ first Testament had bene fauteles: then shoulde no place haue bene sought for ỹ second. For in rebuking them he sayth. Beholde the dayes wyll come (sayth ỹ Lorde) and I will finish vpon the house of Israell, and vpon ỹ house of Juda a new testamente: not lyke ỹ testament ỹ I made wt theyr fathers at ỹ tyme, whē I toke them by the handes to leade them out of the lande of Egipte / for they continued not in my testament / ād I regarded them not sayth the Lorde.

¶

For this was the testament that I wyll make to the house of Israel: After those dayes sayth the Lorde: I wyll I put my lawes in their myndes, and in their hertes I wyll write them, and I will be their God and they shal be my people. And D they shal not teache, euery man his neyboure and euerye man his brother, sayenge: know the Lorde: for they shal know me, from the lest to the most of them: for I wyl be mercyfull ouer their vnrighteousnes, and ouer their sinnes ād iniquites. In that he saieth a new testament, he hath abrogat the olde. Nowe ỹ which che is disanulled and wexed olde, is redy to vanishe away

¶ The pryuilege and worthines of ỹ olde testament and how farre the new excelleth it.

The. ix. Chapter.

That first tabernacle verelye had ordinaunces, and seruynges of God, and worldly holines. For ther was a fore tabernacle made wherin was the candelstike and ỹ table and the shew bread which is called holy. But with the seconde vaile was there a tabernacle, which is called holyest of al, which had the golden senser and ỹ arke of the testament ouerlaide round about with golde, wherin was the golden pot with Manna, and Aarons rodde that sprounge and the tables of the testament. Ouer the arke were the Cherubyns of glory shadowing the seate of grace. Of which thinges we will not now speake particularly.

When these thinges were thus ordeined, the Preestes went al waies into ỹ first tabernacle and executed the seruice of god. But into the seconde wente the hie preest alone, once euery yeare: ād not without bloude, whych he offered for hī selfe, and for the ignorannce of the people. Wherby the holy goost this signified that the way of holy thiges, was not yet opened, while as yet ỹ first tabernacle was standing. Which was a symilytude for the time then present, in which were offered gyftes & sacrifices ỹ coulde not make ỹ minister perfecte, as partayning to ỹ conscience wt only metes & drinkes & diuers washinges ād iustifienges of the flesche, which were ordeined vntyl ỹ time of reformacion.

B

¶

but

+But Christ beinge ā hye prest of good thinges to comme came by a greater ād a more parfecte tabernacle, not made wt handes: that is to saye, not of thys maner buyldyng, nether by the bloud of gotes ād calues: but by his awne bloud he entred in once for al into the holy place, & founde eternall redemption. + For yf the bloud of oxen and of gotes and ye asshes of an heyfer, when it was sprinckled, purified the vnclene, as touchynge the purifyinge of the flesshe: howe muche more shal the bloud of Christ (which thorow ye eternall spryte, offered him selfe without spot to God) pourge youre consciences from dead workes for to serue the lyuinge God?

And for this cause is he the mediator of the newe testamente, ye thorow death which chaunced for the redempcion of those transgressyons that were in ye fyrst testament, they which were called, might receaue the promes of eternall inheritaunce. + For whersoeuer is a testamēt, ther must also be the death of hym that maketh the testament. For the testamēt taketh auctorite whē men are dead: for it is of no vaine as longe as he ye made it, is a lyue. For whyche cause also, neyther that fyrst testamēt was ordened wt out bloud. For when all the commaundementes were redde of Moses to al ye people, he toke the bloud of calues and of gotes, with wāter and purple woolle and isope, and sprynckled both the boke, & al the people, saying: this is the bloude of the testament which God hath appointed vnto you. Moreouer, he sprynckled the tabernacle with bloud also, ād all the ministringe vessels. And also almost all thynges, are by the lawe pourged wythoute, and with out sheadinge of bloud is no remissyon.

Exody. xii. c and. xiiii. c

It is then nede that the similitudes of heauenly thynges be purifyed wyth suche thinges: but the heauenly thinges thē selues are purified wt better sacrifyces then are those. For Christe is not entred into the holy places that are made with handes, which are but similitudes of true thinges: but is entred into very heauen, for to appere now in the sight of God for vs: not to offer hym selfe often, as the hye prest entreth into the holy place euery yeare with straunge bloud, for then must he haue often suffered sence ye world began. But now in the ende of ye world, hath he appered once, to put sinne to flyght, by the offerynge vp of him selfe: And as it is apoynted vnto men ye they shall once dye, and then commeth ye iudgement, euē so Christ was once offered to take away the synnes of many, and vnto them that loke for hym shall he appeare agayne without synne vnto saluacyon.

Roman. v. b. & Peter. iii. d

The olde lawe hath no power to clense away sinne but Christ did it with ye offeringe of his body ones for all. An exhortatyon to receyue this goodnes of god thankfully with pacience and stedfast faith.

The. x. Chapter.

For the lawe which hath but ye shadowe of good thinges to come, ād not the thinges in their awne fassiō can neuer with ye sacrifices which they offer yeare by yeare continually, make the commers thervnto parfayte. For wold not then those sacrifyces haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that ye offerers once purged shulde haue had no more consciences of synnes. Neuertheles in those sacrifyces is ther mencion made of synnes euery yeare. * For it is vnpossyble that the bloud of oxen ād of gotes shuld take awaye synnes.

Leuit. xvi. c.

Wherfore when he cōeth into ye worlde, he sayth. * Sacrifyce and offerynge thou woldest not haue: but a bodie hast thou ordeyned me. In sacrifyces & synne offerynges ye hast no lust. Then I sayde: Lo I come, in ye chefest of ye boke it is writen of me, that I shulde do thy wyll, O god. Aboue, when he had sayd sacrifice and offernge, & burnt sacrifices ād synne offeringes thou woldest not haue nether hast alowed (which yet are offered by the lawe) and then sayde: Lo I come to do thy wyll, O god: he taketh away the fyrst to stablisshe the latter. By ye which will, we are sanctyfied: by ye offeringe of ye body of Jesu Christe once for all.

Psal. xxxix. b

Christes bodi is but ons offered

And euery prest is redy dayly ministrig & ofte times offereth one maner of offerig which cā neuer take away synes: but thys mā after he had offered one sacrifice for synes, sat hi doune for euer on ye right hand of God, and from hence forth tarieth

tarpeth tyll his foes be made his fote stole. For with one offeringe hath he made parfect for euer thē that are sanctifyed. And the holy goost also beareth vs recorde of thys, euen when he tolde before: This is the testament that I will make vnto them: after those dayes sayth the Lorde. I wil put my lawes in their hertes, and in their mynde I wyl wryte thē, and their synnes and iniquities wyll I remember no moare. And where remissiō of these thinges is, ther is no moare offeringe for synne.

Herefolowe=eth our dutie yf we wyl be partakers of the mercy be=fore rehersed

Seynge brethren that by the meanes of the bloud of Jesu, we maye be bolde to enter into that holye place, by ẏ newe and lyuinge waye which he hath prepared for vs, through the vayle, that is to saye, by hys flesshe. And seyng also that wee haue an hye preste whiche is ruler ouer the house of God, let vs drawe nye w a true herte in a full faith, sprynckeled in oure hertes from an euyl conscyence, and washed in our bodies wyth pure water: and let vs kepe the profession of oure hope, with out wauerynge (for he is faithfull that promised) and let vs consider one a nother, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes: and let vs not forsake the felosh̄ip that we haue amōge oure selues, as the maner of some is: but let vs exhorte one another, and that so much the moare, because ye se that the daye draweth nye.

nota

nota

For yf we synne willingly after ẏ we haue receaued the knowledge of ẏ truth, ther remayneth no moare sacrifice for synnes but a fearfull lokinge for iudgement, and violent fyre, which shall deuoure the aduersaries. He that dispysseth Moses law, dyeth wyth out mercy vnder two or three witnesses. Of howe much sorer punishment suppose ye shal he be counted worthye, whiche treadeth vnder fote the sonne of God: and counteth the bloude of the testamēt as an vnholy thynge wherwyth he was sanctified, and doth dishonoure to ẏ spyrete of grace. For we knowe him that hath sayde: vengeaunce belongeth vnto me, I will recompence sayth ẏ Lorde. And agayne: the Lord shal iudge hys people It is a fearfull thinge to fall into *ẏ handes of the lyuinge God.

Call to remembraunce the dayes that are passed, in the which after ye had receaued light, ye endured a greate fight i aduersities, partly while al me wondred & gased at you for the shame & tribulacion that was done vnto you, and partly while ye become companiōs of them which so passed their time. For ye suffered also wt my bondes, and toke i worthe the spoilinge of youre goodes, and that with gladnes: knoweng in your selues how that ye had in heauen a better and an enduringe substaūce. Cast not awaye therfor your confidēce which hath great reward to recompence. For ye haue nede of pacience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye mygh̄t receaue the promes. For yet a very lytel while, and he ẏ shall come wyl come, and wyl not tarye. But the iust shal lyue by faith. And if he withdrawe him selfe my soule shal haue no pleasure in him. We are not whiche withdrawe oure selues vnto dampnacion, but partaine to faith, to the wynnig of the soule.

The notes.

a* For yf we sinne, &c. Thys is the synne wherof is spoken Math. xii. c. that is ẏ synne of blasphemy agaynst ẏ holy goost: whych. S. Jon calleth ẏ synne vnto death. i. Jho: v. d.

b* The handes of god here sygnyfy ẏ correccyon & chastenynge of God as it is said. Paul, xx b

¶ What faith is, a commendation of ẏ same. The stedfast beleue of ẏ fathers in olde tyme.

¶ The. xi. Chapter.

a* Yth is a sure confidence of thinges which are hoped for, & a certaynty of thinges which are not sene. By it ẏ elders were wel reported of. Thorow fayth we vnderstand that the worlde was ordeined by ẏ word of god ād that thinges which are [illegible] sene, were made of thinges which are not sene. By fayth, Abel offered vnto God a moare plenteous sacrifice thē Cain: by which he obtained witnes that he was righteous. God testifienge of his giftes: by whiche also he beinge dead, yet speaketh.

By faith was Enoch translated that he shuld not se death: neither was he founde: for God had taken him awaye. Before he was taken away, he was reported of, ẏ had pleased God: but wout faith it is vnpossible to please hi. For he ẏ cōeth to god must beleue ẏ god is, & ẏ he is a rewarder of them ẏ seke him.

By

By fayth Noe honored God after that he was warned of thinges which were not sene, and prepared the arke to ꝑ saueing of his housholde, throwe the which arcke, hee condempned the worlde, and became heyre of the righteousnes which commeth by fayth.

By faith Abraham/when he was called obeyed/to go oute into a place, which he shuld after warde receaue to inheritaunce: and he went out, not knowinge whether he shuld go.

By fayth he remoued into the lande that was promysed him, as into a straunge countre, and dwelt in tabernacles: and so dyd Isaac and Jacob heyres wt him of ꝑ same promes. For he loked for a citie hauing a foundacion whose buylder and maker is God.

Gene.xxi.a. Throwe fayth Sara also receaued strength to be wt chyld and was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because she iudged him faithful which had promysed.

And therfore sprange therof, one (& of one which was as good as dead) so many in multitude, as ꝑ starres of the skye, and as the sond of the see shore which is innumerable.

And they all dyed in fayth, and receaued not the promyses: but saw thē a farre of, and beleued them, and saluted thē and confessed that they were strangers, and pilgrems on the earthe. They that saye soch thynges declare ꝑ they seke a countre. Also yf they had bene mynd full of that countre, from whence they came oute, they had leasure to haue returned agayne: but now they desyre a better, that is to say a heauenly. Wherfore God is not ashamed of them euen to be called their god: for he hath prepared for them a cytie.

Gene.xxii.b Ecc.xliiii.c By faith Abraham offered vp Isaac, when he was tempted, ād he offered him beinge hys only begotten sonne, which had receaued the promyses of whom it was sayde, in Isaac shall thy seed be called: for he consydered that God was able to rayse it vp agayn frō death. Therfore receaued he him, for an ensample.

Gen.xxvii.d In fayth Isaac blessed Jacob & Esau, concerninge thinges to come.

By fayth Jacob when he was a dienge blessed both the sonnes of Joseph, and bowed hymselfe towarde the toppe of his scepter. Gene.xlix.a Genesi.xlvi.d.

By fayth Joseph when he dyed/ remembred the departinge of the childere of Israell, and gaue commaundemente of hys bones.

*By fayth Moses when he was borne, was hyd thre moneths of hys father and mother, because they saw he was a proper Chylde: neyther feared they the kynges commaundement. Exody.ii.a, E

By fayth Moses when he was great, refused to be called the sōne of Pharaos doughter/and chose rather to suffre aduersitie wyth the people of God, then to enioy the pleasures of synne for a season, and esteamed the rebuke of Christe greater riches then the treasure of Egipte. For he had respecte vnto the rewarde.

By fayth he forsoke Egipte and feared not the fearcenes of the kynge. For he endured euen as he hadde seane hym which is inuisyble.

*Throwe fayth he ordeyned the easter lambe, and the effusion of blond, leaste he that destroyed the fyrste borne, shoulde touche them. Exody.xii.b F

*By fayth they passed throwe the reade sea, as by drye lande. which when the Egipcians had assayed to doo, they were drowned. Exo.xiiii.c.

*By fayth the walles of Jericho fell downe after they were compassed about seuen dayes. Josue.vi.c

*By fayth the harlot Raab perished not wyth the vnbeleuers, when she had receaued the spyes to lodging peasibly. Josue.vi.c and.xi.a

And what shall I moare say, the time wold be to short for me to tel of Gedeon, Barach and of Sampson, and of Jephthae: also of Dauid and Samuell, and of the Prophetes: Which throwe fayth subdued kingdomes, wrought rightuousnes / obtayned the promyses, stopped the mouthes of lyons. quenched the violence of fyre, escaped the edge of the swearde/ of weake were made strōg, waxed baliant in fyght, turned to flighte the armyes of the aliantes. And the wemen receaued theyr deade, rayled to lyfe agayne.

Other

Other were racked, and wolde not be delyuered/that they might receaue a better resurrectiõ. Other tasted of mockinges, and scourginges, moreouer of bondes and presonnemente: were stoaned, were hewen asunder, were temptêd, were slayne with swerdes, walcked vp & downe in shepes skinnes, in gote skinnes, in nede, tribulacion and veration; which ỹ world was not worthy of: they wandred in wyldernes, in mountaynes, in Denes and caues of the earth.

And these all thorowe fayth obtayned good reporte, & receaue not the promes, God prouiding a better thinge for vs, that they without vs should not be made perfecte.

The notes

a * Fayth and truste in Chryst onely is the lyfe and quietnes of the conscience and not trust in workes, how holy soeuer they apeare: workes can not set the hert at rest because we ener thincke they bee not enow nor yet good enow, but to feawe, and so falle we to mistrusting, after which foloweth dispayring and so dampnation, yf we leaue not the cõfidence in them, and sticke to fayth, whych can receue & beleue without mystrust that Chrystes workes on ỹ crosse hath fully purged clẽsed & housed vs frõ al our sinnes ☞ An exhortacio to be pacient & stedfast in troble & aduersitie: vpon hope of euerlasting reward. A cõmendacyon of the new testament aboue the olde.

The. xii. Chapter.

A Wherfore let vs also (seinge that wee are compassed wt soo greate a multytude of witnesses) laye awaye all ỹ presseth downe, ād the synne that hangeth on, and let vs runne wt pacyence vnto the battel that is set before vs, lokinge vnto Jesus the auctour and finisher of our fayth, whiche for the ioye that was set before hym, abode the crosse, & despised ỹ shame, & is set downe on the right hande of the trone of god. Consider therfor how that he endureth suche speaking against hym of sinners, leste ye shoulde be weeried and fainte in your myndes. For ye haue not yet resisted vnto bloudshedinge, striuing against B synne/and haue forgoten the consolacyon/whiche speaketh vnto you as vnto Childern/my sonne despise not the chastesninge of the Lorde, neythere fainte when thou art rebuked of hym, for whome the Lorde loueth, him hee * chastenethe: ye and he scourgeth euerye sonne that he receaueth.

If ye endure chastesninge, God offereth hym selfe vnto you as vnto sonnes. What sonne is that who the father chastyseneth not? If ye be not vnder correctiõ (where of all are partakers) then are ye bastardes and not sonnes. Moreouer seynge we had fathers of our flesh whiche corrected vs, ād we gaue them reuerence: shulde we not much rathere bee in subiection vnto ỹ father of spyrytual giftes that we might liue? And they verely for a fewe dayes, nurtered vs after their owne pleasure: but he learneth vs vnto that which is profitable, that we might receaue of his holines. No maner chastysing for the present tyme semeth to be ioyous, but greuous: neuertheles afterward, it bringeth the quiet frute of righteweesnes, vnto them whiche are therin exercysed. C

Stretch forthe therfor again the handes which were let doune, and the weake knees and se that ye haue straight stepes vnto your fete/lest eny halting turne you out of the waye: yee let it rather be healed. Embrace peace wt al men and holynes: with out the which no manshal see the Lorde. And loke to, that no man be destitute of the grace of God, & that no rote of bitternes springe vp ād trouble, and therby manye bee defyled: & that ther be no fornicator/or vnclene person, as Esau, which for one brekfast sold his byrthryght. * a Ye know how that afterwarde when he wolde haue inhereted ỹ blessynge, he was put by, and he founde no meanes to come therby agayne: no though hee desyred it with teares. D

* For ye are not come vnto ỹ mounte that can be touched, and vnto burninge fyre nor yet to myste and darckenes and tempest of wedder, nether vnto the sound of a trompe and the voyce of wordes, whiche voyce they that hearde it, wisshed awaye: that the communicacyõ shuld not be spokẽ to thẽ. For they were not able to abyde ỹ whych was spokẽ. If a beast had touched ỹ mouñtaine, it must haue bene stoned, or thrult thorowe wt a dart: euen so terryble was the syght wich appered. Moyses sayd, I feare & quake. But ye are come vnto the mount Sion & to ỹ citie of the liuinge god, the celestiall Jerusalẽ: & to an innumerable sight of angels & vnto the cõgregacio of ỹ firste E F borne borne sonnes, which are writtē i heauē ād to God the iudge of al, and to ỳ spretes of iust and parfecte men, and to Jesus the mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinckling of blou de ỳ speaketh better then the bloud of Abel.

Se that ye dysppyse not him that speaketh. For yf they escaped not which refused hym that spake on earth: moch more shall we not escape, yf we turne awaye frō him that speaketh frō heauen: whose voyce then shouke the earth, and now declareth sayinge: yet once more will I ake, not the earth only/ but also heauē. No dout that same that he saith, yet once more, signifyeth the remouyng away of thinges which are shaken, as of thinges which haue ended their course: that the thinges which are not shaken, may remayne.

Wherfor if we receaue a kigdome which is not moued we haue grace, wherby we maye serue god and please hym with reuerence and godly feare. For our god is consumynge fyre.

The notes.

a * This text maketh not against repentaunce that is done in season. Esau repented to late, and therfore profited not, When sentence of iudgement is geuen then hath repentance no place. The dampned in hell shal wepe and repent, but in vayn: for then is ỳ tyme of repentinge paste. The blessynge whych Isaac gaue was vndoubted, done by the inspyratiō of the holy goost, & geuen in steade of a determynat sentence, and therfore must needes be ratyfyed and might not be called agayne, but and if Esau before the blessing geuen had chaunged hys maners & had hertely & ernestly repēted hym, he had surely not bene reproued of God. This shoulde seame to be ỳ very meaning of thys texte. And verely Erasmus maketh a lyke exposycion hereof in hys Paraphrasis. He exhorteth vs vnto loue, to hospitality, to thynke vpon such as be in aduersite, to maintayn wedlocke to auoyde couetousnes, to make moch of them ỳ preache gods worde, to beware of straunge learnynge to be content to suffer rebuke with Chryst, to bethākeful vnto god, and obedient vnto our heades.

The.xiii. Chapter.

Et brotherly loue cōtynue.

Be not forgetful to lodge straungers. For therby haue diuers receaued angels into their houses vnwares.

A Our dutie if we wyl haue our parte wt Chryst

Remember them that are in bōdes, euē as though ye were bounde wt them. Be mindefull of thē which are in aduersytie, as ye which are yet in your bondes. Let wedlock be had in peace in all poyntes, and let the chamber be vndefiled, for whore kepers and aduouterers God wil iudge. Let youre conuersacyon be wt out couetousnes and be contente with ỳ ye haue all readye.

For he verely sayde: * I wyll not fayle thee, nether forsake thee: that we maye boldely saye, the Lorde is my helper, ād I wyll not feare what man doeth vnto me. Remembre them whiche haue the ouersight of you, wich haue declared vnto you the word of God, the end of whose conuersacion see that ye loke vppon, and folowe theyr faith: Iosu, i. a

Jesus Chryste yesterdaye and to day and the same continueth for euer. ỳ

Be not caryed about with dyuers and straunge learning. For it is a good thinge that the hert be stablished with grace and not with meates whiche haue not profited them that haue had theyr pastyme in them. We haue an aulter wher of they maye not eate which serue in the tabernacle. * For the bodyes of those beastes whose bloude is brought into the holy place by the hye prest, to purge sinne, are burnt wout the tētes. Therfore Jesus, to sainctifye the people with his owne bloud, suffered wout the gate. Let vs go forth therfore out of the tē tes, and suffre rebuke with him, for here haue we no continuinge Citye: but wee seke one to come. C Num, xix. a. Wiche, ii. c.

For by hym offer we the sacrifyce of laude alwayes to god that is to saye, ỳ frute of those lippes which confesse his name. To do good and to distribut forget not, for wyth suche sacrifices god is pleased. ỳ * Obeye them, that haue the ouersight of you, submytte your selues to them, for they watch for your soules, euen as they that muste geue accompts that they maye do it with ioye, and not with grefe. For that is an vnprofitable thinge for you, praye for vs. We haue confidēce because we haue a good conscience in al thinges, and desyre to lyue honestly, I desyre you therfor somwhat the moare aboundauntlye, that ye so do that I may be restored to you quickly e. D borne sonnes, which are writtē i heauē ād to God the iudge of al, and to ỳ spretes of iust and parfecte men, and to Jesus the mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinckling of blou de ỳ speaketh better then the bloud of Abel.

The god of peace that brought agayn from death our lorde Jesus, the greate shepherde of the shepe throw the bloud of the euerlastinge testament, make you perfecte in all good worckes, to do hys wyl, worckinge in you, that which is plesaunt in his syght throw Jesus Chryst.

Se that ye dysppyse not him that speaketh. For yf they escaped not which refused hym that spake on earth: moch more shall we not escape, yf we turne awaye frō him that speaketh frō heauen: whose voyce then shouke the earth, and now declareth sayinge: yet once more will I ake, not the earth only/ but also heauē. No dout that same that he saith, yet once more, signifyeth the remouyng away of thinges which are shaken, as of thinges which haue ended their course: that the thinges which are not shaken, may remayne.

Wherfor if we receaue a kigdome which is not moued we haue grace, wherby we maye serue god and please hym with reuerence and godly feare. For our god is consumynge fyre.

The notes.

a * This text maketh not against repentaunce that is done in season. Esau repented to late, and therfore profited not, When sentence of iudgement is geuen then hath repentance no place. The dampned in hell shal wepe and repent, but in vayn: for then is ỳ tyme of repentinge paste. The blessynge whych Isaac gaue was vndoubted, done by the inspyratiō of the holy goost, & geuen in steade of a determynat sentence, and therfore must needes be ratyfyed and might not be called agayne, but and if Esau before the blessing geuen had chaunged hys maners & had hertely & ernestly repēted hym, he had surely not bene reproued of God. This shoulde seame to be ỳ very meaning of thys texte. And verely Erasmus maketh a lyke exposycion hereof in hys Paraphrasis. He exhorteth vs vnto loue, to hospitality, to thynke vpon such as be in aduersite, to maintayn wedlocke to auoyde couetousnes, to make moch of them ỳ preache gods worde, to beware of straunge learnynge to be content to suffer rebuke with Chryst, to bethākeful vnto god, and obedient vnto our heades.

The.xiii. Chapter.

Et brotherly loue cōtynue.

Be not forgetful to lodge straungers. For therby haue diuers receaued angels into their houses vnwares.

A Our dutie if we wyl haue our parte wt Chryst

Remember them that are in bōdes, euē as though ye were bounde wt them. Be mindefull of thē which are in aduersytie, as ye which are yet in your bondes. Let wedlock be had in peace in all poyntes, and let the chamber be vndefiled, for whore kepers and aduouterers God wil iudge. Let youre conuersacyon be wt out couetousnes and be contente with ỳ ye haue all readye.

For he verely sayde: * I wyll not fayle thee, nether forsake thee: that we maye boldely saye, the Lorde is my helper, ād I wyll not feare what man doeth vnto me. Remembre them whiche haue the ouersight of you, wich haue declared vnto you the word of God, the end of whose conuersacion see that ye loke vppon, and folowe theyr faith: Iosu, i. a

Jesus Chryste yesterdaye and to day and the same continueth for euer. ỳ

Be not caryed about with dyuers and straunge learning. For it is a good thinge that the hert be stablished with grace and not with meates whiche haue not profited them that haue had theyr pastyme in them. We haue an aulter wher of they maye not eate which serue in the tabernacle. * For the bodyes of those beastes whose bloude is brought into the holy place by the hye prest, to purge sinne, are burnt wout the tētes. Therfore Jesus, to sainctifye the people with his owne bloud, suffered wout the gate. Let vs go forth therfore out of the tē tes, and suffre rebuke with him, for here haue we no continuinge Citye: but wee seke one to come. C Num, xix. a. Wiche, ii. c.

For by hym offer we the sacrifyce of laude alwayes to god that is to saye, ỳ frute of those lippes which confesse his name. To do good and to distribut forget not, for wyth suche sacrifices god is pleased. ỳ * Obeye them, that haue the ouersight of you, submytte your selues to them, for they watch for your soules, euen as they that muste geue accompts that they maye do it with ioye, and not with grefe. For that is an vnprofitable thinge for you, praye for vs. We haue confidēce because we haue a good conscience in al thinges, and desyre to lyue honestly, I desyre you therfor somwhat the moare aboundauntlye, that ye so do that I may be restored to you quickly e. D

The god of peace that brought agayn from death our lorde Jesus, the greate shepherde of the shepe throw the bloud of the euerlastinge testament, make you perfecte in all good worckes, to do hys wyl, worckinge in you, that which is plesaunt in his syght throw Jesus Chryst.

To whome be prayse for euer whyle the worlde endureth: Amen. ✠

I beseche you brethren, suffer ỹ wor-
des of exhortacyon: for we haue written
vnto you in feawe wordes: know ỹ bro ther Timothe, whom we haue sent frō vs, with whom (if he come shortelye) I wyl se you. Salute them that haue the ouersight of you, & al ỹ saīctes. They of Italy salute you. Grace be with you all: Amen.

Sent from Italy by Timotheus.

¶ The Epistle of Sayncte James.

¶ He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, to be feruente in prayer wyth stedfast belefe, to loke for al good thi-
ges from above, to forsake al vyce, & thankfully to re
ceaue the worde of god, not onely hearynge it & spea kynge of it, but to doo therafter in dede. True relyggion or deuocyon what it is.

The. first. Chapter.

A IAmes the seruaunt of God
& of the lorde Jesus Christ,
sendeth greetynge to the xii.
trybes whiche are scattered
here ād there. ✠ My brethrē
counte it exceedinge ioye when ye fal into diuers temptacions for as muche as ye knowe how that the trieng of your faith
bringeth pacience: and let pacience haue
her perfecte worke, that ye maye be per-fecte & *sounde, lacking nothing.

If any of you lacke wisdom, let hym
aske of God which geueth to al men indifferently, and casteth no man in ỹ teth
and it shalbe geuen hym. But let hym aske in fath and wauer not. For he that douteth is lyke the waaues of the sea,
tost with the winde and caryed with vio lence: Nether let that man thinke that he shal receaue any thing of the lord. A wa-uerynge minded man is vnstable i al his
B wayes.
b* Let the brother of lowe degre reioyce
in that he is exalted, and the rich in that he is made lowe. For euen as the floure of the grasse shal he vanish awaye. The sunne riseth with heate, and the grasse
withereth, and his flower falleth away,
and the bewte of the fassion of it perish-
eth: euen so shall the riche man perish
with his aboundaunce.

Happye is the man that endureth in temptacion, for whē he is tryed, he shal receaue the crowne of lyfe, whiche the Lorde hath promised to them that loue
hym. ✠

Let no man saye when he is temp- C ted that he is tempted of God. For* God tempteth not vnto euell, neythere
tempteth he any man. But euerye man is tempted, drawne awaye, and entised
of his owne concupiscence. Then when lust hath conceaued, she bringeth forth
sinne, and sinne when it is fynished bri-
geth forth death.

Erre not my deare brethren. ✠ E-uery good gifte, and euery perfect gift
is from aboue and commeth downe frō
the father of lyghte withe whome is no
variablenes, nether is he chaunged bu
to darkenes. Of hys owne wyll begat hee vs wyth the worde of lyfe, that wee should be the first frutes of hys creatures.

Wherfore deare brethren, let euer- D ry man, be swift to heare, slow to speake and slowe to wrath. For the wrathe of man, worketh not that which is righteous before god.

Wherfore laye apart al filthines, al
superfluite of maliciousnes, ād receaue
wythe mekenes the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to saue youre
soules. ✠

✠ And se that ye be doers of the worde
and not hearers onely, deceauing your owne selues with sophistrye. For, if any heare the worde, and doo it not, hee is lyke vnto a man that beholdeth his bo dylye face in a glasse. For as sone as he hath looked on him selfe he goethe his waye and forgetteth immediatlye what his fashion was. But who so loketh in the perfecte lawe of lybertie, and continueth therin (if he be not a forgetful he-

arer

To whome be prayse for euer whyle the worlde endureth: Amen. ✠

I beseche you brethren, suffer ỹ wor-
des of exhortacyon: for we haue written
vnto you in feawe wordes: know ỹ bro ther Timothe, whom we haue sent frō
vs, with whom (if he come shortelye) I wyl se you. Salute them that haue the ouersight of you, & al ỹ saīctes. They of Italy salute you. Grace be with you
all: Amen.

Sent from Italy by Timotheus.

¶ The Epistle of Sayncte James.

¶ He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, to be feruente in prayer wyth stedfast belefe, to loke for al good thi-
ges from above, to forsake al vyce, & thankfully to re
ceaue the worde of god, not onely hearynge it & spea
kynge of it, but to doo therafter in dede. True relyggion or deuocyon what it is.

The. first. Chapter.

A IAmes the seruaunt of God
& of the lorde Jesus Christ,
sendeth greetynge to the xii.
trybes whiche are scattered
here ād there. ✠ My brethrē
counte it exceedinge ioye when ye fal into
diuers temptacions for as muche as ye
knowe how that the trieng of your faith
bringeth pacience: and let pacience haue
her perfecte worke, that ye maye be per-fecte & *sounde, lacking nothing.

If any of you lacke wisdom, let hym
aske of God which geueth to al men indifferently, and casteth no man in ỹ teth
and it shalbe geuen hym. But let hym aske in fath and wauer not. For he that douteth is lyke the waaues of the sea,
tost with the winde and caryed with vio lence: Nether let that man thinke that he
shal receaue any thing of the lord. A wa-uerynge minded man is vnstable i al his
B wayes.
b* Let the brother of lowe degre reioyce
in that he is exalted, and the rich in that he is made lowe. For euen as the floure
of the grasse shal he vanish awaye. The
sunne riseth with heate, and the grasse
withereth, and his flower falleth away,
and the bewte of the fassion of it perish-
eth: euen so shall the riche man perish
with his aboundaunce.

Happye is the man that endureth in
temptacion, for whē he is tryed, he shal
receaue the crowne of lyfe, whiche the Lorde hath promised to them that loue
hym. ✠

Let no man saye when he is temp- C ted that he is tempted of God. For* God tempteth not vnto euell, neythere
tempteth he any man. But euerye man
is tempted, drawne awaye, and entised
of his owne concupiscence. Then when lust hath conceaued, she bringeth forth
sinne, and sinne when it is fynished bri-
geth forth death.

Erre not my deare brethren. ✠ E-
uery good gifte, and euery perfect gift
is from aboue and commeth downe frō
the father of lyghte withe whome is no
variablenes, nether is he chaunged bu
to darkenes. Of hys owne wyll begat
hee vs wyth the worde of lyfe, that wee
should be the first frutes of hys creatures.

Wherfore deare brethren, let euer- D ry man, be swift to heare, slow to speake
and slowe to wrath. For the wrathe of man, worketh not that which is righteous before god.

Wherfore laye apart al filthines, al
superfluite of maliciousnes, ād receaue
wythe mekenes the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to saue youre
soules. ✠

✠ And se that ye be doers of the worde
and not hearers onely, deceauing your owne selues with sophistrye. For, if any heare the worde, and doo it not, hee is lyke vnto a man that beholdeth his bo
dylye face in a glasse. For as sone as he hath looked on him selfe he goethe his
waye and forgetteth immediatlye what his fashion was. But who so loketh in
the perfecte lawe of lybertie, and continueth therin (if he be not a forgetful he-

arer

hearer, but a doar of the worcke)ȳ same shalbe happy in his dede.

If any man amonge you seme deuout, and refrayne not his tonge: but deceaue hys owne hert, thys mānes deuotiō is in vaine. Pure deuotiō & vndefiled before god ȳ father, is this: to viset the fatherles and widdowes in their aduersite, and to kepe hym self vnspotted of the world.

The notes

a* Sound after the hebrues signifyeth hym, which in leauyng the wysdome of the chyldren of this worlde, ād the procurig for his owne profet, lyueth a simple lyfe, and without blame. Suche a one was Jacob of whome Genes, xxv.d:

b* In Christ were all lyke good and euen seruauntes ech to other for Christes sake, euery man in his office. And he that taketh more on hym then that of whatsoeuer degre he be of, is a false Christen and an apostata from Christ.

c* God tempteth not vnto euell. Almighty god hath euer tempted, and proued hys electe, by trouble & persecution, and by nurtering them wyth outward plages: neuerȳles he doth it not vnto euel, but for good namely, because he loueth them, and will haue their faith exercised. Thus tempted he Abraham. Genes. xxii, And the Israelytes. Deu, viii, As for the temptacion that we pray in the Pater noster to be delyuerd from it is the lust and concupiscense of our flesh wherby we are entised vnto euell.

d The forbyddeth to haue any respecte of persōs, but to regarde ȳ poore, as well as the ryche, to be louing & mercyful, and not to boaste of fayth where no dedes are: for it is but a dead fayth, where good workes folow not.

The .ii. Chapter.

A BRethrē haue not the faith of oure Lorde Jesus Christ ȳ Lorde of glory i respecte of persones. If ther come into youre company a man wt a golden ryng and in goodly apparell, and ther come in also a poore man in vyle rayment, and ye haue a respecte to hym ȳ weareth the gaye clothing, and saie vnto hym. Sytt thou here in a good place: and saye vnto the poore, stande ȳ there or sit here vnder mi fote stoll: are ye not parciall in youre selues, and haue iudged after euyll thoughtes?

Harken my deare beloued brethren. Hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, which are ryche in fayth, ā heyres of the kingdome whych he promysed to them that loue hym? But ye haue despysed the poore. Are not ȳ rych the which oppresse you, and they which drawe you before iudges? Do not they speake euil of that good name after which ye be named.

If ye fulfyll the royall lawe accordyng to the scripture which saith, Thou shalt loue thie neyghboure as thy selfe, ye do well. But yf ye rēgarde one person more then another, ye commyt synne, & are rebuked of ȳ lawe, as transgressours. Whosoeuer shal kepe the whole lawe, & yet fayle in one poynt, he is guilty in all. For he that sayd, Thou shalte not commyt adulterye, sayd also: thou shalt not kyll.

Though thou do none adulterye, yet yf thou kyll, thou arte a transgressor of the lawe. So speake ye, ād so do, as they that shalbe iudged by the lawe of libertye. For ther shalbe iudgemēt merciles to him that sheweth no mercy, ād mercy reioyseth agaynst iudgement.

What auayleth it my brethren, though a man saye he hath fayth, when he hath no dedes? a* Cā fayth saue him? If a brother or a sister be naked or destitute of dayly foode, ād one of you saye vnto them: departe in peace, god send you warmnes ād foode: not wyth standinge ye geue thē not those thinges which are nedful to the body: what helpeth it? Euen so fayth, yf it haue no dedes, is dead in it selfe.

Ye and a man might saie: thou hast fayth, & I haue dedes: shew me thi fayth, by thy dedes: and I wil shewe ȳ my fayth by my dedes: Beleuest thou that ther is one God? Thou doest wyll. The deuils also beleue and tremble.

Wilt thou vnderstande O ȳ vayne man that fayth without dedes is dead? b* Was not Abraham oure father iustified thorow workes, whē he offered Isaac his sonne vpon the aulter? thou seyste that fayth wrought wyth hys dedes, and through the dedes was the fayth made parfect: & the scripture was fulfylled whych sayeth: Abrahā beleued God, and it was reputed vnto hym for righteousnes, and he was called ȳ frende of God. c* Ye see then how that of dedes a man is iustified and not of fayth only. Likewise also was not Raaby harlot iustified thorow workes, whē she receaued ȳ messengers, & sent them out another way? For as the body, without the spirite is dead, euen so fayth without dedes is dead.

The Epistle

The notes

a* Can fayth saue hym? S. James speaketh not here of true fayth, which by loue is myghtye in operacyon, but of the vayne ymagination and opynyon þ vnthankful people haue of fayth, and therfore doth he call it dead faith, because there are folowe no good workes of it, as there do of the faith that iustifieth in the syght of god.

b* To be iustified here, and all thys Chapter ouer is, to be declared Iust, and that before the world, as in Luke the. x. e, And the. xvi: d, not to be made iuste in the syght of god. So that when he sayth, was not Abraham our father iustifyed throw workes, &c. signifyeth thus much: was not oure Father Abraham by his workes declared iust, that is, did not his workes declare and shew that he was iust, and were sure tokens of hys ryghtuousnes. It signifyeth not that Abraham, was by hys workes made iust before god, reputed rightuous, obtayned remission of sinnes, for by fayth he came therby, not by workes, as wytnesseth saynt Paul. Rom. iiii, a, c* Yese then that of dedes a man is iustifyed, &c, þ is, is declared iust, is openlye knowen to be rightuous: lyke as by the frutes, the good tre is known for good. Otherwyse maye not thys sentence be interpreted. For there cou'de nothing be moare folysh the this sayinge of saincte James, if a man wou'de thus interprete it: that no man obtayneth remyssyon of synnes: but because hys workes are worthye of so great a benefyt. This interpretacion who so ryghteth forwardly by, vnderstandeth not what remyssion of synnes, is, or how the conscience ought to be comforted when it seyth that it bringeth no workes to god, which are suffycient to please hym. And this interpretacion is cleane contrary to other open sayynges of the scrypture, which teache that remyssyō of synnes commeth freely: as the Psalmyst sayeth. I sayde, I wyll knowledge myne offence and accuse my selfe vnto the Lord. And thou forgauest me the wickednes of my sinne. And Rom. iiii. a. To hym that worcketh not but beleueth on hym that iustifyeth þ vngodly &c. what can be moreplaynely spoken, than that sinnes are forgeuen to a wicked and vngodlye manne that worketh not, that is, not for any of his workes but freely. To conclude, if the gospell forgeue not sinnes but for our good workes sakes & for our worthines: it differeth nothing from the lawe/ it saueth no more then the lawe. This I truste wyll suffise the good and wyse. For as touchinge them þ bring nothing vnto this cause, but a wyll to braule and chyde, wyll neuer suffre them selues to be satisfied. And yet yf we wold contende by the number of aucthorities, this one place of saynt James is ouer throwen with many wytnesses of Paul, if men wil vnderstande by iustification alone thynge in them both. Therfore when Paule sayth, sayth iustifieth vnderstand therby, faith causeth þ we be coūted iust, reputed rightwes, and þ our sinnes are not imputed vnto vs, but forgeuen vs for Christes sake. When James sayth, þ workes iustyfy, he meaneth thus, workes declare vs iuste and shew euidently þ we are rightwes. Thus shalt thou make them accord Place faileth me here (O reader) rather then tyme or will, elles yet wolde I haue spoken more of thys thing.

¶ What good and euel commeth thorow þ tonge. The duetie of such as be lerned. The differēce betwixte þ wisdome of þ Gospell and þ wysdome of the worlde.

¶ The .iii. Chapter

MY brethren, be not euery man a* maister remembringe how that we shal receaue the more dampnation: for in many thinges we sinne al. If a man sinne not in worde, the same is a parfecte man, and able to tame al the body. Beholde we put bittes into the horses mouthes that they shoulde obeye vs, and we turne about al the body. Behold also the shyppes, which though they be so great, and are driuen of feare wides, yet are they turned aboute with a very smal helme/ whither soeuer the violence of the gouernor will. Euen so the tonge is a litel mēber, and boasteth great thinges. B

Beholde how great a thinge a litle fyre kindleth, and the tonge is fire, and a world of wickednes. So is þ tong set amonge oure membres, that it defyleth the whole body e, and setteth a fyre all þ we haue of nature & is it selfe set a fyre euen of hell.

All the natures of beastes, ād of birdes, and of serpentes, and thinges of the sea are meked and tamed of the nature of man. But the tonge can no mā tame. C It is ā vnruely euil, ful of dedly poysō. Therwith blesse we god þ father, & therwith curse we mē which are made after the similitude of god. Out of one mouthe proceadeth blessinge and cursinge. My brethren these thynges ought not so to be. Doth a fountaine send forth at one place swete water and bitter also? Can þ figge tre, my brethren, beare olyue beries: other a vine beare figges? So cā no fountaine geue both salte water and frethe also. If any man be wise & endued w̄ learning amōge you let him shew þ workes of his good cōuersatiō, in meke nes that is coupled with* wisdome. But if ye haue bitter enuying & strife in your hertes, reioyce not: nether be liers against þ truth: this wisdō descendeth not from aboue: but is earthy, & *naturall, & deuelish. For where enuieng & strife is, there is vnstablenes & al maner of euell workes. But þ wysdō þ is frō aboue, is first pure, thē peasable, gentle, & easy to be entreated, ful of mercy & good frutes wout iudging, & wout simulation: ye, & þ frute of rightwesnes is sowen in peace, of them that mayntaine peace.

*Naturall, þ is all that a man doth w̄out the spirite of God.

the

*He that taketh auctoritie to rebuke other of ꝯ wherin he sinneth hymselfe, ꝯ same shall haue the greater dampnacyon. He must be without synne ꝯ wyll caste the fyrst stone.
*wisdom. At mekenes & obedyence must be acordynge to the wysdome and worde of god.

Warre and fightyng commeth of voluptuousnes. The frendshyp of the worlde is enmyte before God. An exhortacyon to flie sclaunder and the vanyte of thys lyfe.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

FRom whence cõmeth warre and fightyng amõg you: cõe they not here hence: euen of your voluptuousnes, ꝯ raigne in youre membres. Ye lust, and haue not. Ye enuy and hate indignacion, and cannot obtayne. Ye fighte and warre and haue not, because ye aske not. Ye aske and receaue not, because ye aske a mysse: euen to consume it vpõ your voluptuousnes. Ye aduoutrers, and women that breake matrymonye: knowe ye not howe that the frendshyp of the worlde is enmyte to godwarde? whosoeuer will be a frende of ꝯ worlde, is made the enemy of god. Ether do ye thinke that the scripture sayth ī vayne, The *spyryte that dwelleth in you, lusteth euen contrary to enuye: but geueth more grace.

Submyt your selues to god, and resist the deuil, and he wil flye from you. Drawe nie to God and he wil drawe nie to you. Clense your handes ye sinners, & pourge youre hertes ye wauering myn-ded. Suffer afflicciõs, sorow ye & wepe. Let your laughter be turned to mornig, and your ioye to heuines. Cast doune your selues before the Lord, and he shal lifte you vp. Backbite not one a nother, brethren. He ꝯ *backbiteth his brother, & he that iudgeth his brother backbiteth ꝯ lawe. But and if thou iudge the lawe, thou arte not an obscurar of the lawe: but a iudge. There is one lawe geuer, which is able to saue & to destroye. Who arte thou that iudgeste a nother man.

Go to nowe ye that saye: to daie and to morow let vs go in to suche a citie ād continue there a yeare and bie and sel, & winne: ād yet can not tel what shal happen to morowe.

For what thynge is youre lyfe? It is euen a vapour that apereth for a lytell tyme, and then vanissheth awaye: for ꝯ ye oughte to saye: yf the Lorde will and yf we lyue, let vs do ether this or ꝯ. But nowe ye reioyce in your boastynges. All suche reioysynge is euyll. *Therfore to him ꝯ knoweth how to do good, & doth it not, to hym it is synne.

The notes,

Christes spirite (which is in all that be his, Roma. viii.) resisteth hate, enuye and all sinne, whose mocion if we folowe: grace increaseth in vs, and lustes minische. and therfore he sayth submit your selues to god.
*He that backbiteth or iudgeth hys brother doth iudge the lawe to be euell for the lawe forbiddeth to do so
*He that knoweth and yet doth not is without excuse, For god hath promised no mercye, but to hym that wyll do his godly wyll.
¶ He threateneth the wicked riche men, exhorteth vnto pacience, to beware of swearinge, one to knowe ledge his faultes to another, one to pray for an other, & one to labour to bringe another to ꝯ trueth.

¶ The. v. Chapter

GO to nowe ye riche mē. Weepe, and howle on your wretchednes that shal come vpon you. Youre riches is corrupte, youre garmentes are moth eaten. Youre golde and youre syluer are cãkred, & the rust of them shal be a wytnes vnto you, & shall eate youre flesshe as it were fyre. Ye haue heaped treasure to gether in your last dayes. Behold ꝯ hyre of the labourers which haue reped doune your feldes (whych hyre is of you kept backe by fraude) cryeth: and the cryes of them whych haue reped, are entred vnto the eares of ꝯ Lord Sabbaoth. Ye haue lyued in pleasure on the earth & in wantonnes. Ye haue norysshed youre hertes, as in a daye of *slaughter. Ye haue condempned and haue killed the iust and he hath not resysted you.

*Be pacient therfore brethren, vnto the commynge of the Lord. Behold ꝯ husband man wayteth for the precious frute of the earth, & hath long pacience therfor vppon, vntyll he receue *the early and the latter rayne. Be ye also pacient therfore and settle your hertes, for the comminge of the Lorde draweth nye. Grudge not one against another brethren, lest ye be dampned. Behold the iudge standeth before ꝯ doore. Take (mi brethren) ꝯ Prophetes for an ensample of suffering aduersitie, & of long pacience, which spake in the name of the Lorde.

*He that taketh auctoritie to rebuke other of ꝯ wherin he sinneth hymselfe, ꝯ same shall haue the greater dampnacyon. He must be without synne ꝯ wyll caste the fyrst stone.
*wisdom. At mekenes & obedyence must be acordynge to the wysdome and worde of god.

Warre and fightyng commeth of voluptuousnes. The frendshyp of the worlde is enmyte before God. An exhortacyon to flie sclaunder and the vanyte of thys lyfe.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

FRom whence cõmeth warre and fightyng amõg you: cõe they not here hence: euen of your voluptuousnes, ꝯ raigne in youre membres. Ye lust, and haue not. Ye enuy and hate indignacion, and cannot obtayne. Ye fighte and warre and haue not, because ye aske not. Ye aske and receaue not, because ye aske a mysse: euen to consume it vpõ your voluptuousnes. Ye aduoutrers, and women that breake matrymonye: knowe ye not howe that the frendshyp of the worlde is enmyte to godwarde? whosoeuer will be a frende of ꝯ worlde, is made the enemy of god. Ether do ye thinke that the scripture sayth ī vayne, The *spyryte that dwelleth in you, lusteth euen contrary to enuye: but geueth more grace.

Submyt your selues to god, and resist the deuil, and he wil flye from you. Drawe nie to God and he wil drawe nie to you. Clense your handes ye sinners, & pourge youre hertes ye wauering myn-ded. Suffer afflicciõs, sorow ye & wepe. Let your laughter be turned to mornig, and your ioye to heuines. Cast doune your selues before the Lord, and he shal lifte you vp. Backbite not one a nother, brethren. He ꝯ *backbiteth his brother, & he that iudgeth his brother backbiteth ꝯ lawe. But and if thou iudge the lawe, thou arte not an obscurar of the lawe: but a iudge. There is one lawe geuer, which is able to saue & to destroye. Who arte thou that iudgeste a nother man.

Go to nowe ye that saye: to daie and to morow let vs go in to suche a citie ād continue there a yeare and bie and sel, & winne: ād yet can not tel what shal happen to morowe.

For what thynge is youre lyfe? It is euen a vapour that apereth for a lytell tyme, and then vanissheth awaye: for ꝯ ye oughte to saye: yf the Lorde will and yf we lyue, let vs do ether this or ꝯ. But nowe ye reioyce in your boastynges. All suche reioysynge is euyll. *Therfore to him ꝯ knoweth how to do good, & doth it not, to hym it is synne.

The notes,

Christes spirite (which is in all that be his, Roma. viii.) resisteth hate, enuye and all sinne, whose mocion if we folowe: grace increaseth in vs, and lustes minische. and therfore he sayth submit your selues to god.
*He that backbiteth or iudgeth hys brother doth iudge the lawe to be euell for the lawe forbiddeth to do so
*He that knoweth and yet doth not is without excuse, For god hath promised no mercye, but to hym that wyll do his godly wyll.
¶ He threateneth the wicked riche men, exhorteth vnto pacience, to beware of swearinge, one to knowe ledge his faultes to another, one to pray for an other, & one to labour to bringe another to ꝯ trueth.

¶ The. v. Chapter

GO to nowe ye riche mē. Weepe, and howle on your wretchednes that shal come vpon you. Youre riches is corrupte, youre garmentes are moth eaten. Youre golde and youre syluer are cãkred, & the rust of them shal be a wytnes vnto you, & shall eate youre flesshe as it were fyre. Ye haue heaped treasure to gether in your last dayes. Behold ꝯ hyre of the labourers which haue reped doune your feldes (whych hyre is of you kept backe by fraude) cryeth: and the cryes of them whych haue reped, are entred vnto the eares of ꝯ Lord Sabbaoth. Ye haue lyued in pleasure on the earth & in wantonnes. Ye haue norysshed youre hertes, as in a daye of *slaughter. Ye haue condempned and haue killed the iust and he hath not resysted you.

*Be pacient therfore brethren, vnto the commynge of the Lord. Behold ꝯ husband man wayteth for the precious frute of the earth, & hath long pacience therfor vppon, vntyll he receue *the early and the latter rayne. Be ye also pacient therfore and settle your hertes, for the comminge of the Lorde draweth nye. Grudge not one against another brethren, lest ye be dampned. Behold the iudge standeth before ꝯ doore. Take (mi brethren) ꝯ Prophetes for an ensample of suffering aduersitie, & of long pacience, which spake in the name of the Lorde.

Beholde we counte them happy which endure. Ye haue hearde of the pacience of Job/and haue knowen what ende ỹ Lorde made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercyfull.

D But aboue al thinges my brethrẽ, sweare not, nether by heauen/nether by earth, nether by eny other othe. Let youre * yee be yee, & your naye, naye: lest ye faule into ypocrysy. If any of you be euell vexed, let hym praye. If any of you be mery, let him synge Psalmes. If any be diseased amonge you, let hym cal for the congregacio, & let thẽ pray ouer hi, & anoynte hi wyth oyle in the name of the Lorde: and a * the prayer of fayth shal saue the sycke, and the Lorde shal rayse him vp: and yf he haue cõmytted synnes, they shalbe forgeuen hym.

✠ Knowledge your fautes one to another: ãd praye one for another, that ye may be healed. The praier of a righteous man auaileth much, if it be feruent. Helias was a man mortal euen as we are, & he prayed in his prayer that it might not rayne: and it rained not on ỹ earthe by the space of thre yeares and sixe moneths. And he praied againe, and ỹ heauen gaue raine, and the earth broughte forth her frutes.

Brethren if any of you erre from the trueth and another conuert him/ let the same knowe that he which conuerted ỹ synner from goynge a straye out of hys waye, shal saue a soule from death, and shal hyde the multitude of sinnes.

¶ The ende of the epistle of Saincte James.

The notes.

* Slaughter as when men kyll beastes to make chese wyth all, and as the Iewes did in theyr thankeofferinges &c,

* Two speciall raynes haue they, the one at sowigtyme, & the other at blomynge tyme, of which if they lacke eyther, all is frutelesse.

* Whether ye saye ye or naye: se it be so. For yf yee haue one thinge in the herte, and another in the mouth or dede, in vesture or gesture: it is ypocrisye or dissimulacyon.

a * And the prayer of faith &c. Unto the prayer of fayth ascribeth he the obtaynynge and saluacio, not vnto the anoynting nor to the oyle. Among those nacions vnto which S. James wrote hys epistle, it was the maner to anoynte the body with oyle, which thing Christ cõmaundeth his apostles to do: & oyle, vnto many diseases, is a wholsome medicine. We, wher such annointing is not in vse, may vnder ỹ name of oyle, vnderstand the office & dutie of charite in ministryng vnto ỹ sicke, such thinges as he needeth.

The Epistle of

Saincte Judas.

¶ He rebuketh such as being blynded wt their owne lustes, resyst the truth & ỹ we maye know them the better, he saith they be such as sinne beastlye againste nature, & despise rulers &c. He exhorteth vs to edifye one an other to pray in the holy goste to continu in loue to loke for the commynge of the Lorde/ & one to helpe ano ther out of the fyre.

IUdas the seruaũt of Jesus Christ, ỹ brother of James. To them which are called & sanctified in god the father, ãd preserued in Jesu Christ. Mercy vnto you and peace and loue bee multiplyed.

Beloued, when I gaue al dilygence to write vnto you of the commen saluacyon: it was nedefull for me to write vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shuld continually labour in the fayth which ones was geuen vnto the sainctes. For there are certayne craftely crepte in, of whiche it was written afore tyme vnto such iudgemente. They are vngodly and turne ỹ grace of our Lorde god vnto wantonnes, and denye god the onely Lord, and our Lorde Jesus Christ.

My minde is ther for to put you in remembraunce, for as muche as yee ones knowe this howe that the Lorde (after that he had delyuered the people oute of Egipt) * destroyed thē which afterward beleued not. The angels also, which kepte not their first estate: but lefte their owne habitacion, he hath reserued i euerlastinge chaines vnder darckenes vnto the iudgement of the great daye: * euen as Sodome and Gomor, and the cytyes aboute them (which in lyke maner defyled them selues with fornicacyon, and followed * straunge flesche) are set forth for an ensample, and suffre the vengeaunce of eternal fyre. Lykewise these dremers defyle the flesh/ despise rulers and speake euell of them that are in auctorite. ¶

Numer. xiii. B

Genes. xix. e

Yet Michael the Archangel when he stroue agaynste the deuill, and disputed about the bodye of Moyses/ durste not geue rayling sentence: but sayd: the lorde rebuke thee. But these speake euell of those thinges which they knowe not: &

what

Beholde we counte them happy which endure. Ye haue hearde of the pacience of Job/and haue knowen what ende ỹ Lorde made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercyfull.

D But aboue al thinges my brethrẽ, sweare not, nether by heauen/nether by earth, nether by eny other othe. Let youre * yee be yee, & your naye, naye: lest ye faule into ypocrysy. If any of you be euell vexed, let hym praye. If any of you be mery, let him synge Psalmes. If any be diseased amonge you, let hym cal for the congregacio, & let thẽ pray ouer hi, & anoynte hi wyth oyle in the name of the Lorde: and a * the prayer of fayth shal saue the sycke, and the Lorde shal rayse him vp: and yf he haue cõmytted synnes, they shalbe forgeuen hym.

✠ Knowledge your fautes one to another: ãd praye one for another, that ye may be healed. The praier of a righteous man auaileth much, if it be feruent. Helias was a man mortal euen as we are, & he prayed in his prayer that it might not rayne: and it rained not on ỹ earthe by the space of thre yeares and sixe moneths. And he praied againe, and ỹ heauen gaue raine, and the earth broughte forth her frutes.

Brethren if any of you erre from the trueth and another conuert him/ let the same knowe that he which conuerted ỹ synner from goynge a straye out of hys waye, shal saue a soule from death, and shal hyde the multitude of sinnes.

¶ The ende of the epistle of Saincte James.

The notes.

* Slaughter as when men kyll beastes to make chese wyth all, and as the Iewes did in theyr thankeofferinges &c,

* Two speciall raynes haue they, the one at sowigtyme, & the other at blomynge tyme, of which if they lacke eyther, all is frutelesse.

* Whether ye saye ye or naye: se it be so. For yf yee haue one thinge in the herte, and another in the mouth or dede, in vesture or gesture: it is ypocrisye or dissimulacyon.

a * And the prayer of faith &c. Unto the prayer of fayth ascribeth he the obtaynynge and saluacio, not vnto the anoynting nor to the oyle. Among those nacions vnto which S. James wrote hys epistle, it was the maner to anoynte the body with oyle, which thing Christ cõmaundeth his apostles to do: & oyle, vnto many diseases, is a wholsome medicine. We, wher such annointing is not in vse, may vnder ỹ name of oyle, vnderstand the office & dutie of charite in ministryng vnto ỹ sicke, such thinges as he needeth.

The Epistle of

Saincte Judas.

¶ He rebuketh such as being blynded wt their owne lustes, resyst the truth & ỹ we maye know them the better, he saith they be such as sinne beastlye againste nature, & despise rulers &c. He exhorteth vs to edifye one an other to pray in the holy goste to continu in loue to loke for the commynge of the Lorde/ & one to helpe ano ther out of the fyre.

IUdas the seruaũt of Jesus Christ, ỹ brother of James. To them which are called & sanctified in god the father, ãd preserued in Jesu Christ. Mercy vnto you and peace and loue bee multiplyed.

Beloued, when I gaue al dilygence to write vnto you of the commen saluacyon: it was nedefull for me to write vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shuld continually labour in the fayth which ones was geuen vnto the sainctes. For there are certayne craftely crepte in, of whiche it was written afore tyme vnto such iudgemente. They are vngodly and turne ỹ grace of our Lorde god vnto wantonnes, and denye god the onely Lord, and our Lorde Jesus Christ.

My minde is ther for to put you in remembraunce, for as muche as yee ones knowe this howe that the Lorde (after that he had delyuered the people oute of Egipt) * destroyed thē which afterward beleued not. The angels also, which kepte not their first estate: but lefte their owne habitacion, he hath reserued i euerlastinge chaines vnder darckenes vnto the iudgement of the great daye: * euen as Sodome and Gomor, and the cytyes aboute them (which in lyke maner defyled them selues with fornicacyon, and followed * straunge flesche) are set forth for an ensample, and suffre the vengeaunce of eternal fyre. Lykewise these dremers defyle the flesh/ despise rulers and speake euell of them that are in auctorite. ¶

Numer. xiii. B

Genes. xix. e

Yet Michael the Archangel when he stroue agaynste the deuill, and disputed about the bodye of Moyses/ durste not geue rayling sentence: but sayd: the lorde rebuke thee. But these speake euell of those thinges which they knowe not: &

what

what thinges they knowe naturally, as beastes which are wout reason, in those thiges they corrupt thê selues. Woo be Nume.xvi,c vnto thê, for they haue folowed ỹ waye of Balam for lukers sake, * and perysh in the treason of Core.
These are spottes which of youre kindnes feast to gether, wyth out feare/ fedynge thê selues. Cloudes they are wout water, caryed about of wynde/ and trees wout frute at gadrige time, twyse dead ād plucked vp by the rotes. They are the ragynge waues of the sea, fomynge out their awne shame. They are wauoringe starres to whom is reserued the myst of darcknes for euer.
Enoch ỹ seuenth from Adam prophecied before of suche, sayinge. * Beholde, Apoca.i.a Elaie,lii. a. the Lorde shall come wyth thousandes of saynctes, to geue iudgement agaynst all men, and to rebuke all that are vngodly among them of al their vngodly dedes, which they haue vngodly cōmitted, and of all their cruell speakynges, which vngodly synners haue spoke agaynst hym.

C These are murmurers, complayners/ walkynge after their awne lustes, whose mouths speake proude thynges. They haue men i greate reuerence because of a vauntage. But ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, howe ỹ they tolde you * that there shuld
1.Tim.iiii.a be begilers in ỹ last time which shulde walke after their awne vngodly lustes. These are makers of sectes fleshlie, hauynge no spryte.

But ye derlye beloued, edifye youre selues in youre moste holy fayth, prayF ing in the holy gost, and kepe your selues in loue of God, lokyng for the mercy of oure Lord Jesus Christ, vnto eternall life. And haue compassion of some separatynge them: and other saue with feare, pullynge them out of the fyre and hate the fylthy vesture of the flesshe.

Unto him that is able to kepe you ỹ ye fayle not, an to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory wt ioye, that is to saye, to God oure sauioure, which only is wyse, be glorye, maiestye, dominion, and power, now and for euer. Amen.

The Reuelacion

of sainct John the deuine.

C Happie are they ỹ heare the worde of God and kepe it. He writeth to ỹ seuen congregacions i Asia, seith seuen candelstikes, & in ỹ middest of them one like vnto ỹ sonne of man.

C The first Chapter.

THe reuelacion of Je- A sus Christe/ which e God gaue vnto hi, for to shew vnto his seruauntes thinges which must shortlye come to passe.
+ And he sent & shewed bi his āgel vnto his seruaūt John, which bare recorde of the worde of God, and of the testamony of Jesus Christ, & of al thinges that he sawe. Happy is hee B that readith, ād they that heare the wordes of the prophesy, and kepe those thinges which are written therin. For ỹ time is at hand.

John to the .vii. congregacyons in Asia. Grace be wyth you and peace, frō him which is and which was, and which is to come, and frō the .vii. spretes which are present before his trone, and frō Jesus Christ which is a faithful witnes, & fyrst begotten of the dead: and Lorde ouer the kinges of the earth. Unto hym that * loued vs ād washed vs from sinnes in his owne bloude, + and made vs kinges and Prestes vnto god his father by glory and dominion for euermore. Amen. * Beholde he cōmeth wt claudes, and al eyes see him: and they also which peerced him. And al kynredes of ỹ earth shal waple. Euen so: Amen. I am * Al- C pha ād Omega, the beginnig and ỹ endinge, sayth the Lorde almighty, which is and which was ād which is to come.

I John youre brother and compaNion in tribulacion, ād in the kingdome and presence which is in Jesu Christe, was in ỹ yle of Pathmos for ỹ worde of God, & for the witnessig of Jesu Christ. I was in the spryte on a sonday/ & herd behind me a greate voice, as it had bene of a trompet saieng: I am Alpha and Omega, the fyrst and the laste. That ỹ

what thinges they knowe naturally, as beastes which are wout reason, in those thiges they corrupt thê selues. Woo be Nume.xvi,c vnto thê, for they haue folowed ỹ waye of Balam for lukers sake, * and perysh in the treason of Core.
These are spottes which of youre kindnes feast to gether, wyth out feare/ fedynge thê selues. Cloudes they are wout water, caryed about of wynde/ and trees wout frute at gadrige time, twyse dead ād plucked vp by the rotes. They are the ragynge waues of the sea, fomynge out their awne shame. They are wauoringe starres to whom is reserued the myst of darcknes for euer.
Enoch ỹ seuenth from Adam prophecied before of suche, sayinge. * Beholde, Apoca.i.a Elaie,lii. a. the Lorde shall come wyth thousandes of saynctes, to geue iudgement agaynst all men, and to rebuke all that are vngodly among them of al their vngodly dedes, which they haue vngodly cōmitted, and of all their cruell speakynges, which vngodly synners haue spoke agaynst hym.

C These are murmurers, complayners/ walkynge after their awne lustes, whose mouths speake proude thynges. They haue men i greate reuerence because of a vauntage. But ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, howe ỹ they tolde you * that there shuld
1.Tim.iiii.a be begilers in ỹ last time which shulde walke after their awne vngodly lustes. These are makers of sectes fleshlie, hauynge no spryte.

But ye derlye beloued, edifye youre selues in youre moste holy fayth, prayF ing in the holy gost, and kepe your selues in loue of God, lokyng for the mercy of oure Lord Jesus Christ, vnto eternall life. And haue compassion of some separatynge them: and other saue with feare, pullynge them out of the fyre and hate the fylthy vesture of the flesshe.

Unto him that is able to kepe you ỹ ye fayle not, an to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory wt ioye, that is to saye, to God oure sauioure, which only is wyse, be glorye, maiestye, dominion, and power, now and for euer. Amen.

The Reuelacion

of sainct John the deuine.

C Happie are they ỹ heare the worde of God and kepe it. He writeth to ỹ seuen congregacions i Asia, seith seuen candelstikes, & in ỹ middest of them one like vnto ỹ sonne of man.

C The first Chapter.

THe reuelacion of Je- A sus Christe/ which e God gaue vnto hi, for to shew vnto his seruauntes thinges which must shortlye come to passe.
+ And he sent & shewed bi his āgel vnto his seruaūt John, which bare recorde of the worde of God, and of the testamony of Jesus Christ, & of al thinges that he sawe. Happy is hee B that readith, ād they that heare the wordes of the prophesy, and kepe those thinges which are written therin. For ỹ time is at hand.

John to the .vii. congregacyons in Asia. Grace be wyth you and peace, frō him which is and which was, and which is to come, and frō the .vii. spretes which are present before his trone, and frō Jesus Christ which is a faithful witnes, & fyrst begotten of the dead: and Lorde ouer the kinges of the earth. Unto hym that * loued vs ād washed vs from sinnes in his owne bloude, + and made vs kinges and Prestes vnto god his father by glory and dominion for euermore. Amen. * Beholde he cōmeth wt claudes, and al eyes see him: and they also which peerced him. And al kynredes of ỹ earth shal waple. Euen so: Amen. I am * Al- C pha ād Omega, the beginnig and ỹ endinge, sayth the Lorde almighty, which is and which was ād which is to come.

I John youre brother and compaNion in tribulacion, ād in the kingdome and presence which is in Jesu Christe, was in ỹ yle of Pathmos for ỹ worde of God, & for the witnessig of Jesu Christ. I was in the spryte on a sonday/ & herd behind me a greate voice, as it had bene of a trompet saieng: I am Alpha and Omega, the fyrst and the laste. That ỹ seist writte in a boke, & sende it vnto ỹ vii congregacions which are in Asya vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicia.

And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake vnto mee. And when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden can-
D delstikes, and in the middest of the can-delstikes one lyke vnto the sonne of mã, clothed with a lynen garment, downe to the grounde, and gird about the pappes with a golden girdle. His head and hys heares were whyte, as whyte wolle, and as snowe: and hys eyes were as a flamme of fyre, and his feete like vnto brasse, as though they brente in a fornace: and hys voyce as the sounde of manye waters. And he had in hys righte hand, vii starres. And out of hys mouthe went a sharpe two edged sweard. And hys face shone euen as the sunne in hys strength.

E And when I sawe hym, I fell at hys feete, euẽ as dead. And he layd his right hande vpon me, sayinge vnto me feare not, I am the fyrst and the laste, and am alyue, and was dead. And behold I ã a lyue for euermore, and haue the keys of hel and of death. Write therfore the thinges which thou hast seene, ād ỹ thinges whiche are, and the thinges whiche shalbe fulfyled hereafter: and the mysterye of the. vii. starres which thou sawest in my righte hande, And the seauen golden candelstickes. The. vii. starres are the messengers of the: vii. congregacions/ and the vii. candelstickes whiche thou sawest are the seuen congregaciõs.

a ✱Alpha and Omega are letters of the grecke crosse rowe. Alphá is the fyrst letter and Omega ỹ laste. ¶ He exhorteth foure congregations to amend, and sheweth the reward of hym that ouercommeth.

¶ The. ii. Chapter

Vnto the messenger of the cõgregacion of Ephesus, write these thinges, saythe he ỹ holdeth the seuen starres in a hys righte hande, and walketh in the myddes of the seuen golden candelstickes: I know thy workes and thy labour, and thy pacience & how thou canst not forbeare them whyche are euel, and examinedst them which say they are Apostles, and are not: and hast found them lyers and diddest washe thy selfe. And hast pacience: and for my names sake hast laboured ād hast not fainted. Neuertheles I haue sũwhat against B thee, for thou hast left the first loue. Remember therfore from whence thou art fallen, and repent/ and do the first workes. Or elles I wil com vnto thee shortly, and wil remoue thy cãdelstike out of his place, except thou repent. But this ỹ hast because thou hatest the dedes of ỹ ✱Nicolaytans, which dedes I also hate. Let him that hath eares heare what the spyrete sayth vnto the congregacions. ✠ To him that ouercommeth wyl I gene to eate of the tree of lyfe, which is in the middes of the Paradise of God.

And vnto the Angel of the congregacyon of Smyrna write: These thinges saith he that is first, & the last which was dead and is alyue. I know thy workes, & tribulacion and powerte but thou art ryche: And I know the blasphemy of them C which cal them selues Jewes & are not; but are the congregacion of Sathan. Feare none of those thinges which thou shalt suffer. Beholde, the deuil shal caste of you into prison, to tempte you, ād ye shal haue tribulacion, x. dayes. Be faithfull vnto the death, and I wil geue thee a croune of life. Let him that hath eares heare what ỹ spyrete saith to ỹ cõgregacions: He ỹ ouercõeth, shal not be hurte of the seconde death.

And to the messanger of the congregacion in Pergamos write: This saith he which hath the sharpe sweard wt two edges. I know thy workes and where thou dwellest euẽ wher Sathãs seate is, & thou kepest my name and hast not denied my faith. And in my dayes, Antipas was a faithful witnes of mine, which was slayn amonge you, where Sathã dwelleth. But I haue a fewe thinges against D thee that thou hast there, thẽ that maintaine ỹ doctrine of Balã ✱ which taught in Balake, to putte occasion before the Num. xxiii b Children of Israell, that they should eate of meate dedicate vnto Idoles, and commyt fornycacyon. Euen so hast thou them that mayntayne the doctrine of the Nycolaytans / whyche thynge I hate.

But

nut be conuerted, or elles I wyll come vnto thee shortly, and wyl fight against them with the sworde of my mouth. Let him that hath eares, here what ỹ spirite saith vnto the congregacions. To him that ouercommeth wyll I geue to eate Manna that is hid, and will geue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth sauing he ỹ receaueth it.

And vnto the messenger of ỹ cõgregacion of Thiatira write. This saith ỹ sonne of god, which hathe his eyes lyke vnto a flãme of fire, whose feete are lyke brasse: I knowe thy workes & thy loue/ seruice/ & faith, & thy pacience, & thy dedes, which are mo at ỹ last the at ỹ first. F Notwithstanding I haue a few thinges against thee, * ỹ ỹ suffereit ỹ woman Iesabel, which called her self a Prophetisse to teache & to deceaue my seruauntes, to make them commit fornicaciõ/ & to eate meates offered vp vnto idoles. And I gaue her space to repent of her fornicacion, & she repented not. Behold, I will cast her into a bedd, & the ỹ comit fornicacion with her, into great aduersite, except they turne frõ their deades. And I wyll kil her children w death. And al ỹ cõgregacions shal know ỹ I am he which serchech ỹ raines & hertes. And I will geue vnto euery one of you accordynge vnto your workes, Unto you I saye, & vnto other of the of Thiatira as many as haue not this lerning & which haue not knowen the depenes of Sathã (as they saye) I wil put vppon you none other burthen, but ỹ which ye haue already. Holde fast til I come, & whosoeuer ouercommeth & kepeth my workes vnto ỹ ende, to hi will I geue power ouer nacyons, & he shal rule thẽ w a rodde of yron, and as the vessels of a potter shall he breake them to sheuers. Euen as I receaued of my father, so wyll I geue him the morninge starre. Let him that hath eares, heare what the spirite sayth to the congregacions.

* Iere. xxvii. b

G

He instructeth and enfourmeth the Angels of the congregacions, declaringe also the rewarde of him that ouercommeth.

The. iii. Chapter.

AND wryte vnto the messenger of the congregacyon of Sardis: this saith he that hath the spirite of God and ỹ vii. starres. I knowe the workes, thou haste a name that ỹ liuest, and thou arte dead. Be awake and strengthe the thynges which remayne, ỹ are redy to dye.

For if I haue not founde thy worcke perfaycte before God. Remember therfore how thou hast receaued and heard, and holde faste, and repent. * If thou shalte not watche, I wyll come on thee as a thefe, and thou shalte not knowe what houre I wyll come vpõ the. Thou haste a fewe names in Sardis, whych haue not defyled their garmentes, and they shall walke w me in white, for they are worthy. He that ouercommeth shal be clothed in white araye, ãd I wyll not put out his name oute of ỹ boke of lyfe, and I wyll confesse hys name before mi father, and before his Angels. Let him that hath heares, heare, what ỹ spirite saieth vnto the congregacions.

* i: Thessa ba ii: Portu. cs

And wryte vnto the tydinges bringer of the congregacyon of Philadelphia: this sayth he ỹ is holy ãd true, * which hath the keye of Dauid: which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no mã openeth. I knowe workes. Behold I haue set before thee and opẽ doore and no man can shut it, for thou haste a lytell strength and haste kept my sayinges: & haste not denyed my name. Behold I make them of the congregacion of Sathã, which cal them selues Iewes & are not, but do lye: Behold, I will make them that they shall come & worshippe before thy feete: and shall knowe that I loue thee.

B

* Esay. xxii. & Iob. xii. c.

Because thou hast kept ỹ wordes of my pacience therfore I will kepe the from ỹ houre of temptacion, wich wyl come vpon all the worlde, to tempte them ỹ dwel vpon the earth. Behold I come shortly. Holde that which thou haste, that no mã take away thy croune. Him that ouercõmeth, wyll I make a pyllar in the temple of my God, & he shal go no more out.

G

And I will wryte vpon him, the name of my God, and the name of the cytie of my God, newe Ierusalem: which commeth doune out of heauen from my God and I wyl wryte vpon hi my newe name. Let him that hath eares, heare, what the spirite sayth vnto the congregacions.

The congregacō of Laodicia.

And vnto the messenger of the congregacion wtich is in Laodicia, wzite: thys sayth (Amen) the faithfull and true witnes, the begynning of the creatures of god. I know thy wozkes that ꝑ arte neither colde noz hotte: I wold thou were colde oz hotte. So then because thou art betwene both/and nether could noz hot, I wyl spewe thee out of my mouthe: because ꝑ art rych and increased w̄ goodes/and hast nede of nothing and knowest not howe ꝑ art wretched and myserable, pooze, blinde and naked. I counsel thee to bye me golde tried in the fyze ꝑ ꝑ mayest be riche: and white rayment ꝑ ꝑ maiest be clothed, ꝑ thy filthye nakednes do not appeare: ād anoynt thine eyes with eye salue, ꝑ ꝑ mayest see.

* As many as I loue/I rebuke and chasten. Be feruent therfoze and repente. Beholde I stand at ꝑ dooze and knocke. If any mā heare my voice & opē ꝑ dooze, I will come in vnto him and wyl suppe with him, and he with me. To him that ouercommeth, will I graunte to syt w̄ me in my seate, euen as I ouercame ād haue sitten with my father, in his seate. Let hi ꝑ hath eares, heare what ꝑ spzete saieth vnto the congregacions.

The leyth the heauē open, and the seat and one sitting vpon it, and .xxiiii. seates about it with .xxiiii. elders sittinge vpon them, & foure beastes pzaising god daye and nyght.

The.iiii. Chapter.

After this I loked, & beholde a dooze was open in heauē, and the first voyce whiche I herde, was as it were a trōpet talkinge with me which sayde: come vp hidder, and I will shew thee thinges which must be fulfilled here after. And immediatly I was in ꝑ spzete, and beholde a seate was put in heauen, and oue sate on the seate. And hee that sate, was to loke vpon, like vnto a iasper stone: And ther was a raynebow about the seat, in sight like to an emeralde. And aboute the seate were .xxiiii. seates. And vpō the seates .xxiiii. elders sittinge, clothed in white rayment, and had on their heades crounes of golde.

Raynebowe

And out of the seate pzoceded lyghtnynges, and thunderinges, and voices & there were .vii. launpes of fyze, burning

Seuē lāpes

before ꝑ seate, which are ꝑ .vii. spzetes of God. And before the seate there was a see of glasse lyke vnto a Chzistall, and in the myddest of the seate, and toundeabout the seate were foure beastes ful of eyes before and behinde, and the fyzste beaste was lyke a lyon, the second beaste lyke vnto a calfe, and the thirde beaste had a face of a man, and the fourth beast was lyke vnto a flyinge egle. And the .iiii. beastes had eche one of them .vi. winges about hym, and they were ful of eyes within, and they had no reste daye nether nyght: saying. Holy/holy, holy, Lozd god almighty, whiche was and is, and is to come.

Esay. vi.b.

And when those beastes gaue glozye and honour and thankes to him that sate on the seate/which lyueth foz euer/ād euer, the .xxiiii. elders fell downe before him that sate on the trone and woꝛshipped him that lyueth foz euer, & cast their crownes before the trone sayinge, thou art wozthy Lozd to receaue glozye, and honour ād power, foz thou hast created all thinges, and foz thy willes sake they are, and were created.

The saith the lambe opening ꝑ boke, and therfoze the foure beastes, ꝑ .xxiiii. elders, & the angels pzayse the lambe, and do him woꝛship.

The.v. Chapter.

And I sawe in the right hande of him that sate in the trone, a boke writen within, & on the backsyde sealed with seauen seales. And I sawe a strong angell which cried with a lowde voice: Who is wozthy to open the boke, and to lose ꝑ seales therof. And no man i heauē ner i earth nether vnder ꝑ earth, was able to open the boke, nether to loke theron. And I wepte muche, because no man was founde wozthy to open and to rede the boke/nether to loke theron.

The boke sealed w̄. vii. seales.

And one of the elders sayde vnto me: wepe not: Beholde a lyon beinge of the tribe of Juda, the roote of Dauid, hath obtained to open ꝑ boke, & to lose ꝑ .vii. seales therof. And I beheld, & lo/in the myddest of ꝑ seat & ꝑ .iiii. beastes & in the middest of the elders stoode a lambe as though he had ben killed, which had seuen hozues and seuen eyes which are the spzites of God sent into al the woꝛlde. And he came and toke the boke oute of ꝑ ryght hande of him that sate vpon the

A lyon obteyned to open the boke.

seate

Cseate,

And when he had taken the boke, ỹ. iiii. beastes and. xxiiii. elders fel doune before the lambe, hauyng harpes and golde vialles ful of odoures, which are ỹ prayers of saynctes and they sōge a newe sōge sayinge: thou art worthy to take the boke/ and to open the seales therof: for thou waste kylled, and haste redemed vs by thy bloud out of al kynredes, and tōges, and people, and nacions, and haste made vs vnto oure God, kynges and prestes, and we shal raigne on the earth.

*And I beheilde, and I hearde ỹ voyce
D of many angels about ỹ trone, & about Apoc, i.a. i. Pet, ii, b. Dani, vii.c the beestes and the elders, and I hearde thousande thousandes, sayinge with a lowde voyce: Worthy is the lambe that was kylled to receaue power, and ryches, and wysdome, ād strength, and honour/ & glory, & blessig. And al the creatures which are in heauen, & on the earth & vnder the earth & in the sea, & al that are in them, heard I sayinge: blessinge, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the seate, and vnto ỹ lambe for euermore, & ỹ. iiii. beastes sayd: Amē. And the. xxiiii. elders fell vpon their faces, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

C The lambe openeth the. vi. seales and many thinges folowe the openinge therof.

The. vi. Chapter.

A The lābe openeth the seale

AND I sawe when the lambe opened one of the seales/ ād I heard one of the iiii. beestes saye, as it were the noyse of thunder, cōme & see: & I sawe. And behold ther was a whyte horsse, & he that sat on him, had White horse a bowe, and a Croune was geuen vnto him, and he went forth conquerynge & for to ouercome. And when he opened ỹ seconde seale, I herde the seconde beast saye: come and see. And ther went out a other horsse that was red, & power was Red horse. geuen to him ỹ satte theron, to take peace frō the earth, and that they should kyll one another.* And ther was geuē vnto him a great swearde,

And when he had opened the thirde seale, I herde the thirde beast saye come & see. And I beheld and lo a blacke horsse Blacke horse and he that sate on hym had a payre of balances in hys hande. And I hearde a voyce in the middest of the. iiii. beastes saye: a measure of whete for a peny, and iii. measures of barley for a peny: & ople & wine see ỹ hurt not. And when he opened the fourth seale, I hearde the voyce of the fourth beast saye, come and see, & I loked, and beholde a grene horsse, ād Grene horse his name that sate on him, was deathe and hell folowed after him, and power was geuen vnto them ouer the fourthe parte of the earth to kyll with swearde, and with honger and with deth that cōmeth of bermen of the earthe.

And when he opened the fifte seale, I C Soules vnder ỹ alter. sawe vnder ỹ aulter the soules that were kylled for the worde of god, and for ỹ testimony which they had, and they cryed with a loud voyce sayeng: how longe tarieste thou Lorde holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our bloude on theym that dwel on the earth? And longe white garmentes were geuen vnto euery one of them. And it was sayde vnto them ỹ Esay. ii, b they shoulde reste for a lytle season vntyl the numbre of their felows and bretheren, and of thē ỹ shoulde be kylled as they were, were fulfylled. D

And I beheilde when he opened the. vi. seale, and lo ther was a great earthquake, ād the sunne was as blacke as sacke cloth made of heare, ād the moone was red euen as bloud, and the starres of heauen fel vnto the earth euen as a figge tree casteth from her her figges, when she is shaken of a mightye winde. And heauen vanished away, as a scrol, whē it is rolled together. And al mountaines and Iles were moued out of their places, and the kinges of the earth, and the great men and the rich men, and the chefe captaynes and the myghtye men, and euery bondman and euery free man, hyd them selues in dennes and in rockes of ỹ hylles, *and sayde to the hylles and rockes fall on vs. and hide vs from the presence of hym that sitteth on the seate/ ād from the wrath of the lambe, for the great daye of his wrathe is come, and who can endure it. Ozee. x, b Luc. xxiii, b

C He seyth the seruauntes of god sealed in their foreheades out of all nacions, and people, which though they suffre trouble/ yet the lambe fedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaynes of lyuing waters, & god shall wype away all teares from their eyes.

The. vii. Chapter.

And

AND after that, I sawe.iiii. angels stand on the.iiii.corners of the earth, holding the iiii.wyndes of the earth, that the wyndes shoulde not blowe on the earthe, neyther on the sea, neither on any tree. ✠ And I sawe another angel ascende from the risinge of the sonne: which had the seale of the lyuing god, and he cried with a loude voyce to the.iiii angeles: to whome power was geuen to hurte the earth and the sea, sayinge: hurt not ỳ earth, nether the sea, nether trees, tyl we haue sealed the seruantes of oure god in theyr foreheades.

B And I hearde the numbre of theym which were sealed an.C and.xliiii. M. of all the trybes of the Chylderen of Israell. Of the tribe of Juda were sealed. xii.M. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Aser were sealed.xii.M. Of ỳ tribe of Neptalim were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Symeon were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Leuy were sealed.xii.M. Of the trybe of Isacar were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed.xii.M. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed.xii.M: Of the tribe of Ben Jamin were sealed.xii. thousand.

C After thys I behelde, and lo a great multitude (whiche no man coulde numbre of all nations and people, and tonges) stode before the seate and before ỳ lambe, clothed with long whyte garmentes, and palmes in theyr handes, and cried with a loude voyce, sayinge: saluacion be ascribed to him that sitteth vpon the seate of oure God, and vnto the lambe/ And all the angels stode in the compas of the seate and of the elders, and of the iiii. beastes, and fell before the seate one their faces, and worshipped god/ saying Amen: Blessinge, and glory, wisdome, & thanckes, and honoure, and power, and mycht, be vnto our God for euermore. Amen.

And one of the elders aunswered sayinge vnto mee: what are these which are arayed in longe white garmentes, and whence came they? and I sayde vnto hi: Lorde thou wottest. And he sayde to me: these are they which came oute of greate tribulacion and made theyr garmentes large, and made them white/ in the bloud of the Lambe: therfore are they in the presence of the seate of God/ and serue hi daye and night in his temple, and hee ỳ sitteth in the seate wyll dwell amounge them. They shall honger nomore, nether thurst, nether shal the sunne lyght on the nether any heate for the lambe which is in the myddest of the seat shal feede the and shall leade them vnto fountaynes/ of lyuing water, and shall wype away al teares from theyr eyes.

The notes.

* Angel is a greke word and signifieth a messenger. And al ỳ Angels are called messengers, because they are sent from God to man on message: euē so prophetes, preachers and the prelattes of ỳ churche, are called Angells: that is to say messengers, because theyr office is to bringe the message of God vnto ỳ people. The good angelles here in this boke are the true bisshoppes and preachers, and the euel angels are the heretykes and false prophetes which euer falsifye gods worde, wyth which the churche of Christ shalbe thus myserably plaged vnto the ende of ỳ world, as is payuted in these figures.

¶ The seuenth seale is opened, ther is silence in heauen, ỳ foure Angels blowe their trompettes, & great plages folow vpon the earth

¶ The.viii.Chapter.

AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, ther was sylence in heauen about the space of half an hour. And I sawe angels standing before god/ and to them were geuen seuen trompettes. And another angell came, and stode before ỳ aulter hauing a golden sencer, & much of odoures was geuen vnto him/ that he should offre of the prayers of all sainctes, vpon the golden aulter, whiche was before the seate. And the smoke of the odoures whiche came of the prayers of al Saintes ascended vp before God, out of the angels hand. And the Angell toke the censer and fylled it wyth fyre of the aulter, and cast it into the earthe, and voyces were made, and thundringes, & lightenynges, and earthquake.

And the seuen angels whiche had the vii. trompettes prepared theim selues to blowe. The first angell blewe, and there was much hayle and fyre, which were mingled with bloud and they were cast into the earth: and the thyrde parte of trees was brente, and all greane grasse was brent. And the second Angell blewe: and as it were a great mountayne burninge with

with fyre was caste into the sea, and the thirde parte of ỹ sea toorned to bloude, and the thyrd parte of ỹ creatures whiche had lyfe/dyed, and the thirde part of shippes were destroyed.

D And the thirde Angel blewe, and there fel a gret starre from heauen burning as it were a lampe/and it fell into the thirde parte of the ryuers, and into fountaines of waters, and the name of the starre is called wormwod: & ỹ third part was turned to wormwod. And many men died of the waters because they were made bytter. And the fourth Angel blew, & ỹ thirde parte of ỹ sunne was smitten, ād ỹ thirde parte of the moone, and the third parte of starres: so that the third parte of thē was darkened. And ỹ daye was smytten ỹ the thyrde part of it shulde not shyne, & lykewise the nyght. And I beheld & herde an Angell flying thorow the myddes of heauen, sayinge with a lowde voice: Woo, woo, woo to ỹ inhabiters of ỹ erth, because of the voyces to come of the trompe of the .iii. Angels which were yet to blowe.

¶ The fifth & syxte Angel blewe their trompettes, ỹ starre falleth from heauen: the locustes come out of ỹ smoke: The fyrst woo is paste: ỹ foure Angels that were bounde are lowsed, & the third part of mē is kylled.

¶ The .ix. Chapter.

A And the fyft Angell blewe, & sawe a starre fall from heauē vnto ỹ erth. And to him was geuen the kaye of the bottōlesse pyt. And he opened the bottomlesse pyt/and ther arose ỹ smoke of a great fornace. And the sunne and the ayer were darckned by the reason of the smoke of ỹ pyt. And there cāe out of the smoke locustes vpō the earth, and vnto them was geuen power as the scorpiōs of the earth haue power. And it was commaunded thē, that they shulde not hurt the grasse of the erth: nether any grene thynge: nether any tree: but only those men which haue not the seale in their forheades. And to thē was commaunded that they shuld not kil thē, but that they shulde be vexed .v. monethes, Eclay.ild and their payne was as the payne that cometh of a scorpion, when he hath stonge a man. * And in those dayes shall mē seake death, and shall not finde it, & shal desyre to dye, and deathe shall flye frō them.

And the symilitude of ỹ locustes was B like vnto horses prepared vnto battail, and on theyre Heades were as it were crounes, lyke vnto golde: and their faces were as it had bene the faces of mē. And they had heare as ỹ heare of wemen. And their teeth were as the teeth of lyons. And they had habbergions as it were habbergions of yron, and the sōūde of charettes when many horses runne to gether to battayle. And they had tayles lyke vnto scorpyons, and there were stynges i their tailes. And their power was to hurt mē .v. monethes. And they had a kyng ouer them, which is ỹ angell of the bottomles pyt, whose name in the Hebrew tong is Abadon: but Abadon is in the Greke tong, Apollyon. One woo is past, and behold two wooes come after this: Abadon is as much to saye as a destroier

And the syxte Angel blewe, and I herde a voyce from the .iiii. corners of ỹ C golden aultre, which is before God, saying to the syxte Angel, which had ỹ trōpe: Loose the iiii. Angelles/which are bounde in the greate ryuer Euphrates. And the iiii. Angelles were losed which were prepared for an houre, for a daye/ for a moneth, and for a yeare, for to slea the .iii. part of men. And the numbre of horsmē of warre were, xx. tymes .x. M. & I herde the numbre of them: and thus I sawe the horses in a vision, and them ỹ sate on thē, hauyng fyry habbergions of a Jacincte coloure/ and brimstonne, and the heades of the horses were as ỹ heades of lions.

And out of their mouthes went forth fi- D re and smoke and brimston. and of these thre was the .iii. Parte of men kylled/ that is to say of fyre ād smoke and brimstone, which proceded out of ỹ mouthes, and their tayles were lyke vnto Serpentes, and had heades, and with them they did hurte: And the remnaunte of ỹ men which were not kylled by these plages repented not of the dedes of their handes, that they should not worshippe Deuelles an Jmages of goulde, and Syluer, and brasse, and stone, and of wood which nether can see, nether heare, nether go. Also they repented not of ther murther, and of their sorcery, neyther of their fornication nether of their theft.

The angel huth the boke open: he sweareth ỹ there shalbe no more time, he geueth ỹ boke vnto Iohn which eateth it vp.

The.x. Chapter.

A AND I sawe another mighty angell come down from heauen clothed with a cloude, and the rayne bowe vppon hys heade. And his face as it were the sunne/ād hys feete as it were pyllers of fire, and he had in his hande a lytle boke open: & he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his lyft foote on the earth. And cried with a loude voyce, as when a lyon roareth. And when hee had cryed/ seuen thunders spake theyr voyces. And when the seauen thunders had B spoken theyre voyces, I was aboute to wrytte. And I herde a voyce from heauē saynge vnto me, seale vp those thinges which the vii. thunders spake, and wryte them not.

And the aungell which I saw stand vpon the sea, and vppon the earth, lyfte vp his hande to heauen, and sware by him that lyueth for euermore, whiche created heauen, and the thinges that therin are, and the sea, and the thinges which therC in are, that there should be no lenger tyme: but in the Dayes of the voyce of the seuenth angel, when he shall begynne to blowe: euen the mistery of god shalbe fynished as he preached by hys seruauntes the Prophetes.

And the voyce which I herde from heauen spake vnto me agayne and sayde: * go, and take the lytle boke which is opē in the hande of the angel which standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the earthe. And I wente vnto the aungell, and sayde to hym: geue me the lytle boke, and he sayD de vnto mee: take it, and eate it vp, and it shal make thy belly bytter, but it shall bee in thy mouth as swete as hony. And I toke the lytle boke out of his hande, & eate it vp, & it was in my mouth as swete as hony, & as sone I had eaten it my bely was bitter, and hee sayde vnto me: ỹ must prophecy againe among the people: and nacions, and tonges and to many kinges.

The temple is measured. The.ii. woo is paste.

The.xi. Chapter.

AND thē was geuen me a ree- A de, like vnto a rod, & it was sayde vnto me: Ryse & meate the temple of God, and ỹ aulter, and them ỹ worship therin, and the quere whych is wt̄out in the tēple, cast oute and meate it not: for it is geuen vnto the Gentyles, & ỹ holy cytie shall they treade vnder foote. xlii. monethes: ād I wyl geue power vnto my two wytnesses, & they shall prophesy a thousand/ two hundred and lx. daies, clothed in sacke cloth. These are two olyue trees, and two candelstyckes, standinge before the God of the earth.

And yf any mā wyl hurt thē, fyre shal proceed out of their mouthes, and consume their enemies. And yf any man will hurt thē thys wyse muste he be kylled. These haue power to shut heauen, that it rayne B not in the daies of their prophesieng: And haue power ouer waters to turne them to bloud, and to smyte the earth wt̄ all manner plages, as oftē as they wyl. And when thy haue fynyshed their testimony, the beast that came oute of ỹ bottomlesse pyt, shall make warre agaynst them and shal ouercome them, and kylle them. And their bodyes shall lye i the stretes of the great cytie, wich spiritually is called Sodom & Egypte, where our Lorde was crucifyed.

And they of the people, and kinreds, ād tonges, and they of the nacions, shal see theyr bodyes. iii. dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffre their bodyes to be put in graues: and they that dwel vpō ỹ earth shall reioyce ouer them/ and be gladde, and shal sende giftes one to another for these to Prophetes, vexed thē that dwelt on earth.

And after iii. dayes and an halfe, the C spyrete of lyfe from God, entred into thē. And they stode vp vpon their feete: and great feare came vpon them which saw them. And they herde a great voice frō heauen, saienge vnto them, Come vp hydder. And they ascended vp into heauen in a cloude, and their enemyes sawe theim. And the same houre was there a great earthquake, & ỹ tenth parte of the

cytie

cytie fell, & in the earthquake were slaine names of men seuen. And the remnaũt were feared, ãd gaue glory to god of hea-D auen. The second woo is past, & beholde the thirde woo wil come anone. And the seuenth angel blewe/ & there were made great voices in heauen, sayeng: The kyndomes of this world are oure lordes & hys Christes, & he shal raigne for euer more. And .xxiiii. elders, which sit befor god on their seates, fell vpon there faces: and worshipped god saying: we geue the thankes Lorde god almighty: which arte ãd wast, and arte to come, for thou hast receaued thy great might, and hast raygned. And the nacions were angry, & thy wrath is come, ãd the time of the deade that they shulde be iudged, ãd that thou shuldest geue rewarde vnto thy seruauntes the Prophetes and Sainctes, & to thẽ that feare thy name smal and great ãd shuldest destroy thẽ, which destroy the earth. And the temple of God was opened in heauen, and ther was seene in his tẽple the arcke of his testament: and there followed lyghtenynges, and voyces / and thondrynges and earthquake, and much hayle.

¶ The seuenth angel, bloweth his trompet. There appeared in heauen a woman clothed with the sonne: Michael fyghteth wyth the dragon, which persecuteth the woman.

¶ The .xii. Chapter.

A And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A womã clothed with the sunne, and the moone vnder her fete, & vpon her head a croune of .xii. starres. And she was with childe, ãd cryed trauelling in byrth, and pained redy to be delyuered. And ther appeared a nother wounder in heauen, for beholde a great red dragon hauynge seuen heades, and ten hornes and crounes vpon his heades: and hys tayle drue the thyrde parte of the starres, and cast them to the earth.

B And the dragon stode before the woman, which was ready to be delyuered: for to deuoure her childe as soone as it were borne. And she brought forth a mã childe, which shulde rule all nacyons with a rode of yron.

And her sonne was taken vp vnto God and to his seate. And the woman fled into wyldernes, wher she had a place prepared of God, that they shuld feade her there a .M. ii. hundred and .lx. dayes.

And ther was a great battayl in heauen, Michaell and his Angels fought C with the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angeles, and preuayled not: neither was their place founde any more in heauẽ. And the great dragon, that olde serpente called the deuyll and Sathanas was cast out. Which deceaueth all the worlde. And he was cast into the earth ãd his angelles were cast out also.

And I herde a lowde voyce sayinge: Now is come saluacyon & strengthe & the kyngdome of oure God/ and the power of his Christ. For he is cast doune which accused them before God daye and nyght. And they ouercame him by the blood of the lambe, ãd by the worde of their testimony, & they loued not their lyues vnto the death. There- E fore reioyce heauens/ and ye that dwelle in them. Woo to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuyl is cõe doun vnto you which hath great wrath because hee knoweth that he hathe but shorte tyme.

And when the dragon sawe, that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman, which brought forth the mã childe. And to the womã were geuẽ two wynges of a great egle, that she myghte flye into the wildernes, into her place, where she is norysshed for a tyme, tymes, & halfe a time, from the presẽce of the serpẽt. And the dragon cast out of his mouthe water after the woman as it had bene a ryuer, because she shuld haue bene caught of the flond. And the earth holpe the woman & the earth opened her mouth & swalowed, vp the ryuer, which the dragon cast out of his mouth. And the dragon was wroth with the woman: and went and made warre with the remnaunt of hyr sede, whych kepe the commaundementes of god/ ãd haue the testimony of Jesus Christ. And I stode on the sea sande.

¶ A beast ryseth out of the sea wyth seuen heades and ten hornes. Another beast commeth out of the earth with two hornes.

¶ The .xiii. Chapter

And

A AND I sawe a beast ryse out of the sea, hauing seuē heades, and ten hornes, and vpon hys hornes. x. crounes & vpon his heade the name of blasphemy. And the beaste which I sawe was lyke a catte of the mountayne, and hys feete were as the feete of a beare, & his mouth as the mouth of a lyon: and ỹ dragon gaue him his power and hys seate, and great auctoritie, and I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, and hys deadly wound was healed. And all the worlde wondred at the beaste, and they worshipped the dragon whych gaue power vnto the beaste, and they worshypped the beast sayeng: who is like vnto ỹ beast: who is able to warre with hym:

By this tayle are figured false prophetes, as ys sayde, Esay. ix. c

And ther was geuen vnto him a mouth that spake greate thinges and blaspheamyes, and power was geuen vnto hym/ to do. xlii. monethes. And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemye agaynste god to blaspheme hys name and hys tabernacle/ and them that dwell in heauen. And it was geuē vnto hi to make warre wyth the Saynctes, ād to ouercome them. And power was geuen hym ouer all kinred, tonge, and nacion. and all ỹ dwell vppon the earthe worshipped him: ¶ whose names are not written in the boke of lyfe of the lambe, which was killed frō the beginninge of the worlde. If any mā haue an eare let him heare: * He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall go into captiuitie: * he that kylleth wt a swearde must be kylled with a swearde. Here is the pacience/ and the fayth of ỹ saincte

Apoc. xiii. Math. xxvi Genesi. ix. a, Mat. xxvi

And I behelde another beaste comminge vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes lyke a lambe, and he spake as did the dragon. And he did all that the first beaste coulde do, in his presence, and he caused the earth and them which dwell therin, to worshyp the fyrste beaste, whose deadly wounde was healed, ād he did greate wonders, so that he made fyre come downe from heauen in the sighte of men, And deceaued them that dwelte in D the earth by the meanes of those sygnes whych he had power to do i the syght of the beast, sayinge to them ỹ dwell on ỹ earth: that they should make an ymage, vnto the beast, which had the wound of a swerde, and did lyue.

And he had power to geue a spyrete to ỹ beast/ and ỹ the image of the beast shuld speake, and shuld cause that as many as wolde not worshyp the image of the beast shulde be killed. And he made al both smal and great, riche and poore, free and bonde, to receaue a marke in their right handes or in their foreheades. And that no man myght bie or sel, saue he ỹ had ỹ marke or ỹ nāe of the beast, other ỹ nomber of his name. Here is wisdome. Let him that hath wyt counte the nombre of the beast: For it is the nomber of a man, and his nomber is sixe hundreth thyrtie score and syxe.

¶ The lambe standeth vpon the mount Sion and ỹ vndefyled congregacion wyth hi: The angel exhorteth to the feare of God and telleth of the fall of Babylon:

The. xiiii. Chapter.

AND I loked, and lo a lambe stode on the mount Sion, & with hym an. C. ād xliiii. M hauynge his fathers name, writen in their foreheades. And I herde a voice from heauē, and ỹ sounde of many waters, and as ỹ voice of a great thunder. And I hearde the voice of herpers herynge wt their harpes.

And they songe as it were a newe songe, before the seate, and before the foure beastes, and the elders/ and no man coulde B learne that songe, but the hundred and. xliiii. M. which were redemed from the earth. These are they/ wich were not defyled wt wemen/ for they are virgyns. These folowe the lambe whither soeuer he goeth. These were redemed frō men beynge the fyrste frutes vnto God and to the lambe, and in their mouthes was found no gyle. For they are wt out spot before the trone of God. F

And I sawe an angell flie in the G midde ste of Heauen hauinge an euerlasting gospell, to preache vnto them ỹ sit and dwel on the earth, and to al nacions, kinreds, and tonges and people, saying with a lowde voyce: * Feare God, and geue honour to hym, for the houre of his iudgement is come: and worshyp hym that made Heauen and earth, and the sea, ād fountaines of water. And there folowed an notherangell, saynge: *

Babylon

Babilon is fallen, is fallen, that great cyte, * for she made all nacyons drynck of the wyne of her fornycacion.

And the thyrd angell folowed them & sayinge with a loude voice: If any mā worshyppe the beast and hys ymage, and receaue his marke in his forhed, or in hys hande, the same shall drinke the wine of the wrath of God, which is powred in ỹ cuppe of his wrath. And he shalbe punyshed in fyre ād brymston, before ỹ holy angels, and before the lambe.

And the smoke of their tormente ascendeth vp euermore. And they haue no rest daye nor night, which worshyppe ỹ beast and his ymage, and whosoeuer receaueth the prynt of hys name. Here is ỹ pacience of saluctes. Heare are they that kepe the commaundmentes and ỹ fayth of Jesu.

And I heard a voyce frō heauen sayinge vnto me: wryte. Blessed are the dead whych here after dye in the Lorde, euē so sayth the spryte: that they maye rest from their labours, but their workes shall folowe them.

And I loked and beholde a whyte clowde, ād vpon the clowde one sytteynge lyke vnto the sonne of mā, hauinge on his head a golden crowne, and in his hande a sharpe sickle. And another Angell came oute of the temple, crynge wyth a lowde voyce to him that sate on the clowde. Joell.iii.c * Thrust in thy sickle and repe for ỹ tyme is come to reape, for the corne of the earth is ripe. And he that sate on ỹ clowde, thrust in hys sykle on the earth, and ỹ earth was reaped.

And another Angell came out of ỹ temple, whiche is in heauen, hauinge also a sharpe sykle. And another Angel came out from the the aultre, whych had power ouer fyre & cryed wyth a lowde crye to hym that had the sharpe syckle, and sayde: thrust in thy sharpe sykle, & gadre ỹ clusters of the earth, for her grapes are rype. And the Angel thrust his sykle on the earth, ād cut doune the grapes of the earth: ād cast them into ỹ greate wynefat of the wrath of God, and ỹ wynefat was troden wyth out the cite & bloud cāe out of ỹ fat, euen vnto ỹ horse brydles by ỹ space of a thowsande and vi. C. furlonges.

Exaye. xxi. c. Hiere. li. a.

¶ Yet seeth seuen Angels hauinge seuen vialles full of wrath.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

And I sawe another sygne in heuen great & merueilous: vii. Angels hauynge the seuen laste plages, for in thē is fulfilled ỹ wrath of God.

And I saw as it were a glassye sea, mingled with fyre: and them that had gotte victory of the beast/ and of his ymage/ & of his marke, ād of the nombre of his name, stand on the glassye sea, hauynge the harpes of God, and they sounge the songe of Moyses the seruaūt of God, & the songe of the lambe, saying. Great & marueious are thy workes: * Lord god almyghty, iuste and true are thy wayes kynge of Sayuctes. Who shal not feare o Lorde, and glorify thy name? For ỹ only art holy, ād all gentyles shall come and worshyp before thee, for thy iudgementes are made manifeste. B Exaye. lii. c. Jeremy. x. b.

And after that, I loked/ and beholde the temple of the tabernacle of testimony was open in heauen, and the seuen angels cāe out of ỹ tēple, wich had ỹ seuen plages, clothed in pure & bryght lynnen and hauynge their brestes gyrded with golden girdels. And one of the fowre beastes gaue vnto ỹ seuen Angels, vii. golden vialles ful of ỹ wrath of god, which liueth for euer more. And the temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God & of his power, and no man was able to entre into the temple, tyll the seuen plages of the seuen Angels were fulfylled.

¶ The Angels poure out their vialles ful of wrath

¶ The. xvi. Chapter

And I herde a greate voice out of the temple sayenge to the. vii. Angels: go poure your vyalles of wrath vpō ỹ earth. And the first went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth/ and there fel anoysome and sore botche vpon the manne, which had the marke of the beast, ād vpon them which worshipped the image.

And the secoude angel shed out his vial vpon the sea, ād it turned as it were into the bloude of a dead man: and euery liuyng thinge died in the sea.

And

And the thirde angell shed oute his vyall, vpon the ryuers and fountaynes of waters, and they turned to bloude And
B I herde an angel saye: Lorde which art and wast, thou art righteous and holy, because thou hast geuen such iudgemētes, for they shed oute the bloude of saictes and prophetes, and therfor hast thou geuen them bloude to drinke: for they are worthy: and I heard another oute of the aulter saye: euen so Lord God almigtie true and righteous are thy iudgementes.

And the fourth angel poured out his vyal on the sonne, and power was geuē vnto hym to vexe menne with heate of fyre. And the men raged in greate heate and spake euell of the name of god, which hathe power ouer those plages, and they repented not, to geue hym glorye, And the .v. angell poureth out his vyal vppon the seate of the beaste. and his kingdome, waxed darcke, and they gnewe their tonges for sorow, & blaspheined the god of heauen, for sorow and payne of theyr sores, and repented not of their dedes.

And the sixte angel poured out his
C vial, vpon the great ryuer Euphrates & the water dryed vp that the wayes of the kinges of the easte shoulde be prepared. And I sawe thre vncleane spretes lyke frogges, come oute of the mouthe of the Dragon, and oute of the mouthe of the beast, and out of the mouthe of the false prophet. For they are the spretes of deuels, worcking myracles, to go out vnto the kinges of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battell of that great god almigh ty. * Beholde I come as a thefe. Happye is he that watcheth and kepeth his garmentes, lest he be founde naked and men se his filthines. And he gathereth them together in into a place called in the Hebrue tounge Armagedon.

Matth. xxiiii. ii. Pete. iii. c. Apoc. xvi. a.

And the seuenth Angell poured oute
D his vyall into the ayre. And there came a voyce out of heauen from the seat, saying: it is done, and ther folowed voyces, thondringes, ād lyghteninges, and ther was a great earthquake, suche as was not seins me were vpō ye earth, so mighty an earthquake & so great: & the great cytie was deuided into thre partes, and the citie of al nations fel. And great Babilon came in remembraunce before god, to geue vnto her the cuppe of the wyne of the fearcenes of his wrath. Euery yle fled away, and the mouētaynes were not founde. And there fell a greate hayle, as it had bene talentes, out of heauen vpō men, and the men blaspheined God: because of the plage of the haile, for it was great and the plage of it sore.

a. Hee describeth ye woman sytting vpon ye beaste with ten hornes.

The. xvii. Chapter.

AND ther came one of the seuen Angels, which had ye seuen vialles: and talked with
A me, sayeng vnto me: come I wyl shewe thee the iudgemēt of the great whore that sitteth vpō many waters, wt whome haue cōmitted fornicacion the kinges of the earth, so that the inhabiters of the earth, are dronken with the wyne of her fornicacion. And he caried me away into the wildernes in ye spryte. And I sawe a woman sit vpon a rose colored beast full of names of blasphemy, which had ten hornes. And ye woman was arayed in purple and rose colour and decte with gold, precious stone, and pearles, and had a cuppe of golde in her hande, full of abhominacions ād filthines of her fornicacion. And in her
B forhed was a name wryten, a mystery, great Babilon the mother of whordom, and abhominacion of ye earthe. And I sawe the wife dronken wt the bloud of saīctes, ād wt the bloud of the wytnesses of Jesu. And when I sawe her: I wondred with great meruayle.

And the Angel sayde vnto me: wherfore maruaylest thou? I wyll shew thee the mistery of the woman, and of ye beast that beareth her, which hath seue heades and ten hornes. The beast that ye sawest, was, and is not, and shall assende out of the bottomles pyt, and shal go into perdicion, ād they that dwel on ye earth shal wonder (whose names are not wryten in the boke of lyfe from ye begynnyng of ye worlde) when they behold the beast that was, and is not. And here is a mynd that
C hath wisdome.

The seuen heades are seuen mountaynes

taines on which the woman sitteth: they are also seuen kinges. Fyue are fallen, & one is, and another is not come. And whe he cõmeth, he must cõtinew a space. And the beast that was, & is not, is euen the eyght, and is one of the seuẽ, and shal go into destructiõ. And ỹ ten hornes which thou seest, are the kinges, which haue receyued no kyngedome, but shall receyue power as kynges at one houre wyth the beaste. These haue one mynde, and shal geue their power and strength vnto the beast. These shall fight with the lambe, 1.Timo.vi.c & the lambe shall ouercome them.* For he is Lorde of Lordes, and kinge of kinges: and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen and faythfull. D

And he sayde vnto me: the waters which thou sawest, where the whore sytteth, are people, & folke and nacions, and tonges. And the ten hornes, which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate ỹ whore, & shall make her desolate and naked, and shal eate her flesche and burne her wyth fyre. For God hath put in theyr herres to fulfyl hys wyl, and to do with one consent, for to geue her kingedome vnto the beaste, vntill the wordes of God be fulfylled. And the womã which thou sawest, is that greate citye, which raygneth ouer the kynges of the earthe.

¶ The louers of the worlde are sory for the fall of Babylon, but they that be of God, haue cause to reioyse for her destruccyon,

The.xviii. Chapter.

A Nd after ỹ, I sawe another aungell come frõ heauen, hauing great power, & ỹ earth was lightened whis brightnes. And he cryed mightely wyth a strong voyce sayinge: * Greate Babylon is fallen, is fallen: & is become the habytacyon of deuyls, & ỹ hold of al fowle spirites, & a cage of all vncleane and hateful byrdes, for al nacions haue droncken of the wine of the wrath of her fornicaciõ. And the kinges of the earthe haue cõmitted fornicacion with her, and her merchauntes are wexed ryche of the aboundance of her pleasure. Esaie.xxi.c. Jeremy.l.a.

And I heard another voyce frõ heauen, saye: come a waye from her my people, that ye be not partakers in her sinnes, that ye receyue not of her plages. For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, God hath remẽbred her wickednes. Reward her euen as she rewarded you, and geue her double accordinge to her workes. And poure double to her in ỹ same cupp, which she filleth vnto you. And as muche as she glorified her selfe, and lyued wantanly, so much poure ye in for her of punishment ãd sorow, for she sayd in her selfe: I syt beynge a quene, & am no wyddow, and shall se no sorowe. Therefore shal her plages come at one daye, Esai.xlvii death, and sorowe, and honger, and she shalbe brent with fyre: for strong is the Lorde God whiche iudgeth her. B

And the kinges of the earth shalbe wepe her & waile ouer her, which haue cõmytted fornicacion with her, and haue lyued wantanly with her, when they shall se the smoke of her burninge and shall stande a farre of, for feare of her punyshement, sayinge* Alas, Alas ỹ greate citye: Babilon, that mighty cytie: for at one houre is her iudgement come. And the marchauntes of the earth shal wepe and wayle in them selues/ for no mã wil bye there ware any more, ỹ ware of gold & syluer, and precious stones neither of pearle, and raynes, and purple, ãd skarlet, ãd al thine wodde ãd al maner vessels of yuery, and all maner vessels of most precious wodde, and of brasse, ãd yrone, and synamõ, & odours, and oyntmentes and frankyncense, and wyne & oyle and fine floure ãd wheate, beastes, and shepe, and horses, and charetes, & bodyes and soules of men. Jeremy.li.a D

And the apples that thy soule lusted after are departed from thee. And all thinges which were deynty and had in price are departed from the, and thou shalt finde the no more. The marchauntes of these thinges which were wexed ryche, shal stande a farre of from her, for feare of the punishemente of her, wepyng and wayling, & saying: * Alas, alas, ỹ great citie, that was clothed in raynes ãd purple, and scarlet, and decked wyth golde, & precious stones, & pearles: for at one hour, so great riches is come to nought. Jeremy.li.b E

And euery shippegouerner/ & all they ỹ occupied shippes & shipmẽ which dwelt in the sea stode a farre of, ãd cried whẽ they sawe the smoke of her burning say-ryng: what cytye is lyke vnto this greate cytie. And they caste dust on their heads, & cried weping, and wayling, and sayde: *

F my.ii.b. Alas alas, that great cytye wherin weare made riche al that had shippes in the sea, by the reason of her costlynes, for at one houre is she made desolate.

Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and prophetes: for God hath geuē your iudgemēt one her. And a myghte angell toke vp a stone lyke a great milstone, and cast it into ỳ sea, sayinge: with suche violence shal that great cytie Babilon be cast and shal be founde no more. And the voyce of harpers, and musycyons, and of pypers, and trumpetters shal be harde no more in the, ād no craftes man of whatsoeuer crafte he be, shalbe founde any more in thee. And the sounde of a mylle shallbe harde no more in thee, and the light of ỳ candel shal no more shine in thee/and the voyce of the bridegrom and of the bride, shalbe hard nomore in thee, for thy marchaūtes were the great men of ỳearth, And wythine inchauntment were deceaued al nacions: and in hir was founde the bloude of the Prophetes and of the sayntes, ād of al ỳ were slayne vpon the earth.

Prayse or thankes are geuen vnto God for iudgīg the whore, for auenging ỳ bloud of his seruaūtes. The Angel will not bewoorshipped. The fowles and birdes are called to the slaughter.

¶ The xix Chapter.

AND after ỳ I herde the voice of much people in heauen saying: Alleluya. Saluacion ād glory ād honour and power be ascrybed to the Lorde oure God, for true and righteous are his iudgementes, for he hath iudged the great whore whiche did corrupt the earth with her fornicacion and hath auenged ỳ bloud of his seruaūtes of hir hande. And agayne they sayde: Alleluia. And smoke rose vp for euermore And the xxiiii. elders and the iiii. beastes fell doune, and worshipped God ỳ sate on the seate, saying: Amen Alleluya. ād a voyce came out of the seate, saynge: prayse youre Lorde God al ye that are his seruauntes, and ye ỳ feare him both small and greate.

And I herde the voyce of muche people euen as the voyce of many waters/ & as ỳ voice of strong thonderynges, saying Alleluya, for God omnipotent raygneth Let vs be glad and reioyce and geue honoure to hym: for ỳ mariage of ỳ lambe B is come, ād his wyfe made her selfe redy. And to her was graunted, ỳ she shulde be arayed wyth pure ad goodly raynes.

For the raynes is the righteousnes of sayntes. And he sayd vnto me, * happy are they which are called vnto the lāmbes supper. And he sayed vnto me: these are the true sayinges of God. And I fel at hys feete, to worshyppe hym And he sayde vnto me, se thou do it not For I am thy felowe seruaunt, ād one of thy brethrē, & of thē ỳ haue the testimonye of Jesus. Worshippe God. For ỳ testimony of Jesus is the spryte of prophesy. Matt.xxii. Luke.xiiii.

And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a C whyte horsse: and he that sat vpon him was faythfull & true, and in ryghtwesnes did iudge and wak battayle. Hys eyes were as a flamme of fyre: and on his head were many crounes: and he had a name wrytten, that noman knewe but he Ecaye.xliii himself. * And he was clothed w the vesture dipt in bloud, & his name is called the word of God. And the warriers which were i heauen/ followed hym vp on whyte horsses, clothed with white ād pure raynes: and out of his mouth wēt out a sharpe a * swearde, ỳ with it he shulde smyte the heathē. And he D, all rule them with a rodde of yron, & he trode ỳ wynefat of fearines & wrath of almighty God. And hath on his vesture & on his thygh a name wrytte: kynge of kynges, and Lorde of Lordes.

a. By the swerd is signified the word of god as it is sayd Ephe. vi. c Hebre. iiii. c Ap i. d. Esay xlix. a.

And I sawe an Angell stande i ỳ sūne, & he cryed w a lowde voyce sayinge to all ỳ fowles ỳ flye by ỳ myddes of heauē come & gather youre selues to gether vnto ỳ supper of ỳ great God, ỳ ye maye eate ỳ flesshe of kynges, & of hys captaynes & ỳ flesshe of myghty mē, ād ỳ flesshe of horses, & of thē that sit on thē, & the flesh of all freemen and bondmen & of small & great. And I sawe the beast & the kinges of ỳ erth & their warriers gathered together to make battayl agaynst him ỳ sat on the horse, and agaynst hys soudiers.

And ỳ beast was taken with hym that false prophet that wroughte myracles before him, with which he deceaued thē that ꝑ receyued the beastes marke, and thē that worshipped his image. These both were cast into a ponde of fyre burninge with brimstone: and the remnaunt were slayne with the swearde of hym that sat vpō ꝑ horse, which swearde proceaded out of his mouth, & all ꝑ foules were ful filled with their flesh.

¶ The dragon is bounde for a thousande yeares. The deade aryse, and receyue iudgemente.

¶ The.xx. Chapter.

AND I sawe an Angell come doune from heauen, hauinge the kay of ꝑ bottomlesse pyt, & a great chayne in his hād. And he toke ꝑ dragon ꝑ olde serpent, which is ꝑ deuyll & Sathanas, & he bounde him a thousād yeares: & cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he bounde him, and set a seale on him, ꝑ he shulde deceaue the people no moare, till ꝑ thousād years were fulfylled. And after that he must be loosed for a litell season.

And I sawe seates, & they sat vpon them and iudgement was geuen vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were B beheaded for the wytnes of Jesu, ād for the worde of God: which had not worshipped ꝑ beast, neither his ymage, neither had taken hys marke vpon their forheades, or on their handes: and they lyued, and raygned with Christ a. M. yere: but the other of the dead men lyued not agayne, vntill the thousande yere were fynished. This is ꝑ fyrst resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath parte in ꝑ fyrst resurrection. For on suche shall the secōd death haue no power, for they shal be the Prestes of God and of Christ, ād shall raygne with him a M. yeare.

¶ And whē ꝑ. M. yeres are expired Satā shalbe lowsed out of his prison, ād shall go out to deceaue ꝑ people which are in the four quarters of the earth Gog and Magog, to gather thē to gether to battayle, whose nombre is as the sand of ꝑ sea: and they went vp in the playne of ꝑ earth: & cōpassed the tentes of the sayntes about, and the beloued cytie. And fyre came doune from God out of heauen, and deuoured them: and the deuil that deceaued them, was cast into a lake of fyre & brimstone, where ꝑ beaste and the false prophetes were, and shalbe tormented daye and nyght for euer more.

Ezech. xxxviii. and xxxix.

And I sawe a greate whyte seate & him that sat on it, from whose face fled awaye bothe the earth and heauen, and their place was no more founde. And I sawe the dead, bothe great and small stande before God: And the bokes were opened, and another boke was opened, which is the boke of lyfe, & the dead were iudged of those thynges which were writen in the bokes according to their dedes: & ꝑ sea gaue vp her dead, which were in her, and death ād hel deliuered vp the dead, which were in them: & they were iudged euery man according to his dedes. And death and hell were cast into the lake of fyre. This is the second death. And whosoeuer was not founde writen in the boke of lyfe, was cast into the lake of fyre.

¶ In thys chapter is described the new and spirituall Jerusalem.

¶ The.xxi. Chapter.

AND I sawe a new heauen and a new earth. For the fyrst heauē, & the first earth were vanished away, and ther was no more sea. + And I Iohn sawe that holy cytie newe Jerusalem come doune from God out of heauē prepared as a bryde garnished for her husband. For I heard a great voice out of heauen saying: beholde the tabernacle of god is with men, and he will dwel with them. And they shalbe hys people & god him self shalbe with thē & be their God. * And God shal wype alwaye all teares frō their eyes. And there shalbe no more deth, neither sorow nether crying nether shal ther be any more paine: for the olde thynges are gōe. And he ꝑ sate vpō ꝑ seate, sayde: * Beholde I make all thinges newe. + And he said vnto me: write, for these wordes are faythfull and true.

A Esay. xl. v. c. and lv. ii. Petri. iii.

B Esaie. xxv. a

ii. Cor. v. b Esay. xlii. b

And he said vnto me: it is done, I am * Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng ād the ende. I wil geue to hym, ꝑ is a thirst of the well of the water of life, frē. He ꝑ ouercommeth, shal inherit al thinges, & I wilbe his God, & he shalbe my sonne. ¶ But the fearful and vnbeleuinge, & the abhominable, and murtherers & whor-

a. Alpha & omega lyke in ꝑ. i. cha. b mongers, and sorcerers, and ydolaters, and al liars shal haue their parte in the lake, which burnyth with fyre, and brimstone, which is the seconde death.

And there came vnto me one of the vii. angels, which had the seuen vyals, ful of the .vii. laste plages: and talked with me sayinge: come hyther, I wil shewe thee the bride, the lambes wyfe. And he caried me awaye in the spirite to a greate and an hye mountayne, and he shewed me the greate citie, holy Jerusalem descendinge out of heauen from God, hauing the brightnes of God. And her shyninge was lyke vnto a stone moste precious, euen a Jasper cleare as cristall: and had walles greate and hye and had .xii. gates and at the gates .xii. Angels: and names written, which are the .xii. tribes of Israel: on the East parte .iii. gates, and on the Northside .iii. gates and towardes the South .iii. gates, and from the west .iii. gates: and the wall of the citye had .xii. foundacions, and in them the names of the lambes .xii. Apostles.

And he that talked with me, had a golden rede to measure the citye and al, and the gates therof, and the wal therof. And the city was bylte .iiii. square and the lenght was as large as the breadth of it. And he measured the citie with the rede .xii. furlonges: and the lenght and the breadth, and the heyth of it, were equal. And he measured the wall therof an .cxliiii. cubites: the measure that the angel had was after the measure that men vseth. And the bildinge of the wal of it was of Jaspar. And the citie was pure golde lyke vnto cleare glasse. And the foundacions of the wal of the citie were garnished with al manner of precious stones. The first foundacion was Jasper, the second Saphyre, the thirde a Calcedony, the fourth an Emeralde: the fift Sardonix: the syxt Sardeos: the .vii. Crysolite: the eyght Berall: the .ix. a Topas: the tenth a Chrysoprasos: the eleuenth a Jacyncte: the twelueth an Amatist. The .xii. gates were .xii. pearles/ euery gate was of one pearle, and the strete of the citie was pure golde as thorowe shynynge glasse. And ther was no temple therin. For the Lord God almighty and the lambe are the temple of it and the citie hath no nede of the sonne nether of the mone to lighten it. For the brightnes of god did light it: and the lambe was the lyght of it. And the people which are saued shal walke in the light of it and the kinges of the earth shal bringe their glory vnto it. And the gates of it are not shut by daye. For ther shalbe no nyght there. And ther shal entre into it none vncleane thynge: nether what soeuer worketh abhominacions or maketh lyes: but they only which are written in the lambes boke of lyfe.

¶ The ryuer of the water of life, the frutefulnes and lyght of the citye of God. The Lorde geueth euer his seruauntes warninge of thinges for to come, the angell wyll not be worshypped. To the worde of God maye nothinge be added nor mynished there from.

The .xxii. Chapter

A And he shewed me a pure ryuer of water of life clere as Cristall: proceding oute of the seate of god and of the lambe. In the middes of the stretes of it, and of euery syde of the ryuer was ther wode of life: which bare .xii. manner of frutes: and gaue frute euery moneth: and the leues of the wode serued to heale the people with all. And ther shalbe no more curse/ but the seate of God and the lambe shalbe in it: and his seruauntes shal serue him. And they shall se his face, and his name shalbe in their foreheades. * And there shallbe no nyghte there/ and they nede no candle, nether lighte, of the sunne for the Lord Geueth the light and they shal raigne for euermore.

B Esaie .lx.c.

And he sayde vnto me: these sayinges are faythfull and true. And the Lorde God of Sayntes and Prophetes sent his angel to shewe vnto his seruauntes, the thinges which must shortly be fulfylled. Behold I come shortly. * Happy is he that kepeth the saying of the prophesy of this boke. I am John which sawe these thinges and herde them. And when I had herde and sene, * I fell doune, to worshippe before the feete of the Angel which shewed me these thynges. And he sayd vnto me: se that do it not/ for I am thy felowe seruaunte, and the felowe seruaunt of thy brethren the Prophetes and of them which kepe the sayinges of this boke. But worshyppe God.

Apoc. i.a

C Apoc. xix. b.

And he sayde vnto me: seale not the sayinges of the prophesy of this boke. For the tyme is at hande. He that doeth euyll, let him do euill stylle: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy stylle: and he that is righteous,

F

E Esay. lx. d. c

Esay. lx. d

be moze righteous :and he that is holy let him be moze holy. And beholo I cõe shortly/ād my rewarde with me to geue euery mā accozding as his dedes shalbe I am alpha and Omega the beginning and the ende: the first and the last. Blessed are they that do his commaūdemētes, that their power maye be in the tre of life, & may enter in thozow ỹ gates into ỹ citie. * Foz without shalbe dogges, and inchaūters and whozmongers, and moztherers, ād ydolaters, ād whosoeuer loueth oz maketh leasinges.

Esai. lxiii. Apoc. i. b.

I Jesus sent myne angel to testifie vnto you these thinges in the congregacyons. I am the rote and the generacyon of Dauid, and the bzight mozning star. And the sprete and the bzyde sayde come And let hi that heareth, saye also come. * And let hi that is a thirst, come. * And let whosoeuer wil, take of ỹ water of life, fre.

Esaye. lv. a. Apoc. vii. c.

I testifie vnto euery mā that heareth the wozdes of the pzophesy of this boke. * yf eny man shal adde vnto these thinges God shal adde vnto him the plages that are wzitten in this boke. And if any man shal mynische of the wozdes of the boke of this pzophesy, God shal take away hys parte out of the boke of lyfe and out of the holy citie, and from those thinges which are wzitten in this boke, He which testifieth these thynges saith: be ie I come quickly, Amē. Euē so come lozd Jesu. The grace of our Lord Jesu Chzist be wi you al Amē

Deute. xiii. a. and xii: d Apoc. xxx. a.

The ende of ỹ newe Testament.

This is the table

where in ye shal finde the Epistles and the Gosples, after the vse of Salysbury.

FOR to fynde them the sooner so shal ye seke after these Cappytal letters by name: A. B. C. D. which stand by the syde of this boke alwayes On oz vnder the letter there shall ye finde a crosse ✠ where the epistle oz the gospel begynneth, and where the ende is, there shal ye finde an halfe crosse ☩.

¶ And the first lyne in this table al way is the epistle and the second line is alway the Gospel.

On the first Sondaye in the Aduent.
This also we knowe, Roma. xiii D
When they dzewe nye vnto. Mat xxi A

On the weneldaye.
Be pacient therfoze bzethen Jacob v B
The begynning of the gospel Mar i, A

On the friday
Esaie the ii Chapter A
In those dayes John Mat iii, A

¶ On the ii/ Sonday in the Aduent Whatsoeuer thinges are writte Ro xv A
And there shalbe synges Luc xxi. C

On the weneldaye
Zacharie the viii, Chapter, A
Verely I saye vnto you Mat xi, B

On the frydaye
Esaie the xii, Chapter, C
John bare witnes of him John i B

¶ On the iii Sondaye in the Aduent
Let men thus wise eleme vs i Coz iiii, A
When John beinge in przō Mat xi, A

On the weneldaye A Esaie ii Chapter
And in the vi moneth Luj C

On the frydaye
Esaye the xi chapter A
Mary arose in those dayes Luj D

¶ On the iiii Sondaye in the aduent Reioyce in the lozde Phi. i. iiii A
And this is the recozde of John Joi B

On the wensdaye
Johel the ii, and iii. chapter D
And this rumoz of him went Lu vii. C

The Table

On the frydaye
Zacharie the ii. chapter D
Take hede, beware of ỹ leuē Mar viii B
On the Christmas euē
Paul the seruaunt of Jesus Rom i A
When his mother mary was Mat i C
On the Christmas nyght at the masse
For the grace of God Tit ii C
It folowed in those dayes Lu ii A
At the ii Masse
But after that the kynges Tit iii. B
The shepherdes sayde one to Lu ii. C
At the iii. masse
God in tyme past diuerslye Hebre i. A
In the beginnynge was that Joh i. A
On saynct Steuens daye
Steuē full of faith & power Actu vi. C
Wherfore beholde I sēde Mat xxiii. D
On saynct John Euangeliste
Ecclesiastes xv. chapter A Folowe me, Peter turned Joh xxi. F
On the childermasse daye
And I loked, & lo a lambe Reuela xiii A Lo the angel of ỹ Lorde ape Mat ii. C
On the Sondaye after christmasse
And I saye that ỹ heyre as Gala iiii. D
And his father and mother mer Lu ii C
On the Newe yeres daye
For the grace of God ỹ bring Tit ii C
And when the eyght daye was Lu ii. C
On the twelue euen
For ỹ grace of God that bring Tit ii. C
When Herode was dead Mat ii. D
On the twelfe daye
Esaie the xl. Chapter A
When Jesus was borne Mat ii. A
On the first sondaye after ỹ twelfe daye Esaie the lx. chapter A
The nexte daye, John sawe Joh i. D
On the ii. sondaye after twelfe daye
I beseche you therfore brethrē Rō xii A
And when he was xii. yere olde Lo ii. F
On the wenesdaye
Brethren my hertes desyre Rom x. A
When Jesus had herde ỹ Mat iiii. B
On the frydaye
Let euery soule submyt him Rō xiii. A
And Jesus returned by the Jo iiii. C On the iii. Sondaye after twelfe daye.
Seynge that we haue diuers Rō xii. B
And the thyrde daye was the Joh ii. A
On the wenesdaye
This is a true sayinge. i Tim. i. C
And he departed from thence Mar vi A
On the frydaye
For I knowe, and surely Rom. xiiii C
And he came into Capernaū Lu. iii. C On the iiii sondaye after
twelfe daye
Be not wyse in your owne Rom. xii D
When Jesus was come Mat. viii A
On the wensdaye.
I beseche you brethren for Rom. xv G
And he entred agayne into Mar. iii A
On the frydaye
Are ye not ware that ye are i. Cor. iii C
And Jesus went about all Mat. iiii D On the .v. sondaye after the twelfe daye
Owe nothing to any man Ro. xiii. C
And he entred into a shyppe Mat viii C
On the wensdaye
As concernyng the thynges i. Jo. vii. A
It chaūseth as they went on Lu. ix G
On the frydaye
Let euery man abyde in the i. Cor. vii D
And they brought children Mar x B On the vi Sondaye after,
twelfe daye.
Now therfore as elect of Colos iii B Septu
The kyngdome of heauen Mat xiii D gesima
On the wensdaye
I exhorte therfore that a i. Timo ii A
A certayne man had two Mat xxi D
When the wedding goeth out Perceaue ye not how that i Cor ix D
For the kyngdome of heauen Mat xx A
On the wensdaye
Yf youre Gospell be yet hyd ii Cor iiii A
And they departed thence Mat ii E
On the frydaye
Seynge then that we haue ii Cor iii C
He that is not with me, is Mat xii C
On the Sonday, lx
For ye suffer foles gladly ii. Cor. xi C Septu
When muche people were Lu. viii. A gesima.
On the wensdaye
I cal God for a recorde vnto ii. Cor. i A
And he began agayne to Mar. iiii A
On the frydaye
Seynge that we knowe ii. Cor. v B
When he was demaunded Lu. xvii E
On the sondaye l.
Though I speake with the i. Cor. xiii A Quinq
He tolde vnto him the twelue Lu. xviii F gesima
On the wensdaye
Joel the ii chapter C

mor

Moreouer when ye faste be. Mat vi. B
On the friday
Esaye the lviii chapter A Ye haue hearde how yt is say Mat v. G
On the i Sondaye
in lent
adra- We as helpers therfore ii Corin vi A ma. Then was Jesus led awaye Mat iiii. A
On the tuesdaye in the iiii tymes
Exody the xviiii chapter xiiii Reg xix C
Then answered certayne. Mat xii C bring On the frydaye Ezechiel the xviii chapter.
After that there was a feast. i John v. A
On the ii sondaye in lent Forthermore we beseche i Thessa. iiii A
And Jesus went thence Mat xv C
On the wenesdaye
Hester the xiii. Chapter, C
And Jesus ascended to Jeri. Mat xx C
On the frydaye
Genesis the xxxvii chapter B
Herken another symylitude. Mat. xxi D
On the iii Sondaye in lent
Be ye followers of God Ep v A
And he was a castinge out Luc xi B
On the wenesdaye
Exody the xx chapter C
Then came to Jesus Math. xv A
On the frydaye
Numery the xx chapter A
Then came he to a citye of Sa Joh iiii A
On the iiii sondaye half lent.
For it is written that Abrah. Gala iiii. C
After that went Jesus John vii. A
On the wenesdaye
Ezechiel the xxx vi chapter ād Esaie i E
And as Jesus passid by he. John ix A On the fridaye
iii Regum the. vii chapter C
A certayne man was sycke Joxi A
On the v Sondaye in lent
But Christ beyng the hye. Hebr ix C
Which of you can rebuke me. Jo viii F
On the wenesdaye
Leuitice the xix chapter C
It was at Jerusalem ỹ feast. Jo x D
On the the frydaye
Hieremy the xxvi chapter B
Then gathered the hie pristes. Jo xi F
On the Palme Sondaye
Let the same mynde be in. Phil ii. A Ye knowe that after ii day. Mat xxvi A
On the wenesdaye.

Estate the liii chapter D
The feaste of swete breade Lu. xxii A
On the good Frydaye Exodi the xii chapter A
When Jesus had spoken Joh. xviii A
On Ester euen
Ye be chosen tysen agayne Collos. iii A
The sabboth daye at euen Mat. xxviii A
On Ester daye
Purge therfore the olde i. Cor. v C
Mary magdalen, a Mary Mat. xxvi A
On the Mondaye
When hych preachyng was Actu. x F
And beholde two of them Lu. xxiiii. B
On the Tuesdaye
Ye men and brethrē Chyldrē Act. xiii D
Jesus hym selfe stode in the. Lu. xxiii F
On the wensdaye
Ye men of Israel why mar. Actu. xiii D
After that Jesus shewed John. xxi A
On the Thursdaye
The aungel of the Lorde i. Act. iii C
Mary stode wythout at John. xx B
On the Frydaye
For as muche as Christ hath i. Pe. iii. C
Then the. xi. Dyscypels Mat. xxviii D
On the Satterdaye
Wherfore laye a syde all i. Pet. ii. A
The morowe after the John xx A
On the. i. sondaye after Ester daye
For all that is borne of God i. Joh. v A
The same daye at nyght John. xx C
On the wensdaye
Yf Christ be preached how i. Cor. xv. B
When Jesus was rysen Mat. xxi B
On the frydaye
Obeye them that haue the Heb. xiii C
And they departed quickly Mat. xxviii B
On the. ii. sondaye after Ester daye Christ also suffered for oure i. Pet. ii. D
I am a good shepeid, John x C
On the frydaye
For as muche as ye knowe i. Pet. i A
On the morowe after the Lu. xxiii A
On the wenesdaye
Lykewyse then as by ỹ synne. Rō v. D
Thē cāe ỹ disciples of John Mat ix. B
On the iii. Sonday after esterdaye.
Derely beloued I beseche you i. Pet ii. C
After a whyle ye shall not se Joh xvi D
On the wenesdaye
My lytell chyldren these i Joh ii. A
There arose a questiō betwene Jo iii B
On the frydaye.

The Table

Ye are all the chyldren i,Thessa,v,A
I am come a lyght into the Joh,xii.A ¶ Ou ỹ,xiiii.Sondaye after esterdaye
Euery good gyfte,and euery. Jaco.i.C
But now go I my waye to. Joh.xvi.B

On the wensdaye.

Brethren haue not the fayth. Jaco.ii.A Holy father kepe in thyne .Joh.xvii.B

On the frydaye,

Ye sethen how that of dedes. Jaco.ii.D
Deare chyldren yet a lyttell Joh,xiii.D ¶ On the,vi,sondaye in the crosdayes
And se that ye be doars of Jaco i/D
Verely verely I saye vnto Joh xvi,C

On the Mondaye.

Knoweledge your faultes Jaco v,D
If any of you shulde haue a Luc xi.A

On the Teusdaye

Esaie the/xix chapter D
And Jesus sat ouer against Mat,xii,D

On the wensdaye,

The multitude of the that Actu iiii.G
These wordes spake Je. &c Jo xvii,A

On the assenspon day,

In the former treatyse Deare Actu i.A
After that he appered Mat,xvi,C

On the sondaye after ascensiõ daye

Be ye therfore discrete & so i,Pet iiii,B
But when the confortter is Joh xv,D

On the whitson euẽ,

It fortuned,whyle Apollos Actu xix,A
If ye loue me kepe mi cõma. Joh xiiii.B

On the whitsondaye

When ỹ fyftye daye was cõe Actu ii,A
If a mã loue me & will kepe Joh xiiii.C

On the monday,

And he cõmaũded vs to preach Act x.G
God so loued ỹ worlde,that Joh iii.B

On the teusday

When ỹ Apostles which we Act viii.A Verely verely I saye vnto you Joh x.A

On the wensdaye

Peter stepped forth with the Actu ii,C
No man can come to me Johñ vi,E

On the thursdaye,

Then cã Philip ito a citie of Act viii,A Then called he the xii to gether Lu ix,A

On the frydaye

Ye men of Israel heare the Act ii,D
And it happened on a certayne Lu v,D

On the satterday

And the nexte Saboth daye Act xiii.F
And he arose vp & cam out Mar,iii.F

On the Trinite sondaye.

After this I loked,& beholde. Reue,v.A
There was a man of the Pha. Johñ iii.F

Corpus Christe daye,

That which I geue vnto ,i. Cor xi.E
For my flesshe is meate inde, Johñ vi.F

On the first sonday after trinite sonday

For God is loue,in this ap.i John iiii.B
Ther was a certayne riche, Luke xvi.E

On the wensdaye.

Whẽ we opened vnto you ỹ ii Pet i.D
Thynck not that I am, Mat,v,B

On the.ii sonday after trinite sonday,

Marualye not my brethren.i Joh,iii.C
A certain mã ordeined a a Lu iiii,D

On the wensdaye,

This I say therfore & testifie Eph iiii.D
And when he was com into Mat xxi,B

On the iii,Sondaye after
trinite sondaye

Submit your selues therfore i Pet v.B
Then resorted vnto him al the Lu xv.A

On the wensdaye

Not with standing ỹ lord ii Thim iiii.D
Agre with thyne aduersary. Mat v.D

On the iiii Sonday after tryne sonday

For I suppose that ỹ affyre. Ro viii,C be ye therfore mercyful as you Luk vi.F

On the wensdaye

And herby we know that we i John ii.A
And hys disciples asked of Mat,xvii.A

On the v Sonday after trinite sonday

In conclusyon be ye al i Pet iii.B It cam to passe as the people,Luc v.C

On the wensdaye

I exhorte therfore that aboue all.Ty it.A
It chaunsed on a certayne Lu viii.C

On the,vi sondaye after Trinite son.

Remember ye not that al Ro vi,A
For I saye vnto you except Mat v,C

On the wensdaye,

I wrote not vnto you as i, John ii,C
And when he was come Mat x.A

On ỹ vii, Sonday after trinite sonday

I will speak grossly because of Ro vi,D
In those dayes whence there Mar vii,A

On the wensdaye

There is then no damnacion Rõ viii,A
In that tyme went Jesus Mat xii,A

On the viii, Sõdaye after trinite sõday

Therfore brethren we are R. vi,C Beware of false Prophetes Mat vii.C

On the wensday

But God setteth out his loue Ro v,B Master we sawe one, Mar.ix.F

On

On the.ix. sonday after trinite sonday
That we sh i. denot lust i.Cor.x.B
There was a certayne rych Lu.xvi.I
On the wenesdaye
Remember ye not how that Ro.vi.C
He that is kaythful in Lu.xvi.C
On the.x. sonday after trinite sonday
Ye knowe that ye were i.Cor xii A
And when he was come Lu.xix.F
On the wenesday
All flesche is not one maner i.Co xv.C
Take hede to youre selues Luk.xii.G
On the.xi. sonday after trinite sonday Brethren as pertayning i.Cor.xv.A
And he put forth thys Luke.xviii.A
On the wenesdaye
Other remember ye not i.Cor.xv.C
He put forth a similitude Luk. xviii.A On the.xii. sondaye after
trinite sondaye.
Suche trust haue we ii.Cor.iii.B
And he departed agayne Mat. viii.D
On the wenesdaye
For we preache not oure ii.Cor.iiii.B
Then began he to vpbrayd Mat.xi.C On the xiii. sondaye after
trinite sondaye
To Abraham and hys seede Gal.iii.C
Happy are the eyes Luk,x.D
On the wenesdaye
Ye remembre brethren i. Thess.ii.B
Then the Pharises went Mat. xii.B On the.xiiii. sondaye after
trinite sondaye
I saye walke in the sprite Gal.v.C
And it chaunced as he Lu.xvii.C
On the wenesdaye
Beare not a straunge yoke ii.Cor.vi.C
One of the company sayd Lu.xii.B
On the.xv. sonday after trinite sonday
Yf we lyue in the spyryte, let Gal.v.D
No man can serue two Mat.vi.C
On the wenesdaye
We knowe that the sawe i. Timo.i.B
And it fortuned in one Lu.xx.A
On the.xvi. sonday after trinite sonday
Wherfore I desyre that ye Ephe.iii.B
And it fortuned after that Lu vii.B
On the wenesdaye
Beware lest any man come Coloss ii B
And he came to Bethsai. Mat viii C On the xvii sonday after Trinite sondaye
Therfore which am in Ephe iiii A
And it chaunced that he Lu.xiiii. A
On the wednesdaye
For yf by the sinne of one Ephe.iii. A Whe they were come to Mat.xvii.D
On ỹ xviii sonday after trinite sonday
I thanke my God always i.Co.i.A
When the Pharises had Mat.xxii.D
On the fryday e.
I beseche you brethren for Rom.xv.D
Another parable he put Mat.xiii.E
On the xix sonday after trinite sonday
And be ye renewed in the Ephe.iiii.C
And he entred into a shippe Mat.ix.A
On the wenesdaye
Therfore brethren stande ii. Thes.ii.D
Then sent Jesus the peo. Mat.xiii.D
On the xx sonday after trinite sonday
Take hede therfore that ye Ephe.v.C
The kingdom of heaue is Mat.xxii.A
On the wenesdaye
Thou therfore my sonne ii. Tim.ii.A When thou makest a dyner Lu.xiiii.C On the xxi sondaye after trinite sonday
Finally my brethren be Ephe. vi.B
And there was a certayne Jhon.iiii.G
On the wensdaye
Because we knowe brethē i.Thess.i.B
And it fortuned in another Luk.vi.B On the xxii sondaye after
trinite sondaye
And I am sutely certified Philip.i.A Therfore is the kingdō Mat.xviii.C
On the wenesdaye
Ye and we know that what Rom iii.C
Verely I saye vnto you that Mat xi C On the xxiii sondaye after
trinite sondaye.
Brethren folowe me, and Philip.iii.D
Then went the Pharises Mat.xxii.B
On the wenesdaye.
For yf by the synne of one Rom.v.C
When they were come to Mat x. ii D On the xxiiii. sondaye after
trinite sondaye
For this cause we also Coloss i B
Whyle he this spake vnto Mat ix C
On the wenesdaye
And I woulde not that ye i.Cor x C
A certayne man had two Mat xxi C On the last sonday after trinite sonday
Hieremy the xxiii chapter.
Then Jesus lyfte vp

The Table

On the wenſdaye in ỹ embringe weke
Amos the ix. Chapter.
And one of the company anſ. Mar. ix C
On the frydaye.
Ozee the xiiii. Chapter A
And one of ỹ Phariſes deſired Lu. vii C
On the Saterday
Foz that firſt tabernacle was Heb ix. A
He put fozth this ſimilitude Lu. xiii. B
In the dedicacion of the churche.
And I John ſawe ỹ holy Reue xxi. A
And he entred in, and went Lu xix. A

Here endeth the Table of the Epiſtles and Goſpeles of the Sondayes.
Here after folowe the Epiſtles and Goſpeles of the Saynctes.
On ſainte andrews daye.
Foz the beleke of the harte. Rom. x. C.
As Jeſus walked by ỹ ſea of. Matthe. iiii. C
On ſainte Nicolas daie.
Eccleſiaſtici. xxiiii. Chapter. A Foz like wiſe a certayne man Mat xxv. A
On the conception of oure lady Eccleſi. xxiiii. Chapter
This is the boke of ỹ genera. Mat i. A On S. Thomas the Apoſtels day.
Now therfoze ye are no moze. Ephe ii. D
Thomas one of the twelue Joh. xx. F
In the conuerſion of S. Paule.
Saul yet breathing out threat Act ix. A Thẽ anſwered Peter & ſayd Mat. xix D
On candelmas daye.
Malachie ỹ iii Chapter A
And when the tyme of their. Lu ii. D
On S. Mathias ỹ Apoſtle daye.
And in thoſe dayes Peter. Act i. C
Thẽ Jeſus anſwered & ſayde Mat xi D
The gretinge of oure ladye.
Eſai vii. chapter B
And in ỹ vi. moneth ỹ angell Lu. i. C
On ſent Georges daye
My brethẽ, coũt it exceding. Jame. i. A
I am ỹ true vine, & my father. Jo xv, A
On S. Marke ỹ Euangeliſt
Unto euery one of you is ge. Ep. iiii. B
I am the true vine, & my fa. Jo xv, A
On ſaynt Philip & James daye
Sapientie the vi chapter A [he] ſayde vnto his diſcip. Jo xiiii A [findinge] of the croſſe
[towarde] you in Gala v. B
[on] of the / John. iii, A
On the natiuite of S. Jhon Baptiſte.
Eſaie the. xlix. chapter. A Elizabeths tyme was come: Luke. i. F
On S. Peter & Pauls day
In ỹ tyme Herode ỹ kige Act. xii. A.
When Jeſus came into Mat. xvi C
In the commem oracion of S. Paul
I certifye you brethren ỹ Gala. i. B
Then anſwered Peter Mat. xix. D
On the viſitacion of oure Lady Canticorum the. ii. chapter A Mary aroſe in thoſe dayes Lu. i. D
On ſaynt Mary Magdalene daye
Prouerb. xxxi. chapter B
And one of ỹ phariſes deſired Lu. vii. C
On S. James the Apoſtle
Now therfoz ye are no moze Eph. ii. D
Thẽ came to him the mother Mat. xx. C Lãmeſſe daye
And as he conſydred the thig. Act. xii. C
When Jeſus came into ỹ Mat. xvi. C
On ỹ tranſfiguracion of oure Lorde
Foz we folowed not decea. ii. Pe. i. D
And after. vi. dayes Jeſus Mat. xvii. A
On the name of Jeſu
Then Peter full of the Act. iiii. B
While he thus thought. Mat. i. C
On ſaynt Laurens daye
This yet remember how ii. Coz. ix. B
Uerely verely I ſaye John. xii. D
On the aſſumpcion of oure lady.
Eccle the. xxiiii. Chapter B
It fortuned as he went Lu. x. G
On ſaynt Bartholomews daye
Now therfoze ye are no moar Eph. ii. D
And ther was a ſtrife Lu. xxii. C
On ỹ nattuite of oure lady Eccleſiaſt the xxiiii Chapter C
This is the boke of Mat, i, A
On the exaltacion of the croſſe
I haue truſt towarde you Gal. v, B
Now is the iudgemente of. Joh xii, E
On S. Mathew the Apoſtle
Ezechiel the. i. Chapter A
And as Jeſus paſſeth forth Mat, ix. B
On S. Michaels daye
And he ſent and ſhewed. Reue. i. A
The ſame time ỹ diſciples Mat. xviii A
On ſaynt Luke ỹ Euangeliſtes daye
Ezechiel the. i. Chapter. C
After that ỹ Lorde apointed Luke. x. A
On ſaynt Symon and Judas daye
Foz we knowe wel that al, Rom, viii, E
This cõmaunde I you ỹ ye Jo xv C

On

On the all hallowes daye
And I saw another angell. Reue. vii. A
When he saw the people, he Mat. v. C
On the all soules daye
I would not brethren .1. Cor. iiii. C
Then sayde Martha vnto Jo. xi. C
On sayne Katherins daye Ecclesiast the .li. Chapter B
Agayne the kingdome of. Mat. xiii. K

¶ The ende of the Table.

The ende of the new testament and the whole Byble

¶ TO THE Honoure and Prayse of GOD was this BYBLE prynted and fynished, in the yeare OF OURE LORDE GOD

A.

MDXXXVII

And nowe agayne accordyngly imprented, and finyshed the laste daye of Octobre. In the yeare of oure Lord God M. D. XL IX.

At London.

By Wylliam Hyll, and Thomas Reynaldes Typographers.

God saue the kynge.

Cum priuilegio

wolfe: In the morning he shal deuoure the prey, and at night hee shall diuide the spoile.

28 ¶ All these are the twelue tribes of Israel, and this is it that their father spake vnto them, and blessed them: euery one according to his blessing he blessed them,

29 And hee charged them, and said vnto them, I am to be gathered vnto my people: *bury me with my fathers, in the caue that is in the field of Ephron the Hittite,

*Chap. 47. 30.

30 In the caue that is in the field of Machpelah, which is before Mamre, in the land of Canaan, *which Abraham bought with the field of Ephron the Hittite, for a possession of a burying place.

*Chap. 23. 16.

31 (There they buried Abraham and Sarah his wife, there they buried Isaac and Rebekah his wife, and there I buried Leah.)

I pray you, in the eares of Pharaoh, saying,

5 *My father made me sweare, saying, Loe, I die: in my graue which I haue digged for mee, in the land of Canaan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me goe vp, I pray thee, and burie my father, and I will come againe.

*Chap. 47. 29.

6 And Pharaoh said, Goe vp, and burie thy father, according as hee made thee sweare.

7 ¶ And Ioseph went vp to burie his father: and with him went vp all the seruants of Pharaoh, the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt,

8 And all the house of Ioseph, and his brethren, and his fathers house: onely their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Goshen.

9 And there went vp with him both charets and horsemen: and it was a ve-who craued his pardon. 22 His age. 23 He seeth the third generation of his sonnes. 24 He prophesieth vnto his brethren of their returne. 25 He taketh an oath of them for his bones. 26 He dieth, and is chested.

AND Ioseph fell vpon his fathers face, and wept vpon him, and kissed him.

2 And Ioseph commaunded his seruants the Physicians to imbalme his father: and the Physicians imbalmed Israel.

3 And fortie dayes were fulfilled for him, (for so are fulfilled the dayes of those which are imbalmed) and the Egyptians †mourned for him threescore and ten dayes.

†Heb. wept.

4 And when the dayes of his mourning were past, Ioseph spake vnto the house of Pharaoh, saying, If now I haue found grace in your eyes, speake, called, ‖ Abel Mizraim, which is beyond Iordan.

‖ That is, the mourning of the Egyptians.

12 And his sonnes did vnto him, according as he commanded them.

13 For *his sonnes caried him into the land of Canaan, and buried him in the caue of the field of Machpelah, which Abraham * bought with the field for a possession of a burying place, of Ephron the Hittite, before Mamre.

*Acts 7. 16.

*Chap. 23. 16.

14 ¶ And Ioseph returned into Egypt, hee and his brethren, and all that went vp with him, to burie his father, after he had buried his father.

15 ¶ And when Iosephs brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, Ioseph wil peraduenture hate vs, and will certainely requite vs all the euill which we did vnto him.

16 And they † sent a messenger vnto Ioseph, saying, Thy father did command before he died, saying, †Heb. charged.

17 So shall ye say vnto Ioseph, Forgiue,

Please Turn the Page to See the Title Page to Exodus